Misses Mable Berryman and Marguerite Toscono, Soprano; Miss Elsa Zimmerman, contralto; Mr. James Selwood, tenor; and Mr. Eugene Morgan, baritone, made up the quintette.

Mr. Lehman Engel directed. Mr. Engel began his musical career under the instruction of Mr. Alfred Stiick, professor of music in S. T. C. and director of the College Choir and Choral groups. Mr. Engel has done outstanding work and won much fame for himself and his very efficient musical group.

The first half of the program included Motets by Vitoria and Bach and French and Italian Madrigals by Monteverdi, Costeley, Lassus, Centon and Janequin. The last half included English Madrigals, duets and folk songs.

Mr. Engel made interesting comment before several of the numbers which helped the audience to interpret them more efficiently.

Farmville Defeats Roanoke College In Debates

Farmville's debate team met Roanoke College in a decision and a non-decision debate on Tuesday, March 7. Farmville won the decision.

In the afternoon Farmville's affirmative team, Marie Allen and Frances Holloway debated Mr. Weinstein and Mr. Bunting of Roanoke College on the negative side of the National Pi Kappa Delta question. This was a non-decision debate.

At seven-thirty Roanoke's affirmative team, John Thornton and Billy Pfleuger, lost to Elizabeth Ann Parker and Lorana Moomaw of Farmville. The Honorable J. Taylor Thompson acted as critic judge for the evening.

With the statement that "the time is out of join," John Thornton argued that the government should cease its expenditure of public funds for the purpose of stimulating business. His colleague pointed out that for the past seven years we have watched the government trying to bring about prosperity by pump-priming. "The result," Mr. Pfleuger said "is a national debt of forty-one billions of dollars."

Lorana Moomaw and Elizabeth Ann Parker proved that pump-priming has not been a failure and that it is necessary at the time. We must not therefore ask the government to cease spending money.

The Farmville China

Produced by WEDGWOOD and

Sponsored by Association of Alumnae

The center views are:

1—ROTUNDA

2—LONGWOOD

Wedgwood Queensware—Cluny Border

Staffordshire Blue or Mulberry

PRICE

Plates, 10 1-4 size—Rotunda or Longwood	$1.50 each
Plates, Salad—Rotunda	$1.25 each
Plates, Bread and Butter—Rotunda	$1.00 each
Tea Cups and Saucers—Rotunda	$1.50 each
After Dinner Cups and Saucers—Rotunda	$1.25 each
Ash Trays	$1.00 each

Express charges collect from Boston.

First delivery expected early fall of 1939

SEND ALL ORDERS TO:

ASSOCIATION OF ALUMNAE, BOX 56
State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Prepared and produced under the direction of John Meigs Taylee and Stratton Corporation of Boston, the United States Agents for Wedgwood.

Farmville Varsity Defeats Panzer In Last Home Game

Final Score Of Game Is 21-6

Many Alumnae Attend Game In Gymnasium

Farmville Varsity Basketball sextet played Panzer College of Physical Education here last Friday night, March 3, and defeated them with a score of 21-6 before a crowded gym of students and alumnae.

At the beginning of the first quarter the Blue and Whites made a flying start by making several goals in succession and allowing Panzer only one goal.

The next quarter moved swiftly on with Farmville continuing her fast passwork and half of the game ended with a score of 12-3 in favor of Farmville. Panzer gained her point on a free-throw when a Farmville guard fouled.

The third and last quarters of the game proved to be a continual struggle between the two teams, with Panzer fighting hard to secure a goal. The game ended with a final score of 21-6, with the Farmville Varsity once again being the victors.

The lineup was as follows:

Fo. Farmville	Panzer
F.—Gibson	Mitchell
F.—Jarman	Engle
C.—Carroll	Kane
C.—Courter	Eager
G.—Berryman	Altenkofm
G.—Smith	O'Connor

Referee: Dabney, Umpire. Snedegar.

Substitutions: Farmville—Roberts, Conyers, Lindamood; Panzer—Omora, Carus.

The 1939 Varsity Basketball Squad which lost only one game during the season. Virginia Whitehead Smith and Jenny Carroll were co-captains of the team.

Business Meeting Of Alumnae Was Held Saturday

The annual business meeting of the Alumnae Association was held in the little auditorium on Saturday morning, March 4, at 9:15 with Miss Mary Nichols, the president, in the chair. She welcomed all alumnae back to their "College Home". Special greetings were extended to the reunion classes of 1889, 1899, 1909, 1919, 1929 and to the Class of 1914, who were celebrating their twenty-fifth anniversary. Mrs. Maria Bristow Starke, president of this class, responded.

The president told of the necessary purchase of a new electric addressograph for the alumnae office. She stressed the importance of alumnae paying their one dollar dues every year, as this is the only source of revenue.

Miss Minnie Rice reported that the Normal League had helped 202 girls to get diplomas or degrees, and that 144 of this number had repaid the League in full.

In the absence of Miss C. B. Taliaferro, chapter organizer, Miss Pauline Camper called the Alumnae Chapter roll. Many responded. The Lynchburg, Roanoke and Gloucester Chapter reports were outstanding.

Dr. Jarman, in his usual gracious manner, greeted all his "girls". He reported as treasurer of the Cunningham and Jennie M. Tabb Memorial Loan Funds.

Miss Mary Clay Hiner, chairman of the Morrison Memorial committee reported that 121 new books had been added to the Morrison Memorial library. Two of these 12 were presented by Miss Minnie Rice. One was the handsome new editor of "The Old Virginia Gentleman" by Dr. George W. Bagby.

Mrs. M. B. Coyner, treasurer of the Morrison Memorial Library Fund, reported a balance on hand of $66.96

Miss Florence Stubbs gave the report of the Farmville china plates committee. She said the committee had ordered 50 dozen plates, made up in the two most popular views—the Rotunda and Longwood—in two colors, blue and mulberry. Forty dozen had been sold by March 1 of this year, shipped to California, West Virginia, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Louisiana, Michigan, Maryland, Iowa, Texas, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Connecticutt, New Jersey and Hawaii. So far not enough money had been received to repay the Alumnae Association the money advanced by them for the initial cost of the plates, but it was hoped that this could be done soon.

The Association stood in silence for a few seconds to honor the memory of our beloved night matron, Mrs. Emma Bugg Blanton, who died last May. Mrs. Blanton served S. T. C. many years

Freshman Class Presents Program Of Folk Dances

The freshman class gave the annual folk dance demonstration on Saturday, March 4, in the gymnasium. The program was under the direction of Miss Iler and Mrs. Fitzpatrick, and Vivian Davis and Crews Borden were accompanists.

The program included "Kolo", a Serbian dance; "Now 'Tis Christmas Time," Swedish; "Old Rustic," English; "The Harvest is Over," Danish; "Sellenger's Round," English; "La Cachucha," Spanish; "Bummel Schottische," German; "Barn Dance for Three," American; "New Castle," English; "Kolofyika," Russian; "Half-Moon," German; "Majurka," Russian; "American Quadrille (Bow-Wow)", American.

Ellen Royall was mistress of ceremonies for the program.

Blackstone Is Scene Of M. E. Church Meet

The Methodist Student Movement Retreat, first of its kind to be held in Virginia, took place at Blackstone College, Blackstone, Virginia, during the week-end of March 3-5, 1939. Students from colleges throughout the state of Virginia were present, the entire delegation consisting of approximately seventy members. Representatives from Farmville State Teachers College were Dorothy Eades, Mildred Harry, Evelyn Burford, and Beckie Sandidge.

President, John Hawk, Jr., of the University of Virginia; vice-president, Jimmy Via, Jr., of Virginia Polytechnic Institute; secretary, Mary Virginia Woodson, of Radford State Teachers College; and treasurer, Evelyn Burford, of Farmville State Teachers College.

The delegation was organized into Action Groups treating various problems facing the church and the country today.

Sport Slants

By Pat Gibson

Farmville completed her 1939 basketball season on Friday, March 3, when Panzer was defeated 21 to 6. S. T. C. played four games this season, won three and lost one. This defeat was the first defeat in a period of three years. One hundred points were rolled up for Farmville against her opponents fifty-nine points.

Blue and White opened her season on February 3, with a 29-6 victory over East Radford, in a fast game played on the home court. This was the first game played with East Radford in a number of years.

S. T. C. basketeers journeyed to Williamsburg on February 16 and defeated an old rival, William and Mary, by a close score, 32-25. The record was unbroken when Farmville gained a victory for the fourth consecutive year.

February 24 found the Farmville squad on the way to Harrisonburg to fight for Alma Mater in a game that offered keen competition. Madison and Farmville have been friendly rivals in basketball for many years and this game always proves to be an exciting one. Here Farmville met defeat for the first time in three years when Madison outscored them 22-19.

The 1939 varsity squad elected Virginia Whitehead Smith of Princess Anne and Virginia Carroll of Rocky Mount as co-captains. Both of these girls are seniors at S. T. C. and have been on varsity basketball squad for four years. Virginia Smith played the position of guard and Virginia Carroll played center forward. Louise Anthony was manager of the '39 squad.

Miss Olive T. Iler was coach of the squad and she has put forth championship teams since being at S. T. C. All sports at S. T. C., such as hockey, volley ball, baseball, tennis and archery are coached by Miss Iler.

The twenty-one girls who made up the varsity squad were: Ruby Adams, Mary Clare Beck, Elizabeth Berryman, Virginia Carroll, Corlida Chaplin, Ellen Conyers, Clara Cook, Rosa Courter, Mary Sue Edmondson, Dorothy Fischer, Patricia Gibson, Carolyn Harvey, Elizabeth Hillsman, Ann Hurff, Chlotilde Jarman, Dorothy Johnson, Hannah Lindamood, Marjorie Nimmo, Martha Roberts, Virginia Whitehead Smith, and Lucy Turnbull.

Through the Years

Continued from Page 1

this big and modern building joined itself with Annex and the others. In Student Building we find the handsome Lounge and splendid rooms where Literary and Debating Societies, Y. W. C. A., Student Government, Dramatic and Glee Clubs, Publications, and Sororities have their meetings. In 1934 the swimming pool, one of the largest college pools in the south, was completed and now we are seeing three more great additions to this, our college. The new Power Plant, Junior Building and our splendid Library are monuments of which our present student body may be always proud.

The four presidents have each had a great share in contributing to the growth of our school both physically and scholastically. Drs. Ruffner, Cunningham, Frazer and Jarman have presided over the Farmville School. When Dr. Jarman came here there were thirteen members of the faculty—this was 1902. After his arrival the work was put on a departmental basis and new departments established as conditions in the state demanded them. The course consisted of two years academic or high school work with one additional year as elective and one as professional work. This has been extended until today there is the high school department, an accredited four year course. Of our different professional courses two to four years lead to preparation of teachers for kindergarten, primary, grammar grades and high school work. In 1916 the privilege of conferring diplomas was granted and in 1925 the name was changed to State Teacher's College.

In 1934 the school celebrated its 50th anniversary on Founder's Day. There were parades in costumes of classes of day's gone by, skits, and numerous speeches. Among the prominent speakers were ex-Governor Trinkle and Dr. Samuel Charles Mitchell.

Guided by the willing hand of Miss Mary White Cox our present Head of the Home, we are proudly going on with the work left us

Granddaughters Club

Continued from Page 1

Goulding; Patsy Fletcher, Mary Perkins; Nancy Fulton, Sadie Taylor, Alpha Lee Garnett, Bessie Crump; Betty Hardy, Elizabeth Jarman; Caroline Harvey, Mamie Baldwin; Sarah Hayes, Sallie Cox; Marian Heard, Lee Arimenta Walsh; Elizabeth Hillsman, Betty Sue McCraw.

Virginia Howell, Blanche Williams, LeNoir Hubbard, Ocie Hammock; Eloise Hudson, Bessie McGoucck Hager; Polly Hughes, Ettie Jones; Emily Ann Hurff, Lillie E veretf; Frances Hutcheson, Fannie Graham; Frances Irving, Beulah Johnson; Agnes Jennings, Fannie Christian; Virginia Jones, Virginia Purdom; Beverly Jordon, Lillian Bland; Pauline Keller, Mary Burton; Margaret Kennett, Nine Lloyd.

Josephine Kerns, Helen Trevillian; Florence Lee, Julia Travis Armistead; Elizabeth LeGrand, Lula Drinkard; Sue Marshall, Sallie Mae Oliver; Jean Martin, Mary Frances Bruce; Catherine Maynard, Cassie Shepherd; Virginia Morriss, Gladys Garnett.

Charlotte Morton, Kate Friend Watkins; Jean Moyer, Elsie Gray; Josephine Nichol, Mary Bell; Louise Palmer, Florence Chawing; Elizabeth Ann Parker, Mary Codd.

Mary Virginia Parker, Ora Rogers Brooking; Garnett Perkins, Mildred Lee Carter; Mildred Perdue, Rosa Sutherlond; Mary Allen Peetrs, Mary Epes Davis; Rebecca Louise Phillips, Ann Estelle Ranson; Mary Wanda Porterfield, Lucille Williams; Elizabeth Rawlings, Belle Dunford; Sarah Seward, Mamie Loula Davis; Beverly Sexton, Nena Lockridge; Ethelyn Marie Shepherd, Edith Loveline Foster; Jane Porter Shepherd, Berrie Burce; Mary Sue Simmons, Hyler Camp; Olivia Stephenson, Eleanor Doughtney; Charlotte Stevens, Eva Miller; Jean Terrell, Mabel Billups; May Terrell, Mabel Billups; Gwendolyn Thompson, Florence T. Siedd; Jean Upsher, Lucille Snow; Harriette Vaden, Bessie Spencer.

Harriette Walker, Ida Virginia Fretwell; Mary Virginia Walker, Jane Jeter Allen (grandmother); Eloise Waller, Rose Hurt; Elizabeth Warner, Ella Garnett Hundley; Nancy Claire Watkins, Nanny Forbes; Elizabeth West, Penelope White; Patricia Whitlock, Gertrude Turnbull; Daphne Wilkerson, Lucy Clayton; Elizabeth Wilkerson, Sallie P. Blockwell, Linda Hits (grandmother); Caroline Willis, Carrie Hunter; Mary Wolfinbarger, Eula Howard; Edith Wood, Lois Jenkins; Sidney Yonce, Josephine Guy; Anna Young, Jessie Reames; Mary Katherine Zehmer, Harriette Wooldridge.

Intercollegiate Swimming Meet Is Being Held

First intercollegiate swimming meet was held on March 1, at eight o'clock. The results of this meet will be compared with the results held on Thursday, March 9, and the best results will be sent in to headquarters to be compared with other schools. The results of this meet were:

40 yard back—Courter, 34; Keesee, 37.

40 yard breast—Ebel 34.5; Fischer, 43; Millner, 45.5.

40 yard crawl—Carroll, 25; Dinwiddie, 29; Pierpont, 30.2.

75 yard relay—1st team: McIlwaine, Ebel, Pierpont, 57.5; 2nd team: Keesee, Fischer, Millner, 59.

100 yard relay—1st team: Pierpont, Courter, Walker, Carroll, 1:09; 2nd team: Britton, Shirley, Dinwiddie, Yonce, 1:11.5.

100 yard back crawl—McIlwaine, 2:05; Keesee, 2.1.

100 yard breast—Ebel, 1:5.3; Fischer, 1:6; Britton, 1:7.

Jenny Carroll is in charge of the swimming meets.

Basketball Squad Entertains Visitors

After the basketball game last Friday night the Farmville basketball squad were hostesses at an informal reception. The guests of honor were the visiting girls from Panzer College.

The reception was given in the Student Building Lounge.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

NEW SPORT OXFORDS
$2.95 to $6.50
Brown and whites, saddle and many other styles.

A new creation in Hats
$1.00

THE "BUCCANEER"
New Sport Shirt for Sport Wear
$2.98

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality

Many Marriages Take Place Among Alumnae Since Last March

List of Marriages Is Not Complete In Alumnae Files

The following marriages of alumnae have not all occured within the last year, but have only recently been reported to the Alumnae Office and have not appeared in the "Rotunda". If there are any marriages which have not been reported, please send them to the office. The new list of marriages is as follows:

Mary Irvin Arthur, Mrs. Robert C. Larsh, 252 Court Street, Portsmouth; Lucille Eleanor Akers, Mrs. William Harvey; Annie Ruth Agee, Mrs. Royal S. Jones, Alcoma: Isabelle M. Allegree, Mrs. Charles Cabelle Bailey, Richmond; Mrs. Evelyn Burger Hudson, Mrs. Theodore C. Gill, Amherst; Martha Sarah Brothers, Mrs. Berryman Jennings Fitzhugh, Suffolk.

Ellen Babb, Mrs. Lewis R. White, Courtland; Virginia Ann Baird, Mrs. Harold Lee Preston, Chester; Nina M. Bass, Mrs. Milton G. Hitt, Rice; S. Burnley Brockenbrought, Mrs. V. C. Kinney, Greensboro, N. C.; Alice C. Baskervill, Mrs. James Edward Anderson, Amelia; Mary Evelyn Beale, Mrs. Eric C. Crenshaw, Farmville.

Catherine Elizabeth Billups, Mrs. Garland D. Gribble, Route 1, Box 19, Norfolk; Marguerite E. Bunch, Mrs. Stephen R. Burch, 128 Clarendon Ave., Pikesville, Md.; Rebecca Bunch, Mrs. W. J. Hart, Edenton, N. C.; Juanita Bunch, Mrs. John F. White, Edenton, N. C.; Margaret Bell, Mrs. R. D. Taylor, Jr., Onancock.

Frances G. Coleman, Mrs. J. G. Hankins, Charlottesville; Agnes Oglesby Crockett, Mrs. John G. Davis, Max Meadows; Audrey C. Chewning, Mrs. Fredrick J. Roberts, 317 Calvin Road, Raleigh, N. C.; Lou Ella Covington, Mrs. Earnest Carl Rogers, Appomattox; Sallie Emmie Carter, Mrs. L. H. Saunders, Windsor.

Ethel Covington, Mrs. Charles A. Allen, Prospect; Sara L. Canada, Mrs. S. P. Glover, Buffalo Street, Farmville; Lucille Dunn, Mrs. William Henry Stephenson, Farmville; Murkland Adeline Dressler, Mrs. T. E. Turner, Jr., Farmville; Elizabeth T. Duling, Mrs. W. M. Johnson, Chester; Mildred Deans, Mrs. R. Edward Shepherd, 2212 W. Grace St., Richmond.

Ruth Dunnington, Mrs. Francis Ghigo, Hampden-Sydney; Rebecca Dryden, Mrs. Leslie Freeman, Route 2, Box 142, Hampton; Dorothy M. Eubank, Mrs. J. P. Allen, Clay, Ky.; Henrietta T. Eichelberger, Mrs. B. T. Mears, Belle Haven; Louise J. Ellis, Mrs. James H. Montgomery, 2605 Barton Ave., Richmond; Mary Louise French, Mrs. J. E. Hargroves, Beaumont.

Louella Fletcher, Mrs. Stuart White, Onley; M. Louise Glenn, Mrs. J. Fletcher Osborne, Danville; Emma Gannt Glover, Mrs. Malcolm Sadler, Buckingham; Margaret Elizabeth Gilmer, Mrs. J. B. Seay; Esther Byrd Gilliam, Mrs. A. H. Lewis, Farmville; Florence A. Guthrie, Mrs. J. B. Layne, Beaumont.

Winifred Goodman, Mrs. Charles Turner; Mary B. Haynes, Mrs. G. R. Robson, 410 North East Street, Culpeper; Mildred Hall, Mrs. E. L. Carter; Sara K. Hubard, Mrs. R. W. Dana; Sara Louise Hartness, Mrs. E. V. Russell, Jr., Blackstburg; Elizabeth Huse, Mrs. J. E. Ware; Alice J. Hardaway, Mrs. W. T. McGalliard, Jr., Farmville.

Chesta Hubard, Mrs. J. J. Morrissette, Norfolk; Maude Hurt, Mrs. R. T. Smith, Evergreen; Dartha Harrison, Mrs. N. R. Nottingham, Jefferson Apts., Baltimore; Mary Willia Hendricks, Mrs. E. W. Atkins, Suffolk; Elizabeth Jacqueline Hicks, Mrs. H. L. Barnard; Carolyn Hoon, Mrs. H. J. Graham, Beorne, Texas.

Margaret S. Harmon, Mrs. Parker Lilliston, Onancock; Dorothy R. Harrison, Mrs. J. D. Pentecost, Dallas, Texas; Neyra J. Hines, Mrs. C. W. Rusmiselle, 329 Walnut Ave., Waynesboro; Janet M. Harris, Mrs. L. W. Harding, Union Level; Jane Grey Irby, Mrs. C. C. Weaver, Jr., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Annie Laurie Jones, Mrs. J. R. Cardwell, Jr., Concord; Patty Jeffreys, Mrs. Aubrey Adams; Minnie Louise Johnson, Mrs. H. L. Pendleton; Elizabeth Kelly, Mrs. C. P. Kearfott, Martinsville; Jenilee Knight, Mrs. A. B. Broson, Virginia Kite, Mrs. G. G. Waugh, Jr., Culpeper; Lloyd Kelly, Mrs. James L. Bagby.

M. Virginia Leonard, Mrs. D. Campbell, 1207 West Franklin Street, Richmond; Odell May Lavinder, Mrs. F. B. Martin, Richmond; Virginia B. Lanier, Mrs. N. C. Linger, Arlington; Virginia M. Layne, Mrs. LeRoy J. Cosby, Farmville; Hilda Ligon, Mrs. Rhea Gardner, Rustbury; Mary Louise McNulty, Mrs. J. B. Hoge.

Jane A. Main, Mrs. M. C. Pfalzgraf; Banna Price Massey, Mrs. J. P. Trotter, Woodstock; Laura K. Morris, Mrs. J. S. Burrows, Buffalo, N. Y.; Neva Martin, Mrs. J. K. Hickman; Courtney Mapp, Mrs. Tom Taylor, Wachapreagre; Margaret Murray, Mrs. C. E. Holland, 3204 Stuart Ave., Richmond.

Onion Neaves, Mrs. C. W. Tune; Mildred Nock, Mrs. "Peaches" McKay, Temperanceville; Gladys O. Oliver, Mrs. C. G. Wenner; Anne R. B. Putney, Mrs. W. E. S. Flora, Collegeboro, Ga.; Ann Elizabeth Pohlig, Mrs. R. C. Poage, Wales Apts., Norfolk; Mary Lee Powell, Mrs. S. P. Johnson, Jr., Drewryville; Livian A. Powell, Mrs. G. W. Harding, Emporia.

Mildred L. Pleasants, Mrs. B. E. Rhodes, Windsor; Elizabeth M. Phillips, Mrs. A. C. Mills, 4864 Washington Ave., Newport News; Ann Diggs Peple, Mrs. H. A. Gills, Jr.; Virginia Puckett, Mrs. J. F. Hodnett, Martinsburg; Myra E. Reese, Mrs. C. E. Cuddy, 711 Ferdinand Ave., Roanoke; Mary E. Robeson, Mrs. J. D. Wood, Fort Mills, Philippine Islands.

Elizabeth Corinne Rawles, Mrs. Winston Camp, Ivor; M. Louise Rawlett, Mrs. C. C. Wingo, Jetersville; Lois M. Rhodes, Mrs. R. H. Ballagh, Montvale; Annie N. Snell, Mrs. Wood, Alexandria Hospital, Alexandria; Annie Bates Sheffield, Mrs. D. W. Barnes, Stoney Creek; Ruth Showalter, Mrs. J. T. Swineford, Stoney Creek.

Coleen Shannon, Mrs. L. Whitaker, Farmville; Aldine Scott, Mrs. Floyd Beale, Franklin; L. Garland Spencer, Mrs. O. S. Griffin, Marion, N. C.; Ethel Trent, Mrs. C. R. Hall, Gloucester C. H.; Mable Tankard, Mrs. T. C. Renner; Lois Tharrington, Mrs. P. D. Berry, Wake Forest, N. C.; Agnes E. Wells, Mrs. A. W. Chalkley, West Point.

Mary Warren, Mrs. C. W. Weston, Abingdon; Carolyn M. Watts, Mrs. J. R. Wilson, 4012 Crutchfield Street, Richmond; Edna G. Walden, Mrs. Alfred Carlton, Center Cross; Juanita Williams, Mrs. L. R. French, Jr., 1263 W. 38th Street, Norfolk; Josephine Woodring, Mrs. Lantz Strasburg; Margaret Young, Mrs. Maurice Milliner, Onley.

Eleven Deaths Among Alumnae Are Reported

Since the alumnae issue of the Rotunda last year, the following deaths have been reported to the Alumnae office: Mrs. Floyd F. Jenkins (Varina E. Bailey, class of '13), died 19338; Mrs. Carroll B. Wiltshire (Ruth Cleland, class of '24), died 1938; Mary A. Coleman (class of '06), died July 3, 1938; Mrs. J. B. Sinclair, Sr. (Mamie Eubank, class of 1890), died Sept. 30, 1938; Mrs. Drummond Ames (Margaret Mears, class of '21), died 1928; Eva L. Palmer (class of '24), died Oct. 20, 1938; Mrs. Hermes (Gladys Parker, class of '26), died 1933; Karlie Savage (class of '08), died 1938; Mrs. C. R. Warren (Henrietta Watkins, class of '03), died August 1938; Sara Snow (class of '25), died 1938; Charlotte D. Wray (class of 1897), died 1938.

If there are any other deaths which have not been reported to the office, it would be greatly appreciate if you would report them.

Business Managers of Publications

Left to right: Sally Dunlap, business manager of "The Virginian"; Lucy Blackwell, business manager of "The Rotunda" and Jane Rosenberger, business manager of "The Colonnade."

History of "Colonnade" Is Short But Full of Successes As Review of Its Life is Read

S. T. C. had a newspaper, and S. T. C. had an annual, but as yet, no magazine had appeared on the horizon as an outlet for the literary efforts of the college students. The need was there—and felt; so something was done about it. And then, in the Spring of 1936, "The Farmville Quarterly Review" made its debut, edited by Mary Harrison Vaughan, at that time a Sophomore.

The magazine undertook to uphold high standards of literary achievement, publishing poetry, short stories, and essays by students or alumnae. It developed under the capable hands of Mary Harrison, backed by a faithful, willing staff, until, in 1939, it was passed on to equally-efficient Norvell Montague. Like the Five Little Peppers, it grew and grew and then, in the Spring of 1938, Ann Dugger became Editor-in-chief.

The magazine has lived true to its name, but then someone decided that illustrations would improve it. And, as a result, with the illustrations came a large size, glossed paper, a new cover, new ideas, and from it all emerged "The Colonnade". "We have a 'Rotunda' publication", suggested someone, "why not have a 'Colonnade'?"

"The Colonnade", now two issues under way, with a third coming up, is our dreamed-of college magazine. If the student body and alumnae respond to the urgent requests of the staff by submitting their writings, "The Colonnade" should rise to new, untouched heights!

Program for Founder's Day is Musical

Orchesis, the College Orchestra and Choir and Choral Club presented the morning program for Founders Day, March 3 at 10:30 o'clock. The College Orchestra under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Purdom opened the program with "After Sundown" by Friml, "Mazurka" by Chopin (Op. 68, No. 3), and a selection from the opera "Carmen" by Bizet.

The second part of the program consisted of a group of dances by Orchesis instructed by Mrs. Louise Fitzpatrick. The group graciously went through the pre-classic dance forms "Courante" by Kinnberger and "Sarabande" by Handel, and the theme and variation dances "Canon", "Straccato", and "Resultant Rhythm" by Reutter, "War Suppressed" by Wertz, "Easter Parade" by Windsperger, and "The Empty Tomb (Our First Easter)" by Couperin, were more difficult dances performed by the group.

Unit three of the program began with Dvorak's "Songs My Mother Taught Me" sung by the Junior Quartette, directed and accompanied by Forrestine Whitaker. Following this number the Senior Quartette sang Nevin's "The Rosary", the student director and accompanist being Jane Hardy. The Junior A 'Capella, with Finkie Bryan as student director, sang "To a Wild Rose" by McDowell, and Dvorak's "Goin' Home" was sung by the Senior A 'Capella with Elsye Berryc Yates as student director. Peggy Bellus rendered a solo, "Caim as the Night" by Bohm, and the College Choir closed the musical program with the "Prelude" from Ronald's "Cycle of Life".

The welcome address was made by Miss Mary Nichols, president of the Alumnae Association, and greetings from the Alumnae Chapters and presentation of gifts were in charge of Kitty Roberts, Student Body president. Dr. J. L. Jarman, president of the college, responded, and the entire program was brought to a close with the singing of the "Alma Mater."

At S. T. C. Devotionals

Continued from Page 1

"sissies" are those people who must do what "the crowd" does the peopel who drink or smoke, not because they wish to, but because they do not have the courage to be themselves. In closing with the prayer by Louis Untermeyer from which these lines are taken: "God make me more daring than devout; and from sweet contentment keep me free," it would seem that Dr. Rustin was expressing a vital part of his own philosophy.

In the Tuesday Y. W. C. A. meeting the members and Dr. Rustin discussed the compensations for the unpleasantness and criticism which one often meets in life and the advantages of praying.

S. T. C. Poets Are Reviewed By Reporter

It seems fitting that in writing an article on alumnae poets, first mention be given Miss Jennie Masters Tabb whose main interest in life was serving her long-loved Alma Mater.

Miss Tabb graduated from Farmville in 1893 and held the position of first secretary to Dr. Jarman, and later as registrar for a number of years. Whenever the "Alma Mater" is sung, thoughts turn to her who wrote this song that stirs the hearts of all who love Farmville. "Miss Jennie" collected a number of her poems and had them published in a volumn entitled "For You".

"Thy daughters true, faithful and loyal will be."
Were words fitly spoken—I'm sure you agree.

Thus Edith Gray begins her poem. This poem was read at the Founder's Day exercises by a representative of the Gloucester Chapter. Edith Gray worked as a reporter on a country weekly newspaper for a short while, but now her interests are centered in her home and children.

Miss Josephine Johnson, who lectured here on January 11, on "Poetry in Everyday Life" was laboratory assistant at Farmville for about six years. She has published a book of poems and has had many of her works accepted by Harper's Magazine and the Atlantic Monthly. Miss Johnson is now doing library work in Norfolk.

Several years ago Julia Johnson Davis, sister of Josephine Johnson, read some of her poems here. She was a member of the faculty and an assistant to Miss Mix in the kindergarten.

Loulie Millner, who once reigned as May queen, had two poems published in "The Voice", November, 1930. They were "The Gift of Bondage", which has in it these beautiful lines,

"Oh, Egypt
Thou gavest us loyalty
To God, to man, to life"
And "A Night As A Slave".

Pattie Smith, now Mrs. Broadhurst, a graduate of 1925, has published a volume of poems.

Pauline Timberlake, who graduated in 1924; Juanita Manning, who graduated in 1914; and Easter Souders of the class of 1932 are some other alumnae poets.

The alumnae of the past in the field of poetry achievements stand as a challenge to future alumnae.

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

COLLEGE SHOPPE
One Egg Bacon
Toast Jelly
Butter Coffee
15c Special for S. T. C. Only!

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

WIX
Sanitary Protection
without PADS • PINS • BELTS
The Original Internal Tampax
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service—Store

. . . BALDWIN'S
SERVING . . .
S. T. C.
STUDENTS
For a
Half
Century
With quality, style-right merchandise priced within every thrifty budget. Remember Baldwin quality is never sacrificed for price.
SEE THE SMART NEW WEARABLES
ARRIVING
. . . DAILY
BALDWIN'S
Quality, Price Service Store

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

S. A .LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure Thread SILK HOSE
Full Fashioned
Guaranteed to You
49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

Southside Drug Store
Chicken Salad 10c
Delicious Hamburger 10c
Deviled Egg 10c
All Cheese 10c
We Deliver—Quiquest service to College
Phone 356

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

SHANNON'S
Stop in on your way to the movies
POPCORN—CAKES—CANDY
Breakfast

Hundred Attend Alumnae Luncheon At Longwood

One hundred Farmville State Teachers College alumnae were entertained at an informal luncheon on Saturday, March 4, at one o'clock. The luncheon was given at Longwood. Spring flowers decorated the entire house.

Dr. J. L. Jarman, president of the college, Miss Mary White Cox, head of the Home, and Miss Mary Nichols, retiring president of the Alumnae Association, received the guests.

Students who served the luncheon were: Elizabeth George Wilson, Sarah Hayes, Kitty Roberts, Anna Maxey, Alpha Lee Garnett and Marguerite Blackwell.

Dear Alumnae,

Your chairman for the next two years! It quite overwhelms me when I think of the confidence you have placed in me and of the tasks ahead. May I ask for your cooperation in carrying out the policies of the organization and in forwarding any plans Dr. Jarman may have for us during this biennium?

My greetings and best wishes to each of you.

Sincerely,
Grace Moran

Clyde Duvall's Band Plays for Dance On Founder's Day

As a climax to the other events of Founder's Day, a dance was held in the gymnasium on Saturday, March 4, from ten until twelve o'clock.

Alumnae, guests of alumnae, students and many out-of-town guests danced to the music of Clyde Duvall and his orchestra following the Lyceum program in the auditorium. Approximately fifteen hundred dancers crowded the dance floor.

Decorations were furnished by the Freshman Commission. Blue and White balloons and streamers with "1884" (date of founding of S. T. C.) were prominent.

Refreshments were served in Student Building Lounge.

Formal Banquet Is Held for Alumnae On Saturday Night

A formal banquet was held in the dining hall on Saturday evening, March 4, at 6 o'clock. This banquet was given for the students and alumnae of S. T. C. Mrs. Shelton, Mrs. Turnbull and the student waitresses were in charge of the dinner.

The alumnae were seated at the tables near the door. All the guests were dressed formally. Red tulips decorated each table.

School Calendar

A calendar of happenings at S. T. C. from Founder's Day to the close of school.

March 7—Debate with Roanoke College
March 9—Debate with R.-M. C.
March 13—Exams begin
March 17—Spring quarter begins
March 24—Clare Tree Major players.
April 1—Pan Hellenic dance
April 6—Easter holidays begin
April 10—Dormitories open
April 14-15—Play contest
April 21-22—Play contest
April 28—College Choir concert
April 28-29—Pi Kappa Delta convention
May 6—May Day
May 13—Cotillion
May 30—Exams
June 2—Exams end
June 3—Junior-Senior prom
June 4—Baccalaureate sermon
June 5—Class day
June 6—Commencement exercises

Granddaughters Club Entertains Alumnae At Tea in Rec

The Granddaughter's Club, of which Elizabeth Burke is president, entertained the alumnae and faculty at tea in the Recreation Hall, Saturday, March 4, from 4:00 to 5:30.

The Recreation Hall was attractively decorated with spring flowers. Caroline Gwathmey and Martha Evans poured tea. During the afternoon about one hundred and fifty people were served. Betty Hawkins played for the guests.

The following members of the Granddaughter's Club served: Katherine Gray, Elizabeth LeGrand, Olivia Stephenson, Kitty Watkins, Sarah Seward, Sue Marshall, Harriett Walker, Elizabeth Billups, Caroline Eason, Florence Lee, Saran Hayes, Mary Katherine Zehmer, and Nan Duer.

The Home Economics students prepared the food under the direction of Miss Bessie Jeter.

"The Virginian", Began In 1900, Pictures History State Teachers College

Development of the school annual, The Virginian, has been steady since 1900 when the first one was printed. It was then the annul of the State Female Normal School, and the editor was A. Bruce White Danis. A very thin, but hard-back and cloth-bound book with a flag and Virginia seal on the front inclosed about one hundred and fifty pages of material ranging from pictures of a small faculty to the humor section. Besides these, there were class pictures taken in groups, the editors, trustees, notations of recent progress at the Normal, a calendar of events, Bachelor's Review, prize verse, news of the graduates, literary contributions of students, periodicals found in reading room, sororities, and a few organizatoins and clubs. Pictures of classes then were all group pictures, comparatively small and indistinct. Illustrations preceded various sections of pictures, stories, etc. Organization of material was poor, compared with the annuals that later years have produced.

With the growth of our school from a June graduating class of approximately sixteen in 1900 to one hundred and thirty-one in June, 1938, it is easy to understand how improvement in facilities and in workable material has accounted for the modernism of the later annuals. The larger a town becomes, the more officers, clubs, and organizations it is necessary to have—so with Farmville State Teachers College as it has come to be called in recent years. There are many more groups on campus than there were formerly. The 1939 Virginian will be able to have clear, large, and more attractive pictures of the various sports, publication groups, honor societies, sororities, choral groups, whereas it was impossible for earlier annuals to do so. Another added improvement is the available facility of shots on the campus of various antics, girls participating in May Day, circus, etc.

Down through the years since the publication of the first Virginian, the annual has steadily and surely grown and advanced from a thin and cheap papered one to the heavy thick-backed prospective 1939 publication with its spacious pages and excellent photography.

In the dedication of the 1938 annual there are these words: "Resulting from their efforts through days of unflagging diligence is the frame upon which we build"—referring to past Virginian editors. Time, effort, and improvement in working facilities have made possible the making of a bigger and better annual of '39, added together with the framework of past editors. We sincerely hope for the best annual in the history of this institution with this year's publication. Our hats are off to those of the 1939 staff!

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.

Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

Alpha Sigma Tau Entertains Alumnae At Breakfast

Alpha Sigma Tau sorority was entertained in the chapter room at breakfast on March 5, by Miss Mary Nichols. The breakfast was given in honor of the alumnae who returned for the Founders Day exercises.

The alumnae that returned for Founders Day were: Misses Margaret Finch, Margaret Pittard, Musse Hoyer, Jean West, Mary Ethel Barnes, Doris Isabel, and Mrs Elizabeth Moring Smith.

Besides the actives, pledges, and alumnae in the chapter, Mrs. L. H. Dressler, mother of the chapter president, Adelaide Dressler, was present.

Sigma Sigma Sigma Gives Banquet

The active members of the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority entertained their pledges at a banquet in the Tea Room last Wednesday night.

The table was decorated in purple and white, the sorority colors.

Mr. and Mrs. Strick Entertain at Tea

The Madrigal Singers were guests of honor at a tea given by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Strick from four to five in the Student Lounge on March 4. The guests number about thirty among whom were many music lovers from Farmville.

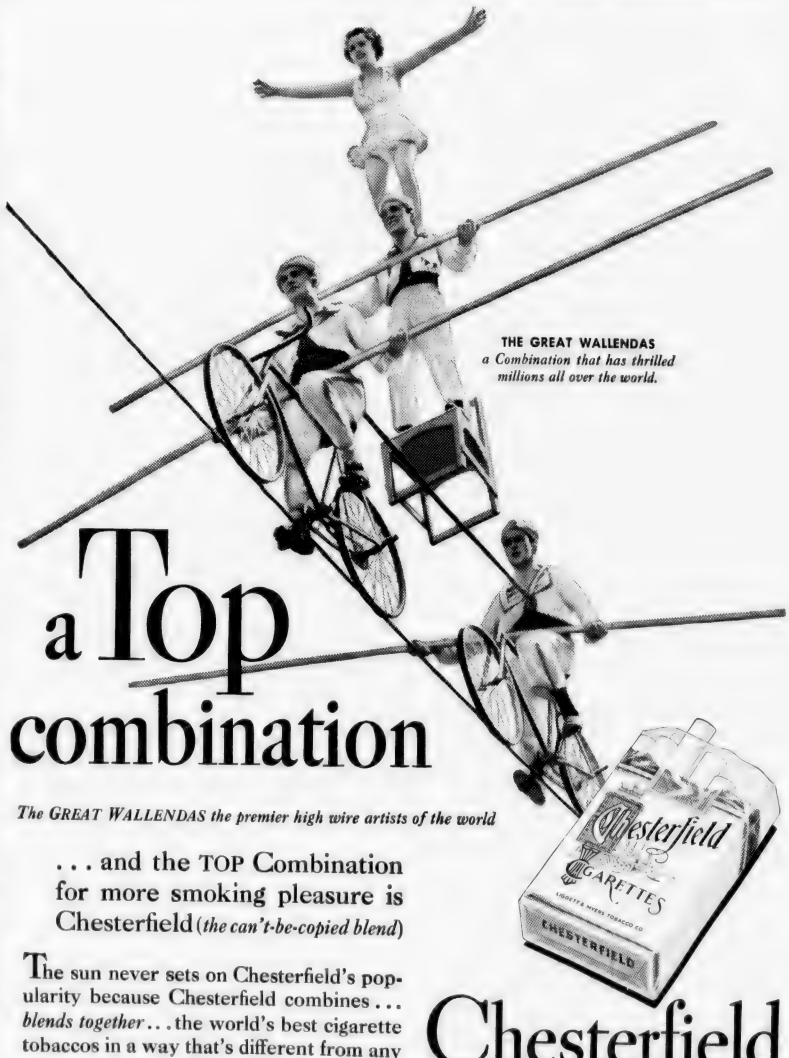
Mrs. Hallie K. Laing was hostess. Those who assisted her in serving were Mrs. Flora Jette-Cranz, Juanita Carson, Helen Hoyer, Frankie Bryan, Mable Burton and Elsye Berrye Yates.

While the guests were being served Peggy Bellus entertained them with short skits.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

Sorority Averages For Fall Quarter Are Collected

Sorority averages for the fall quarter have been collected and compiled by the averaging committee. They are as follows:



Gamma Theta, 1.91; Delta Theta Alpha, 1.84; Mu Omega, 1.70; Sigma Sigma Sigma, 1.64; Alpha Sigma Tau, 1.56; Pi Kappa Sigma, 1.51; Alpha Sigma Alpha, 1.44.

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.
Wed.-Thurs., March 8-9
CAROLE LOMBARD
JAMES STEWART
"Made for Each tOher"
Russ Morgan & Band
Fox Hunting in Color
Friday-Sat., March 10-11
Ronald Colman
FRANCES DEE
BASIL RATHBONE
"IF I WERE KING"
Latest News Events
Next Mon.-Tues., Mar. 13-14
DICK POWELL
MAXINE SULLIVAN
LOUIS ARMSTRONG
"GOING PLACES"
"Ice Antics" Novelty

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

a Top combination

The GREAT WALLENDAS the premier high wire artists of the world

. . . and the TOP Combination for more smoking pleasure is Chesterfield (the can't-be-copied blend)

The sun never sets on Chesterfield's popularity because Chesterfield combines . . . blends together . . . the world's best cigarette tobaccos in a way that's different from any other cigarette.

When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give millions of men and women more smoking pleasure . . . why THEY SATISFY

Chesterfield

. . . the blend that can't be copied
. . . the RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 22, 1939 | No. 21

Beorc Eh Thorn Brings Lecturer To Campus

Folk Lore Study Of South Is Discussed

Dr. John McBryde, a distinguished lecturer and writer, is now on the campus sponsored by Beorc Eh Thorn, local honor society in English. Dr. McBryde arrived last night and will give a series of lectures before leaving Thursday. His lectures began last night, March 21, with a general talk on folk lore of the South. This morning his chapel talk was entitled "B'er Rabbit, a Hero". Tonight Dr. McBryde will lecture on "Chaucer and Uncle Remus". "British Ballads in the Cumberland Mountains" to be given Thursday night, March 23, will conclude the talks.

After the lecture Wednesday night, Beorc Eh Thorn will give a reception in the Student Building lounge in honor of Dr. McBryde, at which time members of Beorc Eh Thorn, the faculty, and the home department will have an opportunity to meet and talk with him.

Teaching successively in Hollins College, Virginia, in the University of North Carolina, Sweet Briar College, the University of the South, and Tulane University, in all of which, with one exception, he was head of the department of English, Dr. McBryde at the same time gave courses in the summer schools of the University of Virginia, Peabody College, and Chautauqua Institute, New York, the Johns Hopkins University, and the University of Southern California, as well as Tulane. His publications in addition to articles in philogical journals, include biographical and critical contributions to the Library of Southern Literature and essays on birds and nature study in the Cornhill Magazine, as well as a book of selected readings in English and American prose for college students and others. These readings are titled "Profitable Company in Literature and

Continued on Page 4

Orchesis Performs At Convention

Group Also Dances For Women's Club

"Gossip" and "War Supressed" were the two numbers which Orchesis, Farmville's artist dance group, performed at the convention held by the Virginia Physical and Health Education Association in Williamsburg, March 18. Westhampton College exhibited the technique of modern dance while Farmville illustrated dance composition. The girls at William and Mary College tap-danced. There was also a discussion of dance techniques in which all represented groups took part.

"Orchesis closed its activities with a program sponsored by the Woman's Club at Charlotte Court House, March 18," Mrs. Fitzpatrick,, natural dancing instructor, answered when asked in an interview recently about the work of the dance group.

"We repeated most of the program presented at the college, February 23," Mrs. Fitzpatrick continued. The Woman's Club was most appreciative and interested in the program. Tea was held for the girls afterwards.

Those girls participating in these programs were: Martha McCorkle, Patsy Fletcher, Edith Fitch, Helen McIlwaine, Mary Elizabeth Pettigrew, Mary Cecil Bynum, Jane Jackson, and Bunny Yonce.

The dance group was under the direction of Essie Milliner, president.

Pandemonium Loosed For Room Changers

Pandemonium broke loose. Girls flocked from the after-lunch meeting in the auditorium. Girls seeking roommates, arguing pro and con the advisability of this or that girl; this or that room. A dozen interpretations of whom Miss Mary had designated for the new building and whom for the old, presented themselves in the riot and were finally boiled down to only seniors in the new building; a little of both in the old. Converging ideas bumped noses. Many girls satisfied with present conditions frowned upon change; others were eager to move—the conservatives versus progressives—you'll find them every time—with not too much attention being given either party.

Out of the hub-bub cooperation reared its well-brushed head seeking admission as an essential to the preservation of a democracy whose citizens remained peaceful. We remain hopeful.

Four Freedoms Is Essay Subject

College Students Eligible

The fourth annual essay contest for college and university students, sponsored by the Fraternity Women's committee for the New York World's Fair has been announced for this year. The contest is open to any regularly enrolled student of a college or university in the United States. All entries must be submitted before May 15, 1939.

The contest this year is devoted to one of the basic themes of the New York World's Fair 1939: the freedom of worship, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and freedom of peaceable assembly.

The theme of the contest is based on the first article of the Bill of Rights which provides that "congress shall make no law respecting the establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise there of; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the government for redress of grievances."

Among the 14 topics, submitted by well known citizens of our country, that a student may select from, we found the following:

"Do you think the American system of government under the constitution as drawn up by George Washington and his associates, the best form of government yet devised, and if so, why?"

"Does this country need a reinterpretation of the rights of freedom of worship, press, speech and assembly to prevent abuse of these rights by foreign propagandists?"

"What is the best way to avoid cycles of unemployment?"

Continued on Page 3

What Impressions S. T. C. Dames Create!

We hear that a certain shopkeeper in Williamsburg is a bit on the alert to close his threshold to strangers now. It seems that that crazy Fischer girl when in the "olde towne" last week-end on the Physical Ed. Convention "took up" her fellows on their wacky ideas.

The dare? Have you ever heard Dot talk "Ferdinand"? 'Tis a dialect all her own—yes, purely and distinctively individual. Anway, the story goes that Dot rushed in and, to the amazement of the over-bewildered salesman, demanded after, repeating it about three times and finally just taking it, a package of "Thpearmint schooing gum." Her companions without were convulsed with laughter.

We also hear that the Williamsburg hospital for the "wandering-in-mind" received a call that night to have its watchmen keep close tab on the gate.

S. T. C. Delegates Attend Physical Ed. Convention

William and Mary Is Host

Members of Orchesis, Dot Fischer, Pat Gibson and Miss Mary Barlow, were Farmville representatives to fourth annual conference of the Virginia Association of Health and Physical Education was held at the college of William and Mary on March 17 and 18. Dr. N. P. Neilson, Executive Secretary of The American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation and Dr. Frank L. Loyd, Professor of Education at New York University were the guest speakers. Miss Jean Tenney, National Women's Archery Champion 1937 and 1938, spoke on "Archery as a leisure time activity" and gave a demonstration at the college stadium.

Friday was given over largely to demonstrations. The biology and chemistry departments were open to the visitors. The football clinic selected sports movies on interscholastic and intercollegiate activties and individual physical education techniques. The big event of the evening was the swimming conference, including demonstration events for men and women students of William and Mary. Mary Washington, Westhampton and Madison, held at Blow gymnasium pool. This was followed by a badminton demonstration and swimming movies.

Dr. Neilson opened the Saturday session with a formal lecture on "The Problem of Professional Education." Major Graves, State Supervisor of Physical and Health Education. Dr. Caroline B. Sinclair

Continued on Page 3

College Choir Broadcasts

The College Choir under the direction of Mr. Alfred H. Strick, broadcast by remote control from the auditorium over statio WRVA. Richmond, Friday evening March 17 at 7:45.

The choir was invited to sing, the occasion being the dedication of Virginia's only 50,000-watt radio station.

Farmville College Choir and Glee Club of William and Mary were the only college choral groups which participated.

"Tovarich" To Be Presented Next Friday

Farmville and Hampden-Sydney Give Play Jointly

"Tovarich", a comedy about two penniless Russians of exalted rank who anonymously take situations in a wealthy Paris home, will be presented by the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs on Friday, March 31 in the Farmville auditorium. The play was written by the renowned novelist and dramatist, Jacques Deval, and was adapted by Sherwood Anderson, who wrote "Mary of Scotland" which was given by the Dramatic Club last year. After its appearance in Paris in 1933, it remained there for eight hundred performances before traveling to Berlin where it was highly acclaimed by Adolf Hitler. Later it ran for a year in London, and it was produced by Gilbert Miller at the Plymouth Theater, New York City, October 15, 1936.

The characters selected for the play are Mikail, James Johnston; Tatiana, Frances Hutchinson; Madame Ferrande Dupont, Alpha Lee Garnett; Olga, Elizabeth Ann Parker; Count Feoder Brekenski, J. Hunter Peake; Chauffourier-Dubieff, Johnny Pancake; Montelleau, Edward Field; Charles Dupont, Keith Eubank; Louise, Jane McGinnis; Georges Dupont, Bob Engle; Helen Dupont, Clara Nottingham; Concierge's daughter,Allene Overby; Madame Van Hemert, Margaret Bellue; Ma-

Continued on Page 2

Jada Jocoroco Tells, Knows All

To whom it may concern, and there should be many, we have advice to give—advice to the lovelorn.

Have any problems? Slippin'? Empty mail box? Is his picture turned to the wall?

LEARN WHY AND HOW!

"JADA JOCOROCO TELLS ALL."

Begins next Wednesday in your Rotunda.

Drop your letter in the box beneath the postoffice bulletin board across from the Colonnade box.

Write at once—

SHE WHO HESITATES — IS LOST!

Panic Averted, Suspense Is Relieved as Examinations End

The morning sun shone palely in through the windows on which the ivy tendrils flapped eerily in the faintly chill breeze. Within the room the girl stirred and shook her sleepy head. She looked at her watch and sighed; she'd gone to sleep after all and her studying plans had been of no avail. Now it was time for the first breakfast bell and she'd accomplished nothing. She rose wearily, gathered her scrappy notes together, turned off the light and left the room. Along the halls there came to her muffled sounds indicative of similar skull-dragging processes going on in every room. There was little sleep for those who stayed in bed with all this activity going on. She entered her own room, hurried through dressing and managed to get to breakfast on time.

The people she met on the way were pale and wore in place of their usual makeup a haggard expression. Several fortunates were gloatishly happy. They had no exams on this last day. The rest of the suffering crowd directed baleful glances toward them which dimmed not a whit their bubbling spirits.

After the meal an electric tension held the minutes taut—the ephemeral knowledge gained from last night's cramming acquired a hazy, muddled aspect, the bell clanged forth and loudly announced that the time had come. "Les Miserables" stirred, scrambled for a pencil and blue book and departed for their last exams.

With alternate ceiling gazing and furious spurts of writing the hours passed and one o'clock finally came. The silence of muffled activity of the past three days was broken. Voices lifted, laughter was heard. The walls seemed to echo "It's over."

That night thought was far from constructive, nor was it directed toward Morpheus' soothing embrace. Each one told the story of her worst exam. Chatter ran high, laughs were merry. Mary Lou's box from home ran low. The House Council, with its eye on health and beauty, acted as sandman to a certain extent—but murmurs and stifled giggles continued after darkness was severed. Sleep came on space though and silence settled soon. A silence of content and relaxation for, after all, exams were over—the school was a carefree place again and its girls no longer destined to be pale and distraught!

The morning sun shone palely in, but no one gave a hoot!

Major Elections Are Held; Results Tonight

Eason, Hardaway, Eades, Reiff, Fischer, Jarman, Hatcher, Nimmo, Nominees

Canon Raven Pleas for Vision

Miss Rumbough Introduces Speaker

Canon Charles Raven of the Church of England, and Miss Constance Rombo, former student at Farmville, spoke to the student body in chapel on Monday, March 20.

Mr. Grainger introduced Miss Rumbough, who is the southern secretary of the "Fellowship of Reconciliation." After her student days at Farmville, she was for some time missionary in Manchuria and Poland. Recalled from her missionary work she began work with an organization formed to bring about a reconciliation of the nations. She introduced the speaker, Dr. Charles Raven, who is now visiting the United States and speaking in colleges. Canon Raven is chaplain to the King of England and has written a number of books, the best known being "The Wanderer's Way"

Canon Raven selected his subject from the hymn "Lead On Oh King Eternal" and developed it along the line of teaching. As teachers, college girls are to mold the future. That is life's great task. The world is seeing in Europe today how dangerous such a power can be.

"The first essential of teaching is vision, and, there is no vision except the highest that can satisfy a person with the possibilities we have," said Canan Raven. He urged that youth not be ashamed of its dreams but follow them. "In doing this there will be moments of loneliness for us all," he stated.

"With the changing world which is becoming one, whether we like it or not, we are faced with the question of 'what can we do?' That is where the 'Fellowship of Reconciliation' comes in. Their belief is that even if we lose our belief in mankind we must not lose our belief in God. The purpose is to work for peace."

Theta Sigma Upsilon Installed

Mrs. Don Frehsee of Lockport, New York who is National Editor of Theta Sigma Upsilon, Miss Carrie Walter of Temple University, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, who is the Theta Sigma Upsilon Association of Educational Sororities representative, and Miss Betty Umberger, president of the Gamma chapter of Theta Sigma Upsilon at Temple University spent last week-end here for the purpose of installing the local sorority, Delta Theta Alpha, into the Tau chapter of Theta Sigma Upsilon.

Five Delta Theta Alpha alumnae, Kitty Walden, Edith Heermance, Evelyn Howell, Marie Moore and Marion Pond returned to be initiated with the twelve charter members, five initiates, and four pledges.

Tau Chapter of Theta Sigma Upsilon received its charter Saturday night at a formal banquet at Longwood. The final service took place Sunday afternoon with the installation of officers. Caroline Greathmey will be president for the rest of the year.

Marie Eason of Richmond and Martha Meade Hardaway of Burkeville as president of the Student Council, Dorothy Eades of Roanoke and Helen Reiff of Lansdowne, Pa., as president of Y. W. C. A., Dorothy Fischer of East Islip, N. Y., and Chlotilde Jarman of Crozet as president of the Athletic Association, and Geraldine Hatcher of Salem and Marjorie Nimmo of Suffolk, as president of House Council are the nominees for major officers of next year as polled by popular vote of the students at nominations held yesterday, March 21. Elections were held today, and the results will be announced tonight.

Marie has been class representative in government for the past three years. She has chairmaned various Y. W. C. A. committees and now heads the chapel program committee. She has recently been tapped into Alpha Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity, recognizing leadership.

Martha Meade is now secretary of Student Council and has been class secretary all three years. She too is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Dot Eades is treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. and has been class treasurer for three years. She also has been tapped into Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Helen Reiff was recently made vice-president of the Y. W. formerly being chairman of the membership committee. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Dot Fischer is treasurer of the Athletic Association and vice-pres-

Continued on Page 3

Pi Gamma Mu Plans Project

Governments And Leaders Are Topics

A series of chapel talks on the "lime-light" leaders of the various kinds of governments functioning in the world today and a formal panel discussion on the types of governments are being planned by Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary society for social science, for its annual project. This program is to be the week previous to Easter vacation.

Chapel talks will be given March 30, 31 and April 1. An open forum is to be held in the Student Lounge Monday night, April 3 and will be followed by a formal reception. Invitations will be issued to faculty, town people and all students who are interested.

Arrangements for the program are being made by Ruth Reed, project chairman and Miss Grace Moran, adviser.

Six Leave School At End of Quarter

Six S. T. C. students left school at the end of the winter quarter for various reasons. Three of them, Ruth Hill, Leah Marsh, and Mrs. Elizabeth Ferrell Harris, completed their courses here, while Margaret Tucker needed only one more class to finish. Virginia Holliday, who has had to leave several times before, was forced to stop school again on account of her health. Frances Dickinson also did not return.

Two new students have enrolled for the spring quarter. They are Mrs. Frances Lumsden Crawford and Hazel Kathleen Peters. A third person, Ethel Beasley, applied for admission during this quarter but as yet has not arrived.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Alice Leigh Barham, Micky Beck, Evelyn Buford, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Bernice Copley, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowger, Hyler Daniels, Sudie Dunton, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Pat Gibson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Polly Hughes, Helen Jeffries, Anna Hutcheson, Poly Hughes, Helen Jeffries, Anna Johnson, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Theodocia McKenzie, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Dorothy Rollins, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West, Lucy Turnbull, Margaret Wright.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants — Anne Benton, Lucy Blackwell, Josa Carlton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary Sue Simmons, Helen Briggs, Frances Pope, Mary Allen Peters, Beverly Blair, Kathryn Watkins, Jane Rosenberger.

Typists

Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Betsy Briggs, Anne Bruce, Elizabeth Bundy, Dorothy Lee Harrison, Frances Pritchett, Dorothy Smith, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Sue Woolford.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 22, 1939

Let's Have a Democratic Ballot!

Among the things on which Farmville State Teachers College prides itself is the democracy of its student body and its student organizations. We claim that our elections are free from influence and free from undue stress on many of the things that often color campus politics. These claims are probably largely true, but our conduct of student elections displays one undemocratic procedure. Reference is being made to the requirement that each student voting shall sign her name to her ballot. This requirement probably originally had a worthy purpose, but with as many students of government and economics as we have at Farmville, and with the claim that life in the school should be typical of life outside the school wherever advisable, why shouldn't we have regular voting places as we have now stationed throughout the dormitories. The girls would be notified where to vote, and each election official would have a list of those eligible to vote at her "precinct." As soon as a voter casts her ballot her name would be checked, and she would not be under the necessity of signing her ballot. The Rotunda believes that the ballot should be secret, and certainly our present system of balloting is not secret. Some few girls might attempt to be "funny" in voting, but surely the large majority of 850 girls would have enough loyalty to their ideals and their school to make voting a serious duty.

SENIOR PERSONALITIES

FRANKIE BRYAN

She's always smiling and always busy; and yet she always has time to stop and help you when you need her. That's Frankie. She can fit into any place or situation with ease. Her sincere interest in other people has made her one of the best loved girls in school.

Her election as Queen of the Mardi Gras and as a May Court attendant stands as proof of her beauty. Frankie's first love is music. She has acted as president of the College Choir for two years and has done great things directing the Junior A Capella Choir this year. Her ability to manage has been proven by her work as Cotillion Club business manager.

Frankie's interest in her surroundings—her school and her friends is her big contribution to life, and surely such characteristics lead to a lasting memory.

Professor Quiz Catches Non-Observant Girls

That Kay Kyser and Professor Quiz have nothing on us when it comes to questions and answers was ably shown to us in "Sing" Saturday night. The contestants, volunteers from the audience, rated well (two of them at least) in their answers. "Singing Saran" was the "winnah" by an answer. The questionnaire was tricky with "what-nots" about school personalities. Stumpers such as the number of buildings of the college and the co-captains of the basketball team were asked. And did the girls look sheepish when they were wrong! After all, it pays to look around you; you never know when you may be called upon to part with some of your vast knowledge.

Student Speaks

Dear Editor,

Numerous editorials and talks have been given over to the behavior in chapel. However, I feel that one important matter has been overlooked—Senior Chapel.

For many years it has been a tradition here at Farmville that one day in the week be set aside for Senior chapel at which time Seniors wear caps and gowns and march to the tune of our Alma Mater.

Recently Dr. Jarman granted a request to discontinue Senior chapel on Saturday and have it on Friday instead. Since the change of day, my impression has been that Seniors have been negligent in failing to wear their caps and gowns and in thus breaking the tradition of the college by marching to the Alma Mater without their caps and gowns.

It seems to me that the Seniors are setting a poor example for the rest of the school.

A Junior

"Tovarich"

Continued from Page 1

dame Chauffaurier-Dubieff, Mary Elizabeth McCormick; Commissar Goratchenka, Alexander Allison.

Virginia Simmons is in charge of properties for the play; Jean Taylor, lighting; Hazelwood Burbank, staging; Betty Moss, costuming; Marguerite Snell, publicity; and Elizabeth George Wilson, business.

Newspapers have carried such comment in regard to the play: "At last the drought is broken! There was jubilation on the sidewalk last night."

St. Patrick's Day Means More Than "Wearin' O' Green"

"When law can stop the blades of grass from growing as they grow,
And when the leaves in summertime their color dare not show,
Then I will change the color, too, I wear in my coubeen,
But 'til that day, please God, I'll stick to wearin' o' the green."

When we were in Grammar School, St. Patrick's day was almost as big an event as St. Valentine's day. We not only had a special program in school, but on that day we all wore green, entirely or in part, and woe unto anyone who forgot, for friends clustered around him and shouted, "Greenie on you, greenie on you." He was literally mobbed and was quick to grab a leaf from a near by shrub for protection.

This year, however, the March 17 passed with little or no recognition at Farmville. Maybe we have forgotten the origin of that neglected day.

It is believed that at one time oh, years and years ago, Ireland was infested with snakes and frogs, and all kinds of vermin. They were an annoying feature of their beautiful country Ireland or green land. A minister named Patrick, who preached his sermons from hilltops and who used the shamrock, with its three leaves on one stem as symbol of the great mystery—the trinity, decided to try and rid his country of this pestilence. So he had it announced throughout Ireland that on a certain day he would preach a sermon which would drive all the vermin out of Ireland.

On the day appointed, Patrick started out, beating his drum, as was his custom for drawing listeners. The farther he went the louder he beat the drum. Just as he reached the foot of the hill whre the prophesized event was to take place, he beat so vigorously that the instrument burst.

The multitude of people who had gathered to witness the miracle, were dismayed, for they had an idea that a good deal of Patrick's power lay in his drum. Their alarm was even greater when they saw gliding down the hill toward them, with jaws distended, a huge black snake. The people were rooted to the spot. On and on the snake came, a gleam in its ugly eyes, and a tremor in its whole body, as if it were convulsed with laughter.

But before it reached the foot of the hill, an angel came down and patched up the drum, the sermon proceeded, and all the reptiles vanished as if by magic.

Patrick became a saint and that day—March 17—is set aside as St. Patrick's day. He is revered by Catholics the world over and especially by the people of Ireland.

Irelands' most popular song of the day tells the story of St. Patrick and his miracle. Some of it follows:

"There's not a mile in Ireland's isle where dirty vermin musters:
Where'er he put his dear fore foot he murdered them in clusters.
The toads went hop, the frogs went flop, slap dash into the water.
And the beasts committed suicide to save themselves from slaughter.

The Wicklow Hills are very high, and so's the Hill of Houth, sir;
But there's a hill much higher still—ay, higher than them both, sir:
'Twas on the top of this high hill, St. Patrick preached the sermint
That drove the frogs into the bogs and bothered all the vermint."

Echoes From an Empty Space

Exams over and a sigh of relief—now all are eagerly awaiting the arrival of the Easter Bunny bringing its greetings of spring—but let's look back over the past week or so and spot the points of interest—first, we were most sorry to hear that "Petit" Adams had to leave school because "it" was a victim of that dreaded child's disease—mumps—and we do hope "it" will be with us again soon . . . Jamie Lee, Frankie, Mabel and Billups created a new hairstyle during exams—we title it the "exam coiffure"—a most attractive style, m' ladies . . . Clara unconsciously goes around school murmuring "it's wonderful—a beautiful secret"—and Charlotte, the overhearer, thinks she has lost her mind—what is it this time, Clara? . . . T. C. gets the flu and Lenoir goes to see him—Lenoir gets the flu—well, love does funny things! . . . Then there is the Brinkley-Link-Lybrook triangle—first it's one and then the other—better make up your mind, Charlie or you will be in the dog-house soon . . . Happy, the heart-throb, finds Ora quite a charming lass—what about Lucy, Happy? . . . Then this Staples-Scott affair is getting to be quite serious for Stucy wanders around with rather a dreamy look in her eyes—can't wait to see what spring will do to this case . . . Pan Hels at Hampden-Sydney were most unusual, for when Harry Byrd goes to a dance feelin' unnatural, it's miraculous—stupendous, and what have you . . . Martha Whelchel receives her first invitation to the dances and at the same time, her first campus "invitation"—life is futile, Martha—but, there'll come another day . . . Pattie attending the dances?—true enough—and she had a most pleasant time, although Annapolis Hops have something Hampden-Sydney lacks—perhaps it's the uniform—then there is the question as to what has happened to Charlotte's town romance—perhaps her thoughts have wandered back home . . . Quite a confusion stirred up in Senior Building over the fact of who was to room with whom in the new building—after fixing up everyone, Beverley found she still didn't have a room mate—never saw the like of it . . . A most unusual phenomena occurred in Steed's room Monday night—we opened the door, peered in, and there she stood hanging out the window—a broom in one hand—for it seems she had trapped something in her window and she was having a delightful time playing with it while we stood horrified at the scene—she slowly lowered the window and then a screech followed a moan—Steed has committed "Rat" slaughter—a poor innocent little rat had entered her parlor becoming another of her victims . . . Little Flip at Patterson's is trying to prove that he would make a cunning little kitten or something—he came in the other night from a date with green angora all over his coat—it couldn't be Nancy Hopkins- . . .

Books in Review

"THE TREE OF LIBERTY"
By Elizabeth Page

This story of America in Thomas Jefferson's day should be of particular interest to us in that it centers around frontier life in our native State. The author has set herself to show the cause of three families—the Howards, the Peytons and the Humphreys.

Matthew Howard was born in the Blue Ridge and shared the opinion of his neighbor, that the mountain man was the object of the tax burdens and injustice of the government. Even after he had sat in the Virginia House of Burgesses and in Congress, he remained of the same opinion.

His wife, Jane Peyton, was a daughter of one of the great and wealthy families of Tidewater Virginia, who refused to share this prejudiced opinion of her husband. She believed that the government should be left to those whose right it was by birth.

Sometimes their great love for one another was all that kept them together through the stormy years of opposed opinion.

There were two sons, James and Peyton.

James became a member of a New York shipping firm and established his fortune in the cotton mills of Rhode Island.

Peyton married a French maiden, who presented him with two sons, one of which, following his grandfather's unfulfilled ambition, went west.

The story is woven quickly and is of the type that we like to read and reread.

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

Just as the world was beginning to breathe peacefully again after the panic of last September; commentators-at-large had stopped anticipating an immediate war; and people were beginning to look in a somewhat changed attitude at Germany and think that perhaps the Munich Pact did mean something after all, "hell broke loose" again. The serpent has raised his ugly head again and pointed his poisonous fangs at a maybe "too trustful world."

Notwithstanding the promises of Hitler at the Munich conference last fall of no further aggression in Europe, the world woke up last week from its dream of peace to find that Hitler had sent one of his famous ultimatums to Prague demanding that Czechs-Slovakia be reorganized into three "independent" states which of course would be under the direct supervision of Germany.

No sooner had the democracies coined words to express their rightful indignation of Germany's trickery, deceit, or whatever you choose to call it, than Hitler sent one of his economic diplomats to Rumania, Hitler apparently wants to "fix up" her trade relations with that counry and thus lure the little fly gently into the spider's web. Rumania has some of the richest oil fields in Europe. Germany needs the oil and it has been hinted that the only way Rumania will be able to secure her future independence with Germany will be to accept whatever barter Hitler may offer her. But the question is: Can any small country in Europe be independent of Germany?

Mussolini thinks the situation not bad, and he is more or less applauding Hitler for doing the thing that he would like to do. Stalin is too busy holding congress to pay much attention to the sudden outburst. All the little countries are scared to death and are shivering in their shoes, so to speak. We democracies are taking every precaution possible.

President Roosevelt has urged a revision of the Neutrality Act. As the act now stands, if war should break, the United States would be powerless to legally aid non-aggressive countries as well as aggressive countries. It would be impossible in our estimation, to keep such a law in the panic that comes with a war.

Germany has broken faith just when the nations were willing to bargain with her. Will the mistrust that must of a necessity follow this breaking lead Germany to go into war for what we believe she could have gotten peacefully? Germany knows what she wants, but she doesn't go about it in the right way. She is blunt and crude in her diplomacy. She is too easily seen through. Germany lacks tact.

S.T.C. Places Third In Telegraphic Meet

Green and White Leads in Interclass

"Congratulations on winning the third place in Southern Region Telegraphic meet with 22 1-2 points" is the telegram received March 17 by Pat Gibson, Farmville's swimming instructor. This news was the result of competition by ten schools which entered in the intercollegiate telegraphic swimming meet. Participants were Florida State College for Women, Oklahoma A. and M. College, Oklahoma College for Women, University of Oklahoma, University of Texas, William and Mary, Mary Washington College, and Farmville State Teachers College.

The intercollegiate meet is held each year. Farmville has only been entered in the meet for the last two years, and has placed each of the two years.

Advanced speed events in interclass competition were entered in the telegraphic meet.

Green and White has taken the lead in the annual water meet between the classes. The score at it now stand is 39-31, in favor of the sophomores and seniors. This, however, is not final since there are still three events to be swum off. As a class, the seniors were outstanding totaling 22 points to the Frosh's 17. The juniors and sophomores scored 11 and 16 1-2 points respectively.

Jean Terrell won individual honors in the intermediate class winning both the plain dive and crawl for form. Jenny Carroll and Vera Ebel splashed their way to victory in two events each in the advanced group—the former winning the crawl form event and the 40 yard free-style for speed, the latter both the 40 yard and 100 yard breast stroke event for speed. Anne Shirley and Peggy Hughes, freshmen, ran up 14 points for the "Rats", winning the 100 yard free-style race and breast stroke for form respectively. They also made up the winning tandem team.

Summaries:

Beginners—Push off, Peggy Stevens, 2; Elementary Back stroke (form), Marie Allen, 2; Side stroke (form), Margaret Coulter, 3; 10 yd. crawl (race), Nellie Williamson, 2.

Intermediates — Plain dive (form), Jean Terrell, 2; 25 yd. free style (race), Mary Sue Edmundson, 2; Side stroke (form), Sarah Chambers, 1; Crawl (form), Jean Terrell, 2.

Advanced — Breast Stroke (form), Peggy Hughes, 1; Back Crawl (form), Essie Milliner, 3; Crawl (form), Jenny Carroll, 4; Surface Diving (form), Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, 2; Sidney Yonce, 4.

Springboard diving, Helen McIlwaine, 2; 40 yard free style, Virginia Carroll, time 24"; 40 yard back crawl, Sarah Keesee, time 32"; 40 yard breast stroke, Vera Ebel, time 35"; 100 yard breast stroke ,Vera Ebel, time 1:53; 100 yard free style, Anne Shirley, time 1:30.

Beginners, first place, 1 point; Intermediate, first place, 2 points; Advanced, first place, 5 points.

Volleyball Bouts Completed

Seniors Victorious In First Place

Green and White was victorious in the volleyball games which were played March 10 and 13.

Round Robin style was used for the 12 games. The seniors scored the highest number of games by winning five of the 12. Sophomores came second, winning three. Victories for Juniors totaled two, while the Freshmen won one game.

Points wil be given toward the color cup for these games. Those participating are as follows:

Seniors: Caroline Gwathmey, Elizabeth Berryman, Virginia Whitehead Smith, Elizabeth Burke, Virginia Carroll, Mildred Gentry, Bunny Yonce, Ellen Conyers.

Juniors: Ruby Adams, Dorothy Fischer, Helen Jeffries, Phil Schlobohm, Myra Smith, Jean Clarke, Lucy Blackwell, Mary Louise Cunningham.

Sophomores: Crews Borden, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Rosa Courter, Florence Lee, Helen McIlwaine, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Nancy Pierpont, Patricia Whitlock, Sarah Booth, Louise Painter, Anna Johnson, Pat Gibson, Mary Alice Marshall.

Freshman: May Winn, Catherine Radspinner, Mary Lou Shannon, Anne Hurff, Dorothy Johnson, Martha Roberts, Polly Hughes, Elizabeth Barlow, Louise Phillips, Corilda Chapman.

Archers to Try Bows

All archery equipment will be kept at Longwood from now on and anyone who wishes to shoot may do so on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4 o'clock. The truck will leave the back porch on Thursday, March 23 at 4 o'clock and Margaret Stallard or Helen Seward, managers of archery will be there to give instructions.

Essay

Continued from Page 1

The first prize is a trip to the New York World's Fair of 1939, including transportation to and from New York and one week's all expense stay at the Beekman Tower Hotel.

Second and third prizes in the contest will be cash awards of $25 and $15 respectively, and an all-expense stay of one week at the Beekman Tower Hotel, not including railroad transportation.

A complete list of the rules and topics for selection in the contest are posted on the bulletin board in the English Department.

Sport Slants

By Pat Gibson

With the seniors running up twenty-two points in the interclass swimming meet last week, we find Green and White favored to take the color cup points in the aquatic field. But—and a big "but" it is too—Red and White is only eight points behind and there are three events to be paddled off before the final decision.

Although this isn't strictly sports, I think that we ought to give our "Orchesis" a great big hand for the splendid way in which they represented us at the Physical Education Convention in Williamsburg. They proved they really know how to do it.

And speaking of Williamsburg, you all should have seen Jean Tenney, the National Archery champ. That gal can't miss—20, 30, 40, 50, 60 yards—it's all the same to her. A bull's eye every time! Makes me feel like hotfooting it to Longwood every day to become "Master of the Arrows." Then too—the old bow and arrow sport will take that bump, out of your back which is the which is the result of "sipping cokes thru a straw".

The Red Cross Life Saving course will start on Friday at 4:00. Any of you who are interested in getting your Senior badge or in reviewing your old course please report at that time. The class will also meet on Tuesdays from 5:00-5:30. And say—another thing about the pool—if you want to be anything besides a beach beauty this summer, now's the time. Beginner's Class in swimming meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4:00-5:00.

We've got everything gals—ping pong, badminton, tennis, lacrosse, baseball, golf, swimming, riding and the old standby walking. Let's get into line and really "shape up"for the warm weather.

Major Elections

Continued from Page 1

ident of the Monogram Club. She has been active in athletics, being a member of the varsity hockey and basketball squads. Dot, has been recognized by Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Chlotilde is secretary of the Athletic Association. She is a member of the Monogram Club, varsity hockey and basketball teams.

Gerry has been a member of the House Council for two years. She is a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, being chairman of the music committee.

Marjorie is vice-president of the House Council. She is sports editor of the Rotunda staff, a member of Monogram Club, the varsity basketball squad and active in swimming. She was recently tapped into Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Minor elections will be conducted this week.

Physical Ed Meet

Continued from Page 1

of Mary Washington and Mr. Ben Hilliard, Principal of Tappahannock High School gave brief talks supplementary to the main topic. Immediately following Dr. Neilson's address Dr. Lloyd spoke on "Some Aspects of Recreation". The remainder of the morning was spent in discussion groups of men's and women's athletics intramural sports and the dance section. The Farmville dance group, "Orchesis", presented a program at this time.

"Problems Facing the Profession" was the topic of Dr. Neilson's second address Saturday afternoon. This was followed by an informal discussion. The woman's Monogram Club was hostess at tea at the end of the afternoon's program. Demonstrations of six-man football, apparatus work and fencing played a large part in the remainder of the days program, which was concluded by an informal picnic supper at Matoaka Park and a dance at Blow Gymnasium.

Ruby Adams Injured

Ruby Adams, returning to Farmville from her home in Richmond, received painful injuries early Monday morning, March 20. Opening a door while the car was in motion, she was thrown out and dragged, her coat being caught in the door. She received no internal injuries but was seriously bruised and skinned.

A. A. Plans Track For Spring Session

A track meet will be held at S. T. C. in April for the first time since 1934. Students have requested this sport, so the A. A. has agreed to sponsor it. if enough students will participate. A notice will be posted on the A. A. bulletin board and anyone interested in entering is asked to sign up immediately.

Practices will be held on Friday afternoons at 4 o'clock and students must have a certain number of practices to participate in the contest. All forms of field and track events will be held: races, hurdling, javelin throw, high jump, broad jump and basketball throw.

Students are urged to sign up and come out for practices and if enough are interested, the field and track meet will be entered as another sport in competition for the color cup.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

JUST ARRIVED
NEW SPRING OXFORDS
$2.95 to $6.50
NEWNew "True Moccasin" For Campus Wear $2.95
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

COLLEGE SHOPPE
with tomato and lettuce salad. Special Hamburger Sandwich — French fried potatoes, coffee, tea or milk.
25c

WANTED AGENT
At State Teachers College
For ....
REAL SILK HOSIERY
Mrs. Charles Newman
Phone 288 503 Virginia St.
FARMVILLE, VA.

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

Everying in the line of EQUESTRIAN SPORTS
JOHPHURS
RIDING PANTS
CROPS
Also tennis shoes, balls and racquets
A & N STORE

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

holly-Pax
FOR WOMEN'S GREATER COMFORT AND FREEDOM— INSERTION TYPE SANITARY PROTECTOR. Package of 10, 25c.
NO PADS · NO BELTS TO BIND · NO ODOR
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price Service Store

DUKE UNIVERSITY
SCHOOL OF NURSING
Durham, N. C.
The Diploma of Graduate Nurse is awarded after three years, and the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing for two additional years of approved college work before or after the course in Nursing. The entrance requirements are Intelligence, character and graduation from an accredited high school. After 1939 one year of college work will be required and two years of college work thereafter. The annual tuition of $100 covers the cost of uniforms, books, student government fees, etc. Catalogues application forms and information about college requirements may be obtained from the Admission Committee.

BALDWIN'S
NEW SHIPMENT . . .
Just Received
FLEECE-LINED
COTTON CARDIGANS
White, maze Rose, Blue ... $1.49
NEW LINES
New Sleeves and Pockets
Saddle . . . Oxfords
RUBBER SOLES SOLES $2.98
Buy Quality and Style for Less—Compare!
BALDWIN'S
Quality, Price Service Store

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

S. A .LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure Thread SILK HOSE
Full Fashioned
Guaranteed to You
49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE,

Southside Drug Store
Chicken Salad 10c
Delicious Hamburger 10c
Deviled Egg 10c
All Cheese 10c
We Deliver—Quiquest service to College
Phone 356

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

SHANNON'S
Stop in on your way to the movies
POPCORN—CAKES—CANDY
Breakfast

Girls Attend Pan-Hellenic Dances At Hampden-Sydney College

Among those from Farmville S. T. C. and their escorts who attended the Spring Pan-Hellenic dances at Hampden-Sydney last week-end, March 17-18 were:

Jackie Allen, "Slack" Hastings; Louise Anthony, Frank Brown; Fredna Armfield, Ralph Stokes; Esther Atkinson, Billy Chewning; Jacqueline Beal, Nat Rodgers; Anne Billups, Tommy Reed; Pattie Bounds, Jack Harlow; Theresa Brinkly, Charles Link; Gay Ward Brown, Gordon Willis; Frankie Bryan, Ed Kilby.

Lena Butterworth, Charles Elmore; Shirly Callahan, Cecil Carpenter; Josephine Canada, Tom Atkinson; Ruth Carney, Archie Bynum; Blanche Carper, Charlie Nottingham; Sarah Carter, Johnny Gibson; Marguerite Costello, Bobby Shultz; Marian Cotter, Charles Joyce; Mary Deans, Taylor Bruce; Rachel DeBerry, Joseph Manson.

Adelaide Dressler, Osville Finnel; Nan Duer, Bill McKenna; Ora Earnest, Dick Hoppstetter; Anne Easley, Syd Walden; Frances Ellet, Tulane Atkinson; Martha Evans, Stack Hastings; Betty Beale Fahr, Ranny Munt; Blair Goode, Bill Tracy; Irma Graff, Bill Baker; Theresa Graff, Bob Ogram.

Betty Hawkins, Lewis Richards; Ruth Hill, Leigh Haines; Madge Horne, Bob Dabney; Kay Hoxsey, Frank Booker; Emily Hoskins, Anson Jamison; Polly Hughes, Marshall Doswell; Evelyn Byrd Hutcheson, John Stewart Battle; Frances Hutcheson, John Pancake; Ruth Jones, Clyde Duvall.

Sara Kessee, Bill Gibson; Polly Keller, Lewis Timberlake; Johnny Lybrook, Bob Buxton; Margaret Manson, Bill Harris; Dotty McClaugherty, Eliven Vaden; Mary Elizabeth McCormick, Bob Engle; Helen McIlwaine, William Traylor; Lucrese Niemeyer, Ed Spencer; Marjorie Nimmo, Bob Eason.

Jenny Noel, M. R. Heidelback; Clara Nottingham, Kyle Baldwin; Louise Painter, George Fulton; Norma Pamplin, Leigh Taylor; Augusta Parks, Quillen Keith; Mimi Perdue, Bill Spencer; Virginia Lee Pettis, Bill Lashley; Agnes Pickrel, J. B. Ridgeway, Jr.; Nancy Pierpont, Emmett Hoy; Frances Pritchett, Sam Lippincott.

Catherine Radspinner, Bill Patterson; Macon Raine, Jack Summers; Mary Jane Ritchie, Mac Janny; Dorothy Robbins, Booty Shelton; Jean Scott, Lewis Johnson, Jr.; Helen Seward, Charles Heinemenn; Beverly Sexton, Bob Scott; Mary Lou Shannon, Tommy Curry; Patsy Smith, Mark Byrd Williams; Lucy Staples, Bobby Scott; Frances Steed, F. M. Smith, Jr.

Bill Stone, Strisworth; Mary C. Sturgis, Bill Bowen; Adeline Tucker, B. T. Doyle; Elizabeth Townsend, Jimmy Wollcott; Jean Upshur, Spencer Wise; May Wertz, John Dennis; Margaret Whitfield, Bob Walker; Anne Williams, Billy Trinkle; Bess Windham, Bobby Trice; Lula Windham, Tyler Taylor; Nancy Wolfe, DeWitt Peck.

Dr. McBryde

Continued from Page

Science", designed to help the reader balance the literature of emotion with the literature of knowldge. As a lecturer, Dr. McBryde has appeared before clubs and college audiences in many states of the South and the East, and at various times has given series of talks over the radio. Now, retiring from active work in the classroom, he presents for those who may be interested, a list of available lectures in the fields of folklore, literature, and nature study.

Beore Eh Thorn each year brings a celebrated personality to the campus. In 1937, Richard Erskine delivered to the student body his modern interpretation of the story of Helen of Troy. Halliburton came as a guest of the society, and in 1936, John

If your clothes are not becoming to you—

THEN YOU SHOULD BE COMING TO THE HUB

Man tailored Shetland suits. Colors: wisteria, beige navy, aqua and rose, sizes 12 to 20.

$5.98

THE HUB DEPT. STORE

Charge it if you like

EACO THEATRE

Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., March 22-23
LORETTA YOUNG
WARNER BAXTER
Wife, Husband & Friend
Community Sing & Novelty

Friday-Sat., March 24-25
MADELEINE CARROLL
FRED MacMURRAY
"CAFE SOCIETY"
Cartoon and Latest News

Next Mon.-Tues., Mch 27-28
SHIRLEY TEMPLE
RICHARD GREENE
"LITTLE PRINCESS"
ALL TECHNICOLOR
Our Gang Comedy

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High St. Farmville, Va.

After Seeing the Fashion Show

Come down and get your EASTER outfit from Dorothy May store.

Easter Bonnets

Easter bonnets as you like 'em—$1.97 to $3.97.

dorothy may store

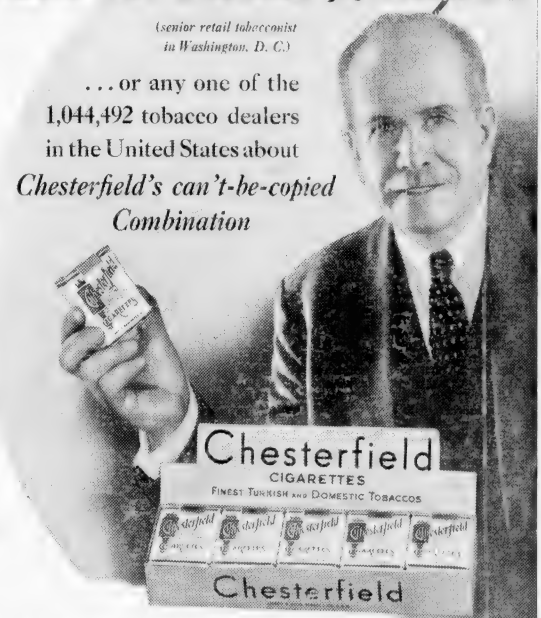
For your Easter outfit

...let us pick the spot-We'll take you there

AT ⅓ THE COST OF DRIVING

Sample One-Way Fares

Roanoke	$2.00	Covington	2.80
Raleigh, N. C.	2.70	Danville	2.00
Winston-Salem	2.80	Newport News	2.85
Washington	3.30	Williamsburg	2.35
Lexington	1.90	Blacksburg	2.80



GREYHOUND BUS STATION
Phone 78 Continental Hotel

GREYHOUND Lines

..ask W. Curtis Draper

(senior retail tobacconist in Washington, D. C.)

...or any one of the 1,044,492 tobacco dealers in the United States about Chesterfield's can't-be-copied Combination

He'll say... Look what it says on the back of the package...

"Chesterfield Cigarettes are a balanced blend of the finest aromatic Turkish tobacco and the choicest of several American varieties blended in the correct proportion to bring out the finer qualities of each tobacco."

When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give millions of men and women more smoking pleasure...why THEY SATISFY

Chesterfield

...the blend that can't be copied
...the RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

SIX STEPS TO MORE SMOKING PLEASURE

AGEING—Chesterfield's mild ripe tobaccos, like fine wines, are aged for two or more years in huge wooden casks. Here they gradually acquire that true Chesterfield mildness and better taste which give millions of smokers more pleasure.

STEMMING—"Almost human" is what they say about the interesting stemming machines, whose fingers pick up the tobacco, leaf by leaf and take out the stem, leaving only the mild, tender, good-tasting part of the leaf to go into the making of Chesterfields.

BLENDING—There is only one Chesterfield blend... the blend that can't be copied... a happy combination of the world's best American and Turkish tobaccos. Just the right proportions to make Chesterfield a milder, better-tasting cigarette.

PAPER—Every Chesterfield you smoke is wrapped in pure cigarette paper... the finest cigarette paper made. That's another reason why Chesterfields are milder and better-tasting.

MAKING—Almost faster than the eye can follow, Chesterfields come rolling out of the marvelous cigarette making machines. Chesterfields are always round, firm and well-filled.

PACKAGING—Truly amazing are the packaging machines which wrap and seal Chesterfields in their air-tight, moisture-proof packages. Regardless of where you buy them, Chesterfields reach you as fresh as the day they were made.

The Rotunda

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29, 1939 | NO. 22

Student Body Elects Minor Officers

Nominees Are For Council Y. W., A.A., House Council

As a result of yesterday's nominations for minor officers, Martha Meade Hardaway, secretary of this year's council, and Geraldine Hatcher, a member of the House Council and Y. W. music chairman, are running for the vice-presidency of the student council. Caralie Nelson, sophomore representative serving her second year, is running against Lorana Moomaw, a junior representative, for the office of secretary. Alice Leigh Barham, Campus League Chairman this year, and Marion Heard, a sophomore representative to the council, oppose each other for treasurer. compete for Campus League.

Helen Reiff, chairman of the membership committee and the vice-president elected this year when her predecessor resigned, is running for the vice-presidency of the Y. W. C. A. Her opponent is Norma Pamplin, who is the present Y. W. secretary. Martha Welchel and Ollie Graham Koonce are running for the office of secretary. Martha is sophomore representative on the Student Standards Committee and Ollie Graham is a member of the Y. W. cabinet. Eliza Wise and Helen Jeffries are running for the office of treasurer. Two freshmen, Lucy Turnbull and Frances Rosebro, are the opposing candidates for the office of counselor to the Freshman Commission. Miss Willodine London and Miss Mary Clay Hiner are candidates for membership to the advisory board.

Chlotilde Jarman and Patricia Gibson are candidates for the vice-presidency of the Athletic Association. For secretary are Crews Borden, minor sports manager, and Martha Roberts, manager of freshman basketball. Helen Steward and Rosa Courter are for treasurer.

Esther Atkinson and Virginia Howell, hall preisdents, are candidates for the secretaryship of the House Council.

Farmville Meets Michigan College

Debate Is Non-Decision

Michigan State College's negative Debate team met Farmville's affirmative team in a non decision debate on the National Pi Kappa Delta question: "Resolved that the United States Cease Using Public Funds (including credit) for the Purpose of Stimulating Business", in Dr. Walmsley's class room at eleven o'clock, Monday morning.

Miss Georgiana Broun and Miss June Webber of Michigan, who upheld the negative side maintaned that pump priming through government construction should be carried on indefinitely as a means of bringing the U. S. out of the depression.

Farmville's affirmative team, composed of Miss Frances Holloway of Smithfield, and Miss Marie Allen, of Whitegate, based its argument on the oversupply of credit due to the pump priming credit system, and the danger of the increasing debt. The team offered a substitute plan by which it would create confidence, end all competition with business, and decrease taxes.

The Michigan team is coached by Professor Menchofer, who with his wife, accompanied the girls south. They left here for Harrisonburg where they were to debate Madison College Monday night.

Farmville's team is coached by Dr. J. E. Walmsley, head of the History Department.

"Tovarich" is Moving Comedy Of Russian in Disguise

"Little Theatre Off Rotunda Square" presents "Tovarich" with Jim "Charles Boyer" Johnston and Frances "Claudette Colbert" Hutcheson on March 31. All the S. T. C. notables will don their prettiest for the occasion when they come out to see the season's comedy by the Farmville players and Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs.

The first scene of the play takes place in a Parisian garret, where a former general of the Cossack cavalry and his wife, a former Grand Duchess live. They are living in voluntary poverty trying to make ends meet without using the four billion francs that have been entrusted them by the late Czar of Russia. The money is supposed to be used only for the good of Russia.

After getting jobs in a bourgeois banker's family with their identities kept secret, all goes well until a guest, a Soviet commissar, recognizes them. He has been responsible for their torture in their native land and their flight from their home, because the Soviet wanted the fortune left them. Then the real action begins and Mikail and Tatiana have to outwit the Commissar to save the oil fields for Russia.

Ah! Enough has been said, or the entire story will be out and that's the surprise for March 31. See you there at 8 p. m.

Dr. Weber Addresses Alpha Phi Sigma

Scholarly Ideals Defined

Dr. W. Valdo Weber, National President of Alpha Phi Sigma, from Western State Teachers' College, Kalamazoo, Michigan spoke to the local chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma Monday night, March 27 in the small auditorium at 7:30 p. m.

Marion Harden, president of the local chapter, introduced Dr. Weber who gave a short talk on scholarship today. He stressed that scholarship, in its true form, is more than mere information—it is dynamic, alive. A scholar is not a bookworm. He sees beneath the surface of things and brings scholarship to bear on the practical problems of life. We must start at home with cooperation and friendliness in order to create a world community which will lead toward prevention of future wars.

A scholarly person must spend a great deal of time on the allied fields of music, art, athletics. He must be well read to the extent that he knows and understands what is going on in the world around him.

"Education in America, from the primary grades through college, must be planned to teach the young people of this and coming generations to understand the social, political and economic institutions of their day—less stress on the past and more on the present and future should be the basis of education."

Dr. Weber closed with a final warning against considering a bookworm and a scholar identical and urged the youth of today to have a general knowledge of all fields and a specific knowledge of one.

Miss Tupper Is Officer Of Va. Association

Miss Katherine Tupper, head of the Farmville Home Economics Department, was elected to the office of second vice-president of the Virginia Home Economics Association at the meeting held in Roanoke, March 18, 1939. This association is composed of members from all phases of Home Economic work in the state.

Tovarich Tickets

All S. T. C. students may get their tickets for the play, "Tovarich", in the registrar's office on Friday. Girls are asked not to give away their tickets in case they do not attend. Faculty members who have no season lyceum ticket and anyone not a member of the student body may obtain reserved tickets from Elizabeth George Wilson or Mary Walker Mitchell for fifty cents.

Play Tournament To Be Here April 20, 21, 22

Contest Three Nights

The Viiginia Southside Play Tournament for high schools will hold its annual contest for the fifth year in the State Teachers College, Farmville, auditorium on April 20, 21 and 22.

Heretofore the contests have been held for only two nights However, so many schools have entered this year that it will be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. The schools will be grouped for competition according to their enrollment. Last year cups were won by Amelia and Crewe high schools.

Frances Alvis, vice-president of the Dramatic Club, and Miss Leola Wheeler, dramatic director, are chairmen of arrangements for the contest. Judges and entrants will be announced later.

Senior Quartet Sings at Crewe; Students Direct

The Senior Quartet sang at Crewe at a banquet given by the Knights Templar of that district on Thursday night, March 23.

Those girls composing the senior quartet are: Frankie Bryan, Frances Steed, Elyse Berrye Yates, and Jean Moyer. The selections of the group included "The Rosary", and "Homing". Miss Irene Leake who appeared as guest of the quartet sang "The Italian Street Song," "The Last Rose of Summer" and "A Brown Bird Singing."

Elsye Berrye Yates who accompanied the quartet at the piano played several piano selections.

Lecturer of Folk Lore Has Studied Them Since Boyhood

By Margaret Wright

"Cowboy tales and football cheering would correspond in modern times to ancient folklore," remarked Dr. John M. McBryde, teacher and lecturer, in a recent interview.

"If people get away from radios and movies, and are thrown on their own resources for entertainment," he continued, "they have to create their own amusement, either by telling stories or singing songs."

When asked when he was first interested in Uncle Remus, he answered that his uncle read the stories to him under a large maple tree in Knoxville, Tennessee, and, like B'rer Fox, "he rolled over and over and laughed and laughed until he couldn' laugh no mo'."

Dr. McBryde was surprised to find, while studying at Johns Hopkins University, the story of the rabbit and fox in the well in other versions and languages. He said that his interest in the background and history of such stories came as a result of that discovery.

"That's a big order," whistled Dr. McBryde, when asked the value of Uncle Remus. "Joel Chandler Harris' greatest contribution was that he put folk tales from the lips of the negroes themselves into a permanent form."

The lecturer continued by saying that the stories were remembered because of the creation of a lovable character in Uncle Remus—his paternal concern and devotion to the "little boy" and pride in his white folks have set up the ideal of a civilization passed.

"I was much impressed with the spirit of Farmville College", said Dr. McBryde in closing. "The

Continued on Page 5

Eason, Eades, Nimmo, Fischer Are Next Year's Major Officers

Marie Eason, president of Student Government; Dorothy Eades, president of Y. W. C. A.; Marjorie Nimmo, president of House Council; and Dorothy Fischer, president of Athletic Association.

All Are Members Of A. K. G.

Marie Eason, Dorothy Eades, Marjorie Nimmo and Dorothy Fischer are to be next years major officers, the respective presidents of the Student Council, the Y. W. C. A., the House Council, and the Athletic Association, as shown by the results of election by popular vote of the student body on last Wednesday, March 22. Nominated Tuesday, the opposing candidates were Martha Meade Hardaway, Helen Reiff, Chlotilde Jarman and Geraldine Hatcher.

All the new officers will be seniors next year, and all have been tapped by Alpha Kappa Gamma, honorary fraternity recognizing leadership.

Marie, who comes from Richmond, is the daughter of Dr. T. D. Eason of the State Board of Education. She is prepared for the presidency by having served for two years as a class representative to the Student Council. She was also a member of her Freshman Commission and has worked on other Y. W. C. A. committees. She is a member of the Dramatic Club, the Granddaughter's Club, the College Choir, the Cotillion Club, and Alpha Sigma Alpha, social sorority.

Dot Eades of Roanoke has been treasurer of her class for three years; and last year she was treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. She belongs to A. C. E., the Cotillion Club, and Pi Kappa Sigma social sorority. Dot was one of the thirteen girls selected to represent Farmville S. T. C. in "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges".

Marjorie Nimmo is sports editor of the "Rotunda", vice-president of the House Council and for two years a hall president. She is a member of the varsity basketball and hockey teams, assistant manager of hockey, a member of the Monogram Club, Pi Gamma Mu. She was secretary of her Freshman Commission and sec-

Continued on Page 6

New Girls Move In Home Ec House

Girls' Duties Rotated

Eight new girls have moved into the Home Ec house for the Spring term.

These girls in accordance with the plan begun for Home Ec majors last Fall, live in the house for one quarter. For the training there they receive six college credits. The work is planned by rotation of duties,—cooking one week, cleaning one week, etc.

On April 11 after Easter, the present Cox Hall will became the Home Management house.

Those living there at present are Katherine Habel, Miriam Fickien, Margaret Stallard, Charlotte Minton, Sara Melba Beale, Louise Anthony and Anne Kelly. Mis Frances Hauck is instructor.

New Colonnade Goes to Press

Editor Announces New Features

The third issue of the Colonnade will go to press April 1, Ann Dugger, editor, has announced. This will be the last issue month. This will be the last issue that is published by the present staff. Johnny Lybrook, 1939-40 editor, will edit the June issue, which will be devoted to contributions from the senior class.

Miss Alice Carter, supervisor of the sixth grade of the Training School, wrote the faculty article for the April issue of the Colonnade. Stories, poems and essays were contributed by members of the student body. More articles have been contributed by the magazine staff than ever before, thus affording a wider selection of material.

The new staff of the magazine will be announced by Johnny Lybrook at a later date.

A. C. E. Sponsors Musical

Farmville chapter of the Association for Childhood Education will sponsor a program of music and rhythms given by the children of the Kindergarten and Primary Grades of the Elementary School in the Little Auditorium, tonight, March 29 at 7 o'clock.

Students and faculty are invited. A voluntary silver offering will be taken to help defray the expenses of a delegate to the convention of the Association for Childhood Education which meets in Atlanta, Georgia, April 10-15

Chicago Student Lectures

Mr. Dan Crabbe, a student at the University of Chicago, addressed Dr. Francis B. Simkins American History class Monday morning.

Pi Gamma Mu Presents Project

Chapel Talks, Forum, Reception

Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary society for social science, will present its annual project beginning Thursday, March 30, and lasting through Monday, April 3.

The series of chapel talks on the present world figures in politics will begin with a discussion of Mussolini, by Nellie Putney and of Hitler by Ruth Read Thursday, March 30. Friday, March 31, Doris Chesnut will talk on Lenin and Stalin. Saturday April 1, Dorothy Eades will conclude the talks with a discussion on Roosevelt and Hull.

A formal panel discussion of the present types of government will be held in the Student Building Lounge at eight P. M., Monday, April 3. The discussion on Communism will be led by Mary Malone and Virginia Whitehead Smith. Pattie Alston Bounds will lead the discussion on Fascism, and Juanita Carson, the discussion on Nazism. The discussion of Democracy will be directed by Lorana Moomaw and LeNoir Hubbard.

At the close of the program a reception will be given. Invitations have been issued to the faculty, town people and students who are interested in this type of work.

The entire program is under the direction of Ruth Read, project chairman, and Miss Grace Moran, adviser.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... LeNoir Hubbard
Business Manager ..... Florence Bress

Associate Editors

News ..... Pattie Bounds
Features ..... Frances Alvis
Socials ..... Vera Ebel
Sports ..... Marjorie Nimmo

Reporters

Louise Allen, Alice Leigh Barham, Micky Beck, Evelyn Buford, Hazelwood Burbank, Elizabeth Burke, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Bernice Copley, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowger, Hyler Daniels, Sudie Dunton, Marie Eason, Mary Sue Edmondson, Pat Gibson, Marion Harden, Mildred Harry, E. Byrd Hutcheson, Polly Hughes, Helen Jeffries, Anna Johnson, Sara Keesee, Johnny Lybrook, Theodocia McKenzie, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Clara Nottingham, Norma Pamplin, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Dorothy Rollins, Becky Sandidge, Janelle Shelor, Shirley Stephens, Edna Strong, Dibbs Tyree, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West, Lucy Turnbull, Margaret Wright.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants — Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Beverly Blair, Helen Briggs, Josa Carleton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary Allen Peters, Frances Pope, Jane Rosenberger, Mary Sue Simmons, Kathryn Watkins.

Typists

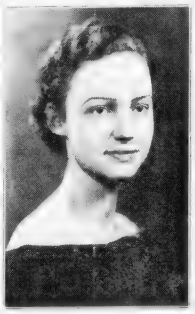
Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Betsy Briggs, Anne Bruce, Elizabeth Bundy, Dorothy Lee Harrison, Frances Pritchett, Dorothy Smith, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Sue Woolford.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29, 1939

A Speedy Recovery

There's been a temporary absence in S. T. C. of late. We've all sensed it. It's not just a vacancy on the stage or the fact that someone else is reading the chapel announcements. It's a real vacancy in the atmosphere of all our school surroundings.

We're missing you, Dr. Jarman! Marching out of chapel without the inspiration of your presence on the platform, listening to announcements that aren't accompanied by your particular cheery remarks, or walking the halls without occasionally passing you makes us feel that Farmville just isn't the same.



Here's to a speedy recovery, Dr. Jarman. We will "keep on hoping" that you'll soon be back with us.

Here's to You, New Officers

Once again rolls by another year, comes another March and another election. Selecting officers is a task of no little difficulty. The question of who will be most efficient must be faced. Whatever the results though, we always greet with praise and thankfulness our new officers.

Congratulations and best wishes to each of you in your new positions. To you is handed over the carrying on of the spirit and ideals of our school. We promise our cooperation.

SENIOR PERSONALITIES

SARAH BUTTON

Sarah Button has always been a part of State Teachers College, Farmville. As a tiny girl, even then living in the house on the corner of High street and First avenue, which is still her home, she trotted down the street and looked pensively at the row of big brick buildings realizing that some day she'd know what made the "wheels go 'round" within.

It wasn't long before Sarah got to know why these girls rushed around so, for they became her teachers. As a pupil in the training school where the S. T. C. girls practiced their chosen profession, she began to really know the college life and many's the time she's performed for the "college girls". She particularly recalls the S. T. C. Dramatic Club play in which a little girl was needed and she played the part. My, how big she felt!

Sarah's scholastic record has been a mentionable one. The Elementary Training School might have her listed as "one of our high M. A.'s, most responsive, etc." Of no less achievement is her early teen career in the Farmville High school from which she graduated in first honor.

A warm charming smile, a glorious sheath of soft auburn hair, and a gracious gentle manner that inspires confidence are one's first impressions of Sarah. Her attitude of "friend to all" resulted in her being elected to Y. W. C. A. presidency for her Senior year here. This office she has efficiently filled as a splendid executive and as a worker of the true Y. W. spirit.

As to Sarah's future, she's anticipating teaching French in a big way and might even pursue her "etude de francaise" with further degrees.

Well, we can say, "Good luck, Sarah. And a successful life and career!"

Echoes From an Empty Space

The long, long week of waiting is over at last and H.-S. C. is again with us. Allah be praised! You can run down Hampden-Sydney all you like, but the fact remains that any men are better than none at all. Or practically none. Spring was around. For some reason that had to do with Pierpont's being here and Ethel's not being there or something of the sort. Two of the foreigners were around, too. Smitty holding Steed's hand and Bob Fleming devoting himself to his campused Frances Lee. Of course, the fact that they live so far away didn't have a thing to do with their not going home, girls.

Jane McGinnis is in desperate need of a "Virginia" pennant. Maybe Anne Shirley could spare one—or maybe Shirley Ann.

The excitement of moving has died away but the melody lingers on. I'm speaking of the song dedicated to those moving from second floor annex. It starts off with "Where will we all be tomorrow night this time? Over in the dump that the Seniors left behind." And speaking of Seniors, look at Army and Irving. They're in the same suite and dimness should be poppin' soon.

Who wrote Sunshine that letter that caused her a maidenly blush or two? Is it love at last?

And speaking of love, poor

Fumi Wakayama Tells of Many Experiences in the United States

Fumi Wakayama, a graduate of the diploma class of '38 has returned to her home in Japan where she plans to teach in the high school from which she graduated.

In the summer of '37 Fumi came to America with Miss Mary Finch, an American missionary to Japan, who is an alumna of this school. During the summer of her visit in America she traveled extensively in Virginia giving talks on Japan.

The following letter written by Fumi was printed in the February issue of the Keisen News published by the Keisen Girls School in Tokyo:

"At last I arrived home after having been away for two and a half years. How I used to look forward to this day!

To tell the truth, I was homesick from the moment our boat left Yokohama. But as I became acquainted with many people at the school which I attended in Virginia, and other places, time started to fly till again I crossed the ocean and came home before I even realized it.

My stay in the United States seems like a dream now. I hope some day to be in the dreamland once more and be with the dear friends that I made.

America is a large country. In fact, it was much larger than I had expected. Have you ever traveled on a train for three or four days without seeing much change in the scenery from the window? There is a place like that in the central part of the United States and it makes you wonder when you get to your destination. Maybe it seemed like that only because I came from a tiny country.

One of the things which surprised me was to see so many colored people almost everywhere, especially in the southern states. I was afraid of them at first but soon I found that they were nice people if you once got acquainted with them. One of the big problems in the United States is found in the relation between two peoples—Americans and the Negroes.

I remember my silly experience. One time when I was traveling by myself on a bus, I got off at a certain station and found two waiting rooms there. The signs said one was for the white people and the other was for the colored. Now where should I go? I wasn't white but I wasn't a Negro either. I hesitated for about a minute, then I thought of a good idea and gave my suitcase to a colored porter who took me to the white people's waiting room.

One of the happiest experiences I had was at a camp. Here everyone tried to cooperate and enjoyed being close to Nature, and I was very fortunate to have had these opportunities during my short stay in America. Race prejudice, I never felt in any place I went I almost forgot I was a foreigner.

Now I'm back home but my mind is often still across the sea. "Carry Me back to Old Virginia" sometimes I find myself singing.

At this time I would like to express my great appreciation to Miss Mary D. Finch, who has kindly sent five books to the Keisen Library in memory of her sister, Elizabeth, who was so good to me but who passed away last fall. In her letter Miss Finch says:

'By today's mail I am sending five books to the Keisen Library in memory of Elizabeth. This is the only way I can give her a Christmas gift this year. She loved books, and she was interested in your school. So I am sure she would like to have me send the books in her name.'

I'm sure we'll enjoy using the books very much.

I am hoping my dream will come true some day and that I'll be crossing the Pacific again.

Fumi Wakayama

Humor

Father: "I prithee, tell the reason why,
In college you have not stayed?"
Son: "Because my train of thought was wrecked.
In pulling up my grade."
—Cornell Widow

You can lead a fraternity man to water, but why disappoint him?
—Los Angeles Collegian

A Futile Quest

On a bench on the campus he sat
Inspecting the girls passing by.
Just one look he gave them, and then—
He heaved a most heart-rending sigh.

College dances and parties he haunted;
The dancing beauties he'd scan.
He looked as Diogenes might have
When he searched for an honest man.

From a stalwart lad, most handsome,
He became a mere apparition;
And finally the poor fellow died—
A result of this woeful condition.

As he lay pale and wan on his death-bed,
He imparted these words to his chum:
"When I die, perhaps I shall find her—
The girl who doesn't chew gum!"
—Los Angeles Collegian

Pity the poor drama critic; he has to give the best jeers of his life to the theater.
—Los Angeles Collegian

Painter got it coming and going. She went home to find out why Bobby wasn't writing and her own roommate started playing around with Stokes.

This column wants to go on record as being very glad to hear of Mr. Cary Hutter's return to H.-S. C. Patsy says he acts much older now. And that dating in the "rec" can be lots of fun.

By the way, what was that man of Frances Pope's doing Sunday night? Hope he had a good excuse.

With Pan-Hels so close all the gals are worrying about dates. They tell me Kyle is taking a back seat this week while Georgie Porgie has the floor.

Also hear that Fran and Fluff will be up.

Local Color

Leaves From a Cabbage Head

Sometimes I wonder if shop-girls have any taste at all.
They'd stick a garbage can on your head, and say it gave you style.
Every hat you put on is better than the last.
And then, they're color blind.
If you ask for a black hat, you'll probably find a lavender one They've cocked over your eye when you aren't looking.
And then they'll say, "That shade of orange sets off your red hair be—oo—ti-full-ly."
And then they forget how big your head is.
They'll "Just slip this one on" that'll have to be propped by your ears.
When you know the style is to balance your hat on your right eye lashes.
And those flower gardens they beg you to buy!
When all the time you know you'd rather keep your gardens at home
Than have a bee in your bonnet.
So I ask you, how are you to get away from it all?
—Anna Johnson

Week-end Ballad

Mother, mother, set the table
Set it with some food
For here I've come to stay awhile
And I'm feeling mighty good.

Mother, mother, where's my hat?
Oh yes, I have a date.
It's the first one since Christmas too
So I won't be in till late.

Mother, mother, tell me true
Have I slept all day?
And I had made so many plans
What will the people say?

Mother, mother, I must leave
My three short days are past
Could I have a little change?
The other didn't last.
—Elizabeth Garrett

P. S.—The Rotunda wishes to announce that this column will be run in this space each week. Any contributions of poetry or informal essays will be appreciated. Also, if you have any suggestions as to a name other than Local Color, please submit your suggestions.

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

Stop Hitler! But how? Around the world the peal rang out from every democracy last week—a cry louder than any we have heard since Hitler first monopolized the front page months ago. Everybody is more than willing to stop Hitler; but how?

England has about given up the idea of "appeasement." It seems that if the "Villian" is to be stopped, a method, we fear, not short of war, will have to be used.

But who is to engage in this war? The litle countries can not do it. They wouldn't stand a ghost of a chance before such a mighty force as Germany has. They are defeated before they start. Must they bow and scrape the earth before the "Mighty One"? Must they give him all he demands with the faint hope that he wil not want it all?

Czecho-Slovakia did such a thing and we have seen what happened to her. No, no, Hitler is not so easily satisfied.

We advocated 'feeding' Germany until her hunger was satisfied, but we had no idea that she would have such an appetite. The world can ill afford to feed any country with such expensive food as Germany demands.

What could we do about it? What could the other democracies do about it? We do not want war and we are willing to do almost anything to keep out of war. War is such a dangerous thing. War is such an expensive thing. The memories of the last one are too vividly pictured in our mind, and the results of our "victory" have been too dearly felt in these last years to warrant our entering another without every consideration and forethought.

It is doubtful if any of the Great Powers will go to war unless the rights of that particular country are trampled upon.

That's where the great trouble is. Hitler is not picking so much on the Great Powers, but instead he is concentrating on smaller defenseless countries.

Last week he took Memel the "free state" and declared a national holiday for celebration—a feast of the spoils, as it were—a bit of psychology to stir his people up to the feeling of greatness in conquering.

Mussolini approves. Russia has not spoken, but it is obvious that she will take side with France and England.

But what side is that? What are France and England doing? Hitler is ruling Europe now. What he says goes. Each victory of his is stacking the odds against those who oppose him.

If war is to come—if war is inevitable—if it will take war to stop this thing that is happening in Europe; if war will let those unfortunate people there breathe again without fear that each breath will be their last—then let war come and let it come soon. Let war come while the democracies still have a chance to win.

This business of waiting to see what will break is weighing too heavily upon the world. The strain is not natural. This distrust that has arisen between nations is not good. Almost any situation would be better than the one which now exists.

We loathe war. But we are much afraid that the indigestion that Germany will get from the consumption of so much food that does not agree with her will come too late. She is adding to her population thousands who are emotionally dead and sullen to everything that Germany may try to do with or for them. We look to the future, yes. But we must protect the world at the present.

Countries of people seem to be last in Hitler's regard. He fights minorities within his own boundaries, and adds them gladly in his conquest.

A world of people unafraid, however small that number may be, would certainly seem better than a world crowded with people who are afraid. If war must come, then let it come.

Student Standards Offers Revision of the Point System

Limit Set For Extra Curricular Activities

One of the major duties of the Student Standards Committee, by authority invested in it by the student body, is to enforce the point system, the purpose of which is to regulate the amount of extra-curricular work that a student may undertake without interfering with her academic studies. According to this system a student with a scholastic average of not less than B may carry not more than 16 points; a student with a scholastic average of not less than C may carry as many as 12 points; while one whose average is below C may not carry more than 6 points. This year the Student Standards Committee has revised the Table of Points and the new table is to go into effect as soon as it can be approved by Dr. Jarman. It is hoped that everyone will keep her copy of the revised point system as printed in the Rotunda for future reference in the major and minor elections of this quarter. Exceptions to the rule may be granted only upon petition by the student concerned to the Student Standards Committee.

The revised Point System stands as follows:

Student Body—President 12, Vice-Pres. 4, Secretary 8, Treasurer 4, Campus League Chairman 4, Class Representatives 3.

Y. W. C. A.—President 10, Vice-president 5, Secretary 7, Treasurer 6, Freshman counselor 7, Committee chairmen 5, Committee members 2, Freshman commission 2.

House Council—President 10, Secretary 2.

Athletic Association—President 10, Vice-President 5, Secretary 5, Treasurer 5.

Managers of: Basketball 4, Hockey 4, Tennis 3, Volley ball 2, Archery 3, Baseball 2, Swimming 3, Minor sports 4, Varsity basketball squad (one quarter) 3.

Class officers—President 8, Vice-president 3, Secretary 2, Treasurer 4, Production chairman (part time) 3.

Senior—Dance chairman 4, Dance decoration chairman 3, Dance finance chairman 3.

Virginian Staff—Editor 10, Business Manager 10, Literary Editor 8, Photo Editor 8, Associate Editors 7, Art Editor 5, Typist 4, Staff reporters 1.

Rotunda Staff—Editor 10, Business manager 10, Social Editor 5, Other editors 7, Head Typist 5, Circulation manager 4, typists, 3, members 1.

Colonnade—Edtior 10, Business manager 8, Other members 3.

Dramatic Club—President 8, Vice-president 4, Secretary 2, Treasurer 4, Heads of lighting, acting, staging, make-up and costuming 4, Head of properties 2, Music chairman (one quarter) 2, member of cast.

College Choir—President 4, vice-president 1, Secretary 2, Treasurer 3.

Choral Club—President 2, Secretary 2, Treasurer 2.

Granddaughters Club—President 2.

May Day Committee—Chairman 4, Dance & Costume chairman 3, Other members 2.

Orchesis—President 2, Members 1.

Beorc Eh Thorn—President 4, Vice-president 2, Recording Secretary 2, Treasurer 2, Members 1.

Pi Gamma Mu—President 4, Vice-president 2, Secretary 3, Treasurer 2, Head of Mardi Gras committee 2, Head of program committee 2, Head of Literary committee 2, Members 1.

Sigma Pi Rho—President 4, Vice-president 2, Secretary 1, Treasurer 1, National members offices: President 4, Vice-president 3, Ed. of Nat. Pub. 2, Treasurer 1.

Kappa Delta Pi—President 4, Vice-president 2, Secretary 3, Treasurer 2, Members 1.

Alpha Phi Sigma—President 4, Vice-president 2, Recording secretary 3, Corresponding secretary 3, Treasurer 3, Book exchange committee 2, Membership committee 3, Members 1.

Alpha Kappa Gamma—President 4, Vice-president 2, Secretary 3, Treasurer 3, Chairman of membership committee 3, Chairman of program committee 3, Chairman of literary committee 3, Chairman of policy committee 3, Other members 1.

Debate Club—President 3, Varsity team members 2, Members 1.

Cotillion Club—President 4, Leader 1, Secretary-treasurer 3, Business manager 2.

Pan Hellenic Council—President 4, Secretary 3.

Social Sororities—President 5, Vice-Pres. 3, Secretary 2, Treasurer 3, Members 1. All other officers 2.

Gamma Psi—President 4, Vice-Pres. 2, Sec.-Treas. 3.

Monogram Club—President 3, Vice-Pres. 1, Secretary 1, Treasurer 2, Chairman of Ways and Means Committee 3, Chairman Hikes 2.

Home Economics Club—President 4, Vice-Pres. 2.

Chapel Committee—President 5, Committee Members 3.

A. C. E.—President 3, Vice-Pres. 1, Secretary 2, Treasurer 2, Ways and Means Com. Chair. 2.

Editor of Handbook 2.

Student Standards Committee—Chairman 4, Secretary 4, Class representatives 2.

H2O Club—President 2, Members 1.

Dr. Walmsley Talks to Pi Kaps

Dr. J. E. Walmsley addressed the members of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority this afternoon, March 29, in their chapter room. The subject of his talk was "Parliamentary Law".

Tea was served by members of the chapter after the lecture.

Excitement Buzzes As Work Begins for Annual May Day

"What are those weaving drapes before my eyes? Surely not kites! How childish are these S. T. C. girls—first its socks and now—But wait—they aren't kites. They're the future May Day costumes out to dry their new colors."

You can trace 'em to the buzz of excitement in room 39. Miss Bedford and Helen Greene are working the colorful magic that will give us beautiful costumes for May Day. Shimmering china silk transformed into sheer irridescent dresses for the fairy sprites who will dance for their queen. And there are the little mist spirits too—all soft grayed purples, grays and blues—inglorious; while hung on a chair to dry—but not for long, just wait.

Out in the breeze already, the public gets a preview of the years most looked forward to festival, for while future costumes wave dry over the "Kat walk" by the science building—the plans for our one aesthetic adventure draw to completion.

Comments go 'round such as "How'll I look in just my feet?" and "What's poison ivy look like out there at Longwood. Gee, this stuff is going to be more trouble—all to satisfy the lyric soul of the Normal School—too! And you get there in a truck, too. Oh well, you sometimes miss an afternoon class and besides your parents like it. Besides too, the costumes are pretty. More power to it!"

So May Day's definitely under way. In fact spring is here with birds and things. What more do you want besides pretty girls and pretty costumes and Longwood and buns and cameras—and, well anyway, it's bound to be a wow—the best year yet and the loveliest of all S. T. C. festivals. You'll find out!

Dr. McBryde Tells of Folklore Of Old South

Chaucer Compared To Joel C. Harris

Dr. John M. McBryde, a distinguished lecturer and writer, whose coming was sponsored by Beorc Eh Thorn, local English Society, presented a series of lectures on folklore tendencies and influences in the South, here on March 21, 22 and 23.

"Brer Rabbit, a Hero" was his subject in Chapel March 22. He talked of the superstitions that encircle the entire world. Tracing the origin and development of these beliefs, he told of their influence as seen in literary trends of the ages.

Wednesday night Dr. McBryde discussed "Chaucer and Uncle Remus", showing how stories similar to those of Joel Chandler Harris and dating back to several hundred years before Christ, have spread over all the world in different versions leading to the Uncle Remus stories. Chaucer's characters are compared with our animal stories today.

"British Ballads in The Cumberland Mountains", given March 23, concluded the series of talks. The tales of tragedy, love, anger, hatred and joy in American ballads were brought to this country from England and Scotland. These ballads of unknown authorship reflect a crude barbaric age and the primitive life of the people of this age.

Commission Comments

Calling all Freshmen! Calling all Freshmen. Talent Wanted. Talent Wanted. Get out your tap shoes and start tuning up your voices because all Freshmen are expected to participate in an amateur program (not that you are amateurs) to be held soon. Watch for further announcement.

Yes, the above means just what it says. At a later date, to be announced soon, the Freshman Commission will sponsor an amateur program for the class. And this means, that only Freshmen will appear on the program, so all you Freshmen be ready when the time comes. And the time is coming!

Under the new Y. W. C. A. Constitution, a new commission will be provided next year—the Sophomore Commission. The need for such a commission has long been realized, and next fall the Sophomore Commission will be organized.

This commission will be composed of six of the old Freshmen Commission members and six additional members to be elected from the new Sophomore class.

In other schools, Sophomore Commissions have proved effective, and due to this fact, the Y. W. has created this new commission at Farmville. Since it is realized that the Freshman Commission is handicapped at first because its members cannot possibly know even the majority of the members of the Freshman Class, the Sophomore Commission will work with the Freshman Commission. And thus through the united efforts of both commissions, the Freshmen and Sophomore classes will be better acquainted with the Y. W. C. A. and its activities.

Major Players To Present Play Here April 6

"King of the Golden River" is the play to be presented by the Clare Tree Major players in the large auditorium on April 6. The performances will be at 9 A. M. and 1:45 p. m. The admission price is 25 cents.

Leads in "Tovarich"

Frances Hutcheson and Jim Johnston who will have leading roles in the play Friday night.

Mr. Potts Teaches Bible Class

Supper Meeting Precedes Lecture On New Testament

The first class in "A Rapid Survey of the New Testament" which is being taught by Rev. Edgar A. Potts was held Sunday night, March 26. This was the first in a series of six classes which will give one credit toward a Christian Culture Certificate. Everyone is invited to attend these classes but only Methodist girls receive credit.

A supper course, for ten cents per plate, was served to those present. These supper meetings will be continued, with different girls in charge of them.

Those present at the first class were: Angeline Nicolos, Keith Smith, Juanita Carson, Dot Eades, Mildred Bowen, Ann Dugger, Henry Hubbard, Dorothy McNamee, Walter Potter, Mary Cecil Bynum, Marjorie Holt, Gene Hardy Kilman, Katherine Roberts, Josa Carlton, Nancy Fulton, Rebecca Bondurant, Jean Moyer, Elizabeth West, Florence Thierry, Sue Marshall, Bernice Callis, Elva Kibler, Rachel Kibler, Pankey Brooks, Virginia Simmons, Mary Rice and Rev. and Mrs. Potts.

BITS O' BARTER

Richmond College has a system of organized campaigning which precedes election day. Nominees for the presidency of Student Government are required to present their platforms in the student paper and also to make speeches over the radio, thus giving the student body an idea of what can be expected from each candidate.

In debating the question, "Resolved, that skunks should be protected by law," a Wycliffe College (Canada) student upholding the affirmative suggested that the animals be used in Canada's program of national defense. The borders, he stated, could be lined with skunks, thus eliminating the expenses incurred in the upkeep of an army.

All the states of the Union and forty-seven countries are represented in the student body of Harvard University.

At Muhlenburg College, Allentown, Pa., the senior class may plant ivy in the campus if all the members of the class are bachelors at the time of graduation. (No ivy has been planted for 25 years.)

A last year's edition of the Northwestern University magazine was barred from distribution until two pages of pictures showing co-eds under showers and in their baths had been removed.

'Little Women", "Little Men", "Peter Pan", and others have been presented here by the Clare Tree Major players. These productions are sponsored by the Woman's Club of Farmville.

Teachers Named To Rural Schools

Girls Practice In Surrounding Training Schools

Appointments of student teachers for the Spring term have been made by the education department and girls have begun their apprenticeship teaching.

Practice teachers at John Randolph are: Dorothy May Webb, Dorothy Davis, first grade; Anne Bradner, Frances Perkins, second grade; Mary Louise Cox, Eunice Westbrook, third grade; Marjorie Bass, Dorothy Reynolds, fourth grade; Sara Joyner, Irene Gills, fifth grade; Betty Stanley, Ruth Carney, sixth grade. Mary Sue Simmons will teach music and Elizabeth Berryman and Louise Jones, home economics.

At Worsham High School Johnny Lybrook will teach English and Marguerite Costello will teach mathematics.

Those teaching at Curdsville High school are: Margaret L. Black and Betty Sue Cummings, English; Harriette Vaden and Virginia Boyd, history; Vera Jacobs, biology and general science; Marion Harden, Latin; Mary Louise Holland, French, and Nancy Cooley, mathematics.

Farmville High School students will be taught home economics by Elizabeth Bounds, Lucy Finch Smith, Margaret Thorpe and Virginia Winston Smith.

Alumnae News

Lou Ella Lafon who was a student here last year is now studying at the University of Southern California.

Mrs. Belle Brosius Wisman, a graduate of S. T. C. who teaches English in Union High School, New Jersey, has achieved unusual success. Her pupils have won National honors in essay contests in two successive years. In 1938 one of her pupils won first place in a contest in which 100,000 entries competed for the prizes offered.

New Dormitory For Seniors Opens

The "new building" was opened last week, and sixty girls have moved there from Cunningham Hall. No name has been given this new dormitory as yet, so it is known merely as the "new building". It is the main building of which Cunningham Hall is a wing. It is hoped that another wing will be added soon in place of Venable Hall, which is to be torn down or moved.

Mrs. Eva Warren, Mrs. Lois Davis and Miss Willodine Gisler have also moved to the new dormitory. Mrs. Warren will be matron there as well as in Cunningham Hall.

Three hall presidents are to be appointed to serve for the three floors of the new dormitory. The names of these girls will be announced later.

Those girls moving into the new building from Cunningham Hall are Alpha Lee Garnett, Clara Nottingham, Elizabeth Tyree, Mary Jackson, Elizabeth Burke, Elsie Dodd, Doris Adkins, Dorothy Adkins, Elizabeth Bounds, Pattie Bounds, Annie Ruth Baird, Ruby Bane, Margaret Britton, Army Butterworth, Ruth Hubbard, Frances Irving, Virginia Jarman, Mary Sullenberger, Mary Thomas, Ruth Reed, Elizabeth Rawlings.

May Terrell, Mary Elizabeth Badger, Amy Powell, Dorothy Buckland, Jean Taylor, Nancy Gray, Eloise Williams, Virginia Carroll, Caroline Willis, Frances Hutcheson, Elizabeth Wilson, Sarah Hayes, Selma West, Vera Ebel, Theresa Graff, Virginia Whitehead Smith, Peggy Young, Louise Bryan, Beverley Sexton Meade Neale, Betty Von Gemminger.

Marjorie Wicks, Catherine Pilcher, Edith Fitch, Rose Allen Higginbotham, Mildred Gentry, Virginia Taylor, Charlotte Morton, Louise De Jarnette, Mary Porterfield, Dorothy Rudder, Frances Holloway, A. Ramsey, Evelyn Beale, Elizabeth Berryman, Marguerite Snell, Florence Bress, Virginia Boyd, Louise Turner.

The engagement of Elizabeth Butler, who graduated last year, to Bernard F. Dudley, of Hanover, New Hampshire, has been announced.

Alice Woodward of St. John's Road, Baltimore, is engaged to George Washington of Woodford, Caroline County.

The "World Outlook" of September, 1938, contains an article by Deaconess Ruth Bartholomew, now librarian and teacher of English at Paine College, Augusta, Georgia.

In January, 1939, the New Celestia A. Parrish Psychology laboratories at Randolph-Macon Woman's College were completed and dedicated to Celestia L. Parrish. She was among the first graduates of Farmville Normal School and was afterwards a member of the first faculty at R. M. W. C.

Vera Thomas, of Nelson, is engaged to Sam Suter Patterson, of South Boston.

Jade Jocoroco Knows All

Dear Jade,

I'm in a rut. The problem child of a near by school wants me to ditch my diploma and take the vows. Does Papa know best or shall I listen to my heart? I've weathered 19 summers and am a Sophomore. E.

Dear E.,

Your heart may be wrong. Finish school by all means unless school finishes you first.

Dear J. J.,

I met a cookie pusher while I was home Christmas. We took a poke at romance and have been corrupting the mails regularly ever since.

Mama heard he was a dip. Hence, the problem: Shall I answer the letters? They keep the dust out of my mail box. Or shall I listen to Mama in view of a new spring outfit?—Desperate

Dear Desperate,

Crush the cookie. After all, drapes, not drips, make the dame.

Dear Jada,

One afternoon last week-end I sallied forth with my one and only, Joseph. We chanced upon a former one and only with whom I had recently called it quits. Neither is broadminded, hense a brawl resulted. Shall I seek another or shall I continue to drag Joseph.—Alice.

Dear Alice,

If he has rocks, and if the brawl did not occur directly in front of the Rotunda, continue to drag Joseph.

If your answer is not here look for it in the next issue. Remember—if you have any troubles write Jada Jocoroco in care of the Rotunda. Put your letters in the box across from the Colonnade box.

Farmville Girls Hear Nelson Eddy

Dinner Takes Place At Hotel Richmond

Approximately 100 S. T. C. students attended the Nelson Eddy concert at the Mosque in Richmond on March 21, chaperoned by Mrs. Hallie K. Laing and Miss Jane Royall.

Preceding dinner at the Hotel Richmond, the choir posed for a picture which appeared in the Richmond paper on Wednesday. Each girl was given an American Beauty rose as a souvenir.

S. T. C. students occupied the box seats at the Mosque and were the only student group to sit in the orchestra. Students from five other colleges were present.

Those attending were Lucy Blackwell, Josa Carlton, Mildred Morris, Winifred Beamer, Sara Sibold, Winnie Harrell, Catherine Bodine, LaReine Thornton, Luella Hall, Agnes Jennings, Katherine Gray, Annie Mae Hunter, Evelyn Pankey, Louise Palmer, Marian Farley, Elizabeth Warner, Louise Boggs, Charlotte Davis, Frances Williams, Frances Hoback, Betty Hawkins, Eleanor White, Elizabeth Carrington, Edith Fitch, Eloise Williams, Elvira Ligon.

Others were Emma Wood, Mary Mahone, Doris Adkins, Margaret Carr, Kathryn Reed, Jean Bourne, Charlotte Morton, Marie Eason, Angeline Nicholas, Bernice Copley, Mary Jackson, Elenora Faison, Martha Jane Flanagan, Frankie Bryan, Mabel Burton, Pankey Brooks, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Frances Steed, Elyse Berrye Yates, Laura Nell Crawley, Oza Ridgeway, Evelyn Woltz, Agnes Pickral, Myrtle Cook, Juanita Carson, Jean Clarke, Sara Chambers, Katherine Burge, Lillian German, Ethel Oast.

Mary Allen Peters, Jean Shulkum, Mary Owens West, Cornelia Lee, Mildred Harry, Mary Louise Cunningham, Rosa Courter, Jamie Lee Peake, Mary Marshall Prosise, Forrestine Whitaker, Frankie Munford, Betsy Austin, Jeanette Ferguson, Doris Trimyer, Jean Steel, Mildred Callis, Mary Sue Simmons, Elizabeth West, Louise Watterson, Jean Moyer, Theresa Brinkley, Beulah Etinger, Olivia Stephenson, Miriam Harvey, Virginia Richards, Margaretta Gerlaugh and Louise Wells.

Wife: "The maid quit—she said you spoke to her insultingly over the phone."

Hubby: "I thought I was talking to you."

Richmond Photographer Snaps Choir in Preparation for Broadcast

Dr. Simkins Gains Recognition

Historians Should Abolish Biased Viewpoints

In addition to a letter of high commendation from a professor at Columbia University, Dr. Francis B. Simkins, professor of history at Farmville, was praised in a recent editorial in the Richmond Times Dispatch. His article "New Viewpoints of Southern Reconstruction," from the "Journal of Southern History" for February, 1939, has been the object of admiration.

In his modern conception of the Reconstruction, Dr. Simkins contends that those days weren't so bad as most of the historians have pictured them. He says, however, that the issue springing from it (the race question) is as timely today as when it arose in 1865. In refuting the melodramatic reports of the woe and misery that the South is supposed to have undergone during the Reconstruction, Dr. Simkins points out the outstanding changes that really took place then.

"Frenzied politics did not necessarily reflect a frenzied social life. No attempt was made to destroy white supremacy in the social or economic sphere or to sanction interracial marriages. Negro officeholders that were aggresive politically were known to observe carefully the etiquette of the Southern caste system."

Under slavery there were no Negro churches, for slaves had to attend churches directed by their masters. Reconstruction gave them a chance for self-expression in religion which they were (and are) denied by the whites.

The assertion of some writers that the Reconstruction was an attempt to rebarbitize the Negro were untrue. The newly-freed man's culture, the way that seemed best to him was to grasp at a literary education. "And although Negro society tended to grow independent of white society, it continued to imitate the culture of the superior caste . . . The radical changes in Negro religion which grow out of freedom were not in the direction of Africa, but in the direction of frontier or backwoods America, with some imitations of Fifth Avenue standards of clerical correctness. The misbehavior of Negro politicians had no African coloring. When cultured Negroes tried to discover their African ancestors, they were guilty of a fatuous Americanism, different only in one respect from that of those Americans who trace their ancestors in Europe; the African quest could not be successful. The influences of slavery had resulted in such a thorough Americanization of the blacks that little Africana was left in their culture."

Dr. Simkins holds that, to promote truth and scholarship and to banish provincialism based on priggishness and ignorance of comparison; to fortify sound provincialism of better understanding of one's own province, Southern historians should adopt a more critical, creative, and tolerant attitude toward so important a period in the annuals of their section as the Reconstruction.

Hotel Richmond and Eddy Concert Furnish Delightful Recreation

Winter Garden on the ninth floor of the spacious Hotel Richmond was the scene of the dinner given for the S. T. C. girls who went down for the Nelson Eddy concert Tuesday, March. 21. Preceding the dinner, Dementi's, Richmond News Leader photographer, request for the College Choir's picture was favorably granted. The dinner was pleasantly informal in manner, and much applause echoed throughout the large room following the hanging of a banner which had written on it: "Welcome S. T. C.—W. R. V. A."

Immediately following the dinner, in busses and cars the group of girls plowed their way through dense traffic to the Mosque. With numerous stops and at snail's pace due to the heavy traffic, the Mosque was finally reached, though quite a few of the crowd in their optimism, got out and walked because of their intense eagerness not to miss a single note of Nelson Eddy's program.

Being the only college group to sit in boxes, S. T. C. girls were in a fair position to cast their eyes upon and lend their ears to the long-looked-forward-to "Honorable Eddy". The concert offered an interesting study from the standpoint of audience psychology, and the enthusiasm was at top notch. Following the punctuality of the artist's entrance upon the stage, applause rang throughout the Mosque which was filled to capacity. Finally subsiding, it sounded like distant falling rain as aplause died away and people in the balconies reluctantly ceased applauding.

Besides the regular program, Mr. Eddy added the humorous stammering song from "The Bartered Bride", by Smetana, the Moussorgsky "Child's Prayer", and finally in answer to the silent but intense hopes of everyone, "Sweethearts", after which the curtain closed, the lights went on, and ladies, unconscious of the "Far away look in their eyes," suddenly came back to earth. During the program the accomplished Theodore Paxon besides the accompaniment played the "Moonlight Sonata" followed by a Spanish Dance by Copeland.

A queenly gesture on the part of several Farmville girls must not be overlooked. In a burst of enthusiasm resulting from overflowing hearts, the fair creatures each took their red rose (rumored to be Mr. Eddy's favorite flower) gently from their hair and tossed them at his feet. This act was enough to impress one greatly with its complete unselfishness; but did they have a method in their madness. If so, it was unfortunate; for the evening was too far gone for more songs.

In the milling crowd after the concert Mr. Eddy was nearly mobbed upon his attempt to enter his automobile, however well protected he was by police escorts. Amid the hey's and hello's and yelling, the crowd was partially satisfied upon receiving a glad "hello there" and a wave from Mr. Eddy as the car made its way through the mob.

No Promptness, No Lunch

There was a breeze—and emptiness! Only the crying boards of the floor and the astonished look on the face of the walls gave indication that anything had happened. Bewildered, the desk in the hall waited in anticipation of a recurrence of the mysterious phenomenon. Swish—fo-o- it came again, but the table was forewarned. Its perception alert, it followed the receding—rapidly receding forms of girls rushing to the dining hall hoping to arrive before the fatal closing of its doors. They were doomed to disappointment, for they were one minute late and Miss Roberts' time was correct. Like a pack of hungry wolves they stood stalking a prey that had escaped already, had they but known. They soon found out, for the stalwart doors yielded not. The girls had missed their noonday meal.

With varying facial and vocal expressions they accepted their fate, retired to their rooms and decided that for once when the decree had been "no promptness, no lunch" it would stand as stated—not subject to change. Watch your watches or starve your tummies—it's up to you now!

Miss Rumbough Addresses Council

Miss Constance Rumbough addressed the Wesley Foundation council on peace and present day conditions at a "retreat" and supper meeting in the cabin at Longwood last Friday night. Miss Rumbough, a former S. T. C. student was a missionary to Manchuria and Poland for several years and since her return to this country has been active in working for peace.

Dr. La Rue Speaks

Dr. Gillie A. La Rue of Randolph-Macon Womans' College, who is the state president of the association, was the guest speaker for the meeting Friday, March 24, of the Farmville branch of the American Association of University Women.

Mosque Is Scene of Operas

Students Attend

Among those who attended the opera in Richmond Saturday, March 25, were Jane Powell, Fannie Lee West, Ethel Carr, Theresa Graff, LeNoir Hubbard, Hazelwood Burbank, Nancy Clare Watkins, and Elizabeth Barlow.

Saturday afternoon the San Carlo Opera Company presented "Madame Butterfly" at Mosque Theatre. This opera in three acts by Giacomo Puccini, was founded on the book by John L. Long and the drama by David Belasco. A Japanese soprano, Hizi Koyle, played the part of Madame Butterfly.

"Aida", by Antonio Chislanzoni, was presented Saturday evening. The story is of Aida, daughter of the King of Exhiopia, who has been captured by the Egyptians and is a slave in the court of Memphis, where she and a young soldier, Rhadames, have fallen in love. Rhadames is sent to war and during his absence, Amneris is jealous because she herself loves him.

Rhadames returns triumphant and brings Aida's father home prisoner. The king will not release her father but bestows Amneris on the unwilling Rhadames.

After the war, Amneris denounces Rhadames as traitor and he is condemned to be buried alive. When the vault is sealed he discovers Aida who has hidden herself there that she might die with him. The lovers slowly suffocate in each other's arms as the opera ends.

Library Ready by Fall

Mr. Sam Graham, business manager, reports that the new library will probably be completed by June. The books will then be transferred from the old library, and the new library will be sufficiently initiated and ready for use by the fall quarter of the school year 1939-'40.

Clatter in Hall Gives Vim And Excitement to Study Hour

You sit down determinedly to study—praying for silence. You begin to start to get ready to think. At this point of your pencil nibbling reverie you are noisily roused.

"Clack! Bang-crash! Screech!" They're at it again! Someone wants something from her trunk—you might know. The noise increases and you look worriedly from a crack in your door to see if everybody's happy. They are, it seems—for a crowd has collected and is looking, with bubbling and gooey comment at the lovely handkerchief bag from Aunt Hessie, or the genuine Belgian lace nightgown top Aunt Lucy bought "though she never has occasion to wear it, for some reason"). More and more worldly possessions are added to the growing circle around the "shower-offer" in the middle of the hall floor. Needless to say, traffic limps! Comments reach your more or less cringing ears indicating that whatever the multitude wanted from the good old travelers' box, they have not as yet found. The unseemly tumult that would have daunted a score of "amen-curlers" continues healthily.

Hopelessly, you turn from the sight but not from the sound . . . for farther down the hall another noisy searcher has come forth. Time rattles on; its eras marked by the whang of a lock.

And as for you—what do you do? Why you go back into your room and sizzle and obliterate any possible spark of productive reasoning that might once have been yours. The frolic continues in the hall. Now, those who aren't rummaging sit on top of the trunks and reminisce or plan spring clothes . . . which makes you even madder because you'd much rather do that yourself than study someone's research on the emotions of babyhood. With difficulty you control yourself and direct your attention to the psychology book and to the picture of a hideous infant whose sense of humor is definitely and visibly warped.

Without, the babble increases. Suddenly someone cries: "Popcorn! Yoo hoo everybody! Let's go pop some. What're we waiting for?" They're off at top speed. Something in you snaps — you shut the book. This is definitely more than you can stand . . . you head for the heavenly odor. Yum, that buttery, salty, positively drooling goodness. More! More! As your capacity level decreases you begin to warm to the world in general—but especially to these pop corn poppers. And to think, the whole idea evolved from sitting on a trunk! "Gee!" you suddenly observe aloud, "gee, but trunks are nice. You sit on 'em and think and you put things in 'em, and you ride on em—oh, boy, when it comes to useful objects, gimme a trunk . . . I'll bet they even have a soul. Pass the popcorn, will you? This is more like it!"

Green&White Places First in Swimming

Farmville is Third In Intercollegiate Telegraphic Meet

The last three events on the inter-class swimming program were run off last night, March 28. Sara Keesee splashed her way to victory over Helen McIlwaine, giving Red and White their only score of the evening. Nancy Pierpont, Rosa Courter, Sidney Yonce and Jenny Carroll won the 100 yd. free style relay by a narrow margin. Nancy Dinwiddie swam a great anchor leg for Red and White shortening the Green and White lead from feet to mere inches.

The sophomores and seniors were again victorious in the 75 yard medley race. Helen McIlwaine swimming the back stroke, just touched out Sara Keesee at the end of the first lap giving Vera Ebel, breast stroke champion, a slight lead which she increased with Dot Fischer pressing her all the way. Jenny Carroll further increased Green and White's lead in the free-style lap winning over Nancy Dinwiddie.

The final score of the interclass meet stands 48-36 in favor of Green and White. This result will count toward the color cup.

The results of the intercollegiate telegraphic meet have been received. The University of Texas and Texas State College for Women won first and second places scoring 42 and 30 points respectively.

The following Farmville girls placed in the meet:

Anne Shirley, 4th, 100 yd. crawl; Sara Keesee, 4th, 40 yard back crawl; Sara Keesee, 3rd, 100 yd. back crawl; Vera Ebel, 3rd, 40 Nancy Dinwiddie, Rosa Courter, Essie Millner, 3rd, 100 yard free style relay; Helen McIlwaine, Vera Ebel, Nancy Pierpont, 2nd, 75 yd. medley relay; Vert Ebel, 1st, 100 yd. breast.

Life Saving Classes Start

Mickey Beck, Irene Frances, Marie Dix, Corilda Chaplin, Peggy Hughes, Dorothy Smith, Lucy Blackwell, Dot Fischer, Margy Nimmo, Sarah Chambers are among the girls who have signed up for the life saving course which is to be offered at the pool this quarter. Anyone else wihsing to join the class please report to the pool Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

Everyone seventeen years of age and in sound physical condition is eligible to take the course. Each person must pass a preliminary test for general water ability. The course will require a minimum of at least 15 class hours, divided into two parts; a preparatory phase of five hours and a training phase of 10 hours. Examinations will require two additional hours, making a total for course and examination of 17 hours.

Miss Dowdy Teaches Riding At Academy

Miss Bessie Dowdy, formerly from Clifton Forge Virginia, is now residing in Farmville where she is instructor at the Farmville Riding Academy. Miss Dowdy has always had an interest in horseback riding, and she has been a good horsewoman since her early childhood. While at Clifton Forge she was riding instructor at the Douthat State Park.

Eight horses owned by Miss Dowdy are at the academy at all hours, making it possible for the girls to ride whenever they desire to do so.

Mr. Arthur Layne who has been an instructor at the academy for several years will also instruct in riding.

Those girls who are beginners in riding are first instructed in the "ring" where they are taught to post and to handle the horses by themselves. It is necessary that they also learn to ride five gait as well as straight gait horses.

Beginners, after passing the test given by the instructors, are then allowed to join the more experienced riders on their rides along the bridal paths near Longwood. Hampden-Sydney, and around the country side.

Hattie's Syncopators Furnish Music For Frosh Party

"Wasn't it fun though? And wasn't the music positively wonderful"—these were the words which were being uttered by the Freshmen last Tuesday night about 10:30 p. m.

Why? Because the Freshman class was given a party in the "Rec" that night at 9:30 p. m. by the Freshman Commission. That's not all—Hattie and her Syncopators were there beating out those swingy little numbers. And those Freshmen really showed that they knew just how to "trip the light fantastic toe."

The highlight of the party was Virginia Lee Pettis singing "It's Not What You Do But the Way that You Do It" and "Basin Street Blues". Besides the regular dancing, there was a figure in which the entire class participated.

The dance closed as Hattie and her Syncopators played their theme song "Sophisticated Swing"

Interviews Dr. McBryde

Continued from Page 1

students in the classes I have attended were alert, alive, and interested in their work—an appreciative audience also helped make my visit to Farmville a pleasant one."

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

SPRING HAS COME TO DAVIDSON'S

GIRLS, we have the newest in everything for your sprnig neds. Values that are wonderful to behold.

Our ready to wear department is loaded with spring suits, dresses, millinery and the duckiest of sport outfits.

See us for all of your spring wishes.

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Sport Slants

By BOO BARHAM

There is no doubt about it. Spring definitely has us in her clutches 'cause we're all getting that restless urge. How about turning a little of that urge toward sports! The A. A. has enough different and interesting sports lined up to satisfy the hearts of the greatest sport enthusiasts. Tennis will be held off a little longer until the courts are reconditioned, but there's plenty of fun to be had with all the other things planned. The truck leaves here every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 4:00 to carry girls out to Longwood. There, Mr. Graham holds forth on the mysteries of golf, and Stallard and Helen Seward impart to everyone who wants to know what the best form for archers will be this season. So all you little gals who have always had a secret desire to swing a golf club and see that white ball whizz through the air have your golden opportunity. And anyone who has a hankering to see an arrow, shot by her, plop down in the middle of a nice, blue, red, white and black target certainly has a chance. Longwood is at its prettiest these spring afternoons, too.

Pat Gibson has announced there will be classes in life saving every Friday from 4:00 to 5:00 and every Tuesday from 5:00 to 5:30.

Great plans are being made for a track meet which will include broad jump, high jump, the dash, hurdles and javelin throwing. If you can do any of these, don't wait around being modest. Come out and say so. You'll be met with open arms.

If all this hasn't aroused a spark of interest yet, there's still baseball to count on. That will be in full swing soon, too.

It looks as if "the season" is going to be down right colossal and lots and lots of fun. Let's have some real enthusiasm!

Oh, Longwood and Golf

Golf will be in full swing at Longwood from now until June. Every Tuesday and Thursday there will be a truck leaving the college for Longwood at four p. m. and will return at five p. m. If you can get a nice ride out, you're positive to be in good shape for a round of golf. To add to these beautiful plans, Mr. Graham will be out there both of these days to help anyone who wishes his assistance.

There will probably be an interclass golf tournament during the latter part of April; so to be wise—swing that arm and plow that earth!

Besides golf, Longwood offers places for picnics, hikes, weenie roasts, horses, archery and last but not least, there may be a tennis court out there before long.

There are a few golf clubs at Longwood for those who do not have any, so don't hesitate to ask for them.

Make Longwood the old gathering place for Spring and in the meantime, Play Golf!

Early Bird Gets Razzberries In This Case

Some mail—the first time since yesterday! She decided she would hold off till chapel time and sort of prolong the delicious sensation of having these special letters to read. She could flutter them around and gloat over the other girls as she read them too. She entered the auditorium and stood looking out the window a second; then, as no one else came in right away, she found her newly-assigned seat and opened the first epistle with a sigh of delighted expectancy. Strange—still no one in chapel even after she had read her two letters through twice. This was rather nice, you know, being early and having the whole auditorium to oneself, with no talking or singing to disturb one's reading. True, the stage looked as empty as the center of a doughnut, but that was restful on the eyes and helpful on the day-dreams. She missed the teachers, but did not give much thought to the matter. Ah, at last people were beginning to come to chapel. No, that was only a girl passing through to Annex.

"Why, Sis Sturgis, what in the world are you doing, sitting up in here all by yourself this time of the morning?" called the passer-by.

"I'm waiting for this slow, pokey college to come on to chapel! Ah, me, the whole S. T. C. is out of joint, and 'tis up to me to set it right!"

"Miss Johnny-on-the-spot, will you please look at your watch?" the girl exclaimed, laughing, over her shoulder.

Horrors! Here it was only nine-thirty, and Sis was due in a class right then! Anyhow, no one need ever tell her about being on time to chapel again—she'd been there a whole hour early for once in her college career!

Aunt Lucy Is Injured in Fall

"Aunt Lucy" Cousins, for many years call maid on night shift at Farmville, suffered from shock and bruises received from a fall Wednesday morning, March 1, while dumping ashes down the elevator shaft steps, she fell from the steps to the concrete walk.

Track Starts

Beginning Friday, March 31, track practices will be held at 4 o'clock on the athletic field. Sports which you may compete in at this time are: hurdles, high-jump, broad-jump, discus throw and shot put. Miss Iler's coach class will be in charge of the practices. Sign up on the Bulletin Board and get your practices in. The meet will be held next month.

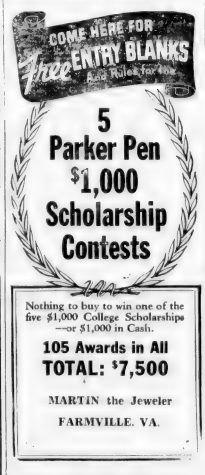
EASTER PERMANENTS
Very Special

$2.50 to $10.00
BALDWIN'S
Phone 159 Farmville's eBst

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

Everying in the line of EQUESTRIAN SPORTS
JOHPHURS
RIDING PANTS
CROPS
Also tennis shoes, balls and racquets
A & N STORE

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA



WIX

Sanitary Protection
without PADS • PINS • BELTS
The Original Internal Tampon
BALDWIN'S
Quality Price Service Store

Hear Ye! Treasure Hunt!

"We are going to have a treasure hunt at Longwood at 4:15 on Wednesday," said Crews Borden. "We want everyone to come—the entire student body! We are going to work in groups and there are going to be clues which will take you all over Longwood—the golf course, the amphitheater and all the surrounding grounds. There will be a real treasure for the winners and an Easter surprise for all! A list will be posted on the A. A. bulletin board tomorrow morning, March 30. Everyone wishing to go must sign up. Sign up in groups of as many as 20—the girls that you wish to hunt with before Tuesday night."

Sounds great! What say, girls?

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

COLLEGE SHOPPE
Large Limeades 5c
Pineapple Flips and Grape Flips
Large Jumbo Shakes, with cr. 10c
Large assort. of sandwiches 10c
25c

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure Thread SILK HOSE
Full Fashioned
Guaranteed to You
49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE,

Southside Drug Store
Chicken Salad 10c
Delicious Hamburger 10c
Deviled Egg 10c
All Cheese 10c
We Deliver—Quickest service to College
Phone 356

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

MEET ME AT . . .
SHANNON'S
Fresh Pineapple Sundaes
Easter Candies
Prompt Delivery on Orders
Phone 224

Local Girls Score Hit With Army and Navy

Many Visit In Richmond

Macon Raine and Caralie Williams attended the U. S. M. A. hop at West Point, N. Y. over the week-end.

Those from S. T. C. who went to the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. were Pattie Bounds, Lula Windham and Sara Keesee.

Kay Horsley spent the week-end at William and Mary College and attended the dance there.

Among those who attended the dances in Charlottesville this past week-end were Essie Millner, Catherine Phillips, and Margaret Whitfield.

Katheryn Reed has returned from Lexington where she attended the dance at W. & L.

Josephine Canada attended the dance at Randolph-Macon in Ashland Saturday.

Beverly Sexton has returned to school after spending several days in Newark, N. J.

Among those from S. T. C. who spent the week-end of March 25-26 in Richmond were Julia Watson, A. McAfee, Theodosia MacKenzie, Lois Powell, Judith Marshall, Elizabeth Tyree, Evelyn D. Timberlake, Virginia Lee Pettis, Helen Straus, Perrye Smith, Peggy Stevens, Evelyn Thorington, Vera Ebel, Betty Fahr, Margaret Franklin, Caroline Gwathmey, Alpha Lee Garnett, Marian Groves, Ada Harris, Helen Wentz, Winnie Harrell, Madge Horne, Virginia Howell, Agnes Jennings, Esther Atkinson, Fredna Armfield, Margaret Banton, Vera Bowling, Mable Burton, Beatrice Bland, Frankie Bryan, Elizabeth Burke, Marguerite Costello, Genevieve Cook and Josephine Chelf.

Bernice Copley visited in Kenbride Sunday.

Jeanne E. Hall has returned from Chapel Hill, N. C. where she spent the week-end.

Eleanor Hutcheson had as her guest, Evelyn Burford, at her home in Blacksburg this past week-end.

Marguerite Blackwell went to Charleston, S. C. over the week-end.

Among those last week-end in Petersburg were Patsy Smith, Helen Seward, Nan Duer, Anne Boswell, Margaret Britton, Alice Marie Coberly, Rosalie Coberly, Anne Easely, Nancy Hopkins, Frances Williams, Elizabeth Townsend and Edna May Ruby.

Doris and Dot Adkins visited their parents in Danville over the week-end.

Anne Billups, Marguerite Russ, Hazel Holmes, Katherine N. Gray, and Nell Harvey, spent the week-end of the 25th in Norfolk.

Porter Shepherd was the guest of her aunt in Dillwyn during the week-end.

Nancy Richards, Myra Smith and Helen Jeffries spent the week-end with their parents in Culpeper.

Martha Meade Hardaway had as her guest at her home in Burkeville Helen Reiff, Sally K. Dunlap and Yates Carr.

Among those who went to Roanoke were Nancy Naff, Dorothy Menefee, Janelle Shelor, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Irma Graff and Anne Williams.

Ethel Delaney visited friends at Mary Baldwin College in Staunton over the week-end.

Rachel DeBerry, Charlotte Davis and Eleanor White went to Blackstone over the week-end.

Nancy Johnson was the guest of Martha De Crawley in Cumberland.

Lucy Staples, Frances Kelley, Elizabeth Lewis and Roberta Wheeler spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Betty Hawkins was the guest of Lucrese Neimeyer in Portsmouth over the week-end.

Eighty-Nine On Dean's List For Winter Term

Eighty-nine students met the requirements for the Dean's list for the Winter quarter. The Dean's list is open to all Juniors and Seniors who have made no grade lower than B on the winter quarter's work and gives them the privilege of unlimited cuts. Those on the dean's list are as follows:

Lucy G. Adams, Lillian Anderson, Lois Barbee, Elizabeth Berryman, M. Anne Billups, Margaret L. Black, Marguerite Blackwell, Pattie Bounds, Florence Bress, Margaret Britton, Nancy Hall Bryant, Dorothy Buckland, Sarah Button, Juanita Carson, Doris Chestnut, Jean Clarke, Josie Lee Cogsdale, Helen Costan, Betty Sue Cummings, Louise DeJarnette.

Adelaide Dressler, Ann Dugger, Beulah Ettenger, Miriam Ficklen, Mary Lee Gardner, Alpha Lee Garnett, Ollie Graham Koonce, Lavalette Glenn, Blair Goode, Theresa Graff, Nancy Gray, Caroline Gwathmey, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marion Harden, Betty Hardy, Mildred Harry, Sarah Hayes, Rose Higginbotham, Frances Holloway, Thelma Houpe.

Rosemary Howell, LeNoir Hubbard, Virginia Epes Irby, Mrs. Elizabeth Harris Loving, Johnny Lybrook, Martha McCorkle, Mrs. Helen Riss McCowell, Anna Maxey, Catherine Maynard, Doris Miller, Mary Walker Mitchell, Lorana Moomaw, Alice Moyer, Meade Neale, Clara Nottingham, Hazel Peters, Frances Pope, Jane Powell, Lois Powell, Mary Garrington Power, Elizabeth Prince, Nellie Putney, Macon Raine, Anna Snow Ramsey, Elizabeth Rawlings.

Helen Reiff, Mary Frances Rice, Katherine S. Roberts, Dorothy Rudder, Mary Ann Sanderson, Beckie Sandidge, Virginia Louise Smith, Virginia Whitehead Smith, Sarah Frances Steed, Jean Taylor, David Terry, Louise Turnes, Elizabeth Tyree, Byrd Vaughan, Jean Watts, Betty Webb, Selma West, Eloise Williams, Frances Erma Williams, Elizabeth George Wilson, Nancy Woodward, Carrie Yeatts, Margaret Young.

Gamma Thetas Hold Founders Banquet

Gamma Theta sorority held their founder's day banquet in the tea room March 21.

Those who attended were the members here in school and Miss Florence Stubbs, Miss Grace Mix, Mrs. C. G. McIlwaine and Mrs. M. B. Coyner.

A. S. A.'s Use Songs As Party Theme

The new girls of Alpha Sigma Alpha were hostess to the old girls of the sorority at a party in the chapter room March 24.

Each girl came dressed to represent a song for which a contest was formed. Other games and songs by Peggy Bellus provided entertainment for the group. Refreshments and decorations carried out the theme of the popular songs.

Those present other than the members of the chapter were Miss Grace Moran and Mrs. T. D. Eason.

Sorority Entertains For National Officer

Del'a Theta Alpha entertained at tea Friday, March 17 from 4:30 to 6:00 in the chapter room in honor of Mrs. Don Frehesee, National editor of Theta Sigma Upsilon. Those invited to meet Mrs. Frehsee included the heads and sponsors of all sororities on campus and Miss Carolyn Cogbill Pan-Hellenic adviser.

Pan-Hel Dance Is Saturday

V. M. I. Band Will Play

The Pan-Hellenic dance sponsored by the eight sororities will be Saturday night, April 1, in the gymnasium. It will be formal, and the music will be furnished by the V. M. I. Commanders. Dancing will begin at 9:30 and continue until midnight.

The Commanders have played for Farmville dances previously and have proved popular in the school.

The decorations for the dance will follow the theme of Easter. The decoration committee consists of girls from all of the chapters.

In the receiving line will be the adviser of each sorority; Miss Carolyn Cogbill, the Pan-Hellenic adviser; and Miss Mary White Cox.

Invitations have been issued to over 200 non-sorority girls.

Dramatic Club Gives Annual Tea

Old and new members of the Dramatic Club were entertained at the annual tea in the Student Lounge from 4:30 until 6 o'clock on March 17. The officers of the club were hostesses at the occasion.

Decorations were yellow and green following the St. Patrick's Day theme. A salad plate and tea were served.

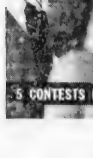
Major Officers

Continued from Page 1

retary and treasurer of the H2O Club. She belongs to Cotillion Club and Gamma Theta social sorority.

Dorothy Fischer of East Islip, N. Y., belongs to the Dramatic Club and the Orchestra. Active in sports since entering Farmville, this year she was treasurer of the Athletic Association and vice-president of the Monogram Club. She is a member of the varsity hockey and basketball squads, and participates in all athletics.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.



Wed.-Thurs., March 29-30
JOAN CRAWFORD
JAMES STEWART
"ICE FOLLIES"
Clyde McCoy Band

Fri.-Sat., Mch. 31-Apr. 1
CHARLIE McCARTHY
EDGAR BERGEN
W. C. FIELDS
"YOU CAN'T CHEAT AN HONEST MAN"
Novelty and News

Next Mon.-Tues., April 3-4
RUTH HUSSEY
Tom Neal, Paul Kelly
"WITHIN THE LAW"
Color Parade and News

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

Win One of the 5
PARKER PEN $1,000 COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS [OR $1,000 CASH]

Get FREE ENTRY BLANK and Rules at any store selling Parker Vacumatic Pens

One Scholarship Awarded Each Week for 5 Weeks
Plus 20 Weekly Cash Awards of $25 Each
105 AWARDS, TOTAL: $7,500

Nothing to Buy to Win

5 CONTESTS END SATURDAY, APRIL 8, 15, 22, 29—AND MAY 6

BETTE DAVIS
WARNER BROS. STAR

FOR A
Perfect Performance
IN SMOKING PLEASURE

Before and after seeing BETTE DAVIS in "DARK VICTORY" ...coming soon to your local theatre

enjoy Chesterfield's Happy Combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Thanks to their can't-be-copied blend Chesterfields are refreshingly milder, taste better and have a more pleasing aroma. Chesterfield gives you just what you want in a cigarette.

When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give millions of men and women more smoking pleasure . . . why THEY SATISFY

Chesterfield

The RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos, They're Milder . . They Taste Better

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, FRIDAY, APRIL 5, 1939 | No. 23

Hardaway, Reiff, Gibson Are Vice-Heads

Esther Atkinson Chosen House Council Secretary

Martha Meade Hardaway was elected vice-president of Student Council Caralie Nelson was chosen as secretary, Alice Leigh Barham will serve as treasurer; Caroline Eason will act as Campus League chairman. Helen Reiff will serve as vice-president of the Y. W. C. A. Ollie Graham Koonce will act as secretary, Eliza Wise as treasurer. Lucy Turnbull as councilor to the Freshman Commission. Miss Mary Clay Hiner of the faculty was chosen as the representative to the advisory board.

Pat Gibson is the new vice-president of the A. A. and Crews Borden and Rosa Courter are secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Esther Atkinson will serve as secretary of the House Council. Other minor officers are chosen within the Council.

This election took place Wednesday, March 29, by ballot from the student body.

Student Council officers and representatives were installed on April 3, and A. A. Council in chapel today, April 5. The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet will not be chosen or installed until after the Easter holidays and House Council will be installed the fall of next year.

Honor Society Chooses Officers

Ann Billups of Norfolk was elected president of Kappa Delta Pi national honorary society for education, at a call meeting on April 4, and will succeed David Terry in that office.

The other new officers are Mr. M. B. Coyner, vice-president; Beulah Ettenger, secretary; Evelyn Burford, Treasurer; Rosemary Howell, reporter; and Miss Pauline Camper, counselor. Miss Camper was reelected as advisor and the other officers will succeed Virginia Yager, Sarah Hayes, Anna Snow Ramsey, and Evelyn Beale, respectively.

Mildred Harry, Jane Rosenberger, Marian Harden, Helen Jeffries, Evelyn Burford, Mrs. Elizabeth Harris Loving, Anita Carrington, and Mr. M. B. Coyner were initiated into the fraternity on March 30.

Miss Craddock Is National Secretary

Miss Ottie Craddock was re-elected secretary of the National Association of Penmanship Teachers and Supervisors at a convention held March 30, 31, and April 1 at the Netherland Plaza Hotel in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The members of the convention visited schools in the city and observed methods and materials. Dr. Henry Harap, a leader in the South and professor of education at George Peabody College in Nashville, Tennessee, and Major Norman Imrie, editor of the Columbus Dispatch, were the principal speakers for the conference.

Margaret Carr Is A. C. E. Head

Margaret Carr of Roanoke has been elected president of the local chapter of A. C. E. She will succeed Caroline Gwathmey. Nancy Moss was chosen as vice-persident and will succeed Elvira Ligon. Janelle Shelor and Jane Hardy will serve as secretary and treasurer, respectively, for the coming year.

"Tovarich" Leaves Indellible Impression of Real Courage

From the first parting of the curtain upon the bare, meager hotel room, Tatiana and Mikail, we were concerned by the courage of those two exiles. This was their virtue, the will to be true to their comrade. But neither poverty nor luxury made a change in their valiant humor and good will.

We saw them first in their boarding house, down to one hundred francs and the last of Mikail's shirts. They were far behind in their rent payments and all pawnable objects had already been disposed of. Their more immediate worry was hunger. Ah! but Tatiana can fix that. For on her trips to the market, she always manages to bring back more than she's paid for.

However, that same day, while she is gone, Mikail receives two visitors, Bankers Brenkensn and Chauffourier-Dubrieff, who explain to Mikail that the French government is paying for his wife's thefts. He requests the former Prince to return the money given him by the Czar in 1917 but he is flatly refused. This money is being hoarded by the Russians until it can be used to restore them to their rightful place for the sake of their country. If they surrender the money, all hope of ever returning to their beloved country will be gone.

When Tatiana returns, penniless but with food, they realize that they must work to live. They secure the position of butler and maid in the Dealthy DuPont family. Here they find happiness. The mistress and her daughter, Helene, are captivated by the handsome Mikail, while the pompous banker DuPont and son Georges see only the enchanting "Tina".

Two months pass quickly. Young Helene and Georges become slaves to the Russian culture of the disguised nobility. They study their language and their music. They find excellent entertainment in poker games in the kitchen before going out to some Russian cafe after the "servants" work is over.

But the one flaw in the set-up is the fact that their employer is working with Chauffourier-Dubrieff. The darkness comes when their hated enemy the Commissar Gorotchenko, comes for dinner, and their plot is discovered. That same night, feeling that they have already lost everything they sign the check for one billion francs, returning the money to the Russian government. This is the end of hope for two white Russians. Two things remain—their work and their courageous humor

Sophomores Elect Dodson As Leader

Naff and Wood On Government

Mary Catherine Dodson will head the Sophomore Class during the coming year, succeeding Anne Shirley, who is not returning to school next year.

Allene Overbey who headed the Freshman Commission will serve as vice-president of the class, and Betty Lucy will continue as class secretary.

Jane Engleby, another commission member, will be the treasurer of the class.

Nancy Naff continues as a class representative on student government, and Norma Wood will serve as the other representative.

This year's Student Standards' representatives, Elizabeth Ann Parker and Ellen Royall, were re-elected.

Miss Jane Royall will continue as classman.

Roberts Installs Council Officers

Katherine Roberts, outgoing president of the Student Council, led the installation service of the incoming members of the council Monday night in the auditorium. Marie Eason, the new president, promised "to perform all the duties incumbent upon me . . . to the best of my ability" and then installed Martha Meade Hardaway as vice-president, Caralie Nelson as secretary, Alice Leigh Barham, treasurer, Caroline Eason, Campus League Chairman, Sally Dunlap and Lorana Moomaw, senior class representatives, Marian Heard and Jean Moyer, junior class representatives, Norma Wood and Nancy Naff, sophomore representatives, Marjorie Nimmo, president of House Council, and Dorothy Eades and Dorothy Fischer, ex-officio members.

Kitty in a short talk thanked each student for her part in making this year a success, and Marie asked that each girl continue to work together as one unit.

The Reverend A. C. Tucker led a short devotional service, after which the girls marched out to "Onward Farmville".

Purdom Is Junior Class President

Others Are Fahr Atkinson, Stevenson

Ruth Lee Purdom of Danville was elected to serve as president of the Junior Class for 1939-40 at a class meeting held Thursday, March 30.

Ruth Lea has held this position during her freshman and sophomore years too.

Esther Atkinson was re-elected as vice-president of the class. Boonie Stevenson will fill the vacancy of secretary of the class. Anne Leake, secretary this year, will not return to school next fall. Betty Fahr was also reelected to her office of treasurer of the class.

Marian Heard is the representative of the class on student government, and Jean Moyer is the other representative.

Ellen Gray and Martha Whelchel will continue to serve on the Student Standards committee.

Mr. Raymond French was chosen as classman again.

Choral Groups To Give Concert

The various groups of the college choir and choral club are working in preparation for the annual spring concert to be given here in the auditorium on April 18.

The guest artists for the evening will include the Glee Club of the University of Virginia and Mr. Wilson Angel of Richmond. The Virginia Glee Club is known all over the eastern sections of the United States for its excellent work. It is a privilege for the choir to be hosts to such a group here in the college. Many had the opportunity of hearing Mr. Wilson Angel at the concert last spring, and others have heard him over the radio.

The Junior and Senior A Capellas, junior and senior quartets, and the college choir and choral club will render several selections with the University Glee Cluo.

NOTICE

Easter holidays begin at noon tomorrow, April 6, and end Tuesday morning, April 11. Students are expected to return to school in time for Tuesday's classes.

Pi Gamma Mu Discusses Governments

Members Lead Forum Discussion On World Leaders

Series of chapel talks on outstanding figures in the world today was presented March 30 by Florence Bress, president of the local chapter, as this year's project for Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary fraternity in social science.

Ruth Reid gave a brief talk on the mental and physical characteristics of Hitler, the friendless but influential leader of Germany. Nellie Putney characterized Mussolini and compared him with Hitler.

Doris Chesnut discussed Lenin, the leader of the Russian people even after his death, and Stalin the successor, in the third part of the series on March 31. On April 1 Dorothy Eades gave the last talk, and her subject was another world leader, Franklin D. Roosevelt, whose character and industry are well known to the American people.

A formal discussion of the present types of government was held in the Student Building lounge, April 3. Virginia Smith led discussion on Communism; Pattie A. Bounds on Fascism, Juanita Carson, on Nazism, and Lorana Moomaw on Democracy.

After the talks an open forum was in order, led by the speakers.

At the close of the program the senior members of Pi Gamma Mu acted as hostess at a reception for the faculty, town guests, and students who had been invited to the open forum.

The week's program terminated with a banquet at Longwood tonight, April 5.

Eason and Roberts Attend Convention

Marie Eason and Kitty Roberts, the incoming and out-going presidents of Student Government, respectively, will attend the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Government at Salem College, Winston-Salem, N. C., to be held from 2 p. m. April 10, until 2 p. m. April 12.

The purpose of this convention will be the consideration of Student Government as a foundation for democracy.

Student Government—Administration relations; Student Government relations to the Student Body; and Student Government election systems are topics planned for discussion groups. There will be an open forum in which the problems of the colleges represented will be taken up.

Students are urged to submit to Marie or Kitty problems concerning Farmville student body which they would like to be discussed at the convention.

Soph Commission Is Organized

In accordance with the new Y. W. C. A. constitution a Sophomore Commission was organized at a meeting of the on coming sophomore class on April 4. Those elected to the commission are Ann Ayers, Gay Ward Brown, Augusta Parks, Martha Robert, Mary Lou Shannon and Margaret Wynn.

Members of this year's freshman commission were given the opportunity to continue in their work if they desired. They are Allene Overbey, Mae Wertz, Jane Engleby, Sarah Cline, Norma Wood, Carolyn Harvey, Mae Winn, Frances Rosebro, Elizabeth Townsend, and Mary Catherine Dodson, sophomore class president and Lucy Turnbull, newly elected freshman counselor who will serve

Continued on Page 4

Garnett is Farmville Princess at Apple Blossom Festival

ALPHA LEE GARNETT

Winchester Is Scene For Annual Event

Alpha Lee Garnett, a senior from Richmond, has been chosen by Dr. Jarman to represent Farmville S. T. C. as a princess in the court of Queen Shenandoah XVI in Winchester. The celebration will be held Thursday and Friday, April 27 and 28.

Alpha Lee was treasurer of her class her freshman year in school. Since then she has been an active worker in all phases of class work.

Dramatics has been Alpha Lee's main interest since she entered Farmville. She has worked in the Dramatic Club for four years and has served as head of the acting group for the past two years. Alpha Lee had important roles in major productions and played one of the leads in the latest Dramatic Club play "Tovarich."

She is a member of Pi Gamma Mu, national honor fraternity in social science, the Cotillion Club and Gamma Theta social sorority.

During her stay in Winchester, Alpha Lee will be entertained widely. She and princesses from other colleges will be present when the queen, Miss Genevieve Garner, of Amarillo, Texas, is crowned, and they will ride on flower-decked floats in the parade.

In 1937 Elizabeth Shiplett of Roanoke was Farmville's princess. Last year Carter Belle Munt of Petersburg was Farmville's representative.

Powell Will Head Seniors Next Year

Miss Bedford Is Advisor

Senior Class of 1939-40 has re-elected Jane Powell president. Eliza Wise, vice-president, Martha Meade Hardaway, secretary, and Dorothy Eades, treasurer. All of these officers served during the past year.

Lorana Moomaw and Sally Kerr Dunlap will represent the class on the Student Council, and Helen Reiff and Jane Hardy on the Student Standards Committee. Lorana served as class representative during this year and Sally was elected to fill the vacancy left by Marie Eason, the new president of the student body.

Miss Virginia Bedford was re-elected as class advisor.

A. C. E. Initiates New Members

Forty-one girls were initiated into A. C. E. Thursday night. The Association of Childhood Education is national honorary organization for education. This organization realizing the importance of the training of children, has for its goal providing all the possible opportunities for development physically, intellectually, socially, and morally. It creates a real interest and love for children.

Those girls initiated were Sarah Elizabeth Ferguson, Mary Louise Cox, Genevieve Cooke, Elizabeth Lewis, Ellen Gray, Carrie Yeatts, Beatrice Bland, Eliza Wise, Mrs. India E. Burch, Margaret Holberton, Genevieve Moody, Jane Porter Shepherd, Rosalie Coberly, Edith Fitch, Virginia Lee Taylor, Helen Hoyer, Dorothy V. Davis, Nell Harvey, Elizabeth Oakes, Margaret Banton, Annie Laurie Taylor, Lily Louise Weaver, Eunice Westbrook, Anne Hunter Leake, Frances Perkins, Lois Powell, Jane Fowler, Norma Pamplin, Elizabeth Harris Loving, Peggy Stevens, Mary Catherine Green, Mimi Perdue, Evelyn D. Timberlake, Vera Mapp Jacob, Mary Louise Cunningham, Carolyn L. Ford, Nancy Hall Bryant, Helen Watts, Dorothy Mae Webb, Florence Rowell, and Betty Mac Owen.

Fourteen Schools Enter Contest

Fourteen high schools have enrolled to compete in the annual play tournament of Southside Virginia which will be held at Farmville on April 20, 21 and 22. This is the fifth year in the history of the contest and the first time that so large a number of schools have entered. A loving cup is presented the victor of each group of schools.

Plans are going forward and committees and judges being appointed. Admission price will be fifteen cents for one night and thirty cents for three nights.

Schools which will compete are Curdsville, Appomattox, Prospect, New London, Amherst, Clarksville, Orange, LaCrosse, Blackstone, Amelia, Crewe, Culpeper, Emporia and Vinton.

Forensic Will Be at Winthrop

Lorana Moomaw, Marie Allen, Frances Holloway and Pattie Alston Bounds representing Farmville will leave with Dr. Walmsley, Farmville's debate coach, on Wednesday, April 12, for Rock Hill, South Carolina. They are to attend the Grand Eastern Tournament at Winthrop College from April 12-16.

Each year the tournament is held at Winthrop College and colleges from all over the United States attend this forensic rally. There are contests in debating, after-dinner speaking, extemporaneous speaking, problem solving and impromptu speaking. Farmville will participate in Debate mainly. On the affirmative, Marie Allen and Frances Holloway will debate while Pattie Bounds and Lorana Moomaw will uphold the negative. Lorana will also enter the after-dinner contests. The debate topic will be the national Pi Kappa Delta question.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associatcd College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the Sta e Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

News

Louise Allen, Evelyn Burford, Mildred Calils, Marion Harden, Susie Pearl Crocker, Mildred Harry, Helen Jeffries, Mary Walker Mitchell, Janelle Shelor, Edna Strong, Dell Warren, Elizabeth West, Lucy Turnbull, Margaret Wright.

Features ..... Hazelwood Burbank
Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Bernice Copley, Emma Louise Crowger, Anna Johnson, Theodosia McKenzie, Earnestine Meacham, Helen Reiff, Dorothy Rollins.

Sports—Sudie Dunton, Alice Lee Barham, Mary Sue Edmondson, Pat Gibson, Marjorie Nimmo.

Socials—Evelyn Byrd Hutcheson, Agnes Pickeral, Shirley Stephens.

Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants — Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Beverly Blair, Helen Briggs, Josa Carleton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary Allen Peters, Frances Pope, Jane Rosenberger, Mary Sue Simmons, Kathryn Watkins.

Typists

Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Betsy Briggs, Anne Bruce, Elizabeth Bundy, Dorothy Lee Harrison, Frances Pritchett, Dorothy Smith, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Sue Woolford.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5, 1939

It's Your Chapel— What Will You Make of It?

Lately there has been a decided move protesting against the conduct in our morning chapel. The officials' eyebrows have been raised continuously, as have their voices; the students understand to some extent the officials' protests. Yet this disorder continues to exist during these few minutes of daily devotion and it creates an extremely embarrassing and outrageous situation. If the students and the officials are both so against such a confusion, why should it continue to exist?

The real root of this problem is that the student body as a whole does not have the proper spirit of cooperation in such cases. They naturally believe and realize that such an atmosphere of irreverance and disorder is neither the proper nor the respectable thing to have in their midst; yet, by selfish satisfaction each person, seeing another adding to the disorder, believes that it is her perfect right to add her share to her neighbor's. One by one the voices rise into the air, distracting the attention of the entire body, and distorting the restfulness, reverence, and quiet which are the fundamental and underlying purposes of this period.

This is the one time in the day when the entire college body is one—dorm students, day students and faculty. If we will but make it so, there can be an atmosphere of close fellowship. And a feeling of oneness and nearness in our being together for these few moments.

Until we students take the responsibility upon ourselves and go about correcting this condition with a spirit of cooperation, such disorder will continue to exist and will undoubtedly cast a lasting reflection upon Farmville State Teachers College — our school.

SENIOR PERSONALITIES

JENNY CARROLL

"On basketball, hockey, or tennis court.
I'm ready a plenty for any sport."

'Tis perfectly true that whatever the phase of athletics—from hockey on the A. A. field, basketball on the gym floor, a sprint down the swimming pool or a drive on the golf course at Longwood, we're sure to see Jenny Carroll at sometime or other. We marvel that anyone person can be a master in so many different fields. Indeed, Jenny's the all-round athlete.

A varsity basketeer since her Freshman year Jenny has proved her true worth to S. T. C.'s victorious team and filled a worthy position as co-captain this year. Of no less repute is her swimming ability. Yes, the waters seem to break apart when Jenny "crawls" for that 100-yard dash. Hockey, tennis, golf, all sports fill their place in the sports life of this great athletic career woman.

Under Jenny's guidance as president this year the Athletic Association has placed a noticeable part in the life of our students It's been a great sports year.

But for a little "low-down" on Jenny. Would you believe that Carroll girl, with her combination of sophistication yet a love of wholesome fun and impishness has real hidden literary talent? And it's verse making—yes, she was practically the Longfellow of her high school in Rocky Mount. And her present college classmates can recall Jenny's freshman masterpieces as a poet. 'Tain't fair, Jenny, to hold out on us.

Jenny claims to be a career woman—a physical education teacher—in combination with math—and she's enthusiastically anticipating being a school ma'am. But those who know her best reflect whimsically, "Have you ever noticed that gleam in Jenny's eyes? One moment it's all career and the next moment it's love." 'Tis true; you never can tell about women.

Twistograms

AOMNR OODW: New Government member. Redheaded. (Norma Wood).

AARECLI EOSLNN: Active in Y. W. and Student Council. (Carolie Nelson).

ATIEEHLZB NAN RRAKPE: A Freshman . . . Part in Dramatic Club play . . . Student Standards. (Elizabeth Ann Parker).

ENJYN LRRCOAL: Annie Athlete. Extremely radical. (Jenny Carroll).

TOD SKNIT: Part of a double order. (Dot Atkins).

April Fool Has Come and Past

"It is a thing to be disputed
Which is the greatest fool reputed,
The man who innocently went
Or he that him designedly sent?"

One would think that a day so ridiculously unimportant as All Fools' Day would be short lived among a group of civilized people. But not so!

This day had its origin in France nearly four hundred years ago, and is as popular today as it was then, as many of you no doubt found out last Saturday.

Before the new calendar was adopted in 1564, the first of the year fell on March 25, and was celebrated in France on April 1. After the adoption of the new calendar, however, April 1st was still set aside for mock ceremonial visits and pretended gifts, in view of making fools of those who had forgotten the change of date.

The custom did not appear in Great Britain until early in the eighteenth century and from there came to America where we care not for the origin of the day, but for the one chance we have to make fools of our neighbors.

Many and varied are the tricks played on those caught napping. "Your shoe's untied," seems to be the most popular. "Your shirt tail's out" is the strain often heard during the course of the day.

Youngsters take great delight in putting bricks under hats, or tying strings to fat, juicy-looking purses, and leaving them in the street for innocent passerbys, who invariably kick the hat (ouch!) or attempt to pick up the purse.

Here at school, false letters and fake telegrams haunted the students by day, and "pie beds" and dummies by night.

And then, on April 2, when you think peace has triumphed at last, that eternal wise cracker inevitably pops up with:

"April Fools' Day has come and past
And you're the biggest fool at last."

Books in Review

Ordeal by Nevil Shute

What happens to Joan and Peter and their children? They go to sleep in a green, peaceful Southhampton, and they awake in a bombed and war torn England. There had been no declaration of war, but that's the way it is nowadays.

The planes fly so high that it is impossible to hear or see them, and yet, every bomb hurtling from them brings certain death and destruction.

Pete Carbett tries to hide his family in the safety garage, but there is safety in no part of England.

They try to flee to Isle of Wight in their small pleasure boat, only to find that they can not be admitted with out a bill of health.

Southhampton is already plagued with typhoid and cholera brought on by a water shortage and the breakage of sewers. The city has been laid waste after three nights of bombing.

Citizens bravely try to repair gas, streets, electricity, and water pipes, but with all odds against them what chance do they stand?

From what little news they can get over the radio, they learn, that what is going on in England, is going on almost everywhere.

Peter and his family after days of horror and dispair, after days of living in a diseased and bloody city, after days of trying to get enough milk for the baby and fresh meat for themselves, at last find comparative safety in France. For how long, they do not know.

"Ordeal" is published in England "under the almost unbearably matter-of-fact title of 'What Happened to the Corbetts,' and the crowning horror lies in the fact that it is not in the least sensational."

It is one of those books that you pick up and read from cover to cover before putting it down again. A story of the world today, and what might happen anywhere, a story of the next war.

"Here so simply, with normality and poise, is this human story. Its overwhelming force is in its quiet commonplaceness—and in the newspapers that we read everyday."

RAIIMM CENKII: That Southern drawl. (Miriam Ficklin).

AAREGTRM LLAADRST: Cotillion Club. Home Ec major. (Margaret Stallard).

Humor

Here I am
Sad and lonely—
While my O. A. O.
Drags his one and only.
—Annapolis "Log"

Customer: "Have you a book called 'Man, the Master of Women'?"
Salesgirl: "The fiction department is on the other side, sir."
—U. S. M. A. Pointer

A co-ed is an appetite wrapped up in a polo coat and wearing dirty shoes.
—U. S. M. A. Pointer

"Just got back from a trip around the world."
"Great! Did you stop off in Egypt?"
"Oh, yes."
"Go up the Nile?"
"Sure, swell view from the top."
—U. S. M. A. Pointer

Drunk: "Taxi?"
Driver: "Yes, sir!"
Drunk: "I thought so."
—U. S. M. A. Pointer

She: "Thanks for the hug.
He: "Oh, the pressure was all mine."

The Student Speaks

This column is offered that the student might have the opportunity to express herself about things at school. We have a problem, let's do something about it. Americans are noted for their ability to solve problems—if they want to. This is ours: The Post Officer Corridor Traffic Congestion.

Miss Taliaferro has a good idea. Enter the Post Office by the far door and come out by the other. This would move "the traffic" much faster, and there would not be as much pushing and treading on toes. Another thing in connection with the improvement of the Post Office rush is not to meet your friends in the middle of the hall for lengthy conversations; or to read your mail before leaving the crowd.

How about it? Every little bit of thoughtfulness will help.

B.

Note: Students are invited to submit for print any suggestions for school improvement they might wish to voice.

Echoes From an Empty Space

Your dirt dauber hates to be behind the times but poor Martha Welchel wants it known that she has been invited out to H.-S. C. dances more than once and she can't help it if she was still on campus.

May Wertz and Mimi Perdue were off on another of May's hair-raising week-ends Saturday before last . . . Hope it didn't end as disasterously as that one of Frances Williams.

Jane McGinnis was quite relieved that Dick wasn't around to see the play Friday night—remember what a picture she made as the cook. Jimmy "Boyer" Johnston was really laying them in the aisles with that accent of his and although he lacked the Frenchman's smoldering passion still he says he could develop it if he had half a chance. By the way how about that party after the play? It's a shame Happy couldn't go down the street with Hunter.

Jamie Lee and Speedy seem to have gotten over the trouble they were having, we're glad to state. . . . And while we're on this topic—Boo the Barham has definitely made up her mind about Johnny and Sneed—to bad Johnny . . . And Kent has been dashing around oh-ing and ah-ing over a certain D. G. Smith's picture in a West Virginia University paper.

Jo Ware has adopted a new philosophy of life—no men—wonder what could have blighted her life—"and her so young, too."

Alumnae news: Jennie, the Belle, otherwise known as Queenie, seems to be letting teaching get her down—not only did her University man have a younger S. T. C. girl up last week-end for the medical dances—but the Belle was upset enough to send her rival messages to "lay off". Too bad J. B. but there's still Gratton.

Latest reports are that Nene and Ora are up and coming freshmen.

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

Last week the small countries took on fresh hope as the "Stop Hilter" movement was carried forward in all parts of Europe.

In England there was a rumor of a split in the cabinet, one-half of the group favoring a "go slow" policy and the other side favoring immediate action.

In Italy early in the week Mussolini addressed the nation. He defied any democracy to interfere with the actions of the fascist nations and hailed the victory of Franco in Spain. He seemed to think that Franco's victory was only a beginning. The Dictator denounced France but spoke of the colonies as a "problem" that the two countries must agree upon rather than in the demanding way of Germany's dictataor.

Daladier fired back at Italy and gave her to understand that she would not "cede one inch of her land or any of her rights." The Frenchmen swung at Germany's unlawfulness and sent forth a plea for all nations of the same mind with France to unite for peace.

Mussolini was not prepared to receive such an emphatic answer as the French executive gave and he was apparently taken back a few paces.

Mussolini can only ask of France now for she is not strong enough alone to use the "force method". Germany is Italy's ally, yes. But Germany is too much occupied with her own selfish interests to be bothered with anything that will not immediately mean profit to her.

There was still the strain and the tension in the smaller countries but perhaps not so great as it was last week. This slight ease up is, we are afraid, only the calm before the storm.

Churches of the Christian countries of Europe will probably be more crowded this Easter Sunday than they have been in many years, not because the European people have suddenly turned more religious or because there will be more new Easter frocks to be flaunted but because those people are afraid—. Funny how we turn to God when we're in trouble.

This week-end we will be home secure, secure because we are Americans, and yet are we? Because many of us will be driving automobiles it seems in keeping with the time that we should remember that America has lost many more thousands in the great war of the highway than she has seen fall on the battlefield of guns and cannon. What is happening and what will happen in Europe we are powerless as individuals to move one finger to prevent.

But we can help in America's fight for safer, saner roads. This column appeals to you—won't you do your part? And may you have a truly happy Easter!

Athletic Council Selects Managers For Coming Year

Jarman Heads Basketball

Chlotilde Jarman has been appointed manager of the varsity basketball squad for the 1939-40 season. A member of the varsity squad since her freshman year and playing on the regular team both this year and last, "Cleo" is an outstanding athlete.

Hockey in the 1939 season will be under the supervision of Marjorie Nimmo, who was assistant manager last year. "Marge" has also been active in sports, being a member of the varsity hockey squad for three years and a member of the varsity basketball squad last year.

Shirley Stevens has been reappointed manager of tennis and Helen Seward, who was co-manager of archery last year, has been made manager of that sport.

In the future, events included under the heading of minor sports last year will be called social activities. Sue Owen, former assistant in minor sports, is in charge of this division.

Helen McIlwaine will manage minor sports which take in baseball, golf, lacrosse and track.

Volleyball and swimming for the coming year will be under the direction of Martha Roberts and Peggy Hughes, respectively. Martha was assistant manager of freshman basketball last year.

These girls will appoint their assistants later on basing their selection upon the interest and ability shown in each particular sport.

Longwood Treasure Hunt Is Big Easter Send-Off

Didn't we have a 'scrumptious" time on the "Treasure Hunt" at Longwood this afternoon. You ole stay-at-homes, really missed something today.

About one hundred people signed up for the hunt—you can imagine the fun we had hiking to Longwood and especially searching for the elusive treasure.

Crews Borden who arranged the whole affair, met all the girls at the house and divided us into groups of twenty. After the instructions had been given, we set off with the signal "Go!". Just picture a host of girls scurrying hither and yon finding guiding rhymes that required clever decyphering. It was a case of one jingle leading to another—but the pot of gold was hidden at the end of every trail.

The treasure, however, was well-earned since we traveled from one end of Longwood to the other in search of it—all over the golf course, around the amphitheatre and in all those little inconspicuous unsuspected places.

Tis said that one good thing leads to another — this occasion proved no exception. Besides the treasure of Easter eggs, bunny rabbits and goodies that we found in the boxwood ('tis safe to tell now) there was yet another surprise. Yes, you've guessed it — Longwood buns and coca-cola for everyone.

Sport Slants

By BOO BARHAM

The treasure hunt at Longwood was a huge success. Some of you all probably are worn out right now—but it was fun while it lasted. Those girls who didn't come are going to feel mighty bad when they hear about the "double" treasure. Bet they'll be "johnnies-on-the-spot" next time.

Longwood is fast becoming the great center of interest. And why shouldn't it? It has everything from treasure and egg hunts to archery, golf and riding. It's great seeing so many of the girls out there making the most of this fine weather. Mr. Graham is the "Artist" when it comes to golfing. However, there are lots of girls trying—he'd better improve that 29 for 7 holes.

We're still waiting for the tennis courts to be repaired. In the meantime don't be idle. There's nothing like practice to make one perfect. Start slapping the ball up against the gym wall—you will be surprised how much it will help (that is, if you don't put a hole in the wall.)

Track and swimming are practically the only "campus" sports left. Red and White came out upon the practice field in full array last Friday—ready to do or die for the color cup. Come out now, Green and White—because you're ahead at the moment doesn't mean a thing. I'm telling you—those juniors and freshmen are determined.

The H2O seems never to lose its appeal. A new pool schedule has been posted—look at it and unless you are in one of the classes, please don't come in except at an "open" time. Be sure to note the new sports calendar listed in this issue.

Tennis Courts Undergo Repair

The singles tennis tournament which began last fall will continue as soon as the courts are repaired. There will only be three courts ready for use the remainder, at the piano; Dickey der of the quarter.

Two courts are now under repairs and Mr. Graham has promised to have them in playing condition after Easter holidays are over. The plan is to mark the courts off with tape to prevent the erasure of the lines.

Four new courts located on the campus will be ready in September.

Watch the bulletin board for a poster announcing the doubles tournament, which will begin as soon as the courts are ready. Sign up!

Egg Hunt

Alpha Sigma Alpha members frolicked at an Easter egg hunt at Longwood Tuesday afternoon, April 4. Those present were the members and their adviser, Miss Grace Moran.

Field and Track Practices Start

On Friday, March 31, the first practice in field and track was held. About thirty-five girls came out for the various sports which included high jump, broad jump, dashes, relays, hurdles, javelin, shot put and discus.

After the Easter holidays, practices in field and track will be held every Monday and Wednesday from 4:00 until 6:00 o'clock. Equipment will be available for any girls who wish to practice at their own convenience, provided it is well taken care of and returned to its proper place.

Inter-class meets will take place the last of April. Helen McIlwaine, new manager of minor sports, will conduct the practices and members of the coaching class will assist.

Sports Calendar

Monday
4:00—Recreational Swimming
4:00—Track
5:00—Recreational Swimming
5:00—Track
Tuesday
4:00—Golf at Longwood
4:00—Archery at Longwood
4:00—Beginners Swimming Class
5:00—Red Cross Life Saving
Wednesday
4:00—N. Y. A. Swimming Class
4:00—Track
5:00—Recreational Swimming
5:00—Track
Thursday
4:00—Beginners Swimming Class
4:00—Golf at Longwood
4:00—Archery at Longwood
5:00—Recreational Swimming
Friday
4:00—Red Cross Life Saving
4:00—Track
5:00—Recreational Swimming
5:00—Track

A bus for Longwood will leave the back porch at 4:00 o'clock on Tuesday and Thursday and will return at 5:30.

A. C. E. Convenes In Atlanta, Ga.

Dorothy Eades and Margaret Carr are the delegates and Eloise Williams and Theresa Graff, alternates, to the national convention of the Association of Childhood Education of Atlanta, Ga., on April 10-14. Miss Mary Haynes, supervisor of the first grade of the campus training school and Miss Grace Mix, supervisor in the kindergarten and teacher of education will also attend the convention.

The topics of discussion will be problems and progress relative to education in nursery, kindergarten, and primary grades.

Faculty Members Attend Conferences

Misses Katherine Tupper and Frances Hauck left Saturday, April 1, for Little Rock, Arkansas where they will attend the Southern National Regional Conference for home economics and agriculture instructors.

Gibson Lists Swim Records

Listed below are the school records in various swimming events. Anyone who wishes to try to set a new record in any of the events may do so providing that she is officially timed. Three new events, 50 yard freestyle, 50 yd. breaststroke, will be added to this list. Girls interested in setting a record in the events should see Pat Gibson who will arrange a time for trials.

Event—Girl	Time
40 yd. breast—Vera Ebel	34.5
40 yd. crawl—Va. Carroll	25.0
40 yd. back—Sara Keesee	32.0
100 yd. breast—Vera Ebel	1.53
100 yd. crawl—Anne Shirley	1.30
100 yd. back—Sara Keesee	1.45
75 yd. medley relay—Helen McIlwaine, Vera Ebel, Nancy Pierpont	57.5
100 yd. free style relay—Virginia Carroll, Rosa Courter, Nancy Dinwiddie, Essie Milliner	1.07

School Beseiged By Silence Epidemic

"Silence there, and nothing more." Suppose everyone followed the example set by a few of our upper classmen who for the past several days have been opening and closing their mouths vigorously while no sound issues forth. It just seems to be an epidemic—this vocal strike—like children with measles, last quarter's practice teachers with pink eye, and last year's crop of crutches, upon which it seemed that everyone in school hobbled for a day or two.

Talk about spring clothes is superseded by only one thing—silence. A visible thinking, perhaps, and lots quieter! Is it that we have those fair young people among us who have worn out their speaking apparatus, or is it just a new fad? Perhaps they have nothing to say but just like to keep up appearances by continually opening and closing their mouths. Tis sad! The theory has been advanced that probably these fair students wrote all they knew on exams, and so, their knowledge being literally exhausted, must wait until new knowledge is gained.

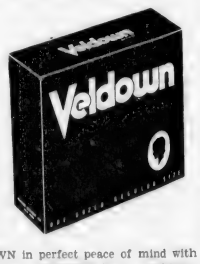
OXFORDS

White with Brown Saddle—Red Sole—or Spongy Crepe Soles—Solid Whites $3.47
* Sizes 3 to 9. * Widths AA to C

Haraches—Sandals: Whites—Natural $1.97

dorothy may

Charge it if you like



The NEW Packages VELDOWN

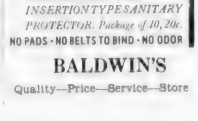
WORLD'S FINEST SANITARY NAPKIN

12 TO BOX

Regular or Junior Size 19c 2 for 37

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMY PKG. 61c 2 for $1.30

You can wear VELDOWN in perfect peace of mind with no fear of emergency because VELDOWN has a moisture-proof backing. Scientific shaping insures invisibility, as easily disposable as tissues.



DAVIDSON'S DEPT. STORE

FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.

Electric Appliance Co.

Armory Bldg. Phone 40

holly-Pax

FOR WOMEN'S GREATER COMFORT AND FREEDOM—INSERTION TYPE SANITARY PROTECTOR. Package of 10, 20c.

NO PADS · NO BELTS TO BIND · NO ODOR

BALDWIN'S

Quality—Price—Service—Store

PERMANENT

Waves any $3.50

Permanent Wave

TWO FOR ANY DAY THIS WEEK $5

To take advantage of this special, bring a friend or a member of the family with you and save!

BEAUTIFUL

Oil Conditioning

PERMANENT WAVES $6.95

BALDWIN'S

Phone 159 Farmville's Best

KLEANWELL

Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O

Phone 98

Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

COLLEGE SHOPPE

Special Breakfast for S. T. C. Girls Only

One Egg, Bacon, Toast, Butter, and Jelly—Coffee. 15c

CALL 200 WE DELIVER

Farmville Mfg. Co

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

Electric Shoe Shop

We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company

Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks

We service all makes of cars

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.

Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Shoe Shop

From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used

Third St. Farmville, Va.

S. A .LEGUS

Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing

PHONE 203

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S

5—10—25c STORE

ON THE CORNER

Wishing YOU A Happy Easter

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the

BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler

College and Sorority Jewelry

317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

Southside Drug Store

It's Healthful—It's Delicious

Malted Milk 10c

Made with our own home made Ice Cream—Try one!

Phone 356

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES

Quality—Price—Service

FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

"SHANNON'S

Cheerful Service
Spotless Plates
Tempting Food
Lowest Rates

SHANNON'S

We make you glad you're hungry"

Alumnae Sponsor Swing Concert

Roy Hicks' Orchestra Will Play

Roy Hicks will be featured with his orchestra, which played for Mardi Gras and Hampden-Sydney Pan-Hellenic dances this year, at the second swing concert sponsored by the S. T. C. Alumnae Association on April 11 at eight p. m. in the large auditorium.

Tubby Oliver will act as producer and Master of Ceremonies. The guest artists will be members of Richmond's All Star Band, including Ranny Robertson, tenor saxaphone player; Walter Warren, who plays the trombone; Paul Dickerson, at the piano; Dicky Radford, who plays the trumpet, and Freddy Shea, who formerly played with Glen Gray and his orchestra.

As an added attraction, Larry Mann, composer and piano player, will introduce his new tune, "Coffee Nerves". The trio from Major Bowes Amateur Hour will sing. Clyde Duvall, local maestro will also participate.

The admission to the concert is thirty-five cents.

Training School Student Teachers

The names of those girls practice teaching this quarter at the Campus Training School have been announced by the Education Department.

They are: Kindergarten—Charlotte Stephens, Edith Fitch, Elvira Ligon.

First Grade—Marie Eason, Margaret Holberton, Victoria Tanner, Virginia Lee Taylor, Helen Watts, Betsy Ann Wyatt, Norma Pamplin.

Second Grade—Edith Fitch, Beatrice Bland, Evelyn D. Timberlake, Carrie Yeatts.

Third Grade—Sarah Ferguson, Lina Hale, Flossie Reynolds, Maure Jones, Coralee Gilliam.

Fourth Grade—Betty Mae Owen, Lorraine Dudley, Lillie Weaver, Rosalie Coberly, Annie Taylor.

Fifth Grade—Mildred Gibboney.

Sixth Grade—Lois Bailey, Elizabeth Robertson, Nellie Williamson.

Pan Hel Council Postpones Dance

The Pan-Hellenic dance, which was to be held April 1, was postponed because of Dr. Jarman's illness. The Pan-Hellenic Council has been unable to announce another date, as they have not heard from the orchestra what their open dates are. As soon as possible, the date will be announced and the plans will go on as before.

She: "Life is just one darn thing after another!"

He: "Yes, and love is just two darned things after each other."

—U. S. M. A. Pointer

COME HERE FOR Free ENTRY BLANKS And Rules for the

5 Parker Pen $1,000 Scholarship Contests

Nothing to buy to win one of the five $1,000 College Scholarships —or $1,000 in Cash.

105 Awards in All TOTAL: $7,500

PATTERSON'S Drug Store FARMVILLE, VA.

Enter Parker Pen Contest

Five $1,000 college scholarships in any university or college or five $1,000 cash awards are being offered by the Parker Pen Co. for completing this statement in fifty additional words or less. "The Parker Vacumatic merits its leadership because . . .

Entries will be judged on the basis of sincerity, fitness, originality and vividness. Literary style and spelling will not count.

One scholarship will be awarded weekly for five weeks, also twenty cash awards weekly of $25 each to others who do not win scholarships.

The five contest dates are April 8, 15, 22, 29, and May 6.

Official entry blanks and rules, twelve Parker Pointers on "How to Win" may be secured free of charge from any Parker Pen retailer.

Is This Display Of Southern Hospitality?

"Southern hospitality? Old Virginian cordiality? Give me the North every time—I think I shall try Wellesley next. These S. T. C. girls have absolutely no idea how to entertain a guest. Confidentially, I think they're uncivilized barbarians—such a scrambling to stand on chairs and such screaming! I wonder if they behave so wildly unladylike every time a timid, refined creature visits in their awful, frightening dining hall; and all I asked for was a wee bit of cheese sandwich! Wait till I tell my uncle Timothy up on second floor main how they chased me, and how one girl actually dared to pick me up and run out of that place and throw me into the street! O-o-oh, the indignity of it all!"

And the tiny, dainty creature smoothed off her lovely, but slightly rumpled fur coat, rubbed her poor little ear ruefully, and (her fairy-temper getting the best of her) thumbed her saucy nose at Joan of Arc Then, with a toss of her head and a twitch of her tail, Miss Mousie scuttled off to her home in Mr. Bell's desk drawer.

Soph Commission

Continued from Page 1

as ex officio members.

The Sophomore Commission is a new organization in Farmville. Its purpose is the fostering of cooperation in the on-coming freshman class. Its members will hold orientation classes in addition to those conducted by the student council and in other ways to aid the freshman.

Many Attend V. P. I. Dances

Farmville was represented at V. P. I. the past week-end by those who attended the Easter dances. Mary Prince Arnold, Hazel Holmes, Jacqueline Beal, Mary Deane, Anne Billups, Mildred Clayton, Mary Klare Beck, Frances Carroll, Anne Benton, Madge Horne, Johnny Lybrook, Betty Lucy, Margaret Manson, Marjorie Nimmo, Frances Pope, Virginia Rudd, Catherine Radspinner, Lucy Staples, Anne Shirley, Bill Stone, Marie Thompson, Marie Utt, Peggy Williams, Fannie Lee West and Ruth Winstead are those who went.

Miss Pauline Camper, Caroline Ford, Doris Chesnut, and Evelyn Burford attended the concert of the National Symphony Orchestra at Sweet Briar College Sunday.

Fredna Armfield spent the week-end in Roanoke.

Crews Borden was in Chatham as Allene Overbey's guest.

Alice Marie Coberly and Rosalie Coberly spent the week-end in Petersburg.

Shirley Callahan attended the dance at Charlottesville.

Jeanne E. Hall visited in Chapel Hill, while Caralie Nelson visited in Lawrenceville.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.
Wed. & Thurs., April 5-6
PENNY SINGLETON
Arthur Lake--Larry Simms
"Blondie Meets the Boss"
"Day at Zoo" & Pictorial
Thurs.-Fri., April 7-8
RICHARD GREENE
BASIL RATHBONE
"Hound of Baskervilles"
"Champagne Music" News
Next Mon.-Tues., Apr. 10-11
LAST CHANCE TO SEE
SNOW WHITE 7 DWARFS
Withdrawn April 29th
Our Gang Comedy News
Next Wed.-Thurs., Apr. 12-13
CHARLES LAUGHTON
"THE BEACHCOMBER"
"Circus Coed" Musical

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Win One of the 5
PARKER PEN $1,000 COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS [OR $1,000 CASH]
Get FREE ENTRY BLANK and Rules at any store selling Parker Vacumatic Pens
One Scholarship Awarded Each Week for 5 Weeks
Plus 20 Weekly Cash Awards of $25 Each
105 AWARDS, TOTAL: $7,500
Nothing to Buy to Win
5 CONTESTS END SATURDAY, APRIL 8, 15, 22, 29—AND MAY 6

DRESS YOUR FEET UP FOR EASTER
Patents, Navies, Japonica and White Shoes $2.98 & $3.95
OXFORD—Brown and white, solid whites $2.95
HOSE—Full fashioned Pure Silk 69c
THE HUB DEPT. STORE
Charge Accounts Solicited

"Yes Sir.. Chesterfield Time is Pleasure Time —everywhere"

...as our band travels around the country I find that Chesterfield is the ALL-AMERICAN CHOICE for more smoking pleasure!"

It's a fact... millions from coast to coast are turning to Chesterfields for what they want in a cigarette. They find Chesterfields have a better taste and a more pleasing aroma. Chesterfields show them what real mildness means in a cigarette.

When you try them you'll know why Chesterfields give men and women everywhere more smoking pleasure—why Chesterfields SATISFY

...the RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos ...they're MILDER and TASTE BETTER

Copyright 1939 LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

The Rotunda

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 19, 1939 | NO. 24

Bounds, Moomaw Take First Awards In Forensic Meet

48 Colleges Enter

Allen and Holloway Come Out Third

Farmville took two first places at the Grand Eastern Forensic tournament held at Rock Hill, South Carolina, April 12,13. Lorana Moomaw was judged Grand Eastern winner in the radio-announcing contest and Pattie Alston Bounds was voted Grand Eastern winner in the Problem-solving contest. The debate team composed of Frances Holloway, Marie Bird Allen, and Lorana Moomaw and Pattie Bounds placed in the third division of debate.

The Grand Eastern Tournament, which is held in April each year at Winthrop College in South Carolina is the largest forensic tournament of its kind, being next in size to the national tournaments. Forty-eight colleges, representing the north, east, south and central parts of the United States sent delegates to the convention. Over two hundred and fifty contestants attended this tournament.

Contests were held in After-Dinner Speaking, Impromptu, Extemporaneous Speaking, Problem-Solving, Radio Announcing, Harangues and Debating. Farmville entered three contests in which it won two first places and one third. Frances Holloway entered one contest to select the best debater at the tournament.

Pattie Bounds (above), Lorana Moomaw, who won first honors in forensic fete.

Hardaway Heads Honor Society

Eades, Reiff, Alvis, Elected Officers

Martha Meade Hardaway was elected president of Alpha Kappa Gamma, honor organization recognizing leadership among students, at a meeting Monday night, April 17. At the same time Dorothy Eades was elected vice-president, Helen Reiff, secretary, and Frances Alvis, treasurer.

Martha Meade is vice-president of Student Council, Dot president of Y. W. C. A., Helen vice-president of Y. W., and Frances editor of the Rotunda.

Retiring Alpha Kappa Gamma officers are Charlotte Minton, president; Virginia W. Smith, vice-president; Pattie Bounds, secretary; Miriam Picklin, treasurer.

Kappa Delta Pi Names Delegates

Anne Billups, David Terry, Anna Maxey, and Jane Powell are the delegates from the Beta Epsilon chapter to the regional conference of Kappa Delta Pi at Wilson Teachers College in Washington, D. C., on April 22.

The principal topics for discussion are "Developing Personality Through Service in Kappa Delta Pi," "Stimulating Chapter Activities," and "Pledge Periods for Training and Selection".

The program for the delegates will include business sessions, a luncheon, and sight-seeing trips.

New Staff Heads Are Announced

Helen Jeffries Is News Editor

Frances Alvis, Rotunda editor, has announced the new writing staff, editors and assistants for the coming school year. Helen Jeffries will head the news staff, Elizabeth West and Margaret Wright assisting her. Other associate editors and assistants are Bernice Copley and Dorothy Collins, features; Patricia Gibson and Alice Leigh Barham, sports; Shirley Stevens and E. Byrd Hutcheson, socials.

Other staff members are Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Crock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Anna Johnson, Theodosia McKenzie, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickral, Helen Reiff, Dell nelle Shelor, Edna Strong, Dell Warren and Lucy Turnbull.

Rosebro Heads Commission

Frances Rosebro was elected president of the Sophomore Commission to succeed Allene Overbey at their meeting on April 13. Jane Engleby and Sara Cline were made secretary and treasurer respectively. Miss Willodine Gisler will again act as faculty advisor.

Frances filled the positon of treasurer on the Freshman Commission, and Jane that of secretary. Sara edited the column "Commission Comments".

Thirteen Schools In Dramatic Club Play Tournament

Contest Similar To One Given At University

Thirteen high schools have entered the Southside Virginia Dramatic Tournament sponsored by the Dramatic Club on April 20, 21 and 22 at 7:30 in the auditorium. This is the fifth consecutive year the Dramatic Club has held this contest, but is the first time that the tournament has lasted for three nights.

The high schools are grouped for competition according to their enrollment and classification.

A cup will be presented to the winning school each night. Last year Crewe and Amelia were awarded the cups which remain in the possession of the winning school for the year and if won three times in succession become the property of the school. Amelia is the only school to have won twice in succession.

The four schools and the plays that will be given Thursday night are, Curdsville, "Never Trust a Man"; Appomattox, "The Valiant"; Prospect, "Buddy Buys an Orchid"; and LaCrosse, "Dear Lady, Be Brave". Friday night the plays are: New London, "To Tell the Truth"; Clarksville, "Who Says Can't"; Orange, "Weatherman's Secret"; and Amelia, "Strange Road". Saturday night, April 22, the larger high schools who will compete are Blackstone, "Confessional"; Vinton, "Sparkin"; Crewe, "Twelve Pound Look"; Culpeper; and Emporia, "Write Me a Love Scene."

The judges are Mrs. Nina Sanders Taylor, teacher of speech in the public schools of Richmond, Miss Elizabeth Eggleston of Hampden-Sydney, Mrs. Mildred Davis, teacher in the Farmville High School, Mr. Herman Bell, dramatic coach at Hampden-Sydney, and Mr. Edgar A. Potts of Farmville. The basis for judging are interpretation which includes central theme and mood of play as interpreted by the cast as a whole; choice of play as to literary value and suitability to the cast; and individual acting based on the character portrayal, voice and diction, and costuming, make-up, and staging.

Miss Leola Wheeler, advisor of the Dramatic Club, Frances Hutcheson, president, and Frances Alvis, vice-president, have been working on the plans for the contest for several months and have arranged for the contestants to practice the plays here the afternoon before the performance. The contestants will have dinner in Jarman Hall and will be entertained by the college girls during their stay.

The committees in charge of

Continued on Page 4

Pi Gamma Mu Meets at W. & M.

Foreign Policy Is Convention Theme

Ruth Read, Florence Bress, Nellie Putney, Pattie Alston Bounds, and Virginia Yager with Dr. Francis Simkins attended the International Relations conference at William and Mary College, April 6-8.

This convention was the sixteenth annual conference of the Southeastern International Relation Club and representatives from seventy colleges of Southeastern District of the United States attended. The general theme was, "A Foreign Policy for the United States", and discussions on "The Far East", "Pan-Americanism", "Economic Adjustments for Peace" comprised the greatest part of the convention.

Beechnut Is Tops Among Chewers, Gum Poll Proves

In a recent survey made by Dibbs Tyree, Beech-Nut girl on our campus, it was learned that a large majority of S. T. C. girls chew gum regularly. She interviewed only 618 members of the student body and faculty, but four hundred and seventy-two of these said "yes" while one hundred and forty-six answered negatively.

The girls were also asked what kind of gum was their favorite. "It's very interesting," Dibbs said, "to compare the answers given this year with those of last year. I don't think there's the slightest doubt as to the favorite kind on campus, because Beech-nut was out in front both years."

It seems that most girls like that peppermint flavor of the Beech-Nut gum in the yellow wrapper, for 239 declared it to be their choice. Peppermint Beechies are favored by seventy-three. Beechies in spearmint and pepsin flavors were also quite popular, being the preference of sixty-six girls.

Others stated their preferences thus: Beech-Nut Oralgum, 116; Dentyne, 159; Teaberry, 1; Doublemint, 4; Adams Pepsin, 1; Juicy Fruit, 10; Wrigley's Spearmint, 29; and Beech-Nut Spearmint, 20.

Life Membership In ACE Awarded To Miss Mix

Influential In Phases Of College Work

Miss Grace Mix was made a life member of the Association of Childhood Education by the student and faculty members at the convention held April 10-15 at the Atlanta Biltmore Hotel in Atlanta, Ga. This is a privilege extended only to those who have done distinguished work in the field of childhood Education.

Miss Mix is the Supervisor of Kindergarten at the College Training School. She received her Bachelor's and Master's degrees at the Teacher's College of Columbia University and in summer courses at the University of Chicago. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honor fraternity for leadership and was advisor to the Pan Hellenic Council until her recent resignation. She has been influential in building up the elementary work of the college.

While attending the convention in Florida, Miss Mix was the guest of honor at a dinner of the "Southern Pioneer in Childhood Education".

Elizabeth Glasgow Represents S. T. C.

Will Attend State Music Meet

Elizabeth Glasgow will leave April 22 for Roanoke where she will attend the annual State Convention of the Virginia Music Teachers State Association. The convention will be held at Hotel Roanoke from April 24-26.

Elizabeth will represent the college orchestra which has been a member of the State Federation for nine years and is the only Federated Club in the college.

While attending the convention of the Virginia Federated music clubs, Elizabeth will hear such visiting artists as Dr. Edwin Hughes, natonal president of the Music Teachers Associations and Eudice Shapiro, winner of National Young Artist Contest in violin for 1937.

Sarah Button, Jane Jackson Win First Honors

Sarah Button (above), Jane Jackson (below), who will make commencement addresses.

Roberts, Eason Attend Meet

Reporting System Upholds Standards

Student Government as a basis for democracy was the theme of the Southern Intercollegiate Student Government Association attended by Kitty Roberts and Marie Eason, former and present student government presidents, April 1, 2, and 3, at Salem College, Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

"A reporting system is the most effective way to uphold the standards of a school," Kitty announced. "You're being pretty loyal to one person when you fail to report them. That isn't tattling, and is a selfish point of view. You owe your loyalty to eight hundred."

On this particular, Marie said that your first responsibility was to live up to the honor code of your school. In this way you would be helping three—the person, the school, and yourself.

"Farmville proved to be very democratic," stated Marie. "Some colleges have faculty supervisors for their student government systems, while ours is run on a student basis."

Kitty contended that though faculty supervision would bring the faculty closer to the students

Continued on Page 5

Marie Dix Is Chapel Chairman

Marie Dix a junior from Urbanna, Virginia will lead the chapel committee next year. Marie has served on the committee during the past year and assisted Mildred Harry as chairman.

She is a member of A. C. E. and Theta Sigma Upsilon, social sorority, and was a member of the varsity basketball squad her freshman year.

Exercises June 6

Rice and Staples Take Second Places

Sarah Button of Farmville has been chosen by the faculty as first honor graduate of this year's degree class, and Mary Rice from Portsmouth as second honor graduate.

Jane Jackson from Danville is first honor graduate of the diploma class and Lucy Staples from Lynchburg has second honor.

Sarah and Jane will deliver the valedictory and salutatory addresses respectively at the graduation exercises on Tuesday, June 6.

These girls were selected on the basis of scholarship and citizenship. Sarah was president of the Y. W. C. A. and Alpha Phi Sigma, and is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, Kappa Delta Pi, and the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

Mary transferred from the Norfolk Division of William and Mary last year, and she belongs to Pi Gamma Mu, Pi Kappa Delta, Choral Club and the church cooperation committee of the Y. W. C. A.

Jane is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma and Orchesis, and Lucy holds membership in Alpha Phi Sigma and Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority.

Committee Elects Reiff and Welchel

Group Links Girls and Faculty

Helen Reiff and Martha Whelchel were elected chairman and secretary, respectively, of Students Standards. This past year Helen was secretary and Martha Whelchel was Sophomore representative.

Members are Jane Hardy, and Helen Reiff, senior members; Martha Whelchel and Ellen Gray, junior representatives; Elizabeth Anne Parker and Ellen Royall, sophomore representatives; Caroline Eason, Campus League Chairman; Marie Eason, Student Body President; Dot Eades, Y. W. C. A. President; Marjorie Nimmo, House Council President; Dot Fischer, A. A. President; Frances Alvis, Rotunda editor; Isabel Williamson, Virginian editor; and Johnnie Lybrook, Colonnade editor.

Six faculty members complete the committee. Dr. Jarman appoints two new advisers annually but these have not yet been announced.

Student Standards, which is composed of all major officers, publication heads, two representatives from each class, and six faculty members, is an organization which acts as a link between the students and the faculty. School problems are discussed.

Wilkinson Heads Granddaughters Club

Elizabeth Wilkinson was elected president of the Granddaughters' Club on April 12, and will succeed Elizabeth Burke. The other officers elected are Olivia Stephenson, vice-president; Jean Terrell, secretary; Jean Moyer, treasurer; and Katherine Gray reporter.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistants—Elizabeth West, Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Socials Editor ..... Shirley Stephens
Socials Assistant ..... Everly Byrd Hutcheson
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Anna Johnson, Theodosia McKenzie, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Janelle Shelor, Edna Strong, Dell Warren, Lucy Turnbull.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants — Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Beverly Blair, Helen Briggs, Josa Carleton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary Allen Peters, Frances Pope, Jane Rosenberger, Mary Sue Simmons, Kathryn Watkins.

Typists

Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Betsy Briggs, Anne Bruce, Elizabeth Bundy, Dorothy Lee Harrison, Frances Pritchett, Dorothy Smith, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Sue Wohlford.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 19, 1939

An Advantageous Program

This week-end the Dramatic Club will sponsor the Southside Virginia Play Tournament to be held here. This contest was begun at Farmville in the Spring of 1935, its prime purpose being to create a greater interest in dramatics among the high schools and to encourage higher tastes in drama.

Such contests had been sponsored in other states and elsewhere in Virginia, the University of Virginia having been the scene of a dramatic tournament for larger high schools for many years. However, there was no place where smaller high schools could compete.

Farmville is proud to be working with the smaller schools. In our five years as hosts to the contestants we have seen the number of schools participating increased and enjoyed new entries each year. Not only have the contests increased in number, but we feel that the selection and quality of the plays produced has undoubtedly improved.

As teachers most of us will be called upon to take part in some dramatic work, maybe as coaches and initiators, maybe as teachers. Whatever our future position, it behooves us to be prepared to help with public entertainments of this nature. These contests offer the best possible opportunity to see the types of plays that high schools, varying from small rural to town schools, can successfully put on. They train us in judging worthwhile and easy-to-produce plays.

The Dramatic Club makes no money from this event. The small admission charge is hardly sufficient to defray the expenses involved in the handling of so many plays. The Dramatic Club feels it its duty to inform students of the real advantages of being in the S. T. C. auditorium Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Books in Review

I Wanted to be an Actress

Katherine Cornell's life as told to Ruth Woodbury Sedgwick

Here is the book that will make the American myth. Katherine Cornell, take on the dynamic pulse of life and draw closer to the hearts of glamor worshiping citizens. Always has this great woman been spoken of in hushed tones by those who envy her talent, her money, her will to achieve, but still always has she been remote to them, an ideal of success and theatrical glory.

Now in her frankly told story she is revealed as a woman who has realized her ambitions—such a person as you or I, with the difference of knowing her world and striving ever for a place in it. She didn't even think of being an actress as she roller-skated in the lobby of her father's theatre in Buffalo, but in her "gawky days" she yielded to the urges of Jesse Bonstelle to grow up and play the part of "Jo" in "Little Women". Once she had known the terror and delight of appearing behind footlights she knew she belonged in the theatre. In New York she continued to strive, sensible to her own shortcomings, and watchful of them, until at one performance Guthrie McClintic, a young man scouting for Winthrop Ames, saw her and wrote on his program "Interesting, monotonous, watch!" So well did he do the latter that he married her a few years later.

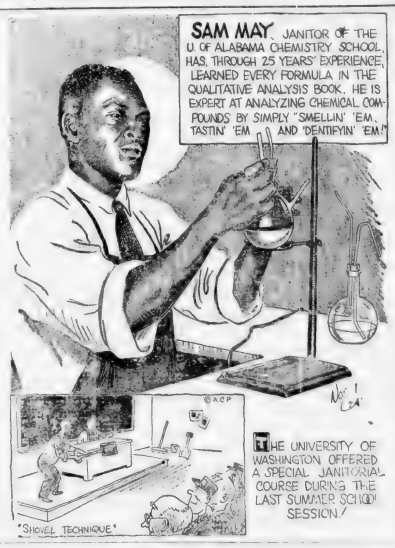
Her rise in the theatre, she asserts, is not spectacular, but American audiences became increasingly aware of her and her genius in characterization. The American theatre is close to her heart and she took it out to those who couldn't come to Broadway—through her efforts is the road show still alive, and is a competitor of Hollywood.

Two decades of thrilling theatre experience throbs in these pages which are full of significant American theatre names. She is a truly human, lovable, and magnificent figure all along her road to glory—no longer a myth but a person.

SENIOR PERSONALITIES

ANN DUGGER

"Can that petite miss be a Senior?—It's not possible! Editor of her school magazine? You don't mean it? Not one so small and quiet as she!"



But we know better. Though small of stature, Ann may be characterized by her never failing energy and her ever-ready sense of dependability. Of no less mention is her willingness to her many duties and her helpful attitude toward others.

An intelligent lass she is too. Look back o'er her scholastic record as the "brain child" of Farmville Schools in which she was trained. The end of her Sophomore year at this institution saw her, as first honor graduate of the diploma class, delivering the salutatory address at commencement exercises.

As editor of The Colonnade, Farmville's literary quarterly, Ann has proved her efficiency and capability as a leader and manager. In her hands we've seen a magazine enlarged and enriched for our enjoyment.

However, this little "busy body" always finds time for a good play.

Continued on Page 6

"Clothes Blues"

Oh, it's Spring out on the campus
With the flowers blooming 'round
And the mocking birds a-singing
And the girls streaming down town.
But I sit in my stuffy room
And read in lone repose
Oh, it's not because I want to
It's because I ain't got clothes.

There goes the latest down the street
In fashion or in fad
A pastel-colored swinging skirt
With jacket made of plaid.
Gals all hell-bent for Shannons
To meet Bills or Toms or Joes;
But I steer clear of Shannons,
All because I'm needing clothes.

It's the sun out on the golf course
Where they dress in full array
As they gaily swing those golf clubs
And drive the ball away.
Now I'm a fiend for playing golf
But it's not for me, I guess;
For how the heck can I enjoy
Golf in a last spring's dress?

So I stroll out on the tennis courts
To take my exercise.
But my heart sinks to my shoe soles
At the sight that meets my eyes.
Why even on the tennis courts
They dress up fit to kill
In strictly tailored shorts or skirts
Of gabardine or twill.

On Sunday it's the same ole tale
Of lovely Easter prints
In glorious colors—aqua, rose
Chartreuse and fuchsia tints
With matching or contrasting hat,
Gloves, pocket book, and shoes;
And as I watch them churchward go
My heart fills with the blues.

Now I don't want to hide away
Or hold myself aloof.
But there just seems one place for me
And that is, on the roof.
For on the roof there are no styles.
No fads—no fashion belle;
For Farmville girls, I'm glad to say
Sun-bathe "au naturel".

—Emil Ellis

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor,

Just a suggestion from the Juniors. We feel the conduct in Lyceum is that of which Farmville girls should be far from proud. Such things as crossing in front of the stage during scenes and finding seats while the performance is in progress are probably unconsciously done, but should be avoided as the interruptions prove very annoying to others.

Then, our dress, sport clothes and evening wraps, is this quite the proper attire for a formal performance? There are not so many times at which we are supposed to wear evening clothes, so it does seem that we could cooperate.

These are just reminders, but we do hope that we can be a little more thoughtful of our conduct and dress at lyceum programs.

Just a reminder—if you want all your books, if you want your fountain pen, if you don't want any bruises, if you don't want to be literally squashed, please take heed of Miss Taliaferro's plan that—when going to the mail boxes, use the far door as an entrance and the near door as an exit. Result—no congestion we hope!

"Some Juniors"

Echoes From an Empty Space

Well, another Easter has come and gone—all the corsages have been pasted in all the scrap books and June is almost upon us. And wasn't it a pleasant surprise to come back and find the bowling alleys going full force? It's rather hard on us though we can't dash down town in the mornings looking just anyway now because you never can tell what time of day our H.-S. C. pals will be in town to bowl. And speaking of bowling, Sugar Young really is something, but Sugar, it's against the rules to step or to sit on the other side of the foul line. Tom Cross may be the pride of the ministerial school but he certainly does roll a wicked ball—and let me tell you it's grand exercise but it really makes you stiff.

There was a general exodus to the two colleges for Virginia gentlemen and did John Dennis go to V. M. I. to hear Larry Clinton or to see May Wertz—I'm only asking.

Also hear Bill Stone and Kay Phillips were painting Virginia red—just the old University spirits. And while I was hearing things they tell me the latest powerhouse is none other than our own little Madge Horne.

Tip—ask Sis and Clara about their Bee-youtiful week-end and get Virginia Vose to tell you about those Navy men the fleet brought in.

That certainly was a blaze that Frances Ransone started in the breast of that visiting Yankee. Is it the kind that lasts, Frances, or only a flash in the pan?

Spring is here and everything is budding including a nice little romance between Sarah Carter and a guy from Tazewell named Buchanan. Wait and see. We've been threatened with physical violence if we mention anything about Bobby Scott and Beverly so that's why we aren't saying a word.

Something I never knew till now—Lib George's O. A. O. is an ex-Southern Conference wrestler. Hmmmm.

P. S. If Mr. Timberlake, the pseudo-"Rounder" doesn't stop acting ugly we'll begin to think he's no gentleman.

You shouldn't use your column to revile another member of your profession, Louis.

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

"If such threats continue it seems inevitable that much of the world must becomecome involved in common ruin". Thus ran the appeal sent by the President of the United States to dictators Hitler and Mussolini for the assurance of peace to the world for at least ten years.

Such an appeal came after a week filled with preparations in all nations for immediate action after the invasion of Italy in Albania which marked the most significant step in the Nazi-Fascist control of the Balkan nations so far.

Making in clear to the dictators that the existence of fear which reigns supreme in Europe is of definite concern not only to the United States but to the entire Western hemisphere, Roosevelt made his plea that some agrement be reached over a council table rather than as a result of war. Knowing the horrors of war the President called the dictators' attention to the fact that "all the world, victor nations, vanquished nations and neutral nations will suffer."

"I refuse to believe that the world is of necessity a prisoner of destiny.' The President reminded Mussolini and Hitler that the heads of the great nations would determine the destiny of their people in all coming events as they had in the past. It is their responsibility and they will be held accountable for the lives and the happiness of their people.

"You have repeatedly asserted that you and the German people have no desire for war," the message continued.

"If this is true, there need be no war."

Roosevelt told the dictators and all the listening ears of the world that the United States spoke "not through selfishness or fear or weakness." "If we speak now," he said, "it is with the voice of strength and with friendship for mankind."

"Friendship for mankind"—friendly relations between nations—the right to live a natural life without fear of losing it an any minute that a "Superior" individual might deem to declare legal, organized and efficient murder. That is what Europe wants—that is what America wants—that is what the world wants. What about Hitler and Mussolini?

Will they listen to the United States? Will they take the kindly offer of Roosevelt to let the United States acts as an "intermediary" in communicating offers of peace between Germany and Italy with other European nations or will they reject it?

Apparently, it shines as one of the last rays of hope for the peace of the world. But the question is in such a ray strong enough to penetrate the dark gloom that has settled over Europe? Is it right enough to bring light to those thousands of Europeans who have had enough of this fear and who, we believe, are psychologically ready and willing to fight.

Until the United States stepped in the form of the President's appeal which we believe represented the sentiment and good wishes of this entire nation the axis of war and peace turned close to Russia and waited only for her decision. Russia remained silent.

Germany continued to threaten Poland that if she signed any agreement with England the German-Poland ten year pact which was signed in 1934 would become null and void.

If Hitler and Mussolini should see fit to accept the offer of the United States and peace treaties should be signed, then what? What are treaties? What are pacts? What was Munich? What is a nation's word?

Would a ten year peace asurance bring relief to the world or would it prolong the agony, the stress, and the strain. Would it means, as the President has expressed his hope, disarmament and the building up of trade or would it mean an increase of rearmament and a building up of armies and navies that would make a war ten years from now much worse than a war today?

Annual Spring Concert is Huge Success

University Glee Club In Program

Wilson Angel, Baritone, Guest Soloist

Choral Club and Choir Are Hosts

The University of Virginia Glee Club, Wilson Angel, baritone, and the College Choir and Choral Club, appeared on the program of the annual spring concert on Tuesday evening, April 18. The proceeds this year were turned over to the local committee for Jewish Relief in Germany.

Among the numbers sung by the University Glee Club were Lvovsky's "Hospodi Pomilol", Edward Grieg's "Landsighting", and Brahm's "Lullaby". They also sang "Light Bells" and "Old Man Noah", and the M. Bartholomew arrangement and "To God on High" by Decius. T. S. George was soloist with the Glee Club. Professor Harry Rogers Pratt is the director.

The College Choir sang Molette's "Lord's Prayer" and "Let Their Celestial Concerts all Unite" from Handel's Samson as their first group. They also sang "The Prelude" from Ronald's "Cycle of Life" and "The Bells" (Prelude in C sharp minor) by Rachmaninoff Kountz.

The two numbers sung by the College Choir and Choral Club with the University Glee Club were "The Soldier's Chorus" from Gounod's "Faust" and Block's "America".

Wilson Angel sang three groups of baritone solos including "The Floral Dance" by Moss, Beethoven's "In Questa Tomba", "The Blind Plowman" by Coningsby Clark, Sanderson's "Green Pastures". Brown's "Singin' a Song," "To a Hill Top" by Cox, and Holliday's "Chumleigh Fair".

The Junior A Capella Choir directed by Frances Bryan opened the program with Bach's "Jesus", "Jewel of my Fauth" and the Wallingford Rieggers arrangement of "Beautiful Savior". The Senior A Capella Choir sang Franck's "Panis Angeliscus." Irene Leake was the soloist The Junior Quartette, under the directorship of Forrestine Whitaker, sang Dowland's "Day Love If Ever Thou Dids't Find" and "The Silver Swan" by Gibbons.

University of Virginia Glee Club

Home Ec Teachers Attend Conference

Miss Tupper Is Committee Chairman

Miss Katherine Tupper, head of the Home Economics department, has been elected chairman of the committee on the contribution of Home Economics to the elmentary school program, for the sub-regional group of vocational educations from Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee at the southern conference this month.

Miss Tupper, Miss Frances Hauck as representatives from Farmville attended the Southern Regional Conference for Vocational Educators, which was held in Little Rock, Ark., from April 1 through April 10. Those who attended the conference were executive officers, state directors, state supervisors, and teacher trainers in home economics and agriculture.

Miss Marie White, of Washington, D. C., who is the National director, presided over the convention. The discussion, from which the program of work evolved, was directed by Dr. F. C. Jenkins, director of the southern study; and by Dr. Druzilla Kent of the University of Alabama, also on the southern study group.

Misses London Go to Capitol For D. A. R. Meet

Mrs. Rowbotham Is Vice-President

Misses Lila and Wilhelmina London attended the 48th Continental Congress of the D. A. R. held in the nation's capitol this week. The former attended in the capacity of state regent with the latter as delegate from the Judith Randolph chapter.

Miss Lila London in speaking of their trip said, "Although we could stay only two days of the weekly session, our daily schedules were full. In addition to the regular business meetings, our program on Tuesday was marked by the Virginia luncheon at the New Willard Hotel, and that evening by the reception at the Mayflower. Returning early," she continued, "we regretably missed Mrs. Roosevelt's reception scheduled for Friday, but we were continually pleasantly and busily occupied during our stay."

Also attending the congress from Farmville was Mrs. Rowbotham, now the vice-president general from this section, and formerly state regent. Mrs. Rowbotham is prominently connected with the school activties as head of the new N. Y. A. house on Virginia Street.

Humor

A Perdue University debate team traveled 700 miles to Lafayette, Ind., to meet the College of Charleston team. However, there was no debate. Both teams had prepared to uphold the negative side of the question.

Student Police at the University of Virginia publish in their paper, College Topics, a list of lost articles they find on the campus. If such articles are not claimed they are sold at auction.

A Minnesota University student in trying to stump a speaker at a recent campus meeting, fired the following question:

"How does a penguin escape from a polar bear?"

"Well," was the answer, "polar bears live in the Arctic and penguins in the Antarctic, and the polar bears aren't allowed to cross the line." A certain student's face was awfully, awfully red.

Twenty-two Bloomington Dale, Michigan high school seniors were recently placed on probation for mailing postcards to their teachers when they visited Southern Michigan prison. The cards read, "Having wonderful time—wish you were here."

Fordham University has a World's Fair personnel course to train workers for the New York exposition.

Performance of "Heaven Bound" Distinguishes Convention Activities

By Jack Cock and Dot Rollins

"The convention? Oh, but we had a marvelous time." Look twice at the golls to whom Ben Blue writes poetry. Look three times at the golls who get passes to the Roxy from Phil Regan. Ah me! That's the life!"

Margaret Carr and Dot Eades were relaxing once more at school, but the vivid memories of the A. C. E. convention at the Atlanta Biltmore crowded all else from their minds.

"Yes and we had an airplane ride all the way to New York—but we didn't use it all. We just went to Roanoke—for reasons," sighed Dot happily.

Here we were interrupted by Margaret, "Better tell 'em the serious side, Dot."

"Oh, yes. Well the theme of the convention was this—Living, Learning, School and Community. There were eighteen hundred people present representing forty different states and seven different countries. One of the big events was the annual dinner and the theme of that was 'The South in Song and Story'.

"Some of the activities included visits to commercial exhibits of various sorts, several excursions, visits to the schools and attending a Radio Demonstration class. We also visited Emory University

Continued on Page 6

Let's All Sing Like Birdies Sing

In a humorous, but nevertheless quite definite and obvious fashion, students present at Chapel last Friday were in a fair position to "see them as ithers see them" to roughly paraphrase Burns—meaning of course, the bit of recording of a hymn and the Alma Mater.

Clap! Bang!! Clap-clap! resounded throughout the auditorium as it issued forth from the recording machine, when the students calmly, yet curious for the outcome, relaxed back in their seats listening to the finis of the hymn. It was extremely obvious that such disruptions made an impression upon a great number of those present, for like grown-ups amused over their childhood antics and the absurdity of them, they laughed rather self-consciously over that which they were not quite so totally aware of before.

But—that's only half of it. To hear a recording of those present singing the Alma Mater was like a prolonged echo. A patriotic and loyal student body—yes! Standing immediately upon the first note to listen with a rather queer proud twinkle in their eyes to their own version of the Alma Mater was strangely impressive. Only a few brief moments before had they actually sung the very same meaningful words while the capped and gowned seniors marched briskly in to their places.

Also a great treat it seemingly was to listen with admiration to recordings of songs by the College Choir and solos of Steed and Frankie. It might well have been a ventriloquist act, so natural did it all sound.

Yes, the temporarily installed recording system truly offered students here a true picture of their somewhat careless behavior in chapel, but more gratifyingly, what they really can do when they're at their best.

Anna Maxey Is Home Ec Leader

Anna Maxey, a junior from Powhatan, has been elected president of the Home Economics club for the coming year. Anna was vice-president of the club last year, and has outstanding work in it. She is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma and Kappa Delta Pi, and is assistant head of the costume group in the Dramatic club among other activities.

Other officers elected were: vice-president, Mildred Harry; secretary, Nancy Fulton; treasurer, Rosemary Howell.

Eighty Juniors Occupy Old Cunningham Hall

Seniors Change To New Dorm

Eighty juniors now occupy the old Senior Building since many have filled vacancies left by the seniors who have moved to the new building.

The juniors in old Cunningham Hall are: Louise Allen, Vivian Anderson, Lois Barbee, Anne Billups, Lucy Blackwell, Ellen Bowen, Nancy Bryant, Agnes Buchanan, Hazelwood Burbank, Mary Burford, Elizabeth Cline, Josie Lee Cogsdale, Marguerite Costello, Mary Louise Cunningham, Dorothy Davis, Marie Dix, Sudie Dunton, Marie Eason, Katherine Edwards, Beulah Ettenger, Jeanrette Ferguson.

Irene Davis, Ollie Graham Gilchrist, Blair Goode, Katherine Gray, Elizabeth Greig, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marion Harden, Elizabeth Hardy, Mildred Harry, Geraldine Hatcher, Dorothy Hawks, Ruby Henderson, Mary Holland, Martha Holloway, Katherine Horsley, Rosemary Howell, Eleanor Hutcheson.

Vera Jacobs, Chlotilde Jarman, Helen Jeffries, Agnes Jennings, Elizabeth Kent, Elizabeth Le-Grand, Johnny Lybrook, Martha McKinstiy, Frances Martin, Anna Maxey, Essie Milliner, Mary Walker Mitchell, Lorana Moomaw, Nancy Moss, Alice Moyer, Marjorie Nimmo, Virginia Sue Owen, Katherine Peery, Virginia Lee Pettis, Margaret Pierce.

Virginia Polley, Frances Pope, Jane Powell, Lou Powell, Frances Pulley, Helen Reiff, Philippa Schlobohm, Marion Shelton, Mary Sue Simmons.

Keith Smith, Elizabeth Smith, Olivia Stephenson, Mary Catherine Sturgis, Lorraine Swingle, Virginia Tuck, Agnes Wagstaff, Kathryn Watkins, Jean Watts, Betty Webb, Isabel Williamson and Eliza Wise.

Winter Term Honor Roll Is Listed

Honor Roll for the winter quarter has been announced. To be eligible for the Honor Roll one must make a B average on three-fourths of her work.

The following girls have met these requirements. (Those on the Dean's list have been omitted as they have been previously published).

Rachel Abernathy, Ruby Adams, Doris Adkins, Dorothy Adkins, Marie Allen, Frances Alvis, Carolyn Andrews, Louise Anthony, Anne Ayers, Lois Bailey, Annie Ruth Baird, Caroline Barnes, Frances Barnes, Antionette Barnett, Lucy Baskerville, Jacqueline Beale, Evelyn Christine Beale.

Sara Melba Beale, Beverly Blair, Catherine Bondurant, Mildred Ann Bowen, Marie Brickert, Evelyn Burford, Mary Cecil Bynum, Margaret Campbell, R. Yates Carr, Anita Carrington, J. Frances Carroll, Sarah Elizabeth Chambers, Corilda Lee Chaplin, Yvonne Cheape, Helene Cline, Sara Cline.

Nahrea Coleman, Clara Cook, Bernice Copley, Marguerite Costello, Thelma Courtney, Elizabeth Cralle, Annie Crowder, Emma Louise Growgey, Rachel DeBerry, Bessie Dillon, Nancy Dinwiddie, Sue Dunlap, Caroline Eason, Marjorie Ellett, Emil Ellis, Jane Engleby, Louise Ewell.

Texie Felts, Patsy Fletcher, Carolyn F. Ford, Carolyn L. Ford, Jane Fowler, Bliss Fowkles, Nancy Fulton, Mildred Gentry, Anna George, Lillian German, Carrie Gibbouey, Patricia Gibson, Ollie Graham Koonce, Ellen Gray, Katherine Gray, Helen Greene, Katherine Habel, Martha Louise Hall, Nell Hall.

Marie Hamlin, Winifred Harrell, Carolyn Harvey, Maxine Hawks, Mildred Hedgespeth, Mary Louise Holland, Virginia Howell, Peggy Hughes, Arlene Hunt, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Emma May Hutchinson, Jane Jackson, Helen Jeffries, Elizabeth Jennings, Anna Joenson, Dorothy Johnson, Mary Jane Jolliffe.

E. Rebecca Jones, Sarah Joyner, Pauline Keller, Elva Mae Kibler, Rachel Kibler, Eugenia Kilman, Elizabeth Va. Lewis, Helen Long, Betty A. Lucy, Shirley McCalley, Barbara McCaskill, Mary McCoy, Mary Mahone, Susan Jane Marshall, Ernestine Meacham, Elizabeth Moss.

Jean Moyer, Caralle Nelson, Marjorie Nimmo, Emma P. Noblin, Alice Oyesbey, Emily Owen, Norma Pamplin, Evelyn Pankey, Elizabeth Ann Parker, M. Virginia Parker, Ruby Mae Parsons, Esther Partridge, Mildred Perdue, Agnes Pickral, Lucile Pierce, Margaret Pierce, Billie Pittman, Mary Wanda Porterfield, Eugenia Ramsey, Ruth Read, Pauline Reid.

Dorothy Reynolds, Dorothy Robbins, Martha Roberts, Elizabeth Robertson, Dorothy Rollins, Jane Rosenberger, Florence Rowett, Louisa Sanford, Nancy Saville, Elizabeth Scales, Philippa Schlobohm, Janelle Shelor, Porter Shepherd, Sarah Sibold, Dorothy Smith, Myra Smith.

Marguerite Snell, Dorothy Sprinkle, Olivia Stephenson, Edna Strong, Florence Thierry, Marie Louise Thompson, Lucy Turnbull, Mrs. Murkland Turner, Virginia Read Turner, Edith Vassar, Elizabeth von Gemmingen, Katheryn E. Watkins, Louise Wells.

Helen Wentz, May Wertz, Elizabeth West, Forrestine Whitaker, Patricia Whitlock, Daphne Wilkerson, Lula Windham, Sue Wohlford, Dorothy Lee Wood, Katherine Wood, Sidney Yonce, Jean McCorkle.

Walmsley Article In Times Dispatch

Dr James Elliott Walmsley professor of history at Farmville, wrote an article dealing with the apportioning of the state assembly which appeared in the Richmond Times Dispatch on Sunday, April 16.

Sorority Officers For Next Year Announced

Two Sororities Still Await Elections

The following sororities on campus have elected officers to serve for the next year.

Sigma Sigma Sigma: President, Jane Powell; Vice-president, Nancy Pierpont; Secretary, Anne Cocke; Treasurer, Jane Hardy; Pan Hellenic Representative, Virginia Polly; Alternate, Nan Duer.

Alpha Sigma Alpha: President, Virginia Lee Pettis; Vice-president, Anne Billups; Secretary Lucy Staples; Treasurer, Roberta Latture; Pan Hellenic Representative, Shirley Ann Stephens; Alternate, Esther Atkinson.

Pi Kappa Sigma: President, Elizabeth Kent; Vice-president, and Alternate to Pan Hellenic, Margaret Carr; Secretary, Philipa Schlobohm; Treasurer, Louise E Painter; Pan Hellenic Representative, Dot Eades.

Alpha Sigma Tau: President, Marguerite Costello; Vice-president, Helen Hoyer; Secretary, Frances Pope; Treasurer, Jean Moyer; Pan Hellenic Representative, Faye Brandon; Alternate, Hannah Lindamood.

Gamma Theta: Head, Isabel Williamson; Vice Head and Alternate to Pan Hel, Martha Whelchel; Secretary, Elnora Faison; Pan Hellenic Representative, Eliza Wise.

Theta Sigma Upsilon: Head, Mildred Harry; Vice Head and alternate to Pan Hel, Mary Walker Mitchell; Secretary, Myra Smith; Treasurer, Virginia Howell; Pan Hellenic Representative, Rosa Courter.

Mu Omega and Phi Zeta Sigma have not yet elected officers for next year.

Educational Needs Is Address of Topic

Mr. Hill Fleet from Northern Neck, Virginia, spoke in Chapel, Thursday morning, April 13, on the educational system of Virginia and its short comings.

Mr. Fleet stated several points to illustrate Virginia's neglect in her public school system, and he used statistics and figures to illustrate Virginia's ability to pay. In this she ranks first, but is only forty-second in educational standing.

He urged the students as future teachers to use their influence to raise the educational standard of Virginia.

Sigma Pi Rho Sends Delegates

Beulah Ettenger, Marion Harden, and Carmen Clark will attend the national convention of Sigma Pi Rho at Fairmont Teachers College at Fairmont, W. Va., April 21 and 22. Carmen is the national president of Sigma Pi Rho.

The responsibility of the conference will be to decide upon the place of "The Tributum", the national publication, in the national budget.

University Is Host for Youth Conference

National Status of South Will Be Topic Of Discourse

The First Youth Conference in the history of Virginia will be held at the University of Virginia on April 21-22. The conference, which will hold round-table discussions on five major Virginia problems, will be attended by representatives from all the youth organizations in the state.

Invitation Given

In an invitation to the young people of Virginia to attend the April meeting, the state sponsoring committee declared:

"The status of the South in the national life of the United States has become generally recognized as a most pressing domestic problem for the American people. Believing that the eventual solution of the problems of the Southern States can come only as a result of thorough discussion and intelligent action by the people of the South, and more particularly believing that the social and economic needs of Virginians can be attained only by discussions and actions by Virginians, we are calling the First Conference of all the Youth in Virginia, to be held in Charlottesville, April 21-22.

"The problems which the Virginia Youth Conference will discuss find their origin in the simple wants of young Virginians. They want to be healthy. They want a decent education. They want a chance to earn a living. They want to be good citizens. We want the Virginia Youth Conference to be the forum where every young Virginian may discuss his needs and work toward their attainment. We want the Virginia Youth Conference to be the medium for coordinating the efforts of all the youth organizations in the State to make a better Virginia. We want, finally, the Virginia Youth Conference to be a link with other Southern organizations to restore the South to its proper place in the nation."

Round Table Discussions

The five round table discussions to be held at the conference cover education, citizenship, health, farm youth problems, and industrial youth problems. A program of action will be presented in each round table and after thorough discussion by the delegates, resolutions will be adopted and will then be presented to the entire conference for approval.

Delegates will be invited from every college in the state, as well as from all the state-wide religious organizations, the Young Democratic Clubs, the Future Farmers of Virginia, the Student Cooperative Association, the Southern Negro Youth Conference, and others. It is expected that at least 400 delegates will attend the sessions.

Speakers Invited

Among the speakers being invited to address the conferences are Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Dr. Frank P. Graham and Governor James H. Price. The sessions will open on Friday afternoon, April 21, with welcoming addresses by University speakers and officers of the state sponsoring committee. The evening session will hear addresses by several of the prominent speakers, and will be followed by a reception. On Saturday morning, an address will be given by a Southern leader, on "A Program for Young Southerners", and that will be followed by round table discussions. The round tables will continue into the early part of the afternoon after which all the delegates will meet jointly to adopt resolutions and to establish a permanent organization.

The idea of calling the Virginia Youth Conference originated at the University last November at a meeting of student leaders from various colleges in the state.

Second Honor Graduates

Mary Rice and Lucy Staples

Reflect, If You Will
On Aromas of Science Building

Um—what a delightful aroma! There's one thing about those Home Ec. girls—they can really cook. Ah, but they're cruel to me—cruel. Here I haven't had a bite to eat today, and I have to smell that good food. Wish I didn't have to go to chemistry. I won't be able to stand it with that delectable odor downstairs. I'll take one last sniff and then forget it. Ugh—what is that smell? Did I say that that was a delightful aroma? Who has gotten in the lab now? I never did like chemistry much, anyway. After that day that I played with hydrogen sulphide—take it away! Oh, take me away! That smell can't fool me—It is hydrogen sulphide.

What's that humming noise? It goes a little while and then stops. It sounds a little like the wind. But I know it isn't because today's a stifling day. Oh yes—the Home Ec. girls are sewing. Gosh I'd like to be down there. They've gotten new electric machines. They say those girls make the snazziest looking clothes. Wish I could sew. Spring is here and I haven't a rag to put on my back. New clothes are absolutely necessary, too—in the spring—'cause they say around here—"Come Spring"—and that means that "in the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns". And you know good looking clothes have a lot to do with it.

What's that bell for? Where's everybody going? Oh, I catch—the period is over. Time certainly does fly. Come on kid, let's get out of here. If we can't be domestic we can at least go down to Shannon's and split a sandwich and a milk shake. And these Farmville shops aren't half bad for some of the latest as seen by mam'selle.

The Man With His
Little Camera—Mr. Mac

With a click, click here and a click, click there—with here a click, there a click, everywhere a click, click—and "Mr. Mac" goes into action with his little bow and arrow via camera and tripod.

Like St. Nick, he says never a word but goes straight to his work. Three girls are chatting on campus—snap!—Mr. Mac sneaks off unobtrusively through the shrubbery. Greetings are exchanged in front of the Rotunda—they are recorded on a "snap page" in the Virginian. Mr. Mac has been there and done his work.

The funny thing about it is that he needs absolutely no preparation whatsoever. He just plops the camera down, takes the picture, and walks off—then he dashes off to his "little dark room" where the pictures come to life. It is really quite amazing how Mr. Mac can so rapidly run the negatives through the various solutions and make them come out pretty pictures (well, at least as pretty as we can pose for them).

When the pictures have been printed, the girls of the annual staff cut the prints, lay out the cut, and there we have—just one of the many snap pages in the 1939 Virginian.

Walmsley Reports On Teacher Training

Dr. James Elliott Walmsley, head of the history department at Farmville, attended the meeting of the Teacher-Training Department of the State Teachers Association which was held in Lynchburg April 14 and 15.

Dr. Walmsley, as chairman of a committee on guidance of teachers while in college, made the report of this committee which is composed of the deans of the various colleges in Virginia.

The meetings were held at Randolph-Macon College on Friday and at Lynchburg College on Saturday.

There's a Song
For Every Mood

The Parachute Song: "It don't mean a thing if you don't pull that string."

Song of a dim wit: "Lights Out."

Song of a Senior: "Everyday's a Holiday."

Song of the Freshman: "They're Always Picking on Me."

Song of the English major: "May I?" (instead of "Can I?").

Reiff, Gilchrist Are on Y. W. Trip

Conference In Nashville

Helen Reiff and Ollie Graham Gilchrist are representing Farmville at the Southern Regional Conference of the Y. W. C. A. at Nashville on April 17-20.

The purpose of the convention is to study the Y. W. C. A., its method of work, the South with its challenge and its promise, and ways in which Y. W. C. A. members can work to help solve the problems of their own section of the country.

One of the meetings which promises to be of special interest is a concert to be given by the Choir of Fisk University, a colored institution.

Miss Camper Is VEA Delegate

Miss Pauline Camper, head of rural education at Farmville, left [illegible] to attend the district meeting of the Virginia Education Association which was held at Lynchburg. Miss Camper addressed the association on the needs of unusual children.

Through the week of April 17 Miss Camper will tour Southwest Virginia where she will visit eighteen high schools and the Farmville alumnae of that section.

On April 21 she will attend the meeting of the Virginia-Carolina Hospital Association which is to be held at Hotel Roanoke in Roanoke and will speak on dietary problems in a hospital from the view point of a patient.

Miss Camper will return to Farmville April 23.

Play Contest

Continued from Page 1

the plays are: Entertaining and Ushering, Esther Atkinson, Shirley Stephens, and Lillian Wahab; staging, Hazelwood Burbank and Mary Malone; Lighting, Jean Taylor and Helen Jeffries; make-up, Mabel Burton, Myra Smith, and Blair Coode; publicity, Elizabeth George Wilson and Mary Walker Mitchell; properties, Virginia Simmons and Sudie Dunston; music, Jerry Hatcher and Peggy Bellus. Elizabeth Lewis, Florence Lee and Chlotilde Jarman are making posters.

5
Parker Pen
$1,000
Scholarship
Contests

Nothing to buy to win one of the five $1,000 College Scholarships —or $1,000 in Cash.

105 Awards in All
TOTAL: $7,500

MARTIN the Jeweler

FARMVILLE, VA.

SMART WOMEN SELECT

OUR SHOPS FOR ALL THESE BEAUTY NEEDS

That's why no detail has been overlooked to insure your comfort and convenience. Every booth is private. Notice how clear and sanitary our shop is. Try one of our expert operators and you'll say it's the best work you've ever had and it doesn't cost anymore.

Beauty Specials for the Rest of this week and all of next

A Beautiful Croquignole Permanent Wave for only $2.50

Our Regular $10.00 Reconditioning Oil Permanent Wave for only $6.95

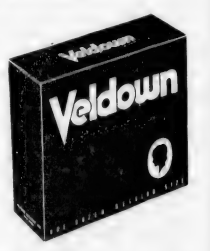
—Call us for an appointment. You'll like our work—

BALDWIN'S BEAUTY SHOP

PHONE 159 FARMVILLE'S BEST BEAUTY SHOP

The NEW Packages VELDOWN

WORLD'S FINEST SANITARY NAPKIN



12 TO BOX

Regular or Junior Size

19c 2 for 37

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMY PKG.

61c 2 for $1.30

You can wear VELDOWN in perfect peace of mind with no fear of emergency because VELDOWN has a moisture-proof backing. Scientific shaping insures invisibility, as easily disposable as tissues.

DAVIDSON'S DEPT. STORE

FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

Hunger Drives Girls Around In Merry Scramble For Food

"I'm starving to death, I tell you, I'm actually panicky! My stomach thinks my throat's cut, as it is. Sustenance! I must have sustenance!"

Your room is running a few more than "capacity" and the cry is going around again—the hunger wail. The exertion of classes and the fact that you slept through breakfast, is beginning to get you down. You droop, you whine, you munch your lipstick. As a last resort, you sniff along the hall, hopefully, sure to track a cracker to the depths of any subtly-hidden box. Partially satisfied at last by a Ritz or two and some of Grandma Pettibone's blue ribbon pickles, you firmly resolve to let this happen never again—never.

"Let's cook," sez you. "Let's buy some stuff and chef it with our own wee hands—and let's not wait for Congress to convene before we decide. I move we do it now!"

Naturally, with a carniverous crowd on your side, you decide to do it "tonight", and make out a lengthy grocely list, pronto, and begin collecting pennies and breaking pig banks.

At the A & P you gather in an impressive knot before the counter. The clerk, determined to maintain the peace and order, knits his brows and returns your serious gaze—not at all disconcerted. You discover soon, that you should think him only a quoter of price tags on commodities such as cheese, crackers, hard apples, popcorn, pound cake, spaghetti, etc., and a general informer about "about how many crackers are in the 16 cent box? Do you like pound cake better'n lemon? Can we sample the cookies?"

Before his patience quite wanes, you buy a few things, and, after splitting a few hairs about "why don't you have a meat counter?" you depart almost peacefully, leaving a limp corps of management in the "Tea Co.'s" establishment.

Finally you gather unto yourselves the remaining packages and struggle noisily schoolward.

That night, about two hours after supper, you're at the exact point of starvation that warrants the hasty preparation of your repast. Everyone is clumsily helpful, the place is perfumed pleasantly with mingled odors of sausage and popcorn, and food is disappearing remarkably well.

At last, sleepily comfortable, you're munching a last tidbit that would "just waste" otherwise; someone starts singing. You hum and harmonize till the bell brings you back to earth. "Oh, English! Oh, speech!" Everyone hastily and heavily departs. My figure," groans someone. "'Rotunda' every day, that's my motto"—says another. "I couldn't eat another mouthful if my life depend—"

"Oh, bosh", cuts in the cynic (weight 150) "wait till tomorrow at chapel. You'll want a cookie more than anyone else—you'll see!"

With the appetites checked for the night, this part of S. T. C.'s vital population sneaks down the hall to bed.

Whoever heard of Hunger anyway?

Aquatic Club Will Sponsor Marathon Swim

Three Awards Plus Points Offered

Events To Be April 24-May 29

The H2O Club will sponsor a Marathon swim which will begin on Monday of next week and continue through May 29. This type of swim offers a splendid opportunity to students to practice strokes and gain physically, while enjoying a recreational self-testing activity. Every girl, regardless of her swimming ability, has an equal chance to win one of the three awards, which will be presented by the H2O Club to the girls covering the greatest distance within the time limit set. Everyone participating in the swim will receive athletic points which will be credited to Monogram Club requirements. Following are the rules for the marathon swim.

a. Each student must pass a doctor's examination if she has not already done so.

b. Each participant must be able to swim at least one length of the pool.

c. Each student is on her honor to keep her own record accurately on the chart.

d. Elementary swimmers (those in beginner's classes or who have been classified as such) must swim the same stroke one length without touching the bottom of the pool or length will not be counted.

Intermediate or Advanced swimmers must swim the same stroke at least two lengths with tank turn, finishing with hand touch at end of pool, or lengths will not be counted.

e. Elementary swimmers must add up lengths swum each day, and record results on the chart opposite name under the proper date.

Intermediate and Advanced swimmers may swim two lengths with the same stroke, then rest, and then swim two more lengths, etc. In recording her lengths on the chart, the student should put circles around the record of each separate swim before rest is taken.

If more than two lengths with the same stroke is swum continuously, the number of lengths swum before rest is recorded in the same manner. (note: The number of lengths swum between rests is recorded separately and is not totalled. In this way the instructor and student can see the increase, as the swim progresses in the number of lengths that the student can swim before resting.

f. Each stroke used in the Marathon must have been "passed off" by the instructor, the student having shown that she can do the stroke in creditable form.

g. Intermediate and Advanced swimmers should make an effort to swim an equal number of lengths with each of the following strokes: back stroke, crawl, resting back, inverted breast, breast, side stroke on right side and side stroke on left side.

h. Three to five minutes of class period after roll call, the periods between classes and the scheduled open hours may be used for Marathon swimming.

i. Students should keep to right in swimming in order to avoid collisions with fellow swimmers.

First Roman (In the days of gladiators and massacres): "We've got a capacity crowd, but still we're losing money. The upkeep on lions is something terrible."

Second Roman: "Yes sirree. Those lions are certainly eating up the prophets."

Athletic Council Issues New Sports Schedule

Athletic Council has issued the following Spring sports schedule which will go into effect this week. Girls wishing to participate in any of the various activities may do so. Members of the coaching class and the Athletic Council will conduct the program and give assistance to those who desire it. Bowling and tennis have not been listed since alleys and courts are open all the time. The charge for bowling is ten cents per game in the morning and fifteen cents per game in the afternoon or evening.

Spring Sports Schedule

Monday
4:00—Field and Track
Recreational swimming
5:00—Baseball
Recreational swimming
Tuesday
4:00—Archery at Longwood
Golf at Longwood
Archery on athletic field
Beginner's Swimming Class
5:00—Archery at Longwood
Golf at Longwood
Archery on athletic field
Life Saving Class
Wednesday
4:00—Field and Track
N. Y. A. swimming class
5:00—Baseball
Recreational swimming
Thursday
4:00—Archery at Longwood
Golf at Longwood
Archery on athletic field
Beginner's Swimming Class
5:00—Archery at Longwood
Golf at Longwood
Archery on athletic field
Recreational swimming
Friday
4:00—Optional—field and track
Baseball and archery
Life Saving Class
5:00—Optional—field and track
Baseball, swimming and
Archery

"My dear young lady," said the clergyman in grieved tones as he listened to the extremely modern young woman tear off some of the very latest swing on the piano, "Have you ever heard of the Ten Commandments?"

Modern Young Lady: "Whistle a few bars, and I think I can follow you."

—Alabama University News

Sport Slants

By BOO BARHAM

Now that spring has been so beautifully ushered in, the great outdoors invites us to enjoy its fullness. There's archery, golf, track, tennis and swimming. Do you know that I heard an assistant editor of Life say that although he knew this was a small school in comparison with the great universities, our pool is what one would expect to find in Hollywood? Isn't that enough to lure us in for a swim any afternoon from 4:00-5:00?

Helen Seward ,the new archrey manager, has reported that the A. A. has purchased quite a bit of new equipment. There are two new targets—big ones—two new sets of bows, arrows and arm guards. Just for those who have never tried this interesting game, the target will be left out all the time. Of course you know that archery is held at Longwood. The truck will take you out and you'll find the equipment in the basement. You should have seen Louise Bryan score a bull's eye with all the ease of Cupid. With no idea of degrading the ability of Louise, we would like to say that anyone can do it with practice: even you—if you only take the time to t-r-y, TRY.

While you are at Longwood golf may prove interesting. There's always someone there to help you learn. She'll either play with you or be your caddy (mebbe).

The idea of track is really great and we certainly can do something with it if each girl will give her support. There is something for everyone. If you can't run, you might jump; if you can't jump, you might throw a javelin; if you can't do that—oh, what's the use? One might go on and on making suggestions. Just be fair to yourself and see what you can do. You never know until you have tried. Come on out!

The tennis courts are ready for use and as some of you may have noticed they were seething with activity this past week-end. Remember there will be a spring 'ournament soon. Who knows but that we have an Alice Marble or Helen Jacobs hidden among us.

This column simply cannot be without a mention of the newest of all S. T. C. limbering-up activities—namely, bowling. We're sore, muscle conscious and full of aches. But-oh, such fun! It's inexpensive too—10c a game in the morning and 15c in the afternoon. More "strikes" to you!

Riding Proves Popular Sport

Mary Allen Peters, Eugenia Loyd, Maxine Glenn, Ann Turner, Marion Groves, Jean Shulkcum, Harriet Walker, Agnes Johns, Ann Williams, Frances Ellett, Audrey Hudgins, Grace Payne, Catherine Radspinner, Mary Lou Shannon, Mary Jane Ritchie, Frances Hutcheson, Virginia Carroll, Louisa Sanford and Jean Clarke are among the girls who are taking riding lessons this season.

The horses, which are owned by Miss Bessie Dowdy, are available for riding at any time during the day. They are known to be good riding horses and during the summer months they are used by the Douthat State Park riders.

Extensive bridle paths are provided which are on the Longwood estate, out by the old Hampden-Sydney road, and through the woods around Farmville.

Miss Dowdy has announced that if the girls show enough interest and improvement by the end of the quarter that a horse show will be held about June 1.

Make Play While The Sun Shines

'Tis tennis time, girls, so here is your chance to start swinging those rackets.

The courts have never been in better condition than they are in now, and Mr. Graham has been very busy during Easter holidays getting them ready.

There's something about watching that ball fly through the air that gets in your blood. If you've never played before, once you've started (and I hope you will start) you'll haunt the courts. With plenty of practice for you new ones and some good brushing up on strokes for you veterans, we ought to be up to par for the spring tournament which will be held some time in the near future. So let's see the rackets swingin', the balls flying, and the courts crowded from now 'till—!

Muscles Creak From Track Attempts

Ouch! I actually creak—I nearly break when I bend—oh, bring me the three-in-one—Miss Mary doesn't like squeaks.

And when I try to go downstairs there's a great change in the region of my limbs—oh, wonder If I could use the bannister—after all, we're only stiff—how many days?

Oh, well, it was lots of fun! We jumped, high, wide and perhaps handsomely—Anyway, I feel that we did—We shuttled back and forth in a relay—and then—we started throwing things — just anything—javelins, baseballs, shot puts, even basketballs—and just think! I can do it three times a week.

Council Meet

Continued from Page 1

we gained this through Student Standards.

"A course in parliamentary law," commented Kitty, "is necessary for efficiency in self-government. We are trying this as an experiment by requiring the heads of all organizations to take it," she continued. "However, others may elect. At Duke University it is compulsory for all.

"Membership dues are eighteen dollars," explained Marie, "and the registration fees are three dollars for the two visiting delegates."

Next year the convention will be held in Rome, Georgia.

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

WIX
Sanitary Protection
without PADS • PINS • BELTS
The Original Internal Tampon
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service—Store

Sara Keesee New President Of H2O Club

Eight Swimmers Receive Bids

Sara Keesee, a junior from Gretna, Virginia, was elected president of the H2O Club for next year at a meeting of the club held on Tuesday, April 18. Sara will succeed Bunny Yonce as head.

Mary Elizabeth Pettierew was elected secretary-treasurer of the club. At the same time Margy Nimmo and Nancy Pierpont were chosen chairmen of the meets and carnival respectively.

Bids for membership have been issued to Vera Ebel, Mary Sue Edmundson, Rosa Courter, Nancy Dinwiddie, Harriet Walker, Dorothy Fischer, Peggy Hughes and Marie Dix. These girls have been selected on the basis of their swimming ability plus the interest which they have taken in swimming affairs.

The H2O Club sponsors the annual Water Carnival and the various aquatic events held during the school year. Its purpose is to create an interest in swimming and to put on swimming meets.

COME HERE FOR Free ENTRY BLANKS And Rules for the
5 Parker Pen $1,000 Scholarship Contests
Nothing to buy to win one of the five $1,000 College Scholarships —or $1,000 in Cash.
105 Awards in All TOTAL: $7,500
PATTERSON'S Drug Store
FARMVILLE, VA.

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O
Phone 98
Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

COLLEGE SHOPPE
Have you tried our delicious breakfast. One Egg, Bacon, Toast, Coffee, Butter and Jelly 15c.
Prompt Service We Deliver

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
COLLEGE SEAL COMPOSITION BOOKS—THREE (3) SIZES
10c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE,

Southside Drug Store
Leave your order for MOTHERE'S DAY now
Whitman's, Hollingsworth, and Martha Washington
We pay postage
Phone 356

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

"SHANNON'S
Cheerful Service
Spotless Plates
Tempting Food
Lowest Rates
SHANNON'S
We make you glad you're hungry"

Swarms Swamp Shannon's Shop As Buxom Belle's Bowl Balls

"Whew, I'm so sore I can't even move! Don't rush me! I've never seen so many people—why in the heck don't they make those high school kids go to school on Saturday, too! They take up more room! Did you make a 'hit'—sorry, I mean a strike? Well, at least I learned that much this morning! This stuff is gonna break me—I've already upset half of next week's allowance".

Conversation around school has crtainly been leaning in the above direction lately. Something has definitely caused a furor—with a capital "F"! And three guesses as to what it is! Right on the first one! It's that new bowling alley that's opened. Just go down the steps inside Shannon's and there you are—gobs of people to furnish the social interest, and four shining slick alleys, and plenty of balls to be heaved down one of those pretty alleys and then sent back on the trickiest little mechanism imaginable. Watching those balls come back is almost enough to satisfy the interests of those who can't feature themselves hurling balls at little wooden things, or else are quite sure that they will go sliding down the alley along with the ball.

Bowling is really very simple, once you get the idea (so we're told—we still have our doubts). We dare you to learn how to keep score—that is where the catch comes in! Its the most complicated affair—but all you smart children who are shining lights in math will be shining lights here, too—and anyhow, it makes you feel so-o-o superior and intelligent to speak of spares 'n strikes 'n stuff (that's as far as we've progressed) in an offhand manner. So we say three cheers for it all, and watch out, bowling alley, 'cause here we come!

Out of Town Spots Offer Usual Attraction

Girls Attend Easter Dances At University

Frances Holloway, Marie Allen Lorana Moomaw and Pattie Bounds have returned to school after attending the Debate Convention at Winthrop College in Rock Hill, South Carolina.

Among those who attended the Easter Week dances at the University of Virginia from Farmville S. T. C. are Shirley Ann Stephens, Elsye Berrye Yates, Bill Stone, Margaret Whitfield, Eloise Layman, Jane McGinnis, Margaret Manson, Essie Millner, Catherine Phillips, Nancy Pierpont, Marion Cotter, Jacqueline Beal and Ora Earnest.

Margaret Carr and Dorothy Eades have returned from Atlanta, Georgia where they attended the A. C. E. convention.

Blanche Cauper, Beatrice Dunton, Frances Elliett, Elenora Fairon, Mary Lou Shannon, Lula Windham, May Wertz, Elizabeth George Wilson, Frances Williams, Elizabeth Carter, Emily Haskins and Theodosia MacKinzie attended the Easter dances at V. M. I., Lexington over the week-end.

Geraldine Akiss, Frances Carroll, Dot Henderson and Virginia Welch attended the Senior dance at V. P. I. on April 14.

Judith Marshall attended the Lawrence Tibbett concert in Lynchburg last week-end.

Amy Powell and Elizabeth Rawlings spent the week-end in Richmond with Frances Dickinson.

Virginia Morris spent the week-end in Burkeville.

Peggy Stevens had as her guests at her home in Arrington, Frances Alvis, Elizabeth Wilkinson, Emil Ellis, Dorothy Fischer, Pat Gibson, Mildred Owen and Emily Owen.

Virginia Alexander, Gay Ward Brown, Jane Engleby, Louise Painter, Jean Scott, Margaret Ann Bunting and Marie Utt spent the week-end in Roanoke.

Lucy Turnbull spent the week-end in Lynchburg with a friend at Randolph-Macon. Mary Catherine Sturgis spent the week-end at her home in Nassawadox. Thelma Echols and Betty Porter Webb spent the week-end in Blackstone.

Alma Oakes spent the week-end at her home in Kenbridge. Sudie Dunton visited Harriet Haskins at her home in Hampton. Jamie Elliotte spent the week-end in Burkeville. Mary Klare Beck visited her parents in Butterworth. Caroline Gwathmey and Elizabeth Lewis spent the week-end with Lucy Blackwell at her home in Warrenton.

Patsy Fletcher had as her guest at her home in Warrenton Mary Owens West. Anita Carrington visited her parents in Drakes Branch. Dorothy Rudder spent the weekend in Brookneal. Hannah Lindamood visited in Stony Creek. Catherine Maynard spent the week-end in Williamsburg.

Lois Powell visited friends in Richmond.

Dr. Martin Goes To Health Meet

Dr. Jean Martin attended the Mid-Atlantic section of the National Student Health Association meeting at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, on Saturday, April 8.

Problems in student health were discussed and a paper was given on speech improvement and one on methods of improving reading.

Dr. Martin has been visiting the infirmaries of other colleges in the state and discussing various problems with the school physicians. Among the colleges she has visited are the University of Virginia, Madison, Mary Baldwin, and Mary Washington.

Dr. Walmsley Present for Council

Dr. James Elliott Walmsley, head of the history department at Farmville, attended the organization meeting of the State Council on International Relations which was held in Richmond on April 8.

Dr. Walmsley is a member of the executive committee of this organization.

Pan Hel Dance Date Is Set

Pan-Hellenic dance, which is sponsored by the eight sororities, will be held in the gymnasium Thursday night, April 27. It will be formal, and the music will be furnished by the V. M. I. Commanders.

The Commanders have played for several Farmville dances and have proved to be popular in the school.

In the receiving line will be the advisor of each sorority, Miss Carolyn Cogbill, the Pan-Hellenic advisor and Miss Mary White Cox.

Invitations have been issued to over 200 non-sorority girls.

Pi Kappa Sigma Sorority Has Banquet

Pi Kappa Sigma sorority held their banquet in the tea room Saturday night, April 15. Those who attended were the members in school, several alumnae, and Mrs. Lancaster, their patroness.

Smith President Of Gamma Psi

Perrye Smith was elected president of Gamma Psi, honorary fraternity in art, on April 4. The other officers are Chlotilde Jarman, vice-president; Dot Rollins, secretary, and Sue Owen, treasurer.

French Class Have Weiner Roast

Members of the rush French class attended a weiner roast at Longwood Thursday afternoon, April 13. Miss Hutt, the French teacher and Dr. Martin were also present.

Visitor, Lutherans Are Guests at Tea

Miss Mary Sneed entertained at tea in honor of Dr. Mary E. Markley on April 14 at Longwood. Those present were Dorothy Fischer, Dorothy Buckland, Katherine Wood, Rebecca Lowry, Dorothy Sprinkle, Frances Stoutamire, and Marie Utt. Dr. Markley is a prominent educator. She travels in the interest of the Lutheran Church and spoke on keeping students in touch with their churches.

Senior Personality

Continued from Page 2

motto when we look at that ready twinkle and never failing warm and sincere smile.

Ann, like most of us is headed for teaching—elementary work. And a good one she'd make for her probably adoring pupils. However, she has one eye on her hobby—journalistic work. And that eye will stay open we predict. For surely her pen is both her sword and her laurel wreath.

"Heaven Bound"

Continued from Page 3

and had tea at Agnes Scott College.

"Outside the city we enjoyed a sight seeing trip through the beautiful Dogwood and Azalea gardens and saw many of the lovely old Atlanta homes. One excursion took us to celebrated Stone Mountain and the Beautiful Cyclorama.

"We thought one of the most interesting things planned for our entertainment was the performance of "Heaven Bound" by an all colored cast of the Big Bethel Church. The music was beautifully rendered.

"Oh yes, and, no doubt, you know that Atlanta is the home of the Coca Cola, and every afternoon at four o'clock everybody at the Biltmore stops for the 'Pause that Refreshes'.

"When we reached Atlanta we had to set our watches back an hour. That was all right too. It made the evening younger."

And as Dot says, "We could rave on all night," but all good things must come to an end sometime, therefore we'll just leave the rest to your imagination.

Cotillion Dance Will Be May 13

Cotillion Club is sponsoring its annual spring dance on Saturday, May 13, in the school gymnasium. The informal tea dance will be at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon and the formal dance in the evening will last from nine to twelve.

"As yet no definite orchestra has been booked," says Frankie Bryan, who is business manager of the dance committee. The other members of the committee are: Essie Millner, chairman; Virginia Lee Pettis, and Frances Ellett.

The committee is working on some outstanding orchestras for Spring Cotillion. Last year Don Bestor and his orchestra played.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., April 19-20
LESLIE HOWARD
WENDY HILLER
In Geo. Bernard Shaw's
"PYGMALION"
Cartoon and Novelty

Friday-Sat., April 21-22
Nelson Eddy
VIRGINIA BRUCE
LET FREEDOM RING
Latest News Events

Next Mon.-Tues., April 24-25
Deanna Durbin
Nan Grey—Helen Parrish
"THREE SMART GIRLS GROW UP"
Fashions in Technicolor
Latest News Events

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

JUST RECEIVED
Newest light weight woolen skirts, all the pretty pastel colors.
Sizes 24 to 32 $1.98
SWEATERS TO MATCH $1.98
THE HUB DEPT. STORE
Charge Accounts Solicited

Kay Dunhill Smart Street DRESSES
Gorgeous prints and solids $3.97 to $7.97
Sizes 9 to 20
dorothy may
Charge it if you like

The Rotunda

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 1939 | No. 25

Y. W. President Selects Cabinet For New Year

Officers, Counselors, 12 Committee Heads Comprise Group

Dorothy Eades, president of the Y. W. C. A. for the year 1939-1940, with the help of a committee composed of the outgoing executive board and the newly elected officers, has selected the Y. W. cabinet members for the coming year.

Martha Whelchel will head the World Fellowship committee formerly run by Ollie Graham Gilchrist. Allene Overbey will succeed Jean Taylor on the Social committee, Kathryn Reed in place of Nancy Gray on the Service committee; Sara Cline succeeds Helen Reiff as Membership head, and the Church Cooperative branch will have Jean Moyer as its leader succeeding Marion Harden.

Other committee heads are Prayers, Beulah Ettenger; Sing, Helen Wentz; Town girls, Jane Lee Hutcheson; Publicity, Evelyn Thorington; Librarian, Margaretta Gerlaugh; Music, Elsye Berry Yates. Louise Wells, Eliza Wise, Anne Cocks, Sara Melba Beale, Evelyn Beale and Gerry Hatcher respectively, have chairmaned these committees for the past year.

Helen Reiff is Y. W. vice-president, Ollie Graham Gilchrist is secretary, and Eliza Wise, treasurer. Lucy Turnbull is counselor to the incoming Freshman Commission and Caralie Nelson is counselor of the newly formed Sophomore Commission.

Nelson and Barham Attend Youth Meet

Caralie Nelson and Alice Leigh Barham represented the Student Government of Farmville at the Virginia Youth conference, which was organized last fall in an effort to unite all youth organizations in a new movement to help solve the Nation's No. 1 Problem, the South. It held its first regular meeting at the University of Virginia on Friday and Saturday, April 21 and 22.

Among the prominent speakers were Thomas L. Hunter who discussed the present Political System in connection with the poll tax; Senator Claude H. Pepper of Florida, who mapped out a program for Virginia Youth to follow; Dr. Fred M. Alexander, supervisor of the Negro Education Division, who addressed the group on the cultural and social standards of Virginia and the conditions of the tenant farmers; and John W. Flannagan, United States Congressman from Virginia, who introduced the problems of the South in health and agriculture. He spoke of the bad conditions in the latter, and suggested as a means of improvement, putting agriculture on a higher basis.

Round table discussions were held on citizenship, education, youth in agriculture, youth in the church, youth in industry, Christ and health.

Nearly twenty colleges and universities were represented and numerous youth organizations including Baptist Student Union, the Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A., the Young Democrats club, the Catholic Student, and the Mission Crusade. Many high schools were also represented.

Class for Officers

Beginning Wednesday, May 3, Dr. James E. Walmsley, Head of the History Department, will instruct a four week class in parliamentary law.

The class will be required of all major officers of organizations

Longwood, Our Pride Holds Fascinating Romantic History

Longwood

Up to this point you have probably thought of Longwood simply in terms of buns, or the golf course or of the amphitheater where the May Day festival is held. But our cherished recreation center has as fascinating and romantic a historic background as a medieval castle with its stately cloistered walls and its aura of knightly ideals.

Long ago the casual savage lurked in our garden spot, stalking the wild beasts in the forest primeval. A full two hundred years complete the evolution of Longwood as we know it today.

The dignified estate we revere was first the home of Peter Johnson, Sr. who emigrated from his native Scotland to this "brave new world" to settle in Virginia in his mercantile business on the James River. He was in his fifty-first year, wealthy enough to wed Mrs. Martha Rodgers, the daughter of the Appomattox trader, John Butler.

In 1763, Peter Johnson, Jr. was born and two years later the family moved to Prince Edward. They called their new home Longwood after the tradition of the old Scottish castle. Peter Johnson became well known in the county and became a member of the House of Burgesses in 1769. He was a staunch Episcopalian and supporter of the English crown. However, when the movement to establish a college in the county was fostered he offered one hundred acres of land. Consequently in 1776 the Prince Edward Academy or Hampden-Sydney College was established.

Peter, Jr. ran away from school to enlist in the cavalry of Richard Henry Lee and here the friendship link began between the fathers of the two great generals of the Confederacy, Robert E. Lee and Joseph E. Johnson. After the war, the Johnson, Sr. died, bequeathing Longwood to his eldest

Continued on Page 3

Mr. Holton Present At Duke Event

Mr. S. M. Holton, Jr. represented Farmville State Teachers College at the Centennial Celebration at Duke University April 21-23. Approximately 400 colleges and universities from North and South America and Europe were represented.

The delegates were welcomed Friday afternoon by the Governor of North Carolina, Clyde Roark Hoey. Other outstanding speakers Friday afternoon and the subjects on which they spoke were: Sir William Bragg, President of Royal Society of London, "The Universality of Learning"; Homer Price Rainey, President of University of Texas, "Higher Education Devoted Alike to Science and Service"; and Henry Merritt Wriston, President of Brown University, "Liberal Learning".

Douglas Southall Freeman, Editor of Richmond News Leader was the main speaker at the banquet Friday evening, and his subject was "Southern Contributions to American Education".

Saturday morning, John Huston Finley, Editor Emeritus, New York Times, spoke on "Education and Public Opinion", while Eduard Benes, former President of Czechoslovakia used as his subject "Is Democracy in Europe About to Collapse?"

In the afternoon the two main addresses were given by Harold Willis Dodds, President of Princeton University, and William Preston Few, President of Duke University; the former speaking on "The University in the Nation's Service", and the latter on "An Old College and a New University."

The sermon Sunday morning was delivered by Reverend Willard Learoyd Sperry, Dean of Harvard Divinity School.

Four Attend A. C. E. Meet in Atlanta

Miss Mary Haynes, first grade supervisor, Miss Grace Mix, kindergarten supervisor, Dot Eades and Margaret Carr, juniors, as delegates from the local chapter of A. C. E. attended the association meet at Atlanta, Georgia, April 14 to 16.

Classes in special fields and discussion groups were held under the auspices of the Student Branch Forum, composed of the delegates from the different chapters. Here notes from various campuses were compared and viewpoints were exchanged. Points were raised on things that had been helpful during the school year, programs of interest in the year, how the different branches were supported, how each separate chapter can feel a part of the national organization and how to get cooperation.

An outstanding event at the Convention was the demonstration broadcast sponsored by the "Science Everywhere" program. This broadcast was concerned with radio in education and the classroom, taking in the preparation for the program, the actual broadcast and the follow-up.

S. T. C. Delegates Attend Regional Fraternity Meet

Wilson College In Washington Is K. D. P. Host

David Terry, retiring president, Ann Billups, next year's president, Mary Walker Mitchell, Anna Maxey, and Miss Mary Nichols were representatives from the Beta Epsilon Chapter to the regional conference of Kappa Delta Pi held Saturday, April 22 at Wilson Teachers College in Washington, D. C.

Delegates from eleven of the twelve chapters on the regional roll attended. Chapters at William and Mary, Madison, Radford, Farmville, the University of Kentucky, and the teachers colleges at Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania; Mansfield, Pennsylvania; East Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania; Lock Haven, Pennsylvania; and Concord State Teachers College at Athens, West Virginia sent representatives. The State Teachers College at Trenton, N. J. was not represented.

Delegates were welcomed by Dr. E. C. Highie, president of Wilson Teachers College and by Mrs. E. D. Armes, president of the Delta Lambda chapter at Wilson.

Dr. Thomas W. Gosling, Assistant superintendent of schools in charge of senior high schools and teachers colleges in the District of Columbia, spoke on "The Need for Scholarship and Leadership in Education" stressing that it is a working definition. Dr. Gosling defined more scholarship as "a mastery of the tools, materials, and methods that are necessary for an accepted performance of an intellectual task." He said that scholarship to be effective must function, that unless it weaves its way into the life of the people, it is futile. He said that in the field of teaching one needs to master the subject matter and methods and to adapt them to the needs of the individual. There is no place in the profession for a cold, flint-like person.

Farmville delegates attended discussion groups on "Developing

Continued on Page 4

27 Girls Pledge Campus Sororities

After three days of spring rushing, the following girls have signed bids to sororities:

Sigma Sigma Sigma: Mary Prince Arnold, Virginia Barksdale, Sarah Booth, Dorothy Chapman, Betty Lee Downing, and Elizabeth Shelbourne.

Alpha Sigma Alpha: Virginia Rudd and Shirley McCalley.

Gamma Theta: Augusta Parks.

Pi Kappa Sigma: Anne Boswell, Madge Horne, Ruth Jones, and Marion Mitchell.

Mu Omega: Bertha McLaughlin and Lillian Wahab.

Alpha Sigma Tau: Margaret Anne Bunting, Katherine Burge, Juanita Carson, Louise Hall, Nell Hall, Katherine Hawthorne, Beverly Jordan, Mildred Morris, Marie Thompson and Anne Turner.

Theta Sigma Upsilon: Elizabeth Jennings.

Phi Zeta Sigma: Sara Seward.

Y. W. C. A. Conventioners at Nashville, Tenn.

"We just don't know where to begin. It was all so wonderful that we could fill up the whole Rotunda." Thus Ollie Graham Gilchrist and Helen Reiff began their account of the Southern Regional Conference of the Y. W. C. A. which was held in Nashville, Tennessee last week.

"One of the most thrilling things to me was the concert at Fiske by the Famous Fiske Chorus," Ollie Graham stated. "In fact the university itself impressed me with its traditions and atmosphere."

Here Helen interrupted to add, "The negroes were so cultured and interesting that I was surprised. They talked sincerely and intelligently. They all seemed to want to do something about their condition."

"The theme of the convention was the South and how the Y. W. C. A. can help solve the problems of this section. In the student meeting the service that can be rendered by students after their graduation was discussed." Ollie Graham went on. "There were twelve states represented. Sweet Briar, Westhampton and Randolph-Macon were the other Virginia Colleges there.

"All of the talks were worthwhile, but the series of three talks by Miss Jessie McCulloch, editor of the Woman's Press, the Y. W monthly paper, and that by Dr. Arthur Raper were especially fine.

"Miss Charlotte Nevin's talk on the Unites States' place in international affairs and that of Dr.

Continued on Page 4

Forensic Group To Meet Here Friday

FLORENCE BRESS

Clark & Ettenger On Sigma Pi Rho National Board

Convention Held At Fairmont W. Va.

Carmen Clark was elected permanent national alumni secretary of Sigma Pi Rho, and Beulah Ettenger, national historian, which includes the editorship of the national magazine, "The Tributum," at the convention held at Fairmont, W. Va., April 21-23. Carmen was national president of the fraternity this year and Catherine Pilcher and Helen Jeffries were editor and business manager, respectively, of the publication.

Other delegates to the convention were Ruth Phelps, who graduated from Farmville last year and is now teaching in Monterey, and Marion Harden.

Sigma Pi Rho, honor fraternity in Latin, has as its purpose to foster the love of the classics, to include the ideals of scholarship, and to promote training for the teachers of Latin. Only juniors and seniors with a high average in general scholarship and Latin are eligible for membership. The seven active chapters are at Farmville, Va.; Fairmont, W. Va.; Milledgville, Ga.; Muncie Ind.; Carbondale, Ill.; Natitoches, La.; and Conway, Ark.

Delegates were entertained in private homes and were guests for the junior prom of the college. Sight-seeing and the banquet completed the program.

H.-S. Glee Club Gives Concert

Hampden-Sydney Glee Club, directed by George Walker, gave a concert at S. T. C. auditorium, April 25, at 8 o'clock.

The Glee Club has also given programs this year at Mary Baldwin College in Staunton, and at the Presbyterian church in Lynchburg.

Bress Is Chairman

Committees Are At Work On Plans

"Twelve schools from the South Atlantic province of Pi Kappa Delta will send approximately 50 delegates to the Annual Regional Convention of Pi Kappa Delta which is to be held this year at Farmville", states Florence Bress, general chairman. The convention will open Friday, April 28, and continue through Saturday afternoon, April 29. The banquet will be on Friday night.

There will be contests in debating, extemporaneous speaking, impromptu speaking, problem solving, after dinner speaking and oratory.

Convention chairmen have been appointed in the forensic fields of debating, headed by Florence Bress; extemporaneous speaking, Virginia Howell; impromptu, Marjorie Ellett; refreshments, Elizabeth Anne Parker and Rebecca Bland; banquet arrangements, Harriett Walker; toastmistress, Pattie Bounds; problem solving, Anne Cock; debate, Florence Bress; after dinner, Jack Cock; oratory, Marguerite Snell; Judges, Mary Rice; time keeper, Elizabeth Billups; rooms, Thelma Courtney; and chairman for seeing that debate rooms are adequately equiped before and after each debate, Marguerite Russ.

Amelia, Crewe, Appomattox Win

Appomattox, Amelia, and Crewe won first places in the annual Southside Play Tournament on April 20, 21, and 22, respectively, in the auditorium. This is the third consecutive year that Amelia and Crewe have won and they are entitled to keep the trophies which were awarded. Appomattox will keep her trophy for only a year.

Second honors went to Prospect, Clarksville, and Vinton, a high school near Roanoke, which entered the contest this year for the first time.

Mildred Pierce of Culpeper and Mondia Eller of Vinton received recognition for outstanding performances.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. Nina Sanders Taylor of Richmond Miss Elizabeth Eggleston, Mrs. Mildred Davis, and Mr. Herman Bell of Hampden-Sydney, and Mr. Edgar A. Potts of Farmville.

The entrees were La Crosse, "Dear Lady Be Brave"; Prospect, "Buddy Buys an Orchid"; Appomattox, "The Valiant"; Curdsville, "Never Trust a Man"; Orange, "The Weatherman's Secret"; New London, "To Tell the Truth"; Amelia, "Strange Road"; Clarksville, "A Double Affair"; Emporia, "Write Me a Love Scene"; Culpeper, "Bargains in Cathay"; Vinton, "Sparkin' "; Crewe, "The Twelve Pound Look"; and Blackstone, "Confessional."

Rabbi Visits Here

Rabbi George B. Leiberman of Wheeling, W. Va., spoke in chapel yesterday morning, April 25 on "Judaism and Christianity — a Study of Mutual Indebtedness."

His talk was centered around the need for tolerance and understanding among people of different races and creeds in order to humanize the world and the indebtedness of the Jews and Christians to each other since before the writing of the Old Testament.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistants—Elizabeth West, Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
eature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Socials Editor ..... Shirley Stephens
Socials Assistant ..... Everly Byrd Hutcheson
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Anna Johnson, Theodosia McKenzie, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Janelle Shelor, Edna Strong, Dell Warren, Lucy Turnbull.

Managers

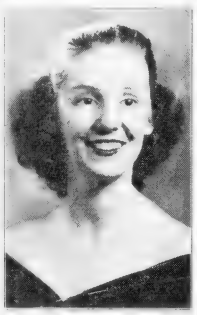
Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants — Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Beverly Blair, Helen Briggs, Josa Carleton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary Allen Peters, Frances Pope, Jane Rosenberger, Mary Sue Simmons, Kathryn Watkins.

Typists

Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Betsy Briggs, Anne Bruce, Elizabeth Bundy, Dorothy Lee Harrison, Frances Pritchett, Dorothy Smith, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Sue Wohlford.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 1939

Seeing the "Reasons Why"



Sometime ago the Freshman Commission held an open discussion for its fellow freshmen, giving opportunity for free speech, favorable or otherwise. At the close of the meeting the Commission felt that it had achieved its purpose, that of helping the freshmen to see the reasons for the various rules to which they pledge respect at S. T. C. But, have those arguments been sufficiently coped with? Does the average freshman, the average student, really have a clear understanding of the factors behind those rules? Does she see the "reasons why"?

There are approximately 850 girls at S. T. C., each of whom is an individual entitled to given rights. Over these the Home Department is responsible not only for the group but for each individual comprising it. Is it not, therefore, expedient that this department have a definite system of check-up through which it may make contact with the group over which it supervises?

The slips which we must sign before leaving school, the special permissions we must obtain for certain privileges, the careful check-up of date and hour of return to school—all these are far more troublesome to the members of the department than to us. We sign one slip; they supervise the signing of 850, so to speak. Is this not sufficient evidence that the said system of the Home Department is more than a mere traditional red-tape process—that its purpose is more far-reaching than we understand it to be?

Perhaps we may only partially realize the task of the Home Department of our college, but we can meet with requirements in the true spirit of co-operation with which they are made. We can make an earnest effort to see the "reasons why" before we criticize.

SENIOR PERSONALITIES

VERA EBEL

Link up in your mind's eye a trim, girlish figure, a pair of swift-moving bright brown eyes that literally bid at you with their merriment, and a face that's a combination of good sense, aliveness and sheer, sincere interest and you have a picture of Vera.

If there is any particular or tangible characteristic one can place the cause for the result of her success, it is on Vera's interest in people and activities. There're few things that ever come up that she doesn't put in her word or her mind toward building up or remedying. Thus we can see her in her position as leader of her class for the past two years. Such qualities as these—interest and ability—make for leadership.

Vera's past is a bit of a secret to us. We hear, however, that as a high school miss at Thomas Jefferson in Richmond she was particularly noted as a chatterbox. She was voted "most talkative in school" for two years in succession. And T. J.'s a big school. Gee, we can't understand it. And she is sort of quiet and subdued like now. (No, to those who don't know her, we're really kidding—the quiet and subdued part, we mean. Vera's never at a loss for words.)

We see Vera as the real sport and sportswoman who'll try her hand at 'em all. She's an excellent swimmer, as well as a "dabber" (and a good one) in other athletics—tennis, hockey, and even swinging a golf club.

Vera's interest as a teacher lies with the little tots—the very little ones. She really anticipates a career as primary teacher in the future, she says. However, come week-ends, we notice her going to the extreme opposite in size of interests and ideas. We refer your notice to one unusually tall male—Tommy by name, who is a frequent visitor 'round these parts.

Good looks, personality with an extra-big plus, efficiency, friendliness, and charm all her own—that's a big order. But tie them all up in a big bundle that still has many indefinable traits and you have Vera Ebel.

Books in Review

"Wuthering Heights" by Emily Bronte

How alike they were those two soiled, unkempt children, roaming the moors together, and yet how unlike. The girl, daughter of a noble, wealthy family, the boy, picked up on the streets of London. Reared together they were loving together, fighting together, hating together.

Here, is Emily Bronte's vivid fascinating story of two families, hopelessly entangled in a net of tender love and bitter hate.

Heathcliff, where had he come from? Who were his parents? He didn't know. But he did know this: that he loved Catherine Earnshaw, his childhood companion, better than life itself, and that he hated the Lintons, who were the cause for their first parting.

And what of Catherine, you ask. Yes, she loved Heathcliff too, as deeply as he loved her, but Catherine was proud, self-willed, vain. What could Heathcliff offer her? Nothing. Edgar Linton had wealth and position. He was handsome.

Catherine married Edgar Linton. So Heathcliff "Married the woman he hated to spite the woman he loved."

This human heart rending story is indeed "by common consent one of the most compelling novels in the English language."

Lapse of time and the fact that a movie producer finds it worthy of being screened serve to endear Emily Bronte's book to the hearts of American readers and once again to make it possible for them to familiarize themselves with the story.

OPEN FORUM

To Whom It May Concern:

The Seniors have taken the "rap" for a lot of things we haven't done and for a lot of things we have done. Now it's our time to talk—meaning in one word—chapel. If it isn't embarassing to you it certainly is to us who take pride in every little thing that contributes to our school. It's not only a reflection on the whole student body but a reflection on your home training. If you do not want to hear the speaker, have consideration for those who do. After all, chapel is a time of quiet and reverence and not a bull session. Put yourself in the place of the speaker—how would you feel addressing a beehive? It takes a lot of courage and nerve to speak in the face of such discourtesy. You don't act this way at a devotional service in your own church; why should you act in such an unbecoming manner at a devotional held in your own college?

We hope it doesn't take two or maybe three years, underclassmen, for you to learn how we feel about this conduct in chapel. Emerson hit the nail on the head when he said, "What you are speaks so loudly I cannot hear what you say."

Five Seniors

Humor

Little Waldo knows the talkies, but the other day he happened in on his first silent film.

He immediately began to bawl, "Maw, I'm deaf."

Old Lady: "Do those tattoo marks wash off?"
Sailor: "I couldn't say, lady."
—Los Angeles Collegian

Prof: "Does the moon affect the tide?"
Lovesick gal: "No, just the untied."
—Los Angeles Collegian

Echoes From an Empty Space

The Kappa Sig parties last week-end created some excitement in college circles. It's rather hard to sit around and see what you've been thinking was your man trucking around in Shannon's with another gal—how about it, Fran?

It was good to see some of the old boys and girls back. But poor Jane Burke's date should get somebody to wake him earlier on Sunday.

We must convey our sympathies to Chi Phi Bobby Scott for his fall Saturday night. Did you forget they'd built a bowling alley, Bobby?

Louise Painter got herself a sunburn and then walked off with Joe Lawson right under the noses of two of his ex-girls.

Know why Margaret Manson's face was so red in Chapel Monday? Is seems she took Allene home with her week-end before last. Then last week-end Allene went back alone and dated Margaret's man. That's friendship for you.

'Course Easter happenings are a bit stale now, but ask Dot Eades 'bout her quick change of corsages on that day. Don't tell us these two-timers can't manage to gain their ends.

We hear Betty von tripped the light fantastic in the leading role at the N. C. State dance figure. And then there's that Perdue gal who's to give Tech boys a thrill this week-end—another figure leader. And she's dated him only four times.

And then there's Doris Chestnut who always knows plenty, but never dares tell a thing. Now what do you make of that?

Better start getting your dates lined up for Cotillion, girls; it's only three weeks off. And by the way isn't it time somebody got us an orchestra?

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

An anxious world waited last week for an answer to the appeal sent to Dictators Mussolini and Hitler by the President of the United States. England and France hailed the message and Central and South America were not long in joining the chorus.

The answer came rather unexpectedly from Mussolini when he addressed his nation on the progress being made toward the World Exposition to be held in Rome in 1942. His answer was somewhat indirect, quiet, yet touched with a stabbing bit of sarcasm. He said that the extensive plans being made by Italy for the fair certainly did not indicate that they plan to attack anyone in the near future.

Regarding the message of Roosevelt the dictator said: "It is absolutely unjust and unjustifiable from any point of view to attempt to place nations of the axis on the seat of the accused." He scorned the message of the President and said his nation resented interference of any sort made by nations too far removed to have "even rudimentary knowledge of European affairs." Germany, Hungary and Spain applauded the words of Mussolini. Other nations listened quietly, afraid almost to hope that his message was in itself an assurance of no immediate war.

Hitler has not yet made a public reply. His interest has been shown regarding the matter in the form of many conferences with high officials during the past week. What he will do remains to be seen. His answer is stated to be made April 28. German newspapers however, denounced the appeal calling it a "diverting maneuver" in the same fashion in which they have previously told us. "This is none of your affair and you will please keep your nose out of our business."

Meanwhile the fiftieth birthday of Herr Hitler was celebrated with all the pomp and glory of a military display. Germany boasted that such a display frightened the world. There was little truth in their exaggerated vanity. Instead the review showed that Germany has very little new equipment and that that certainly is not sensational or overly modern.

It had been rumored and secretly feared that the Nazis might march into Danzig that day and take the city as a birthday gift to the dictator. However he received from that city only a gift of citizenship.

Perhaps most important of all European events are the alliances that are being formed—on one side the totalitarians; on the other side the democracies. To date the line looks somewhat like this: Germany, Italy, Spain, Hungary and of course, Japan, versus Great Britain, France Poland, Rumania and Russia. Russia has not said definitely that she will join forces with the democracies but such a hope is ascertained by her fear that Germany and Japan will join forces against her. Such an invasion would meant certain disaster to Russia. Poland was hesitant about entering a pact which included Russia and definitely does not want Russian soldiers within her boundaries. She fears that, if once they enter, they'll stay. A great part of what is now Poland was once Russia.

The United States has signed no pact with either side. We do not need to. Actions speak so much louder than words and last so much longer than signatures on slips of paper. Such an answer as to where we stand we believe was definitely made when the President ordered the just-arrived-fleet at Hampton Roads back to the Pacific last week. The order came following rumors that Japan would seek the aid of Germany and Italy in her struggle to gain control of China.

Many doubt that Germany or Italy would have answered such a plea because neither can afford to part with either army or navy in view of the danger which so immediately surrounds them.

Prepare Ye - - - This Is College Life

Dear Peg,

Bouquets to you, sis, for making such exquisite honors in your class! I had an intuition that you'd do it. Perhaps I'd better mind my slanguage while I write to such a distinguished young lady.

Before you know it, you'll be browing your valuables and in-gredibles into a trunk, and turning off to college with a suit-case trailing behind you, and a light cloud of smoke from the success you've finished making will follow along in the distance like a hurt dog.

When you stroll timidly into the door, some long-legged girl will walk calmly up the steps three at a time, and after scurrying through long corridors and dark passage ways, she'll finally yank open a door graciously and tell you that that is where you are supposed to spend the next nine months. While you unpack your "things", you'll suddenly wonder what your unarrived roommate will be like, and even while you are wondering a tall lanky young modern will enter and say, "Hello, Toots! I'm Lucy Broadway. I guess we'll be together for a while anyway won't we?" And then you fancy that you can hear under her breath, "Or will we?" In a tiny space of time she will have gone out just as she came in.

Before a very long time elapses you will come in one day to find an assorted group of hats lying on your freshly madeup bed. Perhaps a coat will be thrown over your chair, and a pair of shoes with worn socks will be lying nonchalantly in the very middle of the floor, there will also be a dress or two hung around with other various and sundry articles of a girl's apparel.

By the time the first week is over you will have a general idea of the faces that belong on your hall, and someone will be just brassy enough to come in in your absence and borrow your brand-spanking new green hat, knowing that you "wouldn't mind at all!" But your hat is not all you have that people will want to borrow. There will be your iron, your bobby pins, your books, and even at times your money, always forgetting to return any of them until you gently remind them.

On the night before your history exam, some lazy little body will want to borrow your notes, and while you are studying, a crowd of people who do not have any exams on the next day will come to visit you for the first time. Sally will decide that she has to play Chinese Checkers, and Patsy will join her right in the middle of the study table. Jane will resurrect a package of cigarettes and all will begin to smoke. Because you haven't an ash tray, and they are afraid to put the ashes in the trash can, it takes only a flip of your little thing to send ashes all over the floor (which means more work for you the next day, for your roommate simply never will clean up).

But somewhere, Peg, perhaps in the spring, you will find some little girl on your own hall who will share your interests with you, who will be sorry when you are sorry, and glad when you are glad; finally you will like that little girl a great deal, and you will share with her secrets that you've never been able to confide to any other chum; you'll come to know a great deal about her, and she will know equally as much about you.

Because you do know each other's weaknesses and strongholds, you will understand and

Continued on Page 3

Sport Slants

By PAT GIBSON

Local sports are picking up with the advent of spring. Track, swimming, tennis are going full blast and there is lots of baseball and golf interest around school.

The tennis courts are in such great demand that the reservation method has been resorted to. Even six o'clock in the morning when one would think we'd be getting that longed for beauty sleep finds many of our racket enthusiasts out lobbing the ball about. Better pick your partner and get in some practice for the doubles tournament. Sign up on the A. A. bulletin board today!

As yet no definite date has been set for the track and field meet. We do know, however, that it will be held some time soon after May Day. Dot Fischer is said to be trying to equal her "Charlie's" feats with that shot put. Ten feet to you, gal.

The ole swimmin' pool has become the victim of over-population of late. And nice it is too, everyone getting to know the person she can't help but bump into. Really good friends may be identified by the "ducky" greeting. Those acrobatic ladies who leap and twist from springboard to air with such ease are objects of much wonder and envy as are our endurance swimmers who thrash, length on length, through H2O. The marathon is "in the swim", so to speak, but there's still time for you "procrastinators" to get in line. It's great for the avoirdupois.

Baseball and golf are not to be disregarded. Practices in the former are being held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at four o'clock; and as to the latter, the course is ready, willing and able at any time. And speaking of golf, there's a girl among us who hit that pill so far that it couldn't be found. (Note: If anyone discovers a slightly discolored golf ball on top of the hill past the gully on the third hole, will you be kind enough to return it to the home office?)

With "life-in-the-great-outdoors" as our aim we find that all roads lead to the roof. How tawny skin must fascinate! (We suffer such torture to secure it.) A few of the luckier ones tan while the rest of us go from red to pink to nothing (to our great disgust.) Someone has suggested that the pool be moved up there—grand idea! But, where's Hercules to do the transporting?

Badminton, shuffleboard, croquet and volleyball are offered on the minor sports card and are getting good support. Those freshmen can really do these games up right.

It has been suggested that the life-saving class select "I ain't gonna drown no mo', no mo'" as its theme song. Give 'em time!

College Life

Continued from Page 2

love each other even more, and there's the setting for a perfect friendship. The friendships that you hear so much about finding in college are to be found only when you, too, can become a friend to someone.

Yours for a friendly college career,

Polly

Golf Tournament Plans Underway

Longwood Practices Tuesday, Thursday

Helen McIlwaine, Crews Borden, Betty Lee Downing, Frances Pullen, Dorothy Fischer, Sarah Hayes, Patricia Gibson, Vera Ebel, Emil Ellis, Selma West, Martha McKinstry, Jenny Carroll, Nancy Hopkins, Mary Elizabeth McCormick, Betty Lucy, Helen Wentz and Mildred Owen are among those who have been participating regularly in the golf practices which are held at Longwood every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at four o'clock.

These girls are instructed by Mr Graham, who is always ready to help those who need his assistance. He has announced that the distance of each hole will be marked off so that the lengths of drives may be easily figured. Pars will be designated at each tee off.

A tournament is being planned for the week following May Day. The best players from each class will be asked to enter and, if there are not enough girls for class competition, the tournament will be played off between Red and White and Green and White. There is still time for those girls who have not yet practiced to get in good shape for the tournament.

This is the first time a golf tournament has been sponsored by the Athletic Association which has as its aim to create more interest and build up a new and better sport each year.

H20 Initiates

Marie Dix, Rosa Courter, Vera Ebel, Nancy Dinwiddie, Dot Fischer, Peggy Hughes, Mary Sue Edmondson and Harriet Walker were initiated into the H2O club April 25. The event was staged at the pool where the new members were put through a series of water ability tests. Original dives and strokes were among the tests. After performing in the water, the girls were given their H2O emblems by the president, Bunny Yonce. Following the initiation cokes, cookies and nabs were served. Mary Elizabeth Pettigrew was in charge of refreshments. Nancy Pierpont and Pat Gibson the initiation.

Notice

The pool will be open for recreational swimming from 4:00-5:00 o'clock on each Wednesday afternoon.

The Fly In the Ointment

The dogwood is blooming,
The peach buds are pink.
The putts are still hanging
Refusing to sink;
The skies are now shining
All over the map,
But heel prints are lurking
In every stark trap;
The warm sun is beaming
On every green spot,
But duffers are slicing
All over the lot;
Just think of the pleasure
That young spring could show.
If it wasn't for missing
Four drives in a row.
Spring comes with a thrilling
And wonderful flame,
If the duffer could only
Get back on his game.

Lack of Tennis Space Calls for Reserving

Shirley Stephens, manager of tennis, has announced that a doubles tournament is being planned for the near future. Those planning to enter play should pick their partners and sign up on the A. A. bulletin board.

Due to the great demand for the courts the reservation system had been installed. Everyone wishing to play tennis must sign up on the bulletin board the day before. No one may keep a court more than one hour unless the hour following her time of play or some other hour that is not reserved. The courts will be numbered so as to eliminate confusion. Groups planning to play doubles, should indicate such.

Swimming Interest Rises With Temperatuhe

Going up! The temperature definitely is and so is everybody's interest in swimming! It's getting hotter and hotter and the crowd at the pool is getting bigger and bigger, and the bigger the better, we say. It's more fun to trip up on the roof, get all warm in the sun, and then come down and go splashing in that good-old-green, cold-looking pool.

By the way—this is a bit off the subject, but very interesting. One gal who was feeling a trifle (?) on the warming side the other day was heard exclaiming that she didn't see how in the world she got so red because she only stayed out on the roof a couple of hours, from eleven until one. How could staying out on the roof for two hours in the hottest part of the day make anybody red? We wonder! Anyhow, why don't yoe sun worshippers start spending a little of that time that you've been spending on the roof in the pool instead. There's nothing like having a little variety now and then. Besides, all of us who know will give you a money-back guarantee—only it's all free—that it will be wonderful fun. If you pretend hard, you can imagine yourself right at the beach. Of course the pool doesn't have all those flippant waves to knock you down; but in its own quiet little way, it does very well. As pools go, it is really tops—most especially on a hot day. You oughta try it this spring and see if you don't stay as cool as the proverbial cucumber. And if you want to keep up with the best of them this summer, a little practice strokes and diving might be a huge help.

Longwood

Continued from Page 1

son. Soon afterwards, Peter married and in 1807 Joseph Eggleston Johnson was born. His father was elected judge of this circuit, but he decided to exchange with Judge Brockenbrough and move to Southwest, Va. to a new home "Fonticello". He sold Longwood to Abram B. Venable, representative 1791-99 and U. S. Senator 1803-04 when he resigned to become organizer and president of the First State Bank of Virginia. Mr. Venable was burned to death in the Richmond Theatre Fire of 1811. As he left no will and had never married, his newly acquired property fell into the hands of his nieces and nephews—coming soon into the possession of Nathaniel Venable. He and his wife initiated the breaking up of the one time 14,741 acre estate—dividing it off in many acre portions to their children. In his wife's will the house and two hundred acres were separately deeded to the youngest son, Paul Venable.

Thus Longwood dwindled from its pristine magnificence until in 1920 the State of Virginia purchased it for the State Teachers College of Farmville. For us and for posterity it will always be the romantically lovely home where Colonial "grand dames" flounced their brocade skirts or languished on the shaded lawns.

Memories fade, but ideals live on. The ideal of preserving the lively antique spirit of Longwood through reproduction of its furnishings and landscape came from Mrs. J. L. Jarman. To her and to Dr. Jarman "his girls" owe their enjoyment of this traditionally beautiful garden spot of Virginia.

Baseball Practices For Interclass Games Started

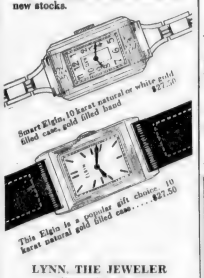
The first baseball practice was held Friday, April 19th from five until six o'clock. Much interest was shown with all the classes in school being represented.

Practices will be held regularly every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons from five until six o'clock. Seven one-hour practices are required before any girl will be eligible to play in the class games.

Bowling Team To Be Organized

Five Girls On Team

Arrangements are now being made for the organization of six bowling teams. The plan is to have five girls on each team. These teams will play three games one day a week, following the round Robin style.



Each team will be given a specific time to play. This will be announced later along with the time of practice hours.

This is the first time bowling has ever been sponsored and the first opportunity that S. T. C. girls have had for participation in such sport. Bowling alleys were made available this month and are open to the public in the downstairs of Shannon's.

A handsome new ELGIN!

Beautiful, modern as the moment—these new Elgin timepieces! Accuracy-tested to the absolute standard of the stars. No doubt about it—it's smart and value-wise to choose an Elgin for gift-giving—to own one yourself. It's the timepiece that has been a tradition in leading American families for generations. And the prices are extremely modest. Come in and see our complete new stocks.

LYNN, THE JEWELER
Farmville, Va.

5 Parker Pen $1,000 Scholarship Contests

Nothing to buy to win one of the five $1,000 College Scholarships —or $1,000 in Cash.

105 Awards in All
TOTAL: $7,500

PATTERSON'S Drug Store
FARMVILLE, VA.

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

WIX
Sanitary Protection
without PADS • PINS • BELTS
The Original Internal Tampon

BALDWIN'S
Quality Price Service Store

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

COLLEGE SHOPPE
Best Sandwiches in Town

Chicken Salad	10c
Ham	10c
Hamburger with tomato, lettuce, pickle	10c
Egg Salad	10c

Call 200, we deliver Prompt service

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

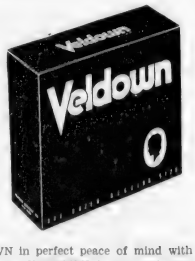
S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure Thread SILK HOSE
Full Fashioned
Guaranteed to You
49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.



Southside Home-Made
ICE CREAM
PINT 15c QUART 29c
Choice Flavors
Made with Fresh Cream
We Deliver
TELEPHONE 356

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

"SHANNON'S
Cheerful Service
Spotless Plates
Tempting Food
Lowest Rates
SHANNON'S
We make you glad you're hungry"

The NEW Packages VELDOWN
WORLD'S FINEST SANITARY NAPKIN
12 TO BOX
Regular or Junior Size
19c 2 for 37

HOUSEHOLD
ECONOMY PKG.
61c 2 for $1.30

You can wear VELDOWN in perfect peace of mind with no fear of emergency because VELDOWN has a moisture-proof backing. Scientific shaping insures invisibility, as easily disposable as tissues.

DAVIDSON'S DEPT. STORE
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

W. & L., N. C. And Richmond Are Chosen Spots

Washington and Lee dances the past week-end were attended by Helen Seward, Helene Stras, Kathryn Reed, Mary Elizabeth McCormick, Helen Wentz, Helen Watts and Yetive Dawson from Farmville.

Macon Raine went to the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. over the week-end.

Allene Overbey was the guest of Rachel DeBerry in Blackstone. They attended Benny Goodman's Swing Concert in Richmond.

Among those who spent the week-end of April 22-23 in Richmond were Elsie Dodd, Frances Halloway, Mary Mahone, Evelyn Byrd Timberlake, Mary Katherine Zehmer, Doris and Dorothy Adkins, Margaret Carr, Pat Whitlock, Louise Painter, Libby Carter, Helen Long, Mary Gray Thompson, Kaki Peery, Ellen Royall, Mary Prince Arnold, Army Butterworth, Elizabeth Burke, Vera Bowling, Josephine Ware, Dorothy Perkins, Patty Vier, Mabel Burton, Margaret Holberton, Peggy Williams, Lorana Moomaw, Mary Rice, Rose Allen Higginbotham, Frankie Bryan, Anna Snow Ramsey, Phil Schlobahm, Marguerite Costello, Jane Bragg, Mary Elizabeth Pettierew and Vera Ebel.

Becky Sandidge spent the week-end with her sister in Bedford. Margaret Britton visited her parents in Petersburg and Sarah Cline at Randolph-Macon in Lynchburg.

Norma Wood, Mary Katherine Dodson, Nell Hurt, Gene Hardy Kilman, Lucy Blackwell and Elizabeth Lewis motored to Lynchburg Sunday.

Genevieve Cook was the guest of Fannie Lee West at her home in Blackstone.

Adelaide Dressler has returned from Chapel Hill, North Carolina and Dot Fischer from Wake Forest College. Perrye Smith and Betty von Gemminger attended the dances at N. C. State.

Marjorie Wicks spent the week-end in Bethlehem, Pa. with Mrs. Berry Hodgson, the former Katherine Fitzgerald, and attended the dances at Lehigh University.

Sigma Celebrates Forty-First Year

A banquet, celebrating their forty-first birthday, was held by the Alpha chapter of Tri Sigma last Friday night at Longwood.

The banquet table was decorated with purple and white flowers, the sorority colors. At each place was a small nosegay of violets.

The program, arranged by Selma West and Army Butterworth, consisted of songs and toasts. Jane Powell was toastmistress. Toasts were given by Ann Dugger, Theresa Graff, Lula Windham, Frances Irving, Marian Heard, Martha McCorkle, Mary Elizabeth Pettierew, Nancy Pierpont, Vera Ebel and Marion Worsham.

Besides the active chapter members, the following people attended: Mrs. Irby, Mrs. McCorkle, Mrs. Watkins, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Grace Mix, Miss Carolyn Cogbill, Miss Pauline Camper, Mrs. Richardson, Nan Seward and Frances Hudgins.

Gama Theta Banquet

Gamma Theta Sorority held its annual spring banquet at Longwood on Saturday, April 22. Decorations and place cards were blue and white. Bowls of lily-of-the-valley were used as centerpieces.

The members of the active chapter, Miss Florence Stubbs, advisor, and Miss Grace Mix, patron, were joined at the banquet by the following alumnae: Ettie Jones Hughes, Fannie Warren Thwing, Lucille Franklin Richardson, Pat Cowherd Adkins, Kitty Franklin McCall, Clara McKenzie, Martha McKenzie, Dot Leonard Moore, Polly Riddle Clemens, Virginia Leonard Campbell, Martha Glenn Davis, Katherine Galusha, Elizabeth Butler, Eleanor Dodson, May Bates, Sue Eastham and Ducky Davies.

Dance & Sway

Amid our daily grind of school work, meetings, and May Day practices loom the pleasant expectations of the Pan-Hellenic Dance—yes, it's really here at last.

Members of the eight sororities with their dates, and over two hundred non-sorority girls will dance tomorrow night, April 27th, to the delightful and pleasant melodies of the V. M. I. Commanders. The music of the commanders was employed by those who attended the Fall Cotillion and thus they offer a big attraction to the Pan-Hel Dance.

All you sorority girls will get a chance to dance a whole dance with your "one and only" without fear of interruption, for each sorority has chosen a song which is to be their no-break dance.

To make the dance even more exciting, if this can be, the decorations are being kept as a grand surprise so there will be many "Ohs" and "Ahs" when the dancers enter the gym. Before the decorations are beheld the guests will be greeted by a receiving line composed of the sponsors of the eight sororities, the Pan-Hellenic adviser, Miss Cogbill, Miss Mary and Sarah Hayes, President of Pan Hel. As usual, Mr. "Mac" and Mr. Holton will be on the door.

Fraternity Meet

Continued from Page 1

Personality Through Service in Kappa Delta Pi", "Stimulating Chapter Activities", and "Pledge Periods for Training and Selection".

In the afternoon, the delegates visited Mount Vernon and attended a tea at Wilson College.

Farmville delegates spent Saturday night and Sunday sightseeing in Washington.

Last year Kappa Delta Pi's regional conference was held in Farmville.

Music School Will Broadcast

Twelve pupils of Miss Elsie Carter and Miss Mattie Spencer Willis of the Schemmel Conservatory will broadcast over WRVA Saturday, April 29 at 4:30.

Catherine Bodine, Katherine Burge, and Sarah Chambers, who are pupils of Miss Carter, will render piano solos.

Edwin Cralle, Sarah Canada Glove and Helen Hoyer, pupils of Miss Willis, are to sing solo selections, and group composed of Betty Shumate, Virginia Howell, Mae Desaix, Charlotte Morton, Betsy Austin, Frances Hoback, and Frankie Munford will also take part.

Y. W. C. A.

Continued from Page 1

Charles S. Johnson, of Fiske, impressed me the most of all."

"There was a Youth Panel one night and one night we sang folk songs. We hired a cab with a driver who drove slowly and carefully because he had expected us to be old women, sight-seeing, they told us. The four colleges in Nashville and the homes were beautiful."

The class bell put an end to their ravings; so for further information see Helen or Ollie Graham. They can go on indefinitely.

University Glee Club Is Main Attraction----Temporarily

Can anyone enlighten those of us who may be in doubt as to the reason why Hampden - Sydney mysteriously faded into the background as far as S. T. C. damsels were concerned last Tuesday, April 8? Could it possibly have been due to the sudden arrival of a number of handsome and attractive students from the University of Virginia? This seems a bit plausible at least to a certain onlooker.

With the help of "do you know"? and other aids to conversation it was quite obvious that members of our fair sex were quivive to strike up, so to speak, fairly amiable acquaintances with the U. Va. lads. One could hardly say that ours is not an extremely cordial and hospitable assemblage, for the campus and sidewalks, to say nothing of Shannon's, were literally swarming with strolling groups curious to know about certain aspects of the college and were consequently cheerfully instructed on such subjects.

This particular onlooker feels that a certain look of kindness in one's eye can be easily detected, meaning—well, it was this way in conversation. I shall call the girl Ruth who happened at the time to be standing by the wall in front of Student Building. Up walks Tom—that's a good sounding collegiate name—whose voice as he speaks oddly signifies a lonely state of mind—"Will you please talk to me? (He must have meant "listen to me.") I feel awfully strange around so many girls and I've been trying to round up all the boys for dinner. They all seem to have disappeared suddenly." It was a nice declaration for a beginning, to say the least, and I can assure you that from that point all went well.

Indeed before their stay was ended with much free harmony ringing out in the warm night air across the campus after the concert, their well-sung Alma Mater took on a different meaning for S. T. C. girls who suddenly had a strange warm attraction in their hearts for it. And too, from all reports, the temporary addition to our campus had surging regrets or having to leave so soon.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.
Wed. and Thurs., April 26-27
Jeannette MacDonald
Lew Ayres—Ian Hunter
"Broadway Serenade"
"Story of Alfred Nobel"
Friday-Sat., April 28-29
Errol Flynn
OLIVIA DeHAVILLAND
ANN SHERIDAN
"DODGE CITY"
Latest News Events
Next Mon.-Tues., May 1-2
Mickey Rooney
Lewis Stone--Cecelia Parker
'The Hardys Ride High'
Benchley Comedy News

SMART! INEXPENSIVE!
MAN TAILORED SUITS!
Cool, comfortable of Shark Skin material
Sizes 12 to 20. Pastel colors $2.98
THE HUB DEPT. STORE
Charge Accounts Solicited

SOUTH SEA ISLAND SANDALS
Bright new colors can be worn with any color sports outfit
Sizes 3 to 8 $2.25
dorothy may
Charge it if you like

WORLD'S PLEASURE

Chesterfield
...the RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos ...they're MILDER and TASTE BETTER

At the New York World's Fair
... Captain NANCY LOWRY and her Guides will show millions their way around.

And at the Fair... or wherever you go... Chesterfield's right combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos is showing millions the way to more smoking pleasure.

When you try them you'll know why Chesterfields give smokers just what they want in a cigarette... more refreshing mildness ... better taste... more pleasing aroma. THEY SATISFY

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

missing: pages 3-4, Nov. 15, 1939

Library

State Teachers College
Farmville, Virginia

The Rotunda

VOLUME XVIII — FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 1939 — No. 26

A. K. G. Recognizes Three Students As Leaders

Bryan, Lybrook And Wise Are Tapped in Chapel

Frances Bryan, Johnny Lybrook and Eliza Wise were tapped into Alpha Kappa Gamma, national fraternity recognizing leadership among women, before the entire student body at its chapel period this morning, May 3. The 27 members of Alpha Kappa Gamma, dressed in caps and gowns, stood on the stage while a sponsor for the newly-bid member descended the stairs and, gavel in hand, tapped and brought up for recognition the new member.

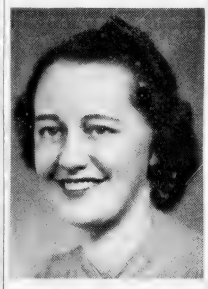
"Frankie" Bryan, a senior from Crewe, has been outstanding in music activities since her entrance here. She has been a member of the choir and choral club all four years and president of the choir this year. She has also directed the Junior A Capella choir. Last year she headed the Pan Hellenic Council and last fall was elected Mardi Gras queen.

Johnny Lybrook, a junior from Fincastle, has recently been elected editor of "The Colonnade" literary quarterly, and was business manager last year. She has been outstanding in class activities and a regular columnist on "The Rotunda".

"Liza" Wise, a junior from Hampton, has been chairman of "Sing" for two years. She has been a leader in her class, being elected to the vice-presidency this year and for next year. She will also be treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. for her senior year.

Sophs Begin Plans For Graduation

Pamplin, Prophet; Leake, Historian



The graduating sophomores of '39 elected Norma Pamplin class prophet and Anne Leake class historian at a meeting on April 25. Jean Terrell was elected class poet.

Jane Porter Shepherd, Anne Benton, and Jane Jackson were chosen to plan the theme for class day. In charge of writing the song are Jane Jackson, Jean Terrell and Anne Bradner.

Doris Trimyer, Maude McChesney and Evelyn Timberlake will serve as the committee to decide upon the gift for the school. Mildred Perdue, Faye Brandon and Jane Porter Shepherd are in charge of the gifts for the students.

Farmville Pi Kappa Delta Delegates

Pattie Bounds (above), Lorana Moomaw (below), who won a first place in the convention finals. See story on page 3.

Get Out of Town
On Trucks for Dell

Signing up, waiting on the back porch for the truck, then riding to the Longwood dell is fun—on a nice sunny day, when it's warm and pretty. But let's look in on one of these expeditions of the last day or so.

A bunch of girls is waiting, patiently waiting, on the back porch when the truck finally chugs up. But only a few of them can pile on because the old thing is broken; so several brave souls set out on foot, while others take up waiting where they laid off. There were cars to come for them in a few minutes.

Later they all are gathered in the lovely place of airy dancing. "Honest, my feet are so numb I can't wiggle a toe!" wails one of the fairies. Well, don't step on mine—I just danced on a rock as big as the Rock of Gibraltar," retorts a poor elf, hopping about

Continued on Page 6

Eight Seniors
Gain Recognition
As Personalities

Vera Ebel, Katherine Roberts, Marguerite Blackwell, Sarah Button, Miriam Ficklen, Charlotte Minton, Virginia Carroll and Virginia Whitehead Smith were chosen by the student body as the eight most outstanding leaders for 1939. These girls' pictures appear in the feature section of the new Virginian.

Vera is president of the Senior Class and Kitty, Marguerite, Sarah and Jenny are retiring presidents of the Student Council, House Council, Y. W., and A. A., respectively. Miriam edited the annual, Charlotte headed Alpha Kappa Gamma, and Virginia Whitehead won her place as a rounded personality in many fields of school work.

Dramatic Club Elects Stephens As President

Other Officers, Department Heads Also Chosen

Shirley Stephens of Norfolk was elected president of the Dramatic Club at the regular meeting Wednesday, April 26. Other officers elected at that time were vice-president, Lillian Wahab; secretary, Margaret Wright treasurer and business manager, Mary Walker Mitchell.

Shirley has been an active worker in the Dramatic Club besides being a member of Pi Gamma Mu and the Cotillion Club and manager of tennis. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority.

Departmental heads elected at the same time were: acting, Marion Heard; costuming, Anna Maxey; lighting, Helen Jeffries; staging, Hazelwood Burbank; property, Sudie Dunton; make-up, Myra Smith; music, Jerry Hatcher. Blair Goode was elected first assistant in the make-up department and Elizabeth Burdy was elected housekeeper. Florence Lee will be publicity chairman. Chairman of the play contest will be Patsy Smith.

Retiring officers of the Dramatic Club are Frances Hutcheson, president; Frances Alvis, vice-president and chairman of play contest; Sara Melba Beale, secretary; Elizabeth George Wilson, business manager and treasurer; Jean Taylor, lighting; Alpha Lee Garnett acting group head; Betty Moss, costuming; Mabel Burton, make-up; Virginia Simmons, properties.

Annual Editor Announces Staff

Isabel Williamson, editor of the 1940 "Virginian", has announced her staff for next year. Kaki Peery and Martha McCorkle are the associate editors. Jane Jackson, literary editor, will be assisted by May Wertz, Caroline Eason and Jane McGinnis. Perrye Smith is art editor with Dorothy Rollins assisting.

Nancy Moss succeeds Margaret Stallard as photographic editor and Anne Ayres will aid.

Sally Dunlap, the new business manager of the annual, heads the business staff, and her staff includes Dorothy Perkins, assistant business manager; and Sue Dunlap and Betty Lucy, typists.

Next fall a junior staff will be selected from tryouts in the freshman and sophomore classes which will aid the major staff and will train girls to carry on the work. Kaki Peery and Martha McCorkle will be in charge of this project.

Anticipation is Great As May Day Approaches

Theresa Graff of Roanoke, who will reign as Farmville's Queen of May at the exercises May 6. She is also general chairman of the event.

Student Body Sponsors; Five Of Faculty Advise

Light and graceful figures, gay colors, impish elves, and a stately court are all a part of the annual May Day exercises to be held at 5 p. m. May 6, in the dell of Longwood estate, one mile from Farmville.

Spenser's "Faerie Queen" will be the theme for this program which was planned and adapted for presentation by Helen Reiff.

Essie Millner, who is in charge of the dancing for May Day, appointed the heads for the dances. They are Katherine Newman, court of pride; Chlotilde Jarman, mist; Virginia Howell, fairies; Anne Billups, may pole; Jane Potter Shepherd, headsmen; Essie Millner, woods of error.

The costumes are under the direction of Helen Greene with the help of the Home Economics Department.

Jane Hardy, music chairman, has on her committee Jerry Hatcher, May Wertz, and Crews Borden.

The court dance is under the supervision of Sara Keesee. Mildred Gentry has properties, and Mildred Morris is assisting her.

Camille Nelson, transportation chairman, has appointed Ollie Graham Gilchrist, Anna Johnson, Jane Jones, Frances Hudgins and Louise Ewell to help her.

Anne Kelly is responsible for

Continued on Page 6

Music Students Broadcast

Sarah Chambers' Selection Recorded

Schemmel Conservatory of Music, under the direction of Miss Mattie Spencer Willis and Miss Elsie Lee Carter, broadcast over station WRVA in Richmond, April 29, at four thirty o'clock. Farmville S. T.C. girls who are pupils of music at the conservatory were on the broadcast program which included "Thine Eyes to the Mountains" by Sarah Canad Glover, rendered by a chorus composed of Frances Munford, Frances Hoback, Charlotte Morton, Marguerite Russ, Mae Desaix, Lillian Beech, Betty Shumate, Norma Lee Rippard, Edna Simkins, Billy Lee, Sarah Chambers and Virginia Howell. "In a Monastery Garden", a piano solo, was given by K. Burge; "Carisima", a vocal solo, by Helen Hoyer; "Prelude in C Minor," a piano solo by Catherine Bodine; "Il Bacio," a vocal solo by Sarah Canada Glover; "Polichinelli", a piano solo by Sarah Chambers; and "None But the Lonely Heart", a vocal solo by Edwin Cralle. The piano solo of Sarah Chambers was recorded.

Harden Heads Latin Organization

Marion Harden was elected president of Sigma Pi Rho, honor fraternity in Latin. Marion will succeed Carmen Clark who was not only president of the local chapter, but also national president.

Sally Dunlap will fill the position of vice-president formerly held by Marguerite Blackwell, and Beulah Ettenger will take over the duties of Catherine Pilcher as secretary. Beulah is also national historian which includes the editorship of "The Tributum", the national publication which originated at Farmville and will continue to be published here.

New Campus League

Includes Members From Each Class

Caroline Eason, new Campus League Chairman, has announced next year's league. Class representatives to the league are Louise Allen and Mary Louise Cunningham, seniors; Bert McLaughlin and Nancy Fulton, juniors; Carolyn Harvey and Polly Keller, sophomores. The freshmen representatives will be chosen in the fall of next year.

The representatives from each class are appointed by the chairman of the Campus League with the help of the President of the Student Body and the Head of the Home.

Duties of the Campus League are to maintain the support and co-operation of all students in regard to the appearance of the college and campus conduct.

Lybrook Chooses Colonnade Staff

Senior Issue Due June 1

Johnny Lybrook, new editor of the Colonnade the college magazine has announced her staff for the coming year.

Helen Reiff will be literary editor with Allene Overbey as her assistant. Bess Windham is poetry editor; Theodosia McKenzie, art editor; Catherine Radspinner, assistant art editor; and Helen Jeffries, book review editor.

Jane Rosenberger was selected business manager of the publication about a month ago.

The spring edition of the Colonnade will be out by May 1 and the senior edition by June 1. All seniors are urged to write for this latter issue. Johnny announced that most short stroies are necessary to complete the senior edition.

Winchester and Apple Blossom Fete Surpass Even Cinderella

"It was marvelous!" were the first words of Apple Blossom Princess Alpha Lee Garnett, as she dutifully returned to the humdrum of school after her royal week-end.

"Everything was lovely, people were wonderful to us, and, oh . . . , but I suppose I had better begin at the beginning . . .! On Thursday afternoon the queen was crowned in an impressive and beautiful ceremony at Handley High School by Governor Price. Miss Garner was so naive and young that you simply loved her," added Alpha Lee reminiscently. "The pageant was particularly beautiful, the theme being the charming and picturesque stories of 'Mother Goose' — 'Humpty Dumpty', and 'Little Miss Muffet' included. The costumes were lovely and the ceremony very effective."

"Oh, you want to know about our dresses? Well, they were of pink net with bouffant skirts, and we carriet huge bonnets of fragrant spring flowers and wore big pink picture hats with chiffon ribbons. The whole pastel color scheme fitted in with the theme of the Apple Blossom Festival."

"Then," she continued, "Thursday night the regal ball was held. The V. M. I. escorts led the princesses through the figure and presented them to the queen, after which the queen and her partner opened the ball. After the queen's dance the two maids of honor took the floor, then the princesses, one by one, until the dancing became universal and the ball was officially started. Ben Bernie and Tommy Tucker played," Alpha Lee remembered ecstatically, "and Bob Hope was there . . . more fun. What a night for a diary!

"The next day we witnessed the parade, and we were treated royally! Two police escorts were there

Continued on Page 5

Una, Fairest Queen of all Gives Heart to Red Cross Knight

When the beautiful fantasy of "The Fairie Queen" unfolds before your eyes on May Day, you will see a story enacted that once burned bright in the mind of one of Elizabethan England's brilliant romantic poets. With a deep British loyalty, Edmund Spenser loved his queen and his country and, as a glorification of this emotion, he began to fashion his great allegory. To the work he lent his whole romantic spirit, the keenness of his sensitive mind. A deeply serious, delightfully romantic story evolved which, being an allegory, has a two-fold purpose. The superficial one, in this case, is one of a fairy-like romance colored with adventure and ultimate happiness. To this delightful superficial story, May Day adapts itself, forsaking allegory for romance.

Long, long ago in the land of mystic people, there lived a handsome Christian Knight of the Red Cross. With his adventure our story deals . . . with chivalry and knighthood, fairyland and elves, mysticism and beauty.

The lovely Una walks one day in the forest. Little knowing that it is the "Woods of Erorr", she is surprised and terrified when they close in on her, bewildered and suffocating her with their mad dance. She struggles and falls in fear. The Red Cross Knight enters and strides through the woods, dispersing them gradually until he reaches and rescues Una, offering her his magic sword as he kneels at her feet. They are about to escape together when Arcemago (hypocrisy) enters and begins a dance of mystic lure to charm away the Christian Knight from his newly found Truth. Aiding him is the scarlet clad Duessa whose witching wiles soon decide

Continued on Page 5

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistants—Elizabeth West, Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
eature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Socials Editor ..... Shirley Stephens
Socials Assistant ..... Everly Byrd Hutcheson
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Cailis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Anna Johnson, Theodosia McKenzie, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickeral, Helen Reiff, Janelle Shelor, Edna Strong, Dell Warren, Lucy Turnbull.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants — Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Beverly Blair, Helen Briggs, Josa Carlcton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralle Nelson, Mary Allen Peters, Frances Pope, Jane Rosenberger, Mary Sue Simmons, Kathryn Watkins.

Typists

Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Betsy Briggs, Anne Bruce, Elizabeth Bundy, Dorothy Lee Harrison, Frances Pritchett, Dorothy Smith, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Sue Wohlford.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 1939

Keep Off Grass

"Come on now and have a heart
The time has come to do your part.
When across the campus you must pass—
Remember! Don't step on the grass!"

This should sound very familiar for we have been hearing such rhymes for a week. Just as every small town has its "clean up week," its "cat extermination week," so must S. T. C. have its "Do not walk on the green grass week"—Naturally the tall brick buildings with their stately white columns and the shrubs that are particularly beautiful at this time of the year are a big attraction. And yet in the midst of natural surroundings it is the unusually ugly elements that "hit you in the face." Ugly spots around school are at present several bare un-grassy areas on the front campus. They are paths that have been made by thoughtless and continuous trampling.

A college campus is surely for the students, but our first interest and pride in it comes in the beauty it adds to the college as a whole. After the winter months the grass needs to be allowed to get back to its best condition. This can be done if we use the sidewalks and give the grass a chance to grow.

Thanks to Alpha Kappa Gamma those tender green sprouts around our campus have had a glorious week in which they could burst forth in all their emerald glory undisturbed.

We don't know how "long" the grass will grow, but we're "pulling" for it because—
"We want our campus to look nice and neat
So remember the sidewalk is for your feet.
Those blades of grass will grow quite fast
If we remember—
Keep off the grass."

SENIOR PERSONALITIES

MIRIAM FICKLEN

A sheaf of shining black hair encircled by braids, dark eyes that are pools of depth and interest, a tall, slender figure of graceful carriage—in walks Miriam Ficklen. We are at once struck with her poise, her ease in every situation. Yes, dignity and charm and Miriam are one.

Miriam was "born and bred" in "Gawga" as we soon guess when he hear that "southern drawl". She comes from a long line of ministers—grandpapa a minister, papa a minister, brother, etc. So we can understand her sincere and high ideals, her calmness and graciousness.

Ever heard Miriam speak of Melicie, the negro mammy who tended her when she was a little girl with long, black curls? Well, Melicie, we gather, is the traditional dark one reads about who has lived in the memory of "Missy Mirrum" lo these many years. Melisie's coming up for graduation to see her "honeychile graduate"; so watch for her. She's Miriam's pride and joy.

Neat and trim to the nth degree, always exacting, scornful of anything that is half done are phrases descriptive of Miriam. In home economics, her chosen field, we see this thoroughness and efficiency illustrated. And don't tell us it hasn't its reward, for Miriam's already landed a job for next fall.

As annual editor Miriam has gone about her job inconspicuously, but conscientiously and effectively. For proof of the good work she's made of it, we refer you to the 1939 Virginian.

The spirit of wholehearted cooperation in any college activities make us remember her as a school spirited citizen, and as delightful company.

May your sincerity, dignity, and charm always surround you and your gracious personality.

Books in Review

"Harp of the South", By Virginia Pettigrew Clare. With frontispiece and illustrations. 96pp. Oglethorpe University: Oglethorpe University Press. $1.50.

Of Henry Timrod, the South Carolina poet, so little material had been brought to light before 1936, that William Henry Trescott seemed justified in saying that his life could be summed up in one sentence—"He was born, wrote these poems, and died." In "Harp of the South", however, Virginia Pettigrew Clare has given a full length portrait of the poet. He, in spite of his short and comparatively uneventful life, was, as she proves, "a fascinating and pathetic figure, deeply affected by the charm of conventional antebellum Charleston . . . and by the upheaval of the Confederate war and its aftermath." From many unpublished sources she has painstakingly gathered hitherto unknown facts; she has assembled them together with the meager knowledge previously available in published sketches, in a readable and interesting biography. Mrs. Clare merits praise as a discoverer of new material, but even more her book should be warmly welcomed because of the happy style she has chosen for her narrative. So skillfully has she made quotations from old letters, diaries, almanacs, newspapers, carry the life story forward that the reader feels he has been seeing and hearing the poet and his family rather than reading about them. He has lived with them in poverty, in the devastation of war, illness and death, but he has likewise caught in some measure the exaltation of the poet's spirit. "Harp of the South" is indeed almost as much autobiography as it is biography—an admirable and convincing piece of portraiture.

Mary Clay Hiner

Local Color

There's That Bell

Hey! Is that the bell for breakfast?
Oh, my gosh! What will I do?
We just can't be late again, Nan!
Where the heck's my other shoe?

Listen! There's that dog-gone class bell!
Oh, where can my pencil be?
Where's my book? Aw, gosh all hemlock—
How I'll get there, I don't see!
Well, Nan, there's the bell for chapel.
We would sit on the front row—
Can't be late a single minute.
Hurry up! We've got to go.

Say, Nan, tell me—what time is it?
Won't that lunch bell ever ring?
I'm as hungry as a jail-bird—
Honest, I'd eat anything!

What, Nan?—It can't be 10:30!
I've just got to finish these—
Oh, here comes the hall president
May we have light permission, please?

Open Forum

Dear Editor,

We've been hearing that Dr. Jarman will attend May Day and shortly, thereafter, he will return to school—that means that there'll be a sunny smile to greet us in chapel. And to make that smile sunnier, why don't we, the Student Body, begin practicing marching out of the auditorium the way he like us to do?

Since Dr. Jarman has been away, everyone has been rushing out, causing confusion at the doors.

Nothing makes him happier than to see "his girls" march out in a civilized way. Let's show him, shall we?

Two Sophomores

Bits o' Barter

The U. S. M. A. "Pointer", in a poll concerning corps drags asks, "What do you want most in the femme you marry?" The 'Ladies Home Journal" answers with a corresponding poll and gets "Companionship!"—64 per cent!

Milwaukee State Teachers College is organizing a class for coeds who are 20 per cent or more over weight, while Ohio State University co-eds have organized a personal appearance clinic to teach correct dress and make-up. Here's to more beauty!

Between forty and fifty United States colleges are offered for sale each year.

Thank You Mr. Moto

1. Keep that fool girl complexion.
2. Reaching for the ceiling still indicates that someone is going to be carried out.
3. We know a married couple who are just two minds without a single thought.

—Annapolis "Log"

Bob Benchley gets first honors for the shortest exam answer. Question: Which of Shakespeare's plays would you rather see enacted, "Hamlet" or "Macbeth" and why? Answer "a la Benchley": "Hamlet"—I've already seen "Macbeth"!

Conscience is that inner voice in a woman that warns her someone is looking.

—Annapolis "Log"

A danca
A data
Perchanca
Out lata
A classa
A quizza
No passa
Gee whizza!

Echoes From an Empty Space

Did I hear someone say that spring was in the air? Did everyone see—"Heart-throb-Lashley" paying tribute to petite Pettis . . . Wentz dating Alec Jones the night of Sunday the 24th. Where was May? . . . the little brunette whose heart pounds when she spies Bill Traylor . . . Jackie Window on campus sobbing over her love affairs . . . Frances Williams waiting on the sun-roof for her Sunday meal (courtesy of Bobby Trice and his airplane) . . . Beedie Townsend's eyes when she speaks of Jimmy Walker. An love thay Ward and Emmett Chi Phi Hoy . . . Buck Thompson's shattered dream when her V. P. I. man "regretted" Pan Hels. But wait! He arrived at noon Friday! . . . Speaking of V. P. I.—how about Marse Nimmo and Lymon sigh, sigh) . . .

Latest on the Pan-Hel Dance . . . Snakes, Bunting snaking Doc Richards . . . Dee walked in calmly with Bill Adams courtesy of Manson . . . Spooks" ditto with Booty Shelton . . . Dibby's and Mary Jackson's quarrel over one poor defenseless lad . . . Two "campus-kids" rushing Happy. No one knows who was snaking who in that case . . . E Byrd losing Wright Noble to Jean Upshur . . . and how about Jane Lee Hutcheson's case?

And who could possibly have missed:

Patty Bounds taking over the whole Wake Forest debate team . . . with the exception of one that Boo the Barham got first? . . . Ed George and his very rude act of standing up Jane for Pan Hels? . . . Seems that Jeanne Hall was a bit taken aback with Goldie, the debater—isn't he Boo's man? . . . Louise Bryan leaving fifteen minutes after the dance started. No attraction Bryan? . . . Liggie Ellett sporting flowers and a hand-picked young man? By the way, just who paid for those flowers? . . . The list of dedications from V. M. I. H.-S. and the girls themselves ran into quite a number . . . One more crack out of "Ambling Adams" of the "Keydet" and we're gonna cream him . . . Among the floral decorations was a bunch of white roses pasted on Elsie Dodd's shoulder. From?—well, Freddie of course!

The sm-o-ooth dancer, Bobbie Wyatt, drug by Kat Reed . . . Charlotte Minton and Lyle Graham . . . and Dot Eades, her date was the local lad . . . Marie Utt and Helen McGuires' dedication was typical . . . Albert Carr asked about you, Shulkcum. He still remembers Thanksgiving . . . And who had the nerve to bring Robert Taylor? . . . I'll bet the Fran, Johnie, Kyle, Clara foursome had fun! . . .

And a most important item . . . Stallard and her brand new Phi Kappa Sigma pin! 'Cept now exactly what happens to Tommy, the Chi Phi? . . . And speaking of Stallard—did everyone hear that Sara M. Beale didn't know what Chi was? . . . She was afraid that Gov't. might see the Bonfire . . . With the coming of spring, Steed's heart lightly turns to the Virginia gentleman who has been haunting our fair campus lately . . . Kaki's friend knocking on doors in the Senior Building. Doesn't he know Kaki? . . . Among the notable powerhouses this week—Mimi collecting a frat pin from Bill Spencer just after Faison, the VPI Ring Figure Leader, left—And just why did she refuse Faison's miniature? . . . Peggy Williams had no qualms about taking one inscribed "To Peggy. Love, Billy!" . . . We leave Hoskins out of this classification intentionally . . . Last, but not least, the rising Miss Whelchel!

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

The most important part of Hitler's greatly awaited reply to Mr. Roosevelt's appeal for a ten-year assurance of peace to the world came, not in his direct answer to the President of the United States which filled the last half hour of his dramatic two hour and seventeen minute speech, but in the middle part when he responded to England's new policy.

The dictator took pains, as is his custom, to explain to the world his achievements. Defending his right to the Sudeten area of Czecho-Slovakia, Hitler said that the disruption of the remaining part of the little republic came only because it was an armed ally of Germany's potential enemies.

"The only demand I have ever made and shall continue to make on England is that for the return of our colonies," the Chancellor said. He referred to the Naval Pact signed by England and Germany in 1935—a gesture, the dictator insinuated, by which both nations more or less pledged themselves that the "warlike conflict between Germany and Great Britain was excluded for all times." Now that England considers war with Germany not an impossible thing, but rather the nation's principal problem in foreign affairs, Hitler said that the Pact had become null and void.

About Poland, the Chancellor said it was "perhaps the most painful of all problems for Germany. Danzig is a German city and wishes to belong to Germany", he said, continuing, revealed to the world the offer which had been made by Germany to the Polish government in regard to the city. The dictator said that Danzig would become a "free city" and Germany would build a "non-military corridor" through the Polish corridor to East Prussia. In return all Polish economic rights would be recognized, a free harbor there with free access to the sea would be assured plus the arrangement of a twenty-five year non-aggression pact. Mr. Hitler said the offer had been refused because of the "inventions of international press" which caused Poland mobilization and the signing of an alliance with Britain. Such actions had caused the German-Poland ten-year pact to become null and void, he stated.

The direct reply to the President of the United States was filled with sarcasm. He accused the press for the fear that exists all over the world today. If leaders of great nations can save the world from disaster, why then to the great nations continue to recall their ambassadors, he asked. He said that no nation in Europe had lost its independence by German invasion, but rather had been "returned to its own community." He said that America might have felt her 'friendship for mankind" in time to prevent the Versailles Treaty, which is the direct cause of the unrest in the world today because of the unjust way in which both Germany and Italy were treated at that time.

Hitler said that Germany had no intention of disarming unless the rest of the world will agree to do likewise. None of the thirty-one states mentioned by Roosevelt fear Germany (says Hitler!); but if a request for peace treaties should be made by them, Germany will agree to the signing of them.

The speech as a whole brought nothing we did not already know, but ascertained our belief that Hitler has a right to make such demands as he is making. He is not bluffing—and it is plain that the dictators of Europe agree that the United States should "tend to her own business."

Pi Kappa Delta Society Convenes Here For Annual Meeting

Bounds & Moomaw Are Again Victors In Forensic Bout

Marjorie Ellet Receives Second Impromptu Award

Lorana Moomaw and Pattie Bounds, Farmville representatives, captured first honors in forensic events at the Pi Kappa Delta convention held here last Friday and Saturday, April 28 and 29. Lorana took first place in after-dinner and Pattie first in problem solving. Marjorie Ellett, also of Farmville, placed second highest in women's impromptus.

Farmville girls taking part in other contests at the convention were: Caralie Nelson, impromptus; Frances Holloway, Pattie Bounds, problem solving; Mary Rice, Frances Holloway, and Pattie Aiston Bounds, extemps Marie Allen, Frances Holloway, Pattie Bounds, Lorana Moomaw, debating.

At the recent Grand Eastern Forensic tournament held at Winthrop on April 12-15, Lorana was proclaimed Grand Eastern winner of the Radio Announcing contest and Pattie, Grand Eastern winner of the Problem Solving contest.

The convention held here was under the general chairmanship of Florence Bress and she was assisted by Virginia Howell, Marie Allen, Elizabeth Ann Parker, Beatrice Bland, Elizabeth Scales, Harriet Walker, Pattie Bounds, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Marguerite Snell, Mary Rice, Elizabeth Billups, Thelma Courtney and Marguerite Russ.

Debate Coach

Dr. James Elliott Walmsley, who heads forensic activities at S. T. C., Farmville.

Chindahl, Worrell Extempts Champs

Contestants Draw For Topics

Gene Worrell of Wake Forest and Marjorie Chindhal of Rollins were first place winners in the extemporaneous speaking finals which took place at 11:30 Saturday April 29. Harmon Harper of Stetson and Mildred Lawrimore of Winthrop placed second.

Contestants drew for their topics and were given two hours for preparation. Preliminaries were held at 9:00 P. M. Friday night. All topics were in connection with the world's political situation.

Those entering extempts were Gene Worrell and Bedford W. Black of Wake Forest; Joel Herren of Lenoir Rhyne; Mary Rice, Frances Holloway, and Pattie Bounds of Farmville; Tucker Irvin, George Staples, and Dugald Hudson of Presbyterian College; J. F Scoggin of Mississippi State College; J. S. Vandever of Millsaps; Leroy New and Harmon Harper of Stetson; Mildred Lawrimore of Winthrop; Marjorie Chindahl of Rollins, and Annie Mae Paulk of Alabama.

Judges for the extemporaries were Mr. Taylor Thompson of Farmville; Mr. Zon Robinson of Wake Forest; Mr. Paul Ramsey of Millsaps; Dr. Warren Keith of Winthrop; Mr. J. H. Henning of Alamaba; and Dr. J. E. Walmsley of Farmville.

Clark & Bounds Solve Problem

Second Awards to Scoggins, Darby

Roy Clark of Millsaps and Pattie Bounds of Farmville gave the best solution in the problem solving contest held Friday, April 28 at 4:30. J. S. Scoggin of Mississippi State and Mary Darby of Winthrop captured second awards.

"The problem", stated one of the contestants, "was really a stumper." It read as follows. "Senator A will again be a candidate for Floor Leader of the United States Senate. Two years ago he was defeated for this position by the influence of the president because of opposition to the New Deal. In his own state there is a close fight for the governorship. Mr. B, who ran against Senator A three years ago in a bitter fight for the Senate is an opponent of the New Deal. Mr. C, who is opposing Mr. B, is, of course, in favor of the New Deal. Ex-Senator D, who is Senator A's most bitter personal enemy, is supporting Mr. C. What shall Senator A say to the people of his own state?" The contestants were given fifteen minutes to prepare a solution.

Those entering the contest were Bob Goldberg and Bedford W. Black of Wake Forest, Joel Herren of Lenoir Rhyne, Pattie Bounds and Frances Holloway of Farmville, Tucker Irvin of Presbyterian College, J. F. Scoggin of Mississippi State College, Roy Clark of Millsaps, Sidney Rubin of Stetson, Mary Darby of Winthrop, Edna Harmon of Rollins, and Annie Mae Paulk of Alabama.

The judges were Dr. Warren Keith of Winthrop and Dr. Albert Keiser of Lenoir Rhyne.

Convention Banquet

The Pi Kappa Delta banquet held at the Hotel Weyanoke Friday night, April 29, at six o'clock was a gala climax of the national convention held here April 28 and 29. The banquet was a formal occasion and was held in the downstairs banquet hall of the Hotel. The tables were colorfully decorated with spring flowers and candelabra.

Patty Bounds presided and gave an official welcome of the convention to Farmville on behalf of Dr. Jarman, who was ill and unable to attend, the faculty, the students, the Debate Club and Pi Kappa Delta.

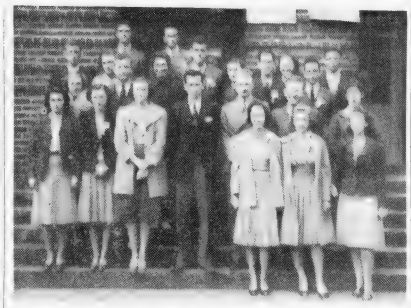
Weston Hatfield, Lenoir Rhyne College, was the first after-dinner speaker. Speaking on the subject of the provincial governor of this province of Pi Kappa Delta, he said, "I know nothing about the subject, so I am going to stand up and talk five minutes about something I know nothing about . . ."

"The governor should have several qualifications. First, he should be able to kiss babies . . . However, I don't think he should kiss the sophisticated type of baby I saw the other day. I was visiting a maternity ward. They have the babies two—a-row in the stalls on either side of the room. One baby said to his stall-mate, pointing across the aisle, 'I see they are engaged.' The other asked, 'How can you tell?' and received the reply, 'Well, she's wearing his pin!'"

The governor must know how to handle co-eds (and the present governor would seem very well qualified.) I overheard a co-ed here say she had a date and, that when some one kisses her, her nerves react violently. She asked the boy to whom she was talking what he would suggest. 'A nervous breakdown!' was the reply."

Marian Ezell of Winthrop was the second speaker of the evening. She also spoke on "Dr. Keith and the Province," which was the theme of all the speeches.

Gadi Lawton, first place winner in men's after-dinners, spoke next. His talk was a humorous take-off on the governor.



Lorana Moomaw, women's after-dinner winner, climaxed the program with words of praise for Dr. Keith, who was then called upon to respond.

The banqueteers disbanded in a babble of joyous voices.

After Dinner Notes

We have to be extremely careful about the opinions we express in this territorial meeting . . . We have a great province. It has grown and become nation-wide. It is like a college president . . . addressing an audience, who rocked back, patted his bay window, and said, "I have watched it grow from a very small thing to what it is today."

Winners

These received first and second place in the various oratory events.

Millsaps, Alabama Take First Honors In Debating

Every School Enters Contest

J. P. Field and Roy Clark of Millsaps College, and Annie Mae Poulk, Mallie Knight, Sarah Peck Weaver and Mary Grace Orr, of Alabama College, tieing for first place, won highest honors in men women's debating, respectively, as a result of the finals held Saturday, April 29.

The debaters spoke on the national Pi Kappa Delta question, "Resolved: That the United States Should Cease Spending Public Funds (including credits) for the Purpose of Stimulating Business."

Five rounds in men's debating and four in women's debating were contested, each school competing in all rounds. The two having the highest rating at the end of the fourth round competed in the finals held immediately after the business session, Saturday afternoon.

Participants in women's debating were Frances Holloway and Marie Allen, Farmville; Annie Mae Poulk, Mallie Knight, Alabama; who argued the affirmative of the question. Negative upholders were Pattie Bounds and Lorana Moomaw, Farmville; and Sarah Peck Weaver and Mary Grace Orr, Alabama. Teams participating in both the affirmative and negative were Edna Harmon and Marjorie Chindahl, Rollins; Mary Darby and Edith Bedenbaugh, Winthrop.

Men's debating was represented on the affirmative by George Staples and Dugald Hudson, Presbyterian College; J. O. Jones and J. O. Mayo, Mississippi State; J. S. Vandener and Donald O'Conner, Millsaps; Ralph Brumet and Gene Worrell, Wake Forest; and Vance Graham and Harmon Harper, Stetson.

On the negative were Tom Davis and Bob Goldberg, Wake Forest; Tucker Irvin and Dugald Hudson, Presbyterian College; J. F. Scoggin, and Curtis Adams, Mississippi State; J. P. Field and Roy Clark, Millsaps; Gadi Lawton and Sidney Rubin, Stetson.

Wetson Hatfield and Joel Herren represented Lenoir Rhyne College for both the affirmative and negative.

Place First In Oratory Hudson, Sandlin

Worrell, Ezell Capture 2nd Place

Dugald Hudson of Presbyterian College, Clinton, South Carolina, and Carolin Sandlin of Rollins College, Florida, placed first in men and women's oratory respectively, in the contests held Friday morning at 8:30 in the Y. W. Lounge. Hudson's subject for oration was "Youth and Military Training" and Carolin spoke on "Wrong Made Right".

Those who entered the contests were Dugald Hudson, Gene Worrell of Wake Forest College, who talked on "Liberty That Enslaves" and Robert Lado of Rollins College, Florida, whose subject was "Shall Liberty Survive?"

There were only two entries in the Women's oratory, the other being Marian Ezell of Winthrop College. Rock Hill, S. C., whose subject was "Peace".

Judges for the men's oratory were Mr. Raymond French of the Farmville S. T. C. faculty, Dr. Warren Keith of Winthrop College and the Rev. Campbell Tucker of Farmville.

Moomaw, Lawton Win After Dinners

Lorana Moomaw of Farmville, and Marian Ezell of Winthrop, placed first and second respectively, in the women's after-dinners contest and Gadi Lawton of Stetson, and Weston Hatfield of Lenoir Rhyne in men's after-dinners. The contest was held Friday, April 28, at 12 o'clock.

Entering the event were Marian Ezell of Winthrop who spoke on "A Sigh for Every Occasion"; Lorana Moomaw of Farmville, "What does 'Keep off the Grass' mean?"; Tom Davis of Wake Forest, "If I Were in Debt Forty Billion Dollars"; Donald O'Connor of Millsaps, "The Backseat Driver"; Gadi Lawton of Stetson, "The Waiter's Idea of After-dinner Speeches"; Robert Lado of Rollins, "The Reaction to the warning 'Wet Paint'"; Dugald Hudson of Presbyterian College, "Blind Dating"; Curtis Adams of Mississippi State, "My Coach"; and Weston Hatfield of Lenoir Rhyne, "Flat Tires".

The contestants drew for their topics and were given two hours to prepare them.

Dr. W. G. Keith Is Pi Kappa Delta Leader

10 Colleges Meet For Convention At Farmville

Dr Warren G. Keith of Winthrop College, S. C., who was appointed last fall by the national president to fill the unexpired term of Dr. A. B. Hoskins of Asheville Normal, North Carolina, was elected Governor of the South Atlantic Province of Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic society, at the business meeting of the convention held at Farmville S. T. C. on April 28 and 29.

Dr. Keith is head of the department of history and the social sciences at Winthrop College. He completed undergraduate work at the University of Richmond and received his master of arts degree at the University of Virginia. In 1925 he succeeded Dr. J. E. Walmsley of S. T. C., Farmville, to the position. He was chairman of the committee to direct the student congress at the national convention held last year at Topeka, Kansas. This year he was chairman of the committee to select the national subject for debates.

Dr. Brackin, coach at Mississippi State College was unanimously reelected secretary.

A list of colleges requesting admission to Pi Kappa Delta was then presented by the secretary to the group for discussion. It was decided that all eligible colleges be granted membership. Colleges in Virginia seeking admission were Mary Washington College at Fredericksburg, Madison College in Harrisonburg, William and Mary College and Washington and Lee University. Up until this time Farmville has been the only Virginia chapter.

The delegates, according to the ten colleges represented at the convention were Winthrop College in Rock Hill, S. C., Mary Darby, Marian Ezell, Edith Bedenbough, Mildred Lawrimore, and Coach Dr. Keith; Wake Forest College in Wake Forest, N. C., Ralph Brumet, Gene Worrell, Bob Goldberg, Tom Davis, Bedford W. Black, and Coach Zon Robinson; Lenoir Rhyne College at Hickery, N. C., Weston Hatfield, Joel Herren, and Coach Dr. Albert Keiser; Presbyterian College at Clinton, S. C., Dugald Hudson, George Staples, and Tucker Irvin; Mississippi State College, Jackson, Miss., James O. Jones, James O. Mayo, James F. Scoggin, Curtis Adams, and Coach Brackin; Millsaps College at Jackson, Miss.; J. S. Vandever, Donald O'Connor, J. P. Field, Roy Clark, and Coach Paul Ramsey, Stetson University at DeLand, Florida, Gadi Lawton, Sidney Rubin, Vance Graham, Harman Harper, Leroy New and Coach, Hickman; Rollins College, Florida, Robert Lado, Edna Harman, Marjorie Chindahl, Carolin Sandlin and Coach Dr. H. R. Pierce; Alabama College at Montevallo, Alabama, Annie Mae Paulk, Mallie Knight, S. P. Weaver, Mary Grace Orr, and Coach G. H. Herring, and the delegates from Farmville.

N. C. Colleges Win Impromptus

Ralph Brumet of Wake Forest and Mildred Lawrimore of Winthrop took first place in Impromptu Finals held at 12:30 o'clock Saturday. Bedford W. Black also of Wake Forest and Marjorie Ellett of Farmville placed second.

In competing in impromptus, all contestants were given an editorial to read and prepare an answer. Fifteen minutes were allowed for preparation. Speakers were judged acording to their interpretations of the editorial and the material presented. The speaker's oratory and posture were considered also.

Contestants for Impromptus were Ralph Brumet and Bedford

Continued on Page 5

An "I-Take-It-All-In" Gives Low-Down On Convention Personalities

By JACK COCK

If you had been wandering around Student Building last Friday and Saturday you would, no doubt, have run up against some unusual personalities. Remember? There was a Pi Kappa Delta convention going on, and despite debates, orations, extempts, after-dinners, and other types of public speaking, one still had time for just plain conversation. And as you know, conversation can be an enlightening method of obtaining knowledge.

Most of them were student delegates of course, and I'm coming to them, but there were also some coaches that could bear mentioning. For instance—

DR. WARREN G. KEITH

Ah, I thought you would sit up and take notice. If you didn't know him all you had to do was look for the man you couldn't see—because of the crowd around him. He's Head of the History and Social Science department at Winthrop College in South Carolina, and those girls down there say that you can't get through one of his classes without being a public speaker. I understand that his department is the largest at Winthrop. And did you know that he succeeded our own

DR. JAMES E. WALMSLEY

Yes sir. In 1925, Dr. Walmsley left Winthrop and came here, and he's been here ever since. Boy I'll bet they hated to lose him. Every time I heard "The Crowd Roar" over in Student Lounge, I would look around and there Dr. Walmsley was just finishing one of his witty remarks. And say, do you mind if I mix these coaches and students up a bit? After all that's the way they were at the convention, and I think that at this point we should compliment Dr. Walmsley on his coaching of president of the Debate Club, who came out first in Women's After-dinners, although I understand that right now she prefers making after-conventions speeches about the Wake Forest debater, who really seems to have what's called appeal and who, together with his colleague, took second place in debating against who talked fast and thought faster—the jitterbug debater, they called him. Anyway he talked faster than Bedford Black or should I say

LORANA MOOMAW

GENE WORRELL

ROY CLARK

BEDFORD W. BLACK

who calmly talked his way to second place in impromptus. While we're on the subject, let's not forget

BOB LADO

"The Spanish Cavalier" from Rollins with the "come hither" smile, who escaped being killed in Spain's civil war because he was an American citizen. Despite the fact that he has only been over here two and a half years (he was only six when he went to Spain and his parents spoke only Spanish) he speaks perfect English and for that he can thank his coach. Remember the one that would talk to you for a few minutes and then guess your name. And say, could he play the piano! Yes, sir, he's the one that started us all vocalizing at noon, Saturday.

DR. HARRY PIERCE

But it's all over now and all the interesting people have gone; and that means I'll have to go too. So long folks. Where am I going? Oh, somewhere to points south—Stetson, maybe—or Wake Forest or Rollins.

Pi Gamma Mu Chooses Officers

Chesnut, Mahone, Rosenberger, Pope, Are Heads

Doris Chesnut was elected president of Pi Gamma Mu, national honor organization in Social Sciences, at its meeting Tuesday night, May 2. Other officers elected at the same time are Mary Mahone, vice-president; Jane Rosenberger, secretary; and Frances Pope, treasurer. Doris and Mary were initiated into Pi Gamma Mu at its fall initiation, Jane and Frances in the spring. All have been active in Pi Gamma Mu and the social sciences as well as other school activities.

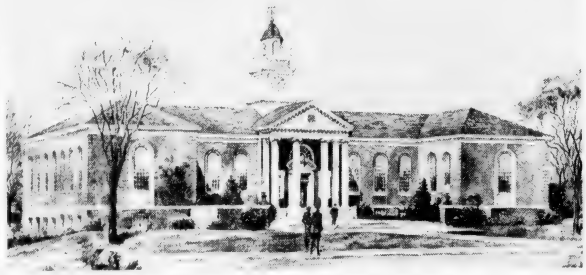
The retiring officers are: Florence Bress, president; Pattie Alston Bounds, vice-president; Virginia Yager, secretary; and Dorothy Buckland, treasurer.

Girls Are Guests Of Local D. A. R.

Democracy Is Topic Discussed

Pattie Bounds and Lorana Moomaw, S. T. C. girls prominent in forensic work, were the guests and principal speakers of the evening at the regular monthly meeting of the Farmville chapter of the D. A. R., which met April 27 at the home of Mrs. James Brumfield on Hampden-Sydney Road.

Pattie and Lorana used Democracy as their topic, Pattie speaking on its strengths, Lorana speaking on its weaknesses. At the conclusion of the formal talks, the meeting was turned into one of an "open forum" nature, the association members referring and discussing questions with the speakers.



This type project, that of speaking to organizations not necessarily affiliated with the college, was one of the Pi Kappa Delta plans for this year. The A. A. U. W. scheduled the speakers last summer. This school year, also, Mary Rice and Frances Holloway went to Blacksburg where they addressed the A. A. U. W.

Junior-Senior Prom Plans Go Forward

Jane Powell, president of the junior class, has announced the committee chairmen for the Junior-Senior prom which is to be held on June 3. They are general chairman, Helen Jeffries; music, Virginia Lee Pettis; decorations, Sue Owen and Chlotilde Jarman; floor committee, Shirley Stevens; figure, Ann Billups; and business, Sara Keesee. Evelyn Burford and Jane Rosenberger.

The figure will be led by Vera Ebel, senior class president. The orchestra has not been decided upon as yet, but will be announced later.

Farmville's New Library

The building is now being completed and is expected to be in use by next fall.

Choral Groups to Repeat Program

The college choir, the A Capella choir and the University of Virginia Glee Club will repeat the concert given in Farmville, on April 18, at Cabell Hall, the University of Virginia, on Tuesday evening, May 9. The concert is to be followed by a dance in honor of the Farmville choral groups.

Numbers to be sung by the Glee Club include Lvovsky's "Hospodi Pomilov", Edvard Grieg's "Landsighting", and the Bartholomew arrangements of "Night Bells" and "Old Man Noah".

The college choir will sing, among other things, Molette's "Lord's Prayer", and "Let Their Celestial Concerts All Unite" from Handel's "Samson".

Proceeds from the April 18 concert were turned over to the local committee for Jewish Relief in Germany.

The University Glee Club is under the direction of Mr. Harry Rogers Pratt. Mr. Alfred H. Strick is director of the choral groups at Farmville. The Junior A Capella chair is under the direction of Frances Bryan, and Forrestine Whittaker is in charge of the Junior Quartette.

The college choirs will leave Farmville for Charlottesville at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon, returning after the dance.

Mu Omega Banquet Is At Longwood

The annual spring banquet of Mu Omega sorority was held last Saturday night at Longwood.

The active members and Miss Wheeler, adviser, were present along with the new pledges, Bertha McLaughlin and Lillian Wabab, and the alumnae: Mrs. Margaret Hubbard Seeley, Miss Rena Robertson, Mrs. Margaret Thompkins Weiland, Miss Nellwyn Latimer, Miss Elizabeth Roberts, Miss Julia Mae Ramey, Miss Katherine Hurt, Mrs. Herlan Whitfield, State Alumnae President, and Miss Ruth Hill.

6 O'clock, All's Well
6:05, Maid Yells,
"Linen, Please"

The window rattled hopefully, the bell rang determinedly, the dynamo behind the mop banged every trunk and door with venomous vim, but still those Saturday morning slumberers dreamed on. That is, they dreamed on until suddenly, without warning, their barricade of closet doors was broken down, and in walked the maid covetously eyeing the sheets. This desire she made audible by an exaggerated cough and a harsh "Linen, please".

Her effort being so far in vain, she tried again. "I gotta have the sheets, please!" Still no movement. She hesitated, then with quick determination she grasped the sheet on the first girl's bed and pulled. She got it. Also the girl threw off her state of coma and half arose in an angry sleep dignity. "What on earth—has Hitler attacked or why can't I sleep?" Her roommate awoke at this point and with angry grumblings sat up and glared at the intruder. "I gotta have the linen", the maid reiterated, "and when you didn't put it out, I hadda come an' git it." She started toward the other bed. Its occupant drew herself up determinedly. "Now you just wait a minute. We put our sheets out last night, and if somebody's gotten cute with 'em we can't help it. Have you looked in the trash can at the end of the hall?" The maid dropped the sheet on the now lumpy and disrupted bed where it once had reposed smoothly. The girl in it flounced back beneath her bumpy covers and remarked philosophically after the maid's retreating back. "What's the use? The radiator knocks or someone's alarm clock goes off in our ears. Now it's sheets! It must be fate! Well. G'night."

A. S. A.'s Celebrate With Spring Banquet

Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority held its annual spring banquet at Longwood on Friday, April 20.

The banquet table was decorated with red and white flowers, the sorority colors. At each place there were place cards which were designed to illustrate the personality of each person present.

The program was arranged by Virginia Lee Pettis and Amy Powell. Toasts were given by Norma Pamplin, Nell Speight, Betty Lucy, Betty Fahr, Mary Mahone, and Frances Alvis.

Aside from the active chapter members others who were invited were Miss Grace Moran, Miss Carolyn Cogbill, Miss Grace Mix, Miss Mary Peck and Dr. James E. Walmsley.

A. S. T. Delegates Go To Luncheon

Miss Virginia Bedford, Miss Mary Nichols, LeNoir Hubbard, Marguerite Costello, Frances Carroll, and Bernice Copley left Friday, April 28, for Portsmouth. They were delegates from the Alpha Sigma Tau sorority at the Portsmouth Alumnae Luncheon which was held at Pine Tree Inn near Virginia Beach on Saturday, April 29.

S. T. C. Graduate Publishes Book

Sends Copy To Dr. Jarman

A copy of "Harp of the South", a recently published biography of Henry Timrod, the famous South Carolina poet, has been sent to Dr. J. L. Jarman, president, by its author, Virginia Pettigrew Clare.

As Virginia Pettigrew before her marriage, Mrs. Clare attended Farmville S. T. C. from September of 1927 to June of 1929. Later she attended Cornell University for her A. B. degree and Oglethorpe University where she received her M. A. degre. She is now living in Atlanta, Ga.

"Harp of the South", since its publication, has sold widely in the South and received the favorable comment of the southern literary-minded. The Oglethorpe University Press has said of the book: "Harp of the South" is for those who love old poems and old poets. The poetry is an infusion of gracious and ante-bellum Charleston and the flaring trumpets of the 'sixties'." The poet's life is a painting of the glowing period in which Henry Timrod, laureate of the Confederacy, lived."

A review of "Harp of the South" may be found on page 2 of this paper.

In the Land of Wee Folk

Tip-toeing down the long, creaky hall and down the narrow, dark steps, into what we think is just Miss Bedford's art room, at the twist of the light switch, we are transported into a veritable Lilliput! On one side there is a grocery store for extra-big Lilliputians, who have outgrown their own tiny city—they must be rather like our eight-foot giants. In this store there is a great variety of produce. Potatoes about the size of ping pong balls, eggs as large as medium-sized marbles, bananas that look like glorified snap-beans, tiny canned goods—all offered at regular retail prices.

About half a mile (ten feet) away is the most complete, pocket-sized town you ever want to see. This city boasts a handsome department store with tastefully arrayed windows; an inviting pharmacy; a cleaners' establishment; an imposing bank; a filling station with—sh-h! a ladies' restroom. The school and the hospital very cautiously put up "Quiet" and "careful" signs. The quiet little white church with its lovely stained-glass windows, is dear. Oh, and the flowers in the park are all in full bloom. Guess what's coming to the "Roxy" soon—"The Little Princess," starring Shirley Temple! Let's see if they'll let us monsters in! There are street lights along the sidewalks, too, and cars, trucks, and busses in the streets.

A model house will soon be ready for inspection.—I've already peeped into the kitchen, which is done in white and red, with dainty ruffled red-checked curtains, and spotlessly white fixtures. Maybe Puck will take his bride there after the honeymoon.

And all of these precious things are being made by the art students of our school! It's wonderful practice, I hear!

Music Convention in Roanoke Leaves School Delegate Elated

Elizabeth Glasgow returned to school Thursday elated over an enjoyable three-day stay in Roanoke where she was a part of the activities of the twentieth annual convention of the Virginia Federation of Music Clubs and the Virginia Music Teachers Association. The convention had headquarters at the Hotel Roanoke.

"Monday, April 24," Elizabeth stated, "was Junior Day; children from all parts of the state took part on the program. That night a Metropolitan Opera quartet gave a concert at the Academy of Music, and we atended a reception afterward at the home of Miss Virginia Shafer.

"Tuesday afternoon Dr. Edward Hughes gave a lceture recital at the hotel, his subject being "Beethoven.' This was followed by a tea given at 4 o'clock at the County Woman's Club by the Salem Music Club.

"Tuesday night was the highlight of the convention—the banquet. Immediately afterward there was a musical program at the hotel, at which time Wilson Angel sang and Eudice Shapiro gave violin solos. Both of these musicians have won state contests in their respective musical fields. After the musical program Mrs. George Hurt, president of the Virginian Federation of Music Clubs, introduced several people who have been outstanding in the organization. Then Mrs. Vincent Hilles Ober, national president, and Dr. Bessie Randolph, president of Hollins College, addressed the convention.

"Most of the business sessions were held Wednesday morning. At noon we attended the American Music luncheon, after which several soloists and the Madison College Glee Club sang.

"Wednesday afternoon the delegates attended a piano recital, given by Carime Hedgpath, director of music at Averett College, Danville; later a tea was given at Hollins College.

"Wednesday night there was a choral program at the Academy of Music, the program having been arranged by the directors of music at Madison College and Radford S. T. C.; the glee clubs of both schools and the choir of several Roanoke churches sang. Following this was a mass choral concert of all the federated groups; that chorus sang four numbers, including the 'Hallelujah Chorus' from Handel's 'Messiah', which I thought was the most beautiful selection rendered during the convention."

With other joyous remarks concerning the convention, our delegate concluded the interview.

Two of Faculty Take School Trips

Mr. "Charlie" French and Dr. Francis Simkins spent Monday and Tuesday in Hopewell, Waverly, Wakefield, Windsor, Ivor, Smithfield, Suffolk, Holland, Courtland, and Chuckatuck talking with high school seniors as prospective S. T. C. students. They also saw many recent Farmville graduates, including Elizabeth Morris, Mary Joyner Cox, Isabel Plummer, Sue Eastham, and Madeline McGlothlin, who are now teaching. Mr. French says that, though a more experienced teacher is usually given the office, Elizabeth Morris has been elected president of the Parent-Teacher Association in her county. She is the first teacher to be elected to this office who has not taught at least ten years.

Stick to Day Dreams And Visions, Prof. Warns

Dr. J. E. Walmsley talked to the freshman class April 25, at their regular class meeting in the auditorium. Miss Jane Royal, freshman class sponsor, introduced the speaker.

"Don't be half-baked," was one of the four points Dr. Walmsley emphasized for not only a more successful and happier college life, but for always. Another point was being intelligently honest. Be sure that what knowlege you have is right.

"Keep your enthusiasm," advised Dr. Walmsley. "Nothing is more satisfying to me than to see young people enthusiastic in what they are doing."

"Your vision or day dreams also play a part in your life," continued the professor. "Just remember that you are young as long as your vision looks futureward."

"Virginians" Are Here! Line Forms on Right!

Omigosh! Seen my receipt anywhere recently. I put it in that hanky bag Aunt Bertha gave me last year. And say, have you got three cents, hon? I can make that four bucks except for three cents I bought a stamp with. O gee, thanks! Now lemme out and over to that Science Building, chum. Let me get hold of that prize possession. Out of my way, oh boy, oh boy, I can't wait—'cause the world is mine when I get my new "Virginian".

Oh gee, I'm practically there. Just one more door and one more flight of steps. Wonder who that was I just spoke to? Come on, legs, make it in high for mamma. Don't you know I gotta get in the front of that line? Oh gee, oh gosh, here I am and only about twenty-two people ahead of me. Wonder where the other eight hundred are? It must have gotten around that this is supposed to be the best book Mr. Mac ever sanctioned. Well, the line's moving. One, two, three, four, and yippee—it's mine! Oh, isn't it beautiful!—oh, look at that first engraving. Oh—oh, pardon me. I didn't mean to step on your foot—I'm very sorry—really, I am. What's that? Only once a year? Yes, ma'am, you're mighty right and you're wise to be on time for your "Virginian"—they're even signing up for extras now. Yes'm—well good bye, I'm going to go into a huddle with myself right now . . . Classiest of books and classiest of book worms, you know—well, I guess I'll see what's on "page 34" of the "Virginian".

Phi Zeta Sigma Chooses New Officers

Phi Zeta Sigma sorority has elected the following girls as officers for the coming year: president, Marjorie Holt, vice-president and Pan-Hellenic representative, Edna Strong; treasurer, Evelyn Pankey, and Pan-Hellenic alternate, Louisa Stephenson.

Jada Jocoroco Tells All

Dear Jada.

Hope you are feeling well and are happy. Love,

Scatterbrained

P. S. My problem is that I'm in love with a tight rope walker. He has always been nice to me and now is anxious for us to get married. The trouble is that his brothers and sisters tell me he is a menace to housekeeping. At the sight of a clothesline he goes wild. They have tried everything, Carters Little Liver Pills included, but nothing seems to help. What can I do? Do you think he really loves me or is he just straining me a line. By the way 'm a redhead and have blue eyes. Help help, help!

Dear Scatterbrained.

Send the laundry out and stick to the tight-rope walker. He'll always go straight or else—.

Dear Jada.

I'm in an awful fix. You've simply got to tell me what to do. I'm in love with three boys at the same time and I want to invite them all up to the dance next week but I can't invite but one. I've already invited the one from V. M. I., and he's coming; I told the one from home I was gonna invite him and if I don't invite the one from Hampden-Sydney he'll be mad and I won't be able to see any more movies and that would be awful because I wouldn't have anything to do all the time between classes one day and classes the next. And I do love all three of them so much! Please, please tell me what to do.

Bewildered Three-Timer

Dear Three-Timer.

Be patriotic! Stand by the army. The "Boy back home" will keep and Hampden-Sydney probably has a girl in every building over here.

SPECIAL
ALL SPRING COATS & DRESSSES REDUCED
1/3 OFF
GIRLS: We have some exceptionally fine values to offer and it will pay you to see us while our stock is in still in good shape.
DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality

Sport Slants

By PAT GIBSON

Preparations for May Day have seemingly robbed us of our team sports tho' the individualistic ones still hold firm. A round of golf after every six seams "seems" an excellent diversion as does a "quick dip" to loosen those dance-tightened muscles.

As for bowling—'tis a fine thing (can't guarantee its loosening up any muscles though.)

The tennis courts are in constant use. Better remember to sign for the hour in which you wish to play. The list is posted early each morning—so tie that little string around your finger. There's some fine playing going on out there and from the looks of things we'll see some real competition in both the singles and doubles tournaments.

The marathon swim is literally "paddling along" at a mean rate of speed. Lile Poole is leading some fifteen entries with a challenging 5000 yards or so. All of which figures out to nearly three miles. Mickey Beck and a few of the other competitors are right up there tho'; it looks like a "fight to the finish". Splash on down, gals!

Longwood favorites still remain—archery and riding plus that grand game known as golf (which is really fun if you get over the idea that chasing a little white ball over the course is silly and idiotic). Once you get into the swing of it there'll be no holding you—here, we mean.

Hope you have taken note of the bowling news. S. T. C. is certainly taking interest in this newest of the sport rages. Chances are that some fine "duck pinners" will be discovered. As they don't say in baseball "more strikes to you".

The hope is to have the track and field meet some time soon after May Day. Let's all get together and make it a really fine one. There'll be events for everyone whether you throw, jump or run.

All this leaves us with the ping-pong, badminton, croquet and shuffleboard. They're all excellent if you happen to prefer the less strenuous type of exercises. (A really good game of badminton is enough to wind even a distance runner.)

Well, there it is—all lined up for after May Day. Here's to meeting you somewhere 'round!

Hubbard, Taylor, Carroll, Fischer Head Bowling

Six Girls Compose Team

Jenny Carroll, Jean Taylor, Le-Noir Hubbard and Dot Fischer will head four bowling teams which have been organized here at the college. Each team will be composed of six girls who will bowl three games a week. Individual scores will be posted at school, and at the end of the season the team having the highest score will be announced. The team score will be the total of the individual scores of the persons on each team.

Interest in the sport has been growing rapidly here at school and in town. It is hoped that a large number of girls will choose one of the four organized teams to back. There are four bowling alleys at present, but more will be built in the near future to accomodate the large number of people who have shown an interest in the sport.

Among the girls who have been asked to play on the teams are: Nancy Pierpont, Helen McIlwaine, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Marion Worsham, Bess Windham, Frances Irving, Frances Steed, Beverley Sexton, Frances Pulley, Ruby Adams, Shirley Stephens, Essie Millner, Ann Bilups, Pat Gibson and Kay Horsley.

Conquer New Worlds With Mallet and Ball Down in Joan Court

If it's not one thing, it's two; when we aren't "knocking the zoop" or meals in general, we're out in Joan Court knocking a little ball around in the grass. Honestly, these S. T. C. girls do the most pointless things! What will it be next?

Yes, folks, it's true—spring has come, and with it croquet. We femmes who find that we just "can't take it" downstairs in Shannon's any more (that strenuous bowling we mean) are turning to this milder form of sport for amusement. We see them sauntering along the colonnade and down the steps, armed with mallets and balls, ready to conquer new worlds.

The main requirements for good playing are agile footwork and ability to watch your opponent out of the corner of your eye to tell when his head is turned. So come one, come all—I challenge you to a croquet duel. Step right up and try your hand at this latest attraction.

Class Baseball Games Will Be Next Week

Helen McIlwaine, manager of minor sports, has announced that the class baseball games are scheduled to be played the week after May Day. Any girl who wishes to play on her class team must have eight half-hour practices. Due to May Day rehearsals, practices will not be held this week. Next week the usual schedule will be effective.

Many Enter Marathon

Mickey Beck, Patsy Kilby, Caroline Gwathmey, Peggy Hughes, Gene Hardy Kilman, Jean Terrell, Dot Smith, Lile Poole, Juanita Smith, Elizabeth Barlow and Louise Phillips are among those girls who have signed up for the marathon swim which is being sponsored by the H2O club. Although the event was officially started on April 24, anyone who wishes to enter may do so at any time. The swim will continue until the last Saturday in May. Awards will be given for the first three places and athletic points will be given to all entrants.

Una

Continued from Page 1

the issue, and the Knight, spiritually drugged, departs with his seducers, leaving Una alone. Duessa leads the Knight to the Court of Pride where the twin knights, Sans Foy and Sans Joy, challenge him to duel because of his refusal to join Pride's courts. He is triumphant and dispels Pride. Duessa summons lust to weave a spell over Sans Foy and bear him away, while they watch. Afterward she leads the Knight to the spring where he drinks and suddenly is bereft of all strength. He drops his magic sword. Duessa dances triumphantly and leads him away in abject submission. In the meantime the Dwarf, who is Una's companion, sees his unfortunate downfall and hastens to tell her of it. Duessa enters once more and seeing Una, calls out to the Knight to show her triumph. Still being captive of the spell, he enters, followed by Despair, who offers him a dagger with which to slay himself. Una seizes it and calls out to Faith, Hope, and Charity who dispels Despair and restores the Knight to his former beliefs. Healed by the Beadsmen, the Knight recovers fully, clasps Una's hands and, spurning Duessa, walks away. The Dragon now comes forth from the forest and the Red Cross Knight, with his magic sword once more in his hand, kills him after a great struggle.

The peasants and the old King and Queen now enter and seat themselves, while Una enters, kneels at her father's feet, and tells the story of the Knight's brave deeds. The King hands Una the crown and summons the Red Cross Knight whom he motions to the throne beside Una, while they, the former rulers, leave. After the crowning of the queen, the happy peasant celebration begins, and as fairys dance, as peasants frolic, and as the stately court performs for their majesties, the fantasy draws to a close.

Such is the spirit of our lyrical production—the same spirit that Edmund Spenser's as he composed his immortal "Faerie Queen" . . . one of loveliness and romantic lyric beauty, to create a story born of mystic fairy worlds.

Ride 'Em Cowgirl 'N Stay in Saddle

Oooooo, Wait'll I get my hands on that horse. I'll kill him that's what I'll do. Ouch! After all he didn't really have to bounce me around in such an ungodly manner; and of all the days to pick to run away. I reckon he thought that was cute too. How was I to know that if I kicked him in the sides and yelled, he would just go faster. Oh well, maybe I'll learn some day.

Now, there's another thing I'd like to know. What is this mysterious power that logs hold over horses? Try as I would I just couldn't interest "Socks" in stepping over those logs. He had to jump, and if there's anything I detest it's jumping. I never come back in the saddle right, and I always lose my stirrup, and when I lose my stirrup I inevitable lose my reins, and then my head, and then the horse, and then—oh, I shudder to think of it.

I still can't understand why they always give me a horse that shies even at his own shadow—the big sissy! Never have I seen a horse rise up on his hind legs so beautifully, despite the fact that I got a rear view.

And these horses with the double reins! No matter how often we start out in the same direction, I never seem to get quite as far as the horse. Please explain that. It's beyond me.

Oh my foot! How it does ache. One would think that "Socks" would be more careful where he steps. Honestly, I don't think horses have any consideration for the poor riders.

Now everytime I look at that picture on last night's "Colonnade", I begin to get disillusioned all over again. It does look so simple, doesn't it? They look so unconcerned and comfortable. Please, somebody, take it away!

I wonder who that is at the door. Come on in. Oh, it's you, Jane. Yes, I'm going. Just let me get my jacket. Now what do I want to remember today? Oh, yes, stay on the horse!

Wins Impromptus

Continued from Page 3

W. Black of Wake Forest, Weston Hatfield of Lenoir Rhyne, Dugald Hudson and George Staples of Presbyterian College, Marjorie Ellett and Caralle Nelson of Farmville; J. P. Field of Millsaps; Harmon Harper of Stetson; Mildred Lawrimore of Winthrop; and Mallie Knight of Alabama.

Sign Up on A. A. Board for Tennis

Due to the fact that there are only three tennis courts for the whole school, Shirley Stephens, manager of tennis, has worked out a plan by which everyone may have a chance to play. Anyone wishing to play must sign up on the A. A. bulletin board for a specific hour during the day.

Shirley has announced that the singles tournament started last fall will be finished and a doubles tournament will be played off this spring.

Apple Blossom Fete

Continued from Page 1

including sirens . . . and such bowing and saluting! All the military exhibitions were breath-taking, the whole parade was magnificent.

"After the parade the people swarmed around us with candid cameras and autograph books and suddenly when I answered a man's inquiry as to where was from and who I was, I realized that I was talking over the radio.

"After that," continued Alpha Lee, "the queen, her court and the pageant's high officials attended luncheon, and I was lucky to sit at the table with Vice-President and Mrs. Garner, the queen and Mrs. Byrd—you know, the mother of Tom, Dick and Harry—Oh, but it was thrilling! All the other princesses ate at card tables. Oh yes, and the decorations were beautiful—gorgeous spring flowers everywhere. And," remembered Alpha Lee, "the butter was moulded into miniature calla lilies—everything was precious . . . and the finger bowls floated apple blossoms and were beautifully fragrant."

"I've never had so many thrills in so short a time in my life. I felt truly regal during my whole impressive visit—everyone was so courteous, and made everything delightful." Alpha Lee's eyes were full of memories and her mind definitely not on her 11 o'clock class.

"Princess for three days—it was marvelous," she reported. "Cinderella, phoole! Give me V. M. I. and Winchester every time."

Is Your Face Really Red Or Are Indians Blonde?

Yeow! Since when did they start letting Indians enroll at S. T. C.? But, wait! That can't be an Indian. Its got blonde hair and shoes too. Gee, I don't know maybe she's blushing.

Gosh! There's another Boy, she looks like a lobster. She can't be blushing. Say, I've gotta find out what's coming off around here.

I say, there, Jane. Would you kindly explain what the color contest is all about? What's that you say? Sunburn? Baths? Where? On the roof? You say they're quite the rage? Well, whadda you know. Me thinks I'll have to try that.

Yes, the more I think about it the better it sounds. Let's see now. What do I need? Shorts, of course, and a blanket to lie on, and—now what have I done with my sun glasses? That's funny, I was sure I put them where I'd be able to find them. Oh well, a coupla pieces of damp cotton will serve the purpose. Now, what else? Oh yes, I think I'd better take my pillow and something to read. Ah, all set? Here goes. Gee, I hope I don't meet anybody. It's positively impossible to see over this conglomeration. Whew! I didn't realize the roof was so far away. Will I never make it?

Ah! At last! Now, where's the best place to go? Well, can ya beat that. I don't have much choice. Ummmmm, had no idea, there would be so many people. S. T. C. seems to have a one track mind. Maybe if I run, I can make it over there. Whoops, too late. Somebody else had the same idea. Oh well, this place is as good as any, I suppose.

Well, I wasn't prepared to have a fight with the blanket. Darn that wind! Oh—there goes my magazine. Oh-gee thanks, Ellen. That wind took me quite by surprise.

Ah! Peace at last. Boy, that sun feels good. Why didn't I think of this before. Umm, one o'clock. Don't think I'll go to lunch, best time of day for a sun burn, really not hungry. Why! There's Betty. Had no idea she'd be up here. Wonder who that is taking pictures. I should have brought my kodak, will next time. Ahhh, this is the life—

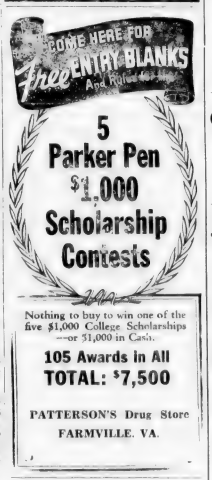
Wow!!! Four o'clock!! I must have gone to sleep. Jimminy, look at my arms, look at my legs, and am I hot! Holy mackeral! Let me out of here! Be just my luck to run into Miss Mary. Look's like I'll miss my supper too. I daren't show myself looking like this—

Time creepeth on—

11:30 P. M. Knock, knock. Dr. Martin? Oh, Dr. Martin, I hate to bother you, but please could you help me? I'm so miserable. I can't sleep, and I think I'm beginning to blister.

P. S. This past week has given you a chance to again become palefaces. Will you return to your pristine glamor?

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.



NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

holly-Pax
FOR WOMEN'S GREATER COMFORT AND FREEDOM—INSERTION TYPE SANITARY PROTECTOR. Package of 10, 20c.
NO PADS - NO BELTS TO BIND - NO ODOR
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service—Store

The Flagstaff Cottage
310 22nd St., Virginia Beach, Va.
(Mrs. Arthur H. Irby)
Caters to young people
Special rates to house-parties

DUKE UNIVERSITY
SCHOOL OF NURSING
Durham, N. C.
The Diploma of Graduate Nurse is awarded after three years, and the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing for two additional years to approved college work before or after the course in Nursing. The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and graduation from an accredited high school. After 1939 one year of college work will be required and two years of college work thereafter. The annual tuition of $100 covers the cost of uniforms, books, student government fees, etc. Catalogues, application forms and information about college requirements may be obtained from the Admission Committee.

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

COLLEGE SHOPPE
MOTHER'S DAY—MAY 14
Don't forget Mother
Large assortment of candy—Whitman's, Hollingsworth
We pay postage

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure Thread SILK HOSE
Full Fashioned
Guaranteed to You
49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

Southside Drug Store
LEAVE YOUR MOTHER'S DAY
CANDY ORDER WITH US
NOW—Postage Paid
Phone 356

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

MEET YOUR FRIENDS AT THE RECREATIONAL CENTER

SHANNON'S
PHONE 224 Prompt Delivery

Mimi Perdue Leads Ring Figure at V. P. I.

Dances, Visits Offer Usual Weekend Diversion

Mimi Perdue and Cadet C. F. Fuison led the figure at the ring dances held this past week-end at Virginia Tech. Others from Farmville who attended the dances were Allene Overbey, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Louise Palmer, Harriet Elizabeth Austin, Jane Bragg, Virginia Boyd, Gay Ward Brown, Agnes Barlow, Harriet Cantrell, Caroline Gwathmey, Mary Jackson, Dorothy Henderson, Edna Strong, Shirley McCulley, Myra Smith, Lucy Staples, Doris Trumyer, Selma West and Peggy Williams.

Sara Keesee attended the Phi Kappa Sigma cabin party in Richmond.

Among others who visited in Richmond are Josa Carlton, Margaret Franklin, Ellen Gray, Harriet Haskins, Anne Leake, Sue Marshall, Lois Powell, Beverly Perkins, Bill Stone, eKith Smith, Boonie Stevenson, Beverly Sexton, Mary Gray Thompson, Sarah Chambers, Genevieve Cook, Vera Ebel, Lillian Wahab, Ruth Winstead, Mary K. Zehmer, Gerry Ackiss, Ruby Adams, Mary Prince Arnold, Doris Adkins, Dorothy Adkins, Elizabeth Bundy and Martha Crawley.

Besides Alpha Lee Garnett, S. T. C. princess at the Apple Blossom Festival, Thelma Courtney, Mary Jane Jolliffe, Jane Rosenberger, Agnes Pickral, Yates Carr and Frances Pritchett also motored to Winchester for the event.

Jennie Noell, Anne Shirley Betty Shumate, Martha Smith Clyde Saunders, Frances Williams, Marjorie Wicks, Elsye Berye Yates, Crews Borden, Shirley Callihan, Yvonne Cheape, Nancy Dinwiddie, Dot Hahn and Anna Johnson spent the week-end in Charlottesville and attended the dances at the University of Virginia.

Those returning from Roanoke after the week-end were Elizabeth Summerfield, Frances Rosebro, Jean Scott, Marie Utt, May Wertz, Doris Bishop, Dorothy Buckland, Margaret Carr, Helen McGuire and May Winn.

Lula Windham and Anne Easley were guests of Jacqueline Adams at her home in Kenbridge.

Mable Bunton visited Frankie Bryan in Crewe and Marjorie Elett also went to her home there for the week-end.

Patsy Smith had as her guests in Charlotte Courthouse Shirley Stephens, Mary Mahone and Evelyn Byrd Hutcheson.

Elizabeth Williams went to the hops at Annapolis over the week-end.

Estelle Paulette and Marie Thompson have returned after visiting their parents in South Hill.

Katherine Roberts went to Philadelphia where she stayed at the Alpha Sigma Alpha house at Temple University with friends.

Frances Ellett spent the week-end at the home of Emily Hosmer in Culpeper. Josephine Chelf, Nancy Richards, Betty von Gemmingen and Helen Jeffries also visited there.

Eleanor Hutcheson visited Roberta Latture at her home in Lexington.

Among those going to Petersburg were Helen Seward, Margaret Britton, Virginia Howell, Marilee Mason and Ruth Read.

Nancy Pierpont visited Helen McIlwaine there and Patricia Whitlock spent the week-end with Betty Wilcox, a former student of S. T. C.

Frances Alvis, Patricia Gibson, Dorothy Fischer, Peggy Stevens and Elizabeth Wilkinson were guests at the home of Emil Ellis in Beaumont.

Carnett Perkins, Flynt Moore and Marion Mitchell motored to Reedville with Josephine Ware for the week-end.

Visiting in Lynchburg were Ethel McNutt, Jean Taylor, Helen Travis, Eloise Williams, Nancy Wolfe, Helen Watts, Virginia Burnham, Jane Engleby, Nancy Gray and Polly Hughes.

Norma Pamplin stayed at the home of Jane Porter Shepherd in Chester during the week-end while Polly Keller and Caroline Eason visited Caroline Harvey at Curdsville.

Ruth Lea Purdom, Helen Wentz and Mary E. Lewis went to Lynchburg for the week-end and Faye Brandon visited her parents in Suffolk.

Horsley at her home in Lovingston.

COME HERE FOR FREE ENTRY BLANKS And Rules for

5 Parker Pen $1,000 Scholarship Contests

Nothing to buy to win one of the five $1,000 College Scholarships —or $1,000 in Cash.

105 Awards in All TOTAL: $7,500

MARTIN the Jeweler

FARMVILLE, VA.

Get Out of Town

Continued from Page 1

and the latter [illegible] "Let's go home early tonight. I've got to report to write for tomorrow." And I'm right here at Lady. You aren't any more tired than I am. Besides I've just got to do some washing tonight,' answers her "lord" rather ungraciously. The "Woods of Error" were all out of step and quite live up to their name. After practising and re-practising everything about five times, they start rounding up girls for the homeward trek. They call and call 'Richmond' slips, 'Blacksburg' slips, 'Petersburg' slips, and—oh, what's the use? They never go anywhere unusual—simply never! There's no hope—I'm giving up. For a while, then, it looked as if I could live on an occasional Annapolis or a West Point hop—but they've proven too rare. The Richmond excursions, on which my soul is literally sickened—please pardon the irreverence—are too dormant—no one ever goes anywhere unusual—never, never!"

"Calm yourself—you know Miss Mary doesn't like any unseemly tumult," chimed in the prissy rug.

"I won't! I'm miserable. Anyone looking through this week's slips would think—as they must have on past occasions, that S. T. C. girls can't get by the city limits of any town but Richmond. Oh, woe is I!"

The Home Office mantle gloatingly flashed his shiny telegram. He was full of "secret" contents—he fairly bubbled with superiority. "Ssh—" fluttered the telegram, "someone's coming!"

The rug got prissier; the mantle practically smirked.

The girl, violently Easter bunnyish in purple and yellow stripes, deposited her slip in the box—gave a hasty half caring glance at the telephone cabinet, and clacked out.

"Look," groaned the file box—what does it say? Read it somebody—quick—!

"I can see it," said the light. "Why, it's to the New York World's Fair—my word—say what is the matter with the box— he looks a bit pale?"

"Never mind me," said the file box in hushed tones—"I'm practically gloating—yes, sir, practically."

He grinned at the mantle companionably.

May Day

Continued from Page 1

the grounds and Marie Eason is in charge of ushering Saturday afternoon.

The presentation is being done by the student body, for the first time, with the aid of five faculty advisers, Miss Leola Wheeler, dramatics and speech instructor, is general manager. Miss Olive Iler of the physical education department is in charge of the dances. For costumes Miss Katherine Tupper is adviser. Miss Virginia Bedford, art teacher, has designed costumes, and Miss Jane Royal arranges schedules for rehearsals and is also assisting with transportation.

The File Box Gloats

"Oh," groaned the Home Office file box, "Oh, what a struggle is life! So boring—so filled with monotony!"

The telephone cabinet drooped with the weight of its seventy folded white notes, and echoed the sentiment.

"The trouble is," continued the file box, "my system is wearing under this diet of wearing sameness. I haven't had a week-end in months that wasn't filled with 'Richmond' slips, 'Blacksburg' slips, 'Petersburg' slips, and—oh, what's the use? They never go anywhere unusual—simply never! There's no hope—I'm giving up. For a while, then, it looked as if I could live on an occasional Annapolis or a West Point hop—but they've proven too rare. The Richmond excursions, on which my soul is literally sickened—please pardon the irreverence—are too dormant—no one ever goes anywhere unusual—never, never!"

"Calm yourself—you know Miss Mary doesn't like any unseemly tumult," chimed in the prissy rug.

"I won't! I'm miserable. Anyone looking through this week's slips would think—as they must have on past occasions, that S. T. C. girls can't get by the city limits of any town but Richmond. Oh, woe is I!"

The Home Office mantle gloatingly flashed his shiny telegram. He was full of "secret" contents—he fairly bubbled with superiority. "Ssh—" fluttered the telegram, "someone's coming!"

The rug got prissier; the mantle practically smirked.

The girl, violently Easter bunnyish in purple and yellow stripes, deposited her slip in the box—gave a hasty half caring glance at the telephone cabinet, and clacked out.

"Look," groaned the file box—what does it say? Read it somebody—quick—!

"I can see it," said the light. "Why, it's to the New York World's Fair—my word—say what is the matter with the box— he looks a bit pale?"

"Never mind me," said the file box in hushed tones—"I'm practically gloating—yes, sir, practically."

He grinned at the mantle companionably.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.
Wed.-Thurs., May 3-4
LORETTA YOUNG
DON AMECHE
HENRY FONDA
'The Story of Alexander Graham Bell'
Dave Apollon & Band
Friday-Sat., May 5-6
BING CROSBY
Joan Blondell, Micha Auer
"East Side of Heaven"
Novelty and News
Next Mon.-Tues., May 8-9
LEW AYRES
LIONEL BARRYMORE
"Calling Dr. Kildare"
"Hunting Dogs" News

PAISLEY SANDALS
Smart for sport wear Sizes 3 to 8 $1.98
White Norwegian Sandals—flat heels Special $1.98
THE HUB DEPT. STORE
Charge Accounts Solicited

HURRAH!!
FOR S. T. C. BLAZERS—WITH SKULL CAPS BOTH FOR $1.00
dorothy may
Charge it if you like

Television would show you Chesterfield has the RIGHT COMBINATION for More Smoking Pleasure

Shown here is one of the many blending operations in the making of Chesterfields. Everything science knows about or money can buy is used to make Chesterfield a milder, better-tasting cigarette.

Every year thousands of visitors to the Chesterfield factories see the infinite care with which the world's best tobaccos are combined to give you Chesterfield's can't-be-copied blend.

It is this wonderful blend that makes Chesterfield so refreshingly different . . . milder, better-tasting, with a more pleasing aroma.

When you try them you will see why Chesterfield gives millions of men and women more smoking pleasure . . . why THEY SATISFY

They Satisfy

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

VOLUME XVIII — FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 10, 1939 — Z—773 — No. 27

Theresa Graff Is Crowned May Queen

Nottingham Will Lead Figure at Cotillion Dance

Little Joe Hart's Orchestra Will Furnish Music

Clara Nottingham of Eastville and Kyle Baldwin of Hampden-Sydney and Farmville will lead the figure for the annual Spring Cotillion dance on Saturday, May 13. Officers of the club who will assist the leaders are Margaret Stallard of Fairfield, Kentucky, with Richard A. Wooling of Farmville; Frankie Bryan of Crewe with Frank Cosby of Richmond; and Louise Anthony of Danville with Frank Brown of Hampden-Sydney and Portsmouth.

Little Joe Hart's orchestra, a new and rising band, will furnish music for this season's dance. In 1937 Jimmy Poyner played and last year Don Bestor's orchestra was featured.

Student Building lounge and the gym will be decorated in colors typical of spring. Deep purple, rose, aqua and yellow with stars and moon crescents will be arranged in Japanese style for decorations.

Miss Mary White Cox, Mr. T. A. McCorkle, sponsor of the club, and the officers with their escorts compose the receiving line which will form in the lounge.

Informal dancing will be from four until six o'clock Saturday afternoon and the formal dance from eight-thirty until twelve o'clock at night.

Cotillion Club has sponsored dances here since 1904 when it was known as the German Club. In 1909 the name was changed to its present title. To meet increased enrollment in school, the membership has this year been increased to two hundred and fifty girls. Only Cotillion members may attend the spring dance.

"Goat Week" for new members will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 15, 16 and 17. The goat rules have been announced by the committee and appear on page 3.

Pi Kappa Delta Bids Four to Membership

Jack Cock, Anne Cock, Marjorie Ellett, and Elizabeth Ann Parker have been invited to become members of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic fraternity.

All the girls bid in at this time are members of the Debate Club and have had experience in debating for Farmville. Elizabeth Ann has been elected next year's vice-president of the Debate Club and Anne Cock will be the secretary. This year Elizabeth Ann took a place among the first ten at the Dixie Tournament at the Winthrop College tournament and she has substituted on the varsity team. Marjorie was also among the first ten at Winthrop and took second place in impromptus at the South Atlantic Province tournament held last week-end in Farmville. Jack and Anne Cock have debated here and recently went to Danville to debate against the Averett College team.

Marie Dix Announces Chapel Committee

Marie Dix, senior, who has been chosen to succeed Mildred Harry as head of the Chapel Committee, has announced her helpers for next year. Girls serving on next year's committee are Rosa Courter, Julia Watson, Fay Brandon, Carolyn Harvey, Nan Duer, Elizabeth West, Ruth Lea Purdom.

Cotillion Leader

Clara Nottingham, who will lead the dance figure Saturday night with Kyle Baldwin.

Allen Is Debate Club President

Moomaw Accepts Counselor Duty

Marie Allen was elected president of the Debate Club at a meeting last Wednesday night. Elizabeth Ann Parker was elected vice-president and Anne Cock secretary. Marguerite Russ will be the new treasurer. Dr. Walmsley, professor of history, was reelected faculty advisor and Lorana Moomaw was chosen counselor.

Marie and Elizabeth Ann represented Farmville at debate conventions at Winthrop and Salisbury in December and March, and Marie entered the debate contest during the Pi Kappa Delta convention held here week before last.

Anne has taken part in several practice debates here. Lorana is a member of the varsity debate team, a member of Pi Kappa Delta, and the winner of the after-dinner speaking contest of the recent Pi Kappa Delta convention.

Alpha Phi Sigma Elects Moyer Leader

Jean Moyer, of Portsmouth, was elected president of Alpha Phi Sigma at the regular meeting of the society May 9 at 7 o'clock. Other officers elected at that time were vice-president, Marjorie Holt; recording secretary, Elva Kibler; corresponding secretary, Louise Hall; treasurer, Mary Walker Mitchell.

Jean Moyer was the recently elected government representative for the Junior Class next year. She is a member of the A Cappella Choir and chairman of the church cooperative committee of the Y. W. C. A.

Noted Traveler Tells Students Of Spanish Life

Lecturer Stresses That America Keep America American

"Be thankful you are an American," said Miss Imogene Warder, noted American lecturer, world traveler and writer in her lecture here Monday night, May 8. Lecturing on Spain, Miss Warder disclosed many little known facts about the recent revolution, the country and the people. The lecturer, a native of Indiana, spent two and a half years abroad, visiting twenty-five different countries.

"There are two classes in Spain," Miss Warder said in beginning, "the Rightists, who are the rebels and aristocrats and who favor Franco, and the Leftists, who are the poorer people. The war was the ruination of Spain. Many places of historical interest and beauty have been destroyed forever."

Miss Warder visited in southern Spain chiefly, a section less modern than the north. In Seville on hot days awnings are stretched across the streets for shade. No traffic is allowed.

Girls with dates are accompanied by their entire families including a number of uncles and aunts. As a result, dates are few.

Life is lazy. Everyone takes a siesta in the afternoon; therefore, the evening meal is not till 9, movies 10:30 or 11 and concerts even later. It is not unusual to see tiny children playing in the streets at 2 A. M.

Andora, a tiny republic in the Pyranees, appealed especially to the lecturer. It has had the same form of government for a thousand years. The last house built there is 700 years old. Natives asked if one could travel to America by mule.

"The average salary for a school teacher is $20 a month. Other laborers make around one cent a day or $3 a year," said Miss

Continued on Page 3

Musical Groups Sing at Virginia

Farmville State Teachers College and the University of Virginia were co-performers in a concert held last night, Tuesday, May 19, in Cabell Hall, University, Charlottesville, Virginia. The concert lasted from eight until ten o'clock and was followed by a dance.

Farmville's group of singers, composed of the College Choir, the Junior A Capella Choir, the Senior A Capella Choir and Miss Irene Leake, soloist, the University Gleen Club, and Albert Cocke, soloist with the University group, presented a program similar to the one given here April 18.

Spenser's "Faerie Queene" Provides Impressive Theme

Theresa Graff and Charlotte Minton, both of Roanoke, who were queen and maid of honor, respectively, at the May Day exercises last Saturday, May 6.

Charlotte Minton Is Maid of Honor

Theresa Graff, a senior from Roanoke, was crowned queen of Farmville's annual May Day festival before a crowd of approximately 3,000 guests from within the state and surrounding communities. The exercises were staged at Longwood dell at 5 o'clock on Saturday, May 6. Charlotte Minton, a senior also, from Roanoke, was maid of honor.

The theme was taken from Spenser's "Faerie Queene", Book I, the program embracing a variety of characters and colorful costumes.

As the story opens the faerie court has assembled to choose a valiant knight to allay the Dragon of Errour. The faerie dancers were Flora Winn, Augusta Parks, Margaret Wright, Alice Leigh Barham, Anne Benton, Anna George, Charlotte Morton, Polly Hughes, Alyce McAfee, Betty Peerman, Ethel Carr, Ethel Beasley, Peggy Allen, Elizabeth Hillsman, Alice Cogburn, Norma Wood, Evelyn Timberlake, and Jean Upshur. The part of the Redcrosse Knight was taken by Macon Raine. Jane Lee Hutcheson and Mary Klare Beck were the elves. Virginia Howell represented Glorianna, the Faerie Queene.

The beautiful Una, played by Theresa Graff, was rescued by the Redcrosse Knight from the Woods of Errour, who were Martha McCorkle, Helen McIlwaine, Nancy Pierpont, Jane Jackson, Patsy Fletcher, Sara Keesee, Archimago, Sidney Yonce, and Duessa, Essie Milner, aided by the Queene of Pride, Kathryn Newman, attempted to lure the Knight from Una's service. The Court of Pride was composed of Peggy Allen, Betty Peerman, Helen McIlwaine, Jane Jackson, Martha McCorkle, Florence Rowett.

The jealous Sans Foy, portrayed by Nancy Pierpont, and Sans Joy, by Helen McIlwaine, challenged the Redcrosse Knight. Sans Joy was killed. He was borne away by the Spirits of Mist, who were Chlotilde Jarman, Virginia Howell, Estelle Mann, Clara Nottingham, Sarah Keesee, Louise Bryan, Mable Burton and Evelyn Timberlake.

Despair, acted by Sara Keesee finds the knight an easy prey, but Faith, Hope, and Charity, who were Martha McCorkle, Patsy Fletcher and Jane Jackson respectively, drove him away. Mercy, Porter Shepherd, and Sisters of Mercy, Ellen Bowen, Dorothy Fischer, Louise Palmer, Ellen Conyers, Emma Louise Crowgey, Dorothy Lee Harrison, and Marjorie Nimmo nursed him.

The heralds, Betty Hawkins and Mary Prince Arnold, then announced the old king and queen, Virginia Lee Taylor and Jamie Lee Peake. The lords entered and the approach of Una's court was heralded. The lords were Louise Anthony, Adelaide Dressler, Miriam Ficklen, Virginia Carroll, Mildred Gentry, LeNoir Hubabrd, Catherine Maynard, Ruth Read, Virginia Vose, Evelyn Thorington, Juanita Carson, Marguerite Blackwell, Rose Allen Higgenbotham, Martha Holloway, Nancy Moss, Frances Hutcheson, Jean Watts, Dorothy Perkins. The ladies of the court were Pattie Bounds, Margaret Britton, Frankie Bryan, Elsie Dodd, Vera Ebel, Kitty Roberts, Clara Nottingham, Catherine Radspinner, Chlotilde Jarman, Sara Keesee, Virginia Lee Pettis, Lula Windham, Ruth Carney, Mary Gray Thompson, Nancy Wolfe, Nancy Naff, Mary Lou

Continued on Page 3

Harden Is Chairman Of Church Committee

The Church Cooperative committee has appointed Marion Harden as its new chairman. The Presbyterian representative will be Marian Worsham; Methodist, Mary Rice; Episcopalian, Beulah Ettenger; and Baptist, Anne Benton. Students who wish to contact the various ministers may do so through this committee.

The Church Cooperative Committee, which acts as a connecting link between the campus and the churches, has tried in its annual project to foster church-going among the girls. Certain months have been set aside as "going to church" months. In order to find out the reasons why many do not attend their churches, they have conducted a questionnaire, the results of which will be published at a later date.

The general function of the committee is to try to promote a spirit of cooperation between the students and the various organizations.

Come, Buy Your Ware's From the Chinaman

This way to the Oriental Bazaar! First left turn from the Rotunda.

"Thirty fi' cents ma'am, thirty fi cents" droned the Chinaman monotonously. Hour after hour of a long day and far into the night he presented his Oriental wares to our bargain hunting student seekers. Slippers, huraches, kimonas, writing paper, puzzles, trinkets, were there to catch and dazzle the critical feminine eye. Fascinating? I would say yes, after the number of class tardies on Friday. Girls stared unbelievingly as the Chinaman shaped before their very eyes an elephant out of a few pieces of nicked wood. Innocent dears. How were they to know he had the directions on a piece of paper under the table? 'Darn clever, these Chinese."

Finally after restocking the table five or six times, for Dr. Jarman's "girls" weren't content with just looking, he packed up what was left and shuffled away as silently as he had come.

Farmville's May Festivals Continue Bigger and Better

Program at One Time on Campus

Progress and changes are always interesting to watch, but it is of special significance to review the history of something that holds for all of us as great an interest and importance as does our annual May Day festival. For thirty or more years a May Day program has been an annual occurrence on our campus, and each year it has created an added amount of enthusiasm and excitement. But—let us turn the pages back, so to speak, and glance briefly at the earlier May Days and those that have followed up to the present, all the while looking for changes and improvements which have taken place.

It should be remembered that the Student Body has always sponsored May Day from the very beginning. In the earlier years and until approximately 1929 Miss Leola Wheeler assisted the gym department in putting on the program. Before the colonnade was built, the scene of the May Day entertainment was out in front of the infirmary down in what is now commonly known as "the court". However, as buildings were added it became necessary to seek a new spot for the yearly event. Remember that S. T. C. was still in her infancy, figuratively speaking. In front of the Rotunda was just the ideal location desired. The main highway in front of the school was roped off for the big occasion, and the audience was seated on the campus out in the street within the roped area, and even so far over as the Episcopal church. Pines were placed against the Rotunda entrance as a background, and the queen and her court entered from the walkway by Dr. Walmsley's classroom. The theme for May Day varied at times as it does now. Sometimes the director and workers chose an old English May Day, and quite often the training school pupils were

Continued on Page 3

Longwood Dell Is Just Decade Old

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistants—Elizabeth West, Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
eature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Socials Editor ..... Shirley Stephens
Socials Assistant Evelyn Byrd Hutcheson
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Ann Johnson, Theodosia McKenzie, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickeral, Janelle Shelor, Edna Strong, Dell Warren, Lucy Turnbull.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Virginia Yager
Circulation Manager ..... Elizabeth Prince
Assistants — Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Beverly Blair, Helen Briggs, Josa Carleton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary Allen Peters, Frances Pope, Jane Rosenberger, Mary Sue Simmons, Kathryn Watkins.

Typists

Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Bettsy Briggs, Anne Bruce, Elizabeth Bundy, Dorothy Lee Harrison, Frances Pritchett, Dorothy Smith, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Sue Wohlford.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 10, 1939

May Day— A School Project

Congratulations to every person who helped make this May Day such a splendid success. The physical education, art and home economics departments deserve special tribute, and the home department, faculty, registrar and business officers, and students all deserve credit for the spirit of cooperation they showed.

May Day has always been a student project—one of the entire student body. Students have planned it together, have elected their general chairman, their queen and court. They have written the theme, planned and helped direct dances, made costumes and planned sets. The ideas and the exercises have been the work of the girls in school, of anyone who wishes to and would cooperate toward making it the success that it always has been.

Quite naturally some one person should necessarily be responsible for the exercises as a whole. For the past ten years previous to this one the duty of adviser to the whole May Day has fallen to Mrs. Louise Fitzpatrick who gave untiring effort toward making Farmville's May Days of a statewide reputation for their beauty. But through all these years it has been and always will be the students' May Day—for the students and by the students. Misses Wheeler, Iler, Bedford, Barlow and Tupper and Mrs. Fitzpatrick wish it understood that they have helped us and not we them. It is our May Day.

To the student body for this year's production go the congratulations of the great audience who witnessed it and proclaimed it such a success. To Misses Wheeler and Iler who gave so willingly of their time and talent in directing the whole of it, to Misses Tupper and Bedford for their help with costumes and backgrounds, go our grateful thanks for helping to make this May Day another great one.

Did You Know?

A special relay race for portly fraternity men has been scheduled for the University of Vermont inter-fraternity track meet.

Brown University will award King George VI of England an honorary degree when he visits the United States this summer.

Milwaukee State Teachers College is organizing a reducing class for co-eds who are twenty per cent or more overweight.

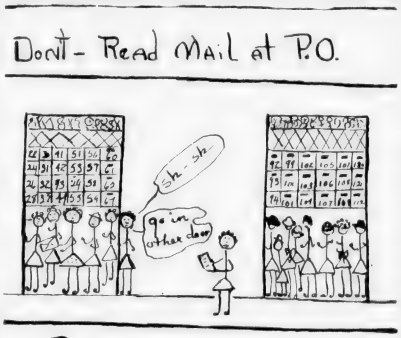
Salem College students recently held a Chinese checker tournament.

A new pop-drinking record has been set at the University of Mississippi; Burns Deavors swiggled twelve bottles in twenty-nine minutes.

The University of Detroit will again this year sponsor the National Inter-Collegiate Turtle Race.

The Daughters of the American Revolution have given a $110 loan fund to University of Akron students who are "100 per cent Americans".

SENIOR PERSONALITIES



CHARLOTTE MINTON

Most recently maid of honor for the May Day celebration, vice-president of the student council, head of Alpha Kappa Gamma and a host of other duties and honors are attributed to her. All this calls for beauty, brains, talent, ability and, one might add just a good word which is so inclusive, personality. This, we all realize, has Charlotte Minton.

Charlotte's well-groomed appearance, her quiet and discriminating tastes, a distinctive poise and dignity, an engaging smile that has a depth of sincerity and meaning behind it are characteristic points which will lend to memory of her. Not to be omitted are her striking good looks and stately carriage.

Hats—plenty of them and the funnier looking the better—are her pet passions. And we'll hand it to her that she can, of all people, wear them. And, by the way, she detests oxfords, which accounts for the fact that we've never seen her wear any shoes other than high heels.

Scrapbooks, ones she's kept ever since a little girl up 'til right now, are her pride. She keeps a bit of everything in them. If you look carefully you might even find a collar of all things! obtained from a gentleman who featured in her life not so long ago. Careful what you save now, Charlotte.

Books in Review

MEXICO MARCHES
By J. H. Plenn

Only a newspaper man, and a good one, could have written this snappy volume with its nonchalant touches of real poetry, its quick dash from topic to topic, its use of the dramatic to drive home the argument, its deep concern with the human interest angle, its very bitterness. It is like the roll of drums from an Aztec temple, for its author is interested in the fate of the Indians and Mexico's forgotten men. The modern event, the taking over of American and British oil properties in 1938 is the main interest in the story; the natives answered with revolutionary, clenched-fist marches. The figure of Mexico's present President Cardenas, dominates the whole story. We hear how the rifle was tucked away in the thatched roof to be replaced by labor and peasant organizations, how thirty million acres of land have been given away to the peasants, and how a sort of plan or treaty is being thought of with the Catholic Church—all this by Cardenas. It is strange to note that a Nazi and Jewish problem exists even in Mexico. This story is filled with many other odd, unknown-till-now facts about Mexico, told by one who has been reared on chille and tortillas from babyhood.

"General Manpower" by John S. Martin is a typical Wellsian novel, beginning in 1959; the United States, after a rather aimless republican rule which followed Roosevelt's third term, has returned to prosperity under James Roosevelt. Mussolini, an old man, is playing second-fiddle in the Italo-German coalition headed by Goebbels, successor to Hitler when Der Fuehrer's bombastic personality gave way to sheer insanity. Great Britain is ruled by Queen Elizabeth, the pert little girl of the 1930's. Stories of this type usually fail to create well defined characters; they are peopled with individuals who are more like robots to us. Readers who warm to time-machine novels about the future of civilization will find this a worthy book. Here is imaginative fiction on a large scale, with whole races and nations maneuvered boldly.

"One might think Charlotte entirely reserved and dignified," says a fellow home economics housemate, "but she's the fun of the house. Her infectious laugh and ready spirit for fun really make things go over here. Her knack for getting things done and her purposefulness are also commendable. A mighty good home demonstrator she'll make."

Indeed so is Charlotte Minton a product of Farmville's pride.

Swing That Dial

Here's the low-down on the hottest up-beat! Are you listening?

The nursery-rhyme craze hit the country about the time of the jitterbug, so we've all been "beating around the mulberry bush" with "a little yellow basket." There's a new little "catchy" in the air now, called "Three Little Fishes". Perhaps a few of you remember when Mother Goose owned it. Now it's radio's commodity, and it's really being "given out", especially by that "suthahn swingah", Kay Kyser. It's the snappiest arrangement we've heard with "Sassy Sully", "Ishkabibble", and "Little Audrey" booming out on the vocals. And there are the old tunes still holding sway with the bands. "Deep Purple", for instance, was written several years ago and has just now reached its peak in popularity. Then, just think how old "St. Louis Blues", "Basin Street Blues", and "Getting Sentimental Over You" are.

Along with our favorite songs, we have our favorite orchestras to play them—Kay Kyser, Guy Lombardo, Benny Goodman, Larry Clinton, Hal Kemp and Sammy Kaye heading the list. I mustn't forget to mention Tubby Oliver and the bands from V. M. I. and Virginia.

Ah! but ditties aren't the only form of entertainment radio gives us. There are comedians, such as Jack Benny and Charlie McCarthy; news commentators for the more serious minded; drama, with our favorite actors and actresses (we all remember Orson Welles); and quizes for the "guessing-game" devotees.

So, if you're "feeling kinda lonesome" and you want variety, why not dial—

Monday
WABC 9 P. M.—Guy Lombardo
Tuesday
WJZ 7:30 P. M.—Information, Please
WABC 9 P. M.—Guy Lombardo
Wednseday
WEAF 7:30 P. M.—Tommy Dorsey
WEAF 9 P. M.—Kay Kyser
Thursday
WEAF 9 P. M.—Bing Crosby
Friday
WABC 8 P. M.—Orson Welles
Saturday
WABC 9 P. M.—Hit Parade
Sunday
WEAF 6:30 P. M.—Jack Benny
WEAF 7 P. M.—Don Ameche, Charlie McCarthy
WEAF 8 P. M.—Charles Boyer

Echoes From an Empty Space

May Day was a lovely thing and the girls who worked so hard are to be congratulated—nor was May Day without interest for your snoopist—for example, there has been much discussion as to whether that station wagon loaded with girls belonged to the usually so elusive Gartrell. The wagon we mean, not the girls.

Although this is supposed to be an S. T. C. column, we can't keep our neighbors out of it; so we'd like to call your attention to the way Cli Pin Bob Scott and Hopstetter were enjoying May Day. Those boys really had the right idea.

And while we're still on May Day, who was the lad who, on finding he had a flat tire, sat down on the Longwood Lawn to wait and see what would develop?

In his coming to town habits, Marshall Kean reminds us of the South American condor who said, "I don't come down often, but when I do!"

Red roses from Kappa Sig Bobby Scott to Stucy for being on campus. Who said "Crime Never Pays"?

Just what kind of cigarette case did Hugh Hagen give Liggie? He says he found it.
who has two K. A. pins and both who has two K. A. Pins and both from the same guy.

They tell me, too, that the president of our student body is sporting a Pi K. A. pin—Hm. nice!

Spring romance being carried over from last fall—Willis and Sharpley—Smith and Hutter.

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

This is one of a series of guest columns and was written (with the exception of the part pertaining to the European situation) by Fred Haislip, this year's editor of "The Kaleidoscope" Hampden-Sydney's year book.
Johnny Lybrook

By Fred Haislip

The consensus of opinion in the United States has always been that we are free, equal, and with the right to pursue happiness; up until recent years this has been, for the most part, true. There have always been those persons who would have it otherwise, but for numerous reasons they didn't succeed in getting a foothold. That is until now.

John L. Lewis, union organizer, has brought under his personal control, with the encouragement of the New Deal, almost the entire soft coal industry. He exercises over his 400,000 members the right to tell them when they shall work, how long they shall work, and also the rate of pay. His dues are collected for him by the company before the worker even sees his pay envelope. Extra assessments are also collected in this manner without even the formality of the members' consent.

Mr. Lewis on April 1 decided that until the operators signed a contract which included the closed shop clause he would stop his members from working. This he has done.

The spirit of grudging compromise has ruled the conferences between the soft-coal operators and union miners. Unable to understand why a national deadlock should develop when full agreement was evident on hours, wages, and working conditions, the man in the street was beginning to wonder if "the government hadn't better step in and knock their heads together"—which was precisely what neither miners nor operators wanted to happen.

The government, having been virtually "bought off" with a campaign donation of $400,000, has let Mr. Lewis have a free hand.

Surely such practices as these are not expressions of the liberties for which our forefathers fought. We have a country with unlimited possibilities, why not continue to develop instead of putting dampers on the ambitions of our young people?

* * *

Three cheers to Poland from the democracies of the world! Three cheers to a country that stands up and tells Mr. Hitler that they will not yield to threats!

So the world heard Mr. Beck's speech last week in which he said that Poland was willing to make peaceful negotiations with Germany. His speech showed definitely and frankly which side of the fence Poland is sitting on.

Hitler apparently was somewhat taken back with the Colonel's speech. The German press gave forth in a burst of heat that accused England and France of interfering and influencing Poland in her decision. The dictator called a meeting of his counselors but he did not send his army marching into Danzig as he had previously been threatening that he would do.

In the meantime, Germany had issued invitations to Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Finland, Esthonia and Latvia to negotiate non-aggression treaties. Nice gesture, that. Feature, if you can, tiny Latvia or Esthonia trying any of that "aggressive business" on Germany.

If Germany has ever bluffed, it looks as if somebody has called her bluff.—That somebody is the democracies of the world. Another encouraging factor for peace lies in the fact that Mussolini is becoming somewhat "fed up" with Germany's recent actions and that Japan has openly expressed her distaste at becoming involved in a European war.

Races, Dances Lure Girls for Week-end

Richmond, Roanoke Lynchburg Are Usual Destinations

Elizabeth V. Lewis and Caroline Gwathmey motored to Warrenton where they visited Lucy Blackwell at her home, Clifton Farms. While there, they attended the Gold Cup Races. Dell Warren spent the week-end at her home near Warrenton and also attended the races.

Ellen Bowen was the guest of Essie Millner at her home in Newport News for the week-end.

Irma Graff visited Polly Hughes at her home in Lynchburg and attended the V. E. S. dances. Bess Windham spent the week-end there as the guest of Anne Easley.

Perrye Smith was in Goldsboro, and Beverley Sexton in Raleigh, N. C., for the week-end as guests of their parents.

Mable Burton had Frankie Bryan as her house guest at her home in Richmond for the week-end. Elizabeth Baker visited Elsie Dodd at her home there.

Others in Richmond for the week-end were: Virginia Boyd, Marion Harden, Margaret Coalter, Martha Cottrell, Martha Mayton, Ethel Carr, Alpha Lee Garnett, Peggy Hughes, Amy Powell, Phil Schlobohm, Vera Ebel, Frances Pulley, Catherine Radspinner, Mary Jane Ritchie, Jean Steel, Mary Lou Shannon, Margaret Franklin, Dorothy Harrison, Mary Jackson, Jane Jones, Frances Pulley, Johnny Lybrook, Martha McKinstry, Alyce McAfee, Doris Miller and Blanche Ellis.

Myra Smith, E. Byrd Hutcheson and Agnes Barlow visited in Blacksburg.

Week-end visitors in Roanoke were Nancy Naff, Mary E. Badger, Jane Engleby, Dorothy Menefee, Marie Utt and Ethel McPherson.

Esther Atkinson was at her home at Hampden-Sydney for the week-end and Martha Meade Hardaway was in Burkeville.

Gay Ward Brown, Margaret Doxey, Jean Martin, Nancy Moore, Edna Mae Ruby and Dorothy Bailey visited in Lynchburg.

Martha Anne Saunders visited her parents at Blue Ridge and Mildred Harry spent the week-end with her sister in Prospect.

Elsye Berrye Yates, Margaret Carr and Dorothy Eades were the week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. Yates in Suffolk.

Adelaide Dressler visited Blair Goode at her home in Chase City, and Marguerite Costello visited LeNoir Hubbard in Crewe.

Army Butterworth, Jacqueline Adams and Betty von Gemmingen have returned from a week-end in Culpeper.

National Officer Inspects for A. S. A.

Mrs. Fred M. Sharp, Educational Director of the National Council of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority who has been a guest of the local chapter since Saturday, May 6, left this morning for Madison College, Harrisonburg, where she will help install a chapter this week-end. While here Mrs. Sharp held chapter inspection.

Mrs. Sharp was entertained by faculty members and the sorority. Conferences with the chapter were held each day. Sunday night she was entertained at dinner at Mrs. Brumfield's. The advisors and heads of all of the sororities on campus were invited to tea in the A. S. A. room Monday afternoon, May 8, to meet Mrs. Sharp.

Chapter inspection by a national officer is held every three years.

Beorc Eh Thorn Elects Officers

Marion Shelton will succeed Margaret Black as president of Beorc eh Thorn, local honor fraternity in English. The officers who were chosen on Thursday, May 4, were installed immediately after elections.

Other officers for the coming year are Mary Walker Mitchell, vice-president; Frances Pope, recording secretary; Edna Strong, corresponding secretary; Lois Barbee, treasurer; and Dorothy Rollins, historian.

Josa Carlton Is Business Assistant

"Josa Carlton will serve as Assistant Business Manager of the Rotunda for next year," Lucy Blackwell, Business Manager has announced. Mary Sue Simmons will be the new Circulation Manager.

Noted Traveler

Continued from Page 1

Warder.

"The people there live in filth, but in spite of it, many live to be 105.

"Hitler and Mussolini are interested in the Spanish mines. Franco imagines himself the ruler of Spain and he is hoping for backing from Mussolini.

"America must keep America American," she concluded. "Twenty-four hours in any country would make everyone satisfied with our government."

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

DON'T GUESS!

DON'T GROPE IN THE DARK!

Pick our Beauty Shop for all your Beauty needs if you want positive satisfaction. There is no guesswork here.

* And $3.50 Permanent this week and all next — $2.50

Any $7.50 Permanent Two for only — $10.00

Bring some one with you and save $5.00

BALDWIN'S BEAUTY SHOP

Phone 159 Farmville's Best Shop

Veteran Cotillionians "Lay Down Law" For Lowly Goats

Beginning next Monday, May 15 through Wednesday, May 17, all new Cotillion members taken in since last fall wil go through a pledge of training period at which time their sportsmanship will be "tried" by old members.

General Rules

1. No make-up
2. Wear green and yellow stockings.
3. Wear yellow ribbon across forehead with "Goat Jones" (for example) printed on it.
4. Don't get mail till after chapel.
5. Wear mismatched shoes.
6. Address Cotillion members as "Mademoiselle" using member's last name.
7. Each member have ready a four line rhyme, each word beginning with same letter as first letter in her last name.

Monday, Old Maid's Day

1. Wear long black dress (or skirts and blouses)
2. Wear hair on top of head. (No curls).
3. Carry knitting bag and be ready to knit when called upon.
4. Use lorgnettes when speaking to Cotillion Club mebers. (Can use wire to make them).
5. Blacken two front teeth.
6. Wear oxfords.

Tuesday—Go into your Dance Day

1. Wear fancy dresses.
2. Wear evening slippers (low heels).
3. Wear ear rings.
4. Wear hair on top of head with three large flowers in hair. (No curls).
5. Be ready to "go into your dance" when called upon, dancing either a waltz, or jitterbug.
6. Wear wide sashes around hips.

Wednesday—Half and Half Day

1. Wear hair parted in middle with half of hair curled and half straight.
2. Make up on one side of face and none on other.
3. Glove on one hand.
4. Ear rings on one ear.
5. Black teeth on side with no make-up.

May Queen Crowned

Continued from Page 1

Shannon, Margaret Stallard Charlotte Minton followed.

The queen and her court were entertained by gay dances of the peasants. They included Marie Allen, Dorothy Bailey, Beverly Blair, Nancy Bland, Alice Leigh Barham, Rebecca Bondurant, Josa Carlton, Anne Cocks, Rosa Courter, Nan Duer, Martha Jane Flannagan, Nancy Fulton, Elizabeth Garrett, Anna George, Margaretta Gerlaugh, Effie Grant, Louise Hall, Nell Hall, Emma Hutcheson, Bertha McLaughlin, Elizabeth Kent, Florence Lee, Jean Moyer, Helen Seward, Sarah Sibold, Norma Pamplin, Elizabeth West, Forrestine Whitaker, Virginia Alexander, Elizabeth Barrett, Peggy Bellis, Mary Booker, Anne Boswell, Margaret Anne Bunting, Sarah Chambers, Corilda Chaplin, Sara Cline, Alice Coberly, Nahrea Coleman, Virginia Dawley, Mae Desaix, Mary Katherine Dodson, Sue Dunlap, Marjorie Ellett, Lillian German, Miriam Hanvey, Ada Harris, Peggy Hughes, Ann Hurff, Nell Hurt, Dot Johnson, Margaret Kennett, Gene Hardy Kilman, Doris Lee, Mary Elizabeth McCormick, Jane McGinnis, Theodosia McKensie, Elizabeth Ann Parker, Beverly Perkins, Eugenia Ramsey, Martha Roberts, Virginia Rudd, Harriett Scott, Sarah Seward, Elizabeth Shelburne, Julia Smith, Margaret Turner, Harriet Walker, Josephine Ward, Elizabeth Ward, Helen Wentz, Mary Owens West, Peggy Williams, Edith Emma Wood.

May pole dancers were — Anne Billups, Irma Graff, Caroline Eason, Edna Harris, Shirley McCally, Betty Fahr, Carolyn Harvey, Frances Pope, Elizabeth Townsend, Louisa Sanford, Rachel DeBerry, Mary Jane Ritchie.

The peasant girl dancers were Dorothy Rudder, Shirley Stephens, Polly Keller, Betty Lucy, Anna Brown Jones, Sarah Booth, Marie Eason, Martha Evans, Virginia Polley, Martha Ann Baldwin Martha Cottrell, Mildred Ligon.

As Una and the Redcrosse Knight left Glorianna and her faeries concluded the program by dancing.

The May Day committee consisted of: Theresa Graff, general chairman: Helen Reiff, theme; Helen Greene, costumes; Mildred Gentry, properties; Essie Millner, dance; Jane Hardy, music; Sara Keesee, court; Caralie Nelson, transportation; and Anne Kelly grounds.

Miss Leola Wheeler directed the program. The dances were taught by Miss Olive Iler, Miss Virginia Bedford was in charge of the art ararngements, while Miss Katherine Tupper aided in making the costumes. Mr. Sam Graham directed the business in general.

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.

Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

S. T. C. May Days

Continued from Page 1

asked to participate in the dances. Even the kindergarten took part.

The queen and court were chosen by the student body then as they are today. The beauty of the participant is always considered; however, this one aspect does not exceed the consideration of the girl's activity in college functions. Until the past few years it has not been the custom for the likely members of the queen's court to walk across the stage in evening dresses in order for the students to see them at their possible best and so to be sure of having more beautiful attendants.

In 1928, when a new director, Mrs. Fitzpatrick, who took complete charge still under the sponsorship of the student body, a different and more desirable site was found in the quickly developing and beautiful Longwood. That was at the time when "the dell," as we know it today, was not more than a small sized swamp with a creek running through it. May Day then took place on the slope in front of Longwood with the woods as a natural background.

Within many years the creek has been changed into a spring, and the unkept lowland has been miraculously transformed into a large-spaced, grassy opening and dell. Huge-branched trees cast elongated shadows across the area, making it a comfortable and beautiful retreat.

To us, as a site for May Day, the dell fairly nears perfection. Looking down from the grassy hill sides to the stage set in the midst of nature's very handiwork, poetically speaking, one sees the fairies move gracefully, the queen walk with precedented stateliness, and the blithesome dancers skip lightly around the May Pole.

The themes of May Day have not changed much, although they have varied from year to year. But in all of it we find more grace and precision in the movements and greater variety of color and more elaborate costumes. The participants have seemed to realize the necessity of their increasing work and skill in order that they too can somewhat measure up to the lovely and picturesque dell as a mark of progress in the history of S. T. C. May Days. Results . . . May Days are bigger and better and continue to take on added significance and color.

WIX

Sanitary Protection
without PADS • PINS • BELTS
The Original Internal Tampon

BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service—Store

Baptist Union Installs Officers

The Baptist Student Union installed Marion Harden as president of the council for the second year at a service last month. Other officers installed are first vice-president, Anna Maxey; second vice-president, Caralie Nelson; third vice-president, Frances Hudgins and Eloise Waller; secretary, Mary Louise Holland; treasurer, Dorothy E. Davis; reporter, Olivia Stephenson; music chairman, Helen Reiff; pianist, Elizabeth Carrington; Sunday School representative, Josie Lee Cogsdale; and B. Y. P. U. representative, Caralie Nelson.

Marion Harden, Frances Hudgins and Mary Louise Holland went to Richmond May 7, to meet with students from other Virginia colleges. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the plans for the B. S. U. retreat at Ridgecrest, North Carolina, from June 7-15. Several girls from Farmville are planning to go.

Miss Mary Entertains

Miss Mary White Cox entertained the outgoing and incoming members of Student Council, House Council, A. A. Council and the Y. W. Council at a basket picnic in the rec on May 2. Each girl was given a May basket which contained delicious food, and for dessert cakes and punch were served.

Miss Mary had planned to have the picnic at Longwod but weather conditions were unfavorable. Despite this fact, everything went on as planned and the girls declared it was much more fun after all.

Jo Ware Will Head Northern Neck Club

Josephine Ware has been elected next year's president of the Northern Neck Club. Other officers are Flynt Moore, vice-president; Garnett Lee Perkins, secretary and Marian Mitchell, treasurer.

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE

The Flagstaff Cottage
310 22nd St., Virginia Beach, Va.
(Mrs. Arthur H. Irby)
Caters to young people
Special rates to house-parties

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

COLLEGE SHOPPE
MOTHER'S DAY—MAY 14
Don't forget Mother
Large assortment of candy—Whitman's, Hollingsworth
We pay postage

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure Thread SILK HOSE
Full Fashioned
Guaranteed to You
49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

Graduation Gifts
Personal Engraved Stationery
Southside Drug Store
Phone 356

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

MEET YOUR FRIENDS AT THE
RECREATIONAL CENTER
SHANNON'S
PHONE 224 Prompt Delivery

Dot Fischer Issues Bowling Schedule

Individual, Team Scores to be Posted

Dot Fischer has issued the following schedule for the bowling teams. Each team has been divided into two groups, A and B, respectively. The players will bowl three games one day a week. Records of individual and team scores are to be kept and posted weekly on the A. A. bulletin board.

Team I: Jean Taylor, captain, Frances Irving, Frances Steed, Beverly Sexton, Louise Anthony, Meade Neale.

Team II: Jenny Carroll, captain, Nancy Pierpont, Helen McIlwaine, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Bess Windham, Marian Worsham.

Team III A: Thursday 11:00—Shirley Stevens, Essie Millner, Ruby Adams, Frances Pulley, LeNoir Hubbard.

IV A—Thursday 8:30—Kathryn Newman, Estelle Mann, Doris Chesnut.

Schedule

Team 1 A—Friday 8:30—Beverly Sexton, Frances Irving, Frances Steed.

Team IIA—Friday 11:00—Nancy Pierpont, Helen McIlwaine, M. E. Petticrew, Bess Windham.

Team I B—Thursday 8:30 — Louise Anthony, Meade Neale, Jean Taylor.

Team II B—Thursday 11:00—Jenny Carroll, Marion Worsham.

Team III: Lenoir Hubbard, captain, Ruby Adams, Frances Pulley, Essie Millner, Shirley Stevens, Anne Billups.

Team IV—Dot Fischer, captain, Kathryn Newman, Estelle Mann, Pat Gibson, Doris Chesnut, Bernice Copley.

IV B—Friday 9:30—Dot Fischer, Pat Gibson, Bernice Copley, Anne Billups — Chapel time on Monday.

Field and Track Meet to Be May 22

Helen McIlwaine, manager of minor sports, has announced that May 22 has been selected as the date for the field and track meet. Practices will be held at 4:00 daily in the gym. Individuals wishing to participate in the meet must sign the chart on the A. A. bulletin board and indicate the events which they wish to enter. These events have been divided into running, jumping and throwing classes. Entrants may sign up for not more than two events in one class and one event in each of the three classes, plus a relay.

Ten events including baseball distance throw, javelin, shot put, standing broad jump, high jump, step-hop-skip-jump, 60 yd. dash, 60 yd. low hurdles, shuttle relay relaxed and a novelty race have been planned.

A.A. Council Appoints Two New Assistants

Nell Hurt and Helen Wentz have been appointed assistant managers of archery and golf, respectively. The Athletic Council has selected these two girls upon basis of the interest they have shown in their particular sport. They will assist Helen Seward and Helen McIlwaine, managers.

SUNDAY, MAY 14

—IS—

MOTHER'S DAY

Don't Forget Her

LYNN the JEWELER

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High St. Farmville, Va.

Baseball Game Set for May 17

The annual class baseball game has been scheduled for May 17. This year the seniors and sophmores will combine to form the green and white team, while the juniors and freshmen make up the red and white team. Sidney Yount is in charge of the former group and Kaki Peery the latter. Both girls are members of the coaching class.

Each girl must have five practices to be eligible to play on her team. Practices will be held on the athletic field every day at 4:00 o'clock. Saturday practices will be arranged if enough people desire them. The team winning the game will receive points for her class toward the color cup.

Archery & Golf Play-off Arranged

May 23 has been set as the deadline for golf score returns. Girls wishing to enter the play are urged to sign up on the A. A. bulletin board. Each contestant must play off her match some time between now and the deadline date and to turn her individual score in to Helen McIlwaine, golf manager, before that day.

The archery tournament will be held on May 19. Practices are being held on the athletic field every day at 5:00. Girls are asked to come out and give their support to this color cup sport which may prove the deciding factor in the class athletic supremacy.

TENNIS

Please do not use the tennis courts immediately after rain.

Sport Slants

By Mickey Beck

Don't even think that we're the "uncute" girls just because we don't have dates but play in the gym instead on Saturday nights. Ya' got us all wrong, really. Why we're the regular fellas, and I might even go so far as to say that we are the back bone of S. T. C. You just ought to come down and see Sue Owen in one of her "Man On The Flying Trapeze" acts. Why it's definitely rare. And did you ever see Sarah Cline tumbling? Well, you've missed something.

I knew that May Turner Winn was interested in volley ball by her fine attitude in physcial education class; but I didn't know that it was her real sport. Have you ever noticed that colossal serve of hers? On the other hand, it might not be so much love for the sport as it is for Red and White—you know, kind of preparatory step for defeating those "Rats." and Juniors next year. Do you follow me?

Can anybody outjump Rosebro? Well, I 'll challenge you for her. I don't believe you can and I'd like to see you out there trying (I double dare you).

Badminton seems to be quite the rage now. I never saw such hustling and bustling for that equipment in all my life. I even started to go to get my "22" the other night and try my aim at those funny looking badminton birds; but there was already enough noise in the place.

Did I hear someone say they didn't know what I was talking about? Why, did you ever? Do you mean to tell me you never heard of those famous Saturday Night Gym Sessions? Well you ought to be ashamed of yourself! Yes, we all stomp down to the gym on Saturday nights to get our daily dozens. Miss Iler and Miss Barlow have given us complete disposal of athletic equipment and the gym.

I'll let you in on a very neat secret if you really want to know. You see, it's like this. The tennis tournament is scheduled for soon and I've noticed (now you're not to breathe a word of this to any one) that some of those people who don't have much time for practice are getting plenty smooth by hitting balls down there. And they are those people, my dear girls, who will most probably be playing in the semi-finals, when the time comes around.

Guess I've rambled on enough, but before I stop, let me remind you of the other activities in which you might indulge. There is shuffleboard, hurdling, high jumping, tumbling and almost anything you can think of to play beside the fact that nearly all of the old sports drop in for a dip in the pool on their way home.

Some of them are hair-raising jobs, but 'tis fun. Won't you come and play with us?

SPECIAL
ALL SPRING COATS & DRESSSES REDUCED
⅓ OFF

GIRLS: We have some exceptionally fine values to offer and it will pay you to see us while our stock is in still in good shape.

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., May 9-10
VIRGINIA BRUCE
"SOCIETY LAWYER"
"Heroes of Leisure"
COMMUNITY SING!

Friday-Sat., May 12-13
ELLEN DREW, GEO. RAFT
Zazu Pitts, Hugh Herbert
LADY'S FROM KENTUCKY
Charlie Chase Comedy
Latest News

Next Mon.-Tues., May 15-16
BETTE DAVIS
GEORGE BRENT
"DARK VICTORY"
Latest News Events

GRADUATION DRESSSES

Whites and Pastels $2.97 to $9.97

Buy your Mother's Day Gift from

THE HUB DEPT. STORE

Charge Accounts Solicited

KAY DUNHILL SMART DRESSES

Crisply new Cotton Dresses you'll adore $3.97 & $5.97

MOJUD HOSIERY—Make legs beautiful 79c & $1.00

2 PR. FOR $1.00

dorothy may

Charge it if you like

Outstanding Combinations

BIG BILL LEE, outstanding for his combination of burning speed, control and games won, and CHESTERFIELD, outstanding for its can't-be-copied combination of the world's best tobaccos.

Chesterfields' can't-be-copied blend makes them outstanding for refreshing mildness... for better taste... for more pleasing aroma ...outstanding for real smoking enjoyment.

When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give millions of men and women more smoking pleasure... why THEY SATISFY

BIG BILL LEE
Pitching Star of the Chicago Cubs. An outstanding pitcher in the National League.

Chesterfield

The RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

They're Milder . . . They Taste Better

Copyright 1939
Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 1939 | No. 28

Miss Mix Resigns Position at Farmville

Has Been Member Of Administration Twenty-Two Years

Miss Grace Eldridge Mix, who has been a member of the faculty at Farmville for many years, has resigned her position as supervisor of the kindergarten in the training school and teacher of education in the college, and will leave in June for New York City where she will make her home.

As a member of the faculty administration for 22 years, Miss Mix has taught English psychology and education in this college.

For 12 years she has been principal of the Summer Demonstration School, as the summer campus training school is called, and held the place of assistant principal while Mr. S. M. Holton was principal.

Recently Miss Mix was made a life member of the Association of Childhood Education, of which she is a national member. For seven years she served as the Pan Hellenic adviser.

Miss Mix received her B. A. and M. A. degrees from the Teachers College, Columbia University. For two years she was a member of the faculty there.

Miss Mix's "outside curricula activities" include membership of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national organization recognizing leadership, serving on Student Standards several years and being on the Y. W. C. A. advisory board.

"By no means am I going to retire and fold my hands," said Miss Mix.

"I have many plans—volunteer social welfare work with the children in New York. And," she added, "I am even planning to do some writing."

MISS GRACE MIX

Farmville High School Presents Senior Play

Alpha Lee Garnett assisted Mrs. Mildred Dickinson Davis to direct the Farmville High School Senior Play, "Vanity", which was given in the auditorium on Friday, May 12. Other S. T. C. girls who helped with various phases were Helen Jeffries, lighting, and Myra Smith, Blair Goode, and Frances Irving, make-up.

The characters of "Vanity" were Dickson, Lucretia Smith; Prudence Fry, Hannah Lee Crawford; Aunt Heppy, Margaret Ligon; Hope Fry, Elva Andrews; Pilgrim Fry, William Flanagan; Lord Coxalet, Charles Ivey Smith; Vanity, Peggy Watkins; Ada Kemp, Henrietta McMullen; Dick Broderick, Howard Harrison; Jefferson Brown, Horace Adams; Lady Holland, Iris Geyer; and Augustus King, Garland Haynes.

Robert Gilbert and Blake Putney had charge of properties and staging.

First Grade Gives May Day Presentation

"Our Garden", based on the story of "The Little Pink Rose", was the title for the May Day pageant which the first grade of the Farmville Elementary and Training School presented on last Friday, May 12, in the "rec". The program was given in honor of the mothers. Parents, town people and college students attended.

Joan Gilliam as the rose was queen of the garden for whom the other flowers, birds and butterflys performed. Rhythms and songs in accordance with the theme composed the program.

Miss Mary Haynes and Mrs. Maude Beckham are supervisors for the first grade and student teachers are Norma Pamplin, Virginia Taylor, Margaret Holberton, Victoria Tanner, Helen Watts and Betsy Wyatt.

Orchesis Bids Nine Girls

Dance Group Founded in 1935

Peggy Allen, Mickey Beck, Theresa Brinkley, Ethel Carr, Alice Cogburn, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Chlotilde Jarman, Betty Peerman, and Evelyn Timberlake have received bids to Orchesis, the honorary dance group.

A girl must show outstanding ability and interest in the dance to become a member. Her course of study has to meet special requirements before she is eligible

Orchesis was founded in 1935 and is the only artist dance club in our school. Miss Mary Winston was its first president and the group was then called Artist Dance Group. The name was changed to Orchesis in 1935. It was founded because a need was felt for such a group to help with dance programs and especially May Day for which it did much this year.

Mrs. Louise Fitzpatrick, of the physical education department, is the adviser. The club presented its annual recital in the winter quarter. They had the opportunity to entertain Hanya Holm and her group in the fall. The club has also taken trips to visit other dance group performances.

House Council For Next Year Is Announced

Twenty-Three Girls Will Keep Order On Various Halls

Marjorie Nimmo, president of the House Council for next year announced last night her new council which is composed of presidents of the various halls in the school.

These presidents are Clyde Saunders, second floor Student; Martha Roberts, third floor Student; Margaret Franklin, third floor Student; Evelyn Pankey, third floor Gym; Jo Ware, third floor Annex; Fredna Armfield, third floor Whitehouse.

Polly Hughes, second floor Whitehouse; Jane Engleby, third floor Main; Polly Keller, first floor Annex; Hannah Lindamood, second floor Main; Mildred Morris, second floor Gym; Agnes Barlow, Library; Jean Watts, third floor new building; Myra Smith, first floor new building; Virginia Howell, third floor Cunningham Hall.

Kat Reed, second floor Cunningham Hall; Shirley McCalley, third floor Main; Boonie Stevenson, first floor Cunningham Hall; Helen Wentz, second floor Annex; Nancy Moss, second floor new building; and Katherine Hawthorne, second floor Main.

Esther Atkinson, secretary, completes the House Council.

Dr. Walmsley Gives Parliamentary Law

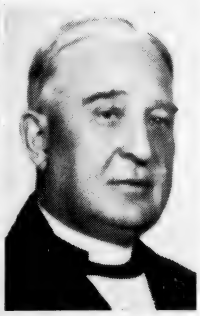
Dr. Walmsley began his series of classes on parliamentary law last Wednesday night, May 10. This class is required for heads of all organizations, and is open to any students in the school.

Besides the present heads of organizations, Ann Ayres, Sarah Cline, Carolyn Harvey, Margaret James, Helen Jeffries, Augusta Parks, Norma Pamplin, Nancy Naff, Allene Overbey, Jane Engleby, Martha Roberts, Margaret Wright, Lillian Wahab, Kitty Roberts, Marguerite Blackwell, Anne Cock, Jacfl Cock, Marie Allen, Lillian German, and Helen Wentz were among those attending.

The class will be held two more nights and it is to help all officers conduct organizations in the proper manner and to instruct any girls for advising clubs when teaching.

Visitors to Crippled Children's Hospital Reveal Impressions

By PAT GIBSON



Just outside of the City of Richmond there is a large light colored stone building. It is bright and pleasant with many sun porches, spacious lawns, luxuriant shrubs, ever-blooming flowers and large shade trees. Children play croquet and can be seen scurrying hither and thither in their little go-carts. Happiness permeates the place and finds expression in the gay carefree laughter of the children. This is the Crippled Children's Hospital.

Does it seem strange to say that happiness reigns there? Perhaps—but it cannot be denied. Upon first entering the cool, quiet, halls, one senses the calm serenity lingering over all. Here is suffering, heartbreak and undying hope. It is here where loving mothers, and fathers bring their children to be healed, cured. There are babies as well as older boys and girls—babies with club hands or feet, tuberculosis, infantile paralysis, afflictions, hair lip, and split palate. The older children too, have these same ailments. They know what is wrong with them and do not hesitate to speak about themselves. But they do not dwell upon their illnesses—they tell of their school, their newspaper, the happenings around the hospital and their amusements. Particularly touching was the case of a boy who had been at the hospital for seven years and was sitting up for the first time. He sat erectly with a proud smile of achievement playing on his face. Next to him in a cart was a boy of his own age who, the nurse explained, was his best friend. They were, she continued, very much attached to one another, having been together for seven years. One hated to think of their parting when the time came for the first boy to go home. This is one of the many heart rending hospital tales.

One cannot leave the hospital without visiting the open sun porches where children chatter and play happily together while absorbing Old Sol's healing rays. Here we leave the children with all ends working to promote their recovery.

The physical education majors will not forget such a place for a long time to come. Nor will they want to.

Dr. Jarman Announces Speakers For Fifty-fifth Commencement

Bishop William A. Brown and Rev. B. M. Boyd, who will deliver the baccalaureate and commencement addresses.

Bishop Brown, Rev. Beverly Boyd Will Address Graduates

Dr. J. L. Jarman has announced the speakers for the fifty-fifth commencement exercises at the Farmville State Teachers College. Bishop W. A. Brown of Norfolk, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening, June 4, and Reverend Beverley M. Boyd, rector of Grace and Holy Trinity Church, Richmond, will be the commencement speaker. Last year the address to the graduates was given by Dr. C. M. Newman, head of the department of English and Foreign Laugages at Blacksburg, and Dr. T. F. Adams of the First Baptist church, Richmond, delivered the sermon.

The commencement program will start with the annual junior-senior prom to be held in the gymnasium of the college Saturday evening, June 3. Sunday evening will be given to the sermon in the college auditorium. On Monday morning the diploma class will hold its class-day exercises, and the exercises of the degree class will be held in the afternoon. That evening is the reception given for seniors, parents, and friends, after which the graduating seniors will participate in the annual lantern parade. The exercises will be concluded Tuesday morning with the address by Reverend Boyd and the awarding of the diplomas and degrees of approximately 210 girls.

The subjects of the speakers will be announced later.

Jane Hardy Is Choir President

Yates Will Serve As Choral Head

"I'll try. I'll do my very best," said Jane Hardy, when she was elected president of the College Choir for the coming year. Jane is a junior from Blackstone, and has done outstanding work in the Music Department as a member of the Choir and Senior A Capella, and a director of the first grade band at the training school this year.

Laura Nell Crawley was elected vice-president; Bernice Copley, secretary; Ruth Winstead, treasurer; Forrestine Whitaker, Virginia Richards and Mildred Harry make up the executive committee.

Elsye Berrye Yates, a sophomore from Suffolk, has been chosen to lead the Choral Club, as president for next year. Elsye Berrye is a member of the College Choir and Senior A Capella, and chairman of the music committee of the Y. W. C. A. for the coming year.

Other officers are vice-president, Forrestine Whitaker; secretary, Virginia Richards; and treasurer, Martha Whelchel.

The Choral Club will be known as the Junior Choir next year.

The past year Frankie Bryan was president of the Choir and Elizabeth Burke was president of the Choral Club.

Lorana Moomaw Is Forensic Group Head

Lorana Moomaw was elected president of Pi Kappa Delta, natinal forensic fraternity, at a meeting May 9. Marjorie Ellett was elected vice-president and Jack Cock secretary. Caralie Nelson will be the new treasurer.

Lorana is a member of the varsity debate team, counselor of the Debate Club, and the winner of the after-dinner speaking contest of the recent Pi Kappa Delta Convention. Marjorie took a place among the first ten at the Dixie Tournament at the Winthrop College tournament, and she took second place in impromptus at the South Atlantic Province tournament held recently in Farmville. Jack has debated here and recently went to Danville to debate against the Averett College team. Caralie won first place in impromptu speaking and second place in extemporaneous speaking at the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament held at High Point last year.

Y.W.C.A. Arranges For Regional Meet

S. T. C. Will Send Eight Delegates

Dorothy Eades, president of the Y. W. C. A., Miss Willodine Gisler, teacher of religious education, and six other Y. W. C. A. delegates will go to the Southern Regional Conference, sponsored by the Young Men's Christian Associations and the Young Women's Christian Associations in ten southern states, to be held June 8-17 at Blue Ridge, N. C.

Dorothy Eades is Farmville's official delegate and the other six delegates are Caralie Nelson, Helen Reiff, Eliza Wise, Lucy Turnbull, Beulah Ettenger and Evelyn Thorington. Any student in the Y. W. C. A. or Y. M. C. A. in the colleges belonging to the southern conference is eligible to go to the meetings at Blue Ridge.

Though the specific topics have not been announced as usual, problems pertaining to the south are to be studied. This year instead of the three divisions of the meetings at Blue Ridge there will be only two, one for white students one for colored and white.

Handbooks, scrapbooks, and other material from the colleges to be represented by delegates will be on display. Such materials have already been sent from Farmville.

The Farmville delegates will stay at Robert E. Lee Hall. Last year Caralie Nelson, Nancy Gray, Louise Wells, Ollie Graham Gilchrist, Isabel Williamson and Miss Mary Nichols represented Farmville at Blue Ridge.

Choral Groups Plan Renditions to be Soon

The College choir, Senior A Capella choir, Junior Quartette and Senior Quartette will sing at the Sunday evening services of the Methodist church on May 21. Dr. J. L. Jarman plans to attend.

The choir and other choral groups of the college will also sing at the college baccalaureate service on Sunday evening, June 4 in the large auditorium of the college and again on Tuesday June 6 at graduation exercises. The number to be sung at baccalaureate is "Let Their Celestial Concerts All Unite" from Handel's "Sampson"

Assyrian Speaks At Church Service

College Choir Also To Be in Program

Prince Raphael Emmanuel and the College Choir will appear at the Sunday night services of the Methodist Episcopal Church on May 21. Raphael Emmanuel will speak on "Bible Lands—Yesterday and Today"; and the choirs to sing are the Junior and Senior Quartettes, the Junior and Senior A Capellas, the College Choir, and the Choral Club.

Raphael Emmanuel spoke in Farmville several months ago at the S. T. C. auditorium and he is remembered as "the charming and cultivated Assyrian who fascinated his hearers with an infectious laugh as well as with his stories about the desert Bible lands." Though he has lived in the United States for many years speaking and singing—for the sheik is also a musician—his native costume and flashing teeth bring to one's mind a picture of his native land with its strong, healthy, romantic people.

Prince Emmanuel now spends much of his time lecturing to college and church audiences, but he takes the opportunity for study of current events and far travel, not just to his own country but to all parts of Europe, Asia, and America.

Commencement Schedule

Saturday, June 3
8:30 P. M.—Junior-Senior Prom
Sunday, June 4
8:00 P. M.—Baccalaureate Sermon
Monday, June 5
10:30 A. M.—Sophomore Class Day
3:00 P. M.—Senior Class Day
4:30 P. M.—Daisy Chain
10:00 P. M.—Lantern Parade
Tuesday, June 6
10:00 A. M.—Graduation Exercises

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934

Subscription $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistants—Elizabeth West, Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
eature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Socials Editor ..... Shirley Stephens
Socials Assistant ..... Evelyn Byrd Hutcheson
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Ann Johnson, Theodosia McKenzie, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickeral, Janelle Shelor, Edna Strong, Dell Warren, Lucy Turnbull.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Beverly Blair, Helen Briggs, Josa Carleton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary Allen Peters, Frances Pope, Jane Rosenberger, Mary Sue Simmons, Kathryn Watkins.

Typists

Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Bettsy Briggs, Anne Bruce, Elizabeth Bundy, Dorothy Lee Harrison, Frances Pritchett, Dorothy Smith, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Sue Wohlford.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 1939

A Loss To Our College

It is indeed a shock to us to learn of Miss Mix's resignation. We feel that we are being deprived of one of our most valuable and prized faculty members.

As a leader of little children Miss Mix has become widely known throughout the State and this part of the country. Girls interested in primary work have felt themselves particularly fortunate to have had the opportunity to be under her excellent instruction and to have had the contact with her as a personality.

Though her main interests have been in the primary field, Miss Mix has in no means confined her talents here. She has been a real leader in the college, broadening her acquaintances and thus affording the girls the delightful associations her personality offers. Her classes have been ones of free thought and expression, informal and of close contact. She has learned to know us through her service on Student Standards and the Y. W. C. A. Those of us here now know particularly her leadership as the recent Pan-Hellenic adviser.

All Farmville, where she has been active in church and community projects has learned to love her too.

We can't express how deep a loss we feel. However, we know that the foundations Miss Mix has left in the kindergarten and in our college are firm ones that will be as permanent as will our thoughts of her.

SENIOR PERSONALITIES

KATHERINE ROBERTS

Just a bit over two decades ago in the town of Nassawadox on Eastern Shore was born a little girl. At first there was nothing unusual about her. She gurgled and smiled and kicked and gooed like the best of Nature's similar products.

However, as she grew like the trees and plants in the lovely outdoors about her, there was something different about her. Like the poets, from the time she could trot around alone, she was a part of the great out-of-doors, of Nature. She loved to wander about, examine the "curious" plants and flowers, to wade in the cool, cool brook, to listen to the birds call.

In such a setting did Kitty Roberts' now artistic temperament have its roots—her love of poetry and fine literature, her talent and taste for good music, painting and art. We've read her works in our literary publications, we've seen her paintings on display in art exhibits, we've "oh'd" in fascination at her delicate originality in her ideas and decorations for banquets and dances. In our very contacts with her we've gazed into her blue eyes, with their mystic expression of appreciation of only goodness and beauty, and sensed her as the real artist in temperament and action.

Kitty's loyalty and artistic ability also extend to the home. In her room you sense that "Kitty lives here" by the hand-done campus scenes you see here and there on her walls. In her own home on Eastern Shore you can look out of the window and compare a view or outdoor setting with a wall painting Kitty's done. About you are traces of little touches which only an artist's hand can so perform. As we walk along with her, she gives a mirthful gurgle at some remark we make and, on the spot composes a poem. She drinks in the beauty around her and spiels off a line or two about a tree, a bird or a flower.

"A bit o' fun for every occasion" also accompanies Kitty's versatile nature. Her originality and understanding and friendly disposition creep into everything she does. Truly, there're few things that are wholesome and good and broadening that she can't do well and wholeheartedly.

Sincere and kind in all she does, Kitty has been an influence over all who've known her well and listened to her as, in the role of our Student Body leader, she's placed before us the examples of womanhood and ideals we are to uphold for our college. In the hearts of all her followers she leaves a feeling of "Oh, to be like Kitty."

Do's and Dont's For Dating Dames

Just to clear the air of a lot of disturbing thoughts and actions, Augustana men have drawn up 15 rules they believe their co-ed companions should follow. Here they are:

1. Don't keep your date waiting. Be prompt.
2. Don't try to make too good an impression the first time.
3. Don't be a walking cosmetic counter.
4. Don't ponder over the menu for half an hour and then eat only a small portion of your order.
5. Don't eat too much. The boy wants to go to school four years too.
6. Don't try to attract the attention of other fellows while on a date.
7. Don't retouch make-up in public.
8. Do something to show your appreciation.
9. Do your education justice by keeping the conversation interesting.
10. Do something to overcome the desire to be sophisticated and glamorous. Be natural.
11. Do your part in this dating business by at least presenting the opportunity for our asking you.
12. Do your best to converse and mix with us.
13. Do your share in supporting sports events.
14. Do believe us when we say "looks" aren't everything.
15. Don't each of you take each of these suggestions to heart. We believe many of you are doing all right—but there is always room for improvement.

Echoes From an Empty Space

Well, that's another dance come and gone. No regrets? There should be . . . For instance wasn't Kat Reed snaking Sugar? . . . Or is he snakeable, Allene? . . Speaking of Allene . . . She takes the prize for the "goatiest" goat ! ! ! Honorable mention goes to Pierpont!

For Steed's benefit we are going to run a lost and found item in the Rotunda . . . Has anybody seen her date . . . Reward! . . . Who were the two young gentlemen who lost their dates at the tea dance and had to get "Little Joe Hart" to make an announcement to that effect? . . . . . And while we're on subject . . . Wasn't Lucy Baskerville getting little too chummy with the gentleman in question? . . . .

Betty Beale's football hero wasn't quite what we expected . . . Did someone say he was smooth? Hey, how about Hampden-Sydney's second greatest lover? . . . He certainly wasn't around when we were looking! . . . But then he was taking an imported product to the Chi Phi party . . . or that's what was told to us!! And why were certain young C. C. ladies so anxious to keep their dates in the receiving line? . . . "Richbrau" sales were booming this week by way of the "Richmond Times Dispatch" (most of that business was done in Shannon's!) Is it polite to ask what Miss Marye's reaction to Little Joe Hart's novelties was? . . .

We're still collecting votes for the horsiest C. C. member . . . And what's this we hear about a Soph goat being partial to furniture store?

It is generally known why Isabel wouldn't take John Dennis to the dance? . . . Congratulations on cutest dates go to none other than Boo Barham, Norma Pamplin, Peggie Young . . . and while we're discussing Peggie . . . The girls are a hog about Uncle! But then they always were! . . .

Getting back to Goat Week, so soon over . . . . Wasn't Mary Catherine Gunther's poem worth a great big hand? . . . And Annie Shaw's was a bit different, too . . . It didn't have that "homemade" flavor! Didn't the goats look cute though . . . "Romance died when he saw her smile." The teeth were the payoff!!

Orchids to Clara and Stallard for the lovely figure. Literally so Kyle thought!

So Jane got a "Mother's Day" gift! . . . How nice!

Magician Betty Lucy is quite expert at the art of disappearing. Yes, indeed the back door of the rec is very useful! Another fast one was pulled at the same time—get her to tell you all about it!?

Margaret Bunting's philosophy of love is: If you love a person, he'll do anything you want . . . Doris Trimyer's Harold will be left behind the "eight ball" when she accepts her new teaching job . . . . We still wonder what the score is in the Brinkley-Eason affair . . . Robert Taylor's sudden interest in horses or is it sudden?

Painter looked lovely wearing white gardenias and Bobby Sowder . . . Coralie Williams burns in the afterglow of Doc Richards . . . D. G. Smith arrived on the scene and was Kent tickled? . . . Mary Prince Arnold went to W. & L. with Sonny's permission—nice of him . . . Going back to late arrivals, who paged Nancy Wolfe at the tea dance? . . . Picklen received flowers from the hometown interest—why didn't she wear them? . . .

The not-forgotten-men-present at the dance were: Orgain, Haislip, Trice, Hutter, Spong, Pancake, Peake, and last-but-not-least LOVER BROWN and THE Baldwin.

Model couples: Hatcher-Whitesall; Thompson-Helson; Elsie and her love; Hutcheson and the LEADING MAN; Nimmo-Brothers; Barham-Snead.

FLASH! GREY AND HER SPARKLER! AND WE DO MEAN FLASH!

One of the outstanding couples was composed of Pierpont, Spong, and Bunny Yonce . . . Triangles exist in the best of families! Peggie Williams was awfully excited . . . WHY? Nimmo's brother certainly catches on quickly! . . .

Why were the Pi-Kaps foodless?

Someone with dark hair said Alpha Lee's date was too smooth! Where was Mary Allen's Elon buddy? . . . Also Burke's Va. . . . Who said Virginia? . . . Oh those moustaches!

Mary Jackson certain was anxious about Morris . . . Lyle is still undecided about Spooks and Charlotte . . . Shine, Butterworth, Shine! . . . Lib George's date was precious—QUICK, call out the Marine Corps . . . Huge signs should be hung in the gym that say "NO SNAKING" instead of "NO SMOKING."

As One Goat to Another

Did You Know?

Iowa State College gave up all hopes of a new women's dormitory when a member of the state legislature said that college women "expect too much" and are "too expensive to marry". The statement contributed to an economy drive which defeated a bill that would have financed the building.

Duquesne University women have organized a "Co-ed Protective League" which fights chronic stand-uppers and provides broken-date insurance. Members pay ten cents a week for insurance and receive fifty cents heart balm when a date is late or fails to show up.

A DePauw University alumnus has gulped 5,000 goldfish to end all such contests. He did it at a goldfish hatchery where there are at least 5,000 tiny fish in a cup of water.

A student dormitory to be erected at Northwestern University will be the tallest building in the world. Housing 700 students, it will be 210 feet tall, and will cost $1,700,000. It will contain shops, libraries, dining rooms, lounges, exercise facilities such as bowling alleys and squash courts and a recreational roof garden at the tenth floor level.

It is estimated that students who ran for office in spring elections at the University of Florida spent $2,500.

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

"If the great company of the dead could make their voices heard, they would be with me . . . whose most earnest prayer is that such cruel and destructive madness shall never again overtake mankind . . . there is no land whose people want war. This I believe to be as true of the German nation, as of the British nation, as in America—or—in France". It was in such a manner that the Duke of Windsor paused in his tour over the World War battlefields and gave, "without the knowledge of any government—and simply as a soldier of the last war," his first public utterances since his abdication in December, 1936. He urged the leaders of the world to prevent another world conflict by making mutual concessions and the burying of all jealousies and suspicions."

Meanwhile the business of "balancing" went rapidly forward as the hand of danger pointed directly to Poland with its sharpest point resting on Danzig.

Britain continued to hope that Russia will join with her if the burning fuse called Danzig should set the world afire. But Germany had other ideas about the matter. Hitler is extremely hopeful that he can make successful maneuvers with Stalin that will cause the "neutralization" of Russia.

Then Pope Pieus invited Germany, Britain, France, Italy and Poland to another little "Munich" in the Vatican City as soon as possible. Germany liked this because Germany has confidence in the fairness of what she is asking and feels sure that such a conference would bring a result not unlike the last conference of its kind. Poland did not like the invitation at all because Poland knows that she would have to "give in" if a compromise is reached, and while Poland says she is willing to make direct negotiations with Germany she does not wish to do business of this three party "now now, Poland" basis. France was also in favor of this "face to face country to country" kind of thing.

But what about Danzig? How do they feel? If they are causing all the "racket" it does seem that they should at least have a voice in the disturbance. Danzig is definitely a German city with German people living in it. Apparently they want to be under the German rule. Germany may be a "big bad" country to all the rest of the world but to a German it's home and the combination of all other letters in the alphabet spell the world as G-E-R-M-AN--Y spells it. To the rest of the world America is a "smart-aleck, upstart of a country, who cannot tend to her own business." To us America is the "biggest" and "best" nation that has or will ever live. That's because its "home" to us—that's because we love it. Danzig must feel the same way, speaking in a "human way" for politically speaking Danzig has no "say."

Sport Slants

By BOO BARHAM

There are slants 'n' more slants 'bout ALL the sports this week! We're off!

The freshman baseball team has really got organization, and how! Dodson is furnishing the humor—we do mean humor—and Clyde Saunders is furnishing the technique these days. A perfectly wonderful combination we'd say! Anyhow, it certainly seems to be working. The team seems to be getting a high degree of baseball skill and a lot of fun along with it. More power to ya, Dodson, Clyde, and all the rest of 'em.

And then, have you heard the one about Miss Smartie Smith (Myra to you)? She has to teach archery at a camp this summer. On account of because Miss Smith had never even shot one little arrow into the air or anywhere, for that matter, and because summer and camp are just around the corner, Miss Smith got a little worried last week and decided she'd better learn a little about archery. Accordingly she tripped out to Longwood all ready to learn. She very casually picked up bow and arrow, fitted arrow into bow—and even more casually pulled back the bow and let the arrow go—plunk—right in the bulls eye mind you—the first arrow she ever shot, and shot with no form, no nothing in fact! And we struggle 'n' struggle! Tain't fair! P. S. Betcha she doesn't do it again soon!

Jean Taylor's bowling team composed of all seniors is really a whiz bang at the stuff. They are doing all right. That bowling is mighty interesting!

Golf is progressing rapidly at this point, but don't forget, all you little golfers, that your serves have to be by Tuesday, May 23. We hear that Crews and Helen Mac really have got their eyes on the ball (now all they've got to do is to get the club on it).

With the singles tournament scheduled to finish on Saturday, we are eagerly looking for the winner. Who'll she be is the question. The girls competing are in fine form and it will be a fight to the finish. Since the doubles have just started there's no telling what will happen. So until next week. Bye!

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO RE PAIR WORK.

Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

Be Beatiful On

Graduation Day

Now is the time of you want your

PERMANENT WAVE TO LOOK ITS BEST !

GRADUATION SUECIAL PERMANENTS

$2.50 UP

Graduuation Day is an important date in the life of every girl. Of course you'l want to look your very best . . . the best way to be sure of your looks is to make a date with us today for a new permanent.

B A L D W I N ' S
PHONE 159

Tennis Singles to Be Finished May 20

May 23 is Deadline For Doubles Match

Tennis courts will be in condition for the singles tournament play-off which will be held on Saturday, May 20. This tournament was started last fall but was postponed until spring on account of the bad weather. The girls still in the play are Clara Cook, Madge Horne, Chlotilde Jarman, Macon Raine, Pat Gibson, Betty Shumate, M. E. Badger, Army Butterworth, Lou Glenn, Dot Fischer and Jenny Carroll.

The doubles play is under way with the following girls competing: Dot Fischer, Pat Gibson; Marian Worsham, Nancy Pierpont, Helen McIlwaine, Jenny Carorll, Yvonne Cheape, Esther Coleman; Ruby Adams, Anne Shirley; Bernice Copley, Clyde Saunders; M. E. Badger, Ellen Conyers; Cottie Radspinner, Mary Sue Edmonson; Patty Vier, Jean Bourne; Margaret Britton, Army Butterworth; Madge Horne, Kaki Peery.

This tournament must be finished by Tuesday, May 23.

Nine Girls Enter Golf Tournament

Sunshine McCormick, Helen Wentz, Helen McIlwaine, Crews Borden, Hattie Cantrell, Emil Ellis, Mildred Owen, Pat Gibson and Dot Fischer are among those who have signed up for the golf tournament. These girls will play nine holes and their scores will be recorded.

Cotillion Goats Surpass Rat Week Spectacle

Say, is time marching backwards or am I dreaming? I thought "Rat Week" was last fall. Surely something is going on though. Every time I turn around I see something that looks like a freak from the back woods. Now let me think. Oh yes, I remember, it's Cotillion "Goat Week". Well, it certainly has "Rat Week" beat a mile. Never have I seen such looking people. They even have half their front teeth knocked out and they are undoubtedly the most industrious group of people. Every one of them has been knitting faithfully since early morning. Put all their pieces together and the Cotillion Club could have a good size Afghan on their hands.

And will you look over there in the corner. One of the ridiculous things is standing there babbling at the wall. Deah, deah!

They are awfully polite too. They spend their time bowing to people and saying good day in honeyed tones. Their green and yellow stockings are really charming and I love the way their shoes don't match.

They are a very modernistic group of old maids, despite their knitting. Everyone of them is wearing her hair definitely "up". Becoming? Well, it's not my place to say.

Now what are they all going outside for? Never mind let them go. I think I've seen enough. My eyes are getting sore.

Sports Calendar

May 18—Archery tournament on athletic field at four — Red and White vs. Green and White.

May 20—Tennis singles—finals
May 23—Golf finals at Longwood
May 23—Tennis doubles—finals
May 23—Final day of marathon swim.

If Saturday Nights Bore, Gym Gives Entertainment

Are you tired of draping yourself unceremoniously over the third floor Rotunda railing every Saturday night and staring with green-eyed envy at the girls below? Have you wearied of that weekly plunge into the old swimming pool? Are you sick of those Saturday night fudge parties that inevitably end in eating the goo with a spoon? You are? Then why not wend your way down to our neglected gym, and test your skill in what you find there. Ping pong, shuffleboard, badminton are at your disposal every Saturday night until 9:30 o'clock.

Exams Just 'Round Bend in Calendar

"X" marks the spot, and there goes another day off of my calendar. Eighteen more days in this dump, oh boy, oh boy! Thirteen more days 'till exams and then we'll . . . What? Did I say something or is this a nightmare? What is that word that echoes in my ears? Oooh, shudder, shudder, drip, drip, I thought I understood myself . . . I said "Thirteen more days until exams."

Ah me! 'Tis a bitter and unhappy life of trials, tribulations, mani'old sorrows and afflictions and now it's garnished with exams. Tsch! Now there'll be a back to labor movement and me caught in the rush. I'll be pushing a pencil all over a pack of paper for hours and hours. To say nothing of the notebooks, posters, term papers, oral reports, parallel, short stories and letters home that must pass beneath my temperamental pen before I even enter those fearsomely quiet rooms, perfumed with "midnight blue" (ink).

Before I can submit to the ultimate two hour probing of the profs to end the spark that is supposed to glow after three months of kindling, there are exactly two more Mondays. I feel my gray matter prickling into action right now . . . well, sort of prickling. Queer feeling. So nove! . . but I guess I can accustom myself to it. I'll start by making a list of things to do. Gimme a pencil. Now, there's that English term paper, the short story, the social science, parallel and this history, too. History's got me down. We have so much home work every night that I just ignore the term project . . . (now, don't go saying that I'd ignore it anyway!) . . . when even tomorrow . . . Great Gupple, here I sit philosophizing again and the world rocks on its fallen arches. Where's that rosy, arm breaking volume? Where're my notes, yes, where? Gimme a pencil to chew and hand me my spectacles. I have a test tomorrow. Time marches on and all I can do is tear the pages off the calendar. The future can worry about itself.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

JUST ARRIVED:

Play suits for every occasion, Bowling, Hiking and for all Knock-About Outings.

In all colors and styles, one piece, two piece, and three piece.

$1.98 AND $2.98

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality

Phys. Ed. Majors See Health Work

Bunny Yonce, Pat Gibson, Dot Fischer, Mable Burton, Essie Millner, Myra Smith, Marjorie Nimmo, Louise Bryan, Mary Elizabeth Badger, Elizabeth Hillsman, Ellen Conyers, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Nancy Pierpont, Miss Mary Barlow and Miss Rice, the health nurse, spent Friday, May 12, in Richmond where they visited various departments of health.

The group from the physical education department here went to the State Department of Health where three doctors spoke to them on the present health projects in Virginia. At Memorial Hospital the new facilities for physiotherapy were demonstrated and the group was shown various results of the work.

The visit to the Crippled Children's Home was the highlight of the trip, and here they saw the work that is being done to help these children overcome their handicaps by learning to make use of their good limbs and by training their crippled ones.

Candy Cooking

The candy is almost done. The pan is being buttered. Then suddenly, without rhyme or reason, without any warning whatsoever, the entire room is plunged into inky blackness. The light switch has sprung.

A mad scramble follows as the contents of the room pour out into the hall. The old saying of "misery loves company", certainly holds true here, for not only the contents of the one room but of all rooms are gathered here in the hall to share their common misery—darkness.

"Groan, groan. I'm so hungry and now the candy will never get done."

Yes, life is just one disappointment after another. From the other end of the hall sounds a demanding voice:

"Who's cooking?"

There is no answer of course, and some one hastily closes the door on that tantallizing aroma. Now another wailing voice chimes in:

"They were just going to announce what was first place on the Hit Parade. Oh, why does everything have to happen to me?"

And as more and more doors are opened, more and more are the lamentations. "I've just got to finish this letter to Mother—we were right in the middle of Chinese Checkers—well, you aren't in the boat by yourselves, so were we—we were playing bridge — of all times for the lights to go out—has anybody called Mr. Reid?—What!—Well for!—Good grief—will somebody please call Mr. Reed!!!

One obliging young damsel rushes downstairs to phone the home office, and the rest begin to settle down.

The card game continues merrily at one end of the hall, and the Chinese Checker game at the other. The letter to Mother is finished, its writer perched on a trunk. The "Hit Parade's" audience rushes over to another hall. Only the candy must wait.

Calmness has at last descended, when a heavy step is heard on the stair. Then the sound of a deep masculine voice—Mr. Reid.

Another mad scramble ensues as a dozen or so more scantily clad maidens make for their rooms, there to await the return of lights and order.

holly-Pax
FOR WOMEN'S GREATER COMFORT AND FREEDOM— INSERTION TYPE SANITARY PROTECTOR. Package of 10, 20c.
NO PADS · NO BELTS TO BIND · NO ODOR

BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service—Store

Girls Keep Trim With Bowling

Individual Scores Of 3 Games Listed

Bowling has featured largely on the sports calendar since the recent organizing of bowling teams. The teams, in practice for the past week, have announced individual scores for three games.

Team I—Louise Anthony, Frances Irving, 218; Meade Neal, 198; Beverly Sexton, 268; Frances Steed, 252; Jean Taylor, 162; Total, 1,098.

Team II—Jenny Carroll, 231; Helen McIlwaine, 171 (2 games); Mary E. Petticrew, Nancy Pierpont, Bess Windham, 154 (2 games); Marion Worsham, 230; Total, 786.

Team III—Ruby Adams, 268; Ann Billups, Mable Burton, 211; LeNoir Hubbard, 205; Essie Millner, 247; Shirley Stephens, Total, 931.

Team IV—Doris Chestnut, 241; Bernice Copley, 243; Dot Fischer, 259; Pat Gibson, 158; Elizabeth Hillsman, 286; Catherine Newman, 128; Total, 1315.

Graduation Presents

Special Prices

LYNN the JEWELER

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High St. Farmville, Va.

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

The Flagstaff Cottage
310 22nd St., Virginia Beach, Va
(Mrs. Arthur H. Irby)
Caters to young people
Special rates to house-parties

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

Have Your Tried Our
SPECIAL BREAKFAST
One Egg, Bacon, Toast and Coffee
Butter and Jelly
15c
COLLEGE SHOPPE

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
Pure Thread SILK HOSE
Full Fashioned
Guaranteed to You
49c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

WE DELIVER

Southside Drug Store

Phone 356

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

MEET YOUR FRIENDS AT THE RECREATIONAL CENTER

SHANNON'S
PHONE 224 Prompt Delivery

Girls Take Chance At Week-end Before Final Examinations

Chapel Hill, U. Va., Richmond, Roanoke Are Favored Spots

While several hundred swayed here to the tunes of Little Joe Hart many others found recreation at various places in the state.

Adelaide Dressler, Mary Klare Beek and Patricia Whitleck attended the week-end dances at North Carolina State University in Chapel Hill, N. C.

Mary Jane Jolliffe visited Yates Carr at her home in Charlottesville. Marjorie Wicks, Jane Rosenberger and Margaret Holberton also stayed there during the week-end. Theresa Brinkly went to the dances at the University of Virginia.

Lillian Wahab, Sara Cline, Gene Hardy Kilmon and Augusta Parks were the week-end guests of Lillian German in Richmond. Jean Upshur stayed at the home of Betty Fahr in Richmond and Mary Elizabeth Pettierew visited Mary Katherine Zehmer. Others going to Richmond were Margaret Franklin, Ruby Adams, Beatrice Bland, Dorothy Bailey, Margaret Coalter, Dorothy Davis, Boonie Stevenson, Keith Smith, Winnie Harrell, Lucy Turnbull, Ruth Winstead, Philippa Schlobohm, Lois Barbee, Virginia Smith, Evelyn Blackburn, Beverly Perkins, Mable Burton, Nancy Pierpont, Sidney Yonce, Myra Smith, Marjorie Nimmo, Helen Long, Frances Bailey and Vera Jacobs.

Elizabeth Lewis, Lucy Blackwell and Dell Warren were the week-end guests of Caroline Gwathmey at her home, "Canterbury", near Richmond.

Margaret Pierce and Anne Kelly spent the week-end in Warrenton.

Elizabeth Carter, Mary Prince Arnold and Rebecca Jones attended the dances at Washington and Lee University.

Freda Armfield was the week-end guest of Beverly Jordan in Roanoke. Among others staying in Roanoke were Virginia Alexander, Doris Bishop, Jeannette Ferguson, Ruth Rubbard, N. Hall, Louise Hall, Eugenia Lloyd, Elizabeth Summerfield, Marie Utt, Jean Watts, Margaret Anne Buntnk, Jean Skillcum, Jean Clarke, Jess Carlton, Jacqueline Baylor, Anne Ayres, Ayles Coleman and Dorothy Wood.

Ellen Gray stayed with Dorothy and Doris Adkins at their home in Danville and Crews Borden was the week-end guest of Ruth Lea Purdom in Danville.

Dorothy Henderson and Bill Stone went to the Horse Show and dance at Blacksburg during the week-end. Mac Desaix visited her brother there.

Caroline Eason, Carolyn Harvey, Polly Keller and Martha Cottrell motored to Hollins College where they visited friends. Becky Lawry was a week-end guest at Mary Baldwin College in Staunton.

Returning from Lynchburg are Marjorie Gosden, Imogen Hutter, Judith Marshall, Margaret Turner, Mary Meade Mason, Sara Melba Beale, Helen Watts, Virginia Burnham, Josephine Ware and Selma West.

Frances Carroll, Anna George and Beverly Blair were guests of their parents in Portsmouth for the week-end.

Anne Williams and Allene Overbey visited their parents in Chatham. Anne Bradner returned to her home there for an indefinite period due to her illness.

Ollie Graham Gilchrist, Virginia Vose, Margaret Doxey, Florence Bress, Margaret Thorpe, Margaret Mosley and Marguerite Ross were guests in Norfolk for the week-end.

Visiting their parents in Culpeper were Helen Hawkins, Nancy Richards, Jo Cheff and Mary Walker Mitchell.

Carolyn Ford, Evelyn Burford, and Beckie Saunders have returned after a week-end in Amherst.

Pan Hel Council Is Installed

Wise President For Coming Year

Representatives to the Pan-Hellenic council, new heads of sororities and alternates to the council were installed Thursday afternoon.

After Sarah Hayes, the retiring president, had installed her, the new president, Eliza Wise, Gamma Theta, installed the new council members who are vice-president, Shirley Stephens, Alpha Sigma Alpha; secretary, Alice Leigh Barham, Mu Omega; and treasurer, Rosa Courter, Theta Sigma Upsilon. Dorothy Eades, Pi Kappa Sigma, is the new program chairman; Faye Brandon, Alpha Sigma Tau, is publicity chairman; Edna Strong, Phi Zeta Sigma, is keeper of the records; and Virginia Polley, Sigma Sigma Sigma, is chairman of rushing.

It was announced that Miss Carolyn Cogbill will again be the adviser of the Pan-Hellenic Association.

Intermission Parties

Intermission parties were held in the various sorority rooms on Saturday night, May 13, for the girls and their dates, who attended the Spring Cotillion dance.

Miss Haynes Talks At A. C. E. Banquet

Miss Jessie Haynes from Richmond addressed the Association of Childhood Education at their banquet last night, May 16, in the college tearoom. Her subject was "Education for Children".

"The ideal teacher," stated Miss Haynes, is one who puts herself physically, spiritually and emotionally into her work. A halfway teacher cannot succeed."

Caroline Gwathmey, the outgoing president, was presented with a gift, and Miss Grace Mix was recognized by the group as a life member of the national organization.

The banquet of which the theme was Mother Goose rhymes, was concluded with the A. C. E. song.

Church Groups Entertain with Picnic

Girls from S. T. C. who attend Sunday School at the Presbyterian Church were entertained by the Sunday Schools of the Episcopal, Methodist and Baptist Churches at Longwood Thursday afternoon, May 11, from four to five-thirty. Several contests were held and the Presbyterians gave a stunt, after which refreshments were served in the cabin.

Those who went had attended Sunday School all during the month of April. The Presbyterians won the Sunday School attendance contest which was held several weeks ago. Others who attended were Rev. and Mrs. Tucker, Rev. and Mrs. Scott and the Sunday School teachers, Miss Mary Clay Hiner, Mrs. Harrison and Miss Minnie V. Rice.

William Watson, University of Michigan track star, spent the first half of the school year as secretary to prizefighter Joe Louis.

A. S. A. and Sigma Install Chapters

10 Delegates Go To Harrisonburg

Representatives from Alpha Sigma Alpha and Sigma Sigma Sigma, social sororities, spent Saturday at Madison College, Harrisonburg, where they helped perform installation ceremonies of the two sororities recently formed on that campus. Previous to now Madison has had no social sororities.

Discussions of sorority ethics and planning for organization were planned with the new groups. National representatives were also present. A combined banquet of the two chapters was the social event of Saturday night.

A. S. A.'s representatives were Miss Grace Mouan, adviser, Virginia Lee Pettis, Kitty Roberts and Marie Eason. Sigmas who went were Miss Pauline Camper, adviser, Jane Powell, Vera Ebel, Anne Cocks, Marion Heard and Helen Seward.

Alumnae Notes

Mrs. M. G. Willis, Jr., of Fredericksburg, State advisor for the Junior Woman's Club, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Farmville Junior Woman's Club which was held Wednesday, May 12, at S. T. C.

Mrs. Willis is author of several books concerning Virginia history. She has visited each of the 100 counties and picked up all sorts of folk lore. Her books include "The Story of Virginia", "Early Days in Virginia—Those Who Dared," "Legends of the Skyline Drive", and "Golden Days in Old Virginia. "Discovering Virginia" will be off the press this summer.

Mrs. Willis is an active member of the D. A. R., Colonial Dames, U. D. C., Woman's Club, as well as State chairman of the Virginia Junior Woman's Club.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Anne Adair Cobb, daughter of Mrs. H. D. Cobb and the late H. D. Cobb of Farmville to James Reginald Carter of Roanoke, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Carter of Cumberland county. The marriage took place at Salem on Saturday, May 6.

Miss Georgianna Sinclair, executive secretary of the Social Service Bureau, has reorganized her group to give her staff more freedom in the field to study relief cases. The reorganized unit will tend to be more efficient and is expected to improve conditions in the functioning of the bureau.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., May 17-18
ROBERT TAYLOR
MYRNA LOY
"LUCK YNIGHT"
COMMUNITY SING
(Strauss Music)

Friday.-Sat., May 19-20
JOEL McCREA
Barbara Stanwyck
In Cecil DeMille's
"UNION PACIFIC"
Latest News Events

Mon.-Tues., May 22-23
MERLE OBERON
LAURENCE OLIVIER
"Wuthering Heights"
"Bitterbug Follies" News

Lovely Dresses—Tailored and Evening Styles
$5.95 to $9.95
Graduation Shoes
Low, medium & high heels $1.98 to $3.98
THE HUB DEPT. STORE
Charge Accounts Solicited

S. T. C. HEADQUARTERS FOR GRADUATION NEEDS
Dresses you'll adore—accessories you'll need to bring out that added touch—dorothy may
Charge it if you like

MISS DOROTHY QUACKENBUSH
(Miss American Aviation 1938-1939) like all charming T. W. A. hostesses, is at your service clear across the country.

Dorothy Quackenbush, with her smile and her Chesterfields, keeps smokers happy from coast to coast.

Chesterfield's happy combination of the world's best tobaccos gives smokers just what they want in a cigarette . . . refreshing mildness, better taste, more pleasing aroma.

When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give millions of men and women more smoking pleasure . . . why THEY SATISFY

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

VOLUME XVIII — FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 24, 1939 — Z—773 — No. 29

Frances Ellett Chosen Editor Of Handbook

Williamson Editor This Year; Will Be Sent to New Girls

Frances Leigh Ellett, a sophomore of Roanoke, Virginia, will be the editor of the Student Handbook for next year.

"Liggie" has been an outstanding member of her class since she entered Farmville and was a member of the Freshman Commission. She has also served on the World Fellowship committee of the Y. W. C. A. and on the chapel committee for two years.

This year Isabel Williamson is editing the handbook which will be sent out to freshmen and new girls in the late summer. Several changes are being made by the present handbook staff which is composed of Martha Meade Hardaway, representing the Student Council; Marjorie Nimmo, from House Council; Norma Pamplin, Y. W. C. A.; and Dot Fischer, representing the A. A.

"Liggie" has not yet chosen her staff as a plan is being formulated by means of which the working force will be reorganized.

The financing of the book may perhaps be on a different basis, too.

The Handbook is published annually for the benefit of new students and is used as a text for the orientation classes.

Leaders Chosen For Orientation

Orientation leaders for the incoming freshmen for the school year beginning September, 1939, have been announced and are as follows:

Caralie Nelson, Marjorie Nimmo, Alice Leigh Barham, Jean Moyer, Sally Dunlap, Eliza Wise, Jane Powell, Ann Billups, Johnny Lybrook, Beulah Ettinger, Marion Harden, Jerry Hatcher, Sara Keesee, Ollie Graham Gilchrist, Anna Maxey, Lorana Moomaw, Helen Reiff, Lula Windham, Jean Watts, Esther Atkinson, Yates Carr, Ellen Gray, Helen Seward, Martha Whelchel, Patsy Fletcher, Evelyn Thorington, Helen Jeffries, Virginia Polley, Frances Hudgins, Mildred Harry, "Chubby" Heard, Jane Hardy, Crews Borden, Virginia Lee Pettis and Nancy Moss.

These leaders have been chosen to render to the incoming freshmen a fuller understanding of the contents of the student's handbook. Through the orientation classes freshmen have a better opportunity for a deeper appreciation for the college as a whole and especially a better understanding of the regulations of student government.

Kindergarten Gives May Day in Court

Children posing as flowers, animals and birds performed for the queen and lord of May, Betty Jane Knight and Chris Alexander, when the kindergarten of the Farmville elementary school presented its annual May Day program in Joan Court on Thursday afternoon, May 18. Parents and friends from town and the girls and administration of the college attended.

The program, consisting of rhythms and songs carrying out the theme of spring and nursery rhymes, was arranged by Miss Grace Mix, supervisor, and Elvira Ligon, student teacher. Others assisting were Marie Eason, Peggy Stevens, Charlotte Morton, Edith Fitch and Frances Alvis.

Y. W. Workers For Next Year Are Announced

Girls Will Serve on Committees of 11 Departments

Dorothy Eades, president of the Y. W. C. A., has announced the members of the various committees to begin work in September.

Prayers committees, chairmaned by Beulah Ettenger, includes Evelyn Pankey, Rachel Kibler, Marion Harden, Marjorie Holt, Jean Watts, Ellen Gray, Olivia Stephenson, Texie Belle Felts, and Marion Worsham. Miss Nichols will advise this committee.

Margaretta Gerlaugh is chairman of the library committee, and Miss Mary Clay Hiner is its adviser. This group is composed of Florence Lee, Anne Boswell, Arlene Hunt, Rebecca Bondurant and Virginia Richards.

Publicity committee, headed by Evelyn Thorington, and advised by Miss Jennings, includes Gene Hardy Kilman, Lillian German, Frances Hudgins, Bert McLaughlin and Beatrice Dunton.

Kat Reed will chairman the Service committee, her group being composed of Elizabeth Barrett, Irma Graff, Jeanette Ferguson, Anne Ayres, Jean Davis, Elizabeth Carter, Aggie Mann, Virginia Howell, Alice Leigh Barham and Miss Winnie Hiner, adviser.

Yates Carr, Irene Francis, Lorana Moomaw, Shirley McCalley, Anne Williams, Emil Ellis and Elizabeth Cline make up the World Fellowship committee which is to be headed by Martha Whelchel and advised by Mr. Coyner.

Membership committee will be chairmaned by Sara Cline. The committee is made up of Anna Johnson, Dell Warren, Nancy Naff, Eloise Waller, Jo Ware, Louise Allen, Ann Hurff, Nell Hurt, Lillian Wahab, Elizabeth Hope Jennings and Mr. Coyner, adviser.

Helen Wentz is chairman of the Sing committee. Edna Harris, Marian Heard, Helen McIlwaine, Anne Billups, Kaki Peery, Esther Atkinson, Betty Lucy, Margaret Wright and Mary Katherine Dodson compose the group, and Miss Nichols is adviser.

Continued from Page 3

Pi Gamma Mu Chairmen Announced

Doris Chesnut, president of Pi Gamma Mu, has announced the chairmen of committees for next year as follows: membership, Mr. Holton; program, Mary Mahone, with Miss Mary Nichols as adviser; project, Marjorie Nimmo, with Dr. Francis B. Simkins as adviser; social, Mary Walker Mitchell; executive, Doris Chesnut; Mardi Gras, Shirley Stephens. Marion Harden will keep the scrapbook.

What's the Matter With Jarman? He's All Right!

Amid thousands of cheers in chapel, one automatically arose to see what was the cause of such earnest emotion in the front of the auditorium; and then all stood, faculty and students, while the cheers doubled in vigor as Dr. Jarman walked up the stage steps and across to his seat. It was his first appearance in the auditorium since his illness in March. When he stood and spoke, silence reigned as for an imperial king. "Hospitals are not so bad after all," he said, and then he thanked everyone for the kindness shown to him during his illness.

"For he's a jolly good fellow" sang the seniors with unusual enthusiasm and vitality. It was one of the songs of Senior Song Day, and how appropriate that on the very same day Dr. Jarman should return! His eyes beamed with pride as he looked through the assembly, for he said, "No other sight makes me happier than the sight of my girls at chapel, and especially during springtime—when colors are so bright."

And what could be a nicer sign of spring for us than to have Dr. Jarman with us again! "What's the matter with Jarman? He's All Right!"

Freshmen Discuss Honor Code

Plan Ways to Make Code More Effective

Two open forums were held by the Sophomore commission last Thursday and Friday, May 18 and 19 for the purpose of discussing the meaning of the honor code, its effectiveness, and how it should be approached by freshmen.

Reporting was one of the points taken up at the meetings. The person who fails to report a guilty person is just as wrong as the one who commits the act. Every member of the student body is as much a member of student government as the representatives, and every one should accept her responsibility as one.

Ways to emphasize and impress upon the freshmen the importance of the honor code were discussed. One suggestion made was that all girls talk to prospective students from their home town and imply that breaking rules and seeing what one can get by with just "isn't done" at Farmville.

Example is the best way to enforce an honor code. Keeping the honor code not only before the freshmen but before all classes was one method mentioned to make the school honor conscious.

It was decided that if the freshman class were divided into groups with faculty advisers it would bring a closer relationship between the students and faculty members.

It is the aim of the sophomore commission this year to impress

Continued on Page 3

Commencement Activities Last From June 2-6

Junior-Senior Prom Saturday Night Opens Full Program

Commencement activities for the seniors will begin at a banquet to be held at Longwood, Friday, June 2, at six o'clock.

Junior-Senior Prom will follow Saturday, June 3, at nine o'clock. William A. Brown will give the Baccalaureate sermon on June 4 at eight P. M.

Monday, June 5, includes Sophomore Class Day at ten A. M.; Senior Class Day at three-thirty P. M. with the Daisy Chain following; a reception in Student Building Lounge at 8:30 P. M.; and the Senior Lantern Parade at 10:30 P. M.

Graduation exercises will take place in the auditorium Tuesday, June 6, at 10:30 A. M. At this time Reverend Beverley M. Boyd will be the speaker.

Senior Chapel will be given Saturday, May 27, at which time the juniors will march under the arch formed by the seniors wearing their caps and gowns.

Senior Sing will be held Saturday night, May 27. This will be a reminiscence of their four years at S. T. C.

Committee chairmen for the graduating class are Senior Chapel, Kitty Roberts; Senior Sing, Marguerite Blackwell; Senior Banquet, Dibbs Tyree; Class Day, Nancy Gray; Daisy Chain, Miriam Ficklen; and Lantern Parade, Virginia Whitehead Smith.

Miss Draper Will Teach Next Fall

Miss Helen Draper, former associate professor of modern languages at Farmville State Teachers College, expects to return from Paris, France, this summer, sailing about the middle of May on one of the American liners.

Miss Draper is a graduate of this college. She received her M. A. degree from Middleburg College, Middleburg, Vt., which is one of the outstanding colleges in modern languages in the U. S. She has taken summer courses at Columbia University and has spent two years at Sorbonne, a French university, where she has been doing research work and at the same time working on her doctors degree.

Miss Draper will return to the faculty in the fall and will be the head of the department of modern languages.

Miss Draper has traveled extensively in Europe, and has lived in Paris. She had planned to remain in Europe longer but due to the ill health of her mother she is shortening her stay.

Virginia Polley to Head Cotillion Club

VIRGINIA POLLEY

Pettis Is Leader; Billups, Sec.-Treas.; Millner, Business

Virginia Polley, Hollins, Va., will head the Cotillion Club during 1939-1940, succeeding Margaret Stallard as president. Virginia Lee Pettis, Richmond, was chosen figure leader at the meeting held Wednesday night, May 17.

Anne Billups, Norfolk, was elected secretary-treasurer, and Essie Millner, Newport News, will serve as business manager.

All four officers are seniors for the coming year. Virginia is a member of the Home Economics Club, Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority, and has taken part in numerous class activities. Virginia Lee has been a member of May Court for the past two years, is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority, and has had leading roles in class productions. Ann heads Kappa Delta Pi next year and is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority, and Essie, the new president of Orchesis, had charge of May Day dances this year and is a member of Pi Kappa Sigma social sorority.

Outgoing officers are Margaret Stallard, president; Clara Nottingham, leader; Louise Anthony, secretary-treasurer; and Frankie Bryan, business manager.

The Cotillion Club each year sponsors two sets of dances, a formal in the fall quarter and a tea dance and formal in the spring quarter. Membership in the club is limited to 250.

The maximum membership has been raised this year to include 250 girls. Old girls are bid into the club soon after school opens in the fall and freshmen and new girls are bid later on. Initiation for all new members is held in the spring just prior to the spring dance.

Choirs Sing at Local Church

Arabian is Speaker; Dr. Jarman Present

The College Choir, the Junior and Senior A Capellas, the Junior and Senior Quartettes and the Choral Club, under the direction of Mr. Alfred H. Strick, gave a concert in the Methodist church Sunday night, May 21, at eight o'clock.

Edwin Cralle also sang a solo entitled "Blind Ploughman".

At the service Shiek Raphael Emmanuel, dressed in native costume, was guest speaker and talked on "Bible Lands".

The Methodist church sponsored this program purposely in honor of the return of Dr. Jarman, who, because of sickness, had not been able to attend services for several weeks.

Seniors of '39 Hold Annual Song Day

The Senior Class presented the annual Senior Song Day at chapel on Friday, May 19. At this time, songs were dedicated to Miss Moran, the former classman of the class, Mr. Coyner, the present classman, and to Dr. Jarman, whose first appearance at chapel since his illness, added significance to the event. Other songs consisted of those that the class has sung during the past four years, the first being "Green and White", the Senior Class Song.

Vera Ebel, the class president, introduced the program, stating the purpose of it as being to express the feelings and gratitude of the Seniors of the Class of '39.

Two Attend A. K. G. Meet

Miss Jane Royall and Martha Meade Hardaway of Farmville motored to Chapel Hill, North Carolina, May 20, where they attended the regional meeting of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honor fraternity for leadership.

Those people attending the meeting were the incoming presidents and the regional officers. The purpose of the group was to make plans for the national convention of Alpha Kappa Gamma which is to be held in October at Columbia, South Carolina. Outlines for discussions of various campus problems were made. These problems will be presented to the convention in October.

Martha Meade and Miss Royall were among the group that was entertained at a picnic at University Lake, given by the Chapel Hill circle.

Moyer, Hardy, Yates, Chambers in Recital

Jean Moyer and Helen Wiley Hardy gave a recital Tuesday night, May 16, at the Schemmel Conservatory of Music.

Sarah Chambers and Elsye Berrye Yates were presented in a recital Friday night, May 19. These students are the pupils of Miss Elsie Carter.

Saturday afternoon over WRVA, Jean and Sarah broadcast several of their recital pieces. Jean played Fritz Kreisler's "Old Refrain". Bach's "First Prelude" and "Second Fugue." Sarah's selections were the first movement in Beethoven's "Sonata Pathetique" and Gershwin's "Rhadsodie in Blue". "Malaguena", a Spanish piece, was given as a duet.

School Gossip . . . From One Cardinal to Another . . .

"Twitter, I certainly am glad we decided to move back to our home here under the Rotunda eaves. I did get pretty fed up last year with the way these dainty two-footed creatures would come right up under our nests in the snowball bushes with their big rough companions—I think they call 'em boys or men or something silly like that. Anyhow, they used to go busting under there and shake our nest so that once my little Missus nearly fell out with her prettiest egg—if it hadn't been for that very long, strong strand of hair I wove into the home, I would have been a widower by now." And Chirpy cocked his shiny eye at his wife, twirping a sweet note at her.

"Well, Chirp, old fellow, we enjoy living up there close to the flagpole. It's much quieter there. And not so far to fly back and forth getting crumbs for the family that these—girls, they call 'em—leave on the roof where they go to get done. You see," he added, crossing his legs wisely, "when they come up to Farmville, they're sorta raw and pale. But soon after we birds get home from the South they get ashamed for us to see them like that; so they go up on the roof to cook themselves right." Here he lost his balance and fluttered violently, but fell, landing on a big soft blue thing that moved along, carrying him straight in to the Rotunda door. He blinked; then sat still, quite sure his worm-digging days were over.

"Oh, Susie, what an adorable hat! I just love the bird on the bow—it's the cutest one I've seen this year!"

"What bird? Where? O-o-oh, it's alive! Take it away!" But Twitter escaped the clutching hand, and flew out to the high ledge where his friend Chirpy perched, crooking his head to see what Twitter was doing down there.

"Oh, Junebugs! I was one scared morsel of feathers that time! I haven't been as frightened since Easter when one of the girls wanted to take me home to her little brother for his Easter basket. Cousin Tommy wouldn't let the boy catch me though." And he wiped his bill off with his little wing. He flew over to look at the girls dotting the campus like flowers, then came back.

"Yessiree, this year has surely started off fine. I notice they had our shower all ready for us, instead of keeping us waiting as they did last year. I'm afraid those goldfish will turn brass though, staying in the water all the time. I found my house in pretty good shape too—only a few straws here and there were needed. And my wife showed me where to get the most luscious worms—oh, and the best little seeds—in the infirmary garden! The only thing that bothers me is, every time we get the children quiet for the night, one of these girls who cook in the rooms comes running out, speaking, 'Mr. Reed, the lights are out on our hall!' Then it's minutes before we can settle down. Oh, there goes the seven-thirty bell—what will my wife say to my staying out so late? Goodnight, Chirp, see you at 4:30 in the morning. Coming, m'love!" And both little fellows flew home to their sleepy, twittering families.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistants—Elizabeth West, Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Socials Editor ..... Evelyn Byrd Hutcheson
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Ann Johnson, Theodosia McKenzie, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickeral, Janelle Shelor, Edna Strong, Dell Warren, Lucy Turnbull, and Shirley Stephens.

Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants — Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Beverly Blair, Helen Briggs, Josa Carleton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Curalie Nelson, Mary Allen Peters, Frances Pope, Jane Rosenberger, Mary Sue Simmons, Kathryn Watkins.

Typists

Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Bettay Briggs, Anne Bruce, Elizabeth Bundy, Dorothy Lee Harrison, Frances Pritchett, Dorothy Smith, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Sue Wohlford.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 24, 1939

We Would Be Loyal

"Thy daughters true, faithful and loyal will be." When we sing this line of our Alma Mater, do we ever stop to think what it means to be true, faithful and loyal daughters?

It means being faithful to the traditions and customs of S. T. C. It means having a part in the universal spirit of loyalty to the ideals we, as students, have built up in college. It means being true, not only to our school, but to other students, and to ourselves.

If we would sing these words not only with our lips, but with our hearts we would automatically adhere to our Honor Code, which is spiritually built upon these three standards—truthfulness, faithfulness and loyalty.

In respecting the Honor Code we are not just complying with stuffy rules that were put down to complicate a student's life. It is our honor Code, and we are the one who will benefit by it.

The Honor Code should be the highest ideal of the college because it embodies the standards by which we live, and in following out the Honor Code our reputation, either good or bad, is made.

When we sing our Alma Mater, let it be a challenge to us to be loyal, faithful and true. Each and everyone of us, as we pursue our individual lives, will find Shakespeare's advice—

"This above all,—To thine ownself be true:
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou can'st not then be false to any man."
holds true.

Did You Know?

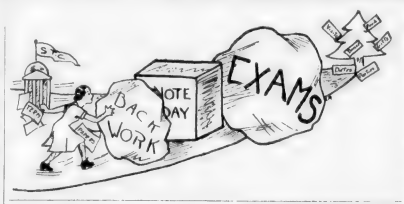
A New Hampshire University sophomore spent his spring vacation with a small circus playing in his home town in order to get ideas on decorating for a class hop.

The newest money-making scheme to supplement gold-fish and phonograph record eating contests originates at Ohio State. A sophomore recently had his head shaved for a $5 bill donated by his Tau Epsilon Phi brethren if he'd go through with the dare.

"Bubber" Southard of The Citadel is no little peeved at a certain New York socialite. After calling New York, Miami, and several other of her hangouts to invite her to the senior hop, he just couldn't locate her—probably because he made all the calls collect.

A professor at Southern California Junior College will be in sound health for some time to come, if the proverb has any truth in it. Favor-seeking students, just before a recent exam, placed on his desk no less than 31 apples, four bananas, four oranges and a cactus apple.

SENIOR PERSONALITIES



VIRGINIA WHITEHEAD SMITH

Have you ever stopped to wonder who's at the bottom of some of the "backstage" work that's responsible for the success of many undertakings? Then your answer is Virginia Whitehead Smith—for she's one of those rare people who puts her heart and soul into even the simplest tasks, just for the sheer joy of working and for the service she can render others.

Virginia's interests and work in school have been so varied that it's hard to "pin" her interests down to any one thing. But one thing stands out—just mention the word "basketball" and she is "rarin" to go. From the time she had backyard basketball court, she's been an ardent devotee of that sport, and for four years she has been one of the mainstays of Farmville's teams with steady, dependable playing, and unexcelled good sportsmanship. But her activities have ranged, in various fields, from vice-president of her class to decorating for dance after dance and managing program after program during her college stay. We'd say versatility is the most characteristic word for so well rounded an individual.

Lately we've all noticed periodic "explosions" of hilarity at the head table in the dining room. Closer investigation will reveal the fact that the "inhabitants" of said table are literally "rolling in mirth" at some of Virginia's "philosophizing"—for her sense of humor is of a rare type, and her choice expressions and coined words are a never ending source of amusement.

To characterize so complex a personality is a difficult task, for Virginia is a person who adjusts herself to any mood. Her sympathetic understanding of people makes us say, "Knowing people like that makes college a wonderful adventure." Words seem trite when we say of her that she is utterly dependable, a friend in the finest sense of the word, and one whose strong influence has proven her one of the leaders of the class of '39.

Swing That Dial

Give another little twist to the dial give the loudspeaker a better chance and presto! There is entertainment. If you like it hot and want to do a little shagging, try Benny Goodman at 8:30 on Tuesday night. And if you're still in the mood at 9:00, Hal Kemp will set you right. On Wednesday night, turn the ticker toward N. B. C. about 7:30 o'clock and listen to Tommy Dorsey. Then hang around until 10 o'clock and you can take a class of Kay Kyser's College.

Thursday night takes us away from the bands with three hours of personalities and guest stars—beginning at 7 o'clock Rudy Vallee presents songs, comedy, drama and interviews. Rudy turns the hour at 8:00 over to Bob Young and "Baby Snooks" from Hollywood. And at 9:00 "Boo-boo-booping" Bing shares honors with Bob Burns. Running in competition with Mr. Vallee and troupe is Kate Smith from C. B. S.

Guy Lombardo (9:00 o'clock) is the best chaser for the scores after listening to Orson Welles the previous hour—the best reception is on Friday night. You can also hear Guy's sweet strumming at the same hour on Monday evening, preceded this time by the Radio Theater from Hollywood. Also Eddy Duchin and his magic fingers at 8:30 the same day. So tune-up any old time for more pleasure.

Quizzical Querries

Come on, this is a quiz, and we aren't grading your papers; so go ahead and bull all you want to—but make it good!

Fill in the multiple choice by underlining the correct word. Ahem! 1-2-3—go!

1. When an actor makes an ascension, he rises in emotional appeal, makes a huge success, forgets his lines entirely.

2. Seaweed is the name a sailor gives to tobacco, spinach, orange-pulp.

3. (This one is rich!) Shivering Liz is the nautical term for a huge wave, jello, a cold person.

4. A walk-up is a side-walk, a cinch, an elevator-less apartment.

5. Trouble and strife is grief, work, a wife.

6. A teacherage means S. T. C., a teacher's home, a schoolroom.

7. A suicide blonde is a wicked blonde, a blonde dyed by her own hand, a vanilla milkshake.

8. A porch-warmer is a little spree, a sit-at-home date, a cigarette.

9. Campus-cave means a sorority room, Shannon's, the room-at-the-end of the hall.

10. A hold-over is a second-run picture, one who fails a course, a dance.

11. (One for good measure) A whamditty is a swell guy, an indefinite name for any object, this column.

All right, what's your score? None right? Good, you're excellent and will pass—out the door!

Key on page 3

Humor

Neck—That which you get a pain in when the dope who takes you out for the first time wants to . . .

Ear—That which you get tossed out on if somebody puts a bug in the prof's. . . .

Law—That which if you break you're considered an out . . .

Because—Every woman's reply to why.

Up—That which it is easier to wake than get . . .

Pessimist—One who sees things as they are . . .

Honesty—Fear of being caught.
—The Northwestern News

They laughed when I laid my head on the piano keys—they thought I had passed out. They didn't know I played by ear.
—Ball State News

My mouth may not be so pretty, but I'll put it up against anybody else's anytime.
—Student Life

Echoes From an Empty Space

This week, my children, we are going to surprise you. The column is dedicated to the outgoing Seniors. Original, what?

To begin with the "A's"—there are the Adkins. We don't know enuf about their private lives to print any real "dirt" . . . but we will say that Dot (Doris, subject to change) was the hardest hit at Senior Song Day! . . . But off with that alphabet stuff . . . Sid Weed and Steed! Some rhyme, but they were looking just-that-way-about-it all last time we saw 'em! . . . They tell me Tizzie has a back-home-admirer who'll take the vows just any old time she says! . . . They laughed when she sat down to the picnic table, they didn't know she could eat five hot-dogs. Such was the case of Mable Burton and the K. A.'s! . . . Poor Ruth Curtis got left out of the twosome last Sunday. We understand that Kitty Roberts tolerates no third party! . . . And Wicks, there's nothing like having an invitation, is there? We don't blame you for not going. These people who say, "Why didn't you come up" and save their urging till the week-end is over! . . . Blair Goode had a fine time on the K. A. picnic! Clad in riding apparel and eating marshmallows and Prof. Jones! . . . Wonder what Tee Graff would have said if she could have seen Bob Orgain's hair all messed up—due of course to a quick ride into town . . . Burke makes certain definite preparations for her going on campus—such as little jaunts to Richmond! We're going to find out sooner or later who he is! . . . Pretty Frank Brown and Tony are definitely on the Spring Fever side!

This section is dedicated to those unconscious beings who are on the verge of hearing Wedding Bells!

1. Lib George. She's been looking That Way for so long that this is hardly what we would call a scoop!

2. Helen Greene. Best Wishes! In 1945 we'll be saying, "Many happy returns of the day"!)

3. Elsie Dodd. Is it postponed, Elsie?

People we'll miss!

Blackwell and her purple scarf! . . . Spooks begging someone to come and go downtown with her at all unearthly hours! . . . Army and her incessant chit-chat about nothing! . . . Pattie Bounds and her battleship brigade! . . . Bryan and her wit! . . . Dugger and her brand new PiKA pin! . . . Ficklen and the dinirg room amplifier! . . . Sarah Hayes and her Big Surprise! . . . Meade, just because she is Meade! . . . Beverley and her heart big enuf to enclose the whole school (and part of H.-S.)! . . . And say, who'll we write about when Clara and Fran break up The Foursome!

For Good Sport this year concerning this column, may we nominate Mary Jackson!

We hear that LeNoir and T. C. are getting a car for LeNoir's graduation! . . . And that Charlotte Minton was relieved to get off Government!

GLEANINGS

By Johnny Lybrook

Action! action! That is what Richmond wants. Action that will help them rid the Capitol city of her vast area of slum districts. In a report that appeared in one of the city papers last fall it was announced that the slum condition of Richmond was one of the worst in the United States.

The council has discussed the problem many times. Interested citizens have gathered to debate upon it and still nothing has been done about it.

Almost all who think either way think that something should be done. The big question is should Richmond accept the money of the United States or should she try to do what housing she can without governmental aid? Some say that accepting the U. S. H. A. as an answer to the problem would mean higher taxation. Those who see it in a different light, who see it on long basis say "but in the long run it would pay."

Those are the people who have been associated with the juvenile courts, those are the people who know how much crime sprouts and grows in the filth of slums.

The plan is to build rentals in the form of apartment houses around a center. In this center there will be a gymnasium and a recreational hall. The rooms are to have windows through which light and sunshine can come. These rooms are to rent from $2.00 to $2.50 a month. Only people whose salaries are very low are to be allowed the privilege of living in these quarters.

One prominent Richmond citizen, speaking against the project last week said, "Brick and mortar do not make better conditions; the people who live within those walls make them." True, too many of the people who would have access to this housing wouldn't have the slightest idea how to take care of such property, in fact they would hardly know how to live in such a place. To prevent this it has been advocated that a social service worker be placed in these centers to teach those people and to guide them.

Many think that Richmond should wait to see how these projects work out in other cities. Others who want immediate action say almost any attempt is sure to be better than the horrible situation now present.

Mayor Bright, who strongly approves governmental aid, says "The poor we have with us always." Perhaps he's right. But perhaps it is because we have never really tried to do anything about it. People born in the slums have very little chance to find out anything good about life. Disease is too prevalent. Food and water are scarce. There are too many children.

Being associated with Richmond slum children in camp work, your columnist knows the dire need for some help. We have heard children sit up and brag about "daddy" being in jail. We've seen fine little people with sunken chests, and we've heard children stand up and swear just as naturally as we would say "good morning." Last year we had a little boy twelve years old, who had never been to either church or Sunday school. Too familiar is the phrase "court record" with them.

Something should be done if for no other reason than to help these little folks. They can not help having been born there—they are victims of chance the same as we were who chanced with luckier situations.

Quaint Old Richmond—beautiful Old Richmond—yes, if you stay on the right side of the city or form the habit of keeping your eyes tightly closed as you pass through the side where the shadow falls.

Green and White Team Takes Color Cup Award

Seniors & Sophs Athletic Champs

Win in All Phases Except Hockey

Jenine Carroll, this year's president of the A. A., presented the coveted color cup to triumphant Green and White today, May 24, in chapel. Green and White, representing the present seniors and sophomores, won the color cup last year, and though Red and White won it the year before, the odd classes and colors had held sway in sports previously for several years.

The victory was won by a margin of fifty points, the final score being Red and White—twenty points, Green and White—seventy points. The points won for different sports are as follows:

Red and White: Hockey 20 points.

Green and White: Baseketball 20 pts., Swimming 20 pts., Volleyball 10 pts., Baseball 10 pts., Archery 10 pts., Total 70 pts.

The silver cup with the green and white ribbons on it will be placed on the mantel in the Rotunda.

Poole Takes First In Marathon Swim; Mickey Beck Second

Lile Poole, a sophomore, took first place in the marathon swim which ended last night. Lile splashed to victory with a total of seven and one-half miles. Mickey Beck, a freshman, offered some fine competition by running up a grand total of six and three-quarters miles. Third place was taken by Louise Phillips, another freshman, who finished with two miles to her credit.

Among those who entered the event were Jean Terrell, Elizabeth Barlow, Lile Poole, Mickey Beck, Gene Hardy Kilman, Juanita Smith, Louise Phillips, Patsy Kilby, Caroline Gwathmey, Dorothy Smith. The swim was sponsored by the H2O club. Athletic points will be awarded to the winners.

NOTICE

The results of the singles and doubles tennis tournaments and the golf tournament will be announced in chapel on Friday, May 26.

Anthony Wins Archery Title

Smith and Hurt Tie Second Place

Louise Anthony, senior, won first place in the archery tournament held on the athletic field Friday afternoon, May 19, thereby adding 20 points to the color cup for Green and White. "Tony" piled up a grand total of 151 points. Myra Smith and Nell Hurt, junior and freshman respectively, tied for second place with 138 points, and Helen Seward, sophomore, was third with 118 points.

Two rounds of twelve arrows each were shot from 60, 70 and 80 feet respectively, making a total of 36 arrows.

Ruby Adams, Nan Duer, Elizabeth Scales and Lula Windham were other girls who entered the tournament.

Sport Slants

By MICKEY BECK

Well girls, it's 'most over; yes, I mean this gala year of unsurpassed sports records including hockey, basketball, tennis, golf, archery, swimming, volley ball, badminton and baseball. To end the year just right the past week has been a whiz-bang. The archery tournament was played off last week and Tony Anthony came out on top with flying colors and I do mean bright colors at that—green and white. Myra Smith and Nell Hurt weren't far behind Tony, our "Champeen".

Green and White proved themselves again successful Wednesday when they defeated Red and White 19-9 in a rip-roaring play-off, both teams struggling for points towards the color cup. Those fast balls of Jenny Carroll really did the trick. That gal really can "pick out a good one and give it a ride" a la Ebel. Clyde Saunder's homer caused quite a stir for a while, too.

As for the swimming marathon, which was one of the biggest events of the swimming field this year, Lile Poole takes the honors with approximately seven miles to her credit with Mickey Beck splashing out about six and one-half miles to give plenty of competition.

We find much excitement and fun beneath the colonnade these days when those "Annie Athletes" engage in hilarious sets of badminton. Really had no idea that the girls would indulge quite so famously as they have. It seems that some of the people who had not found their real sport before have found it now in badminton. Stick to it girls, you may some of these days be a "Champeen" too.

Doubles and singles tennis tournaments will be completed Thursday, at which time the winners will be announced, as will the golf results. Students have been most enthusiastic about this spring tennis which is an important event on the sports calendar.

Just a little last minute warning, advice, or call it what you may; be sure to keep in trim this summer and be ready in the fall to crash through as real athletes the kind everybody is truly proud of, so during the summer, don't "fim and fim right over a dam" 'cause we'll need you again next year.

Honor Code

Continued from Page 1

upon the freshmen and the sophomores the true significance of the honor code.

The purpose of these meetings was to find out if the class of '42 is willing to back the sophomores in this move.

I want not to sit in the corner seat,
Nor hurl the cynic's ban;
Let me sit instead in the back of the room.
And get what sleep I can.

Bowling Scores

Team I—Badger 262 (bowled 2331 last week), Irving 242, Neal 197, Sexton 241, Steed 294, Taylor 166; total 1,402.

Team III—Adams 294, Billups 273, Harrison 247, Hubbard 247, Millner 248, Pulley 238; total 1,547.

Team 14—Chesnut 144 (2 games), Copeley 233, Fischer 233, Gibson 201, Hillsman 275, Newman 227; total 1,313.

Fischer, Nimmo Will Attend Hockey Camp

Dot Fischer, president of A. A., and Marge Nimmo, manager of hockey, will attend the hockey and lacrosse camp, Tegawitha, at Mt. Pocono, Pennsylvania, in September of this year. They will be representatives of Farmville's Athletic Association.

While at camp the girls will receive daily coaching which includes practice in strokes, tactics and play and discussion groups for theory, rules and organization. Special courses are offered for instructors in technique of coaching, and for club players and students in team development. Constance M. K. Applebee, who gave a demonstration here last fall, and Mrs. J. C. Barry are the directors of the camp.

Y. W.

Continued from Page 1

Including Polly Hughes, Rachel DeBerry, Lucy Ellen Powell, Anna George, Betty Shumate, Margaret Carr, Kitty Watkins and Frances Rosebro, the social committee is headed by Allene Overbey and advised by Miss Jennings.

Jane Lee Hutcheson is in charge of the Town Girls committee which is made up of Peggy Allen, Jean Watts, Peggy Bellus, Anne Cocks, Mary C. Bynum, Martha McCorkle, Mildred Bowen, and Miss Jennings, adviser.

Music committee includes Elsye Berrye Yates, chairman; Miss Winnie Hiner, adviser, and Betty Hawkins, May Wentz, Ruth Jones, Norma Wood, Elizabeth Glasgow, Ruth Winstead, Susie Pearl Crocker, Mary Sue Simmons and Mary Marshall Prosise.

Jean Moyer will direct the Church Cooperative committee composed of Louisa Stephenson, Thelma Courtney, Eugenia Ramsey, Sue Dunlap, Pat Fletcher, Libby West, Sue Marshall and Miss Mary Clay Hiner, adviser.

Members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet went to Longwood today to plan their program for the coming year.

Quiz Key

1. Forgets his lines entirely
2. Spinach
3. Jello, whipped cream
4. Elevatorless apartment
5. Wife
6. Teacher's home
7. Blonde dyed by her own hand
8. Sit-at-home date
9. Shannon's
10. One who fails a course
11. Indefinite name for object

Green and White Win Baseball

Score is 19-11; Mr. Coyner, Umpire

Green and White won the intercolor baseball game against Red and White, Thursday, May 18, the score being 19-11. The game was scheduled for 4 o'clock on the athletic field with Mr. Coyner, a member of the faculty, as umpire.

Green and White team was at the bat to lead off in the first inning, scoring 4 runs. Red and White at bat brought in three runs. The score stayed close until the first part of the fifth inning when Green and White scored five points and held the Red and White team down until the game came to a close.

Line up:

Pos. Red & White	Green & White
C.—Saunders	Gibson
P.—Adams	Carroll
1b.—Fischer	McIlwaine
2b.—Smith	Pierpont
3b.—Beck	Edmonson
ss.—Jeffries	Nelson
lf.—Barlow	Petticrew
cf.—Agnes Barlow	Cock
rf.—Harvey	Crocker
Sub.—Dodson

Mr. Coyner—Umpire

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

JUST ARRIVED:

Play suits for every occasion, Bowling, Hiking and for all Knock-About Outings.

In all colors and styles, one piece, two piece, and three piece.

$1.98 AND $2.98

DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality

Make Your Getaway The Greyhound Way!

Likely as not you can buy your Greyhound ticket home with just the money you get from the second-hand store for last semester's textbooks—and you know that's not very much! With fares so low and Super-Coaches so comfortable, it's no wonder Greyhound is the easy course that everybody's taking to get out of college! See your local Greyhound agent—and, incidentally, have a nice vacation!

GREYHOUND TERMINAL
Continetal Hotel Tephone 78

Sample One-Way Fares

New York, N. Y.	$5.85
Philadelphia	4.40
Baltimore	3.45
Washington,	3.20
Norfolk,	3.15
Bristol, Va.	4.60
Charlotte, N. C.	3.90
Winston-Salem	2.80
Danville, Va.	1.65
Cincinnati, O.	7.60

GREYHOUND Lines

WIX
Sanitary Protection
without PADS • PINS • BELTS
The Original Internal Tampon
BALDWIN'S
Quality—Price—Service—Store

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.

Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
EXAM
BLUE BOOKS
3 FOR 5c

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

WE DELIVER
Southside Drug Store
Phone 356

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

MEET YOUR FRIENDS AT THE
RECREATIONAL CENTER
SHANNON'S
PHONE 224 Prompt Delivery

Graduation
Presents
Special Prices
LYNN the JEWELER

To the Members of the FACULTY AND STUDENT BODY we wish to thank you for your patronage. We wish each and every one of you a pleasant vacation.
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

Have Your Tried Our SPECIAL BREAKFAST
One Egg, Bacon, Toast and Coffee
Butter and Jelly
15c
COLLEGE SHOPPE

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

Girls Take Off On Usual Trips

Prior to exams, many took advantage of a last week-end to attend a dance, visit, or take a trip home. Those who attended the week-end dances at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville were Anne Shirley, Jenny Noell, Frances S. Williams, Shirley Callahan, Patsy Smith, Shirley Stephens, Dorothy Robbins, Martha Whelchel, Fannie Lee West, Ethel Carr, Dorothy Hahn, Frances Lee Ransom, Catherine Phillips, Essie Millner, Clyde Saunders and Elsye Berrye Yates.

Helen Reiff visited Caralie Nelson in South Boston during the week-end. Amy Powell and Evelyn Burford spent the week-end in Amherst.

Visiting in Petersburg were Lula Windham, Edith Wood, Army Butterworth, Margaret Britton, and Louise Wells.

Doris Chestnut spent the week-end at her home in Durham, N. C. with Helen Hoyer as her guest.

Lucy Blackwell and Dell Warren spent the week-end with Elizabeth Lewis at her home in Lynchburg. Helen Watts, Opal Houghton, Martha Mayton, Alpha Lee Garnett, Marguerite Snell, Edna Mae Ruby, Anne Ayres, Lucy Staples, Frances Alvis, Coralee Gillam, Vivian Moore, Nell Harvey, Louise Applewhite, Coralie Williams, Anne Easley, Anne Benton, Macon Raine, Nancy Wolfe, Mary Katherine Dodson and Kitty Roberts were also in Lynchburg.

Martha Smith was a week-end guest at Hollins College. Dorothy Sprinkle visited at Lynchburg College during the week-end.

Going to South Hill were Alice McAfee, Julia Watson, Frances Munford, Estelle Paulette, Mattie Jolly and Ruth Jolly.

Helen McIlwaine spent the week-end at the home of Nancy Pierpont in Salem. Bunny Yonce also visited in Salem.

Among those who stayed in Roanoke for the week-end were Dorothy Buckland, Pattie Bounds, Dorothy Menefee, Nancy Naff, Elizabeth Wilkinson, Marie Utt, Irma Graff, Doris Bishop, Jean Scott, May Wertz, Ruth Lea Purdum, Frances Hoback, Louise Painter, Frances Rosebro, Emily Hoskins, Frances Ellett and Betty Lucy.

Nancy Gray was the week-end guest of Eloise Williams in Newport News. Bernice Copley visited Margaret Holberton at her home in Fork Union.

Jane McGinnis stayed with Harriette Vaden at her home in Richmond and Elizabeth Kent visited Ellen Gray in Richmond. Others going to Richmond were Anne Turner, Jane Hardy, Harriette Walker, Lee Bennett, Frances Pope, Dot Eades, Harriet Cantrell, Mary Prince Arnold, Vera Ebel, Nancy Moss, Lois Powell, Virginia Boyd, Philippa Schlobohm, Emma Hutchinson, Nellie Williamson, Mary Lou Shannon, Catherine Radspinner, Dot Adkins, Jean Taylor, Edna Strong, Ada Harris, Elizabeth Berryman, Anne Leake, Isabel Williamson, Elizabeth Billups, Caroline Eason, Elizabeth Jennings, Elsie Dodd, Mary Sue Edmonson, Genevieve Cook, Betty Shumate, Jean Moyer, Sarah Chambers, Marjorie Wicks, Meade Neale and Clara Nottingham.

Mary Elizabeth McCormick spent the week-end with Helen Wentz in Danville. Marion Worsham, Elizabeth Lewis, Marian Heard and Ruth Lea Purdum also visited in Danville.

Sophs Bid Farewell To Sisters With Party

The Sophomore class entertained their sister class, the Seniors, in honor of their graduation with a ten o'clock party in the "rec" Tuesday night, May 23. Ruth Lea Purdum made a speech welcoming and congratulating the seniors. Representatives of the sophomore class under the direction of Martha Whelchel entertained the guests with a floor show.

Express Rates Reduced

Shipping by express has undergone a significant reduction since April 15. Girls who are interested in sending trunks or large packages may learn further details by calling the express office.

Kappa Delta Pi Host At Annual Reception

Beta Epsilon chapter of Kappa Delta Pi gave a reception in Student Building lounge Thursday, May 18, for all Freshmen and Sophomores in the upper quartile of their classes for the faculty and administration. In the receiving line were David Terry, the out-going president, Miss Pauline Camper, the counselor, Anne Billups, the incoming president, Mr. M. B. Coyner, vice-president, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Wynne and Mrs. William Flora, a former president.

The lounge was decorated with spring flowers, and the guests were given corsages. Punch, small cakes, mints and nuts carried out the spring color scheme in the refreshments.

G. T.'s Entertain At Tea for Miss Mix

Gamma Theta was at home in the chapter room, Friday, May 19, in honor of Miss Grace E. Mix, a patron, who has resigned her position as supervisor of the kindergarten of the Training School.

Invitations were issued to the old and new heads and the advisers of all the sororities and Mrs. M. B. Coyner, Mrs. Mildred Dickinson Davis and Mrs. Tom McIlwaine, alumnae living in Farmville.

Church Groups Plan Last Social of Year

The four churches of Farmville will entertain the students at socials this week.

B. S. U. is having a retreat and picnic supper at Willis Mountain Thursday night, May 25.

The last meeting of the Wesley Foundation class of the Methodist students will be a picnic at Goodwin's Lake Friday night, May 26.

Episcopal Fellowship will install their new officers preceding a communion service on Willis Mountain Saturday night. A picnic supper will be served after the service.

Presbyterians held their monthly fellowship supper Sunday night, preceding the regular young peoples' service.

Sororities Arrange For Closing Parties

Alpha Sigma Alpha will entertain its members and their dates at a picnic at the cabin at Longwood Saturday evening, May 27.

Sigma Sigma Sigma members will go to Longwood Thursday afternoon, May 25, where they will have a picnic.

Gamma Thetas are planning for their picnic to be held at Whitaker's Lake on Friday, May 26.

Mu Omega wil have a picnic at Willis mountain Monday, May 29.

Pi Gamma Mu, honor fraternity in social science, entertained its members at a picnic supper on Willis Mountain, Tuesday afternoon, May 23. Besides the actives, faculty and associate members were present.

Alumnae Chapter Has Party for Seniors

Local Farmville Alumnae chapter entertained the Senior Class at a garden party held in Dr. Jarman's garden on Thursday afternoon, May 25.

Among those receiving were Mrs. Smith, president of the chapter; Mrs. Thomas G. Hardy, vice-president; Mrs. Barrye Wall, secretary; Mrs. Henry Newbill, treasurer; Miss Grace Moran, Virginia State Alumnae president; and Mrs. M. B. Coyner, State secretary.

Members of the Home Economics Club celebrated their last meeting with a picnic supper Tuesday afternoon, May 23, at Goodwyn's lake near Cumberland.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.
Wed.-Thurs., May 24-25
JAMES STEWART
Claudette Colbert
"It's A Wonderful World"
"While America Sleeps"
Organolog by the Crawfords
Friday-Sat., May 26-27
TYRONE POWER
ALICE FAYE
AL JOLSON
"Rose of Washington Square"
Artie Shaw and Orchestra
Next Mon.-Tues., May 29-30
FRANCIS LERERER
LYA LYS
Ed. G. Robinson
"Confessions of a Nazi Spy"

SHEER DRESSES
Good looking—Cool, smart—Sizes 10 to 20
$1.98 to $5.98
Organdy Blouses—Smartly tailored. They look like $2 values $1
A Complete Line of Luggage
THE HUB DEPT. STORE
Charge Accounts Solicited

GRADUATION GIFTS
A complete stock of Jewelries—Hosiery—House Coats.
Sheer Kay Dunhill Dresses They're lovely $3.97 to $9.97
dorothy may
Charge it if you like

Hitting the Mark

HOWARD HILL, World Champion Field Archer, can flick the ash off your Chesterfield with a single shot.

And Chesterfield's right combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos hits the mark every time for what smokers want in a cigarette . . .

- They're milder — refreshingly milder
- They taste better — you'll enjoy every one
- They Satisfy — the blend can't be copied

When you try them you will know why Chesterfields give millions of men and women more smoking pleasure . . . why THEY SATISFY

Chesterfield

. . . the RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos . . . they're MILDER and TASTE BETTER

Copyright 1939 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

Z—773

VOLUME XVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, TUESDAY, JUNE 6, 1939 | No. 30

192 Students Graduate Here Today!

Degrees, Diplomas Are Awarded To Graduates

All But 12 Girls Are From Virginia; Apply for B. S., A. B.

Of the one hundred and ninety-two gradates who received degrees this morning, June 6, one hundred and forty-three were candidates for the Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Arts degree. The other forty-nine received diplomas which will enable them to teach elementary work. All but twelve of the candidates live in Virginia; the others come from Kentucky, North Carolina, Delaware, West Virginia, New Jersey, Puerto Rica, and the District of Columbia.

Those receiving degrees are:

Lucy Gordon Adams, Farmville; Doris Adkins, Danville; Dorothy Adkins, Danville; Lillian Anderson, Covington; Louise Anthony, Danville; Bonnalynne Wyatte Avery, Holdcroft; Mary Elizabeth Badger, Marionville; Annie Ruth Baird, Savedge; Ruby Bane, Vernon Hill; Frances Haskins Barnes, Keysville; Lucy Baskerville; McKenney; Jacqueline Beal, Scottsville; Evelyn Beale, Smithfield; Sara Melba Beale, Smithfield; Margaret Black, Shores; Elizabeth Berryman, Surry; Marguerite Blackwell, Roanoke; Rebecca Louise Bland, LaCrosse.

Rosa Beatrice Bland, Dumbarton; Elizabeth Bounds, West Point; Pattie Alston Bounds, Norfolk; Florence Bress, Norfolk; Helen Briggs, Whaleyville; Margaret Britton, Waverly; Frances Bryan, Crewe; Louise Barlow Bryan, Tarboro, N. C.; Dorothy Buckland, Roanoke; India Edmunds Burch, Washington, D. C.; Elizabeth Burke, St. Stephens Church; Mable Burton, Richmond; Alma Harris Butterworth, DeWitt; Sarah Button, Farmville; Frances Carroll, Portsmouth; Virginia Carroll, Rocky Mount; Ellen Conyers, Chester; Nancy Elizabeth Cooley, Pulaski; Elizabeth Cralle, Farmville; Betty Sue Cummings, Big Stone Gap.

Charlotte Davis, Blackstone; Yetive Dawson, Saxe; Louise Dejarnette, Clarkton; Bessie Dillon, Franklin; Elsie Dodd, Richmond; Adelaide Dressler, Intervale; Ann Dugger, Farmville; Vera Ebel, Richmond; Blanche Ellis, Gasburg; Martha Evans, Mereditville; Miriam Ficklen, Mt. Airy, N. C.; Edith Fitch, Washington, D. C.; Jane Fowler, Blackstone; Alpha Lee Garnett, Richmond; Mildred Gentry, Yancey's Mills; Lavelette Glenn, Prospect; Theresa Graff, Roanoke; Nancy Gray, Roanoke; Helen Greene, Staunton; Caroline Gwathmey, Walkerton; Katherine Leona Habel, Jetersville; Dorothy Hatcher, Salem; Sarah Hayes, Hilton Village; Rose Allen Higginbotham, Tazewell; Ruth Hill, Roanoke; Frances Holloway, Smithfield, Thelma Haupe, Farmville; Katherine Hoyle, Newport News; LeNoir Hubbard, Crewe; Nancy Louise Hunter, Richlands; Frances Hutcheson, Lexington; Mai Cooper Hutcheson; Virginia Epps Irby, Farmville; Frances Irving, Portsmouth; Mary Jackson, Richmond.

Virginia Jarman, Crozet; Louise Jones, LaCrosse; Anne Kelly, Gainesville; Elvira Ligon, Keysville; Leah Annie Marsh, Miskimon; Catherine Maynard, Williamsburg; Doris Miller, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Charlotte Minton, Roanoke; Charlotte Morton, Drakes Branch; Elizabeth Moss, Alexandria; Margaret Motley, Chatham; Meade Neal, Donora, Pa.; Ernestine Noel, Farmville;

Continued on Page 4

Jane Jackson and Lucy Staples, honor graduates of diploma class; Sarah Button and Mary Rice, honor graduates of degree class.

Forty-Five Girls Will Receive Diploma For Primary Work

Fifty-five girls received diplomas from S. T. C. Farmville awarded at commencement Tuesday morning, June 6. These girls have been at Farmville two years majoring in primary and elementary work which their certificate recognizes.

Those receiving diplomas are:

Carolyn Rice Andrews, Farmville; Lois Bailey, Rice; Margaret Banton, Norwood; Caroline Barnes, Parksley; Marjorie Bass, Rice; Marie Beale, Branchville; Anne Benton, Locust Dale; Anna Belle Bradner, Chatham; Faye Brandon, Suffolk; Josa Carlton, Roanoke; Ruth Carney, Churchland; Carolyn Louise Ford, Amherst; Coralee Gilliam, Pamplin. Ellen Elizabeth Gray, Richmond; Mary Catherine Green, Heathville; Lina Hale, Long Island; Myrtle Hamlin, Appomattox; Opae Houghton, Hilton Village; Margaret Holberton, Columbia; Martha Holloway, Norfolk; Annie Hunter, Gladys; Jane Jackson, Danville; Sarah Joyner, Courtland.

Anne Leake, Richmond; Elizabeth Lewis, Lynchburg; Lucy Lingo, Pungoteague; Maude McChesney, Highland Springs; Genevieve Moody, Petersburg; Angeline Nicolos, Gretna; Mary Kathryn Nininger, Roanoke; Emily Owen, Jarratt; Norma Pamplin, Clifton Forge; Janie Lee Peake, Norfolk; Mildred Perdue, Chester.

Frances Pritchett, Petersburg; Frances Pulley, Courtland; Dorothy Reynolds, Farmville; Elizabeth Robertson, Berryville; Jane Porter Shepherd, Chester; Lucy Staples, Lynchburg; Rosa Tanner, Gladys; Evelyn Douglas Timberlake, Ballsville; Doris Trimyer, Norfolk; Helen Watts, Lynchburg; Lily Weaver, Rice; Eunice Westbrook, Courtland; Roberta Wheeler, Lynchburg; Daphne Wilkerson, South Hill; Nellie Williamson, Nelson.

Magazine Awards

Kitty Roberts, Margaret Black, and Harriet Cantrel won the prizes offered by Beorc eh Thorn, honor fraternity in English, for the best contributions to the Colonnade. Marion Shelton announced the winners on May 30.

Kitty's prize poem was "Let No Bird Call" and "Letters from Abroad" by Margaret took first place among the essays. Harriet's "Police Call" not only rated the best short story submitted, but also was used in an exchange magazine.

These girls will receive $50. Every year Beorc eh Thorn offers these prizes from material submitted for all issues of the Colonnade.

Class of '40 Selects Roberts as Member

Kitty Roberts was chosen by the Class of '40 to be its honorary class member. The announcement of the selection was made by Jane Powell, president of the incoming Senior class, at senior chapel exercises Saturday, May 27.

It has been a tradition at Farmville S. T. C. for some years for the Junior class to choose one of the graduating class to be an honorary member of their class.

35 Are Mentioned As Honor Graduates For College Work

Honorable mention for scholarship of their college work was given 35 girls at the Commencement exercises this morning. Those listed are:

Diploma

Jane Ardyce Jackson, Lucy Clark Staples.

Degree

Lucy Gordon Adams, Lillian Evelyn Anderson, Ruby Kent Bane, Evelyn Christine Beale, Sara Melba Beale, Margaret L. Black, Marguerite Blackwell, Florence Bress, Margaret Britton, Dorothy Buckland, Sarah Button, Nancy Cooley, Charlotte Davis, Ann Dugger, Mildred Gentry, Lavelette Glenn, Frances Holloway, Katherine Hoyle, LeNoir Hubbard, Doris Ruth Miller, Mary Wanda Porterfield.

Elizabeth Prince, Mrs. Virginia Fuller, Anna Shaw Ramsey, Ruth Read, Mary Frances Rice, Virginia Whitehead Smith, Marguerite Snell, Mrs. Lucille Dunn Stephenson, David Terry, Elizabeth Tyree, Nellie Virginia Yager, Sidney Yonce.

Senior President Has Many Fond Memories

By DOT ROLLINS

Vera Ebel sat down in the midst of her big founcy skirt, her brown eyes soft and serious as she considered the problem before her.

"It's so big—this going away and leaving everyone . . . graduating and feeling so old when really it seems yesterday that you enrolled."

"Ebo" stopped talking for a minute and looked thoughtfully away. Then, in a flash, she was her vivacious self again.

"Isn't it wonderful that we have the color cup again this year? You know green and white has won it three out of the four years we've been here. Nice, isn't it? Seems as if there are so many swell things to remember . . . living on Annex and having so much fun. And those "no smoking" rules! Horrors! Everyone thought that "to indulge" was so delightfully risque.

"I'll bet many a senior will recall the "old" Shannon's . . . that great big room where everyone went and where everyone knew everyone else. It was a great place.

"Say, and there's another thing that's unforgettable! That rare Cotillion Club initiation we all enjoyed as freshmen. Real Paddle". Vera emphasized, "about that long and so wide," she continued indicating the proportions with her hands. "They don't have 'em now," she laughed, "but we won't forget them! Wow"

"And then, there came the fun of moving into the new building. We feel like we're living in the Ritz all right. Those snazzy rooms . . . and all friends living in one grand home together."

As she spoke of friends, Vera's eyes softened again, and she said seriously "That's what's so awful about all this. Leaving friends and wondering if you'll ever see them again . . . missing all the good old times we've had together for four short years. Uprooting everything all of a sudden."

Vera straightened and arose, smiling again. "Well," she said, "I guess I'll be going now," and picking up her "little girl" skirts and her big hat, she turned away. As she neared the end of the hall she looked back and smiled.

That's how we'll remember you, "Ebo"—our favorite of favorites. The best of luck along the way.

Sarah Button and Jane Jackson Win Honors

Class Day Events Are Held June 5

Seniors Theme Is Trip to Fair; Sophs Trace Life Journey

Senior Class Day exercises were held June 5, at 3:30 o'clock in the auditorium. The theme was a trip to the World's Fair in New York, a graduation gift to the officers Ann Dugger, historian, and the giftorians, Army Butterworth and Margaret Britton. The scene was laid in a hotel room with Ann reading from her diary the history of the calss.

Army and Margaret came running in with souvenirs of the fair for every member of the class. A picture of Thomas Jefferson to be placed in the new library was left the school.

Vera Ebel, president of the class, presented the symbol of office to Jane Powell, president of the incoming senior class, and Kitty Roberts, outgoing president of the Student Body, presented the symbol of office to Marie Eason, the incoming president.

Miss Grace Moran, president of the Alumnae Association, welcomed the members of the class of '39 as new alumnae.

Sophomore Exercises

Graduating Sophomores, dressed in white, marched into the auditorium Monday morning, June 5, where Ruth Lea Purdum, president of the class, gave the welcome in the Class Day exercises.

Tracing their journey on a huge map by marking each milestone with an appropriate reminder, Anne Leake gave the class history.

Norma Pamplin read the prophecy after which the class song to Mr. Raymond French, classman, was sung.

Mildred Perdue was giftorian, presenting gifts to each graduating sophomore. Two silver sandwich trays were left by the class to the school.

Ruth Lea Purdum presented the symbol of office to Mary Katherine Dodson, president of the incoming sophomore class. The class poet is Jean Terrell. The exercises were closed with the farewell song written by Jane Jackson, Jean Terrell, and Anne Bradner.

The "Daisy Chain" Monday afternoon and "Lantern Parade" Monday night, in which events "little sisters" assist the graduates, were also a part of the Commencement program.

Rev. Boyd, Speaker; Bishop Brown Gives Baccalaureate

Sarah Button, first honor graduate of the degree class, Jane Jackson, first honor graduate of the diploma class, and Rev. Beverly M. Boyd, rector of Grace and Holy Trinity Church, Richmond, were speakers at the annual commencement exercises of the classes of '40 which were held in the S. T. C. auditorium at 10:30 a. m., Tuesday, June 6.

As Valedictorian Sarah laid on the teacher's "privilege and influence in making the democratic ideal a vital force that will command a devotion of our people."

What is the democratic way of life? Sarah continued by saying that democracy means that all men no matter what their race, creed, or social status in society, should have equal opportunity to live the fullest lives of which they are capable.

One weakness in our Government which is not all right, is that in having a government by "the people" we don't always do the wisest thing. "The people" are individuals, who have the faults of ordinary human nature. Thomas Jefferson said that popular government was an educated citizenry. Our educational system has not yet succeeded in making "the people" intellectually competent. Is it possible for incapable voters to choose or recognize capable leaders?

Democracy is worth fighting for because it gives a moral appeal. We enforce or respect a law because we made it, also because it substitutes understanding for obedience.

"As college graduates we face the future with calmness and a clear vision of a world that can become serene."

Jane Jackson, salutatorian, had as her subject, "The Changing Philosophies of the American Teacher Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow."

"Today the greatest qualities a teacher can bring to a child is not subject matter but the uplift, inspiration and encouragement which come from contact with a vital personality. The teacher today is a leader, guide and a friend.

"We now have an education for freedom wherein the pupils are led to understand their environment, to cultivate breadth of interests, to gain the ability to find information for themselves and to be initiated into the art of living."

"If your hearts, minds, bodies are on things good, noble, of good report—things above—you will be led by the hand of the Master so that your feet will go along the paths of peace," said Bishop A. Brown of the Episcopal Church, at the Baccalaureate Sermon Sunday night.

He took for his text the opening verse of the third chapter of Colossians, "If ye then be risen in Christ, seek those things which are above with Christ."

Man has always sought after two things, the outward progress in life, which sometimes leads to an impasse or the seeming destruction of civilization, and an inward peace, a satisfaction of the soul, a contentment that can not be carried away by external things.

"If we do only our duty we are despicable citizens," Bishop Brown stated.

The four churches of Farmville alternate in choosing the Baccalaureate speaker.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

1938-1939 member Associated College Press, distributor of Collegiate Digest.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistants—Elizabeth West, Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Socials Editor ..... Evelyn Byrd Hutcheson
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Anna Johnson, Theodosia McKenzie, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickral, Janelle Shelor, Edna Strong, Dell Warren, Lucy Turnbull, and Shirley Stephens.

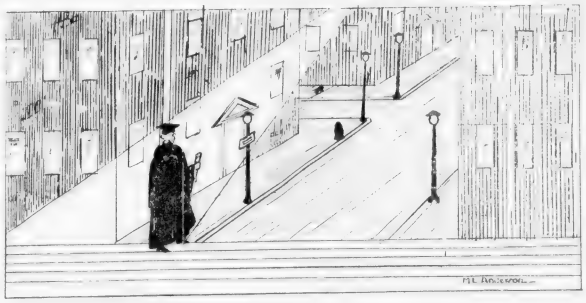
Managers

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Beverly Blair, Helen Briggs, Josa Carleton, Jeanette Ferguson, Martha McKinstry, Caralie Nelson, Mary Allen Peters, Frances Pope, Jane Rosenberger, Mary Sue Simmons, Kathryn Watkins.

Typists

Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Bettsy Briggs, Anne Bruce, Elizabeth Bundy, Dorothy Lee Harrison, Frances Pritchett, Dorothy Smith, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Sue Wohlford.

MONDAY, JUNE 5, 1939



Self Adjustment—Are You Ready?

Now that another school year has closed and seniors have dusted off their caps and gowns to pass on to coming stately first classmen, without too many regrets at what has been and can no longer be in reality, let us think a bit about what college has meant and done for us. We don't try the plane of the idealist as regards the scale of living which has been laid before us as life's patern. Such talk has been covered by our commencement speakers and others equally far away There are other things—little things—which count and will continue to count in our memories of Farmville.

We can, for example, list the really meaningful people with whom we've associated, those with whom we've shared thoughts, gleaned new ideas and developed old ones. They've been friends for whom we nurtured a deeper feeling than someone to chat with, school officials who've been more than advisers to us, professors who've meant more than just the classroom.

Some of us have come from families which sheltered us by the conventionalities of life. We may have begun life as lordly plutocrats, musty bourgeoise or cocky radicals. But somehow college injects us with the idea that it isn't where we started but where we're going that's important.

If a college training has taught us what it means to live with people, to make the best of what comes our way, then it has succeeded in giving the term "liberal education" a meaning. There are, after all, modern problems which can't be solved within the bindings of a text book. Sometimes, psychologists call these problems "self adjustment."

Looking to the Future

Do You Remember, Seniors

Seniors, a lot has been done in your four years of college life because someone was always doing smoething. Do you remember the following days?

Freshmen 1935-1936

October 16—Sarah Hayes elected class president.

December 11—Vera Ebel chosen princess in May Court

Sophomores 1936-1937

December 5—Sarah Hayes presented Miss Moran as sophomore classman.

February 4—Sophomore production. "Mother Goose Goes to Town," directed by Pattie Bounds.

February 18—Winners of "Sing" contest with "Downfall of Handsome Harry Hoosegow."

March—Vera Ebel new president of junior class.

May 3—Frankie Bryan elected president of Pan-Hel Association.

May 4 — Virginia Whitehead Smith re-elected president of Gamma Psi.

June 8—Ann Dugger delivered salutatory address at Commencement exercises

Juniors 1937-1938

December 8—Mr. Coyner presented as junior classman.

January 26—"Sister Pat—with Apologies to Brother Rat", directed by Frances Hutcheson—junior production.

Februar 22—Juniors won "Sing" contest.

March 9—New editors and their business managers: Ficklen, Gray, Hubbard, Bress, and Dugger.

March 30—Election of major officers: Roberts, Buton, Carroll, and Blackwell

April 5—Ebel re-elected class president.

March 20—Frances Hutcheson elected head of Dramatic Club.

April 13—David Terry, president of Kappa Delta Pi.

April 27 — Charlotte Minton heads Alpha Kappa Gamma.

April 25—Mary Jackson, chairman of Student Standards.

April 29—Sarah Hayes elected Pan-Hel head.

May 3—Florence Bress president Pi Gamma Mu.

May 9—Pattie Bounds heads Pi Kappa Delta.

May 11—Margaret Stallard, new Cotillion Club president.

May 17—Sarah Hayes heads Student Day chapel.

Seniors 1938-1939

November5—Army Butterworth crowned Circus queen.

November 17—Mr. Coyner presented for last time as classman.

December 3—Senior dance.

November 30—Frankie Bryan elected Mardi Gras queen.

December 1—Theresa Graff, chairman of May Day.

January 18—Theresa Graff is chosen May Queen.

February 15—Frances Hutcheson plays leading role in "Tovarich"

February 21—Bryan crowned queen of Mardi Gras ball.

April 5—Alpha Lee Garnett chosen Apple Blossom Festival princess.

April 119—Sarah Button, valedictorian; Mary Rice in second place in degree class.

May 6—May Day, with Queen Graff and Maid Minton.

May 13 — Clara Nottingham leads Cotillion figure.

June 7—GRADUATION!

Senior President

Jane Powell

You don't need an introduction to Jane, now president of the Senior class of '40 as the '39ers take leave. Since they began their life at Farmville, the class has had Jane as their leader, so her capability is unquestionable.

With a gentle and calm voice, an amount of self assurance that assures others of her efficiency, and a poised and hospitable manner which makes for friendship, Jane has gained friends and followers in her classmates.

A keen mind which pulls down the grades as well as the admiration of others is another weapon of her success.

With such a leader as has been found in Jane Powell, we predict a great year for the seniors of '40.

Books in Review

By Bernice Kelly Harris

"PURSLANE"

The first novel ever to come off the University of North Carolina press is Bernice Kelley Harris' "Purslane," a sincerely woven story of homespun country life. Its richness and integrity of description of the simple honest farmer and his family, their traditions and regional folkways, secure it's excellence.

A truck and cotton farmer is John Fuller, who, with his wife and children, their friends and kinfolk, give strength and individuality to the small community.

The most touching story of all is the romance of Calvin Fuller, son of John and Milly Pate, and the daughter of his mother's rich cousin. Despite the melodramatic ending to their efforts, the story runs parallel to the characterizations. Another tragedy is to be found in Calvin's sister, Letha, who lacked the courage to marry the men she loved and lived her life of regret throughout the years of her spinsterhood.

Lighter notes are struck in the unassuming incidents common to any life — Christmas festivals, visits of relatives, work and pleasure, sorrows and fears. But through it all, the Fullers are themselves, created in their own image, their own background, their own tongue.

In Spring

Two letters carved upon the bark,
A rough-hewn job by some lad's hand
When Spring was softening Winter's chill
And dandelions bespeckled the hill
Two letters circled by a heart.

—Beckie Sandidge

Little Known Facts of Well Known Seniors

RUTH READ likes a boy at Virginia named Frank.

VIRGINIA YAGER loves to be called "P—— Nellie."

MARGUERITE SNELL has a definite leaning towards practicality to the Nth degree.

RUTH HUBBARD hates to be called Mary.

ARMY BUTTERWORTH likes Jitterbugs.

JENNIE CARROLL wants to be loved.

FRANCES IRVING NANCY WOODWARD, "TIZZIE" RAWLINGS should really get together because they all hate to talk before breakfast

ELIZABETH BOUNDS will deal only at the Sanitary.

MAY SULLENBERGER likes a Hershey and a magazine.

TONY ANTHONY thinks football players OK if named Brown.

PATTIE BOUNDS hates Pattie spelled with a "y", loves the Navy, is crazy about conventions, goes wild over ships and anchors, thinks horses and Yankees are the tops—(these people who think this column is dedicated to them only.)

ELLEN CONYERS gave us the slip.

FICKLEN revels in making ice cream for Jim.

FLORENCE BRESS says there's nothing like playing double solitaire.

FRANCES HOLLOWAY will stop anybody anywhere to tell them the joke about Ernest.

DOT HATCHER still likes "My Bill."

BERRYMAN says, "I'll take Bankers anyday."

NANCY GRAY goes for Pi in a big way but is adverse to hats, stockings and petticoats.

EBO abhors cats—quote, "Oh! I think they are horrible" unquote.

BURTON detests English 205.

SARAH BUTTON, just for a change, wants to borrow a black wig and wear a red dress.

ANN DUGGER will scour the countryside for insects—especially "B's".

THERESA GRAFF likes syrup on sausage for breakfast.

ALL THE SENIORS were loathe to give away their own weaknesses but delighted in disclosing those of their fellow classmates.

Class Poem

(Graduating Sophs of '39)

As a path in the woods
Finally leads to a clearing,
And runs to a cool, grassy glade:
So have we come to such a place
Where our greatest decision is made.
The time has come when we must bid farewell
To our classmates we love so well;
And just what's in store no one may say
As we start out on life's long way.

But it isn't a realy real goodbye,
For there's something intangible that never can die:
Your truth and ideals, your standards of worth
Wil l live in us all to the ends of the earth.
And yet there's a tinge of sadness, too:
Like the sky above, we're a bit bleu
As we turn in our tracks and through a misty haze
Bid a last farewell to our college days.

—Jean Terrell

History of Class of 1939

By Ann Dugger

Has it really been that long ago? Yes, it was on the twenty-third of September, 1935, that the members of the Class of '39 first walked into the Rotunda and looked up at Joan of Arc with a feeling of awe and excitment, and perhaps with the first symptoms of homesickness. But these early, unsettled and lost feelings soon gave way to the realization that we were in College. Before us lay one thousand four hundred and sixty pages in our dairy to be filled with unknown experiences and enchanting opportunities.

With the making of schedules and formation of orientation classes, we lost that disconnected feeling of being only parts of something not joined together, and became conscious of our class as a unit. At a spirited class meeting we chose Sarah Hayes as president and Miss Grace Moran as classman. Then we were ready to plunge wholeheartedly into college activities.

Rat Week is marked down in red letters. For three days we bowed in humble submission to the "iron" rule of the mighty sophomores. Devoid of all beauty, we carried laundry, polished shoes, wrote love letters, and performed other duties too numerous to mention. We had fun though, and now felt much more a part of it all.

As "Rosebuds of the Freshman Class"—with our flower, the white rose as a theme, we formally presented Miss Moran, our classman, to the student body. Each progressive step in our freshman year gave us an inspiration to gain for our class a definite place in the college.

In sports we got off to a running start by taking first places in the swimming meet in which "Bunny" Yonce was high scorer. In four years we have had outstanding athletes such as Virginia Carroll, Virginia Whitehead Smith, and Ellen Conyers.

Eagerly we worked toward the date of February 13, 1936, for we had chosen that night for our first class producution. "Over the Wires" was under the direction of Nan Throckmorton. In six scenes two roaming sight seers took the audience around the world. Remember Em Easley as the fat sultan, and Vera singing 'One Night in Monte Caro"?

Following this we wrote many more "first" experiences into our dairy—Mardi Gras, Founders Day with its folk dance exhibition in the gymnasium, Spring Cotillion, May Day, and the confusion that comes with exams and saying farewell for the summer.

In the fall of 1936 we returned to Farmville with heads held high. We were sophomores—much impressed with our new importance and eagerly awaiting our turn to rule, if only for a week. Rat Week went off smoothly and was climaxed by Rat Court which was a masterpiece of ghostly terror.

We shared honors with the Seniors, our sister class, when Green and White was victoriouus in the Color Rush—but our rule over the Freshmen ended when they defeated us in hockey and discarded their rat caps. This year we again used the garden theme when Sarah Hayes presented Miss Moran as classman.

We turned the nursery rhymes inside out and as a result presented "Mother Goose Goes to Town" as our Sophomore production under the direction of Pattie Bounds. "Jack and Jill," and "Little Boy Blue" went through their paces; "Tizzie Rawlings and May Terrell were typical little girls in the "See-Saw Theme". Thanks to Jean Taylor, "Dibbs" Tyree, Virginia Jarman, Mary Jackson, and other committee workers, the play went off smoothly.

At the commencement exrcises in June we sadly bade many of our classmates good-bye. Among them were Kitty Waite, Ann Hardy, Betty Fagg, and "Em" Easley.

We had filed the pages of half of our diary as we went forward into our Junior year Vera Ebel, our new president, and our other class officers—Virginia Whitehead Smith, Clara Nottingham, and Louise Anthony, led the Junior cheering section in presenting Mr. Coyner as classman.

The class came to the front again in swimming events and carried off first place in the Water Carnival with Junior Olympics. We decided to make this an annual event, and won the prize again the next year with Senior Olympics. The Color Cup still bore its Green and White ribbons.

Our Junior productions turned out to be a riot of fun! We painted an exaggerated picture of college life and called it "Sister Pat (with apologies to Brother Rat)". Under the direction of Frances Hutchinson, every rehearsal was a revelation of new jokes and wise cracks added to the script.

Sing, with its portrayal of life in Farmville fifty years from now, proved to be another prize winner.

(Continued on page 4)

Shirley and Adams Gain Doubles Title

Badger Is Singles Tennis Champion

Ann Shirley and Ruby Adams, a freshman and a junior, respectively, won the annual doubles tournament by defeating Mary Elizabeth Badger and Tizzie Rawlings (6-2), (7-5), (6-8) in the last round of play.

Mary Elizabeth Badger, a senior, gained the singles championship by defeating Betty Shumate, the runner-up (6-2), (6-4).

Both Ruby and Mary Elizabeth have been members of the varsity tennis team, and have participated in various class athletic events.

The tennis tournaments, both singles and doubles, are sponsored each year by the Athletic Association. The singles event is run off in the fall while the doubles takes place in the spring. This year the singles tournament was postponed until spring because of bad weather.

Partners

Ann Shirley, freshman, and Ruby Adams, junior, who won final in tennis doubles match.

Team III Wins Bowling Title

Athletic Association Sponsors Event

The current bowling season came to a close last week. Team III, composed of Essie Millner, Ruby Adams, Frances Pulley, Le-Noir Hubard, Anne Billups and Betty Harrison, took first honors with a total of 2965. Bowling is one of the newer sports at Farmville having gotten its start this spring. The A. A. sponsored the school team.

Below are the weekly individual scores plus the team totals.

I.—Neal 208, Taylor 176, Badger 171, Sexton 259, Irving 169, Steed 279.

III—Millner 80, Adams 282, Pulley 177, Hubbard, Billups 239, Harrison.

IV—Newman 225, Hillsman, Chesnut, Fischer 241, Gibson 211, Copley 254.

Totals to date:

I—2747; III—2965; IV—2217.

In the day time we sit like this
But at night wesitlikethis.
—U. S. M. A. Pointer

Acrobatic tumbling went on the air for the first time when gymnastics at the University of South Carolina performed for a television broadcast.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has accepted the honorary chairmanship of the Inter-collegiate committee to aid student refugees.

Wilson Angel, baritone who recently sang at Farmville appeared in a Lyceum number at Madison College April 28.

Senior Sidelights

The only fair thing to do in a case like this would be to write for you a slight summary of the outstanding athletes of the senior class. Well, that's not hard to do because one finds some real sports in that fine group of girls. This year has been a successful year for us and we don't hesitate in saying that the seniors have helped make it this way.

First of all, Virginia Carroll, our out-going president of the Athletic Association is responsible for our definite interest and progress in the sports field. Besides a great athletic leader, we recognize real talent in "Jenny". One could hardly choose "Jenny's" real sport, but a wild guess leads us to believe that it's none other than basketball. She has been on the Varsity team all four years and was co-captain with Virginia Whitehead Smith this year. She was the runner-up in the singles tournament last year to the Butterworth twins, Army and Betty. This year she showed untiring ability on the Varsity hockey team. Tennis also proved to be one of her real sports as she was on the Varsity tennis all four years. For the last two years she has been prized on her class baseball and volley ball teams. "Jenny" is a member of both the Monogram Club and the H2O club. This spring she has often been seen at Longwood in a few rounds of golf. Virginia was awarded her class blazer this year.

Next we turn to our retiring vice-president of the A. A., Virginia Whitehead Smith. This Virginia, too, has been a member of the Varsity Basketball team all four years. Her second year here found her as manager of volleyball and at the same time captain of the class team. As a junior, Virginia Whitehead managed basketball. She was a member of the Monogram Club and she received her class blazer this year.

Ellen Conyers, one of our star guards on the Varsity Basketball team, seems to have been on varsity for three years, 1, 3, 4. She was unable to play in '37 because of a broken wrist. Hockey has found her on varsity the last two years. Ellen has also been a member of the various volley ball, baseball and swimming teams besides being in H2O and Monogram Club. This year she was awarded her class blazer.

Three years on Varsity Basketball squad, for which she received a blazer this year, Elizabeth Berryman is an enthusiastic member of our great athletic world. She has been on her class hockey and volleyball teams. She was manager of field and track her Sophomore year and she was a member of the Monogram Club.

Besides being on class hockey team for four years, Mary Elizabeth Badger was a member of the Varsity Hockey team three years. She was on Varsity Basketball squad her Freshman year and on her class team her first three years. Tennis, volleyball, and baseball rate among her favorite sports and she, too, is a Monogram Club member. A blazer was awarded to her this year also.

Sidney Yonce, usually called "Bunny", is most outstanding in swimming. Naturally she is a member of the H2O club and not only a member of this honorary aquatic organization, but its president as well. She was manager of swimming her Sophomore year. Then too, Bunny dances. Yes, she is an Orchesis member.

Louise (Tony) Anthony has proven herself a good manager since she has been at Farmville. Last year she manager archery and this year she managed basketball. She was on her class archery team in '38 and archery champ this year. Tony was a member of the Monogram Club, acting as treasurer this year.

When you think of cupid you think of archery, and when you think of archery manager, you think of Stallard. Margaret was also a member of the Monogram Club.

Mable Burton was secretary of the Monogram Club last year and president this year. She was manager of minor sports her second and third years and has been a participant in sports activities.

We cannot forget Vera Ebel and Margaret Britton in the swimming field. On them have we banked our hopes for the Telegraphic Meets. We shall always remember Army Butterworth and tennis and Louise Bryan and May Terrell and hockey.

So to the Senior Athletes of '39 (this is awful hard to say) we dedicate this column.

They're Off to Camps - - - These Summer Counselors

Heigh-ho! Heigh-ho! It's off to camp we go! Not very original but it expresses the idea 'cause come summer (and summer is practically "come") Farmville gals are really migrating to camps. They'll be putting that good old Farmville enthusiasm and spirit into being peppy counselors. More power to 'em . . .

A few are really going to far away places. Myra Smith will teach land and water sports at Camp Farwell in Vermont. The main land sport will of course be archery—won't it, Myra—after all, you've gotta give those Northern gals the benefit of all that talent. Yes! Show 'em how we do it down here . . .

Dot Fischer will be near home for her, but pretty far away from where she spends her winters. She is teaching land and water sports at Pinecrest Dunes in Pionie, Long Island—Ummm the name sounds good—extra special good.

Caroline Gwathmey is breezing up to Connecticut where she'll teach the little ones all the secrets of horse back riding; and Lucy Blackwell is going to Bennington, Vermont to "learn 'em" archery and tennis.

We started to put Louise Bryan in with the far away places, but, after all she's only going to North Carolina, which we admit is pretty far from civilization; after all, though, we couldn't class it with New York, Vermont and Connecticut. Now could we, Bryan? Anyway, Bryan will teach swimming at a camp in her home state.

The rest of the gals are sticking pretty close to home. Cottie Radspinner, Peggy Hughes and Ellen Conyers are giving Camp Pocohontas near Richmond the benefit of their knowledge of arts and crafts, swimming and recreation and swimming again, respectively. Sounds like a Farmville reunion!

Shirley McCalley and Elizabeth Burke are going down beach way. Shirley will help with sports at Camp Eley, Chesapeake Beach. Burke is going to a camp at Virginia Beach where she will "just be a counselor"—by the way, what is the name of that camp, Burke, would you know?

Norma Pamplin is helping with arts and crafts and music at Mont Shenandoah, Beatrice Bland with arts and crafts at a camp in the Shenandoah valley, Ruby Adams with archery and tennis at a day camp in Richmond, and Irene Francis with sports and camp fire programs at Camp Ruthers, Lynchburg.

Marge Nimmo will be calling "lights out" in tents at about nine o'clock (ah, me!) at camp near Christiansburg, this summer. Also she's teaching the gals swimming and canoeing. Martha Meade Hardaway will be her "sidekick".

Sara Keesee is thinking about going to Sherwood Forest, Maryland—"very near Annapolis" says Miss Keesee, emphatically. Sounds suspicious to us!!

The more they come the worse they get! Elnora Faison and Boo Barham will teach swimming and recreation at Camp Lafayette near Roanoke—Shawsville, if that means anything to you—and we doubt it.

Well, girls, have fun 'n more fun, we're all for ya!!!

Aquatic Activity Shows Increase During Busy Year

Lile Poole

This year has proved a busy one in the aquatic field at Farmville State Teachers College.

The H20 Club sponsored a Water Carnival in October and it included class competition in water stunts or skits. The Seniors won this event. The National Intercollegiate Swimming meet was held early in the spring. Farmville gained third place in the Southern Region. In March, the interclass meet took place with Green and White triumphing over Red and White. The year's swimming activities were recently brought to a close with a marathon swim. Lile Poole placed first with a total of seven and one half miles.

Eight Receive Class Blazers

Three Years on Varsity, 700 Points, Are Required

Eight girls, having received the 700 points necessary for the honor, have recently been awarded class blazers for their outstanding athletic ability. In addition to the required points, a girl must have been on Varsity basketball squad for three years.

The blazers are in class colors, red or green, and are adorned with a white, old English "F".

Girls receiving blazers are Jenny Carroll, Ellen Conyers, Mary Elizabeth Badger, Virginia Whitehead Smith and Elizabeth Berryman, seniors, and Ruby Adams, Dorothy Fischer and Chlotilde Jarman, juniors.

Seven Girls Pass Red Cross Life Saving

Corilda Chaplin, Elnora Faison, Martha Meade Hardaway, Peggy Hughes, Irene Francis, Dorothy Smith and Mary Sue Edmonson have successfully completed their requirements for the Senior Life Saving and Water Safety course. These girls will be awarded certificates and are now eligible to wear the Senior insignia. This course was given under the direction of Pat Gibson, swimming instructor.

PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK
Farmville, Virginia
CAREFUL MANAGEMENT COURTEOUS SERVICE
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

GOOD LUCK and BEST WISHES to the STUDENT BODY OF STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE IS OUR FINAL WISH FOR EACH AND EVERY STUDENT AND TO THE FACULTY
DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality

WIX
Sanitary Protection
without PADS • PINS • BELTS
The Original Internal Tampon
BALDWIN'S
Quality Price Service Store

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK.
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

Graduation Presents
Special Prices
LYNN the JEWELER

To the Members of the FACULTY AND STUDENT BODY we wish to thank you for your patronage. We wish each and every one of you a pleasant vacation.
G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"

MARTIN, the Jeweler
College and Sorority Jewelry
317 MAIN ST. FARMVILLE.

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

Thank you for your patronage this year. If you're back next year be sure to come to see us!
COLLEGE SHOPPE

Farmville Mfg. Co
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

Electric Shoe Shop
We do invisible half-soling and re-heeling

BROOKS-KAYTON COAL CO.
Quality—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Shoe Shop
From old to new with any shoe
Highest grade material used
Third St. Farmville, Va.

S. A. LEGUS
Tailoring—Cleaning—Pressing
PHONE 203

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY
MEATS AND GROCERIES

ROSE'S
5—10—25c STORE
ON THE CORNER
HAVE A HAPPY VACATION ! !
WE HOPE TO SEE YOU
BACK NEXT YEAR

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

Johns Motor Company
Dodge & Plymouth Cars
Dodge Trucks
We service all makes of cars

We want to express our appreciation for your business given us during this school year. We wish you ALL Success in the Futurue
Southside Drug Store
Phone 356

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS
MEDICINES
TOILET ARTICLES
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

Wishes You a Merry Summer
We hope you miss us as much as we miss you!
SHANNON'S
PHONE 224 Prompt Delivery

Miss Mary Gives Last Reception Of School Year

Council, Students, Assist in Serving And as Hostesses

Miss Mary White Cox's annual reception for the seniors, their parents and friends was held on Monday, June 3, at 8:30 p. m. in Student Lounge.

Those in the receiving line were Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Coyner, Vera Ebel, Sarah Button, Kitty Roberts, Mr. Charlie French, Ruth Lea Purdum and Jane Jackson.

Marie Eason, Martha Meade Hardaway, Caralie Nelson, Alice Leigh Barham and Marjorie Nicol mo received at the door.

The decorations were mixed spring flowers with green and white predominant. The refreshment were also in the class colors.

Serving at the punch bowl were Dot Eades, Marion Heard, Lorana Moomaw, and Jane Powell.

Student council and a representative group from the student body assisted Miss Mary as hostesses.

For entertainment the school orchestra played selections.

Students remaining for graduation and members of the faculty were also present.

Longwood Scene Of Senior Banquet

Tribute Is Paid To Vera Ebel And Guests

The annual senior banquet was given at Longwood Friday evening, June 2. Besides seventy-five seniors, Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Jane Royall, and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Coyner were present.

Each senior was given a corsage of sweet peas by Mr. Coyner, the classman. The class colors, green and white, were carried out in the color scheme.

Toasts to the guests and to Vera Ebel, the class president, were sung by Amy Powell, Kitty Roberts, Mary Jackson, Virginia Whitehead Smith, Caroline Gwathmey, and Elizabeth Burke. All the class joined in the singing of the class songs.

Vacation Trips Take Our Seniors Far Away in Search of Summer Fun

Sniff, sniff! Root, root! Who's going somewhere this summer? Where are these tripping people? Who's that I see emerging from the landscape? Why, it's Florence Bress! Flo, my small chum, where're you going this summer? World's Fair? These fortunate femmes. Where else? Miami? Well, all I can say is, "it ain't legal." Two snazzy trips in one measly summer. What's that, Flo? Oh you'd be glad to go abroad if we pay you? Well, time'll come when this paper's that hard up . . . but we appreciate the sentiments of the efficient ex-business manager. Give my regards to the trylon and perisphere.

Well, gracious, if it isn't "Ebo". Where're you off to when the sheepskin's yours? Camp? And Virginia Beach? Well it's nice to know you'll be improving the S. T. C. swimming record even after you leave us. Splashy summer, "Ebo".

There goes "Pattie"—and isn't that Blackwell not far behind? Say, you all, where are you going for the summer? No! I can't stand it if anyone else says that. Yeah —o. k.—I'll chalk up two more "World's Fairs"! Tsch. Yes, I'm listening. Who? Where! Lemme at 'em—Bye.

Hey, Meade! You and Gray wait! How's it feel to be a midget, Meade? Hello, Gray—now what I want to know is . . . Oh, you're going to the World's Fair. Well, I'm getting resigned. Such luxurious monotony. Happy times you all—I see Kitty Roberts.

You're looking fine, "prexy" ol' thing! Where are you going for the summer? Where? Will you say that again? Yes, I thought I heard you right the first time. I feel faint. There's a buzzing in my ears. I always react this way to the unusual—my, my. Well, Kitty, I've got to hand it to you. Always original. Out of all these wandering women you pick the best place. I'm through interviewing—this is the whipped cream. Flash! Katherine S. Roberts will stay at home and loaf this summer.

Reunion of the Class of '39 Presents Glamorous Show

You just can't be surprised at anything anymore. Why, the other night we went down in the auditorium expecting to see the seniors of '39 in all their young loveliness and what should we see on the stage before our very eyes but a reunion of our former glamour girls twenty-five years from now. And they were hardly glamorous any more—most of them anyway. A few of them could still trip the light fantastic—Kitty Roberts, for instance with a Russian dance step her "young man" had taught her, and Army Butterworth and Margaret Britton still their old form. And no wonder, for they were definitely out of practice, having given all their time for years to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, suppressing jitterbugging. Miriam Ficklen, too, was giving freely of her time to an uplifting organization acting as president of the Ladies Aid.

Strongly in contrast with these benevolent souls were Vera Ebel and Jenny Carroll, decked out in shorts, and acting, if not quite looking, as young and vivacious as they did back in '39, without even so much as a "middle-age spread."

Most of our girls, as one would expect from the start they got back in school days, had ended up as hostesses, teachers, dance chaperones, or house mothers at the neighboring institutions of higher learning. Such was the fate of Marguerite Blackwell, Theresa Graff, Frankie Bryan, Caroline Gwathmey and several others. Louise Bryan had entered a convent as a nun, while Meade Neal had the road in the opposite direction in becoming a midget for Barnum and Bailey's Circus. Eloise Williams was still "getting fat," and Tony Anthony was at last engaged. For the first ten years after graduation Margaret Stallard had looked for a job and the last fifteen had been spent still looking for one. Nancy Gray had spent the full time making little "pies".

Dr. Martin Makes Plea For Cooperation of All Students

By Jean Martin, M. D.

An essential part of any good Health Program is the X-Ray examination of the chest for evidence of incipient Tuberculosis. We want to be among the first to adopt this plan, but we want to because of the reasons that make it a good plan.

X-Ray examination of the chest is accepted as the best means of detecting tuberculosis in the early stage. The contagious nature of the disease throughout its insidious onset and chronic course makes it a problem that should be faced intelligently by everyone.

It is the right and I hope will be the privilege of every student in this institution to know that she is free of tuberculosis and equally important to know that her associates are not dangerous.

As students in a teachers college, the following from the Bulletin of National Tuberculosis Association should be of interest to you. Dr. H. D. Loss said in his article on "Tuberculosis Among Teachers:"

"The incidence of tuberculosis in teachers, the majority of whom are in that age group in which the tuberculosis takes its greatest toll, is found to be approximately 2.15 per cent." On this basis we may assume that approximately 18,000 tuberculosis teachers are today in active service in schools throughout the country. It is obvious that many thousands of school children are being daily exposed to the dangers of tuberculosis infection through teacher contacts.

"How may we most logically deal with the problem of tuberculosis in teachers? The logical solution will come when all states have laws requiring teachers to present evidence that they are free of tuberculosis. In absence of such requirements in this country, I believe that our teacher training institutions can do much to improve conditions. The teacher must provide intelligent and active leadership in the school health program, if it is to be most effective. Teacher training should develop in the individual a proper appreciation of sound health values and practices."

I want each of you to talk this over with your parents this summer. We can have chest X-Ray examinations of the student body made at a cost of approximately $1.00 each, provided that there is cooperation of a sufficient number. Surely, you can spend one dollar and do your part to make our anti-tuberculosis program 100 per cent, especially when you consider what it means to you and others.

Lantern Parade Is One of Main Events Of School Finals

Annual Lantern Parade which is an important phase and the last event preceding the final Commencement program took place on Monday night, June 5, at 10:30 o'clock. The parade followed the reception given in honor of the seniors and their guests by Miss Mary White Cox in Student Building Lounge.

Seniors and their little sisters wearing white marched from the Student Building Lounge across the campus to Library Hall and back singing school and class farewell songs and carrying lanterns reflecting the letters S. T. C.

Seniors follow this precedent each year, it having become a significant part of the commencement program.

It Was Sad When That Senior Chapel Came

Nope, kids, I wouldn't advise you to go in that S. T. C. auditorium. Take it from an old bee, it's not worth it. In the first place, the only flower around was the rose in Dr. Jarman's buttonhole.

Your Brother Buzz and I were flying around out in Joan Court the other morning when we happened to notice that everybody was headed for the auditorium. Well, there was nothing unusual about that, except that the Seniors had just worn those black things the day before, and then to we noticed that all the other girls were carrying handkerchiefs, and the faculty members were going in the back door. Well, honestly, I pride myself on being able to mind my own business, but curiosity just got me, so in the window I flew.

You just never saw such gloom in your life — it was so quiet you could hear your hair grow. Then somebody started playing that "Alma Mater", and the seniors came in looking so depressed. Finally they got settled down and everybody else got upon the edge of the seat so they would not miss a word.

Well, we still couldn't figure it all out, so we just settled down on the back steps with Mr. Mac and Mr. French and waited.

After a while the Seniors got up and started singinging, and at first everything was all right. But the songs kept getting sadder and sadder, and girls began crying, and just had an awful time. For a while tears were coming down so the tears were coming down so fast we thought we were gonna have to swim out.

The next thing they did was make a long arch down the aisle with their caps held up, for the Juniors to march under. We wanted to stay and see what happened, but honestly it really was dangerous, and I wouldn't advise you to go near the place.

Sixteen Score Well in French

Peggy Bellus, Ernestine Meacham, Rachel Abernathy, Josephine Nicol, Alice Leigh Barham, Beverly Blair, Vera Bowling, Elizabeth Garrett, Frances Hudgins, Dorothy Smith, Edna Strong, Elizabeth West, Beulah Ettenger, Mary Carrington Power, Helen Reiff and Sarah Button received medals for proficiency in reading French as a result of their scores on standard reading tests recently given them in Miss Elizabeth Hutt's classes.

This is the second time standard tests have been given, the first being in January when medals were won by Mrs. Virginia Pullen, Dorothy Smith, Elizabeth West, Ernestine Meacham, and Josephine Nicol.

Sorority Averages Winter Quarter, 1939

Mu Omega	2.01
Delta Theta Alpha	1.95
(now Theta Sigma Upsilon)
Gamma Theta	1.69
Alpha Sigma Alpha	1.68
Sigma Sigma Sigma	1.67
Pi Kappa Sigma	1.66
Alpha Sigma Tau	1.61

Degrees, Diplomas

Continued from Page 1

Clara Nottingham, Eastville; Hazel Peters, St. Charles; Catherine Pilcher, Lexington; Mary Wanda Porterfield,Newport; Amy Powell, Wachapreague; Annie Elizabeth Prince, Capron; Virginia Pullen, Farmville; Lisabeth Purdom, Nellie Putney, Farmville.

America Selosse Quinones, San German, Puerto Rico; Anna Snow Ramsey, Ivor; Elizabeth Rawlings, Bird's Nest; Ruth Read, Palmer Springs; Janet Reid, South Charleston, W. Va.; Pauline Nell Reid, Keysville; Flossie Hall Reynolds, Prospect; Mary Frances Rice, Portsmouth; Katherine Roberts, Nassawadox; Florence Rowett, Franklin, N. J.; Dorothy Rudder, Brookneal; Mary Ann Sanderson, Bird's Nest; Geraldine Beckwith Sandidge, Amherst; Beverley Sexton, Raleigh, N. C.; Lucy Smith, Chase City; Virginia Whitehead Smith, Princess Anne; Marguerite Snell, Phenix; Margaret Stallard, Fairfield, Ky.

Lucile Stephenson, Farmville; Dell Stovall, Baskerville; Mary Sullenberge, Monteray; Annie L. Taylor, Oak Hall; Gladys Taylor, South Richmond; Jean Taylor, Lexington; Virginia Lee Taylor, Bridgeville, Del.; David Terry, Newport News; Margaret Tharp, Norfolk; Mary Frances Thomas, Skipwith; Elizabeth Tindall, Hatton; Margaret Randolph Tucker, Champe; Virginia Read Turner, Blackstone; Martha Louise Turnes, Concord Depot.

Elizabeth Tyree, Danville; Lucy Byrd Vaughan, Burkeville; Elizabeth Von Gemmingen, Culpeper; Selma West, Newport News; Marjorie Wicks, Norfolk; Margaret Wilkerson, Farmville; Eloise Williams, Newport News; Frances Williams, Victoria; Caroline Willis, Fredericksburg; Elizabeth George Wilson, Lexington; Nancy Woodward, Richmond; Virginia Yager, Rochelle; Carrie Yates, Dry Fork; Sidney Yonce, Salem; Margaret Elizabeth Young, Norfolk.

Farmville, Va.
May 22, 1939

Dear Reader:

Please accept my grateful thanks for your patronage during the year. For those of you who are graduating may I congratulate you and extend my best wishes for your future happiness.

To those who will be in school next year may I solicit your continued, much appreciated business and say that we are working out a plan whereby we can give you better and more efficient service in the future.

Why not take a trip to the "FAIRS"? Do you know that you can go to both New York and San Francisco and back again for only $69.95? Stop-overs wherever you wish and by any routes you should choose. I shall appreciate giving information to all who are interested.

With best wishes for your vacation pleasures I am,

Yours very truly,
Edwin Cralle, Agent
Atlantic Greyhound Lines

Junior-Senior Prom Is Highlight in Farewell Activities

The annual Junior-Senior prom, which is given each year in honor of the graduating class by the juniors, was held in the gym Saturday evening, June 3. The orchestra, in which the Southern Serenaders were featured, played as the request for the senior "no-break" number "I Promise You", which took place at the close of the figure.

The decorations consisted of colorful imaginary animals which frolicked over the walls of shaded green.

The dance is the farewell tribute to the departing seniors and is given annually before graduation by the Junior Class.

EACO THEATRE
Mats 4 P. M.—Nights 8 P. M.

Next Mon.-Tues., June 5-6
ROBERT YOUNG
ANNABELLA
"BRIDAL SUITE"
LARRY CLINTON & BAND

Next Wed.-Thurs., June 7-8
MARTHA RAYE
Bob Hope—Andy Devine
"NEVER SAY DIE"
"Chump Takes a Bump"

Next Fri.-Sat., June 9-10
CORINNE LUCHAIRE
EDNA BEST
"Prison Without Bars"
"Naughty But Nice" News

History of Class of 1939

(Continued from page 2)

As we continued to fill our diary we began to write down the names of those of our class who were taking over important positions in school. Frankie Bryan led the College Choir; Clara Nottingham was president of Orchesis; and every Wednesday night we rushed for the Rotunda to read "Reverberations" by Frances Steed. In the winter quarter we had our first thrilling experience of seeing our classmates tapped by Alpha Kappa Gamma. In the spring it was announced that Mariam Ficklen and LeNoir Hubbard were to edit The Virginian and The Rotunda. Soon followed major elections giving us Kitty Roberts, Marguerite Blackwel, Sarah Button and Virginia Carroll as heads of the four major organizations.

At last it was time for the final Senior Chapel of the Class of '38. The Class of '39 marched sadly up the aisle under an arch formed by the academic caps of the departing Seniors. To us had been given the Alma Mater and we were facing the great responsibility of carrying on.

In September we returned to college fully conscious of our responsibility of our positions as Seniors. Now we could live in Senior Building, go down town at ten o'clck, and wear caps and gowns to chapel on Friday. Some of us lived in the new Home Management House, and all of us awoke to the tune of hammering as the new library and dormitory were being built.

Events during our Senior year seemed to crowd the pages more closely than ever. For our circus stunt we sang rousing college songs, and the climax came when Army Butterworth was crowned queen. December the third was the date set for Senior Dance, when members of the class formed the fiure which was led by the class officers. Also in December the first issue of The Colonnade appeared.

Mardi Gras was a riot of lovely, queer, and original costumes. Frankie Bryan rules over the event as a beautiful Spanish senorita. Mildred Gentry, chairman of the event, was largely responsible for its success.

With spring came another of those famous Farmville May Days, with Theresa Graff and Charlotte Minton looking their loveliest as Queen and Maid of Honor, respectively. The following Seniors were selected as members of the Court: Pattie Bounds, Margaret Britton, Frankie Bryan, Elsie Dodd, Vera Ebel, Edith Fitch, Clara Nottingham, Kitty Roberts, and Margaret Stallard.

Four years of class sports, presentation, sings, and productions over, we faced graduation. Banquets and picnics were a prelude to a sadder time. Our last Senior Chapel—Vera expressed farewell on behalf of the class, we formed the arch—and the Class of '40, dressed in white, with tear-streaked faces were now to take our place. Now at the close of Class Day exercises we near the real end of our four-year diary. Tomorrow Sarah Button will give the valedictory address, and Dr. Jarman will present the degrees—degrees toward which we have worked for four years. We will stand in a circle on the campus singing "Joys We Have Known" and "Auld Lang Syne." Sadly we shall bid our classmates good-bye, and write the last line in the history of the Class of '39.

THANKS A MILLION
FOR YOUR PATRONAGE

Our sincere wishes For Success and and Happiness

THE HUB DEPT. STORE
Charge Accounts Solicited

OUR SINCERE APPRECIATION

To each and every one of you—For your patronage.

To you we wish a most happy vacation.

dorothy may
Charge it if you like

The Rotunda

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 27, 1939 | No. 1

New Teachers Take Places On Faculty

Miss Draper Back To Language Group After Two Years

Four new instructors, two of them additions and two replacements, are now a part of the Farmville faculty.

Edgar M. Johnson and Merle L. Landrum are in education and commercial department, respectively, and Miss Adele Hutchinson and Miss Ruth Grady are in the training school and religion departments.

Mr. Johnson recievd his A. B. degree from Richmond College and his B. D. from Yale University. He was formerly the principal of Curdsville High school. He will teach Freshman history and education.

Mr. Landrum from Tenofly, N. J., holds a M. A. degree from New York University and Ph. D. degree at the same institution. He came from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, and is head of the Business Education Department here.

Miss Hutchinson, who is assistant to Miss Haynes, is kindergarten instructor and replaces Miss Grace Mix. She is a graduate of S. T. C., Farmville, and has been teaching in Winchester schools.

Miss Elizabeth Grady, succeeding Miss Willodine Gisler as religious education teacher here and in the surrounding elementary schools, is from Wilmington, N. C. She attended Peace Junior College in Raleigh, Queens-Chicora College at Charlotte and the Presbyterian School in Richmond.

Miss Helen Draper has ben on a leave of absence studying in France for the past two year, but returned to her place in the language department this year.

Mrs. Thomas Martin, formerly Miss Elizabeth Hutt, who replaced Miss Draper, will continue on the faculty but will teach Spanish and English.

Miss Willodine Gisler is remaining at her home in Austwell, Texas, this year because of the ill health of her father. Miss Gisler taught Religious Education here last year and in the local and rural elementary schools.

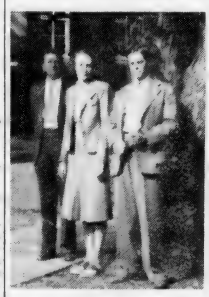
Miss Grace E. Mix, former kindergarten supervisor and instructor in education, is now making her home in New York City.

Annual Photography Starts October 2

Photography for individuals and some group pictures for the "Virginian", annual publication, will begin on Monday, October 2, and continue that week. Appointments of set times for individuals are now being made at the table in the hall.

Pictures for underclassmen will be taken beginning Monday, Oct. 2, and for seniors beginning Thursday, Oct. 5.

For group pictures students are requested to wear plain clothes with no distinct plaids or stripes. Sweaters and skirts, or any other sport clothes are preferred.



A plain neckline is desirable for the individual pictures for underclassmen. Seniors will dress uniformly.

Attention Alumnae!

This week's issue of The Rotunda is being mailed free of charge to all last year's alumnae.

Subscription prices for the Rotunda for the year is $1.50. Mail your subscription and address to The Rotunda.

New Instructors

Mr Johnson, Miss Hutcheson, and Mr. Landrum.

"Sing" Features Orchesis Program

A selected program by Orchesis honor group in artistic dance featured on the usual weekly "Sing" program Saturday night Sept. 23. Among the selections were "Gossip", "Blues Study", "The Bells", Sareband", and "War Suppressed".

Members of Orchesis under direction of Mrs. Louise Fitzpatrick are Essie Milliner, president, Patsy Fletcher, Martha McCorkle, Helen McIlwaine, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Nancy Pierpont, Alice Cogburn, Peggy Allen, Mary Clare Beck, Ethel Carr, Janie Lee Hutchson, Chlotilde Jarman, Betty Peerman, and Evelyn Timberlake.

Orchesis' two big projects of the year will be the concert during the winter and May Day program. Last school year the group made several presentations in the state.

Orientation Classes Will Conclude Oct. 2

Orientation classes, conducted to acquaint new girls with the rules and customs of Farmville began Monday night. September 25, and will continue through the week concluding with an examination on Monday, October 2. The leaders of these groups, consisting of about seventeen girls, are juniors and seniors selected by student government because of their ability and willingness.

Sara Keesee Is S. T. C. Princess At Tobacco Fete

Sara Keesee, a Senior from Sycamore, Virginia, represented Farmville S. T. C. at the fifth annual Tobacco Festival held at South Boston on September 8 and 9.

Sara is a member of the French Circle, the H2O Club, Cotillion Club, and the Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority.

Mary Pickford, former screen star, ruled as queen of the event, and Glen Gray with his orchestra was the feature attraction at the queen's ball.

On September 8 the princesses numbering over a hundred, and representing schools, states, towns and counties, gathered at Berry Hill, an old plantation near South Boston, where newsreels were made. The parade made up of many floats, began at three and lasted until about five-thirty. Immediately after the parade they practiced for the presentation, which took place immediately preceding the pageant, "Tobaccorama". Each princess was presented to the queen and the spectators, then they retired to box seats to watch the performance.

The queen's ball began after the pageant, with Glen Gray and his Casaloma orchestra playing.

Among the other princesses who attend Farmville are Sarah Boothe, Miss Virginia's attendant; Madge McFall, Miss Stratford; Dorothy Sue Crumley, Miss Virginia Intermont; Jeanne Sears, Miss Ocean View; Nancy Goode Bland, Miss Boydton; Katherine Jarrett, Miss Stony Creek; Virginia Sydnor, Miss Amelia; Martha Meade Hardaway, Miss Burkeville; Ada Claire Snydor, Miss Altavista; Kay Horsley, Miss Nelson County.

Betty Butterworth, an alumna, was Miss Dinwiddie.

Ellett Is House Council Vice Head

Frances Leigh Ellett, a junior and editor of the Hand Book for 1939 and 1940 was elected vice-president of the House Council on Monday, September 25.

"Liggie" was recently elected assistant editor for the "Virginian" staff, and is the chairman of the chapel committee.

President's Message

To Our New Students:

Just a word to Freshmen and other new students to say we welcome you to our college with its many opportunities. Most of you are new to college life, and to make the transition from school to college or from home to college requires a little time for adjustment. It is surprising how quickly the adjustments are made. That is because of youth. Put your regular work first, and start with the determination to do your best with it. Then find an opportunity to develop your special talents, for you have different talents. Identify yourself with one of the extra-curricular activities in line with your particular gift or talent. Wholehearted participation in at least one of the many student activities on the campus will give added zest to your regular work and will do much to develop your personality. Remember that you are among friends. Every one here—student, faculty, administration,—is eager to help you find your place in our college life.

J. L. Jarman

"Virginian" Makes Additions; Junior Staff Starts Work

Isabel Williamson, editor of the "Virginian", announces the addition of two new members to the staff for the year '39-'40. Frances Leigh Ellett, from Roanoke will be assistant editor and Geraldine Hatcher, Salem will serve on the photographic staff.

"Liggie" Ellett, a junior, is editor of the Student Handbook for this year and is also chairman of the Chapel Committee. "Gerry" Hatcher, senior, was chairman of the music committee for the Y. W. C. A. last year, and is a member of the House Council.

Application blanks for the junior staff of the "Virginian" annual publication are now available for freshmen and sophomores who have worked on annuals in high school, or who are interested in doing this work.

Kaki Peery and Martha McCorkle, assisted by Anne Benton and Emily Hoskins will head this staff which is to prepare underclassmen for work in this field.

Over 900 Enroll To Fill Dormitories

President J. L. Jarman

Crowded Conditions Necessitate Chapel Revisions

Over 900 students have already enrolled for the year 1939-1940. This is a ten per cent increase over last year. Overflowing dormitories prevented numerous applications from being accepted. Girls now on the waiting list would have swelled the ranks of the freshman class, but the large per cent of upperclass students returning filled the dormitories and limited the number of freshmen who could be admitted to slightly over 350.

As usual, the larger number of students enrolled are from Virginia. Eighty-two of the hundred counties and all of the cities of Virginia are represented. Nine states, the District of Columbia, one territory of the United States, and one foreign nation are also represented. Students from North Carolina, South Carolina, Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Florida, Connecticut, New Jersey, ...ew York, Puerto Rica and Canada are listed.

This year's summer school also showed a marked increase. Three hundred and sixty-six students were enrolled for one or more quarters.

Because of the increased enrollment, some aleration of the usual mass student compulsory chapel was necessitated. Seniors this year will attend chapel only on Wednesdays and Fridays and the Juniors will have chapel on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, the Chapel Committee announces.

Infirmary Hours Undergo Change

Dr. Jean M. Martin, resident physician, has made the following announcements concerning Infirmary regulations.

Infirmary office hours on week days will be from 8:45 A. M. until days will be from 8:45 A. M. until 10:15 A. M.; from 11:45 A. M. until 12:15 P. M. except on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and from 3:15 P. M. until 3:45 P. M. except on Saturday. Sunday office hours will last from 9:30 A. M. until all students are seen. Any unforseen occurrence or condition calling for immediate action (an emergency) will be seen at any time. Student teachers may make early morning appointments by either leaving their names at the infirmary the night before or by appearing at the Infirmary by 7:25 A. M. Other appointments may be made when necessary.

Students may communicate with girls in the infirmary by putting letters in the box under the Y. W. C. A. bulletin board. Articles of clothing, magazines and such things, properly addressed may be left in the Infirmary office. Notes from girls in the infirmary will be left in the window off the west entrance to the auditorium.

Many College Officials Reside in College

Miss Elizabeth Grady, new Religious Education instructor, will reside at Cox Hall for this school year.

Other members of the Home Department living in Cox Hall are Mrs. J. E. Davis and Mrs. Nette Hurt. Mrs. Charles Turnbull, superintendent of the dining room is matron in Richardson.

Miss Mary White Cox, Head of the Home Department, will have her same room on second floor White House. Miss Jane Royall will also keep her room 3 on Annex. Miss Pauline Camper, supervisor of John Randolph school will be in Venable.

In Cunningham Hall, Mrs. J. H. Tabb is in room 4 and Mrs. J. E. Warren is in room 73. Mrs. H. K. Laing will continue to be on the second floor of Student Building.

Mrs. T. P. Shelton, school dietician, lives on second floor Main Building. Miss Housten Blackwell is on the third floor. Mrs. W. P. Province, superintendent of the pantry, has moved into a house on the corner of Venable Street, which runs parallel to the Student Building. Her house is situated across from the Hockey Field.

American Education Week Is Nov. 5-11

S. T. C.'s plans for American Education Week to be celebrated throughout the Nation on November 5-11 are now being formulated by a committee appointed by Dr. J. P. Wynne, head of the Education Department. The committee, composed of Miss Pauline Camper of the faculty and Anne Billups, Beulah Ettinger, Esther Partridge, are arranging for a chapel program of inspirational talks based on the theme as planned by the National Association.

Education Week falls annually on the week preceding Armistice Day. This year's theme is "The American Way of Life".

Miss Moran Relates Impressions of Summer Abroad

Visits Scandinavian Peninsula

The difficult thing in telling you about my trip," said Miss Grace Moran, head of the department of geography, "is that I saw so much! I really don't know what to emphasize, there were so many beautiful and impressive experiences. "And," she continued with charming uncertainty, "I've never ben interviewed. But suppose we begin with Norway. I spent a month there, first traveling along their marvelous coast by way of Haugesund, Bergen, Alesud, North Cape and Kirkens, seeing the delightful fishing villages, are regal snow capped mountains, and then returning by way of the interior. The marvelous midnight sun prevailed over all and seeing it really constituted my biggest thrill in Norway. I have some excellent pictures, some taken from the boat on my coastal trip and I'll always remember the strange feeling of seeing bed-time come in daylight.

Stockholm Loveliest

"I believe," Miss Moran continued, "that Stockholm was the loveliest city that I visited. Among the interesting things there which especially attracted me was the huge Pub—the largest cooperative store in Sweden.

"Later," she continued, "we crossed the Baltic Sea and visited Finland. This comparatively new country was doubly attractive because of the handsome new buildings that are to be seen throughout. These contrasted with the quaint old homes with grass sod roofs made an unusual picture.

Russia Interesting

"Going from Finland into Russia began the more difficult lap of our journey, but by no means the less interesting," said Miss Moran, as she prepared to tell some of her experiences touring the U. S. S. R. "At the border our baggage was rigidly inspected, for Russia is very cautious. The hard working ambitious inhabitants of this country don't seem to be very happy, if you can judge by the expressions on their faces. But they are extremely interested in making their country a success—as successful in fact, as America, whom they intensely admire. Stalin's challenge to them is to achieve "American efficiency with Russian enthusiasm." This challenge they are striving fiercely to meet by being entirely self-sufficient. As a result, with few importations permitted, there is extreme difficulty to provide for the demand especially for clothing. For instance, there are many many peasants still barefooted because, though they have rubles to buy, there is not a sufficient supply of shoes to meet the demand. Consequently, when the well dressed tourist passes, he is eyed from head to foot, and if he feels so inclined, he is able to sell to the eager peasant any wearing apparel, for they are anxious to own clothes as beautifully finished as ours. The available shoes in Russia, which are made within the country, are similar to our cruder type of tennis shoe finished in dark colors.

"Contrasting with this side of Russia's struggle", continued Miss Moran, "is the marvelous national stride they've made. Their cities are most modern and their subways are magnificent. They do everything possible for their children and their mothers and on each subway there is a car for their special use. There are health clinics, kindergartens and nursery schools and camps everywhere for the protection of the coming generation in whom they place their hope.

Churches Not Used

"The beautiful churches of Russia are no longer in use except as anti-religious museums, and the great treasure-house of art, the palace of Peter the Great, is now guarded by a staff of poor, unhappy looking peasants, who, one would think, could scarcely appreciate the massive, gaudy treasure that they are entrusted with.

Russia expects to see "light" in twenty years, and if they are able in that time to fulfill their hopes they will indeed have an excellent country. Right now the influence of the deceased Lenin, who is like a myth to the devoted people, is kept alive by Stalin, who is equally forceful and just as much in the public eye. His and Lenin's pictures now adorn even the magnificent facade of the Winter Palace of Peter the Great, and Lenin's tomb, which holds his remarkably preserved body, is open to the public view nearly all the time. Great lines of solemn peasants wait, each day, to view the remains of their powerful leader. "Being tourists," Miss Moran said, "we were permitted to go ahead of the lines. I will say, too, that everything possible is done for the comfort of the tourist and though that is little enough it is Russia's best hospitality."

Russia Exceeds Expectations

(To be continued)

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO · BOSTON · LOS ANGELES · SAN FRANCISCO

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant—Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickral, Janelle Sinclair, Dell Warren, and Lucy Turnbull.

Business Staff

Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell
Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson, Mary Allen Peters, Frances Pope, Jane Rosenberger, Mary Sue Simmons, and Kathryn Watkins.

Typists

Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon,, and Virginia Rudd.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1939

The Student Body wishes to express its sympathy to Miss Mary White Cox and Miss Lucille Jennings in their recent bereavement.

Attention, New Girls

Orientation has begun. Each night you new girls will gather in small groups to learn of the workings and organization of our institution. Your leaders are carefully selected and are your teachers in the class of "Knowledge about Farmville." You, in return, are expected to give them your confidence, attention and attendance. You will learn our school more each year; but, there's much to learn now.

Welcome to Farmville!

Another school year begins. What a joyful occasion for those of us who've experienced Farmville before and what a happy future you new girls have in store!

Farmville is now your school and your home. It's students are your family. We boast that "no one is ever unhappy here at Farmville." May the joy of college life be yours and may your boast become as sincere and true as ours.

On the Elegance of Our New Surroundings

Our return to Farmville has been made even more pleasant by the newness and the see not only the external beauty of the new beauty of our surroundings. About us we senior dormitory and library; but, we are thrilled at the furnishings of rooms, parlors, Rotunda and library. We all truly feel and appreciate its elegance.

The new buildings are ours. Each feature and furnishing is for our use and enjoyment and pride. Is it not then our duty to so use and keep them that students many years from now will share the same joy in them?

Your Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. is a fellowship of women students, alumnae and faculty who are seeking full and creative life for themselves and for all people.

How are we to succeed in living full and creative lives, for the Association reflects our own lives? We are reminded that our lives which we would live fully are not very simple any more. We live in a complex world and we are a real part of the whole process of continual change which is the life of the world. It isn't possible for us to escape the complexities of our age—not even when we are students. One characteristic of our world is the startling interdependence of all men. We are forced to live affected by and affecting the lives of millions of men and women daily. Since our life is one in which we are all bound together, is it possible to live fully except as we live in relation to those others to whom we are bound in daily life? Is it possible to live creatively except as we sense in a real way our relation to these complex patterns and currents and put ourselves in tune with the rhythm of life?

We have an ideal which we would like to see effective in life as a whole. May it not be true that to enlarge the scope of the situations in which we apply this ideal is a method for increasing its vitality? It is in this field that we find our greatest challenge.

Dizzy Doin's of Daffy Rats

With S. T. C. back into the swing of things, we again find the freshmen up to their crazy tricks.

You remember how they mailed letters in the trash cans last year? Well, we haven't seen that done yet, but one thought that that number the treasurer put in the corner of her box receipt was her P. O. box number.

An "unoriented rat" marched into room 1 Annex and gaped at the smallness of the gym!

Another, upon being handed the yellow card, hunted down room 26 (Mr. Holton's classroom) and started unpacking her suitcase. We wonder what she thought she was going to sleep on.

When Turner went up on White House to fix a light socket, he knocked on the door and, as usual, called out, "Turner". Innocent little "rat" called back, "Turn 'er yourself!"

The upperclassmen would also like to inform the rats that the "Rec" is not the Rectory but the Recreation Hall.

Looks to us as if those orientation leaders better get to work.

TINFOIL, PLEASE!

Do you smoke? Do you chew gum? Do you eat candy? You must do at least one—and if you do—save your tinfoil for a member of the Sophomore Commission. With the tinfoil money we can support an orphan for a year; so help us out.

Echoes from an Empty Space

Well, girls, we are back on the trail of what's doin' again. And hoping you had a beautiful summer, we start off by introducing the Farmville Hall of Fame—. . . . Marge Nimmo calling on her reserve force (Bob Eason) but then it's nice to keep back home boys at the beck and call . . . . The return of Frances Hutcheson and Beverley Sexton to Johnny Pancake and Bob Scott . . . . Miles Sharpley snapping pictures by means of flashlight camera . . . Hoskins new sophistication and bureau of information on V. M. I.

What is this about Helene Stras and a diamond on her left finger . . . What three girls have a picture of "Woo-ster?" Same pose, apple polishing president of the German Club this year . . . Buck Thompson still that way about Bobby. I wonder . . . Who is the Jean Scott-Alyce McAfee feud about . . . Jo Canada might tell us more about Caleb Winslow (the guy with the pajama jacket) . . . Robert Taylor in town today and could be Shulkcum, couldn't it? . . . Up and coming freshmen: Babs White, Betty Sexton, Helen Briggs . . . and the awfully cute lad (name unknown) with Edna Harris Saturday night . . . Caralie Nelson in the Rotunda Row with a secret heartthrob . . . . . the Baird transfer with a Pi Kap frat pin. And it isn't a point for Hampden-Sydney . . . L. Graham haunting Shannon's and could've been looking for Dot Eades . . . We hope Gay Ward isn't beating Anne Easley's time—is she? . . . "Dodie" looking way down the V. M. I. road and we hope she sees the Richmond affair all straightened out. "Westy" sporting make-up and hair bows and still blushes when talking about Emory . . . the strange look on Betty Hawkins' face when Booty walked in and asked for Nina Lee Hall. Better watch your step, Nina Lee . . . that song "Stay as Sweet as You Are" always rmeinds us of Margaret James . . . Ruth Lea Purdum is "Only a Rose" and a "peach" of a girl . . . Kaki Perry and her special deliveries. But we remember she "studied" all summer . . . Johnny Lybrook still true to one and vivacious as ever . . . So we guess we shall close now with as much as usual. Keep your ears open for dirt. Just remember we see all, know all, and tell every ounce plus another pound of it.

Even Home Was Never Like This!

Library--Most Wonderful of Assets to Our Institution

In the history of our college there has been no single improvement or addition to exceed that of the recently constructed library. Upperclassmen who are familiar with the old library with its comparatively poor facilities realize more completely the luxury afforded by the spacious chambers of this library.

The building contains separate compartments for reserve and reference books and periodicals. Also there is an expansive browsing room for those who enjoy sinking back into soft cushioned seats for a few moments relaxation. In this room there are shelves containing the latest best sellers. Most likely the browsing apartment will prove to be by far the most popular of the entire building.

Advantages of the new library over the old are strikingly obvious; however one which should be called special attention to is the fact that students are allowed to go back in the stacks and select books they want without first having to fill out a slip. This eliminates a great deal of wasted time and confusion. After books are selected then students sign them out at the desk. Of course there are those in the library who are ready to be of any assistance to those who need it.

The above is only a fair picture of the new building. Actually, words are inadequate to describe its beauty and its significance to the life of every student on the campus. The structure itself embodies what upperclassmen have come to know as the true Farmville spirit. Tall white columns against red brick, rhythmic chimes sounding out in the night—all lend a certain grace and fitness to this place of study. Upon this magnificent edifice, this structure which holds for us valuable information and facilities indusive to research we look with profound pride and gratitude.

That Grand Era of Life

Dear Lucy,

I am a Senior. You just don't know how grand it is. I can hardly believe that this is my last year at S. T. C. Those first three years have gone by so quickly.

The new building is by far the best part of being a Senior. I have a grand corner room on the front second floor. You will never know how much I enjoy it. The walls are lovely and clean, and as yet there are no finger prints on the woodwork. My roommate and I are trying very hard to keep it that way. We have fixed the room in green, violet and yellow. It is not quite completed but will be the first of next week.

But, oh, the best thing of all is the bathroom between the rooms We are in a suite. It has two basins, two medicine cabinets, and just about the trickiest shower you ever saw! It's scrumptious! It's wonderful to be able to step through a door and be ready to wash clothes instead of going down a long hall. It's heaven to have an almost-private bath!

Speaking of heaven (please notice how easily one thing leads to another), we have our "Recess from Heaven" between ten and ten-thirty every night but Sunday. Of course, we all troop down to Shannon's "Hot Spot" and get a dope. We see everybody else there and much fun is had by all.

However, underlying all of this and making it somehow insignificant is the realization of the wonderful spirit that is Farmville. I have been here for three years but never before have I felt this so strongly. Of course, I knew it was here; it greeted me the first time I walked in the door. It is something warm and friendly, but most of all inspiring, making one want to do her best for S. T. C.

My fondest hope is that some day you may carry on the spirit of S T. C.

Your loving sister,
Hanna

GLEANINGS

by
JOHNNY LYBROOK

A War to Save Democracy

So this is a war to save Democracy, just as the last World War was a war to end all wars. Hitler would have us believe that this is a war to right "injustices". Perhaps, in a sense of the word, Hitler is right. We can understand that such "injustices" were the cause of the war; but we can just as clearly see that this war will not right those "injustices" and that it will probably create more.

There is no justice in killing people in mob fashion. There is no justice in wrecking that which it has taken man decades to create. There is no justice in starvation. There's no posible way of getting around it—there is no justice in war.

The Doom of Poland

The Poland that so bravely fought as a mouse would under the paw of a lion, with the black cloud of doom that has been hovering over her these past three weeks, felt that cloud envelop her last week when word was received that Russian troops would enter Poland. The news was almost as shocking to the world as was the Russo-German agreement several weeks ago.

Just why Russia came to Germany's aid is a point that is not quite clear. It was plain to see that Germany could and would have taken Poland without the aid of Stalin's forces. France and England, who so desperately want to aid Poland, have been of little real service in defending her actual territory. About all they have been able to do is divide Germany's military forces.

Each for Himself

Has Russia actually come to the aid of Germany? Is she protecting her own interest? It has been asserted that Russia has no desire to increase her territory, for she now covers almost one-sixth of the world's land, nor did she enter the war to protect her minorities. The real reason seems to be that she is fighting, not with Germany, but actually against her, in hopes of saving Ukraine's valuable wheat fields which, it is an assumed fact, Mr. Hitler would be "delighted" to have.

France is fighting for what? To help Poland which isn't any more a country now than Austria is. Or is France fighting to regain the great Saar Basin, one of the richest coal fields in the world?

A Ray of Hope

How long this war will last it is impossible to predict. There are those who would say this will be a shorter war than the last and there are those who believe just as strongly, that this war will last an indefinite period of years.

England hopes to starve Germany with her blockade and thus bring a close to this insanity. New hope was taken when Germany announced a new food rationing program last week. Adults will be alolwed only skimmed milk and meat is limited to 1.1 pounds per week. Consumption of bread is restricted. Germany says this is to insure food for all throughout the war. Britain thinks otherwise.

Germany's great and dangerous need at present is oil. Her potential import now cut off by the blockade is some 4,000,000 tons. She needs 8,000,000 tons for her war machines and the meager sum of 500,000 tons taken from Poland will not suffice the need. Germany's heavy war machines are a definite handicap.

Russia has a two million ton surplus of oil, but even this will not be enough. Germany had hoped to secure the needed deficiency from Rumania; but this is not probable, since the two largest oil concerns there are operated by British and American owners.

Britain Loses at Sea

Last week the British loss at sea totalled some 66,868 tons to Germany's 14,764 tons. England lost ten ships, one of which was the H. M. S. Courageous, one of her largest and oldest aircraft carriers, to Germany's four ships.

Sports Slants

By Mickey Beck

We already have a feeling that these brand new "Annie Athletes" are ready to join with the upper classmen for a big season in every sport.

The hockey field will soon be a place of afternoon pastime, and what knockout fun that's going to be. This year we will probably have two inter-collegiate games scheduled (which will be announced later). The beauty in hockey at Farmville is that we take such great pride in the class games as well as inter-collegiate games. That big day of color rush is tops. On that day, some time in November, Red and White competes with Green and White for points towards the color cup (it's on the mantel in the Rotunda with those Green and White ribbons flying, maybe we should say swaying—for red & white put up a tough fight for that lovely silver cup this year). Freshmen, the Juniors will need your help to keep it.

The freshmen really did those old A. A. hearts good on Thursday. They looked so pretty tripping around at Longwood with a hot dog in one hand and a coca cola in the other. And they really can sing Green and White—with a little urging. By the time they all learn the words, they'll probably take off the roof. You Juniors better not let 'em get ahead of you. To get back to the Freshmen—the A. A.'s counting on you all to help out with all the good times this year. Play with us lots—please do!

Something new in tournaments! We're planning to have week-end tennis tournaments. Ten or twelve girls will play in the tournaments which will be played over the week-end as the name suggests. Sounds good!

All you girls come on out and play Cupid for awhile. Archery is going to start in a very short time. Special practice hours will be announced this week is possible. If you want to know anything else just ask Helen Seward.

Golf, tennis—when the tennis courts are fixed—swimming, hockey, archery—what more can you ask.

NOTICE

Helen Seward, manager of archery, has announced that practices will begin Thursday afternoon at 3:30 and will be held on that afternoon throughout the fall. Practices will be on the hockey field.

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

Dix Heads Annual Water Carnival

Marie Dix, a senior from Saluda, was selected as chairman of the annual water carnival by the H2O club at a meeting held last Friday evening.

The water carnival, a major aquatic event, is sponsored yearly by the swimming club. As yet a definite date has not been set but the event will probably take place late in October.

Each class presented a water skit or stunt. These are judged by three people acquainted with aquatics and the winner is chosen.

Peggy Hughes has been placed in charge of the freshman stunt; Harriet Walker the sophomore; Rosa Courter the Junior; and Myra Smith of the Senior group.

At the same meeting Nancy Pierpont was made chairman of life saving and Mary Sue Edmunson chairman of the annual inter-collegiate telegraphic meet.

Sports Calendar

Monday

2:30-3:30 Hockey, Upperclassmen
3:30-4:30—Hockey, Freshmen
4:00-5:30—Recreational swimming

Tuesday

2:30-4:30 Hockey—General practice
4:00-4:30 Beginners' swimming
4:30-5:30 Recreational swimming

Wednesday

2:30-4:30 Hockey—Freshmen
4:30-5:30 Recreational swimming

Thursday

2:30-3:30 Hockey—Upperclassmen
3:30-4:30 Archery
4:00-4:30 Beginners' swimming
4:30-5:30 Recreational swimming

Friday

4:00-5:30 Recreational swimming

Saturday

8:00-9:30 Recreational swimming

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop

"From old to new with any shoes"
Only First Class Material used
All Work Guaranteed

LYNN'S

Philco Radios

$9.95 up

Sheet Music

Girls Are Counselors At Summer Camps

Summer is over, everybody, and what a wonderful time we did have! Just look around and you will see several in our midst who still have lots and lots of suntan, and you can bet your life that they are the very girls who spent their vacation at camp.

A few of them such as Myra Smith and Lucy Blackwell really went far away from home; Myra taught land and water sports at Camp Farwell in Vermont. She also showed those Yankees how much a Southern girl knows about archery—eh, Myra? (How about it, Boo? I wonder if she hit the bullseye!) Lucy spent her summer in Bennington, Vt, where she taught archery and tennis.

Marjorie Nimmo and Martha Meade Hardaway were up near Christiansburg at Camp Carysbrook for eight weeks. They supervised swimming, canoeing, and boating. Did you call "lights out" too, Marge?

At Camp LaFayette near Roanoke "Boo" Barham and Eleanora Faison had charge of social recreation and swimming, respectively.

Ruby Adams helped with archery and tennis at a day camp in Richmond, and Irene Francis with sports and campfire programs at Camp Ruthers near Lynchburg. Mary Sue Edmondson was also at Camp Ruthers and taught archery, tapping, and folk dancing.

Dot Fischer stayed near home this summer—at Pinecrest Dunes in Pionie, Long Island where she taught land and water sports.

Peggy Hughes and Cottie Radspinner were at Camp Pocahontas near Richmond, Va., teaching swimming and arts and crafts, respectively.

Hockey Underway; Games Scheduled

Hockey practices initiating the coming hockey season began on Tuesday, September 26. Two intercollegiate games are being scheduled for this year. November 8 has been set as a tentative date for a game with William and Mary Extension on their field and November 14 for a home game with Westhampton College. Last year only one varsity game was played. This was an away game with William and Mary Extension. The final score was 4-1 in favor of Farmville. This year finds a number of veteran players back in the field, supplemented by many promising newcomers.

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!

Electric Appliance Co.

Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the

BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

A. A. Gives Longwood Picnic

Freshmen and new girls were guests of the Athletic Association for the annual picnic at Longwood Thursday afternoon, September 21. Present were members of the A. A. and Student Council and Misses Olive Iler, Mary Barlow and Grace Moran. Managers of the various sports were introduced to the new girls. They explained and urged participation in a varied sports program. Weinies, cokes, potato chips and apples were served.

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY MEATS AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

MARTIN, the Jeweler

College and Sorority Jewelry

317 MAIN STREET

FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

EACO THEATRE

DAILY MATS AT 4 P. M.
EVENINGS AT 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs. Sept. 27-28
Ann Sheridan
Dick Carlson, Helen Parrish
'WINTER CARNIVAL'
(Made at Dartmouth Col.)
Community Sing and 'Petra'

Friday-Sat., Sept. 29-30
Louis Hayward
Joan Bennett
'Man in the Iron Mask'
ACTUAL BATTLE SCENES

Next Mon.-Tues., Oct. 2-3
Norma Shearer
Joan Crawford
Rosalind Russell
"THE WOMEN"
LATEST WAR SCENES

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

White Moccasins	$1.98
Ladies Jodphurs (brown, tan)	2.50
Jodphur Boots	$2.75
Alarm Clocks	98c
Laundry Bags	50c and 75c
Roller Skates	98c to $1.50
Cigarettes, popular brands	12c

A and N Store

We Greet You S. T. C. With a SPECIAL!

So you may send home, to your loved ones, a true likeness of you.

1 Large Photo With Proofs

$3.00 Value for $2.00

SEPTEMBER 28, 29, and 30 ONLY

—at—

Davidson's Studio

—on—

THE MEZZANINE

STUDENTS WE WELCOME YOU

TO FARMVILLE'S MOST FRIENDLY STORE

We are here to serve you and to give you the best values and service at all times. Use our convenient charge accounts to the best advantage for School and Campus wear.

SWEATERS

To be found in lovely Angoras and Wools, Cardigans and Sloppy Joe's. The very thing for class and campus wear.

$1.98 to $5.95

SKIRTS

A Beautiful selection of Fall Skirts in colors and styles of every description. Mix or match them with all sweaters.

$1.98 to $5.95

SCHOOL
OXFORDS

Never before such a beautiful line of school Oxfords at such a low price. Crepe soles, medium heels in Natural and Antique finish. Special Price . . .

At Only $2.95

BLOUSES

And Sport Suits — Rayon and all silk, and satin. Colors that will match all suits and skirts. In sizes 32 to 40.

$1.00 to $3.98

SCHOOL
SOCKS

TURKISH TOWEL, ANGORA AND TURKISH TOWEL TOPS.

In all pastel shades. The most beautiful assortment we have ever shown.

25c to 50c

DAVIDSON'S

THE HOUSE OF QUALITY FARMVILLE, VA.

Four Churches Students' Hosts

In accordance with their anual custom the four churches of Farmville were hosts to Hampden-Sydney and S. T. C. students on Tuesday night, Sept. 26. Games, stunts, and floor shows helped acquaint the guests with one another. The pastors and thier wives assisted by old girls and church officials welcome the new students.

Musical for Baptists

A musical program was presented by the Baptist townspeople for the students atending that entertainment.

Episcopalians Play

Episcopal students held their reception in the "rec" and played group games. Martha Whelchel and Frances Alvis were in charge of the entertainment.

Methodists "in School"

Methodist students spent a "day at school" and were promoted from kindergarten to college." Mildred Harry was chairman of arranging the program.

Reception for Presbyterians

Presbyterian students were also informally entertained by their church officials.

Refreshments, served by the ladeis of the four church groups, rounded out the program.

The Sophomore Commission entertained the Freshman Class in the "Rec" Wednesday, at a get-together game party.

Talent scouts rounded up personalities in the Class of '43 to sing and dance for the crowd. The singing of school songs, a grand march, and light refreshments completed the program.

Gamma Theta sorority held a tea in their chapter room Sunday afternoon. Only the active members were present, and refreshments were served by the entertainment committee.

Y. W. Reception Is First Formal Social Function Here

Freshmen and new girls made their debut in school socials as guests of the Y. W. C. A. at the annual Big Sister-Little Sister reception Friday night, September 22. Little Sisters were introduced by their escorts to Dr. J. L. Jarman, who in turn introduced them to Marie Eason, president of the student body. Dot Eades, president of Y. W., Helen Reiff, vice-president of Y. W., Ollie Graham Gilchrist, secretary of Y. W., Lucy Turnbull, Freshman Councilor, Mr. and Mrs. M. Boyd Coyner, Misses Mary Clay and Winnie Hiner, advisers of the Y. W. cabinet, and Miss Elizabeth Grady, instructor in religious education.

The line progressed to the gymnasium where informal entertainment was planned. Helen Wentz was mistress of ceremonies for a fashion show and floor show, which showed the new girls "how we like to dress". Sara Keesee and Lee Pettis, veteran S. T. C. songsters, performed.

The gym was decorated in blue and white, and punch was served by Allene Overby, Polly Hughes, and Rachel DeBerry.

Martha Crawley was the guest of her sister in Eastville on the Eastern Shore this week-end.

Ruby Mae Parsons returned to her home in Cullen for the week-end.

In Lynchburg were Anne Easley, Carolyn Frances Ford, Ruth Bryant and Judith Marshall.

MAKE THE HUB . . .

Your Shopping Center

TAP DANCE SHOES

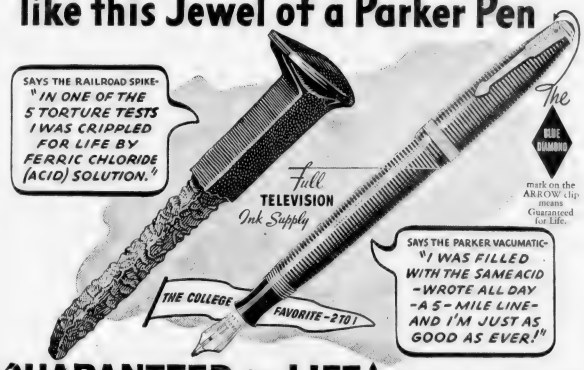
School Oxfords $1.95 to $3.50

Cretonnes—Curtains—Rugs—Spreads!

It's Smart to be Thrifty—Shop With Us

For Up-to-Minute

COLLEGE CLOTHES



S. T. C. STUDENTS MAKE

DOROTHY MAY STORE

HEADQUARTERS

We Welcome You

Even a Railroad Spike can't "take it" like this Jewel of a Parker Pen

GUARANTEED for LIFE ♦

(against everything except loss or intentional damage)

We're using more than 250 college papers to tell students of the 5 devastating and devitalizing feats recently performed by the Parker Vacumatic to prove it will last for life. No other pen we know has ever faced such torture. Yet the Parker Vacumatic did it—can do it any time—and come forth in perfect working order.

1st—Filled with Acid (strong ferric chloride solution which ate away a railroad spike) instead of with ink, this incredible pen wrote a 5-mile line with the acid on a revolving paper-covered drum and finished in perfect working order.

2nd—"Bomb" Test: Parker's Diaphragm filler encased in an oxygen bomb FOR WEEKS, where a single day equals 6 months' normal age—to prove its long life.

3rd—"Electrocution": Every Parker Diaphragm proved 100% leak-proof by exposing it to 5,000 volts of electricity which flashes a red light if there's even a pinhole leak.

4th—"Drip Test": Pens filled and hung points down for hours in frigid temperature, then in torrid temperature.

5th—Dropped 3,000 ft. from an airplane to prove the lovely laminated pearl barrel and cap are Non-Breakable.

You never saw such a pen. You never owned one. A sadless pen that holds far more ink than ordinary rubber sac pens—shows the ink level at all times, hence won't run dry without warning, in classes or exams. So go and see it now and get it for college and for life.

The Parker Pen Co., Janesville, Wis.

Pencils to Match: $3.50 TO $5.00

GUARANTEED FOR LIFE ♦ Parker VACUMATIC

Pens: All 14K Gold Points— $5.00 TO $12.50

♦ Pens marked with the Blue Diamond are guaranteed for the life of the owner against everything except loss or intentional damage, subject only to a charge of 35c for postage, insurance and handling, provided complete pen is returned for service.

Compliments of . . .

Rose's

5-10-25c Store

ON THE CORNER

COLLEGE SHOPPE

DELICIOUS SANDWICHES

Chicken Salad 10c

Ham 10c

Hamburger 10c

(with everything)

Phone 365 Phone 356

PHONE 356

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

PHONE 356

Patronize

Patterson Drug Co.

—AT—

Money Saving Prices

—FOR—

Drugs and Toiletries

Expert

Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring

Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream

238 MAIN STREET

A COMBINATION

of the best— for the best

TUNE IN WITH PAUL WHITEMAN Every Wednesday night, C B S stations.

LISTEN TO FRED WARING and his Pennsylvanians 5 nights a week N B C stations.

For those who want the best in cigarette pleasure

You'll find in Chesterfield's RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best home-grown and aromatic Turkish tobaccos a more refreshing mildness, better taste and a more pleasing aroma than you'll find anywhere else.

It's a combination entirely different from any other cigarette . . . a good reason why smokers every day are getting more pleasure from Chesterfields. You'll like them.

Make your next pack—

Chesterfields

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

VOLUME XIX — FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 4, 1939 — File No.—Z773 — No. 2

Essie Millner Will Be Head Of May Day

Mrs. Fitzpatrick And Miss Wheeler Will Help Direct

Essie Millner, a senior from Newport News, was elected general chairman of May Day by popular vote on Friday, September 29.

For three years Essie has taken leading parts in the dance groups for May Day and she was chairman of dancing for last year's festival. She is president of Orchesis and a member of the Pi Kappa Sigma social sorority.

Chairmen and members of committees will be selected this week and everyone is urged to sign up with the different groups as soon as further announcement to that effect has been made. This is to enable students and advisers to begin work on the theme, dances, and general planning as soon as possible. The committees are costume, music, transportation, grounds and scenery, program and dance.

May Day will be given by the students, assisted by Mrs. Louise Fitzpatrick and Miss Leola Wheeler as advisers. Freshmen gym classes, Orchesis and the classes in composition and technique of modern dance are included on the program for the entertainment.

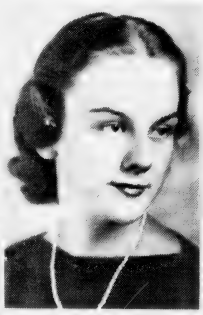
First Saturday in May is always set aside for May Day which takes place in the dell at Longwood.

Graduates of '39 Teach in State

Graduates of 1939 have found various fields of work since they finished at this institution.

Lucy Adams is teaching in Prince Edward County; Doris Adkins, Culpeper; Dorothy Adkins, Buchanan; Lillian Anderson, Boiling Springs; Louise Anthony, Danville; Bonnalynne Avery, Ellerson; Mary Elizabeth Badger, Roanoke; Annie Ruth Baird, Prince George County; Jacqueline Beale, King and Queen County; Evelyn Beale, Windsor.

Sara Meiba Beal, Cypress Chapel; Elizabeth Berryman, Manchester; Marguerite Blackwell, Leaksville, N. C.; Rebecca Bland, Norfolk County; Beatrice Bland, Glen Echo; Elizabeth Bounds, Tangier; Pattie Bounds, Norfolk; Florence Bress, Norfolk; Helen Briggs, Crittendon; Margaret Britton, Chuckatuck; Frankie Bryan, Bedford; Elizabeth Burke, Bedford; Mable Burton, Fincastle.



Sarah Button, Arlington; Frances Carroll, Portsmouth; Virginia Carroll, Oceana; Ellen Conyers, Midlothian; Betty Sue Cummings, Big Stone Gap; Charlotte Davis, Lively; Yetive Dawson, Campbell County; Louise DeJarnette, Brookneal; Bessie Dillon, Franklin; Elsie Dodd, Colonial Heights; Adelaide Dressler, Boiling Springs; Ann Dugger, Remington.

Vera Ebel, Ashland; Blanch Ellis, Broadnax; Martha Evans, Boydton; Miriam Ficklen, Mt. Airy, N. C.; Edith Fitch, Chuckatuck; Jane Fowler, Brookneal; Alpha Lee Garnett, Culpeper; Mildred Gentry, Crewe; Lavalette Glenn, Charlotte C. H.; Theresa Graff, Lowmoor; Nancy Gray, Roanoke; Caroline Gwathmey, Alexandria; Katherine Habel, Warsaw; Sarah Hayes, Elizabeth City County; Rose Allen Higgenbotham, Parisburg.

Ruth Hill, Fincastle; Frances Holloway, Windsor; Thelma Houpe, Waverly; Katherine Hoyle, Newport News; Ruth Hubbard, Pax, West Virginia; LeNoir Hubbard, Clarksville; Nancy Hunter, McDowell County, West Va.; Frances Hutcheson, Hampton; Virginia Epes Irby, Cypress Chapel; Mary Jackson, Whaleyville; Louise

Continued on Page 2

Chairman

ESSIE MILLNER

Choral Groups Begin Years Work

Choir Plans Trips And Recitals

New members of the choral club as announced by Mr. Alfred Strict, director of Music, are Nancy Claire Watkins, Genevieve Moody, Nilda Hunter, Bootsie Messick, Pattie Barnett, Paulyne Clements, Amy Read, Ann Price, Katherine Baton, Antoinette Barrett, Margaret Mish, Hariett Ball, Luise Parcell, Lois Harrison, and Elizabeth McCoy.

Sara Goode, Mary Mauney Baylis Kuntz, Nancy Phinkett, Jean Clark, Eleanor White, Katherine Burge, Betsy Jennings, Dorothy Coute, Viola Garnett, Carolyn Rouse, Eleanora Faison, Nancy Pupuy, Doris Smith, Ivey Mae Haye, Louise Hendricks, Thelma Hurst, Pearl Thompson, Ann Brooks, Edna Mae McNeal, Agnes Pickral, Betty Jackson and Jane Bowen.

Anne Lee Gardner, Dot Newcomb, Etta Marsh, Pilkinton, Lois Steidtman, Terry Byers, Katherine Bodine, Ann Burgwyn and Elizabeth Gunter.

Helen McGuire, Jane Witt, Louisa Stephenson, Keith Smith, Ashley Bell Hannah, Frances Martin, Josephine Ware, Elizabeth Warner, Myrtle Cook, Martha Anne Saunders, Asita Altomare, Minnie Buchanan, Minnie Harrell, Elizabeth Scales, Mabel Garland, Texie Belle Felts, Mary Carr, Hazel Holmes, Vera Jacobs, Mrs. F. S. Elliot, Betty Lee Downing, Betty Hawkins and Edith Wood.

The College Choir which has begun its work for the year with fifty-five new members, is planning several trips which will be announced when the plans are definite. There will be a number of recitals given here with prominent guest artists. Mr. Strict says "Both groups have begun work enthusiastically and are anticipating a successful year."

'The Virginian' Selects Junior Staff for Work

"The Virginian", college yearbook, announces the following Freshmen as members of the Junior staff for the 1940 publication: Martha Katherine Parrish, Marjorie Felts, Eleanor Scott, Virginia Worley, Eleanor Folk, Miriam Jester, Margaret Mish, Eleanor Booth, Geraldine Smith, Charlotte Phillips and Ann Rogers.

Sophomores on the Junior staff are Fredna Arnefield, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Peggy Williams, Polly Keller, Lillian German, Helen Hawkins, Dorothy Sprinkle, Elizabeth Ann Parker, Augusta Parks, Elizabeth Townsend, Virginia Burnham, Jo Ware, Martha Roberts, Mary Lou Shannon, and Martha Cottrell.

These girls were selected because of their ability and interest

Special Delivery for You

Dear Fellow Students,

I have just returned from a visit with Miss Mary Snead, librarian, and I am so thrilled with what she told me that I feel everyone of us should hear about it.

Naturally, the thing that has interested me so is the future plan for our "Browsing Room". Since this room is our very own room, I know you will be as excited about her plan as I am.

No doubt you have all been wondering what books and magazines will fill the shelves and hoping that these latest books you've been dying to read will be among them. Well, girls, the secret is out.

We are going to be allowed the privilege of choosing those books and magazines ourselves, since the room is ours and since we will be the ones to use what is in it. Our own librarian feels that no one is in a better position to choose than we are. Don't you all think it's a wonderful trust she is placing in us?

Some time next week a questionnaire will be conducted, and each member of the student body will be allowed to turn in the names of two or three good books that she would like to see in our "Browsing Room". The books will be tabulated and those most popular will be purchased first. As more funds come in more books will be bought until every one will be able to go in and find her favorite.

Twelve of our favorite magazines will also find a place in our room and they are to be chosen in the same way. These books and magazines will not have to be purely fictional, however. We may some times be in a serious mood, and then we will want biographies and non-fiction material. They will be ours simply by writing them down for the questionnaire.

Our librarian feels that checking the books out can also be done by ourselves through the honor system, making it simple and convenient for all.

Therefore, let us show her that we will live up to the trust by selecting good books for the shelves, and live up to the honor by keeping them there.

On Being Oriented

Monday, October 2

There were four of them, and as they walked down the hall two upperclassmen flattened themselves resignedly against the wall, that they might pass abreast and not be interrupted as they diligently perused their "little blue books" and dragged their feet toward orientation class.

"After all," said the first upperclassman to the second upperclassman, "it would be nice if someone knew the second stanza of the Alma Mater."

"I agree with you," said the other. 'It's like upholding the tradition of S. T. C. with one finger. I feel sanctified."

A crash resounded through the hallowed halls. One of the four scholars had collided with a post in the Rotunda. The upperclassmen retraced their steps to pick up the pieces.

Wednesday, October 4

The halls were curiously orderly. A peaceful quiet reigned broken only by the rhythmic "pad pad" of saddle shoes. Suddenly, around the corner came four freshmen. They walked arm and arm and hummed "Green and White". As they passed the upperclassmen they demurely separated and permitted two way traffic. They walked neatly around the posts in the Rotunda. The upperclassmen exchanged meaningful looks.

"I think," said the bright one, "that they're oriented." The other merely nodded and walked on.

Seniors Will Sponsor Dance on December 7

December 2 has been selected as the date for the Senior dance, Jane Powell announced last night after the class meeting.

Essie Millner was appointed to arrange for an orchestra as she also has charge of the music for Cotillion dance.

Seniors will wear white for the dance if they expect to appear in the figure. This was decided upon last spring at the final meeting of the class.

N. Y. A. Residence Has Twenty Girls

Farmville Students Teach These Girls

Twenty girls are now living in Da Kappa Hall for the nine months' course offered them under the National Youth Administration Girls Resident Educational Program. Mrs. Rowbotham has been hostess since the opening of the home February 13, 1939.

This home, whose name signifies the "making of friends", has the distinction of being the only one in the state where the girls have the opportunity of taking classes taught by student teachers under the guidance of the departmental heads. S. T. C. students who are teaching these girls for credit in Education 400 are:

Mary Mahone, English literature; Doris Chesnut, social ethics; Evelyn Thorington, typing; Winifred Harrell, shorthand; Rosa Courter, Home Economics. All of these classes are taught in the college classrooms except Home Economics which is usually taught in the home.

Girls enrolled are all high school graduates and stand well in their communities. They are receiving practical training in fields in which they are interested. The home is run on a cooperative living plan similar to that of the Home Management House. Each girl takes turns at the various jobs connected with the home. When they are not in classes or at work in the home, the girls can work for public organizations in order to get practical training. Several girls are now working at the Farmville Security office, three are assisting at the elementary school playground, three are working at the elementary school cafeteria, and three work at clinics at Southside hospital. One girl kept the Woman's Club library during the summer months. As a Christmas project these girls hope to make toys for the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion.

Eight of the girls came to Farmville when the home first opened. Some of the original number have secured positions in fields in which they were interested. Two girls have entered hospitals to go in training to be nurses and two have enrolled at S. T. C.

Continued on Page 3

Alpha Kappa Gamma Chooses October 28 For Annual Circus

H.-S. & STC Clubs Combine for Play

"Dear Brutus" Will Be Given Here On November 17

Casting is not yet complete, but rehearsals have begun for the fall play, "Dear Brutus", which the Jongleurs of Hampden-Sydney and the S. T. C. Dramatic Club will present on November 17 in the S. T. C. auditorium.

James M. Barrie has chosen as the theme for "Dear Brutus" the statement from Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" that "The fault, dear Brutus, lies not in our stars, but in ourselves that we are undertaking."

Miss Leola Wheeler, instructor of dramatics and speech at Farmville, is directing the play. In fall and spring the two dramatic clubs combine for both presentations. Last year "Outward Bound" and "Tovarich" were given.

About 200 girls have signed up into the various departments of the Dramatic Club for a period of apprenticeship.

Ah Luxury! Symphony Of Silent Blue Leather

Footsteps of a tardy chapelain echoed hollowly through the quiet room. Said tardy chapelian went to her seat and sank into it with the mysterious ease of a disappearing act. Student body arose, aired its vocal cords and gave vent to thankful praise. After the "amen" was sounded they resumed their seats. Several, forgetting that some objects require the power of holding, accomplished this with unnecessary thoroughness, unhappily landing on the floor. Through it all, no unseemly tumult, as formerly shook the walls and shattered the nerves of faculty row, existed. Why? One might well ask! The answer lies in the symphony of blue leather that answers the prayer of the seating problem in chapel. No longer do chairs creak and bang as S. T. C. reclines therein, but instead slide smoothly into place with "nary a peep". Ah, luxury! Did anyone say anything about the ultra quality of Loews? There's no place like home!

Pierpont Is Chairman Of Service Committee

Nancy Pierpont has been appointed chairman of the Service Committee of the Y. W. C. A. to fill the vacancy left by Katherine Reid, who failed to return this year.

Nancy was freshman representative on Student Government and she has served on Y. W. Committees.

Her duty of Service Chairman will be to take charge of the social service projects of the Y. W.

Mrs. Taylor, Miss Diehl Do Not Return

Mrs Stella B. Taylor, formerly an English professor, and Miss Mary Diehl, an assistant in the registrar's office, are two members of the Farmville faculty who did not return this year.

Mrs. Taylor is now living in her home in Elkins, W. Va. Miss Diehl is studying at George Peabody for her M. A. degree in art.

Liza Wise Will Chairman; Other Committees Chosen

Plans for the 1939 Circus, to be held in the S. T. C. gymnasium, October 28, are now proceeding under the direction of Liza Wise, general chairman of the event. The annual fall festivity, in whose planning and carrying out the entire student body takes part, is under the sponsorship of Alpha Kappa Gamma,, honor group for leadership among women students.

Committee chairmen are Isabel Williamson, stunts; Dot Fischer, parade; Marjorie Nimmo, animals; Jane Powell and Marie Eason, booths and floor plan; Helen Reiff, decorations; Johnny Lybrook and Dot Eades, advertising; Frances Alvis, business manager; and Martha Meade Hardaway and Miss aJne Royall, ex-officios.

In accordance with the usual plans each class will present a stunt for competition. Booths will be arranged by the various classes and organizations. Committees for stunts and booths will be appointed at individual class meetings.

Student chairmen appointed last night are Elizabeth Kent, senior stunt; Florence Lee, junior stunt, and Edna Harris, sophomore stunt.

Circus' top-most event is the crowning of the circus queen who is kept secret till the coronation.

Nominees for queen are made by each class and voted upon by the student body.

Alpha Phi Sigma Admits Members

Fifteen upperclassmen were initiated into the apprentice degree of Alpha Phi Sigma Friday night, September 29. Initiation of twenty-eight Freshmen took place last night, Oct. 3.

Upperclassmen initiated were Marie Brickert, Sara Cline, Caroline Eason, Winifried Harrell, Dot Johnson, Rebecca Jones, Barbara McCaskill, Susan Jane Marshall, Martha Roberts, Lucy Turnbull, Margaret Wright, Mildred Morris, Helen Wentz, Jane Engleby, Virginia Fowlkes, Allene Overbey and Peggy Hughes.

Freshmen taken in were Margaret Lovins, Frances Patterson, May Bartlet, Elva Andrews, Hallie Hillsman, Eva Lewis Rhodes, Daphne Williams, Winifred Wright, Jane Sanford, Helen Hardy, Iris Geyer, Mamie Snow, Mary Willson, Frances Hughes, Susie Moore, Peggy Watkins, Nancy Saunders, Tenwa Brogan, and Marie Davis, into the Apprentice degree; Rosalie Rogers, Juanita Leftwich, Brookie Benton, Ann Price, Barbara Drewry, Jo Brumfield and Charlotte Persinger into the Novice Degree.

Alpha Phi Sigma, a fraternity fostering scholarship, is the only honor society open to Freshmen. All valedictorians and all salutatorians from high schools automatically receive bids.

There are three degrees in Alpha Phi Sigma: the novice, apprentice, and masters' degree. Promotion from one degree to the next is attained by improvement in scholastic standing.

NOTICE

"The Virginian" requests that students be careful to wear plain sport clothes for pictures. They are requested not to wear plaids or prints.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO · BOSTON · LOS ANGELES · SAN FRANCISCO

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant—Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickral, Janelle Shelor, Dell Warren, and Lucy Turnbull.

Business Staff

Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell
Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson, Mary Allen Peters, Frances Pope, Jane Rosenberger, Mary Sue Simmons, and Kathryn Watkins.

Typists

Chief ..... Doris Chestnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon,, and Virginia Rudd.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER, 4, 1939

Honor—An Inward Quality

Honor—what does it mean to you? Does the word convey to your mind just the moral ethics of life—lying, cheating, stealing?

Truly enough all that is dishonorable and untrue, if analyzed, will fall under these quadruses. But how many of us really analyze ourselves as to our everyday conduct? Therein lie our trouble—the little offenses we commit so often never realizing that they, too, are rules, which if broken are little dishonest acts (if anything dishonest may be termed "little"), which lead to the weakening our own personal code of honor.

Every rule on our campus was made by our representatives with our consent. They have been amended to conform with our ideas. Not one of them is "petty" or to be so regarded. Not one of them is the dictator type rule or is intended to be so enforced. We made them. If we fail to live up to each of them we are breaking our code of honor.

Let each old girl re-examine herself and inwardly re-pledge herself to govern her college life nobly. And may each new girl think seriously for what the standards of Farmville stand.

One's honor is with her always, sacred to her. As the Virginia Tech stated, "Honor is not a cloak which can be put on and taken off at will."

How Will It Look? It's Up To You

There is not one among our student body who doesn't point and speak with pride and inward appreciation of our new library. We love every inch of it, interior, exterior, and grounds.

Yet, some of us, unintentionally yet thoughtlessly, are already marring the beauty of the grounds of the library. In chapel recently Dr. Jarman requested that we use the door to the browsing room or library walk and "give the grass a chance". Surely this is a small thing to remember. It may take a moment more of your time—but the result of a bautiful campus will repay you.

Traveller Tells of European Experiences

This is a continuation of the interview with Miss Grace Moran on her European trip which she experienced with Miss Leola Wheeler and Miss Amanda Gray, an alumna.

From Russia we crossed Poland. We were fortunate to visit this beautiful little country on a National holiday when along the roads natives in brilliant costumes were walking to their places of celebration. Against the lovely natural beauty of the green and golden fields, this was a lovely sight.

"No," said Miss Moran, answering the unspoken question, "there was no trace of war. In Warsaw, which I thought particularly beautiful, the people were apparently enjoying themselves in shops and cafes, and we felt none of the stress that you in America were receiving by courtesy of the press. After spending the 15th and 16th here we went on to Berlin for a day and night. Here, also, with the exception of one car load of soldiers and war materials, there was no evidence of battle. There was no elaborate inspection of bags nor awkward details at the border. Later, on the train, we noticed across from our compartment a little Jewess who was being exiled from Germany. She carried only a few schillings, on her lonely way to London where she was going to wait until the quota permitted her emigration to America. Her father was a Polish Jew who with her brother and younger sister would also probably be forced into exile, though she knew not where. This was a sad side of the new work in Germany.

"But contrasting with this viewpoint was the enthusiasm of the German youth whom we also met on the train. His father was the manager of one of the prominent hotels in Berlin and he was very anxious and pleased to praise Hitler for his work in reclaiming Germany for the Germans.

Misses Wheeler, Gray and Moran

"From here we went to Paris, and during a 10 day stay here we heard over the radio the request that all foreigners leave the city. Still, it was hard for us to feel the stress; we could not see it. However, at the steamship lines and at the American express agency there were long lines waiting for advice and passage. On our neutral boat, there were two hundred extra passengers, some of which were provided for in the smoking room and bar. On board there was of course much talk about the "situation", and one person told me that she'd been offered $1.000 for her ticket."

Here Miss Moran said honestly that if she had been offered the same amount she might still be in Europe—for she still didn't feel the danger or the intense value of that guaranty of safe passage.

"I heard," she continued "that the captain would be extremely glad to land his passengers, for while we were at sea we heard of the Athenia disaster, and he no doubt felt the gravity of our position.

"But, we were home at the appointed time, the sixth of September, with no casualties, much to the relief of our families and friends. And though we weren't uneasy, we are glad to be back now.

"I have, in addition to my pictures, many and varied notes, so the trip will remain with me in many more ways than the memory alone of a full and rich experience."

Echoes from an Empty Space

You . . . Who-o-o-o! Your chattering reporter is bringing you from all corners of the campus the wee bits of gossip picked up out of the trash can. Here we'd like to pause just a moment and give you a word of warning . . . be on your toes girls because the watch-bird is snooping and he hears all, sees all, and knows all. (A hint to the wise should be sufficient).

Do you know . . . anything more up to date than Alice Cogburn's hair-do or that little upward job of Ebel the child . . . That aMrtha Meade was seen last week at the show with problem child Van Meter (take him to good shows Meadaway; that might be one way to improve him) . . . How "Doc" Lawson and "Soo-zee" Harris rate dates with two of our cute Freshmen (brush up on your geometry girls, they might hand out more than straight lines) . . . That Essie Milner said "no" instead of "lets go to the show" to little Bowen (incidently Essie is a dance gal'—but she doesn't sound very modern to us) . . . That Dickie Lowe is a magician, well—the act with Blair Goode is fine, to say nothing about the fade out; personally, that seems much better . . . That Rosalie Coberley rushes to meet Tynes daily . . . Say! Are we old fashioned or has the times actually changed? That Painter is more interested in the road to Roanoke and Bobby Sowder, than the road leading to Phi Beta Kappa.

That we offer congratulations to "Trudy" for the most ingratiating comedy of the season; yes, we think it the most unfunny thing ever done at S. T. C. . . . That our little "idol" (idle) creature, Barbara White, was flabbergasted by Flippo's charm (how about an introduction Barbara?) . . . that friendships in Shannons don't seem to mean much (to the boys, of course) . . . That Elsye Berry can keep a male waiting and make him like it . . . that's a secret you should give to all women, why that's priceless! . . . That Kay Horsley was doing her best to live up to (or have the other days—remember Kay) some people actually go to see the show . . . That Pettcrew was seen holding someone's hand other than Jerry's . . . And that Nimmo—well guess you saw that also.

Just to keep in time with the times we'd like to dedicate a few songs: "If I Didn't Care", Nancy Wolfe and Lyle Graham; "Wishing", Nancy Banard and her V. P. I. flame; "Anchors Aweigh," Sara Keesee.

For the last bit of advice—no notoriety, please; but make news for us.

Classicism Vs. Collegism

Are you classic or collegiate? If you are able to interpret the following paragraph you are definitely collegiate. If you find it necessary to turn to the key on page 4 you are classic—tch! tch!

Rah Material, having had a confession about her white plague pulled out a bale of hay and headed for the Eatery. Once there she got outside of a graveyard stew, a million on a platter and one on the city. This done, she ducked her caffin nail and followed by the fire extinguisher, left the eatery. By this time she was pooped out and so decided to take a snooze; and snooze she did.

Where had the Rah Material been and what had she done? Also who was she?

Turn to page 4 for key

Man-of-War Is Victor In Great "Sing" Derby

A little out-of-season, perhaps, but certainly lacking none of the other characteristics of a great race, the Kentucky Derby was brought to S. T. C. Saturday night, Sept. 27, immediately after dinner by the Sing committee.

At the signal of Announcer Helen Wentz, the entrants were brought from their stalls and paraded in front of the stands thronged with nervous and excited spectators. Following brief remarks made through the mike by Jockeys Anne Ayers, Sara Cline, May Winn, Mary Katherine Dodson, Eliza Wise, and Izzie Williamson, such fine steeds as Hi-Yo Silver, Two-Horse-Power Sewanee and Man-of-War were lined up at the starting point.

A shot was fired and they were off! The stands went wild and all eyes followed the course of the beautiful horses around the track, as Cameraman Pat Whitlock photographed the contest of speed. It was an exciting race from start to finish.

As they galloped down the home stretch Hi-Yo Silver and two-year-old Man-of-War were nose to nose but in the last few seconds of the race Man-of-War began to take the leading position, which he held to the end.

Mrs. Chandler, nee Marion Heard, wife of the governor, very graciously presented the cup and wreath to Jockey Mary Katherine Dodson.

A bit of a wag is C. C. Hurd, mathematics instructor at Michigan State College. On the door to his office are the following instructions: 'Please knock before entering. If you don't give a rap, you won't get an answer." Maybe the last part of that should have read 'you won't get Hurd'."

What Others Say

How fat she are!
She used to wasn't,
The reason is
She daily doesn't.

Daffinition: A parasite is something to jump out of an aeroplane with.

Soprano: "Did you notice how my voice filled the hall last night?"

Alto: "Yes, dear; in fact, I noticed several people leaving to make room for it."—Campus Cat.

Five Essentials for a Good Date

1. She doesn't eat much
2. She's good looking
3. She doesn't eat much
4. She's a good dancer
5. She doesn't eat much.

—Florida Flambeau

Mary made an angel cake
For her darling Harry's sake,
"Harry, you a piece must take!"
This she meant.
Harry ate it every crumb,
Then he heard the angels hum,
Calling softly, "Harry, come."
Harry went.

Author: "This is the plot of my story. A midnight scene. Two burglars creep stealthily toward the house. They climb a wall and force open a window and enter the room. The clock strikes one.

Listener, breathlessly: "Which one?"—St. Mary's Collegian.

He made a run around the end,
Was tackled from the rear,
The right guard sat upon his neck,
The fullback on his ear.
The center sat upon his chest,
Two ends upon his chest,
The quarter and the halfback then
Sat down on him to rest.
The left guard sat upon his head
Two tackles on his face,
The coroner was then called in,
To sit upon his case.

—The Coyote

Dinner guest: "Will you pass the nuts, professor?"

Absent minded professor: "Yes, I suppose so, but I really should flunk most of them."

The difference between an asylum and a university: You have to improve to get out of an asylum.—The Loyolan.

"No. 1 Dodo Boy" is the new title of Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom, actor-fighter-night club operator. He has been voted this new honor by the University of Southern California Chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta because he is the one actor in the film industry with whom we positively would not wish to be stranded on a desert island'!"

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

Poland Divided

The new and fourth partition of Poland divides her territory almost equally between Mr. Hitler and Mr. Stalin. The first accord gave Mr. Hitler only about two-fifths of the area. Of the six largest Polish cities, Germany will get four, including Warsaw.

The End of the War

Now that the serpent has gorged himself he is willing to crawl back into his hole and let his forces rest up while the Democracies forget that it was their chicken he just gobbled up. Yes, that's what Mr. Hitler wants to do. He's been saying right along, "Germany is not at war with either France or England, nor has she any desire or reason to be." And what a blow such declarations have been to both England and France who stood up and made such noble speeches urging little Poland "not to let Hitler bully you—we'll take care of him." And Poland had confidence in those speeches and there are few people who believe that Poland would have held out as she did had no such speeches been made.

Now that Poland is dead, do England and France think that through a continuation of this war to revive Poland? If not, then why are they fighting? Is it simply false pride? They are in an embarrassing situation it's true. They are into it "up to their necks" so to speak. (There are few commentators who care to prophecy and have steered clear of the matter by concentrating on American neutrality.) If war, what? If peace, what? Is Mr. Hitler really satisfied or has he just been working up an appetite for the time when he shall sit down to feast up the fruits of the entire European continent?

American Neutrality

Almost every congressman at this special and historic session believes firmly in the basic principles of the arms embargo act but as to the actual provisions they disagree and much adverse criticism has been heard during this past week in regard to these provisions.

The major provisions of the act "besides carrying out President Roosevelt's recommendation that belligerents be permitted to purchase arms, munitions and implements of war in the United States would:

1. Limit credit to belligerant governments on all purchases in this country to ninety days. There would be no restriction on credits allowed to private citizens and companies of belligerent nations, but the Munitions Control Board would advise congress every six months regarding the extent of these, and Congress could restrict them if it deemed advisable.

2. Require belligerents to take title to all goods purchased in this country and carry them home in their own or non-American vessels.

3. Permit the president to designate "combat areas" in which American citizens and ships could not travel.

Mr. Roosevelt urged in his speech to the special and historical session of congress last week that America remain strictly neutral in action regarding this world crisis. He agrees, though, ,that it would be imposible for intelligent American citizens to remain neutral in thought at such a time.

The purpose of this session of congress is a revision of the neutrality act which, if sensible cooperation had been given the President last spring, could have and would have been done then.

Water Carnival Is Scheduled Oct. 19

Notice Practices; Themes Kept Secret

"Wednesday, October 19, at 8:00 P. M. is the date set for the Water Carnival," announced Marie Dix, who is chairman of the event. The carnival will be held at the pool with each class presenting a ten to fifteen minute aquatic program. The nature of these programs will be kept secret until the time of actual presentation.

Assisting Marie as chairman are: Peggy Hughes, who is in charge of the Freshmen; Harriette Walker, the Sophomores; Rosa Courter, the Juniors; and Myra Smith, the Seniors.

Last year the Seniors took first honors in the event with a stunt called "Senior Olympics". The Freshmen were second with the romantic skit: "A Froggie Would A-Wooing Go".

The practice schedule is as follows:

Freshmen—4:30-5:30, Wednesday; 4:30-5.30, Thursday; 7:30-8:00, Tuesday.

Sophomores 8:30-9:30 Tuesday; 9:00-9:30 Thursday; 4:30-5:30 4:30-5:30 Friday.

Juniors 4:30-5:30 Monday; 9:30 10:00 Tuesday; 9:30-10:00 Thursday.

Seniors 8:00-9:00 Tuesday; 8:00 9:00 Thursday.

Non-Swimmers! Here's Your Chance!

A class in beginners swimming will be held every Tuesday and Thursday afternons from 4:00-4:30. Anyone interested in taking the course should see Pat Gibson, swimming instructor.

NOTICE

Varsity and class hockey squads will be selected soon. Come out now and get your practices!

Martin the Jeweler

RYTEX FLIGHT

OCTOBER SPECIAL

200 single sheets, 100 envelopes or 10 0double sheets, 100 envelopes

$1.00

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. O pposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop

"From old to new with any shoes"

Only First Class Material used

All Work Guaranteed

LYNN'S

SHEET MUSIC

All the newest Philco Radios

$9.95 up

Fischer, Nimmo At Hockey Camp in Pa.

Dot Fischer, president of the Athletic Association and Marjorie Nimmo, manager of hockey, attended Camp Tegawitha, hockey and lacrosse school, at Mt. Pocono, Pennsylvania from September 5 to 12.

The entire day was spent in stick work, theory and games in both hockey and lacrosse. Folk dancing, umpiring and coaching classes were held in the evenings.

All of the coaches in attendance were from England. Miss Constance Applewhite, who visited here last spring, was the camp director.

Vassar, Wellesley, Trenton S. T. C., Salem College, Adelphi, Russell Sage, Beard, Morestown, Germantown, William and Mary, Drexel and Morristown were among the schools and colleges represented at the camp.

Week-end Tournaments Lead to Tennis Finals

Week-end tennis tournaments will begin on Saturday, October 7. "These tournaments will not only promote interest throughout the school, but they will also give excellent practice and lead up to the final tournaments in the spring," says Shirley Stephens, manager of tennis.

Courts at present are not in condition for playing, but they will be in shape by the end of this week.

There will be a poster on the bulletin board for all girls who are interested in entering these week-end tournaments to sign.

Graduates of '39

Continued from Page 1

Jones, Creeds; Ann Kelly, Augusta County; Elvira Ligon, Darlington Heights; Leah Marsh, Wicomico Church; Catherine Maynard, Grayton.

Charlotte Minton, Red Hill; Charlotte Morton, Washington, Va.; Elizabeth Moss, Boyce; Clara Nottingham, Eastville; Hazel Peters, St. Charles; Catherine Pilcher, Fishersville; Mary Wanda Porterfield, Montcalm, W. Va.; Amy Powell, Smithfield; Elizabeth Prince, Courtland.

Nellie Putney, Deep Creek; Mrs. Virginia Pullen, substitute work, Prince Edward County; Anna Snow Ramsey, Norfolk County; Elizabeth Rawlings, Holland; Janet Reid, Covington; Ruth Read, Crewe; Mary Rice, Portsmouth; Katherine Roberts, Holland; Dorothy Rudder, Gladys; Mary Ann Sanderson, Pulaski; Becky Sandidge, Augusta County; Beverley Sexton, Warsaw, N. C.; Lucy Smith, Chase City.

Virginia Whitehead Smith, Nansemond County; Marguerite Snell, Charlotte C. H.; Margaret Stallard, Roanoke; Dell Stoval, Fieldale; Mary Sullenberger, Monterey; Annie Laurie Taylor, Saxis; Gladys Taylor, South Richmond; Jean Taylor, Roanoke; Virginia Lee Taylor, Laurel, Del.; David Terry, Wytheville; Margaret Tharpe, Norfolk; Mary Frances Tucker, substitute, Clarksville; Elizabeth Tindall, Cartersville.

Margaret Tucker, Wicomico Church; Virginia Reed Turner, Chatham; Martha Louise Turns, Nottoway County; Elizabeth Tyree, Danville; Byrd Vaughan, Blackstone; Elizabeth von Gemmingen, Brandy; Selma West, Hampton; Marjorie Wicks, Norfolk; Elizabeth Wilkerson, Lancaster County; Eloise Williams, Lloyd; Frances Erma Williams, Ellerson; Virginia Yager, Madison; Carrie Yeatts, Boiling Springs; Sidney Yonce, Eagle Rock; Margaret Young, Norfolk.

Margaret Molley is doing county welfare work at Chatham.

"Rules from the 1860 student handbook of Westminster College that make us glad we're collegians in 1939: Attendance on circuses is not allowed, and students are never alowed to be on the streets nor in the stores about town except on business which is to be promptly attended to; nor to be away from their own rooms, except at appropriate times for recreation in some inoffensive and honorable manner."

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!

Electric Appliance Co.

Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY MEATS AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

In This Corner

When it's Round up Time in Texas, it's also round up time at S .T. C., and round out time too. For now's the time to round out your schedule with a round up of all your athletic abilities. And with all that going on around the campus it oughtn't be hard to find just one thing to interest you.

The Old Swimming hole. Hockey field. Tennis courts. Rec. Croquet court, and Gym, all vying for first honors in the biggest fight of the year.

We bring you a round by round, blow by blow survey—It's Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock on S. T. C. campus. Luminaries are found in the openings. In the left hand corner of the ring, Ye Olde Swimmin' Hole. Campus Champ of last year with an all time record of from 60 to 70 fans—on a certain Saturday night.

The Hockey field, now occupying the right hand corner of the ring, has a record not to be sneezed at, for at least 30 fans a day put in their appearance four afternoons every week last year.

Class bell clangs; the contestants spring to their feet. From all over the campus, down to the Gym, flock the excited fans. Confusion, confusion, confusion as they make their way from the Gym. They go up; they go down.

Quiet reigns—a glimpse of the Hockey field—50 to 60 energetic girls—ground-stick, ground-stick, ground-stick. Wheee.

Now into the pool—splash-brrr-splash-splash! Oh! Oh! 10 maybe 20 mermaids—but no more.

Round one is over, and the Hockey field is in the lead. It peeps through the swimming pool window and gloats. The Pool ripples and splashes wistfully. Slipping, Oh dear!

Round two is scheduled for Saturday night, and despite the outcome of Round One, the Swimming Pool is favored to win the next bouts. So come on all you swimmers. Now's your chance—you know—the Hockey field isn't very inviting after dark or is it? Saturday night will tell.

N. Y. A.

Continued from Page 1

The home is run as much like the college as possible. The girls have practically the same regulations as college students. They have their own student council with Evelyn Byrd as president, Petty Childs as secretary, and Rachel Edwards as chaplain. Frances Burton, the timekeeper, keeps a record of the project time for the government.

Wednesday, September 27, the girls were hostesses at a dinner for Dr. J. P. Wynne and the student teachers.

Sports Slants

By "Boo" Barham

Just to be serious for a change, how 'bout stopping for a minute and thinking about our athletic responsibility to Farmville? We've discussed almost every other responsibility of ours to Farmville, but our athletic responsibility is definitely a new slant. It's an important slant, though. We owe a lot to Blue and White. Any knowledge we have of athletics and sportsmanship should not only be offered to our class and our school—to help uphold the class and the school colors—to make our school and our class stand for the very best in athletics and what necessarily goes along with athletics—good sportsmanship. It's not all responsibility, either. A lot of pleasure comes in, too. There is absolutely nothing that makes for a better companionship than playing on a team with someone having the same interest that a person has. Athletics certainly give an excellent opportunity for learning to know people, for making new friendships. The exercise will do a lot to bring about that skin you love to touch. Besides that, it's all just a lot of good fun!

Everybody put that Sports Calendar on your own private bulletin board so you won't forget the different practices. Hockey is progressing rapidly at this point, and if you still haven't broken down and signed up, it's not too late.

Water Carnival! The very best one ever, too. It's gonna be the event of the season, and we really mean it! Color and gaiety will be the keynotes with a lot of entertainment and good swimming thrown in, too. Better get in on it. You'll probably be bragging about being in it after it's over. You don't have to swim to be in it, either. There are a lot of things for everybody to do who's interested.

Surprise! The tennis courts will be fixed in a very short time, so don't misplace your racquet in the meantime. You'll have plenty of use come a few days from now.

Look out, girls, here comes that golf tournament. It will be between hockey and basketball season, so get ready.

Helen Seward must have what it takes to be an archery teacher. She's evidently a whiz-bang because twenty girls were out for archery. Well, more power to ya, Helen, and girls!

NOTICE

People interested in playing golf watch the bulletin board for Longwood truck schedule.

SHANNON'S

Phone 224

We are happy to have all our friends back

A hearty welcome to the new girls.

Call us for prompt service.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS MEDICINES

Perfumes—Toilet Articles

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Quality—Price—Service

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

FARMVILLE'S Newest And Finest Equipped Beauty Salon

All new "Halliwell" fixtures

Best of Operators

Expert work at all times

DAVIDSON'S

EACO THEATRE

DAILY MATS AT 4 P. M.

EVENINGS AT 8 P. M.

Wed.-Thurs., Oct. 4-5

BING CROSBY

Linda Ware, Ned Sparks

"THE STAR MAKER"

"Prophet Without Honor"

Friday-Saturday, Oct. 6-7

Ralph Richardson

June DePrez

In Alexander Korda's

"Four Feathers"

All Technicolor!

Next Mon.-Tues., Oct. 9-10

BETTE DAVIS

GEORGE BRENT

MIRIAM HOPKINS

"The Old Main"

White Moccasins	$1.98
Ladies Jodphurs (brown, tan)	2.50
Jodphur Boots	$2.75
Alarm Clocks	98c
Laundry Bags	50c and 75c
Roller Skates	98c to $1.50
Cigarettes, popular brands	12c

A and N Store

Stag Lines will please form at the Pen Counter

The Blue Diamond mark on the ARROW clip means Guaranteed for Life

The Parker Debutante makes its formal bow

Smarter, Smaller, Slimmer, Trimmer

Yet Far More Room for Ink Because of 14 Fewer Parts

GUARANTEED for LIFE♦

The new Parker Debutante is as modern as Televisun—shows the ink level when held to the light, so it never runs dry unexpectedly in classes or exams. Such a small, slim, slender pen would not be practical for students except that Parker's sadless Vacumatic filler creates more room for ink by abolishing 14 old-style parts.

You'll love its smart circlets of shimmering Pearl and Jet, a wholly original and exclusive style. And there's nothing like its silken smooth Point of 14 K Gold, coated with Platinum and tipped with polished Osmiridium, twice costlier than ordinary iridium.

Let yourself be pleasantly beguiled into trying this pedigreed Beauty at any near by pen counter. The Blue Diamond mark on the neat ARROW clip means Guaranteed for Life. Barring loss, you'll never have to buy another pen.

The Parker Pen Co., Janesville, Wis. Makers of the Grand-prize-winning ink, Parker Quink, 15c and 25c.

New Debutante Guaranteed for Life $8.75

Full TELEVISION Ink Supply

Pens: All 14K Gold Points—$5 to $12.50

Pencils to Match: $3.50 to $5.00

1 Parker VACUMATIC

GUARANTEED FOR LIFE♦

Pens marked with the Blue Diamond are guaranteed by the life of the owner against defects in workmanship and material for a lifetime and not merely for a specified number of years. Any defective pen will be repaired or replaced free of charge, except for loss or damage by accident and reasonable wear and tear. Parker Pen Co., Janesville, Wis.

Faculty Travel and Study During Summer Months

Dr. Francis B. Simkins spent the summer months at his home in South Carolina doing research work.

Miss Grace Moran and Miss Leola Wheeler toured Europe, visiting Norway, Sweden, Poland, Russia, Germany and France.

At Duke University for the summer school session were Misses Mary Clay Hiner, Mary Peck and Lucille Jennings.

Mrs. J. E. Davis of the Home Department visited relatives in Florida.

Miss Mary Snead made a tour of the West which included a trip to the San Francisco Exposition.

Miss Sarah Tucker spent her vacation at her cottage at Lake Junaluska in North Carolina.

Miss Lila London visited the World's Fair at New York.

Mr. Sam Holton attended summer school at the University of Virginia.

Miss Virginia Bedford was at Columbia Teacher's College where she studied toward a doctorate degree.

Key to Classicism Vs. Collegism

The Freshman, having had a conference with the professor about her examination paper, pulled out a pack of cigarettes and started for the lunchroom. Once there she ate some milk-toast, beans and drank a glass of water. This done, she ducked her cigarette and, followed by the chaperone, left the lunchroom. By this time she was tired so decided to go to sleep; and sleep she did.

Sororities Gather

Alpha Sigma Tau was entertained at a buffet supper in the chapter room on Sunday, October 1, by Marguerite Costello, Frances Pope, Helen Hoyer and Bernice Copley. Among those present were Miss Virginia Bedford, faculty advisor, Miss Mary Nichols, faculty member; and Mrs. A. T. Gray, a patron.

Mu Omega's Tea

Sara Cline, Martha Roberts, and Anne Ayers entertained the Mu Omegas at the first of their Sunday teas on October 1 in the chapter room.

Gamma Theta's Picnic

Gamma Theta sorority held an Italian spaghetti supper at Longwood cabin Friday night, September 29. Frances Dudley was in charge of entertainment, and only active members were present.

Sigmas Give Picnic

Members and pledges of Sigma Sigma Sigma had a picnic at Longwood, Thursday, September 28.

Capitol Is Favorite Of Week-enders

Week-ending has started again, Richmond being the chosen destination of Mary Prince Arnold, Mary Crews, Genevieve Cooke, Jean Hatton, Ashley Bell Hannah, Sue Harper, Elizabeth Kent, Doris Lee, Becky Lowry, Frances Mallory, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Catherine Radspinner, Ada Claire Sydner, Virginia Louise Smith, Keith Smith, Evelyn Timberlake, Barbara Tripp, Mary Gray Thompson and Nancy Wolfe.

Entertains Venable Hall

Miss Pauline Camper, matron at Venable Hall, entertained the girls living in Venable Hall Tuesday night, September 26. Miss Mary White Cox, head of the home, and Marjorie Nimmo, president of the House Council, were also invited.

Those going home for the week-end were: Louise Allen, Esther Atkinson, Eleanor Leah Boothe, Betty Barnes, Mary Klare Beck, Carolyn Boothe, Katherine Burge, Alice Duncan, Eloise Epperson, Virginia Jones, Roberta Latture.

NEWBERRY'S
Special
500 SOOTHIE
Facial Tissues
15c

HOTEL WEYANOKE
Regular Meals
A La Carte Service
Salads & Sandwiches

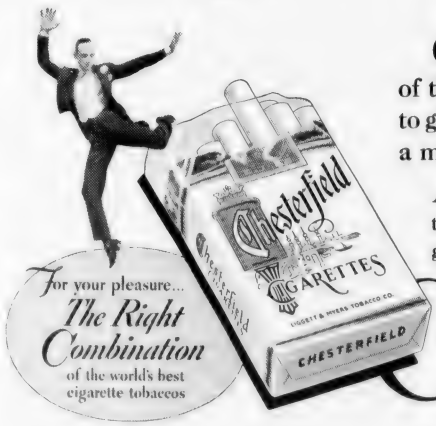
PURE THREAD SILK HOSE
Make excellent Hose for School wear
All the New Fall colors 50c
SCHOOL OXFORDS $1.95 to $3.95
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

FOR THE COLD AND RAINY WEATHER
REVERSIBLE SPORT COATS
Of tweed, tan, brown and greys.
Sizes 10 to 20 $9.97
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Charge it if you like

For Fall
"FROLICS"
LOOK YOUR BEST

NO. 1 . . . REGULAR $7.50 PERMANENTS
Baldwin's Machineless waves
You'll look more attractive $4.95
NO. 2 . . . REGULAR $3.50 PERMANENTS
Individualy styled to flatter you.
This week ONLY $2.45
Baldwin's Beauty Shop
PHONE 159 FARMVILLE'S BEST BEAUTY SHOP

Rose's
5-10-25c Store
ON THE CORNER
500 SHEET
CLEANSING CREAM
15c



COLLEGE SHOPPE
Special breakfast for S. T. C. Girls
1 Egg, Bacon, Toast
Jelly, Butter, Coffee
15c

PHONE
356
SOUTHSIDE
DRUG STORE
For Service to The College

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet"
Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

FRED ASTAIRE
has the right combination of great acting and dancing to give you more pleasure

THEY HAVE THE
Right Combination
FOR MORE PLEASURE

For your pleasure... The Right Combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Chesterfield blends the Right Combination of the finest American and Turkish tobaccos to give you a milder, better-tasting smoke with a more pleasing aroma . . .

And when you try them you'll find that these are the qualities Chesterfield has above all others in giving you More Smoking Pleasure. THEY SATISFY.

Chesterfield

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1939 | No. 3

Six Girls, Two Faculty Tapped As Leaders

Honor Organization Conducts Services During Chapel

Six girls, three Seniors and three Juniors were tapped to public recognition of leadership by Alpha Kappa Gamma, national organization for leadership among women, before a majority of students and faculty in chapel this morning, October 11.

At the some time it was announced that two faculty members have accepted adviserships in Alpha Kappa Gamma. They are: Mis Adele Hutchinson and Miss Grace Moran.

Eligibility for Alpha Kappa Gama is based first upon the qualities of leadership, character and service to the school. A member must have an average scholastic rating and must have proven her worth unselfishly to the college.

New members tapped are Doris Chesnut, Jane Hardy, and Anna Maxey. Seniors, and Frances Eliet, Caralie Nelson, and Ruth Lea Purdom, Juniors.

Doris Chesnut, from Durham, N. C., is now president of Pi Gamma Mu, a member of Beorc Eh Thorn and is chief typist for The Rotunda. She is also assistant in the sociology department.

Jane Hardy, of Blackstone, Va., has been outstanding in the field of music, now being president of the College Choir. She has served in class productions and May Day programs and is in the Orchestra. She is the Senior class representative to Student Standards Committee.

Anna Maxey of Powhatan, Va., president of the Home Economics Club has served there and in costuming for the Dramatic Club and May Day programs. She is also student day chapel chairman and group. She is an assistant in the home office.

Frances Ellett of Roanoke, Va., is assistant editor of The Virginian, chairman of chapel committee, vice-president of the House Council, and a Y. W. worker. She served on Freshman Commission as treasurer.

Caralie Nelson from South Boston, Va., has been on Student Government for two years and is now secretary. She is counselor to the present Sophomore class, has ben active in Y. W. work, holds a position on The Virginian staff and on the business staff of The Rotunda. She is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Dramatic Club, Pi Kappa Delta, Latin Club, and French circle.

Ruth Lea Purdom of Danville, Va., has ben president of her class each year. She has served on the chapel committee, and was a member of Alpha Phi Sigma. She was recently elected into Pi Gamma Mu.

Miss Hutchinson an alumna, is a former member of Alpha Kappa Gamma and is now kindergarten supervisor. Miss Moran who is head of the geography department, has served as adviser in various school activities.

Dr. Arthur Sherman Is Guest Minister

Th Rev. Mr. Arthur M. Sherman, S. T. D., who is on the staff of the "Forward Movement," Episcopalian publication, spoke in chapel Thursday and Friday, October 5 and 6. His topic was "How Christians Could Change and Broaden Enough to Bring Peace to the World."

"Christ and World Community" was his subject for an inter-denominational group Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday nights at the Methodist Church. These discussions were based on findings and recommendations of the International Missionary Council held at Madras, India.

Twelve Seniors Will Act As School Chaperones

Senior chaperones were elected last night, October 10, at the meeting of the class. These will accompany underclassmen to football games and to the doctor.

Chaperones are Anna Maxey, Marjorie Nimmo, Marie Eason, Jane Powell, Martha Meade Hardaway, Eliza Wise, Ollie Graham Gilchrist, Helen Reiff, Isabel Williamson, Dorothy Fischer, Dorothy Eades and Frances Alvis.

Beorc Eh Thorn Extends Bids

Bids to seventeen girls were issued by Beorc Eh Thorn, English honor society, Wednesday, October 11. In order to be eligible for membership a person must have had at least six courses in English, with an average of B or above, and an average of C or above on all other work. New members are taken in each quarter. Those receiving bids are Rachel Abernathy, Frances Alvis, Evelyn Burford, Thelma Courtney, Ollie Graham Gilchrist, Caroline Harvey, Rachel Kibler, Mrs. Elizabeth Loving, Ernestine Meacham, Allene Overbey, Elizabeth Ann Parker, Dorothy Robbins, Jane Rosenberger, Martha Ann Saunders, Lucy Turnbull, May Wertz and Mrs. Frances Walmsley Gee.

Pi Gamma Mu Bids Eight New Members

Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary fraternity in history and social science, issued membership bids on Wednesday, October 3.

New members are Ruth Lea Purdom, Marion Heard, Marguerite Costello, Helen Jeffries, Elizabeth Kent, Lois Barbee, Olle Graham Gilchrist, and Mary Carrington Power. Initiation took place October 10 in the honor room.

Musical Groups Will Perform in Chapel

Music department of the college will sponsor a series of chapel programs, begining the last of this month and continuing at six week intervals throughout the year.

Some of the groups performing will be the junior quartette, directed by Jane Hardy and Mary Sue Simmons; the senior quartette, directed by Virginia Richards, and the junior A Capella directed by Forrestine Whittaker. Laura Neil Crawley will be featured as soloist.

Freshmen Make 40 Nominations For Class Leader

Forty freshmen were nominated for president of the freshman class at their class meeting Tuesday, October 10. This office will be voted upon tonight.

Freshmen nominated were Mahalinda Parks, Ruth Palmer, Lottie Herald, Pauline Moore, Anne Burgwyn, Betsy Jennings, Caroline Minnick, Marion Jones, Peggy Lou Boyette, Jeanne Sears, Eleanor Folk, Betty Youngberg, Ellen Ebel, Jerry Smith, Eleanor Booth, Dorothy Childress, Eliza McDanials, Eleanor Scott.

Lillian Agnew, Rosalie Rogers, Ann Ware, Betty Barnes, Sarah Goode, Betty Sexton, Dickie Lybrook, Gertrude Burwell, Jean Warwick, Robin Henning, Nancy Sanders, Sarah Currie, Anne Elett, Bobby Taylor, Dot Newcomb, Sally Benton, Bridget Gentile, Agnes Pierce, Jean Hall, Ada Snydor, Sarah Lawson and Mildred Ottinger.

Forty-Six Make Up Dean's List

Forty-six made the requirements for Dean's List for the Fall Quarter. Eligibility to the Dean's List is limited to those Juniors and Seniors who have made all A's and B's the preceeding quarter. Those meeting these requirements

Marie Bird Allen, Lois Barbe, Alice Leigh Barham, Mary Evelyn Burford, Anita Carrington, Doris Chesnut, Jean Clarke, Margaret E. Coalter, Marguerite Costello, Thelma Courtney, Beulah Ettenger, Elenora Faison, Ollie Graham Gilchrist, Virginia Blair Goode.

Martha Louise Hall, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marion Harden, Mrs. Annie A. Hardy, Betty Hardy, Mary Louise Holland, Rosemary Howell, Mrs. Elizabeth Loving, Johnny Lybrook, Martha McCorkle, Anna Maxey, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell.

Corana Moomaw, Jean Moyer, Caralie Nelson, Frances Pope, Mary Carrington Power, Helen Reiff, Dorothy Rollins, Jane Rosenberger, Marguerite Russ, Mrs. Nellie Shelton, Sarah Mae Sibold, Virginia Louise Smith, Helene Stras, Mrs. Mary Glenn Taylor, Betty Webb, Forestine Whitaker, Mrs. Mary Wicker Witcher, Eliza Wise and Katherine Wood.

A. C. A. Open Meeting

Miss Grace Moran will be the guest speaker for the Association for Childhood Education at a meeting tomorrow, October 12, at 7:30 in the Y. W. C. A. lounge. Her subject will be "Education in Russia as I Saw It."

Circus Committee Begins Work for Event of Oct. 28

General and Class Stunt Chairmen

Edna Harris, Eliza Wise, Jerry Smith, Ollie Gilchrist, and Florence Lee.

Freshmen Beware! Fatal Days Draw Nigh!

Class of '43, attention! Got that chilly feeling? Feel like there's a centipede doing setting up exercises on your spine? Watch your step, now! They're out for you! Beware! And believe me have they the low down on the latest torment tips! Brrrr! Shudder, shudder!

When they'll strike, nobody knows!
But when they—oh boy, your woes!
Every lordly soph'll look down her nose
While you crawl along on a line with her toes.
Get hep, young woman, before those days close
You'll be a drip!

Signed
"One who nose"

Students Will Vote For Personalities

Feature section of the "Virginian," Farmville year book, will be voted on by the student body the end of this week.

The ballot, which will be composed of 14 girls, will be selected by a committee composed of three faculty members and one underclassman represenitng each of the four major organizations and the three publications.

Forensic Club Elects Miss Nichols Coach

Miss Mary Nichols, assistant professor of English and Spanish has been elected to succeed Dr. James E. Walmsley, head of the history department, as debate coach.

Dr. Walmsley resigned last spring after having served as Debate Coach for eleven years. First from 1926-1932 and again from 1934-1939.

At present Miss Nichols is a sponsor of Beorc Eh Thorn and Pi Gamma Mu. She is a past president of the Farmville Alumnae Association. This is her first experience as debate coach.

Dell Warren Will Be Staging Director

Dell Warren, junior, has been selected to replace Hazelwood Burbank as head of the staging department of the Dramatic Club. Hazelwood resigned this fall after a recent illness.

Staging group will begin work next week on the setting for the fall play, "Dear Brutus", which will be presented by the club on November 17.

Queen to Be Elected By Popular Vote; Each Class Has Part

Indians, war whoops, dancing from primitive to modern, not excluding the "gay nineties", a real circus with tent and all, and a "sho nuff hill billy feud" will be highlights in the Circus, an annual event sponsored by Alpha Kappa Gamma, honorary organization for leaders, to be held Saturday, October 28, in the college gymnasium.

Eliza Wise, general chairman, will direct the Circus with Jane Hardy, Rosa Courter, Elizabeth Wilkinson, and Anna Maxey as assistants.

Student chairmen for the skits to be given by each class are Elizabeth Kent, senior skit; Florence Lee, junior skit; Edna Harris, sophomore skit; and Jerry Smith, freshman skit.

Alice Leigh Barham, Helen Wentz, Sara Keesee, Olivia Stephenson and Doris Chesnut are on Marjorie Nimmo's committee for the animals. Assisting Dot Eades and Johnny Lybrook with advertising are Phil Schlobahm, Ruby Adams, Perrye Smith, Dot Rollins and Ruth Lea Purdum.

The following are working with Helen Reiff on the decorations committee: Jean Moyer, Sally Dunlap, Kathryn Price, Caralie Nelson, Mary Louise Holland, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Marian Harden, Liggie Ellett, and Margaret Wright.

Other chairmen are Isabel Williamson, stunts; Dot Fischer, parade; Frances Alvis, business manager; Jane Powell and Marie Eason, booths and floor plan.

Miss Jane Royall and Martha Meade Hardaway, A. K. G. adviser and president respectively, are ex-officios.

Nominees for Circus queen will be made by classes the week previous to the event. Voting by ballot, at one cent a vote, will be the privilege of the entire student body

All May Help Solicit Browsing Room Books

All students are urged to cast their ballot in the selection of books for the Browsing room of the new library. The balloting will take place next Monday and Tuesday, October 16 and 17 at the hall table

Each student may list three books, both fiction and non-fiction, to which she would like to have access. From the list of books recorded, as many of the most popular ones as funds permit will be ordered. Also in the Browsing room there will be the popular current magazines.

"We are anxious that the students make this selection, since the Browsing room is to be their room", says Miss Mary Snead, librarian.

Regional Club Elects Heads and Members

New officers of the Northern Neck Club, a social group formed last year by the girls from the Northern Neck of Virginia, elected recently are Jo Ware, president; Flynt Moore, vice-president; Marion Mitchell, treasurer; Henrietta Dawson secretary and reporter.

New members taken in included Elizabeth Bellows, Ann Burgwyn, Antoinette Dew, Nellie Dodson, Edna MacNeal, Betty Mae Tyler, and Ann Ware.

Mrs. Turnbull and Mr. Charlie French are the sponsor and adviser, respectively, for this regional club.

Flash! News! Attention Freshmen! - - - - - You Rats!

Flash—Hold everything! Here's news and I mean N-E-W-S.

"It's what we've all been waiting for,"

Says Sophisticated Sister Sophomore—

"It's the news that we must do or die,"

Crys Freshman Flossie with a sigh.

"We hope the time will quickly pass,"

Quoth the members of the Senior class.

While. "Come on and let the fun begin,"

Sing the Juniors with a malicious grin.

But from which ever class you claim to be

I beg you now pay heed to me.

I now the Rat Rules to you impart

And strike terror in each Freshman heart.

Rat week will begin Monday, October 16 and will last three days.

General Rules

1. Rats must learn all Sophomores by name.

2. Rats must wear the same clashing sweater and skirt all three days and mismatched, low-heel shoes and long, black stockings.

3. Rats must part their hair in the middle and make four pigtails, two on each side, tied with green and white ribbons. Bathing caps will be worn on the rat's heads, covering their foreheads. Pigtails must be in front of their ears. Caps are taken off during class.

4. Rats must wear no make-up or nail polish.

5. Each rat must wear large cards in front and back with Rat ——— printed on them in large letters.

6. Rats must attach a rat to their right wrist and a trap to their left.

7. Rats must not enter Post Office until after chapel each morning

8 Rats must know the social regulations of the school.

10. Rats must come to all meals these three days.

11. Rats must know and be able to sing in unison an original song praising the Sophomores.

12 Rats must remain on campus all three days.

13. Rats must meet in front of Whitehouse Hall before lunch each day at 12:30 o'clock.

Monday, October 16

Advertisement Day.

1. Rats report on Athletic field at 6:30 in gym suits, tennis shoes and carrying a broom.

2. Rats must have some article on her person all day to suggest a popular advertisement. Rats must know an original four line rhyme as a sales slogan for the product they advertise.

Tuesday, October 17th

1. Rats must "button" every other step going up.

2. Rats must carry damp wash clothes to wipe the smiles off their faces.

Wednesday, October 18th

1. Rats must cut square corners.

2. Rats must sing everything they wish to say to a popular tune.

Rats must be able to at any time "Sign Off" at the request of Sophomores.

Sign Off:

I, ———, from ———, am a seditious, sciolistic freshman and seem to sense that the sensationally, sagacious Sophomores surpass us scholastically and socially; for standard statistics state sophomores stand stable, steadfast and staunch since stratasphere started. Such singular stamina surely speak splendid success secured, showing sufficient, even superfluous, signs of success. Sophomores should really sever all connections with the silly, shallow Freshmen, because they are scrapping in a sciamachy. Praise '42.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant—Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickral, Janelle Shelor, Dell Warren, and Lucy Turnbull.

Business Staff

Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell
Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson, Mary Allen Peters, Frances Pope, Jane Rosenberger, Mary Sue Simmons, and Kathryn Watkins.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon,, and Virginia Rudd.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 11, 1939

The student body expresses sympathy for Mrs. Hurt in her bereavement.

Our Chapel Service

Have you felt it, too? Many students and faculty members have; and they're talking and commending us about it.

It's the new attitude that exists about attending chapel—and not only the attitude but the new atmosphere created by our attention and behavior. Our programs of late have been received with all the courtesy due such presentations. There is not the usual rustling of papers and letters nor the scuffling and squirming of tired impatience. We sit erectly and interestedly—as becomes us in such an atmosphere as a chapel service affords.

It may be the new seats, or it may be the less crowded conditions which lend to better accoustics. But whatever the cause, we should each be proud that something has happened to make our chapel service one of reverence, enjoyment and pride.

Find Out Now

Sometime within the next few weeks a medical examination which should be of more than vital interest to every girl here, indeed to everyone everywhere, will be begun. This is the tuberculosis x-ray which will be conducted by Dr. Jean Martin, school doctor, with the help of the state physician and tuberculosis specialists.

The survey being conducted informally in private groups on this matter is, on the whole, being praised. However, there are those who say that "if they have it they'd rather not know about it." This we must be made to realize, is sheer ignorance. Anyone of us able to be at school, if we were to be tubercular, would have it in such mild beginnings that it would not be hopeless. The point that we must realize is that tuberculosis, if discovered in its beginning, can be cured to the point of a normal healthy life. From another angle we should know that such a germ may easily be transferred to our friends.

One dollar, the cost of the tuberculosis x-ray here, may mean many years extension to your life. It should be worth that much to you just to assure yourself that you are free of it. Many, though, without knowing it are its victims.

ANTICIPATIONS?

Quotable Quotes

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

Many college editors are making good use of the analogy between our battles of the gridiron and Europe's battles on land, sea and air to point out the advantages of U. S. collegians over the youth of other lands. Here's how the University of Tulsa Collegian put it:

"Today, students find bloodshed and heroes enough on the football field. Today, boys working their way through college as a result of the last war know that a war boom is a fickle, unstable thing. Today co-eds realize that glarourous uniformed troops lead to very unglamourous breadlines. Today, T. U. students say flatly that they will refuse to fight."—University of Tulsa Collegian.

But, says the Gettysburg College Gettysburgian, "It is hopeless to expect that we can ignore the dangers of a widespread conflict even 3,000 miles away . . . But it is not necessary that we digest the specially prepared propaganda directed at neutrals needed to help in the conflict. Let us keep our minds open, our hands clean, and our country free and neutral for the development of our own civilization."

The futility that most collegians feel about war is aptly phrased by the Hobart College Herald: "The most discouraging aspect of the whole situation is that there are no indications that things will be better after this second World War is ended. We are witnessing a vicious circle in which wars engender hate which causes new wars and more hate. It seems to be impossible for a people to fight a war without building up so much hatred of the enemy that a reasonable peace is impossible."

There is a general feeling among collegians that we must stay out of this war, come what may. The anti-war oaths popular some two or three years ago seem to be cropping up anew. Listen to the University of Richmond, Collegian, "To the man who says we can't stay out of war, say: 'We owe nothing to Britain, and we have nothing to fear of Germany. We can stay out of war; we must stay out of war; we will stay out of war!'"

A second to this motion is made by the New Mexico State Teachers College Mustang: "We say, it's Europe's war, not ours!" And that seems to be the general collegiate opinion today.

What Others Say

"There's something dove-like about our child."

"Yes, he's pigeon-toed."

—Exchange

And some stars have gone up the Hollywood ladder of fame, sarong by sarong. —1000 Jokes

"There she is out with Jack again, and I thought she threw him over."

"Oh, well, you know how a girl throws."

A thing of beauty has joyrides forever. —1000 Jokes

Meditation On Vespers

Discouraged and hungry for something that could lift me out of the depths of despondency, I entered the small, dimly lighted chapel and lowered my head. My eyes tightly shut I uttered a silent prayer, brief—yes, but it came from my innermost heart. I asked God for the strength to do that which I ought to do and for the strength to discern between right and wrong, and then I thanked him that I could come "into the house of the Lord".

An organ played softly as if it sounded from afar off—beautiful sweet music for which my soul did long to hear. When I lifted my head silent figures were taking their places and some were moving toward the door. A voice was singing—a high clear voice. My eyse sought the cross, and there they rested; I could not draw them away, for my mind was upon another cross, less tangible, perhaps, but more glorious, and to me at that moment, nearer and more meaningful.

Finally—I do not know how long I sat there—I left the chapel—the one place where I could find the answer—the something which my whole self begged to feel and to be reassured of.

There, way above me, was the evidence which before I had been too blind to see. The whole universe gave witness to the fact that God is everywhere, reassured me of the creation, and of the entity of an all-powerful being.

Before my faith was hazy, incompetent. The rush of everyday life had shut out to me that something I needed. I was too busy to look into myself. Now, at that moment I was strong because I relied upon a source other than my meager self. If there were others there, and I know there were, who felt when leaving a new sense of reverence, of renewed strength as I myself did, then vespers in the beautiful little church were truly a gift from God.

In this mad rush of life, do we not all feel at some time a keen desire to get off somewhere by ourselves, just to let up for a few minutes? For vespers which offer just such a let-up period at the end of a busy day, I am indeed profoundly thankful.

The Virginian Staff would like this opportunity to thank the faculty and each student for their excellent cooperation and helpfullness during our seige of taking pictures this past week. This year we undertook a big task in trying to do individual and group pictures in the same week. The outcome was satisfactory and the accomplishment of our goal could never have been realized had it not been for you.

It is our aim and earnest hope that we may be able to give you a Virginian worthy of you and your spirit

Echoes from an Empty Space

Come gather 'round, Kiddies and hear our lil' tale—Bess Windham and Bobby Trice discussing lessons over cigs and sodas . . . Dot Dawley (Oh, lovely blonde) waiting around for Gordon Willis who ,incidentally, didn't show up . . . Tom Cross evidently "crossed" out last year's romance with the Hardaway child. It's definitely Jane Saunders now seven days a week . . . Cotie Radspinner likewise down the V. M. I. road and having a beautiful time as well as the usual rush) . . . Frances Mallory first captures the H.-S. hearts and now it's high school—make up our minds. Frances . . . Bill Patteson, lone ranger and lone-letter man awaiting the inevitable—a date; . . . Polly Hughes said: "One boy at a time is good enough for me"—oh a sissy, eh? . . . Misery gives us food for thought: he advises table hoppers that if they were cute others would hop to see them . . . Dot Lawrence could have been snaking her cousin May what with dating J Dennis.

. . . The lil' brunette (R. Griggs) and her incessant chit-chat about everybody and Jimmy Dudley . . . Seems like Dot Robbins is out for capturing hearts especially "Doc" Richards . . . Whatever became of the Tommy Ford and Sara Keesee affair? . . . Dead end? . . . and since Cotillion is so nigh we hope it means the return of D. G. to Kent . . .to say nothing of Mack and Boonie. She really keeps the University lads' hearts a-flutter . . . Number two on the list who can keep men waiting is M. Cottrell . . . Buck is the early bird who has already bought Bobby's Xmas present . . . don't forget to do your shopping early! . . . We expect Sara Goode to hand in reports on last week-end . . . Who is the brownette who's tired of phone calls? "Thats' three tonight! I just can't stand anymore! I'll send him a bill at the end of the month!" Look her up, Sophs, she's a freshie . . . Betty Lucy's singing "Love for Sale" incidently brought her a recording of it Saturday . . . Likewise he brought Frederick to Petticrew.

. . . Some folks would do anything to read the news before it is news. In other words stop sleazy snooping over the Rotunda . . . Dot Eades motored over to Roanoke for the week-end. For full particulars see next week's column.

. . . It is news when Ora Earnest starts cashing blank checks. Your face is honest, Ora . . . Sudden and unexpectedly Wilson Nash makes a run for home with Libby Carter . . . Immediate change of events brought Dodie to V. M. I. but not to dance—just romance! . . . Girls on Parade with cadets included Betsy Austin the Sweetheart of V. P. I. . . . Did Cadet Perebee ever show up Sunday. Jean Moyer? North Caro. was among the numerous states so well represented on our campus Sunday . . . Attractive "Meatball" with petite Peggy Williams at the show Saturday nite . . . Suzee Harris scoring touchdown with S. T. C. upperclassman over said week-end . . . And now kiddies cut out your lights and go to bed. Don't forget to keep your eyes open for good stories for this column. Good night!

Oh! here's a postcript—yep! It's always good to end a story with the unexpected so-o-o close-ups on V. M. I. openings: Billy Spong's Ethel (remember the saddle shoes at Pika parties?) seen wowing the boys in grey . . . quote, "Give my love to Billy" . . . Cottie Radspinner getting the usual rush . . . to say nothing of Mary Lou and Zeke . . . Liggie's "Andy" looking divine in First Class "whites" . . . See you next week after W. & L. and V. P. I. openings and Hampden-Sydney's "Pan-Hels"!

Okay, Tiger. Here 'tis. ROKEP.

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

Hitler's Outstretched Hand

"And let those who consider war a better solution reject my outstretched hand." So spoke the Great Dictator to the world in a speech that lasted well over an hour last Friday morning. It was not a speech that one would expect a conqueror to make. It was the kind of speceh that we might even suspect our own President Roosevelt to make—except that regardless of much rigid criticism the world respects the word of Mr. Roosevelt—we have faith in him—such is not the case where Mr. Hitler is concerned.

If England and France could believe that this time the Fuehrer means it when he says, "It goes without saying that I wish to spare my own people this suffering," not perhaps but definitely they would accept his "outstretched hand."

But England remembers Munich and France is scared. England and France are, we believe, a little to conscious of the fact that if they "back out"—if they accept Hitler's terms "deah" old England will lose a little of her prestige in "squirming" out.

Germany Unconquerable

"Neither force of arms nor lapse of time will conquer Germany. It is infantile to hope for the disintegration of our people," Hitler declared. A brave and boasting statement—yes, perhaps. "Dead men tell no tales" as the old saying goes. A cry rises from the Democracies "Crush Germany—get her out of the way—kill Hitler." It was only twenty-one years ago this fall that the world celebrated in great length what the world believed was the death of Germany and the funeral dirge was played with hilarious shouts of "lasting peace" around the world. But there has been no peace. Certainly the economic struggle that came after the war could not have been called peace. Certainly the world depression which we remember so vividly could not have been called peace.

Yes, kill a man and he tells no tales, but knock a man down and kick him while he lays powerless to move and spit out a lot of verbal "you do this and you do that," hand him a piece of paper and he'll sign it—but as sure as that man is a man, he'll get up again. And if for no other reason than because he's human, he'll seek revenge. Now, if it were possible to kill every single German alive then we would say, if that is what you want, go right ahead (a nice Christain way of looking at the matter), but such is not the case.

America to the Rescue

Should the allies accept Mr. Hitler's plan? Can they believe him when he says there will be (1) a renunciation of further territorial claims, save for his old colonial demands; (2) a declaration that Germany and Soviet Russia together would relieve one of the acutest danger spots of Europe by working for a peace zone; (3) a specific statement to the world that he has no designs on the smaller states of Europe; and (4) that Germany will work out a satisfactory plan of dividing the nationalities in the fallen Poland.

If they don't, and they apparently and emphatically are not going to accept his plans, what then? Already we hear rumors of America going to the aid of the allies. Already the influence of propaganda has reached us and we have heard on this very campus such statements as "The United States will go over and show Hitler a thing or two."

Hockey Squad Will Be Selected Soon

Many Girls Out; New Schedule

Marjorie Nimmo, manager of hockey, has announced that the varsity squad will be selected at the end of this week. Class hockey squads will also be chosen. Two varsity games have been tentatively scheduled, one with William and Mary Extension at Richmond and the other with Westhampton College on the Farmville field. A new practice schedule has been worked out which is to be found on the A. A. bulletin board.

Among the girls out for hockey are Freshmen: Mary Frances Adams, Pauline Clements, Ellen Ebel, Lois Harrison, Hallie Hillsman, Anne Moore, Betsy Jennings, Frances Parham, Marion Papos, Rosalie Rogers, Ella Marsh Pilkinton, Elizabeth Walls, Sarah Owen, Ruth Shumate, Mary Haynes, Mallory Davis, Anne Barrett, Gearing Fauntleroy, Eveline Looney, Anne Price, Eloise Galloday, Charlotte Greeley, Alice Goode Cohoon, Sally Benton, Edna Brown, Harriet Ball.

Sophomores: Elizabeth Barlow, Corilda Chaplin, Nancy Dupuy, Dot Johnson, Irma Graff, Mary O. West, Mickey Beck, Yvonne Cheape, May Winn, Clyde Saunders.

Juniors: Crews Borden, Rosa Courter, Marjorie Gooden, Florence Lee, Helen McIlwaine, Mary Sue Edmonson, Nan Duer, Juanita Smith, Elizabeth Hillsman, Susie Pearl Crocker, Effie Grant, Katie Crider.

Seniors: Jean Clarke, Dot Fischer, Marjorie Nimmo, Ruby Adams, Myra Smith, Lucy Blackwell, Lula Windham, Lucille Richeson, Estelle Mann, Kathryn Newman, Bernice Copley.

Archery Proves to Be Most Popular Sport

Fifty-four girls reported for archery, announced Helen Seward, archery manager, as the result of last week's practice. Archery is held twice a week on the athletic field.

Among those reporting are Nell Hurt, Alice Britt, Cynthia James, Jeanne Haymes, Mary Haymes, Charlotte Persinger, Ruth Loving, Irma Page, Betsy Owen, Terry Buyers, Margie Rice, Stella Harmon, Mary Frances Adams, Ruby Adams, Elizabeth Scales, Buff Gunter, Harriet Ball, Doris Lee, Becky Lowry, Myra Smith, Eleanor Folk, Lula Windham, Nan Duer, Emma Pride Wood, Geneva Brogan, May Winn, Elsie Stossil, Madge McFall, Elizabeth Townsend, Alice Sebert, Katherine Price, Ann Sawyer, Beverly Perkins, Jean Steel, Reba Woodbridge, Sadie Cobb, Polly Clements, Imogen Claytor, Carolyn Rouse, Betty Youngberg, Mary Harvie, Jean Hatton, Bobbi: Tripp, Nancy Naff, Dorothy Childress, Patricia Murray, Rabbit Looney, Winifred Wright, Amy Reed, Irma Graff, Pearl Thompson, Boonie Stephenson, Elizabeth Bernard, Helen Grey, and Jane Hardy.

Golf Pro Will Instruct Here

Lessons in golf under the direction of Mr. Carroll Brown, a professional golfer, are now available to students and faculty at $4.85 for five lessons. Arrangements for the individual lessons are being made by the Athletic Association. Instruction will be given on the Longwood golf course.

Mr. Brown came to Farmville last week from Clifton Forge, Va., where he spent the past summer. He has been teaching golf for eight years, first in Ohio for three years and then during the winter at a country club in Mississippi. Mr. Brown also spends three months of each year participating in tournaments.

Among the students and members of the faculty who have signed up to take golf lessons from Mr. Carol Brown are Mary Prince Arnold, Ellen Bowen, Mae Desaix, Nancy Dupuy, Dorothy Fischer, Nancy Hopkins, Helen Long, Evelyn Lupton, Helen McIlwaine, Essie Millner, Elizabeth Philpotts, Mary Gray Thompson, Nancy Wolfe, Miss Mary Barlow, Miss Olive Iler, Miss Frances Hauck, Miss Adele Hutchinson and Miss Grace Moran.

Come On, Ducks! Let's Quack!

DUCKS! Here's your chance to do your quacking. The big Water Carnival will be October 18, only one week from tonight. Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores are trying hard to breathe forth. Don't hold them back! Everybody knows what Freshmen can do and they don't have to be urged. Just don't disappoint us! The date is October 18.

SHANNON'S
Phone 224

We are happy to have all our friends back

A hearty welcome to the new girls.

Call us for prompt service.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Quality—Price—Service

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

Sports Slants

By "Boo" Barham

Did you know or had you heard—there's a professional golfer, around these parts! He is Mr. Carroll Brown from Roanoke. His being here sounds like a perfectly beautiful opportunity 'cause he's giving lessons out at Longwood. All you gals who have had visions of yourselves breezing around a golf course in par, knowing which club to use, when and what kind of a shot to make at what time, better get busy and sign up for a session. He'll probably be having you playing circles around everybody else in no time. No stuff, now!

Archery is certainly a thriving pastime at this point. About a week ago there were only 26 signed up—which is doing all right;but come last practice there were 54 people shooting arrows around on the hockey field. What is this fatal charm archery possesses? It sounds interesting! Anyhow, we're all for you archerers! May you be a second William Tell, if you can find any trusting soul who will let you shoot apples off her head to prove your worth.

Class hockey games will start in a very short while. You classes, better be getting your cheering sections together. We're counting on a lot of real pep and enthusiasm, and a huge amount of support mentally and vocally for all the teams.

Don't forget that Water Carnival, either. It still promises to be an extra-special one, and it won't be long before October 19 will arrive.

Another nice thought! As soon as it gets cooler, we'll be having "play nights" again—some more of those bridge game playing sessions in the Student Building and Y. W. Lounges. The best eats, too. They're beyond words! And that cheerful note is a good one on which to end!

"What do you do when all the world is gray and gloomy?"
"I deliver the milk."

GIRLS, USE OUR CHARGE ACCTS.

FOR YOUR CONVENIENCE

Farmville's Best Store for

COLLEGE GIRLS

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.

KILKARE

LAUNDERERS—CLEANERS

Phons 193 and 355

FREE DRINK

EVERY DAY SPECIALS FOR

S. T. C. GIRLS

BREAKFAST ONE EGG—BACON TOAST—JELLY BUTTER—COFFEE 15c

SANDWICHES - SODAS - SUNDAES

Chicken Salad	10c	Large Limeade	5
Deviled Egg	10c	Large Lemonade	5
Baked Ham	10c	Chocolate Milk	5
Ham Salad	10c	Pineapple Flip	5
Swiss Cheese	10c	Short Orangeade	5
Pimento Cheese	10c	Tomato Juice	5
American Cheese	10c	Grapefruit Juice	5
Chopped Olive	10c	Chocolate Sundae	10
Tomato and Lettuce	10c	Chocolate Nut Sundae	15
Hamburger	10c	Banana Split	20

HAMBURGER — SPECIAL — TOMATO SALAD SHOESTRING POTATOES HOT ROLLS and BUTTER COFFEE—TEA—MILK 25c

PLATE LUNCH

DELICIOUS TENDERLOIN STEAK —SERVED WITH— SALAD—TWO VEGETABLES HOT ROLLS AND BUTTER COFFEE—TEA—OR MILK 35c

FRIED CHICKEN SLICED

DELICIOUS SLICED OR FRIED CHICKEN —SERVED WITH— SALAD—TWO VEGETABLES HOT ROLLS AND BUTTER COFFEE—TEA—OR MILK 35c

DELICIOUS HOME-MADE PIES 5c

COLLEGE SHOPPE

WHERE SERVICE IS RIGHT AND PRICES ARE LIGHT

FREE DRINK—CLIP THIS ADV. OUT

FREE DRINK—CLIP THIS ADV. OUT

FREE DRINK—CLIP THIS ADV. OUT

Scores Leave School For Many Functions

Opening dances at nearby schools were the top most in social attraction of the past week-end. Scores of others took the advantage of a week-end of comparative non-activity at Farmville to visit their homes and friends.

Present for V. M. I. opening dances last Friday and Saturday were Emily Hoskins, Cottie Radspinner, May Wertz, Jeanne Sears, Elenora Faison, Ora Earnest, Virginia Barksdale, Mary L. Shannon and Sarah Goode.

Doris Bishop, Sara Keesee and Elizabeth Williams attended the dances at the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis.

Harriet Cantrell attended the opening dance of the Roanoke German Club on last Saturday night.

Among those girls in Richmond for the week-end were Lillian German, Charlotte Avery, Anne Bradshaw, Margaret Franklin, Ethel Carr, Martha Cobb, Marguerite Costello, Dorothy Elizabeth Davis, Minnie Cobb, Jeanne Hall, Ada Harris, Winnie Harell, Mary Owens West, Harriett Walker and Martha Cottrell.

Many girls visited in Petersburg. Among them being Charlotte Andrews, Anne Boswell, Alice Marie Coberly, Rosalie Coberly, Margaretta Gerlough, Virginia Richards, Dorothy Robbins Bess Windham, Patsy Smith and Mary Mahone.

Sorority Activities

Mu Omega sorority was entertained at a tea by Mary Jane Jolliffe Martha Meade Hardaway, Helen Reiff, and Yates Carr Sunday afternoon, October 8, in the chapter room.

Miss Leola Wheeler, adviser, Mrs. J H. Whitfield, Adele Hutchinson, Jean Taylor and Margaret Holberton, alumnae, were guests in addition to the active members.

Norma Wood, Mary Katherine Dodson, Augusta Parks, and Helen Wentz entertained Gamma Theta sorority at a tea Sunday, October 8, in the chapter room.

Mary Lily Purdum and Margaret Stallard were present in addition to the active members.

Theta Sigma Upsilon entertained their active members, patrons, and adviser at a tea Tuesday afternoon, October 10, in honor of Miss Helen Draper, a patron who has returned to her place in the faculty after two years of study in France.

Home Economics Girls Entertain at Dinner

The Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Potts, the Rev. and Mrs. Hollingsworth and Miss Bessie Jeter were dinner guests of Anna Maxey, Rosemary Howell and Mildred Harry in the Home Economics department on Tuesday, October 3.

Dorothy Menefee of Roanoke was elected to succeed Katherine Reed as vice-head of Mu Omega sorority on Tuesday, October 3.

Anna George will succeed Dorothy as secretary and Anne Ayers will be historian.

Anna George spent the week-end in Warrenton as the guest of Patsy Fletcher.

Keith Smith and Romonita Ramirez accompanied a party on a tour of Natural Bridge.

Blair Goode, Virginia Polley and Katherine Gray had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Goode of Chase City, Dr. Jarman, Miss Tupper and Miss Jeter, at a dinner in the Home Economics depart-

HOTEL WEYANOKE
Regular Meals
A La Carte Service
Salads & Sandwiches

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop
"From old to new with any shoes"
Only First Class Material used
All Work Guaranteed

LYNN'S
SHEET MUSIC
All the newest Philco Radios
$9.95 up

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY MEATS
AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

NEWBERRY'S
Special
500 SOOTHIE
Facial Tissues
15c

Rose's
5-10-25c Store
ON THE CORNER
500 SHEET
CLEANSING CREAM
15c

COLLEGE SHOPPE
Special breakfast for S. T. C. Girls
1 Egg, Bacon, Toast
Jelly, Butter, Coffee
15c

PHONE
356
SOUTHSIDE
DRUG STORE
For Service to The College

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

Martin the Jeweler
RYTEX FLIGHT
OCTOBER SPECIAL
200 single sheets, 100 envelopes
or
10 0double sheets, 100 envelopes
$1.00

EACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 4 P. M.
EVENINGS AT 8 P. M.
Wed.-Thurs., Oct. 11-12
"Maisie" Sothern
Linda Darnell
Elsa Maxwell's
'Hotel for Women'
"One Against the World"
Friday-Sat., Oct. 13-14
Barbara Stanwyck
William Holden
"Golden Boy"
Cartoon & War Scenes
Next Mon.-Tues., Oct. 16-17
Tyrone Power
Myrna Loy
"THE RAINS CAME"
All Technicolor

BICYCLES
IT'S FUN TO KEEP FIT
25c PER HOUR
303 ST. GEORGE ST.
(Between Epis. Church & Station)

IMPORTED TWEED COATS
MAN TAILORED
Knitting Wool ..... 10c to 69c Hank
Slit Back, Tan, Wine and Black $10.95 & $18.50
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

EVENING AND DANCE DRESSES
PARIS STYLES
You'll adore —individually different. 3 price groups
$9.97 $11.97 $16.45
DOROTHY MAY STORE

... that's always a signal for more smoking pleasure

All around you, you'll see that friendly white package . . . that means more and more smokers everywhere are agreed that Chesterfields are milder and better-tasting . . . for everything you want in a cigarette, CHESTERFIELD WINS

They Satisfy .. MILLIONS

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 18, 1939 | No. 4

Classes Select Circus Queen Nominees

Polley, Gibson, Winn and Smith Will Reign Oct 28

Virginia Polley, senior, Pat Gibson, Junior, May Winn, sophomore, and Jerry Smith, freshman, were elected Oct. 16 to represent their respective classes as circus queen nominees for the annual circus to be held Saturday, Oct. 28, in the gymnasium.

"Polley", from Hollins, Va., is president of Cotillion club, chief fire marshall, and has been an active participant in class work.

Pat from Islip Terrace, N. Y., is vice-president of A. A., sports editor of the Rotunda, and swimming instructor.

Nominee May Winn, of Roanoke, was her class circus representative last year. She, too, is active in class work.

Jerry Smith, of Newport News, is chairman of her class stunt for the approaching circus event.

One of these four nominees will be elected as queen by popular vote, her identity not being known till the crowning on the night of Oct. 28. The other three nominees will be circus princesses. Voting will be at one cent per vote, each student being allowed to cast as many votes as she wishes.

Crowning of the queen takes place after the individual class stunts. Following this, booths and shows will be opened to "roaming spectators".

Last year Army Butterworth reigned as circus queen, and the princesses in her court were Dot Fischer, Caralie Nelson and May Winn.

Orchestra to Make Autumn Debut

Under the direction of Miss Lisbeth Purdom, the college orchestra is planning to make its first appearance in chapel some time the first of November.

Among some of the numbers it is expecting to render are "A German Dance" by Schubert; "Death of Maiden" by Schubert; and a "Minuet". The Freshman class will sing "Tiritomba" accompanied by the orchestra.

Old members of the organization are: Jean Moyer, president; Julia Hutchinson, vice-president; Mary Marshall Prosise, treasurer; Martha Mayton, reporter; Aselta Altomare, Polly Keller, Forrestine Whitaker, Nancy Claire Watkins, Emma Hutchinson, Beatrice Dunton, Annette Grainger, Wilson Grainger, Ashley Fulcher, Will Watkins, Lucy Lancaster, Berkley Le Grand and Katherine Powell. New members are Geraldine Bookner, Gloria Berry, Anne Brooks, Winnie Buchanan and Charlotte Persinger.

Soph Commission Presents Honor Play

"Honor Bright", a play written by Helen Reiff, senior and vice-president of the Y. W., and predicting the future of the S. T. C Honor Code will be presented by the Sophomore Commission Thursday or Friday night of this week.

Members of the cast are Mary Lou Shannon, Mary Katherine Dodson, Lucy Turnbull, Sara Cline, May Wertz, Frances Rosebro, Martha Roberts and May Winn.

The play is preliminary to the signing of the Honor Code. It is to be for Freshmen only and deals with what might happen any day to the typical S. T. C. girl.

GOV. JAMES H. PRICE

Governor Is Here On Inspection Tour

Governor James H. Price of Virginia, accompanied by the Budget Advisory committee and the staff of the Division of the Budget, visited Farmville Monday, Oct. 16 on a budget inspection tour.

This tour is conducted every other year and consists of an inspection of all state institutions. The committee conversed with Dr. J. L. Jarman and other officials and inspected the buildings.

Governor Price came to Farmville from Piedmont Sanitorium at Burkeville and from here he went to the State Colony near Lynchburg. The inspection began Oct. 11, and will continue through Oct. 19.

Library Will Order Eight New Books for Browsing Room Use

Twelve current magazines and eight books have been chosen by popular vote for the Browsing Room of the new library.

Life American, Cosmopolitan, Good Housekeeping, Harpers Bazaar, Ladies Home Journal, McCalls, National Geographic, Reader's Digest, Saturday Evening Post, Time, Vogue are 12 peridicals already ordered.

The eight books selected are "Rebecca" by DuMarier; "All This and Heavene Too" by Rachael Field," "Horse and Buggy Doctor" by Hertchler; "With Malice Toward Some" by Halsey; "Grapes of Wrath" by Steinbeck; "Disputed Passage" by Lloyd Douglas; "The Yearling by Rawlings and "The Rains Came".

These magazines and books will be available within a week or ten days. As the Browsing Room budget increases more books will be ordered.

A system for use of the books will be worked out. Periodicals are not to be removed from the room.

Vote Is Cast on Personalities For Virginian Feature

Student body voted today, October 18, on eight outstanding seniors from a list of fourteen who will be featured in the 1940 "Virginian". The girls on the list are Marie Eason, Martha Meade Hardaway, Dorothy Eades, Helen Reiff, Dorothy Fischer, Johnny Lybrook, Francis Alvis, Isabel Williamson, Jane Powell, Marjorie Nimmo, Doris Chesnut, Lorana Moomaw, Ollie Graham Gilchrist and Anne Billups.

Those chosen will be kept secret until the annual comes out.

Cast of "Dear Brutus" Chosen

Rehearsals have begun for the Fall play, "Dear Brutus" to be given November 17 by the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs. Miss Leola Wheeler is directing.

Miss Leola Wheeler, director of the play, has chosen the cast which includes two veteran actors, Alexander Allison and Bob Engle. Others taking part are Johnny Pancake, Jerry Smith, eKith Eubank, Tedo Savage, Sara Currie, Peggy Bellus, Jane McGinnis, Dot Eades, and Peggy Watkins.

Lex Allison will take the part of gardener, who is the unknown quality in this comedy.

Bob Engle as John Purdue will again be the "line shooter" and a habitual philanderer who is not to be trusted. His long suffering wife will be ployed by aJne McGinnis.

The "sot" in love with a wife who has not use for him will be taken by Johnny Pancake, Sara Currie enacting the part of the hardened wife. Jerry Smith, another newcomer, has the part of Margaret Dearth, their daughter.

The amiable and absent-minded old man of the cast is Mr. Goode. This part will be taken by a newcomer, Tedo Savage. His sympathetic wife, who developes a limp to please her husband, is Dot Eades. Ladq Caroline is portrayed by Peggy Watkins, and Keith Eubank will take the part of Matey, the author who leans toward petty theiving.

Peggy Bellus carries out the love interest as Jonnna Trout, who believes everything Purdie tells her.

In collaboration with the play, all the departments of the Dramatic Club are beginning plans for the production.

Debate Club Will Try Girls for Membership

Tryouts for membership in the Debate Club will be held Tuesday, October 24, at 4:30 P. M. in the small auditorium. This announcement was made by Marie Allen, president of the club. All girls interested may try. The topic for the tryout is, "Resolved, That the United States should sell goods to foreign countries on a cash and carry basis only."

Freshmen Officers Elected; Betsy Jennings Is President

(Left to right) Lillian Agnew, Betsy Jennings, Dickie Lybrook, Betty Boutchard, Charlotte Phillips, (seated) Robin Hening.

Lybrook, Agnew, Phillips, Boutchard Are Other Officers

Betsy Jennings, from Roanoke, was elected president of the Freshman class at their meeting, Tuesday, October 11. Other officers are Dickie Lybrook, vice-president; Lillian Agnew, secretary; Charlotte Philips, treasurer; and Betty Boutchard and Robin Hening, representatives to student government.

Betsy, who attended Jefferson High, was editor of the Latin paper, representative to the student council her sophomore and junior years, and a member of the honor society.

Lillian, who is from Burkeville, was editor of the annual for two years, in the honor society, and co-valedictorian for her class.

Charlotte, of Onancock, was secretary of her class for two years and manager of the basketball and softball teams.

At White Plains, New York, Robin was vice president of her sophomre class, and treasurer of her junior year. She was also a cheer leader for three years.

Betty, representative to student government was third honor student in high school, a member of the honor society, and served as a representative to student government her freshman and sophomore years.

Helen, freshman member of the Student Standards Committee, was president of the Girl Reserves at Jefferson in Roanoke, and representative to the student council her junior year.

Rosalie, who will also serve on Student Standards, was president of her class for three years and manager of the basket ball team.

Ruth Lee Purdum, president of the Junior class, presided at the Freshman class meetings until the president was elected.

Dr. Harper Speaks On T. B. Treatment

Dr. E. C. Harper, director of tubercular treatment for the State Health department, urged all girls to cooperate with hte department in the drive to bring the x-ray to Farmville in an effort to locate and check early tuberculosis. The address was made during the chapel hour, Tuesday, October 17, in callaboration with the announcement by Dr. Martin at individual class meetings that the drive was under way.

These x-rays, to be taken probably in November, will not only show signs of tuberculosis, but also of the heart and other luns lesions, at the cost of one dollar each person.

Though it is comparatively new in Virginia, last year eight thousand people received the benefit of this x-ray. It has been used in schools, college, industrial plants and mental hospitals, all to great advantages. In several instances, the disease has been cured within half a year after the discovery of it was made. Since the rate of the number of cases in women between the ages of 15-28 is comparatively high, all girls are asked to support this drive and guard against the spreading of the disease.

Cotillion Club Admits Old Girls

Thirty-seven upper classmen were voted into Cotillion Club on Monday, October 16. These will be "goats" for the fall dance and will be formally initiated during "goat week" in the spring.

New members are Gerry Askiss, Jackie Allen, Peggy Allen, Anne Ayers, Faye Brandon, Anne Boswell, Hazelwood Burbank, Marguerite Costello, Sarah Cline, Rosa Courter, Libby Carter, Doris Chesnut, Dottie Chapman, Dot Fischer, Lillian German, Pat Gibson, Eleanor Hutchinson.

Virginia Howell, Madge Horne, Mattie Jolly, Dorothy Johnson, Gene Hardy Kelman, Helen Long, Mildred Ligon, Jean Moyer, Aggie Mann, Lucrece Niomeyer, Augusta Parks, Dot Robbins, Clyde Saunders, Dibby Shelbourne, Helen Travis, Lillian Wahab, Libby West Mary Owens West, Anne Williams and Annabel Wescott.

Calendar of Events

Oct. 16-18 Rat Week
19 Water Carnival
25 Dr. Judd in chapel
Nov. 11 Fall Cotillion
17 Fall Play
21 Lyceum
23 Thanksgiving Day

Oh, How an Organ Would Add to Chapel

Oh, it's an organ! Where are the pipes? There aren't any? Electricity? Buttons to push and pull? Really! Isn't it amazing?

Be still—do listen to the loveliness. We could sing hymns all day to that. Please, Santa Claus, bring it to us now.

Let's have more. What do you want—classic or catchy? Anything, just so 'tis rhythm. Thanks —"Sunrise Serenade". Listen to 'em hum. 'The Whistler and His Day"; Sounds like a whole orchestra.

Now can you feel the hush and reverence? The holiness of Schubert's "Ave Maria". Sense everyone's response—hear the reluctant sigh now that it's over—and think of chapel everyday with such an addition—an organ—to the service.

Home Ec Girls Have Plenty of Domesticity "Oomph"

House of Tomorrow

House of Tomorrow, eh? You say it is? Well, all right! Guess I'll walk right by those four milk bottles and go see these modern maidens.

Oh, what a lovely entrance hall —beautiful furniture and soft lights. Makes me homesick—no less! Anybody home? You-ooo Hoooo! AAh, an answer . . . follow my nose to the kitchen! What a drool deserving odor. Here we are!

Hi, Gerry Hatcher and Rosemary Howell, too, how are you? What a heavenly cullnary hang out. That stove! Streamlined, lights in the oven, clocks and thermometers on top. Heavens, and what a refrigerator. You could keep Ferdinand in there as well as a good deal of his cork tree for garnishing. And look at our cupboards all around the modern kitchen. Such oomph.

Well, to get down to things—tell me all. Who's here? What you do, and how? Why and how much? Josie Lee Cogsdale, Kitty Watkins and Olivia Stephenson here too, huh? Who cooks? Oh Rosemary is cook now, with Gerry as waitress, Olivia as hostess. That's nice. Now what do you do! My word! Do you rise at six A. M. eh . . . breakfast, seven-fifteen and then wash dishes and clean up and hope to class? How do you manage all those extra duties such as homework!

Now wait, let me get that. You drew names first to see who should be cook or waitress and so on. The duties last from Saturday morning till Friday night, and everything is done personally by you all and on a budget. Now do tell, you have money left over? Well "it's not what'cha do, but the way how-cha do"—I always say.

Who puts the milk bottles out? Hostess? And she must see that everyone's in bed, that no meals fall, the budget isn't broken, and that everything runs smoothly. Gracious—such mental energy. Each hostess is allowed two guests a week and you had Olivia's brothers the other night? Did the dinner up proud and haughty too! Tsch!

What's the hardest thing to do? I mean, besides getting up . . . oh, lugging groceries home? Four people—nearly die—well do tell! And washing dishes and the kitchen floor—Gee, I always felt I wasn't domestic. Even so, it sounds nice—and that food smells fine. Oh, it's vegetable soup? What do you mean, "Would I?" Ah, bliss—pass the crackers, please . . . . thanks. Now, this is something ultra. Tell me more. Oh, so. Mr. French drops in for Sunday breakfast, eh? I can see his point . . . nice going. What else happens on Sunday? The less the betters? Oh, "Day of Rest"? Pardon, I hadn't heard. This wonderful soup . . . . I'm practically oozing gratitude.

What's that noise? Doing the 'Frisco upstairs? So frivolity enters at this point! What about classes? When do you learn to

Continued on Page 3

Management Relay

Sigma Pi Rho Bids Six Latin Students

Roberta Latture, Carolyn F. Ford, Earnestine Meacham, Caralie Nelson, Emma Hutchinson and Evelyn Burford received bids to Sigma Pi Rho, national honor fraternity in Latin, on Friday, October 13.

Programs of the fatternity for this year will be the study of Roman life and background and the publishing of "The Tributum", national Sigma Pi Rho publication which is edited on the campus

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant—Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Caills, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickral, Janelle Shelor, and Lucy Turnbull.

Business Staff

Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell
Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Coralie Nelson, Frances Pope. Simmons, and Kathryn Watkins.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd and Jean Upshur.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1939

May Your Power Increase

Teacher training is the core of our activity. Our college has never relinquished its view in that regard.

In line with this policy one might comment on each of the departments in school, all of which offer a varied course for teacher training work. Each may receive special mention and elaboration in a later issue.

Let us, however, observe first a round-up of our music department—music which is, whether or not our particular talent, a universal delight and enjoyment.

This year seven units of choral activity most of which are entirely in the hands of student directors, are in motion. We hear of the College Choir, Choral Club, Senior and Junior a capella choirs, and the Senior, Intermediate and Junior choirs. These groups have been organized to broaden the field of student participation and to render each such experience as may be deemed advisable. Opportunity to direct publicly, thus filling the function of a teachers college, will be given these students.

It is the constant aim of the music department and other groups to have ready when called upon units that will fit into our college life. After all, is that not the duty of any group—to so organize itself as to be ever ready for service and usefulness?

Support Your School in All Its Functions

This week-end and next two of the main events of the year will take place. Water Carnival and Circus. They are fetes anticipated for weeks previous to their fulfillment and looked back upon with equal delight.

For some time now class chairmen and committees have been using their minds and energies planning and attempting to prepare events that will bring real satisfaction. Without their leadership such functions could not take place. But they need followers—helpers. Each of us belongs to a class. Don't we owe it and our leaders our cooperation?

If you are not a mermaid or have not yet shown your talent for tomorrow night's aqua skit, then that's off your calendar of participation for this year. But—there's a circus to come in just ten days. And there's a place for every single one of us. Get busy; show your spirit as a loyal helper.

Your Student Standards

You Freshmen have heard of Student Standards Committee before, but to straighten it out in your minds, we'll tell you again what it is, what it goes and who belongs to it.

Students Standards is composed of the major officers in the school—the presidents of the Student Body, Y. W. C. A., A. A., House Council, the editors of the Rotunda, Virginian and Colonade; two representatives from each class, the senior class president, and six faculty members. It meets once a month in the Student Council room and discusses all problems that cannot be settled by individuals or individual organizations in the school. It discusses and carries out, if possible, any suggestions for improving school life or school activity. In short, it is the clearing house of the school—the go-between for the student body, faculty and administration.

Such problems as the present telephone system, dating conditions, regulation of the library clock with the bells, general improvements, and Freshmen's coming two days before upper classmen in the fall, are now before the body. Committees are working out the best possible solutions.

In regard to places for dating—Miss Mary has given us permission for the Seniors to use the reception rooms in the new Senior building for dating if we can work out a way to have a chaperone for this building. That would give the Juniors the old Senior parlor, and the Sophomores the old Junior parlor. Freshmen would then have enough "sitting" room in the "rec".

Enforcement of the point system is another job. This applies more to upper classmen than Freshmen. Students Standards must check up on the number of points a girl is carrying and remind her to keep her activities in check.

One could go on telling about all the little duties and workings of the committee, but you're really interested and want to know you'll come out to the OPEN STUDENT STANDARDS MEETING Thursday, November 2. We really hope you will, because, after all, you're just as responsible for improving and holding up the standards of this, our Alma Mater, as we are!

Yours truly,
S. S. Committee

First Co-ed—You simply have to hand it to Alfred.
Second Co-ed—Why?
First Co-ed—Oh, he's so shy and bashful. —Cornell Widow

This Collegiate World

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

We knew it would happen—but we'd hoped it wouldn't. The gulping season has been officially and dramatically opened for another college year—and watch out for your laurels, you "winners" of last year!

First entry in the 1939-40 derby is Frankiin and Marshall College's Jimmy Addy, a frosh from Pittsburgh. For a mere 50-cent piece (or stunts last year), he calmly (they were getting ten dollar bills swallowed a shaker-full of pepper—and then not quite so calmly sneezed a mighty sneeze.

Camp Depression residents at University of North Dakota believe in elections that hurt the feelings of no one. After electing their president last week, they elected every remaining one of the organization's 36 members a vice-president. But, so the vice-presidents wouldn't have to do anything, the president was made secretary and treasurer too!

Incidentally, Camp Depression is housed in seven freight train abooses—so you might say they're being railroaded into an education.

In the Miami University chemistry laboratory there is a special shower for use when students' clothes catch fire during experiments.

The Campus Crumb is the name of a lunch service managed by Haverford College students.

Eight students of Little Rock Junior College are earning their college expenses by operating a peanut butter plant.

It would take one person 141 years to complete all of the courses offered by the University of Texas

Of the 1,500 different types of position for which the U. S. civil service commission offers examinations, only approximately 200 require a college degree or its equivalent.

New York City's four municipal colleges enroll more than 52,000 students yearly.

This year's college and university enrollment in the U. S. totals approximately 1,400,000.

Exactly 260 colleges and universities are participating in the pilot training program of the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

The libraries of U. S. institutions of higher learning contain more than 62,000,000 bound volumes.

During the 1938-39 school year, 200 colleges created some 300 scholarships for foreign refugees.

Twelve special students have been selected to take every course offered at Oglethorpe University. It'll take each one six years to complete the task.

A special course in the Russian language and literature has been added to the Cornell University curriculum.

WHAT IS THE AIM OF EDUCATION?

The student says BOOKS.
The scholar says KNOWLEDGE.
The preacher says CHARACTER
The minister says SERVICE.
The philosopher says TRUTH.
The artist says BEAUTY.
The epicurean says HAPPINESS.
The stoic says SELF-CONTROL
The democrat says GOVERNMENT.
The statesman says COOPERATION
The ruler says LOYALTY.
The patriot says PATRIOTISM.
The sage says WISDOM.
The youth says ACHIEVEMENT
The soldier says COURAGE.
BUT GOD SAYS LIFE.

Education is a better safeguard of liberty than a standing army. —Edward Everett.

Echoes from an Empty Space

After the ball was over and we were nearly dead,
We recorded all exciting events before jumping into bed.

Dear Diary, Pan Hels were grand,
You really should have heard the band
Oh, yes! Helen Travis was taken for a star,
But, the little lad saw her from afar.
Bill Gibson, with his smooth ole line,
Was doing his best to make some time.
And how about this, Diary, dear,
Frances Dudley, Barbara White and 'Sugar" Young—formed a triangle—so-o-o—we heard.
Little Helen Gray as she watched the game,
Had scads of interest in the W. M. fame.
Oh! We're so-o-o-o-o tired and ever so cold,
If we stop rhyming you won't scold—Will you?

Esther Atkinson and Bess Windham had date trouble. We hope they got it all straightened out. We'll tell you a secret if you promise not to tell. Lena Butterworth, after going to the trouble of dressing in formals, didn't appear on the scene Saturday night—Could something have happened or was it planned?—Now, Diary, can you tell us why the Hardy chil' wasn't with Susie Harris? (Who is she, Hardy?). . . . Diary, don't you think, since this was dance week-end that we should give a few flowers to certain people like: . . . "Doc" Lawson, 'cause he went stag . . . to Helen Lewis for dating Meter, 'cause it's always a problem . . . Bill Lashley for turning on his wonderful personality, or maybe Edna Harris would rather say, "Thanks for the peep into Heaven." . . . to Rudd for reminding us of last year's romance . . . to Dot Robbins for those posies which she received from "Doc"—nice picking . . . to Cottie Radspinner for looking so demure and pretty with Pat . . . Ho Hum! enough flowers . . . Here we'd like to make a suggestion. If Ann Williams must hear the other games and see H.-S. C. play, Henry should get a radio—Yes!—. We sincerely hope that all those girls who went to the dances at V. P. I. and University of Va. had a wonderful time and from all resports we gather they did. Here's to many more just like them! . . . . Lastly, we must mention the celebrities who were present on our campus this week-end besides U. of Richmond: Wicks, Mimi, Tony, Alpha Lee, Clara, and Fran; but, we'd like to know if they will ever grow up; now we realize that crashing dances is loads of fun—but its naughty! . . . . Good-nite, Diary, our eyes are almost shu..

Thank You, Alumna

Dear Editor,

Your editorial on Our Chapel Services was the cause of this outburst, and just as one daughter "true, faithful and loyal" to another, I, too, think chapel is something to be proud of!

An interested alumna

I am glad that in my heart
Are memories of chapel set apart-
For there are songs I can't forget
And faces of friends I treasure Yet.
Freshmen so eager, Sophomores so wise,
Loyal Juniors, to Freshmen a prize--
Seniors marching down the aisle-
Dr. Jarman's famous smile-
The light that comes from his eyes of blue
With the depth of his love and faith shining through--
The faculty to guide us with visions bright
As we pledge to serve our blue and white--
"All hail, Alma Mater" in voice clear--
Yes, these are memories I hold dear...
And I am glad that for you
There will be chapel memories, too,
the Sophomore Commission Thur

Tell me not in care-free numbers,
Freshman life is but a dream,
For the rat will flunk that slumbers,
Exams are harder than they seem

What Others Say

The gum chewing girl
And the cud chewing cow
Are somewhat alike
Yet different somehow.
What difference?
Oh, yes, I see it now.
It's the thoughtful look
In the face of the cow.
—Exchange

When a girl is a pill, most boys prefer to take a powder.

"Jane wasn't at all angry when you suggested she reduce her hips."

"Of course not, a word to the wide is sufficient."

The flapper co-ed went up to the young Prof and said, "Proffy dear, what are my marks?"

He put his arm around her and whispered sweet little nothings in her ear.

—Colgate Banter

The absent-minded professor that we would like to meet is the fellow who would lecture to his steak and cut his classes.

GLEANINGS

By MARY MAHONE

Home from the Sea

"Up New York Bay last week steamed the liner Iroquois, bringing 577 passengers and 211 crew, all Americans. Sent to evacuate Americans caught in war-torn Europe, she had had a troubled ten-day passage home. An Atlantic storm buffeted her. She was marked for torpedoing, so Grand Admiral Erich Raeder of the German Navy had warned, by British and French war vessels. (The Allies denied the admiral's story.) A convoy of two destroyers and a coast guard cutter accompanied her from mid-Atlantic to New York."

The above paragraph is from the Sunday New York Times. Let us seriously consider the incident of the Iroquois with open minds. Since approximately ninety per cent of America is pro-British in its sympathy, our first reaction is to scorn such an idea, to put it down as German propaganda. But wait—if the Iroquois had been torpedoed, America would have blamed the Germans. We might even have been "fighting" mad. If we had declared war on Germany, who would have profited? Not Germany. Britain and France are the countries desperately in need of American support. Not only do they need it, but they feel that it is their due and will stop at nothing to bring America into the war on the Allies' side.

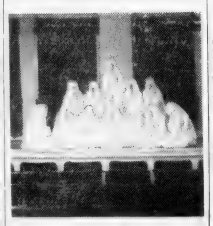
Notice also the case of the Athenia, for which the Germans blamed the British and vice versa. No protest was made to Germany. If the Americans who investigated the Athenian incident were satisfied that Germany was to blame, why did America make no demand for an apology at least. All this tends to substantiate Germany's claim that she was just doing America a friendly act and that there were actually plans of the Allies to destroy the Iroquois in the hope of drawing America into war on their side. If we accept Germany's story and believe that the Allies were frightened off by the fact that America was warned, what are the results? We feel a little less friendly toward the Allies and a little more trustful toward Germany. However, the Iroquois was not molested. If the idea originated in Germany to warn us and thus make us distrust the Allies, this is indeed a smooth piece of propaganda on Germany's part.

Now try to make sense out of the Iroquois incident and see where it gets you.

Let us dally for the moment with the idea of peace. To begin, let us earnestly pray that America will be able to remain neutral. Not only because of the usual humanitarian reasons, but because, no matter who wins, at the war's end, all the warring nations will be so depleted that it will take many years for them to gain their prewar prestige. They will sink to second rate powers, leaving America the greatest power in the world with an excellent opportunity for cornering the world market, with unlimited opportunities for trade. Such a position would pull us out of the long series of depressions and recessions through which we are still struggling as a direct result of the last World War. Close your ears to propaganda and remember that he who makes the same mistake twice is a fool.

But, you say, if we don't make sure that Hitler is conquered now, he will invade America.

Think twice and you'll see that such an idea is fostered by British propaganda and is utterly absurd. Barring the possibility of invasion, we are told we should fight to keep Hitler from making England and France a part of Germany. To go into why we have to be nursemaid to France and England would start a great controversy. It is sufficient to note that a man skillful enough at the conference table to beat both England and France is bound to realize that the French and English are not Teutonic. Germany, by trying to assimilate two such alien nations, would merely weaken herself to such an extent as to bring about her downfall from the inside. On the whole, to let Hitler capture England and France might be the best way to defeat him in the long run.



300 Rats Will Shiver At Lordly Soph Cemetery

Thirteen formless figures will reign in sheets by candlelight in the auditorium on the stroke of 9:30 on the night of October 19.

What will be the destiny of 300 rats? Time alone will tell. Each step takes them nearer and nearer and nearer—yet to the end every rat deserves. At the fatal hour, when the mighty Sophomores will wield the sepulcher of power over the most insignificant, woe be unto the freshman who is late or fails to wear white.

Let this be a warning to the lowest of all. Do you know why "kitchen sinks, toe nails and eye balls? Can you diagnose a book case, and can you sing a bank note? Rats take heed—who knows who those 13 draped mysteries are, and what they have planned for the enjoyment of all? Time alone will tell—.

Freshmen, Beware!

As ghosts will reign

Oh, Beauteous Incidents In Life of Freshmen

Through the mist of a dozen damp wash cloths, over the rubber sculptored skulls of the groveling fledgelings, and despite the unearthly torment of scores of "rubber rats (get yours at Newberry's) life keeps on giving out on the upbeat. But here's where the five cools my tortured ones, and the slow, straight stuff comes on.

Were you one of those cute things who yawned at a soph so loud your voice fell out? Were you the pure-bred lily who skipped lunch Tuesday? Or were you the one who sent her laundry out and had no wash rag? Well, when you lived to brag about it, chum, you also lived to perpetuate the triumph of the Sophs. You lived for Big Rat Court. Did you really think that that little blue book that girl started writing in after her seance with you was for addresses? Really, now! You bit half of it—she got yours, you can bet. Yes, and then the upperclassman you snooted when she gave you her "welcome" smile—do you think she'll forget it as easily as you?

There are cures for such as you—and there are a few white-robed gavel-swingers who've the low down on 'em. And they're tired of waiting to try 'em out too, so get ready to take it.

The world awaits. And it's no use to stumble and quake when your name is called—they're out to make good sports of you if it takes the hard way to do it. So be good—and pick up your feet when you go to Court. The judges don't like people falling around amid their dar-r-rk, gloomy, drippy privacy. So look both ways—walk with care!

Dramatic Group to Give Play Tonight

Acting group of the Dramatic Club will give a one-act play "The Minuet" by Louis N. Parker tonight at 7:15 in the large auditorium before the entire Dramatic Club.

The cast of the play which deals with the French Revolution is composed only of old members of the Dramatic Club. Frances Rosebro will play the part of the Marquis; Virginia Barksdale, the Marshioness; and Allene Overbey, the jailor.

This is the first in a series of one-act plays to be put on by the acting group this year.

Mr. "Mac" Sets Forth Plan To Save $1 on "Virginian"

Here's your chance to plan ahead for the winter social life, friends. It's this way. The annual is sponsoring a dance in January with snazzy music and everything, so keep it in mind, saving your best date and such. And another thing. You probably have heard that rumor about price reduction on the "Virginian" or have you? Well, here's the question Mr. "Mac" sets forth regarding that important little item called "expense". Why don't at least 700 of you girls buy annuals so that we can have 'em for $4 each? Yes, we'll write you a refund check if you subscribe the full $5. Come on now, it's up to you." Pretty good food for thought, what?

Vogue's Contest Open to Seniors

New York, Oct. 10—The fifth Prix de Paris an annual career competition for college seniors sponsored by Vogue Magazine, has created unusual interest throughout the country, due to the increased number of career prizes and a broadening of the scope of the contest to include feature writing as well as fashion reporting.

Vogue's Prix de Paris offers eight major awards, instead of two, as in the past. This year, there will be three career prizes, including a special Vanity Fair writing award, five cash prizes, and Honourable Mentions. First prize is one year's employment with Vogue, six months to be spent in Vogue's New York office, six months in Paris, if world conditions permit; otherwise, the full period of one year will be spent in New York. Second prize is six months as a feature writer on Vogue's New York staff. In addition, Vogue will purchase five of the best theses submitted. Honourable Mentions will be awarded to other outstanding contestants, and winners of these awards will be put in touch with leading firms throughout the country. Of the 50 leading entrants in the four previous contests, 35 are today following careers in writing, fashion and merchandising.

In announcing the contest, Edna Woolman Chase, editor of Vogue, said: "Our purpose in sponsoring the Prix de Paris contest is to discover college girls with the ability to write and a flair for fashion—and to open the door to these young women who want a reporting, advertising or merchandising."

Headlines of Yesteryear

Oct. 14, 1936
Johnny Lybrook and Elizabeth Harris are Joint Circus Queens
Freshmen Choose Powell President
Rats Furnish Entertainment
John Erskine on Campus

Oct. 13, 1937
Freshmen Elect Purdom President
Alpha Kappa Gamma Taps
Circus Plans Underway
Dr. Jarman on Convention

Oct. 12, 1938
Anne Shirley Elected Freshman Leader
Rats Bow Before Sophomores
"Outward Bound" to be Fall Play

Here for Service

Rev. George Gunn of Norfolk and Bishop Hugo Blankenship of Cuba spoke at the Episcopal Church, Tuesday night, October 17, concerning the amount to be raised for this year's church budget for the Southern Virginia Diocese.

Rev. Mr. Gunn is chairman of the committee. Bishop Blankenship spoke on the methods of raising funds in Cuba and the formulating of a budget. He also explained the work of his churches and the mission studies and aids.

Mardi Gras Is Set for February 13

Marguerite Costello Is Chairman of Arrangements

Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary fraternity in social sciences, has announced Tuesday, February 13, as the date set for Mardi Gras. This is to be one of the outstanding social functions of the winter quarter and is an annual affair.

Marguerite Costello is chairman of the committee on arrangements. Working with her are Shirley Stephens, Martha Jane Flanagan, Elizabeth Kent and Helen Jeffries. Various sub committees will be appointed at a later date.

Mardi Gras is a fancy dress ball well attended by the town and county population and alumnae, as well as the student body. A queen and court with their escorts are featured at that time.

Home Ec Girls Have Domesticity "Oomph"

Continued from Page 1

cook? House meetings, eh? Learn lots of other things, I'll bet. You have a class over here—in that luxury of a living room? When? (I move we mutiny!) I think I'd better go back to my hole in the wall before I get class conscious. Thanks a lot for the refreshments—and the low down on domesticity. And please come and see me some time, when you feel like slumming, that is. Bye now!

Daffynition of Male of Specie

Man is what women marry. It has two feet, two hands, and sometimes two wives; but never more than one shirt or one idea at the same time. Like Turkish cigarettes men are all the same material, the only difference is that some are better disguised than others. Generally speaking, they may be divided into three classes: husbands, bachelors, and widowers. An eligible bachelor is a mass of obstinacy entirely surrounded by suspicion.

Husbands are of three varieties, prizes, surprises, and consolation prizes. Making a husband from a man is one of the highest plastic arts known to civilization. It requires science, sculpture, common sense, faith and charity—mostly charity. It is a physiological marvel that a soft, tender, fluffy, violet-scented thing like a woman should enjoy kissing a big, awkward, and stubby-chinned, tobacco smelling and bay rum-scented thing like a man.

If you flatter a man, it frightens him to death. If you don't, you bore him to death. If you permit him to make love to you, he tires of you in the end; and if you don't, you soon cease to interest him. If you argue with him in everything, you soon cease to charm him. If you believe all he tells you, he thinks you are a fool, and if you don't he thinks you are a cynic.

If you wear gay colors and rouge and startling hats, he hesitates to take you out. If you wear a brown hat and tailor-made coat, he takes you out and stares all evening at a woman in gay colors and startling hat and rouge. If you join him in his gayeties and approve of his smoking and urge him to have fun, he will swear you are driving him to the devil. If you are the clinging vine type, he will doubt if you have any brains. If you are a modern, broad, advanced, and the independent type, he will doubt if you have a heart. If you are silly, he longs for a bright mate.

If you are brilliant, he longs for a playmate; if you are popular with other men, he is jealous; if you are not, he hesitates to marry a wallflower.

Gosh darn men, anyway—The pop-eyed bipeds. —The Log

December 6 Is Date Of Junior Production

December 6 has been selected as the date for the Junior Production, Ruth Lea Purdum, president of the class announced at the meeting last night, October 17.

Committees have not been selected for the production, but they will be announced at a later date. No ideas or plans concerning the event have been revealed.

Quartette Will Sing

First in a series of chapel programs sponsored by the music department will be rendered on Friday, Oct. 27, when the Junior Quartette and Laura Nell Crawley, soloist, will be featured. An outline of the department's program for the year will be announced at a later date.

Roy Hicks to Play For Fall Dances

Orchestra Selected For Senior and Cotillion Events

Roy Hicks will play for Fall Cotillion on November 11 and for Senior Dance on December 2, Essie Millner, music chairman for both organizations, annnounced October 17 after meetings of the Cotillion Club and Senior class.

Roy Hicks and his Virginians have just returned from a tour of the largest Southern beaches and has played at Farmville dances before, as well as at Randolph- Macon College, University of Richmond, Hampden-Sydney, Madison College, William and Mary, and other known schools.

Last year most of his orchestra appeared in "Tubby" Oliver's Swing Concerts which were given in the S. T. C. auditorium, at which time the programs were broadcast.

Decorations for Cotillion will be arranged by the fall "goats" under the direction of a chairman appointed by Virginia Polley, the president. No fall goat may take a date and each old member of the club may obtain one date ticket and one girl ticket other than her own. Last year each was allowed two guest tickets, but the change was made after number for membership was increased.

Senior dance chairman is Elizabeth Kent, but to date no other committees have been organized.

OUR SERVICE IS UNEXCELLED

TO THE COLLEGE

PHONE 356

A COMPLETE SUPPLY

Box and Bar Candy -- Fresh Nuts

Writing Paper -- School Accessories

Tear Out This Coupon—It Is Worth 10c To You

THIS COUPON
PLUS 15c ENTITLES YOU TO OUR
HAMBURGER SPECIAL
PLATE LUNCH

EXTRA LARGE HAMBURGER — SHOE STRING POTATOES
SLICED TOMATOES — LETTUCE HOME-MADE BREAD
COFFEE—TEA OR MILK

Tear Out This Coupon—It Is Worth 10c To You

Soda Fountain Specials

H.-S. C. SPECIAL SUNDAE	10c	LIMEADES	5c
S. T. C. SPECIAL SUNDAE	10c	ALL KINDS OF ICE CREAM	5c
HOT CHOCOLATE (with cakes)	10c	3 DECKER CLUB SANDWICHES (Special to S. T. C. girls only)	20c
HOT FUDGE SUNDAE	10c

Southside Drug Store

Honor Group Bids New Members

Society Sets Forth Year's Work Plan

Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education has issued bids to twenty-five girls, namely, Lois Barbee, Alice Leigh Barham, Jean Clark, Thelma Courtney, Patsy Fletcher, Frances Walmsley Gee, Ollie Graham Gilchrist, Dorothy Maxine Hawks, Elizabeth Kent, Mary Hille McCoy, Jennie Means, Lorana Moomaw, Jean Moyer, Caralie Nelson, Frances Pope, Ruth Lea Purdum, Helen Reiff, Dorothy Rollins, Marion Shelton, Perrye Smith, Virginia Louise Smith, Mary Glenn Taylor, Jean Watts, Elizabeth West and Martha Whelchel.

The society has also announced its tentative program for the year 1939-1940—Nov. 6—French Education; Dec. 7—Initiation and Dinner; Jan. 11—History of Kappa Delta Pi; Feb. 8—Business Meeting; March 28—Reports from Convention; April 11—Discussion of Articles in "Education Forum"; and May 9—Open Meeting. The speakers for the various meetings will be announced at a later date.

Kappa Delta Pi was organized as a result of a need felt by the faculty and students for an organization in recognition of scholarship, character and service. The society proposes not only to recognize the ability of those students who have attained the highest intellectual achievements and shown an outstanding interest in the field of education and to encourage the maintenance of higher professional and scholastic standards, but also to contribute by definite forms of service to the intellectual and social life of the college.

Only those students of full junior standing whose grades are within the upper quartile are eligible for membership.

State Baptists Meet in Capital

Thirteen of College Attend Convention

The State-Wide Baptist Student Union held its annual convention at the First Baptist church, Richmond, Va., October 13-15 Baptist students from all colleges in Virginia were present. Those representing Farmville were Marion Harden, Caralie Nelson, Frances Hudgins, Ellen Hudgins, Carolyn Boothe, Olivia Stephenson, Eleanor Boothe, Virginia Watts, Mary Louise Holland, Josie Lee Cogsdale, Frances Raiford, Jean Hall, and Miss Elizabeth Grady.

The convention opened with a banquet on Friday night. The welcome address was made by Dr. F. B. Boatwright, president of Richmond University. The response was made by Marion Harden, president of Farmville's B. S. U. The keynote of the conference was "Above All Christ". Caralie Nelson was made second vice-president of the state-wide Baptist Student Union organization.

Fumi Wakayama, Alumna, Longs for Return to America

The following is a letter which Dr. J. L. Jarman received recently from Fumi Wakayama, a Japanese girl who attended S. T. C. in the years VICF-VTCR.

Fumi is now at her home in Tokyo, Japan.

Dear Dr. Jarman:

I am very sorry for my long silence, but I have thought often of you and many other friends of S. T. C. who were nice to me when I was there with them.

How I wish I could come back to your school and finish the last two years! My memories of two years of S. T. C. life make me anxious to cross the Pacific once more. But it seems impossible for my dream to come true again so soon. Maybe some day I will be beyond the ocean and be with you at my dear S. T. C.

Our world is in great confusion now, and peace seems far away. The war between China and Japan is not over yet. But please remember there are those even in Japan, who are praying for peace. We have to "keep on hoping" as you have often taught us. Another few words of yours I remember are "Be the best of whatever you are." I am trying to be what you taught me to be.

Now I am helping at my high school teaching English, sewing and type-writing. All these I learned at Farmville. I know I don't know enough to teach, but since I am hoping to study more in the U. S. some day, I am doing my best at present.

This is the tenth anniversary of our school "Keisen" and we are planning a big celebration on November 3. I wish you could be here to enjoy it. Many plans to raise money for our school are being made. I hope they will be successful.

My S. T. C. friends have told me that the school has added a new dormitory and library. Congratulations! Too bad I can't see them.

I think I must stop now. Please remember me to the teachers I know.

I hope you are well and happy.

Sincerely yours,
Fumi Wakayama

Home Economics Girls Hostesses at Formal Dinner

Rev. and Mrs. H. Lee Scott and the Rev. and Mrs. A. Campbell Tucker and Miss Bessie Jeter were guests of Olivia Stephenson, Josie Lee Cogsdale and Elizabeth Le Grande at dinner in the Home Economics practice house on Tuesday, Oct. 10. The hostess used marigolds and gold candles to carry out the color scheme.

Geraldine Hatcher and Kathryn Watkins entertained Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McCorkle, Miss Edna Bolick, Miss Bessie Jeter and Mr. Raymond French at dinner in the Home Economics practice house on Friday, Oct. 13. Yellow chrysanthemums and yellow candles carried out the color scheme.

Prominent speakers present were Dr. Frank Leavell, state-wide student secretary; Dr. John L. Hill, Dr. Samuel Lindsay, Dr. Merril Moore, and Dr. Theodore Adams, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Richmond.

Church Observes Student Night

Student night was observed at the Methodist Church Sunday night, October 15, with the students in charge of the service.

Worship service was conducted by Mildred Harry, who introduced Dr. J. E. Walmsley, adviser to the young peoples department, who spoke on "A challenge to Christian Young People Today."

Following Dr. Walmsley's talk, Dot Eades, former president of the group installed in a candle light service the new officers of the Wesleyan Foundation who are: Elizabeth Ann Parker, president; Marjorie Holt, vice president; Evelyn Burford, secretary; Faye Brandon, treasurer; Mildred Harry, worship chairman; Allene Overbey and Mary Katherine Dodson, recreation co-chairmen; Gene Hardy Kilman, church attendance chairman; Lillian German and Lillian Wahab, publicity co-chairmen; Dot Eades and Charlotte Gresham, ex-officio members.

Pi Kappa Delta Gets National Query Word

Pi Kappa Delta debate question for 1939-1940, with the final official wording arranged by the national committee has been announced to the Virginia Alpha Chapter at Farmville. The question, as it now stands, reads "Resolved that the United States should follow a policy of strict (economic and military) isolation toward all nations outside the Western Hemisphere engaged in armed international or civil conflict."

Other questions considered by the committee were, "Resolved, that legislation should be enacted providing for conscription of the wealth in time of war", "Socialized Medicine", and "Election of the President by direct vote."

This timely question will be used by the forensic clubs of the nation throughout the entire school year.

If Cold Weather Comes, Should Heat Be Far Behind

Ouch! It's cold. I'm freezing—well—are you, too? Say, whats' the matter around here? Why don't we have any heat? Looks like I'll have to go start the furnace myself. Nobody else seems to be attending to things around here. Hello, Ann! How are you? Cold? "Et tu Brute!" And me—Lister, my fingers C-R-A-C-K when I bend them. Bye now!

Well, here's Dr. Simkins room. Maybe that's warm. Usually I feel like barbecue when I get out. Brr-r who put up those windows? Now, I ask you—who thinks this is Florida? Just when I'm freezing, somone opens all the windows in the only warm room in the whole school. I can't stand this—I'm leaving. Someone answer for me, will you? Aw-w-w he'll let us go. Nope. I can tell by the way he shuts the door. Well, I'll write to mother for some more blankets—wait, I know what I'll do. As soon as this class is over—if it ever is over—I'll run to my room and put on my new knee-length socks—and my two new sweaters I haven't worn yet—and—and my new fur coat! I told mother I needed it. And then—watch me get warm!

Hollingsworth-Greene

Helen Greene of Staunton was married to Dwight Frederick Hollingsworth on July 1 at the Mt. Carmel Presbyterian church. Helen, who was graduated in June, '39, was in charge of the costumes for May Day last year and a member of Theta Sigma Upsilon.

Dowdy-Dudley

The weddinz of Lorraine Dudley of Rocky Mount to Clarence D Dowdy of Raines took place on September 16 in Stoddart. Lorraine was a member of the class of '42.

College class: Jean Moyer, president; Doris Chestnut, vice president; Racher Kibler, secretary; Libby West, treasurer.

Town Group: Virginia Simmons, president; George Newman, vice president; Juanita Carson, secretary and treasurer.

The senior quartette of the college choir sang "Gloria Patri" as an offertory during the service.

Farmville S. T. C. Graduates Are Among Autumn Brides

Burrell-Jackson

Jane Jackson, valedictorian of last June's two year class was married to James Alvin Burrell of Danville Saturday, September 30.

Jane was a member of Alpha Phi Sigma and Orchesis.

Bowles-Billups

Elizabeth Billups of Matthews was married to Dr. Richard Bowles of Deltaville in the Episcopal Chapel at Matthews Saturday, September 30.

Elizabeth was a member of the freshman class last year and a member of Pi Kappa Sigma and the debate club.

The couple will live in Deltaville.

Duval-Jones

Ruth Jones and Clyde Duval, both of Farmville were married on Saturday, September 30.

Ruth was a freshman here last year, a member of Pi Kappa Sigma and the orchestra.

Wood-Buckland

Dorothy Buckland of the class of '39, was married to Melvin Wood in St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Roanoke, Saturday, September 30.

Dot was treasurer of the student body here during her junior and senior years and a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, Pi Gamma Mu, and of Pi Kappa Sigma social sorority.

Yes—Sir—e—e—We've got 'em—Tweed Reversible

COATS

Specially priced for the S. T. C. girls All sizes and colors $9.95

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Appreciates your Patronage

COME IN—MEET—

Marie Carte, Dorothy May's New Mgr.

Get acquainted—Let her help you with your college needs—Just recived all colors in Sloppy Joe's sweaters.

DOROTHY MAY STORE

KILKARE

LAUNDERERS—CLEANERS

Phones 193 and 355

HOTEL WEYANOKE

Regular Meals

A La Carte Service

Salads & Sandwiches

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System

Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop

"From old to new with any shoes"

Only First Class Material used

All Work Guaranteed

ANKLETS

... COLLEGE GIRLS

... Prefer ANKLETS FOR THE COLD WINTER DAYS.

We offer the newest in style and color.

Anklets to match all Skirts and Sweaters

SPECIAL 25c

DAVIDSON'S

With Respect to -- With Malice Toward Some

By Bernice Copley

Time 8:30 A. M.; place classroom on the campus of S. T. C.; circumstances lecture period. Now that you have the preliminaries, I can go on with this account.

Somewhat restless, I decided to take a look around the room, if for no other reason, to get some idea of the reaction of the rest of the class. After that one glance, it was an impossibility to get my attention back to what a somewhat pedantic professor was expatiating. Watching facial expressions and unconscious gestures proved far the more interesting. About four rows back a slight turn of the head brought this into view—slouched a nodding femme. Ah, but her very lack of anything kin to spontaneity aroused within me a strong desire to lead her off somewhere to a quiet place where she could sleep without so much effort. Evidently immune to such an influence, a girl next to her held her head about half way down to the desk and was writing furiously in a mad attempt to write down every word that fell from the professor's lips. Did I grin? It was all I could do to keep from showing too much evidence of my amusement at such a sharp contrast.

For a brief second I dutifully glanced back to the "headmaster" but almost at the same instant I couldn't help absolutely glaring at that poor soul that made little attempt to get her mouth gracefully closed at the apex of a gigantic yawn. How good that too obvious gesture must have made the knowing professor feel!

Some other skillful damoiselle was trying to write a letter ("what food for thought"), or was she taking notes on stationery! Another was playing tit-tat-toe with a neighbor. A bit encouraging, perhaps, was the "scholar" on the front row whose head was cocked at a "yes—go on!" angle. Over a few feet away sat a lassie with her head forward and chin cupped nonchalantly in her hand. Most likely, I concluded, she was one of those creatures who try to look interested and intelligent but who actually have not a thought within a mile of her feeble brain. At least such attentiveness impresses some of them.

I trust that this bit of malice has not been too much of a shock to our professors. Perhaps they have long ago closeted any such fond hopes of reining in such distracting elements, and they too, fine secret amusement at these age-old characteristic phases of class-room behavior.

Twenty Girls Will Compose Season's Hockey Squad

Coach and Manager Pick Players From Practice Group

Twenty girls have been chosen by Miss Olive T. Iler and Marjorie Nimmo, manager of hockey, to compose the varsity hockey squad for this season. The girls selected are Ruby Adams, Elizabeth Barlow, Crews Borden, Nancy Dupuy, Mary Sue Edmundson, Dorothy Fischer, Hallie Hillsman, Elizabeth Hillsman, Chlotilde Jarman, Dorothy Johnson, Anna Brown Jones, Sara Keesee, Florence Lee, Estelle Mann, Helen McIlwaine, Katherine Newman, Marjorie Nimmo, Ella Marsh Pilkinton, Myra Smith and Harriet Walker.

Class team captains were elected on Tuesday afternoon, October 17. Sara Keesee will captain the seniors and Helen McIlwaine, the juniors. The sophomores and freshmen will be lead by Dorothy Johnson and Hallie Hillsman respectively.

Ella Marsh Pilkinton has been selected as assistant manager of hockey to work with Marjorie Nimmo.

Hockey games will be scheduled with various schools throughout the fall. The first one will be played in the first or second week of November.

Miss Iler Entertains A. A. Council at Picnic

Miss Olive Iler of the physical education department entertained the Athletic Council with a picnic supper at Longwood on Monday, October 9. The supper was followed by the weekly meeting of the council.

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!

Electric Appliance Co.

Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY MEATS AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK BUILDING MATERIALS

NEWBERRY'S

Here is where you can get your HALLOWE'EN PARTY MASKS, WIGS, COSTUMES, AND NOISE MAKERS

New Pro Praises Facilities of Farmville Golf Course

Golf Instructor

Mr. Carroll Brown

By Sudie Dunton and Boo Barham

We sat on the edge of our chairs—wondering. Would he be tall, dark and handsome, or short, blonde and freckle faced! We heard footsteps on the stairs and then we knew! Mr. Carroll Brown, Farmville's new golf pro, is a combination of the two—tall, blonde and handsome.

"Hello, girls," Mr. Brown greeted us cordially. "Shall we go over here where we can talk?" We followed him and our interview with the new pro began.

"I don't think the girls at school would be interested in hearing about me," laughed Mr. Brown. "Let's start on golf instead."

We interrupted him hurriedly to tell him that the girls would be most interested to hear something of his work as a pro.

"Well", he began, "for the past eight years I have been teaching golf. First I was in Columbus, Ohio at a country club, and since then I've spent my winter seasons in Mississippi. Last summer I went to Clifton Forge, Va. for the first time to teach golf."

We asked him if he played in tournaments very often, and he replied that he played only once or twice a year since he found it hard to teach satisfactorily and play in tournaments, too. However he has played in the Ohio State tournaments and several other national matches.

"But that's certainly too much about me—let's get down to the girls and the opportunities they have for golf here", said the golfer smilingly. "Sixteen girls are already taking lessons and fifteen more will begin this week. I've found quite a bit of talent here. We're trying to organize a golf team to represent the school in the state matches, and, of course, we'll have tournaments between the classes and week-end matches between individuals."

Mr. Brown went on to say that he hoped the only girls taking lessons but others who are interested would come out to Longwood and use the facilities available. Balls, clubs, and caddies are at their disposal. He mentioned that he, along with the faculty members, would be delighted to help in providing transportation for the students.

"And you don't have to go out to Longwood to play either," he remarked. "We're planning to arrange to have an indoor golf school in the gym where you can play games that will teach you something about the fundamentals of golf.

"Farmville has an opportunity which will make the school well known. The golf course will be put in first rate condition, and your college is one of the very few schools that has a course and a pro available."

We left, completely charmed by Mr. Brown's graciousness, his enthusiasm for golf, and his interest in our school.

Archery Equipment Is Available at All Times

"There will be an Archery target left on the A. A. field at all times for those girls who have used the equipment before," announced Helen Seward, instructor of archery. This target may be used at any time during the day. Bows and arrows may be found in the hall-way between the locker room and the athletic field.

Archery practices will be held on Tuesday at four-thirty and Thursday at three-fifteen. These practices have been arranged so that every girl will be able to get in enough practices for the tournament which is scheduled for November 16.

No Riding This Winter

Miss Bessie Dowdy, who was riding instructor last year, has announced that riding won't be given until next spring. Due to the late start and coming cold weather, it was impossible to obtain horses for the winter.

Sports Slants

By BOO BARHAM

Hooray for our side! The Old Dominion certainly was a shining light in football this past week-end! Did you know that not a single Virginia college lost a game? That's right! Our neighbor Hampden-Sydney beat Guilford 32 to 0, too! Several colleges tied. Washington & Lee tied Southwestern 7 to 7, V. P. I. and William and Mary came to a standstill at 6 to 6, and Richmond and Rutgers reached a deadlock 6 to 6—they didn't win anything but they didn't lose either. University was victorious over Maryland, V. M. I over Vanderbilt and Randolph-Macon over American University. It certainly sounds fine for our colleges. We hope they keep up the good work.

To get back to Farmville—It's getting nearer and nearer October 19—There's excitement and fun in the air 'cause—guess why? The Water Carnival is on then. Of course everybody better reserve Thursday night 'cause you can't afford to miss the big doings. Mark it with red on your calendar; it's something SPECIAL!

We've certainly had the cold weather for the past few days. Now all we need are the Play Nights. Everybody hold her breath and wish hard for nice cold breezy weather so we can have those play nights because it looks as if it's getting warm again. And play nights are loads of fun.

Well, all those 54 girls who went out for archery are going to have a chance to prove a thing or two about their aptness and kinship to Sir Robin of Sherwood Forest. Helen Seward has announced that a tournament will start on November 16. Shoot straight, girls.

Come the first of November, Farmville will start its Varsity Hockey program of intercollegiate games for the season. We're looking forward to it, 'cause it certainly brings a lot of excitment. Here's to the team.

Water Festival Chairmen

Peggy Hughes, Harriett Walker, Marie Dix, Rosa Courter, Myra Smith.

In This Corner

Ladies and—ladies—we are just waiting for the contestants now to bring you another exciting review of this all important battle of the year—the fight for Campus Champ of 1939-40.

The time is 3:55 of a Thursday afternoon; the place is the Hockey Field. But, Hockey is not competing this week, for it has surpassed the other contestants and is holding its own far out in front.

However, long after the Hockey season is over, other interests will be eligible for the spotlight, and they are fighting hard for it—but wait—who are the week's contestants. Ah, I almost forget to tell you—

In this corner, on my right is none other than the Archery Target resplendent in its multi-colored striped robe and bearing the scars of many well-spent practice hours.

The two glare across the room at each other for a split second as the 4 o'clock bell clangs forth—the fans peer from their rooms and what do you say we get an in and out view this time, so it's in the pool for us, and just in the nick of time, for—whoa — we're being swamped—yep—Water Carnival practice has really pulled the pool back into the running this week for with four classes preparing skits, close to 40 fans a day have braved that slippery slanting entrance to the cooling waters beyond.

Now hurry before it's too late—for that out view of Cupid-followers as they pace off the distance from the target.

Say—this looks like Hockey practice, look at thos femmes who want to learn the art of shooting arrows instead of lines. My, my! And 'tis said there're 54 of 'em! Cupid is the winnah—The fight is over until next week I leave you with—"Love will find a way."

Tennis Courts Not Prepared Till Spring

Shirley Stevens, manager of tennis has announced that the tennis courts will probably not be repaired this fall. However, girls are permitted to play on the old courts if they choose. The new courts will be ready for use in the early spring, at which time the week-end and class tournaments will commence.

Announcement

General hockey practice will be held every afternoon from 3:00 to 4:30 on the hockey field.

Notice

There will be no regular archery practice on Thursday October19.

SPORTS CALENDAR

Monday

3:00-4:00—Hockey
4:00-5:30—Swimming
3:00-6:00—Golf (Longwood)

Tuesday

3:00-4:00—Hockey
4:30-5:30—Archery
3:00-6:00—Golf (Longwood)

Wednesday

3:00-4:00—Hockey
3:00-6:00—Golf

Thursday

3:00-4:00—Hockey
3:15-4:30—Archery
3:00-6:00—Golf
8:00—Water Carnival

Friday

3:00-6:00—Golf

Saturday

3:00-6:00—Golf
8:00-9:30 p. m.—Pool open

Farmville Will Have Riding Tournament October 20

Thousands of people are expected in Farmville the afternoon of Friday, October 20, to see the greatest riding tournament ever held in Southside Virginia, in which modern Virginia knights, armed with steel-tipped lances will compete for the right of naming a "queen of love and beauty".

Cash prizes of $125, plus 52 additional prizes in valuable merchandise, will add to the keenness of the competition.

Beginning at nine o'clock on the night of the tournament and lasting until after midnight, the Coronation Ball will be held in the Farmville Armory where two orchestras will provide the music and the queen will be crowned. Hampden-Sydney students will be permitted to escort S. T. C. dates to the dance.

The tournament will be held at the Farmville Baseball Park, otherwise known as Wilck's Field, starting shortly after 1 o'clock in the afternoon. It is under the sponsorship of the Farmville Lion's Club.

A big parade will wend its way down Main Street at 1 o'clock, leading to the field of the tournament. Tickets of admission to the tournament will be sold at the gate at 35 cents each.

Rat Cap Ceremony Takes Place Friday

Freshmen will be crowned with rat caps by the sophomores, Friday, October 20, at 7:30 in the gymnasium.

If the Freshmen do not win in the hockey tournament against the Sophomores, they have to wear their caps until Christmas. If victorious they may doff them after the game.

Notice

Deadline for material for the Colonnade is November 15. Put your material in the Colonnade box beneath the A. A. bulletin board now.

Water Carnival Staged for Pool Tomorrow 8 P. M.

Each Class Will Give Skit; Winner Gets Color Points

Thursday night, October 19, at 8:00 P. M., the annual Water Carnival will be staged in the college pool.

Each class is anticipating a more perfected program than in previous years.

Chairmen of the various class entertainments have announced the participants of their respective stunts.

Peggy Hughes, a sophomore, is in charge of the Freshman event. Those taking part are Frances Mallory, Ellen Ebel, Louise Wilson, Bobby Tripp, Jeanne Sears, Ann Covington, Florence Andrews, Alice Seebert, Helen Lewis, May Bartlett, Elizabeth Bowen, Frances Parham, Shirley Turner, Betty Youngbird, Ann Ellett, Gwen Edwards and Jean Hatten.

Harriet Walker and Mickey Beck have announced the following girls participating in the Sophomore portion of the program, Buff Hunter, Peggy Hughes, Clyde Saunders, Charelda Chapman, May Wertz, May Win, Allene Overbey, Mickey Beck, Harriet Walker, Mary Katherine Dodson, Irma Graff, Beegee Townsend, Mary Owens West and Peggy Bellus.

Twentythree juniors, coached by Rosa Courter, are striving for green and white in the Water Carnival. The participants are Dot Crumley, Carolyn Ford, Ann Lee Gardner, Evelyn Lupton, Forrestine Whitaker, Helen Seward, Nan Duer, Helen McIlwaine, Elizabeth Petticrew, Mary Sue Edmundson, Virginia Howell, Rosa Courter, Patricia Gibson, Anne and Jack Cock, Elizabeth Hillsman, Anne Cocks, Boonie Stevenson, Ann Rucker, Anne Blaten, Ruth Lea Purdom, Liggie Ellett.

Senior swimmers headed by Myra Smith, are Marge Nimmo, Dot Fischer, Mildred Harry, Jean Clarke, Helen Jeffers, Isabelle Williamson, Lula Windham, Sara Keesee, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marie Dix, Keith Smith and Jean Watts.

BICYCLES

IT'S FUN TO KEEP FIT
25c PER HOUR
303 ST. GEORGE ST.
(Between Epis. Church & Station)

SHANNON'S

For a tasty, wholesome breakfast

See our new stationery. Select your favorite color for that special person.

Phone 224 We Deliver

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

COLLEGE SHOPPE

Have you tried our special breakfast for S. T. C. Girls?

ONE EGG, BACON, TOAST & COFFEE
15c
WE DELIVER
PHONE 200

Martin the Jeweler

RYTEX FLIGHT

OCTOBER SPECIAL

200 single sheets, 100 envelopes
or
10 doubble sheets, 100 envelopes

$1.00

Farmville Has Large Delegation To H.-S. Pan Hels

Hampden-Sydney Pan Hellenic dances were held last week-end with music by Dee Peterson, Friday night, Oct. 13, and Bob Riley and his Virginians playing Saturday night, Oct. 14. S. T. C. girls and their dates attending were: Jacquelin Allen, Frank Stafford; Betty Mae Ayres, Doug Venable; Martha Baldwin, Miles Sharpley; Betty Barnes, Jimmie Elliott; Mary Klare Beck, Tom T. Atkinson; Elizabeth Bowman, Eddie Walcott; Betsy Briggs, Whitton Morse; Lena Butterworth, Phil Strader; Josephine Canada, Billy Baskervill; Blanche Carper, Charlie Nottingham; Rosalie Coberly, Tommy Brooks; Marguerite Costello, Bobby Schultz; Anne Covington, Alan White; Emma Louise Crowgey, Charlie Graham; Nette Davis, Sam Purviance; Dorothy Dawley, Gordon Willis; Nan Duer Arch Bynum; Anne Easley, Sydnor Walden; Blair Goode, Bob Dabney; Sarah Massie Goode, Dick Hall; Helen Gray, Edward Kilby; Nina Lee Hall, Johnny Gibson, Jr.; Ruth Handley, Gursie Dodd; Jac Hardy, Joe Manson; Mary Harvie, Ed Davis; Betty Hawkins, Booty Shelton; Kay Horsley, Frank Booker; Louise Huff, Harvy Austin; Polly Hughes, Marshall Doswell; Grace Hutcheson, P. T. Atkinson; Rebecca Jones, Johnny Foucher; Sara Keesee, Tom Ford; Polly Keller, Tom Combellick; Sarah Lawson, Frank Heidelback; Eloise Layman, John Dunlap; Helen Lewis, Jesse Van Meter; Ruth Loving, Richard Sydnor; Theodosia Mackenzie, Charles Graham; Nancy Maclay, John Harrison; Mary Mahone, Josh Thurman; Augusta Parks, Quillen Keith; Ruby Mae Parsons, Bill Comstock; Agnes Patterson, Charlie Varn; Betty Perry, Alex Jones; Agnes Pickral, J. D. Ridgeway, Jr.; Frances Pritchett, Sam Lippincott; Catherine Radspinner, Lester Dillard; Dorothy Robbins, Doc Richards; Jane Saunders, Elmo Berry; Jean Scott, Billy Spong; Helen Seward, Emmett Hay; Jean Shulchum, Caleb Winslow; Patsy Smith, Austin McCabe; Katherine Spencer, Ned Crawley; Helen Travis, Edwin Vaden; Lucy Tucker, Clarence Orgain; Lillian Turner, Buddy Murdock; Julia Watson, Willard Craft; May Wertz, John Dennis; Martha Whelchel Craighill Burkes; Barbara White, Horace Davis; Margaret Whitfield, T. C. Bowen, Virginia Whitfield, D. Y. Keith; Anne Williams, Henry Wiseman; Bess Windham, Bobby Trice; Lula Windham, Tyler Taylor; Marian Worsham, Walter Sprye; Helen Watts, Cary Thompson; Esther Atkinson, Harold Hinkle; Dotty Chapman, Walter Cobbs; Sarah Goode, Dick Hill; Edna Harris, Bill Lashley, Madge Horne, Robert Taylor; Frances Mallory, Spencer Barrow; Virginia Rudd, Doc Gouldin; Jerry Smith, Donald Baer; Martha Smith, Phil Straighter.

Week-end Notes

Another week-end has rolled past and quite an eventful one from the viewpoint of a social news reporter. One look at that file box in the home office on Sunday afternoon was enough to floor even the most energetic transcriber.

Anyone would have thought the game at Hampden-Sydney would have subsided any rivaling elsewhere but not so.

The old saying, "There's something about a uniform" held true so girls trapped the lucky fraternals at the V. P. I. hop this week-end. Those wearing the glad rags were Peggy Williams and her guest Marjorie Nimmo, Sara Cline, Martha Cottrell, Rosa Coulter, Margaret Franklin, Nancy Bondurant, Betty Lucy, Essie Milner, Jeanne Pratt, Anne Lee Gardner, Roberta Grigg, Mary Prince Arnold, Florence Andrews and Jeanne Sears.

W. and L. also borrowed some of our fair damsels to waltz "Willie" around again. Prom trotters were Virginia Rudd, Ora Earnest, Margaret Mish, Alice Seebert and "Liggie" Ellet.

On the line of scrimmage at the Virginia-Maryland game in Charlottesville were Betty Lee Downing, Gloria Berry, Georgianna Heelmance, Elsye Berry Yates, Mary Kathrine Zehmer, Jerry Ackiss, Martha Smith, Shirley Stevens and Yates Carr and her guests Mary Jane Joliffe, Jane Rosenberger and Martha Meade Hardaway.

Dot Fischer, Pat Gibson and Emil Ellis were seen warming the benches at the V. P. I.-William and Mary game in Richmond.

Surprise—! Don't tell me these S. T. C. girls don't get around for Virginia Barksdale, Alilene Overbey and Betty Peerman saw the sidewalks of old New York and the World's Fair this week-end.

A bit on the serious side was the B. S. U. convention at Richmond attended by Caralie Nelson, Frances Rainford, Olivia Stephenson, Carolyn Booth, Eleanor Booth, Virignia Watts, Mary Louise Holland, Ellen and Frances Hudgins, Jean Addisno Hall and Marion Harden.

Roberta Latture also went to Richmond—not to the game, not to the convention, not to a dance, but to the wedding of alumna Fran Dickinson.

And speaking of alumnae, our campus was brightened by Sarah Button, Isabell Plummer, Madeline McGlothlin, Beverly Blair, Billie Lewis, Ann Leake, Frances Hutcheson, Marjorie Wicks, Alpha Lee Garnett, Louise Anthony, Mary Joyner Cox, Mimi Perdue and Ann Dugger.

Rutr Lea Purdom killed two birds with two stones when she visited her parents in Danville for the week-end and attended the German Club dance.

Yes sir—proms were definitely the attraction and Betty Sexton even went out of state to two-step at Raleigh, North Carolina.

Oodles and oodles, depressed by nostalgia, thronged the bus terminals and train stations with but one thought in mind, "Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."

Left-overs Enjoy Delightful Week-end of Dorm Activities

By Snoopin' Sue

Every week a column is devoted to the girls who go away for the week-end. This week Snoopin' Sue takes pleasure in unveiling those Saturday night hangouts and such.

A. C. E. was hostess to the members of the student body (with ten cents) at breakfast in Cunningham Hall dinette Sunday morning from 9:30 to 10:30. Lula Power had as her house guest over the week-end Yvonne Cheape of Gym Hall. Miss Cheape is beginning her second year at Farmville.

The Cock Twins entertained with a "hula" party in honor of their overnight guests Louise Phillips and Caroline Ferguson of Gym Hall and Anna Johnson of 23 Cunningham. Others present were Liz Garrett, Thelma Courtney, Florence Lee, her house guest Fiddle Haynes and Marie Allen, Jean Moyer and Dotty Rollins.

Betsy Moore and Judy Barnes spent the night with Bridgett Cantile, Miriam Jester, Ann Holland and Nell Pritchard.

Lucy Turnbull moved from D Main to Frances Alvis' room in Cunningham Hall for the night ending Sunday morning.

Mary Lou Sterrett found her way from 161 Gym to Cunningham and Sally Dunlap and thence to bed.

Second floor Senior Dorm entertained at breakfast, dinner and supper in pajamas on Sunday.

Ever heard of a sparkler party? Well there was one. It's that well known 2nd floor Cunningham with Nancy Moss, "Izzy" Williamson, "Tee" Bowen, Essie Millner, Virginia Lee Pettis, Jane Powell, "Liza" Wise, Sarah Boothe, Jane Hardy, Louise Allen, Sara Keesee Lula Windham and Mrs. Warren celebrating Virginia Polley's "Now I'm a Man" birthday. That dinette was gee-orgus with blue-checked cloth and red dahlias. And did those "sparkler's spark!"

Sorority News

Virginia Polley, Jane Powell, Jane Hardy, Lula Windham and Sara Keesee entertained Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority at a supper in the chapter room Sunday night, October 15. Active members and pledges were invited.

Pi Kaps entertained Mrs. Clyde Duvall, formerly Ruth Jones, with a shower Thursday night, October 12, in the chapter room. Ruth was a freshman at S. T. C. last year and a member of Pi Kappa Sigma.

Miss Olive Iler, faculty adviser was also present.

Lillian German, Elizabeth Ann Parker and Harriette Walker were hostesses to the Mu Omegas Sunday, October 15, at a tea in the chapter room. Miss Leola Wheeler, faculty adviser, Misses Adele Hutchinson and Beverly Blair, alumnae, Mrs. Louise Fitzpatrick, patroness and Jimmy Henkle were guests besides the regular members.

Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority members and pledges attended a tea in the chapter room on Sunday afternoon, October 8.

EACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 4 P. M.
EVENINGS AT 8 P. M.
Wed.-Thurs., Oct. 18-19
JOEL McCREA
ANDREA LEEDS
JASCHA HEIFETZ
They Shall Have Music
"Story That Couldn't Be Printed"
Friday-Sat., Oct. 20-21
PRISCILLA LANE
JOHN GARFIELD
"Dust Be My Destiny"
"Slapsie Maxie" Comedy
Latest WAR SCENES
Next Mon.-Tues., Oct. 23-24
RICHARD GREENE
Brenda Joyce, Richard Dix
'HERE I AM A STRANGER'

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Quality—Price—Service

NOTICE
ALL THIS WEEK AND NEXT
GENUINE Duchess
The Oil Treated Permanent —a $10 value for only $6.45
* Other Permanents $2.50 up
BALDWIN'S BEAUTY SHOP

Rose's
5-10-25c Store
ON THE CORNER
HALLOWE'EN CANDIES AND FAVORS
PHONE
356
SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
For Service to The College
Ruby Adams, Agent

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

Chesterfield's
RIGHT COMBINATION
of the world's best cigarette tobaccos brings out the best features of each
All the fine American and Turkish tobaccos in Chesterfield's famous blend are known for some particular smoking quality... and the way Chesterfield combines these fine tobaccos is why you get a milder, better-tasting smoke with a more pleasing aroma.
That is why, when you try them we believe you'll say...
They Satisfy
PERC WESTMORE
ANN SHERIDAN
PERC WESTMORE, make-up expert for Warner Bros. says it takes the right combination of color, line and contour to bring out the best features of all stars. Here you see him with glamorous ANN SHERIDAN who is currently starring in "THE ANGELS WASH THEIR FACES" a Warner Bros. picture
Chesterfield CIGARETTES LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO. CHESTERFIELD
for your pleasure... The Right Combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos
Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

VOLUME XIX — FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 25, 1939 — File No.—7773 — No. 5

Dr. Walter Judd Is Chapel Speaker on Chinese Missions

Lecturer Returns From Orient to Make Tour

Dr. Walter H. Judd, Congressional missionary to China, lectured on his experiences in the mission field when he appeared before the student body at chapel today, October 25.

Dr. Judd is being sponsored by the Methodist church for a series of lectures to take place within the next two weeks. He has recently returned from ten years of distinguished medical service in China, and is now on a speaking tour throughout the country at which time he is making Farmville one stopping place in Virginia.

DR. WALTER JUDD

Rotunda Heads Attend Press Meet

Frances Alvis and Lucy Blackwell, editor and business manager, respectively, of The Rotunda, left by train yesterday, October 24, for Des Moines, Iowa, where they will attend the eighteenth annual convention of the Associated Collegiate Press Association. The convention headquarters will be in the Hotel Fort Des Moines. Drake University will be convention host.

The three-day program, which lasts from October 26—October 28 features nationally famous leaders of professional and collegiate journalism. Gardner Cowles, Jr., president of the Look magazine and of the Iowa Broadcasting Company, will speak at the opening convocation. J. N. "Ding" Darling, national syndicated cartoonist, will be banquet speaker. Governor George Wilson of Iowa, the mayor of Des Moines, and the president of Drake University will address the delegates at various times.

Round-table discussions on journalistic techniques, addresses, tours, and entertainment features are also a part of the program.

Apprentices Will Give "If the Shoe Pinches"

"If the Shoe Pinches," a one-act comedy by Babette Hughs, will be presented by the apprentices to the acting group of the Dramatic Club, tonight, at 7:15, in the large auditorium.

Cast includes Mrs. Pell, Baylis Kunz; Laura, Anne Bradshaw; Doctor, Betty Mae Tyler; Princess Frances Parham.

The play which is a light, modern-day comedy is the first in a series of plays put on by the apprentices to the acting group. The play last week was given by club members.

Chlotilde Jarman Is Monogram Club Head

Chlotilde Jarman was elected president of the Monogram Club on Friday, October 20. Other officers are Ruby Adams, vice-president, and Helen Jeffries, secretary- treasurer.

Bids for membership have been issued to-night to Myra Smith, Helen McIlwaine, Jean Clark, Helen Seward, Shirley Stephens, Sara Keesee, and Sue Owen.

Five-mile hikes will begin on Saturday, November 4, under the leadership of members of the club. Anyone who wishes may go on these hikes which start from the Rotunda at 2 o'clock.

Monogram Club recognizes girls who are interested and cooperative in the activities of the Athletic Association.

Hanya Holm Dance Group to Be Here

Place First Lyceum For Monday, Nov. 6

Hanya Holm, modern dance artist, and her group of ten dancers will present a recital, the first lyceum number this year, in the auditorium, November 6, at 8:00 o'clock p. m.

The program will include the types of fundamental dance movement, group designs, and 12 short dances emphasizing the significance of space in dance. "Metropolitan Daily", an interpretation of a newspaper showing the different sections, was one of the numbers on the artist's program given at Farmville last year.

Hanya Holm started on a musical career as a young girl in Frankfurt-am-Main but discovered that her interest lay in the combination of music and movement. She received her diploma and taught at Frankfurt and Hellerau.

After a year's study as one of the original students of Mary Wigwam she was apointed assistant instructor. As assistant di-

Continued on Page 3

X-ray Information

1. Time—Oct. 30th and early A. M. of Oct. 31st.
2. Place—Little auditorium
3. Go first to shower room.
4. Wear skirt and blouse or sweater.
5. Remember your appointment time and be prompt.
6. You may sign up any afternoon this week at table across from Town Girl's room.
7. No girl will be given a health certificate for teaching by Dr. Martin unless she has had recent negative X-ray. Sophomores and seniors take notice.

Annual S. T. C. Circus Will Be Staged In Gymnasium Saturday, October 29

Eliza Wise Is Head Chairman for Alpha Kappa Gamma Plan

The Circus, an annual event at S. T. C. sponsored by Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honor fraternity for leadership among young women, will be held Saturday, October 28, at eight o'clock in the gymnasium. Admission for students will be ten cents and for others 15 cents.

Working with Eliza Wise, general chairman and director of the circus, are Jane Hardy, Rosa Courter, Elizabeth Wilkinson and Anna Maxey.

Each class will participate by presenting an act. The freshman class skit under the direction of Jerry Smith will feature the origin of dance from the days of Indians to the present day. Edna Harris is chairman of the sophomore stunt, a circus of the "gay nineties". A "Junior Circus" will be the Junior act, with Florence Lee as chairman. The senior class will enact an age old family feud between Pappy's children and the Nortons. Ollie Gilchrist is chairman for the senior skit. A prize of $2.50 will be given to the class presenting the best stunt. Isabel Williamson is general head of the circus stunts.

Jerry Smith, May Winn, Pat Gibson and Virginia Polley are freshman, sophomore, junior and senior nominees, respectively, for Circus Queen. Eliza Wise, general chairman and Martha Meade

Continued on Page 3

Most anything can happen—when Circus comes to S. T. C.

Stunts, Coronation, Parade, All Are Part of Event

Ladies and gentlemen! This week-end we bring to you the most gigantic, the most collossal, the most stupendous event of the year. We bring stunts, animals, peanuts, popcorn, pink lemonade, chewing gum, and last, but not least, a Queen. Of what? Of the S. T. C. Circus.

Who is she? Well, folks, we can't tell that now. What's more, we can't tell until Saturday night. It might be Virginia Polley, Pat Gibson, May Winn or Jerry Smith.

But whether there be one queen, two queens, three queens or four queens, depending on the number of pennies in your pig-bank, we know for sure that you are all so humming with curiosity, that when the crucial moment arrives next Saturday night, you're gonna want to be right there when this history making episode takes place. Yes sir, you'll be a regular Johnny-on-the-spot to clap hardest when they dust off the old crown and regal robes.

But that's not all folks. Don't go 'way. There's more and more and more. We're gonna have side shows, music, dancing, fortune telling, besides those swell individual class stunts everyone's been working on, plus! Can't wait to see that brimming-over talent.

What is it that always goes along with a circus? "You know. A par— Aw, C'mon. Hush students don't give it away." Always goes along with a circus. What's that? That's right! That's right! You guessed it. A parade! Yes sir, folks, we're gonna have a parade, Saturday afternoon and it's gonna leave Student Building at 2:30 P. M. and go right down Main street. You certainly don't want to miss that.

Now before you go, ladies and gentlemen, there's just one more thing. I'd better tell you. The color cup gets dragged in on the Circus, too; and I'm just positive

Continued on Page 3

Miss Camper Will Attend Convention

Miss Pauline Camper, of the department of Education, will attend the bi-annual National convention of the Women's Professional Pan-hellenic Association to be held in Washington, D. C. at the Wardman Park Hotel, October 26, 27 and 28. Miss Camper will represent the National Council of Sigma Sigma Sigma.

Program of activities at the convention includes the banquet, on Friday evening, at which Dorothy Canfield Fisher will be guest speaker. On Saturday, at the Employment Round Table Luncheon the work of the association's bureau of information on employment will be discussed. The Inter-Pan-Hellenic forum will be held on Sunday, when representatives of 44 educational professional sororities, 23 social sororities and one honor society for leadership, will be present. The theme of the forum will be "Campus Problems and Sorority Relations". Miss Camper, who is a member of executive committee of the association will speak at the forum on "Sororities in State Teachers Colleges".

Dr. W. D. Bowman Publishes Book

Dr Warren D. Bowman, who was a member of S. T. C. faculty at Farmville, Virginia for seven years, has sent the library a complimentary copy of his book, "Home Builders of Tomorrow."

"Forming Friendship," "The Choice of a Mate," "Courtship", "The Engagement," and "Entering Upon Marriage" are the interests the author discusses in the book.

Dr. Bowman has conducted courses in preparation for marriage and homemaking for some years in local churches, youth conferences, and summer camps for young people.

He received his B. A. degree at Bridgewater College and his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees at the University of Chicago. For seven years he was head of the Department of Education and Psychology at Juniate College, Huntingdon, Pa. He has also taught in summer schools of George Peabody College for Teachers, Emory University, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, University of Virginia, and Duke University.

Delegates Elected

Martha Meade Hardaway, Isabel Williamson, Helen Reiff, Ruth Lea Purdum, and Jane Royall will be delegates to the National Alpha Kappa Gamma Convention which will take place November 3-6 at the University of South Carolina, Columbia.

Colonnade Increases Staff; Issue in Nov.

Johnny Lybrook, editor of the Colonnade, has announced the following new members to the staff: Mary Jane Jolliffe, assistant literary editor; Frances Hudgins, assistant poetry editor; Mildred Morris to the art staff; Ann Hurff as photographer; Yates Carr, assistant business manager; and Mary Owens West as circulation manager. The names of the typists will be announced after the tryouts are completed.

Changes in the meetings of the staff have been made. Each department meets separately weekly under the supervision of the editor and the faculty advisers.

Issues of the Colonnade will be made in November, January, March and May.

All students are urged to cooperate with the staff by handing in articles as soon as possible. Short stories and essays are in special demand.

"We're Keeping on Hoping" For That Organ Soon

A real organ with pipes 'n' all will probably be in our auditorium for daily use and particularly for the annual Christmas program sponsored by our music department on December 17, if rumors are true, (and we hope and pray they are.)

Since the day not so long ago when the student body was entertained by the strains of the organ on exhibition, excitement has been high and interest in such an instrument evinced by the students.

Two organizations are backing this movement for an organ, and, if accounts hold true, Dr. Jarman is considering and anxious to comply with their wishes.

Meanwhile, we're "keeping on hoping" for an organ.

Home Ec Club Will Start Fund for Service

Nancy Goode Bland and Nell Hall, Juniors, were chosen to head the entertainment committee for Freshmen and new girls majoring in home economics at the first meeting of the Home Economics Club held Thursday, October 19, in the Y. W. C. A. lounge.

The club decided to start a fund or a silver service for the school. This will be at the disposal of any school organization which wishes to use it.

Music Groups Outline Work

Mr. Alfred Strick, music director, has outlined plans for the year, beginning with a series of chapel programs, the first of which will be given this Friday, October 27.

First big program of the year will be the annual Christmas Concert, December 17, with the Choir, Choral Club, Junior Choir and Senior A Cappella participating. There is a possibility that the Washington and Lee Glee Club will appear in the concert also.

Spring concert will feature the Farmville music group in collaboration with the University of Virginia Glee Club, who appeared here last year.

Quartettes and A Cappella choirs will make several trips for out of town appearances. Those definitely scheduled so far are for December 3 in Chase City and November 12 at the Baptist Church in Farmville.

The groups plan to broadcast twice during the year.

Forensic Club Bids

Helen DeLong, Eleanor Folk, Geraldine Beckner, Frances Keck, Gladys Rush and Imogen Clayton were issued bids for membership in the Farmville Debate Club Tuesday afternoon, October 22.

Try outs were held in the small auditorium at 4:30 Tuesday, October 24, 1939.

Witnesses Give Account of Play Practice

By Hazelwood Burbank

Have you ever wondered what went on behind the closed doors of the auditorium? Have you ever wondered why you couldn't go through? Maybe you have noticed the small notice on the doors that read, "Keep out. Play practice." Well, that's exactly what is going on. But come on let's go in for a while and see what this play practice is like.

Be quiet now because we don't want Miss Wheeler to know that we are here. I don't think that she would like that much. Oh, don't be afraid! We can just go in the back door and sit down. Here we are. Now don't say anything, just sit and listen.

There's Miss Wheeler down there. See her sitting there nodding her head. Everything is going all right, but if anything goes wrong you'll know it. Oh, all those people—they are the actors. Who are they? Well, they are just the girls from school and the boys from Hampden-Sydney that make up the cast. That boy sitting down front is Johnny Pancake. See, he looks like he's talking to himself but he's just learning his lines. The boy sitting on the floor on the stage is Lex Allison. Yes, I know that he's acting like a spoiled child but that's the part. He's really a very good actor and he's had lots of experience. Yes, he played the General in "Tovarich".

"No, Joanna, wait until Mabel gets out". Oh, oh there goes Miss Wheeler! "Get your tempo just a little faster, and I think that everything will go better. And, darling look interested. You want to know what is going to happen. You want to know what he's going to say. Sit forward on the edge of your seat and listen."

That's Peggy Bellus she's talking to. You know she was in the spring play last year. That boy making love to her—Oh, that's Bob Engle. They say he's good at that.

The girl playing Coady is Dot Eades, she's the wife of absent-minded Mr. Coade. Tedo Savage will take this part. He's a newcomer this year.

What? Oh, that boy taking the part of the butler is Keith Eubank. He was in both of the plays last year and did very well. Yes, I saw them both.

Be quiet, Miss Wheeler will hear you and send us out. No, she's just going up on the stage to straighten some things out. Yes, she stamps her foot so the players will get their lines faster and pick up their cues more quickly.

Good heavens they are starting it all over again! Come on let's get out of here before we start saying the lines for them. Well, now you can say that you have been to play practice. Did you like it? You did. Oh, yes the play will be much better than that so be sure to see "Dear Brutus" on November 17.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO · BOSTON · LOS ANGELES · SAN FRANCISCO

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant—Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickral, Janelle Shelor, and Lucy Turnbull.

Business Staff

Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell
Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson, Frances Pope, Simmons, and Kathryn Watkins.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd and Jean Upshur.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1939

S. T. C. Etiquette

We, of Farmville, are fortunate in having one big dining hall where we all meet three times daily. With chapel attendance now divided, meal times remain the one place where we can gather as a big family. There are not set restrictions about our attending meals. We are at liberty to eat elsewhere, a privileged few girls' school enjoy.

Considering our dining hall freedom, doesn't it seem only fair not to take too much of an advantage of it? If you are an "I take-my-meals-out", why not try being with us occasionally? You might surprise yourself and like us. And for those dining hall frequenters, here are a few do's (not don't) for S. T. C. etiquette:

1. Do attend to your business before meals.
2. Do wait 'til after grace before serving.
3. Do remember there are nine others at your table.
4. Do refrain from making disparaging remarks about your dislike of a particular dish.
5. Do wait 'til after dismissal before leaving dining hall
6. Do take these few hints.

Our Usual Cooperation

Did you see the Water Carnival? If you didn't, 'twill be harder on you to have to read and hear further elaboration of it. If you did, you will understand why it was pronounced one of the best aquatic events ever given here.

Directors, class chairmen, and participants are due a big cheer of congratulation on the success of their efforts. The skits were cleverly planned and showed dramatic and entertaining as well as aquatic ability. Furthermore, the event proved more than ever the real cooperation that is always typical of S. T. C. girls.

In all we do, cooperation of all for one and one for all is our motto.

School Teachers Make Good Wives, Survey Poll Shows

Possibly one of the most popular and valuable of topics for conversation not only in college "bull sessions" but in other circles as well, is what chance for happiness is there in marriage. How can one be sure? What are the constituents for a successful marriage? These are questions that we perhaps ask most frequently. It might be well to note a few of the conclusions reached by one of the most thorough statistical surveys of marriage ever made in the United States. This survey, which took seven years to complete, was conducted by Dr. Leonard A. Cottrell, Jr., of Cornell and Professor Ernest W. Burgess of the University of Chicago. From the 526 married couples who were interviewed, many interesting conclusions were reached, some of them contrary to popular belief.

"Girls who have worked before marriage make better wives. School teachers seem especially well fitted for marriage." As to the degree of happiness, "husbands rated their marriages as: 79 per cent very happy and happy, and only 2.4 per cent judged their very unhappy." Wives rated their marriages as did their husbands.

A marked relatively between happiness and handling family finances was found to exist. "The amount of the family income seems to bear little relationship to happiness The income, however small, should be saved or spent in any way agreeable to both."

Almost as important to happiness, investigation also found that an agreement concerning the handling of friends and relatives must exist. "Frequent demonstration of affection by the husband towards the wife also rated high as the sign of very happy marriages."

Among other startling conclusions reached in this survey which will be published in book form as "Predicting Success or Failure in Marriage" by Prentice-Hall, are the following quoted facts: "A longer courtship is in favor of better harmony and better adjustment after marriage. For those whose courtship lasted less than a year, their chances for happiness were 20 per cent less than those whose courtships lasted a year or more. The best term of courtship seems to be between three and five years.

"Wives who worked before their marriage make much better adjustments than those who had never worked. Professional men make the best husbands, and of these chemical engineers and ministers rated highest. Men and women who are active in two or three organizations made the best adjustment after marriage."

Quotable Quotes

Does the modern library keep busy? The U. S. Office of Education notes one days' activity in one library: 1,185 students and faculty members came to the library; 26 used the browsing room, 232 used the reference room, 124 the periodical room, 144 the business library, and 659 the reserve bookroom. They borrowed 826 books, called at the desk for 56 periodicals and asked 85 questions. The library staff answered 22 telephone queries, placed 52 new books on the shelves, ordered 20 new books, and sent 1 book out on inter-library loan, mailed 16 letters and 25 notices. Forty-seven books were placed on reserve.

The library field as a vocation and the kinds of preparation available for the various fields of library service are reviewed by the U. S. Office of Education in its bulletin entitled "Professional Library Education."

Brown University students this all celebrated the third anniversary of the opening of the nation's most unique broadcasting system, the Brown Network.

Originally an network of radios hooked together by wire to a central college broadcasting center, the system this year will broadcast on 750 kilocycles, with wires strung around al lcampus dormitories close to all antennae to insure perfect reception.

Programs of the network feature student talent, with some national broadcasts. The network will broadcast all Brown football, basketball and baseball games.

At present, this is the only collegiate broadcasting sytem in the country.

Culture, customs and languages of the American Indian will not be lost to posterity, if University of Oklahoma authorities have their way about it.

They have just instituted a new course in Indian language, the only class of its kind in the world. A faculty member is now compiling, with the aid of an educated Indian, a dictionary and grammar which may be used for teaching the language.

What Others Say

Professor: "What's the most common impediment in the speech of the American people?"

Freshman: "Chewing-gum."

Very coy old lady: "You dear little man! Where do you come from? What do you do for a living?"

Embarrassed gentleman: "I'm a professor."

V. C. O. L.: "Now isn't that too cunning! Please do something absent-minded!"

Wild-eyed customed—I want a quarter's worth of carbolic acid.

Clerk, helpfully—This is a hardware store, but we have—er—a fine line of ropes, pistols and razors.

Antiquated Couple Merge Grand-Prize Jitterbuggers

Whew! just look at those jitterbugs"!

"President of the women's poetry and sewing circle" introduced world-wide famous actors for entertainment Saturday night, Oct. 21, at "Sing". These eight couples came jittering across the stage in a state of great enthusiam and excitement--each hoping to win the grand prize.

Yes, three judges with steadfast interest and an appearance of superior authority and ability, sat on the stage, waiting to give the final announcement of the winner of first place.

Each jitterbugging couple, dressed in "distinctive, style", had an opportunity for a separate showing of what they could do and they really did it too!

When the "try-outs" were over, the couples lined up across the stage and as each couple passed under the hand of the superior president of the circle, an applause from the audience was given to help determine the winners. It was finally decided, and the lady in black and the gentleman of the orange tie was given the prize a poetry book.

Thus the contest ended and the "poetry and sewing circle" adjourned to meet again sometime in the near future-----we hope.

Nine Points of Advice to Girls

Well girls, we have at last found a way of classing those in "consistent beings—men" which we can't seem to do without. Far be it from us to keep it a secret for not only will it be worth while to you but amusing as well.

It is what they do and not the way that they do it and our nine points of advice to you are:

1. Keep away from track men: they're too fast.
2. Never make dates with biology students: they enjoy cutting up.
3. The football man is okay: he'll tackle anything.
4. You can trust a swimmer: he'll dive in and do his best.
5. A tennis-player is harmless: but enjoys a racket.
6. Watch out for the baseball man: he's a hit-and-runner.
7. Be wary of the dramatic club member: he usually has several good lines (and uses them).
8. Don't play cards with a civil engineer: he's a bridge specialist.
9. Always let the band member talk about himself: he loves to blow his own horn.

Live Gold

A Scotchman, invited to a golden wedding, was told that each guest would be expected to bring a golden present.

He took a gold fish.

A man, calling on his doctor, complained of a severe pain in his midriff. The medico, after sounding the man's interior, announced that an operation was necessary.

"But, Doc," replied the patient in grieved tones, "this will make the sixth operation you've performed on me in the last two years! Why not put on swinging doors?"

Echoes from an Empty Space

If the "Pointer" can feature "rumors' this month, why can't we feature them this week? . . . Have you heard: Painter and Sowder are thinking about middle-aisling it in the next two years? . . . Frank Booker confides in Kay Horsley: "You can't feel like a lark if you've been on one the night before." . . . The Blair Goode and Bob Dabney affair will need tuning what with Sara Cline carrying the melody note and likewise the high score (9) for bowlers! . . . Leading scholastic figures have been known to give their brains to science, how about you "Moomie"?

Remember last year the Spong-Scott? Have you heard they're back at it again? . . . Just a rumor . . . Betty Mae Ayres held up splendidly during the hazing but it's still a shame they didn't ask her to propose to Doug Venable . . . Virgil May and Dot Dawley at church together. Imagine Gordon's situation! . . . Not since first of school have we seen or heard of Hannah Lindamood apple-polishing the president of German Club at H.-S. C. Losing ye olde grippe, Hannah? . . . What handsome young Kappa Sig thinks he has a romance in the bag for only the asking? . . . another rumor . . . Patsy Smith seems quite a bit of Austin lately --quite a bit . . . Lula Windham still looks charming in that bee-u-ti-ful pink net dress . . . Dotty Chapman seems to be latest torch-toter for Walter Cobb.

Fevvensakes, if the Flo Andrews ain't got another man on the string. This time it isn't a Tech triumph . . . It is also rumored about that Strater (according to last week's Rotunda) took two dates to the dances—Duel capacity, Phil? . . . Barbara White's on the verge of a war bulletin what with the value of sugar going up . . .

Belonging to the Screwball Association besides Nimmo and Kaki are Eliza McDaniel, Anne Covington, May Winn, Dot Smith and Esther Atkinson . . . Helen Rose Frazier, we hand our bouquets of orchids and dandelions to you for being the best sport of Rat Week . . . Leslie Dillard was practically staging a technical walk-out when Perrye Smith arived on scene late for date . . . Mary Prince takes off to Richmond every week-end and especially when Pat Booth comes to see her . . . Return of alumnae Manson, West, Nee Nee, Hall, Hudgins this past week Welcomed by all.

Rotunda Rumors: Emily Lankis had a young man's pin about five minutes after she had the date with him. Fast work, Emily! . . . just another rumor . . . Who was Nancy Sale's friends in said Rotunda a week ago today? . . . Peggy Boyette's young Tech man was seen collecting news to deliver to Tech for Peggy Williams. Easier than writing, Peggy . . . Madge isn't speaking to Tynes but she's speaking to "Slug"! . . . Doc Richards showing terrific selectivity by calling on Ora Earnest. In same case, what does Dot have to say? . . . Sam showing certain pains-in-the-collar button cause Pierpont wasn't at school when he called for her Saturday . . . Certain complications have set in the Upsher-Edgerton affair, so we heard over the week-end . . . Still a romanticist at the game is Ed Kilby. He bears watching girls . . . In conclusion, all one knows is what one hears, and one can hear a lot!

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

Turkey's Decision

The most outstanding and by far the most important event of the past week was the signing of an assistance treaty between Turkey and England and France. Turkey had been for several weeks on the proverbial fence. Situated as she is geographically and dependent as she is economically, a treaty that would be in any way "against" Russia would have certainly not been good diplomacy to say the least about being practical. But there are ways and means of getting around almost any problem.

The treaty shall last for a period of fifteen years and says that Turkey shall come to the assistance of France and England in any war which involves the Mediterranean Sea. However, if Russia should become involved in the war, fighting against England and France, the treaty would become null and void.

The Effect on Germany

Many seemed to think that any gain that Germany might have made by her non-aggression treaty with Russia was offset by this newer pact.

About the most disastrous result of the pact from the German point of view is the fact that Italy's neutrality seems frozen. Surrounded now as she is by English friends on either side, she must stay neutral. If Italy were to enter war fighting with Germany, England could quickly cut off her trade contact with the outside world. Such a thing in a land where there is little more than standing room as is Italy's case could not be endured without certain and rapid disaster to its people.

So it appears and our American newspapers would have us believe that all the diplomats in the world aren't in Berlin after all.

America's Honesty

America wants to keep out of war. Yes. Yes. Yes. America does not want her youth wallowing in Europe's "blood bath". America is eager for peace.

These things are true and yet American newspapers as a whole are fighting peace. America is so pro-England and anti-German that she will not allow herself to be honest.

In the last World War we created such a thorough hate for the Germans and, lo, these twenty-one years have done nothing but heap coals upon the already blazing fire. We were taught from childhood up that anything German was horrible and hat all Germans were the handiwork of he Devil. That was before Hitler.

Newspapers print only the English side of the story, the editors call Hitler the worst names printable, and why? Because America wants to hear it! A pro-German newspaper would have to close its offices in this great country of "free-thinking."

What is wrong with us? Why do all the movies give all the nasty parts to men in German uniforms? And why are they so careful to slip that little note in "with no bitterness or malice toward any" and "based on true facts."

If America would stop kidding herself and give stories that are true facts rather than stories "based" on true facts, if these United States would only open their eyes—we can not hope to gain world peace so long as we fight it. We must be honest if we are to hope for peace. Only through a change of attitude can we ever hope to share the blessing that our Lord spoke when he said: "Blessed are the Peace Makers for they shall be called the children of God."

Complete Varsity and Class Schedules

Classes to Play In Round Robin Tournament

The varsity hockey squad will open the 1939 season in a game with William and Mary Extension in Richmond on November 8. A second game has been scheduled with Westhampton on December 2. This game will be played on the Farmville field.

November 14 has been set as the opening day for class games. On that date the Juniors will oppose the Frosh while the Seniors take on the Sophs. The games will continue on November 16 with the Juniors vs. Sophs and the Seniors vs. Frosh. The series of games will come to an end on Monday, November 20, with the traditional Frosh vs. Sophs and Juniors vs. Senior games. This year the games will be played in "round-robin" style—each team playing every other team. Two points will be awarded for every game won and one point for every tie game. At the end of the tournament the points will be totalled and the winner announced.

Notice

Candidates for water polo teams report to the pool Thursday, October 26 at 4:00. General practices will be held until all are instructed in the fundamentals of the game.

Lawyer, finding his witness difficult to handle, finally demanded, "Do you know any of the men in the jury?"

"Yes, sir. More than half of 'em!" replied the witness.

"Are you willing to swear that you know more than half of them?"

"Why,' retorted the witness, "if it comes to that, I'm willing to swear that I know more than all of 'em put together!"

A.A.'s Go Pioneer and Rough It On Overnight Outing

Dear Sal,

You'll just never know what you missed by going home so early! Remember the A. A. house party we planned for Saturday night? It went over without a hitch—well, maybe almost without one.

Can you imagine Dot Fischer in baby blue bunting pajamas or Pat Gibson telling fortunes and Helen Mc standing guard outside with an 18-something musket keeping I-don't-know-what away?

There were 11 of us altogether—Miss Iler, Dot, Pat, Helen Mc, Sue Owen, Marty Roberts, Cleo Jarman, Ella Marsh Pilkinton, Crews Borden, Peggy Hughes and Nell Hurt.

We decided that we definitely wanted to rough it, so we stayed at the cabin and put up army cots to sleep on. Then we explored the grounds around the cabin to see what the place was like after dark. We pretended to be pioneers—that is, until someone finally got the radio hooked up and we danced and played bridge. Callers came, too—the Y. W. girls who were staying at the big house.

About midnight we agreed that a little snack would be ideal.

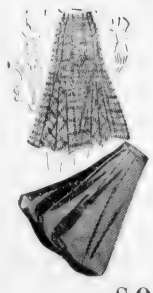
I've never seen the moon so beautiful, Sal. As a matter of fact, Cleo and Sue found it so irresistable that they moved their quarters to the porch, but after an hour of that cool night, even "Moon Love" couldn't hold them.

Dreams, sweet dreams, for another hour and then we suddenly changed our minds about liking pioneer life. Your pioneer friends, my dear, were being attacked, but not by Indians. Wasps with a single sting had turned the place into an uproar. Only an occasional snore interrupted our slumber after that, and we slept peacefully till dawn.

Finally awakening in the morning, we cooked breakfast on the oil stove, which would have been just fine if it hadn't gone bad on us, so not to be outdone, we just fixed it over the fireplace.

Topping the morning with a game of golf, we headed schoolward.

Athletically yours,
Tilly



SWEATERS

We have just received a big selection of new fall sweaters. Lovely assortment of styles and colors. Cardigans, Sloppy Joe's and other popular styles. Special

$1.98 to $5.95

SKIRTS

Mix or match them it matters not. We have them every way at Bargain Prices!

SPECIAL

$1.98 to $4.98

SOCKS

To match every Skirt and Sweater 25c

DAVIDSON'S

Wise, Circus Head

Continued from Page 1

Hardaway, president of Alpha Kappa Gamma, are in charge of the coronation. The queen is voted upon by the student body and her court consists of the three other nominees.

Dot Fischer is chairman of the parade, which will leave Student Building Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Marjorie Nimmo has charge of the animals. Alice Leigh Barham, Helen Wentz, Sara Keesee, Olivia Stephenson, and Doris Chesnut are assisting "Marge".

Dot Eades and Johnny Lybrook, advertising chairmen, have on their committee, Phyl Schlobohom Ruby Adams, Perrye Smith, Dot Rollins.

Helen Reiff heads the decoration committee. Jean Moyer, Sally Dunlap, Kathryn Price, Caralie Nelson, Mary Louise Holland, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Marion Harden, Liggie Eliett and Margaret Wright are helping Helen.

Tryouts for Ringmaster were held last Wednesday. The Ringmaster, who will announce all events, will not be known until the performance.

Frances Alvis and Ruth Lea Purdum are business managers and in charge of the sale of tickets. Jane Powell and Marie Eason will supervise the booths and floor plans.

Booths will be sponsored by the four classes and organizations in school. The seniors will offer a dance pavillion for entertainment with an orchestra. Frances Pope is in charge of the arrangements. Helen Seward will supervise the sale of hot dogs and coca colas for the juniors with Anna George handling the decorations.

Anne Boswell and Dot Johnson are co-chairmen for the sophomore booth. They will feature home made candy and roasted peanuts. Pitching pennies for prizes and selling ice cream constitute the freshman project with Katherine Price, committee head.

Jane Royall and Martha Meade Hardaway are ex-officios as the adviser and president of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Father, skeptically—Isn't that young man rather fast?

Daughter, reassuringly—Yes; but I don't think he'll get away!

Sports Slants

By PAT GIBSON
Water Carnival

The lines of writing slip away as I write this and suddenly the paper is flooded with cool green ripples of water. Swimmers, divers, champs and would-be champs splash before me to their hearts delight. The spotlight dances upon the shimmering pool. Chairmen, directors, judges, announcers, fans and competitors rush madly about. Suddenly a shrill whistle rends the air. Silence! The Seniors step into the limelight arrayed in riotous beach costumes. The swimmers start their trek down the pool—side stroke, breast stroke, back stroke, crawl and trudgeon crawl—they demonstrate each in perfect form. They prove their versatility in double tandems both front and back, and in the final candle-lit formation of an S.

Then out of the "after-applause" silence comes the "beat-beat-beat" of the tom-toms announcing the Sophomore arrival. The Big Chief, Little Princess, and the warriors come to witness the test of aquatic skill which ultimately leads to the winning of the Princess. The braves take to the water to perform their swimming feats and indulge in twisting, tumbling, aerial evolutions off the springboard. And then Nancy Dupuy in a final full-twist wins the admiration of the spectators and the hand of the Princess. A grand show which took second place.

What's this? Mary, Mary quite contrary—and see her garden of mermaids, swimming formations—water wheels turning and returning and circles done in perfect time. Here come the Freshmen; so watch them.

And then again—silence! The Juniors slip noiselessly into the pool—balloon collared in green and white. They glide through the water forming circles, weaving—always moving with perfect precision. Then darkness falls and the swimmers weave a pattern with candlelight—like a mass of fireflies. Divers leap into a candle-lit circle and that is all—no, wait—one swimmer is in trouble. The timid guard rushes to the scene, but not upon it. Two great struggles ensue—to get the guard into the water and to get the guard out of the water. (Nice work, Rosa and Mary Sue!) Congratulations, Juniors. Take your bow.

But still this is not all. Here comes the H20 Club—Crack swimmers all to demonstrate water polo. They stand poised. Six swimmers at each end of the pool. Bodies bent low! Muscles tensed! Crack! Ah, there they go. The forward lines charge down the pool after the ball. From now on it's 'A duck, duck here and a duck, duck there." 'Tis a scoreless game and there'll be many more like it—we hope. Pick your teams and let's start the challenges flying! Dorm vs. dorm! Class vs class!

Orchids to the various class chairmen and to Marie Dix, general chairman, for putting on a real show—our Water Carnival.

Anticipate Event

Continued from Page 1

that you don't want to miss seeing your class win first honors for the best stunt. How 'bout it? Are we right?

Well then, don't let me catch any of you staying up so late Friday night watching something so unimportant as an eclipse of the moon that you miss the highlight of October on Saturday night, Oct. 28. In other words, folks, we'll all meet you at the Circus!

Hanya Holm

Continued from Page 1

rector and co-dancer with Mary Wigwam she appeared in the famous anti-war memorial in Munich at the Dance Congress.

Adopting German principles to an American environment Hanya Holm directed the New York Wigwam School. She is one of the leaders of the Bennington School of Dance, and has toured America for two years presenting programs and giving lessons in colleges throughout the country.

How About It

The prices of wheat and corn go up and down but the price of wild oats will always remain the same.

LYNN'S

LATEST SHEET MUSIC

THE MAN WITH THE MANDOLIN

OVER THE RAINBOW

A MAN & HIS DREAMS

DOWN MEXICO WAY

ROLL OUR THE BARREL

ARE YOU HAVING ANY FUN

MOON LOVE

BLUE ORCHIDS

Juniors Place First In Water Carnival

Performance to be Repeated Nov. 15

The junior class ably directed by Rosa Courter, came out on top in the annual Water Carnival which was presented Thursday evening, October 19. Second in the competition were the sophomores.

The seniors and freshmen completed the evening's entertainment with their skits "Beach Scene" and "Mary, Mary Quite Contrary" respectively.

Miss Elizabeth Burger, physical education and science instructor at Farmville High school, Miss Barlow and Mrs. Fitzpatrick were the judges. Their decisions were based upon the originality, ability and aquatic skill of the stunts.

Following the class events, the members of the H2O club put on a water polo exhibition in an effort to get the game started among classes and dormitories.

Plans are underway to present the carnival again on Wednesday, November 15, for the benefit of those who could not attend the first performance.

For HOLIDAY SOCIAL AFFAIRS

LOOK YOUR BEST

We've made it easy for you to be beautiful over the holidays . . . We've some specially priced permanent waves. You may choose from many lovely styles . . . your choice to compliment your features.

$2.45 to $7.45

Lovely Spiranl and Croquignole waves that were priced from $3.50 to $10.00.

Use your charge account in the Beauty Shop

BALDWIN'S

Phone 159 Farmville's Best

COLLEGE SHOPPE

Best sandwiches in town

Ham with lettuce and mayonnaise 10c

Hamburger with everything 10c

Where Prices Are Light and Service is Right!

WE DELIVER

CALL 200

COME TO

SHANNON'S

FOR FRESH CANDIES—S. T. C. Paper, and good food and fountain drinks.

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

Martin the Jeweler

RYTEX CHRISTMAS CARDS

50 FOR $1.00

Riding Instructions Will Be Offered

Miss Stella Fox, of Tate Farm near Hampden-Sydney, will instruct Farmville students who wish to take riding lessons. These instructions will be given at Tate Farm and transportation will be arranged to and from there by Miss Tate in her station wagon. Girls who will not wish to take lessons but want to ride, may do so at any time with Miss Tate. Lessons and transportation will be $1.00 per hour. Permission from home is necessary and must be filed in the Home Office.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS MEDICINES

Perfumes—Toilet Articles

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Quality—Price—Service

HOTEL WEYANOKE

Regular Meals

A La Carte Service

Salads & Sandwiches

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System

Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop

"From old to new with any shoes"

Only First Class Material used

All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!

Electric Appliance Co.

Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the

BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY MEATS

AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

NEWBERRY'S

Here is where you can get your HALLOWE'EN PARTY MASKS, WIGS, COSTUMES, AND NOISE MAKERS

Hops and Homecomings Toll Out the Happy Belles

Come on, let's go down to the Rotunda for a little while and see if we can't find out where some of these dressed-up girls are going. Look at the ones leaving for V. M. I. Bet they will have a wonderful time at the V. M. I.-Virginia game Saturday. There go Betty Lee Downing, Helen Lewis, May Wertz, Jane McGinnis, Jane Hardy, Mary Catherine Sturgis, Shirley Stephens, Helen Wentz and Lois Jane Steidtmann.

And where could those excited looking individuals be going? V. P. I. Homecomings? Well, have fun, Betsy Austin, Louise Allen, Nancy Allen, Alice Leigh Barham, Dorothy Childress, Catherine Radspinner, Estelle Paulette, Charlotte Greeley, Margaret Anne Bunting and Agnes Barlow. You can really tell the girls are going to a football game, and how about all that baggage! But then there's a "hop" too and the feminine crew need so much more than their personal charm in vamping that traditional football hero.

Jane Waller and Shirley Turner are leaving for the Shipwreck Hop at Annapolis Saturday night, cute gals! And there's something about a Midshipman!

Anne Easley, Helen Seward, Marion Worsham and Martha Smith are going with Nan Duer to her home in Toano and will attend the William and Mary-Hampden-Sydney football game. Wonder whom they'll be rooting for?

And then there's Kay Horsley and Helen Gray returning to William and Mary, their former Alma Mater.

Hurry up girls or you'll miss that Richmond bus! Mary Gray Thompson, Mary Prince Arnold, Letha Barnes, Ethel Carr, Genevieve Cook, Elizabeth Cline, Sarah Currie, Frances Watkins, Dorothy Dawley, Dorothy Davis, Dorothy Eades, Patsy Fletcher, Winnie Harrell, Anne Holland, Helen Dawson, Edna Brown, Mildred Taylor, Jo Nickols, Doris Leonard, Sally Dunlap, Boonie Stevenson, Katherine Perry, Frances Powell, Agnes Buchanan, Winnie Webb Buchanan, Roberta Payne, Emily Owen and Mildred Owen are really flying down the street to make it.

Let's don't leave till we see who are these girls breezing west to Lynchburg and Roanoke. Dorothy Bailey, Carmen Louise Booth, Betty Jackson, Pearl Thompson, and Jane Bowen are taking a trip to the "hill city" while Frances Rosebro, Beverly Smith, Lorana Moomaw, Jean Scott, Helen McGuire, Ilma Graff, Geraldine Hatcher, Mae Desaix, Elizabeth Carter, Alice Cogburn, Josa Carlton, Betty Barnes and Margaret Bowling continue fifty miles to the "magic city".

And don't forget the alumnae who just couldnt stay away from S. T. C. any longer. Norma Pamplin paid a flying visit Sunday and Lib George Wilson and Jean Terrell are still with us.

Y. W. Cabinet Retreat At Longwood Over Week-end

Y. W. cabinet accompanied by Miss Mary Nichols and Miss Elizabeth Grady held an overnight picnic at Longwood Saturday and Sunday, October 21 and 22.

Jean Moyer and Caralie Nelson were in charge of devotionals Saturday night and Beulah Ettenger led morning watch.

They returned to school in time for church Sunday morning.

Sororities Are Guests

Dorothy Johnson, Bertha McLaughlin and Elizabeth West entertained the Mu Omega at a tea in the chapter room, Sunday, October 22. Only the active members were present.

Miss Grace Moran, faculty adviser, entertained Alpha Sigma Alpha at a picnic Tuesday, October 24 at Longwood.

Church Groups Gather

Young Peoples' Fellowship of the Episcopal Church gave a hayride to Willis mountain and had a picnic there Friday, October 20.

Communion service was held on top of the mountain at sunset. Afterwards the group gathered about an open fireplace for supper.

Wesley Foundation Council held a supper meeting at the Methodist Church Monday, October 23. Plans for the year were discussed after the supper. Mary Katherine Dodson and Allene Overbey were in charge of arrangements.

Professor Dunn: "In this scene my dear, the young man rushes into the room, grabs you, binds you with rope from head to foot and then smothers you with kisses."

Alice Rhea: "Is the young man tall, dark and handsome?"

Dunn: "Yes, why?"

Alice: "Then he won't need any rope."

—Covered Wagon

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

For Christmas Give Early

American Old Spice Toiletries

America's Most Appreciated Toiletries

PHONE 356

EACO THEATRE

DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.

Friday- Sat., Oct. 27-28

SPENCER TRACY

Nancy Kelly, Richard Greene

'Stanley & Livingstone'

Latest WAR SCENES

Next Mon-Tues., Oct. 30-31

LANA TURNER

RICHARD CARLSON

ARTIE SHAW & Band

"DANCING CO-ED"

COMUNITY SING OF

Bing Crosy Songs

Next Wed-Thurs., Nov. 1-2

JAMES STEWART

JEAN ARTHUR

"MR. SMITH GOES TO WASHINGTON"

Frank Capra's Best Picture

BICYCLES

IT S FUN TO KEEP FIT

25c PER HOUR

303 ST. GEORGE ST.

(Between Epis. Church & Station)

Rose's

5-10-25c Store

ON THE CORNER

Hallowe'en

Candies and Favors

CAROL KING DRESSES

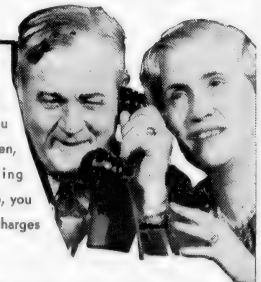
Smartly Stunning for dress or sport wear. Velvets, Crepes and Woolens. Sizes 9 to 20.

$3.97 to $10.97

DOROTHY MAY STORE

BUDGET HOSE

All the newest fall colors
Sizes 8 1-2 to 10 1-2 — $1



PORK PIE HATS, all colors
Corduroy and Gabardine — $1

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Appreciates your Patronage—Charge it

"GEE, IT'S GOOD TO HEAR YOUR VOICE DAD"

The night and Sunday rates are so low, that you can call home often, without upsetting your budget. Also, you may reverse the charges if you prefer.

Here are a few specimen rates for night (after 7) and Sunday station-to-station calls which will show you how low the charges really are:

From Farmville to—

Atlanta, Ga. $0.80	Greensboro N.C. .40	Richmond, Va. ...35
Baltimore, Md. .45	Lexington, Va. .. .35	Roanoke, Va. .... .35
Blacksburg, Va. .40	Philadelphia 60	Sweet Briar, Va. .35
Charlton W. Va. .50	Lynchburg, Va. .35	Washington D.C. .40
	Dallas, Texas 1.95

Ask Long Distance for the rate to your home town.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia

(Bell System)

Patronize

Patterson Drug Co.

—AT—

Money Saving Prices

—FOR—

Drugs and Toiletries

Expert Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream

238 MAIN STREET

"Ma! Ma! A big truck just ran over Pa and squashed him all over the street!"

"Junior, how many times have I told you not to talk about such things when I'm eating?"

ATTENTION! STUDENTS

Have your parents enroll you under the Medical Reimbursement Policy issued the College to protect you against accidents.

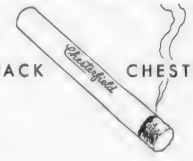
F. W. HUBBARD, Agent

Planters Bank Building

FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

Tobacco...opens Doors to Fields where People Live, Work & Achieve

Today there are about 1,000,000 cigar stores, drug stores, country and grocery stores where you can buy cigarettes in the United States. These retailers, and the jobbers who serve them, have built up a service of courtesy and convenience unmatched by any other industry catering to the American public's pleasure.



THERE ARE ANOTHER MILLION people who are engaged directly or indirectly in the transportation of cigarettes to every town, hamlet and crossroads.

IT IS ESTIMATED that there are 1,602,000 tobacco farmers raising tobacco in 20 out of the 48 states. Good tobacco is one of the hardest crops to raise and bring to market, requiring great skill and patience from seed-bed planting to harvesting and curing. The modern tobacco farmer has done well the job of constantly improving the quality of his product.

THE AVERAGE LENGTH of service of the 13,230 people working in the Chesterfield factories, storage houses, leaf-handling and redrying plants is over 10 years. This means that every step in the making of Chesterfields, regardless of how small, is handled by people who have had 10 years of experience and ability in knowing their jobs.

TRULY TOBACCO OPENS DOORS to fields where people live, work and achieve, and Chesterfield takes pride in its ever increasing part in this great industry that is devoted entirely to the pleasure of the American public.

TO SMOKERS, Chesterfield Cigarettes have always said, and now repeat, that in no other cigarette made can you find the same degree of real mildness and good taste, or the same high quality of properly cured and aged tobaccos. Chesterfield Cigarettes are made with one purpose only... to give smokers everywhere the MILDER, BETTER-TASTING SMOKING PLEASURE they want. You can't buy a better cigarette.

MAKE YOUR NEXT PACK CHESTERFIELD

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Editorials: Library Care,
Our Circus

The Rotunda

Don't Miss First Lyceum—
HANYA HOLM

File No.—2773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 1, 1939 | No. 6

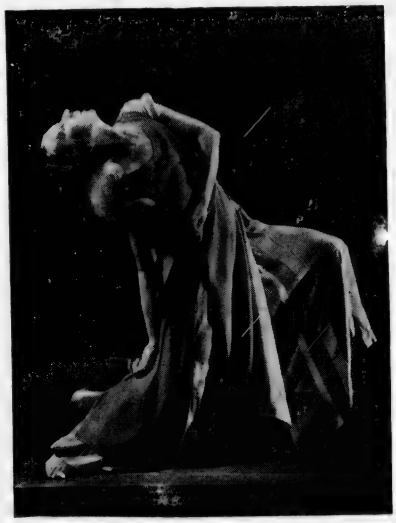
Hanya Holm Group Will Perform Here On Next Monday

Leader Will Teach Class for S. T. C. Orchesis Group

Hanya Holm and her artist dance group will present a program of modern dance for the first lyceum number this year on November 6 in the S. T. C. auditorium. The performance will begin at 8 o'clock.

The program will include presentations of successions of movement based on principles of movement such as tension and release, limbering swing, rhythm, and elasticity. The program, however, is not in the form of exercises. These will be illustrated by a series of group and solo etudes and short dances involving a particular dance problem.

Hanya Holm presented her dance group here last year and the feature dancers returning this year are Louise Kloepper, Elizabeth Waters, Henrietta Greenhood, Harriet Roeder, Valerie Bettis, Barbara Hatch, Marian Kagan, Caroline Locke, Marva Spelman and Charlotte Sturgess. Miss Kloepper instructed at the Barrington School of Dance in California this past summer. All have been outstanding in the dance field both in this country and abroad.



Miss Holm will hold a class on Monday afternoon, November 6, in the gymnasium for members of Orchesis and students of the modern dance classes.

Physical Ed. Heads Attend Richmond Physiotherapy Meet

Miss Mary Barlow,, Dot Fischer and Pat Gibson attended the physiotherapy convention at the Commonwealth Club in Richmond on Sunday, October 29. The meeting was sponsored by the Virginia Branch of the American Physiotherapy Association.

Dr. Thomas Wheeldon, leading orthopedic surgeon, conducted the program which followed a luncheon at the club. Miss Hope Tisdale professor of physical education at the Women's College of the University of North Carolina delivered an address on "The Need for a Masters Degree in Physiotherapy". The guest speaker was Dr. T. K. Cureton, director of health and physical education at Springfield College, Springfield, Massachusetts, who spoke in two sessions—"Physical Fitness Tests" and "Objective Tests".

Coming for Second Appearance

Hanya Holm who will appear in Artist program

Dot Eades Becomes State YWCA Head

Four Other S. T. C. Delegates Present

Dot Eades, president of the Y. W. C. A. at S. T. C., was elected student chairman of the Virginia area of the Y. W. C. A. at the annual area meeting in Richmond on Sunday, October 29. Dot succeeds Becky White of Randolph-Macon Womans College.

Other delegates from Farmville were Eliza Wise, Martha Whelchel, Jean Moyer, and Miss Winnie Hiner. Inter-racial delegates represented college Y. W. C. A.'s and Y. M. C. A.'s of the entire state.

Discussion of the needs of local campuses in the light of the purpose of the Christian association and helps on program planning and resources was led by Miss Augusta Roberts, who will speak at Farmville in the spring. Other speakers were Miss Celeste Smith, Mr. Herbert King and Mr. Wiley Critz.

Four Will Attend A. K. G. Convention

Meet Will Be Held At Univ. of S. C.

Alpha Kappa Gamma, national organization recognizing leadership among College women, will hold its annual convention at the University of South Carolina at Columbia, November 3-5. Representatives from the local chapter will be Miss Jane Royall, national president of the association, Martha Meade Hardaway, president of the local chapter, Ruth Lea Purdom, Isabel Williamson and Helen Reiff.

Centering around the theme of the workshop, there will be a discussion of questions led by Virginia Smith, Queens-Chicora College. Campus elections and politics, efficient point system, student government, honor principles in college and high schools, sorority and non-sorority relationships are some of the topics that will be discussed.

Also on the program are a progressive supper to be given in all the sorority houses, a football game Saturady afternoon, business sessions and a banquet Saturday night in the Columbia Hotel which will close the convention.

Pan Americans Chain Adds Farmville S. T. C.

Mr. Benjamin F. Crowson spoke to the student body Saturday, October 28 during chapel. He represented the Pan-American Student Chain, an international organization for better relationships between students of the United States and of Central and South America.

Mr. Crowson's purpose in making such an appearance here was to organize a chapter of this "Pan-American Student Chain" organization on this campus. This organization had its origin at William and Mary and it has spread to a number of colleges—co-ed and non co-ed. Incidentally, Farmville S. T. C. is the first all girls' school to organize such a chapter.

NOTICE

Subscribe to The Virginian now. Remember 700 or more subscriptions means a reduced price of $4 per annual.

Nation Observes Education Week November 5-11

Anne Billups Is Local Chairman; Students Will Speak

Anne Billups, president of Kappa Delta Pi, is chairman of the local program for American Education Week which is November 5-11 over the entire nation. The general theme this year is "The American Way of Life", and the S. T. C. program has adopted the national theme to the situation on this campus.

Anne will speak at chapel on Saturday, November 4, on the history of Education Week, and Marie Eason on Tuesday, November 7, will talk on "Living With Others in Our Colleges". "Living Effectively and Economically in Our College" is Jane Powell's topic for Wednesday, November 8.

Dr. J. P. Wynne and Dorothy Eades will present "Self-Education in Our College" on November 9 and "Christian Citizenship in Our College" on November 10, respectively. Armistice Day will feature a talk on freedom by T. A. McCorkle and Miss Lisbeth Purdom and Mr Alfred Strick have planned a patriotic musical program for this day.

National Education Association and the American Legion sponsor the week which is observed in public schools and teachers colleges. In 1919 a series of conferences were held because the American Legion was interested in calling to the attention of the American people the needs of the schools because of the widespread physical disability and illiteracy among the soldiers during the World War. Since 1921 American Education Week has been observed annually.

Beulah Ettenger, Esther Partridge and Miss Pauline Camper complete the committee on arrangements.

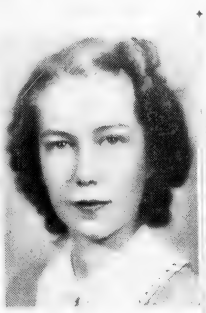
Student Standards To Hold Open Meeting

Student Standards will hold an open meeting in the Y. W. C. A. lounge on Thursday, November 2, at 4:30 o'clock.

All students are invited and urged to come and to bring suggestions for the committee to work on.

Miss Camper Speaks At N. E. S. Concention

Miss Pauline Camper of the faculty reports a "more than inspirational as well as interesting" week-end in Washington, D. C. where she went as a delegate of the National Educational Sororities to the convention of the Womans Professional Pan Hellenic Association Oct. 26-28.



About 50 delegates from law, music pharmacy, and all the professional groups were present. Miss Camper was a speaker at the formal banquet, her topic being, "How the Sorority Helps in a Teacher Training Institution".

Miss Camper summed up her speech under three points. (1) Sororities can take the place of the intimate family group; (2) Sororities are democratic in that they give a girl the chance to "become what she can", (3) Sorority ritual makes up for the religion courses state schools don't require.

Join The Rotunda

Tryouts for the writing staff of The Rotunda will be conducted for the next several weeks. All who are interested are asked to report to publication office at 7:15 tonight for assignments and further explanation.

Virginia Polley Is S.T.C. Circus Queen

VIRGINIA POLLEY

Vaden, Ringmaster; Sophs Win Skit, Juniors Are Second

Virginia Polley, senior nominee was elected Circus Queen and reigned over the latter part of the performance in the gym Saturday, October 28. Other class nominees Jerry Smith, May Winn, and Pat Gibson, formed her court and represented the "tin man", "lion", and "scarecrow" from the "Wizard of Oz". The animal fashion show was given for the queen's entertainment.

Harriette Vaden was Ringmaster whose identity was kept secret until her appearance.

Sophomores won first prize for the best Circus stunts, and Juniors received honorable mention.

"A Gay Nineties Circus," the winning performance, was directed by Edna Harris. Clowns, a tight-rope walker, a tumbler, bicycle rides, lion taming and music, made up the farce. Nell Hurt, the Republican candidate for the presidency, appeared with the traditional elephant, and Texie Belle Felts with the donkey. Sophomores also introduced "Zeke Zippers," the class jazz band.

Juniors presented "A Circus in Miniature" under the direction of Florence Lee Caralie Nelson, Chubby Hearn, Nancy Hopkins, and Marjorie Rice, clowns, had out outstanding parts.

Seniors took the scene to the Smoky Mountains where Pappy was courting the Widow Norton and the great feud started. Isabel Williamson and Ellen Bowen had the leads in a skit directed by Ollie Graham Gilchrist and Lorana Moomaw.

Freshmen gave "The History of Dance" directed by Jerry Smith.

Continued on Page 4

Backstage Workers Important to Play

"Dear Brutus" Calls For Intricate Work

Backstage work is underway for "Dear Brutus" which will be presented Friday, November 17, by the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs.

Dell Warren, head of the staging department and Lillian German, her assistant have begun planning stage effects and painting scenery for the forest scene in the second act. The first and third acts will require elaborate furniture for an English home.

Lighting is under the direction of Helen Jeffries, head of the department and Addison Campbell from Hampden-Sydney. Anna George and Dorothy Johnson are assisting. A large order for new lighting equipment has been sent for and the probable light plot is underway.

Mary Walker Mitchell, treasurer and business manager of the club, urges all members to pay dues before the play if they wish to remain in the club.

Sudie Dunton is in charge of properties; Myra Smith and Blair Goode make-up; Jerry Hatcher, music; and Anna Maxey, costuming. These are equally important phases of the club, but have not begun definite work to date.

Rehearsals are held daily except Saturday and Sunday under the direction of Miss Leola Wheeler, adviser to the Dramatic Club. Jane McGinnis is in charge of the rehearsal schedule.

Dr. Jarman to Install Seniors This Friday

Seniors will be installed on Friday, November 3, in the auditorium immediately after dinner. The service will take the place of prayers for that night.

Seniors and "Little Sisters" march in together and take their places in the front seats, until after the devotional service which a local minister will conduct.

Dr. J. L. Jarman places the cap on each member of the class after which he makes a short closing talk. Seniors will march out to the Alma Mater for the first time this year.

Every Friday the class will attend chapel in a body and will wear caps and gowns.

Activities of Des Moines Meet Charm Publication Heads

By Dot Rollins

"I hate to say anything so trite as a wonderful time", lamented Frances Alvis as she prepared to tell of Lucy Blackwell's and her convention adventures, "but really", was her explanation, "it does fit beautifully. When I think of all that fun for Lucy and me to store up as experience, I, well maybe I'd better begin at the beginning--

"We left here Tuesday after lunch amid the cheers of the staff, and got into Des Moines at 11:45 Wednesday night. But I'm leaving out all the trouble we had along the way! Everything I did in the Chicago station was wrong", said Frances dismally. "Without Lucy I should have been lost. We lost our bags! After carefully looking them up in one of those little cabinets, we departed to see the sights until train time. But when I returned my little gilt key to get 'em out again....they were gone! Yes, we blinked and searched frantically and finally we sought help. Being careful to listen to Daddy',, Frances smiled. "I asked an officer what to do and eventually we found ourselves in our baggage but not being able to possess it again until we had sworn our lives away in identification. This we did pronto and soon were on our way. It seems I hadn't locked it after all. I felt very humble as I boarded the new streamlined "Rocket" to Des Moines. There were lots of other delegates on this train and we were busy getting acquainted and enjoying the luxuries of the brand new streamliner.

Thursday morning there was little time for anything but a few introductions in the lobby before the tours began at one o'clock. That afternoon we toured the Drake University campus and buildings, the Des Moines Tribune Building, and the Columbia Broadcasting Studios.

"In the evening we went to dinner with some of our new friends

Continued on Page 3

Class Circus Capers Convey Complexity of Characters

The crowd was growing continually, anticipation of the coming event—the 1939 Circus—was mounting higher and higher. The great din of mingled voices filled the air. Something must be coming, necks were craned toward the entrance—yes sounds of marching feet, and drums could be heard approaching. A military band in all its array appeared on the scene forming lines this way and that until the audience was fairly transformed (with the aid of a great imagination) to a military drill field at West Point or what have you. The remaining scene was soon laid for the exterior of a real circus. Mothers with their children stood watching men bring in animals, singing workmen, setting black mute stakes that in turn took on life and danced and finally the tent was set up. No circus could be complete without the loud-mouthed announcer shouting forth tempting things to be seen inside the tent and the cute chubby little dame singing "O You Beautiful Doll".

"Dark clouds" soon began to gather as the scene quickly changed to give a night club effect. "The History of the Dance" was carried out first by the Indian War dance, Minuet, Waltz, Charleston, and finally the present-day jitterbug, each having its influence on the development of the latter modern jitterbug craze.

Amusement of the audience could be fairly sensed as again the stage was suddenly transformed into that of a circus in the Gay 90's. On the side lines sat an intensely interested looking group, men with their wives and children dressed in the customary tight fitting pants for the men, and the women in long full

Continued on Page 3

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 Madison Ave. New York, N. Y.
Chicago Boston Los Angeles San Francisco

Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant ..... Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Patricia Gibson
Sports Editor ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Sports Assistant ..... Elizabeth West
Social Editor ..... Johnny Lybrook
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickral, and Janelle Shelor.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson, Frances Pope.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd and Jean Upshur.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1939

Our Circus

Laurels and wreaths to all who helped make this Circus the "very best yet" — to participants, workers, and to its sponsor, Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Nothing was lacking—parade, class skits (with extra laurels to classes Sophomore and Junior), booths, shows, etc, all combined to put across the real Circus spirit. No less lacking was the excellent cooperation of every student present to do her part toward its success.

Again our motto—On to further co-operation.

Preserve Our Library

Never, never after six weeks use of it, will the expounding of the merits of our new library become a trite subject. Each day our pride in it grows—some further notice in the grace of its architecture, some recently added feature—new pictures hung, new draperies, incidentals such as information plaques and attractive signs, additional books and magazines to the already-full shelves.

For the library itself, for its every feature we are all grateful. We want to keep it as beautiful as it is now. Yet everyday there arise problems as regards its care.

These last days have brought the first rainy spell. And with this comes a plea from the library officials which each of us will want to follow. Don't carry umbrellas and raincoats into the main part of the library. At the foot of the first landing there are two cloakrooms. Please deposit all wet apparel here. Wet garments will undoubtedly be detrimental to the floors and furniture.

Point number two in the care of the library regards the use of ink in the reading rooms. At the changing desk there is ink. Fill your pen or leave ink for use here. Save the tables from ugly spots.

Surely these are easy enough to follow. We have an honor system which refers as much to respecting property, both personal and general, as to the respect for individual right. We'll watch it work.

"Mike" College Picks:

Thursday, November 2

9:30 p. m.—Americas Town meeting of the Air.—Robert Jackson, U. S. Solicitor-General, discusses, "Is Our Constitutional Government in Danger?"—NBC Blue.

10:30 p. m.—Columbia Workshop — "Blennerhassett" — new oper aby Vittorio Giannini—CBS.

11:30 p. m.—Benny Goodman—CBS.

Friday, November 3

10:30 p. m.—Young man with a band—Gene Krupa—CBS.

11:30 p. m.—Jimmy Dorsey—CBS.

Saturday, November 4

1:00 p. m.—What Price America?—"Some Like It Hot"—CBS.

10:30 p. m.—Arch Oboler's Plays—NBC Red.

12:00 mid.—Louis Armstrong—CBS.

Sunday, November 5

1:30 p. m.—University of Chicago Round Table—NBC Red.

2:00 p. m.—Great Plays—"Edward II"—Marlowe—NBC Blue.

3:00 p. m.—New York Philharmonic-Symphony, John Barbirolli, conductor—CBS.

12:30 a. m.—Louis Prima—CBS.

Monday, November 6

4:30 p. m.—Adventures in Science—CBS.

9:30 p. m.—Youth Questions the Headlines—NBC Blue.

Tuesday, November 7

8:30 p. m.—Information, Please—NBC Blue.

9:30 p. m.—Bob Crosby—CBS.

Wednesday, November 8

10:30 p. m.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr.—Anniversary of the Federal Arts Project—CBS.

How Can College Help More Effective Student Function?

Peoria, Ill.--(ACP)--College student leaders of the mid west, at a meeting conceived in freedom and dedicated to greater student influence in administrative affairs, have set up a new program of undergraduate action.

"How Can College Help the Student to Function More Effectively?" was the central theme of the two-day conference at Bradley college here. Taking part in the meet, which represented one of the first efforts of college students to get together to solve their own problems, were the University of Chicago, Principia, Armour Tech, Wheaton, Illinois Wesleyan, Knox and Bradley.

Conclusions and recommendations reached by the conference include the following:

1. Class attendance should not be compulsory except in those few courses where the nature of the subject demands it, such as languages, mathematics, etc. If a professor cannot make classes interesting enough that students will attend voluntarily, he should be discharged.

2. Class attendance should not directly affect grades.

3. All college programs should require survey courses designed to provide an understanding and familiarity with general principles and materials involved in the "core of knowledge" which befits an educated person.

4. There is validity to offering survey courses both before and after specialization, so long as they are taken before graduation.

5. There should be curricular freedom beyond the required survey courses.

6. Academic and vocational work can best be handled as separate departments of the same institution, so that each department, while individual, can contribute to the function of the other and to the function of the university as a whole.

7. A knowledge of the so-called cultural subjects, such as music, art and literature, is absolutely essentian to a college education.

American Collegians Express Views on World Situation

(Student Opinion Surveys)

As the nation debates the way to stay out of a European war, what is American college youth thinking and saying about the situation? Scores of personal interviewers last week completed the first of this year's polls for the Student Opinion Surveys of America on campuses from coast to coast—and found:

1. Students are opposed to changing the neutrality law, mainly because they believe this would involve the U. S.

2. Even if the Allies were in danger of losing to Germany, the U. S. should not send troops to help them.

3. College men—almost 6 out of every 10—say they would not volunteer if England and France were losing and this country went to their aid.

While Congressional oratory got underway in Washington, interviewers stopped students in halls, libraries, dormitories, asked: "Should the neutrality law be changed so that any country at war could buy war supplies in the United States?"

Yes, answered ..... 42 per cent
No, answered ..... 58 per cent

This shows that students do not agree with national public opinion shown by other polls to be in favor of revision. Some persons hold that when the question is worded, " so that England and France as well as other nations can buy war supplies " sentiment is more pro. The second wording represents what will actually be the practical outcome of the change in the law. But survey tests show that there is no substantial shift of student opinion when England and France are mentioned. The answer is still "no." The majority remains against even when all qualified "yes" answers are added to the above 42.

To the question, "If England and France were in danger of defeat, should the U. S. send troops to help them?" only 36 per cent replied "yes."

Following that query, men students, the majority of whom are of conscription age, were asked: "If England and France were in danger of defeat and the U. S. declared war on their enemies, would you volunteer?" The results:

Would volunteer ..... 42 per cent
Would not volunteer 58 per cent

Significantly, events in recent months, climaxed actual combat in Europe, have apparently influenced a good many, for in February, 1939, the Surveys found that only 2 out of every 10 would volunteer if this country went to war for other reasons than the defense of the country. These opinions, of course, are not a prediction of what would happen if this nation did declare war. Shifts in sentiment may already be seen since world war has become more of a possibility. No one can tell what war fever can do.

What Others Say

In the last ten years, Washington University has awarded scholarships totalling more than $1,000,000.

Princeton University will found a special geographical library in honor of Richard Halliburton.

Beloit College has scheduled two Thanksgiving holidays this year.

Barnard College has received a gift of $100,000 to be used in establishing a health education program.

Cornell University has a special faculty counselor for foreign students.

Commuting students at Massachusetts State College travel a total of 18,024 miles a week.

Temple University has offered its stadium as the site for the 1940 Olympics.

Campus jobs netted Williams College students $68,000 last year.

Echoes from an Empty Space

It seems to us that something will have to be done about the wee bit of dirt that we gather----it should be against the law for all of you week-enders to hold out all of the high-lights of your trips- so-o-o-o we've decided to stop peeping and to stare instead --Okay---? After the Circus Saturday night we won't have to ask Mickey Beck how she keeps the Shannon stag line enchanted-----she let the secret out of the bag.

We would like to ask, however, how the "General", even though he has a lot of wit, keeps the Mathone child's brain occupied for five whole minutes . . . Sara Lawson it has been whispered could be a walking information bureau on the subject of W. & L. maybe she could fix up a couple of these girls who long to be among the prom-trotters).

Girls! Here's your chance! Take a lesson from Loyd and learn how easy it really is to patch a broken heart . . . We hear that Polly Hughes had a cute little soldier boy at the game in Lynchburg and Whats' this? a sprained ankle? Well, all we can say is that you'd better watch that rough stuff, Polly; it might not always be an ankle . . . Good going, Helen Travis, we hear you made two touchdowns; yep! one with the Gobblers and one with the Wahoos, but we see that the fifty yard run was made toward Hampden-Sydney, yes, Ed might not have the "ball" but he sure has that line. (Hold it Ed—they say that's how to win) . . . Say! did any of you gals see the disappointed look on Nimmo's, Boo's, and Judy Watson's faces?—well, it was because their little cadets wouldn't march back to them. (Keep your chins up, girls; at least they didn't walk out on you!) . . . Ask Pettigrew if she needs someone to help her keep her dates straight—this thing of crashing through with two for one week-end is a little confusing—well, at least to us . . . The first number on the "Hit-Parade of the Ree" is "lights out"; and oh, how popular it is . . . Remember, girls, that the watch-bird is staring at You! and You! and You! So-o-o-o don't blame us!

In the Infirmary

This poem was inspired by the Infirmary ice box.

Down in the Infirmary
In the kitchen neat and bare,
You'll find a poor old ice box
Just a-sitting there.

Down in the Infirmary
It's rusty, muddy brown,
And there's not another like it
In all of Farmville's town.

Down in the Infirmary
It's carrying in the ice,
And when it drips out on the floor
It isn't very nice.

Down in the Infirmary
It's weak-kneed, old and round,
And if you shook it very hard
You wouldn't find it sound.

Down in the Infirmary
It's "stoop" and 'squat" and "sqint",
Don't you think it would be nice
If someone took the hint?

Signed "86"

A Student Speaks

For many years S. T. C. has had the privilege of celebrating in whatever way they see fit Thanksgiving with their families. Because families are our primary reason, no matter how you take it for giving any sort of thanks this custom is more than a tradition. It is a part of our religion.

This year no holiday is marked on the calendar that would allow more than one fourth of us to be at home for more than several hours on that day. Why? That we do not understand.

There is a rumor that the change has come at the request of many parents. This does not seem reasonable. There are few of our parents who will not give us permission to leave school on Thanksgiving Day. The two major games of the day to be played in Roanoke and Richmond will attract most of us.

The danger of one-day holiday lies in the great danger of a crowded road. With the hundreds of people rushing as we will have to rush to make the game on time--there's bound to be a slip-up somewhere. What if one of these slip-ups should be one of us?

We do not want you, Miss Editor, or any member of the student body or the administration to feel that we have the wrong attitude. We are willing to cooperate 100 percent with you in whatever decision is made. However, picking the lesser of the two evils (if anyone would be so brazen as to call Thanksgiving an evil) we put our plea to you for Thanksgiving holidays.

A Senior.

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

Tired of Talk

Your columnist was amused at a cartoon which appeared in a "News-Leader" of last week with the caption, "I don't know which is more boring war or peace." A great many people in America feel just that way about the situation. If they're going to fight why don't they fight? The war is not quite as exciting to us now as it was those first few weeks to Mr. Average Man.

A Different Kind of War

This war is not one of loud noises, it is not a war of great hates. England has no intense hate for Germany or France for Germany and there seems to be no great hate for either of the countries on Germany's part. It's rather as if the three have a high respect for each other. Perhaps this "respect" comes with knowledge that each has for the other's power and a fear of that same power.

This is a war of cunningness. If Germany were to drop bombs on London tomorrow the situation would change immediately. Intense hate would burst into flames. As soon as the first devastating air raid comes on England or France all hopes that Hitler might have of making the allies come to his terms without war will be lost. Hitler knows this. The war moves slowly. Each side waiting for the other to slip up, to make some break that will give ample reason or perhaps "excuse" is the better word, for the attack. Until that slip up comes there appears little reason to predict any real fighting on either side.

The City of Flint

The American vessel "The City of Flint" was captured last week by German forces and taken into a Russian port under German command. She was flying the Nazi flag when brought to port. Under international law if a vessel is carrying fifty-one per cent contraband it is legal to capture the ship and take its merchandise. After investigations were made this was found to be the case in "The City of Flint" so the only accusation that can be made on the part of America lies in the fact that the vessel was taken not to Germany but to a neutral port.

If a vessel is captured and found to be carrying less than fifty-one per cent contraband, it is legal to take only the contraband while the vessel is allowed to proceed on its voyage with the rest of its cargo.

Japan Does Not Wait

While all the eyes of the world are focused on the European crises and every ear is strained to hear the sound of the first fire that will mean "Democracy" or "Hitlerism forever," Japan goes right ahead with her "undeclared" war on China.

America debates on neutrality and argues as to how she can best help the allies and keep Germany thinking she's neutral. We go right on hating Japan and sending her nice little packages of scrap iron and raw materials to kill the Chinese.

Dr. Judd's speech in chapel last week was most significant. He said American women were making a choice between silk stockings today and their sons tomorrow. —a choice between a "good" market today and no market tomorrow. America is furnishing Japan with some eighty-five per cent of her war materials today.

We sent our fleet out into Pacific as a "hint" to Japan to behave. We told the little boy not to play with fire and Santa Claus brought him a "dreat big" box of fire crackers and a box of matches. America is a wise country! Oh, yes! And very, very neutral!

Newman, Mann Head Varsity Hockey

Class Captains Are Elected

Kathryn Newman and Estelle Mann, seniors, will serve as co-captains of the varsity hockey squad for the 1939 season. Both girls are residents of Farmville and have been on the varsity squad for four years. Previous to this, they played together on the College High School team. Kathryn plays center forward position and Estelle right wing.

Sara Keesee, Helen McIlwaine, Dorothy Johnson and Hallie Hillsman have been elected captains of the Senior, Junior, Sophomore and Freshman class teams, respectively. As yet, the teams have not been selected. Those eligible to play are:

Seniors: Jean Clarke, Dot Fischer, Marjorie Nimmo, Ruby Adams, Myra Smith, Estelle Mann, Bernice Copley, Kathryn Newman, Sara Keesee, Anna B. Jones, Agnes Sale.

Juniors: Crews Borden, Marjorie Gooden, Florence Lee, Helen McIlwaine, Mary Sue Edmonson, Elizabeth Hillsman, Anna Johnson, Rosalie Coberly.

Sophomores: Elizabeth Barlow, Corilda Chaplin, Nancy Dupuy, Dot Johnson, Mary O. West, Mickey Beck, Yvonne Cheape, Clyde Saunders, Harriet Walker, Jane Engleby, Sally Hutchinson, Dot Sprinkle.

Freshmen: Ellen Ebel, Hallie Hillsman, Anne Moore, Betsy Jennings, Marion Papas, Rosalie Rogers, Ella Marsh Pilkinton, Sarah Wade Owen, Mary Haynes, Alice Goode Cohoon, Harriet Ball, Iris Geyer, Terry Buyers, Elva Andrews.

Sports Calendar

Monday
3:00-4:30—Hockey
4:00-5:30—Recreational Swimming

Tuesday
3:00-4:30—Hockey
4:00-4:30—Beginners Swimming
4:30-5:30—Recreational Swimming

Wednesday
3:00-4:30—Hockey
4:00-5:30—Recreational Swimming

Thursday
3:00-4:30—Hockey
4:00-4:30—Beginners Swimming
3:30-5:00—Supervised Archery
4:30-5:30—Recreational Swimming

Friday
4:00-5:30—Recreational Swimming

In This Corner

Well, folks, ye olde see-all, know-nothing, and tell-everything-reporter is back again, after an uneventful week, to bring you another of those "do or die" battles for Campus Champ of 1939-40.

This week the setup is a little out of the ordinary for a fight, but quite common place to us S. T. C. gals for the "eternal triangle" is confronting us.

In this corner, on my right, is a new comer to the ring, in the personification of the Golf links, and favored to win, they tell me.

In this corner, on my left, we again find the swimming pool, bravely returning for another try at the decision.

And in the corner directly across from me is the Hockey field in all its glory.

From the looks of things, it promises to be a close fight. Water polo has started in a big way in the pool and though new to most of us, has caused an exceedingly large amount of curiosity. Varsity and class hockey squads have been chosen and that means attendance at practices. But despite all this, it is the day of swing and that Longwood course is a beautiful sight in the fall.

The contestants are holding forth their most attractive feature and there's the bell—the water in the pool ripples, the white balls roll out on to the hockey field — and the trucks to Longwood draw up to the back porch. Girls scatter here and there—some after their bathing suits, others after shin guards and hockey sticks. But the majority (this week) make their way for the truck, and thence to Longwood. The Golf Course is the undisputed winnah!

Cold weather is coming tho', so golf can't keep the lead for long, and this season, any season's always ripe for keen competition on any sports field.

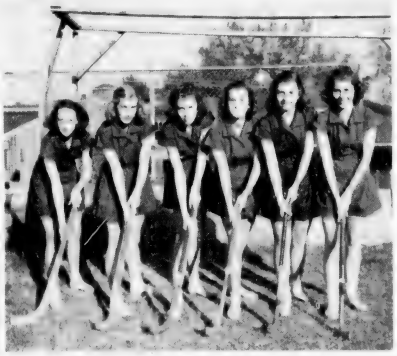
Golf Becomes Major Year Round Sport

Golf has been made a year round sport through the efforts of the Athletic Association and Miss Olive Iler, faculty adviser. They have procured the services of Mr. Carroll Brown, professional, and have supplied golf clubs and balls for the use of the students. The rear locker room has been turned into an indoor golf range where practices will be held during inclement weather. The Longwood course will be used whenever the weather permits.

It Takes . . .

DAVIDSON'S BEAUTY SHOPPE

to make you look your Best . .



Your November resolutions to stay lovely with a

PERMANENT WAVE
WEEKLY MANICURE
REGULAR FINGER WAVE

Special Attention to College Girls

DAVIDSON'S
Phone 163

Hockey Leaders

Left to Right—Hallie Hillsman, Sara Keesee, Helen McIlwaine, Margy Nimmo, bgr., Ella Marsh Pilkinton, ass't mgr., Dorothy Johnson.

Sports Slants

By PAT GIBSON

Golf

Put down that golf club. Just for a minute, anyway. Let's make it long enough to sign up for the Winter Golf Association. Swinging in the winter will help keep that spring crop of blisters anyway, plus eliminating general muscular weariness. The sessions will be held outside if the weather permits and on the indoor golf range in the locker room should Old Man Winter go on a rampage.

Speaking of golf, there are more and more people signing up, the A. A. has bought some new clubs and 800 golf balls, and so—well, we're all set. Let the champions blossom forth!

Hockey

The "ground, sticks—ground, sticks" game is really taking the center of the athletic stage this week. Varsity as well as class captains have been elected, the girls are raring to go, and go they will against William and Mary Extension in Richmond next Wednesday.

The class teams haven't been selected to date so if you're lacking a practice or two—get out there and make them up. It's the old question arising once again—Green and White or Red and White. Perhaps you haven't heard but Kathryn Newman and Estelle Mann, varsity co-captains are veteran teammates. The combination has been in full swing for seven or eight years. A great record!

Aquatics

With the Water Carnival resting comfortably until its second appearance on November 15, water polo becomes the main event on the swimming program. Practices are being scheduled for this week—Check with your sports calendar. The H20 Club has turned "fairy godmother" and ordered some new equipment for the pool—flutter boards and water polo goals plus more water polo balls. All in all the pool scene is a lively one (and warm, as well).

Archery

They say that there's going to be a real dyed-in-the-wool battle on the athletic field come November 17. Our fair damsels are prepared to shoot it out to the last arrow in a tournament. There'll be more about this later so keep your eye peeled on the A. A. bulletin board.

Convention

Continued from Page 1

Later on Mayor Conkling of Des Moines welcomed the 550 dedelgates who represented 36 states ranging from Vermont to California. Drake University was to be host during our stay.

"Wait a minute; did you know Lucy had broadcast from the lobby? Someone asked her name and where she was from and there she was speaking on the radio. More excitment!

Gardner Cowles, president of Look and executive editor of the Des Moines was the speaker of the evening, after which a dance followed. That was most enjoyable," said Frances with emphasis.

lunch and toured the plant. We witnessed the various publication processes involved in putting out "Better Homes and Gardens" from cover to cover.

"On Friday morning we attended round table discussions and then went to the Meredith Publishing Company, where we ate lunch and toured the plant. We realized by then how complex are the duties of magazine publishing. We witnessed the various publication processes involved in putting out "Better Homes and Gardens" from cover to cover.

The main speaker for the banquet was Ding Darling, national syndicate cartoonist who talked on the crying need of newspapers today for 'Brains'. Before he began he assured us he never gave the speech he planned, and before he had completed his address, newsboys came in flourishing extras and shrieking, "Read all about it. The speech Ding didn't give!" Everyone was delighted and completely in the mood for the formal dance that followed. We had a lovely time---everyone liked our Southern accents and the fact that we were from ol' Virginy.

On Saturday afternoon, the crowning event was the Missouri-Iowa St. homecoming game which we attended at Iowa State in Ames. This college has a lovely campus and beautiful old brick buildings.If we ever leave S. T. C. look for us there.

"But you know", said Frances reflectively, we're glad to be back. The curt ways and bustle of the North and West definitely don't suit our southern personalities. Give us Virginia every time."

Circus Event

Continued from Page 1

dresses. Clowns imitating the performers in absurd mannerisms were in the scene too. One after another band, tight rope walker, acrobatic performer, a coy lassie singing "Comin' Through the Rye", animal trainer, and even—a "bicycle built for two".

Suddenly, but without warning the audience was carried to the "great smoky mountains" and a chorus stationed themselves to lend rhythm to the sad, sad story of the hanging of Brother Norton, as it was acted out by pappy's children and the Nortons. Romance and deep emotion accompanied the touching courtship of pappy and the Widow Norton and the tension became more and more noticeable as the feuding started and finally Pappy's children whose "heads were bloody but unbowed", being greatly out numbered, lost the battle and Pappy was strung up the apple tree.

Thus the series of performances ended—but what have we? The Ringmaster in great wordiness prepared the entrance of the queen who had been suspended (don't believe it) in a basket from the ceiling during the entire evening. Breathless and baffled the audience watched open-mouthed the descent of the basket and the smiling queen whose head appeared unruffled from the midst of the balloons. Loud applause rang throughout the "cellar".

A striking bit of final originality was added to the night's show in behalf of the queen's entertainment when the floor was crowded with an animal fashion show with a clumsy elephant depicting the latest trunks from Greentrees and among others, a saucy pig modeling the pork pie hat which has been running the country hog wild. The floor show thus concluded a well-satisfied audience filed down the steps to take in the various enticing side shows.

Golf Gossip

By Carroll Brown
Professional, Longwood

When a golfer sits down to write a column that should be news, and I don't feel much different than I imagine my students feel when they are first confronted with that little white golf ball. However, my hunt and punch system is all oiled up and I'm going to let the ink splatter where it may.

First of all our afternoon Swing Sessions at Longwood have become increasingly popular. The girls have been coming out to practice the theory they have soaked up in their lessons and there isn't a girl in the lot I don't hold hope for. This constant practice makes golfers, and it is from this group that I am endeavoring to build a golf team that will be able to play good, smart golf anywhere. All told there are forty-five students and faculty members out taking divots and raising a fine crop of blisters. But, we do not draw the line there and anyone who has a real desire to play should have a try at it whether they take lessons or not.

Miss Iler and the Athletic Association have given splendid cooperation. New clubs have been bought for the girls to practice with, and a large, complete practice net will soon be up and ready for indoor play. This net and indoor golf games are for the use of all at the College. But, we are forming a Winter Golf Association whose members will receive instruction for ten weeks beginning December 1st. Those who hit the ball this winter will have their swings in good shape and when spring rolls around again it won't be nearly so difficult to keep the chin back, etc., etc., etc.

I do not believe that anyone is going to regret the time spent learning to play. Throughout the country golf is being taken up by young and old alike, and, this fine, clean game is one that may be enjoyed for a lifetime. So, all you future Patty Bergs and Glenna Colletts are invited to leave your tempers at school, cut off those beautiful finger nails, say good-bye to white bands and come out and swing along with the rest of us.

And, I'll be swinging along too, for this is conclusive proof that the poor old pro is certainly no Winchell.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Quality—Price—Service

HOTEL WEYANOKE
Regular Meals
A La Carte Service
Salads & Sandwiches

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop
"From old to new with any shoes"
Only First Class Material used
All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

COLLEGE SHOPPE
SPECIAL for S. T. C. GIRLS
Breakfast—One Egg, Bacon, Toast
Coffee, Butter and Jelly 15c
Call us for your sandwiches
WE DELIVER
CALL 200

MEET ME AT . . .
SHANNON'S
FOR FRESH CANDIES—S. T. C. Paper, and good food and fountain drinks.

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

Martin the Jeweler
RYTEX CHRISTMAS CARDS
50 FOR $1.00

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY MEATS
AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

NEWBERRY'S
5—10—25c STORE
Shop Here
YOU ARE INVITED
WE GIVE SERVICE

File Investigator Holds No Secrets

By Ann Cock

Lookout 'cause here comes that file box investigator bringing you the highlights of the week-end, and what a week-end. Speaking of dances, Johnny Lybrook was sponsor for Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity at the University of Richmond dances. Other lassies of the "old school" on the same floor were Emily Hoskins, Boonie Stevenson, Betty Lucy, Mildred Ligon and Nancy Wolfe.

Roberta Latture and Eleanor Hutchinson must be holding their own at W. and L., because they both turned out for the D. U. fraternity dance held in Lexington.

"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love." In the fall a young lady's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of football. And Lynchburg was definitely Farmville conscious when the city was invaded by the W. and L. and V. P. I. fans. Pat Whitlock, Marguerite Russ, Polly Hughes and her guest Marian Mitchell, Imogene Hutter and guests Margaret Ann Bunting and Eugenia Loyd, Elizabeth Wilkinson, Cottie Radspinner, Frances Keck, Virginia Rudd, Jeanne Sears, Judith Marshall, Estelle Paulette, Rose Courter and guests Anne Lee Gardner and Cora Lee Gilliam, Pearl Thompson, Sue Howell, Evelyn Burford, Lucille Richeson, Ruby Mae Parsons, Mary Anne Dryden, Faye Brandon and Anne Bradshaw were heard givin' a yell for W. & L.—or was it V. P. I.?

Far away in Richmond, while we "stay at homes" were studiously attending classes, wedding bells rang; S. T. C. belles ran—Jean Steele and Genevieve Cook being on hand to see the "ties that bind" made.

The file box has no secrets. It'll give the low down on anyone who went anywhere, so why stop now!

Ora Earnest and Martha Ann Baldwin "tripped the light fantastic" at the dances in Harrisonburg as the guests of Miss Virginia Givens.

And say, did you know Delta Upsilon had a house party in Lexington this week-end? Neither did I, but Margaret Mish was quite aware of the fact. She was there.

Here a dance, there a dance, everywhere a dance, dance, even in Lyndhurst—this one attended by Louise Wilson.

What's this? Talent! Yes sirree! I'll have you know Sarah Chambers and Helen Hoyer broadcast from Richmond on Saturday, and Catherine Bodine from the Bowling Green. We'll put Farmville on the map yet.

"Variety is the spice of life" so they say; and if 'tis true this school is well seasoned for Elizabeth Kent, Kaki Peery, Louise Painter and Margaret James went to a convention in Huntington, West Virginia and Miss Barlow, accompanied by Dot Fischer and Fat Gibson attended a Physiotherapy (you'll just have to sneeze it) convention.

More power to you Ruth Palmer. She went to Wake Forest to a game and a dance.

Now I know y'all are eager to know who went home with whom this week-end, but look at the little bit of space this back page affords, and compare it with that stack of socialites, and be thankful, my friends, that I recorded this much.

Circus Queen

Continued from Page 1

and the class presented dancing in America from the Indian to the present jitterbug. Robin Henning was the "oddity" of the skit.

Judges for these acts were Miss Adele Hutchinson, Mr. Boyd Coyner, and Miss Mary Nichols, who in making the decision considered originality and presentation.

After the show the gym floor was open to everyone to play bingo, dance, spin wheels, or pitch pennies at booths sponsored by school organizations.

Four Sororities Announce Pledges

Ten old girls pledged four of the eight sororities on campus during fall rushing which was October 23-25.

Bids were signed October 25 and the following accepted:

Alpha Sigma Tau—Jane Witt, Farmville, and Doris Chesnut, Durham, N. C.

Mu Omega—Sudie Dunton, Nasawadox.

Phi Zeta Sigma—Martha Frances Cobb, Richmond, and Nahrea Coleman, Crewe.

Theta Sigma Upsilon—Carolyn L. Ford, Amherst, Harriet Haskins, Campton, Mary Louise Cunningham, Fincastle, Mary Louise Cox, Welters, and Frances Stoutamire, Salem.

Six weeks after the opening of each quarter, bids are issued to old girls.

New Pledges Are Guests of Honor

Alpha Sigma Tau, Mu Omega, Theta Sigma Upsilon and Phi Zeta Sigma gave parties in their chapter rooms Wednesday night, October 25, in honor of the new pledges. The guests of honor were entertained with songs and games

Pi Kappa Sigma Sends Four to Meet

Elizabeth Kent, Louise Painter, Kaki Peery and Margaret James, representing the local chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma, were present at the convention at Marshall College, Huntington, West Virginia, October 27-31.

Elsie Dodd, alumna of local chapter, who is president of the fourth district, also attended.

A tea, banquet and a dance, in addition to the scheduled meetings, were given in honor of the delegates.

Miss Nichols Entertains Debaters

Miss Mary Nichols, the new coach of the debate club entertained the members of the club at a tea Saturday afternoon, October 28, at her home.

A discussion of the national Pi Kappa Delta question led by Dr. J. E. Walmsley followed.

Wesley Foundation Has Supper Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Potts entertained the Wesley Foundation Council at a supper meeting at their home Monday, October 30.

Pan-Hel Gives Skit At Open Meeting

Pan-Hellenic Association presented a skit illustrating rush rules at an open meeting, Tuesday afternoon, October 31.

The purpose of this meeting was to bring to attention of the members the rules and the importance of their being observed more closely.

Mu Omega's Supper

Miss Leola Wheeler, adviser, Miss Adele Hutchinson, alumna, and Ann Martin were guests in addition to the members and new pledge.

EACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.
Friday-Sat., Nov. 3-4
WALLACE BEERY
CHESTER MORRIS
"THUNDER AFLOAT"
Yankee Doodle Goes to Town
Latest WAR SCENES
Next Mon.-Tues., Nov. 6-7
DON AMECHE
ALICE FAYE
'Hollywood Calvalcade'
Latest WAR SCENES
Next Wed-Thurs., Nov. 8-9
ANN SOTHERN
FRNCHOT TONE
'FAST AND FURIOUS'
FOOTBALL THRILLS!

FOR THAT NEW PAIR OF
Evening Slippers or a Pair of Dress Pumps that are just right for any ensemble.
Make our store your first choice.
DOROTHY MAY STORE

ATTENTION! STUDENTS
Have your parents enroll you under the Medical Reimbursement Policy issued the College to protect you against accidents.
F. W. HUBBARD, Agent
Planters Bank Building
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

SHOP AT THE HUB
S. T. C. Headquarters for Sport Oxfords in all of the newest shades with Val-Cork, Crepe and Leather Soles.
Priced from $3.00 to $5.00
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Appreciates your Patronage—Charge it

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

BICYCLES
IT'S FUN TO KEEP FIT
25c PER HOUR
302 ST. GEORGE ST.
(Between Lpis Church & Station)

Rose's
5-10-25c Store
ON THE CORNER
School Supplies
& Room Furnishings

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

For Christmas give Early American Old Spice. Also men's Xmas Sets — Phone 356

Eternally Yours for Real Mildness
and Better Taste
CHESTERFIELD'S RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

You'll enjoy every Chesterfield you smoke because you'll find them cooler, you'll like the taste, and Chesterfields are definitely milder. There's a big preference for the cigarette that really satisfies.

Chesterfield's RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos is the perfect blend to give you more smoking pleasure. Make your next pack Chesterfield... you can't buy a better cigarette.

For your pleasure...
The Right Combination
of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Attend Library

The Rotunda

Dedication Tomorrow

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 8, 1939 | NO. 7

Library Will Be Dedicated Tomorrow

Library Evolves From Classroom to Building

"In 1837, some farseeing citizens of Farmville and vicinity, realizing that they had in Hampden-Sydney College a school for their sons, decided to establish in Farmville a school for their daughters; therefore they appealed to the State legislature for a charter. On March 5, 1839, the charter was granted." One hundred years ago the first corner stone on this site was laid where the present new library is located.

By a long process of success and failure the campus has been steadily enlarged, and through the efforts and foresight of past presidents and present one, Dr. Jarman, the halls, colonnade and buildings have taken shape.

However, at this particular time more interest is felt in how the latest addition, the new library located on the west end of the campus, came to be. Suppose we take a look back to the year 1901. In 1905 what is now Miss L. London's classroom was the library which included some 2000 books. Thirty-eight years ago, 1901, a $20,000 appropriation was made by the legislature to build the west wing. The next year Dr. Jarman assumed the office of president of this institution.

The bottom floor was used for the training school. In 1910, a part of second floor of this wing contained the school library and this only included the main and front rooms. Classrooms were back of these Later the partition was taken out and the back room was added. In 1915, the geography room that was on the second floor was turned into a reference room. After this was done, the capacity of that library including all of second floor Library was approximately 15,000 books.

Office of librarian went through quite a change of hands from 1902

Continued on Page 3

College Celebrates Education Week With Chapel Talks

Members of Faculty And Students Are On Program

Mr. S. M. Holton gave the opening talk in chapel on Tuesday, November 7, for National Education Week which is being celebrated throughout the nation this week.

"Creating Love of Learning in our College" was Mr. Holton's topic in which he stated that the chief duty of college was to make the students think and gather new ideas. However, there is a danger in the love of learning, namely, the greater desire for reward than for personal development.

A love of learning may be created through the classroom, extra curricular activities, and movies. Mr. Holton concluded by asking if anyone had ever heard herself think.

Preceding this talk Dr. J. P. Wynne read a letter from President Roosevelt in which he named tolerance, fairplay and practice in scientific method as education not received in books.

Anne Billips gave the history of National Education Week on Saturday, November 4. It is sponsored by the National Educational Association and the American Legion and has been observed since 1921 after its beginning in 1919.

Dr. Wynne addressed the Stu-

Continued on Page 6

Sara Keesee Will Manage May Day

First Time This Committee Tried

Sara Keesee, senior, has been selected as the business chairman of 1940 May Day, announces Essie Milner, general chairman of May Day.

This year inaugurates the beginning of such a committee. In previous years, transportation, publicity, finances, and the scheduling of practices have been handled by separate committees and chairmen, but this year Sara will be the general head of all these committees. Last year she was chairman of the court committee.

Blair Goode and Virginia Polley will be co-chairmen of the costume committee; May Wertz will be head of music; and Dot Rollins will be in charge of the scenery and grounds. The theme and dance committee have been combined, with Essie Milliner at head.

Members of committees will be selected this week and everyone is urged to sign up with the different groups as soon as further announcement is made.

"Peace" Is Theme

Peace is the theme for the prayer services during the month of November, which are sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. prayers committee.

Ballad Singer Charms Appreciative Group

Nearly two hundred students and faculty heard Mrs. Kit Williamson, from Altavista, sing ballads with Virginia interpretations on Friday, November 3, in the Student Lounge.

Among the selections were "The Dedected Lover", "Billy Boy", "Two Sisters," "Jack the Sailor", "Mary's Blessing", "Farmer Boy", and "A Noble Youth and Maiden".

Mrs. Williamson has contributed many ballads to the collection in Dr. Arthur Kyle Davis' "Traditional Ballads of Virginia". She has broadcast under the auspices of John Powell and has made recordings.

Among the ballads she has contributed to Dr. Davis' collection are "Barbara Allen", "The False Young Man", "Cairo Gal", "Our Goodman", "Miss Mary's Parrot", and "The Two Sisters". These are listed under the name of Mrs. James Sprouse which she used at the time.

Siberian Singers Return November 21

Siberian Singers will present a program on November 21 for the second of the lyceum series.

These singers have given numerous performances here, but have not appeared in the auditorium since the spring of 1938.

The definite program for the lyceum has not been announced yet. However, in previous years the group wore gayly colored Russian costumes and sang folk songs, hymns and ballads of their native country.

(Far left) A corner of the Browsing Room. (Middle) Looking west through the main lobby. (Right) A part of the Reference Room.

(Top) Farmville's new library which was opened in August and will be formally dedicated tomorrow.

Southern Convention Charms And Benefits AKG Delegates

By ANNA JOHNSON

"We had so much fun and met so many lovely people that I can't remember it all," is the opinion of Helen Reiff concerning the Alpha Kappa Gamma convention which she and Miss Jane Royall, Martha Meade Hardaway, Marjorie Nimmo, and Ruth Lea Purdom attended in Columbia, S. C. South Carolina was new to most of us. We arrived about 6 o'clock and after registering and "sightseeing" the new dorm we had supper. It wasn't an ordinary supper, either, but one of these progressive affairs in the different sorority rooms, with a course in each room. All this time we were getting acquainted with everyone. The girls were charming hostesses.

"About fifty girls representing the four national chapters of the fraternity, were present for the convention. Representatives from all other women's colleges in South Carolina had been invited in an effort to create an interest among other colleges. After supper, small groups were formed to discuss various problems that arise on campuses. Then the groups broke up into social gatherings.

Saturday morning was a cold one, at least for the South Carolina girls. It was 40 degrees, whereas the week before it had been warm enough for outdoor swimming. We S. T. C. girls discovered how large a big campus can be, because we walked several blocks for breakfast. The entire campus covers probably about 12 blocks and no one knows how many buildings there are. After panel discussion groups in the morning, pictures of the representatives were taken. In the afternoon there was a most exciting football game between the universities of South Carolina and Florida, complete with cold weather and injured football players (one man lost six teeth).

"After the game, we shopped in Columbia. Then came the banquet in the Crystal Room of the Hotel Columbia, a new feature of the city. There we came in contact with two wonderful things, a heavenly dinner, and the speaker of the evening, Dr. Josiah Morse. His speech centered around leadership, the right or wrong kind. Besides his inspiring address, he entertained us with jokes and his typical humor. The remainder of the evening was spent in talking and getting acquainted with the dean of the college in her beautiful rooms. Thus to bed and Sunday, back to Farmville, studies and many hours of telling everyone about South Carolina and its charming Southern people.

Miss Olive Iler Is Fresman Adviser

Miss Olive T. Iler, of the Physical Education department, was elected Freshman Classman and adviser at the class meeting held Tuesday, October 24.

Miss Iler attended Sargent School at Cambridge, Massachusetts, and Farmville State Teacher's College where she majored in history. She has taught in Baltimore, Maryland, and has done supervision work in the state of Maryland.

Miss Iler has been classman before, most recently for the class of '36-'37. She is coach of all major athletics and serves as faculty adviser for Student Standards Committee.

Pi Gamma Mu to Send Convention Delegates

Doris Chestnut and Mary Mahone were elected as delegates to represent the Virginia Gamma chapter of Pi Gamma Mu at the National Convention to be held December 26,27,28 in Philadelphia at Hotel Benjamin Franklin.

Alternate delegates will be Jane Rosenberger and Marjorie Nimmo.

Each chapter is allowed one vote

Continued on Page 6

Library Has 22 Workers on Staff

Miss Mary Snead, Librarian, Has Held Position 11 Years

Miss Mary M. Snead, head librarian, Misses Mary Swift Carmen Clark, and Mrs. Pauline Reid Reynolds, assistants, and 18 student assistants compose the regular staff of the new college library. The student assistants learn the entire routine of library work, their task being confined to one particular branch of the work.

Miss Snead has been librarian at Farmville for 11 years and has been instrumental in the work and spread of the present new library. An accomplished musician, she formerly taught music at a international college in Cairo, Egypt. While there she taught eight months of the year and traveled extensively in Europe the other four. Due to ill health, she returned to America and took up library work at Pratt Institute and Library School. From there she came to Farmville and, except for a year's leave of absence for study at Yale, has since been here.

Miss Swift graduated from Farmville in 1933 and became then a regular worker in the library of which she had been a student assistant. She has had a year's library training at the University of Illinois. While in college she was a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Kappa Delta Pi, Pi Gamma Mu, and Sigma Pi Rho.

Miss Clark is a '34 graduate of S. T. C. and has since been a regular library assistant. She held membership in Kappa Delta Pi, Sigma Pi Rho and Pi Gamma Mu.

Mrs. Reynolds, recently appointed full-time assistant was graduated here last June.

Exercises Begin at 2:30; Will Include Three Speakers

Dedication of Farmville's new library, which will mark the formal opening of the building to the public, will take place Thursday, November 9, at 3:30 in the main auditorium of the colege. The program will be presided over by Mr. James M. Grainger, chairman of the faculty committee on dedication exercises.

Guest speakers for the occasion will be Mr. Howard A. Dawson, director of rural service of the National Education Association, Washington, D. C., whose subject will be "A Century of Public Teacher Education" and Mr. Carl M. White, librarian of the University of North Carolina, who will speak on ""The Significance of the Library in the College Life". The final address, "The Library in the Growth of a College Plant" will be given by Dr. J. L. Jarman, President of S. T. C., Farmville.

Also on the program will be a selection by the College Choir, De Koven's "Recessional", Miss Irene Leak will sing "Fulfillment".

Helping Mr. Grainger on the committee for arrangements are Miss Mary M. Snead, head librarian, Dr. J. E. Walmsley, Miss Lila London, Miss Leola Wheeler and Dr. J. P. Wynne, members of the faculty.

Open house will be held in the library from 4 until 6 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7:30 until 10 o'clock at night. At this time the building will be open for public inspection, and refreshments will be served. The student body and public are invited to attend. Members of the faculty will be present to welcome visitors.

Robert Frost Will Lecture Here Jan.

Beorc Eh Thorn Sponsors Program

Robert Frost, noted American poet, will lecture at Farmville January 11, 1940. His coming here was made possible through the efforts of Beorc E hThorn, local English honor society which tries each year to bring some eminent literary person to the college. In past years Beorc Eh Thorn has brought John Erskine, Richard Washurton, and others to the campus.

Robert Frost writes poetry of the thoughts and feelings of the silent New Englanders. Some of his best known poems are "The Death of the Hired Man", and "Mending Walls". He has won the Pulitzer Prize for poetry three times--once in 1924, once in 1930, and again in 1937.

Frost says, "A poem begins with a lump in the throat, a homesickness or a love-sickness. It is a reaching out toward expression; an effort to find fulfillment.

Rosa Courter Heads Junior Production

Rosa Courter is general chairman and director for the Junior Production which will be given in January.

Jean Upshur, Boonie Stephenson, Florence Lee, Caralie Nelson and Marion Heard are writing the story. No other plans have been announced as yet, Ruth Lea Purdum, president of the class, stated.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO · BOSTON · LOS ANGELES · SAN FRANCISCO

Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant—Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickral, and Janelle Shelor.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson, Frances Pope.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd and Jean Upshur.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1939

Take All Your Chances

Of how many of your opportunities for real cultural advancement do you take advantage? Do you sometimes pity yourself that you may not have as many "chances" as someone else. Or do you, even if is a martyr-like attitude, say, "Of course, I'm not as lucky as some, but I make the most of what opportunities I do have."

If you "take it" thus, you're on the right track.—Do you attend most of the extra-educational and social features this institution affords? Most of them are free for your using. We're not advocating that you neglect your work—but, let it be hinted, even boldly stated, that we'll vouch that the lyceum or lecture or social function you missed would live in your memories and make you a much broader person than that test on which you pulled an A plus. Which all leads to the fact that

We Hope You Didn't Miss

Hanya Holm and her artist dance group, our first formal event in the series of artist programs. Our lyceum numbers are selected and arranged for with our choices in mind. Such a program of modern dance as we witnessed displays real talent, which we don't often see. Our thrilled reception and delight in the program was proof enough that we "like the likes of such". To Dr. Jarman and other authorities who brought here our recent lyceum performers we say "Thanks—and we'd like the Hanya Holmers again."

We Hope You Don't Miss

The Library Dedication tomorrow. Such a building requires a formal dedication and the attendance of every single student to pay tribute to it.

Tomorrow afternoon's classes will be excused in order that we may benefit by the program that has been planned. We have been fortunate in securing speakers prominent in library work. After the formal dedication, the library will be open to all visitors.

We should be happy to dedicate our time and spirits to prove our pride in our new library.

A Prayer for Thanksgiving

The President Speaks

To the Patrons, Students, and Teachers of American Schools:

Let us take note, as we again observe American Education Week throughout our Nation, that education in our democracy teaches the practice of reason in human affairs.

I refer not only to education that may come from books. I include education in fair play on the athletic field and on the debating platform; I include education for tolerance through participation in full, free discussion in the classroom. Practice in the scientific method by our young people may be more important than learning the facts of science. From kindergarten through college our schools train us to use the machinery of reason; parliamentary practice; the techniques of cooperation; how to accept with good grace the will of a majority; how to defend by logic and facts our deep convictions. This is education for the American way of life.

Our schools also bring us face to face with men and women with whom we shall share life's struggles. In their lives and ours, struggle will never be absent; the struggle of every individual against the stream of life; the struggle and competition among individuals, groups, institutions, states, and nations. To the resolution of conflicts and struggles of life, democracy supplies no easy answer. The easy answer, the quick but incomplete answer, is force; tanks and torpedoes, guns and bombs. Democracy calls instead for the application of the rules of reason to solve conflicts. It calls for fair play in canvassing facts, for discussion, and for calm and orderly handling of difficult problems. These vital skills we Americans must acquire in our schools.

In our schools our coming generations must learn the most difficult art in the world—the successful management of democracy. Let us think of our schools during this American Education Week not only as buildings of stone and wood and steel; not only as places to learn how to use hand and brain; but as training centers in the use and application of the rule of reason in the affairs of men. And let us hope that out of our schools may come a generation which can persuade a bleeding world to supplant force with reason.

Franklin D. Roosevelt

COLLEGIATE POLLS

Showing that college students are thinking about something besides the current internatoinal situation, here are the results from recent polls taken on various subjects on various campuses:

On goldfish gulping: Tulane University students voted 5 to 1 against the current wave.

On a third term for President Roosevelt: College of William and Mary undergraduates 80 per cent strong voted against the idea.

On favorites: Fordham University seniors paired up Hedy Lamarr and Robert Browning as the most popular of all men and women.

On dance orchestras: Iowa State Teachers College undergraduates, by a 5 to 1 majority, believe that Kay Keyser is the tops. Their favorite tune is Hoagy Carmichael's "Star Dust."

"Tree of Liberty" Is Historical Novel

"The Tree of Liberty" by Elizabeth Page presents a picture of America as our ancestors saw it. The scene is early America from the Atlantic seaboard across the frontiers and into the far-stretching Western wilderness. The time of the story extends from 1754-1806, taking in several generations of the Howard family.

Any one of a number of American families at the time of the narrative might have been the family in the story. It vividly depicts through the members of this family the strugle which gave birth to American democracy—also it sets forth a sense of the timelessness of this struggle.

Matthew Howard is a pioneer, a rugged individualist from the Valley of Virginia who lives by the old adage "live and let live". He abhors aristocrats and their manners and distrusts federal governments. Jane is the daughter of a wealthy Tidewater planter. She presents a composite picture of all that Matthew detests; and yet they marry. The conflict of these two main traditions which even today underly American democracy is dramatized in their married life and in the lives of their children and grandchildren. Thomas Jefferson, aristrocrat by birth and democrat by heart, figures largely in the story as a personal friend of the Howard's. He is the central figure in their lives, holding Matthew and Jane together, yet thrusting them apart.

Many other prominent figures of those early times are found in the story. Hamilton, Patrick Henry, Lafayette, Adams, Burr and Madison. All are woven into the historical background of the story of "The Tree of Liberty".

—Pat Gibson

Bits of Philosophy and Stuff

The average income of a college student is about midnight.

Cash is the jack of all trades.

Many a woman is blamed for making a fool of a man when he is really self-made.

Before you make an investment in a going concern, make sure which way it is going.

One reason why so few recognize opportunity is because it is disguised as hard work.

Love at first sight is the sort that fizzles out when it takes a second look.

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

Arms Embargo

The repeal of the arms embargo act by the special session of Congress was the highlight of the week. It makes available to England and France, because of their decided advantage of the sea over Germany, a huge amount of what Germany considers the "world's greatest arsenal". The repeal offsets by far the advantage that Germany had over the Allies in securing war materials from Russia.

The cash and carry basis in which the act was repealed insures the United States manufacturers no financial losses. But for England and France things will not be as easy as they appear on the surface. It will be much more important to Germany to destroy these loaded vessels on the return voyages, because the cargo has been paid for. The victory would be two-fold. And it is not going too far to say that Germany will do everything in her power to do just that, because she will. Nor is it wise to believe she can not do it because she has shown us differently in these last weeks.

Will it Work?

Walter Lippmann says it is the obligation of those who supported the repeal of the act to prove to those who proposed it that it can work.

"This means," he says, "giving up all temptation to make impulsive, personally invented, dramatic gestures, and to hold rigorously to the rule of taking decisions slowly but surely, cautiously, but consistently, adhering always to the regular and lawful procedure, shunning short cuts, cleverness, and any kind of indirectness."

In other words, to make this act work, everybody must cooperate for the good of the whole rather than for the good of either or any individual party. To do this, Mr. Lippmann advocates that the president keep all leaders both Republicans, Democrats (and conservative-Democrats) informed as to what is actually going on. He should take them into confidence about measures still being contemplated. This, the columnist says, must also be carried over into domestic affairs.

What Mr. Lippmann is asking for is that Mr. Roosevelt treat the two party leaders from the forty-eight states more or less as cabinet members. What he is asking calls for harmony spelt with the finest letters. We are wondering—could it work? Would these leaders always agree with Washington on their "contemplated" measures? Would they offer too many suggestions? Some suggestions are good. Often too many suggestions are worse than no suggestions at all.

A Victory for Roosevelt

The months are running along with the speed of a conference track man and pretty soon 1940 will be here. We are of the belief that President Roosevelt does not choose to run for a third term and if asked to run again, would almost surely refuse. But who else can carry this neutrality act along? Who else can keep the country united for this "harmony" that Mr. Lippmann talks about?

Any election is bound to split a country. The war picked such an inappropriate time to happen. It is unwise to change horses in the middle of the stream when that horse is the only one who sees and apparently has the ability of getting the country to the other side of the stream.

This appeal that Roosevelt has been working with "on the neither party, but for all" has definitely put him on the up-trend in popularity. The great amount of popularity which he lost the last session of Congress has been more than regained since the war broke out. America does not laugh at his "I hate war" speech any more.

Echoes from an Empty Space

Flash! Flash! Once again your chattering reporter brings you the campus high-lights—are you ready? Well hold tight 'cause we're off . . . We'd like to start by bringing to your attention something that happened at our Circus last week-end; really we think it too good to go unnoticed. We provided for everything at the circus except a monkey, but Hampden-Sydney furnished that. It was none other than—well, you know him—he really did a good act. I bet he could get a job with Barnum and Bailey; at least he can jitter-bug and that's something that few of the other monkeys can do . . . While on the subject of Hampden-Sydney we might mention the fact that a certain member of that institution has been seen frequently with Helen Gray, hasn't any one told Helen about those smooth K A's or does she need warning?

It's funny but it's true that one thing leads to another—soo-o-o we find ourselves on the subject of love and it looks as if all fingers are pointing at Jackie and Frank Stafford—they seem to be the most in love of the week . . . Guess what we saw! "Boo" (who) Taylor was seen with his chin almost in the dirt; yep! and all over the fact that Harvard lost their game. Oh well! there are a lot of worse things lost than a game, ole boy—for instance a "frat" pin—catch? . . . Emily Lamkis got so excited about the Randolph-Macon bid which she received that she missed two buses and one train. Take a lesson from Lindbergh next time and fly; then you can always get there for the dance. Emily . . . Roberta Grigg the noteworthy and up-and-coming freshman is sponsoring the "Bugle's" Battery R . . . More power t'ya . . . Peggy Williams quite the cute one and so-o-o happy with Jack . . . Cynthia James these days with Les. He's quite the town boy, Cynthia.

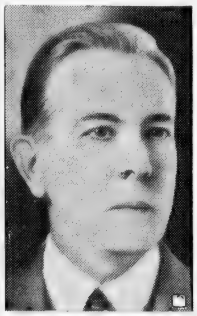
We wonder if Elsie Berrye can tell us how the "blackout" turned out at the S. A. E. house during Virginia Openings? . . . "Pounding" Paul Shu (who by the way) is Helen Lewis' heart throb, played a beautiful game of football for Helen and V. M. I. Saturday . . . The Bob Dabney sporting five women Saturday, and only person missing was Sara Cline . . . We must say congratulations to Miss Sears for making the gossip column of Va. Tech's paper . . . When last seen Polly Hughes was carrying chrysanthemums to bestow on Doswell—for some knightly deed—no doubt.

Boonie Stevenson's so very blue 'cause Mac didn't show up Saturday night . . . Too bad, Boonie, he'll come back—they always do! . . . Marian Worsham is just so man-versatile that she has about three or four dates for Cotillion. I think a process of elimination would help, Marian . . . The young Mr. Don Baer was among the missing on S. T. C. campus the past week-end. Reason (maybe): Jerry Smith was missing—but Gay Ward was here . . . Marian Mitchell has taken over Jo Ware's last year's philosophy of life; no men whatsover . . . Certain complications such as position and location of Mason-Dixon line have set up in the Winslow-Shulkcum affair . . . Hampden-Sydney, with an eye to the future, is having Openings the week of the twenty-third . . . Somebody has to be original—why not them?

And speaking of originality, congratulations to the McMillan guy at VMI (with reference to last week's "Cadet") . . . Our heartiest welcomes to Ruth Carney, Betty Stanley and Meriam . . . While the May's away little Dennis will play. Seen dating Virginia Sydnor . . . Our freshmen can at least show us how it's done. Pauline Moore's sporting a brand new diamond. She received it Satdee . . . From all reports Richmond was the center of the social whirl. Further information may be received from McAfee and Fahr . . . And lastly a word to the wise: giving football yells is all right in the right place but Shannon's isn't the right place—especially Tech yells.

P. S.—Other colleges celebrated Sadie Hawkins day last week, but like little Andrey we just laughed and laughed—We have it every day.

Recent Death of Dr. T. D. Eason Is Loss to State



Was on this Faculty For Seven Years

Dr. Thomas D. Eason of Richmond, director of higher education for the State Department of Education, died Friday afternoon November 3, in a Richmond hospital.

Dr. Eason was born in Abbeville, S. C., in September, 1887, the son of James Gary Eason. He received his B. S. degree from Clemson College in 1907, did graduate work at North Carolina State College, Cornell University and the University of Vermont, and received his M. A. degree from the University of New York in 1932. In 1934 he was granted his Litt. doctorate from Hampden-Sydney College.

Dr. Eason has held positions as a member of the faculty of North Carolina State College, Lincoln Memorial University in Tennessee and the State University School at Claremont, Oklahoma, and was head of the biology department of Farmville State Teachers College from 1911 through 1918. In 1918 Dr. Eason took over the duties of agricultural education for the State Board of Education; from 1924 to 1918 he was supervisor of teacher training for the State Board. In 1928 he became secretary of the Board, which position he held until 1931, when he was appointed to his present position. Dr. Eason was State Director of the United States Boys' Working Reserve during the World War.

Dr. Eason was the father of Marie and Caroline Eason, members of the Farmville student body.

DR. T. D. EASON

Twenty-Three New Books Available

Twenty-three new books are now on the fiction shelf in the library and may be checked out for use.

"Songs after Midnight" by Helen T. Miller; "Easy To Kill" by Agatha Christie; "The Red Carnation" by Burton Stevenson; "Shanghae '37" by Vicki Baum; "Lost Sunrise" by Kathleen Norris; "The Sea Tower" by Hugh Walpole; "Uncle Fred in the Springtime" by Pelham G. Wodehouse; "Valley of Thunder" by Rex Beach; "White Magic" by Faith Cathrell; "Double for Death" by Rex Stout; "Arizona" by Clarence B. Kelland; "Horse and Buggy Doctor" by Authur E. Hentzler; "The Web and the Rock" by Thomas Wolfe; "Patricia" by Grace L. Hill; "Black Narcissus" by Rumer Gadden; "Across the Years" by Emilie Loring; "Escape" by Elizabeth Vance; "Next to Valor" by John Jennings; "We Ask So Little" by Anne Worsmer; "Once in a Blue Moon" by Mary W. King; "The Moon to Play With" by Elizabeth Dunn; "Dean Deborah" by Louise P. Hauck; and "The Dragon's Teeth" by Ellery Queen.

Eight books selected by students for the browsing room are expected soon and the browsing room will be put to real use.

Practice Debate

H.-S. and Farmville Uphold Question

Debate Club has announced that there will be a practice debate between Hampden-Sydney and Farmville Wednesday night, November 15, in the small auditorium at 7:30.

Subject for debate is the national Pi Kappa Delta question, "Resolved: That the United States Should Follow a Policy of Strict Economic and Military Isolation toward all Nations Engaged in Armed International or Civil Conflict".

Hampden-Sydney's team will uphold the affirmative side of the question and Farmville, the negative. The participating debaters have not been announced for either team.

Virginia Press Will Convene in Capitol

Local Publications Will be Represented

Dorothy Rollins, Pat Gibson, Josa Carlton and Marie Allen from the Rotunda staff and Johnny Lybrook and Jane Rosenberger, from the Colonnade staff are delegates to the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Convention at Hotel Burlington in Washington, D. C., November 10-12.

Elizabeth West is an alternate for The Rotunda delegates. Frances Alvis, Lucy Blackwell, Helen Jeffries, Jeannette Ferguson, Mildred Callis, Anna Johnson and Jack and Ann Cock are making tentative plans to accompany the delegates.

Discussions will be held on practical problems of college newspaper work and delegates from different schools will present suggestions at round table meetings on Saturday.

For the social program, the delegates will attend a football game on Saturday afternoon and a banquet and dance on Saturday night, November 11, and much sightseeing is planned.

Ellen Ebel Chairman Of Frosh Commission

Ellen Ebel, from Richmond, is chairman of the Freshman Commission, which consists of a group of 11 girls elected by the freshman class.

Other girls elected and their respective duties are—Eleanor Folk, treasurer, and chairman for morning watch; Anne Moore, in charge of announcements; Anne Ellett, prayers; Geraldine Smith, devotional leader; May Martlett and Katherine Price, co-chairmen for the bazaar; and Jeanne Hall, publicity manager.

Ruth Palmer is secretary of the commission, and Nancy Saunders, reporter. Eliza McDaniel and Hallie Hillsman are also members. Betsy Jennings is ex-officio.

Lucy Turnbull, who was on the 1938-1939 Freshman Commission is adviser for this year's group.

Some 70 college and university presidents are graduates of Indiana University

Student Standards Discusses School Problems Openly

Clocks, Telephone, Dating, Come Up

Student Standards held an open meeting in the Y. W. C. A. Lounge on Thursday, November 2.

Principle discussions of the meeting concerned the regulation of the school clocks, the telephone exchange system, a new dating arrangment, the point system, and the advisability of having Freshmen matriculate in September two days earlier than upperclassmen.

Findings reveal that it will take three months for the library clock to be regulated, since it can only be regulated three seconds each day. This done, it is hoped that all the school clocks will chime consistently.

Use of Cunningham Hall parlor and possibly Student Lounge are being considered to relieve the dating problem. Cunningham stairs, dangerously slippery in wet weather, will be coated with a rubber-like substance to prevent danger. This, however, require a 60-hour drying process, so must await the Christmas holidays before being fixed, unless Thanksgiving holiday is granted.

Dr. Martin will give free of charge the Wasserman test to anyone in college who comes to the infirmary and wishes to take it.

A committee to investigate the activities of girls who may be carrying too many activity points was appointed. The question of Freshmen matriculating earlier than upperclassmen was debatable, since two sessions of summer school leave only a short time before the opening of the fall session. This, however, was referred to a committee. The present pay telephone system still remains a student problem, but since Farmville is a public institution, it must be worked on a pay telephone system.

Library Evolves

Continued from Page 1

until 1929 when Miss Snead took over the office. Among the librarians was a Miss Dugger, a graduate of Hollins in 1902, Miss Maude K. Taliaferro was her assistant. Later a Miss Lancaster and then two others before our present librarian held the library reins.

As the school enrollment increased, and the number of books reached the 17,000 mark in 1929 there was an intense feeling of the necessity for a new and larger library. The heavy weight of the books accounts for the increased number of columns in several of the English classrooms down below. Consequently, certain ones in authority here managed to get a 75,000 dollar conditional appropriation for the purpose of constructing a new library building. Enthusiasm mounted high as architects were called here to draw up the blue prints. Plans were discussed as to how the new library would look. But—the depression came in 1929, and the props were knocked out from under everything.

Gradually recovering from this disappointment, a second attempt several years ago was made to secure money; but, being a conditional appropriation, the money again was not secured. The fire of hope was not entirely extinguished. Faithful and determined souls must and would find a way. They never lost sight of their goal and their dream of a beautiful building that would hold many thousands of volumes.

Finally $48,000 was donated by the Federal Government through the P. W. A., and $71,000 through Governor Price. Picks and shovels were brought out, dirt flew, bricks were piled on one another, and work was actually begun on the new building on the morning of August 22, 1938. Hardly ceasing, "Job" called the laborers daily until the massive structure was finally finished in September 1939 at a cost of $32,000 including library and equipment with a capacity of 50,000 books.

What we as stundents see when we look at the new library is something different from that which those who were responsible for it perceived. To those who worked for this building, who saw one failure after another turn into success, who fought to get this building as we now see it today—to those people people, it is something more than a building—it is a dream of bricks and mortar realized.

Twelve S. T. C. Leaders Are Selected for "Who's Who" Book

(Back row): Williamson, Hardy, Reiff, Alvis; (Middle row): Eades, Powell, Nelson, Wise, Fischer; (Front row): Lybrook, Purdum, Hardaway, Nimmo.

Publication Includes Students of Colleges And Universities

Names of Frances Alvis, Marie Eason, Dorothy Fischer, Martha Meade Hardaway, Jane Hardy, Johnny Lybrook, Caralie Nelson, Marjorie Nimmo, Ruth Lea Purdom, Helen Reiff, Isabel Williamson, and Eliza Wise will appear as representative of Farmville in the 1940 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. These names along with leaders of other schools in the country will comprise the book which will be released in January.

Marie Eason is president of the Student Council and Martha Meade Hardaway is vice-president. Caralie Nelson is secretary of this organization.

Marjorie Nimmo is president of the House Council, Dorothy Fischer, president of the Athletic Association, and Helen Reiff vice-president of the Y. W. C. A. and chairman of Student Standards committee.

Isabel Williamson, Johnny Lybrook, and Frances Alvis are heads of the three major publications--the Virginian, college annual; The Colonnade, magazine; and The Rotunda, respectively.

Eliza Wise is vice-president of the senior class and active in Y. W. work and Ruth Lea Purdum is president of the junior class.

Jane Hardy has been prominent in musical circles in the college and is president of the College Choir.

Jane Powell, president of the senior class, and Dot Eades, president of the Y.W.C.A. were recognized last year by the publication.

These girls have been selected because they meet the qualities of character, leadership, scholarship, and potentialities of future usefulness to business and society.

Barrie's "Dear Brutus"

In "Dear Brutus", the play which the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs and the S. T. C. Dramatic Club will present on November 17, we are introduced to a house party of comparative strangers, who, unalike as they are, have this in common. They are all dissatisfied with life as they have found it and are sure that with another chance they could have done themselves more credit.

Their host, a mysterious fellow called Lob (who was just what Puck would have been, had he grown up) has assembled them on Midsummer Eve to give them this chance. One by one they escape into a magic wood to live life as it might have been for them, or as they like to think it might have been. They return to real life with a distinct feeling of relief—that is, all except one, a childless wastrel artist, who might have found a life of perfect realization had he really had such a daughter as he found waiting for him in the wood.

"Dear Brutus" had its performance in New York City on December 23, 1918 and ran until the closing of the theater in hot weather. In the second act, when all the characters get their second chance there is a love-duet in the key of conversation between the artist and his imaginary daughter. In the American performance this will remain vivid in the minds of those who heard it. The two actors were a beloved veteran of the stage, William Gillette, and a young girl hardly more than a child, Helen Hayes, who passed from obscurity to fame in less than an hour.

Poor Gloria of Housecoat 'n' Pillow Is Hanged in Dorm Now Who Done 'er Wrong?

By Identity Unknown

Listen, my children, and you shall hear the 'witching story of poor Gloria dear.

'Twas the eerie hour of midnight and all was (or should have been) still along the halls of Senior Building for 'twas the night when spirits walk the earth. (P. S. That can be any night in aforesaid dorm.) We think some of the aforesaid spirits must have been doing a ghostly bone-rattling jitterbug somewhere up over third floor.) Suddenly a shrill, scoring shriek startled, sleeping echoes through the still, breathless sirenish quiet! Shivering, scarry-eyed Seniors poured forth from instantly lighted rooms to look upon the poor, ghastly, limp body of Gloria hanging—just hanging there—in the half-light, strung up from somewhere high above! Huddling close back to the wall, the horror-stricken girls watched from between trembling fingers while Mrs. Warren bravely sidled up to Gloria's pitiful, crumpled body, reached forth a strong finger—once, twice, thrice—and touched the grewsome object on the fourth jab. Suspense. Gloria didn't bite. She didn't even wail. Emboldened by this continued inactivity, the heroic lady essayed to investigate Gloria's gory interior—nothing there but a pillow! So the goblins had worked their horrid spell on her! Why? Because Gloria had unsuspectingly stumbled on their ghostly revellings and had consumed their witch's brew (commonly known as punch). Mrs. Warren stalked off triumphantly bearing Gloria's earthly remains under her arm;

Gloria's limp housecoat waved a feeble farewell to the sobbingly-sad Seniors. She didn't even have her shoes left to her!

Do you or your know anything of Gloria's origin or her past? Well, I do! But I ain't talking, see?

Cotillion Dance Is Saturday Night

Roy Hicks' Band Will Furnish Music

Committees are busy working on the fall Cotillion dance which will take place Saturday night, November 11 from 9 to 12 P. M., in the college gymnasium. Music will be furnished by Roy Hicks and his Virginians. Gamma Psi is in charge of decorations and will use "Fall" as the theme.

Essie Millner is the chairman of the music committee with Elyse Berrye Yates, Liggie Ellet and Helen Wentz assisting. Roy Hicks and his Virginians have played at Farmville dances before as well as at Randolph-Macon University of Richmond, Hampden-Sydney, Madison College, William and Mary, and other known schools in Virginia.

No fall goat may take a date, and each old member of the club may obtain one date ticket and one girl ticket other than her own. At present, the club has one hundred and eighty members.

There will be a short intermission from 10 to 10:30 at which time refreshments will be served in the Student Building and Y. W. C. A. lounges.

Members and their dates will go to the gymnasium through Student Building lounge where Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Mr. T. A. McCorkle and the officers of the club will receive them.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Holton, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McCorkle, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Jeffers, Miss Mary White Cox, and the home office administration will act as chaperones.

Survey Proves S. T. C. Girls Consume Over 2200 Candy Bars Per Week

"And what are little girls made of?
Sugar and spice and all that's nice,
Thats' what little girls are made of."

Have you ever? Ach! ach! Don't let your eyes wander on to the next article. This is worth digesting. Because what I am about to reveal to you is going to explain a whole lot of things in general and one thing in particular that's been worrying you—excess weight! (Ha! now look at 'em read with enthusiasm.)

After a thorough investigation, during which I put every candy dealer in the school through the third degree, I have found to my own astonishment that here in school we consume approximately twenty-two hundred (wanta see it in figures?—yes 2,200) nickel bars of candy a week. Again I say, "Have you ever"?

Now I'm not just stringin' you a line; I'm giving you bare facts. To derive that awful truth in this article would be worse than subjecting you to a week in a math class. Then too—you might question my ability to add and subtract. But here are the high spots.

Twenty different rooms in school sell candy.

Each room averages $5.00 worth a week. Divide $5.00 by 5c. (Don't forget your decimal places, please). Now multiply by the number of rooms. And you have it—as simply as that. But remember somebody told you how; I had to figure it out by myself.

From the above tabulations, one would immediately draw conclusions that candy selling is a profitable business. Well, I ain't a sayin', because a number of dealers eat up all their profits—to say nothing of all their candy. But, just in case you're interested, here are a few tips.

Peanut blocks and peppermint patties are definitely your best bet because in this survey they proved to be the S. T. C. favorite.

Clark bars run them a close second, and Hersheys and Snickers tie for third. Milky Ways, Mounds and Heath Bars should certainly be mentioned.

Candy sells better over the week-ends than any other time, and rainy days always mean business.

But I didn't start out to tell you how to run a candy business, but rather to tell you—to look to your figures (2,200) m' loves.

The Hanya Holm group of dancers.

Famous Danseuse Possesses Vital And Glowing Stage Personality

By Dot Rollins and Jean Watts

Standing in the pit of the dusky auditorium we leaned on our elbows on the stage and fascinatedly watched the scene before us. One by one the lovely members of Hanya Holm's dance group emerged from the wings and began their "limbering" exercises which must be gone through before rehearsal began. Each vibrant figure bent, swayed or leapt to the music while the girls called gaily back and forth to one another, teasing and gossiping. One small figure immediately caught our eye. Smooth, ash-blonde hair drawn demurely back and tied with velvet ribbon, body clad in simple black and tiny feet incased in childish soft sandals. This we knew to be the famous Hanya Holm, mistress of Modern Dance.

Petite and charming, Miss Holm greeted us with her glowing smile and began to respond to our queries.

"Yes," she assured us, "I like the south very much, although our travels have not been extensive here. We have not been beyond the South Carolina", said Miss Holm quaintly, "but we have been to the west to New Orleans. The east—no", she concluded positively. "In all our southern college trips", she continued, "here, above all, we find more than the appreciation, more than the willingness" she sought her words carefully, "more than the coming halfway", she concluded, satisfied. "But with each return engagement throughout the south we recognize more and more appreciation and understanding of the dance. This is possibly because of the emphasis recently given to the Dance Moderne throughout the country.

"After our visit here," Miss Holm went on in her delightful accent, "we will go to Williamsburg to the college of 'Mary and William' and then to New York back and New England where we will visit Skidmore and Smith Colleges. In the spring we will go to the West Coast.

Of her group Miss Holm is justly proud. "Most of us have been together for the entire five years existence of the group", she told us. It takes at least three years for a girl to be perfectly integrated with the ensemble and although it is very exciting work and ever original, there is much long practice and hard work, for at least two hours technique must precede every dance rehearsal or performance. But behind all this is the ever burning creative desire to succeed, and an innate understanding of how best to use the body in flexible movement."

"Thank you", we said, humble, "for all this time and trouble. We've enjoyed it so much." We turned away as the petite danseuse became once more envolved with her rehearsal—ever active—now directing the lighting; now listening to the tone of one of the drums. Over our shoulders we looked back at the tiny figure etched against the lights of the stage. "Good bye", she called, smiling her bright smile. That is how we shall remember her . . . small, fleet, dynamic, with her radiant, glowing smile.

Good Conduct Rules for Co-eds

1. Young lady, never precede an elder or superior of your own sex through a doorway.

2. When you are considering chewing gum in class, put yourself in the place of the teacher, and think how rude you think the girl friend who pops her gum in your face.

3. Refrain from arguing for the sake of argument in class; that is, if you do not like to be made fun of.

4. If you must see your neighbor's notes while he is taking them by all means ask his permission instead of twisting his paper around so you can see it.

5. If a sign says, "Students are not admitted" or if you know you're not, stay out!

6. I f you must enter class late, don't rumble in. The attention you attract in this way will not do you any good

7. If you are one of those persons who simply cannot whisper. Please don't talk while an instructor is trying to lecture. You have no idea how terrible it sounds.—"Tiger Rag", S. T. C., Memphis, Tenn.

Rev. Willis Will Hold Mission Services Here

Rev. Mr. Taylor Willis, rector of Christ and St. Luke's Church, Norfolk, Va., will hold mission services beginning Sunday, November 12.

These services will take place in Johns Memorial Episcopal Church and will continue through the week until Friday.

Home Ec Labs to Be Remodeled Soon

Dr. J. L. Jarman and Mr. Samuel L. Graham, accompanied by Miss Bessie Jeter and Miss Katherine Tupper went to Richmond today to open bids on equipment for the new Food and Nutrition laboratories of the Home Economics Dept.

Old Home Economics laboratories are being remodeled and modernized. The former sewing lab and also the cooking lab will each be divided into six units. Each unit will be equipped with modern kitchen furnishings. The trip to Richmond today was made in order that bids for the new furnishings and equipment could be given Dr. Jarman and Mr. Graham.

This Year's First Lyceum Features Artist Dancers

Hanya Holm and Group Appear Here

Hanya Holm and her artist dance group presented a program of modern dance at the first lyceum of the year in the S. T. C. auditorium on Monday night, November 6, at 8 o'clock.

Program consisted of three parts. The first was made up of several types of fundamental dance movements; namely, the progression from head through body to feet, rhythm elements in the group and solo form and elasticity. Secondly, the significance of space in the dance which included fundamentals for orientation and a series of etudes. The third part presented three primitive rhythms; two involving the entire group of dance and the third a solo dance by Miss Holm.

The lyceum on Monday night marked the second appearance of Hanya Holm at S. T. C. The group apeared here last year for a lyceum also. Among the artist dancers featured were Valerie Bettis, Katherine Bollard, Henrietta Greenhood, Barbara Hatch, Miriam Kagan, Louise Kloepper, Caroline Locke, Harriet Roeder, Marva Spelman and Elizabeth Waters. Each of the dancers has been outstanding in the field of dancing both in the United States and abroad, and has attended the Bennington School of Dance.

Miss Holm stated that the present tour was a short one, and that the next performance will be given at William and Mary College. The nation-wide tours are always in the spring of every year.

ACE Publications Reviewed Tonight

Nancy Moss Is Porgram Chairman

Reviews of the publications of the Association of Childhood Education will comprise the program for the open meeting tonight, November 8 in the Y. W. C. A. lounge.

Nancy Moss, program chairman, has announced the following program: introduction by Margaret Carr; reviews of children's anthologies known as the "Umbrella Books" by Frances Alvis, Elizabeth Glasgow, Dot Eades, and Forrestine Whitaker.

"Reading as a Tool", an example of the bulletins, will be reviewed by Janelle Shelor. Reviews of the A. C. E. Journals will be given by Jeannette Ferguson, Faye Brandon, and aJne Hardy. Mrs. Elizabeth Loving will speak on "What A. C. E. Its Publications, and Affiliation Can Mean to You as Active Teachers."

"When you listen to a lecture or study your textbook, think and apply the materials to your own personal and environmental problems. Spend fi teen minutes a day in meditation digesting the knowledge you have tasted. Let that knowledge be your servant rather than your master."—Villanova College's Dr. W. H. McHugh believes that purely factual information is useless unless it is understood and used.

National Alpha Kappa Gamma Officers

Miss Jane Royall, who will be executive secretary-treasurer and Martha Meade Hardaway, recording secretary.

President Installs 123 Senior Girls

Addresses Class on Cap & Gown Symbol

One hundred twenty-three Seniors were installed by Dr. J. L. Jarman last night, November 7, in the auditorium.

Marching in with their "Little Sisters"-they took their places after which Dr. Jarman conducted devotionals. The procession then crossed the stage, each Senior kneeling in front of Dr. Jarman who placed the cap on her head. This act is the official recognition of fully-installed Seniorship.

Dr. Jarman then addressed the class of '40 on the meaning of the cap and gown. He stated that he hoped each member of the class would adorn the cap and gown and not let it adorn her. Seniorship should be a challenge and a symbol for dignity.

Seniors stood and marched out to the Alma Mater for the first time in cap and gown.

Quotable Quotes

"If educational statesmanship could present at America a generation nerved to see how much of the same must be exacted, we should have at last entered culturally upon our long heritage of political freedom."—University of Chicago's politician-philosopher, T. V. Smith, asks educators to emphasize the need for tolerance.

"It is my conviction that the best training is afforded in the regular courses of a liberal education precisely because, when taught by sound scholars, they combine wide scope and critical detachment and therefore are more lastingly effective. I would indicate especially courses in history, political science, economics, sociology, logic and philosophy. Students may thereby come to know the past and the present, to pudge evidence, and so to be on guard against current propaganda in print and over the air."—University of Cincinnati's President Raymond Walters prescribes the best antidote fo threats of dictatorship.

"We prefer to let education control the destiny of the state, confident that the unfettered enlightment of its people is the best agency for preserving our democratic form of government, and, hence, our liberties. In the United States we don't want more government in education; we do want more education in government."—Massachusetts' Gov. Leverett Saltonstall pointed out that the major calamity of war abroad was the crippling of education.

Latest thing in X-ray photos is a method of determining the taste of cheese, discovered by a University of Illinois scientist.

So Men's Feet, Too, Are on Up and Up!

Amherst, Mass.—(ACP)—Plenty of evidence has been brought out to prove that the size of women's feet has increased a full size in two generations. Now comes an indication that men's feet are on the up and up.

When the R. O. T. C. supply department at Massachusetts State College came to uniforming the freshmen, they found that all the larger sizes of shoes were quickly exhausted and 50 freshmen couldn't be shod.

This doesn't mean, the supply department points out, that the freshmen have unusually large feet, merely that more of them were the larger sizes than is usual. Shoes are furnished the military department in a range of sizes presumed to outfit an average group of men. But these men aren't average.

Dr. Walmsley Is Guest Speaker of Home Ec

Dr. J. E. Walmsley, head of the history department, spoke before the Home Economics Club at the regular monthly meeting Thursday night in the Y. W. lounge. His subject was the effect of present day economics on the homes of American families.

Refreshments were served after the regular business meeting. Hostesse were Mary Jane Ritchie, Mary Lou Shannon and Cottie Radspinner.

Freshmen Sign Honor Code

Freshmen signed the Honor Code on Wednesday and Thursday nights, November 1 and 2, in the council room.

In preparation for this the Sophomore Commission had presented "Honor Bright" by Helen Reiff in order that all new girls would have a clear understanding and interpretation of the code.

Farmville Has Two Officers on National A. K. G.

Hardaway and Royall Elected At South Carolina

Martha Meade Hardaway, the local chapter president of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honor fraternity, and Miss Jane Royall, secretary of Miss Mary White Cox, were elected National recording secretary, and National executive secretary-treasurer respectively, at the national Alpha Kappa Gamma convention held at the University of South Carolina at Columbia, November 3-5.

Martha Meade was secretary of Student Council her Junior year. As a freshman she received a bid to Alpha Phi Sigma and was elected secretary of her class her sophomore, junior and senior years. Martha Meade served on the Student Council as Campus League Chairman, 1937-1938, and vice-president of Student Government.1939-1940.

Miss Royall, who was re-elected to her present position in Alpha Kappa Gamma, is a Farmville graduate of 1933 and was President of Student Body that year. Her junior year she was secretary of Student Government and Campus League Chairman her sophomore year. Miss Royall was also a member of Alpha Phi Sigma and the Students Standards Committee.

"Leadership on the College Campus" was the theme of the convention. Social problems, election campaigning, and Student Government were some of the topics discussed among this college group.

Delegates from the four national chapters at Farmville, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Queens-Chicora attended. Members of six other colleges in South Carolina, interested in founding chapters, were also invited.

Farmville's delegates explained that the system of elections of Farmville is much less complicated than that used at other colleges. They differ in that at other colleges the candidates make campaign speeches. They added that the rules at S. T. C. are as lenient as those of any school represented.

Connecticut College Limits Earnings

New London, Conn.—(ACP)—If you are a working student at Connecticut State College, you can't earn all the money you want to.—In fact, the college's administration has a definite set of working rules for all undergraduates.

The new rules were drawn up to prevent students from over work that might lead to health and scholarship difficulties.

Inconsistency of Clocks Is Baffling to Tardy Ones

One would think that with the number of clocks on our campus this year there should be little difficulty in getting to class on time. And truly it would be quite simple, but for one thing. Let me recount to you a morning in the life of one struggling student, who struggled in vain.

Rrrrrrming Slam! Bang! Silence. Said struggling student opens one sleep-saturated eye and tries to focus it on her persecutor. 7:45. Dawn—dead on the dot. She fumbles hopefully for her watch. 7:40. Ah! This is more like it. She can relax for five more minutes.

One lightening minute swoops by. Hy do hy de hy! Jangled, tortured nerves respond and her heart skips four more beats. For one blessed moment said student had forgotten her swing-crazed roommate and her infernal radio.

She rises wearily and slips out of her cosy bed into icy slippers. All thought of sleep has stepped aside to make way for thought of revenge. She longs for a pair of wire clippers.

The music blares on. It stops. A man's voice takes its place. This is station X-Y-Z, ladies and gentlemen. The correct time is 7:55. We continue our trans—"

Oh! woe is our struggling student. She curses the day she bought that excuse for a clock. She resolves never again to trust her lazy watch. The thanks her lucky stars for her roommate's radio.

Sweater, skirt, underwear, shoes and socks begin to drape themselves in an eyesore manner about her. A splash of water finds its way to her eyes, missing ears and other remote corners.

She ventures a sidelong glance at her reset watch—8:10. Holy mackeral! "Tempus sho do fugit". There is no time to comb her hair She'll wear her scarf. She slides open the drawer. Any other time it would have been right on top. Belts, ties, hankies, hairnet, ribbon, and what-nots begin to fly in all directions. No scarf. But hark! What is that ringing in her ears? Not the class bell, but joy of joys, the library clock striking eight.

For once she doesn't bemoan the difference in school and radio time. She begins taking bobby pins out of her hair with the speed of one who has time on her hands and oodles to spare.

Ringlets begin to fall around her ears and neck. She gives them a look that is a mixture of hope and

Continued on Page 6

Attention!

(3) Three (3)

For Only $1.00

Buy a Manicure Card and save the difference—use anytime.

Beautiful Oil Croquignole Self-Setting Permanents $2.45

Genuine

RINGLET MACHINELESS

Permanent Waves

A real $7.50 value for only $4.45

These prices are good only through next Thursday.

BALDWIN'S

Phone 159 Farmville's Best

Annual Color Rush Will be Held Monday November 20th

Sports Slants

By PAT GIBSON

Der Tag—as far as our hockey team is concerned—has come. Miss Iler, Margy Nimmo, manager, and 12 members of the varsity squad journeyed to Richmond today to take on William and Mary Extension in the first game of the season. The results will probably be known by the time you read this. We are sorry not to have had them in time to print here.

From all reports our team is definitely up to par and perhaps a little more. Every afternoon finds the squad hard at work on the athletic field. Besides veterans of last year there are several bright prospects among the Freshmen—Hillsman, Pilkinton and Rogers. All in all things are "looking up" and win or lose, "We're Back of You Now, Blue and White."

This week Color Rush has surged to the front—literally engulfing us. Here it is nearly two weeks off and yet that traditional old "do or die" spirit is permeating the whole school. (Sorry, but there's no news as to who the runners will be, but we can be sure of one thing—they'll be the speediest gals in th school.)

You know, Red and White has captured the "strategic vantage points" for the past two years or more. It's a challenge, Green and White, which cannot be ignored. Those points all add to the Color Cup. Remember? Classes will be excused Monday afternoon in honor of the event. Ah, 'twill be a gala day! The "rat cap" vs. "no rat cap" game will be the main center of attraction after the banners have been unfurled. Not to be missed, however, is the Junior vs. Senior game—Not quite so "apparent" but nevertheless mighty important. And so—midst cheers and cokes, shrieks and strokes—we'll be lookin' for you.

A word about golf—Some 75 people have signed up for the Winter Golf Association. The support which you all have given to the new project is fine—a true example of the Farmville spirit. If you haven't seen the new indoor range just slip on down to the locker room right now. That contraption (not the target and net) is the new "Chip-it" game. The rules? There's nothing to 'em and its loads of fun.

Patronize

Patterson Drug Co.

—AT—

Money Saving Prices

—FOR—

Drugs and Toiletries Expert

Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring

Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream

238 MAIN STREET

Sports Calendar

Nov. 14—Class Hockey Games
Juniors vs. Frosh
Seniors vs. Soph
Nov. 15—Water Carnival (repeat)
Nov. 16—Class Hockey Games
Junior vs. Soph
Senior vs. Frosh
Nov. 30—Color Rush
Frosh vs. Soph
Junior vs. Senior
Dec. 2—Varsity Hockey Game
Farmville vs. Westhampton (here)

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

OUR DESIRE IS . . .

TO HELP YOU WITH

YOUR EVERY NEED

DAVIDSON'S

RUGS . . .

SHAMPOOED

CURTAINS . . .

STRETCHED TO MEASURE

BLANKETS . . .

GUARANTEED NOT TO SHRINK

KILKARE LAUNDRY

A Guardian of Public Health

Typical S. T. C. Hockey Practice

Break it up there, girls!

Wm. & Mary Ext. Vs. Farmville Game Is Hockey Opener

Farmville's varsity hockey team opened the 1939 season in a game with William and Mary Extension in Richmond, played this afternoon on the latter's field. Members of the squad who went to Richmond were Chlotilde Jarman, Katherine Newman, Sara Keesee, Harriet Walker, Helen McIlwaine, Hallie Hillsman, Anna Brown Jones, Rosalie Rogers, Ruby Adams ,Elizabeth Barlow and Ella Marsh Pilkinton. The eleven girls left early this morning and were accompanied by Miss Olive T. Iler, coach ,and Marjorie Nimmo, manager of hockey.

Bicycling Inveigles Many Fair Damsels To Reduction

While some of you femmes go tramping off on a five mile hike of a Saturday afternoon, and others go tramping off to a game of golf, there are still others of us who enjoy an equally exhilarating sport. Bike--riding.

Yes sir, gals, and there's nothing like it for shedding some of that excess weight that's been worrying you. Just imagine pedaling out to Longwood. (via the back way to avoid hills). Or perhaps you'd prefer a trip to the airport, or pedaling around town to see the sights.

Whatever choice, it's sure to dust off that old appetite and put you in such fine spirits that you could brave a dozen empty mail boxes.

If you don't ride a bike, that's all right too. You can learn. It's really quite simple. As a matter of fact just as simple as it looks. A few ups and downs and you'll ride like a veteran.

Next week end why not beg, borrow, or steal a wheel, then give Prince Edward County the once over?

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS MEDICINES

Perfumes—Toilet Articles

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Quality—Price—Service

Golf Gossip

By Carroll Brown
Professional, Longwood

Well, another week has rolled around and since the Rotunda Staff advises that circulation has not fallen off materially because of my last efforts, here's the old pro dubbing away again with plenty of ink and erasers.

Last week I confirmed my belief I couldn't write and last Wednesday night I found that I couldn't talk, either. However, I was pleased with the way the girls turned out to listen to my rantings on the new indoor golf school and the Winter Golf Association.

As many of you know, the practice net is up in the locker room and a new "Pitch-It" game is being installed. Excess lockers are being moved out in order that we may have a really nice golf school and lounge. Believe-it-or-come-and-see.

The girls have done a fine job spreading the story of the Winter Association and as result of their work, membership cards had been issued to seventy students and faculty members last Sunday. It will be possible to take only about one hundred members in the association, so those who have not investigated these new goings-on are invited to drop in and get the 'dope'.

I am pleased to report that I am beginning to eat and sleep a lot better, as many of my beginners, after faithful practice, are hitting lots of nice shots now. All the blisters and finger-nails have about disappeared. Although the loss of those white hands is hard on romance, it certainly improves the golf.

By this time I know a lot of you feel as one of my students does when she says, "this is where I came in". So in order that we may all stop together, so long until next issue.

"Did you carry a stove on your camping trip?"

"Where the heck do you think we cooked, on the Mountain ranges?"

HOTEL WEYANOKE

Regular Meals

A La Carte Service

Salads & Sandwiches

ATTENTION! STUDENTS

Have your parents enroll you under the Medical Reimbursement Policy issued the College to protect you against accidents.

F. W. HUBBARD, Agent

Planters Bank Building

FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

22 Girls On Initial Monogram Club Hike

Jane Scott, Petis Barnett, Crews Borden, Pat Gibson, Martha Welchel, Mary Haymes, Betsy Owen, Irma Page, Ellen Ebel, Hattie Cantrell, Sarah Wade Owen, Ruth Fraughdrough, Doris Smith, Harriet Ball, Gertrude Burwell, Andy Sawyer, Emma Woode, Ester Partridge, Elizabeth Barlow, Nancy Watkins, Chlotilde Jarman and Margaret Campbell went on the five-mile hike which was sponored by the Monogram club on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 4.

Leaving the Rotunla at two o'clock the group followed the "long" road to Longwood where the club served buns.

The hike was lead by Chlotilde Jarman, Monogram club president.

Borrowed Humor

"How did you know that the hostess sat on a tack?"

"Oh, I just drew it out of her."

Oh, what keeps every freshman
From breaking under the strain"
Oh, what keeps each poor freshman
From becoming quite insane?
Oh, what keeps every freshman
From a softening of the brain?
Nothing.

Surprise Ending

We heard of a little worm called "Motor", who woke up one morning in the middle of an apple. He decided to get a breath of fresh air so he bored, and bored, and bored, and bored, and pretty soon out-bored Motor. Draw your own conclusion. —Silver and Gold

Daffynitions

Dates—Something which cost more singly than in packages.

Surprise—The first emotion of every father-in-law.

Library—A room having its walls plastered with knowledge and its tables with gum.

Bathing Suit—The more it isn't, the more popular it is.
—Warrensburg Student

Teacher—Are you fond of your algebra?

Pupil—Yes. I'm stuck on every problem.

Ladies Jodphurs $2.50 $2.95

White or tan moccasins with composition soles $1.98

Cigarettes, all popular brands 12c

A and N STORE

COLLEGE SHOPPE

BEST FOOD IN TOWN

Delicious Plat Lunches

SANDWICHES &DRINKS

CALL 200 WE DELIVER

COME TO—

SHANNON'S

For a refreshing drink and chat, during Cotillion Dance

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

Martin the Jeweler

RYTEX CHRISTMAS CARDS

50 FOR $1.00

Frosh to Play Sophs Traditional Game; Juniors vs. Seniors

Monday, November 20, at 2:00 p. m. has been set as the date for S. T. C.'s annual Color Rush. Afternoon classes will not meet on that day. The event will be conducted as usual with each class being represented by their chosen runners. These girls will run from a specified place in Student Building, Rotunda, and Cunningham Hall, to the balconies. The class represented by the girl who first reaches the goal will have the privilege of hanging its colors. Rules concerning the event applying to all students will be published in the next edition of this paper

To date the various class runners have not been chosen. These girls will be elected by their classes sometime next week.

The traditional Soph vs. Frosh game will follow Color Rush. If the Sophs win the struggle, the Rats will be required to wear their caps until Christmas. If the Frosh come out on top, however, they are granted the right to doff the caps after the Thanksgiving holiday.

At the same time the Juniors will take on the Seniors in the final interclass games. These games will determine the 1939 hockey champ. Points will go toward the Color Cup.

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop

"From old to new with any shoes"

Only First Class Material used
All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!

Electric Appliance Co.

Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the

BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY MEATS
AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

NEWBERRY'S

5--10—25c STORE

Shop Here

YOU ARE INVITED
WE GIVE SERVICE

Almost 400 Forsake Studies For Week-end Frivolities

By GERRY ACKISS

Did someone say that Miss Mary has writer's cramps? It's no wonder after signing almost 400 permissions last week-end. "I don't see much use in you girls coming to college. You leave every week-end," she drawled as our "students" forgot their thirst for knowledge and looked forward to taking in exciting football games and dances or running into the arms of their happy families.

Richmond was stampeded by Farmville girls rushing hither and thither to see the University of Richmond-V. M. I. struggle and all celebrating afterwards 'cause neither team lost. Among the rejoicers (either one way or 'nother) were Virginia Rudd, Margaret Franklin, Helen Lewis, Jane McGinnis, Cottie Radspinner, Dot Fischer, Betty Fahr, Anne Easley, Mary Jane Richie, Emil Ellis, Carmen Booth, Betty Lee Downing, Jane Sears, Mary Lou Shannon, Mary Catherine Sturgis, Jane Waller Harriet Scott, Lula Windham, Patsy Fletcher, and May Wertz

Next most popular in attraction were the Opening Dances and game at the University of Virginia Not letting the rain keep them from rooting for the Virginia team were Catherine Phillips, Elyse Berry Yates, Margaret Carr, Martha Smith, Mary Katherine Zehmer, Nancy Pierpont, Polly Keller, Roberta Payne, Genevieve Cooke, Corilda Chaplin, Anne Williams, Jacqueline Winslow, Clyde Saunders, Ora Mayo, Helen Dawson, and Jane Rosenberger.

Homecomings mean fun and Alice Leigh Barham, Mary Sue Edmonson, Emily Lankis, and Ruth Loving had plenty of it at Randolph-Macon big-doings.

Way up at Princeton University, Frances Eliett had a be-yoo-tiful time at the game and dances. And Carolyn Harvey and Sara Keesee weren't at all bored at the Delta Dance at ole Washington 'n Lee.

Southern lassies from Carolina who visited their families were Nancy Dupuy of Greensboro, and Betty Sexton of Raleigh.

Pi Gamma Mu

Continued from Page 1

in all actions taken and in election of national officers. All delegates are allowed to speak from the floor. Delegates will also meet in committees to discuss various problems of Pi Gamma Mu.

At the same time the American Social Science will meet in the same city, and additional attraction for notables. The convention will feature adresses by outstanding members of the field of social science.

The last bi-annual convention was held in Atlantic City, N. J. in 1937.

Bicycles for Rent

303 St. George St.

Rose's

5-10-25c Store

ON THE CORNER

School Supplies

and

Room Furnishings

$1.00

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

AST Celebrates 40th Founders Day

Forty years of fraternal ties were observed by the Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority on its Founders Day, November 4th. Mrs. Leon Mason, national historian and chaplain, was here on the campus to have the annual inspection of the chapter's records.

In the afternoon a round table discussion was held for the members of the collegiate and alumnae chapters. Jean Moyer and Bernice Copley were leaders of the discussions. On Saturday night the annual Founders Day-Alumnae Banquet took place at Longwood. Among those present were: Dr. Jarman, Mrs. Mason, Miss Virginia Bedford, faculty adviser, Miss Marjorie Booton, faculty member, Miss Carolyn Cogbill, Pan Hellenic adviser, Mrs. A. T. Gray and Mrs. W. E. Smith, Patronesses.

Many alumnae were welcomed back for the occasion, among those being: Gay Stieffen, Musse Hoyer, Margaret Pittard, LeNoir Hubbard, Martha Evans, Betty Stanley, Ruth Carney, Harriett Branch, Jean West, Alfreda Collings, Doris Coates, Juanita Carson, Cassie Boswell, Mrs. Virginia Goffigan, Mabel Thompson, Bonnie Avery, and Grace Virginia Rawls. After the banquet a bridge party was held in the Honors Room for the guests. On Sunday morning a breakfast was given by the collegiate members to conclude the week-end festivities.

Week-end Reflections

By Snoopin' Sue

Snoopin' Sue is back again, folks, with the low-down on those Saturday night get-togethers. There may be few of us left here. But, girls, some of us can do the place right. Things were a bit suppressed though—parallel, I hear.

Third Floor Gym definitely deserves the spotlight this week-end for its grand Scavenger Hunt. Headquarters Room 163 and huntmaster, Louise Phillips and Caroline Ferguson. This explains why fifteen people wanted your new Hijinks fingernail polish or one of your chocolate covered cherries.

Down on second floor main Betsy Moore spent the night with Nell Pritchett (plus box—catch?)

Frances Hudgins likes Cunningham Hall, especially on a Saturday night in Caralie Nelson's room. Note! Anne Benton likewise with Jean Bourne.

My, my, but taffy's good—especially when cooked in Rosalie Roger's room with thirty other fair damsels present. We couldn't begin to name them all.

Frances Rosebro was the guest of Crews Borden in her room in Cunningham Hall.

Virginia O'Farrell kept Betty Greig company along with Virginia Vose who returned for the week-end.

P. S. Dotty Rollins spent the week-end in the "Pill Box", but Libby West, Jean Moyer, Thelma Courtney and the Cock twins commuted frequently to keep up the old spirit.

Rotunda Staff Meet

Regular members and tryouts for the editorial staff of The Rotunda will meet after Prayers in the publication office tonight.

Orchesis Is Hostess To Visiting Dancers

Orchesis, local artist dance group, entertained Hanya Holm and her dancers at a reception in the Y. W. C. A. Lounge Monday night, November 7, after the lyceum program.

Preceding the Lyceum Orchesis officers were hostesses at a supper in the tearoom.

Clocks

Continued from Page 3

despair, picks up her comb and begins racking through them.

Again there is that ringing sound in her ears. Now what? The class bell after all! But the library clock just struck eight! Oh, is it any wonder a girl goes mad? She drops her comb, smears some lipstick on her lips, grabs rain coat, umbrella, notebook and pencil, dashes out of the room and down the steps. Halfway out the front door she stops. Her textbook. She's forgotten it. Back up the steps, finally finding the book under the bed, said student retraces steps.

She slips and slides up the back walk to Main Building, down the hall into Education Class, and into her seat just as the teacher lays down her roll book and opens the text. Our struggling student has struggled in vain.

The moral of this fable, fellow students, is to learn how the clocks run, one to another. We have done this for you in the hope that you like us will be able to struggle, but not in vain. Here is our solution as it stands at present. The radio is five minutes ahead of school time. The library clock is usually five minutes slow. (P. S. Read Student Standards column to learn when they'll be together.

Yours until the three times get together again and we can enjoy the peace and calm that was yesteryear.

Education Week

Continued from Page 1

dent body this morning, November 8, on "Self Education in Our College" and on November 9 Jane Powell will speak on "Living Effectively and Economically in Our College". "Christian Citizenship in Our College" on November 10 will be by Dot Eades. Mr. T. A. McCorkle will speak on "Freedom" on Armistice Day at which time a musical program will be presented by Miss Lisbeth Purdum and Mr. Alfred Strick. The program was changed this week because of unavoidable circumstances.

EACO THEATRE

DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.

Friday-Sat., Nov. 10-11

GARY COOPER

Andrea Leads, David Niven

"THE REAL GLORY"

Latest WAR SCENES

Next Mon.-Tues., Nov. 13-14

Mickey Rooney

Judy Garland

"Babes in Arms"

Cartoon and War Scenes

Next Wed.-Thur.,Nov. 15-16

Eddie (Bro. Rat) Albert

"On Your Toes"

Community Sing of COLLEGE SONGS

PRESENTING NEW CREATIONS

In Evening Gowns and Slippers

See Them Before the Next Dance

DOROTHY MAY STORE

SEE THE NEW SWING SKIRTS

In All the NEWEST SHADES

Priced $1.98 & $2.98

New Cardigans & Sloppy Joe Sweaters, just arrived at

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Appreciates your Patronage—Charge it

Miss PH L OFFER was this year's pick of them all for 'Cotton Queen" because she has the right combination of charm and loveliness typical of the modern American girl.

For real smoking pleasure the pick of them all is Chesterfield because its right combination of the world's best tobaccos gives smokers Real Mildness and Better Taste

THE PICK OF THEM ALL FOR

Real Mildness and Better Taste

is Chesterfield because of its right combination of the best American and Turkish tobaccos

Real mildness is more important in a cigarette today than ever before because people smoke more now than ever before. That's why so many smokers have changed to Chesterfield . . . they are finding out that for Real Mildness and Better Taste the pick of them all is Chesterfield.

You'll find that Chesterfields are cooler, better-tasting, and definitely milder . . . you can't buy a better cigarette.

MAKE YOUR NEXT PACK Chesterfield

THEY REALLY SATISFY

Copyright 1939 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY,, NOV. 15, 1939 | NO. 8

Colonnade Wins Mention in State Press Meeting

Ten from Farmville At Washington; Kaleidoscope Wins

Colonnade, quarterly magazine was selected for honorable mention among college magazines in the state at the meeting of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association in Washington on Nov. 10 and 11. At the same time announcements were made of the other winning publications of Virginia colleges and universities.

Ten students, eight from the staff of The Rotunda and two from the Colonnade represented Farmville for the meet.

Rotunda delegates were Dorothy Rollins and Pat Gibson from the editorial staff and Josa Carlton, andw Marie Allen from the business staff. Others from the Rotunda staff were Mildred Callis, Jeanette Ferguson, Sara Seward, Mary Sue Simmons, Lucy Blackwell, and Frances Alvis. Johnny Lybrook and Jane Rosenberger were Colonnade delegates.

This was the thirteenth annual meeting of the V. I. P. A. which was founded at Farmville in 1928. The meeting was officially opened on Friday afternoon with departmental round table meetings. Following these Erwin Dain Canaham, head of the Washington bureau of the Christian Science Monitor, spoke on "A Day in the Life of a Washington Newspaperman." Round table discussions were held again on Saturday morning. At the banquet Drew Pearson, news columnist of the "Washington Merry-Go-Round" was guest speaker. Social features included a football game of American University vs. Blue Ridge and the banquet at American U., convention host. Time not otherwise designated was spent in sight seeing.

Other publication awards placed The Kaleidoscope of Hampden-Sydney in first place for Class B annuals. The Bugle of Virginia Polytechnic Institute won in the Class A annuals and the Intermonont of Virginia Intermont College in Class C annuals. Newspapers placing first in their respective A, B, and C Classes were College Topics of the University of Virginia, Rollins College's Student Life, and Stratford College's Traveller.

Continued on Page 4

H.-S.-S T. C. Practice Debate Question

Hampden-Sydney College and S. T. C will have a practice debate tonight at 8 o'clock in the small auditorium.

Frances Keck and Marie Allen will represent S. T. C. and will support the negative side of the question, "Resolved that the United States should follow a policy of strict (economic and military) isolation toward all nations engaged in armed international or civil conflict."

Edward Young and Strother Crockett will uphold the affirmative side of the question. This debate will prepare the debaters for further work on the national Pi Kappa Delta debate question. Arrangements for debates with other schools are now being planned.

Siberian Singers Will Make Fourth Lyceum

The Siberian Singers will render a program of songs and music of old Russia for the second lyceum number on November 21 in the S. T. C. auditorium. The performance will begin at 8 o'clock.

This will be the fourth program presented at S. T. C. and will be under the direction of Nicholas Vasilieff. At previous appearances the chorus have given their interpretations of Russian life in the costumes of that country.

Don't Mind Interrupt--It's That Different 'n' Better Annual

Just get yourself comfortably situated; feet propped on the foot of the bed, pillows just right after untold effort, and apple in one hand and mouth ready to begin crunching, your psychology book in the other hand, and light heart that comes of having finally gotten to the point of studying even before study hour begins,that lesson you've been eluding for so long beating on the chest—and don't you know that inevitable knock comes on your door, and that just as inevitably a head pokes in your door chirping familiarly "Don't you want to subscribe to the "Virginian" now? There is a quiet gnashing of teeth as you grudgingly look up, all the while reserving a very special place in your own private hall of horrors for the intruder. For it doesn't even take amoeba brains to recognize the opening line of this chant. "Aw lemme alone, can't-cha?. I'm broke and besides I'm busy, go 'way," you plead. But's to no avail. Those gals have got something to sell and a spirit to do or die----So you turn your eyes back to the printed page, resolved martyr-like to be moderately tolerant of the incessant static now disturbing on the other side of the room. But the interference persists, getting more and more penetrating until at last the prescribed program is completely obliterated and, with a sigh you resign to fate--in the guise of a member of the 'Virginian' staff. "Well, what is this "Virginian" any way, and why is it so special that it's a matter of life or death that I get one now?" you query.

Her leading question gets you involved in all sorts of bargaining having to do with reductions of prices, payments, and even a January dance that is somehow tied up with it all. Bit by bit your dazed faculties begin to grasp the significance of some of it. Then your lower jaw which has been slightly out of place for the duration of this lecture, snap into place with a crack--only to open again on a barrage of exclamations and questions as you turn on your assailant. "Dance, did you say to help pay for the annual? That's just what we need. Why hasn't somebody thought of it before? Wonderful! And it helps us to get it a dollar cheaper if enough people subscribe? Oh yes, I know how much fun annuals are. I wouldn't take the world for my old ones. I've had so many grand times looking and laughing at them. They even get better with age.

"Wait a minute. Let me borrow some money from Suzy so I can buy mine now. You mean, I don't have to pay more than a dollar now and can pay the rest later? Marvelous--Saved from the agonies of a doctor!"

As your former aggressor, now turned your best friend, leaves, you settle back into position oblivious of such dteails as pillows that have slipped down, an apple that has rolled to the floor, and an afore-mentioned look that has been entirely forgotten; you feel the delicious satisfaction! (so characteristically feminine) of having succumbed to that ever irresistible urge to strike a good bargain. "Think, a $5 value for only $4."

And that my children, is just exactly the moral of this little tale. The 1940 year book of Farmville S. T. C. is precisely that--a real bargain; and what's more though they are not revealing the layout, we hear it's quite different --everybody's cooperation-a better than ever Virginian for a more comfortable than ever price. Come on folks! Let's do our part subscribing now!

Commissions View Campus Fashions

Correct, Incorrect Outfits Shown

As their usual monthly program for the Freshman Class the Sophomore Commission gave a fashion show in the small auditorium, on Tuesday, November 14 at 9:30 p. m.

The fashion show, showing the right and wrong outfits for particular school occasions, was directed by Mary Lou Shannon and May Wertz. Sophomores modeled the correct dress, while members of the Freshman class modeled the incorrect dress. Judges were Mary Katherine Dodson, Betsy Jennings, Frances Rosebro, and Ellen Ebel.

Appropriate clothes were modeled by the Sophomores for the following occasions: dates in the "Rec", bowling, walks to Longwood, lyceum, breakfast, Senior dance, classes, afternoon teas, lyceums and plays, class productions, off for the holidays, Mardi Gras, Founder's Day, horseback riding, and commencement. The models for these were Helen Wentz, Martha Cottrell, Libby Carter, Edna Harris, Margaret Franklin, Jane Engleby, May Winn, Alice Cogburn, Mary Jane Ritchie, Mary Katherine Zehmer, Cottie Radspinner, Gay Ward Brown, Dot Lawrence, Louisa Sanford, and Norma Wood.

Freshmen modeling the inappropriate dress for these occasions were Lillian Agnew, Sara Currie, Roberta Grigg, Jean Warrick, Shirley Turner, Betty Barnes Betty Perry, Jerry Smith, Carolyn Minnick, Jeanne Sears, Frances Farhan, Robin Henning, Ruth Palmer, Eleanor Folk and Frances Mallory. A similar fashion show was sponsored about this time last year by the commission.

Richmond Paper Uses Faculty Snap

Picture Used On Armistice Day

A four-column picture made from a snapshot taken by Miss Lila London, Farmville math teacher, appeared on the front page of the News Leader for Saturday, Nov. 11. The picture of the Belleau Wood Cemetery near Chateau Thierry, France, was snapped by Miss London when she and Misses Willie London and Miss Carrie Sutherlin were touring in France several years ago.

Last Saturday's being Armistice Day gave Miss London the idea to send the snap to the Richmond paper. The cemetery, one of the six American cemeteries for World War dead in France, covers 34 acres of ground. Two other American cemeteries are in Belgium and England.

The News Leader used the picture of the cemetery along with another of some Richmond College students. The pictures bore the caption: Armistice Day—Another Road to Ago—Let's Keep These Boys from This End in a French Cemetery.

Freshmen Sponsor For Chapel Program

Freshman class sponsored the Armistice Day program in chapel Saturday, November 11, 1939.

Brahms' "Lullaby" and "Tiritomba," a Metropolitan folk song, were the selections sung by the Freshmen. "German Dance" and "Death and the Maiden" by Shubert, and Exaudet's "Minuet"- were the numbers played by the Orchestra.

Peggy Bellus sang "Home Thoughts from Abroad."

New Library Is Formally Opened

Official Program Is Held in Auditorium; Open House Follows

The new library of Farmville State Teachers College was opened formally to the public in a ceremony held Thursday, November 9, at 3:30 in the main auditorium of the college. Mr. James M. Grainger, chairman of the faculty committee on arrangements, presided over the program.

Speakers for the occasion were Dr. Howard A. Dawson, of Washington, D. C., director of rural service of the National Education Association; Mr. Carl M. White, head librarian of the University of North Carolina; Dr. J. L. Jarman, president of Farmville S. T. C.; and Mr. Norman L. Webb, traveling engineer for P. W. A.

Dr. Dawson spoke on "A Century of Progress in Teacher Education. He gave a short history of the teaching profession, and discussed some of the current issues in public teaching. Mr. White spoke on "Significance of the Library in College Life". "A library is not merely a building full of books, but an organ of personality to the student and faculty", he said and further stated that three essentials to any school are good teachers, good students, and a good library.

Dr. Jarman, whose subject was "The Library in the Growth of a College Plant", told of some interesting facts about the growth of Farmville S. T. C. It was first taken over by the state in 1884 as the State Female Normal School, and was the first teacher training institute to be established in the South.

The program also included a selection by the College Choir, DeKoven's "Recessional". Miss Irene Leake sang "Fulfillment."

Open house was held in the library in the afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock and from 7:30 until 10 o'clock at night. The building was open to the public at this time, and refreshments were served.

Members of the library staff acted as hostesses for the occasion.

Other members of the faculty assisting Mr. Grainger on the library committee were Miss Mary M. Snead, head librarian; Miss Lila London, Dr. J. E. Walmsley, Miss Leola Wheeler, and Dr. J. P.

Commissions Make Merry With Song n' Food

"I'll have another dog," exclaimed one enthusiastic girl last Thursday evening, Nov. 9 'bout 6 o'clock. A dog — another one?

It seems that the dog in question was of the species which the biologists would classify as "canis ingeus". Now, have you got it? That's right, you're right. 'Twas a hot dog the young lady desired.

You see, it was this-a-way: Last year's Freshman Commission was winding up its activities by entertaining the recently elected Freshman Commission with a picnic at the cabin at Longwood. Such a picnic is a tradition with the old commission.

Hot dogs, potato chips, pickles, hot chocolate, apples and buns were the order of the affair. And, believe it or not, the hot chocolate wasn't burnt (to you who don't understand the significance of this statement, we add: the hot chocolate is usually burnt at the cabin on account of how as because it's cooked over an open fire. The success of the hot chocolate is attributed to that home ec major, Beezie Townsend (lesson for today: Take Home Ec.)

After eating stuff and stuff and more stuff, play and song were the keynote of the entertainment that followed, the old girls teaching the newer ones the characteristic songs of Farmville.

Dramatic Groups To Stage "Dear Brutus" This Friday Night

Attention! Be sure and get your ticket to "Dear Brutus", so that you will get good seats. Tickets went on reserve today at White's Drug Store. Scrape up fifty cents, and if you haven't promised someone already, buy yours at the table in the hall.

Miss Leola Wheeler Predicts Play Will Be a Great Success

"Dear Brutus" by Sir James Barrie will be presented by the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs as the annual fall play, Friday night, Nov. 17, in the main auditorium at 8 p. m.

The stage and lighting crew are working literally day and night to complete the props necessary. This phase of the production is most important since much depends on the effectiveness of the scenery. Lighting heads are Helen Jeffries and Addison Campbell.

Staging head, Dell Warren, costumer, Anna Maxey; and prop head, Sudie Dunton, are also on the job.

Miss Leola Wheeler, director, speaks encouragingly of the progress of the play and has openly expressed that she feels that the play will be a success.

Particularly fine is Lex Allison's performance as the eccentric Lob, whom students of Shakespeare will recognize as Puck. John Pancake, as Dearth the "middle-aged and done for" artist is forever sampling the Port, and Jerry Smith, as his daughter, is truly a discovery, justifying the confidence with which Miss Wheeler selected her.

Bob Engle should turn in a good performance as the Casanova, and his is truly a lesson to the omnipresent self-styled masters of the "line" Peggy Bellas and Jane McGinnis give him excellent support.

In the supporting cast are Sarah Currie as Mrs. Dearth, Dot Eades and Tedo Savage as the elderly Mr. and Mrs. Coade, and finally Keith Eubank as the rascally butler and Peggy Watkins, as Lady Caroline.

The theme of the play lies in a quotation from Shakespeare "The fault, dear Brutus is not in our stars but in ourselves that we are underlings". The play proceeds to show that there is something in the individual that shapes his course in life, and that taking the wrong turning is not influential in shaping ones character. Barrie at his most whimsical brings out this fact by weaving into the plot a mysterious wood in which all the characters of the play receive the chance to take a different course. The results are both humorous and tragic.

Choir Christmas Cantata Is Dec. 17

W. & L. Glee Club Will Also Perform

Mr. Alfred H. Strick, head of the music department has announced the completion of plans for this year of the choral organizations, the first large program being the annual Christmas concert on December 17, at which time the Washington and Lee Glee Club will be guest and joint performer.

University of Virginia Glee Club will return for the spring concert on March 29 at which time the Glee Club of Duke University will also be present.

Junior and Senior A Capella Choirs will sing November 22 at the State Teachers College at the John Marshall Hotel in Richmond; the Junior A Capella will sing at Darlington Heights High School on November 17.

There are one hundred twenty-eight students in the College Choir and Choral Club, with thirty singers in the Junior and Senior A Capellas. Three quartettes and seven student directors are now being prepared to direct various units in concerts.

Methodists Will Give Thanksgiving Play

The Wesley Foundation gave a supper on Sunday night, November 12 for the Methodist Young People's League. The Hampden-Sydney boys had charge of the program and used "Armistice Day" as their theme.

Thanksgiving will be celebrated with a play, "The Pilgrim's Thanksgiving" on November 19, under the capable direction of Elizabeth Ann Parker. The cast is as follows: Drucilla played by Allene Overby; Penelope, Jean Moyer; Johanna, Mildred Harry; Evangeline, Doris Chestnut, Mary, Mildred Bowen; Anne, Charlotte Gresham; Prudence, Betty Reid; Maria, Dot Johnson; Elizabeth, Virginia Howell; Priscilla Peggy Lou Boyette.

Other characters are from Hampden-Sydney and Farmville.

Mary Katherine Dodson is in charge of costumes with Gene Hardy Kilmon and Hallie Hillsman as her committee.

Lillian Wahab and Lilian German are in charge of staging, while Virginia Simmons and Marjorie Holt are working together on properties.

Presbyterian Group Elects New Officers

Sally Dunlap was elected president of the Presbyterian Student association at a supper meeting at the church Sunday night, November 12. Marjorie Rice will serve as vice-president and Cottie Radspinner as secretary. Mary Jane Ritchie was chosen as reporter.

Dramatic Apprentices Give "The Bad Penny"

"The Bad Penny" a one-act play by Rachael Fields was presented by the Apprentices to the acting group of the Dramatic Club Wednesday night, November 8

The cast included Eleanor Folk, as Kate; Lucy Tucker, Margaret; Jean Hall, Lil; Betty Youngburg, Penny; "Chubby" Heard, head of the acting group, directed the play

Orders are now being taken for bound copies of the Rotunda. This year's papers will be filed and bound in cardboard for $1.50. A scrapbook which will hold copies of this paper for the entire four years is available at $2.60. Those interested in obtaining either of these should see Lucy Blackwell at once.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickral, and Janelle Shelor.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson, Frances Pope.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd and Jean Upshur.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1939

On Inches and Miles In Short, on Thanksgiving

Like a dream and prayer come true over 900 girls heard the announcement "Thanksgiving holidays will begin at noon on Wednesday, November 22, and last until Monday morning, November 27". A shout of delight rang out. The longed-for day at one's own dinner table, that game or dance, a morning of shopping, and just that glorious feeling of "being home" would be a realization. Joy, joy!

Have you stopped to think of the cons of our getting holidays and of our responsibility toward them now that they have materialized? It is to be judged more tactful not to dwell on the former, but in their light to give the latter due consideration.

A holiday is granted for the enjoyment of everyone. No one is a privileged individual. If you abuse the use by requesting to cut classes before and after the official leave begins, you are breaking the code which is being set up. Naturally a three day break is a bit of an upset in the teacher's plan. It's up to you to be there before and after to do your part.

Be you not the one who endeavors to think up an excuse to get a day or two added on to our already liberal four and a half days era. Remember that there are the Thanksgiving holidays of S. T. C. posterity which might suffer if you abuse the privilege. In short don't you be the one to stretch that proverbial inch to a mile.

Marching to Alma Mater Is Senior Privilege

It has been the custom for many years for the Seniors to march into chapel on Friday mornings to the tune of the Alma Mater and to wear caps and gowns at that time. However, there is more to this tradition than just that. It is a Senior privilege alone to march to the "Alma Mater" at any time.

On Fridays when the Seniors march in, the entire student body is standing until the final note of the "Alma Mater" is sounded, and those underclassmen who are late wait until then to go to their seats. After the service underclassmen also wait until the Seniors are out of the auditorium and another march begins before they leave.

Don't feel offended that you can only sing it. One of these days you, too, will be a dignified member of the cap and gown family and will know how it feels to march to our Alma Mater. Meanwhile, await your turn; remember it's a point of underclass etiquette not to forget it.

Laundry Via Back Way, Leads Upon Carpentry Shop

Setting: Monday afternoon, the usual trip to the laundry via the back way.

What's this? A pair of steps leading to a cute little green door--let's go. Ah! It opens here--then we'll do a little snoopin'.

Wonder who's collecting broken pictures and furniture. That's a peculiar hobby. Someone's doin' a lot of work in here. Look at that new-fangled saw. That accounts for all this sawdust. What's that wooden contraption on the work table? It looks like the leaning tower of Pisa, upside down, only it doesn't lean.

MR. HURT

Flash! (That was inspiration). I'll bet this is a carpentry shop. Gee! Maybe they don't want us here. Let's get out before somebody catches us.

"Something broken?" Oh! Woe is us--we weren't quick enough. And yet--he didn't sound mad, did he?

"Oh, oh, no, no, sir. We just sort of wandered in and stopped to look around."

"Well, fine---come back---and I'll show you around." At this point we ventured to turn and saw in the midst of this mass of machinery and general confusion Mr. James Hurt, the college "fixer-upper". We breathed a sigh of relief, because many are the times and places we have seen him on our campus.

Bein' snoopin' reporters (you know us) we confronted him with a barrage of questions concerning himself and his work. To our surprise, he didn't mind a bit, and first thing we knew we were into an interesting discussion.

Mr. Hurt arrived in Farmville 30 years ago and became attached to S. T. C. in 1928. He is a coach builder by trade, in which art he received his diploma before reaching the age of 16. His father, who was a painter, required all his sons to learn that profession; but in his new work, it was necessary for Mr. Hurt to learn a new type of painting.

During his coach building days he became associated with all varieties of vehicles and professes to have been the constructor of every type.

In the month of February, 12 years ago, Mr. Bristow, former business manager here at this college, made a remark that led to Mr. Hurt's appointment as "general man" at S. T. C. At that time there was a vacancy here for which there had already been 15 applicants. Mr. Bristow, recognizing Mr. Hurt's abilities exclaimed, "By George, Jim! You ought to apply for that vacancy at the college!"

And after a bit of persuasion, he did so. Two days later he received the job. Three years of conscientious work merited him the position of Superintendent.

Mr. Hurt now holds six contracts: Superintendent of plumbing, cold storage, steam fitting and boiler house, power plant, carpenter and chief engineer.

He'll do anything, anytime, any where. If you want him at 2 o'clock in the morning, he'll come--provided it's urgent. He seems to be an efficient "Jack of all trades", but now, being superintendent, just sees that these "trades" are done right.

Gracious it's a quarter of five. Our laundry!!!

Continued on Page 4

Psyc. Major Lays Principles For Academic Success

If you want to be an "A" student take the advice of Harold L. Hoffman, a psychology major at Lenoir Rhyne College.

Here are the five steps to academic success that he recommends:

1. Study. Remember that those students labeled "geniuses" really study for their superior marks.

2 Love "all" the opposite sex, not just one of said sex. This tends to create a superior, "I'm all right", frame of mind.

3. Cultivate a liking for your professors and for your studies. Hard to do perhaps, but it at least a neutral attitude is adopted toward each professor and each study, and a sincere effort is made to master the subject, success will be yours.

4. Every college student has someone interested in his success—a father, a mother, a sister, a brother, perhaps a sweetheart, an aunt or an uncle. Develop an I'll how you attitude. Prove to those financial, loving, and / or spiritual backers that you are equal to the task

5. Be a good "mixer"—put on the old personality with your associates, for creating a favorable attitude in the eyes of your fellow student's will make you as an individual happy, light-hearted, and free—desired qualities for a successful student.

Echoes from an Empty Space

We have variety of fact and rumor to ruminate about at this point. Generally, they go classified thus-ly:

Cotillion. And again the infectious rythms turn the gym into a haven--or heaven--for us lassies and no other event can quite compare. . . We hope the terrific rush that Jimmy Traylor got doesn't go to his head. The lad has what it takes, though, and may we include Jimmy Dodson (uh huh) and Eddie Sears in the list of the cuter ones. . . We know of at least one couple who didn't return to the dance after intermission and we don't need an explanation. . . Could it be that Hoskins isn't as interested in her Pete as she once was? . . .We think it necessary to mention that one freshman was certainly trying the old viper tactics on a supposedly good friend of hers with Wilson Blaine. . .

. . Which all brings to mind the fact that the Freshmen were presenting some pretty stiff competition. . . The best story of all is that of the freshman who invited Marge's Lyman to Fall Cotillion next year. Confident, what? This younger generation seems to think graduation means the end. Worsham made it obvious to all concerned that she was not interested in meeting their dates. Hmmm. . .There were quite a few strings attached to May Winn, yes? . . That girl in blue was mighty allergic to football players. She was tearing around all over the floor. . .

It was wonderful having so many of the old gals back for the occasion, but we missed those who were at V. P. I. Does Wentz have that gleam in her eye, or does she? And would have thought Liggie would have been satisfied with Princeton the week end prior. . . Bobby brought Buck six teaspoons for her birthday, at least they say.

Saw Jean Upshur and Boonie triangling over Mac in the Pi Kap room. He was indubitably the center of attention. . . . . Also another triangle in the same room was Mitchell-Ware over Covington . . . . . The Sugar Young-Allene Overby recently melted romance seems to be taking on a new air. It is hinted they're starting over. . . . Incidently it was Ruth Lea and Sugar earlier in the week. . . Just can't get over the triangles-so very confusing. . . . . .The Earnest must be congratulated for handling her numerous dates so successfully. . . . .There was Betty Fahr there with a bang (or bangs!!) . . . . . .With such charming grace and poise was Sara Keesee and Tom Martin. . . . . Robert Taylor and Mildred Harry still that way—how 'bout that? Bob Dabney made the dramatic entrance with Elizabeth Ann Parker but departed with Sara Cline. . . . . .Very perplexing. . . Rosalie Coberley was there (roses and all). But since she wasn't with the Tynes I just don't know. .

The goats did very nicely and we appreciate their fine spirit during the whole dance. . . . . To the most gracious go our little noseays. Virginia Polley, Jane Powell, and Anne Billups. . . . . Hattie Vaden looked so charming and oh what a handsome man she was with. . . . . .Nancy Hopkins on the ball as well as Myra Smith and her lil' bro . . . . . .Peggy Williams and "Meatball"again. Getting to be a habit, Peggy??. . . . . Leetie Alice Cogburn was about the happiest one there. The reason: BEV. . . . . In a fog about Cully and his disappearance was Alice Mac. . . . . To say nothing of happiness and Prince and Sonny! . . . . . .

Romance is a wonderful thing, and we're all for the line of a new song which runs, "Grand to be alive, to be young, to be mad, to be yours alone." The whole spectacle was wonderful and we're still glowing.

Soliloquy: T's a sad, sad thing that those people who endeavor to accomplish things around here are continually check-mated by the calibre of people who once called automobiles radical — or more probably, by those others who are busy creating the impression that they are accomplishing things. What we need are a few reforms--er maybe a few funerals.

Things We'd Like to Know: Will the Arnold-Lashley continue?. . . Is Virginia Rudd leading her Teechman a merry chase and does she think she is getting by with it? . . .Do girls in school realize what goes on? There's a lot in the old saying "When the cat's away, the mice will play"—the rats. . . .And speaking of rats, did one Chi Phi think he could get by with stringing six girls?. . . The length of this all goes to doesn't know everything--quite.

Idle Chatter: Wish we had Prince Smith here with Cleo and Sue in their old form. The spirit is not the same. . . .They tell us Jeanne Sears' mail is very welcome to say the most. . . Pat and Mickey are heralding the brass age (as have many before them with Kappa Sigma and Pi K. A. respectively and respectfully. Pat?) blazoned across their cardigans. . .On the every-day side it seems that Helen Long has at "long" last acquired a picture of her man. He is really tall, dark, and handsome in every sense of the word. . . . . .Helen you could also explain your mysterious phone call??. . . . . .Ed Kilby, don't worry about who writes this column just so they don't mention your name in it you're O.K. . . . . .Reeves Brown without a gal last week. Can't imagine!!. . . . . .How's about Rebecca in last week's "Round-'n-Round"????. . . . . .

Congrats to the Miss Ayres and her new pin . . . And to the Pope girl—on the ring—couldn't mean but one thing. . . . .Booty Shelton showing certain civic mindedness dedication of library as well as a freshman"???. . .And who is this Moyer person we're hearing about—. . . . .Among the promising H. S. Freshmen included Chi Phi Cox and K. A. Johnson. Emily Wescott could give info on the Johnson lad but the Cox lad is without an S. T. C. girl—so far! . . . Last week's error over Boo Taylor. "Boo" is a girl . . . Please tell us what the late date mix-up at Virginia Openings is all about, Helen Dawson and Ora Mayo???? In the meantime Ora, grow up. It's all in the game of love. . . . . .

They tell us Madam Powell found lots to be admired in Colorado, and how about this K. A. pin, now how about it? We think one Helen McIlwaine should give way to her inclination toward ruffles and frills, and that one Ruth Len Purdum should give away lots of her affectations to some poor soul about whom it wouldn't make no difference, no how . . .

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

Drew Pearson, author of the Washington Merry-Go-Round, addressing the 13th V. I. P. A. convention at American University last Saturday night climbed rather far out on the limb to predict that Roosevelt would be nominated for a third term in the 1940 presidential election. The nomination could be based, the columnist said, on three major points: (1) who the Republican nominee would be; (2) general economic condition of the country; and (3) whether there will exist a state of war or a state of peace.

Carrying forward the same idea that was set forth in this column last week, that of changing horses in the middle of the stream, Mr. Pearson admitted there was no way of knowing whether or not Roosevelt would accept the nomination.

Other Possible Candidates

On the side of the Democrats the most likely candidate is Jack Garner (excepting, of course, the President). Mr. Garner, the columnist said, has a good following much of which may be attributed to his anti-New Dealism and part of which may be attributed to his "private refrigerator."

Mr. Pearson accused Roosevelt of "grooming" Murphy, Stark, Hopkins and McNutt for the nomination but said the possibilities of any of them being nominated seems rather slim.

The much-talked-about Republican leader, Tom Dewey, of New York does not seem as likely for nomination as many believe because of his age and the fact that he does not get along with Republican leaders. Then there is on the Republican side Taft, and Vanderbilt. Bricker and Roberts the columnist named as possible "dark horses" from the G. O. P.

Present Administration Most Inefficient

Mr. Pearson said that in all his years at Washington he considered this the most insufficient, top heavy and sloppy administration that he had seen. This accusation he placed upon Mr. Roosevelt's head in picking his cabinet members.

Mr. Roosevelt excuses the inability of his cabinet members because they are "good" friends of his, most of them in a poor state of health and in need of a job and because he feels sorry for them.

Mr. Pearson cited a specific example to justify his statement in the late Claude Swanson, secretary of the navy. The United States Navy falls far below what it should be. Of the 28 destroyers owned by the United States 20 are so top-heavy that if the fuel were removed from them they would turn over. All the cruisers have a "shimmy" in them that the department has been unable to get out. Admirals can't run a navy. There must be a head.

The sinking of the Royal Oak by the Germans in exactly seven and a half minutes made the administration stop and take notice. This ship was as good if not better than any of our vessels. The Germans have discovered a new muffler for their submarines which makes it impossible for the Allies to detect their approach and it is believed that these same submarines carry a new type of high explosive torpedo which the rest of the world doesn't know about.

About the War

Mr. Pearson reviewed the failure of the Allies strategy in the first of the war in their hope that Poland could hold out for six weeks until the beginning of the rains should slow up the progress of the German invasion which would give the British time for mobilization.

The recent attack on Holland by Germany Mr. Pearson believes came because the German people were restless and wanted another "hand-out." The attempt on Hitler's life the columnist said was probably a "planned" act on Hitler's part to appeal to the sypathy of the German people.

Traditional Hockey Games to be Nov. 20

Class Runners Are Selected

Interclass Finals To Follow Races

Red and White and Green and White will clash again as the annual Color Rush goes into full swing on Monday, Nov. 20.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the races will begin. Colors of the winning classes will be hung outside the buildings. The various class runners will compete in Junior, Senior, Old Library, Rotunda and Student Buildings. The colors totaling the greatest number of points in the round-robin hockey tournament will have the privilege of hanging their colors on the new library. Student government girls will judge the races.

The Seniors have selected Cleo Jarman and Essie Milliner as their runners; the Juniors, Marian Worsham, Helen McIlwaine and Rosa Courter. The Sophomore and Freshmen runners have not been chosen as yet. Each color will have five runners competing in the races.

Finals of the class hockey games are scheduled directly after the Color Rush when the Frosh meet the Sophs and the Seniors take on the Juniors.

Class cheer leaders are Seniors, Elizabeth Kent and Isabel Williamson; Juniors, Betty Fahr, Caralie Nelson and Esther Atkinson; Sophomores, Allene Overbey, and Edna Harris; Freshmen, Peggy Lou Boyette, Bobby Tripp and Jean Holton.

LYNN'S MUSIC STORE

HAS ALL OF THE LATEST COPIES OF SHEET MUSIC

also

Sale Prices

on

Guitars, Banjos Viclins, Strings and accessories

See our window for Specials!

Sports Calendar

Nov 16—4 p. m.—Class hockey games
Juniors vs. Frosh
Seniors vs. Soph

Nov. 17—3:30 p. m. Archery tournament

Nov. 20—2:00—Color Rush and Class Game Finals
Frosh vs. Soph
Juniors vs. Seniors

HOTEL WEYANOKE

Regular Meals

A La Carte Service

Salads & Sandwiches

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS MEDICINES

Perfumes—Toilet Articles

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Quality—Price—Service

Frosh and Juniors Tie; Seniors Win

Interclass hockey games got off to a fine start in the first two of the preliminary games yesterday. The Juniors playing short, came back in the second half, to even up the Frosh advantage with Crews Borden hitting the tying ball into the goal. Mary Sue Edmondson scored the first goal for the Juniors while the Frosh tallies were made by Ella Pilkinton and Elva Andrews in the first half.

The Seniors took a hard fought game from the Sophs when Newman scored the deciding tally for the Seniors in the second half. The end of the first half found the score tide up, each class having made two goals. Nancy Dupuy, Sophomore center forward and Kathryn Newman, Senior center forward scored the tallies for their respective classes.

On Thursday, November 16 at 3:30 p. m. the Seniors will meet the Freshmen and the Juniors the Sophomores in the second round o the interclass hockey toruna-ment.

Archery Contest To Be Fri., Nov. 17

Helen Seward, manager of archery, has announced that on Friday afternoon, November 17, an archery tournament will be held on the athletic field. Each contestant will shoot six rounds of arrows, a round consisting of six arrows. The six rounds will be shot from distances of sixty- seventy and 80 feet, two rounds at each distance. Before each shooting a practice round of 12 arrows will be allowed each girl. The girl whose shots tally highest will be declared the winner.

The girls who have had the number of practices required for eligibility to participate in the tournament are Alice Britt Charlotte Persinger, Ruth Loving, Irma Page, Ruby Adams, Elizabeth Scales, Nell Hurt, Helen Seward, Eleanor Folk Emma Pride, Wood, Elsie Stossil, Katherine Price, Alice Scebert, Ann Sawyer, Polly Clements, Imogen Claytor, Carolyn Rouse, Betty Youngburg, Nancy Naft, Dorothy Childress, Amy Reed, Pearl Thompson, Bernice Callis, and Nancy McClay.

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Golf Gossip

By Carroll Brown
Professional, Longwood

This column is doing something to me In my mind's eye I see myself fast becoming an "ink-stained wretch" of the first water. Two or three more efforts and I'll be running around with my hat turned up, a hand full of copy, talking out of mouth's corner to the City Editor while I scribble a scoop.

We gained seventeen new members for the Winter Association last week bringing the total to eighty-seven. As we can only take about thirteen more we hope all the girls who want to learn to play will register before going home for their Thanksgiving holiday. We are going to have a meeting of the group during the week and all are asked to attend as we wil plan some of our activities for the season.

Schedule of time remaining for individual instruction is posted in the golf school. This schedule will be strictly adhered to in order that lessons may be completed by December 1. Some of you strangers should drop in for a change and look it over, and, while there get in a little practice. Also, we are making arrangements to go to Longwood on most afternoons so we may have out-door swing sessions.

A good percentage of the girls are going to hit the ball well. With the present group and those new association members we will be able to produce a golf team that will give any girl's school all the competition it wants. It is a great source of satisfaction to me to see these girls who had played a very little or not at all begin to hit the ball properly.

Well, I've gone and taken up your space and time again. If I keep this up I'll likely be remembered not as Poor Old Pro. but, as a garrulous gazeteer gathering goofy, genial, golf gossip . . . getting gags and guffaws from glamour girls and gouty ganders who, gripping grittily in generating grim gigantic gyrations and genuflexions, gambol o'er green, grassy ground galling guttapercha to girdle the globe with the game from Gongazo to Giza-Giza. . . . Yummy?

S. T. C. Sets Pace In 2-0 Triumph

The varsity hockey squad was victorious in the first game of the season on November 8. when they defeated William and Mary Extension 2-0. The game was played at the latter's field in Richmond.

Within thirty seconds after the opening whistle S. T. C. scored a point when the ball was carried from Farmvilles' own 25 yard line to the goal by successive passes of the forward line. Katheryn Newman completed the onslaught down the field and with a quick push the ball in the corner of the goal.

The second score in the middle of the first half when passes between right wing and right inside carried the ball into the striking circle. A short pass was given to Newman who picked the ball upon her stick and then made a hard pass into the goal.

Neither team scored during the second half of the game, although both teams made several thrusts and advanced the ball far into the enemy territory only to be driven out again.

Line up as follows:

Pos.	Farmville	W. & M.
R.W.—	Jarman	Trimmer
I.R.—	Pilkinton	Smith
C.F.—	Newman	Blanton
I.F.—	Nimmo	Moore
L.W.—	Mann	Gentry
R.H.—	Hillsman	Novak
C.H.—	McIlwaine	Howard
L.H.—	Jones	Voss
R.F.—	Barlow	Straus
L.B.—	Reeve	Gary
G.K.	Adams	Murdock

Basketball

First basketball practice of 1939-40 season was held this afternoon in the gym. Practice will continue regularly throughout the winter. A schedule will be posted on the A. A. bulletin board. All candidates should report to the gym on designated days. Upperclassmen and freshmen will practice at different hours.

Color Rush Rules

Everyone must be out of the buildings in which races are being conducted on penalties of disqualifying their respective classes.

Water Event Is Postponed

Second presentation of the annual Water Carnival scheduled for tonight has been indefinitely postponed.

COLLEGE SHOPPE

Have you tried our SPECIAL BREAKFAST?

ONE EGG, BACON,
TOAST
COFFEE AND JELLY
15c

WE DELIVER CALL 200

Let your friends get a peek at your new library by sending new library stationery from

SHANNON'S

PHONE 224

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

Martin the Jeweler

RYTEX CHRISTMAS CARDS

50 FOR $1.00

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop

"From old to new with any shoes"
Only First Class Material used
All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!

Electric Appliance Co.

Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the

BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY MEATS
AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

NEWBERRY'S

5—10—25c STORE

We have your party needs for Thanksgiving

For The Thanksgiving Holiday and Football Game

SWEATERS

Soft Angora and Wool, Sloppy Joe's and Cardigans—Lovely Assortment $1.00 to $5.95

SKIRTS

Plaids, Stripes and Solids to mix or match with Sweaters—Complete run of sizes $1.98 to $3.98

SPORT COATS

The very thing to wear for the Game $9.95 to $29.50

DAVIDSON'S

THE COLLEGE GIRLS' STORE

She Has a Date at Seven with Home

Home is just minutes away by telephone and the rates are so low you can call often.

Below are a few specimen rates for night (after 7) and Sunday station-to-station calls, which will show you how low the charges really are.

From FARMVILLE to—

Atlanta, Ga.	$0.80	Dallas, Texas	1.95	Richmond	.35
Baltimore	.45	Greensboro, N.C.	.40	Roanoke	.35
Blacksburg	.40	Lexington	.35	Sweet Briar, Va.	.35
Charlton, W.Va.	.50	Lynchburg	.35	Washington	.40
		Philadelphia	.60

Ask Long Distance for the rate to your home town.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia
(Bell System)

Usual Socialitees "Social" At School Cotillion

By JACK COCK

Well, girls, this wasn't a week-end; it was a "dead end". That is—it was dead as far as your file box investigator is concerned. How can I write a column on where the socialites went for the week-end, when all the socialites stayed here for the Cotillion Club dance? I'll be! Echoes has plenty of material though.

Thanks to my fellow staff members, and others, literally inclined, I do have one big article. You know there was a Virginia Intercollegiate Press Convention in Washington and our publication staffs didn't forget it either. Representing Farmville were: Marie Allen, Frances Alvis, Dotty Rollins, Pat Gibson, Lucy Blackwell, Josa Carlton, Mildred Collis, Jeannette Ferguson, Johnny Lybrook, Mary Sue Simmons, Jane Rosenberger, and Sara Seward. Quite a bunch, what? And from all reports Washington's a great "town".

I see where there were big times at V. M. I. this week-end and no wonder—Centennial Celebrations only occur once in a hundred years. Despite all the excitement the Keydets had, they still remembered to invite their friends at S. T. C. to join in the fun—namely—Virginia Barksdale, Frances Ellet, Blanche Carper, Elnora Faison, Elizabeth Kent, Theodosia McKenzie, and Helen Wentz. Congratulations, V. M. I., and thanks. Maybe y'all will be remembered when we do the same.

When it's football season and football weather, there's bound to be a football game. And when Roanoke played Petersburg, Faye Brandon and the Hall twins as guests of Frances Pritchett were on hand to see it.

Ours wasn't the only school that had a dance Saturday night. Ask Nina Lee Hall about the one at dear ol' U. Va.

If anyone else did anything exciting this week-end, they failed to put it on their home office slip, therefore I shall have to fail to put it in here, and unless Army plays Navy in Burkeville next Saturday, I doubt seriously if next week's Rotunda carries a week-end column.

Week-end Reflections

By Snoopin' Sue

Snoopin' Sue had Trouble (with a capital T please) this week-end trying to remember the names of all those alumnae that were back. But even then a few slipped by without being caught. Want to know who visited who?

Beverly Blair was up on third floor Cunningham with last year's roomie Anna George. Betty Moss was back with Margaret Pierce. Louise Bryan was back for the week bunking with "Marty" Roberts and Moss among others.

Elizabeth Ann Parker and her Southern guest, Virginia Jones, from Raleigh, N. C., dropped in on the party given by Virginia Dawley and Sue Dunlap. Popcorn was enjoyed by Louise Phillips, Caroline Ferguson, Mary Lou Sterrat, Helen Engleman, Betty Laird, Miriam Hanvey and Virginia Reel Thelma slipped away from it all to the University of Virginia for the day Sunday.

Sunday night supper was popular among the Seniors—Ollie Graham Gilchrist, Hazelwood Burbank, Moomaw and Billups dished up one. Another was had by Polley, Louise Allen, "Bean" Hardy, "Pudge" Pettis and Moss.

Steed, Virginia Vose and Martha Holloway, alumnae (and others) entertained the room next door with songs from 1 to 7 o'clock Sunday morning—notice the a. m.

Home Ec practice house was thrilled by the appearance of Stallard Friday night.

"Cousin" Eleanor was the guest of Betsy and Nancy Moore.

Colonnade

Continued from Page 1

In the literary magazine competition The Royalist of William and Mary won first, with The Spectator of the University of Virginia tying with Farmville's Colonnade for honorable mention.

Winning humor magazines were The Old Maid of Randolph Macon Woman's College and the Old Grey Mare of Stratford. Handbook winners were Mary Baldwin and Bridgewater College.

The last three issues of the Colonnade, two of which were edited by Anne Dugger, '38-'39, and one by Johnny Lybrook were entered for competition in the V. I. P. A. Next year the convention will be held at V. P. I., Blacksburg, Va.

Mr. Hurt

Continued from Page 1

"Mr Hurt, this has been most enjoyable. May we come back again?" Having been assured of the fact that we could, whether we were "broken" or not, we departed.

P. S. We still don't know what the leaning tower of Pisa was.

Sorority Notes

Miss Mable Lee Walton, national president of Sigma Sigma Sigma, was the guest of the Alpha chapter November 13-15.

Miss Walton arrived Monday night and remained until Wednesday afternoon. The chapter entertained her Monday in the chapter room and again Tuesday night in the Senior building lounge.

Anna George, Pasty Fletcher, and Anne Benton entertained Mu Omegas at a supper in the chapter room Sunday night, November 12. Miss Leola Wheeler, advisor, Dorothy Hatcher and Beverly Blair, alumnae, and Virginia Jones, Jimmy Henkel, Bill Whitesel, and members of the sorority were present.

Tri Sigmas Entertain Alumnae at Breakfast

Sigma Sigma Sigma entertained its members and alumnae with a breakfast Sunday morning November 12, in the chapter room Among thoee alumnae attending were Vera Ebel, Anny Butterworth, Betty Butterworth, Margaret Britton, Virginia Carroll, Anne Dugger, Virginia Irby, Catherine Irby, Sarah Button, Anne Leake, Margaret Dortch, Virginia Bean, and Ada Sanford.

FARMVILLE THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.
Friday-Sat., Nov. 17-18
JOEL McCREA
BRENDA MARSHALL
'ESPIONAGE AGENT'
"ICE FROLICS"
Latest WAR SCENES
Next Mon.-Tues., Nov. 20-21
Robert Taylor
Greer Garson
(Mrs. Chips)
"REMEMBER"
Cartoon and War News
Next Wed-Thurs., Nov. 22-23
MARX BROS.
DAY AT THE CIRCUS
Cartoon and Travelog

PERMANENTS You Can Depend On

. . At Reasonable prices have made our Beauty Shop the most popular in Farmville.

Better Permanents
$2.45 to $9.95
Spiral or Croquignole
Self-Setting or Push Up

Try a healthful scalp treatment

BALDWIN'S BEAUTY SHOP
Phone 159 Farmville's Best Beauty Shop

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

Bicycles for Rent
303 St. George St.

Rose's
5-10-25c Store
ON THE CORNER
School Supplies
& Room Furnishings!

$1.00
SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

ATTENTION! STUDENTS
Have your parents enroll you under the Medical Reimbursement Policy issued the College to protect you against accidents.
F. W. HUBBARD, Agent
Planters Bank Building
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

EVENING DRESSES
White and Pastels. They're the talk of the town —
Really they're gorgeous $9.97-11.97-14.97
EVENING SANDALS $2.97 up
DOROTHY MAY STORE
IS READY FOR THANKSGIVING

KNITTING WOOL—All Colors
FOOTBALL NEEDS
Tweed Fitted Coats $9.95 up—Anyway Hats, all the new high shades $1.00 up.
SWEATERS—SKIRTS
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Is Headquarters for Economy Clothes

There's No Great Mystery
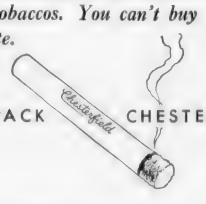
about Cigarette Tobaccos



THERE ARE FOUR TYPES
of tobaccos found in the more popular cigarettes, namely... Bright, Maryland, Burley and Turkish.

ALL THESE TOBACCOS except Turkish (which is bought direct from the planters in Turkey and Greece) and Maryland (which is bought through sealed bids under government supervision) are bought at public auction, just like any other auction where you might have bought in a table or a chair.

AT THE AUCTION SALE the tobacco is piled in baskets weighing from about 100 to 500 pounds and each purchaser buys all of his tobaccos by competitive bidding for the particular piles he wants.

THE CHESTERFIELD BUYERS buy the best of these mild ripe tobaccos for the Chesterfield blend. And it is Chesterfield's Combination... the right amounts of Burley and Bright... just enough Maryland... and just enough Turkish—that makes the big difference between Chesterfield and other cigarettes.

IT IS BECAUSE of this combination that Chesterfields are COOLER, have a BETTER TASTE and are DEFINITELY MILDER. They are made of the world's best cigarette tobaccos. You can't buy a better cigarette.

MAKE YOUR NEXT PACK CHESTERFIELD

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

A Happy Thanksgiving

The Rotunda

Hear Siberian Singers

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 22, 1939 | NO. 9

900 Will Leave School to Spend Thanksgiving

Many of Faculty Will Attend Teachers Meeting

Seven girls will remain at S. T. C. for the Thanksgiving holidays from approximately 907 dormitory students. Fifteen leaving for Thanksgiving day will return Friday for Hampden-Sydney dances and homecoming.

Thanksgiving holidays will begin 12:00 o'clock Wednesday, November 22, and last until the first class period Monday, November 26. Students are requested to return to school by 10:30 Sunday night or at least in time for Monday morning classes. No classes cut before or after holidays will be excused.

Trains eastbound are leaving at 12:57 P. M. and 3:41 P. M. Westbound trains are scheduled to leave at 1:39 P. M. and 4:51 P. M.

Schedule for eastbound buses is set for 9:40 A. M., 11:40 A. M., and 12 o'clock noon. Those going west will depart at 12:50 P. M.

Faculty Too Will "Holiday"

Thanksgiving will find the S. T. C. faculty spending the holidays in various ways. Among those representing Farmville State Teachers College at the State Teachers Convention in Richmond are: Miss Mary E. Peck, Miss Grace B. Moran, Miss Bessie Jeter. Miss Katherine Tupper, Miss Edna Bolick, and Dr. James E. Walmsley.

Besides going to Roanoke to see his alma mater play V. M. I., Mr. "Charlie" Frencr will go duck hunting on the Chesapeake Bay. Mrs. Hallie Laing, Miss Jane Royall and Miss Edna Bolick will attend the V. M. I.-V. P. I. football classic in Roanoke.

Miss Olive Iler and Miss Mary Snead plan longer trips for the week-end. Miss Iler is going to Richmond for the convention and then on to Baltimore. Miss Snead is planning a motor trip through southwest Virginia.

Some members of the faculty will spend their holidays in Farmville including Miss Nancy Foster, Mrs. Elizabeth Martin and Dr. Jean Martin. Miss Marjorie Booton is planning to go to her home in Luray and Miss E. Lucile Jennings is going to Blacksburg.

Debaters Discuss National Question

Debate Club held a round table discussion Monday afternoon in the Honor Room.

"Resolved: That the United States should follow a policy of strict (economic and military) isolation toward all nations outside the Western Hemisphere engaged in armed international or civil conflict," was the National Pi Kappa Delta debate question — the topic for the discussion led by Marie Allen.

The question was argued pro and con by all members of the club.

On last Wednesday night, Nov. 15, Marie Allen and Frances Keck opposed a negative team of Hampdne-Sydney on the national question in a trial debate in the small auditorium. The debate being a practice one, however, was a nondecision.

Senior Presentation Will Be on Dec. 1

Seniors will be the first class to present their classman, Miss Virginia Bedford, at chapel on Friday, December 1.

Heretofore the class presentations have carried out the theme of art and it is likely that this year's will follow much the same theme.

A Capella Choirs Give Program At Teachers Meet

Groups Present Same Selections For Chapel

Junior and Senior A Capella Choirs of S. T. C. left Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 by bus for Richmond where they will sing before the State Teachers Convention in the ballroom of the Hotel John Marshall at 11 o'clock on Wednesday morning.

Their program includes "The Holly and the Ivy", "Ding Dong Merrily on High" and "Break Forth O Beauteous Heavenly Light" by both choirs, "Dedication" by the Junior A Capella and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by the Senior A Capella.

The choirs presented their program in chapel Tuesday morning.

Senior A Capella members are Carol Averitte, Virginia Barksdale, Laura Nell Crawley, Susie Pearl Crocker, Antoinette Dew, Katherine Edwards, Margaret Ann Foreman, Jane Hardy, Jean Moyer, Mary Marshall Proaise, Helen Reiff, Mary Jane Ritchie, Mary Sue Simmons, Alfreda Strick, Forrestine Whitaker, Ruth Winstead and Elsye Berrye Yates. Virginia Richards is student director of this group.

Ann Brooks, Winnie Webb Buchanan, Katherine Burge, Terry Buyers, Anne Lee Gardner, Mary Haymes, Betsy Jennings, Evelyn Krenning, Baylis Kunz, Mary Elizabeth Lewis, Mary Maurey, Dorothy Mayes, Mildred Morris, Evelyn Pankey and Louisa Sanford are members of the Junior Choir which is directed by Forrestine Whitaker.

A. E. S. Sororities Define Limits

Miss Mabel Lee Walton, national president of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority and retiring chairman of the Association of Educational Sororities, on visiting local chapter of Tri-Sigma defined the question of the field of the Association ducational Sororities which has been debatable for the past several months. Miss Walton said that the question was definitely settled by the unanimous adoption by the conventions of both the A. E. S. and National Panhellic Congress with the following agreement:

"Committee on Eligibility and Nationalization of social groups recommend that National Panhellenic Congress agree not to enter fields already occupied by the Association of Educational Sororities, and agree to consider as the field of the Association of Educational Sororities the institutions accredited by the American Association of Teachers Colleges".

Association of Educational Sororities was organized by Alpha Sigma Alpha and Sigma Sigma Sigma in 1915. Since that time five sororities have been added to the roll. Its work has been to establish standards of excellence in sorority endeavor.

Miss Walton, with Miss Pauline Camper, official representative of Sigma Sigma Sigma also attended the recent Convention of the Women's Professional Panhellenic Association in Washington, D. C. An outstanding accomplishment of this meeting was the unanimous acceptance of a plan for federation of Greek letter groups, a plan long dreamed of by sorority leaders in the Women's Professional Panhellenic Association, the A. E. S. and N. C. P. Convention of these three groups went on record as approving the cooperative, non-governing affiliation which should give greater emphsis and more wide spread recognition to Sorority Standards.

A Scene from "Dear Brutus"

Lex Allison muses peacefully in the "land of dreams" while Keith Eubank, Peggy Bellus, Dot Eades, Bob Engle, and Jane McGinnis discuss what has just happened there.

"Dear Brutus" Proves That Our Destiny Is of Our Own Molding

By MARGARET WRIGHT

"The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars, but in ourselves that we underlings—" This line of Shakespeare is the keynote of Barrie's play, "Dear Brutus", presented by the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs Friday night, Nov. 17. Miss Leola Wheeler, speech teacher, directed the production.

Happiness, sadness, philosophy, tragedy and comedy—all these were combined and interpreted by the characters to form a fantastic plot. The opening act disclosed a house party of eight comparative strangers, who have something in common, but what, they know not. They have concluded this much from hints dropped by Lob, their strange little host, skillfully portrayed by Lex Allison.

It is whispered by the villagers that a wood appears every Midsummer Eve, and those who go in never come out. Lob wants his guests to go, and as it promises adventure, they decide to chance it. Before they start they force Lob to explain what it is they get from the woods—"In the wood you get what nearly everybody here is longing for—a second chance." is his reply. The realization comes over them all that they have this in common.

Mr. Coade, a polite lazy old gentleman, played by Francis Y. Savage, would like to prove to his wife, a sweet little lady with a beaming smile, whose part was taken by Dot Eades, that he could be a useful man. Sara Currie as Alice Dearth, the daring artists' model, would choose the right man this time, instead of the waster, and drunkard she had picked in Will Dearth, portrayed by Johnny Pancake. Dearth "might have been a swell of a painter" if he had not lost his pretty dreams.

Perhaps Bob Engle, as Jack Purdie, could have had understanding Joanna, played by Peggy Bellus, without Mabel, his wife, played by Jane McGinnis, always interrupting. Would Lady Caroline enacted by Marget Watkins, be less haughty? Matey, played by Keith Eubank, Lob's pilfering man servant, swears he would have taken the high road if he had taken a clerkship instead of going into domestic service.

The second act reveals their hopes come true. They have a "second chance"—Lady Caroline is less haughty. Why she is mar-

Continued on Page 3

Alumnae Organize Four New Chapters

New alumnae chapters have been organized at Prospect, Blackstone, Suffolk, and Norfolk, Mrs. M. Boyd Coyner, president of the Alumnae Association, has announced. The purpose of these organizations is to act as a connecting link between the school and the alumnae.

Other chapters have been previously established in Hopewell, Culpeper, Roanoke, Portsmouth and Cape Charles.

Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Jane Royall and Mr. S. L. Graham attended the annual dinner given by the Culpeper chapter on Wednesday, November 15.

Dr. Jarman Is Guest At Birthday Banquet

Student Government entertained last night at 6 o'clock at Longwood with a banquet in honor of Dr. Jarman's birthday.

A small birthday cake was presented to the guest of honor before the banquet.

The rose, Dr. Jarman's favorite flower, was used as the theme for the program. The tables were decorated with red and white roses and candles.

Each member of the party contributed a birthday wish written on a red crepe paper rose petal. These were made into a complete rose and presented to Dr. Jarman by Marie Eason.

Other guests for the occasion were Miss Winnie V. Hiner, Miss Jane Royall, Mrs. Eva Warren, Miss Betty Hardy and Mrs. Mary Watkins.

Underclassmen Tell Of Wish to Avoid War

Sophomore Commission held an open discussion on "Peace, Prayer, and Thanksgiving" for freshmen and sophomores Monday night, November 20, in Student Building lounge.

Three policies which the group discussed included those of the pacafist, isolationist and international cooperative. Those favoring the pacifist stated that they wished to keep out of war at any price on the ground of its futility and its threat to life's highest values.

Isolationist group agreed with the pacifist but went a step further in saying that we should be aloof at all times from Europe's affairs as modern life permits.

International cooperative favors participation in form of organizations for the promotion of international cooperation and achievement of international peace.

The quartet composed of Martha Roberts, Nancy Dupuy, Buff Gunter and Mary Jane Ritchie sang "Praise to God, Immortal Praise", and Peggy Bellus sang a solo.

Faculty Authors Get National Recognition

Books by Dr. Francis B. Simkins, Dr. J. P. Wynne, present members of the Farmville faculty, and Miss Jennie Masters Tabb, during her later life college registrar, were exhibited publicly last week in recognition of National Book Week. The books were on display in the windows of the Paulette Building, on Main street.

Siberian Singers Make Appearance Here Tonight

Seniors Sponsor Dance on Dec. 2

Roy Hicks' Band To Play; Various Groups Appointed

Plans have been completed for the Senior Dance which will be given on Saturday, December 2, from 9 to 12 o'clock in the college gymnasium. Music will be rendered by Roy Hick's orchestra who played at the fall Cotillion Dance.

The Senior Dance is given each year in honor of the Senior Class. This affair is formal for both the boys and girls. Seniors and their escorts will join in forming the "40" for the figure event.

Kitty Roberts, honorary member of the Senior class and former president of the student body, according to custom will return to lead the figure. She will be assisted by the class officers.

The figure will be before intermission and will be followed by a Senior no-break dance.

Tickets will go on sale after Thanksgiving holidays. The price will be 50 cents per person. Each class receives a limited number of tickets, so students planning to attend are advised to get theirs early.

Decorations will carry out the class colors, red and white, as the color scheme. Cokes and nabs will be sold during intermission.

Those in the receiving line will be Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Mary Cox, Miss Virginia Bedford, Senior classman, and the class officers.

Senior dance committees are Elizabeth Kent, chairman of all committees; dance committee, Esie Millner; decoration committee, Anne Billups, chairman, and sue Owen and Chlotilde Jarman, figure committee, Sara Keesee, publicity, Phyl Schlobahm; tickets, Ruby Adams and Katherine Wood, favors, Marjorie Nimmo.

All Seniors taking part in the figure, are requested to wear white.

Lutheran Minister Gives Book to Library

The library is indebted to Mr. Roland E. Haase, pastor of the Farmville Lutheran Church, for the presentation of the book "For Better, Not For Worse"; a manual of Christian Matrimony, by Dr. Walter A. Maier.

Press comments in "Meet the Author" are as follows: Dr. Walter A. Maier is a graduate of Concordia Theological Seminary of the Missouri Lutheran Synod, class of 1916.

His academic attainments include graduate study through which he has earned the degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy (in Semetics), both

Continued on Page 3

B. S. U. Sponsors Sunrise Service

Baptist Student Union sponsored a Thanksgiving Sunrise at Longwood Sunday, November 19. Hot chocolate was served in the kitchen of the Rec from 6:00 to 6:45 o'clock by a committee headed by Anna Maxey, Josie Lee Cogsdale, and Olivia Stephenson.

The service was attended by over 100 students. It was presided over by Marion Harden, president of the B. S. U., and opened with a song service. Mr. Scott led the group in prayer and Bill Walker from Hampden-Sydney gave a devotional talk. After short testimonies of praise and thanksgiving by several students, the service was closed with prayer by Caralie Nelson.

Program to Feature Russian Melodies, Native Costumes

Tonight, November 21, Nicholas Vasilieff is bringing to the Farmville campus for their fifth performance here, the world famous Siberian Singers. The performance, the second lyceum, will begin at 8 o'clock.

Those of you who were members of our Student body year before last will undoubtedly remember the delightful program they presented for our entertainment in our first Lyceum of that season. So enthusiastically have we received them in the past and so captivated have we been by their colorful music and charming leader that Dr. Jarman has seen fit to bring them again to Farmville.

Their program this year will feature the usual Russian religious music, Siberian legend, folk song, and finally gay gypsy melodies.

Adding to a program already musically colorful are the gay native costumes of Russia worn by the Singers. Each member of the group is a soloist of unusual ability and they have had priceless experience as members of the former world famous Russian Choir. They have been acclaimed by music critics as "a valuable contribution to the music life of the countries".

The singers have made recent appearances in nationally known colleges including North Carolina University, Brown University, Notre Dame, Yale, Randolph-Macon W. C., Hollins College and College of William and Mary.

Fine Arts Group Will Discuss Next Project

Gamma Psi, honorary fraternity in fine arts, meets November 21 with their adviser, Miss Marjorie Booton, to discuss the art department project plans to be carried through before Christmas. Each fall the society plans a cooperative venture, such as the refinishing toys for charitable distribution to which each member contributes her time and abilities.

New members, who will be initiated after Christmas, are to be discussed at the meeting also, as well as prospective social events for the coming season.

Allen and Parker Are Elected to Frat Places

Marie Allen and Elizabeth Ann Parker were elected as vice-president and treasurer, respectively, of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic fraternity, to fill vacancies left by girls who did not return this year.

Marie is the president of the Debate Club and Elizabeth Anne is vice-president of the club.

Members of Pi Kappa Delta other than these are Lorana Moomaw, Jack and Anne Cock, and Caralie Nelson.

Latin Frat Plans Year's Program

Sigma Pi Rho has announced its program for the coming year. The topic for discussion for the first quarter will be a brief sketch of Roman History. Study for the second quarter is Roman mythology, whereas discussion for the third quarter will be centered around Roman social life.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant—Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Patricia Gibson
Sports Editor ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Sports Assistant ..... Elizabeth West
Social Editor ..... Johnny Lybrook
Columnist .....

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Emma Louise Crowgey, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmonson, Mildred Harry, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Marjorie Nimmo, Agnes Pickral, and Janelle Shelor.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson, Frances Pope.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd and Jean Upshur.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1939

Were Are Your Manners?

Recently there's been a sharp decline in response to "called" meetings and other announcements of minute importance that are read after meals. The excuse has been that "I didn't hear the announcement."

Our reply is that it's your own fault. The hub-bub that still persists even after the bell is tapped for announcements is not only shameful but is actually rude. We should not need a second tapping of the bell to remind us of what is taking place. The reading of announcements is not done just as a matter of course. Regular meetings are no, as a rule mentioned. Only matters of importance are supposed to be read and so we say—stop your chatter for several minutes and listen.

We Enjoyed "Dear Brutus"

Once again the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the H.-S. C. Jongleurs heaped fame for themselves. We all agree that "Dear Brutus" was a performance worthy of meriable praise.

Not only was the acting an exhibition of what our local college students can do, but the lighting, staging and scenery, and costuming were all evidence that, regardless of the difficulty of the play, our people can make it professional-like.

"Dear Brutus", as the local performances always are, was a real credit to our college. To everyone who helped in its production—to Miss Leola heeler who always gives to us such finished performances—we say—congratulations!

Where Are Those Books?

Do you want to go back to the old closed closed shelf system of books in the library? I can already sense the reverberating echo in the negative. All of which comes to this point.

The library has been open not quite two months. The reference and reserve book rooms offer open use of the books. But—the books are to be used there—not to be charged or taken out. Perhaps the missing reference and reserve book and the magazines from the Browsing Room were taken out by accident. Let us hope so. Anyway, this is an advertisement that several books and a magazine, property of State Teachers College library, are missing. So take a look and a hint.

Echoes from an Empty Space

"Dear Brutus" really started the ball rolling. All available corners backstage were occupied by Dell and Tom and Blair and Tracey, it seems. Dot Johnson just stumbled over everything. And what's this about Helen and Addison at the switchboard? . . . . V. M. I. certainly gave out in favor of Harriette Scott. Smooth chappy, that Lillard . . . Dotty Rollins' postage due letter from V. P. I. excited her suite so much that the roomies even contributed to the cause, but they're more interested in those West Point communications. So is Dotty . . . Pat Gibson really goes for the brothers—even Frances' little one. Now she's wondering what the holiday will bring forth . . . It's not "Dear Brutus" for some, but "Romeo and Juliet." 'Smatter, Sadie, can't you find a balcony? Speaking of Sadie reminds us of the Hawkin's Day. Polly Hughes is catching 'em . . . Brickbats to those Freshmen who don't wear their rat caps. We like 'ose caps!! . . . to Jeanne Sears for thinking her bid to Ring Figure was sincere (he already had a date . . .)

Seen around the campus: "When the Red, Red Robbin Comes Bob, Bob, Bobbing Along"—Robin Henning . . . "Your'e an Old Smoothie"—Madge McFall . . . "Lamplight"—Nimmo . . . "What's New"—Alvis . . . "I'm Sorry for Myself"—Miggie . . . "When We All Go to Roanoke on Thanksgiving Day"—Moss . . . "My Bill"—Dot Childress . . . Are you listening Farmville to the H.-S. lad who said, quote: "All the world's a stage, and I'm a stagehand," unquote . . .

Most people are looking forward to turkey for Thanksgiving, but Anne Ayres—no—it's "Hen" . . . Jean and Donnie are on the outs again but by the time you read this everything may be patched up again. That's the way it goes . . . "It Seems Like Old Times" ran the theme song in the "Rec" Sunday night when Nancy Pierpont and "The Spong" appeared on the scene—ping pong paddles in hand. To prove that it's strictly platonic, Nancy proceeded to beat him—two games out of three. How 'bout that? Seen at the station Friday: Chubby giving Petticrew a final bit of parting advice before seeing her (Petty) shove off to Richmond for the regular week end jaint to the V. M. C. (Virginia Medical College) . . . What's this about Nancy Fulton—seen at the play Friday with the current Hampden-Sydney flame and at Longwood Sunday with Claude (suitor from down Danville way)? The gal gets there—but subtly . . . To all appearances "undecided" seems to be Va. Rudd's and Bobbie Williams' theme song these days . . . We've heard of May romances, but one that blooms in the home office is, to say the least, out of the ordinary—how do you do it, Sara? . . . Don't worry girls if your "top man" in your life becomes disinterested. He may come thru with several new recordings—ask Ethel Carr . . . According to Helen Lewis Paul Shu is nothing less than a Greek Apollo—we'll give her the benefit of the doubt for his present condition may be the result of football slugging . . . Jack Fisher must believe in showering presents on birthdays—we hear "Sugar" Scott received no less than one U. Va. bracelet, telegrams, a box of candy and two special deliveries . . Tell me "Pudge", is the restoration at Williamsburg all it's cracked up to be or didn't you and Lashley notice? . . . This Barnes-Shelton affair seems to be lasting—we're beginning to wonder . . . Since when did Farmville become too attractive that the girls must come back during holidays—Surely it's not Hampden-Sydney, the home of women haters . . . . Some of us "uncute" girls surely hope that little Sudie will get all her dates straight over the holidays and with the right one, too! . . .

Dot Fischer took the cake when she asked some play-goers Friday night who played the part of Brutus, but guess she must have been jus too excited over that date she has to hear Kay Keyser during Christmas . . . Each week your reporter has been trying to get this hit in about your editor, so maybe you won't even see it this time, either. But, anyway, just ask her about that Chattanooga flash she met at Des Moines, and watch the expression. Sho' was fast work! . . . Now after this holiday all eyes and ears, will be turned toward Senior Dance and who knows what that will bring forth!

And now, last but not least:

Half-past twelve chimes the library clock,
And S. T. C. girls leave in a flock.
The campus is gay with laughter and voices,
For Thanksgiving Holiday the student-body rejoices.
The train pulls in and the crowd hurries on;
They settle themselves for a ride, nice and long.
The crowd is happy and thankful, too—
As they yell, "Happy Thanksgiving" to you and you!

We Thank Thee

Not for our lands, our far flung prairie wealth,
Our mighty rivers born of friendly spring
Our inland seas, our mountains
proud and high,
Forests and orchards richly
blossoming;
Not for these, Lord, our deepest
thanks are said
As, humbly glad, we hail this day serene;
Not for these most, dear Father
of our lives,
But for the love that in all things is seen.

We thank Thee not for prestige
born of war,
For dauntless navies built for battle stress;
Nor would we boast of armies
massed for strife;
Those all are vain, O Lord of kindliness.
What need have we of swords
and bayonets,
Of mighty cannon belching
poisoned flame!
O, woo us from the pagan love of these
Lest we again defile Thy sacred name.

We thank Thee, Lord, on this recurring day,
For liberty to worship as we will;
We thank Thee for the hero souls
of old
Who dared wild seas their mission to fulfill.
O, gird our hearts with stalwart faith in good,
Give us new trust in Thy providing hand.
And a spirit born of brotherhood
Inspire our hearts and bless our native land.

—Thomas Curtis Clark

Perhaps our greatest gift, for which we can be thankful this Thanksgiving is Peace. Let us not take it lightly. It is precious and rare. Twenty-one years ago we gave up our thanks for a war that had ended. Today we have the greater advantage of giving thanks for a war that has not begun—here. Now may we pray to the Giver of Peace always to bless upon us that gift in abundance.

Tune in On

(From Collegiate Broadcast Service)

Cannibal—10:30 p. m. Saturday When Raymond Scott had a quintet there were six men in it. Now he has a band, and it seats fourteen. The new group grew up over the summer, which Scott spent experimenting with different instrument combinations until he hit the one that clicked.

Best known for his brilliant arrangements and surrealist titles like "War Dance for Wooden Indians" and "Dinner Music for a Pack of Hungry Cannibals," Scott began his career surrounded by a cloak of mystery. For years no one knew that he was really Harry Warnow, younger brother of Mark (Hit Parade) Warnow. Actually Raymond is a scholarly young man who intended studying engineering at M. I. T. until brother Mark talked him into continuing his piano playing at the Juilliard School of Music.

Raymond got his professional start as pianist in a Columbia Broadcasting System orchestra conducted by his brother. His new band takes the air over the same network in a program devoted exclusively to Scott arrangements.

Front Line—With a uniform made up of odd bits of French, British, and American military equipment, Thomas Grandin left Paris on November 5 for a secret destination at the front. Grandin became the Columbia Broadcasting System's second correspondent with the fighting forces; the other is Bil Henry, with the British Royal Air Force.

Grandin will not broadcast directly from the front, but will send daily reports to the CBS Paris office from where they will be relayed to American listeners. Every Sunday, and on special occasions, Grandin will return to Paris. His Sunday broadcasts are part of a regular CBS feature—The War This Week—in which European capitals and New York, and Washington, explain significant events of the preceding seven days.

GLEANINGS

By Jack and Anne Cock

I thank God for peace. Not in England perhaps, nor Germany, nor France, but here in our own united "land of the free and home of the brave" we can still thank God that we are at peace with the world.

So few in stopping to think through the joyous anticipation of unexpected holidays, realize how much we really have to be thankful for. For twelve weeks now war has been kindling in Europe, a war that, should it burst into flame, would threaten the very foundation of civilization itself. Thus far, the United States has managed to remain neutral—How long will it last?

England and France are going to do everything in their power to get us into this war. The United States is going to do everything in its power to keep us out of the war. The United States does not want to become involved in another European entanglement.

Surely, we are not going to be taken in again by Allied propaganda to young America a gay, enticing masquerade. "Come, Youth of America, and join us in this war to save democracy; this war to end all wars."—And our youth went.

Then, too late, midnight came and when the mask was torn off, we realized that we hadn't been fighting to "save democracy"; that there could be no "war to end all wars." Why then had we been fighting?

What had we gained? Nothing! Absolutely nothing, except perhaps a little knowledge, but rather expensive knowledge, don't you think? And what will she gain if she enters this second war? Again, the answer is the same—nothing to gain but everything to lose.

Will we be able to resist the powerful influence of propaganda?

When another Thanksgiving Day rolls around, are we still going to be able to thank God for peace? Hardly, if conditions continue the way they are now. As certain as we continue to send our ships into belligerent areas, disaster is going to occur. True, there is the Cash and Carry clause, but this is only for belligerent nations, and in order to trade with neutrals our ships still have to pass through the belligerent areas.

Either accidentally or intentionally American ships are going to be sunk. American lives are going to be lost. If so, are we going to sit idly by and twiddle our thumbs? The answer is an indignant no. What then? Yes, today we can thank God for peace. Tomorrow . . . ?

"Over the fields and through the woods

To have a first rate play
Hear the bells ring,
Ting—a—ling, ling!
Hurrah for Thanksgiving Day!"

Remember that gay old song—how we used to sing it at our Thanksgiving Day programs in school? What a world of memories it recalls! What a picture looms before our eyes as we repeat the last two words—"Thanksgiving Day"! Outdoors, a nipping cold day, the smell of snow in the air, the trees bare, their colorful leaves brightening up the hard ground; indoors—the logs crackling in the fire-place, the light from the blaze spreading out over the dinner table, a table of plenty spread with good things to eat, a brown roasted turkey, blood-red cranberry sauce, candied sweet potatoes, golden pumpkin pies, steaming plum pudding, and around the table brothers and sisters waiting with eager faces as Dad, with a tear in his eye, looks at Mother and asks the blessing,

"For the homes that with purest affection are blest

For the season of plenty and well deserved rest

For our country extending from sea to sea
The land that is known as the 'Land of the Free'

Thanksgiving! Thanksgiving!"

Sports Slants

By PAT GIBSON

Came the rains, went the games. The weather really did things up—in a knot. Due to its inclemency Color Rush and the final interclass hockey games have been postponed until after the Thanksgiving holidays.

The preliminary contests went off in fine style with Red and White setting the pace. After suffering defeat at the hands of their color teammates, the Sophomores came back playing bang-up hockey to defeat the Juniors 2-0. Nancy Dupuy did some fast playing in center forward position aided by her teammate's splendid passing and defensive hitting. Although playing short, the Juniors held their own exhibiting fine playing and teamwork. The Sophmore vs. Senior battle was a touch and go affair with first one team and then the other threatening to score. Seniors greatly aided by their "varsity" forward line finally succeeded in breaking through their sister-class defense to gain the victory 3 to 2. The Newman-Mann combination was like clockwork. The Freshmen are not to be ignored or treated lightly in this hockey business. They have some fine players and succeeded in tying both their games—the score being 1-1 in both cases. A word to the wise has been said to be sufficient so Sophomores, beware. There's a terrific struggle ahead which may make history.

Such a brief resume can scarcely present an authentic picture of the exciting, actior-packed contests as they actually were. There were spills and thrills galore. (Rosa Courter did a back flip or sumthin' and Dot Fischer a roll in an unknown direction). All in all there was a display of fine hockey and evidence (from the sidelines) of an unusual supply of lusty lungs. At the moment Red and White is leading Green and White by some two points. But there's many a goal between victory and defeat. With both sides hungry for victory there should be furious fun in all directions come Color Rush.

Archery

Ruby Adams, the girl of the "never-failing" eye kept the same peeled on the target to win the archery tournament with a grand total of 225 out of a possible 300 hits. It goes down as the finest performance ever turned in at Farmville. Myra Smith, the prodigy who took up the bow and arrow only last spring (and started her career with a bullseye) ran Ruby a close second with a score of 215. Both of these girls are Seniors so there is no need to say that Red and White ran off with first honors in this sport.

Hockey, Again

Saturday, December 2, is the date of the Westhampton vs. Farmville game to be played on our field. After the William and Mary Extension game we are quite convinced that our team has something there. The team will be needing some support so let's give it to them. Westhampton is coming to town. Shall we "go to town"?

"Dear Brutus"

Continued from Page 1

tied to the butler and the Purdie triangle is exactly reverse! Mrs. Dearth still has chosen the wrong man, and Mr. Coade is blissfully happy singing and dancing in the woods. The lighting effects and staging make this scene realistic and beautiful. Will Dearth alone, realizes his fondest hopes in a dream daughter, Margaret, delightfully and youthfully enacted by Jerry Smith. As the father of a scatter brained, happy and innocent little girl, Johnny Pancake was excellent.

The last act presents them again at Lob's house, where he has been dozing by the fire, an amused smile and quiver of excitement passing over his countenance and small frame as if he were seeing queer scenes. Mrs. Coade also has remained, patiently awaiting the return of her husband. These eight people suddenly see themselves as others do. Did they change much when they had their "second chance"? Will Dearth alone, is thankful for that evening. He has had an hours realization of a daughter. Lob, who could have been Puck grown up, was responsible for from Harvard University. His Bachelor of Arts degree he received from Boston University. He is a member of the Board of Directors of Valparaiso University.

Give Book

Continued from Page 1

Dr. Maier enjoys a nation wide reputation as an effective speaker in the pulpit, on the public platform, and over the radio. Despite heavy claims made upon his time he has for the past fifteen years maintained a close contact with the young people of his church through his editorship of the "Walther League Messenger". He also contributes to other religious periodicals.

First Girl: How long before I can swim?

Second Girl: Well, wade a minute.

Professor: What makes trees petrify?

Freshman: The wind makes 'em rock.

---

this.

"Dear Brutus" is a play appealing to your imagination, and love of adventure.

Color Rush, Final Interclass Hockey Games Postponed

Annual Color Rush and the accompanying interclass hockey finals have been postponed until after the Thanksgiving holidays.

Games yet to be played are Sophs vs. Frosh and Juniors vs. Seniors. To date, Red and White holds a two point advantage over Green and White in the round-robin tournament. Seniors won over Sophs and tied Frosh while the Sophs bowled over Juniors to total five points. Green and White have three tallies by virtue of two deadlock games, Frosh vs. Seniors and Frosh vs. Juniors. Two points are awarded for a victory, one for a tie and none for a lost game.

Red and White is counted as heavy favorite to take the hockey games and points toward the Color Cup.

H2O Club Purchases Pool Equipment

The H2O Cub, honorary swimming organization has purchased flutter boards and water polo balls for use in the pool. Use of these are available for all students.

Era in the School Life Of Ultra-Privileged Animal

By Blackie, The Dog

My word! It's rippingly jolly—this being the only coed among nine hundred sweet, fluffy girls! Why, I'm the most be-fondled and adored creature within a radius of at least seven miles around here! (Seven miles? Hampden-Sydney!) Yes sirree, they pat my black curls with their dainty little white hands, they tweak my ears, they straighten my collar, and they even feed me. Sometimes it's food from home, sometimes it's from the dining hall, sometimes it's candy from boxes sent by unsuspecting boy-friends (I get a kick out of that!) but it's all better than having to scout around in people's backyards and having to fight some of my fellow-searchers away from my bone. And at night I just lie down so-o comfortably outside the door of the damsel of my choice—it pleases her so much to know, next morning, that I've guarded her through the night that she shares her breakfast with me.

And the classes—they're cinches! Almost all my professors know and like me; so they're easy with me. I'm quite a privileged character around here. Yep, I can get up and stroll out of class any old time; or take a nap right in the classroom—and the teachers only smile graciously. I get my B. A. in June, but I like this place so much I shouldn't be at all surprised if I came back next year to start all over again. I might even be teaching here by then.

Strange thing happened to me the other day—bet it never happened to another coed! I'd noticed all the girls turning from me whenever I'd run up to kiss their hands, and I tell you it hurt! I was getting desperate till soon my best girl came up and hugged me, whispering, "Never mind, dear, we'll fix you up!" I followed her into her room, and it wasn't 'till I heard her drawing water in the tub that I realized the awful truth! Oh, the humility of it all! D. O.! Well, after I'd been bathed and combed and powdered, I kissed her, ecstatically wagged my rear extremity, and ran out to chemistry lab. Now I'm again the center of many sweet feminine attentions, and the Sweetheart of S. T. C.

Ruby Adams Scores As Archery Champ

Myra Smith, Irma Page Are Winners For Red & White

Ruby Adams, senior, was the winner of the archery tournament held on the athletic field Friday, November 17. Ruby was victorious with a score of 221. Myra Smith, senior, and Irma Page, freshman, were second and third in the contest with scores of 215 and 203, respectively.

Since both the girls who were first and second in line were for "Red and White", points will be given to the Sophomores and Seniors toward the color cup.

Twelve girls took part in the tournament. Each girl shot two rounds of arrows from three different distances, making a total of 30 arrows shot by each contestant.

"Green and White" was victorious last year when Louise Anthony won the archery tournament with a score of 150.

Miss Fox Plans Riding Activities

Miss Stella Fox, riding instructor of Tate Farms, Hampden-Sydney, has announced that plans are now underway for a riding contest to be held just before the Christmas holidays. All girls who have had as many as four lessons are eligible to enter this event. Participants will include riders from both S. T. C. and Hampden-Sydney College who will be classed according to previous riding experience. Prizes will be awarded to winners in each class.

Arrangements have been made for moonlight riding. Groups will leave school at 7:00 and return at 9:00 o'clock.

The charge for riding instructions is $1 per hour.

Golf Gossip

By Carroll Brown
Professional, Longwood

Those of you who feel that the old pro packs a perpetual grouch and has a habit of bearing down pretty hard at times will perhaps be happy to know that everything is different now. This fine weather plus the performance of students who this week played for the first time, coupled with the way most of you have been practicing has caused me to hang up that sour face.

Girls who played this week did well, indeed. They found that the game was hard to master and that it took plenty of hard work in practice to go out and hit those shots right on the course. While this sunshine persists I hope to get everyone taking lessons to play at least nine holes, and I hope that they will keep on playing as much as possible during the Winter.

Individual lessons will be completed December 1. While you all are having your Thanksgiving dinners and dates we intend to move those lockers in the golf school and replace them with a practice putting green. The "Pitch-It" game will be properly set-up. With this extensive equipment the Winter Golf Association should have a most successful season. We can still take a few more members and will be glad to have anyone enter who cares to learn to play.

Those of you who have been the object of my rantings and ravings in regard to practice might remember the poor pro's perpetual proposal of pertinacious practice for pupils is not performed perfunctorily but is a precept and prescription a precision promotes to permit pulchritude to perform proficiently persistant propulsion of the pellet and if prolonged people profess the pleasure of pulvarizing the pill is preferred to profanity.

Seniors vs. Frosh Tie; Sophs Win

Thursday, November 16, was a memorable day in the sports world of the college. Two exciting, action-packed class hockey games held the center of the stage—Freshmen vs. Seniors and Juniors vs. Sophomores.

In the first half of the Freshman vs. Senior game both teams fought hard to score. Although the ball was carried within a few yards of the "Rats" goal numerous times the Seniors were unable to score. Ruby Adams, senior goalie, played with an incredible alertness which did much toward keeping the Freshmen scoreless.

The second half went on as the first in spite of the splendid hitting of Rosalie Rogers and Cleo Jarman and outstanding playing of both teams. The final score remained 0-0.

The story is quite different in the case of the Juniors vs. Sophomores. The Sophomore center, Nancy Dupuy, scored a goal late in the first half after finally breaking through the Juniors splendid defense. The Sophomores tallied another goal in the second half of the game to gain a 2-0 lead which they held until the final whistle.

Water Polo Becomes Highlight Sport Of Swimming Pool

There's the shrill sound of the refree's whistle, the "On-the-mark, get set, go!" of the linesman and then the splash, the dash, the "Get it! Throw it here!" of the players and the game has started. That's water polo, the highlight of the old swimming pool. Excitement, fun, laughter, cheering-all exposed in the game that's hit the campus with a wow and promise to become the favorite sport of the Anti-Fresh Air League.

How is it played? That's for you to find out. The preview showing was given after the Water Carnival and since then, there have been several practices. The more you play, the more you want to play-or so they tell me. It's soon going to be an interclass game-whenever the teams get enough practice on throwing and catching.

And here's a point, girls-you know how fads are the things to college girls? Well, here's a little secret. Water polo is going to be the fad so don't be a laggard with a watch-bird watching you, but be a goal-getter and splash for the ball. It's a good way to say good-bye to those extra pounds that have been haunting you. So bring your muscles and wind down to the next practice.

Hockey Notice

Rosalie Rogers, freshman, has been added to the varsity hockey squad.

COLLEGE SHOPPE

BEST SANDWICHES IN TOWN

Chicken Salad 10c

Ham Sandwich 10c

Hamburger with everything 10c

QUICK DELIVERY

CALL 200

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System

Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

Martin the Jeweler

RYTEX CHRISTMAS CARDS

50 FOR $1.00

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop

"From old to new with any shoes"

Only First Class Material used

All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of

"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!

Electric Appliance Co.

Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the

BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY MEATS

AND GROCERIES

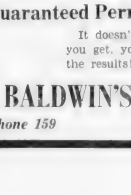
Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

NEWBERRY'S

5--10—25c STORE



Select Your Xmas Cards here!

1c to 10c Each

SHANNON'S

We wish your a very happy Thanksgiving. We'll be glad to see you back!

PHONE 224

YOU'LL LIKE OUR Expert Service

Come here when you want a better permanent! Our staff is in touch with the newest beauty trends, and they will help you select a flattering hair-do.

Guaranteed Permanents $2.45 to $10.00

It doesn't matter which wave you get, you'll be delighted with the results! Come in!

BALDWIN'S BEAUTY SHOP

Phone 159 Farmville's Best Beauty Shop

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS MEDICINES

Perfumes—Toilet Articles

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Quality—Price—Service

We wish for each student and faculty member a most pleasant and joyful Thanksgiving Holiday. May your vacation be a happy one.

DAVIDSON'S

THE COLLEGE GIRL'S STORE

Prospective Holiday Fails To Daunt Week-Enders

Well—we missed our guess last week when we said there probably wouldn't be a week-end column this time. But if there's a football game around, S. T. C.'s gonna be there with flying colors.

Ringing cow bells in Charlottesville to the tune of the Good Old Song or Ray, Rah, for V. P. I. were Marie Allen, Evelyn Lupton, Pat Whitlock, Elsie Berrye Yates, Lois Barbee, Catherine Phillips, Helen Long, and Mildred Callis.

William and Mary celebrated homecomings by a game with W. & L. and Ann Bradshaw, Carolyn Minnick, Hazel Holmes, Shirley Turner, Betty Mae Owen and Frances Stoutamire were there to see the kick off.

On the fifty yard line to see our neighbors, Hampden-Sydney, play Richmond at Richmond were Dorothy Johnson, Mary Catherine Sturgis, Carmen Booth, Jane Sanders, Martha Ann Baldwin, Virginia Rudd, Anne Easley, Helen Briggs and Winnie Harrell.

Josephine Chelf, Mary Harvey and Jennie Noell threw rice at brides and grooms somewhere—someplace.

"South of the Border" went Bobbie Taylor, Jeanne Sears, Doris Chesnut, Edith Nunnally, Lulu Windham, Lucy Tucker and Dorothy Robbins to see Duke trample the undefeated North Carolina team.

The umpires didn't show up for that game in Burkeville. I wonder what was the matter. It certainly shortened this column, though.

Very worthy of mention was Frances Alvis' scrumptious house party at her home in Lynchburg. Those present included Dot Fischer, Pat Gibson, Emi Ellis, Elizabeth Wilkinson and Helen Jeffries.

Pi Kaps Install Madison Chapter

Elizabeth Kent, president of the local chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma, Margaret Carr, vice-president, Phyl Schlobohm, secretary, and Boonie Stevenson, head of social committee, returned to school Sunday from Madison College, Harrisonburg, where they assisted Mrs. Charles Gibson, grand vice-president, and Mrs. Eirick, head of District Three, in installing a new chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma, Alpha Omicron, on November 18.

A banquet in the senior dining hall followed the pledging and initiating of thirty-four girls. A birthday cake of gold and blue carried out the theme of the banquet, marking Pi Kappa Sigma's forty-third anniversary. Mrs. Duke, wife of the president, Miss Cook, dean of women, members of the faculty, and heads and advisers of other sororities were present.

The girls were entertained at an informal gathering following the banquet and at breakfast Sunday morning in the tea room with the faculty.

Election and installation of offices and a model business meeting followed breakfast.

Miss Hiner Entertains For Club Officers

Miss Mary Clay Hiner, adviser to the Granddaughters' Club, entertained the officers of the club at tea at Longwood Friday afternoon, November 17.

Siberian Singers appearing at Farmville S. T. C. Nov. 21

Lookin' 'Em Over

With Snooping Sue

Hark! There's a new sport in school—and of all things, it's [illegible]. There was a big one up in 63 Gym Hall with Sara Chambers, Louisa Stephenson and Yvonne Cheape joining in.

Plans for the installation of new members were made and Jean Moyer presented her setting of the club poem by Miss Jennie Masters Tabb.

Miss Hiner's guests included Elizabeth Wilkinson, Olivia Stephenson, Elizabeth Ann Parker, Jean Moyer and Elizabeth West.

Saturday night provided the occasion for another of those great old get-togethers in the Cook Twins' room. Roll call found Dottie Rollins, Thelma Courtney, Anna Johnson, Tim McCoy, Louise Phillips, Caroline Ferguson, Florence Lee, and the Kibler Cousins present.

Hazelwood Burbank migrated to the "pillbox" Sunday morning—Nancy Naff joined her about dusk and Beezie Townsend filled another little white bed Monday morning. LaReine Thornton, Ethelyn Shepard, Edna Harris, Doris Chesnut, and Blanche Carper are also residing temporarily in the south wing.

A. S. A. Holds Fall Tea Room Banquet

Alpha Sigma Alpha held their fall banquet in the tea room at 6:30 Friday night, November 10. Dr. J. L. Jarman, Dr. J. E. Walmsley, Miss Carolyn Cogbill, Miss Mary Peck, Miss Mary Clay Hiner, sponsors, and E. Byrd Hutcheson, Anne Scott, Katherine Moomaw, Gracie Allen Pittard, Norma Pamplin, Mary Elizabeth Badger, Louise Anthony, and Lucy Baskerville, alumnae, were guests besides the members of the chapter.

Betty Fahr, Mary Mahone, Polly Kellar, and Carolyn Harvey gave toasts.

EACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.
Friday-Sat., Nov. 24-25
PRISCILLA LANE
JAMES CAGNEY
ROARING TWENTIES
Latest WAR SCENES
Next Mon.-Tues., Nov. 27-28
Claudette Colbert
Henry Fonda
"Drums Along the Mohawk"
Latest WAR SCENES
Next Wed. Thur., Nov. 29-30
GRETA GARBO
MELVYN DOUGLAS
"NINOTCHKA"
Don't Pronounce it—See It!
RUBINOFF and BAND

THEY'RE HERE!
New Football Hats. Color any way. You'll be sure to want one $1.97
SALE OF SPORT COATS $9.97
Rack of Dresses, choice $4.50. Former prices to $10.00.
DOROTHY MAY STORE
IS READY FOR THANKSGIVING

ATTENTION! STUDENTS
Have your parents enroll you under the Medical Reimbursement Policy issued the College to protect you against accidents.
F. W. HUBBARD, Agent
Planters Bank Building
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

OXFORDS—DRESS SHOES
Popular prices
Widths C to AAA
$2.95 to $5
Our Best Wishes for a Happy Thanksgiving!
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
We Aprpeciate Your Patronage

HOTEL
WEYANOKE
Regular Meals
A La Carte Service
Salads & Sandwiches

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

Rose's
5-10-25c Store
ON THE CORNER
Full fashioned pure thread Silk Hose

$1.00
SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

The great combination of BETTE DAVIS and ERROL FLYNN, shown above in costume and informally, gives millions a lot of pleasure in Warner Bros. current release, "The Private Lives of Elizabeth & Essex" The great combination of tobaccos in Chesterfield gives millions real smoking pleasure because they're cooler, better-tasting and definitely milder.

Starring Real Mildness and Better Taste
With Chesterfield's Right Combination of the world's best American and Turkish tobaccos

When you ask for Chesterfields you're buying something no other cigarette can give you at any price ...a cooler, better-tasting and definitely milder smoke. Make your next pack Chesterfield. You can't buy a better cigarette.

Light up a Chesterfield and you're all set to enjoy Real Smoking Pleasure with the best cigarette money can buy ... THEY SATISFY.

Make your next pack Chesterfield

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Eight More Days Before Examinations

The Rotunda

Fourteen More Days Before Holidays

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 6, 1939 | NO. 10

Hampden-Sydney Glee Club Gives Program Here

Proceeds of Concert Go to Southside Hospital Fund

Kenneth Schick, Edward Field, and Keith Eubank were soloists for the second public program of the year which the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club presented last night, Dec. 5, in the S. T. C. auditorium. The group was under the direction of Vincent Watson, professor music, who came to Hampden-Sydney this fall.

Solo numbers were Handel's "Where E'er You Walk," Verdi's "Eri Tu" and Schubert's "Ave Maria". The entire Glee Club sang fifteen numbers from both popular and classical music.

The concert was presented under the auspices of the Farmville Lions Club.

Proceeds will go to the Southside Hospital fund.

Numbers by the entire Glee Club will include "Finlandia", by Jean Sibelius; "The Cossack", by Monusko; "All Through the Night", by Henry Boulton; "Stout-Hearted Men," by Sigmund Romberg; "Winter Song", by F. P. Bullard; "Song of the Deep Blue Sea", by Ira Wilson; "Lo, How a Rose Ere Blooming", by Michael Praetorius; 'Go Down Moses," "Annie Laurie", by Lady John Scott; "Lil' Liz", "I've Been Working on the Railroad", "Grandma Grunts", "Glass of the Finest", "Fight On, Fight On, Hampden-Sydney"; and "The Hampden-Sydney Hymn."

Two Classes Plan Annual Plays

Rosa Courter, Helen Wentz to Direct

January 27 is the date for the Junior class production in which work the class is now busily engaged.

Rosa Courter will be general director. Assisting committees are writing, composed of Marion Heard, Florence Lee, Caralie Nelson, Jean Upshur, Boonie Stevenson. The advertising committee includes Dorothy Rollins, Anna Johnson, Anne Cock, and Jack Cock. Dorothy Menefee is in charge of the tickets.

The name of the production and details have not been disclosed.

Helen Wentz has been named general manager of the Sophomore production assisted by the officers of the Sophomore class. Serving on the theme committee are Frances Rosebro, chairman; Polly Keller and Elizabeth Ann Parker.

No definite date has been set for the performance.

Newly Organized Club For Business Here

Edna Harris has been elected president of the newly organized Commercial Club. Other officers are Helen Wentz, vice-president; Helen Straus, secretary; and Esther Partridge, treasurer.

Betty Lucy is chairman of the social committee; Frances Bailey, library; Mary Anna Motley, membership; Evelyn Thorington, program; Harriette Scott, finance; Winnie Harrell, constitution; and Fredna Armfield and Kathryn Hawthorne, publicity.

Commercial Club was organized by girls taking second year work to bring further interest in business education and to bring prominent men to the campus for lectures.

Mrs. J. P. Wynne, Miss Ottie Craddock and Mr. M. L. Landrum are advisers to the club.

Seniors Sponsor Annual Prom With Figure and Gayety

An atmosphere of merriment which usually accompanies a dance filled the S. T. C. gymnasium Saturday night, December 2, when the Seniors entertained with their annual Senior Prom.

Receiving the guests in the soft candlelight and background of greens which predominated in the Student Lounge were Dr. J. L. Jarman, Mrs. Eva H. Warren, Miss Virginia Bedford, classman, Kitty Roberts. Senior class honorary member and former student body president, Jane Powell, president of the Senior class, Eliza Wise, vice-president, Martha Meade Hardaway, secretary, and Dorothy Eades, treasurer.

Strains of the music of Roy Hicks and orchestra welcomed a gay and enthusiastic crowd. Silouettes of jitterbugs and music notes brilliantly displayed on a background of red and white, the class colors, were decorations for the gymnasium.

Kitty Roberts, honorary member of the class, with her escort, Steve Wise of Hampton, led the traditional figure which was concluded with the formation of the number 40. A majority of Seniors dressed in all white and their escorts composed the figure.

Attractive programs shaped like a mortarboard with unusual red and white celluloid covers, were presented as favors to the participants. The figure was followed by the Senior no-break dance after which intermission was held. The dance concluded at 12 o'clock.

Chairmen of the committees were Elizabeth Kent, general chairman; Essie Millner, orchestra; Anne Billups, decorations; Sarah Keesee, figure; Kay Horsley, floor committee; Phyl Schlobohm, publicity manager; Ruby Adams and Katherine Wood, business managers; Marjorie Nimmo, favors.

Chaperones for the event were Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Mrs. Eva H. Warren, Mrs. Hallie K. Laing, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Graham, and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McCorkle.

Seniors and their escorts who formed the figure were Kitty Roberts with Steve Wise, Jane Powell with Homer Hatten, Eliza Wise with William Ashe, Martha Meade Hardaway with Edgar Garnett, Dorothy Eades with Walter Potter, Marjorie Nimmo with Lyman Brothers, Mildred Callis with John V. Hearn, Jr., Phyl Schlobchm with Bob Eddy, Myra Smith with James Lee Johnson, Johnny Lybrook with Meredith Evans, Kaki Peery with Carl Ralston, Evelyn Burford with Hugh Richardson, Frances Pope with Vernon Tillor, Elizabeth Wilkinson with Jimmy Zell, Hazel Holmes with Linwood Owen, Jerry Hatcher with Basil Waring, Lula Windham with Tyler Taylor, Bernice Copley with Walter Holberton, Marguerite Russ with Gaines Hawkins, Marie Dix with Jack Dickens, Mildred Harry with Cecil Beazley, Emil Ellis with Trez Ellis, Lois Barbee with Rowland Pattillo.

Rosemary Howell with Bob Martz, Sara Keesee with Tom Ford, Sudie Dunton with Darrell Turner, Dorothy Dade Davis with Robert Stewart, Kay Horsley with Frank Booker, Helen Jeffries with Herbert Root, Isabel Williamson with Bob Hoyt, Betty Greig with Roy Chase, Katherine N. Gray with Louis Morton, Chlotilde Jarman with Lee Farrar.

Estelle Mann with Hal Mitchell, Elizabeth LeGrand with Curvy Harvey, Nancy Bryant with Walter Shirkley, Dorothy Fischer with Herbert Abbitt, Frances Alvis with Braxton Townsend, Marguerite Costello with Bobbie Schultz, Essie Millner with Jimmie Sheehan, Mary Louise Cunningham with James Mimon, Katherine Edwards with Percy Phillips, Margaret Carr with Pat McCarthy, Elizabeth Kent with Eddie Lumpkin, Margaret James with Wade White, Vera Jacobs with James D. Mullins, Virginia Lee Pettis with Billy Spong, Louise Allen with Sam Barnes, Katherine Newman with Willie Hill, and Jean Watts with Dodson Poe.

State Professional Group Convenes Here For Annual Meeting

Dr. Sydney B. Hall, head of the Virginia State Board of Education, has called a meeting of representatives of various professional and lay groups to be held at Farmville State Teachers College, December 7-9, for the purpose of discussing the next steps in improving instruction. About ninety delegates who will stay in the homes of the community, are expected. They will take their meals in the college dining hall. Meetings will be held in the first floor rooms of the Student Building.

On Thursday evening the delegates will be given a reception to which all faculty members are invited. Miss Jane Royall is in charge of arrangements and S. T. C. girls who will serve on the entertainment committee are Sara Keesee, Elsye Berrye Yates, Ellen Royall, Margaret Carr, Frances Alvis, Frances Rosebro, Alice Leigh Barham, Ruth Lea Purdum, Faye Brandon, Marion Harden and Anne Benton.

Dramatic Apprentices Act for Club Members

Apprentices of the Dramatic Club presented "The Purple Door Knob", a one-act play, at the regular meeting on November 29.

Mrs. Bartholomew, a typical New Englander and an invalid, was played by Elsie Stossel, and her dependable and faithful servant, Amanda, by Geraldine Beckner. Jean Hatton portrayed Viola Cole, renowned actress of the legitimate stage, who wished to purchase the purple door knob.

Y. W. C. A. Christmas Calendar

Dec. 12—Candle-light tea in lounge 4-6 o'clock.

Dec. 13—Formal Dinner
Miss Rice tells story of "Other Wise Man" at prayers
Hanging of the Greens sponsored by Freshman Commission
Caroling by Freshman and Sophomore Commission

Dec. 14—Marie Eason tells story of "Why the Chimes Rang" at prayers

Dec. 16—Christmas pageant presented at Sing

Dec. 17—Christmas service at Morning Watch
Caroling through town following Choir program

Dec. 18—White Christmas

Gamma Psi Fraternity In Art Pledges Eight

Cottie Radspinner, Anne Turner, Harriette Walker, Elizabeth Ann Parker, Lillian German, Theodosia MacKenzie, Phyl Schlobohm, and Mildred Morris were pledged into Gamma Psi, honorary fraternity in art, on Monday, December 4.

Eligibility is limited to students having a "B" average on at least six courses in art and a general scholastic average of "C".

Gamma Psi furnishes the decorations for all school dances, and as a Christmas project the members are reconditioning toys for Christmas distribution. These toys were collected by the Boy Scouts of Farmville.

Colonnade Will Sponsor Contest; Deadline Is Jan. 8

Prizes Totalling Eight Dollars Will Be Awarded

"Contributions for the Colonade short story contest must be submitted by January 8, 1940," announces Johnny Lybrook, editor-in-chief of the quarterly publication.

The following rules are posted on the bulletin board. No short story should have less than 1000 words or more than 2000. Each must be written in pen and ink, if not type written, typed copies being preferred. They must be submitted before January 8. The stories can be written on any subject.

A first prize of five dollars will be awarded for the best story entered. Second and third prizes will be three dollars and one dollar respectively. Students winning this contest will be eligible for the Beore Eh Thorn award.

Johnny adds that she would like to have those entering to hand their stories in as soon as possible, and that, though there are limitations on the subject matter, it would be better if there were no sad endings.

Fall Colonnade Is Literarily Full

Faculty, Alumnae, Students Contribute

"The Colonnade", magazine published four times during the school year by Farmville students, made its first appearance for this school year Wednesday night, November 29.

Essays, poems, book reviews and fiction were included in the contents of this publication which was edited by Johnny Lybrook, a senior from Fincastle, Virginia. Contributors, in addition to the members of the student body, included Miss Grace Moran, member of the college faculty and president of Alumnae Association; Mrs. Carrie Martin Pedigo, alumna teaching at Salem, Virginia; and "Kappa Alpha—Hampden-Sydney".

"A Bench in the Park" and "On Destroying Letters" are the contributions of Helen Gray, a Junior transfer from William and Mary. Helen was a regular contributor to William and Mary's magazine and was also a member of their newspaper staff. Dot Wright, another transfer from William and Mary, furnished poetry; as did Helen Reiff, Frances Hudgins, Polly Hughes, Aggie Mann, Edith Nunnally, and Bess Windham, poetry editor of "The Colonnade".

Stories comprising this issue are "Life Is Not That Way" by Helen Reiff, literary editor of "The Colonnade"; "The Room Is Not the Same". Mary Lou Shannon; "The Note in the Bottle", Anne Cock; "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds", Mary Mahone; "Destiny", Betsy Briggs; and "That Is My Father", Nancy Dinwiddie.

Alice Leigh Barham reviewed "Carter Glass, A Biography", and Sara Cline reviewed Murrell Edmund's "Between the Devil". Helen Jeffries is book review editor.

Cover of the magazine shows the main entrance of the new college library. The picture was taken by Mr. McCorkle of the science department.

The second issue of The Colonnade will be published in February.

Music Groups Will Sing at Church Dec. 10

Notice!

Voting for Mardi Gras queen and court will be held in the auditorium immediately after prayers tonight. It is requested that girls bring pencils for voting.

Four Leave for National Forensics

Annual Meet Held At Winthrop

Marie Allen, Frances Keck, Elizabeth Ann Parker, and Anne Cock left today for Winthrop College, South Carolina where they will represent Farmville at the annual Dixie Forensic Tournament which will last through Saturday, December 9. They were accompanied by Miss Mary Nichols, debate coach.

Marie, a junior, is president of the Debate Club and vice-president of the Virginia Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic fraternity.

Frances, Marie's colleague on the negative team, is a transfer from Averette Junior College in Danville. She represented Averette last year at the Tau Kappa Alpha convention in Ashland.

Elizabeth Ann, a sophomore, is vice-president of the Debate Club and treasurer of Pi Kappa Delta.

Anne, a junior, is a member of Pi Kappa Delta and is secretary of the Debate Club.

The main purpose of the tournament is to give practice to the debaters. Participants are rated according to their individual ability, contests in problem solving, extempts, impromptus, after dinner radio announcing, and numerous other events will be offered. Winthrop College is to act as hostess at the convention.

Students participating will stay in the college and be guests there. A similar tournament is held each year at Winthrop.

Lorana Moomaw, a veteran Farmville debater and forensic winner, is unable to make the trip.

New F. T. A. Chapter Is Organized Here

Evelyn Burford has been elected president of the Future Teachers of America which has just been organized on this campus. Other officers of this chapter who were elected on November 30 were Chlotilde Jarman, vice-president; Helene Cline, secretary; and Mary Louise Cunningham, treasurer. Dr. J. P. Wynne of the education department is adviser to the organization.

The purpose of such an organization is to provide a professional opportunity needed by the students of the college and to provide for leading educators to visit this campus. It will also furnish a basis for a new relationship between the colleges and high schools of this area, which are served by the college.

Subscribe Now

Now listen, you all, and put this down on your memo. This bigger and better annual that's being planned for you demands your support. We want to save your pennies as much as you do, so take heed. Remember it's said we can have 'em for $4.00 if as many as 700 sign up. Are you going to cooperate? See that you do, now. It's going to be wonderful and at a bargain price!

Lorana Moomaw To Deliver Oration; Annual Xmas Event

Music Department under the direction of Mr. Alfred H. Strick will present its annual Christmas program in the Methodist Church on Sunday night, December 10.

Soloists for the occasion will be Miss Irene Leake, soprano, Miss Frances Houck, mezzo-soprano, and Edwin Cralle, baritone.

The Senior A Capella number is "I Waited for the Lord" by Mendelssohn and the two selections of the Junior A Capella are "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" by Ambrose and "Were You There" a spiritual.

The College Choir and Choral Club will sing the "Recessional" by DeKoven.

Lorana Moomaw will speak on "Peace", the same topic she chose for the program at Chase City on December 3.

Junior A Capella and Senior Quartette were the guests of the Chase City Woman's Club on December 3 at the Methodist chuch of Chase City. Rev. W. H. Landrum is the pastor of this church.

Two selections were sung by the Junior A Capella and one by the Senior Quartette with Virginia Richards and Edwin Cralle as soloists. The combined group sang one number.

Lorana Moomaw, president of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary forensic fraternity spoke on "Peace" after which Mr. Alfred H. Strick gave an organ solo.

Following the program a reception and buffet supper was given at the parsonage.

Mrs. Paulette, Part Time Matron, Dies

Death Comes as Result of Heart

Mrs. Emma Gill Paulette who was for many years a part time matron at S. T. C. died suddenly at her home in Farmville Sunday, November 26.

Mrs. Paulette was born in Dinwiddie county, September 28, 1882; she was educated and reared here. In 1890 she married S. W. Paulette, Jr., in Farmville.

Surviving her are her husband S. W. Paulette, Jr., a son, Edward Paulette; and three daughters, Miss Mable C. Paulette, of Lenoir, N. C; Mrs. A. A. Lindseu, of High Point, N. C.; and Mrs. R. W. Comstock, of Silver Springs, Maryland. Also a sister Mrs. James Swindler, of Muskogee, Okla.; and two brothers, N. N. Gill, of Farmville and John B. Gill, of Tacoma, Washington.

Latin Club Elects New Officers

Elizabeth West will head Sodalitas Latina, the Latin club this year. Other officers elected on November 30, were Arlene Hunt, vice-president, and Emil Ellis, secretary-treasurer.

At a meeting yesterday the club presented its Christmas program. Thelma Courtney told some of the ancient and modern Yuletide customs. Carolyn Ford discussed Roman Saturnalia. Mary Bartlett and Arlene Hunt gave recitations and the group sang Christmas carols in Latin.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO · BOSTON · LOS ANGELES · SAN FRANCISCO

Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant ..... Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Kiare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmondson, Mildred Harry, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Agnes Pickral, and Janelle Shelor.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson, Frances Pope.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd Jean Upshur, and Thelma Courtney.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1939

This Study Period Business

Do you realize that each of us is now on study hour trial? If you've "just not thought about it" before now, let now this warning sink into deep realization of the fact.

We enjoy the priviliges of a supposed study period that is free of the restraints with which many schools are bound. We are free to come and go at will from 7:30 until 10 o'clock, to visit in other rooms, to do as we "pretty much please" by working or no. However, we sometimes fail to remember that during this period of would-be-quiet for someone or some few who are endeavoring to concentrate, we may be spoiling all their chances. Our loud chatter, running and calling noisily through the halls, even daring to slip notes under doors where a "Busy" sign gives sufficient warning that the occupant does not desire our company are all matters which lead up to

Do you want a closed study period?

Miss Mary and Marge Nimmo make this warning—that unless the prevalent violations of study hour rules cease, a closed study period is exactly what will befall us. Such a system would include such rules as: No girl would be allowed to leave her room, except with signed permission of her hall president, from 7:30 'til 10 o'clock. She would be obliged to state her destination and to sign in on her return. Of course, absolute quiet and work must necessarily be maintained.

Surely we are old enough not to have to undergo the seemingly childish points this would entail. Not one of us wants it. Doesn't it all seem to boil down to whether we're grown up and refined enough to so act that it will no more be thought of?

How Prepared Are You?

Catching up on that back parallel? Making up those lessons and low marks? 'Tis with regret that we warn you—but there are only eight more days before exams, and, to make things more cheerful, only fourteen more days before Christmas holidays.

The student body extends sympathy to Libby Carter on the death of her father.

The student body and administration feels deeply the loss of Mrs. Paulette.

Robert Frost's Work Of Deep Feeling

By Ernestine Meacham

They seem to flow straight from the hearts of the folk whose thoughts and feelings he puts into words; and they burrow deep into the hearts of us. That's the impression that those of us who read the verses of Robert Frost will get.

Although born in California, Mr. Frost has lived most of his life in New England and loves the country so that his works are as much a part of it as are it rocks and bare cliffs and stream of clear, cold water. He started a new trend in the writing of poetry, bringing in the realism of sad, shadowed, bravely sturdy life in conversation form, which critics objected to (some still object), contending that there was no beauty in such lawless, blank verse—why, it was not even poetry! But in these poems, which stand out clearly etched, like stark, leafless trees black and bare against a wintry sky, there pulses the life and heartbeat of everyday people. Sometimes it is tragic, now it is pathetic in its utter emptiness and hopelessness, now rich in neighborliness, and again full of the flush of young hope; always it is the lifestream of humans and appeals to individuals of every level of happiness or dispair.

Under this commonplace cloak of simpleness Robert Frost thrusts a subtle symbolical message which eludes those of us who read only on the surface. Only think what treasures are disclosed when we search far into the interior of his poems and get at their real, universal meaning! (This is another point his critics bring out; they say his symbols are too obscure for ordinary men to grasp.) Most of his poems call forth from every reader a warm feeling of understanding and sympathy, as well as a sort of reverence for the truth and goodness of the thought expressed so simply, yet so forcefully.

One of Mr. Frost's works which is familiar to all of us illustrates wonderfully all the qualities here brought to notice. It is the homely, appealing "Death of the Hired Man". This is the part which I think most beautiful.

"Home is the place where, when you have to go there,
They have to take you in."

"Silas is what he is—we wouldn't mind him—
But just the kind that kinsfolk can't abide.
He never did a thing so very bad.
He don't know why he isn't quite as good
As anyone. He won't be made ashamed
To please his brother, worthless
though he is."

"I can't think Si ever hurt anyone."

Robert Frost

Did You Know?

The Williams College News is making a special movie of all phases of campus life.

Northwestern University has banned the use of portable radios in the stands during football games.

In the early days at the University of Arkansas, carrying concealed weapons was such a common occurrence the authorities found it necsary to make a special ruling to force the students to leave their shootin' irons at home.

The oldest state university building in North America is at the University of North Carolina.

While several American institutions have royal charters, William and Mary College is the only one in the country which has a royal court of arms.

Princeton University was the first school to abolish rules requiring attendance at classes.

Just in case you're an economy-minded student, a University of Southern California professor has figured it out that it costs you about $1.30 each time you cut a class.

Echoes from an Empty Space

Things I didn't know until now:

. . . That Chubby Heard's date was sporting bran' new saddle shoes—(not at the dance) . . . That Johnnie Lybrook got not one, not two—but three orchids . . . That the Freshman invitation to Marge's Lyman still stands . . . What is it now, Lyman, Spring Cotillion? . . . That complications have set in as far as Nan Duer is concerned . . . That one little Freshman was afraid for her date to dance with certain girls.....It could have been Jeanne Sears.....By the way, Jeanne, we heard he had a late-date all lined up.....That Meadaway was thataway about Techman Garnette.....That V. M. I. is beginning to interest Ora Earnest. Tsk! Tsk! and after all these years.....That "Sport" Dunlop gets orchids for his dancing ability.....That, speaking of orchids, Bobby Latture was all aglow over hers.....Greetings to the Lexington crew, Wentz' "Tolly" and Faison's brother.....That Cynthia James and "Les" were a very attractive couple.....Ora Mayo also had a "Les" down.....All in the family, no doubt!.....That Dot Bailey was out snaking Saturday, at least that's what she told one of the young men she danced with.....That Edna Harris couldn't dance two steps with her own date due to popularity.....That Beezie brought Chi-ick!.....That Lashley line is still potent as far as a couple of Frosh were concerned.....That Dot Robbins dated Jean Upshur's Donny.....That Kaki's favorite for dinner is Ralston. What happens at breakfast, Kaki!!.....That a good job of snaking went on in the Rotunda Sunday night as well as on the dance floor.....That Madge is out to cut Layman's throat for snaking Susie.....That Madge isn't above a little snaking herself. Quote, "Sunday night" unquote.....That Kiah T. was just as wonderful as Helen Watts said he was.....That Emily Wescott "guarded" every girl that danced with Connie .....That Flippo no sooner returns from the week-end away than he rushed for S. T. C. and Barbara.....Speaking of Barbara, Dick Clark would love to have her wrapped in cellophane for Christmas .....That Gerry Hatcher and her guardians survived beautifully .....That Barbara Drewry got gardenias from her roommate's brother—and candy, too!!!.....That Bill Holland is just as popular with the girls down here (especially with Peg) as he is with the boys up there.....That is intrigue in the Dot Dawley, Doc Lawson twosome .....That Boots and Sharpley are still "gooey".....Watch out, Miles, you may join the ranks with Finny—if you aren't careful.....That although they had tickets to the dance Betty Stanley and Chum wanted to climb in the gym window—force of habit?.....That Mrs. Laing still doesn't approve of jitterbugs. Neither do folks who want to dance.....That May and John just looked in on the dance..... Just another case of "no more tickets"—Seniors, we protest!!!..... 'bout Allene looking lovely and quite that way about the Tech guy .....Also dancing with Sugar for ole times' sake.....That the lock on the side door was broken. Reminds us of the time they did the disappearing act to the swimming pool.....That the freshman who had a Tech Senior as substitute for her supposed-to-be date fell for him quite with a bang. So did the other victims of his pretty line! How about that, Pegg?.....Sho' looked good to see Kitty Roberts gracing that deceiving line. Jane Powell looked lovely, too. Congrats to all the Seniors in their pretty dance—'twas the stuff!

And now, so that Santa'll know in plenty o' time, we send this epistle and plea:

Dear Santa Claus:

We have so many girls at our house that it is impossible for all of them to ask for something. Some are little, some big. But some want things awful bad. Can't you help them?

Painter wants Bobby all wrapped up in red and green ribbons. Then there's little Margaret Ann Foreman who wants love in a big paper bag. Kaki craves a man who wants to dance every once in a while. Allene would almightily like a Virginia Polytechnic Institute right next door. Buck wants and pleads for a big trousseau. Jane Engeby and Alice Cogburn beg for a diet; so does Barbara Drewry; one for one to fatten, two to reduce.

Sara Keesee might, and then again she might not, want about five round-trip tickets to W. & L. So would Dodie like ten!! to V. M. I. Betty Fahr is tearing out her curly strands looking for a new coiffure. Help her, Santa, even if it's in the form of a wig! Give Jean Upshur a book on "How to Hold Your Man". She needs it after this fall. More pins and better ones, says Virginia Alexander, need to be distributed among the girls, all with jewels. Jackie Allen wants Sunday nights to go on forever. Anne Easley would like a little plane just to fly to Lynchburg. Kent longs for a new shot-gun so she can play burglar. Please bring Moomie a big fire siren to put on her bed. We'd hate to see her burn up alive. Boots Baldwin wants the back booth of the College Shoppe provided it includes Sharpley. Include Sugar Young in for a soldier suit. We fear Barbara isn't as allergic to brass buttons as she might be, though. Give Walter Gresham and Frankie Nash Billsoly a copy of The Rotunda. Won't they like the official seal of approval S. T. C. gives them for being two of the most attractive rats at V. M. I.!

Give Ora ten date tickets to Spring Cotillion. Give Jane McGinnis a chalk-line to walk on. Let's include Allie Mac in for a couple of anti-frowners. Isabel wants a new expression. Meadaway wants a pair of stilts so we can see her when she stands behind the pulpit in chapel. Marie Eason is begging for an alarm that will really demand attention in the dining hall. Please help Peggy Williams to get Billy a present. She really is perplexed over what to give him. Little Layman wants a set of golf sticks to please keep in practice. Anne Hurff says to please not forget to bring plenty of film for her camera. Nancy Moss wants a little dog trained to carry her books to the building for her. The Boyette and Hawkins children need score keepers for their numerous love affairs. Send one of your lil' elves to help Frances Alvis extend each day 'bout twelve hours. Poor Ruby Adams needs a little helper for collecting orders. Since Fall play Shirley Stephens is out of aspirin. How 'bout a new supply? The staging and the lighting groups crave big bundles of sleep all wrapped up in a big blanket. Jean Shulkcum doesn't want anything for Christmas. Everything is Jake for her! And don't forget our goody Freshmen—lots of toys for them—especially the ones who wore their rat caps!

Please do your best on these, Santa. We're counting on you.

Love 'n' stuff,

Your lil' friend

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

Hell's a Poppin'

Russia's fiendish attack which began on Finland early last week came as a result of the little country's refusal to be terrorized by Russia's demands for naval and air bases some two weeks previously. The Soviet accused Finland of being responsible for the border "accident" and reported that four Russians had been killed by Finnish cannon balls and nine people wounded.

Russia then "told" Finland to move her troops back from the border in order that no such "unfortunate accident" should reoccur. In "commendable Nazi fashion" radios blared forth and every newspaper shouted in deep headlines about Finland's "insult" to the Russian government.

Finland denied the charge made by the Soviet and went further to explain that no shots were fired on the day in question by Finnish troops and if such shots had been fired, it would have been impossible for them to reach Russian troops, because the distance between the two lines was too great. Finland said "we see no reason for removing our troops" and suggested that a more thorough investigation be made of the incident.

But the Finns did not get an answer to this communication either verbally or written; the answer came in the form of an air raid early Thursday morning on her capital city, Helsinki. Before night the city was blazing and the red glow of the fire made a black-out impossible. Many small islands were taken off the coast by the mighty Red army during the first day of fighting.

Most Cruel Invasion

To the infuriated world who stands by powerless to move a hand to save the doomed Finland, this invasion is the most inhumane episode of the last year. Our feelings and our sympathies are based on the fact that of all the European countries Finland is the only country who has paid on her war debt, she tends strictly to her own business which is a business of making a comfortable, happy place for her people to live, and she asks of the world nothing except the privilege to live in peace.

Finland is in size about as large as the state of Montana, while Russia is larger than the whole of the United States. In addition she has perhaps the best air force in the world. What chance does Finland stand against such mightiness? There obviously is none.

The Other Countries

England gives her sympathy, but she, like France, is too involved with her own war to do more than sympathize. Hitler stands back and smiles, apparently much pleased with Russia's progress. But is he? What effect would Stalin's victory have on Mr. Hitler? Hitler might do well to remember in war there is no "you and I"—there is only "I", unless you have something "I" need. Does Russia need Germany's assistance?

Mr. Roosevelt has gone further than he went in the German-Poland struggle to insist that this affair be settled without bloodshed. His plea was ignored by Russia. After the actual fighting had begun, a second plea was sent asking the Russian troops not to fire on civilian groups to which Russia replied "Don't be ridiculous. We have no intentions of doing such a thing." Oh no, no, no!

We are not neutral in this battle and we aren't making any bones about it. Because of our unneutrality, Mr. Roosevelt will very likely not recognize a state of war in order that we may continue to lend what little aid is possible to Finland.

Sports Slants

By PAT GIBSON

There was a bright sky, a brisk wind and a plentitude of lusty lungs when the annual color rush took place last Thursday afternoon. Midst wildly cheering crowds, we watched the Red and White banners float out over Student, Old Library, Rotunda and Senior Buildings. All happened in a split second—the bell—a moment of tense waiting—and the colors. Green and White was not to be outdone, however, for the Junior Building was proudly decked with the "Odds" colors. Out pointed 4-1, but nevertheless, still in the race. (The Seniors, by the way, aided as far as the "campus end" by the Sophs, celebrated their victory Thursday night at 10 P. M. when they hung a "40-42" banner in front of Shannon's. That's what all the shouting and singing was about.)

"Rat caps? Sure! Rat caps? Sure!" sounded as the sophs turned the tables on the Rats to win the traditional game, 6-1. On the basis of "statistics," the Frosh had been given an even chance to discard their caps. But the game was hardly underway before the Sophs had the ball away down in Frosh territory and had scored three goals. Recovering from the furious onslaught the "Rats" hit a goal just before the whistle blew for the half. Shortly after the second period started, the Sophs went off on several scoring drives with no help or encouragement from the Freshmen whatever.

Not as exciting as the fast and furious initial game, but quite as interesting was the upperclassmen wrangle—Seniors vs. Juniors with the Seniors coming out on the long end of a 2-0 score. Elizabeth Hillsman was injured in the first period of the game to subtract another from the already "short" Junior team, a team which played beautiful hockey holding the Seniors scoreless until midway in the second period when the defense at last gave away to the continuous forward march of the Red and White team. The "Even" cheering section went wild with the first senior score It was Red and White day—but definitely!

And now it is all over. Congratulations to everyone for the fine support given the teams! It was the best we've ever had—we've never seen a more enthusiastic crowd or more whole-hearted playing.

It's Red and White--Pride Of Every Girl That's Here

The crowd stands tensely with bated breaths and eager attention. Not a sound breaks the stillness of the night except the grinding of the ropes pulling an object into the air. Several persons show signs of strain. One pats her foot impatiently. Another twists a handkerchief in her hands, and another stands in readiness to give a shout of acclamation when at last the job is successfully completed. One moment more, one more long, hearty pull on the ropes will see the job well done. Only one moment more and then it is done! The still night is rent with a thousand cheers and a lust of voices singing:

"It's Red and White
"It's Red and White
The pride of every girl
that's here--"

The Red and White banners of the blissful Seniors and Sophomores swings proudly from Shannon's awning and red and white streamers float gracefully in the night breeze. The Seniors sigh. It has been a long hard day, a long hard fight, but they have won. They have seen their banner fly over many a building and in one great moment of triumph, have seen it lift its bright proud streamers on high down town. They turn schoolward, joyously marching in a victorious unit up the street and are greeted with another serenade by the Sophomores on Student Building balcony. The Sophomores had already sung to the seniors but they must needs sing to them again on their return from the thrilling trip down town. It was indeed a glorious occasion. So here's to Red and White till next color rush--and then come whatever will, this moment will not be forgotten.--Many a grandchild's face will brighten when he hears of the great moment when Red and White floated on high in all its glory.

Give Yourself A Gift

Give yourself a chance to shine for the Holidays. A Permanent, a Manicure, a facial shampoo, finger wave will do wonders for you.

FARMVILLE'S Finest PERMANENTS!

$2.50 to $10.00

VIRGINIA'S BEST OPERATORS

* Miss Hartis * Miss Dickerson
* Miss Blanton * Miss Jones

(Charge your Beauty work)

BALDWIN'S BEAUTY SHOP

Phone 159 Farmville's Best Beauty Shop

Red & White Conquers on Color Rush Day

Sophs Beat Frosh, Juniors Bow to Sen. In Annual Meet

Green and White Gains Junior Bldg.

Red and White triumphed over Green and White in the annual color rush held on Thursday, November 30.

Beginning promptly at 1:15 P. M. the runners for each of the four classes raced from the ends of the halls to the front of their espective buildings. In the three main buildings—Student, Main and Library, the Sophomores unanimously defeated the Freshmen. Those running for the Sophomore class were Mary Klare Beck, Dorothy Johnson and Nancy Dupuy. Freshman runners were Frances Parham, Elizabeth Wall and Mary Frances Bowles. Juniors and Seniors tied—a senior, Chlotilde Jarman, winning over Rosa Courter, junior, in Senior Building, and Marion Worshaw, junior, defeating Essie Millner, senior, in Junior Building. Judges were members of the Student Council.

The points obtained by Red and White will count toward the Color Cup which is now held by Green and White. Other feats which count for the possession of the Color Cup are class basketball, archery, swimming and tennis.

Color Rush for 1938 was also won by Red and White.

Many Witness Games

Thursday, November 20, the class hockey games were played resulting in a double victory for Red and White. Class colors, yells and cheering sections made these games a gala event.

In the first half of the Freshman—Sophomore game the latter took the ball into enemy territory just shortly after the initial whistle and scored three goals before the half. The Freshman rallied late in the first period to bring the score to 3-1 The second half found the Sophs. once more with the upper hand. Unable to stop their opponents continous advances the Rats came out on the short end of the final 6-1 score.

Red and White was again on top when the Seniors scored a 2-0 victory over the Juniors. These teams were evenly matched and the score at the end of the first half stood 0-0. In the second period the Seniors broke through the Juniors defense twice making the final score 2-0 in favor of the Seniors.

Pos.	Freshmen	Sophomores
R.W.	Haynes, M.	Walker, H.
R.I.	Jennings	Chaplin
C.F.	Pilkinton	Dupuy
L.I.	Ebel	Beck
L.W.	Andrews	Johnson
R.H.	Oliver	Engleby
C.H.	Hillsman	West
L.H.	Ball	Hutcheson
R.B.	Buyers	Saunders
H.B.	Rogers	Barlow
G.K.	Papas	Cheape

Pos.	Seniors	Juniors
R.W.	Nimmo	Lee
R.I.	Keesee	Coberly
C.F.	Newman	Borden
L.I.	Jarman	Hillsman, E.
L.W.	Mann
R.H.	Copley	Johnson, A.
C.H.	Jones	McIllwaine
L.H.	Fischer	Courter
R.B.	Blackwell	Gooden
L.B.	Smith	Atkinson
G.K.	Adams, R.	Smith

Basketball Practice Schedule

Tuesday:
4 P. M.—Upperclassmen
5 P. M.—Freshmen
Wednesday:
4 P. M.—Upperclassmen
5 P. M.—Freshmen
Thursday:
4 P. M.—Upperclassmen
5 P. M.—Freshmen
Friday:
4 P. M.—Freshmen
5 P. M.—Freshmen

"Have you heard the new Eskimo Song?"
"No, what is it?"
"Freeze a jolly good fellow."

Winter Golf School Is Completed

Association Gains Many Members

Winter Golf School was completed Monday morning for the use of all students as well as the many members of the Winter Golf Association. Bright new paint has been put on the floors and the equipment is complete. Cups have been put in the putting green and a backdrop around the Pitch-It game. Golf clubs are available for all students wishing to use them. These clubs must not be removed from the Golf School. Members of the W. G. A. have been divided into five groups for individual instruction between hours of eleven and three-thirty on designated days. The school is open for everyone from nine to eleven and after three-thirty. The Association can accomodate more girls if they wish to join. They must see Mr. Brown immediately.

At the next W. G. A. meeting officers will probably be elected and more extensive plans made. This school is sponsored by the Athletic Association. The Monogram Club is selling drinks for your convenience and the stand is working under the honor system. The bottles may not be taken out of the school.

Members of the W. G. A. are: Sarah Wythe Booth, Crews Borden, Helen Wentz, Helen McIllwaine, Mickey Beck, Nancy Hopkins, Chlotilde Jarman, Dorothy Fischer, Jane Powell, Lula Windham, Ellen Bowen, Essie Millner, May Winn, Mary Mahone, Shirley Stephens, Martha Smith, Florence Lee, Jean Clark, Helen Long, Mary Gray Thompson.

Pat Gibson, Mary Elizabeth Lewis, Helene Straus, Mary Owens West, Marjorie Gooden, Bobbie Tripp, Mae DeSaix, Evelyn Lupton, Anne Reese Whitlow, Eliza Wise, Ethel Carr, Cottie Radspinner, Peggy Hughes, Dotty Chapman, Jerry Smith, Jac Adams, Martha Cottrell, Margaret Franklin, Peggy Watkins, Jane Hardy, Virginia Worley, Maxine Philpott, Phyl Schlobohm, Mary Harvie, Robin Hening, Virginia Howell, Bonnie Stevenson, Mary Prince Arnold, Frances Bailey, Aggie Mann, Betty Bouchard, Anne Rogers, Dot Menefee, Roberta Lattiure, Eleanor Hutcheson, Elizabeth Carter, Carolyn Cannaday, Betty Page, Harper, Jean Bourne, Anne Lee Gardner, Jean C. Hall, Elaine Ross, Madge McFall, Helen Gray.

Sue Owen, Allene Overbey, Madge Horne Dorothy Childress, Nancy Dupuy, Betsy Jennings, Anne C. Easley, Jean Shulkcum, Nell White, , Anne Williams Mary Lou Shannon, Mary Jane Ritchie, Sarah Carter, Rachel DeBerry, Sarah Owen, Beezie Townsend, Jean Sears, Louisa Sanford, Lois Barbee, Harriet Cantrell, Mildred Callis, Ann Covington, Helen Rose Frazier, Dot Newcomb, Elizabeth Kent, Jane Waller, Lucy Blackwell, Kaki Peery, Kay Spenser. Faculty members include Misses Olive T. Iler, Grace B. Moran, Mary Barrow, Adele Hutchinson, Frances Houck and Bessie Jeter.

SANTA CLAUS
Has lots of Latest and Newest
GIFTS
at LYNN'S
JEWELRY
and
MUSIC STORE
SAVE AT LYNN'S
and
at the "Lowest Prices"
Philco & Stromberg
Radios

For your dearest friends—the most personal of all gifts is . . .

YOUR PORTRAIT

Made by

DAVIDSON'S STUDIO

The Mezzanine

Christmas Comes But Once a Year

With it comes good time and cheer, and that good cheer can be found in our wonderful selection of Christmas gifts for everyone.

For Mother, for Father, and for Brother and Sister, in fact for everyone you will be able to find suitable gifts. We will be glad to help you with your Holiday problems.

DAVIDSON'S

THE COLLEGE GIRL'S STORE

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

Martin the Jeweler
S. T. C. PENS AND BRACELETS
$1.25 UP

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop
"From old to new with any shoes"
Only First Class Material used
All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY MEATS
AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

NEWBERRY'S
5--10—25c STORE
Select Your Xmas gifts now
5c to $1.00

Despite Dance, Other Schools Carry Claims

Well, the file-box reporter almost had to take a holiday this week with the Senior event holding first place in prominence. However, a few fair demoiselles sauntered forth from the portals of S. T. C.

Philadelphia with its Army-Navy game claimed Mary Elizabeth Petticrew. 'Ray for Petticrew, and the Navy!

Four prom-trotted at Washington-bound were Mary Mahone, Patsy Smith, Anne Lee Gardner, and Virginia Barksdale.

Mae De Saix tripped the light fantastic at the De Molay Dance at V. P. I.

Nancy Wolfe dressed up pretty for the Fancy Dress Ball in Richmond, but Senior Dance seemed to have more appeal for the rest of the nine hundred.

Kitty Roberts, Nancy Gray, Marguerite Blackwell, Jean Taylor, and Margaret Holberton all showed up for the dance. Looked wonderfully natural to see 'em here. Come back soon!

Frances Rosebro to Be Club Parliamentarian

Frances Rosebro was elected parliamentarian by the Dramatic Club on Wednesday, November 29.

Frances is a member of the Sophomore class and of Sophomore Commission. She has been active in the work of the club and in her new office will serve as a member of the Dramatic Club executive board.

Sorority Notes

A. S. A's Have Tea

Polly Keller, Peggy Williams, and Carolyn Harvey entertained the members of Alpha Sigma Alpha at a tea in the chapter room at 4:30 Sunday afternoon, December 3. A salad course of the Christmas note was served. Miss Grace Moran, adviser, and the active members were present.

Mu Omega's Entertain

Dorothy Menefee, Alice Leigh Barham, Gerry Hatcher, and Elizabeth Wilkinson entertained the Mu Omegas at a buffet supper in the chapter room Sunday night, December3.

Besides the active members Miss Leola Wheeler, adviser, Miss Adele Hutchinson, alumna, Edgar Garnett Bob Wisdom, Bob Dabney, and Henry Gresham, were present.

Theta Sigma Upsilon Banquet

Theta Sigma Upsilon held its fall banquet in honor of the pledges Saturday, December 2, in the Tea Room at 6 o'clock. In addition to the active members and pledges those present included Miss Helen Draper, faculty adviser; Miss Lucille Jennings, patron; Marie Moore, and Edith Heermance, alumnae.

A Christmas theme was carried out in the decorations and place cards. Mary Walker Mitchell, Mildred Harry, and Forrestine Whitaker gave toasts and Virginia Howell and Rosa Courter gave readings.

Sigma Has Banquet

Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority held their fall banquet Tuesday night, December 5, in the tea room. Miss Pauline Camper, active members, and pledges were present.

Toasts were given by Mary Lo Shannon, Allene Overbey, Nancy Wolff, Jane Powell, Mary Katherine Zehmer, and Cottie Radpinner.

Classes Vote to Omit Presentations

Class presentations in chapel will be discontinued and the future presentations will be made only in "The Rotunda", it has been resolved as a result of recent voting by classes. These presentations have been made every year in chapel at which time the president of the class introduced to the faculty, administration, and student body her classman. It was then that the class songs were sung by the class thus completing the presentation.

This decision was made after the matter was discussed in the different classes. The agreement to abolish class presentations in chapel met with the approval of Dr. Jarman, members of the faculty and the administration as well as of the student body.

Freshman classes may continue to present their classman in chapel. This topic is now being discussed, but not definite decision has yet been rendered.

The classes and their classmen are Senior, Miss Virginia Bedford; Junior, Mr. Raymond French; Sophomore, Miss Jane Royall; and Freshman, Miss Olive Iler.

N. Y. A. Girls Receive Swimming Instruction

Frances Burton, Sue Carr, Marion Davis, Nina Drummond, Lois Ellis, Betty Gray, Ethel Hazlewood Alice Healy, Inez Harris, Elva Lawson, Ruby Major, Lillian Mills, Virginia Reid and Claudine Ripley, N. Y. A. girls living at Da Kappa house, have enrolled in a swimming course under the direction of Pat Gibson.

Episcopal Students Present Xmas Play

Episcopal Young Peoples' Fellowship under the direction of Mrs. Campbell Tucker and Frances Alvis will present a Christmas pageant. The Pageant of the Kings. Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the church.

Students participating are May Bartlett, Anne Ware, Betty Faith White, Anne Burgwyn, Beezie Townsend, Madge McFall, Eveline Looney, Patsy Fletcher, Jane Lee Sink, Elizabeth McCoy, Leigh Taylor, Lex Allison, Keith Eubank, Ed Fields, and Kenneth Schick.

Margaret Pierce is costume chairman and Helen Jeffries and Addison Campbell will be in charge of lights. Dell Warren is staging director.

Miss Hiner Entertains Granddaughters Club

Miss Mary Clay Hiner, faculty adviser, entertained the new members of the Granddaughter's Club at a tea at her home on Friday afternoon December 1. Mrs. George P. McCoy poured tea and the officers of the club, Elizabeth Wilkinson, Jean Moyer, Olivia Stephenson and Elizabeth Ann Parker, assisted in serving.

Wednesday night, November 29, in the Rec. at 9:30 the old members of the club entertained the new girls. Florence Lee was in charge of the entertainment and Carolyn Eason and Carolyn Harvey served refreshments.

EACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.
Friday-Sat., Dec. 8-9
Loretta Young
David Niven
"Eternally Yours"
Cartoon and WAR News
Next Mon.-Tues., Dec. 11-12
Bette Davis
Errol Flynn
Private Lives of
"Elizabeth and Essex"
A Great Picture to See
Latest WAR Scenes
Next Wed.-Thur., Dec. 13-14
Joan Bennett
John Hubbard
Adolphe Menjou
Housekeeper's Daughter
"Art of Make-Up"—Cartoon

COLLEGE SHOPPE
BEST SANDWICHES IN TOWN
Chicken Salad 10c
Ham Sandwich 10c
Hamburger with everything 10c
QUICK DELIVERY
CALL 200

Good, Better, Best—Never say it's best till you've tasted the rest. Then you know the better is best.
SHANNON'S
PHONE 224

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Quality—Price—Service

JUST OODLES OF THE NICEST GIFTS
Hose—Costume Jewelry—Lingeries—House Coats — Perfumes—Gloves.
DOROTHY MAY STORE
IS XMAS GIFT HEADQUARTERS

GIFTS
. . . they'll appreciate—Hundreds of Novelties. Buy his gift here—Ties—Gloves—Military Sets—Handkerchiefs. Charge it if you like.
THE HUB DEPT. STORE
APPRECIATES YOUR PATRONAGE

HOTEL WEYANOKE
Regular Meals
A La Carte Service
Salads & Sandwiches

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

Rose's
5-10-25c Store
ON THE CORNER
Let us help you with your Christmas needs

$1.00
SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

EXAMS ARE COMING

The Rotunda

MERRY XMAS ANYWAY

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 13, 1939 | NO. 11

Farmville Girls Win Titles in Forensic Tourney

All Four Debaters Place in Upper Quartile of Meet

Marie Allen, Frances Keck, Elizabeth Ann Parker and Anne Cocke who represented Farmville at the Dixie Forensic Tourney held at Winthrop College, Rock Hill, South Carolina, Dec. 7-9, placed in the upper half of the entire group of debaters. Also the latter three placed in the upper quartile, making them eligible for entrance in the Best Debaters Contest. Elizabeth Ann reached the finals in this but the final results will not be known until the mailing list is sent.

Marie, who entered extemporaneous, reached the semi-finals; Frances placed first in the final round of impromptus, and Anne placed second in the Strawberry Leaf After Dinner finals.

On December 7, Marie broadcast over the Charlotte station from the Winthrop College auditorium. Following this the debaters assembled in Johnson Hall where they were paired up for practice debates.

At 6:15 a buffet dinner was held in Johnson Hall to which all debaters were invited. Anne Cock responded to an after-dinner speech on "Cake Cutting", made by a Winthrop student. Impromptus and extemporaries completed Thursday activities.

Friday morning and afternoon were spent in participating in and judging clinic debaters. The clinic debate is new at Winthrop. Each debater is rated individually. He participates in one debate, is judged by an official and two debating teams, and be judges in two other debates. The ratings of the Farmville girls were as follows. Out of a possible 1,000, Elizabeth Ann Parker scored 905; Anne Cock, 902; Frances Keck, 888, and Marie Allen, 868.

On Friday evening the debaters were entertained at an orchestra concert in the Music Conservatory auditorium. Immediately following the concert the "Dixie Wedding", annual social event of the tourney was held. A representative is chosen from each institution. From these representatives a groom is elected by the girls, a bride by the boys. Their identity is kept a secret until the ceremony. Marie Allen represented Farmville.

Saturday morning the Best Debaters Contest and the Problem Solving contest closed out the round of events.

Thirty-three different colleges, approximately two hundred and fifty debaters, attended the tourney.

Training School Plans Holiday Programs

Christmas programs of the respective grades at the Farmville elementary school, training school for S. T. C. students, will be given on December 19, last day before the Christmas holidays begin.

The Kindergarten and First grade are combining their programs, and are having a Christmas tree and gifts.

Second grade children are having their program in the small auditorium of the college. They will sing a group of carols during which readings will be given by members of the class. Each child may ask his immediate family.

Third grade will give a Christmas play and a vested choir will sing carols at this time.

Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth grades have not definitely decided whether they will combine the three grades and give one program or give them separately.

Students teachers are helping in the programs of their respective grades.

Christmas Events

Dec. 12
- 7:15—Pi Gamma Mu party
- 10:00—Sophomore party
- 10:00—Freshman party

Dec. 13
- 6:00—Christmas dinner
- Prayers—Story ("The Other Wise Man")
- "Hanging of Greens"
- 9:30—Senior party
- 9:30—Carolling, Commissions

Dec. 14
- 6:45—Prayers—Story ("Why Chimes Rang")
- 9:00—The Rotunda party

Dec. 16—Sorority parties

Dec. 17
- 5:00—Christmas Service (Episcopal church)
- 7:30—Methodist pageant
- 8:30—Christmas concert
- 9:30—Carolling

Dec 17
- 6:45—White Christmas

Millner Announces May Day Theme

Jarman, Keesee, Pettis, Windham Queen Nominees

"A Daye in Merrye Englande" will be the theme for May Day this year, Essie Millner, chairman, has announced. This theme was used two years ago, but different dance interpretations will be presented.

The Student Body voted from forty-three nominees for the Queen and her Court last night, December 11. The results will not be announced until after Christmas.

Chlotilde Jarman, Sara Keesee Virginia Lee Pettis, and Lula Windham were nominated for queen. The one of these receiving the highest number of votes will be queen, the next highest will be maid-of-honor, and the other two will automatically be members of the court.

Seniors nominated for the court were Anne Billups, Marie Eason Blair Goode Elizabeth Kent, Johnnie Lybrook, Essie Millner, Virginia Polley, Frances Pope, and Jane Powell.

Juniors were Anne Dudley, Betty Fahr, Anne Lee Gardner, Louise Painter, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Nancy Pierpont, Martha Smith, Perrye Smith, Mary Gray Thompson, Nancy Wolfe and Elsye Berrye Yates.

Sophomore were Peggy Bellus, Ann Boswell, Ora Earnest, Caroline Eason, Carolyn Harvey Polly Keller, Jane McGinnis, Nancy Naff, Cottie Radspinner, Mary Lou Shannon, Helen Travis, May Wertz, and Jane Witt.

Lillian Agnew, Helen Wiley Hardy, Jeanne Sears, and Jerry Smith were nominated from the Freshman class.

Faculty advisers and directors for the event are Mrs. Louise Fitzpatrick and Miss Leola Wheeler.

Last year's May Day carried out the theme of Spenser's "Faerie Queene". Theresa Graff and Charlotte Minton, both of Roanoke were queen and maid-of-honor, respectively.

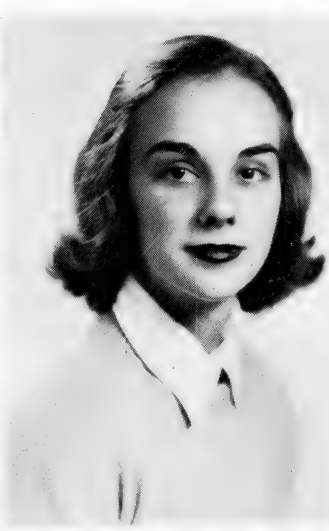
Newspaper Staff Editorial Additions

The Rotunda announces the following additions the the editorial staff: Jean Watts, Mary Louise Cunningham, Caroline Ford, Miriam Jester, Shirley McCalley, Nancy Naff, Sarah Cline, Gerry Ackiss, Bridget Gentile, Elizabeth Rapp, Evelyn Thorington, Dot Sprinkle, Amy Read. These girls are asked to meet in the publication office tonight at 6:45.

Essie Millner, Queen, Will Reign Over Mardi Gras Festivities on February 13

Tickets Go On Sale February 1, Number Limited to 600; Girls Should Buy Early

Mardi Gras, which is sponsored annually by Pi Gamma Mu and which is patterned after the festival at New Orleans, will be given in the gym on February 13.



Marguerite Cestello is chairman of the event and her committee is composed of Elizabeth Kent, chairman of floor show; Martha Flannagan Wilson, decorations; Shirley Stephens, floor committee; and Helen Jefries, business manager.

Everyone attending the dance is required to be in costume and prizes for the best costume (couple), the most original, and the prettiest costumes will be given. These awards will be on display in Martin's window after Christmas.

After the crowning of the queen, special floor show, which will include songs, dances and other features of amusement, will be given. Neither the orchestra nor the judges for costumes has been announced to date.

Tickets for the dance will go on sale on February 1, and there will only be 400 stag tickets and 200 date tickets available.

Members of Pi Gamma Mu will decorate, arrange for the orchestra, decide on suitability of costumes, and handle all business matters. Doris Chesnut, president, will act as ex-officio to the committees.

Essie Millner, Senior, of Newport News, who will reign as queen of Mardi Gras festivity.

State Curriculum Group Meets Here

Members of the State Curriculum Conference met in the Student Building of the Farmville State Teachers College, December 7-9, to discuss the steps of development in the new curriculum. Approximately ninety delegates attended the conference.

Registration was Thursday, December 7. The general meeting was held in the auditorium of the Student Building at 11 P. M. with J. L. B. Buck, Director of Instruction, presiding. Dr. J. L. Jarman delivered the welcome address, and other addresses were made by Dr. Sidney B. Hall and Dr. Charles W. Knudsen. The group met at 2 P. M. to organize for committee work throughout the conference. Delegates were honored at an informal reception Thursday night.

Friday, December 8, was spent entirely on committee work. Special reports were made by the various committees and the evaluation and summary of the conference was announced on Saturday.

All meals were served to the delegates in the college dining hall and they stayed in Farmville residences.

26 New Girls Join Granddaughters Club

Granddaughters Club, which is headed by Elizabeth Penn Wilkinsen, announces twenty-six new members.

These are Julia Beard, Katherine Batton, Imogen Claytor, Lucy Davis, Dorothy Deacon, Antoinette Dew, Bertha Draine, Eleanor E. Folk, Jacqueline M. Hardy, Hallie Hillsman, Agnes Patterson, Jane Frances Pratt.

Betty Sexton, Peggy Spencer Elva Stephens, Mary Louise Sterrett, Shirley Turner, Mary Stuart Walmsley, Mary Ellen Winslow, Elizabeth Wolfe, Judith Spinner, Katherine Jarratt, Eleanor Scott, Grey Walden, and Anne Marshall.

This club is composed of girls whose mothers or grandmothers attended Farmville.

Richmond Minister Here for B. S. U.; Holds Discussions

Mr. Paul Crandall, assistant pastor at First Baptist church in Richmond, was guest of the B. S. U. on December 11. Conferences were held in the Y. W. Lounge from two to four in the afternoon, followed by an open meeting of the B. S. U. Council at which it was shown how the organization works and what has been accomplished this year. Everyone was cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Crandall also spoke at four-thirty, and he told a Christmas story at the B. S. U. social given that night.

Mr Crandall made suggestions for Baptist Student Union work at their open council meeting held Monday afternoon from four o'clock until six o'clock. He emphasized different means by which the church was keeping in contact with students away at school. Conferences were held from two o'clock until four o'clock.

At the social for the Baptist students, given Monday night, Mr. Crandall told the story of the Inn Keeper of Bethlehem. Mr. Crandall attended the recent B. S U. convention in Richmond.

School Will Hang Greens Tomorrow

Freshman and Sophomore Commissions will sponsor the annual custom of "Hanging of the Greens" tomorrow night, December 13, after prayers, at which time students will gather and sing Christmas carols. Members of the commission will carol through the halls of the school at nine-thirty.

Students are asked to continue to save tinfoil which will be collected by the Sophomore Commission before the holiday. Proceeds from the sale of this will be used for helping several orphans.

Due to the international crisis, no Japanese Bazaar will be held this year by the Freshman Commission.

New Registrar's Office Now Being Made; Remodel Town Room

Rooms for a new Registrar's Office are being remodeled in what formerly was Miss Helen Draper's and Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro's class rooms. The new office is to consist of three rooms as offices for Miss Virgilia Bugg and her assistants.

Miss Bugg says the office will probably be ready for use by January.

The Business and Treasurer's offices will extend through the room vacated by the registrar. The office of Mrs. Mary Watkins, secretary to Dr. J. L. Jarman, has been moved to Dr. Jarman's private office.

The Town Girl's room has also ben done over with a new rug, new curtains, and new mirrors. The chairs and beds have been recovered and several new bookcases have been put in.

Miss Minnie Rice's classroom is also undergoing changes to make it more comfortable and spacious. Miss Draper and Miss Taliaferro have offices and classrooms in the new Library Building.

House Council Rules Of Exam Period

Marjorie Nimmo, president of the House Council, announces that the usual council rules will go into strict effect the week of exams.

Study hour will be observed from 7 to 10 o'clock. Radios must not be played (ever if they can't be heard in the halls) during the study period or after 11 o'clock. Anyone making any noise or violating house council rules during the designated study periods will be given a call down. One call down received at this time means a week's campus beginning the week after Christmas holidays.

Five Seniors, One Junior, Two Sophs Comprise Court To Form Figure

Essie Millner, Senior from Newport News, will reign as queen of Mardi Gras on February 13.

Essie is president of Orchesis, theme chairman of May Day, and a member of Pi Kappa Sigma social sorority.

Members of her court from the Senior class will be Chlotilde Jarman, Crozet; Sara Keesee, Sycamore; Johnny Lybrook, Pinca stle; Virginia Lee Pettis, Richmond; and Lula Windham, Petersburg.

Nancy Wolfe, Lynchburg, will represent the Junior class, and Cottie Radspinner and Mary Lou Shannon, both of Richmond, are from the Sophomore class.

Nominees other than these were Lillian Agnew, Anne Benton, Frances Dudley, Blair Goode, Robin Hening, Dickie Lybrook, Mary Gray Thompson, Helen Watts and Elsye Berrye Yates.

Frankie Bryan, queen of the celebration last year, was here when the Student Body cast votes last Wednesday night, Dec. 6.

The committee which nominated for the election was composed of the classmen for each of the classes, an adviser to Pi Gamma Mu and four members of the fraternity.

Teachers For Winter Term Are Appointed

Student teachers have been announced for the winter quarter for the Training School, Worsham and John Randolph.

Those in the Farmville Elementary School are First grade, Emma Louise Crowgy, Eleanor Hutcheson, and Barbara McCaskell and Music, Ann Rucker; second grade, Elizabeth Boatwright and Blanche Carper; Third grade Nellie Dodson, Betty Greig, and Eleanor White; Fourth grade, Katherine Edwards and Henrietta Dawson; fifth grade, Louise Allen, and Frances Martin; sixth grade, Eliza Wise and Pauline Scott.

Those to teach at Worsham are Ruby Adams, Physical education; Jean Clarke, English; Louise Palmer, history; and Elizabeth Wilkerson, mathematics.

At John Randolph School Marie Crowder will teach first grade; Dorothy Mayes, second grade; Martha Ann Baldwin and Sarah Boothe, third grade; Eloise Layman and Dorothy Wood fourth grade; and Nette Davis and Billie Pittman, fifth grade.

Beorc Eh Thorn Grants Promotion

Marion Harden was voted into the first degree of membership of Beorc eh Thorn, honorary society in English on Thursday, December 7. This means that she has contributed some outstanding piece of work to the organization for which she has been promoted to a higher degree of the club.

At the meeting plans were given for the appearance of Robert Frost on this campus on January 11. Thelma Courtney gave the group a sketch of his life and works from "Recognitions of Robert Frost" and Allene Overbey read one of his better known poems, "Snow."

Admission to the lecture on January 11 will be fifty cents.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant ..... Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmondson, Mildred Harry, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Agnes Pickral, and Janelle Shelor.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson, Frances Pope.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd Jean Upshur, and Thelma Courtney.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1939

Our Christmas Traditions

Doesn't Christmas time always make you feel different? Doesn't it kindle a sort of sweet, subdued glow of excitement inside you? The Yuletide spirit here at school has in its a merry, "jingle-bellish flavor mixed in with the hallowed "Silent Night" breathlessness, which two feelings, hand-in-hand, give us a never-to-be-forgtten experience.

Year after year Farmville girls, lovely in their evening clothes and air of merry expectancy, have gathered at the doors of the dining-hall on that greatest of all nights—the Christmas dinner night. Always, as the doors open, a veritable chorus of "Oh, how beautiful!", and "Ah!" arises. Then as we enter the dining hall magically changed by wreaths of holly, gorgeous trees, and the soft glow of candlelight, we fill the air with Christmas music. We settle down to the exceptionally excellen dinner, accompanied by our President and friends of the faculty, with the joyous exchange of gifts, both comical and useful. After dinner, we follow another of our traditions as, singing carols and merry songs, we fly hither and yon decking the Rotunda in its holiday apparel of fresh running cedar, holly, and mistletoe—"The Hanging of the Greens" is as much a part of our Christmas here as "The Hanging of the Stocking" is at home. Later we all go to hear one of the sweetest Yule stories ever told, from the lips of one of our best-loved teacher. For approximately twenty-five years now, Miss Rice's own special Christmas message—The Story of the Other Wise Man—has entered our hearts, preparing us more fully for the deeper, sweeter spirit of the time.

One of the most beautiful of all our customs here is the one termed "White Christmas." This is the time when the Y. W. C. A. members lay gifts, wrapped in white, around the big tree out by the Colonnade—the delicately flickering light from the tree sheds over us as singing our carols, we look on happy in our opportunities to be the givers. These gifts go to brighten and help those who would otherwise have no material Christmas.

After the program of music presented each year by our Choirs and Choral Club, usually together with the Glee Club of some other college in our auditorium, we collect in groups and go caroling. Up and down, and all around the town we go, singing and scattering our glad cheer. This is the "Grand Finale" of the season in school, but we only suppress the happiness in us till the day we leave for home, when it bubbles forth with renewed vigor and spirit.

Truly, here at S. T. C. Christmas is the time when our hearts sign with the angels of that other Christmas, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace and good will toward men!"

A Plea to Santa

Dearest Santa Claus,

We have been trying to find an un-mortgaged minute to write this letter to you for ages—this seems to be the opportunity. Hope you're not too busy to consider us chillen at S. T. C. You see, Santa, there are just lots of problems 'n' things we want. For instance, take those steps in front of Junior building. Whenever it rains they're slick as Jello. Why, Santa, even Pat fell down the other day. Couldn't you bring us some rubber covering? Certainly would appreciate it.

And there's that little matter of dating privileges. The Juniors would like to entertain their friends in their Junior parlor; but we really need another parlor. Isn't there something we can do? There're so many grand and unused places 'round here that we'd love our friends to see. How 'bout that now?

And speaking of steps, I know that if you visit S. T. C. at Christmas you'll have an insecure feeling mounting those steps leading from the Rotunda to second and third floors. They're shakingly inadequate for any of us heavier ones. Maybe we could have 'em done over, Santa. Don't you think so?

Oh yes, one more thing. This communication business. Please—another telephone—or even telephones! It takes such ages to get that call through.

Now, we're going to ask for something big, Santa Claus, we do so want an organ. Think of how lovely it would be.

And then to be practical, how about some work rooms for organizations around here? The Dramatic Club needs one sadly and Gamma Psi is in dire distress.

We know you'll do your best for us. And please don't think we're too wishful. Just fix us up fine.

How's about it Santa? Can do? Merry Christmas!

Love, and wishfully,
Just "us"

Can This Be Studying?

This Collegiate World

At-last-the-truth-is-out item: So that its football field would be just the right color to impress the crowd that attended the Missouri-Kansas grid duel a couple of week-ends ago, the University of Kansas dyed its field "auragreen" using 300 gallons of coloring to make the playing field a thing of beauty—at least until the dye washed out.

Women beware: The Tiger, undergraduate newspaper at Clemson College, has thrown its full editorial weight into a movement to stop co-eds from wasting the valuable time of Clemson men. Listen to this: "A good many girls have the mistaken idea that 'dates' are more appreciative of feminine charm if they are made to wait. The Tiger registers its protest. It will stand up for anyone who just leaves in disgust and let's that 'waiting' date wait."

Embarrassing moment: Greater Boston's untold thousands of debating fans were foiled a few days ago when they sat down to listen to a Harvard-M. I. T. word battle broadcast. Reason: Both teams had prepared negative arguments, and no one was ready to uphold the affirmative side. Result: Strauss waltzes were heard instead of the debate.

The Nazi-American bund has nothing on a new organization at the University of Cincinnati. Students have formed a Scotch-American bund, with members wearing identifying colors of burnt orange and green. When members meet, they raise their hands and say, "Hell, Adolph, what's the use-"

Daring youth, don't you think, with Mr. Dies investigating everything and everybody that assumes a foreign name!

Echoes from an Empty Space

A VISIT FROM SAINT NICHOLAS!

(With Apologies to Clement Moore)

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all thru Whitehouse,
Not a creature was stirring, not even a Freshman,
Mrs. Davis was cuddled by the fireplace with care.
In hopes that she might see St. Nick first.
Room 13 was nestled all snug in their beds
While visions of Frank danced thru Jackie's head
And Marie in her kerchiefs, and I in my curlers
Had just settled our brains (?) for a long winter's nap
When out on the campus there arose such a clatter
I sprang from my bed to see if it was Hampden-Sydney!
Away to the window I flew like a flash—
Tore open the shutters and turned my flashlight on them.
The moon on the crust of the new fallen snow
Gave a luster of midday to the objects (!) below;
When what to my wondering eyes should appear
But the Lashley!!! (Of all people)
In lil' Ole' Ford "T" Model, so airy and quick
I knew in a moment it must be Bowen's.
More rapid than eagles the girls suddenly came
And he whistled and shouted and called them by name.
"Now, Essie! Now, Sis! Now Ora and Rosalie!
On Tommy! Come on, Booty, come on, Bill and Albert!
To the tops of the steps to the parlor we'll go,
No, dash away, dash away, dash away all!"
As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
So, up to the Building the boys they flew,
With a sleigh full of toys,—and St. Nicholas, too.
And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof
The dancing and jitterbugging of Whitlock and Boothe.
As I drew in my head and was turning around,
Into the room St. Nicholas came with a bound.
He was dressed all in Harris Tweed from head to his foot
And his clothes were all scented with lavender and Edgewood tobacco!
A bundle of toys he had in a pigskin leather case
And he looked like an ad from Esquire's page.
His eyes, how they twinkled! his dimples, how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!
His drooling mouth was drawn like a bow
No sign of beard on his chin did grow.
A Keywooded pipe he held casually in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath.
He had a broad face and a manly physique
That reminds one of Sevier whom all the girls seek.
He was muscular and strong—and right jolly too,
And I smiled when I saw him—So did "Boo".
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head
Soon gave us to know we had nothing to dread.
He spoke not a word but went straight to his work
And filled all the stockings then turned with a jerk
And drawing deep on his pipe, exhaling thru his nose
Then giving a nod—like a spirit he rose.
He sprang to the Ford to the H.-S. lads gave a whistle.
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle.
But I heard them exclaim as they drove out of sight
"Happy Christmas to S. T. C.—See you again sometimes!"

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

Everywhere Christmas

"Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will toward men". It was almost two thousand years ago that the heavenly host shone around those wise men and sang God's eternal blessing to the world—"peace, good will toward men".

Those two thousand years have brought many, many advances in science. We have come a long way in education. Great strides have been taken in Christianity. We claim to be a civilized world and yet one wonders if we are.

In less than two weeks we will celebrate Christmas. Celebrating is our privilege because we realize freedom—we are Americans. In Germany Christmas will come not as the birthday of the Christ Child but as the birthday of the Yule Child. Germans have denounced God that is all loving to all nations for a God whose universe includes only Germany; a God whose "right hand man" is Adolph Hitler. This is the God that little children have been taught to worship—this is the God that they pray to for the preservatoin of Hitler before their school begins each morning. This is the God that makes German thoughts "right."

It was some six years ago that "the brains of Germany realized the impossibility for a Christian people to enter wholeheartedly into a war. It was then that the great drive against Christianity began. The Bible was rewritten to fit the needs of a warring country. Great celebrations were held to pay tribute to the old German God. And all this religion is based on "an eye and a tooth for a tooth" and we are right before and ahead of everybody else in the world."

The German people are ruled by fear; a fear of concentration camps and of sudden death as "traitors" to the German cause. Could six years take your religion away from you? Could six years make you pray to a "United States God." Thank God your answer is no! Our prayer is that in Germany there are still many thousands of people who worship our God and who go, though they must go in secret, to Him in prayer. It is our only hope for the preservation of Christianity in a country whose leaders want to make it pagan.

Long ago in Russia God was denounced and a medal given in every school for the child who would bring the most Bibles to school to be burned. They tore away the altars in the churches and strew bones and skeletons about the church saying "Look this is what happens to you after you die—there is no Heaven."

What a pitiful situation—what a dangerous situation these countries are in.

When the heavenly host sang "peace on earth good will toward men" we believe that God included all mankind. We believe he meant Germans, Russians, as well as English, French and Americans. We believe he meant yellow and back men as well as white men. Mr. Roosevelt, we are proud to say, caught the spirit of the blessing in his Good Neighbor Policy in which he advocates being friends with all nations and of all nations working for the welfare of all mankind. Mr. Roosevelt caught spirit when he offered our "Good Offices" to European nations as a means of mediating peace along warring nations.

Have we as individauls caught the spirit? Is there a place in our life for a "good neighbor" policy, or have we too become a part of a mechanical world which reaches only to grab.

"Glory to God in the highest and on earth, peace good will toward men." Oh, God, help us to hear the angels sing again this year.

Your Christmas List Really Complete

We gratefully exclaim on Christmas Eve, "There, my Christmas shopping is done!" We have such a strong sense of duty that compels us to give because we know we will in turn receive. We spend penny for penny, and make out our Christmas lists acordingly. We worry and fret if our budget doesn't allow us to live up to that standard. But have you ever thought of those priceless gifts you can give the year around—A smile, here, a helping hand there, or tiny words of cheer and kindness. Perhaps we could take a hint from the greatest giver — Christ—who gave his life for others. Then we could truthfully exclaim "Yes, my Christmas shopping is done."

We open here our treasures and our gifts;
And some of it is gold,
And some is frankincense.
And some is myrrh;
For some has come from plenty,
Some from Joy.
And some from deepest sorrow of the soul.
But Thou, O God, dost know the gift is love;
Our pledge of peace, our promise of good will.
Accept the gift and all in life we bring.

—Hubert H. Hines

Miss Sutherlin Is Guest Speaker To Kappa Delta Pi

Annual Banquet Follows Initiation Of 21 New Members

Miss Carrie Sutherlin, president of Arlington Hall, a graduate of Farmville, and at one time a member of the English Department here, was the speaker at the Kappa Delta Pi banquet held in the Tea Room on Friday, December 8.

Miss Sutherlin spoke on her trip to South America, which she took this past summer. She described the beauty of Rio de Janerio and Buenos Aires, and told the group a few of the many unusual customs of the people in various cities she visited.

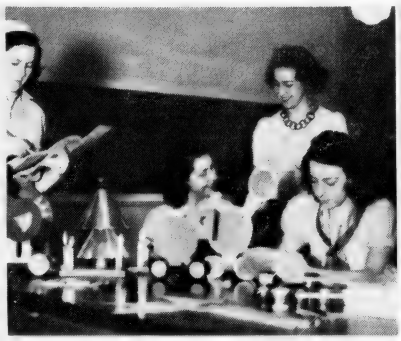
This banquet followed the initiation of twenty-one girls into Kappa Delta Pi, the national honorary fraternity in education. Those who became members were Lois Barbee, Alice Leigh Barham, Jean Clarke, Thelma Courtney Ollie Graham Gilchrist, Frances Walmsley Gee, Dorothy Maxine Hawks.

Mary Hille McCoy, Jennie Meggs, Jean Moyer, Lorana Moomaw, Caralie Nelson, Ruth Lea Purdum, Dorothy Rollins, Marion Shelton, Perrye Smith, Virginia Louise Smith, Mary Glenn Taylor, Jean Watts, Elizabeth West, and Martha Whelchel.

Members of Kappa Delta Pi, advisors, and guests who received invitations to the banquet were Ann Billups, Jane Rosenberger, Mary Walker Mitchell, Helen Jeffries, Josie Lee Cogsdale, Beulah Ettinger, Marion Harden, Frances Alvis, Evelyn Burford, Anita Carrington, Mildred Harry, Rosemary Howell, Mrs. Elizabeth Harris Loving, Martha McCorkle, Anna Maxey, Jane Powell, Mary Carrington Power, Doris Chesnut, and Mrs. Virginia Pullen.

Miss Pauline Camper, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Wynne, Miss Carrie Browning Taliaferro, Miss Alice Carter, Miss Helen Draper, Miss Carolyn Cogbill, Miss Carmen Clark, Miss Grace Moran, Miss Mary B. Haynes, Miss Sybl Henry, Miss Mary Clay Hiner, Mrs. John Martin, Miss Mary Nickols, Miss Frances Waters, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Coyner, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Holton, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Grainger, Miss Mary Peck, Miss Edna Bolick, and Mrs. Lois Frazier Davis.

Nobel Lecturer's Book in Library



Miss Mary Snead, librarian, calls attention to a new book written by Canon Charles E. Raven, who delivered an address to the Farmville student body last spring.

Canon Charles Raven's latest book, "War and the Christians," is now in the library. It was published in 1938 just as England realized war would soon be inevitable.

Canon Raven has been professor of Divinity, Cambridge University, since 1932. He is Canon of Ely and chaplain to the king. Dr. Raven was Nobel lecturer at Harvard and has also lectured in many colleges in the United States.

When Canon Raven spoke here last March he was touring the United States and speaking in colleges. He used the subject "Lead On, Oh King Eternal" and developed it along the line of teaching. Much of what he urged students to remember is found in his latest book.

The London Times for November 3, carries this notice in the Court Calendar, Buckingham Palace, November 2, "His Majesty was represented by Canon C. E. Raven (Chaplain to the King) at the Funeral Service of Canon E. A. Brooke (Chaplain to the King) at King's College Chapel, Cambridge."

Lucy Otey Davis works diligently at a toy while Peggy Bellus and Frances Pope smile over Frances' "latest". Helen Briggs looks busy—getting that fruit bowl ready for a gift.

Visit to Art Workshop Gives One Yuletide Spirit

If you think you're the only one around here who has acquired a smattering of Christmas spirit, you're wrong! But definitely. There's one place around here where Santa and his elves really seem to be at work. You'll find everything from trees to toys up in Miss Bedford's Art room, all in festive array for the holiday.

Maybe you didn't know it, but two shiny funnels on top of one another and decorated with stars make a fine Christmas tree for a center piece. And festive glowing candles amid holly and ivy are excellent portrayals of ye olde English Yule. There are no end of clever ways to brighten and cheer. But say, you'd better go up there one day now and see for yourself how Miss Bedford's students have decorated the tall windows in her room.

And this toy proposition. You'd more or less expect the "baby" class to tend to those, but to think that they'd make such a good job. It's amazing! We'll wager you've never before seen the likes of any of those "animules" they've got sporting around loose. Really, now.

Of course, there's the practical side in evidence, too. Hand decorated wooden bowls are much in view and the Crafts class is busy making portfolios, leather things, hand cut block printed Christmas cards, and so on. Really gift minded. Certainly looks like a merry Christmas for all concerned. But those oilcloth paintings that the advanced design class has one the bulletin board. No one's figured out yet what they're for. However, maybe you can—so don't forget to go up and look around in our gentil Santa Claus cave.

Eat, Gain 'n' Be Merry For Tomorrow You May Diet

Sa-ay, what's all this fuss about "figgers"? Someone stands thoughtfully before a mirror: "I simply must diet. I'm beginning to look like the fat lady in the circus!"—and then, in the dining room: "No thanks. I've already had my one roll. My diet says no, and although my tummy is taking a firm stand on the affirmative side, I won't rebuttal"—and so throughout the day (if you are gifted with more than the average supply of will power.)

But then night falls—and with it those "I'm simply starving" moments. Resistance breaks down, and feet patter down the halls like centipedes on parade searching for signs which read: "Candy, Nabs, Peanuts"—and then "figgers" be hanged!

Oh, yes. 'Tis a rather flourishing business that these girls carry on. Candy is most popular, but then nabs (cheese particularly) run close behind. Clark bars are most in demand while Snickers, Heath bars and Mr. Goodbars run a close second. On the average, a dollar is taken in per day; and that is not half bad!

But back to the hungry crew—the customers that make this business flourish! Morning comes and one wonders why last year's green skirt that formerly gave such nice lines doesn't make one look like Marlene Dietrich this year.

But such is life! So why not eat, gain, and be merry, for tomorrow you may di-et!

"He is the secretary of a chess club."

"But what does he do?"

"He reads the hours of the last meeting."

—Pitt Panther

European Art Now on Exhibit In Department

Reproductions of Best Masters Are Being Exhibited

An exhibit of Northern European art will be held in the art department December 11-18 for the students and the people in Farmville.

Colored reproductions of some of the best German masters of the fifteenth and sixteenth century, such as Durer, Holbein, and Carnach, will be shown. Miss Martha Coulling, head of the art department here, stated that among the paintings will be Durer's "The Apostles" ("John and Peter" and "Paul and Mark") and Holbein's "Erasmus".

Northern European Art exhibits are brought to American colleges through Overland Trust, a German organization which was established after the World War by German-Americans to bring about better feelings between the two nations. It was also desired that Americans should become acquainted with the best in German art. Carl Shurz, a German-American citizen, was a great deal responsible for the success of the movement.

Another exhibit of the series is being shown at Randolph-Macon this week, and the one here will be given next to Gettysburg College in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

Mr. French Plays Santa to Juniors

'Tis ten o'clock on Monday night and all through the Student Building Lounge excitement is in full sway. The fire is glowing and seated around it are members of the Junior Class, who are having a grand Christmas party. They are singing Christmas carols and listening to readings given by various members of the class. All of a sudden the door opens and in walks good old Saint Nick (who is Mr. French) with his bag full of surprise gifts for each girl; after which lucious hot coffee is brought in, but not without doughnuts and ice cream. And now they are leaving with each hand full of hard candy and happy as the day is long. (P. S. Santa Claus did the above Monday night, Dec. 11.)

Tongue Twisters

Fleeta fixed a few frozen fresh swiss-fish.

The soldier's shoulders shook sadly.

Try tying two tree twig tips trimly. —Everybody Reading

"This train will soon go under the river."

"Shall I close the window so the water won't come in."

—Pitt Panther

Chorus Groups Will Give Xmas Concert Next Sunday Night

Washington and Lee Glee Club Will Be Here As Guest Singers With the S. T. C. Choral Organizations

The Christmas concert presented annually by the Choral groups of the college will be given in the college auditorium Sunday evening, December 17, beginning at 8:30. The visiting Glee Club will be the Washington and Lee Glee Club, consisting of 93 voices under the direction of Professor J. G. Varner. Last year this organization won the contest over selected Glee Clubs of Virginia, Maryland, and the District of Columbia. A silver cup was presented by Fred Waring, the well known band leader, in Washington.

The College Choir, Choral Club, Junior and Senior A capella, and the Senior quartette will appear on next Sunday's program. These, together with the Washington and Lee Glee Club, will sing Christmas carols at the end of the program.

This promises to be one of the most typical of programs given by the music groups.

As on former occasions, there will be a silver collection at the door, and this year it will be turned over to the Washington and Lee Glee Club to take care of the expense involved in this trip.

The program as planned includes.

The Holy Child, Easthope Martin
Prayer from (Hansel & Gretel) Humperdinck
Senior Quartette
Tantum Ergo ..... Beobide
Junior A Capella Choir
Concordi Leetitia (Hymn to the Virginia. Latin Hymn of the XIV Century., harmonized and Arr. by Deems Taylor.
Ave Marie ..... Arcadelt
Welsch Coharl (Pen Park) Reese

Washington and Lee Glee Club
The Holy and the Ivy, Old English
Ding Deng ..... Old English
Holy Night ..... Adam
A'Capelle Choirs
Hymn for Christmas Day Goss
Group of French Carols
Willie, Take Your Drums Burgundian Carol, Arr. by Strickling.
Infant so Gentle, Gascon Carol. Arr. by Strickling.
Slumber Song of the Infant Jesus, Arr. by Dickinson
Lo, a Song of Cherubim, Bortnaisky
Washington and Lee Glee Club
Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring, Bach
Silent Night ..... Gruber
Break Forth Beauteous Light Bach
Senior A'Capella and College Choir and Choral Club

"This train will soon go under the river."

"Shall I close the window so the water won't come in?"

Reporter Gives Opinion of Cameraman

By Ernestine Meacham

Here's looking at you--through the lens of our camera! Aw, no, don't move, this ought to make a perfect shot--you on the dresser with your legs all tied up in a bowknot. Wait while we run call Virginia Worley to snap that for this week's Rotunda. There! (Sorry, pal, but we warned you not to try to imitate Miss Hanya Holm's dancing maidens!)

Why, yes, Virginia is the young lady of the cameras. We hear that she has five of them--one is a candid camera; so better watch your dignity and keep out of the ridiculous poses. Virginia has done some swell jobs for The Rotunda and really shows artistry in grouping for informal, natural pictures. More power to you, Virginia!

We have in our midst another photographic genius in the bud--this one is Ann Hurff. Ann was "bitten by the kodak bug" some years ago and even prints her own exposures. She just loves "fiddling around" with cameras, films, developments, and stuff. Ann is the proud possessor of a candid camera also, and if Mssrs. Dunbar-Daniels don't watch their step, she'll be a-stealing some of their thunder.

And we all know the snappingest of all snappers, who goes clickclicking all over the place every time there's anything big going on--Mr. Mac. He has a honey of a brand-new camera. Mr. French knows that's a good one, 'cause it took a picture of him and still works-- the true test of any camera (He says!) It's so fast that you can wiggle up and down when he's taking your picture--but don't try wiggling back and forth, or you'll look like somep'n you ain't! The science department owns one, and The Virginian owns two cameras. And don't let anyone tell you those things don't run into money. One of them cost eighty-seven dollars, one sixty-some dollars, and one thirty dollars. Mr. Mac is the main one who wanders around catching unique, attractive, interesting scenes for the annual, and he dosen't bother folks with "Watchthebirdie" or "Smile pretty now". It's their easy naturalness that lends such special charm to his pictures.

Nowadays S. T. C. seems just "broke out" with cameras. It is an awful lot of fun to search out the most lovely spots on and around our campus as backgrounds for our 'beauty to be struck" against. And when bigger and better snapshots are made and find their way to V. M. I., U. Va., and other college dressers, Farmville folks will be making them.

She Has a Date at Seven with Home

Home is just minutes away by telephone and the rates are so low you can call often.

Below are a few specimen rates for night (after 7) and Sunday station-to-station calls, which will show you how low the charges really are.

From FARMVILLE to—

Atlanta, Ga.	$0.80	Dallas, Texas	1.95	Richmond	.35
Baltimore	.45	Greensboro, N.C.	.40	Roanoke	.35
Blacksburg	.40	Lexington	.35	Sweet Briar, Va.	.35
Charlton, W.Va.	.50	Lynchburg	.35	Washington	.40
		Philadelphia	.60

Ask Long Distance for the rate to your home town.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia
(Bell System)

A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year -- DAVIDSON'S

Opinions of National Questions Are Revealed

96 Per Cent Oppose Third Term Election

A survey regarding opinion held by Farmville students was conducted in the college in an attempt to find what attitude existed on the campus with respect to present day issues of political, economic, and social concern.

The question "Would you like to see Roosevelt run for a third term?" revealed that 96 per cent of those interviewed did not wish to see Roosevelt be a candidate in 1940. Suggested candidates were Paul V. McNutt, Thomas E. Dewey, and John L. Garner.

In answer to the question "If England and Frances were in danger of defeat, should the United States send troops to help them?" 93 per cent voted in the affirmative. Predominant reason given was that if England and France were defeated America's own safety and security would no longer exist in such a state; and that through the efforts of the three, the world might be kept safe for democracy.

Relative to this question, the one "Should the neutrality law be changed so that any country at war buy war supplies in the United States?" was asked. In response to this 63 per cent wish the law to be changed. Belief that America is an interfunctioning unit in the world and that our every action affects the world political situation should cause us to change the neutrality law. If we do not sell war supplies, we are supporting the aggressor is the chief reason for changing the law.

In regard to whether college newspapers should limit their editorial stands to campus problems or should discuss national and international questions, 73 per cent favor national and international editorial stands. Especially argued was the fact that what college students think and the theories they are acquiring on the campus will definitely have a part in shaping the future of America.

The survey also revealed that 63 per cent of the students interviewed believe that college education should be mainly technical and professional training rather than emphasizing a wide cultural background.

Surveys will be conducted throughout the year on pertinent questions, and national surveys of all college students in the United States on questions of campus, national and international importance. Results will be published in order to give an idea of how Farmville students compare with other colleges in thoughts, ideas and beliefs.

The brightest of all third-year University of Minnesota lawyers is a blind student.

Two co-eds are members of the livestock judging team of Massachusetts State College.

Student Standards Works at Problems

Students Standards held its regular meeting Thursday, December 7, at which time plans were formulated to accommodate the dating problem. Discussions were made on the telephone system and the possibility of having a "freshman week" at the beginning of each school year.

Arrangements are being made by which Seniors may use the Cunningham Hall parlors for dating. When this is accomplished Freshmen will have the recreation hall and the Sophomores and Juniors the present Junior and Senior parlors.

Plans are being made by which the telephone system may be improved by having at least twenty telephones worked on the dial system installed at convenient places in school.

A committee is working on a plan by which Freshmen will come a few days in September before upperclassmen. In this way new girls will be enabled to become more acquainted to the school and their classmates before the upperclassmen arrive.

Miss Iler suggested a committee be formed to make arrangements to return gymnasium equipment to its place after the dances thus keeping the gymnasium orderly.

Alumnae Notes

Miss Mary Diehl, a graduate from this college is now studying art at the Peabody Institution. Although she has been there only a short time, she has been elected chairman of a committee in charge of decorating for a dance of the Play-Maker. Miss Diehl, sister to Mrs. Katherine Lancaster, now employed in the Registrar's Office, has had two articles of praise written about her in the "Peabody Reflector".

"Hitching Posts for Memories", written by Nelly C. Preston, graduate of 1899, will be presented to the library in the near future. The book is an account of a two year trip around the world taken by Miss Preston and her sister to whom the book is dedicated.

Mrs. E. H. Ould, the former Ethel Cole of Roanoke and graduate of this college, is now an accredited counselor of the Los Angeles Institute of Family Relations. She spoke at the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of Grace Covenant Presbyterian church in Richmond, Mrs. Ould graduated in 1901 and is an active member of the Alumnae Association.

"What's your favorite sport, doc?"

"Sleighing."

"I mean apart from business."

RUGS . . .
SHAMPOOED
CURTAINS . . .
STRETCHED TO MEASURE
BLANKETS . . .
GUARANTEED NOT TO SHRINK
KILKARE LAUNDRY
A Guardian of Public Health

Faculty Leave Town for Holiday

Will Make Tours From Mass., Fla., To Missouri

Many of our faculty members will leave Farmville for the forthcoming holiday season. Their destinations will be as far north as Massachusetts, as far south as Florida, and west to Missouri.

Miss Mary Peck, with her sister and nephew, will visit another sister in Coral Gables, Florida; Misses Bessie Jeter, Mary Barlow and Ottie Craddock will tour the state of Florida. Miss Pauline Camper is planning to spend the Christmas holidays in Salem with her relatives. Mr. Raymond French expects to go duck hunting on the Potomac River.

During the holidays Miss Virginia Bedford will visit in Columbia, Missouri; Miss Lucille Jennings in Charlotte, North Caroline; Miss Marjorie Booten, in Luray, Va.; Miss Lizbeth Purdom, in Blackshear, Georgia; Mr. Alfred Strick and Miss Olive Iler, in New York City; and Miss Grace Moran, in Washington, New York and Boston.

Dr. George Jeffers will attend a meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Columbus, Ohio. Dr. Edith Stevens plans to spend her holidays at her home in West Virginia; Miss Frances Waters at her home near Nashville, Tennessee; Mrs. Louise Fitzpatrick in Lynchburg; and Mr. E. C. Landrum in Ohio. Mrs. John Martin will visit her family in South Carolina and Mr. Martin's family in the Valley of Virginia.

Knitting Usurps Classes and Meals

Clackety-clack, clackety-clack. "Quiet in front." "Isn't Garbo's laughter intoxicating?" "Gee, I bet I dropped a dozen stitches!"

Why all the croy? There's a knitting craze in full swing. Here, there everywhere, you see signs of it: an unfinished sweater or sock; a ball of yarn, a bright and shiny needle (sometimes I fear that is what attracts so many of them). And they pop up in the most peculiar places with their work: in class, in bed, in chapel, in the movies at meals (I know personally several friends who can't eat because they're so in love with those two needles and that ball of yarn!)

Once in a while they do turn out a very nice piece of work, something actually sensible. Quite often they are destined to be Christmas gifts. Isn't that a sweet twohands!" And will those boys sentiment—made with my own fall for that line? Wow!

But—although I have commended you for the good work, don't forget this one very important point: don't send for the doctor to cure the fever until that sweater is finished!

Did You Know?

Students from five continents and 24 foreign countries are enrolled at Los Angeles City College.

The Woman's College of the University of North Carolina has a football team.

Massachusetts State College has the only two-year hotel stewarding course in the country.

It costs $56.50 to outfit a football player with first class equipment.

Indiana University has an eternal blaze in a Union building fireplace to symbolize the institution's "fire of hospitality."

Drake University radio students broadcast 370 shows a year over Iowa broadcasting stations.

The youngest member of the Texas legislature is a student at East Texas State Teachers College.

Cornell University student and faculty car drivers are required by the student council to buy liability insurance.

Betty Hawkins waits for Freshman Betty Sexton (with the tall pile there). She must be aiding her hallmates. Need any help? Prince Arnold and Mickey Back (with the bags) add a bit more to the laundry work.

Laundry Check-up Shows Apparel Gets "The Wash"

Commonplace though it may seem our Monday morning haunt, the laundry is as fascinating as a bee in a bottle. Its huge boilers and rollers the clouds of steam rising from pipes and the rows of ironing boards—all are props for the biggest production on the campus: the production of clean clothes. Want to hear something about it?

The present building was opened in 1914. This year there are 20 regular workers, an increase of five from last year. They are paid according to the number of pieces they do a day. They work five and a half days a week, from Monday until Saturday noon.

Socks are probably the most numerous articles of laundry sent with handkerchiefs and towels following close behind. There is no limit to the amount one person can send. Never are there two weeks or two months alike in the amount to be done. The week before the holidays was an especially big one for laundry, while the next showed a decided slump.

Let's follow a white shirt on its way to becoming clean. After it is left in the laundry on Monday, it is checked with the slip you have in your bag to be sure that no mistake was made. Then it is sent downstairs through a chute where it is separated from other articles. Along with handkerchiefs and other such articles it is put into bags and about 35 of these bags are put into huge washers. For 40 minutes it is run through cold water and soap. Boiling in hot water and soap for another 40 minutes follows. By this time it is ready for a boiling rinse in blueing water. The extractor goes to work then to wring it out. After being separated and starched, it goes back to the extractor and from there to the ironing board. The assorting room is next on the list, where it is rechecked by the same four workers who checked it on Monday and then it is put into its pigeon hole where the owners can find it. Clothing that is likely to fade is done by hand.

Besides accommodating 900 girls, the laundry also does the linen for the dining room and kitchen, the Tea Room and "Longwood." Three times a week tablecloths and napkins are done for the dining room and aprons and white coats for helpers in the kitchen. The number of tablecloths runs between 85 and 90, while there are from 925 to 950 napkins. Remember, each is done three times a week. Napkins create the biggest problem with their straightening and ironing. There have been as many as 300 napkins done for one party. And don't forget the 900 sheets, pillow cases and bedspreads taken in each week.

And who is responsible for all this? Oh, yes, there is someone—Mrs. Nunn—a person who knows her job from all angles. She's been here for 32 years seeing that we get our laundry done each week. When we went to talk to her, she was making out her pay roll for the previous day. She spends her days there in that little building, supervising the washing, and at the end, counting the number of pieces each ironer has done, to determine her wages—The payroll for the week before Thanksgiving was $137, though it's not usually that high. Her only request is to return, promptly, laundry that isn't yours. Numbers are easily confused, for instance, 96 and 69, depending on which way they are looked at. So, wake up, girls, and appreciate the laundry.

Methodists to Present King Arthur Pageant

"The Holy Grail", a Christmas pageant by W. Russell Dowie will be given in the Methodist church Sunday evening, December 17 by the Intermediate Department of the Church. The pageant presents King Arthur and the Knights of his Round Table, and the Holy Grail. The main theme is the dream of King Arthur at Christmas time. His dream is portrayed as he sleeps. Special selections will be rendered by the choir.

A. K. G. to Sponsor Alumnae Magazine Next Quarter

Staff Is Selected; Alumnae Group To Act as Advisers

Alpha Kappa Gamma, national organization for leaders, will publish an alumnae magazine in February. This magazine, the theme of which is service, will contain alumnae news dating back from 1895 in addition to present Chapter news and activities, and general campus news.

Helen Reiff, a senior from Lansdowne, Pa., will serve as editor and Johnny Lybrook, Caralie Nelson and Frances Alvis will be her assistants. The faculty alumnae on campus will assist the members of Alpha Kappa Gamma in obtaining the desired information which will be featured.

Business manager for the publication is Doris Chesnut, and her assistants include Martha Meade Hardaway, Eliza Wise, and Ruth Lea Purdum. Others working on the magazine are Isabel Williamson and Frances Ellett, art editors; Anna Maxey, Jane Hardy, and Dorothy Eades, typists; and Jane Powell, Dot Fischer, Marjorie Nimmo and Marie Eason, ways and means.

This is the first time that Alpha Kappa Gamma has undertaken the publication of a magazine of any kind. There are between five and six thousand alumnae of Farmville State Teachers College, and as many copies of the magazine as possible will be sent to the alumnae who can be contacted.

Miss Grace Moran, president of the Alumnae Association, and members of the alumnae board are advisers for the publication.

Each Hunter College (in New York) student spends an average of 1,650 hours riding subways during their four years in college.

With the Money You'll Save Traveling

HOME by GREYHOUND

IMPROVE your standing as a first-class Santa Claus this year. Chances are you can check off a large part of your Christmas list with the money you save at Greyhound's low fares for your trip home. Super-Coaches are warm and comfortable in any weather—and the crowd's always congenial . . . Get into the holiday spirit—get aboard a Greyhound Super Coach—get going! Merry Christmas!

Sample Round-Trip Fares

Charlottesville	1.75
Norfolk	5.35
Roanoke	3.60
Washington	4.80
Lynchburg	1.80
Richmond	2.10
Fredericksburg	4.35
Lexington	1.90

GREYHOUND TERMINAL
Continental Hotel Phone 78

Sports Slants

By PAT GIBSON

At first glance there seems to be a distinct lull in sports right now. However, a quick trip to the gym at 4 o'clock any afternoon will belie the deceiving eye. The girls are pounding away at basketball in preparation for the varsity and class team games which will get underway soon after the holidays. From all appearances, Farmville is in for another of its splendid seasons. Freshmen are right out there, too, getting their practices in early and often.

Golf school (which space prevented our going into ecstacies over before) has rapidly become the most popular sport in S. T. C. and why shouldn't it with all those brilliant colors to turn the trick? 'Tis indeed a "pick-me-up" after looking at classroom walls all day.

When a place has everything from green walls to an exasperating (You tell it!) "Pitch-It" game, it's really worth looking into. Look into it, we have—in fact, some people have dug into it— speaking, now, of the mats. Jane Powell has developed an aversion to the same — something about their being "throw-rugs". Taking the direct hits scored at the driving range, adding just a sprinkle of the "Pitch-It" game control and then culminating the whole business with a "putt, putt here"—well, it appears that the Farmville golf team will really be heard from come spring.

And now—back to the pool, a busy place these days. Water polo still continues as the game of the season. Again, Freshmen are right there with two or more full teams to their credit. Coming along splendidly, too. (Wonder what the upperclassmen will do when the challenges start flying.) But Sophs are coming—so watch out, Freshmen!

Besides water polo, a Freshman swimming team is being organized in view of the interclass meet and also the National Telegraphic Meet.

Life-saving is scheduled to start as soon as the holidays are over. Classes will meet once a week all through the winter quarter. (If you're interested see Nancy Pierpont.)

Saturday night, the gym was the scene of one of those "pick-up" basketball games. Everybody played. That is, everybody who wanted to. There wasn't a referee or any such bothersome person around so it was really just downright fun. Rules? Well, we haven't heard af any casualties so apparently everyone was quite fit (this being one of those "survival of the fittest" games! Basketball wasn't the sole activity down in these regions, though. Some energetic folk took to playing badminton, too—at least, we surmised as much when the "birds" started flying through the air.

There is some talk of a ping-pong tournament to be held in the near future. Fact is, some people are practicing already. Then too, play nights (remember last year?) will start right after Christmas. For the benefit of Freshmen—they're socials which are held on Saturday nights in the Student Building lounge and are sponsored by A. A. Bridge and various games are played and refreshments served, too. More fun!

This time next week will find the majority of girls already home, starting upon holiday adventures and events. We hope you all will play hard and then, come January 3, be right back ready to play (in the extra-curricular sense, of course) harder than ever.

Merry Christmas, everybody!

12 Girls Sign For Life Saving

Classes Will Begin After Xmas Holiday

Margy Rice, Peggy Hughes, Buff Gunter, Winnie Webb Buchanan, Anne Rucker, Harriette Walker, Patsy Fletcher, Shirley Turner, Frances Parham, Irma Graff, Cottie Radspinner, and Doris Leonard have signed for the senior life-saving course which will begin after the holidays. Classes will meet twice a week and 15 hours of work is required before the tests.

Courses in life-saving, offered at Farmville under the direction of Pat Gibson, swimming instructor, present an efficient program of valuable training in water safety. The two divisions of this work are life-saving and water safety instructorship and senior life-saving. Life-saving and water safety instructorship is highest ranking in the field. In order to participate in this group students must be 19 years old and must be senior life-savers. The chief purpose of this course is to give special training for teaching swimming as a camp counselor. The girls who are interested in taking the course must be ready to put in 15 hours of work in addition to senior life-saving requirements before receiving additional instruction under the direction of an American Red Cross representative. Classes are scheduled to start immediately after the Christmas holidays.

Basketball Schedule

4:30-5:30 ..... Wednesday
4:30-5:30 ..... Thursday

Mary Jane Ritchie is snapped just as she looks up and receives the last bit of instruction before "putting". The scene of action is the golf room, formerly the locker room.

Golf Instructor Heads Association

Winter Golf Association held its weekly meeting Thursday night in the school at 7:30, P. M.

W. G. A. has one hundred six members. Each member is advised to appear for instruction on her assignment this week.

It was decided at the meeting that officers would not be elected, but that Mr. Carroll Brown, golf instrutor, would be general head of the association.

Arrangements have been made made for those members who are teaching. They may have their instruction after 4 o'clock each day.

Dues should be paid on Friday of each week.

Golf Gossip

By Carroll Brown
Professional, Longwood

I know that everyone of you enjoyed your Thanksgiving vacation, and I hope that you all had a lot of fun. Some of you might be interested to know that the Poor Old Pro had a lot of fun, too. However, instead of painting the town we worked out on the golf school.

Lawrence (he's my colored boy, if you didn't know) got four of his cronies whose names Gray Mule, Side Pocket, Stocking Foot and Sic Red did not seem to interfere with their ability to move those lockers we have been wanting to get rid of. We moved the net also, and thanks to Mr. Graham were able to get some Honest-to-John bright red, blue and yellow paint, which we will now thank you to keep your cigarette stubs off. However, our real difficulty came in trying to reproduce a putting green that would really be green, but we did. So much so, in fact, that Lawrence told Gray Mule that he could cut it with a sickle next week. I don't think it looks that realistic, though, but believe you will like it better than the red clay I was afraid you were going to have to use to learn the gentle art of stroking the ball. The "Pitch-It" game has been placed in a section to itself and may now be used without beaning anyone practicing in the net and without having to chase mis-hit balls around the locker room. Trust that you will pardon the Old Pro's pride in this school, but if it isn't the finest in Virginia I'll let my beard grow and will give lessons in red flannels. We'll have the whole thing completed within the next few days and I'd like to have everyone come down and look it over.

Presume that you get weary of my trumpeting from the sport's page each week about the Winter Golf Association, but I think that a lot of you girls who would like to learn to play have not investigated the Association for some reason or other. Those of you who are interested will be very welcome to come down and talk to me about it. This association is a means to learn a lot about golf very reasonably. All I ask is that you pay attention and make a real effort to learn.

Well, I've gone and done it again. If you promised yourself that you wouldn't read this column you can say the same thing. So, if I don't see you in the school so long until next week and I ain't Winchell.

Notice

Play night will be held in the Student and Y. W. C. A. Lounge and in the gym on Saturday nights beginning after the holidays

Class Water Polo Teams Are Organized

Freshmen and Sophomores are busy practicing and making plans for water polo. As yet, no definite arrangements have been made, but practices have been scheduled as follows:

Freshmen:
4:00-5:00—Tuesday
Sophomores:
5:00-6:00—Thursday

Rose's
5-10-25c Store
ON THE CORNER
Let us help you with your Christmas needs

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Quality—Price—Service

HOTEL WEYANOKE
Regular Meals
A La Carte Service
Salads & Sandwiches

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

Martin the Jeweler
S. T. C. PENS AND BRACELETS
$1.25 UP

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop
"From old to new with any shoes"
Only First Class Material used
All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY MEATS
AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

NEWBERRY'S
5- 10- 25c STORE
MERRY CHRISTMAS

A & N. STORE
Buy your Christmas present for HIM from us.
Men's leather billfolds .. 75c & $1
Military set 95c
Wrsit watches $3.50
Men's scarfs 98c
Genuine leather Gladstone bag $5.95

To You a Merry, Merry
CHRISTMAS!
Thanks a million for your patronage.
Remember Brother, Sister, Mother and Dad. We've gots lots of Ideal Gifts.
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Charge it if you like

Our Sincere Wishes For Your MERRY XMAS
Truly we are appreciative for your patronage! We have the largest assortment of Gifts in Farmville.
SHOP AT
THE HUB DEPT. STORE
APPRECIATES YOUR PATRONAGE

Quality First
Last and Always
Knowingly, we have never used anything in our shop that was not first quality. Our operators are under constant, considerate and helpful supervision.
* Lowest Prices
* Best Services
Permanents
2.50 to 10.00
BALDWIN'S
Phone 159 Farmville's Best

COLLEGE SHOPPE
BEST SANDWICHES IN TOWN
Chicken Salad 10c
Ham Sandwich 10c
Hamburger with everything 10c
QUICK DELIVERY
CALL 200

CAMERA FILM
SPECIAL OFFER TO STUDENTS ONLY
6 ROLLS m-127 m-120 m-620 $1
SIZE—m-116 & m-616—5 ROLLS—
This offer made by one of the world's oldest film manufacturers, cooperating with us to encourage amateur photography and better pictures. Order at once and make this 75c saving.
also
SPECIAL STUDENTS FINISHING SERVICE
Mail your roll film (any make) to us for developing and printing and receive
8 DOUBLE SIZE PRINTS for only 25c
(16 Exposure Rolls 45c)
Send Coin with Film
MAIL PHOTO SERVICE
PRINCETON, IND.

Go To . . .
LYNN'S
JEWELRY STORE
For Bargains
in
XMAS GIFTS

Girls Play at Last Chance Prior to Exams

Annapolis, W. & L. Dances Attract; Many Go Shopping

"Pleasure before business" was the motto of those who took one final fling last week-end before settling down to studying for the long awaited exams.

Strutting around Annapolis to the tune of "Anchors Aweigh" were Elenora Faison, Martha Whelchel, Dorothy Menefee and Alice Leigh Barham who attended the hop at the Naval Academy Saturday night. But they'll have a hard time calming down to the ole routine of classes.

At Washington and Lee the 13 Club dance attracted Jeanne Sears, Virginia Rudd, and Gerry Ackiss, while Madge Horne started her holiday celebration at the Pi Kappa Alpha Christmas house party.

Those who spent a more intellectual week-end (with fun mixed) at a debate convention held at Winthrop College, South Carolina were Anne Cocke, Frances Keck, Elizabeth Anne Parker, and Marie Bird Allen.

All who tuned in on WRVA in Richmond, Saturday afternoon enjoyed the radio program broadcast by Helen Hoyer, Sara Chambers, Jean Moyer and Ada Clair Snyder, our talented musicians.

Do your Christmas shopping early! Quite a few present exchangers won't be caught without their gifts now, for among the crowds of shoppers in Richmond were Ruby Adams, Elizabeth Bellows, Nancy Bondurant, Helen Briggs, Martha Anne Baldwin, Sara Cline, Blanche Carper, Martha De Crawley, Genevieve Cooke, Ethel Carr, Dorothy Dawley, Ora Earnest, Anne Easley, Lillian German, Anne Lee Gardner, Virginia Howell, Peggy Hughes, Dorothy Johnson, Johnny Lybrook, Edna Mae McNeal, Theodosia McKenzie, Alice McAfee, Frances Mallory, Ethel Oast, Edith Nunnally, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Katherine Pugh, Billie Pittman, Virginia Lee Pettis, Catherine Radsbinner, Marguerite Russ, Clyde Saunders, Mildred Taylor, Marie Thompson, Nancy Wolfe, Harriette Walker, Dorothy Smith, Mary Martha Peery, Joice Stoakes, Peggy Lou Boyette, Barbara Tripp, Betty Youngberg, Shirley McCalley, Elizabeth Summerfield, Alice Siebert, Nancy Sale, Eloise Layman, Gertrude Hale, Forrestine Whitaker, Louise Phillips, Caroline Ferguson, Jennie Noell, Rosalie Coberly, Mary Gray Thompson, Betsy Owen, Eveline Looney, Elizabeth Rapp, Reba Woodbridge, Ellen Royall, Boonie Stevenson, and Helene Straus.

In Roanoke, enjoying the peace, quiet and comforts of home were Frances Ellett, Irma Graff, Betty Lucy, Louise Painter, Frances Rossbiss, Beverly Smith, Jean Scott, May Wertz, Dot Lawerence, Marie Utt and Helen Lewis.

Week-enders in Lynchburg were Lucy Blackwell, Gay Ward Brown who had as her guest Jane Engleby; and Marie Crowder, Polly Hughes, Eliza McDaniel, Betty McConnell, Jean Martin, Mildred Ottinger, Elizabeth Ralph, Helen Watts, Virginia Worley, Mary Louise Cunningham, Virginia Burnham and Baylis Kunz.

and a Happy New Year

SHANNON'S

Wishes you a very Merry Xmas

Give Early American

Old Spice for Christmas Gifts

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Sorority Notes

Sorority groups will culminate their social events of the year 1939 with parties of varied natures this week-end.

A. S. A. will have a buffet supper in their chapter room Sunday night.

Gamma Thetas are paging Santa to come up their way too.

Theta Sigma Upsilon, just to be different, are going to Longwood for a picnic.

Phi Zeta Sigma were guests of Miss Willie London at a tea at her home Friday, December 8.

Alpha Sigma Taus are going to make merry with their party in their chapter room on Saturday night.

Rotunda Staff Party

A cheery fire in Student Lounge will be the setting for the party Thursday night, December 14, at 9 P. M. planned for the Christmas party for The Rotunda staff.

Y. W. C. A. Entertains At Christmas Tea

Against a background of pine and candle-light the Y. W. held a tea in the Lounge Tuesday afternoon, December 12, from four to six. A Christmas tree and the manger scene added to the spirit of Christmas.

Elsye Berrye Yates led carol singing and Allene Overbey assisted by Rachel De Berry, Lucy Ellen Powell, Lillian Agnew, Ann Ellett and Frances Rosebro served.

Dot Newcomb, Imogen Claytor, Elizabeth Gunter and Dickie Lybrook received at the door.

Crews Borden, Margaret Carr and Polly Hughes were in charge of decorations.

A silver offering was taken at the door to further the work of the Service Committee.

Social Committee of Y. W. C. A. entertained Y. W. Cabinet and advisers at a Christmas spaghetti supper party Monday night, December 11, at six o'clock in Cunningham Hall parlor. Underneath a Christmas tree were gifts for everyone and pine and candles added to the Christmas spirit. Carol singing followed.

Pi Gamma Mu Will Social

Pi Gamma Mu's Christmas party takes place in Student Building lounge Tuesday night, December 12, at eight o'clock.

Marjorie Holt will talk on the history of Chrsitmas carols and Peggy Bellus and Helen Hoyer will sing several carols.

Mr Samuel Holton, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Coyner, Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Simkins, Miss Grace Moran, and Dr. J. E. Walmsley in addition to student memebrs are invited

Methodist Girls Guests at Party

Methodist S. T. C. girls were guests at a Christmas party given at the church by the Wesley Foundation, Sunday night, December 10. Gene Hardy Kilman was in charge of the program. Carol singing was led by Jean Moyer, and Allene Overbey told a Christmas story. Mary Katherine Dodson and Allene Overbey were in charge of the supper.

Home Ec Club Gives Da Kappa Girls Party

N. Y. A. girls who are living at the Da Kappa house were entertained at a Christmas party on December 5 by the Home Economics Club.

Rosa Courter gave a monologue, after which several games were played. Light refreshments climaxed the evening's entertainment.

Pi Kappa Sigma Has Annual Fall Banquet

Pi Kappa Sigma held its annual fall banquet at Longwood Friday night, December 8, at six o'clock.

Elizabeth Kent acted as toastmistress and Jo Ware, Elsye Berrye Yates, Boonie Stevenson, and Dot Eades gave toasts.

Decorations of cedar tipped with gold and silver, pine cones, and candles carried out the Christmas theme.

Miss Olive Iler, adviser, Miss Jane Royall, Mrs. Dorothy Epes alumna, and the three pledges, Anne Boswell, Madge Horne and Marion Mitchell, were present besides the active members.

Wednesday night at 9:30 and gathered in the new building you'll see the Seniors, who sad but true are having their last Christmas party at S. T. C. Around this season Christmas carols are the most popular forms of entertainment, and the Seniors will live up to the old custom. Another custom they are carrying out, is the one most of us like best, having plenty of good things to eat.

Sunday evening, December 10, a fellowship banquet was held at the Presbyterian Church. Following the banquet a program planned by Caroline Eason was given by the Presbyterian Student Association.

EACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.
Friday-Sat., Dec. 18-19
Paul Muni
Jane Bryan, Flora Robson
WE ARE NOT ALONE
Latest WAR SCENES
Netx Mon.-Tues., Dec. 1819
Penny Singleton
Arthur Lake, Larry Sims
"BLONDIE BRINGS UP BABY"
"Rhumba Rhythm" News
Next Wed.-Thur., Dec. 20-21
VIRGINIA FEILDER
GENE REYNOLDS
'BAD LITTLE ANGEL'
"Fools That Made History"
"Football Thrills of '39"

Kids for a Night

Association for Childhood Education will have a "kiddie party" Wednesday night in the kindergarten room of the training school.

Here it is time or Christmas parties and the Freshmen really show that they have the holiday spirit for they will gather in the "rec" Tuesday night at 9:30 for their first Christmas class party where there were games and songs a plenty and goodies for everyone.

A Welcome Gift

One of the most attractive Christmas packages—see it in the stores and order your Christmas Chesterfields now.

Chesterfields, with their real mildness, better taste and delicious aroma, give real pleasure to anyone who smokes.

You can't buy a better cigarette.

Christmas Chesterfields

in attractive Gift cartons

Copyright 1939, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

DON'T FORGET
VIRGINIAN DANCE

The Rotunda

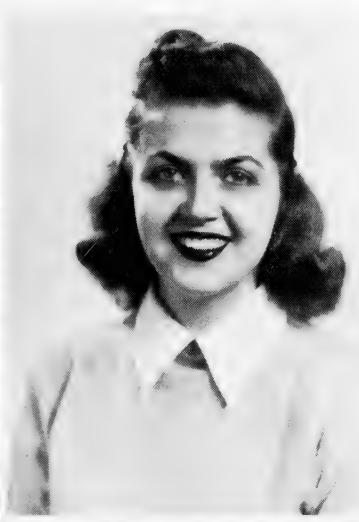
CONGRATULATIONS
MAY COURT

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 10, 1940 | NO. 12

Lula Windham Will Reign as Queen; Virginia Lee Pettis, Maid of Honor

Twenty-Three Girls Comprise Queen's Court



Essie Millner Is Elected to Court But Will Dance

Lula Windham, of Petersburg, and Virginia Lee Pettis, of Richmond, were elected by ballot of the student body on December 13 to reign as queen and maid of honor, respectively, of the 1940 May Day festivities. Both these girls, Seniors, have been in May Court for the past two years.

Twenty-three other girls, nine Seniors, seven Juniors, six Sophomores, and one Freshman will comprise the queen' scourt. Senior court members are Anne Billups, Norfolk; Marie Eason, Richmond; Chlotilde Jarman, Crozet; Elizabeth Kent, Columbia; Sara Keesee, Sycamore; Johnny Lybrook, Fincastle; Virginia Polley, Hollins; Frances Pope, Drewryville; Jane Powell, Hampton.

Juniors elected are Anne Benton, Locust Dale; Betty Fahr, Richmond; Anne Lee Gardner, Blacksburg; Louise Painter, Roanoke; Nancy Pierpont, Salem; Mary Gray Thompson, Tazewell; Nancy Wolfe, Lynchburg; Elsye Berrye Yates, Suffolk.

Sophomore attendants are Peggy Bellus, Flushing, N. Y.; Anne Boswell, Petersburg; Nancy Naff, Roanoke; Cottie Radspinner, Richmond; Mary Lou Shannon, Richmond; May Wertz, Roanoke. The Freshman representative is Jerry Smith of Newport News.

Virginia Lee Pettis, of Richmond, who will attend as Maid-of-Honor

Lula Windham, of Petersburg, who will be May Queen.

New Girls to Teach For Winter Quarter

Practically abandoning classes, a new group of girls have taken over duties as practice teachers for this quarter.

Emma Louise Crowgey, Eleanor Hutchison, Barbara McCaskill, Anne Rucker and Evelyn Pankey are teaching the first grade at the Farmville Elementary School. Elizabeth Boatright and Blanche Carper have the second grade; Nellie Dodson, Betty Grieg, and Eleanor White, third grade; Katherine Edwards and Henrietta Dawson, fourth grade; Louise Allen, Frances Martin, and Ruby Hubble, fifth grade; and Eliza Wise and Pauline Scott, sixth grade.

At John Randolph Marie Crowder teaches first grade; Martha Ann Baldwin and Sara Boothe, third grade; Eloise Layman and Dorothy Lee Wood, fourth grade; and Nette Davis and Billie Pittman, fifth grade. Olivia Stephenson and Rosemary Howell teach Home Economics.

Ruby Adams, Jean Clark, Louise Palmer and Elizabeth Wilkinson are working in the physical education, English, History and Mathematics fields, respectively, at Worsham.

Those at the Farmville High school are Shirley Stephens, Jane Rosenberger, Dorothy Davis, Betty Webb, Vivian Anderson, Jean Watts, Jane Powell, Kay Horsley, Mary Mahone, Emil Ellis, Caralie Nelson, Ruby Henderson, Sara Keesee, Isabel Williamson, Martha Flannagan Wilson, Betty Hardy, Marjorie Nimmo, Jane Hardy, Elizabeth Cline, Kitty Watkins, Josie Lee Cogsdale and Jerry Hatcher.

Winning Short Story Will Be Published In January Colonnade

Judges for the Short Story contest now being sponsored by the Colonnade are Miss Lucile Jennings and Mr. James M. Grainger from the English department; Allene Overbey and Helen Reiff from the Colonnade staff; Emil Ellis from the student body.

The winning story, which will receive a prize of five dollars, will not be known until it first appears in the next issue of the Colonnade to be released the last of this month. The second and third prize stories, receiving three dollars and one dollar respectively, will be published in the following issue. All other stories reaching the final judging, will be published in the remaining issue of the year.

Appearing in the issue announcing the winner of the contest will also be an article by Dr. Simkins, a ballad by Mary Mahone, and an answer to the poem appearing in last month's issue by the Hampden-Sydney K. A. Frances Pritchett will be in charge of the humor section, taking the place of Fredna Armfield, who failed to return after the holidays.

Nancy Dupuy Is New Sophomore Secretary

Nancy DuPuy, a transfer, was elcted secretary of the sophomore class succeeding Betty Lucy, who did not return this quarter.

Nancy transferred from The Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, in Greensboro. She has attended this college since last fall. While a student at W. C. U. N. C. she was on the varsity basketball, baseball and hockey teams. Also she was a member of the choir and swimming club and participated in Y. W. C. A. work.

Snow, Ice, and Sleigh Bells Attract Girls from Studies

There can be on doubt in any of our minds about the real arrival of winter. After several brave attempts to snow during the earlier winter months, it has finally and truly succeeded this week to be the heaviest snowfall in the last several years. Beginning in the late afternoon of Jan. 8 and continuing through half the night, the frozen ground was soon covered over with a smooth white blanket.

What youthful spirits may have been dulled by the return to school and work after delightful Christmas holidays were soon revived by the silently falling flakes. Nor could some resist donning coats, galoshes and hoods and going out the first night of the snowfall.

It hasn't been unusual around school this week to see red-nosed lasses striding around in riding pants, boots and unbecoming knee-length socks — practically anything to keep out the cold penetrating air. High excited voices can be heard from the direction of Buffalo hill where the winter sports enthusiasts have been flocking in fair defiance to the low temperatures.

For those who have an appreciation for the beautiful, what more could be asked than the trees that stand on our campus draped in pure white? The green of the shrubs showing through the white makes a picture that inspires the least artistic among us to paint.

There is a place for humor too to be found in this sudden outburst of nature. It has definitely brought out in pedestrians balance, or lack of it—in most cases. A slip of the foot, and an undescribable catastrophe might be the results. Nothing makes so necessary keen concentration than trying to make your way slowly and carefully down a slippery sidewalk and at the same time have to dodge snow balls flung from every direction. Then of course, you have to send back one in return for the one you got square in the head. All of this requires a due amount of precision.

All this snow has definitely added a certain amount of flavor to days filled with classes and work. From remarks heard around campus the longer the hills stay packed with slippery ice—the tree remain draped in the lovely stuff—well all the better and more sleigh rides!

Robert Frost Lecture Postponed by Illness

Robert Frost will not speak here on January 11 as had been planned. Mr. Frost wired Beorc Eh Thorn on Friday, January 5, that he would not be able to keep the engagement due to illness. Mr. Frost, however, will speak at a later date, which has not been announced yet.

It is the effort of Beorc Eh Thorn, honor society in English, to bring some noteworthy person in the field of literature to our campus each year. John Erskine and the late Ricrard Halliburton have been recent guests of the society and school.

Rotunda Business Staff Adds Three

Mary Katherine Dodson, Lillian German, and Texie Belle Pelts have been added to the business staff of the Rotunda this quarter. Invitations were extended to these girls following an apprentice period lasting throughout the fall quarter in which they showed ability and interest in the work.

The date for the 8th annual Mardi Gras dance has been changed from February 13 to Tuesday, February 6.

Two Pi Gamma Mu Delegates At Meet In Philadelphia

Mary Mahone and Doris Chesnut attended the seventh annual convention of the national Social Science Honor Society, Pi Gamma Mu, in Philadelphia, December 26, 27 and 28. The convention was held at Hotel Benjamin Franklin where the opening session was at 3 p. m., December 26

Mary was chairman of the credentials committee and Doris was a member of the nomination committee. They were the only delegates present at the convention from an undergraduate womans college.

Dr. J. E. Walmsley, local adviser of Pi Gamma Mu, attended the annual luncheon at the Garden Terrace Room of the Benjamin Franklin on Wednesday.

Many interesting speakers were present. Among those outstanding were Dr. John Donaldson of George Washington Univqrsity, Dr. Pitirim A. Sorokin of Harvard University, and Dr. Charles A. Ellwood of Duke University.

Virginian Sponsors Dance January 20

January 20 has been selected for the date of the dance sponsored by The Virginian, college annual.

"Southern Serenaders" will furnish music for the occasion. Tickets which are fifty cents per person will go on sale next week.

Infirmary Schedule

The following changes have been made in the office hours for infirmary inspection

Daily—8:45-9:15 A. M.; 9:45-10-15 A. M.; 2:30-3:30 P. M

Sunday—9:30 A. M

There will be no Saturday P. M infirmary office hours, except by appointment which may be made for other times also.

"Mery Engelond" Is Theme of '40 May Day Fete

Student Committees Will Direct Dances, Plan Costumes, Etc.

Celebration of the coming of spring by peasant and noble alike in "Mery Engelonde", will be the theme for 1940 May Day festival to be presented in the Longwood Dell on Saturday, May 4.

Dancing on the green will precede the entrance of the court and her attendants. After the coronation the court will be entertained by tournaments, contests, and dancing.

Members of Orchesis, honorary dance group, will direct the dances for the festival. May Wertz is in charge of the Music Committee, and Blair Goode and Virginia Polley are co-chairmen for the costume committee.

Dot Rollins, heading properties, has announced her committee comprised of Mildred Morris, Virginia Simmons, Lillian German, Thelma Courtney, and Libby West.

Essie Millner, who played a character lead in "Maye Daye in Mery Engelond", presented in 1938, is general chairman for the presentation. Sara Keesee is business chairman of arrangements.

Mrs. Louise Fitzpatrick, physical education instructor, and Miss Leola Wheeler, speech instructor, are faculty advisers for dancing and pantomime. Miss Tupper will help plan costumes.

This year's theme, similar to the 1938 one, will feature changes in the dances and costumes

Junior Production Set for Next Week; R. Courter Chairman

"It Can't Happen Here (But It Did)" will be presented by the Junior class, January 17, as their annual class production. Rosa Courter is general chairman of the performance. The play was written by Ruth Lea Purdum, Florence Lee Marian Heard, Jean Upshur, Beonie Stephenson and Caralie Nelson.

Assisting committees will be advertising with Dorothy Rollins, Anna Johnson, Jack Cock and Anne Cock; tickets, Dot Menefee, Forrestine Whitaker and Mary Marshall Prosise are in charge of music. Other committees are staging, Dell Warren; lights, Anna George, and properties, Harriet Haskins.

Fifteen Girls Enter At Winter Quarter

With the opening of the Winter Quarter for 1940 fifteen new girls registered. They are Estelle Broda, Portsmouth, senior; Dorothy Brookfield, Richmond sophomore transfer from Mary Washington College; Margaret Finney, Accomac, freshman; Mrs. Elizabeth Guthrie, Farmville; Marie Hamlin, Appomattox, junior, Helen Harrington, Norfolk, freshman.

Virginia Musselman, Arlington, freshman; Murriel Pippin, Freemont, N. C., freshman; Bunnie Robbinette, Big Stone Gap, junior; Grace Shelton, Chase City, freshman; Grace Wallace, Richmond, transfer from Pan American Business School; Lois Wilkins, Dumbarton, sophomore.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO · BOSTON · LOS ANGELES · SAN FRANCISCO

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant ..... Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmondson, Mildred Harry, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Agnes Pickral, and Janelle Shelor.

Jean Watts, Mary Louise Cunningham, Caroline Ford, Mariam Jester, Shirley McCalley, Nancy Naff, Sarah Cline, Gerry Ackiss, Bridget Gentile, Elizabeth Rapp, Evelyn Thorington, Dot Sprinkle, Amy Read.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson, Frances Pope.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd Jean Upshur, and Thelma Courtney.

The student body, faculty, and administration wish to extend their sympathy to Miss Mary White Cox on the death of her sister.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 10, 1940

Recipe for a Happy New Year

Happy New Year! What does that gaily flung expression mean to you? When you shake off the tinsel and frippery, do you think of a Happy New Year here at school? Do you relish really getting down to a little intellectual pursuit and taking time out for good books and a little "uncalled for" parallel now and then. Doing those things that matter—how about it?

Now is the time to cooly face the future . . . while the year is young and the calendar presents a broad vista for you to stake new claims. Daily assignments once done are so much gain; when left undone, they constitute the well-known millstone. Proper use of your study hour, a good portion of conscious effort and a sprinkling of spice to the mixture should bake well—temperature '41—The result will give you a well done "Happy New Year." Care to try our recipe? Good luck!

Orchids in Order

Orchids are in order! And speeches of tribute and pompous medals! eThere are celebrities — athletes of henceforth S. T. C. repute—in our midst! We want to make it known that we appreciate their accomplishment and their super-super attitude of fair play and good sportsmanship. Here's to our faculty and our students who-don't-know-how-to-play-basketball teams. For good playing and a grand game, we would like to congratulate each participant. Such spirit, good fun and sportsmanship as they portrayed make us doubly sure and congratulatory when we say "orchids are in order."

To Our "Cute Girls"

Saturday night when I came up from the Rec I said to myself, "I've got something on my mind to say and intend to find a way to say it."

I'm sure that S. T. C. means as much to you as it does to me, and, if you stop to think for just one moment, I am sure, too, that you will agree with the content of this article.

What do you say we have a bull session? Don't you believe that if we did not abuse the few privileges of our present dating system, that there might be some day the fullfillment of the dreams of more and better ones? How many times have you resented being called a child? Well, you're just confirming it when you act indiscretely. Shall I be brave enough to ask if you do it at home?

Seriously, girls, do you like to make your entrance by bumping down the steps because of the black-out in the Rec? Why, suppose he turned out to be a "Timid Pete" and dashed out—what would you do for the next six months?

The Rec seems to be over run with that atrocious weed (better known to you as the "clinging vine"). What do all of the attractive vines do? Wither? They are forced to, it seems to me, for they aren't interested in the lesser art of dating—and it is an art!

Of course, you have seen the pictures on the bulletin board of the London "black-out". Do you see any resemblance to that of our Rec? Maybe we could give them a few pointers since it was our idea first—we'll even give the whole system to them; we don't need that.

Ho-hum—the big hand has passed the little one far too many times for one day, so shall we cut our sessions short and say goodbye to "lights out" in the Rec. After all, that's just a slam on our personalities—we can keep them interested without that.

Ima Hoping

Survey Made of Presents Received

Well, Happy New Year and all that sort of thing. But don't forget that two weeks holiday celebration known as Christmas. Gifts fascinate us so we wondered what you all had gotten. Hence, a "Yoo Hoo Survey" and a "Room to Room Canvass" of 89 per cent of the student body and here's what we got . . . or they got or something . . . anyway.

1. 20 per cent received hose.
2. 3 per cent received books.
3. 9 per cent received slips.
4. 18 per cent received perfume.
5. 10 per cent received lipstick.
6. 17 per cent received candy.
7. 11 per cent received school jewelry.

Thusly we see that Santa still keeps a goodly supply of all things that our girlish hearts desire and looks as if we came out all right.

N. E. A. Tells of Problems Facing Rural Teachers

In September of last year the National Education Association issued a bulletin through its publicity section which constituted the accurate results of a nation wide survey of the rural teacher situation. We present to you some vital excerpts of this article, which makes keenly aware of a situation we may meet.

"Half the nation's teachers work in farm and village schools. Therefore, the average teachers' college student, struggling to stretch a thinning budget from freshman day to commencement, may well ask what he may expect from a rural teacher's income in the way of absorbing any deficit that may remain as a hangover from college days. Also he may be interested in what a rural teaching career will offer in the way of a home, a comfortable living, an automobile, life insurance and support for a family, among other things.

"Interested in this matter too, the National Education Association asked 11,000 teachers in rural communities throughout the nation what they owned and owed, where they lived and how. The United States Census definition of rural was accepted—any community of 2500 population or below.

"So through the modern crystal ball, the selective survey, meet the average rural teacher! Suppose the one whom we see teaches in a one-room school.

"His salary is about $675.

"His boarding house is two miles from the school.

"The chances are two to three that he neither owns nor is buying a car.

"He supports one dependent.

"Chances are three to two that he has attended college two years or more.

"Chances are three to two that he sleeps in a cold bedroom in winter, and two to one that he does not have the convenience of running water.

"Chances are one to three that he will go to summer school next year.

"The salary of the rural teacher is often too low to enable him continually to 'keep up with the times' as any good teacher must.

"Because educators try to keep professionally alert, they are frequently out-of-pocket. The average rural teacher after seven years of experience has saved only $350—a saving made less comforting by a debt of $200 and less than $1500 in life insurance to pay doctor's bills and funeral expenses and to settle his affairs in case of death.

"The survey of the National Education Association disproved a time-worn excuse for paying lower salaries to women than to men. Women as well as men have dependents. The single women have more dependents to support than single men, and married women teachers in rural communities are on the average burdened with the entire support of more than one person. Women frequently are forced to find boarding quarters in uncomfortable homes where an unheated room, the lack of a telephone, the absence of modern conveniences are often distinct handicaps to good school work. Nearly half of the unmarried teachers in rural districts have one or more roommates, a condition which interferes with proper work and rest. Such conditions are partly responsible for the fact that a third of the single teachers in one-room schools spend their week-ends out of the school district.

"The NEA survey disclosed recent improvement in the qualifications of teachers in rural schools. Nearly all of the rural teachers have attended college two years. Forty per cent have college diplomas.

The nation-wide survey made by the NEA is a part of the organization's plan to promote the welfare of rural teachers and to improve educational opportunity in the country schools of the United States."

"Mike" College Picks . . .

Thursday, January 11

10:00 p. m. Glenn Miller, Andrews Sisters for Chesterfield—CBS

10:15 p. m. My Heart's in the Highlands—Columbia Workshop—CBS

Friday, January 12

9:00 p. m. Johnny Presents—Johnny Green's orchestra, variety—CBS

Saturday, January 13

4:00 p. m. Bull Session—DePaul, Wisconsin Universities—CBS

6:30 p. m. What Makes the Movies Tick?—CBS

9:45 p. m. Saturday Night Serenade—Mary Eastman—CBS

12:30 a. m. Bos Chester—CBS

Sunday, January 14

4:30 p. m. Pursuit of Happiness—Ethel Merman, Bert Lahr, Burgess Meredith, Lon Chaney, Jr.—CBS

10:00 p. m. Ellery Queen's Adventures—The Woman in Black—CBS

10:30 p. m. Primrose Quarter—Beethoven quartet, Opus 131—NBC Red

Monday, January 15

8:00 p. m. Tune-Up Time—Kostelanetz, Tony Martin, Mary Small—CBS

Tuesday, January 16

9:30 p. m. Concert in Rhythm—Raymond Scott's orchestra, Nan Wynn—CBS

10:00 p. m. Glenn Miller, Andrews Sisters—CBS

11:05 p. m. Gene Krupa—NBC Blue

Wednesday, January 17

10:00 p. m. Glenn Miller, Andrews Sisters—CBS

10:30 p. m. University of Pennsylvania Bi-Centennial—CBS

Echoes from an Empty Space

Here we are back on the job again after a beautiful round of holidays, dancing and partying. From the looks of things Santa's supply of diamonds didn't fall short. The lil' Summerfield gal is sportin' a mighty purty one and so is the Glasgow. (Seems like the Elizabeths have them.) Buck is chure proud as punch of hers. Have you seen Boots Baldwin's? And speaking of miniatures, Santa forgot to bring the biggest rounder of the Sophomore class one. Can't figure out what happened. It's rumored about that the Hawkins child's little blue stone in her ring is gonna change color in the near future.

Christmas brought about a few losses like Jean Scott and Freddie and Frances Pope and also a few additions like the petite little Stone girl and the young miss who was escorted to school and the Treasurer's office by two young men. Santa brought the "terrible terriblers" water guns. Any minute you can expect them to give you a good watering. Among these gun molls are Ebel, Harper, Owen and Parham. Aren't they enough? For inside info on the Willie Martin-Jane Lee Hutcheson affair speak to the editor or Peggy Allen. Santa Claus brought her to Willie for Christmas. We wonder if Dozzie got the promised box of switches Polly promised him for Christmas? Helen Jeffries has a remarkable New Year's resolution: to sleep more this year. May Winn says yes to that resolution, too. Mike says his resolution for '40 is to love Tech less and Eugenia more. Good idea. Everybody is renewing acquaintances again. Billy is still after Marian Mitchell these days. Their love is still a game of hide and seek.

At snow and snow-balling, S. T. C. spirit is undaunted. For instance, take T. Bowen and his open window Ford. Just the target for the Layman's snowballs. The old hill was crowded with sleigh riders. The Earnest can out sleigh anybody. Robert Taylor was there but Mildred Harry wasn't. So was Shuikcum. Tynes and Madge are renewing acquaintances after such a long time. Ora Mayo was recently visited by W. & L. And it wasn't on a weekend.

We are sure glad to see all the girls studying so laboriously. Betty Beale says her resolution is to think more about her books and looks. Kaki is gonna out-do us all (including the faculty in basketball.) She went out for practice Monday. And so on the subject of basketball, we must say the game between the faculty and the students was swel-el-egant! Mr. Bell, the perfect water boy; Messrs. Landrum and Coyner, oh so dignified; and the cheer leaders be awarded their monograms right now! Fact is, we thought it a splendid event. We hand you our congrats and nosegays.

Back to the holiday affairs, you might ask Liggie why the VMI seniors wore tux instead of uniforms to the Roanoke Club dance. Gay Ward did the round of dances at home and away from home. As well as did Margaret Carr and Anne Williams. Did you hear about Bro Waters after the Portsmouth Club dance? How about it, Jeanne Sears?

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

Mr. Roosevelt Speaks . . .

Many had hoped that Roosevelt might throw some light on the subject of 1940 presidential election in his opening speech to Congress last week; many went so far as to hope that he might come out in the open and say whether or not he choses to break the tradition and run for a third term. These many were disappointed. The President's speech gave no hint to the election. It was neither a swan song nor a political speech for either himself or the Democratic party. It was certainly not the most "brilliant" speech that he has made but it was packed with such good sound sense that the popular commentator, Dorothy Thompson labelled it the "wisest" speech of his administration. It was enthusiastically received by the Democratic party and even the Republicans could make but few adverse criticisms.

Asks for Cut . . .

Mr. Roosevelt in his budget speech recommended a cut of $1,300,000,000 in emergency relief agencies explaining that he believes industry can take care of the 500,000 WPA workers, the 106,000 NYA people and 65,000 CCC men which the cut will necessarily put on the unemployment list.

He advocated a tax levy of $460,000,000 during the year to start paying back the deficit. Mr. Roosevelt said he believed an attempt to balance the budget in a single year foolish and said that he strove only to "taper off" the debt.

"I constantly marvel", the President said, "at the glib generalities to the effect that if one has but the will to do so anybody can reduce government expenditures by vast sums sufficient immediately to balance the budget. It costs nothing to make such statements and they can be decorated to fit the applause of many an audience."

"But it is an old, old story," he said further, "of the man who loves to utter generalities and change the subject abruptly when he is pinned down to bare facts."

The President expressed his desire that critics will abandon such "generalities" and show specifically where further cuts in government expenditures could be made.

Stating that the American people felt it necessary for the nation's security, Mr. Roosevelt asked that the sum for defense be raised to from $300,000,000 to $1,800,000,000. He also asked that Congress raise the social security sum.

"The Nation's Asset" . . .

Mr. Roosevelt strove further to convince a packed Congress and thousands of people listening in on the radio that we must not consider the money spent by the United States government as a loss, but as a gain by saying "When the increase in the national debt is viewed against the background of what was accomplished by the growth of usual physical assets and of effective national earning power, and by the strengthening of the nation's credit and morale, there is no economic ground for anxiety, so far as the national debt is concerned as to the nation's future."

With the Presidential election so close at hand and with so many men aspiring for nomination this session of Congress promises to be an interesting and perhaps to casual observers an "entertaining" one. Every man is for himself because back home the "folks" are watching him. He too, has to be re-elected this year and that's the biggest business a Congressman has. This session promises to be a conservative one. Even New Dealers will probably remain "somewhat" quiet because they don't want to have to answer too many questsions.

Mr. Hull, if the war lasts through the summer, seems the most logical candidate for the election.

Sports Slants

By PAT GIBSON

Some seven or more days having passed since our return to these sheltered walls (days well utilized in securing lost sleep) we should, by this time, be all pepped up and ready to go. And go it is—this, the winter terms, appears the "goingest" one ever, not only in the field of sport but in virtually everything. However, sports being my lot, there's

Basketball

Great is the only word for it as the constant activity in the gym would seem to indicate. Varsity selections are being made this week so you ambitious folk—take heed and show your stuff. Elsewhere on this page the varsity schedule and also practice schedule are printed. Check and double-check! Class games are no longer a mere vista of the future but are fast becoming a pertinent issue. There seems to be a general trend toward "little class spirit", maybe this will liven things up a bit and revive that old "fight". As usual the Freshmen are out making a fine showing for themselves. (To call the upperclassmen sedentary might be disparaging but nevertheless true.) Whether a player or not you are needed. Learning the game is simple and playing is fun.—What more can we ask?

No one who witnessed the Faculty vs. Students game Friday night can deny that the game is fun. That, as the saying goes, "took the cake." (The Faculty, however, seem to have taken the ball and put it in the basket to boot, the final score being 17-14 in their favor.) We are still hearing echoes of "What grand sports the faculty members are!" and the like. If everything goes well there'll be another such contest next year. All of which brings us to These snow days make one have strange dreams—dreams of many well-known and beloved faces peering from the icy (but, NO) regions of the pool. These are but dreams—we hope. Confidentially, the only icicles present are those which hang from the roof—outside our cozy domain. Big doings are underway in the aquatic field. The annual interclass meet which counts toward the Color Cup will take place on Februray 1 (read all about it); senior life saving starts this week; water polo practices are on schedule and last but not at all least, the big event of the year, National Intercollegiate meet has been tentatively scheduled for February 16 and March 5, on Friday and Tuesday, respectively. That's a big enough order for anyone—even swimmers in midwinter. Plans are being made for something new and different in the interclass struggle this year. Don't miss it, and above all—swim in it!

Swimming

Golf

Mr. Brown, our golf "Santa Claus", was mighty busy during the holidays planning new things for the school. Classes have been organized into groups which meet for instruction on specific nights i. e. Seniors, Wednesday, etc. Later on, class teams are to be selected, all of which will eventually lead to a real "honest-to-gosh" tournament. Miss Iler and Mr. Brown have gotten together and are offering prizes to the winners of the semi-monthly "Chip-it" and "Putting" ladder tournaments. There will be a great deal more about these later—in the meantime—keep practicing!

Miscellaneous

There now remain in the offing the annual ping-pong tournament and volley ball class games. (Too, play nights 1940 style, will be inaugurated on Saturday night. Student and Y. W. lounges are the scenes of activity. Sue Owen, who is in charge of these socials, will give further information to anyone who wishes it.) Now's the time to start tidying up for tenis in the spring and this is "opportunity in disguise."

Latest, or rather most recent addition to the recreation-athletic program, is the newly organized Riding Club which is headed by May Wertz. They're planning some fine times and everything sounds like great fun.

Sports Calendar

Jan. 26—Basketball practice game
Feb. 1—Swimming, interclass meet
Feb. 2—Basketball, William and Mary Ext.
Feb. 16—Swimming, Intercollegiate meet
Feb. 22—Basketball, William and Mary
Feb. 24—Basketball, East Randford
March 5—Swimming, Intercollegiate meet
March 8—Basketball, Madison College

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Quality—Price—Service

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

R. C. Life Saving Course Starts Friday

Seventeen girls have enrolled for the Red Cross senior life saving class which is scheduled to get underway on Friday, January 12 at 4:30 P. M. Class will meet bi-weekly after the preliminary work has been completed.

Any girl seventeen years of age is eligible to take the preliminary examination required of everyone before admittance to the actual course. The minimum grade is 75 per cent. Improvement of strokes and swimming skills, canoe and boat safety, experience with special life saving devices, and work on actual swimming rescue techniques will be included in the course.

HOTEL WEYANOKE
Regular Meals
A La Carte Service
Salads & Sandwiches

12 Basketeers Comprise Varsity; Freshman Squad To Be Selected

Twelve girls, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors, will make up S. T. C.'s varsity squad for the coming basketball season. These players who have been trying out for the past week are Ruby Adams, Alpha Boothe, Corilda Chaplin, Rosa Courter, Mary Sue Edmonson, Dorothy Fischer, Pat Gibson, Marjorie Groden, Caroline Harvey, Chistilde Jarman, Dot Johnson and Martha Roberts.

The captain for this year's squad has not yet been elected. Though some good players were lost by graduation, it is hoped that this will prove a most successful season. Five games, four of which will be played on the home court, are already scheduled. The first to be here, is a practice game scheduled for January 26. On February 2 our team will play William and Mary Extension here, February 22 and February 24 finds the squad lined up against William and Mary and East Radford, respectively.

Perhaps the biggest game of the season is that to be played with Madison College on March 8, the Friday before Founder's Day. Many alumnae will be present.

New Organization of Freshmen

This year a slight change has been made in regard to Freshman basketball which involves the selection of two teams, the first of which will be "sub-varsity". No Freshmen are on the varsity squad because of this new plan.

Eligibility

In order to be eligible to play in class games each upperclassman must have as many as ten practices and Freshmen must have fifteen practices.

Wertz Elected Head Of Riding Club

On Friday, December 8, the Riding Club was organized at S. T. C., with May Wertz as president. Other officers are Nell White, treasurer and Lillian German, secretary. Meetings are held at 6:45 on alternate Friday nights in the Senior parlor. Miss Stella Fox, riding instructor and adviser to the club, will lead discussions on different phases of horsemanship in order to familiarize the members with terms and facts concerning horses. Membership includes those girls who plan to ride in either the winter or spring quarters. Tickets for riding may be purchased at meetings or from any of the officers. The price is $1.00 per hour.

A clubroom, where girls may play bridge, rest after riding and enjoy the radio and victrola, has been secured near the stables. The club is planning moonlight rides and also spring early morning rides complete with waffle breakfasts. A riding tournament will be held in the spring. Girls may ride with dates if they have permission.

B. B. Practices

Varsity

Monday	5 p. m.
Tuesday	4 p. m.
Wednesday	5 p. m.
Thursday	4 p. m.

Class

Monday	4 p. m.
Tuesday	5 p. m.
Wednesday	4 p. m.
Thursday	5 p. m.

A lady came into the Los Angeles Public Library not long ago and asked for a book entitled "Forty Ways to Amuse a Dog". The librarian looked long, but it finally turned out that the book the disappointed patron had heard of was "The Forty Days of Musa Dagh"!

"It is to be regretted that 'college-bred' is not synonymous with a decent knowledge of one's mother tongue. If it were, the speech of alumni would recommend a school as a place of culture."—Union University's Mrs. Mable Hardin believes that collegians should learn "to have something to say and to know how to say it."

Ferocious, Fighting Faculty Subdue Salient Students

"Oh, Johnny!"—"There's a hot time in the old town tonight!" So swung the band at the opening basketball game of the year—on last Friday night, January 5. Students versus Faculty. Of course, you were there to see the excitement begin, when students in gala get-up pranced into the gymnasium, led by none other than Captain "Meadaway". Eager to display their skill and knowledge of the game, they immediately made a dash for the benches and remained quietly seated while Mr. Coyner and Mr. Landrum, seemingly unpeturbed, yet with very red faces, made their way painstakingly up the steps, decked out as peanut men—white aprons and caps—and proceeded to sell candy, chewing gum and what-not to whomever chanced within earshot of their carefully memorized sales talk (line to you).

This diversion being over, the students, after a number of nudges and punches, bravely stepped again into the limelight, gathered under the goal at the fartherest end of the gym, and tried to catch the ball as it didn't come through the net. A great aplause arose from the spectators. But not for the students—the Faculty had put in a belated appearance, led by Dr. Pill Rollo (Miss McKee) and Miss Wheeler (?). The players, rigged up in long black skirts and carefully laundered white shirt waists, looked very unready for a basketball game. But they did mean business and the game got underway immediately.

Meadaway quickly sunk a goal. Undaunted the foraging faculty flung the ball to the other end of the court where it was smoothly dropped through the net by Heaving Hutchinson. Crushing Craddock and Battling Bollick staved off the student scorers while Moseying Moran swept past her guards with two more goals bringing the quarter to a close with faculty well in the lead at 6-2. While the players rested on the court, Mr. Bell, lemon boy, oassed them sustenance.

Miss Iler, referee, blew the whistle; Miss Wheeler (coach) sent in substitutes—Miss Draper for Miss Moran, Miss Purdom for Miss Craddock. The second quarter. Lula Windham, sub for the students, started the scoring and then followed the ball to the middle court where she was promptly removed to her end of the gym by the referee, as Miss Draper scored for the faculty.

Ignorant Izzie, taking advantage of Miss Purdom's hysteria at finding herself playing basketball, scored twice in rapid succession. Faculty desperately called time out just as the whistle blew for the half. Score: Faculty 8, Students 8.

Then the cheerleaders groaned and creaked onto the floor. Doc Simp, in a wheel chair pushed by Mr. Graham and Mr. French, called the yells and the spectators responded with shreiks of delight. After unsuccessful attempts to get Miss Wheeler into the wheelchair, the cheer leaders departed only to reappear once again. Mr. Bell, carrying his precious lemons came out to help them until the team returned and the second half began.

Tweet! The ball was quickly taken down the court by the faculty to Moseying Moran. She grabbed it and walked ten feet before she was stopped by a fit of giggles and an arm of Jane Powell. Unable to overcome the former, she pulled down the latter, made a goal and promptly collapsed. The wheel chair and Dr. Rollo to the rescue! Doc Simp was transplanted to the floor and Miss Moran to the chair. Hooray for the cheer leaders!

Despite the fact that "Liza" was guarded by Petite Nichols, the student did not score in the third quarter. Dauntless Draper and Heaving Hutchinson each put in two bits for the faculty.

In the fourth quarter found Miss Royall and Mrs. Davies in for Miss Moran and Miss Draper. The first foul of the game was made by Moomie on Dr. Martin. She knocked her completely off her feet. The foul shot was made good by Miss Royall. Miss Purdom, just to get even, fouled Meadaway. Tsk! Tsk! Frances Alvis, with her curly locks stringing for a change, pranced up and down in great excitment and little effect. Mrs. Davis scored twice for the faculty and in the closing minutes of the game the Students showed signs of eventually working together and scored three times.

The game ended as screamingly as it had begun—with a score of 17-14 in favor of the faculty.

Line-up:

Pos.—Faculty	Students
?—Moran	Alvis
?—Nichols	Lybrook
?—Bedford	Hardaway
?—Martin	Chesnut
?—Davis	Windham
?—Royall	Powell
?—Draper	Wise
?—Purdom	Williamson
?—Hutchinson	Wentz
?—Bollick	Burbank
?—Craddock	Keller

Eason, Moomaw, Nelson

Basketball Schedule

Jan. 26—Practice game .... here
Feb. 2 (tentative)—William & Mary Ext. .... here
Feb. 22—William & Mary here
Feb. 24—East Radford .... there
March 8—Madison College here

Rose's
5-10-25c Store
ON THE CORNER
500 Sheet
FACIAL TISSUES
19s box

COLLEGE SHOPPE

Ham	10c
Hamburger	10c
Chicken Salad	10c
Cheeseburger	10c
Ham Salad	10c
Bacon and Lettuce	10c
Egg Salad	10c
Bar-Be-Q	10c
Delicious hot chocolate with whipped cream	10c

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

CAMERA FILM
SPECIAL OFFER TO STUDENTS ONLY
6 ROLLS m-127 m-120 m-620 $1 plus 10c
SIZE—m-116 & m-616—5 ROLLS—
This offer made by one of the world's oldest film manufacturers, cooperating with us to encourage amateur photography and better pictures. Order at once and make this 75c saving.
also
SPECIAL STUDENTS FINISHING SERVICE
Mail your roll film (any make) to us for developing and printing and receive
8 DOUBLE SIZE PRINTS for only 25¢
(16 Exposure Rolls 45c)
Send Coin with Film
MAIL PHOTO SERVICE
PRINCETON, IND.

Annual Interclass Swimming Meet Scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 1

Annual interclass swimming meet will be held on Thursday, February 1. The program will consist of beginner, intermediate, and advanced events. Beginner and intermediate contests are slated for afternoon billing while the advanced swimmers will stir up the pool in the evening. Comedy and skill stunts, as well as speed and form events are planned. Water polo will conclude the program—a challenge game.

A practice schedule is in the making and will be posted on the A. A. bulletin board in the near future. List of events in each of the three swimming levels will also be posted. Girls wishing to enter the meet are requested to indicate on these lists the events in which they plan to participate. No one may enter more than three events plus a team relay. Eight one-half hour practices are required.

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

Martin the Jeweler
Rytex Stationary
200 FLAT SHEETS
200 DOUBLE SHEETS
$1.00 PER BOX

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop
"From old to new with any shoes"
Only First Class Material used
All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY MEATS
AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

Home Office Files Reveal First of Year's Trotters

Majority "Start New Year Right" By Week-end Here

Have you heard of all the people who went away last week-end? And so soon after the Xmas holidays too! Honestly the things some people won't do. It's shocking! It seems like they would stay put sometimes instead of running all over the country.

Did you say Ann Billups went to Norfolk? My, I didn't know that.

And the people who went to Lynchburg! That must be a good place. I heard that Geraldine Beckner, Virginia Campfield, Helen DeLong, Coralie Gilliam, Jane Jones and Carolyn Mennick all went. What did you say? Betty Reid, Pearl Thompson and Virginia Worley went too? Well, I'll be!

Richmond attracted a bunch of our gals too 'cause somebody told me that Dorothy Brookfield, Elizabeth Cline, Josie Lee Cogsdale, Dorothy Davis, Elizabeth Kent, Frances Mallory, Jane Pratt, Phyl Schlobohm, Marie Thompson, Harriette Vaden, Jane McGinnis, Marian Mitchell and Josephine Ware were all there.

Wait a minute, I'll be right back, somebody's calling me.

Sorry to keep you waiting so long but guess what I heard? Virginia Rudd and Elyse Berrye Yates went to Charlottesville for fraternity rushing parties at the University of Virginia. Sounds exciting, doesn't it?

And speaking of Charlottesville, lots of other people went there like Crews Borden, Katheryn Hawthorne, Dorothy Hahn, Pat Whitlock, and Martha Smith.

Anne Lee Gardner and Lucille Richeson were the only ones I heard of at Blacksburg.

But May Wertz and Margaret Webster went to Blackstone.

Oh, no. I just peep into the file on the desk in the Home Office. That's really where I find most of my gossip about who went where and why!

Dramatic Apprentices Will Receive Bids

Apprentices to the Dramatic Club completed examinations in various groups on Monday and Tuesday, January 8 and 9. These examinations are among the requirements for membership.

The following schedule will be used during the bidding and initiation of new girls:

Wednesday, January 24—Regular Club meeting, 7:15.

Thursday, January 25—Group meetings, 6:45.

Tuesday, January 30—Informal initiation, 7:30.

Wednesday, January 31—Formal initiation, 7:15.

Wednesday, February 7—Regular club meeting, 7:15.

Wednesday, February 14—Tea, Student Building Lounge, 4-6.

Sixty Girls Voted Into Cotillion Club

Freshman and new girls voted into Cotillion Club on December 15, 1939 are Lillian Agnew, Betty Mae Ayers, Betty Barnes, Betty Baldwin, Nancy Bondurant, Peggy Lou Boyette, Ann Bradshaw, Jo Cumfield, Betty Boutchard, Ann Burgwyn, Dorothy Childress, Carroll Costello, Sara Currie, Nancy Reid Dupuy.

Ellen Ebel, Dianne Fauntleroy, Eleanor Folk, Helen Rose Frazier, Anne Lee Gardner, Sarah Massie Goode, Helen Gray, Roberta Grieg, Helen Wiley Hardy, Jean Hatton, Mary Harvie, Robin Henning, Cynthia James, Betsy Jennings.

Emily Lankis, Helen Lewis, Dorothy Lawrence, Dicki Lybrook, Evelyn Lupton, Eliza McDaniel, Frances Mallory, Madge McFall, Carolyn Minnick, Margaret Mish, Gloria Niemeyer, Sarah Wade Owen, Ruth Perry, Frances Parham, Agnes Patterson.

Betty Perry, Ella Marsh Pilkinton, Anne Rogers, Elaine Ross, Jeanne Sears, Jane Sanford, Eleanor Scott, Jane Scott, Elizabeth Sexton, Gerry Smith, Katherine Spencer, Barbara Tripp, Shirley Turner, Jane Waller, Jeanne Warwick, Barbara White and Betty Youngberger.

Alumnae Magazine to Be Released in Feb.

Plans are in the making for the Alumnae magazine, the first of its kind here, which is being sponsored by Alpha Kappa Gamma and which will come off press in late February. The staff is composed of A. K. G. members headed by Helen Reiff, editor, and Miss Grace Moran, alumnae president.

Circulation of the magazine is expected to reach between 3,000 to 5,000. Each active alumnae will be sent a copy. Partial financing for the magazine is being made by the recent faculty-student basketball game and by several other similar plans not yet revealed.

"Our first duty in this time of turmoil and danger is to carry on our normal educational program as effectively as possible and with a minimum of confusion. Whatever course future events may take, the world will need young men versed in science and skilled in the arts of its application to promote human welfare."—Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, urges education to follow such policies as will contribute to the maintenance of ideals which are basic to American life.

"Tell me, Tom", said the bachelor to his friend whom he had not seen for five years, "did you marry that girl, or do you still darn your own socks and do your own cooking?"

"Yes," was Tom's sad reply.

GLENN MILLER, New Dance King, now broadcasting over Coast-to-Coast C. B. S. Network, three times weekly, for Chesterfield.

Imagine watermelons growing so large it takes only 3 to make a half a dozen.

Or imagine the vines growing so fast they wear out the melons dragging them along!

EACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.
Fri.-Sat., Jan. 12-13
Mary Martin
ALAN JONES
"Great Victor Herbert"
Top Notch Tennis News
Next Mon.-Tues., Jan. 15-16
LANE SISTERS
Gail Page, Jeffrey Lynn
"FOUR WIVES"
Sequel to "Four Daughters"
Next Wed.-Thu., Jan. 17-18
DON AMECHE
ANDREA LEEDS
AL JOLSON
"Swanee River"
All Technicolor

and a Happy New Year
SHANNON'S
Wishes you a very Merry Xmas

Kadok Films
Developed Free
if purchased at this store
SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

LYNN'S
EXPERT WATCH REPAIRING
—At—
REASONABLE PRICES
MODERN EQUIPMENT
MATERIAL FOR EVERY WATCH

DUKE UNIVERSITY School of Nursing

DURHAM, N. C.

The Diploma of Graduate Nurse is awarded after three years, and the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing for two additional years of approved college work before or after the course in Nursing. The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and graduation from an accredited high school. After 1940 two years of college work will be required. The annual tuition of $100 covers the cost of uniforms, books, student government fees, etc. Catalogues, application forms and information about college requirements may be obtained from the Admission Committee.

Miss Haynes Will Speak to A. C. E.

Association for Childhood Education will meet tonight, Jan. 10, at 7:15 in the Y. W. lounge. Miss Mary B. Haynes, first grade supervisor and A. C. E. adviser, will speak on various phases of child literature.

A. C. E. members and any primary majors are invited to attend the lecture.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology has set up a board to publish books written by its faculty members.

House Council Sets New Study Rules

Two call downs instead of three means a weeks campus, Marjorie Nimmo announced to the Student Body on Saturday, January 6.

The reason for this change is to try to avoid having absolute closed study hour which was tried two years ago during a short period of time. This experiment did not prove entirely satisfactory to the students or to the council. However, Marge stated that if the new plan does not work, the complete closed study hour plan will go into effect and will be enforced.

Any hall president in school may give call downs any time and on any hall when she sees fit to do so.

Chem. Prof. "Come, come, give me the answer."

Stude: "I have it right on the tip of my tongue."

Chem. Prof. "Oh dear, oh dear, don't swallow. It's arsenic!"

Pitt Panther

"You cruel child," scolded the man, "why did you cut that poor harmless worm in two?"

"But, mister, he looked so lonesome!" said the lad.

Pitt Panther

"I'm on the air for Chesterfield

...and I'm happy to present the combination of the Andrews Sisters and my band for your pleasure every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday."
...GLENN MILLER

It's a great tie-up... America's No. 1 Cigarette for more smoking pleasure ...America's No. 1 Band for dancing.

Chesterfield is the one cigarette with the right combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos. That's why Chesterfields are DEFINITELY MILDER TASTE BETTER and SMOKE COOLER.

Everyone who tries them likes the cigarette that satisfies...
You can't buy a better cigarette.

Copyright 1940, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co

ATTENTION, GIRLS!

Hundreds of dresses, coats, blouses, skirts drastically reduced for quick sale. Be sure to visit us today and get a real bargain.

DOROTHY MAY STORE
Charge it if you like

WINTER IS HERE

Come in and get your galoshes and winter togs for real enjoyment in the snow.

Daily arrival of beautiful skirts. Come in and get yours today.

THE HUB DEPT. STORE
APPRECIATES YOUR PATRONAGE

SEE FACULTY IN BYGONE DAYS

The Rotunda

VIRGINIAN DANCE THIS SATURDAY

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, JAN. 17, 1940 NO. 13

Juniors to Stage Production Next Thursday, Jan. 25

Would-Be Stars Cut Fancy Capers; Courter Directs

Thursday, Jan. 25 at 8:30 p. m. Junior Class will present its third annual production, a great work, which is based upon the trials and tribulations of a cinema production on the campus site. An original play in three acts, the plot is concerned with the announcement that Hollywood has been transplanted to Farmville for the actual shooting of a major picture, and Farmville's own favorite actresses will be given tryouts for stellar roles. The final act will be a preview of the completed film.

Quite naturally, complications arise when the T. N. T. Producing Company, accompanied by Secretary Garrett-Finley and "Chicadee" Fields, among others, arrive upon the scene. Nutville, however, has an answer in the form of a red-headed stepchild.

The class production, directed by Rosa Courter, and has a cast which includes Marian Heard, Roberta Paine, Evelyn Thorington, Betty Fahr, Virginia Howell, Florence Lee, Dot Menefee, Elizabeth Garrett, Trudy Hale, Emily Hoskins, Evelyn Lupton, Mary Alice Marshall, Marian Worsham, Esther Atkinson, Jennie Noell, Jean Moyer, Mary Marshall Prosise, Ruth Winstead, Anne Lee Gardner, Forrestine Whitaker, Patsy Fletcher, Ethel Carr, Madge McFall, Rosalie Coberly, Ruby Trice, Elsye Berrye Yates, Virginia Richards, Susie Pearl

Continued on Page 3

Soph Commission Presents Program

Sing last Saturday night? Everybody did. May Winnofski conducted a community sing featuring the bouncing ball. This program presented at S. T. C., Farmville, January 13, was sponsored by the Sophomore Commission.

"Melodramer" — climaxed the program. The curtains, Gussie Parks and Caroline Harvey, parted. The sun, Margaret Wright, got up. The villian was pouring (with a pitcher) over his notes. He bellowed for Zingerella, his maid, whose part was played by Anne Ayers who tore down the stairs, played by Marty Roberts.

The heroine, Maggie O'Brian, portrayed by Gay Ward Brown, entered trembling—Manuel wanted to marry her. The villian stomped out after stamping his foot (pasting stamps upon his foot. The hours, Frances Rosebro and Norma Wood, passed slowly—Maggie scanned the horizon, Jane Engleby.

Samuel, the hero, played by Sara Cline, entered to save his love. Maddened by the sight of his rival Manuel, Samuel threatened to assault him (with salt shaker). Defeated the villian took off his shoes and slunk away.

Tenderly, Samuel pressed Maggie's hand with an iron and led her away with a rope. The shadows, Mary Katherine Dodson, fell; the sun set and darkness, played by Lucy Turnbull, came. The curtains fell.

Mr. Ralph Turner Is Guest Speaker

Mr. Ralph M. Turner, head of the local office of the Virginia State Unemployment Service, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Commercial Club, which was held on Monday, January 8. Mr. Turner told the club something of the work which the United States Unemployment service is doing to help the unemployed.

Truck on Down

Come on now, chillun
Jump and jive.
You can start shapin' up
At half-past five;
Get in that groove
And don't be late,
For the Annual doings
At half-past eight.

Sixty-One Make Up Dean's List

Sixty-one girls made the requirements for Dean's List for the Winter quarter. Eligibility is limited to those Juniors and Seniors who have all A's and B's the preceding quarter.

Those meeting these requirements are Marie Allen, White Gate; Lois Barbee, Covington; Hazelwood Burbank, Hampton; Mary Evelyn Burford, Amherst; Anita Carrington, Saxe; Doris Chestnut, Durham, N. C.; Jean Scott Clarke, Martinsville; Helene Cline, Stuart's Draft; Marguerite Costello, Richmond; Thelma Courtney, Winchester; Mary Louise Cunningham, Fincastle.

Sally Dunlap, Lexington; Marie Eason, Richmond; Elenora Faison, Lexington; Dorothy Fischer, East Islip, N. Y.; Carolyn Frances Ford, Virgilina; Carolyn Louise Ford, Amherst; Mrs. Margaret S. Foy, Farmville; Elizabeth Garrett, London Bridge; Mrs. Frances W. Gee, Farmville; Ollie G. Gilchrist, Norfolk.

Marion Lee Harden, Dillwyn; Mrs. Annie A. Hardy, Boone Mill; Betty J. Hardy, Farmville; Jane Hardy, Blackstone; Maxine Hawks, Blackstone; Marion Heard, Danville; Mary Louise Holland, Holland; Marjorie Holt, Motoaca; Virginia Howell, Church Road; Helen Hoyer, Hampton; Helen Jeffries, Culpeper.

Mary Jane Joliffe, Stephenson; Mrs. Elizabeth Harris Loving, Pamplin; Martha McCorkle, Farmville; Mary Mauney, Hickory, N. C.; Anna Maxey, Powhatan; Ernestine Meacham, Rich-

Continued on Page 4

February Named as "Go-to-Church" Time

The month of February has been set aside by the Church Cooperative Committee of the Y. W. C. A. as "Go To Church Month". This was done to aid the town churches and ministers as well as the students of the college and it is hoped that each member of the student body will cooperate and attend his church during the month of February—and also during all following months.

Week of January 22 Set for Religious Emphasis Program

All Religions In Chapel Discussion

Religious Emphasis Week, sponsored by Sophomore Commission, will be held the week of January 22.

Prayers during this time will be led by Commission members. On January 23, representatives from the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish religions will give a joint talk in chapel. At this time, these men, who are members of the National Round Table of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, will explain what is being done to promote friendly relations among the different religious sects. In the afternoon an open forum at which questions raised by students will be answered, is scheduled to be held from 4:00 to 5:00 in the Student Lounge.

On January 23, Frances Alvis who will lead student chapel, will talk on "Religion As It Touches Girls on the Campus". Dr. Churchill Gibson from Richmond will speak on January 25. His topic will be "Great Men as Christians".

The speaker for Thursday, January 24, will be Rev. W. Twyman Williams, minister of the College Church, Hampden-Sydney. The subject for his talk will be "Science and Religion."

Young Peoples Groups To Hold Union Meet

"Christ on the Campus" will be the subject of union meeting of the young people's groups of the four Farmville churches which will be sponsored by the Church Cooperative Committee of the Y. W. C. A. on January 21, as a feature of Religious Emphasis Week. The meeting will be at the Methodist Church at 6:45 p. m. A speaker from each denomination will give a short talk, and Jean Moyer, chairman of the Church Cooperative group will preside. Special music will be given by Margaret Ann Foreman and Sarah Chambers.

The committee plans to make this the first in a series of union meetings.

Sally Dunlap, Presbyterian; Frances Alvis, Episcopalian; Marion Harden, Baptist; and Elizabeth Ann Parker, Methodist; are presidents of the four groups.

Duke Orchestra Will Play for Mardi Gras Event

Tickets Go on Sale Monday, January 22

Jack Payton and his orchestra from Duke University will play for Mardi Gras on February 6 for the annual celebration. The orchestra features Roy Lane, former Tommy Dorsey vocalist and Jack Payton and his vibraphone.

Many members of the band played at Hampden-Sydney year before last with Frankie Gerrard. They remain at Duke after the leaders have left and then form or join another campus band. During the Christmas holidays they filled an engagement at the Greenbrier Hotel at White Sulphur Springs. Noted for specialty numbers, this 13 piece orchestra will render "Mama, I Wanna Hat with Cherries", a vocal feature.

Mardi Gras had originally been scheduled for February 13, but the correct date is February 6.

Six hundred stag tickets and four hundred date tickets will be sold by members of Pi Gamma Mu, beginning on Monday, January 22. No tickets will be sold to anyone at the door on the night of the dance, and everyone must be in costume to dance. Spectator tickets will be sold at the door but these do not entitle a person to dance.

The main feature of Mardi Gras is the crowning of Essie Millner, queen. Following the processional of the court and their escorts and the coronation will

Continued on Page 4

Beorc Eh Thorn Elects Courtney Secretary

At the regular meeting of Beorc Eh Thorn, held on Thursday, January 11, Thelma Courtney was elected and installed as secretary to fill the position left vacant by Frances Pope's absence from school this quarter.

It was decided to take pictures of Robert Frost on the campus if he finds that he will be able to come here later on in the spring. These will be used in the Colonnade.

Miss Mary Clay Hiner the speaker of the evening, gave a discussion of John Steinbeck's novel "Grapes of Wrath". She told many things about the author and characters which were of great interest to the group.

Faculty Will Portray Roles of Yesteryear

Gym Is Scene Of Virginian Dance

Fun lovers are eagerly anticipating Saturday night, January 20, when the Virginian annual staff will sponsor a formal dance in the gym from 8:30 to 12:00 p. m.

Southern Serenaders, well-known swing band from Petersburg, Virginia, will furnish the music for the occasion.

Perrye Smith, Gamma Psi head, who is chairman of the decoration committee, has announced that the theme will be "Virginians of the Past Few Years", carried out in an attractive arrangement of recent annual covers. This year's cover will be represented as a big question mark.

Intermission will be from 10:00 to 10:30, during which time, Alpha Kappa Gamma, leadership fraternity, will sell cokes and nabs.

Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Nancy Foster, Miss Virginia Bedford, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McCorkle, Isabel Williamson and Sally Dunlap make up the receiving line which will form in Student Building lounge.

Dr. Wynne's New Book Released Jan. 15

"Educative Experience", Dr. J. P. Wynne's latest book, dealing with the qualities of a desirable educative experience, was released on January 15.

This book represents a series of lectures on educative experience given here at the college and at the University of Pittsburgh last summer. It also embodies addresses made before the regional meeting of the Farm Security Administration and of the Cooperative Educational Association. Other features of the publication will be papers read before the college faculty and administration and the Department of Teacher Training of the Virginia Education Association and talks to the Rotary Clubs at Amherst and Farmville and the local Lion's Club.

This book is a supplement to Dr. Wynne's "The Teacher and the Curriculum"

Beaux and Belles of Gay Nineties Revive "Good Old Days"

As "Gran'ma tells the story to Little Lulu" students will have the opportunity of seeing that austere and dignified body known as the Farmville State Teachers College faculty revealed in the costumes and roles of yesteryear. The "Faculty Album" to be presented in the S. T. C. auditorium at 8 o'clock on next Tuesday night, January 23, is another event sponsored by Alpha Kappa Gamma, honor group for leadership, in an effort to raise funds for the Alumnae magazine.

"The Village Choir" will be composed of several "gay ninety belles" whose musical renditions will, no doubt, gain them permanent choral recognition by possibly the "Confederate soldier", one of "Uncle Sam's little seamen", or "the bad little boy". They might even prove attractive enough to rate a ride with the "gay blade of the bicycle built for two." Stagestruck Suzy" the old maid and ballet dancer, will too, step into the picture. It is intended that a model quarter-of-a-century-ago wedding might even be related.

Faculty who have thus far consented to take part in the act are:

Misses Lizabeth Purdom, Grace Moran, Mary Barlow, Olive Iler, Marjorie Booton, Virginia Bedford, Mary Nichols, Adele Hutchison, Edna Bolick, Jane Royall, Mary Clay Hiner, Ottie Craddock, Katherine Tupper; Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, Dr. Jean Martin, Dr. J. E. Walmsley, Dr. Francis B. Simkins, Mr. S M. Holton, Mr. M. B. Coyner, Mr. Sam Graham, Mr. James Grainger, Mr. Leon Bell and Mr. Charlie French. Several others of the faculty have not yet been contacted.

Directing the production is Miss Leola Wheeler of the speech and dramatic department. Members of A. K. G. are forming committees on arrangements.

Admission price for "The Faculty Album" is 10c. There are no reserved seats, so A. K. G. suggests that everyone be present early.

Registrar Lists 213 Girls on Honor Roll

Two hundred and thirteen students have been listed on Honor Roll for the Fall quarter of 1939.

Eligibility for Honor Roll requires that the student shall make A or B on three-fourths of her work and have no unexcused absences from chapel, class, or reports from Student Government.

Those who gained the honor rating are Rachel Abernathy, Lillian Agnew, Marie Allen, Martha Anderson, Elva Andrews, Fredna Armfield, Carol Lee Averitt, Anne Ayers, Lois Barbee, Alice Barham, Elizabeth Barlow, Vera Baron, Betty Barnes, Ann Barnett, May Bartlett, Anne Benton, Anne Billup, Nancy G. Bland, Alpha Booth, Carmen Booth, Eleanor Boothe, Jean Bourne.

Betty Boutchard, Agnes Buchanan, Hazelwood Burbank, Evelyn Burford, Margaret Campbell, Yates Carr, Anita Carrington, Sarah Chambers, Corlida Chaplin, Doris Chesnut, Jean Clarke, Helene Cline, Sara Cline, Alice Coberly, Anne Cocke, Ester Coleman, Nategia Coleman, Bernice Copley, Marguerite Costello, Thelma Courtney, Emma Cowgey, Dorothy Sue Crumby, Mary Louise Cunningham, Marie Davis, Rachel Duberry, Bessie Dickens, Mary K. Dodson, Betty Lee Downing, Barbara Drewry, Sally Dunlap, Caroline Eason.

Thelma Echols, Anne Ellett, Florence Elliott, Emil Ellis, Beulah Ettenger, Virginia Evans.

Continued on Page 3

Local Post Office Statistics Prove Startling Revelation

By DOTTY ROLLINS

13,711 Letters Sent Out Per Month

Miss Taliaferro walked briskly to the book shelves, selected a volume and after making the necessary notations on the order blank, handed it to the waiting student. Efficiency born of practice and long habit marked her every movement. Then, turning, she smiled and asked, "Now, just what is it you'd like to know?"

Naturally, the list of questions I'd so carefully made out beforehand, had completely vanished. I stammered guiltily, "the number on your staff, and . . ." but she was ahead of me already.

"I have two N. Y. A. assistants who put in about 10 hours a week". She waited for me to ask her another question.

"Well," I hazarded, "could you tell me about how many letters we receive and send out — say the average number per month?"

Miss Taliaferro took a sheaf of papers from her desk and handed them to me. "Which month would you like," she asked smilingly, "here are my government reports on all mail handled."

Confronting me were all the reports on record from September through December—from packages to post cards. I leafed through them, hoping to stumble on some unique quality to base my selection. Seemingly, there were none, but then figures . . . you know figures.

Rather dazedly, I chose one sheet headed "Post Office", Farmville, Va., Station I, October 1939". The tabulations thereon startled me. When I blinked at them Miss Taliaferro sold stamps and post cards to an eager freshman, who proceeded to lick them copiously and to carefully affix them upside down on several puffy letters. Love life, no doubt. I decided as I glanced at the big basket of outgoing mail where they were deposited. I looked on the report for October once more. Beside the term "Letters" under the "sent out" column was the number 13,-711. Being the "letter-on-a-post-card" type myself, I searched for the recorded number of those to go out in October, and discovered the total to be 3,452. Well, at least I augmented that little figure some. Other "sent out" mail included: parcels—186, Rotundas—383; paper—134; circulars—63; registereds—20; etc.

I began to wonder about the receiving end of this mail business. I've often wondered about it at 9:30 a. m. when I've just completed a mighty struggle to find waiting for me. "neathing"! But I'd never wondered "en masse" so to speak. After all, how do we fare as a group? I looked up to find Miss Taliaferro who'd been busy while I copied the report.

She answered my query rather carefully. "You see, I don't have a record of the letters and post cards that come in—not a definite one that is, but I average about 6 or 8 packages of letters in the morning mail. The packages, when the men pack them contain from 50 to 75 letters and cards. You get more mail in the morning—out of town mail at 9:30 and the Hampden-Sydney letters at 12:00. And", she added, "it depends on the amount of mail I have to put up that governs the length of time it takes me. Usually, I manage to get it all up by the time the doors are opened on Mondays. On other days it takes longer." Miss Taliaferro paused, and then asked, "I wonder if you could say something in your article about the confusion in this narrow hall. If the students in the biology laboratory downstairs would come up to the post office via the back stairs the traffic wouldn't be so impossible." This I considered was quite sensible. Not so likely to lose a limb.

Approximately 500 Letters in Delivery

I turned back to the report—Number of packages received — 925; number of money orders cashed—4; number of registereds delivered—16. And then there was the matter of stamp sales and envelopes. These totaled $292.28. Thirty-two money orders totaled $170.98. The fee for them totaled $2.00. I felt staggered in the face of so much exchange, business-like calculation, and activity to be taken care of. One person in authority, I reflected to do it all with only two part time assistants.

I turned away with a furrowed brow. Suddenly something came to me. The flash was not particularly a pleasant one. I'd forgotten about the book-store statistics.

Miss Taliaferro was tolerant of the absent-mindedness, and handed me a little slip of paper. On it were the figures $4,600.00, equal to

Continued on Page 4

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Published by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant ..... Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmondson, Mildred Harry, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Agnes Pickral, and Janelle Shelor.

Jean Watts, Mary Louise Cunningham, Caroline Ford, Mariam Jester, Shirley McCalley, Nancy Naff, Sarah Cline, Gerry Ackiss, Bridget Gentile, Elizabeth Rapp, Evelyn Thorington, Dot Sprinkle, Amy Read.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson, Frances Pope.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd Jean Upshur, and Thelma Courtney.
Photographer ..... Virginia Worley

This issue by Pat Gibson

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 17, 1940

Convenience or Congeliality?

There exists in this college a number, thankfully but a small number, of thoughtless and thoroughly selfish individuals. Their shortcomings along the line, set forth in this article, have to do with the use of certain materials which are generally considered to be the common property of every student in school. The people in question seem to consider their own selfish ends to make use of what they want at their convenience, in any manner which they desire—disregarding the fact that there are others who may wish to use those things also.

The above might refer to practically anything in school which is general property—the parlors, school kitchens, classroom and library materials. The last, however, is one of the main points of selfish abuse. We have for our general use a browsing room which supplies us with material for "browsing" —a period of now and then when we might enjoy picking up a book which is supposed to be there. Yet, recently, complaints have come to library authorities that the books and magazines "walk off" so to speak, for several hours and sometimes, days. Someone is violating our mutual agreement that browsing room materials are to be used in the browsing room.

The same principle applies to books on the reserve and reference shelves. If it were not deemed advisable by authorities, far wiser than those who "carry them off — temporarily, of course", that these books be so placed for facility in common use, they would be among the books which may be charged out.

It is not the wish of this paper to be forever preaching, yet it feels the need of stressing, at intervals, certain points which should be brought to the attention of every student. None of us is so dense that we don't understand and respect the laws of citizenship and the rights of others. These must be recognized as being present in our own college. If we will forget self and our personal conveniences, the laws of our college may, too, meet with the cooperation and respect due them.

OPEN FORUM

To the Editor:

We all hoped that Santa Claus would ameliorate the dating situation, but it seems that he overlooked us in this respect. However, the present conditions are being made worse by several members of our student body. It appears that these girls as yet don't know in which class they are enrolled.

For several years there have been provided certain specified rooms or parlors in which the girls can entertain their friends ("dates"). For the benefit of those who still are in doubt, or who don't know as to which rooms these are, I shall name them: Freshmen and Sophomores are to entertain their friends in the "Rec". Juniors in the Junior parlor, and the Seniors (and I mean Seniors only) in Senior parlor. To be able to use the last-mentioned is a privilege to which all of us have looked and are looking forward. And until one becomes a senior, she should respect this privilege by refraining from using a parlor allotted to another class for their exclusive use.

Is it fair for the Seniors to be forced to search elsewhere for a place to entertain their dates—wandering from one place to another and finally have to resort to a corner of the Rotunda—while their rightful parlor is being monopolized by thoughtless —might I even say inconsiderate —underclassmen?

Have things come to such a "pretty pass" that one, upon returning from church, is humiliated by having to bring her "date" into the senior parlor which has been taken over by an underclassman card party, conducted by girls who were supposed—by requirement of the college—to have been at church with their "dates"?

It is even more embarrassing for one to be compelled to offer her "date" the floor as the only substitute for the chairs occupied by people who weren't even supposed to be there!

This isn't the biased complaint of one objector, but a real problem confronting every senior who uses the parlor.

You may have noticed that nothing has been said against the parlor's being used during the week for business meetings. We have no objection to that; but, we would appreciate others' respect of this senior privilege during week-ends. May we count upon your cooperation and consideration in the future?

A Senior

P. S. Is there not even remote hope of making use of the several parlors now lying "idle"?

"Daughter, your hair is all mussed up. Did the young man kiss you against your will?"

"He thinks he did, mother."

Two street urchins were watching a barber singe a customer's hair. "Gee," said one to the other, "he's hunting 'em with a light." —Varieties

Wolfe's Last Novel Is Best Seller

Thomas Wolfe, whose recent death shocked the literary world with its suddenness, was hailed by many critics as a most promising genius. According to comments in "Time", "of all American novelists of this generation, he was one from whom most had been expected."

A few months before his untimely death, Mr. Wolfe delivered to his publishers two new novels, one of which was "The Web and the Rock", a novel that now ranks among best sellers. It is the story, somewhat exaggerated and satiric throughout, of American youth discovering himself and life. George Webber, the hero, a brilliant young writer has the same dreams, the same high hopes typical of youths all over the country who see New York as the golden city of opportunity, and who long above all else to go to that Magic City to grasp those opportunities. They are idealistically confident of finding "fame, fortune and the love of beautiful women" there.

The heart of the reader is wrung by the disappointing disillusioning experiences of young Webber, as the "innocent" becomes hardened to the city's rebuffs. Fame eludes him and he never finds fortune. Love, he does find, but it is so different from what he had expected. Everything is different from the pictures of his dreams—yet in a way — more wonderful.

"The Web and the Rock" has been proclaimed by some critics as an American epic, and one of Thomas Wolfe's best works. Be that as it may, his compulsion of his readers to enjoy seeing through his eyes new things about a scene already familiar to them through the medium of his clear, dynamic prose style of presenting his story makes the novel well worth reading.

"Icebound"

By Ernestine Meacham

"Goldie, call up through the pipeline and tell Cupid if he doesn't let go that silly goose or duck and do something for us, we'll starve as sure as your name's Goldie Longtail! Well, he can certainly drop us some leaves or tell Cousin Tommy to give us some of that fish-delicacy we used to have before we got iced under. No, I can't hush and go back to sleep! My poor fins are so cramped they ache—and do you notice this streak of dark under my eyes? I'm afraid I'll start turning brass if I don't begin moving around soon. I bet even that Whittier person we learned about in the School of Fish would've been tired of it all if he'd been snowbound as long as we have! Besides, his people stayed awake and had fun telling yarns—all of us went to sleep like dull old fish! Look out! Oh, that crash! Oh, don't let him step on you! There, I knew one of those awful two-legged monsters would fall through the ice on us poor fish soon! Did he hurt little Flutter-gill? That's a relief! Oh, look, Tech paper according to Becky Gray is "Rambles in Rhythm"—who's the author? Doc is renewing the old romance with Dot Dawley. Jerry Smith is snaking her roommate Helen Lewis—seen the other day with Jess Van Meter. Disagreeing these days are Cossie and Bobby but little arguments help once in a while. Just can't imagine Sarah Boothe teaching children to swing. "Tisket-a-tasket"!!! Recently melted romances include Anne Williams, Boo Barham, Boonie Stevenson, Emil Ellis. In the spotlight these days are Lula Windham and Pudge Pettis. Congrats to yuh and the court. Baldwin seen looking for dishes (demi tasse set) for birthday—some present.

Thank you Tech, for putting Farmville first on the list of schools that read your column. We are flattered. Your column is all right—ours is better.

We wonder why Charley Hop doesn't take his "new girl" to the tea room for lunch! And also why Wentz doesn't show her face around the golf school. Maybe we'll even give her a golf ball. Felt awful sorry for Pete Sunday night. Hoskins, but Liggie and Esther entertained him for you. What did "Trudy" find out about "Miss Cogbill's Color Rush"?

We wonder:

What has happened to Caralie's "half-pint" over the holidays? Why Billups and others are "off-men" these days? Who Essie went to the University with last week-end? Who belongs to the frat pin Burford has? To whom Pudge will get "pinned" down in the near future. If Madam is two-timing O. G. (what about that date, maybe 'twas Wilbur, Sunday night). If Moomie, O. G. and Susie enjoyed the midnight show or snow. If Crews is slipping or didn't she tell Tyler she was going to be out. If those letters Dot Fischer gets are as romantic as she gets to looking while reading them. Ah, love! Where Mow got the key she's sporting. Who the 19 queens on Student are. If Norma really is playing that old "Stinky-Pinky" game. Why Dot Johnson says she goes to H.-S. to see her brother (we aren't dumb). Where Izzy gets all the packages from—we hear admirers are responsible. Who's the "skunk"—the kind that smells—what was so bright that the chemistry exam was too easy for the rest of the class.

Collegiate World

Weather Note: Education took a holiday recently at Connors (Okla.) State Agricultural college . . . not because it wanted to but because it was frozen out of house and home.

When a sudden cold wave descended, all water pipes in the college buildings were frozen, students and boilers didn't have water—so classes were dismissed until the first thaw. "Thaw, thaw, stay away," was the students' chant for several days.

Dorothy Dix Note: Most unorthodox was a query received recently by an Ohio State University faculty office: "Can you tell me the approximate cost of loving per month for a couple?" Needless to say, the question was not answered as written.

Color Note: Superstitions come and superstitions go, claims the University of Idaho's Psychologist Allan C. Lemon, but one that college students stick with is this: Blondes are less trustworthy than brunettes.

Correspondence Note: Believed the longest personal telegram in history, Alabama Polytechnic Institute students dispatched a 7,000 word wire to Bandman Kay Kyser inviting him to play on their campus. The wire was signed by every member of the student body.

Humor

A hot spell story that we like is about a girl who went swimming in a secluded mill pond. Along came a little boy who began to amuse himself by tying knots in her clothes. She floundered around, found an old washtub, held it up in front of herself and marched toward the little boy, saying, "You little brat, do you know what I'm thinking?"

"Sure," said the little brat, "you think that tub has a bottom in it." —Duke 'n' Duchess

---

"And what do you do when you hear the fire alarm, my good man?"

"Oh, I just get up and feel the wall, an' if it ain't hot I go back to bed." —Yale Record

---

Late Date

Mrs. Dae (as John enters house): "What time is it?"

John: "Just one o'clock".

Mrs. Dae (as clock strikes three): "Dear me, how that clock stutters." —Pitt Panther gang! There's a big hole in the ice up there—and how warm it is now! Pretty soon we should be getting leaves, bugs, and worms to eat. Why, that crazy Cupid—there he still stands without his overcoat on! Bet he has to go to the Infirmary with flu! Come on, let's swim up and see how the world is progressing!" Flitter, flutter, splashup!

---

Echoes from an Empty Space

Bits here and there:

If Tech can do it, we can too. Seems as if a romance, quite new, is evolving these days between Zehmer and Tynes. And how about ace newspaperwoman Alvis and that Duke "Jerry creature"? News travels fast, Frances, you ought to know that. Hands across the table are Dederick and Pettigrew. On the list of new romances are Flippo and Cottie. That Upton boy and Palmer girl—real love. Seems like as if Nina Lee Hall had known Tommy Dorsey was playing for Virginia Midwinters she would not have broken the date. Booty Shelton is still whispering sweet nothings in Betty Barnes' ear. Triangling over Betty Fahr these days are Phil Strater and Buck Thompson. Cynthia James has a new made-to-order boy in the person of Les Andrews.

Is Nimmo really looking for new faces? Princey and Buck are planning a brilliant week-end of Tech Midwinters with Bobby and Sonny So is Peggy Lou Boyette—have you heard who she is going with? Snow time romance was between Dot Smith and Coo Hubbard.

Most widely read column in

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

Governor Price Speaks

Governor Price speaking before a joint session of the Senate and the House of Delegates on the afternoon of January 10 remembered his promise to build the 1940-42 budget around the public school system. Carefully he outlined his "three-point" program of free text books, a sound system of teacher retirement and a minimum teachers salary of $720 per year. In order that such recommendation be carried forward the Governor suggested an additional appropriation of $2,518,465 to be added to the public school sum.

"Virginia," Mr. Price said, "never will make her school system efficient if she permits the education of the multitude to wait on the financial appeals of other causes. As a state, we labor in the wrong direction when we ceaselesly improve our plant and fail to train those who are to operate it. the proper training of the future citizen is the first duty of the state . . . Those who need practical training that equips them as farmers and laborers and mechanics are not getting it. Outside a few alert cities and progressive counties," the Governor continued, "Virginia is operating a system of public schools as out-moded as the 1919 motor car."

The state should be willing to contribute 80 per cent of the total sum if the counties will agree to shoulder the responsibility of the other 20 per cent. If the state makes the added appropriation it will mean cutting down on something else or raising taxes.

Because people universally hate taxes and raise cain when new taxes are added a cut somewhere else would seem more pleasing. The Governor noted the possibility of reducing the tax paid at present by concerns for unemployment compensation. "This, Dr. Freeman of the News Leader says, "is a pleasing prospect, but those who realize the part the unemployment act has played in reducing distress will await details before they commit themselves to change."

"No matter what else has to suffer, no matter where we have to cut to reorganize and save money, we must restore the center of gravity—which lies in the primary and secondary schools." And we whole-heartedly agree with Mr. Price! It has long been a contention of ours that the standards of the schools in the state can never be raised until the salaries of teachers are raised to the point of desirability.

In many counties in the state the teachers' salary is less than the wage of the average unskilled daily laborer. Even with the minimum salary of $720 which Mr. Pirce recommends, the average income of the teacher when divided by 365 days (and even teachers have to live in the summer) is about $1.97 per day. "Each for the joy of working"—

Free text books to all pupils is surely a good thing. Buying school books for a large family is somewhat of a drain even on the average middle class family, and to the lower class it is almost an impossibility. there are those, however, who would prefer to own their own books and for "Percy" and "Horace" some provision could be made.

In almost every phase of employment when a man or a woman has given the best part of his or her life to a definite field, they are rewarded with something more than a bright future of possible starvation in old age. Teachers too, should be given an assurance of some kind of old age security for the money they pay into it each month. The present pension system is quite faulty and needs to be revised.

We do not mind the giving and we have pledged our lives as future teachers to give the very best that we have in us but we do want a little more in return than bread and water. Jam is so awfully good every now and then!

Varsity to Make New York Trip; Freshman Basketball Squad Selected

Sports Slants

By PAT GIBSON

With the opening whistle we begin another weekly scrimmage (or should it be—skirmish?) Anyhow, we begin —with golf this time and Wentz's non-appearance—to be challenged by those below her in the "Pitch-it" and "Putting" tournaments. Come on, girls, there are rumors that you might even get a golf ball. Everything down in the mul.i-colored room seems to be swinging along fine even though Mr. Brown says he has a bunch of "love-bugs" there.

Hips, Hips, Boo! is the latest along these lines. As for hips—they are which when you have you haven't got IT and when you haven't you have got IT. Figure that one out —or rather, work them off. As usual, there are a variety of ways to get rid of "sich" things.

Swimming, for instance, really gets underway this week. Watch the bulletin board for practice schedule. Events of each class have been posted and the next thing to do is sign up. The life-saving class will meet at 4:30 on Friday and Frosh water polo is scheduled for 4:00 on Thursday. (Peggy Hughes, swimming manager, will coach the Rats.) That seems to be all along the aquatic line at the moment.

Basketball, the sport of sports, is right at the top of the heap again this week as the news gets around that the varsity is to make a New York trip. Two games—Panzer and Hofstra—are on schedule. Judging from practices—our basketeers really mean business. Congratulations to the Freshmen on the squad. There's some fine material there and it looks as though they'll offer more than enough competition in the class games. Sarah Wade Owen is the new assistant basketball manager.

After last week's false alarm Play Nights will really be inaugurated on Saturday, January 27. The place, again, is Student and Y. W. lounges. Parlor games, ping-pong, swimming and badminton are offered on the evening's program.

As for the predictions in regard to the northern games, we'd rather not make any but will say this much. In our two meetings with Panzer College we have chalked up two victories. Panzer suffered a 23-21 defeat at the hands of Hofstra last week. Things look mighty even and maybe next week will bring forth some real predictions.

Coach List Players; 26 Are Named

Twenty-six freshmen have been named by Chlotilde Jarman, manager of basketball. Sarah Wade Owen, assistant manager and Miss Olive T. Iler, coach, as members of the 1940 Frosh basketball squad. Two teams have been selected, the first of which will be "sub-varsity." Games with nearby high schools are being scheduled and plete.

Girls on the first team are H. Hillsman, G. Burwell, A. Pierce, J. Carr, E. Andrews, A. Elliot, A. Ware, A. Barnett, M. Haynes, H. Ball, K. Parrish, A. Price, G. Edwards and M. Darby.

M. F. Adams, R. Rogers, K. Price, E. Ebel, S. W. Owen, G. Hutcheson, B. Tripp, J. Hatton, V. Musselman, G. Rhode, L. Agnew, and D. Crute have been listed as "second stringers."

Wertz Announces Music Committee

May Wertz, chairman of the music committee for May Day has announced her committee for the presentation.

Betty Hawkins, Helen Wentz, Norma Wood, Jerry Hatcher and Jane Hardy are the girls who were selected to serve on the committee.

Junior Production

Continued from Page 1

Crocker, Evelyn Krenning, Elizabeth Glasgow, Irene Alderman, Nancy Hopkins, Helen Seward, Patsy Smith, Ruth Lea Purdom, Virginia Sydnor, Elnora Faison, Lucy Tucker, Jack Cock, Anne Cock, Marie Allen, Louise Hall, Margaretta Gerlaugh, Fay Brandon, and Frances Pritchett.

nette Prosise, Mary M. Prosise, Ruth Lea Purdom, Evelyn Quillen, Eugenia Ramsey, Amy Reid, Betty Reid, Helen Reiff, Virginia Richards, Dot Robbins, Martha Roberts, Rosalie Rogers, Dot Rollins, Jane Rosenberger, Marguerite Russ, Martha A. Saunders, Anne Scott, Sarah Seward, Janelle Shelor, Mrs. Nellie Shelton.

Marion Shelton, Sarah Sibold, Perrye Smith, Jerry Smith, Myra Smith, Nancy Smith, Virginia L. Smith, Mamie Snow, Dot Sprinkle, Helene Straa, Mary Catherine Sturgis, Margaret Tate, Mrs. Mary G. Taylor, Florence Theirry, Elizabeth Townsend.

Lillian Turner, Agnes Wagstaff, Mary Virginia Walker, Mary S. Walmsley, Margaret Ward, Ann Ware, Betty Webb, May Wertz, Betty White, Pat Whitlock, Mary Willis, Mary Wilson, Flora Winn, Eliza Wise, Mrs. Mary Witcher, Katherine Ward, Edna Woodall, Winifred Wright, Betty Youngberg.

Senior: "What's all the hurry?"
Freshman: "I just bought a textbook and I'm trying to get to class before the next edition comes out." —Yale Record

Golf Gossip

By Carroll Brown
Professional, Longwood

It's been a long time since the Poor Old Pro has had an opportunity to bore you. However, the Rotunda staff advises that the circulation has recovered from the blows I dealt it, so not to be outdone here I go again.

Last week Pat Gibson told you of the ladder tournaments being conducted on the putting and pitching efforts of the association members. Some of the girls have become rather good at these games—so much so, in fact, that they have been beating the Pro with ease and consistency. Well, it's the old story of age vs. youth, I guess. Helen Wentz is at the top of the ladder in both tournaments at this writing, and I am told that she has become very difficult to find by those just below her who wish to challenge her.

Since Christmas vacation we have had a great deal more interest and have had a full house in the school almost every day. This has all been very pleasing to me, and as only seven more weeks remain I hope that members will spend as much time in the school as possible. If you do not come down, you can not possibly hope to learn. As the membership charge is made against you whether or not you participate actively in the association it certainly is to your advantage to put in an appearance as often as you can. I have come over every night, and I know that all of you can find some time during the day to come down and hit the ball.

We are all thinking about Longwood these days. This snow has, of course, made going out impossible, but we plan to get out as often as we can during the balance of this month and next. All of the new girls are anxious to see how they can do out doors.

We have some very promising new members, and I might add, we can still take a few more. If any of you wish to join at this date, you will be given additional instruction in order that you may catch up with the other members. However, if you do intend to join it is necessary that you do so this week, for membership at a later date will make it almost impossible for you to catch up. So, if you don't care too much about your hands, fingernails, tempers, etc., come on down and mix it up with the gang.

The Old Pro has played another round on his typewriter, hitting his last putt. As usual, the shots have been pretty bad—which all makes me feel like Robin Bidawee the Ambitious Caddy, who because he was learning to whistle through his teeth, and whose voice was changing, and whose shoes squeaked, and who had chronic hic-cups was never 'ready yet'.

Edmonson Heads Interclass Swim

Events Listed

Mary Sue Edmonson will act as general chairman of the interclass swimming meet which will be held at the college pool on February 1.

A varsity swimming squad will be selected from the entries to represent Farmville in the National Intercollegiate Telegraphic meet on February 16 and March 5. The meet will include events for beginners, intermediates, and advanced swimmers. No girl will be eligible unless she has had at least eight hr'f-hour practices. Practices may ue gotten in at scheduled times or at any time that the pool is open.

The girls who are interested may sign up on the A. A. bulletin board to enter the various events. No girl may enter more than three events plus the team relay.

Events will be scored in the following manner: First place, 3 points; second place, 1 point. Only first place counts in speed. Events for beginners and intermediates are as follows:

Beginners — Submerged push off (distance), Elementary backstroke (form), Side stroke (form), Preliminary crawl across pool, Picking up objects.

Intermediates—Plain dive from side (form), 25 yard side stroke (form), 25 yard free style race, 25 yard crawl (form), 25 yard novelty race.

Advanced—100 yard free style (speed), 50 yard back crawl (speed), 25 yard breast stroke (form), 25 yard free style (form), 50 yard breast stroke (speed), 100 yard relay (comedy), 75 yard medley race (speed), spring board diving.

Games Scheduled With Panzer and Hofstra Colleges

Varsity basketball team will journey northward on February 8 to play Hofstra College, Hempstead, N. Y. and Panzer College, East Orange, N. J. The game with Hofstra will be held on February 9 at seven o'clock while the game with Panzer College will be played on February 10 at four o'clock.

Hofstra is a new rival for Farmville, but Panzer has offered keen competition for several years, although Blue and White has been victorious each time.

This is the second year that the Farmville team has made a trip northward to play basketball. Year before last the team played Notre Dame Woman's College in Baltimore as well as Panzer College of Physical Education.

Notice

Candidates for class basketball teams should report to the gym at general practice hours.

Honor Roll

Continued from Page 1

Betty Fahr, Eleanor Faison, Eleanor Feagens, Texie Felts, Jeanette Ferguson, Dot Fischer, Carolyn F. Ford, Carolyn L. Ford, Bliss Fowlkes, Margaret Foy, Mabel Garland, Elizabeth Garrett, Mrs. Frances Gee, Anna George, Marguerita Gerlaugh, Lillian German, Iris Geyer, Carrie Gibboney, Pat Gibson, Ollie Gilchrist, Blair Goode, Charlotte Greeley, Louise Hall, Martha Hammock.

Alice Hannah, Martha M. Hardaway, Marion Harden, Mrs. Annie Hardy, Helen Hardy, Ada Harris, Jean Hatton, Betty Hawkins, Maxine Hawks, Jeanne Haynes, Mary Haynes, Marion Heard, Ruth Hening, Hallie Hillsman, Mary Holland, Marjorie Holt, Rosemary Howell, Helen Hoyer, Frances Hughes.

Arlene Hunt, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Emma Hutchinson, Katherine Jarratt, Betsy Jennings, Elizabeth Jennings, Anna Johnson, Mary Jane Joliffe, Virginia Jones, Frances Keck, Elizabeth Kent, Rachel Kibler, Helen Long, Mrs. Elizabeth Loving, Margaret Lovins, Betty Lucy, Barbara McCaskill, Martha McCorkle, Mabel McLain, Susan Marshall, Mary Mauney, Anna Maxey.

Ernestine Meacham, Jennie Meggs, Dot Menefee, Mary Walker Mitchell, Lorana Moomaw, Hattie Moore, Nancy Moore, Susie Moore, Mildred Morris, Jean V. Moyer, Caralie Nelson, Emma Noblin, Allene Overbey, Emily Owen, Mildred Owen, Elizabeth Parker.

Ruby Parsons, Esther Partridge, Frances Patterson, Charlotte Persinger, Charlotte Phillips, Louise Phillips, Agnes Pickral, Virginia Polley, Frances Pope, Lula Power, Mary Power, Anne Price, Katherine Price, Florence Pride, An-

We Predict:

You'll Be In Love

Our prediction for ..1940 ..is that you'll be in love—in love with the expert care and skill we'll give to your beauty problems. Our resolution is to serve you even better.

A Regular $10.00 machineless oil wave $6.45

Regular Ringlet Croquignole wave for only $2.50

A $3.50 Value

BALDWIN'S

Phone 159 Farmville's Best

NEWBERRY'S
6c-10c Store
for STATIONERY
and
SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

Rose's
5-10-25c Store
ON THE CORNER
Full fashioned hose
69c
2 or 3 thread Guaranteed

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

COLLEGE SHOPPE
Best food in town
Try us
Call 200—We deliver

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Quality—Price—Service

HOTEL WEYANOKE
Regular Meals
A La Carte Service
Salads & Sandwiches

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

Martin the Jeweler
Rytex Stationary
200 FLAT SHEETS
200 DOUBLE SHEETS
$1.00 PER BOX

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop
"From old to new with any shoes"
Only First Class Material used
All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY MEATS
AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

U. Va. Rush Parties Main Week-End Attraction

It seems as if Farmville was well represented at the University of Virginia "rush parties" last week end. Essie Millner, Mary Mahone, Kay Phillips, Roberta Greig, Shirley Stevens, Marie Gay, Ruth Winstead, and Bill Stone were there.

Good ole Richmond always draws a crowd of girls for the week-end. Ruby Adams, Mary Jane Ritchie, Anne Stone, Mary Lou Shannon, Barbara Tripp, Betty Youngburg, Mary Alice Bryant, Genevieve Cook, Carroll Costello, Margaret Coulter, Martha Cottrell, Dot Dawley, Margaret Franklin, Ada Harris, and Mary Catherine Zehmer went down that way.

And last but not least there are always those girls who are eager to be at home on week-ends for some reason or other. A few of them are Jack Hardy, Grace Hutcheson, and Frances Mallory Lawrenceville; Doris Bishop Louise Painter, and Blanche Carper, Roanoke; Betty McConnell Elizabeth Ralph and Judy Marshall, Lynchburg.

Virginia Sydnor, Betty Webb Jane Hardy, Jane Pratt and Rachel DeBerry, Blackstone; Ruth Lea Purdom, Helen Wentz and Anne Covington, Danville; and Marie Crowder and Lula Windham, Petersburg.

Future Teachers of America at Banquet

Charter night of the J. L. Jarman chapter of Future Teachers of America was celebrated with a banquet in the tea room Friday night, January 12.

Dr. Wynne, sponsor, introduced the officers of the chapter and guests of the evening.

Dr. Joy Elmer Morgan, Editor of the Journal of the National Education Association, who gave the address of the evening was the guest speaker. Dr. Morgan presented the charter to Evelyn Burford, president, who accepted it and introduced Dr. Jarman for whom the chapter is named.

The officers of the chapter are Evelyn Burford, president; Chlotilde Jarman, vice-president; Helene Cline, secretary; Mary Louise Cunningham, treasurer; and Mary Walker Mitchell, librarian.

Guests of the evening were Dr. J. E. Morgan, Dr. J. L. Jarman, Mrs. J. P. Wynne, Mr. and Mrs. McIlwaine, Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. Watson, Miss Camper, Mr. S. Holton, Mr. Johnson, Mr. L. Bell and Mrs. E. Warren.

P. O. Statistics

Continued from Page 1

the amount of money taken in for books since September 21. The activity connected with this sale of books included taking orders, receiving and opening the new books, checking bills and posting notices, besides the actual purchases. Again, I marveled that one petite, earnest person should so efficiently and smoothly take care of this vital department of our school.

"Thank you," I murmured inadequately, realizing the moments she had spared.

As I turned from the door a new package of mail arrived. The cycle was beginning anew.

Mardi Gras

Continued from Page 1

be a floor show which is under the direction of Elizabeth Kent.

The Grand March will determine the winners for the prettiest costume, most original costume, and the best couple. Prizes will be on display next week in Martin's window and the judges will be announced at a later date also.

Mardi Gras is an annual event sponsored by Pi Gamma Mu, national honor society in social science.

Entertain Mu Omegas At Waffle Supper

Mu Omegas were entertained at a waffle supper in the chapter room Sunday night, January 14. Behind the waffle bar were the hostesses, Anne Ayers, Margaret Wright, Martha Roberts, and Sara Cline.

Miss Leola Wheeler, faculty adviser, Adele Hutchinson, alumna and faculty member, and Bob Dabney were also guests.

A. S. T. Has Party

Jean Moyer, Jean Martin, Nancy Goode Bland, Helen Watts, Mildred Morris and Katherine Burge entertained the members of Alpha Sigma Tau at a party in the chapter room at 9:30 Monday night, January 15.

Ccach: "The new quarterback had played on'y three minutes before I saw he wouldn't do."

Newshawk: "And what was the matter, pray?"

Coach: "Fractured Skull."

—Graveler

Monogram Club Has Initiation Party

The Monogram Club held a New Years party in the Junior Building Lounge Wednesday night, January 10, at 10:00 o'clock. Initiation of Myra Smith, Shirley Stephens, Sara Keesee, Jean Clarke, Helen Seward, Sue Owen and Helen McIlwaine was the main feature of the affair.

Miss Iler and Chlotilde Jarman, president of the club, were presented with gifts. After this refreshments were served by Helen Jeffries.

Students Discuss the Five Philosophies

Rosalie Rogers, Sarah Sibold, Ethelyn Shepherd, Mary Marshall Prosise and Marjorie Holt led a discussion of the five great philosophies at the regular monthly meeting of Alpha Phi Sigma which was held in the Honor Room on Wednesday, January 10.

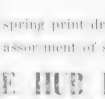
After the discussion, refreshments were served by the entertainment committee.

Dean's List

Continued from Page 1

mond; Mary Walker Mitchell, Culpeper; Jean Moyer, Portsmouth; Edith Nunnally, Richmond, Va.; Marjorie Nimmo, Suffolk; Emily Louise Owen, Jarratt; Virginia Lee Pettis, Richmond; Jane Powell, Hampton; Mary Prosise, Wilson; Evelyn Quillin, Farmville.

Dorothy Rollins, Arlington; Jane Rosenberger, Winchester; Marguerite Russ, Norfolk; Janelle Shelor, Fincastle; Mrs. Nellie R. Shelton, Farmville; Perrye Smith, Goldsboro, N. C.; Virginia L. Smith, Richmond; Helen Straus, Tazewell; Mary Catherine Sturgis, Nassawadox; Margaret Tate, Norfolk; Betty P. Webb, Blackstone; Isabel Williamson, Farmville; Mary W. Witcher, Farmville; Agnes Pickral, Chatham.



What Is College?

To one great phrase-maker, college is the apprenticeship of life.

To us, college means all this, and more, too. It means study and research, athletics and activities, community living and bull-sessions, parties and performances, classes and examinations, grades and graduation. Add to these the thousand and one events of a college career, and you get the true answer to "What is College?"

And to get a true picture of all phases of college life, readers of this paper get accurate local news in our own columns and "national college news in picture and paragraph" in our Collegiate Digest picture section. Follow Collegiate Digest's picture parade and complete local news regularly in this newspaper.

Send your pictures of activities on our campus to Collegiate Digest Section, Minneapolis, Minn.

THE ROTUNDA

FACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.
Fri.--Sat., Jan. 19-20
DAVID NIVEN
Olivia DeHavilland
"RAFFLES"
Novelty and Latest News
Next Mon.-Tues., Jan. 22-23
JAMES STEWART
Margaret Sullivan
Shop Around the Corner
Frankie Masters' Band
Next Wed.-Thur., Jan. 24-25
Geraldine Fitzgerald
JEFFREY LYNN
"A Child Is Born"
Not for children under 16!
Phil Spitalny & Girl Band!

START THE DAY RIGHT with a WHOLESOME BREAKFAST at
SHANNON'S
Phone 224 We Deliver

ICE CREAM
SPECIAL
15c pt.
PHONE 356
SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

LYNN'S
EXPERT WATCH REPAIRING
—At—
REASONABLE PRICES
MODERN EQUIPMENT
MATERIAL FOR EVERY WATCH

DUKE UNIVERSITY
School of Nursing
DURHAM, N. C.
The Diploma of Graduate Nurse is awarded after three years, and the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing for two additional years of approved college work before or after the course in Nursing. The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and graduation from an accredited high school. After 1940 two years of college work will be required. The annual tuition of $100 covers the cost of uniforms, books, student government fees, etc. Catalogues, application forms and information about college requirements may be obtained from the Admission Committee.

Hop says . . .
Let DeLuxe Cleaners
Make your evening gown look like a new one for the dance this week-end.
Call 77 or see Perry Smith

ATTENTION, GIRLS!
Hundreds of dresses, coats, blouses, skirts drastically reduced for quick sale. Be sure to visit us today and get a real bargain.
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Charge it if you like

SKIRTS $1.98 and SWEATERS $1.98
In the new pastel shades—anklets to match 35c and 50c.
New spring print dresses.
New assortment of spring hats.
THE HUB DEPT. STORE
APPRECIATES YOUR PATRONAGE

For more pleasure at the movies see Paramount's Feature Attraction
THE GREAT VICTOR HERBERT
starring ALLAN JONES and MARY MARTIN
For more smoking pleasure enjoy CHESTERFIELD'S Feature Attractions
...REAL MILDNESS and BETTER TASTE.

Real Mildness
and Better Taste
are Chesterfield's Feature Attractions

The Right Combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos in Chesterfield gives you two features you can get in no other cigarette... Real Mildness and Better Taste.

On top of that, Chesterfield gives you a far cooler smoke. You can't buy a better cigarette.

Chesterfield

Copyright 1940, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

SUPPORT RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK

The Rotunda

ATTEND THE JUNIOR PRODUCTION TONIGHT

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, JAN. 24, 1940 | NO. 14

School Is Snow Bound; Classes, Activities Halted

Heaviest Known Fall; Transportation At Standstill

S. T. C. FARMVILLE, Jan. 24—With the deepest snow and view of winter ever witnessed in many of their lives, over nine hundred S. T. C. girls awakened this morning to find themselves completely "snowed in". Girls in Main Building who could tear themselves away from the sight long enough to get to the dining hall found waitresses waiting for the food usually prepared by a staff of nearly 200 now reduced to the four men cooks and Mrs. Turnbull and Mrs. Shelton, dietitians, who were endeavoring to get breakfast prepared. Occupants of other buildings rushed madly through halls inquiring via telephone to Main Building as to whether classes would be held and as to "how we'll eat".

Meanwhile, several brave souls, those who owned riding habits and boots, ventured out to clear the path to meet the trench already being attempted by workers at Main Building.

Nine o'clock saw some girls trudging thru the snow trenches, ploughed by what few townspeople who had preceded them, to the stores where they completely bought-out dry goods stores of woolen stockings and boots. Drug stores, it was learned, were the scenes of serve-yourself customers who proceded to turn in to fix their own with the few cooks who had been able to get there.

Meanwhile, "back at school" where classes were a thing of yesterday, some clothed in proper apparel snow-balled or posed for camera fiends, while others waited in line to make or receive calls on "how everything was back home".

At noon today, due to halts in traffic by road and train, no mail had arrived here.

Miss Mary White Cox, dean, as regards action in the snow-bound situation, asks that girls "use their own judgment as they have in times past."

The weatherman, E. F. Striplin, associate observer in Farmville for the U. S. Government, officially recorded the snow between Tuesday noon and early Wednesday morning at 24 inches. Drifts were as much as 36 inches and in some places above that. This is the deepest snow recorded since 1927, when the records officially began. In 1932 there was a little 12 inch snowfall.

Continued on Page 4

High School Heads Convene at Farmville

Thirty Virginia high school principals attended an educational conference which met in Farmville Thursday, January 18 through Saturday, aJnuary 20.

The discussion centered around the question of "High School and Community Relationships", and meetings were held to discuss problems confronting the Virginia high schools of today.

Group discussions were held in Student Building Lounge, and general headquarters for the delegates was at the Hotel Weyanoke. During their stay the principals were guests of the school for meals.

Fraternity in English, Bids Eight Girls

The following girls have been invited to become members of Beorc Eh Thorn, the local honor society in English: Evelyn Lupton, Nahrea Coleman, Bernice Copley, Agnes Pickral, Emil Ellis, Edith Nunnally, Dorothy Wright and Evelyn Quillen.

DR. CHURCHILL GIBSON

Y. W. C. A. Group Sponsors Religious Emphasis Week

Guest Speakers Will Climax Week Of Devotions

Reverend Beverley M. Boyd, Rabbi Sidney M. Lefkowitz, and Father Edward L. Stephens, who spoke in chapel Tuesday, January 23, opened the program of Religious Emphasis Week, which is being sponsored this week by the Sophomore Commission.

Representing the Protestant, Jewish, and Catholic religions, these three men, who are members of the National Round Table of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, explained what is being done to promote harmonius relations between the various religious sects. Tuesday afternoon from 4:00 p. m. until 5:00 p. m. an open forum was held in Student Building lounge, at which time questions pertinent to the nature of the various teachings of these three groups were raised by the students.

Due to weather conditions chapel programs for the remainder of the week will probably undergo change. A talk, "Religion Touches Girls on the Campus," by Frances Alvis which was supposed to have been given this morning will substitute for one of the out-of-town speakers who will probably be unable to get here.

Dr. Twyman Williams of Hampden-Sydney is due to speak tomorrow on "Science and Religion"; Dr. Churchill Gibson, of Richmond, is scheduled for Friday's talk on "Great Men as Christians." The week's program will be climaxed with Saturday's program led by Dr. Richard S. Owen of the Baptist Church, Roanoke.

The commission will climax its week's program with a talk Saturday morning at chapel by Dr. Richard S. Owen, of Roanoke, Va.

Prayers during this week are being led by Commission members. Carrying out the theme of the week, Mary Katherine Dodson spoke Monday night on "Beauty of Friendship," and on Tuesday night, Sara Cline used "Beauty of Nature" as her theme. Wednesday night May Wertz will lead prayers with the inspiration religion has given creative art. Thursday night Norma Wood will present a musical program, and Friday night Caralie Nelson will climax the week by giving an inspirational talk.

Gamma Psi Will Initiate Eight

Gamma Psi, Fraternity in fine arts, will meet Thursday, January 25 at eight o'clock.

At this time pledges will be initiated, and plants for the winter quarter's projects will be decided upon. An informal party will be given for the new members after the initiation in the Y. W. C. A. lounge.

Choral Groups Will Broadcast And Attend Opera

Jefferson Hotel Is Scene of Banquet; Program at 6:45

Approximately one hundred from the S. T. C. student body and administration will leave Farmville Friday afternoon January 26, for Richmond where the Choir and Choral groups will broadcast over WRVA from the Jefferson Hotel, where dinner will follow. Later the group will attend the opera "La Traviata" presented by the San Carlos Opera Company, at the Mosque.

The broadcast will begin at 6:45 over WRVA. The program has been designed for, and will be dedicated to, the children of the Richmond Crippled Children's Hospital under the direction of Mrs. George Hughes. Thirty of these children will be present for the broadcast and dinner as guests of the college choir. Guests also expected to be present are State Senator Brock and Delegate Sanford from this district, as well as other distinguished personages.

The musical program includes "Prayer" from the opera "Hansel and Gretel" by the Senior Quartet; "Dedication" by Franz, by the Junior a Capella; "A Song of Thanksgiving" by the College Choir; Solo, Brahm's "Lullaby", Peggy Bellus; Farmville's "Alma Mater" by the entire group.

Dinner at the Jefferson Hotel where the Choir has engaged rooms for dressing, will be a banquet and will be served from 7:00 until 8:15. Immediately following dinner the group will leave for the Mosque where they will attend the opera together. Buses and cars will leave Richmond for the return trip to Farmville around 11:15 Friday night.

Dr. Jarman has been invited as special guest for the occasion. Accompanying the group will be Dr. James E. Walmsley, Mrs. T. A. McCorkle, Miss Lillian Minkel, Miss Virgilia Bugg, Mr. Sam Graham and Mrs. Hallie Laing.

Farmville Snowed In; High School Closed

Radio reports say that Farmville has the deepest snow of any place in the state. Due to this, classes at the Farmville High School wil not be resumed until Monday.

Charlie McCarthy (Florence Lee) perches on Bergen's (Dot Menefee) knee waiting for a interview. Glamour girl (Virginia Howell) seems all prepared to "turn it on." Joan Davis (Trudie Hale) seems upset—or to have had one.

Sophomores Plan Class Production

Chairman Wentz Announces Groups

Helen Wentz, general chairman of the Sophomore Production, announces that committees for the production have been completed and that work has begun.

Frances Rosebro is chairman of the theme committee with Polly Keller and Elizabeth Ann Parker assisting. Those directing the separate scenes of the production are Margaret Wright, Polly Keller, Lillian Wahab, Alene Overby, Frances Rosebro and Norma Wood.

Other committees are business: Ellen Royall and Mildred Bowen; publicity: Peggy Hughes, Cottie Radspinner, Helen Travis and Elizabeth Ann Parker; music: Norma Wood, Betty Hawkins and May Wertz; make-up: Dot Hahn, Mary Lou Shannon and Irma Graff; costumes: Gay Ward Brown, Mildred Morris, Elizabeth Townsend and Ethyl Oast; staging: Lillian German, Dodie Mackenzie and Harriet Walker; properties: Martha Cottrell, and house committee: Jean Shulkcum.

Main Rush Season Closes

100 Sign Bids of Eight Sororities

One hundred girls signed bids to the eight sororities on campus Friday night, January 19, bringing to a close the main rush season of the year which began January 15. This was the first time this year freshmen and new girls could be rushed.

Those signing bids to Alpha Sigma Alpha are: Anne Burgwyn, Tappahannock; Dearing Fauntleroy, Altavista; Jean Hatton, Richmond; Betsy Jennings, Roanoke; Eliza McDaniel, Lynchburg; Ella Marsh Pilkinton, Richmond; Elizabeth Ralph, Lynchburg; Elaine Ross, Huntington, W. Va.; Virginia Sydnor, Amelia; Bobbie Tripp, Richmond; Mary Stuart Wamsley, Farmville; Anne Ware, Beckley, W. Va.; and Winifred Wright, Farmville.

Alpha Sigma Tau: Irene Alderman, Galax; Charlotte Avery, Holdcroft; Katherine Beaton Portsmouth; Helen Briggs, Richmond; Carroll Costello, Richmond; Charlotte Greeley, Roa-

Continued on Page 3

Faculty Capture Enraptured Students' Hearts In Whimsical "Family Album"

Despite snow, wind and other negative-to-traveling conditions of Old Man Winter a right goodly crowd of townspeople and students managed to witness the rare "Family Album" presentation in which practically all the S. T. C. faculty participated on last night, January 23.

Grandmother, charmingly portrayed by Miss Mary Clay Hiner, snug in her rocker related the accounts of the family, both the "blue bloods and the naughty black sheep 'uns" to granddaughter, Sarah Graham. As she turned each page of the old album, a hilarious-with-delight audience madly applauded the spectacle-in-frame before their eyes. The on-lookers, too, though they most probably had a clearer recognition of said "frame-participater" at a desk telling about the State curriculum, or the number of atoms in the universe, drifted back in thoughts to the time when "Granny and Miss—were girls."

Page one viewed austere great-aunt Tupper; next came Cousin Boyd and his wife on their wedding day, next to whom was seen the officiating minister, the Rev. James Elliot (Walmsley).

Causin Carolyn (Cogbill) whose lover died brought feelings of sympathy since she never got over the shock of her sorrow and remained an old maid. Her little sister Jane (Royall) appeared the decided gay miss in frivolous array and flirtatous expression.

Aunt Maude (Miss Taliferro) brought awesome expressions as she stood there bedecked in her mother's gorgeously handsome wedding gown which boasted all the ruffles and frills voguishly characteristic of its day.

The uniforms get 'em in the next—the hero being distinguished great uncle Jim (Mr. Grainger) off to fight the Yankees. Rich Uncle Leon, who spent his time skiing in the Swiss Alps was no less a delight.

The picture of Cousin Helen (Draper) who studied in France and "married her a French husband" was much exclaimed over. The other intellects of the family were Aunt Minnie (Rice) who was mistress of a select boarding school and whose niece Marjorie (Booten), a famous artist, had promised the family a painting—but never sent it. The other niece Lizbeth (Purdom)—ah sorrow—most emaciated looking—had died of T. B. when still a young girl.

Nephew Tom (Mr. "Mac") who had joined the navy and had spent his time telling about his girls in every port looked none less "the shiek" in his portrait. Cousin Grace (Moran), the great traveler, appeared the beautiful sophisticate of the family. Naughty Mary (Nichols) "just had to show off" for the photographer. That ugly expression was typical of her mean disposition—so said Granny.

Grandmother hesitated over telling about Aunt Jean (Martin) who had disgraced the family by running away to study medicine. Two others, friends of the family, Miss Winnie (Hiner) and Miss Lucile (Jennings) had sung in the choir and were "real singers and beauties in their day".

Another page portrayed an athletic friend (Miss Bolick) who had at one time skated eight miles down the river and had later drowned while swimming in the same river.

Continued on Page 4

Final Production Shows Humorous Cinema Highlights

Junior Class Fete Will Begin at 7:30 Tonight; Price 25c

Ambitious "Starlets" of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia are busy getting "into form" as they eagerly await their "big chance" when scouts of the T. N. T. producing company of Hollywood will be on our campus for the purpose of conducting tryouts and screen tests of Farmville glamor girls in a search for new and better talent for the casting of their new picture. "It Can't Happen Here—But It Did!" this year's Junior Production, scheduled for Wednesday, January 24 at 7:30. This cinema is the red letter date for the appearance of these celebrities in the S. T. C. auditorium.

Famous Stars Present

Zazu Pitts, W. C. Fields and Joan Davis are among the already famous stars who will be here along with representatives of the T. N. T. Company. The famous "jivin' quartette", "Four Flats", and "Tina and her Charm Girls" will vie for choral honors.

The new picture, which is to be directed by "Cyril Zuky", assisted by "Adolph Hornblow", featuring gowns by "Dolly Bush" and make-up by "Pats Factor", promises to be among the first ranking in competition for the academy award of 1940 if the right cast can be found. It is hoped that the perfect heroine and supporting cast may be found among the versatile beauties of the Farmville student body.

Rosa Courter Directs

Rosa Courter is head of the production, with members of the junior class as helpers. This is the last production of its type for the class since a dance is always given by the seniors and it promises to be one of the best on their record.

Admission for "It Can't Happen Here—But It Did!" is 25c. No seats will be reserved, so first come—first served.

Pi Gamma Mu Issues Bids to Eight Girls

Pi Gamma Mu, national honor society of history and social sciences, has issued bids and the following students have accepted: Mary Jane Jolliffe, Thelma Courtney, Dotty Rollins, Yates Carr, Libby West, Martha Whelchel, Louise Hall, Carmen Booth and Helene Cline.

Pi Gamma Mu recognizes students having shown outstanding ability in history and the social sciences and is one of the most active and outstanding honor societies on campus.

Besides its work in the field of social science, Pi Gamma Mu sponsors Mardi Gras each year on the last Tuesday before Lent begins. This fancy dress ball constitutes a major part of the social activities program of the group.

The aim of the organization is to promote interest in social improvement and to bring social problems before the students.

Mardi Gras

Mardi Gras tickets are now on sale for the dance on February 6. Buy your tickets from any Pi Gamma Mu member as no tickets will be sold at the door of the dance. Admission is 50 cents per person, and 25 cents for spectators who may not come on the dance floor. All dancers must be in costume.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Published weekly by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia nine months a year

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant ..... Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmondson, Mildred Harry, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Agnes Pickral, and Janelle Shelor.

Jean Watts, Mary Louise Cunningham, Caroline Ford, Mariam Jester, Shirley McCalley, Nancy Naff, Sarah Cline, Gerry Ackiss, Bridget Gentile, Elizabeth Rapp, Evelyn Thorington, Dot Sprinkle, Amy Read.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd Jean Upshur, and Thelma Courtney.
Photographer ..... Virginia Worley

JANUARY 24, 1940

Faculty—Take a Bow!

As students of this college we feel extremely grateful for a faculty such as ours—as congenial a group of people to be found anywhere.

This year, as always, they have put much time and work into student projects, giving advice and offering suggestions whenever asked. In addition to their regular "advising" course the faculty members have helped make possible the publication of the Alpha Kappa Gamma "Alumnae" magazine. Proceeds of the hilarious Faculty vs. Students basketball game and the ticklesome "Faculty Album" went toward this work.

But—it is not only the actual "aid" the faculty have given us, it is something deeper, something fine and true—the spirit in which they do things. They have shown us the very essence of good sportmanship, taught us the rules and then played the game.

Through the various faculty-student undertakings we have come to know each instructor as a person. In some cases, hitherto unknown and unrecognized talents have been brought to our attention. Now, when we enter a classroom, we see the teacher as an individual and not just "the man behind the desk".

And so it is that we say "Faculty, take a bow!"

Your Religion—Dormant or Alive

This, Religious Emphasis Week, serves to bring to the front, in our days of varied activity, that which is basic to all living.

Religion in one form or another has ever been an intimate relation of man. Though oftentimes carried heedlessly on in the rushing current of everyday life, forgetful of the spiritual side, we invariably turn to—our God, our religion—in time of trouble.

Is there yet hope for this warring, strife-torn world in a brotherhood of man? We believe so. Through the week, churchmen of all denominations will speak offering a plan for a united religious front—a front which can withstand the attack of every enemy. All this may be done through an approach to God—our religion, oftentimes dormant, but eternally alive.

"Stephens College, Glamour School" of the West

Reviewed by E. Meacham from American Magazine

Have you a personality that enables you to discuss war-torn Europe with a young man and make him feel a distinct heart-throb at the same time? Can you apply your make-up so adroitly that you cast over yourself the 1940?word-for-glamour? Could you run a household on a small salary and still have enough left to be able to list as necessities on your budget lipstick, rouge, powder, and an occasional permanent? James Madison Wood, "Daddy," as the girls affectionately call him, president since 1912, has made Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri, a place for girls to learn just such vital things.

The central idea of Stephens is to develop each girl as an individual personality—to fit her for this practical, stream-lined age. The admission councillor, as soon as a girl's name is entered, finds out what he can about her background. He consults her high school teachers, discusses her with her pastor and the family physician, and even gets her boy friends' opinions. Thus, when she comes to Stephens, much is known about the girl's tastes, likes and dislikes, her disposition, and her special abilities. The instructors find out what she needs to know for a well-rounded, satisfying life and teach her just that.

They have thrown out the "Dark Ages stuff" at this surprising school. There aren't any formal lectures in old-fashioned classrooms with smudgy blackboards. Instruction is given in small living rooms with rugs on the floors and pictures on the walls — one would fancy the group just waiting for the tea to be brought in! There aren't any dreaded grades sent home. Hard as it is to believe, the Utopian system prevails of issuing to students their own report forms, on which they mark their own progress!

The length of time a girl remains in Stephens depends upon her progress—one girl may stay a year, while another may finish her course in three months.

Before getting her college diploma, each girl must try her hand at running an imaginary household on an income of $1,500 a year. Daddy Wood is planning a project in which the girls will manage six houses, beginning with a wood shack without lights and water, progressing up to a luxuriously appointed home—thus they will be prepared for whatever the fates have in store for them. There is excellent training here in the drama; religious thought and life is led and taught on the campus. President Wood insists upon his girls' partaking in relaxing and exhilirating sports — he especially wants them to play golf well. At Stephens the sororities go in for social service rather than social activities—one of their working points is the library for colored people. They shall have music—furnished by their own ninety-piece symphony orchestra! Daddy Wood enters wholeheartedly into their activities, and the girls all love him as a real friend.

OPEN FORUM

To Whom It May Concern:

Ever so often we're reminded by Dr. Jarman that there is a proper way to march out of chapel. The way, which he then explains to us, is this: that everyone be ready to leave when his time comes, that everyone march quickly right on up the steps and outdoors.

Now then—let's read that over again. We said for everyone to leave when his time comes (not before or after), to keep in step with the music and to stall off conversation until you're up the steps and outside.

The matter has not been mentioned lately, but we who sit in front would like to say something about it. We could be out of the auditcrium in a minutes if it were not for those back seaters who have to leave early. In fact, they practically mow us down hurrying to reach the aisle before we do; and they loiter along talking reading letters or trying not to drop a stitch on that cardigan they're knitting (with the aid of the chapel committee). Which all being boiled down to brass tacks means this: give us a chance to get out and you will stand a better chance yourself.

Front Seaters

"Do you know what the wall said to the drunk?"

"Don't lean against me, Bud, I'm plastered, too!"

Tune in On

Collegiate Broadcast Service
Can Students Fight Effectively for Peace?
When Does Civilization Begin?
Can We Meet the Challenge of World Anarchy?

Students from fifteen universities will face these riddles in a new series of radio discussions beginning over the Columbia Broadcasting System on January 27.

The whole series, which will run for 16 weeks, will be a discussion of the most challenging question facing the world today: "Which Way To Lasting Peace?" It will afford college students their first opportunity to give the whole country their opinions on a longrange and complicated question.

The first six broadcasts in the series will originate from CBS studios in New York City. One student from each of the following universities will participate: Columbia, Fordham, New York University, Princeton, and Yale. The moderator of this group, who will sit in on the broadcasts, will be Pennington Haile, former Dartmouth professor, and an authority in the field of International Relations.

A continuation of the CBS Bull Session programs, the new series will be made up of the same free, informal, unrehearsed conversation. Not even the participants will really know in advance what they are going to say on the air, but their own attitudes will become clear as the conversation and argument progresses.

The programs will be heard at the same time as the former Bull Session series: 4:00 to 4:30 p. m., EST, Saturdays. Topics for the first six programs are: January 27—Can Students Fight for Peace?; Feb. 3—A Plan to Study War and Peace; Feb. 10—When Does Civilization Begin?; Feb. 17—The Challenge of World Anarchy; Feb. 24—War in the World Today; March 2—The Aftermath of the World War.

"What did the hat say to another hat?"

"I'll go on ahead."

"What happened when the Chinese laundry caught on fire?"

"They pitched Woo in the street."

Mother: "After all he's only a boy and boys will sow their wild oats."

Father: "Yes, but I wouldn't mind if he didn't mix so much rye with it."

Echoes from an Empty Space

"SNEAKRETS"

By "We-see-all and tell everything"

There's a lot to be said about taking them young and training them right, isn't there Miss Eades? We suggest that Layman read "Dance Floor Etiquette" on when and how to "break". Our dances are formal or at least we thought they were but it seems that Moger, Harris and Watts hadn't heard. We suggest that "spectator admission" be charged for "window-lookers". Elizabeth Warner's floor show in front of the bandstand caused quite a sensation.

Has Nimmo's teaching affected her eyesight to such an extent that she mistakes V. M. I. gray for V. P. I. blue?

It seems that V. M. I. can get in the dining room when V. P. I. is asked out. Can it be that V. P. I. is slipping?

A "moocher" is one, who an hour before the dance, goes out looking for free tickets. P. S. We have two! "Snake" dance has taken on a definite modern trend and seems to be the fad these days.

We wish E. A. Parker was a Freshman so we could tell her to "wipe that smile off her face."

Bess, we think your conduct at the dance was more suited to a corner of the "rec" than to the crowded dance floor.

Why is it that Perrye is so interested in N. B. C. nabs—could it be that attractive salesman? What about the three Seniors who went to spectate at the dance in pajamas?

There are just too many things happening the night of Mardi Gras, aren't there, Ritchie?

Seniors, have you noticed that the majority of us wear caps and gowns on Friday. Several haven't—we could call names.

Uncle Sam is making money these days off of Shirley Stephens' Billy—what with a letter each day.

What's this we hear about Caroline Harvey writing to Eason's Taylor. Could it be that she is trying to "snake" him?

We suppose Hattie isn't so pa-anicky now that rushing is over. How about that Xmas date, German? Have you had any more letters from him?

Martin the Jeweler tells us that there are two suites of Seniors looking for "Swastika pins"—Heil Hitler!

How about Allene's Jack? He seems to have gone in for social service work.

What have Kaki, Dottie, Jo Ware, Gerry Hatcher, and Ruthie got in common—Basil? Betty Barnes takes off home for the week-end and Sis takes Booty to the dance.

What's this we hear about Vera Jacobs being engaged to one boy and wearing another's ring? Tsch!

Some people "make hay while the sun shines" and some make it in the "rec" and that goes for Sara Cline.

Forestine's Dick from the University of Richmond sends messages via Ethel Carr to Virginia Sydnor—what do we have here? —a quadrangle?

What are you trying to do, Russ—get your groceries for nothing—When is Merrill going to get to the "C's"? Seems like he's "stuck" on the "B's".

Why doesn't Essie entertain her own out-of-town dates rather than her friend's local talent?

What's the matter, Lena—are you getting old? Looks like the jumping and jive got you down Saturday night!

Isn't Jack Adams beating your time with Dudley, Ruth Lea?

The Moyer child was certainly happy to get that V. P. I. letter, and after that long conversation with "Flip" too.

We liked Johnny's dreamy expression this week-end—also the cause of it.

Nice knowing that Gerry's argument was nothing more than stimulating—they've made up now.

And Kay's date to the dance had a whole corner on the floor—he needed it. Speaking of dates—how'd you like Faye's? And Blair's (but, oh!)—and Dotty's? T'was a nice crowd—accent on the last, please. But anyway, here's to more of 'em—and in the meantime rah, rah for education—(feeble afterthought!)

This is one time we'd all like to be practice teaching—no school till Monday—Boy!

T'would seem this weather could give a lot more opportunity for some of these quick, snow romances. The weather can do a lot sometime.

GLEANINGS

(Note: Because we knew you'd appreciate how Dr. Walmsley was feeling "about the matter" we were happy when he consented to write our guest column this week.)

By James Elliott Walmsley

With the death of Senator William E. Borah there passed from the political stage one more of a small group of elder statesmen who never asked whether a course was popular but only whether it was "to the best interests of the United States." Few of the major measures which Senator Borah introduced were ever enacted, but respect for his honesty, courage, and statesmanship increased. His greatest speech of recent years, in opposition to the repeal of the embargo legislation, was heard with intense interest and approval by a Senate which voted against his policy.

Intense cold slows down fighting in Finland, submarine attacks lessen in number, the Westwall remain untouched, but American Neutrality is in the thick of the fight. Last spring a writer on the propaganda of the World War of 1917 listed seven steps by which we might be led into the next war. The fifth and sixth were granting credits to belligerents and making loans to fighting nations. But are in international law violations of neutrality. Five steps we have taken, the sixth is before Congress, the seventh is, in classic phraseology, "where your treasure is there will your gunboat be also."

Nearly every red-blooded American sympathizes whole-heartedly with Finland and is ready as a private citizen to contribute to Finnish aid. There are those in public life who cannot distinguish between private desires and official action, who feel that if a citizen can condemn Russia, then equally can government take sides. But you cannot help one side at the expense of the other and hope to escape the penalties of unneutrality. You cannot have it both ways. Undoubtedly there are those in high positions who would like to help one side with a "moral blockade", or with a change of rules in the middle of the game, and still claim to be neutral, because "we are within the law". There are others who prefer honesty to be honest, who like neutrality to be neutral, who do not care to win a decision by changing the umpire.

It is the unmistakable desire of the American people to avoid anything which might draw this country into war. If this Finnish undeclared war merges, as seems likely, into a declared war against Germany, then it carries its allies into war or into deserting the one with whom we were allied.

To authorize the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or the Import - Export Bank, both of which we have financed, to make a loan which it would be unneutral for us to make ourselves is a little too raw for even a decent gangster to advocate. Fortunately we are still a democratic country and the public conscience has turned against this evasion just as it did against the registration of our ships under the flag of Panama.

But there is yet an unanswered question. Should we give up a vain attempt to be neutral, should we ride off on horseback to make the world safe for—whatver we did make it safe for the last time? That is, Kipling would say, "is another story".

Sports Slants

By BOO BARHAM

Well, basketball is taking the top rung on the sports ladder these days. And we do mean the very "toppest" rung! The girls are really swinging it and slinging it! From all reports Farmville's basketball squad will be right in there fighting with the best of them. Two games have been scheduled on the home court. One, when Farmville will play William and Mary on February 22; and the second, most important game of the season, that with Harrisonburg will take place on March 8. We'll give a guarantee-or-your-money-back that it will be an exciting game.

The varsity squad is all het up over the trip it will take to New York on February 8. Lucky girls! We hope you have huge fun, and we hope you show those northern colleges you're playing what Southerners know about basketball. How's about it?

This year's squad really has the cream of the crop. Girls we are counting on to show the good old Farmville fighting spirit are . . .

Chlotilde Jarman

She's manager of the 1940 squad and has been a member of it for the past four years. Cleo usually plays forward but can play guard to. Fast as a streak of lightning, she's a hard girl to stop when she starts down the floor. Just depend upon her to be exactly where she's supposed to be at the right moment. Another Senior on the squad is . . .

Dorothy Fischer

Dot has been on varsity for three years, and she also plays forward. When it comes to shooting that ball, she has a little of the old razzle-dazzle spirit in her. Those tricky shots of her's are literally unstoppable. Last but not least, the other Senior is . . .

Ruby Adams

Ruby has been on the squad for four years. She usually plays forward, but this year she's been doing some fine work as guard. One of the most dependable players, Ruby has proved herself indispensable. Turning to the Juniors there is . . .

Rosa Courter

There is no doubt about it! Rosa is a guard from 'way back. She's been on the squad for three years, at any rate. There's no escaping her long-range arms once she gets them sweeping the court. Even the best of players are stymied. Which way to shoot? How to shoot? It's a problem—and you be sure to keep it that way, Rosa. On with the Juniors and here comes . . .

Patricia Gibson

Pat has been on varsity every year since she's been here. She plays both guard and forward positions but seems to have found her calling in the former. "Stone-wall" Gibson is what they call her. She turns 'em back right and left! Still more Juniors and this one is . . .

Mary Sue Edmondson

Mary Sue is starting on her third year in forward position—and a nice job she makes of it, too. She's elusive and hard to stop. She uses her head like a veteran and nothing seems to rattle her. And winding up the list of Juniors is . . .

Marjorie Gooden

A newcomer, Margy has really shown us a few things about guarding. She plays an excellent game and that red-dish hair of hers will help you to locate her on the court. And now the Sophomores. First is . . .

Dorothy Johnson

Dot has played on the squad both her years in college. She plays guard—that might not stack up with you because she's small—Just imagine a little whirlwind and you'l have the right idea exactly. She does some mighty fast playing and can really advance the ball to the forward line. Second in the roll call of Sophomores is . . .

Corilda Chaplin

"Chappie" is playing guard for her second year on varsity. She's another one of those players who can always be depended upon to play a good game. Level-headed and consistent, she is a great asset to the squad. The next Sophomore is . . .

Alpha Booth

A transfer, Alpha has already proved herself a regular trooper. Her specialty is interrupting passes—much to the chagrin of her opponents. She plays a nice game as either guard or forward. Another of the Sophomore class representatives is . . .

Caroline Harvey

Caroline has been a member of the squad for two years, too. She plays in guard position and with that height of hers she makes another one of those practically impassable walls. We hope that sprained ankle of hers will mend quickly. And to wind up the whole list there's . . .

Martha Roberts

Marty has been playing forward for two years. She, too, is tall—a great advantage in this game. Possessor of a keen eye Marty usually is on hand when it comes "shootin' time". Add to all this her innate ability to turn up in the right place at the right time and you have it.

Rose's

5-10-25c Store

ON THE CORNER

Full fashioned hose

69c

2 or 3 thread Guaranteed

NEWBERRY'S

5c—10c—25c Store

Valentines for Mother, Dad, and Him

Riding Club to Have Important Meeting Friday, January 26

May Wertz, president of the Riding Club has requested that all members be present at a call meeting which will be held in the Senior Parlor on Friday night, January 29, at seven oclock. All members who are in attendance on time will have an opportunity to draw for a free ride.

A discussion on "Correct Dress for Riding" will be led by Miss Stella Fox, faculty adviser. Also, an important decision is to be voted on during the course of the meeting.

Golf School Is Still Students Favorite Sport

Girls of the W. G. A. have been busy this week challenging one another at the Pitch-It and Putting games in the ladder tournaments. The big day of awarding the prizes is nearly at hand. At the present Helen Wentz is on top in the Pitch-It tournament. We wonder who will challenge them and who will be awarded prizes next Wednesday? Will they stay on top?

Last week the girls went outside for a couple of days. If the weather permits, more golf instruction will be held in the open. Mr. Brown seems pleased with the progress of golf in the school and we would like to arrange some matches with other schools if possible and also play on other courses.

Dues must be payed to date by February 1 and February dues by February 15. Golf participants are urged to cooperate with the golf school by paying dues and playing golf.

Main Rush

Continued from Page 1

noke; Ada Harris, Richmond; Eveline Looney, Rocky Mount, N. C.; Dickie Lybrook, Fincastle; Lucille Richeson, Amherst; Dorothy Rollins, Arlington; Nancy Saunders, Capron; Ruth Shumate, Oak Hill, W. Va.; Judith Spinner, Petersburg; Lilian Ann Turner, Blackstone; and Mary Ellen Williams, Petersburg.

Gamma Theta: Betty Barnes, Roanoke; Nancy Dupuy, Greensboro, N. C.; Elizabeth Gunter, Richmond; Mary Harvie, Richmond; Dorothy Lawrence, Roanoke; Margaret Mish, Lexington; Charlotte Phillips, Melpha; Stella Scott, Onancock; Betty Sexton, Macon, Ga.; Lois Jane Steidtmann, Lexington; and Betty Youngberg, Richmond.

Mu Omega: May Bartlett, Holden, W. Va.; Brookie Benton, Locust Dale; Peggy Boyette, Portsmouth; Gertrude Burwell, Buchanan; Barbara Drewry, Portsmouth; Lottie Herald, Logan, W. Va.; Anne Moore, Suffolk; Mary Martha Peery, Tazewell; Katherine H. Price, Brookneal; Betty Reid, Staunton; Jane Saunders, Richmond; Kay Spencer, Gordonsville; and Jane Waller, Norfolk.

Phi Zeta Sigma: Ann Lyons, Petersburg; Anne Marshall, Victoria; Jane Lee Sink, New York, N. Y.; and Estelle Smith, Victoria.

Pi Kappa Sigma: Gerry Ackiss, Newport News; Betty Boutchard, Newport News; Ann Bradshaw, Newport News; Dorothy Sue Crumley, Bristol; Sara Currie, Roanoke; Antoinette Dew, Kilmarnock; Ashley Bell Hannah, Palmyra; Bobbie Hannah, Palmyra; Evelyn Lupton, Norfolk; Sara Wade Owen, South Boston; Amy Reid, Newport News; Nancy Sale, Roanoke; Jeanne Sears, Norfolk; Jean Shulkeum, Roanoke; Beverly Smith, Roanoke; Peggy Watkins, Farmville; Emily Wescott, Painter; and Anne Reese Whitlow, Rocky Mount.

Sigma Sigma Sigma: Lillian Agnew, Burkeville; Elizabeth Bernard, Boone Mill; Jo Brumfield, Farmville; Imogen Claytor, Bedford; Ellen Ebel, Richmond; Ann Ellett, Burkeville; Eleanor Folk, Salem; Sarah Massie Goode, Dinwiddie; Helen Wiley Hardy, Farmville; Jacquelin Hardy, Farmville; Nancy Hopkins, Rocky Mount; Grace Hutcheson, McKenney; Emily Lankes, Hilton Village; Helen Lewis, Roanoke; Madge McFall, Danville; Frances Mallory, Lawrenceville; Ruth Palmer, Lawrenceville; Frances Parham, Petersburg; Agnes Patterson, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Jane Sanford, Farmville; and Jerry Smith, Newport News.

Theta Sigma Upsilon: Carol Lee Averitt, Stonega; Emma Frances Elam, Prospect; Anne Price, Rice; and Mildred Savory, Petersburg.

You can't sell dresses in the summer—it's the slack season.

DRASTIC REDUCTIONS

ON ALL

WINTER MERCHANDISE

Sale of Coats, Suits, Dresses And Hats

BUY HERE FOR REAL SAVINGS!

DAVIDSON'S

Farmville, Va.

Swim for Fun or Figure--- It's All Same Down at Pool

Down just one more flight now and to the right. Ah! Here we are. Remember? It's the old swimming pool, and I think some of us have been slightly it lately. Tish, tish, of all times too, what with that inter-class meet coming off so soon.

And if you don't need to practice for the meet, there's always that joy in just plain swimming for fun. Can't you just feel the cold water closing over you now as you perfect that spring off the board. Really, it's a lovely way to pass away the afternoon, any afternoon from 4:00 to 5:30 o'clock.

If you find yourself draped over a Rotunda railing of a Saturday night from boredom, why then the pool is an ideal place to forget it. It's definitely the popular spot on said night.

Water Polo is undoubtedly the water sport at this point, and if you haven't tried it yet, there's really something in store for you—or perhaps you've heard.

Now, there's another little matter. If that figure of yours has been tormenting you of late, swimming is excellent for getting it under control again. On the other hand, if you find your appetite a bit on the petite side, or if you're feeling run down and unenergetic, there's nothing better than a refreshing dip to fill you brimfull of the proverbial vim, vigor, and vitality.

Don't let a little thing like, "I haven't anybody to go with", stop you either 'cause when you get down there you'll be surprised at the number of people you know whose destination is the same. Of course, if you still aren't satisfied then why not make a date with us to go. Shall we say tomorrow or Saturday night?

Notice

Play night will be held at 8:30 instead of 8:00 Saturday night due to the ball game.

To a Former Lover

There was a time when I could laugh
At the awful jokes you told.
But that was then.
Today, I find
Those same jokes rather old.

There was a time when I could thrill
Just knowing you were near;
Today, I am a little bored
Because you are still here.

There was a time when your embrace
Brought rare exotic bliss.
But now it's hard to make myself
Endure your rapid kiss.

To dance with you was ecstasy
That only lovers know.
Tonight, I'm conscious only that
You're stepping on my toe.

I used to lie awake at night
And think and dream of you.
But now I find it possible
To sleep the whole night through.

I find I don't enjoy your sonnets
As I did before;
Dear Friend, to put it briefly,
I don't love you anymore.

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System

Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS MEDICINES

Perfumes—Toilet Articles

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Quality—Price—Service

HOTEL WEYANOKE

Regular Meals

A La Carte Service

Salads & Sandwiches

Patronize

Patterson Drug Co.

—AT—

Money Saving Prices

—FOR—

Drugs and Toiletries Expert Prescription Service Clean Fountain

Featuring

Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream

238 MAIN STREET

Frosh Vs. Oceana Game Scheduled For Sat., Jan. 27

Cleo Jarman, basketball manager, has announced that the Freshman basketball squad will take to the hardwood Saturday night, 7:30 p. m., for first game of the current season. They will oppose the Oceana High School of Oceana, Va.

Virginia Carroll, Farmville graduate and co-captain of the 1939 basketball squad coaches the visiting team.

After the game the Freshmen will give a tea for the visitors in the Y. W. lounge.

Everyone is urged to attend the game and support the team.

PingPong Notice

According to Helen Wentz, the ping-pong tables and paddles will be left in the "rec" during the week for those girls who would like to use them. On week-ends the paddles can be obtained from Helen Wentz's room—27 Annex. She has asked that the girls return the paddles to her room when they are through playing. Each girl must furnish her own ping-pong balls.

COLLEGE SHOPPE

Best food in town

Try us

Call 200—We deliver

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop

"From old to new with any shoes" Only First Class Material used All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!

Electric Appliance Co.

Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY MEATS AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

Virginian Has Dance; South'n Serenaders Play

A. K. G. Sells Nabs and Cokes

Wasn't it fun? Weren't there a lot of cute people? Weren't the decorations attractive? And wasn't the band swell? Such was the conversation after the Virginian Dance, Saturday, January 20.

Many hearts, as well as feet, danced the short hours between 8:30 and 12:00, to the music of the Southern Serenaders, who rendered a parade of the latest hits. This orchestra, from Petersburg, made its second appearance here, the first being last year's Junior- Senior Prom.

Perrye Smith, Gamma Psi head, was chairman of the decoration committee, who was responsible for the clever arrangement of covers and inside pages of recent annuals that adorned the walls. This year's cover was represented as a big question mark.

Intermission lasted from 10:30 to 11:00 at which time Alpha Kappa Gamma sold nabs and cokes on second floor Student Building.

Guests were greeted in Student Lounge by the receiving line composed of Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Nancy Foster, Miss Virginia Bedford, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McCorkle, Isabel Williamson and Sally Dunlap.

This was the first dance sponsored by the Virginian annual staff and proved to be successful in many ways. The purpose of the dance was to enable the staff to sell annuals at a reduced price.

Snow Bound

Continued from Page 1

which people thought quite deep.

Unofficially some of the old timers around Farmville say that this snow almost equals the heavy fall about the year 1913, when business was paralyzed for several days and schools had holidays for almost a week. That was some snow according to the traditions. It must have been between 30 and 40 inches deep, though some reporters swear it was four feet.

EACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.

Wednesday-Thur., Jan. 24-25
JEFFREY LYNN
Geraldine Fitzgerald
"A Child Is Born"
Not For Those Under 16

Friday-Sat., Jan. 26-27
Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.
Margaret Lockwood
RULERS OF THE SEA
"Peace on Earth"

Next Mon.-Tues., Jan. 29-30
JOEL McCREA
NANCY KELLY
"He Married His Wife"
POPEYE Cartoon—News

Annapolis, V. P. I. Beckon Local Girls

Dance Keeps Majority Here

Other schools must have been too busy for dances last weekend, so most of the girls who went away spent the week-end with friends or at their own homes. Of course, there are always exceptions to every rule, and a few exceptions were Sara Keesee and Lula Windham who went to Annapolis for the dances and Lucille Richeson and Evelyn Burford who had a wonderful time at the "hop" in Blacksburg last Saturday night.

Now, let's see where some of the other people were. Mary Sue Edmonson, Ella Hutchison, Louise Huff, Polly Hughes, Luella Hall, Imogene Hutter, Eloise Layman, Sarah Lawson, Marian Mitchell, Emma Louise Crowgey, Dot Eades, Margaret Carr, Nancy Goode Bland, Billie Pittman, Mildred Ottinger, Elizabeth Ralph, Beverly Smith, Perrye Smith, Helen Watts, Dot Wood, Elizabeth Williams and Nell White were in Lynchburg.

Mary Klare Beck, Mary Prince Arnold, Martha Cottrell, Sudie Dunton, Caroline Eason, Marie Eason, Elizabeth Glasgow, Coralee Gilliam, Anne Lee Gardner, Evelyn Byrd Timberlake, Nancy Fulton, Helen Jeffries, Jane Waller and Dot Smith had fun in Richmond.

Betty Barnes, May Winn, Nell Hall, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Louise Painter and Marie Utt enjoyed the comforts of home in Roanoke.

Mildred Savory, Alice Marie Coberly, Margaret Tate, Mary Louise Cox, Virginia Howell, Mary Ellen Williams, and Virginia Groves Rose went down the way to Petersburg.

Mary Katherine Dodson, Anne Billups and Clyde Saunders were in Norfolk and down in the same direction were Betty Lee Downing, Newport News; and Anne Holland, Ellen Scott, Mildred Harry and Gloria Niemeyer, Suffolk.

Carmen Booth and Marian Heard traveled to Danville while Polly Keller went to Staunton.

Emily Owen, Mildred Owen and Ethelyn Smith spent Sunday in Blackstone.

We hear Gerry Hatcher, Dorothy Hahn and Hazel Holmes had fun in Charlottesville.

"Faculty Album"

Continued from Page 1

Two little boys somewhere in the family, made a charming picture—Prissy Percy (Landrum) all neat and sweet aside careless Charlie (French) with dirty face and clothes sadly in need of mending. Country Cousin Elizabeth (Hutt) of whom they were ashamed because of her queer clothes and country ways, always had to go "everywhere they went". Grandmother's twin sister Ollie (Iler) had had her picture taken typically—on her beloved bicycle. A brother (Mr. Graham) had been another black sheep for he had turned jockey—a handsome but daring chap.

Grandmother's best friend (Miss Barlow) at school had become quite a fanatic on the subject of botany and looked her later-eccentric self in the pose of catching butterflies. The town dudes (Holton and Simkins) had "set the girls mad". Strange that they never married.

The aristocrat of the family had been great great grandmother Ottie (Craddock) who was really a beauty in that plum-colored velvet ordered from Philadelphia.

The last page featured a girl (Miss Hutchinson) Grandmother had met on her first trip to Atlantic City. Her extreme bathing suit (an 1880 style) had really been "most shocking".

Yes, most shocking—and intriguing was the entire album, Grandmother reminisced, as she, Sarah and the delighted audience slipped back to 1940.

Hop Says

Hop to DE LUXE CLEANERS with your skirts and sweaters "Two bits" each.
PHONE 77 or See Perry Smith

Stationery Sale
MONTAG'S
100 sheets
50 envelopes
49c
SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

LYNN'S
EXPERT WATCH REPAIRING
—At—
REASONABLE PRICES
MODERN EQUIPMENT
MATERIAL FOR EVERY WATCH

DUKE UNIVERSITY
School of Nursing
DURHAM, N. C.
The Diploma of Graduate Nurse is awarded after three years, and the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing for two additional years of approved college work before or after the course in Nursing. The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and graduation from an accredited high school. After 1940 two years of college work will be required. The annual tuition of $100 covers the cost of uniforms, books, student government fees, etc. Catalogues, application forms and information about college requirements may be obtained from the Admission Committee.

Two New Alumnae Chapters Formed

Two new alumnae chapters have been formed within the last two weeks.

Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Grace Moran, president of the Alumnae Association, and Mrs. M. B. Coyner, executive secretary, addressed the new Gloucester chapter on Saturday, January 13, at Gloucester Court House. Mrs. Edith Esteys Gray, class of 1920, was chosen president.

Mrs. Coyner met with a group of Amelia alumnae in Amelia High school Thursday afternoon, January 11. An Amelia chapter was organized with Miss Emma Allen, president. Mrs. Southall Farrar was elected vice-president, and Miss Otelia Harvey secretary and treasurer.

Sorority Averages Compiled for Spring

Scholastic averages for the eight sororities on campus for the Spring Quarter of 1939 have been tabulated and are as follows:

1.85—Mu Omega, 1.80—Phi Zeta Sigma, 1.73—Sigma Sigma Sigma, 1.73—Alpha Sigma Tau, 1.71—Theta Sigma Upsilon, 1.69—Gamma Theta, 1.57—Alpha Sigma Alpha, 1.56—Pi Kappa Sigma.

The car was so old, they had to get both upper and lower plates.

Another thing we've often wondered about—where do the footprints of time come from, when everyone knows that time flies.

Epitaph

His cross unseen
His coffin bare
Here lies the man
Who wasn't there.

The sultan got sore at his harem,
And invented a scheme for to scare 'em;
He caught him a mouse
Which he loosed in the house.
The confusion was called harem-scarem.

Martin the Jeweler
Rytex Stationary
200 FLAT SHEETS
200 DOUBLE SHEETS
$1.00 PER BOX

START THE DAY RIGHT with a WHOLESOME BREAKFAST at
SHANNON'S
Phone 224 We Deliver

Spring Carole King Dresses
There's nothing sweeter . . . neater than the illusive charm of our gay new adorable Carole King Juniors.
3.97 to 7.97
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Charge it if you like

SKIRTS $1.98 and SWEATERS $1.98
In the new pastel shades—anklets to match 35c and 50c.
New spring print dresses.
New assortment of spring hats.
THE HUB DEPT. STORE
APPRECIATES YOUR PATRONAGE

Remember—
Chesterfield Gives You
REAL MILDNESS
and Better Taste

These two qualities, that you want and look for in a cigarette, are yours only in Chesterfield's right combination of the best cigarette tobaccos that money can buy.

And that's not all . . . Chesterfield gives you a FAR COOLER smoke. No wonder new Chesterfield smokers, and those who have enjoyed them for years, pass the word along . . . they really Satisfy.

Chesterfield
The Cooler, Better-Tasting, DEFINITELY MILDER Cigarette
Copyright 1940, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

GET YOUR MARDI GRAS TICKET NOW

The Rotunda

IMPORTANT EDITORIAL ON PAGE 2

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY JAN. 31, 1940 | NO. 15

Mardi Gras Festivities Tuesday

Five Recognized As Leaders by Honorary Group

A. K. G. Taps Two Seniors and Three Juniors at Service

Two Seniors, Ollie Graham Gilchrist and Helen Jeffries and three Juniors, Rosa Courter, Pat Gibson and Jean Moyer, were given public recognition as leaders before an anticipating student body at the quarterly tapping service of Alpha Kappa Gamma, honorary organization for leadership among women, yesterday, January 30, at chapel time.

Gilchrist and Jeffries

Ollie Graham Gilchrist, from Norfolk, Va., has been outstanding in class activities and in Y. W work. She entered Farmville as a Sophomore, a transfer from William and Mary College. She holds the office of secretary of the Y W. C. A., served as co-director of the Senior circus stunt, and holds membership in Pi Gamma Mu and Kappa Delta Pi.

Helen Jeffries from Culpeper, Va., has participated in numerous class and athletic activities and is now head manager of the lighting group for the Dramatic Club. She has this year served as news editor of The Rotunda, and holds office in Monogram Club and Latin Club, and membership in Pi Gamma Mu, Kappa Delta Pi, and Beorc Eh Thorn.

Courter, Gibson, Moyer

Rosa Courter, from Amelia, Va., has headed clas activities and this year directed the Junior Water Carnival stunt, and the Junior Production. She has been a member of Varsity Basketball since entering Farmville and is Athletic Association treasurer. She holds membership in the Monogram Club.

Pat Gibson, of New York City, has been outstanding in the athletic field participating in class sports and varsity athletics. She has since her Freshman year played varsity basketball, and for the past two years has been instructor of swimming classes and activities. She is at present vice-president of A. A., sports editor of The Rotunda and a member of Alpha Phi Sigma.

Jean Moyer, of Portsmouth, Va., has for the past year represented her class on Student Government. She has been a member of the College Choir and A Capella Choir. She is president of Alpha Phi Sigma, treasurer of the Granddaughters Club and recently elected vice-head for next year of Kappa Delta Pi.

Virginian Deadline Is February 15

Deadline for subscribing to The Virginian has been set for Febuary 15. Unless 700 subscriptions are sold, the annual cannot be obtained for $4 instead of $5. Thus far only 300 students have subscribed.

Farmville Is Attraction Center; Outer World Offers Sympathy

Well, folks, it seems that Farmville has become the center of interest in Virginia in the past week. Many and varied are the tales that have found their way through to the outside world, and it is indeed interesting to note the reaction brought about by them.

Some offer a hand of deepest sympathy, others raise both hands in amazed disbelief, while still others spread out their hands and judge our predicament as utterly hopeless.

From Portsmouth, Virginia comes the sad misunderstanding that every pipe in the school has frozen and burst, that the students are freezing to death, that we are completely without food, and those who haven't already frozen are slowly but surely starving. Tish, tish! Horrible isn't it? I suppose that by now we should all be weeping on one another's shoulders—but we're not though.

Remember the night the mercury went to twenty below? Lexington, certain that it was a typographical error had the audacity to wire for verification of such an astounding statement. Umph! So they doubt our integrity, do they?

However, on the other hand at V. P. I., where there was a mere

Continued on Page 6

Photo by Davidson's Studio

Seated, left to right): Sara Keesee, Essie Millner, queen, and Lula Windham, Chlotilde Jarman, Johnny Lybrook, and Virginia Mary Lou Shannon. (Standing): Cottie Radspinner, Nancy Wolfe, Lee Pettis, members of Mardi Gras court.

Dorothy Rollins To Head K. D. P.

Moyer, Courtney, West Are Officers

Dorothy Rollins, a junior from Arlington, was elected president of the Beta Epsilon chapter of Kappa Delta Pi on Thursday, January 25, to succeed Anne Billups of Norfolk, president this school year.

Dorothy is assistant feature ditor of The Rotunda and the assistant art editor on the Virginian staff, secretary of the Gamma Psi art society, and member of Pi Gamma Mu.

Other officers elected were Jean Moyer, Portsmouth, vice-president; Thelma Courtney, Winchester, secretary; and Elizabeth West, Portsmouth, treasurer. After installation, these girls will fill in the places left by Mr. M. B. Coyner, Beulah Ettinger and Evelyn Burford.

Kappa Delta Pi is the highest honor which anyone in the education field and teachers profession can obtain. It is an honor fraternity of which such famous educators as John Dewey, Thomas Kilpatrick are members.

Duke University Orchestra Will Play for Mardi Gras

Jack Payton and his Duke University orchestra will be featured for the Mardi Gras dance on February 6, and Roy Lane, former Tommy Dorsey vocalist, will sing with the band at that time.

One of the major attractions of the orchestra is Jack Payton, himself, and his vibrophone. Many members of the group played at Hampden-Sydney year before last with Frankie Gerrard.

Another orchestra from Duke well known to this campus is Johnny Long's who has had engagements here on various occasions. Players form or join another campus orchestra after the leaders have graduated or left school.

Advertising themselves as "A melody mixture fit for a king—seasoned with plenty of sweetened swing" they are noted for their rendition of "Mamma, I Wanna Hat with Cherries."

Tickets for the dance are on sale now by Pi Gamma Mu members, and they are rapidly diminishing in number.

Bellus, Wood Broacast Over Station WRVA

Peggy Bellus, lyric soprano, accompanied by Norma Wood, pianist, both Farmville Sophomores, presented a fifteen minute program, representing Farmville over the WRVA Broadcasting Company on January 26 at 6:45 P. M.

Peggy selected for her solos, "Love Here Is My Heart", "When I Was Seventeen" and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes".

The College Choir was originally scheduled for the broadcast, but it was impossible due to the weather. The trip as planned was to have included the broadcast, dinner at the Jefferson Hotel, and the opera "Traviata" by the San Carlos company at the Mosque.

Notice!

Mardi Gras tickets are on sale now by Pi Gamma Mu members, whose names are posted on the bulletin board. White tickets are for dates; blue for stags.

Mr. Coyner to Head Founders Day Group; Two Dances this Year

Mr. M. Boyd Coyner will head the committee for Founders Day which is on March 9 this year.

Others on the committee are Miss Olive Iler, Miss Jane Royall, Mr. Raymond French, Miss Virginia Bedford, Marie Eason, Boonie Stephenson, Esther Atkinson and Jean Moyer.

This year due to the large student body there will be two dances given for the occasion, one in the gym and one in the recreation hall. Dancers must remain in one place or the other; they may not attend both dances.

Snow Causes Library Repairs and Changes

Due to the snow overhanging the edge of the roof, the Browsing Room door of the library has been locked to prevent possible injury to students.

Friday night the library had to be closed at 8 o'clock so that repairs could be made to the lights in certain sections of the building.

Students have been requested not to use the path around the side of the building but to use the main walk.

Dr. Alexander Unable To Speak for F. T. A.

Dr. Fred Alexander, who was scheduled to speak for the Farmville chapter of the Future Teachers of America on January 29, was unable to fill his engagement due to illness.

Dr. Alexander is a member of the State Board of Education and was to talk on the core curriculum.

Pankellenic Dance Will Be Feb. 24

Sororities Will Be Hostesses at Event

Pan-Hel Dance will take place on Saturday, February 24. Eliza Wise, president of the Pan-Hellenic Association has announced. The dance will last from 8:30 to 12 o'clock with an half hour intermission.

V. M. I. Commanders, a swing band from the Virginia Military Institute, will furnish the music for the occasion. This orchestra contains 12 pieces and features a vocalist. The Commanders have previously played for several dances at S. T. C.

Further plans for the dance are now being arranged.

Pan Hel dances have been a feature of the winter quarter for the past two years. Sorority girls may ask dates for the dance and extend stag bids to non-sorority girls.

Freshman Commission Brings Drama to School "Sing"

The S. T. C. Film Company, Limited (very limited) presented at Sing last Saturday night, January 27, a moving burlesque entitled "Wild Nell of The Plains" or "Her Final Sacrifice."

The action was centered around Lady Vere De Vere, the English heiress played by May Bartlett, who leaves her ancestral home for America where she meets Handsome Harry (Ellen Ebel). But alas! Complications arise for Wild Nell, the pet of the plains, (Liza McDaniel) sees the meeting. Her soul trembles with jealousy.

Another scene: Sitting Bull (Anne Moore) meets Eddie The Eel, terror of the Bronx, who tells him of Lady Vere De Vere's wealth. They plan to capture the English heiress. More complications!

Alas! Lady Vere De Vere unsuspectingly strolls across the plains and sits upon a cactus bush to rest. The Indians, who are hiding behind the old Apple tree (Nancy Saunders) seige her and lead her away.

Action: Camera! Lights! There's Wild Nell again, and with her heart torn twixt love and duty, she calls Handsome Harry, forgetting her love. They go to the Indian camp where Hula Hula, the medicine woman (Jeanne Hall) and Minnie Tee Hee (Anne Ellett) are busily engaged tying Lady Vere De Vere to a steak (P. S. With onions).

But to the rescue comes Handsome Harry, who aims his pistol and fires (water). Wild Nell unites the lovers. Her duty done, the favorite of the frontiersmen makes her final sacrifice.

Queen and Court Announce Escorts For Annual Ball

Prizes on Display in Martin's Window; Offer Three Awards

Dick Traynum of Hampton will crown Essie Millner queen of Mardi Gras at the annual colorful event on February 6. Mardi Gras is sponsored by Pi Gamma Mu, national social science fraternity.

Members of the court will follow the usual Spanish theme in costume with gayly colored dresses and lace mantillas. Courtiers and their escorts are Lula Windham with Dan Boisseau of Petersburg; Nancy Wolfe with Porter Vaughan of the University of Richmond; Mary Lou Shannon with Jimmy Dodson of the University of Virginia; Cottie Radspinner with Tyler Taylor of Hampden-Sydney; Sara Keesee with Tom Martin of Washington and Lee; Chlotilde Jarman with Ranny Rouse of Newport News; Virginia Lee Pettis with Bill Lashley of Hampden-Sydney; and Johnny Lybrook with Bill Cash of the University of Richmond.

Following the processional and coronation there will be a floor show under the direction of Elizabeth Kent.

Prizes will be awarded for the prettiest costume, most original one, and for the best couple in costume. Prizes have been selected and are now on display in Martin's window. The clock is for the winner of the prettiest costume, the desk pen for the most original and the watch chain and handy kit for the best couple.

Forensic Group Plans Activities

The next scheduled meet for the Debate Club is set for February 9, when Farmville will meet Randolph-Macon, Ashland, for the annual debate.

The Debate Club opened the season of 1939-40 by sending delegates to the Dixie Forensic Tournew held annually at Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. C. This first debate, a practice tournament, was represented by Marie Allen, Anne Cock, Frances Keck, and Elizabeth Ann Parker.

Two varsity members remain on the team, Marie Allen and Lorana Moomaw. A new plan has been tried this year by using as many new girls as possible. More Freshmen and Sophomores will be used

Continued on page 5

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Published weekly by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia nine months a year

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO · BOSTON · LOS ANGELES · SAN FRANCISCO

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant ..... Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmondson, Mildred Harry, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Agnes Pickral, and Janelle Shelor.
Jean Watts, Mary Louise Cunningham, Caroline Ford, Mariam Jester, Shirley McCalley, Nancy Naff, Sarah Cline, Gerry Ackiss, Bridget Gentile, Elizabeth Rapp, Evelyn Thorington, Dot Sprinkle, Amy Read.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd Jean Upshur, and Thelma Courtney.
Photographer ..... Virginia Worley

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 31, 1940

It's Only Courtesy and We're Not Heeding It

One would not have to be a careful observer to have noticed the absolute confusion recently accompanying dining hall announcements. During meals unnecessary dashing around is enough to give the most normal person nervous indigestion; but the point herein stressed is the noise during the time when notices are being read. When the bell rings, and even before, at the end of the meal there are those who feel it compulsory to begin scraping their chairs on the floor and getting up. Some bold souls even venture half way up the center aisle. The effect of all this is quite obvious. It must seem an exaggerated fact that at one time an announcement could be heard without the help of the amplifier. When we first began using it, it was a wonderful thing. Now it can hardly compete with the increased noise and disturbance.

We've heard some say, "I always hear the announcement when it concerns me." But take the numerous instances when the girl only hears her name read and not catching the foregoing part, immediately starts asking, "What was that?" "What time did they say?" You know how it runs on. Half the announcements are not heard, the other half only partially taken in. Can't we do something about this condition? This paper proposes a solution. If each person remains seated until the last announcement has been made no one will have any trouble hearing it. The announcer won't have to strain her vocal cords. This is only courtesy to her, to authorities who have requested less disturbance during meals, and to those of us who are interested in the announcement of what is going on.

What's New?

By Elizabeth Rapp

With snow on the ground and the chill air of winter whistling around "ye ole corners" of S. T. C., it seems a poor time to bring up the subject of spring clothes; but the time of year for our girlish minds to turn to thoughts of "What's New" has come.

Have you seen the brown shade that's the newest thing for spring? It's a lovely warm shade and looks—oh—so good for the girl with the deep tan skin (or the tan you're planning to get). Speaking of colors, the best yet for us fair girls with last year's tan in oblivion, is hot pink and shades of gray. It's being featured by Vogue, and the shades are really "luscious" together.

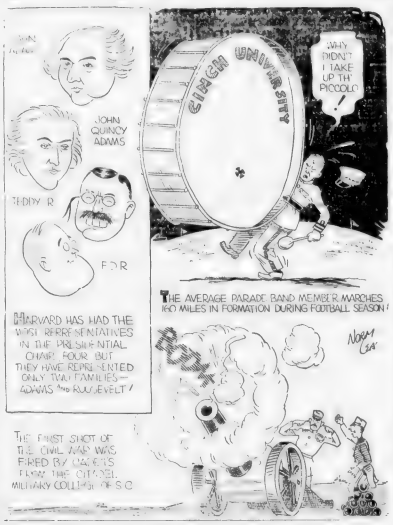
As for quirks in style, the three-quarter length sleeves are still good. The shirt-waist dress is making its great comback in all variations. Tucks, pockets, and deeper pointed collars go with it.

Costume jewelry in form of necklaces go in heavy for the bib style. Wide belts adorn dresses from sport to semi-formals.

With the influences of "G. W. T. W.", all one can say is "Here's to more and better Scarletts." Seems as though the glamour girl will revert to the dainty demure miss of the pre-Civil War Days. Evidently the upswept hair-do of 1938-39 will be transformed to the long bob of Scarlett.

And now, girls, here it is—the "sloppy Joe" has passed away. We place it here among the obituaries. The popular little job we've worn all winter is no more. The "briefers" have 'em.

Start your planning now. The zero may hover 'round, but—if winter comes, can spring be far behind?



Quotable Quotes

College librarians have their troubles, too—and if you don't believe it, listen to this: A Glenville (W. Va.) State Teachers College librarian recently received a request for a book called "Forty Ways to Amuse a Dog." The person wanted "Forty Days of Musa Dagh."

Georgia Students Mostly Fear Snakes and Drunks

War and final examinations seem to hold no fear of psychology students of Georgia Southwestern College. In compiling a "fear list" recently, they listed the offlowing as the things they feared most:

Snakes, drunks, water, wild animals, mad dogs, fire, stormy weather, reckless driving, and high altitudes.

Strive Ever Onward; Make Best of What You Are

"My business is not to remake myself,
But make the absolute best of what God made."

God's in His heaven—
All's right with the world!

"A man's reach should exceed his grasp,
Or what's a Heaven for?"

There comes a time in every person's life when it seems that life is not worth living, when all atempts have turned into apparent failures, and the door of full enjoyment has closed itself in one's face. To paint the picture as dark as possible is my purpose thus far. Help me, and with your imagination and perhaps some past experience of yours, paint a picture that is dark and hopeless.

No experience, no condition, no trial is ever without some hope. We have all heard said, "while there is life, there is hope." This is exactly what I mean. No matter what burden there is for you to bear, all hope is not lost as long as you put your very all into the task and stop never until you have climbed, progressed to a certain degree. Mankind is not so inhuman that it fails to recognize in part the effort (but be sure there has been some effort on your part) you have put forth.

There is a task for each of us in the next few days, a job that will require persistance, patience, and above all a marked determination on the part of everyone. Exams confront us, and while to some, they will seem a matter of more or less routine, to others they will seem a wall that cannot be climbed, a summit that cannot be attained. It is these latter ones to whom I wish to say this;

Continued on Page 5

Answer to Letter

Just a word to the Seniors who wrote the letter suggesting that an alphabetical list of names of girls in Junior and Senior Building with their room numbers be posted in the telephone booth of Senior Building. The Home Office book contains a complete register of names and rooms. It would take but a short hour to copy them. Student Standards, however, will probably attend to it immediately.

Echoes from an Empty Space

Neither rain nor snow
Nor sleet nor hail,
Stop this writer
From the swift completion
Of her nosy rounds.

Next time Moomaw, you'd best offer Dr. Wynne your hankie instead of your glasses.

Love life, ah, love life—after all that "friendly" correspondence V. P. has decided he doesn't love Rollins after all—what's her excuse for being so happy about the whole affair.

Query? Query? Did Margaret Carr check her hat at Sigma Chi or Kappa Alpha last week-end?

The rival at Harrisonburg seems to have Louise Hall worried. If only you can get week-end permission for mid-winters you can straighten it out, Lou—we hope.

Ask Boonie Stephenson if she prefers "Wendy" weather to climate that is "Mai" calm?

We hear that everybody turned out to the President's ball and the "March of Dimes." Could it be because of your posters, Anne?

Roses to Rudd for winning out in the Franklin-Rudd-Thompson tirangle.

One-half of "Pitt" has come across—for further details see the Cock twins.

How's it feel to be an "oomph girl" Irma? When you get this two-bid business cleared up let us know how you decided.

What gullible girlie fell for the story that two pictures of the same boy were pictures of twin brothers?

Graham's call would come when Jane was luxing her locks in the depths of the shower room.

Kappa Delta Pi headquarters—Suite 2, Rooms 3 and 5, first floor Junior Dorm. Congrats—there's nothing like keeping it in the family. How are they going to prove it wasn't railroaded?

Who was the pretty valentine for Janie R.? Certainly was a beaut!

Ask "Birdie" about that tea-coffee mixture she fixed up for the Debate Club. Was that a blush or was it sunset glow?

How can you explain Elsye Berrye's weekly return from Charlottesville in a taxi?

Perrye, are you really going to take Maggies' place on the reverend's lecture tours? Send us an autographed picture, s'il vous plait!

Flash! Hampden-Sydney did you read Betty Bly on Tuesday, Jan. 30? Are you really what the "worried three" are looking for? If not, defend yourselves.

Winslow, dear, don't rob the cradle. Tisn't nice. You're a big girl now!

Mildred Morris seems still interested in baseball . . . for fond explanation see her at once . . . when she isn't knitting, please.

Does Mickey Beck ever stay home? Tsch. And so young, too.

Isn't it a bit out of the ordinary for Pat and Ruth Lea to mimic Chi before midnight. Sheets aren't too becoming before the witching hour.

Who are the "B & B hot shots"?

The organization of S. S. had better beware of them. Things are going a bit too far. We are against propaganda!

Marguerite Costello has such a beamish look. Couldn't be the winter air or collegiate stimulation. We would think the latter.

Meadaway, what're you gonna do honey? Too many men! Can't you get rid of that guy even by telling him "no". Run along to V. P. I. and tend to this Davidson fellow later.

Congratulations are in order for Anna George who refused a Kappa Sig pin because "it didn't mean anything".

What we'd like to know is how one goes about getting in the "I Love You" club?

How about talking long distance to Detroit for ten minutes—have you no consideration, Jean Martin?

What could Kiah T. have said that prevented Helen from singing in music class Monday morning?

And then there's the map in Martha De's room of Eastern Shore bearing the caption "Love is such a precious thing."

We hear that Betty Greig is on the "bumpy" road to love.

It's snow use, Nancy. Walter just couldn't get here last week-end.

Adios chums and remember that when dirtier digs are dug we'll dig 'em.

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

Democracy's New Mirror

Much attention has been paid to the Gallup poll recently. So much attention that many interested citizens have been puzzled at the importance with which reference to the poll is made and they are asking what is the poll and how does it work?

If it is supposed to be a representation of public opinion, why isn't it that we have never heard of anybody who has been interviewed. To this Dr. George Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public opinion, answers, "Even in a 10,000 sample—weekly, we wouldn't be covering more than 500,000 in a year out of 60,000,000 eligible voters. The probability of striking you or your neighbor is remote."

Dr. Gallup's Institute has about 700 staff members. Each member is assigned a definite number of people to interview. People in all different phases of life are interviewed in order to get an accurate cross section. That is the most important item, getting that cross section. It is easy to see how one whole field might be strongly in favor of an issue while the field beside it might be bitterly opposed. That is why Dr. Gallup insists that his staff interview both rich and poor, old and young, men and women, farmers and city people, people in different religious orders as well as different political parties.

The questions are important, too. The questions must be clear enough for almost anyone to understand. They must not be "catchy" or tricky. Much time is given to the wording of questions so that they will be "attitude" questions—questions that will get honest answers.

The interesting thing about the poll is that it has seldom gone wrong on a single election. "Events do not wait on elections nor does public opinion stay put," Dr. Gallup says, "New facts and factors are being introduced constantly, and we need to know the people's will at all times." This explains the repeating of the same questions over different periods of time. Mr. Roosevelt's popularity has been a favorite and now the war situation is a top-ranger. Change in events bring change in minds, that is porgress.

The poll is not a political machine. It is a serious business. Dr. Gallup would rather see the poll done away with than have it used as a means of propaganda.

Over 60,000 people will be interviewed this year in order that a correct prediction may be made on the presidential election. "A thousand people would tell the story," the Director says, "if we could be sure of the right ones."

Updegraff who was the first to term the polls "Democracy's New Mirror" asked in Washington are they taken seriously?" The answer was "very". A government of the people and for the people must include all the people in all different walks of life. True democracy should be the rule of the majority, not what this senator's little group of folds back home are interested in but what many groups of people want. Is it what the people really want is an old age puzzling question. The Gallup's poll is the closest thing to a real answer that America has seen yet.

How long this new "mirror" will give a clear reflection of what Mr. Public thinks is another question. If it fails on a small issue once or twice and some logical reason for the failure can be given, the loser will have done little harm to the poll's popularity; but if the poll should "slip up" on some big issue, say for instance, the 1940 election, then it would take a lot of explaining to hold the faith of the people. A poll is useless unless the people believe in it. That is what happened to yesterday's famous Literary Digest poll.

Dramatic Club Issues Bids to Eighty-five Girls

Formal Initiation In Small Auditorium Tonight

Eighty-five girls have been issued bids to the Dramatic Club after an apprentice period which lasted throughout the fall quarter and culminated with an examination on the work taken up in the one of the six major departments to which each girl was apprenticed. These girls were informally initiated Tuesday, January 30, at 7:30 p. m. in the small auditorium and will be formally initiated tonight, January 31, at 7:15 p. m. Yesterday and today these girls have been wearing masks as a symbol of their acceptance of bids to membership.

The following girls, each of whom has shown interest in work of the Dramatic Club and special ability in the department in which she was apprenticed, have been elected to membership from the six major departments—Lighting, Staging, Makeup, Acting, Costuming, and Properties; and the two minor departments: Business and Music.

Virginia Alexander, Dorothy Anderson, May Bartlett, Geraldine Beckner, Elizabeth Bernard, Margaret Bowling, Helen Briggs, Gay Ward Brown, Iris Bryant, Yvonne Cheape, Imogene Claylor, Martha Cobb, Josie Lee Cogsdale, Rosa Courter, Dorothy Sue Crumley, Sara Currie, Lucy Davis, Dot Dawley and Marie Dix.

Anne Ellet, Texie Belle Felts, Eleanor Folk, Ruth Fraughbraugh, Lillian German, Jeannette Giovannoni, Lilly Beck Gray, Charlotte Greely, Iris Gever, Jeanne Hall, Martha Hammock, Jac Hardy, Stella Harmon, Mary Harvie, Hallie Hillsman, Jean Hatton, Frances Hoback, Arlene Hunt, Sally Hutchinson, Anne Hurff, Grace Hutcheson, Dot Johnson, and Baylis Kuntz.

Anne Lyons, Betty McConnell, Eliza McDaniel, Frances Mallory, Carolyn Minnick, Margaret Mish, Emily Owen, Mildred Owen, Nancy Naff, Jo Newman, Jo Nicol, Edith Nunnally, Agnes Patterson, Beverly Perkins, Katherine E. Price, Katherine H. Price, Amy Read, Betty Reid, Elaine Ross, Jane Saunders and Nancy Saunders.

Anne Sawyer, Betty Sexton, Dawn Shanklin, Ruth Shumate, Edith Sibold, Sarah Sibold, Beverly Smith, Jerry Smith, Elsie Stossel, Lorraine Swingle, Virginia Sydnor, Mildred Taylor, Pearl Thompson, Bobbie Tripp, Lucy Tucker, Shirley Turner, Harriette Walker, Jane Waller, Peggy Watkins, Mary Willson, Virginia Worley, Betty Youngberg.

A tea will be given February 14 in honor of the new girls.

Mr. T. A. McCorkle, Finland, —Ever Heard of Him?

Tales have a way of growing taller, it would seem, but we've a story here that takes the cookie! By courtesy of the science department, specifically "Mr. Mac", we offer this little narration. Word reached Lynchburg of the extreme rigidity what our S. T. C. intellectuals were experiencing and when "Mr. Mac" received a business letter from a noted firm in that city the letter (fortunately not the envelope) was headed "Mr. T. A. McCorkle, Finland". Evidently they took us literally when we remarked on the climatic similarity of the two regions—or do they actually think we did cut off the bottoms of the thermometers so the mercury could fall—but definitely!

R.-M. Student Is Speaker at Meet

Personal Religion Is Discussion Theme

George Wesley Jones, a senior ministerial student from Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, was the guest speaker of the Wesley Foundation at the evening service, Sunday, January 28, at the Methodist Church. He talked on the place one's personal religion has in life.

Elizabeth Ann Parker, president of the Wesley Foundation, student group, presided and Mary Katherine Dodson led in prayer. Lillian German read the scripture.

George Wesley represented Southern Methodist young people at the uniting conference last year and has been president of the Virginia Young People several years. His home is in Norfolk.

View of Registrar's Office

Miss Virgilia Bugg works over records in her office while Dorothy Perkins and Mrs. Guy Lancaster look up some statistics in the files of front office. This can only part illustrate the luxury of the new registrar's office.

Student Conference To Be February 23-25 At Blackstone College

Blackstone College is host to the state-wide Methodist Student Conference from February 23-25 in Blackstone, to which students from all campuses are invited.

The program which is planned by students will center around the general theme of "Practical Religion in Action on the Campus". Various topics under this will be touched through forums, interest groups, addresses and discussions.

The purpose of such a meet is for inspiration, fellowship, worship, facing personal, economic, social, and international problems.

All Are Eligible For Photo Contest

An amateur photo contest, the largest and most widely known of all college camera contests is now being sponsored by the Collegiate Digest and is open to both students and faculty members. This contest is conducted each year to select the prize-winning photos to be featured in the annual Salon Edition—an edition that is a special "showing" of the best work done by collegiate photographers during the year.

This special edition demonstrates the great progress made by student and faculty shutter-snappers, and rewards the winners with cash prizes, the publication of their photos, and participation in a traveling photo salon that is exhibited at leading college art centers in all sections of the U. S.

Although the experienced amateur is aided by the use of special equipment, ordinary cameras very often take the prize-winning pictures, as previous Salon Edition contests have proven. It's the picture—not the equipment—that counts, and both experienced and inexperienced photographers may participate in the contest.

Here are the complete rules for the competition:

1. All material must be sent not later than April 1, to: Salon Editor, Collegiate Digest Section, 323 Fawkes Building, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

2. Send technical data about each photo submitted. Give college year or faculty standing of the photographer. Information about the subject of the photo will be helpful. Any size of photo is acceptable, but pictures larger than 3 by 5 inches are preferred.

3. Enter your photo in one of the following divisions: (a) still life; (b) scenes; (c) action and candid photos; (d) portraits; (e) "college life".

4. First place winners in each division will receive a cash award of $5; second and third place winners, $3 and $2.

5. There is no entry fee, and each individual may submit as many photos as he wishes. Photos will be returned if postage accompanies entries.

Kappa Delta Pi Meets at St. Louis

Dot Rollins, Dr. Wynne to Go

Dorothy Rollins, newly elected president of Kappa Delta Pi, was elected on January 25 as the delegate to the thirteenth bi-annual convention of the fraternity. The meet will be held in East St. Louis, Illinois, from February 24-28. Alice Leigh Barham from Portsmouth will be alternate.

Representatives from more than one hundred chapters located all over the nation will gather for constructive talks and discussions in the field of education. Among many leading educators who will attend is Dr. John Pres. J. L. Jarman and Dr. J. P. Wynne will attend the N. E. A. meet in St. Louis the preceding week.

Bull Sessions

"The bull session is an American institution. To let it slide into greater disrepute would be a shame. Next time the gang gets together for a talk-fest why not try to do something constructive, why not try to reach a definite conclusion, why not think through a problem? The American student has brains: the American student must learn to use them. From the bull session could come something fine and valuable." The University of Iowa Daily Iowan urges a more serious purpose for those gabfests that are usually not so profound.

Two married men, out for a good time, saw a couple of young women approaching, some distance away.

"Let's pick up these two girls," said one.

But as the girls drew nearer the second man said, "Gosh, no—that's my wife and my sweetheart."

"Funny," said the first man, "you took the words right out of my mouth."

Major Group Will Present "Rip Van Winkle"

100 Children And College Girls Expected to Attend

The Clare Tree Major group from Chappaqua, New York, will present "Rip Van Winkle" Thursday morning, February 8, at 10:30 in the S. T. C. auditorium.

"Rip Van Winkle" has been given as a play of this type for one hundred and ten years, and continues to be popular. The play as presented by the Clare Tree Major group will be a version of the original story by Washington Irving, rather than the Jefferson version.

William Courtleigh, Jr. will appear in the lead as "Rip" and a real Pawnee Indian will play the part of Da-O-Son-Ga.

The object of these productions is to familiarize children with good literature through a theatrical movement as a stimulus for class room dramatization. It is expected that approximately 1000 school children from Prince Edward and the adjoining counties will attend the play on Thursday.

The Clare Tree Major theatrical players, who are appearing here for the fourth annual time, are being sponsored by the Farmville Womans Club. Mrs. Horace Adams, president of the club, is in charge of arrangements for the performance.

Religion

"The most profound comment that can be made about youth's interest in religion is the simple one that they ask the same questions every year, take to the same types of materials, and resent the same attacks of satire and ridicule. They want, ardently, a quick and easy solution and are impatient with the philosophy of slowly resolving ideas about significant matters."

WE'D LIKE YOUR OPINION

(Editor's Note: The Rotunda endeavors to be the students' paper. Thus it is that we offer this "selective choice of materials" for your paper. Please fill out this form and drop it in the box beside the Town Girls' room.)

Do You Read and Enjoy?

	Regularly	Occasionally	Never
Social News
Editorials
Gleanings
Echoes
Sport's Slants
Features
Jokes

Scene from "Rip Van Winkle"

Hilda Van Winkle (Magdalena Brown) orders her husband Rip (William Courtleigh, Jr.) never to set foot in the house again, when she surprises him celebrating the repeal of the Stamp Act with the neighbors in front of the Inn, instead of hoeing the corn which she had begged him to do, in "Rip Van Winkle".—A Clare Tree Major production, Chappaqua, N. Y.

DAFFYNITIONS

Parole—what Dad collects every month.
Scent—small piece of money.
Eggplant—what eggs grow into.
Chopstick—an ax.
Lever—internal organ.
Knew—not old.
Anthers—horns of deer.
Hiss—personal pronoun.
Duct—small fowl.
Shamrock—imitation rock.
Dumbell—which rings at 7:15 A. M.
Snow bird—persons so plentiful on campus during recent snow.

"What did the ocean say to the China clipper?"

"It didn't say anything. It just waved."

PERMANENT WAVES

No. 1—Our Regular

$10.00 machineless wave This week and next $5.95

No. 2—Our Regular

$7.50 Natur-Glo permanent Now only $4.75

No. 3—Two (2)

Beautiful $3.50 waves for only You must bring someone with you. $4.95

No. 4—Our Extra

Special value permanent—Now only $2.50

BALDWIN'S

Phone 159 Farmville's Best

RUGS . . .

SHAMPOOED

CURTAINS . . .

STRETCHED TO MEASURE

GUARANTEED NOT TO SHRINK

KILKARE LAUNDRY

A Guardian of Public Health

JUST ARRIVED

NEW SPRING SKIRTS AND SWEATERS

In Beautiful Spring Shades And Colors

$1.98 TO $3.98

DAVIDSON'S

Farmville, Va.

Alumnae Magazine, AKG Project, Will Be Released Feb. 29

Will be Sent to 2000 Alumnae in the State; Being Edits

The Alumnae Magazine of Farmville, the first of its type here, has gone to press and is expected to be released on February 29. Helen Reid, editor, and Miss Grace Moran, Alumnae president, have announced. Upon release the magazine will be mailed to 2,000 alumnae who have been Farmville students within the past ten years.

Contained in the magazine are a section on Campus news; an article by Mr. James Grainger entitled "A century of Progress at Farmville"; a resume of prominent alumnae each year since 1885; a poem by an alumna; an "in memoriam" to the late Dr. T. D. Eason and Miss Estelle Smith; a letter to alumnae from Dr. J. L. Jarman, president of Farmville, and an alumnae directory.

The magazine will be illustrated by pictures and drawings of scenes around Campus.

An Alpha Kappa Gamma project, the magazine is being largely financed and edited by this student organization. Members of Alpha Kappa Gamma have served on the editorial staff and have helped in the planning of the recent Faculty Vs. Student Basketball game and in the Faculty Album. The Farmville faculty and alumnae members have also assisted in the planning of the magazine.

Religious Week Is Concluded

Dr. Richard S. Owens, of Roanoke, climaxed the Religious Emphasis program sponsored by the Sophomore Commission for the week which began January 22.

Dr. Beverley M. Boyd, Rabbi Sidney M. Lefkowitz, and Father Edward L. Stephens spoke in chapel Tuesday, January 23, on what the National Conference of Christians and Jews was doing to promote friendlier relationship between different religions. An open forum was held at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Questions concerning Jewish, Protectant and Catholic beliefs were discussed.

Frances Alvis, editor of the Rotunda, spoke to the student body in chapel Thursday, January 25. The topic for her talk was "Religion as it touches the students personally on the campus."

Members of the commission led prayers for the week. Many Katherine Dodson talked on the "Beauty of Friendship" Monday night. Sara Cline's subject was on "Gifts God Has Given Us in Nature". "The Inspiration Religion Has Given Creative Arts" was the topic of May Wertz's talk Wednesday. Norma Wood directed the music Thursday night. "Clare de Lune" was the piano selection rendered by May Wertz. The Sophomore Quartet consisting of Buff Gunter Nancy Dupuy Mary Jane Ritchie and Martha Roberts sang "For the Beauty of the Earth". Peggy Bellus closed the program by singing "Evening Star" from Tannhauser.

Friday Catalie Nelson summed up the week by an inspirational talk.

Due to weather conditions Dr. W. Twyman Williams from Hampden-Sydney and Dr. Churchill J. Gibson from Richmond were unable to come.

Judge: "How fast was she driving when she passed you?"

Officer: "Well the bulldog on the front seat beside her looked like one of these long dachshunds."

SNOW SCENE

The film of the cut of snow scene was developed backwards. Notice how the steps appear the reverse of the way they really are.

Front of State Teachers College Senior Building Wednesday, January 24—8:45 a. m.

There's nothing like getting to work when you're snowed in. Thus say these. (Notice anything queer about this? See bottom of page 3, Col. D.)

Dance Proceeds Will Go To "March of Dimes"

Enthralled by the soothing, sweet swing music of Hattie's Syncopators, Senior dance band and Zeke's Zipper's, Sophomore orchestra, nearly 100 girls enjoyed an hour of dancing and featured singing last night, January 30, at the annual President's Birthday ball which was held in the little gymn at 9:45 o'clock.

During the course of the evening "the battle of the century" was waged between the band and the orchestra a battle for musical superiority or supremacy. Much noise but no decision was made. It seems that the folks enjoyed one as much as the other so a compromise was made and each played half of the program: Zeke's Zippers started the music flowing and Hattie's Syncopators kept it rolling. The latter stole the show when their drummer's "Kaki Percy" flying drumsticks fascinated the audience as she beat out "In the Wood" in dazzling time and rhythm.

Peggy Bellus and Virginia Lee Pettis, S. T. C. songbirds, charmed ball-goers with popular numbers, the former recording "Comes Love", "All the Things You Are", and "Mr. Paganni," while "Pudge" put her heart and voice into "Careless," "Time on My Hands" and her old specialty, "Basin Street Blues."

Since it seems imperative that orchestra leaders of today be versatile, Helen Wentz, Zeke's Zip-

Continued on Page 6

Inside. Outside Snow Impressions Related

Dearest Julia,

You may talk all you want about the cold, cold north and the sunny south, but I'll bet you a sleigh ride that we have you beat now. Really, I don't think that I have ever been so cold in all my life.

First we had that lovely snow that was about three feet deep in the lowest spots, and now they are trying to put us in cold storage until Spring! You wrote that you had been having that low twenty-five above up there in Boston. What would you do if you came down and got a taste of our twenty below?

We are having a beautiful time in the snow though. Now that the snow is packed we can go coasting over on Buffalo Hill. I had never been before in my life until two weeks ago and I was so thrilled that I could hardly stand it. You know how flat it is at home. All the coasting we have there is behind an auto, and it can't compare with this. I thought the first time that the wind would take my hair right off my head. It was wonderful! After that first time I couldn't get enough, so I really walked all the pounds going up that hill. When I got in my roommate declared that she was going to use me for refrigeration.

Why we even got snow bound! How 'bout that now? Miss Mary had to send us our breakfast cause we couldn't get out. But best of all we didn't have any classes all that day! The paths were so narrow that it was just like walking a tight rope. You should have seen some of the great uniforms that came out. Anything from old long red stockings to riding habits. 'Twas really the time for that winter underwear we found in that moth-y trunk that day. Remember?

Some of the teachers were funnier looking than we were. Oh they weren't mine my saying so. Dr. Simkins took the prize! He very carefully tied his head up in some blanket affair and then put his hat on top. He was choice! Some people said that he even had on three suits. Poor Miss Nichols, the shortest of our faculty, came down in all that snow and all you could see was a head moving along! I just don't see how she did. Mr. French as usual came with no galoshes and no hat. It's a wonder he remembered an overcoat; but this time he did.

Best of all the training school and the high school are not open and the girls that are teaching are having mid-winter vacations. The lucky things! Just imagine not having to say all day long, "Johnny, will you please stop talking." None of that, just all day to sleep and eat when you feel like it. Ain't it wonderful!

'Til I thaw out—just,

"Minx"

Dear Jane,

When I tell you that I am snowbound here in this little town, somewhere in Virginia, you probably won't believe me. But it's true, nevertheless.

To make a long story short—I stopped here January 23, to spend the night and—well—I've been here ever since. When I woke up Wednesday morning, I couldn't see the car for the snow—it was that deep. And as far as walking was concerned—well—it was practically impossible. There must have been a blizzard that night, but you know me. I slept right through it.

I was all for turning in and sleeping all day, but these Southerners were so excited they actually aroused my dull curiosity. I have since found out the reason. Such snow falls are very, very very infrequent here. So, I dressed and went down to the lobby, which was empty. Everyone of these odd people were out on the porch gazing in open eyed amazement at thirty-two measley inches of snow! Tactfully I, too, feigned surprise and concern.

My eyes wandered up and down the street and finally came to rest truly amazed this time, on a group of what seemed to be college dormitories all of which were delightfully linked together by colonnades and closed corridors. Its style was definitely Southern—low rambling brick buildings, graced with tall white columns. They seemed to extend endlessly up the street.

As I turned to inquire about the place, the pealing of a loud bell broke rudely into the incessant chatter about me. Startled, I glanced at the person nearest me who calmly took out his watch, grinned as though satisfied about something, and went on talking. I followed suit—that is, I looked at my watch. It was 7:15. I looked toward the direction of the sound of the bell—the campus. It now showed signs of life. Lights switched on, shades were pulled, only to be dashed back up, windows flew open, and within five minutes the place was a mess of heads, calling, shrieking, and chattering from one window to another. I was awed, to say the least. I went into breakfast shaking my head dubiously.

Here in the dining room I learned that the buildings across the way with their screaming occupants was the Farmville State Teachers College for women.

Since then I wonder at the meaning of those last two words. By ten Wednesday morning those girls had dug, tramped, or what have you, a path all the way down town, and were making use of it. They were dressed in anything from skirts, plus multi-colored cotton stockings, to slacks, riding breeches, overalls, or snow suits. I wish you could have seen them. Despite the cold, they snow balled, made snow men and pictures—well—I'll bet there's not another roll of film in those downtown drug stores. They have been waist-deep in the snow to reach fathomless places—just for pictures. Why Jane—they even take pictures of the snow plows. I think it's the first time half of them have ever seen one. They gaze in amazement at frozen water pipes covered with ice. But goodness—they are having such a wonderful time. I wish I were a girl again, so I could enjoy the snow the way they have.

Guess I'll close now. 'Spose I ought to go down town to get some snow pants and a sled. The hill has packed, so I am told. I'll wire you when I'm leaving.

Anne

Music Department Plans Joint Concert For March 29

University of N. C., S. T. C., and Duke University Glee Clubs Will Present "The Holy City" in Auditorium Next Month

Approximately 300 college voices, and guest solo voices of state renown will be joined when the S. T. C. music department sponsors its Spring Concert on the night of March 29. Arrangements now underway are planning for a fully social program in addition to the musical rendition.

The Glee Clubs of both North Carolina University at Chapel Hill and Duke University will combine with the Farmville Choir and Choral Club or a presentation of "The Holy City". Guest members will also be featured. Soloists will be Miss Frances Hauck, Dr. Luther Richmond, head of school of music in Virginia, and two other out-of-town singers. An orchestra will accompany the group.

The guests will arrive in early afternoon and will be entertained at a reception in Student Building lounge that afternoon. A dance, admission to which will be included in the concert ticket, is being planned to follow the concert.

Mr. Alfred H. Strick, Farmville director of music, and the Duke Club director, will co-direct "The Holy City". Mr. Strick pronounces this the "greatest project the music department has yet undertaken."

Last year a similar concert was given here in cooperation with the University of Virginia Glee Club.

The Qualities of Sleep Are Somewhat Strained Or Are They?

To know how to do a thing one must of necessity become acquainted with what that thing is. For this reason we must now launch into the "whys and wherefores" of sleep.

Having ransacked seemingly endless sources of information, the explanation of this natural phenomena stands forth as: "A condition of the body in which normal activity of the nervous system is so far reduced that self-consciousness and consciousness of surrounding are entirely wanting or at a low ebb. "So what;" you say, "That could be a 'nice' description of one in the inebriated state." Too, it might apply to the egotistical extrovert. Nevertheless, it stands as read.

Sleep is predestined. Somehow God must have realized man's inconstant, vacillating nature, his inability to cope with the trials and tribulations of life, and so provided "sweet slumber" as a temporary release. Had the immortal Shakespeare seen fit to write "The position of sleep are somewhat strained, etc." he would not have been far from wrong. The human body's "pretzelistic" ability is one of the seven wonders of the world. (He who doubts the integrity of this statement is unobservant).

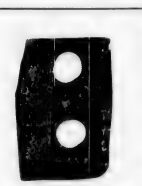
According to recent studies, there are four basic positions for sleeping—on the back, on the stomach, on the right side and on the left side. Some people, of course, go to sleep on their feet while still others walk around in a daze, but since these are infrequent variations of the rule (and generally past all hope) we shall not dwell upon them.

Many people swear by the virtues of sleep on the back. Many others swear at it. The former argue that it lends much toward reflective thinking; the latter say "No, it makes you have bad dreams." It's all a matter of personal opinion, dependent it seems upon what sort of things one reflects about. They might easily be nightmarish. Sleeping on the stomach has long been characteristic of the child. Those who stick by the old health rule which prohibits eating before retiring will no doubt find this a restful position. Others will do well to turn slightly away from the dorsal side.

For innumerable years there has been a great struggle going on between the advocates of the right and left sides for sleeping. The excellence and deficiencies of each have been expounded until one is tempted to turn over on the back in disgust. However, in all fairness, it must be admitted that these are the most favored styles. Providing an unprecedented opportunity for curling, they have found favor with practically all—especially in cold weather.

There are, of course, various and sundry deviations from the basic positions but these may be easily charged to personal whimsies. Then too, it is a known fact that people like to stretch out in warm weather and curl up in winter. All these and many other factors enter into the sleeping business making it an extremely complicated affair.

To be candid, falling asleep is most appealing.



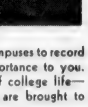
Quotable Quotes

By A. C. P. Scholarships

"In the interests of the economic less fortunate democracy, higher education and the state would be much better served if grants to institutions were abolished except under the most extraordinary circumstances and scholarships on a merit basis set up for individual students to be used by them at the institutions of their choice within the state." Dickinson Colleges Pres. Fred P. Corson has a new method for distributing state aid to higher education.

Too Much Truth?

A London coroner is telling a story of a death certificate which reached him recently. In the column reserved for "cause of death" the doctor had signed his own name. The coroner returned the certificate with a note which said: "This may be true, but don't you think we had better have some scientific reason as well?"



EYES OVER THE CAMPUS

Camera "eyes" are blinking on the nation's campuses to record every activity and event of interest and importance to you. Each blink means another graphic picture of college life—and the best of these thousands of photos are brought to you in our Collegiate Digest picture section.

Accurately and graphically explained with write-ups that tell the complete story behind each picture, Collegiate Digest's photos give you a true record of campus life today. Follow this college picture parade regularly in

THE ROTUNDA

Send your pictures of life and activities on our campus to: Collegiate Digest Section, 323 Fawkes Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn. All photos used are paid for at regular editorial rates.

Sports Slants

By PAT GIBSON

There is something radically wrong somewhere—rotten in Denmark, if you like. All of this year it has been like pulling teeth to get people to compete in interclass contests. A wild rush at the last minute to squeeze in the required practices. Can't we change our tactics justa little? Every one ought to be able to take some form of recreational exercise every day. Why not kill two birds with one stone and let basketball, swimming, golf or any other interclass sport serve as an outlet for your excess energy? Previously these annual meets were the center of attraction. Everybody played. That is the way things should be now. Instead we have everybody in the spectator row and barely enough players actually participating. Don't be a laggard! Get into action even if you aren't a Babe Didrickson—you'll feel bettter and so will your class.

Many were disappointed Saturday night when the Frosh vs. Oceana game was postponed. The roads were too bad to permit traveling. As for the varsity they are working like fury in preparation for the New York trip next Thursday. Daily practice with the Freshman sub-varsity are trimming off the edge and you can rest assured that a smooth working team will take on those Yankees.

The weather has affected everything. No one need to be told that the pool business has fallen off considerably of late. People have collected a frigid idea about the old swimming hole, "Zero Reigns Supreme", and so forth. However, one dip will tell an entirely different story. The date of interclass meet has been changed and another will be announced subject to weather conditions. This year it is hoped that many of the former records will be smashed.

Play night was a huge success (Thank you, Sue, and all your helpers.) Saturday with its wild and wooly weather was just the night for an open fire and parlor games. Nearly 100 girls attended and each will vouch for an excellent time—not omitting refreshments, of course.

All ping pong advocates, though they don't know it, are on the verge of a tournament. Singles and doubles enthusiasts may sign their game away on the A. A. bulletin board. Pick your partners and we'll be off.

The first winners of the semi-monthly golf tournaments have been announced as Wentz and Bowen. Prizes have been awarded and we're off on the next round of play. Those who have been rather lax about practicing are urged to take advantage of the time which is left in the winter golf school session.

Golfers Feel Contact Too Late Says Expert

After playing phenominal golf to win the National and Massachusetts Opens last summer, Byron Nelson said he attributed an important share of his success to an uncanny sense of feel in his figures. He said he often could feel the clubhead move with the ball.

Dr. Harold E. Edgerton questions that such a sense of feel is possible, in his recently published volume of stroboscopic photographs, Flash! The M. I. T. professor has devoted 15 years to developing a stroboscope that will freeze action to one-millionth of a second for the camera. This his photographs reveal details never before known concerning the action of club and ball during a golf swing.

Among other things his photographs show that the time of contact between the clubhead and the ball is half a thousandth of a second, and that the distance of contact is about one-tenth of an inch. From this he deduces, "It is impossible for a golfer to manipulate the ball while it is on the face of the club."

Dr. Edgerton's photographs of the golf swing are most interesting because they lay bare, facts hitherto quite unknown. Bobby Jones, Denny Shute, Ralph Guldahl, Jimmy Thompson, Roland Wingate and Joe tSein have posed for the pictures, which reveal the remarkable flattening of the ball by the clubhead, thei weird bending of the shaft during the swing (especialy at point of contact) and the fact that al lnormal shots show backspin.

Another interesting thing Dr. Edgerton reveals is that the velocity of Jones' swing increases up to the moment of impact while that of the ordinary golfer is falling off at impact. Also the acceleration of Jones' swing starts earlier than in the average golfer's swing.

A Bet's a Bet—He's All Wet

Argument against golfers gambling on their play; Jimmy Huidekoper and Stewart Elliott, two well known Massachusetts linksmen, were playing a friendly round at Oyster Harbor on a recent day, and when they came to the ninth hole Jimmy suggested they play "for the pond."

"What do you mean?" queried Stew.

"Why, the loser will jump in."

So off they teed and Jimmy holed a 40-foot putt for a winning four.

Elliott slowly removed his glasses, took the billfold out of his pocket and started for the pond.

"Hey, come here," said Jimmy. "I wasn't serious."

"With me a bet's a bet". Elliott answered.

And the next sound was a splash.

Strive Onward

Continued from Page 2

no job is ever too great or impossible that you cannot accomplish it. Put your heart, your intellect, and your never-ceasing determination into your study. Never lose hope because a broken morale is something to be feared. Keep your eyes up toward a goal always and never think of failure. Remember these words: "God's in His Heaven—All's right with the world!"

Every girl wants a screen test and may the best pan win.

Alabama to Be Seat Of P. E. Convention

The annual convention of the Southern Association of Physical Education for College Women will be held March 25-26 in Birmingham, Ala., it was announced by Miss Martha Barksdale, Virginia publicity chairman for the meeting.

Miss Barksdale, who also is an associate professor of physical education at the College of William and Mary, said that this year directors of college men were invited to attend and participate in the program. Heretofore the convention has been confined to women directors.

The general theme of the meeting will be "Improving Human Relations Through Physical Education." Among the guest speakers on the two-day program are Dr. Rosalind Cassidy of Mills College, Cal., author of "New Directions in Physical Education", and Dr. Jay B. Nash of New York University.

Scheduled to be held at the Tutwiler Hotel in Birmingram, the Director's convention immediately precedes the annual meeting of the Southern District of the American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation.

Wentz and Bowen Win Golf Tourneys

In the recent tournaments held by the Winter Golf Association, Helen Wentz won in "Pitch-It" and Tee Bowen in "Putting". Both girls received a golf ball as a prize.

These tournments are continuous, prizes being given at the end of each fourteen days. Any person is eligible to play in the tournament provided she is a member of the club.

The half way period in the Association's activities has been reached. At the end of this last five-week period, the golf school will operate at the Longwood golf course. It is very important, therefore, that every member and every would-be member take advantage of the limited time by getting as much instruction and practice as possible.

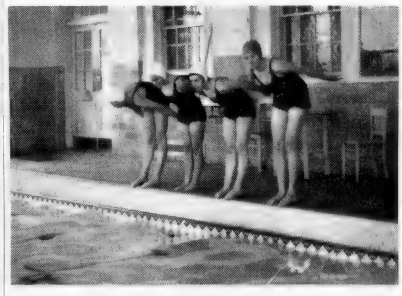
Forensic Group

Continued from Page 1

this year rather than just the varsity teams and senior members.

On February 13, Southern Mississippi State Teachers College will meet at Farmville to debate. President F. H. Rose, of Pi Kappa Delta, will accompany the team.

Later, on February 21, S. T. C. debate teams will travel to compete against Westhampton College.



The annual S. A. F. T. will be held in Raleigh, North Carolina beginning February 29-March 2. To this convention under-classmen will represent Farmville at North Carolina State College. On April 9, Waynesboro College will be here to debate against S. T. C. The National Pi Kappa Delta convention will be held in Knoxville, Tennessee this year from March 25-29. Farmville delegates also will be sent to this convention.

To climax the debate season delegates will be sent to the Grand Eastern Tournament at Winthrop College, South Carolina, from April 13-15. The debators chosen from those showing the most ability will compete in the last debate of the season.

Hop Says

"Let DeLuxe Cleaners keep your winter clothes fit."

Phone 77 or see Perrye Smith

Betty Baldwin, Ruth Fraughnaugh, Louise Phillips, and Mary Jean Carr line up for a plunge while practicing for interclass swim meet.

Listen, My Children, And You Shall Hear

"Listen, my children and you shall hear,
'Bout a Saturday night of Farmville cheer.
'Twas half past seven
And all through the halls—

"C'mon! Let's hurry so maybe as how we can get a table by the fire!" "Who wants to play bridge?" "Gosh, I'm so glad they've started having these things again on Saturday nights." "They're so much fun!" "You don't have to dress up to go—that sweater and skirt are fine."

Sounds good, doesn't it? And it is good! In fact, it's even better than good! Dozens and dozens of red roses to the A. A. for starting "play nights" again. It's practically a unanimous vote among those who know that going to "play night" is one of the nicest possible ways to spend a Saturday night.

What could be finer than a "beyutiful" fire in the fireplace in Student Building lounge and a crowd (they were sitting on the floor) of cute girls making merry over bridge, checkers, parchesi, dominoes, spit (it's a good game—don't let the name confuse you), and any other thing anybody could invent. And through the murmur of conversation comes softly the sound of Hoppy and somebody else banging out Chopsticks and so forth, in delicate style on the piano—such an aid to concentration. But then, there's always Jane Hardy to help concentration along with some smooth music—and some one else who's a smoothie at the piano, too—Bootsie Messick. Have you heard her play "Rhapsody in Blue?" You should 'cause it's not to be missed!

Of course, there will undoubtedly always be some one like Ann Ayers, who in the middle of a serious bridge game feels a silly mood comin' on, and giggles herself practically to death.

Then, that spit game gets a little exciting, too. If you haven't played "spit", here's a tip about it. It's a wonderful way to go crazy in case anybody has the urge.

The girls in the Y. W. lounge have fun, too—in fact, there is a "peaceful" air of well-being over the whole scene, materially contributed to by the good cocoa and buns served to end an extra special two hours of fun.

Swim Meets Postponed Due to Cold

Annual inter-class and national telegraphic swimming meets have been postponed as a result of the extremely cold weather. Practices will be resumed this week in preparation for the Color Clash. Definite dates of the meets will be announced later.

Girls interested in entering events are urged to sign up and attend practices regularly. A list of events is posted on the A. A. bulletin board. Eight one half hour practices are required for eligibility.

Notice

Frosh vs. Oceana basketball game scheduled for Saturday, January 27 was postponed due to bad weather.

Notice

Everyone interested in singles and doubles ping-pong tournament is urged to sign up on the A. A. bulletin board.

"Why does a duck walk softly?"
"Because he can't walk . . . hardly."

COLLEGE SHOPPE

Best food in town

Try us

We Deliver Call 200

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop

"From old to new with any shoes"
Only First Class Material used
All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!

Electric Appliance Co.

Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the

BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY MEATS
AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS MEDICINES

Perfumes—Toilet Articles

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Quality—Price—Service

HOTEL WEYANOKE

Regular Meals

A La Carte Service

Salads & Sandwiches

Patronize

Patterson Drug Co.

—AT—

Money Saving Prices

—FOR—

Drugs and Toiletries

Expert

Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring

Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream

238 MAIN STREET

Rose's

5-10-25c Store

ON THE CORNER

We have masks and other costume accessories for Mardi Gras.

NEWBERRY'S

5c—10c—25c

Store

Valentines for

Mother, Dad, and Him

LYNN'S

EXPERT WATCH REPAIRING

—At—

REASONABLE PRICES
MODERN EQUIPMENT
MATERIAL FOR EVERY WATCH

DUKE UNIVERSITY School of Nursing

DURHAM, N. C.

The Diploma of Graduate Nurse is awarded after three years, and the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing for two additional years of approved college work before or after the course in Nursing. The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and graduation from an accredited high school. After 1940 two years of college work will be required. The annual tuition of $100 covers the cost of uniforms, books, student government fees, etc. Catalogues, application forms and information about college requirements may be obtained from the Admission Committee.

Stationery Sale

MONTAG'S

100 sheets

50 envelopes

49c

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Snow Couldn't Keep Week-enders at S. T. C.

Come snow, rain, sleet or what not in the week-end trotters still go on. Week-end Home Office records prove this.

In spite of the heavy snow fall, it seems Farmville was well represented at the dance and boxing matches at the University of Virginia. Margaret Carr, Elsye Berrye Yates, Helen McGuire, Marie Utt, Betty Mae Ayers, Sarah Lawson Ruth Lea Purdom, Doris Bishop, and Pat Whitlock were there.

Those spending the week-end in Roanoke were Frances Elliott, Martha Ann Baldwin, Blanche Carper, Nancy Naff, Virginia Alexander, Elizabeth Summerfield, Betty Perry, Shirley Stephens, Geraldine Hatcher, Jean Bourne, Doris Bishop, Dorothy Dawley, and Louise Painter.

Ruth Palmer, Lillian Agnew, Frances Mallory and Grace Hutcheson spent the week-end in Blackstone with Jac Hardy.

However, there were some girls who went home for the week-end. They were Mary Klare Beck, Faye Brandon, Marie Crowder, Doris Chesnut, Virginia Howell, Carolyn Ford, Eloise Layman, Marjorie Holt, Forrestine Whitaker, Elizabeth Wilkinson, Margaret Webster and Martha Meade Hardaway.

Suggested Costumes For Mardi Gras

Isabel Williamson—giraffe
Eliza Wise—Georgia pine
Cleo Jarman—horse
Jane Waller—Jeep
Mae Winn—Bucking Broncho
Peggy Bellus—Nightingale
Marguerite Costello—Cat
Alice Cogburn—Elephant
Helen Reiff—Mouse
Frances Rosebro—Monkey
Ann Hurif—Donkey
Betty Fahr—Parrot
Harriette Vaden—Wolf
Frances Bailey—Ostrich
Hazelwood Burbank—Turtle
Martha Whitchel—Sheep
Meadaway—Squirrel
Lula Windham—Butterfly
Jane Powell—Queen Bee
Bernice Copley—Cow
Dorothy Eades—Dopey
Yates Carr—Clam
Ruth Lea Purdum—Cobra
Florence Lee—Chipmunk
Pat Whitlock—Weasel
Lena Butterworth—Mexican Jumping Bean
Dot Fischer—Cauliflower
Pat Gibson—Popeye (spinach)
Marie Essorr—Ferdinand
Beezie Townsend—Dray
Jack Cock—Wimpy
Nancy Moss—Goon
Mary Lou Shannon—Dresden Doll
Sudie Dunton—Minnow
Elaine Ross—Poinsetta
Sarah Wade Owen—Jack-in-the-pulpit
Mr. Landrum—Bachelor Button
Mary Harvie—Iris
Robin Henning—Cactus
Betty Sexton—Ragweed
Ellen Ebel—Buttercup
Trudy Hale—Tumbleweed
Bobbie Tripp—Back-eyed Susan
Jane Saunders — Lily-of-the-valley
Mary Malone—Sweetpea

Farmville Attracts

Continued from Page 1

ten inch snow fall, the deepest sympathy was expressed and a promise that Farmville's ears would soon be stumbled beneath cosy V. P. I. ear muffs because after all we had more need for them than they did. Now there's a friend for you.

Writes Washington, "My dear, we're simply freezing here. This A. M. the thermometer was down to ten above. Ten above! Well, can you beat that! Indian Summer to us.

This has Farmville become a center of attraction to the outside world, who, if they had their way would have us all dead or dying by various harrowing methods. Thank goodness they don't have their way, and may we all live to bounce our grandchildren on our knees and tell them of the great snow of 1940.

New Pledges Guests at Parties

Shirley McCalley, Ann Hurff and Agnes Lee Barlow entertained the pledges and members of Alpha Sigma Alpha, Sunday afternoon, January 28, at tea in the chapter room. Miss Grace Moran, adviser, was also present. A salad course was served.

G. T. Waffle Supper

Gamma Theta's pledges and old girls were entertained at a woffle supper in the chapter room Sunday night, January 28. Norma Wood, Augusta Parks, Jane McGinnis, and Mary Katherine Dodson were in charge of arrangements.

Miss Wheeler's Tea

Miss Leola Wheeler, faculty adviser, entertained the pledges of Mu Omega at a tea at her apartment Thursday afternoon, January 25, from 4:30 to 6 o'clock. Nancy Moss, head of the chapter, and Dorothy Menefee, vice-head, were also invited.

Pi Kap Supper

Phyl Schlobohm, Ruth Winstead Elizabeth Kent, Kaki Peery, and Kay Phillips entertained the Pi Kappa Sigma members Sunday, January 28, in the chapter room. Supper was served informally at 6 o'clock.

Miss Nichols Is Hostess to Club

Miss Mary Nichols entertained the Debate Club and Dr. J. E. Walmsley at tea at her home Sunday afternoon, January 28. Marie Allen and Jack and Anne Cock assisted in serving. Following tea the group discussed their plans for future debate trips.

Seniors and Juniors Guests at Rectory

Reverend and Mrs. Campbell Tucker entertained twice last week at the Episcopal Rectory in honor of Episcopal Senior and Junior S. T. C. students. For Juniors and Seniors Wednesday night, January 22, and for the Seniors on Thursday night.

Supper was served buffet style from the dining room which was soft with candle light. Several S. T. C. girls assisted in serving.

Freshmen Episcopalians were entertained at dinner at the rectory in groups of six last Fall.

Fine Arts Fraternity Initiates Eight

Gemma Psi, fraternity in fine arts, had initiation of pledges on Thursday night, January 25, at 8 o'clock, in the Y. W. C. A. lounge at which time eight girls who have met the requirements were taken in.

Those initiated were Phyl Schlobohm, Elizabeth Anne Parker, Lillian German, Mildred Morris, Harriette Walker, Anne Turner and Cottie Radspinner.

After initiation an informal party was given for the new members.

Episcopal Y. P. To Have Supper

The Young People's Fellowship Episcopal student group, will hold its monthly social meeting with a waffle supper at the rectory on Feb. 4. A study on "How We Got Our Bible" as a preparation for the Lenten study, will follow the supper.

Martin the Jeweler
Rytex Stationary
200 FLAT SHEETS
200 DOUBLE SHEETS
$1.00 PER BOX

Snoopin' About

By Snoopin' Sue

'Twas taffy-pulling time in old Cunningham Saturday night. Stringing the stuff along were Jean Moyer, Dotty Rollins, Thelma Courtney, Liz Garrett, Marie Allen and hostesses, Jack and Anne Cock.

Nancy Dupuy, Buff Gunter and Margie Rice and guests—three of 'em—did some entertaining up on third floor gym. We weren't told its nature.

Someone committed mayhem in Nancy Moore's room. Maybe she's still guessing—maybe.

"Breakfast is served" this time by Frances Keck to Louise Phillips and Caroline Ferguson. Must be nice.

Mary Owens West, Harriet Walker, Elizabeth Anne Parker, Miriam Hanvey, Anne Benton, Brookie Benton, May Bartlett, Lottie Fercld, Anne Rogers, Peggy Lou Boyette, Joice Stokes, Becky Gray and Kat Price all ended up in the same place for food. Hostesses Dot Johnson and Lillian German were among those present, we understand.

Betty Fahr, Jean Upshur, Liza McDaniel, Bussie Ralph and others went "out to breakfast" on Sunday, we hear. Hmn—plutocrats.

Jean Upshur, Betty Fahr, Mary Jane Ritchie, Pudge Pettis, and Virginia Rudd say that Richardson dorm with Elaine Ross, Charlotte Phillips, and Ella Marsh Pilkinton plus snow ice cream and fudge is quite the elite place for a Saturday night of entertainment.

The crew of second floor Senior building as usual made good use of the luxurious kitchen. Sez they, "It's the real life; even home was never like this!"

SHANNON'S
Hot Chocolate. Hot Soups. Hot Sandwiches. See your new Library Stationery
PHONE 224 WE DELIVER

Home Economics Girls Entertain for Guests

Marie and Caroline Eason, Mrs. Lois Davis and Mr. C harlie French were guests at an oyster roast at the home management house last Tuesday night, January 25.

Helen Gray was a dinner guest at the home management house on Sunday, January 28.

President's Ball

Continued from Page 4

per's ledaer, tried her vocal cords on that catchy little tune with plenty of jump "Yodeling Jive". Hattie Vaden, erstwhile Syncopato rbandmaster, ventured "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby", in retaliation. Talks about celestility Versailles might have been more peaceful.

Admission charge to the ball was ten cents. The proceeds will be sent to the "March of Dimes", infantile paralysis campaign fund.

EACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.
Friday.-Sat., Feb. 2-3
GARY COOPER
RAY MILLAND
Susan Hayward, Bob Preston
"BEAU GESTE"
Next Mon.-Tues., Feb. 5-6
EDDIE ALBERT
PRISCILLA LANE
"Bro. Rat and Baby"
"Remember When" Color
Latest News Events
Next Wed.-Thurs., Feb. 7-8
Deanna Durbin
EUGENE PALLETTE
"FIRST LOVE"
Latest "Community SING"
Musical "Blue Danube"

SKIRTS—$1.97—$2.97
SWEATERS $1.97
BOTH IN PASTEL SHADES
New Spring Jackets $5.97
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Charge it if you like

SKIRTS $1.98 and SWEATERS $1.98
In the new pastel shades—anklets to match 35c and 50c.
New spring print dresses.
New assortment of spring hats.
THE HUB DEPT. STORE
APPRECIATES YOUR PATRONAGE

Rings around 'em all
FOR REAL MILDNESS
AND BETTER TASTE...

Thousands thrill with pleasure to the flashing blades of ROY SHIPSTAD and BESS EHRHARDT ...star performers of the Ice Follies.

What you want in a smoke you GET in CHESTERFIELD'S RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

These tobaccos, and the Chesterfield way of blending them, is why Chesterfields SMOKE COOLER...TASTE BETTER ...and are DEFINITELY MILDER than other cigarettes. For more pleasure, make your next pack Chesterfield.

Copyright 1940, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Join the "Good Manners' Drive"

The Rotunda

Congratulations, Mardi Gras Queen and Court

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, FEB. 7, 1940 | No. 16

Millner Crowned Queen of Mardi Gras

STC Dramatic Club H.-S. Jongleurs Present New Play

Hatton, Engle To Take Leads In "The Circle"

Practice has begun on "The Circle", by Somerset Maugham which will be presented by the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs Friday, March 1, at eight o'clock.

Jean Hatton will play the role of Elizabeth Champion-Cheney. Her husband, Arnold Champion-Cheney, M. P., will be Keith Eubank. "Lex" Allison will play the part of Clive Champion-Cheney, the father of Arnold, whose wife, Lady Catherine Champion-Cheney, to be enacted by Jane McGinnis, ran off with Lord Hugh Porteous, portrayed by Johnny Pancake, when Arnold was five years old.

Bob Engle, as Edward Luton, is trying to get Elizabeth to run away with him. Anna Shenstone, whose part is taken by Peggy Bellus is also a guest at the country house in the county of Dorset, England, where the action of the play takes place.

With the exception of Jean Hatton, a freshman, all of this cast played in "Dear Brutus" last fall and have been in plays previous to this year.

This play, as all of the other S. T. C.-H.-S. dramatic productions will be directed by Miss Leola Wheeler, under whose guidance such plays have gained both groups state-wide recognition.

The two dramatic clubs present a fall and a spring play annually with casts selected from both groups.

Religious Conference Delegates Speaker

A. W. Gottschall of the National Conference of Christians and Jews will speak to the student body Tuesday, February 13, at 11 o'clock in the main auditorium.

He will emphasize the greatneed of keeping open the channels of the inter-group relations as a contribution American can make to the democratic processes in human relations.

Mr. Gottschall was the former pastor of the First Christian Church in Baltimore, Maryland, where he has served over thirteen years.

This is the third consecutive year that the National Conference of Christians and Jews, has sent a speaker or team of speakers to Farmville State Teachers College. Their special work is to the young people in the colleges of America.

Major Actors to Give "Rip Van Winkle"

"Rip Van Winkle" will be presented by the Clare Tree Major Group tomorrow, February 8, at 10:30 in the S. T. C. auditorium. Admission will be 25c for children and students and 40c for adults.

William Courtleigh, Jr. will take the leading role as "Rip", and a real Pawnee Indian will play the part of Da-o-son-ga.

The Clare Tree Major theatrical players, who are appearing here for the fourth time are being sponsored by the Farmville Womans Club. Mrs. Horace Adams, president, is in charge of arrangements for the performance.

LORANA MOOMAW

Lorana Moomaw Is Elected National Forensic Delegate

Knoxville is Scene Of Bi-Annual Student Assembly

Lorana Moomaw, president of the Virginia Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary forensic fraternity, has been elected a delegate from the South Atlantic Province to the 1940 Pi Kappa Delta Student Assembly.

Six delegates have been chosen from each province of Pi Kappa Delta. Of the six delegates chosen from the South Atlantic Province, Lorana received the second highest number of votes. Eugene Worrell of Wake Forest College, Wake Forest, N. C., receiving the highest.

The Assembly, which is a part of the National Pi Kappa Delta Convention held at Knoxville, Tenn. this year, is a student gathering patterned somewhat after

Continued on Page 4

Frosh Production Planned for Feb. 28 Gives Cabaret Scene

Annual production of the Freshman Class will be presented February 28 in the recreation hall.

Jean Warwick, a member of the freshman class, is in charge of the production which is to be a cabaret including fancy dancing and singing. Frances Parham will act as master of ceremonies.

The heads of the committees are — Margaret Mish, lighting, Agnes Patterson, staging, Helen Hardy, music, Betsy Jennings, singing, Jeanne Sears, dancing, Charlotte Phillips, business, and Winifred Wright, publicity.

Winter Magazine Features Prize Contributions

Meacham, Saunders Cock Announced Contest Winners

Ernestine Meacham, a junior, was announced by the Colonnade staff as the winner of the first prize of $5.00 for her short story "Entrance to Life". Ernestine's story appeared in the last issue of the Colonnade which was issued to the students Thursday night, February 1.

The second prize of $3.00 was awarded to Nancy Saunders, a freshman. Nancy's story entitled "Turning Wheel" will make its appearance in the March issue of the Colonnade. Jack Cock, representative of the Junior Class, won third prize of $1.00 for her "From a Magnolia Tree" which will be published in the spring issue.

The short story contest sponsored by the Colonnade, was open to the student body. Judges were Mr. James Grainger, Miss Lucile Jennings, Helen Reiff, Allene Overbey, and Emil Ellis. The winners of this contest are elegible for the Beorc Eh Thorn short story contest.

Harriet Cantrell for "Work of Art" which appears in this issue and "Home Coming", and Marion Harden for "The Hands I Give" received honorable mention.

Continued on Page 4

Founders' Day Program Revealed, Lyceum Featured

Saturday, March 9, is the date set for the annual Alumnae celebration, Founders' Day. Many old graduates are expected to return for the occasion.

Founders' Day morning there will be the usual meeting in the auditorium with the presentation of the gifts from the various organizations. This year representatives from each organization will present their gifts to Dr. Jarman in the form of a pageant. An alumnae meeting will immediately follow this. After the meeting luncheon will be served at Longwood.

Saturday afternoon the Freshman gym classes will give a program of folk dances.

Following a formal dinner there will be a ballet Lyceum number. Two dances, one in the gym and one in the Recreation Hall, will close the events of Founder's Day.

As a prelude to Founders' Day there will be a basketball game with Harrisonburg Friday night.

Essie Millner, senior, of Newport News, who was crowned Mardi Gras queen.

Forensic Group Opens New Season

There will be a debate between Randolph-Macon and Farmville forensic teams in the small auditorium Friday evening, February 9 at 9 o'clock .

The debate will be on the national question: "Resolved that the United States Should Maintain Isolation Toward All Nations Outside the Western Hemisphere Engaged in Armed International, or Civil Conflict."

Jack and Anne Cock will debate on the affirmative for Farmville. This occasion opens the intercollegiate debate program for the year.

Beorc Eh Thorn Initiates Eeight

Beorc Eh Thorn initiated eight new members at the regular meeting held in the Honors Room Thursday night, February 1.

The initiates are: Nahrea Coleman, Bernice Copley, Emil Ellis, Evelyn Lupton, Edith Nunnally, Agnes Pickeral, Evelyn Quillen and Dorothy Wright.

Marion Shelton, a senior, was granted first degree.

Sophomore Class Petitions "Good Old Father Time"

The Sophomore Class has delved into the wheels of time to bring to you its own interpretation of how a lifetime may be crowded into one year—four short seasons —twelve months—52 weeks—364 1-4 days . . . How short it seems —and yet how long!

The pendulum of the grandfather's clock tolls dreams of old men while the shrill alarm rings out the visions of youth. The Sophomores are ticking out "A Petition to Time". Can one year really represent a lifetime? We aren't saying, but you'd better catch on to the big pendulum as it swings your way on this Valentine's day . . . Wednesday, February 14 at eight. We'll look for you so don't fail to be present for "A Petition to Time", the Sophomore production.

Attention! If you want an annual you must pay at least one dollar by February 15. The reason for this is that the printer won't print without pay. So, don't delay and regret your folly. Subscribe now.

Regal Coronation, Grand March Climax Gala Event

Folk, Bellus and Crawley, Madison, Awarded Prizes

Dick Traynham, of Hampton, crowned Essie Millner, Mardi Gras queen Tuesday night, February 6, with the usual merriment which climaxes the annual festive occasion.

Jack Payton, his vibrophone and his Duke University orchestra, furnished the music ranging in realm from "sweet" to "swing" with Roy Lane doing the vocalizing. Gymnasium looked its best with decorations of colorful red and white crepe paper in bright Valentine theme of hearts and cupids and flossy streamers.

Mardi Gras, an age old religious custom supposed to end all such festivity until the termination of Lent, was the significance of the entertainment sponsored by Pi Gamma Mu, national fraternity in history and social science.

The crowning of Essie Milner, the proudly regal queen, was the main attraction of the fete. The costumes of the sovereign and her court followed the usual Spanish theme, and lovely they were in their gay colors topped by lace mantillas. The courtiers were Lula Lindham, Nancy Wolfe, Mary Lou Shannon, Sara Keesee, Chlotilde Jarman, Johnny Lybrook, Virginia Lee Pettis, and Cottie Radspinner.

Following the coronation the dancers were entertained by a floor show under the direction of Elizabeth Kent. The college choir quartette sang and the "Junior Four" (bit of the Junior production) offered their rendition of the "Yodelin' Jive" clad in authentic Alpine costume. There was dancing and singing to suit the tastes of all—variety and spice.

The final event and climaxing feature of the evening was the grand march of the costumed dancers and the ultimate selection of the prize costumes. One by one the contestants were drawn from the group and after a hard struggle the judges gave their decisions.

The mirrowed clock was won by Eleanor Folk for the prettiest costume. The handy kit and watch chain were awarded to Peggy Bellus and New Crawley for the best couple in costume and Randolph Madison claimed the desk pen for his most original costume of a "Finnish Soldier."

The awards were greeted by glad applause and as the orchestra played their strains another Mardi Gras was well underway, destined to leave behind happy around the calendar. Adios!

Registrar's Report Yeilds Astonishing Statistics

924 Girls Are Enrolled Here

The Registrar's office has been so renovated and so beautified recently that one hardly realizes where she is now when she enters the door of what used to be Miss Taliaferro's math room.

I could hardly keep from gapping the other day when I went in to find out a few statistics about this institution of which we are all a part. There my eyes beheld three separate, shiny, new offices which offered a striking contrast to the picture that popped into my mind of the old quarters where so very many things were done in such a small amount of space. Remember those waiting lines that formed out in the hall all the way to the steps?

I had to jerk my wandering attention from these musings as Miss Dot Perkins, one of the helpers in the office came to help me, —then, oh,—the statistics. "About how many students are there enrolled in Farmville S.-T. C. at present?" I began my query. Well, I knew there were a lot of girls around here but the answer "924" really astounded me. This seems to be a "boom" year. Even this quarter there has been a growth in the student body due to the addition of 18 girls.

As far as the classes are concerned, those Freshmen have us all outnumbered with 342 members. How did the measly 274 Sophs manage to keep them under control during a certain week last October? We wonder. Maybe the baby class was just new and timid then, eh? Classes seem to decline, in numbers at least, as they go on from year to year, for there are only 171 Juniors and 126 Seniors. Looked at in comparison with the other two classes here now, the two upper classes seem mighty small. But the fact is, this is the largest group of Seniors yet, and that may be true of the Juniors, too. There are 11 special students.

Do you remember (especially new girls) that during the first few weeks of school when you were just getting asquainted with everybody, that nearly every girl (so it seemed) answered the question of "Where are you from?" with "Roanoke" or "Portsmouth" or "Norfolk" until you were sure there was a conspiracy somewhere? Those are three of the

Roanoke, Norfolk Favorite Towns

Virginia towns that are best represented. Others along the line are Richmond, Lynchburg, Petersburg, and Farmville.

Seven church denominations are represented in our student body. The largest of these is the Methodist group of which there are 299 girls. The Baptists number 252; the Presbyterians, 164; the Episcopalians, 139; the Christians, 27; the Catholics, 16; and the Lutherans, 9.

So you see what we have here, girls. No wonder we're proud. Each year new girls come who resolve "true, faithful and loyal will be" and "join with the old girls" in sincere wishing and lusty shouting of "Onward Farmville!"

Dance Group, Orchesis To Present Recital

The dance group will present a program on February 22 in the main auditorium. This group will be assisted by the Orchesis Composition Class.

Members of the Dance Group include: Essie Millner, president; Betty Peerman, vice - president; Helen McIlwaine, secretary and treasurer. Others are Patsy Flecher, Martha McCorkle, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Nancy Pierpont, Peggy Allen, Mary K. Beck, Alice Cogburn, Ethel Carr, Jane L. Hutchinson, Chlotilde Jarman, Evelyn Timberlake, and Madge McFall.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Published weekly by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia nine months a year

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHI AGO BOSTON LOS ANGELES SAN FRANCISCO

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant ..... Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Hazelwood Burbank, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmondson, Mildred Harry, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Agnes Pickral, and Janelle Shelor.
Jean Watts, Mary Louise Cunningham, Caroline Ford, Mariam Jester, Shirley McCalley, Nancy Naff, Sarah Cline, Gerry Ackiss, Bridget Gentile, Elizabeth Rapp, Evelyn Thorington, Dot Sprinkle, Amy Read.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd Jean Upshur, and Thelma Courtney.
Photographer ..... Virginia Worley

This issue is by Dorothy Rollins

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1940

Good Manners Drive

Jonathan Swift termed good manners as a quality enabling the possessor to make those around him feel at ease at all times. There are instances in our school life here at S. T. C. which demand our attention on that score, for, to be specific, our conduct in chapel and in the dining hall portrays a sad lack of good breeding. Selfishly heedless, we are noisily disrespectful during devotions, and thoughtlessly, we walk helter skelter from the auditorium, giving no heed to rhythm, order or appearance en masse. In so doing we are disappointing the one person whose trust and love we cherish most here at school—Dr. Jarman. His gentle, oft repeated hope that our chapel conduct will improve is ever and again disregarded.

Secondly, in line of offense, we are disrespectful to those who read the announcements for our convenience after meals. Scraping chairs, shuffling feet and murmuring comments help us miss those important call meetings, the announcement of which "we just can't hear."

Toward the betterment of this condition Student Standards has pledged its coordinated efforts. A regular drive has been organized to foster "good manners", sponsored by this student group, and supported, it is hoped, by each and every member of the student body.

And so to you, we say, "Back the Good Manners' Drive." Remember the little things that matter and concentrate on better behavior in chapel and the dining hall. The gratitude and appreciation that this will bring should be worth the few extra minutes that courtesy will take, besides the benefit you will reap of getting out of the auditorium more quickly and hearing the announcements in the dining hall. It's for you that it's sponsored—so get behind it, the Good Manners' Drive.

Job Hunting? Here's How

We are all intensely interested in how to secure a job after our two or four years, whichever it may be, spent in college are finished. There are no better or more common sense "tips" to be found than those offered by George R. Beach Jr., personnel manager of the du Pont Company.

Mr. Beach, in addressing a meeting of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities, says — "Today's college graduate is a better recruit for business than was his father."

The du Pont official named four specifications most desired by industry in its college recruits: High academic standing, participation in extra-curricular activities, good appearance, and an adaptable temperament.

"The first of these," said Mr. Beach, "is academic standing. There is no begging the fact that a student attends college primarily to obtain an education. Experience shows conclusively that a higher proportion of successful men will mature from the top quarter of a class than from the fourth quarter.

"The fourth basic qualification is suitability for industrial employment. Sometimes this qualification is confused with the much abused word 'personality.' All of us have met individuals whose personalities appealed to us but whom we could not imagine fitting into our own organization. In describing this intangible it seems desirable to substitute the phrase 'suitability for industrial employment.' There is any number of men who are making a success in life but who are primarily individualistic. They are primarily suited to a small organization, while there are others who are temperamentally suited to the industrial companies."

Mr. Beach also spoke of the college man's transition from the comparatively well - scheduled school life to industry. It is difficult for him to understand that he is being employed to develop into an executive over a period of time; that there are no fixed climax points such as midyear examinations, promotion from class to class and the other way-stations of educational life in industry.

"You in education can greatly assist in preparing men for this period of seemingly slow progress and its inevitable routine, with a great deal of factual proof, could be done as satisfactorily by the non-college man. If we can get a young man over this period of 'Sophomore Blues', his assimilation in the industry is virtually assured."

Futute Ph. D's Deep in Study

What's this we hear about the undergraduate "doctors" on campus? Whatever it is leading to, the assumed titles have managed to create not a little curiosity on the part of the less fortunate members of the student body.

Well . . . to put at ease these inquiring souls, the answer may be found in the newly-formed class is composed of a group who class is composed of a group who are interested in solving certain problems of the South during the Civil War period and is under the wise instruction of Dr. Walmsley, a specialist in this field.

Night and day this group of "scholars" are bending to their task, searching through papers and heavy documents that may form a clue to their individual studies. They are not confining themselves wholly to the S. T. C. library but to State and Duke libraries, and other sources. As true workers in research these people have an idea, and they don't take for granted what any author says whether it be Channing, Hendrick, or what-have-you, without checking it. They are interested only in getting at the truth; and after all, this is the only history worth writing or reading.

A though jokingly attaching "doctor" to their surname and already talking of their dissertations, these girls are nevertheless serious about the whole business. We'll have to admit that to hear damoiselles during leisure hours in deep earnest discussing their work and not the latest song hits or the prom last week end is something new and different around this campus. And it's getting attention too. So when you hear these researchers going around talking about something that sounds a bit strange to you, don't think they're really batty. They're merely learning to use that needed-to-be exercised grey matter that most of us are endowed with.

An Alphabetical Valentine

Let others talk of LN's I's,
And KT's figure, light and free.
Say LR, too, is beautiful—
I heed them not while UIC.
U need not NV them, for U
XL them all, my MLE.
I have no words when I would tell
How much in love with UIB.
So sweer UR, my DRE,
I love your very FEG;
And when you speak or sing, your voice
Is like a winsome MLOD.
When UIC, hope DK's
I M a mere non-NTT;
Such FEKC has your smile.
It shields from NE NME.
For love as deep as mine, I fear
There is no other RMED
But that U love me back again.
O, thought of heavenly XTC!
So lest my MT heart and I
Should sing for love an LEG—
T's me no more—BY's, B kind.

Fun Fodder

Reaped by Courtney

Actor: "Yes usually my audiences are glued to their seats."
Critic: "What a quaint way of keeping them there."

Prof: "This class is so dumb that if you stood around in a circle the federal government would raid you for being a dope ring."

They sliced their drives into the rough, and went in search of the balls. They looked for a long time without success. Finally an elderly woman spoke to them. "I don't want to bother you gentlemen," she said, quietly, "but would it be cheating if I told you where they are?"

First Golfer: "The traps on this course are very annoying."
Second Golfer: "Yes, will you please close yours?"

She had just returned from a tour of Europe, and her acquaintances were given no opportunity to forget the fact.
"And Paris!" she gushed, "Paris is wonderful. The people are all so well educated. Why, even the street cleaners talk French!"

"Say, a man just stole my car," said a voice over the phone.
"Did you get a look at him?"
"No," confidently, "but I got the license number of the car."

Judge: "You broke into the drugstore just to get a pack of gum, eh? Then what were you doing in the cash register?"
Suspect: "Putting in the nickel."

Alexander Pope's little rhyme:
To a Blockhead
You beat your pate, and fancy wit will come:
Knock as you please, there's nobody home.

Coleridge . . . dedicated to our dates:
What? Rise again with all one's bones,
Quoth Giles, I hope you fib:
I trusted, when I went to Heaven,
To go without my rib.

O, MLE, UR, IC.

(Pathfinder)

Echoes from an Empty Space

"See all evil
Hear all evil
Tell all evil—that's us!"

Ho Hum! Certainly was a big week-end frands! Where shall we begin on this little ditty? Primarily, what about that girl who went to Richmond to see "Gone With The Wind" and ended up at the Boy's Reform School. Naughty but nice, is it, Mow?

Anne Lee, we know your middle name is "Speed"—else how could you get to Midwinters a whole day and 1-2 late? Hmmm. Among those who got there on time, the rumor has it that Jeanne Sears almost got a miniature this week-end. Essie was there, too—very much at home we hear. But what's all this about Charlotte Greely and a practically melted romance? Was that a good bye present? Naturally Nimmo was around—with bells on . . . and speaking of around who should turn up but Lashley? Fancy that, Pudge . . . and where does Will Osborne's vocalist come in on this business?

Pearl Thompson is doing all right at Davidson—or the Pikas are . . . anyway there's teamwork afoot.

Bobby Latture certainly preserved her gorgeous orchid from the festivities of Fancy Dress! Ask her for the "How" of it.

May Winn, how was the traffic situation between here and Roanoke? Whence arises this deep love of home when the family is sunburning in Florida?

The post office department has evidently appointed Dotty Rollins chief press agent. Seen on the Home Office Mantle last week was a little note, which said: "It's a wonder the mail gets up at all much less is a little late when such addresses as this are received: Miss ——, Miss Mary's Seminary, on the Appomattox, Virginia!

Beezie, word reaches us that you've been playing in the snow. Watch it, girl, even if you aren't stuck.

Incidentally, Hattie Cantrell, why so eager to impart news to us . . . want to take over this dirt job?

Well, all us who would be considered cute, harken to the tidings of the Bartlett child. A telegram and a special just to straighten things out. Tsch.

Eugenia Lloyd was some surprised when her two dates met each other before she did on her front door steps at home last week-end.

Brickbats are in order, more or less. This columnist nominates Bob Dabney as chief-tea-timing-cooky-pusher of 1940.

Carroll Cosbello's "honest confession"—"Gee, I wish I were in love."

Boo and Ora had a "lovely plus" time at the Naval Academy—but what about Tech, you all? Getting too highbrow for it?

How come Princie Arnold always arranges to come to Mickey Beck's on her way schoolward? Couldn't be "Droopy"?

Allow us to stray from the "beaten" while we tell of the "caught-in-corners" at Mardi Gras. First of all, congratulations, prize winners. And now for the dirt. Ahem! We are here to state that we dont think the Ballet Dancer date was a bit cute . . . even if he was upholding the cause of Pi Gamma Mu. But we nominate Dick Traynum as chief co-owner of queeners from now on. Did he get frightened and drop the golden circlet? Anyway, 'twas nice. Agnes Pickeral, did you know you had us pop eyed for a moment, there? Think back, honey. Pritchett's Sam was darling as the pride of the Esso Service Stations, Ltd. Whom do you know who owns a pump, Sam?) The scarecrow was fearfully authentic, but the Finnish soldier was nice and mild in spite of the gun. Incidentally, Heil Hitler . . . and so much for the costume ball. The masks sort of foiled us, but anyway . . .

Cutest of Cute remarks about cute people: Louise Hall at Midwinters to Sonny: I just love Jean Moyer! Says Sonny "So do I" Now you all . . . .

And so endeth this lesson . . . but please harken to this notice:

Wanted: Mentally deranged Cucumber writing last week's Mardi Gras suggestions. Two packs of cigarettes if dead—if alive it would pay you to murder. (When last seen was alone. Can be identified by quaint odor.)

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

"Gone With the Wind"

We belong to the ignorant class. The class who had neither the ambition nor the nerve to read Margaret Mitchell's 1037 page novel, "Gone with the Wind". It looked like a nice book and we swore we'd read it, but some kindly soul sat herself down and told us the story in such a vivid manner that we just didn't see the point in reading it. We knew all about Scarlett O'Hara and we picked Clark Gable for Rhett right along with the thousands of people who had read the "big" book. We aren't sorry that we didn't read it now, but our intellect tells us we are a little ashamed. Being branded ignorant hurts our pride.

We did see the picture though. In all the mob we pushed our way to our seats and sat ourselves down for the show that lasts almost for an eternity. Grateful to be there, proud of being among the first to see David Selznick's picture of the year—anybody's picture of the year for that matter. Perhaps a little more grateful because of the kind soul who caught cold standing in line three and a half hours for our ticket.

According to the booklet edited by Howard Dietz which is sold in all theatres showing 'Gone with the Wind", 'To have filmed every page of the book with the actual conversation and action would have required nearly a million feet of film, which would take a solid week to show with the projector running 24 hours a day." Nevertheless the booklet continues, "the producers believe and hope that every well remembered scene of the book has been included, either in faithful transcription of the original, or in keeping within the exact spirit of Miss Mitchell's work."

You will remember that the book has been one of the all time best sellers and that it broke all previous records with a sale surpassing fifty thousand copies on the first day it was set before the public. Miss Mitchell, innocent of the part the book was to play in her life and the influence it was to have on thousands of others, began her novel in 1926 and saw it published in 1936. Miss Mitchell wrote the story because she likes to write and chose the South as the theme of her story because she is a Southerner and like all true Southerners vitally interested in that period of hisotry which centers around the Civil War and the days of reconstruction.

Miss Mitchell sold the motion picture rights to her book for $50,000 and after that she wasn't interested. She gave no suggestions as to who was to play the roles of the leading characters—she didn't care much. She is still a little dazed at the great success "Gone with the Wind" has met.

Sidney Howard, who rewrote the book for screen production, was killed in an accident on his farm even before the first shot of the picture was taken. Victor Fleming, directed "With the Wind", will be remembered for the most distinguished directorial job in screen history.

And what did we think of it? Aside from our physical state of being cramped in our seat and twisting and turning hoping to get more comfortable and dying for a drink of water and our mental state of agony with a girl from Georgia sitting behind us—we tell you frankly the picture is perfect. The technicolor scenes are lovely. At times they appear the least little bit stilted and "painted." Perhaps that is because we were so conscious of the fact that many of them were actually "painted" scenes.

The characters take their parts beautifully. Vivian Leigh is perhaps the only living actress who could have so realistically played the part of Scarlet and yet held the sympathy of the audience throughout the performance. Bette Davis could have taken the part, but she could not have held the audience's sympathy. Clark Gable is right on top as Rhett Butler and especially appeals to the audience in his love for Bonnie.

The war scenes are good—so good you feel yourself fighting with the losing Confederates. You feel yourself fighting off hunger and you almost want a bit of dirty radish that Scarlett pulls out of the earth at Tara and you think how wonderful that skinny rooster that the "nigger" servant chases in the rain would taste.

You must see the picture. It is truly Southern. It's perhaps the greatest collection of great scenes the motion picture business has ever seen or will see in many years.

Sports Slants

By PAT GIBSON

They're off! Or at least they will be in the morning when Farmville's eight basketeers leave for the frozen N'th and "them thar" Yanks. Two Seniors, one Junior, three Sophomores, and two Freshmen will make the trip accompanied by Miss Iler, coach. Hotel Governor Clinton, N. Y. C., is the first haven of rest for the weary travelers—Thursday night. On Friday, the team will travel to Hempstead, Long Island, to meet Hafstrau College. After spending the night at the Garden City Hotel as guests of Hafstrau, the stalwart Farmvillians will head west to East Orange, N. J. and Panzer College College, their opponents of the day. Whether or not the trip will come to an end at this point is still undecided. At any rate, if they don't put in an appearnce Sunday morning, they will some time Monday so it is simply a case of wait-and-se. Confidentially, you players, all of S. T. C. is behind you and will be right in there rooting for Blue and White every minute of play. There won't be many "in the flesh" supporters watching you but "lawsy" the spirits will be flying all around the place. Remember that, and play the game.

At the moment the third round of the "coax, beg, plead" bout is about to get underway. Hockey took the first round, swiming barely won out in the second and now basketball steps into the ring. All of which means—interclass basketball season is drawing nigh, and the honor of each and every class is begging to be saved. Since the games are listed for late February there will be plenty of time for everyone to shape up and "get in the groove."

The Frosh vs. Oceana game which was twice re-scheduled has been definitely postponed. Basketball managers are now contracting neighboring high school teams in an effort to secure opponents for the Freshman squad. A schedule will be published, once completed.

More than a dozen people have signed up for the ping pong tournament which starts next week. There is plenty of swinging going on down in the Rec as these contestants get rid of the rust and try to raise their batting averages.

There have been several changes in the swimming program of the interclass meet. Intermediate and beginner events will not be held until the spring quarter, but advanced event in forms, speed and skill will be run off next Friday night, at 8 o'clock. Everyone planning to enter must have at least eight half-hour practices to her credit. A varsity squad will be selected from the interclass meet entries to represent Farmville in the Annual Telegraphic Meet late this month.

Mr. Brown in his Golf Gossip has said just about everything there is to be said about golf and that, as the saying goes, is that!

New spring hats in all colors and styles

$1.49—$1.98

Skirts and Sweaters, pastel shades

$1.98 each

THE HUB DEPT. STORE

APPRECIATES YOUR PATRONAGE

Come to Davidson's for a Peep at Our New Spring Styles

The newest in Skirts and Sweaters in beautiful new styles and shades

$1.98 to $3.98

Lovely new dresses for formal and sportwear.

$3.98 to $12.50

Duckiest little hats you most ever saw.

$1.98 to $4.98

And a new lot of brown and white saddle oxfords, as well as black and white saddles.

$3.50

DAVIDSON'S INC.

Golf Gossip

By Carroll Brown Professional, Longwood

Now that the Winter Golf Association is concluding a very successful season—only twenty-five days remain—we have begun to look around the corner, though a snow drift, at Spring.

We had first thought of giving individual lessons as was done in the fall. However, the cost would necessarily be pretty steep and perhaps only a few would be able to take advantage of it. Therefore we have formed a Spring Golf Association, and here is the deal: Activities will commence the 1st of March and will continue until the end of the Spring quarter. That means thirteen weeks of instruction. Transportation will be provided to Longwood each period through the day, enabling students to go out and hit the ball around for nearly an hour if that is all the time you have. Out doors it is not necessary to await your turn for practice or instruction for as many who wish may practice at the same time. We are going to conduct tournaments and run the whole show as if it were a little number one country club. This should prove to be the best golf program we have had, and we want all of our members signed up by the fifteenth of this month. We not only expect to have a good many of the girls from the winter association, but also expect a good many girls who have not as yet taken any instruction. If you do not know how to play and would like to learn come on down to the school and I will be glad to explain this new set-up to you. We had a lot of fun last fall and through the winter and if we do not have a bigger time this Spring it will be due to either the "love bug" plague among the girls or the Old Pro breaking his leg in one of his usual wild swings.

Ellen Bowen and Swanee "come hither" Wentz are still on top of the ladder tournaments and from all appearances have moved in for the long hard winter. Personally, I think that they are getting by pretty easy and I wish some of you members would give them a little more work to do.

I'm not quite sure about some of the days we put in in the golf school last week for to say that things down there were just crazy would be a very masterly understatement. One harmless little creature, innocently passing through the school and taken unawares by our antics, fled in terror, thinking the Martians had landed I guess, taking down doors and all other obstructions as she went. I honestly believe that if she had had the wind behind her she would have gone straight through the brick wall on the other side of the gym. All this has made of me a slap-happy screwball in sunshine and shower showing simple swings to students and schoolmarms, setting the simulation with subtle, stubborn supplications of Sneed and Sarazen to the sweet, sour, serious and silly. Singularly sublime with sod under sole swatting, striking and shouting until suspicion of sanity sent self screaming to solitary seclusion for suicide. S'awful!

Rose's

5-10-25c Store

ON THE CORNER

500 SHEETS

FACIAL TISSUE

19c

Hop Says

Keep that college girl "Chic" by patronizing

DE LUXE CLEANERS

Phone 77 or see Perrye Smith

Third Street

Sale on Mrs. Steven's home-made candy

29c a pound

Try it Phone 356

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Varsity Players Begin Northern Tour February 8

Meet Hofstrau And Panzer

The varsity team delegated to go to New York on the baswetball trip which will be from Feb. 8-11 includes Cleo Jarman, Dorothy Fischer, Martha Roberts, Dot Johnson, Rosa Courter, Ann Price, Corilda Chaplin and Ann Bennett. This selected team will leave at 9:10 Thursday morning on the bus. They will arrive at 7:40 p. m. in New York City. The team, with Miss Iler as coach, and Sue Owen, will stay at the Governor Clinton Hotel. There is a game scheduled Friday night at 7:30 with Hofstrau College, Hempstead, Long Island. On Saturday afternoon the team will move on to New Jersey to play a game at 4:30 with Panzer College, East Orange.

The team will return to Farmville on Sunday afternoon.

Class Basketball Games Scheduled First of March

The class basketball games will be played off the first week in March. They will be played off in Round-Robin fashion each girl being required to have eight practices to be eligible to participate in these intramurals. A schedule will be posted on the A. A. bulletin board at an early date, which will have the days and hours that practices will be held for those interested.

Notice

Helen Wentz, manager of ping pong, stated last night that tournaments would be held next week. Everyone interested in competing in the ping pong tournaments please sign up on the bulletin board at once.

Social Worker: "What is your name, my man?"

Convict: "No. 888."

S. W.: "Oh, but that's not your real name."

Convict: "No—just my pen name."

Big Sister—Billy, why are you making such a racket in the pantry?

Billy—I'm fighting temptation.

Weyanoke Beauty Shoppe

SPECIAL!

$3.50 Duart Perms., now .. $2.50

$5.00 Oil Perms., now $3.50

Shampoo, finger wave, regular price 50c

Shampoo, finger wave and manicure 85c

PHONE 331

DUKE UNIVERSITY School of Nursing

DURHAM, N. C.

The Diploma of Graduate Nurse is awarded after three years, and the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing for two additional years of approved college work before or after the course in Nursing. The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and graduation from an accredited high school. After 1940 two years of college work will be required. The annual tuition of $100 covers the cost of uniforms, books, student government fees, etc. Catalogues, application forms and information about college requirements may be obtained from the Admission Committee

Golf To Continue Through Spring

Mr. Carrol Brown, golf instructor at the college, has announced that Spring Golf Association is being organized here. The season for spring golf will officially open on March 1, and extend through the last quarter of school until June 1.

Girls who become members of the association will be given the usual general instruction in golf here at school, and will also be able to use the course at Longwood. Transportation has been arranged to take the girls to and from Longwood every hour.

A new feature has been added to the program in the tournaments which will be played. Girls will be divided into classes, called—"flights"—in golf terms, according to the ability they show in playing the game. Two days of every week will be devoted to tournament practice and the other days will be given over to instruction in special shots and use of clubs.

NEWBERRY'S 5c—10c—25c Store

SOOTHIES

Facial Tissues

15c

NEWBERRY'S 5c-10c STORE

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System

Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS MEDICINES

Perfumes—Toilet Articles

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Quality—Price—Service

HOTEL WEYANOKE

Regular Meals

A La Carte Service

Salads & Sandwiches

Patronize

Patterson Drug Co.

—AT—

Money Saving Prices

—FOR—

Drugs and Toiletries

Expert

Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring

Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream

238 MAIN STREET

Interclass Swim Meet To Be Feb. 16

The inter-class swimming meet will be held on Friday, February 16, at 8 o'clock, and is to consist of events in form, speed and skill. A challenge water polo duel will wind up the program.

Members of the H2O Club are to officiate and judges are to be announced soon. Points won will count toward the color cup. Any student is eligible provided she has at least eight half-hour practices.

The school team which will represent Farmville in the National Intercollegiate Telegraphic Meet will be chosen from contestants in the inter-class meet. The later meet is scheduled for the last week in February and the second in March. These will be judged pure-

SHANNON'S

Hot Chocolate, Hot Soups, Hot Sandwiches. See your new Library Stationery.

PHONE 224 WE DELIVER

Martin the Jeweler

Sterling Silver Salt Spoon Pins

$1.50

COLLEGE SHOPPE

Best food in town

Try us

We Deliver Call 200

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop

"From old to new with any shoes" Only First Class Material used All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!

Electric Appliance Co.

Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the

BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY MEATS

AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

Mid-Winters; 'Gone With Wind' Vie For Honors on Week-End

Prom trotting was really the thing last week end as far as S. T. C. girls were concerned.

Those uniforms really do get 'em. Just look at all of the girls who went to V. P. I. mid-winters.

Betsy Austin, Mary Prince Arnold, Anne Barrell ,Nancy Bondurant, Faye Brandon, Gertrude Burwell, Dorothy Childress, Rosa Courter, Beatrice Dunton, Anne Lee Gardner, Coralee Gilliam, Charlotte Greely, Louise Hall, Betty Hawkins, Martha Meade Hardaway, Peggy Lou Boyette, Ruth Loving, Virginia Lee Pettis, Essie Milliner, Shirley McCalley, Gloria Niemeyer, Anne Boswell, Marjorie Nimmo, Allene Overbey, Mary Martha Peery, Estelle Paulette, Catherine Radspinner, Virginia Rudd, Jeanne Sears, Myra Smith, Jane Scott, Shirley Turner, Margaret Wright, Dorothy Lee Wood, Lois Wilkins, Jeanne Warwick, Evelyn Burford, Eleanor Hutcheson, Dorothy Robbins, Betty Page Harper, Sudie Dunton, Martha Virginia Smith, and Martha McCorkle.

Fancy Dress at W. & L. was grand and glorious, so we hear from those who were there.

Alice Leigh Barham and Ora Earnest chose Annapolis, for their prom trotting; Dorothy Dawley, University of North Carolina and Kay Phillips, University of Virginia.

Next of importance to dances for week-enders was Richmond which drew a large crowd of girls for the first nearby performance of "Gone With the Wind". Those going were Marguerite Costello, Dorothy E. Davis, Margaret Franklin, Katherine N. Gray, Lillian German, Charlotte Gresham, Winnie Harrell, Rachel Kibler, Elva Kibler, Elizabeth Anne Parker, Perrye Smith, Jean Steele, Florence Thierry, D. Warren, Elizabeth West, Mary Owens West, Frances Alvis, Augusta Parks, Lucy Turnbull, Margie Rice, Mary Rice, Irene Alderman, Katherine Aiderman, Katherine Beaton, Betty Boutchard, Virginia Burham, Jo Cheif, Margaret Coalter, Carroll Costello, Helen Dawson, Ada Harris, Jean Hatton, Kathryn Hawthorne, Johnny Lybrook, Marjorie McAllister, Opal Nelson, Lucrece Neimeyer, Evelyn Pankey, Maxine Philpott, Ramonita Ramirez, Dorothy Smith, Keith Smith, Mary Catherine Sturgis, Mildred Taylor, Marie Thompson, Anne Turner, Lillian Turner, Jo Ware, Margaret Whitfield, Virginia Whitfield, Carolyn Booth, Betty Fahr, Olivia Stephenson, Jean Upshur, Julia Watson, Grace Wallace, Nancy Wolfe, Mary Lou Shannon, Mary Jane Ritchie, Ada Snyder, Marie Eason, Charlotte Phillips, Martha Cobb, Bobby Tripp, Mary Harvie, Alice Seebert, Beverley Perkins, Mary Alice Bryant, Genevieve Cooke and Ethel Carr.

EACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.

Friday-Sat., Feb. 9-10
Gulliver's Travels
(in Technicolor)
Royal Rodeo—Latest News

Next Mon.-Tues., Feb. 12-13
DOROTHY LAMOUR
JOHN HOWARD
DISPUTED PASSAGE
Disney Cartoon—News

Next Mon.-Tues., Feb. 14-15
ANN SOTHERN
JOHN CARROLL
"Cingo Maisie"
"Streamline Swing"
Novelty and Musical

Mu Omega Pledges Guests of Honor

Nancy Moss, Lillian Wahab and Yates Carr entertained at a buffet supper in the chapter room Sunday, Feb. 4 in honor of the new pledges to Mu Omega.

Mrs. Lancaster Speaks To Home Ec Majors

The Home Economics Club held its first meeting of the winter quarter on Thursday, February 1, in the "rec". At this time Mrs. E. P. Lancaster, who has lived in India addressed the group. All Home Economics majors as well as active members of the club were invited to attend the discussion of contemporary problems as seen in India.

Miss Moran Honors Old A. K. G. Members

Miss Grace Moran entertained the old members of Alpha Kappa Gamma at a buffet supper at her home Monday night, February 5. The decoration were red candles and carnations. Other than regular members Miss Jane Royall and Miss Adele Hutchinson, associate advisors were also invited.

Cooking Teacher: "And what is a gum drop?"

Third grade movie fan: "A marshmallow in technicolor!

Spring
Styles
Just in

SPORTY SWEATERS
SKIRTS
Charming new numbers $1.98 to $3.95

DAINTY BATISTE BLOUSES
$1.98 and $2.98

• •

BALDWIN'S

W. & L. Fancy Dress Captures Hearts of S. T. C.

"It was all soooo impressive," say all of the eleven girls, Liggie Ellett, Martha Cottrell, Evelyn Thorington, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Virginia Barksdale, Sara Currie, Roberta Latture, Jerry Smith, Jane Saunders, Helen Watts, and Margaret Mish, when they were asked their opinion of the Fancy Dress Ball at Washington and Lee, held Friday, February 2.

"The costumes were lovely, representing the South in 1875. The scene was an afternoon party on the front lawn of the home of the Governor of Kentucky, after the Kentucky Derby."

"At the entrance of the Gym," they relate, "was an old fashioned gate, where the ones who took part in the figure, were announced while Kay Kyser played "My Old Kentucky Home". Favors for the figure were bar pins of small riding crops and horse shoes . . . . And loads and loads of telegrams were received from alumni and former Fancy Dress Figure Leaders, and one from the Governor of Kentucky saying how delighted he was that they had chosen Kentucky for the background."

"The things that impressed me most," says one Farmville dancer, "were the song that Kay Kyser introduced called 'At the Fancy Dress Ball', and Pres. Gaines' speech that drew tears to many of the guests' eyes. Everybody sat on the floor during the Kay Kyser broadcast. The orchestra formed a choir and sang 'College Friendships' after they played the W. & L. Swing in five different versions. The orchestra members were dressed as southern colonels.

"We were just carried away by the figure with those beautiful costumes and the old fashioned dancing to Stephen Foster's music.

"There were lots of other exciting things that happened too, like receiving orchids, but you really have no idea how wonderful Fancy Dress is until you've been to one."

Winter Magazine

Continued from Page 1

Dr. Francis B. Simkins, member of the college faculty, expressed in his article "Teacher Training and Culture" his attitude toward the problem of inefficiency in teacher-training schools and offered his solution.

Miss Everett MacGowan, a summer school alumna, contributed her story "Nadya" to this issue. Other contributors to prose are: Polly Hughes, who wrote "Coincidence' and "The Gold Coin"; Virginia Barksdale, "That Was All"; Helen Gray, "Waiting"; and Anna Johnson, "The Enlightenment."

Lorraine Swingle, Nancy Moore, Betty Hardy, Edith Nunnally, Bess Windham, Dorothy Wright, Frances Hudgins, and Mary Mahone contributed poetry. Frances Pritchett picked up "Chips".

Helen Jeffries reviewed "Hitching Posts for Memories" by Nelly Cummings Preston; Mary Mahone, 'Journey Proud" by Thomasine McGehee and Frances Walker Gilmer's "Life and Learning in Jefferson's Virginia" was reviewed by Johnny Lybrook.

"I, Peter Ellyson" by Philip Cooke, student at the University of Richmond, made its appearance in this issue.

The cover of the magazine was a snow scene of the Rotunda entrance.

Forensics

Continued from Page 1

our state and federal legislature. The Assembly will hold its meetings in the Court House at Knoxville. Membership consists of 72 delegates.

Lorana, a senior, has taken an active part in the forensic activities on campus for four years. She is counselor for the Debate Club, representative from the senior class to the Student Government, and a member of Pi Gamma Mu and Kappa Delta Pi.

This is the second national Pi Kappa Delta convention Lorana has attended. She was chosen delegate from Farmville her sophomore year to the convention at Topeka, Kansas.

The convention is held every two years and convenes this year on Sunday, March 24, at Knoxvile.

Jimmie Cannon Plays For Pan Hel Festivity

Jimmie Cannon and his orchestra from Danville will play for the Pan Hellenic dance on February 24, instead of the VMI Commanders as originally announced. Due to a confusion of engagements the latter orchestra will be unable to come.

Patsy Fletcher and Lillian German wi'l head the comittee on decorations with the pledges of the eight sororities assisting them. Esther Atkinson will be in charge of the floor committee.

THERE'S NOTHING SWEETER
. . . . than the illusive charm of our gay, new adorable CAROL KING JUNIORS
$3.97 $5.97 $7.97
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Charge it if you like

The only
Combination of its kind

You can look the whole world over and you won't find another cigarette with Chesterfield's RIGHT COMBINATION of the best American and Turkish tobaccos.

In Chesterfield you find just what every smoker looks for... COOL SMOKING, definite MILDNESS, and the one thing that really satisfies...downright GOOD TASTE.

The famous COCHAND family . . . father, son and daughter (the only combination of its kind) . . . show thousands every winter the fine points of skiing, America's fastest-growing sport.

ASK FOR Chesterfield

the cooler, better-tasting, DEFINITELY MILDER cigarette

Copyright 1940, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, FEB. 14, 1940 | NO. 17

Mr. Coyner Heads Founders Day Program

March 9 Date Set for Annual Alumnae Day

M. M. B. Coyner is head of the Founders Day Committee, the date of which event has been set for Saturday, March 9. Assisting him are Marie Eason Boonie Stevenson, Jean Moyer, Esther Atkinson, Miss Virginia Bedford, Miss Jane Royall, Miss Olive Iler, Miss Grace Moran and Mr. Raymond French.

Morning session of the annual alumnae celebration includes vocal selections by a quartet from the choir and by Peggy Bellus and a pageant, during which gifts from each college organization and the alumnae will be presented to Dr. J. L. Jarman. This presentation is a custom which grew from the needs of the college for which the state would not appropriate money.

After this there will be an alumnae meeting and a luncheon at Longwood.

During the afternoon Freshmen gym classes will present folk dances.

Following a formal dinner, a ballet lyceum will be presented in the main auditorium. At 8:30 P. M. two dances will begin, one in the gymnasium and one in the recreation hall. This will bring to a close Founder's Day of 1940.

Many alumnae are expected to return for this annual occasion.

Miss Grace Moran who succeeded Miss Mary Nichols last year as president of the Alumnae Association, will preside at the meetings. Mrs. M. B. Coyner is executive secretary.

On Friday night, March 8, the main attraction will be the basketball game with Harrisonburg.

MR. M. B. COYNER

Miss Camper Talks Before Association In Richmond

Miss Pauline Camper addressed the Association of Virginia Colleges at Jefferson Hotel in Richmond last week-end on "Good Classroom Teaching from the Standpoint of the Faculty". She first gave a summary of the previous reports made by members of the Association at former meetings on college teaching and then proceeded to discuss the principles of education that have been developed in recent years here in this college. She applied the principles of mutual contingency, widening sociality, acceptable experience, purposeful unity, creative expansion, and intelligent choice to teaching in colleges.

This is the first time that a member of this faculty has been placed on the program of the Association.

S. T. C. Debaters Defeat R.-M. C.

Farmville debaters defeated Randolph-Macon Men's College Friday night, February 9, in the first intercollegiate debate of the year.

Randolph-Macon, upholding the negative side of the national Pi Kappa Delta question, was represented by Bob Winstead and George Rawlins. Anne and Jack Cock, "Farmville's Twin Debaters", upheld the affirmative. Mr. O'Ferrell Thompson, Farmville lawyer, acted as critical judge.

The National question is "Resolved: That the United States Should Follow a Policy of Strict Isolation (Economic and Military) Toward All Nations Outside the Western Hemisphere Engaged in Armed, International, or Civil Conflict."

The main issues brought out by the affirmative team were: (1) That isolation is the only policy for the United States to follow that does not lead us into war. (2) That the United States can counter-balance the trade lost to European belligerents through trade with Latin America. (3) That this trade can be brought about by the signing of Reciprocal Trade Agreements and the establishment of Pan American Banks. (4) That America can and must be self-sufficient.

The Negative maintained that: (1) Cash and Carry is the policy to be followed by the United States. (2) That Isolation is impossible and (3) That Latin American products are too much like products of the United States to carry on sufficient reciprocal trade.

Choirs Sing Sunday In Lynchburg

A Capella Choirs, college choir, and senior quartet will sing at two services at the Memorial Methodist Church in Lynchburg, Sunday, February 25.

Peggy Bellus will be guest soloist for both services. The A Capella choirs and quartet will sing in the morning and at night they will be joined by the choir.

Farmville Alumnae Association in Lynchburg will entertain them at dinner and at an afternoon reception.

Under the direction of Mr. Alfred H. Strick the choral groups will offer a program of sacred music.

Dr. Rose, National Pi Kappa Delta President, Here

Keck, Nichols Get Bids After Debate With Missouri

Dr. Forrest H. Rose, National President of Pi Kappa Delta, organization in forensic activities, accompanied the Southeast Missouri State Teachers College debate team to Farmville, and attended the debate between the Missouri and Farmville teams, last night, February 13. This was the second intercollegiate debate of the year on the Farmville campus.

After the debate, Frances Keck a junior transfer from Averett College in Danville; and Miss Mary Nichols, coach of the debate team, were issued bids to the Virginia Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, in recognition of their outstanding activities in debating this year.

Audrey Claypoole and Phyllis Godwin represented Missouri on the affirmative team, and Marie Allen of White Gate and Frances Keck of Danville upheld Farmville's interest on the negative. The question for discussion was the National Pi Kappa Delta question: "Resolved: That the United States Should Follow a Policy of Strict Isolation (Economic and Military) Toward All Nations Outside the Western Hemisphere Engaged in Armed, International, or Civil Conflict." The debate was non-decision. Lorana Moomaw served as chairman.

Following the debate Pi Kappa Delta members were hostesses at a reception for the debaters and the audience in the Student Building Lounge. Miss Peggy Bellus, Sophomore soprano, rendered several solos.

Continued on Page 4

Commercial Club Initiates 43 Girls

A play, "Boss vs. Secretary", directed by Ethel Beasley, was presented at a meeting of the Commercial Club Friday night, February 9, in the Student Building Lounge. Betty Hawkins, Esther Partridge, Elizabeth Shelbourne, Harriet Escott, and Evelyn Thorington composed the cast.

Forty-three freshmen were initiated into the club preceding the play and Dr. J. L. Jarman, Mr. S. L. Graham, Miss Virgilia I. Bugg, Mrs. Mary Watkins, and Miss Winnie V. Hiner were made honorary members.

Frances Bailey reported to the club concerning the books on the club's reserve shelf in the library. Virginia Rudd and Elizabeth Shelbourne, chairmen, of the social committee, served refreshments.

Four Farmville Delegates To Youth Congress Interviewed

By Margaret Wright

"The realization that the youth of Virginia is striving to work out together the current problems facing them impressed me most of all," announced Jean Moyer, one of the four delegates from S. T. C. to attend the Virginia Youth Conference held in Richmond February 9-11. Alice Leigh Barham, a junior, and Nancy Naff, a sophomore, represented Student Government, and Jean and Lucy Turnbull, a sophomore, were delegates from the Y. W. C. A.

Jean explained that the discussion groups held Saturday in the morning and in the afternoon constituted the vital part of the conference. "Youth and the Church" was the subject for the group Jean chose to attend. After a background of the church was given, youth problems of today were taken up and discussed in relation to the church.

The topic for Nancy's group was "Youth and Industry". The main point brought out in this discussion was that we are living in a machine age and have more people than jobs.

"It really was a lot of fun," said Nancy, "and coming back on the train we talked to "Burke" and Jennie Belle Gilliam about their school teaching days."

When interviewed about the conference, Lucy mentioned that Mrs. Roosevelt wired good wishes and congratulations for the success of the meeting.

The address of Colonel Leroy

Continued on Page 4

"Petition To Time", Soph Production to be Tonight

Jane McGinnis, Nelle White, and Virginia Barksdale are coached by Director Helen Wentz.

Chemical Conundrum; Can You Solve It?

In the laboratories, figures in long black aprons sit dimly outlined in the late afternoon light. Hunched over their tables, they pour mysterious-looking mixtures from vials into glass bowls over bluish flames, muttering diabolical spells over the ghastly concoctions. Suddenly there is a blinding flash, a screechy, splintery sound—silence. The figures huddle together in terror, as a dreaded presence looms near. He glares at the smouldering mass of broken glass and split chemical and thunders out in his—hearty laughing way, "That's okay, girls! Nothing on the face of the earth but a little old forty-cent bowl broken! Come on, let's try this experiment again." That is our Mr. Mac. And here are the contents of our labs at S. T. C. We'll bet you had no idea of all the "things" over there in that innocent looking Science Hall. (Neither did we.)

You'll find acetaldehyde, eight kinds of alcohol, 36 acids, 430 chemicals, including such interesting names as dimethylaminobenzaldehyde, cresolphthalein, xyol, and hexamethylenetetramine! A nice peppermint stick to the little girl who can pronounce any one of these last without tying her tongue in a hard knot.

Then there are 800 beakers, 1800 test tubes, seven or more kinds of flasks, one-fourth mile of glass tubing, about 300 bottles —all sizes from 5 gallon to 100 cc, condensers, tubes, medicine droppers and rods.

In addition are hundreds of miscellaneous things such as

Continued on Page 4

"Meet the Missus" Given by Apprentices

As entertainment for the usual Dramatic Club meeting tonight at 7:15 in the auditorium, the acting group will present a one-act play entitled "Meet the Missus" under the direction of "Chubby" Heard.

Jean Hall will play the role of Bert, a drunken husband, while "Bobbie" Tripp will play the part of Dolly, his slightly tipsy girl friend. Ann Sawyer will play the part of Bert's wife, Ruby.

Bert meets Dolly in a cafe and both proceed to get drunk. He decides that they will get married, therefore the two set out for Bert's apartment to tell his wife of the plan. Ruby surprises her husband by agreeing with his plan and even encouraging him. When Ruby finds out that Dolly is with Bert, she wants to see her and immediately recognizes Dolly as an old friend. She invites Dolly to spend the night with her, leaving her husband to sleep on the davenport.

Your last chance to subscribe to "The Virginian" is tomorrow, Feb. 15. Subscription price is $1. Unless you pay now there will be no further chance to order. Payment of $4 by tomorrow, however makes an annual all yours.

If you pay only the $1 subscription before this date prices may run to $4.50 or $5.00.

Dr. Alexander Addresses F. T. A.

Dr. Fred M. Alexander of the State Board of Education talked on "What is Needed to Teach the Core Curriculum in the High School?" at an open meeting of the F. P. A. Monday, February 12, at 8 p. m., in the small auditorium.

The main points brought out in the lecture were: 1. Time should be spent in acquiring experience in our own lives to fit ourselves into the society in which we live; 2. Gain mental breadth by means of study in the things that one is interested in and wants to do; and 3. That children look at things as a whole and not in parts, and that this influences our teaching; 4. That teachers should learn the technique of studying their communities and of using the information they find to help the general welfare of the community in which they teach.

Dr. Alexander illustrated these points throughout the talk by examples and excerpts from his educational observance.

After the main address, an open discussion was held, at which time questions were addressed to Dr. Alexander by interested listeners, and further explanations were given.

Go to Church Month

February has been set aside by the Church Cooperative Committee of the Y. W. C. A. as "Go to Church Month. Contests for Sunday School attendance are being held each Sunday during the month.

F. T. A. Open To Anyone

So far invitations to F. T. A. have been extended only to students who have taught or are teaching this year. However, there was no intention to neglect those who taught before this year. Those students who taught before this year and are interested in becoming members of the F. T. A. should see Mary Louise Cunningham on or before February 22.

McGinnis, Rosebro Have Leads; Wentz Directs Play

"A Petition to Time", starring Jane McGinnis and Frances Rosebro, will be presented tonight at eight o'clock in the auditorium by the Sophomore Class under the direction of Helen Wentz.

The Sophomores have taken the saying, "Old men shall dream dreams and young men shall see visions", and have given it a light, hilarious interpretation while retaining the serious background. In the prologue we see Virginia Barksdale as the mother and Nelle White as the father with their young daughter, Janet, played by Jane McGinnis, and Tyler, Janet's lover, played by Frances Rosebro. The older people reminisce; the younger look toward the future. They see the highlights of the years to come. The four scenes of the play represent the four seasons of any year. Spring with its soft colors is shown in song and dance with Peggy Bellus as the featured soloist. Summer with its bright sunlight is represented by a beach scene in which the girls give their opinions of men in general. The football season typifies fall with May Winn as sports commentator, Anne Hurff as photographer, Edna Harris as cheerleader, and with Norma Wood and her Zeke's Zippers furnishing the music in addition to the spectators and the cheering section. Winter, represented by a skiing party in the mountains closes the year noted for its beauty (scene I), comedy (scene II), and excitement (scene IV).

The epilogue shows Janet and Tyler twenty years after the action of the four scenes. They have married and have a daughter of their own who is ready to repeat the cycle that they have just finished. The parents are ready to "dream dreams" and the young daughter "sees visions".

Jane McGinnis, star of the production, has been active in dramatic work ever since she came to Farmville and has a role in the Dramatic Club play, "The Circle", which will be given in the spring.

The production was written by Polly Keller, Frances Rosebro, and Cottie Radspinner. Norma Wood is in charge of music; Gay Ward Brown, costuming; Lillian German, staging; Martha Cottrell, properties; Dot Hahn, make-up; Ellen Royal and Mildred Bowen, business; Peggy Hughes, publicity; and Jean Shulkcum, house manager.

Former U. S. Student Speaks in Chapel

Rev. Carl Kissinger, former Hampden-Sydney student and now pastor of the Baptist church at Ivor, Virginia, spoke this morning at chapel on "What Christ Means to Me".

Personalizing in his talk Rev. Kissinger emphasized the "great peace within which Jesus gives to us as well as a sense of rightness." He also said that "to know Jesus is to know the truth."

Rev. Kissinger came to the campus as representative of the Baptist Student Union which is sponsoring this entire week Student Evangelistic Week. On Tuesday, February 13, Rev. Gottschall spoke in chapel.

On Thursday and Friday of this week discussion groups will be held in the Y. W. C. A. lounge from 3 p. m. to 4 p. m. Themes for discussion will be "Knowledge of Men Today and Their Problems" and "Knowledge of Jesus; Methods in Meeting Problems."

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Published weekly by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia nine months a year

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant ..... Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Mildred Calas, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmondson, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Agnes Pickral, and Janelle Shelor.

Jean Watts, Mary Louise Cunningham, Caroline Ford, Mariam Jester, Shirley McCalley, Nancy Naff, Sarah Cline, Gerry Ackiss, Bridget Gentle, Elizabeth Rapp, Evelyn Thorington, Dot Sprinkle, Amy Read.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd Jean Upshur, and Thelma Courtney.
Photographer ..... Virginia Worley

This issue by Elizabeth West

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1940

A New Leaf For You

(Guest Editorial)

The record of 1939 has now been completed. A story has been told. The last page has been written; written in indelible ink, and there the chapter stands, for all eternity. We cannot erase a line. We cannot undo a single act nor can we recall a word which has been spoken. We can, however, turn the pages, read the contents, and from the vantage point of the present, determine their meaning. We can tell something of the general direction we have been going; we can see how the chapter we have just written fits into the plot of our life story. It is natural that we should inquire whether we made progress during the year, but it is seldom easy to answer such an inquiry with complete assurance. How can we tell whether we have been moving forward? Perhaps it will help us in our efforts to measure our achievements if we ask ourselves a few definite questions, pointing out specific lines along which we should have made progress. Here are a few questions college students should, profitably, ask themsleves.

1. Am I wasting as much time as I did a year ago? Do I show evidence of a growing power to organize my day?

2. Do I read better today than I did a year ago? Have I enlarged my vocabulary?

3. Am I becoming more mature in my thinking? Am I getting away from the absorption in entertainment characteristic of infancy and childhood. Am I more interested than I was a year ago in the important problems of the personal and public life?

4. Am I overcoming my prejudices? Am I more inclined than I was a year ago to suspend by judgments, to see both sides of a disputed question? Education is largely a case of freeing the minds of prejudices?

5. Have I become more useful to my relatives and friends during the year? Do I contribute more to the enjoyment and happiness of those with whom I come in contact? Am I more broadly sympathetic, a better member of my family, church, school and community."

One who consciously seeks to answer these questions is certain to make progress in 1940.—Collegian Reporter.

Valentine or Galentine . . .

By E. RAPP

I glanced at my calendar and February 14 was marked in red letters. I wondered why, but before I got a chance to give it a second thought the bell rang for class. As I dashed madly down the hall, I heard one girl exclaim, "I got 50 valentines from Bob" and "Look at this one. It's positively insulting." With a thud, I remembered, "Why, it's Valentine's Day". I rushed to the mail box myself. Then I began to wonder how Valentine's Day started. Straight to the Library I went and found out a lot of interesting things.

The etymologists, those grave, scientific persons who make a study of the origin of words, declare that the use of valentine is really a mistake. They say that "v" and "g" sound so much alike that they are often confused. They say the word used to be "Galentin", lover of the fair sex. Then people began to call it Valentine and naturally the saintly Bishop Valentine was established as the patron saint of lovers—even though he had nothing to do with it.

Well, that's all very good and well, but I liked the story of Ancient Rome better. Much more romantic! It goes like this: Good Saint Valentine was a priest at Rome in the days of Claudius, the Cruel. Then the Empire wars broke out, and all the citizens were summoned forth to battle. The young men didn't want to leave their sweethearts, therefore, all marriages were forbidden.

Now Valentine heard of this and was very, very sad. When a couple came to him, he secretly married them. Then others came, and Valentine became the friend of lovers.

The secret leaked out, however, and Claudius ordered him thrown into prison. His friends interceded for him, but in vain. In a dungeon Valentine languished and died on February 14th.

Ah, sweet romance! 'Twas such a beautiful story! As I sat at the library table, I thought of all those couples Valentine married—why perhaps he was in the midst of marrying one couple when the soldiers took him away! I rushed for the encylopedia. I'd find the truth there!

My heart fell, for as I looked in one reference book after another, I found that Valentine's Day was not named after St. Valentine. In fact, it didn't even have a thing to do with him. Odd though it was, it began by boys and girls drawing each other's names and thus being valentines for a year. It just came from a mix-up of the alphabet.

Well, I shan't lose any sleep over it, because this box of candy my roommate got is well worth more than one disillusioned daydream.

Harvard University has received a donation of $7,000 orchid specimens and $68,000 to care for them.

Student Body Considers Campus Political Organization

At the suggestion of Dr. J. E. Walmsley, head of the History and Social Science Department, Marie Eason recently presented to the student body the possibilities of forming a political organization on campus. Below are the pro's and con's as seen by two students.

PRO'S - - Anne Cock CON'S - Ruth Lea Purdum

As Confucious might have said "Let's give organization fair trial before we condem same" and by "organization" I mean the political party on the campus as suggested by Dr. Walmsley through Marie Eason at the Student Body meeting Wednesday night.

Surely we are all old enough to realize that when we graduate we are stepping from behind the protection of our "ivy covered walls" into—we know not what, where we will be controlled by a huge political machine run by conniving politicians. Ignorance is no longer bliss in a world where we must face facts if we expect to make a decent living.

Do we expect to avail ourselves of the recently granted privilege to women—that of the right to vote—that which puts us on a more equal footing with men, in a man's world. Yes we do!

And now that we have an opportunity to become acquainted with what we are voting for we should certainly seize the opportunity for it knocks but once.

One of the primary functions of the "Little Congress" is to make students "more aware of what has been termed the 'democratic way of life'."

Objectors on the campus say that we haven't the time to put into a new organization. Please remember that all the students are active participants, only from a standpoint of voting. Only a few are chosen for representation.

If you are not interested in the forming of, and in the active participation of, a branch of the 'Little Congress", you will not be compelled to take any kind of part in it. But I see no reason why that should stop interested students from organizing. If they have the interest, then they'll find the time.

Not only would the founding of such an organization serve to enlighten many of us on the political views of the day but it would also serve to bring about a spirit of cooperation among the various other organizations in the school.

It would certainly put us far ahead of other of the leading colleges in Virginia, for at present it is only on a few campuses.

Who knows, but what some day Farmville will turn out a student destined to take a leading part in the political affairs of the nation. It's worth considering with deep thought anyway.

Are national politics and party organization vital enough to you and me to overcrowd our present crowded extra-curricular activities?

Can not those students who desire knowledge concerning national politics and party organization arrange to take such courses either as required work or as an elective?

If you are interested in our national politics and party organization, will you not be more interested in a small group studying with the unbiased advice of your professor, than the entire student body taking a part—only a small number carrying out the ideals and platform of the party and the remainder with their names attached as inactive?

Does every student cooperate when given the opportunity to take an active part in the varied extra-curricular programs available on our campus now? No. Then, we cannot expect the "remarkable" from our student body in supporting a political campaign and election until we adjust our present extra-curricular program.

Would not party organizations on our campus undermine our present status of student election? It would be in the course of human events to do so.

Students, continue to think, and you will grow in wisdom, and realize there is no room on our campus for another extra-curricular program that will "fade out" after a few months.

Confucius Say—

Why fight for head of class since teach same thing at each end.

If you must talk—say something.

Man who tells story without point often finds self stuck with same.

War not decide who is right, but who is left.

Neighbor who borrow garden rake comes back for mower.

When wife go to dressmaker, husband one who have fit.

No heads are better than some.
Confucius, He Say
—Philadelphia Inquirer

Quotable Quotes

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

What's in a name? There must be a lot, for the members of the newly organized Poultry club at Michigan State College have elected Lou Eggleton as their first President.

Here's another warning for you who want to be authors: Some time ago Edgar B. Wesley, professor of education at the University of Minnesota, received an 81-cent royalty check for a book he had helped to write.

By the time he had mailed a share of the check to each of his three collaborators—all of whom live off the campus—he had 11 cents to show for his trouble.

Echoes from an Empty Space

After such a gay week-end of rain, snow, what-have-you, and mostly Midwinters . . . What member of the second class prefers a measly little orchid to five (not two!) huge gardenias? . . . What fair young maiden was the victim of a technical walk-out in Shannons Friday and was scared to death everybody in school would find out? . . . Where is that Cotillion Club pin the Tech paper mentioned. Jeanne Sears? . . . What blonde freshman has definitely decided to be a step ahead of Susan Young this time and beat him to his annual let down? . . . Good deciding! . . . Why has that certain young 'un whose name begins with Dodie, decided that West is West but East is a lot better? . . . Wonder if Elsie Berrye received her annual red roses from Frank today?

By way of passing we must consider May Wertz and Ora Earnest's headgear—namely an orchid . . . Marguerite Costello certainly finds the K. A. House an interesting place—most especially to whisper "secrets" to Bobby . . . Wonder why Helene Stras refused a local phone call no less than three times Saturday afternoon? . . . Seems that certain affairs are taking on quadrangles! For instance, the Nan Duer, Slug Bynum, Bud Gilliam affair (plus a dollar bill)! . . . Rumored around that Wentz knocked the stag line for a wow! P. S. Ask Wentz why she stopped rooting for the home team and is now desirous of a triangle?

While Sara's away Taylor is a good boy! . . . In selecting Valentines, Barbara Drewry, watch your step next time! The young man will take you up on it if you aren't careful . . . Bussy Bangs Ralph has a definite look in her eye for Dick Clark these days . . . Joan of Arc is the recipient of many oddities. For this week the award goes to Susie Harris for singing "Indian Summer" to our beloved patron saint.

Seen around:

Bess Windham is desperately threatening to faint out on the next bunch of red roses . . . P. S. Bobby, hint, hint, hint . . . Must ask Marian Worsham why Jimmy Baldock was blushing so over a certain piece the orchestra played . . . "Tripping" the light fantastic (especially up the steps) was Helen Mac . . . Betty Fahr all elated over meeting Buck's mothers—Buck's mother didn't come . . . Night riders beware! The infirmary door isn't a very good place for clandestine meetings and late dates . . . Essie Millner tripped over to Midwinters with Dickie Lowe—a charming couple.

For Valentines Day Sara Hardy wants a Cupid in the form of Jimmy Traylor without Jeanne Sears supplying the competish! . . . Speaking of triangles, how about in the Rec Sunday night: Dick Clark with Edna Harris . . . Bill Hay holding hands with a freshman wearing a diamond . . . Tynes and Anne Bradshaw . . . Dozzie and Martha Welchel . . . Polly Hughes and another guy . . . Another triangular week-end and we'll go nuts. Just wait till Pan Hels! Bye now!

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

The President's Insult

Mr. Roosevelt, addressing over four thousand young Americans who had gathered in Washington for the National Youth Congress, told the shivering mass that they should be careful not to pass resolutions on subjects that they had not thought through and on which they could not possibly have complete knowledge.

Every single phase of resolutions should be studied and studied thoroughly the President said.

"One of the big local American Youth Congress Councils, I am told," Mr. Roosevelt said, 'took a decisive stand against the granting of American loans to Finland—not on the ground that we ought to spend the money here among our needy unemployed, but on the ground that such an action was an attempt to force America into the imperialistic war! That reasoning," the President continued, "was unadulterated twaddle, based perhaps on sincerity, but at the same time, on 90 per cent ignorance of what they were talking about!"

A Grave Mistake

Such a statement before such a large group of enthusiastic young people and over a national hook-up was indeed a grave mistake. Mr. Roosevelt overlooked the fact that one of these days those young men and women will be voting. Of course, they may not know what they are talking about, but they are eager, and when so many people are eager about a thing, something's bound to happen.

It is easy for us to understand why a sensitive group of young people could get "het" up over someone smiling in the "gorgeous" smile of the President over us and saying well now, maybe you are sincere but only about 10 per cent of you know what you're talking about and the rest of you are just plain ignorant about the situation. If we had been there, there probably would have been two audible boos instead of one regardless of our great admiration for Mr. Roosevelt. The statement was tactless and the "kids" aren't so much to blame if it did rub their feathers the wrong way.

Fanning the Blaze

Then that beautiful boy—the one with the eyebrows and the several chins—that cunning little fellow who reminds us of an American Hitler minus mustach—our great and beloved agitator, John L. Lewis, spoke to the Congress and told them amid thunderous applause that Fr. Roosevelt was no expert himself. He said that if the President applied the same rule that he suggested he would surely "lose the next election."

As to the resolution concerning Finland, Mr. Lewis said that the United Mine Workers' convention had adopted a similar one.

"I wonder," the labor leader said, "if the President would call that resolution "twaddle". Mr. Lewis, you have a point there. If Mr. Roosevelt does consider such a resolution "twaddle", we think that the President is "90 per cent ignorant" on the subject of what "twaddle" is!

The Red Flag

The National Youth Congress had been accused of being communistic and many felt their belief ascertained in the way John L. Lewis was received by the Congress. However, the Baltimore Republicans would have none of it and burned a red flag when John Lewis came from the auditorium. This was done, they said as a protest against preaching any other "ism" than Americanism in the White House.

Mr. Lewis in his "charming" manner invited the A. F. of L. to Washington to vote on some "agreement" or "peace" treaty or "reconciliation."

America is such a peaceful, loving country—we don't see how those "awful" Europeans could fight their neighbors. It's so much more fun fighting with our blood kin!

Sports Slants

By PAT GIBSON

Monday evening found the basketball team coming down the home stretch after a great snowing in New York and neighboring New Jersey. It seems that the girls really did things up right. The Hofstra game, which we lost, was a tight one and no doubt well worth seeing. That northern team is undefeated this year and will probably retain her status. However, Farmville put up a mighty hard fight and that's what really matters. Saturday found the tables turned, Farmville was clicking and so—on to victory, 34-12!

It seems that the games were not the only feature of the trip. Sightseeing and tomfoolery were also in evidence. We hear that Rosa got her signals mixed on the Pullman (this is confidential — don't tell anybody) and that Dot had some trouble ascending and descending to and from her 'loft' perch—upper berth. Is there any truth in the report that nearly everyone had trouble in doing so? Basketball teams are supposed to be agile. Best and Co., 5th Avenue N. Y. C., have wired inquiring as to whether or not we have all of the flock back in the fold once again. (There's someone on the elevator who is still waiting). All of the rest, subway, sightseeing buses, skyscrapers and the noise will in all probability be foremost in the memory of the players for some time to come—and as they insist, "It sure was fun—while it lasted."

Going on to rather "springy" affairs, we find that the ping pong tournament is all set and ready to go. Some 20 or 25 people have signed up to enter in the round-robin (everybody plays everyone else) contest. Since we're betting on every entry, there isn't much point in predicting the winner. Nancy Pierpont, an old master, who won last year, is among the competitors.

Mr. Brown announces great success in the Spring Golf Association membership drive — 35 members thus far and what looks like more in the offing. Again Wentz and Bowen have walked off with the prizes in the golf tournaments. Competition, please, and plenty of it. Pretty soon now, we will be out on the Longwood course again, smacking (still trying to, in some cases) the little ball over the hills and into the woods.

Farmville swimming team will be a reality this time next week after the interclass meet is over and the varsity squad is selected. The meet looks like a nip-and-tuck contest although Green and White is said to have slight edge on their opponents. Time, as usual, will tell. Friday night at 8 o'clock is the hour to whoop it up for your class and color teams.

In the interclass basketball games, there is need of support—active and passive. These games are slated to begin early in March and to finish before Founders Day. So while there is still time, let there be practices.

S. T. C. Sextet Breaks Even on New York Trip

Click to Overcome Fighting Panzer Team by 22 Points

Farmville defeated Panzer College Friday night, February 9, in East Orange, N. J. with a score of 34-12.

The Panzer team showed excellent passwork throughout the game against their Southern rivals. Half time found Farmville leading 22-6. Struggling to revive themselves, Panzer gained six points after the half in a useless struggle. The final score after a brilliant fight for the basket found Farmville victorious 34-12.

The line-up:

Farmville (34)
Roberts f	14
Barnett f	4
Fischer c	2
Jarman f	14
Courter g	0
Chapman g	0
Price	0
Johnson g	0
Total	34
Panzer (12)
Cairs f	0
M. Kane f	8
O'Mara f	0
H. Kane	4
Kreps	0
Sullivan g	0
Crampton g	0
Robinson g	0
Total	12

Referee: Philipp; umpire, Shulter.

Ping Pong Tourney To Continue All Week

Helen McIlwaine, Helen Wentz, Nancy Pierpont, Anne Barnett, Crews Borden, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Frances Parham, Winnie Webb Buchanan, Kay Horsley, Nell Hurt, Corilda Chaplin, Margaret Webster, Grace Hutcheson, Margaret Darby, Ann Hurff, Virginia Musselman, Sara Keesee, and Laura Nell Crawley are the girls that are participating in the Ping Pong Tournament which started today. The first round must be played off by Saturday night Tournament pairings are listed below:

Pairings for the first round of play which must be finished by Saturday are listed below.

Sara Keesee and Grace Hutcheson, Margaret Webster and Ann Hurff, Corilda Chaplin, Margaret Darby and Virginia Musselman, Helen McIlwaine and Anne Cock, Laura Nell Crawley and Winnie Buchanan, Kay Horsley and Nancy Pierpont, Frances Parham and Crews Borden, Ann Barnett and Nell Hurt, Jack Cock and Helen Wentz.

1st play off by Saturday, Feb. 17. 2nd play off by Saturday, Feb. 24. 3rd play off by Saturday, March 2.

"Do you know what a bride thinks when she walks down the aisle at her wedding?"

"No. What?"

"Aisle Altar Hymn."

—Dexerd

Of Interest to All

Dear Editor,

For three years we have eagerly looked forward to the approach of that wonderful season—spring, the mere mention of which signifies one sport—tennis—only to have all anticipation of that great game toppled by the realization that we at Farmville are not provided with courts upon which to play. Of course we must not omit the fact that there are three "courts" south of the library, but it is necessary to add that they are uneven, clay courts badly in need of rolling, smoothing, and some regular form of marking. And then when one considers the fact that we have 923 students in school, at least one-half of whom play, or would like to play tennis, three courts, even if they were in perfect condition, seem to us totally insufficient.

Tennis is a universal game, and rather than being a lot of fun, it, like bridge, has become almost a social necessity. Also, it has for the average person many advantages over other sports. Golf in most cases requires special instruction which in turn requires compensation. This cannot always be afforded by the majority of our students, whereas tennis equipment is very reasonable and consequently easily accessible. Basketball, baseball, volleyball and other team sports are not as a rule extensively played after one finishes school and even here they must naturally be limited to those groups of girls who have the most skill. On the other hand, tennis will remain an important sport in our lives after we finish college. Then, too, one does not necessarily have to have any remarkable skill in the game in order to participate, for it is not hard to find someone about the same "speed" with whom to play—if we had the courts.

We are sure that any observant person could tell that even those three delapidated courts that we have are occupied continuously on pretty spring days from 6:00 A. M. to 6:00 P. M., that in itself seems enough proof that something ought to be done. If new courts are unattainable, is there not some possible way by which those courts which we have now, might not only be repaired but kept in good condition? This request, we believe, is almost unanimous with the student body. We hope it will be given consideration.

We are not forgetting that the A. A. council each year has wanted and worked for new or improved tennis courts. Is it too much, however, to ask again that the present A. A. council, as true representatives of the student body, promote the cause of that which we have longed for for many years—tennis courts!

A Group of Seniors

New York Captivates Fancy Of S. T. C. Sports Visitors

Have you noticed the look of longing shining forth in all the gals' eyes around here lately, since a certain date? Three guesses as to what's causing it—and you're wrong on the very first one! It isn't the spring-like weather we're having, and it isn't the hope that Valentine's Day will bring something exciting. It's New York. Everybody wants to go to New York! The husky gals who went to the Big City to play two northern schools at basketball—and incidentally did some real playing too—have completely demoralized the school. No longer do we have secret or maybe not so secret yearnings to go to Washington or Hollywood, or Chicago or New Orelans or maybe Paris and the Riviera, when the war's over! It's New York or nothing.

On to the Skyscraper City—that is the battle cry. The Chamber of Commerce of New York has definitely been overlooking talent. It would do well to take on all ten of the team who have been really selling the city to everyone. They have been entertaining us all with stories of how they saw all there was to see—all the tall buildings, Grant's Tomb, the Statue of Liberty, the big department stores, all the lights of Broadway, Radio

Riding Club Meets

The Riding Club met on Friday night, February 2, in the "Rec". Miss Stella Fox, riding instructor, held a discussion of correct riding clothes, formal and informal.

The club will meet again on Friday night, February 16 in the "Rec". May Wertz, president of the club, has urged that each member be at the meet promptly at seven. Those there on time will be given a chance for a free ride.

City, and all the other things everyone who goes to New York is most anxious to see.

It sounds wonderful, but what we like best are the stories with a little local color that sounds like so much fun. Such as, Miss Iler's getting recognition as the "real" lady in the crowd, being so interesting that the guide on one of the sightseeing trips makes a special rate to take the gals on a second one, getting off on the stuffy men's floor in one of the stores, everybody's hats flying off and the poor little guide getting completely exhausted from chasing them. But then, there's the best story of all, but everyone's heard it and there's no sense in repeating so we'll only make one remark. It's a shame you girls look so young but the southern girls just do stay young a long time. And you're such cute little things anyway. Dot, Marty, Cleo, Susie, and Rosa, that it doesn't make much difference. Besides, lemonade with peanuts, and cheese popcorn sound grand! So we say, "More power to ya!"

Suffer Defeat at Hands of Unbeaten Hofstra College

Hofstra College defeated Farmville S. T. C., 23-20, on the Calkins gymnasium floor in Hempstead, N. Y., Friday night, February 8.

At the end of the first quarter the Hofstra girls were leading 13-8 and at the half 18-10. In the third quarter Farmville gained seven points, rallying to 17-22. Hofstra gained only one point in the last quarter, fighting Farmville's strong comeback, leaving the final score 23-20, in favor of the Northern team.

The lineup:

Hofstra (23)
Biederman f	1	2
Rasweiler f	0	0
Runcie f	4	11
Lobaugh f	5	10
Eckhold g	0	0
Kimball g	0	0
Charlak g	0	0
Horn g	0	0
Totals	10	23
Farmville (20)
Jarman f	4	9
Fischer f	0	0
Barnett f	2	4
Roberts c	1	7
Johnson g	0	0
Courter g	0	0
Chapman g	0	0
Price	0	0
Totals	7	20

Referee: Baum. Umpire: Percicano.

COLLEGE SHOPPE
Best food in town
Try us
We Deliver Call 200

NEWBERRY'S 5c—10c—25c Store
SOOTHIES
Facial Tissues
15c
NEWBERRY'S 5c-10c STORE

JUST RECEIVED
Newest Spring Oxfords and Dress Shoes. The new La Conga Oxfords
$1.98 to $3.95
Beautiful Plaid Spring Jackets
$3.95 & $5.95
New pastel skirts to match ..... $1.98 and $2.98
THE HUB DEPT. STORE
APPRECIATES YOUR PATRONAGE

Rose's
5-10-25c Store
ON THE CORNER
500 SHEETS
FACIAL TISSUE
19c

Hop Says
Have you ever seen a Modern Dry Cleaning Plant? De Luxe Cleaners invites you to visit their plant on Third Street!

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
Present this Coupon at SOUTHSIDE for samples of MRS STEVEN'S CANDIES
FREE!

Martin the Jeweler
Sterling Silver Salt Spoon Pins
$1.50

Weyanoke Beauty Shoppe
SPECIAL!
$3.50 Duart Perms., now .. $2.50
$5.00 Oil Perms., now $3.50
Shampoo, finger wave, regular price 50c
Shampoo, finger wave and manicure 85c
PHONE 331

DUKE UNIVERSITY School of Nursing
DURHAM, N. C.
The Diploma of Graduate Nurse is awarded after three years, and the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing for two additional years of approved college work before or after the course in Nursing. The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and graduation from an accredited high school. After 1940 two years of college work will be required. The annual tuition of $100 covers the cost of uniforms, books, student government fees, etc. Catalogues, application forms and information about college requirements may be obtained from the Admission Committee.

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Quality—Price—Service

HOTEL WEYANOKE
Regular Meals
A La Carte Service
Salads & Sandwiches

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

SHANNON'S
Hot Chocolate, Hot Soups, Hot Sandwiches. See your new Library Stationery.
PHONE 224 WE DELIVER

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop
"From old to new with any shoes"
Only First Class Material used
All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of "CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY MEATS
AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

Hampden-Sydney Mid-Winters Attract Many S. T. C. Girls

Hampden-Sydney mid-winters were held last week-end with Earl Mellen and his orchestra beating out the rhythm on Friday night and Wally Stoffler and his band on Saturday night.

Those S. T. C. girls and their dates who were among those present were: Carol Averett, Bill Downing; Ann Bradshaw Spencer Barrow; Blanche Carper, Henry Wiseman; Marguerite Costello, Bobby Shuffy; Emma Louise Crowley, Allan Sharitz; Ora Earnest, W. B. Harris; Betty Fahr, Buck Thompson; Blair Goode, Bill Tracey; Madge Horne, Robert Taylor; Kay Horsley, Frank Booker; Polly Huthes, J. Doswell.

Rebecca Jones, John Foushee; Dorothy Mayes, David Prince; Aline Markland, Frank Jones; Helen McIlwaine, Billy Russell; Theodosia MacKenzie, A. Bynum; Essie Milliner, Dick Lowe; Marian Mitchell, Bill Covington; Virginia Morgan, Hugh Halliday; Anne Pickral, J. D. Ridgeway; Ella Marsh Pilkinton, Warren Saunders; Frances Pritchett, Sam Lapsincott; Frances Powell, Charles Graham; Mary Rieman, Jimmy Cane.

Dot Robbins, George Topping; Jeanne Sears, Jimmy Traylor; Martha Smith, Booty Shelton; Elizabeth Townsend, Craig Burks; Helen Travis, Edwin Vaden; Ruby Trice, Zander Williams; Jean Upshur, Frank Blanton; Elizabeth Warner, Randolph Madison; Helen Wentz, Jack Ward; May Wentz, Alex Jones; Barbara White, Bob Eason.

Margaret Whitfield, John Gibson; Virginia Whitfield, Henry Green; Peggy Williams, Ned Crawford; Bess Windham, Bobby Trice; Marian Worsham, Jimmy Baldock; Mary Anne Dryden, Jimmy Moore; Betty Mae Tyler, Billy Green; Helen Gray, Ed Kilby; Irma Graff, Bill Baker; and Sara Cline, Bob Dabney.

Mu Omega Has Pledge Banquet

Mu Omega had its pledge banquet in the tea room at 6 o'clock Wednesday night, February 7. Old fashioned valentine theme was carried out in the place cards, favors, and decorations.

Toasts were given by Anne Benton, Anne Ayers, Sudie Dunton, Sara Cline, Kay Spencer, Mary Jane Jolliffe, and Patsy Fletcher. Alice Leigh Barham was toastmistress.

Adele Hutchinson and Mary Banks Fretwell, alumnae, Miss Leola Wheeler, adviser, and Mrs. W. C. Fitzpatrick, patron, were also present in addition to the members and pledges.

Rings with the Greek letters of the sorority were given to the pledges.

Pi Kappa Delta

Continued from Page 1

Miss Janice Hartwell and Miss Birdie Cleiano, chaperons, completed the Missouri Debate group.

A Canadian college student has transferred to the University of Georgia because she wanted to learn more about the country described in "Gone With the Wind."

University of Toronto students are giving blood to be used by Canadian soldiers at the front.

Homeward Bound, Hundreds Leave for Week-end

Hundreds of girls fled to their homes last week-end to prove to their families that they really didn't starve to death while they were snow-bound.

Those who went to Richmond were: Mary Prince Arnold, Charlotte Avery, Carmen Booth, Anne Benton, Mary Klare Beck, Martha Ann Baldwin, Harriet Ball, Dorothy Bailey, Dorothy Brookfield, Genevieve Cooke, Martha Cottrell, Margaret Coalter, Dorothy E. Davis, Ellen Ebel, Ruth Flaugnnaugh, Margaret Franklin, Anne Lee Gardner, Elizabeth Gunter, Ella Hutchison, Mary Harvie, Sarah Jollett, Doris Leonard, Shirley McCally, Ada Clake Nichols, Sarah Wade Owen, Dorothy Perkins, Mary Elizabeth Pettacrew, Elizabeth Rapp, Virginia Rudd, Helen Ruger, Mary Lou Shannon, Louise Palmer, Jean Steel, Edith Sibold, Mildred Taylor, Mary Gray Thompson, Shirley Turner, Evelyn Byrd Timberlake, Harriette Vadsn, Jane Walker, Grace Wallace, Emily Wescott, Annabel Wescott, Lois Wilkins, Betty Youngberg, Mary Katherine Zehmer, Esther Coleman, Jean Carr, Catherine Phillips.

Alice Leigh Barham, Nancy Naff, Lucy Turnbull, and Jean Moyer attended the Youth Conference there.

Roanoke was next in importance with Anne Ayers, Betty Mae Ayers, Betty Barnes, Doris Bishop, Margaret Bowling, Margaret Carr, Elizabeth Carter, Alice Cogburn, Josa Carlton, Dorothy Deacon, Jane Engleby, Dorothy Eades, Elizabeth Glasgow, Geraldine Hatcher, Nell Hurt, Helen F. Harrington, Frances Hoback, Nancy Maclay, Dorothy Menefee, Eleanor Messick, Helen McGuire, Jane McGinnis, Betty Perry, Louise Painter, Louise Parcell, Mary Martha Peery, Ellen Royall, Frances Rosebro, Kay Spencer, Betty Sexton, Nancy Sale, Beverly Smith, Elizabeth Summerfield, Marie Utt, May Winn, Nelle White, Lillian Wahab, Anne Williams and Norma Wood.

Lynchburg is next in line with Frances Alvis, Gay Ward Brown, Rachel Burroughs, Ann Burwell Ware, Anne Covington, Dorothy Sue Crumley, Frances Ellett, Eleanor Feagans, Marporie Goodeu, Lynnette Honeycutt, Emily Hoskins, Robin Henning, Imogen Hutter, Baylis Kunz, Frances Kash, Sarah V. Lawson, Helen Lewis, Carolyn Minnick, Mary Meade Mason, Eliza McDaniel, Betty McConnell, Mildred Ottinger, Carroll Pugh, Louise Palmer, Mary Anne Pettit, Betty Reid, Elaine Ross, Elizabeth Ralph, Dorothy Sprinkle, Helen Watts, Virginia Worley, Polly Hughes, Coralee Gilliam, Betty Jackson, and Pearl Thompson.

Those who left our fair State for the week-end were May Wertz, Jennette Giovannoni, Doris Green and Sara Keesee, who went to Washington, D. C., Sarah Elizabeth Whisnant and Nancy Dupuy, Greensboro, N. C., and Dawn Shanklin and Lucy Davis, Annapolis, Md.

Conundrum

Continued from Page 1

needles, pins, thread, cord, labels, test tube holders, brushes for everything, tripods, rings, clamps, knives, scissors, screwdrivers, hammers, tacks, rubber bands, platinum crucibles, wire, electrodes, cork borers, and pullers, stopper pullers, stoppers and corks, filter paper, paper towels—approximately 1000 a week—matches, gasoline, weights, evaporating dishes, crucibles, funnels and policemen. These policemen are rubber taps for cleaning glass sheets.

About 441 girls use the lab in a week, if they all come. If they do their work 15 to 20 pieces of equipment will be used each time.

Now can you answer these questions? 1. How many girls can name the equipment they have worked with during the past week? 2. According to the law of averages how many chances are there that a piece of equipment will be left in the wrong place?

Youth Congress

Continued from Page 1

Hodges, State Comptroller, on Friday impressed me especially," Lucy stated. "He gave three essentials for the building of a great dominion," continued the Y. W. C. A. delegate. "These were first, vision; second, a sound plan; and third, an unselfish civic spirit."

"Boo" Barham commented on the interest shown by all the groups. There was a spirit of co-operation prevailing throughout the three days.

"'Gone With the Wind' was wonderful!" This was the exclamation of all four of our representatives. "Boo" added excitedly that she loved staying at the Jefferson Hotel. In her discusion group "Boo" became serious. "We talked about the essentials of a democracy, and how the youth of America could attain those essentials and in this way become a good citizen."

Nancy laughingly admitted that they ate at White's while their money lasted; but later it was good citizens.

3. According to the same law, how many pieces of equipment will be broken by June third?

New Members Entertained at Tea

Dramatic Club entertained its new members at a Valentine tea Wednesday afternoon in Student Building lounge from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Each old girl took a new member. The decorations carried out the valentine theme.

"The conference was a success," concluded Lucy Turnbull, "and accomplished its purpose which was to inform youth of Virginia about the situations existing."

EACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.
Friday-Sat., Feb. 16-17
BURGESS MEREDITH
BETTY FIELD
In John Steinbach's
"Of Mice & Men"
Latest News Events
Next Mon.-Tues., Feb. 19-20
Hedy LaMarr
Spencer Tracy
I take this Woman
"Pound Foolish" News
Next Wed.-Thurs., Feb. 21-22
FRED ASTAIRE
ELEANOR POWELL
"Broadway Melody"
Disney Color Cartoon

GONE WITH THE WIND
Sweaters—Skirts—All the newest pastel colors—You'll just love these—at $1.97 & $2.97
Carol King Dresses—Newest Hot Pink and Greys—$3.97 to $7.97.
DOROTHY MAY STORE
First to Show the Newest

LYNN'S MUSIC STORE
New Philco "Midget" Radios $9.95
Emerson Radios $12.95
Farmville, Va.

FOR A REAL SPRING TREAT
Take a peep at our new Spring Sport Jackets in beautiful new pastel shades in both plaids and stripes.
$2.98 to $5.95
DAVIDSON'S INC.

ANN MILLER, star of stage and screen, now appearing in George White's Scandals, is definitely the outstanding dance discovery of our time . . . and a discovery more and more smokers are making every day is that CHESTERFIELDS are COOLER, BETTER-TASTING and DEFINITELY MILDER.

Chesterfields are Definitely Milder AND BETTER-TASTING

You'll always find these two qualities at their best, plus a far cooler smoke, in Chesterfield's Right Combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos.

Make your next pack Chesterfield and see for yourself why one smoker tells another They Satisfy. You can't buy a better cigarette.

MAKE YOUR NEXT PACK Chesterfield
The Cooler, Better-Tasting, DEFINITELY MILDER Cigarette

Copyright 1940, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

ORCHESIS RECITAL
FRIDAY NIGHT

The Rotunda

FRESHMAN PRODUCTION
TICKETS ARE ON SALE
File No. —Z773

VOLUME XIX — FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, FEB. 21, 1940 — NO. 18

Choral Groups To Sing in Lynchburg Sunday, Feb. 25

Peggy Bellus and Edwin Cralle Are Guest Soloists

College Choir, Senior A' Capella and the Senior and Intermediate Quartettes will present two programs in Lynchburg on February 25.

Memorial Methodist Church will be the scene for the morning service. The program includes "Praise Yet the Father" by the Senior Quartette; "Hear My Prayer" by Intermediate Quartette; "Jesus Joy of Man's Desiring" and "Jehovah, I Will Praise Thee" by the choir; "Tantum Ergo" by the Junior A' Capella; "God of All Nature" by the choir, which will also be given in the evening performance.

Other selections for the program to be given at the Court Street Methodist Church are, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus" by the Senior Quartette.

Peggy Bellus and Edwin Cralle will be soloists at both services.

Lunch will be served by the Memorial Church while an alumni supper will be given at Court Street Church.

Debate Team Meets Westhampton

Frances Keck of Danville and Marie Allen of White Gate, Farmville's negative debate team journeyed to Richmond this afternoon to meet Westhampton's affirmative team in a debate tonight on the National Pi Kappa Delta question: Resolved—That the United States Should Follow a Policy of Strict Isolation (Economic and Military) Toward All Nation's Outside the Western Hemisphere Engaged in Armed, International, or Civil Conflict."

Others making the trip were Geraldine Beckner, Helen Delong, and Jack Cock.

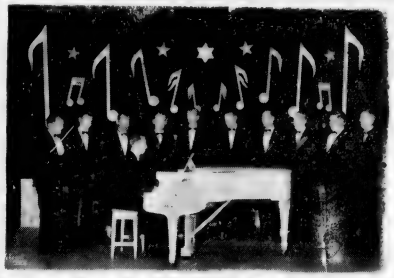
Dr. James Elliot Walmsley, head of the History Department, and Pi Kappa Delta adviser, accompanied the team. This will be a decision debate.

"The Highwayman" Is Junior Sing Stunt

A dramatization of Alfred Noyes' poem "The Highwayman" was enacted in Sing on February 17, by the Junior Class.

The highwayman, portrayed by Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, rode up to the old inn yard to tell Bess the landlord's black-eyed daughter, played by Susie Pearl Crocker, to wait for him by moonlight. Doffing his French cock hat, he kissed her good-bye and rode away to the east.

While waiting the return of her lover Bess heard the redcoats coming. They marched to the inn, drank the landlord's ale, and bound and gagged Bess with a musket at her side.



Feverishly she worked to free her hands. What was that? He was returning. She struggled to free her hand—At last it touched the trigger. He was warned by her death.

Continued on Page 3

"Virginian" To Be Delivered on May 1

"We cleared a little over five hundred orders," announced Isabel Williamson, editor of the "Virginian" when interviewed Saturday.

The annual will go to press the middle of March and will be delivered the first of May. The editor added that the cover and general make-up of the 1940 publication will be entirely different from any of the previous annuals.

Jimmy Cannon and his orchestra, who will play for the Pan-Hellenic dance.

Jimmie Cannon to Play For Annual Pan Hel Dance

Rev. Dr. Workman To Address College

Reverend Dr. James Workman, of Fayetteville, Arkansas will speak to the student body at chapel time and will also be guest speaker at the Methodist church in the evening on Tuesday, February 27.

Farmville S. T. C. will be the scene of a Youth Crusade college mission. Rev. E. A. Potts, Methodist pastor, is cooperating with college and Youth Crusade officers in presenting this program.

The Rev. Dr. Workman is prominent in the field of education and religion. Former president of Henderson College, a Methodist preacher, his pastorates have always been in college centers.

Dr. Workman will be available to students for personal interviews on religious and vocational subjects, Tuesday night he will lead a discussion group at the Methodist church. The admission is ten cents. Everyone is invited.

The college mission here is one of a series of others held on college campuses of state and church institutions during February, March and April. The missions are non-sectarian and are for the purpose of reaching young people. Some objectives are to inculcate church loyalty and to enlist youth in efforts for world peace.

Sophomores Present "Petition to Time"

"Old men shall dream dreams and young men shall see visions", was the theme chosen by the sophomores for their production given Wednesday night, February 14. The tile was "A Petition to Time", starring Jane McGinnis, as Janet, and Frances Rosebro, as Tyler. Helen Wentz directed the play.

The idea was handled in a light, hilarious manner with the older people looking into the past as they reminisced while the young ones looked to the future. There were four scenes. Spring was represented by soft colors, lights and music furnished by a chorus of dancers and singers with Peggy Bellus as soloist. Summer included a gay houseparty with Polly Keller forming the great comedy relief. Autumn was typically featured by the first game of the football season. Mac Winn glibly commented on the game, as Zeke's Zippers swung out on the college songs, and Ann Hurff photographed each spectacular play. Winter completed the cycle by depicting a ski party in the mountains. Mildred Morris as "Auntie", offered her blessing when the hero and heroine announced their engagement.

The last act or epilogue was similar to the prologue. Janet and Tyler had grown older and began to dream their own dreams

Continued on Page 4

Gym Will Be Scene of Festivities

The annual Pan Hellenic dance will be held Saturday, February 25, in the gym from 8:30 to 12:00 o'clock.

Jimmie Cannon and his eleven piece orchestra will play for the occasion. This band is from Danville, Virginia, and has played for dances at Duke University and Clemson College.

Intermission will be from 10:00 to 10:30. During the dance there will be a no-break dance for all sorority girls.

Committee heads for the affair are decorations, Patsy Fletcher and Lillian German, with sorority pledges assisting; floor committee, Esther Arkinson, with alternates in Pan Hellenic Council on the committee, decorations (Student Lounge) Marjorie Holt. Society colors will be carried out in the decorations and the details will be a surprise.

Miss Carolyn Cogbill, Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Florence Stubbs, Miss Grace Moran, Miss Virginia Bedford, Miss Olive Iler, Miss Pauline Camper, Miss Leola Wheeler, Miss Helen Draper, Miss Wilhelmina

Continued on Page 4

Girls Teach Saturdays To Make Up Lost Time

Students of Farmville high and elementary schools are having to attend school on Saturday and holidays in order to make up the time lost during the snow. The school board has decided to withdraw a holiday usually given on March 8, the date of the District D Teacher's meeting and the Easter holidays, March 22 and 25. The principals have set those Saturdays to teach that interfere least with college activities.

Extra teaching days are March 2, March 8, March 16, March 22 (until 12:00 o'clock), March 25, and April 6.

H.-S. and S. T. C. Players To Present "The Circle"

Miss Wheeler Will Direct; To Be Lyceum Feature

For the past four weeks the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs have been rehearsing Somerset Maugham's play, "The Circle", which they will present Friday night, March 1, at eight o'clock in the S. T. C. auditorium.

The play, an English drawing room comedy of character, opens thirty years after Lady Catherine Champion-Cheney, played by Jane McGinnis, and Lord Hugh Porteous, enacted by Johnny Pancake, have unconventionally eloped and gone to Italy. Elizabeth Champion-Cheney, to be enacted by Jean Hatton, and her husband, Arnold Champion-Cheney, to be played by Keith Eubank, whom Lady Catherine, his mother, had left when he was five years old, have a houseparty and decide to invite Lady Catherine and Lord Porteous since they are now in London.

A complicated situation arises when Clive Champion-Cheney, father of Arnold, unexpectedly arrives from Paris and, promising to keep out of sight while Lady Catherine is present, walks into the room where she and Lord Porteous are seated. The circle is completed when Elizabeth, who has fallen in love with Edward Luton, portrayed by Bob Engle, makes an equally unconventional choice as did Lady Catherine.

Dress rehearsals for the play will begin on February 26 and continue through February 29. Sidelights revealed in regard to costuming include the wearing of wigs by Jane McGinnis and Johnny Pancake, the latter being bald.

This will be the second year in which the Jongleurs have presented a spring play in conjunction with the S. T. C. Dramatic Club. A joint fall play is an established custom. Miss Leola Wheeler is directing the play.

"The Circle" is to be a lyceum feature for S. T. C. students while tickets for Hampden-Sydney stu-

Continued on Page 3

Hardaway Instructs Orientation Group

Martha Meade Hardaway, vice-president of the student body, is acting as instructor in the orientation of the new girls who enrolled in the college this quarter.

The orientation class, the purpose of which is to familiarize the new girls with the rules, traditions and general activity of the college, meets once a week. The text book used is the handbook which is issued every year to all new girls.

Orchesis and Dance Group Will Feature Studies, Techniques

Mrs. Fitzpatrick Directs; May Wertz Is Accompanist

Orchesis, assisted by the dance composition class, will present its annual dance recital Friday night, February 23, in the large auditorium at eight o'clock.

The program, which is under the direction of Mrs. Fitzpatrick, includes: "Military", representing the march of soldiers and war time movements, by Orchesis; "Nightmare", by Orchesis; "War Suppressed," representing the German-Czechoslovakian question of '39 (repeated by request), by Orchesis; "The Way of the Cross", a deeply religious study in parts: "Agony in the Garden", "The Burden", "Consolation", "The Hallelujah Chorus" (in latest interpretation) by Orchesis.

"Opening Day", "Scholar", "Extra Curricula Activities", all from "College Life" and by the dance composition class; "Study in Technique", "Study in Theme and Variation", and "Meeting and Greeting" all by the dance composition class.

May Wertz will be accompanist. The public is cordially invited.

Grand Opening of Cafe '43 Febuary 28

Rhythm, color, dancing, singing, balloons—all of these will help create that atmosphere of gayety and festivity at "Club 43" which will be sponsored by the Freshman class on Wednesday, February 28, at eight o'clock.

Besides the floor show, the club will feature Walter Snitchell—who will relate the latest from S. T. C.

Reserved tables for the opening of "Club 43" may be obtained from Mary Harvie.

Rollins Is Delegate To National Meet

Drs. Jarman and Wynne Attend

Dorothy Rollins, newly elected president of Kappa Delta Pi, national educational fraternity will attend the thirteenth annual convocation. The convocation will be held in East St. Louis, Missouri, from Feb. 26 to Feb. 28.

The last delegate to the bi-annual convocation was Ann Dugger in 1938.

Headquarters for the convention will be in Broadview Hotel. On Feb. 26 special leaders and speakers will have round table discussions on problems of the chapters represented there. On Tuesday each executive member will hold a discussion group on one specific problem. After which all groups will come together for a summary.

Tuesday a luncheon will be held at which time brief talks will be given by each delegate about her respective chapter. The room will be decorated with pennants from the various colleges. Delegates will be seated according to the year the chapter was installed. The Beta Epsilon chapter at Farmville State Teachers College was installed in 1928.

The banquet will be held Tuesday night at Statler Hotel in St. Louis.

Wednesday the nominating committee will report and the election will be held. Reports will also be given by the executive committee. All delegates will vote on amendments and the organization of a junior Kappa Delta Pi chapter will be discussed.

Continued on Page 4

Pi Gamma Mu Announces Question

As one part of its project for the year, Pi Gamma Mu, national honor society in social sciences, will conduct an open forum on the question: "Can America Give Aid to Weaker Countries and Stay Out of the War?" Leaders in this open forum, which will be held in the Student Building lounge on the evening of February 27, will be Doris Chesnut and Carmen Boothe, speaking from an affirmative viewpoint, and Elizabeth Kent and Mary Jane Jolliffe, from a negative viewpoint. The meeting will be attended by members of the organization and specially invited guests.

Following the open forum, an informal reception will be held. Mary Walker Mitchell is in charge of the reception.

The project committee of Pi Gamma Mu is composed of Ruth Lea Purdum, chairman, Marjorie Nimmo and Ollie Graham Gilchrist. Dr. Francis B. Simkins is faculty adviser.

Senior Giftorians and Historian Elected

Eliza Wise and Ollie Graham Gilchrist were elected giftorians for the Senior class, and Mary Mahone, Historian at the regular class meeting held Tuesday, February 20.

At the class day exercises the historian reads the history of the class. The giftorians are responsible for gifts to each member of the class.

Methodist Students Will Attend Meet

Evelyn Burford, Elizabeth Ann Parker, Emma Nubbins, Rachel Kibler and Charlotte Gresham will represent S. T. C. at a convention of Methodist college students at Blackstone, February 23-25. Evelyn is State treasurer of the group.

Methodist students from colleges throughout the state will send delegates to this meeting. Group discussion and studies of campus problems will be held.

Political Parties on Campus Are Favored

Group To Discuss National Problems

The student body at a call meeting Monday, February 9 voted to have political organizations on the campus after Dr. James Elliot Walmsley had cited their usefulness and had given examples of other colleges where they were in successful operation.

Dr. Walmsley explained that a legislative body of one house, composed of as many members as the committee which draws up the constitution sees fit, shall meet at times prescribed by the constitution to discuss and vote on issues already picked for discussion by the executive committee. This will give the students an opportunity to study current political problems directly. Members of the legislative body will be elected from the student body at large and will rank themselves as Conservatives, Liberals, or Radicals in accordance with their views concerning the political issues to be voted on. No one will be called upon to take any part in the organization if she does not wish to do so. Students interested in the problems can go to the meetings of the legislative body to hear the discussion.

Dr. Walmsley explained that this system is being carried out successfully by the Little Congress at the University of Virginia. It is interesting to note how closely their vote has agreed with the vote of our national Congress on many important issues.

Elections to a body of this sort might occur quarterly or yearly

Student Congress To Be Elected

according to the constitution. Minority groups may cause the body to be dissolved and thereby bring about a new election at any time as in the case of the British parliament.

A speaker will preside over the group and committees with powers corresponding to those in our national Congress will be appointed to work on bills and prepare them to be voted on. Each of the parties left (Radicals), Center (Liberals), and Right (Conservatives) will defend its views and vote accordingly. The Center group is usually stronger but membership in any group is continually shifting.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Published weekly by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia nine months a year

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant ..... Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Mildred Calus, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmendson, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Agnes Pickral, and Janelle Shelor.

Jean Watts, Mary Louise Cunningham, Caroline Ford, Mariam Jester, Shirley McCalley, Nancy Naff, Sarah Cline, Gerry Ackiss, Bridget Gentile, Elizabeth Rapp, Evelyn Thorington, Dot Sprinkle, Amy Read.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd Jean Upshur, and Thelma Courtney.
Photographer ..... Virginia Worley

This issue in charge of Pat Gibson

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1940

Tennis Courts

For some time we have heard reports about our sad lack of playable tennis courts and sympathize heartily with the opinions expressed by a group of seniors in a letter to the editor last week. To our knowledge this has not been made an issue in an effort to obstruct the progress of other sports, but it is instead is purely a drive for either new or improved, kept-up courts. We have been advised that the present Athletic Council is working on the question in view of the coming tennis season; however, if we are to judge by the group's past service, something will be done.

Political Parties

For the past week students have been discussing the pros and cons of political organizations on the campus. Objectors have pointed out that such an addition to our already over-crowded extra-curricula program would ultimately prove detrimental to the school. Among arguments presented was the age-old "lack of time". It seems that in an issue as vital as this, we might make or take time. Can we in the world of today call ourselves good citizens if we are not acquainted with the ins and outs of political machinery? Do we really feel that small group discussions would be more enlightening than the views of all expressed by representatives of the various factions? Are there not students in attendance whose time is not entirely given up to extra-curricula work, but who are interested in present day politics? It has been suggested that interested students might gather "leaves of political knowledge" through the medium of actual classes. Not everyone, however, is in a position to either elect or take such courses as required work.

We are voters of tomorrow—the coming voice of the nation. For many years people like Susan Anthony strove for woman suffrage. Are we today, after the battle is won, to sit idly by in this ever-changing world simply because of disinterest or "lack of time"?

Quotable Quotes

Don't be so foolish as to study Saturday, so wicked as to study Sunday and so crazy as to study early Monday morning.
—Wm. Lyon Phelps

A highbrow is one who pretends to know whether the dancer is interpreting a moonbeam, or a cow annoyed by hornets.

The trouble with many a man who knows nothing is that he is the last to find it out.

If you want to remember things tie a string around your finger. If you want to forget things, tie a rope around your neck.

If you are in doubt whether to kiss a pretty girl, give her the benefit of the doubt.
—Carlyle

Talent is built in solitude; character in the stream of the world.
—Goethe

Man is the only animal who can be skinned more than once.

The soul is dyed the color of its leisure thoughts.

If you wish to lower yourself in a person's favor, one good way is to tell his story over again, the way you heard it.
—Mark Twain

There is only one rule for being a good talker: learn to listen.
—Christopher Morley

Nothing is really work unless you'd rather be doing something else.
—James Barrie

Mike College Picks

Thursday, February 22

10:15 P. M.—Columbia Workshop—"Autobiography of An Egotist"—CBS

11:30 P. M.—Charlie Barnett—NBC Red

Friday February 23

10:30 P. M.—Believe It or Not Ripley—dramatizations, music by B. A. Rolfe and songs by Linda Lee—CBS

11:30 P. M.—Tommy Dorsey—MBS

Saturday, February 24

4:00 P. M.—Bull Session—"Pioneering in World Organization"—CBS

5:00 P. M.—The Human Adventure—Dramatizations prepared by the University of Chicago—CBS

9:00 P. M.—Hit Parade—With Mark Warnow, Barry Wood, Bea Wain, Orrin Tucker and Bonnie Baker, Murray Chorus—CBS

12:30 A. M.—Ozzie Nelson—MBS

Sunday, February 25

2:00 P. M.—Great Plays—Maeterlinck's "Pelleas and Melisande"—NBC Blue

3:00 P. M.—New York Philharmonic Orchestra—John Barbirolli conducting the "Pathetic" Symphony by Tschaikowsky—CBS

4:30 P. M.—Pursuit of Happiness—Burgess Meredith, m. c., variety—CBS

9:00 P. M.—Ford Hour—Symphony orchestra, Grace Moore, soloist—CBS

12:30 A. M.—Jan Garber—NBC Blue

Monday, February 26

8:00 P. M.—Tune-up Time—Andre Kostelanetz Orchestra, Tony Martin—CBS

11:30 P. M.—Bob Crosby—MBS

Tuesday, February 27

8:00 P. M.—Big Town—Starring Edward G. Robinson with Ona Munson—CBS

10:00 P. M.—Glenn Miller—With the Andrews Sisters—CBS

Wednesday, February 28

10:30 P. M.—Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra—Fabien Sevitzky—CBS

12:30 A. M.—Phil Harris—MBS

TODAY IS SATURDAY!

Janice: "So Lillie threw over that young doctor she was going with!"

Clarice: "Yes, and what do you think? He not only requested her to return his presents, but sent her a bill for forty-seven visits."

Confucius Say—

Many may have eight wives, four better or four worse.

Not everybody behind eight ball pool player.

Man's face last from sun to sun; Woman's face is never done.

All not children who ask silly questions.

—Apologies to Confucius, He say, Philadelphia Inquirer.

Co-ed who buys cheap hosiery get gypped in long run.

Movie actress with two chins have double feature.

Dormitory girl who coo over phone have much used line.

Soldier who stick head in cannon get honorable dicharge.

Student who shoot professor get automatic "E" for semester.
—Many thanks to The University Echo, Tenn.

Brown University will this year begin publication of "Mathematical Reviews", an international journal on mathematics.

Early reports indicate that the U. S. college student population this year will be only approximately one per cent higher than last year.

Echoes from an Empty Space

Back again after more Midwinters, more complications, and even more triangles. First feature of the week is little Dan Cupid . . . the mantel was literally covered with amorous messages and what-have-you's to say nothing of the flowers and candy . . . Why Carmen Booth vows up and down she got the biggest box of candy of all the girls in school . . . and Louisa Sanford (even though she detests publicity) did all right by herself with roses and candy . . . Nancy Naff, Elizabeth Cline, and Dot Davis with the traditional red roses . . . and scores of others with the ever-popular valentines. . . . Guess you know Junior Building was temporary bedlam what with the recipients of those comic valentines complaining quite audibly.

To start off the list of Midwinters guess Helen McGuire needs honorable mention. And by the way, Helen, why didn't you tell RED you were going up to Virginia so he wouldn't have to spend a week-end in Farmville alone? . . . Miss Coberley and Miss Horsley go up to Virginia on OAO's bids followed closely by Mr. Stokes and Mr. Booker. (Also OAO's) . . . in conclusion may we ask how the late dates came out? . . . Helen Lewis "thumbs" to Virginia courtesy K. A.'s . . .

Freshman Trice has forgotten how to act, among girls now, so she declared quite desperately last week, she's so used to a date every day . . . oh dear, another ad for Betty Bly . . . Betty Sexton still out for the Tynes again . . . Caroline Harvey is fasting (not feasting) on cigarettes and men . . . Speaking of missing busses, wonder how Crews, Moss, and Helen Mac felt when the bus pulled right out from in front of them and left them stranded? . . . Perrye Smith finds traveling too complicated. Anyhow that's the way things look especially after two attempted trips that both fell through . . . Complications in Trice-Windham affair. Seems as though Bobby hasn't received reply to his medical application . . . Have you heard that latest: Elizabeth Williams and Les Andrews . . . my oh my . . . Walter Potter literally surrounded by beautiful women (among whom were Dot Eades) at Richmond's fashionable dining place . . . Marion Worsham pretty "spry" about spring weather!

"Thumbody please introduce" us to Polly Keller's handsome young man . . . also Dot Childress' young man . . . Seen last Thursday: Martha Cottrell and Gordon Willis . . . Nancy Hopkins all a-dither about going home but due to alarm failing to go off Hoppy stays at school . . . Best short story of the week (quote) "Ora Earnest and Robert Taylor" (unquote) . . . Marie Eason declared Saturday "It's a Blue World"—Oh Taylor . . . The White-Eason affair becomes more and more complicated as the White meets family . . . Dodie desperately despairing over phone call from Frank during recent absence . . . to movies . . . Hitting it off these days: Dot Lawrence and Jess Van Meter . . . also Ora Mayo and Charlie Nott.

Question of week: Who takes Bynum to Pan Hels? . . . Doc Richards turning the tables, it's Jane McGinnis now . . . Suggestion of the Week: Booty Shelton should move his boarding house to STC due to his not infrequent visits to said place . . . Wonder what the Nimmo is doing with a set of rings for the main purpose of measuring one's finger for rings? Contemplating marriage—or maybe miniatures? . . . And speaking of rings . . . weddings rings . . . who was the young man who dates regularly at STC that was seen last week looking at wedding rings? . . . The basketeers think Dot Fischer's Billy is the most thoughtful person. He sent all of them a picture and writeup of the Hofstra vs. Farmville game.

To the Sophs, and Wentz, 2especially, go our heartiest congiats for a fine production . . . and to May Winn for her masculinity . . . and raised eyebrows to Liggie Eliett (with reference to this week's "Cadet"). What in the world will you do next, Liggie? . . . and to Helene Stras a magnificent picture of her OAO . . . Corilda Chaplin's Tarzan was a sight for sore-eyes—a real he-man . . . Here's wishing everybody a good time at Pan Hels. Have fun but remember we "see all, know all, and tell every atom (item) of it!"

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

Republican Nominating Committee

In Washington the Republican program committee is meeting to set up some sort of program to be used as a party platform for the 1940 election.

As we expected they are centering their program around Federal economy and National neutrality.

A twenty per cent reduction should not be too difficult and coupled with an increase in National income should be sufficient to balance the budget in 1942, so the report of the committee ran.

Such statements may be classed under what Mr. Roosevelt called "glittering generalities" in his opening speech to this year's Congress. You will remember that the President stressed the fact that no such statements should be made unless the person or persons responsible for it could back that statement up with a reasonable "how."

The report beat around the proverbial bush with: "In the present situation, a balanced budget must be sought largely through such reductions of expenditures as can be accomplished without impairing essential services or depriving the unemployed of adequate relief, and through policies in every field of Government activity which stimulate a healthy expansion of private enterprise."

It is easy enough for the most average of us to say what should be done. We probably could have hit the nail on the head as squarely with our little hammer as the Republicans did. Our solution of "how" is probably as good as theirs, too. They didn't give any either.

In denouncing that present system of economy the report declared, "no leadership can produce a movement of hope if it begins with the assumption that the clock of national economy is running down, that its mechanism has become so faulty that it can be kept going only if continuously run by the hand—the hand of the Federal Government."

The War Situation

There are a number of reasons why America should not enter into this war, the committee said. It is not our war and there is no need for us "sticking our necks out." We have a big enough navy and a large enough air force to take care of any country who might get the idea of invading the United States would be an easy undertaking.

The United States must keep out of war so they can help a crippled world make a sane peace after the war is over. "Although for the time being it may seem a futile gesture, the United States should reaffirm as occasions arise, its adherence to the principles of international behavior, the maintenance and progressive development of decent international law and the sanctity of treaties."

Same Story

It isn't odd that the platforms of the "outs" and the "ins" should never change. There's little the "outs" can do but denounce the "ins" and try to convince the voters that they know a better way. The "ins" always say "Look what we've done—you just couldn't do without us now."

Whether Democrats or Republicans, the fellows who make up the platform have little choice to make as to which "side of the fence they'll stand on." That was decided in the '36 Presidential election. But both parties are headed for the same thing and it really doesn't make a great deal of difference whom you vote for unless you are a Southerner and you were born in Virginia—or unless you're stubborn and always want to be different.

Sports Slants

By BOO BARHAM

Stop, look, and listen, my children! The biggest news of the week is about to be announced! Come tomorrow night, February 22, Farmville will play its first home basketball game of the season. It's gonna be a show, too. Come early and avoid the rush! Nothin' but a front seat will be good enough to watch the fast and elusive Farmville team battle it out with the speedy and tricky William and Mary gals! Who will have the thrill of seeing the ball hit the backboard of their own goal the most times and go sliding down through the net to ring up two more points? It's hard to say for those who know say it will be a tight game.

Up till now, Farmville has remained undefeated in basketball at the hands of the William and Mary squad, and we say that's a record really worth fighting to keep. All you gals practice up on your cheers. Only the very best, grade A cheering will be good enough for a game like this. Let's make it the biggest, most enthusiastic, yellingest crowd in the history of basketball games. A crowd to end all crowds—enthusiam to end all enthusiasms! You know—

"We've got the pep
That gave us the rep
That made us the best of all!"

That kind of spirit! And may the best man win.

And still on the subject of basketball, congratulations are in order for several seople. First of all, lots 'n lots of them to Cleo who has been chosen captain of the basketball team. We think you'll make a fine one! The best ever, in fact! Then, certainly, congratulations to Rosa, Dot, and Chappie who have distinguished themselves by practically getting in the New York rotogravure section. One of the New York papers featured on the sports page an action shot of our Farmville talent showing its stuff in the Hofstra game—it looks good.

Now, for a little bit of swiming news. Ten girls have been selected to swim in two intercollegiate meets. The first one will be held on Thursday night, February 29. The meets are participated in by numerous colleges in various sections of the country, and the results are telegraphed in to the national sponsor. Practices for the meet are going on every night. Last year Farmville placed third in the Southern Region. So splash up a breeze, girls, and put us right up in front again.

The ping pong tournament is well under way at this point. The first round was played off last week and the second round wil be played off by Saturday. It's still too early in the tournament to predict the winner as yet. There seem to be quite a few good players, so it will probably be close.

One last word! Don't forget that Spring Golf Association! It sounds like a good thing. Spring is undoubtedly the season for golf and a lot of good instruction and practice is being offered.

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

There is at least one college professor who believes in frankness—and to prove our point, read what Prof. Paul W. Tappan of Miami University had to say recently about class recitations:

"Cleverly answered questions, with merely an iota of an idea, always make an impression. This is what is commonly known as 'bull-throwing'. Of course, none of your teachers would admit the veracity of this fact. Bull-throwing or tossing is an art and is not to be regarded as a simple task. Please do not try to bull and bull with reckless abandon, for the professor has to have an idea, even if a very vague idea, that the student may know something about the subject."

Which, you'll have to admit is putting it frankly—but not too mildly!

CONFUCIUS SAY —

"Be Smart"
Buy at Baldwin's for Founders Day"

DAINTY WHITES

BLOUSES
$1.00 & $1.98

SWEATERS
$1.98 & $2.98

SKIRTS
$1.98 & $2.98

SADDLE SHOES
$3.50

BALDWIN'S

NEWBERRY'S
5c—10c—25c
Store

SOOTHIES
Facial Tissues
15c

NEWBERRY'S
5c-10c STORE

EVENING SANDALS
Gold and Silver
medium and low heels, all widths $2.95
New Spring Phylis hosiery, pure thread
French chiffon silk, 98c values 69c
New high shade man tailored suits
$10 values $7.95

THE HUB DEPT. STORE
APPRECIATES YOUR PATRONAGE

Heads Basketball

Chlotilde Jarman, a Senior from Crozet, Virginia, has been elected captain of this year's varsity basketball squad. Cleo has been outstanding in college athletics ever since her freshman year. She has played on varsity and class basketball squads for three years, this year making her fourth. At present, Cleo is manager of basketball and president of the Monogram Club.

Frosh Schedule Tilts With High Schools

The Freshman basketball game that was to be played yesterday, February 20th, will be played Tuesday, February 27th. This game will be played with Rice High School at 4:00 o'clock in the college gym.

Another game has been scheduled with Worsham High School which will be played here at four o'clock on Friday, 23rd.

After the games the opposing teams will be honored at a tea in the Student Lounge.

Frances Parham, a freshman from Petersburg, has been added to sub-varsity. Frances has taken an active part in basketball since the first practices in the early fall.

Junior Sing

Continued from Page 1

When learned of her courageous act he returned to the inn uttering curses—only to be shot down like a dog by the lurking redcoats.

The cast included Trudy Hale, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Dorothy Menefee, and Frances Pritchett as redcoats; Jean Moyer, as the innkeeper; Nell Hall as Jim the Ostler, who was a lover of Bess, also. The poem was read by Boo Barham.

"The Circle"

Continued from Page 1

dents and other visitors will be fifty cents.

Rose's
5-10-25c Store
ON THE CORNER
500-SHEET
FACIAL TISSUE
19c

Hop Says
"Let De Luxe Cleaners make your evening gowns look like new for this week-end."
Phone 77 Third Street
Or see Perrye Smith

SOUTHSIDE
DRUG STORE
Regular 5c
Filler Paper
3 for 10c

Varsity Swimming Squad Selected

Nancy Dupuy, Helen McIlwaine, Sara Keesee, Peggy Hughes, Dot Fischer, Nancy Pierpont, Essie Millner, Harriet Walker, Buff Gunter and Eliza Wise are the ten girls who have been named as members of the varsity swimming squad. These girls will represent S. T. C. in the annual National Intercollegiate Telegraphic meet which is scheduled for Thursday, February 29. In this meet the team will swim against time; the results will be recorded and sent to the national sponsor.

Other Virginia schools entered in the meet are College of William and Mary in Williamsburg and Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg.

Varsity practices are being held at the pool on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday nights from 9:30 until 10:00 o'clock.

Life Savers Creed

Let me at ease in the water be,
At nome in the river, lake or sea.
Let me learn to play and have my fun,
But never let me duty shun.

Let me gladly and fearlessly ever go
For the luckless fellow who's gone below.
Nor give us hope when life seems gone,
But untiringly work on and on.
Oh, let me in the Hour of Need
Prove to the careless, the friend indeed.

Let me be worthy of the Cross I wear
Ever ready to do and dare!
Let me live so clearly I may be fit
In that darkest hour to do "my bit".

Lucille Van Winkle
Director of Swimming
YWCA, Duluth, Minn.

COLLEGE
SHOPPE
Best food in town
Try us
We Deliver Call 200

Martin the Jeweler
Sterling Silver Salt Spoon Pins
$1.50

Weyanoke Beauty Shoppe
SPECIAL!
$3.50 Duart Perms., now .. $2.50
$5.00 Oil Perms., now $3.50
Shampoo, finger wave, regular price 50c
Shampoo, finger wave and manicure 85c
PHONE 331

DUKE UNIVERSITY
School of Nursing
DURHAM, N. C.
The Diploma of Graduate Nurse is awarded after three years, and the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing for two additional years of approved college work before or after the course in Nursing. The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and graduation from an accredited high school. After 1940 two years of college work will be required. The annual tuition of $100 covers the cost of uniforms, books, student government fees, etc. Catalogues, application forms and information about college requirements may be obtained from the Admission Committee.

Basketball Practice Schedule

Monday	4:00—General 5:00—Varsity
Tuesday	4:00—Varsity 5:00—General
Wednesday	4:00—General 5:00—Varsity
Thursday	4:00—Varsity 5:00—General

Ping Pong Tourney Enters Second Round

The first round of the ping pong tournament was completed on Saturday, February 17, and the following girls emerged as winners: Grace Hutchinson, Helen Wentz, Helen McIlwaine, Winnie Buchanan, Nancy Pierpont, Frances Parham and Nell Hurt. The second round must be played off Saturday, February 24.

Sports Calendar

Feb. 23—Frosh vs. Worsham H. S. basketball game in college gym at 4:00 P. M.

Feb. 24—Farmville vs. Radford basketball game at Radford.

Feb. 27—Frosh vs. Rice H. S. basketball game in college gym at 4:00 P. M.

Feb. 29—National Intercollegiate Swimming Meet in pool at 8:00 P. M.

March 5—Interclass swimming meet in pool at 8:00 P. M.

March 7—National Intercollegiate Swimming Meet in pool at 8:00 P. M.

March 8—Farmville vs. Madison basketball game in gym.

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

GRAY'S
DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Quality—Price—Service

HOTEL
WEYANOKE
Regular Meals
A La Carte Service
Salads & Sandwiches

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

Farmville to Meet William and Mary In First Home Tilt

Basketeers Travel To Radford Feb. 24

College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia, sextet will play Farmville on Thursday, February 22 in Farmville. The game will begin at eight o'clock and will be played in the college gym

S. T. C. has defeated William and Mary for three years in succession. Last year the game was played in Williamsburg with Farmville on the large end of the score.

This is the first home game of the season. In the former games the Blue and White lassies broke even, winning over Panzer College 34 to 12 and losing to Hofstra 23 to 20. Following the William and Mary game the basketeers will journey to Radford where they will meet the East Radford Teachers College on Saturday, February 24.

Notice

Frances Parham has been added to the Freshman sub varsity basketbal squad.

Brown—Do you know who started the jigsaw puzzle?

Smith—No.

Brown—A navy doctor who tried to put a tattoed sailor together after a train accident.

SHANNON'S
Hot Chocolate, Hot Soups, Hot Sandwiches. See your new Library Stationery
PHONE 224 WE DELIVER

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop
"From old to new with any shoes"
Only First Class Material used
All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY MEATS
AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

U. Va. and V. P. I. Vie As Main Attractions

University of Virginia Midwinters really proved to be the main center of attraction for S. T. C. girls last week-end. Those going were Gloria Berry, Doris Bishop, Letha Barnes, Ellen Bowen, Margaret Carr, Katie Crider, Mae Desaix Gay Harris, Lena Hubbard, Kay Horsley, Sally Hutchinson, Dorothy Hahn, Helen Lewis, Eloise Layman, Helen McGuire, Lula Power Nancy Pierpont, Catherine Phillips, Mary Riggan, Mary Catherine Stumis, Clyde Saunders, Kay Spencer, Ellen Scott, Mary Lou Shannon, Bill Stone, Marie Utt, Elizabeth Williams, Margaret Whitfield, Pat Whitlock, Elsie Berrye Yates, and Mary Katherine Zehmer.

The Military Ball at V. P. I. on Friday night ran Virginia a close second with Geraldine Ackiss, Anne Ayers, Nancy Goode Bland, Gay Ward Brown, Anne Lee Gardner, Boonie Stevenson, Jeanne Sears, Jane Lee Sink and Peggy Williams attending.

Betty Mae Ayers, Virginia Alexander, Virginia Barksdale, Jean Bourne, Margaret Bowling, Blanche Carper, Jeannette Ferguson, Irma Graff, Nina Lee Hall, Betsy Jennings, Katherine E. Price, Nancy Naff, Louise Painter and Katherine Wood spent the week-end in Roanoke.

Frances Alvis, Anne Billups, Ollie Graham Gilchrist and Marguerite Russ had fun in Norfolk.

Richmond always has the largest crowd of girls for the week-end. Good place! Nan Duer, Barbara White, Mary Anne Williams, Martha Virginia Smith, Marie Stowers, Sue Howell, Helen McIlwaine, Nancy Moss, Crews Borden, Sally Dunlap, Dorothy Eades, Mary Prince Arnold, Helen Briggs Genevieve Cooke, Carroll Costello, Ethel Carr, Helen Dawson, Betty Fahr, Emma Hutchinson, Johnny Lybrook, Edna Mae McNeal, Virginia Lee Pettis, Mary Jane Ritchie, Dorothy Smith, Lois Shorter, Barbara Tripp, Jane Waller, Harriette Walker, Nancy Wolfe and Jane Engleby were down that way.

Sorority Notes

Gamma Thetas held their pledge banquet at Longwood Saturday night, February 17 at 6:30 o'clock. Place cards were in the form of baby bonnets and a color scheme of blue and white was carried out.

Toasts were given by Helen Jeffries, Eliza Wise, Marjorie Nimmo, Margaret Franklin, May Wertz, and Elizabeth Gunter.

Betty Von Gemmingen, Ducky Davies, Sunshine McCormick, and Mrs. J. P. Hughes were among the alumnae present.

A. S. A.'s Entertained

Alpha Sigma Tau's pledges were guests of honor at a banquet in the tea room Wednesday night, February 14, at 6 o'clock. A color scheme of red and white was carried out in the flowers and Valentine decorations.

Marguerite Costello, Johnny Lybrook, Lucille Richeson, and Doris Chernut gave toasts.

Miss Mary Nichols, faculty member, and Miss Virginia Bedford, adviser, were also present.

Boxes of stationery bearing Greek letters were given the pledges.

Mu Omega Supper

Mary Jane Jolliffe, Helen Reiff, Martha Meade Hardaway, and Bertha McLaughlin entertained the members and pledges of Mu Omega at a buffet supper Sunday night, February 18, in the chapter room.

Red, white and blue decorations were used in honor of Washington's birthday.

A. S. T.'s Entertained

Lucy Turnbull, Gene Hardy Kilmon and Kitty Powell entertained at a buffet supper in the chapter room Sunday night, February 18 at 6 o'clock. Only the regular members and pledges were present.

Pi Kap Party

Louise Painter, Mary Gray Thompson, Jo Ware, Marion Mitchell and Dorothy Bailey entertained in honor of Miss Olive Iler's birthday Wednesday night, February 14 in the Pi Kappa Sigma chapter room. A color scheme of red and white was carried out.

Miss Jane Royall and the members and pledges of Pi Kappa Sigma were present.

Pan Hels

Continued from Page 1

Lenden and Eliza Wise, president of the Pan Hellenic Association, will be in the receiving line.

Mr. French and Mr. Landrum will be at the door, where alumnae tickets will be on sale.

Rollins Is Delegate

Continued from Page 1

This convocation is a part of all the educational meetings to be held in St. Louis this month. Dr. Jarman and Dr. Wynne will attend the meetings also.

A bunch of germs were hitting it up
In the bronchial saloon;
Two bugs in the edge of the larynx
Were jazzing a rag-time tune.
Back in the teeth, in a solo game,
Sat dangerous Ack-Kerchoo;
And watching his pulse was his light of love—
The lady that's known as Flu.

Dr. J. E. Walmsley Speaks at Norfolk

Dr. J. L. Jarman, Dr. J. E. Walmsley, Miss Jane Royall, Mrs. Charles Turnbull and Frances Alvis attended a banquet given by the Norfolk Alumnae chapter at the Town Club in Norfolk Friday night, February 16, at seven o'clock. Dr. Walmsley was the guest speaker.

Officers of the chapter are Miss Ruby Berger, president, Miss Pattie Bounds, vice-president, Miss Roberta Hodghin, secretary, and Miss Alfreda Collings, treasurer.

"Petition to Time"

Continued from Page 1

as their daughter entered upon the cycle of seeing visions.

The production was written by Polly Keller, Frances Rosebro, and Cottie Radspinner.

LOVELY EVENING DRESSES

Truly they are the prettiest we've ever shown—individual and reasonably priced, too!

$9.97 to $16.97

Swing Sandals
Gold and silver $2.97

DOROTHY MAY STORE
First to Show the Newest

LYNN'S MUSIC STORE

New Philco "Midget" Radios $9.95

Emerson Radios $12.95

Farmville, Va.

EACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.

Fri.-Sat. Feb. 23-24
JAMES CAGNEY
JEFFRY LYNNE
'THE FIGHTING 69th'
Color Cartoon. Latest News

Next Mon.-Tues., Feb. 26-27
ALICE FAYE
RICHARD GREENE
"Little Old New York"
John Nesbitt Short News

Next Wed.-Thur., Feb. 28-29
James Stewart
Margaret Sullivan
"The Shop Around the Corner"
Disney Color Cartoon
Minature

FOUNDERS DAY

WHITE SKIRTS, SWEATERS AND DRESSES

ARE NOW ON DISPLAY

SKIRTS ..... $1.98 – $2.98

SWEATERS ..... $1.98 – $2.98

DRESSES $5.98

DAVIDSON'S

Chesterfield presents a Combination you can count on for

Real

MILDNESS

AND BETTER TASTE

The perfect blend of the world's best cigarette tobaccos in Chesterfield gives you the two things you want and look for in a cigarette . . . Real Mildness and Better Taste.

Then, if you add that Chesterfields are far cooler, you know you have a cigarette that really satisfies.

Chesterfield

The Cooler, Better-Tasting, DEFINITELY MILDER Cigarette

Copyright 1940, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

KEEP AMERICA OUT OF WAR!

The Rotunda

JUNIOR, SENIORS! HEED EDITORIAL

File No. Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, FEB. 28, 1940 | NO. 19

Get Yours Here!

The "table in the hall"—where so much Farmville real action occurs. Here we see Jeanne Warwick, Sara Cobb, Winfred Wright, and Helen Lewis doing the sale talk for tonight's production. The girl on the steps is Barbara Drewry.

Freshman Class to Open Club '43 Tonight at 8

Master of Ceremonies Parham Will Present Rhythmic, Colorful Floor Show

The "Rec" will be the center of attraction tonight as the Freshman class presents the grand opening of "Club 43" which opens at 8 o'clock. Amid decorations of blue and silver, "Club 43" will have as master of ceremonies Frances Parham who will present a colorful and rhythmic floorshow. The first feature of the evening's entertainment will be that well-known dance—the tango starring Jane Waller and Jeanne Sears.

Other dance numbers include a tap dance by Jacqueline Hardy, belted by Sarah Massie Goode; and "Those Dancing Feet", presented by Jeanne Sears and her dancers who will be Ella Marsh Pilkinton, Elaine Ross, Anne Elliott, Elizabeth Ralph, Gerry Smith, Emily Lankes, Roberta Grigg, Gwen Edwards, Bootsie Messick, and Amy Read.

Rhythm in music will be the theme of the Ladies of Note who will sing "Indian Summer" and "Moonlight Serenade". A headliner on the program is Carroll Costello singing "Body and Soul" and "Night and Day". Helen Wiley Hardy will play the classical arrangement of "Deep Purple."

Present at this gala opening will be Walter Snitchell who reviews the news of S. T. C. Impersonations will be given by Cynthia James, Betty Younberg, and Helen Ruger.

Highlights of the night's entertainment will be a special number by Ellen Ebel, Eliza McDaniel, Sarah Wade Owen, Helen Williamson, and Shirley Turner accompanied by "Interrogative Idiots", under the direction of Betty Mae Tyler.

After the floor show, music for dancing will be offered, and all patrons of "Club 43" will be invited to dance.

During the floor show Coca-Colas, nabs, potato chips, and candy will be sold. Bobby Tripp, Betty Boldwin, Kitty Parish, Robin Benning, and Jean Hatton will be waiters; and Anne Stone, Grace Wallace, Betty Barnes, Betty Perry, Betty Boutchard, and Betty Sawyer will be waitresses.

Committees for the production include: Chairman, Jeanne Warwick; publicity, Winifred Wright; business, Charlotte Philips and Helen Lewis; music, Mary Lawless; dancing, Jeanne Sears; costumes, Elaine Ross; decorations, Joanne Haynes; staging, Helen Wiley Hardy; lighting, Margaret Mott; and script, Jane Sanford.

The present Senior class gave a cabaret similar to tonight's even as their productions in 1937 and 1938. Freshman class adviser is Miss Olive T. Iler.

STC Girl to Hold State Church Office

Elizabeth Parker Is Secretary Methodist Student Conference

Elizabeth Ann Parker, of Portsmouth, was elected secretary of the Virginia Methodist Student Conference held at Blackstone February 23-25. Delegates from Methodist and State colleges in Virginia were represented at the annual convention, and the other officers elected were from Washington and Lee, Madison College, and Randolph Macon, Ashland.

Elizabeth Ann is president of the Wesley Foundation Methodist College student group, in Farmville. She is vice-president of the Debate Club and represented Farmville at debate tournaments last year and this year at High Point, N. C. and Rock Hill, S. C.

Home Ec. Club Takes In New Members

Home Economics club initiated twenty-seven new members on Wednesday, Feb. 21.

Ruth Fraughbough, Lillian A. Turner, Frances Parham, Ellen Ebel, Frances Kash, Emily Lankes, Kay Spence, Virginia Campfield, Ellen Hudgins, Iris Geyer, Alice [illegible], Lenor Bishop, Emma Sloan, Helen Briggs, Jennette Giovannoni, Sadie Cobb, Virginia Threehouse, Gene Brobeil, Stella Harmon, Elizabeth Bernard, Dorothy Sue Crumley, Dawn Shanklin, Ada Clarke Nuckols, Anthonette [illegible], Katherine Price, and Annie Mae Walker were initiated at this time.

Mrs. Crane Lectures In History Class

Mr. Frank L. Crone, authority on the subject of the Far East, spoke on the Japanese and China situation to Dr. J. E. Walmsley's history 351 class on Wednesday, February 21.

"We Can't Give Aid & Stay Out of War" Student Meet Votes

Pi Gamma Mu and Guests Discuss Question at Forum

After hearing talks on both sides of the question, "Can America Give Aid to Wr aker Countries and Stay Out of War?" and after a [illegible] of open discussion, the approximately 50 members and guests present for the meeting and reception given last night in the Lounge, decided that "America cannot inevitably stay out of war if she gives aid to any country." This meeting was sponsored by Pi Gamma Mu, honor fraternity in history and social science.

Mary Jane Jolliffe and Thelma Courtney upheld the negative side of the question while Doris Chesnut and Carmen Booth supported the affirmative.

"Cash and carry" plan was offered by the affirmative as a means of our giving aid to weaker nations. The affirmatives, moreover, maintained that public opinion, entangling alliances and economic necessity made it impossible for us to refrain from giving aid of any sort.

The negative maintained that it was unneutral for us to give aid to belligerents and it was pointed out that the four steps that lead to war we will have taken when we begin lending money to belligerents. Further, more, they asserted, if the slogan "charity begins at home" bears any weight, we should realize that the money sent to help prolong a war could be used to advantage to help wipe out poverty, disease, and crime among our own people.

Others present joined in the discussion following the presentation of the two sides of the subject.

Invited guests, associate members, and the active members of the chapter were present for the reception of which Ruth Lea Purdum, Marjorie Nimmo and Ollie Graham Gilchrist were in charge.

Fourteen Sophomores Receive Invitations To Scholarship Group

Ten girls have received bids to Alpha Phi Sigma, national honor fraternity for scholarship. To be eligible for membership a girl must be either valedictorian or salutatorian of her high school or make an average of B on two quarters of her college work.

Emma Louise Crowgey, Betty Lee Downing, aNncy oMore, Emma Nobles, Ruby Parsons, Esther Partridge, Dorothy Sprinkle, Edith Vassar, Edna Woodall and Esther Coleman met the requirements and were given bids to the organization.

Notice! "The Circle" will begin Friday night at 8:30 o'clock. Tickets may be reserved in the registrar's office.

Drama Group Will Present "The Circle" Friday Night

Somerset Maugham's Play Broadway Hit; Is 70 Years Old

Recently there has been talk among scientists pro and con about circles—and circles—squaring the circle and what not. We don't know much about all that but we are tremendously interested in a certain circle now. It's "The Circle" by Somerset Maugham, the spring play. For days we've had our curiosity up as we have had to detour via second floor main to go from halls on one side of the auditorium to the other. Why? Play practice. Oh, what a temptation not to risk just one little peek at the goings on!

Our suspense is about at an end though, girls. Friday night we can see the so much talked about "Circle" for ourselves.

Proved popular with many other audiences, as evidenced by its revival on broadway, the play is sure to go over here. In "The Nation" of April 30, 1938, Joseph Wood Krutch speaks of Grace George and Talulah Bankhead in "a brilliant revival" of the play which had aged hardly any in the seventeen years since its first performance.

"Crisp and biting dialogue" are put into the mouths of the characters whom Maugham takes from the storehouse of dramatic figures. Yet Maugham cleverly manages to make the play one distinguished from the ordinary run of comedies written in this same smart, sophisticated vein.

As for the plot—well, just to tantalize you—all sorts of complications are brought about as a young wife refuses to be swayed from her plans to leave her husband by the warnings of an old couple who cannot understand how either cared enough for the other to have made the sacrifices they did in the long past day of their elopment.

And the outcome? Well—see for yourself—Friday night in the large auditorium—when S. T. C. and Hampden-Sydney dramatists present "The Circle".

Miss Mix Expected Here Next Week

Miss Grace E. Mix, for seventeen years kindergarten supervisor in the training school and active in many phases of college activity, who resigned last summer to retire in New York City, is expected to arrive Monday, March 4, for a several weeks visit in Farmville.

This winter Miss Mix has spent in doing welfare work among little children and in attending study classes and even doing some writing along child psychology lines.

Friends of Miss Mix in Farmville and in the college are anticipating her visit.

Dr. J. E. Walmsley, professor of advanced history and the girls who are taking the senior class in Southern history sit "around the table" in a room of the new library "to think it all over."

Jean Hatton and Bob Engle who carry the romantic roles in Friday night's play are snapped in a scene during a rehearsal last week.

Sophomores Win In Sing Contest

Senior Class Named Honorable Mention

Sophomore class placed first in the "Sing", regular Saturday night playlets contests between the classes, it was announced Saturday night, February 24. The Sophomore's skit was entitled "A Court Scene".

To the Seniors went honorable mention for their interpretation of "Founder's Day—1960."

The prize of $2.50 was presented the Sophomores by Helen Wentz, chairman of the Sing committee.

Juniors presented "The Highwayman" in pantomime and the Freshman staged a mock wedding as their part in the Sing contest.

Judges for the contest were Miss Mary Nichols, Mis Pauline Campbell, and Miss Hallie K. Laing.

The contest is an annual event sponsored by the Sing committee. The present Senior class won last year.

Former Resident of China Gives Talk

Mrs. F. R. Crawford, who was resident of China from 1916 to 1932, spoke to Miss Frances Waters' Geography 233 class and other Geography students Monday [illegible] February 26, on China, her people and customs.

Mrs. Crawford related some of her personal experiences in China and told of the customs and beliefs of the different classes.

Mrs. Crawford and her husband were attached to a hospital about 60 miles west of Shanghai and at present she has three sisters and a brother there through whom she keeps in touch with present happenings.

Home Ec. Department Installs New Units

[illegible] have been installed in the Home Economics [illegible] located on first floor Student Hall Dorm and includes a sink, cabinet, mail refrigerator and [illegible] kitchen is now equipped to accommodate twenty-[illegible] at one time for work [illegible] at each unit.

Each [illegible] unit is located [illegible] the building. The [illegible] and [illegible] have also a [illegible] refrigerator. The purpose of this unit is to acquaint the student with conditions with which they may have to deal in the profession of home economics [illegible].

McGinnis, Pancake Take Lead Roles; Lyceum Number

S. T. C. auditorium will turn "Playhouse" Friday night, March 1, at 8:30 o'clock when "The Circle" by W. Somerset Maugham, prominent modern playright, will be presented by members of the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs as a lyceum number.

Appearing on the list of characters are names familiar to S. T. C. audiences because of previous appearance here.

Characters

Jane McGinnis, who charmed the audience in the fall play, "Dear Brutus", is cast in "The Circle" as Lady Kitty, divorced wife of Clive Champion-Cheney, played by Lex Allison. Jean Hatton is Elizabeth, discontented young wife of Arnold, played by Keith Eubank. Elizabeth's lover, with whom she is about to elope, is Teddy Luton, played by Bob Engle. Anna, Elizabeth's friend is played by Peggy Bellus. Johnny Pancake is Lord Porteus and the parts of the maid and the butler are played by Alice Leigh Barham and Alec Jones, respectively.

Department Heads

The play is being directed by Miss Leola Wheeler, whose productions have gained state-wide recognition, assisted by the various committees whose heads are: staging, Dell Warren and Lillian Gorman; business, Mary Walker Mitchell and Jane Engleby; costuming, Anna Maxey and Gene Hardy Kilmon; make-up, Myra Smith and Blair Goode; properties, Sudie Dunton and Harriet Haskins; and lighting, Helen Jeffries and Dot Johnson.

Hampden-Sydney and Farmville dramatic groups give two plays a year jointly. Last fall they presented James Barrie's "Dear Brutus".

Primary Frat Initiates Sixteen

Sixteen majors of primary education were initiated into the local group of the Association for Childhood Education, a national organization recognizing potential leadership of children, Tuesday night, February 20.

Rachel Carr, Jean Upshur, Jean Martin, Sarah Elizabeth Whitehead, Mary Alice Marshall, Dorothy Menefee, Mabel Garland, Ned Altemare, Martha Ann Baldwin, Martha Crawley, Evelyn Krenning, Ruby Mae Parsons, Anne Benton, Gertrude Hale, Bonnie Stevenson, and Sarah Boothe were the initiates.

A. C. E. meets once monthly, its programs centering around subjects of interest to primary teachers. It also sponsors programs in which the training school children participate.

Order Commencement Invitations Now

Jane Bryant, president of the Senior class, states that she is sending off another order for graduation invitations tonight. Orders [illegible] and anyone wants to order more, please see her immediately.

The [illegible] by a later change to [illegible] not to wait, if possible, because of the great rush in engraving at that time.

[illegible] [illegible] about $1.00 per dozen.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Published weekly by students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia, nine months a year.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Post Office at Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 2, 1879.

Subscription: $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant ..... Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barnham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Mildred Cake, Ann Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Sara Dunford, Mary Sue Edmondson, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Agnes Pickral, and Jamelle Shofer.

Jean Watts, Mary Louise Cunningham, Caroline Ford, Mariam Jester, Shirley McCalley, Nancy Naff, Sarah Cline, Gerry Ackiss, Bridget Gentile, Elizabeth Rapp, Evelyn Thorington, Dot Sprinkle, Amy Read.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants- Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Jeanette Ferguson, Caralie Nelson.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd Jean Upshur, and Thelma Courtney.
Photographer ..... Virginia Worley

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1940

Watch Your Points!— It's a Matter of Principle

Farmville State Teachers College boasts of being a democratic institution. We claim to give everyone an equal chance to rise and show her talents and develop and prove them.

Thus it is that our Student Standards group has set forth and is endeavoring to enforce what is commonly known to us as our "point system". According to this basis, membership and office in any extra-curricula activity entitles a certain number of points. The system requires, moreover, that no one individual hold more than one important office, limits by its system of points the number of organizations, offices, etc., during one given year.

Specifically the point system states that any individual may be the acting head or chairman of but one counting organization, may belong to but three honor fraternities and is one her honor to see that her points do not exceed the amount of offices to which she is entitled. Scholasticism plays its part in that students maintaining an A average on all their work are not immediately limited; students making an average of B may carry not more than 16 points; and those with a C average not more than 12 points. Six points is the limit for those making lower than C average.

Granted that there are always some few individuals who can do the job best, it should not be overlooked that is is sometimes had to be only a leader. Good fellowship is just as important. Irregardless of the old slogan, "If you want a job done well, give it to the busy person," it is not to be overlooked that the very busy person cannot do too many things well. And even the lax person may do the job well if just given the chance.

The above is clearly and logically stated and not to be misunderstood and misinterpreted. To the incoming Juniors and Seniors who are to lead these activities and duties increasing soon the question that before running for or accepting an office you think of your time and interest to the point of giving up something else in order to do the job well—to do your one particular job and leave something for someone else. It is to be suggested that there is little glory in a job poorly done if they mean that you have deprived another of developing herself as yours.

Farmville's point system a matter of pride and principle.

Echoes from an Empty Space

"O wo'd some power the gift to gie us
To see ourselves as ithers see us!"

Meaning in particular Nancy Wolf's face when she put on that newly acquired Phi Gam frat pin. Congrats Nancy! We ought to have more Pan Hels, eh?

Orchids to Ann Ayers. Liggie Ellett and Nell Hall. Now, how 'bout that?

Honors at the dance go to Les Andrews, Chi Phi Hoy Wolcott and Izzie's Dad for the big rushes . . . to Eleanor Hutchison and Freshman Herald for the best snaking . . . Dot Perkins, Allene Overbey, Dot Lawrence and Moss for the gorgeous gown creations.

Hats off to the Sophs for winning the Sing contest—for "get up and go" they can't be beat except by their sister class, the Seniors, who showed us, too.

Izzie in somebody else's shoes (how does it feel Izzie?) . . . The Madame with the perfect motherly expression.

Here are some questions even we can find answers to . . . Who broke the lock of the swimming pool door? . . . Why was the double wedding postponed? (You might get something out of Edna Harris or alumna Milo) . . . Is Boo Taylor still untied? . . . Who was the Freshman who thought Junior Building was a girl's date? . . . Why did Imogene return certain articles of jewelry to Tech?

Any information may be addressed to The Rotunda, care this column.

Things we saw while snoopin' about: Bobby Cowder giving Alice Cogburn the bear hug while Painter looked on with a smile . . . Margaret James taking care of Eddie while Kent went in for drama in the form of Senior Sing. . . . Tynes out for the Hardy child Sunday afternoon . . . Nancy Naff happily reunited with Billy Austin . . . Boo and Buddy in the same fix (next stop—Ring Figure).

Letter to the Editor: There ought to be a law against . . . Bill Covington and his take-me-for-granted attitude . . . Spoopin' Susies, sightseeing over second floor Rotunda . . . Jitterbugs and drums off beat . . . People who break on no-breaks . . . Gals who fall for the Robert Taylor line.

Did you hear about Frances Hoback's mix up over the wrong house last week-end? Neither did we but that ain't sayin' we wouldn't like to.

From all reports V. M. I. Midwinters were loads of fun and just as rushy as our Pan Hels.

And speaking of V. M. I. . . . did you see that Company pin that Ed Grainger "shoved" into the hands of Betty Fahr? Whew! Was she surprised!

Flash—Confucius has been usurped: "Mike" say: "Lloyd can't be pleased. Like all women—she know not what she want."

Now, how 'bout that thirteen year old vocalist? Well, all right!

Hattie—were you trying to get that young man in the orchestra for the Syncopators or just trying to get him?

"If Winter comes, can Spring be far behind?"

"If a dance comes can we be far behind?" So here's to more and more dances 'n' more snoopin'!

Collegiate Comment

Bargain Day

Then there was the Scotchman who married the half-witted girl because she was 50 per cent off. —Stolen.

Tragedy

The little cooky was sad because her boy friend had been a wafer so long.—The Goldenrod.

Derivation of a Petunia

A petunia is a kind of begonia,
Begonia is a kind of sausage,
Sausage and battery is crime,
Monkeys crime trees,
Trees a crowd,
Roosters crowd in the morning
and make a big noise,
Noise is on your face between your eyes.
Eyes is opposite of nays,
Horses nay,
Horses have little colts,
When you have a colt you can go to bed and in the morning you wake up and have doublepneumonia. Adapted.

Riddle

What does the "Little Man Who Wasn't There" eat for breakfast?
Answer: Ghost Toasties!— Adapted.

Statistics

If all the bottles of Coca-Cola consumed in one year by the American people were stacked beside the Empire State building, lots of people would cut their feet. — Lifted.

Scotchman's Telegram

Bruises hurt erased afford analysis hurt too infectious dead stop Sandy.

Paging Barnum

"This isn't a dwarf. He's over five feet in height."

"That's the wonderful thing about him. He's the tallest dwarf in the world."

University of Kentucky frosh are classified according to colleges by the color of the buttons on their caps.

A Drew University student has traveled in 30 states (12,000 miles) "by the thumb".

Open Forum

Dear Editor,

When spring rolls around everyone begins thinking of how much is needed around the campus, so I want to put in my bit, too.

One of the things needed here is a station wagon. I'm not joking about it—it would be a great help and would save much expense to the school.

Basketball teams could travel short distances easily in it as could debaters go practically any place they wanted. But the big problem around the school is transportation for May Day. What a joy a station wagon would be during those hectic weeks of preparation for the big event, and for numerous other school purposes.

True—it is expensive, but this is just a suggestion for when the school decides to buy a new car—why not a station wagon then, instead?

As usual—A Senior

Dear Editor,

When the "Year's at the spring, the day's at the morn". Everywhere are young, green, growing things. Don't we want our campus to put on its enchanting spring gown, too? We know beyond the shadow of a doubt that our school is the loveliest spot for miles around with its expanse of rich green lawns setting off the lacy beauty of white columns and woodwork all around. But the grass can't grow to be beautiful if hundreds of feet go tripping over it all day long now when it is trying to lift its head to the air and sunlight.

Not one of us would hurt a baby's chubby, rosy, soft fingers by stepping on them if we could help it—but we're hurting soft, tender baby grass, crushing it to death, when we rush heedlessly across it. Please let's let our campus wax to its full beauty this year by keeping to the walks. On the springy days that are coming soon we'll all want to be out as much as we can; so the tiny bit longer it will take to go by the walks will be welcome as birdsong! Let's all try it from now on—shall we?

"The Rambler Jr."

Did You Know?

Lehigh University's library has received a gift of 1,077 books, many of which are volumes dating back to the 16th century.

Dartmouth College registers all automobiles owned by students.

Goucher College has a "Chubby Club" and its members have as their chief purpose the loss of 10 pounds in weight each week.

University of Pittsburgh and the city of Pittsburgh are cooperating on a plan to train student in government service.

For a Louisiana tState University stage production, one student wrote 30 songs in 27 days.

Hofstra College's feminine basketball team recently blanked the Long Island University's co-ed cage squad, 45 to 0.

Dancing lessons were a regular part of the University of Virginia curriculum as early at 1830.

Millsaps College has the largest vertebra ever found. Its from a whale ,and weighs a hundred pounds.

During the fall quarter, Colorado State College of Education students spent 2,500 hours playing ping pong.

Cooper Union has a collection of 4,000 buttons, some of which are four centuries old.

The University of Cincinnati in one year has 38,000 columns of news printed about it in the nation's newspapers.

The University of Rochester men's glee club will sing at the White House on Easter Monday.

University of Georgia authorities have limited to $2,500 the price that car, be paid for an orchestra for a student dance.

Racket-buster Thomas E. Dewey majored in music while a University of Michigan student.

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

Far East

We can not yet figure out why the Allies have sent armed troops which includes some half million men into Syria, Palestine, and Transyordonia. Apparently, there are many possible reasons and almost all of these reasons center around oil.

Germany gets a great deal of oil from Rumania. She has a yearly contract with her. This year she has been able to get less than half of what she contracted for. Germany has been pretty sassy about the whole affair and her demands on the little agricultural country have become increasingly acute. It could be that the Allies have sent the troops to ward off a possible German invasion or else to cut off the entire Rumanian supply to the Reich and make more effective the Allies' blockade.

From Russia comes the feat that the troops have been sent to attack the Soviet's oil wells, storage tanks, and industries which would make it impossible for Russia to send Germany the materials she must have for the war. Even Mr. Hitler, who swears Germany will "fight to the end", might see a sudden "end" for the country if such a thing should occur.

Another possible solution may be that the troops have been sent as a sympathetic gesture towards Finland, hoping to divide Russia's attention between the two points and thus lift some of the pressure from Finland who is fast growing weaker from her heavy load.

In Turkey, Rumania and in all the Balkan states the army stands at attention. We can not think they have taken such an attitude for the fun of it. Many believe that spring will see the fury of war spread into a third section of Europe.

International Law

The German ship, Altmark, which was forced into a Norwegian part (according to German report) last week and raided by the British has been the topic of much discussion. The British say the ship was armed and that the attack was made outside the 3-mile safety zone. If this report is true, according to "international law," England had a right to attack and to free the 299 captured Britains on the ship.

When the ship took refuge in a neutral port of Norway, England immediately accused the little country of breaking her neutrality agreement. If the German boat was forced into port which England says it wasn't and Germany swears it was, Norway "according to international law" had the right to let the ship stay in port at least twenty-four hours.

There is, realistically speaking, no such thing as international law, because there's no way to enforce it. No law works unless it carries with its some fear of consequence.

Perhaps the nearest thing to "effective" international law has been the Kellogg law which says that we can fight like everything, but unless we declare we're at war, we aren't really fighting. It's really a legal lie which all nations are glad to uphold, because it makes dishonest practices legal. For instance: aiding Finland, selling scrap iron to Japan and lending money to China. In the United States we call the result a "business pick-up."

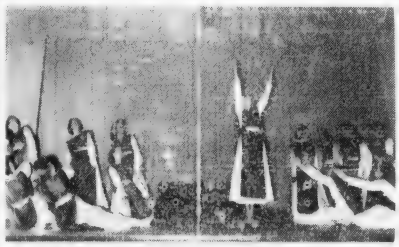
Orchesis Program Features Many Intricate Studies; Delights Spectators

"Nightmare" Gets Unusual Applause From Audience

With the dimming of the house lights before an expectant and capacity-filled audience in the large auditorium, Orchesis, artist dance group at Farmville, together with the classes in modern dance, presented its annual public dance program Friday night, February 23.

The group featured intricate rounds, and dimensional studies giving variations of steps and rhythms.

The popular "Gossip" and "War Suppressed" themes were given in improvised versions for the delighted spectators.



"Nightmare" which was brought to a surprising climax, acclaimed perhaps the most applause.

The interpretations of "The Way of the Cross" was watched in silent awe as the dancers interpreted in seven different scenes. The Agony in the Garden, Condemnation, The Burden, Tearing and Ripping of Garments, Consolation, Descension, and Ascension, and Hallelujah were portrayed.

Those taking part in the dance presentation were Essie Millner, Helen McIlwaine, Mary Elizabeth Petticrew, Nancy Pierpont, Martha McCorkle, Patsy Fletcher, Madge McFall, Peggy Allen, Alice Cogburn, Betty Peerman, Evelyn Timberlake, Mickey Beck, Jane Lee Hutcheson, Ethel Carr, Polly Hughes, Nancy Dupuy, Harriette Walker, Ann Bradshaw, Geraldine Smith, Dorothy Wright, Lula Windham, Louisa Sanford, Jeanne Sears, Anne Covington, Imogene Claytor, Betty White, Hallie Hillsman, Alpha Booth, and Rosalie Coberley.

May Wertz and Vivian Davis were accompanists. Some of the musical arrangements were original. Helen Jeffries was in charge of the lighting effects.

Orchesis and modern dance classes are under the direction of Mrs. Louise Fitzpatrick, instructor in dance and physical education.

Above is a scene from "The Way of the "ross" depicted by Orchesis in Friday night's program.

Three Delegates Leave for Forensic Tourney in N. C.

Marie Allen of Whitegate, Frances Keck of Danville, and Elizabeth Ann Parker of Portsmouth left this afternoon, Wednesday, February 28, for the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament at Lenoir-Rhyne College, Hickory, North Carolina.

Marie and Frances will enter the tournament as debaters on both sides of the national Pi Kappa Delta debate question.

Elizabeth Ann will enter the oratorical contest. She has chosen for her topic "The Crisis of Democracy".

After dinner talks, poetry reading, extempts, impromptus and other phases of forensic activities will be open to the participants.

Marie and Frances defeated Westhampton College of Richmond on the Westhampton campus Wednesday, February 21. They upheld the negative side of the national question of Pi Kappa Delta.

Dr. Meta Glass Speaks As Guest of A.A.U.W.

Dr. Meta Glass, president of Sweet Briar College, was the guest of the local chapter of the American Association of University Women at a luncheon in the college Tea Room on Saturday, February 24. As a member of the board of directors of the Association, Dr. Glass addressed the meeting on "The Board—A Portrait."

Miss Willie London introduced the speaker while Miss Mary Clay Hiner, president of the Farmville branch, presided.

Enter your pictures in the Collegiate Digest Salon Edition competition now.

Recent Florida Visitor Relates Her Impressions of "Sunny Southland"

By Ernestine Meacham

Dorothy stepped out of a hurricane into the merry old land of Oz, all starry with flowers and rainbowish colors. Alice stepped out of a dry world of Everyday into Wonderland, tantalizing and new with exciting extraordinaries at every crook in the way; and your humble reporter jumped out of winter right into spring, not long ago. Here's how it happened. I went to sleep on the Pullman somewhere in snowy, blowy North Carolina—and woke up in sunny, palmy Florida, a sensation I'll never forget!

The day after my arrival in Punta Gorda we drove over to Sarasota, the lovely, town where Ringling Brothers Circus has its winter quarters in the suburb. The place is a large tract of land, beautifully kept, with woods and wide, clear spaces, where most of the animals (especially the monkeys) were very much at home. I didn't see any polar bears, but if there were any, I bet they were pretty homesick for their icy habitats! On the way back to Punta Gorda we stopped in Venice, a typically movie-ish Florida town, with its long, low white buildings and gaily striped awnings and bright-colored chairs under shady trees. Here I had my first view of the blue, softly tossing Gulf of Mexico from a broad white stretch of sandy beach. The water, though the day was cool enough for light wraps, lapped over our fingers warm and beckoning.

Another day we drove through miles and miles of countryside which struck me as being desolately bare of life, except for the few cattle browsing on the low green palmettos among the tall, scattered pines. When we neared St. Petersburg (familiarly called "St. Pete") however, we passed parts of the country that fitted in perfectly with my dream of Florida. Rich, luxuriant growths of green tropical trees and plants lined the road so thickly it resembled the jungles, and I kept halfway expecting a lion or an elephant to burst through the foliage. When we came to the Davis Causeway, the longest stretch of filled-in country in these parts, the beauty took my breath. A long, straight roadway spaning the bluest-blue water eyes ever fell on. Now and then a white sail drifted lazily by, or a slender, wide-winged bird, gleaming white in the sunlight, soared upward from a tiny green island with tall, slim, tufted palms leaning gracefully to their reflection in the silvery water.

That night we stayed with friends right smack in the middle of a fine, fragrant orange grove, in an adorable little cottage. At bedtime we went out and picked the big, juicy fruit for breakfast. During the night the temperature nosedived so low that the men, alarmed for the safety of the crop, went out and lighted the smudge-pots along the edges of the grove where the wind was blowing. This excitement over, we found next morning that a coconut had dropped from the tall palm three onto the top of the car, tearing a small place in the material!

The most amazing thing I saw was a banyan tree with a huge, knarled old trunk, it spreads upward and outward into broad, thickly foliaged branches, so numerous and heavy that they are quite close to the ground. But—here's the strange thing—some of these branches have turned down and grown back into the ground, forming the roots! There is indeed so much of this one old, old tree that it makes a miniature forest all by itself!

"Florida is so full of a number of things! I'm sure it would surprise, instruct, and entrance a wouldful of kings—I'm still dreaming of its wonders, as I'm afraid some of my teachers well know!"

Seniors Portray Hilarious Founder's Day Program With Setting in 1960

The Seniors of '40 living up to their reputation for putting things over, took second place Saturday night, February 24, in the Sing contest, the Sophomore class winning first place.

The stage was set in the Rotunda—reunion for the class of '40, twenty years hence. Y. W. C. A. girls—all except one who showed signs of restlessness because her mother hadn't come—waited patiently to greet the alumnae. The exaggerated costumes made for riot and except for a decided increase in age and in some instances, pounds, the old gals looked just the same. Ah! What a difference a day makes, but "you know with a large family" rattle, rattle, rattle—on and on their complaints over such endless responsibilities taken on since graduation, flowed forth.

In scene two home cares and responsibilities momentarily left behind ye old gang gathered for the class meeting. What a lot of professions these gals have taken up! There's Dr. Williamson and Lunatic Wice and S. A. E. housemother Alvis and tearoom minded Eades and home-office assistant Nimmo whom the college just couldn't do without. And the madame—a homemaker with a husband and six young 'uns. Ah me, this class of '40! With numerous suggestions as to how the class would spend the small sum of money left from the treasury in 1940 and with additional contributions, they decided to spend it for light fuses. Singing an old T. C. the matured dames really reminder of that last year at S dropped their reserve and picked up again that fun loving spirit of '40.

Can anyone say it wasn't great funny, in short a scream!

Six Delegates Present at State Methodist Meet

Blackstone College Is Host; Sixteen Colleges Attend

"Yes, it was very inspirational, all of it." Those were the words of Evelyn Burford, one of the six delegates from Farmville State Teachers College, in describing the Virginia Methodist Student Conference held at Blackstone College on February 23-25. The other delegates attending were Elizabeth Ann Parker who was elected secretary, Charlotte Gresham, Rachel and Elva Kibler, and Emma Nubbins. There were approximately 100 delegates present and sixteen colleges represented including, of course, the Methodist colleges and other state schools.

Asked for some idea of what the conference is all about, Evelyn immediately began describing the events of the two days that she was present. Besides an informal tea there were various meetings and addresses which they attended. The theme was "Practical Religion in Action on the Campus." The purpose, as we can see from this, of such a conference is to bring together young people from various schools in order that they may discuss campus problems and situations which they as representatives find in their particular schools. "It makes us feel that we have a common purpose," she explained. This feeling of unity and of a singleness of purpose among young people is greatly needed in the religious endeavors of this modern age.

Everyone present took a class during the conference. Evelyn explained that her class was under the instruction of Reverend Holt of the University of Virginia, and the subject that she studied was "Personal Religion". These individual studies are of tremendous importance during these conferences and mean much to the delegates taking part in them.

As the interview was nearing a close, Evelyn explained that such a conference is a new thing, having its beginning about two years ago. Since then it has been held annually at Blackstone College, but next year it will meet at Radford. The conference is apparently inspiring as well as valuable, and the delegates look forward to the next annual meeting.

University Glee Club To Broadcast in N. Y.

(By A. C. P.)

Fifty of the University of Virginia's most stalwart bassos, baritones, and tenors will travel to New York on March 1 when Virginia's Glee Club sings over a CBS network, 3:15 to 3:30. The Virginian's program will cover almost four hundred years of music in fifteen minutes, from Palestrina to Sibelius.

The Glee Club was founded 56 years ago. Probably its most illustrious alumnus is John Powell, noted contemporary composer whose "Set of Three" was performed recently by the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra.

Sororities Entertain At Intermision Parties

Sorority girls and their dates were entertained Saturday night February 24, in the various chapter rooms with intermission parties. Sorority rooms were decorated with flower arrangements and refreshments consisted of punch sandwiches and sweets.

Cactus Inn Tearoom

Waffles, Syrup, Hash 25c
Sat., Sun. and Wed. nights
SPECIAL PLATE LUNCHEONS
TO ORDER ANY TIME
SANDWICHES SALADS
DESSERTS

Minister Says Patriotism Is Sham for Business

DR. JAMES WORKMAN

Dr. Workman Leads Campus Youth Crusade Here

"Patriotism at time of war is just a sham for business men to fill their pocketbooks," the Rev. Dr. James Workman emphasized in his address at a supper meeting which approximately 70 students attended at the Methodist church Tuesday evening, February 27. Dr. Workman was on the campus yesterday leading a youth crusade sponsored by the Wesley Foundation, Methodist Student Group.

Dr. Workman stated that his experience as a lieutenant during the last war proved to him that "you can't be a Christian and go to war, too." He implied that war made for nothing but the breaking down of human brotherhood.

"Under no circumstances could I go to war again. If I did it would mean my giving up Christ, unless it was proved to me that in His teachings Christ justified the killing of one's fellow man, even in self defense", the speaker said in closing his talk.

An open discussion of the present crisis from the Christian standpoint followed.

Speaks in Chapel

Dr. Workman, who is former president of Henderson College in Arkansas, has had wide experience with campus life and student problems. He spoke to the Farmville student body in chapel Tuesday morning, February 27 on the topic "What My Wife Shall Do with Her Money?"

"Has Jesus' teaching of love anything to do with our personal finances?" he asked. "Some people believe that we can earn and spend our money how we can and as we want to regardless of what Jesus taught. We need more instruction in what to do with our pennies, dimes and dollars."

"One of the problems confronting youth today is jobs," Dr. Workman stated. He discussed the problem of debt, especialy in respect to college students.

"Lay not up for yourselves treasures on earth but in heaven where moth and rust do not corrupt nor thieves break through and steal", concluded the speaker.

Leads Y. W. Meeting

At the Y. W. Association meeting on Tuesday afternoon Dr. Workman spoke on "Vocational Guidance". An informal discussion followed his talk.

Dr. Workman came to the campus from the University of Virginia and from here he went today to Randolph-Macon, Ashland, Virginia.

Student Survey Reveals Statistics

Keeping Out of War Is Greatest Problem

A check up on what the student of the nation believe to be the "most important problem facing the United States today" as revealed by recent statistics from the Student opinion surveys, gives reports which "The Rotunda" feels to be worthy of publicity.

From every section, New England to the deep South, Middle Atlantic to the Far West, the answer of the greatest number was the same: how to stay out of war. Many other problems were mentioned, as follows:

Keeping the U. S. out of war 43 per cent; Solving unemployment 17 per cent; Balancing the budget 7 per cent; Solving labor problems 3 per cent; Recovery of business 3 per cent; Threats to democracy 2 per cent; Inequality of incomes 1 per cent; Solving youth problems 1 per cent; The 1940 elections 1 per cent; Relief 1 per cent; Others and no opinion 21 per cent.

In this instances, as has been the case in many Surveys, college people show practically the same sentiments that other studies of the general electorate have pointed out. The question of war and finding employment for the jobless are paramount in the minds of most Americans, young and old. Business recovery, however, seems to be more important to the average voter, who placed that third in the latest sampling of opinion, while the collegians gave third place to the budget.

It is significant that the college student has consistently demonstrated parallel feelings regarding Europe's troubles, for the Surveys, using a scientific cross section that represents the total U. S. enrollment, has found:

1. In October most students said we should not send troops to help the allies, even if they were in danger of losing to Germany.

2. At the same time, 58 per cent opposed change of the neutrality law, mainly because they believed to do so might involve us.

3. In December 68 per cent believed we could stay out of the war.

Sympathy for Finland, however, seems to be strong enough for students to sanction loans of American cash to that country, as the Surveys indicated in January. Subsequent shifts in these sentiments future Surveys will show.

Gracie Allen Settles Third Term Question

Collegiate Broadcast Service

The third term question is settled. Gracie Allen will run for it. Despite that brown a new spring hat in the bill ring. Contrary to popular impression, Gracie will serve her third term in the White House, not in the kindergarten.

Gracie's idea is to serve a third term first, and then when she gets around to her ninth year in the White House, she'll be running for her first term, and there's no tradition about that.

Miss Allen was nominated by her own political party, the Surprise Party's platform is the essence of simplicity: a jack-in-the-box in every pot, and two exploding cigars in the garage.

INTRODUCING Wacky Stateside Impersonating Idiots
Fairies of Note Music and many other celebrities
AT GRAND OPENING
OF
CLUB '13
TONIGHT
IN REC
Sponsored by Freshman Class
Cover Charge 10c Floor Show Starts 9:00 at Rec

Plans Being Made For Spring Concert To Be March 29

Three College Groups Will Sing "The Holy City"

Mr. J. E. Toms, of the University of North Carolina who will sing the tenor arias, and Mr. J. Foster Barnes of Duke University and Mr. Alfred H. Strick, of Farmville who will co-direct "The Holy City" are the directors of music at the three schools which will participate in the Spring Concert of the music department in the Farmville State Teachers College auditorium on Friday, March 29.

Featured also on the program as soloist will be Dr. Luther Richmond, head of school music in Virginia, baritone; Miss Irene Leake, Farmville, lyric soprano, and Miss Elsie Carter, Farmville, contralto.

Mr. Toms, a graduate of music from both Oberlin College and the University of Michigan, taught in Iowa and Texas before taking his present position at the University of North Carolina four years ago. In addition to his position at Chapel Hill as director of glee clubs and operettas and teacher of voice, Mr. Toms is noted throughout the Carolinas for his solos in various musical oratorios of statewide interest.

Dr. Luther, Miss Leake and Miss Carter, the other soloists, are not new to Farmville audiences.

Messrs. Barnes and Strick who will co-direct "The Holy City", which the three college groups and the soloists will sing, are known for the musical direction and publicity they give their respective schools by the music groups to whom they give training.

S. T. C. choir and choral groups are rehearsing several times weekly in preparation for the presentation of "The Holy City".

The two university glee clubs will arrive about noon on March 29, will be entertained at lunch after which there will be a mass rehearsal. A reception will be held in the Student Lounge in late afternoon. Following the night's presentation will be a dance. Tickets for the concert and dance may be arranged for through members of the College Choir.

Calendar of Events Till Holidays

Wednesday, Feb. 28—Freshman Production
Thursday, Feb. 29 Telegraphic Swimming Meet
Friday, March 1—Dramatic Club play
Friday, March 8—Dr. Wedel speaks in chapel
Farmville-Madison basketball game
Saturday, March 9—Founder's Day
Tuesday, March 12—Exams begin
Saturday, March 16—New Quarter
Thursday, March 21—Easter Holidays

Brown University will this year begin publication of "Mathematical Reviews", an international journal on mathematics.

Concert Directors

Above: Mr. J. E. Toms, left, director of the University of North Carolina Glee Club, who will sing the tenor arias in "The Holy City"; Mr. J. Foster Barnes, director of the Duke University Glee Club (Below left) Mr. Alfred A. Strick, director of Music at Farmville State Teachers College. He and Mr. Barnes will co-direct for the Spring Concert on March 29.

Arts and Crafts Class Displays Attractive Array of Materials

Have you seen those atractive wooden trays with the outstanding monograms, or the felt and metal designs on shapley wooden plaques? It is none other than the work of the Arts and Crafts class for home economics girls taught by Miss Virginia Bedford.

Nor is that all this class is doing. In the art department one might see sheets of paper smeared in bright colors. Closer inspection reveals them as finger tip designs. These are to be used for book backs and port-folios. The smearing of paste and paints gives the desired effect.

Bound books for recipes are next in line to be made. Clay modeling in the form of vases and bowls is already on display. Block printing on cloth is another art department attraction.

In the crayon composition class Miss Martha Coulling has named Caroline Eason, Marjorie Holt, Sally Hutchinson, Virginia Jones, Elizabeth McCoy, and Florence Thierry as outstanding.

The pottery class has been working on authetnic Indian designs. Lillian Germon, Elizabeth Ann Parker, Marjorie Rice, and Anne Turner have done superior work in this field, Miss Coulling says.

Fact Rack Of Radiodom

22,800 families. CBS research reveals, listen to their radios every day. With the average listening time 5.2 hours per day, according to Columbia, there are 118,560,000 hours of family listening every day. Since the average number of radio listeners in any family is 3.9, we find there are 461,384,000 man - woman - child hours of radio listening in the United States every day.

Queens College has added 69 new courses for the second half of the present school year.

Choral Group Has Two Programs At Lynchburg

Richards, Barksdale Notes Are Student Directors

College choir, Senior and Junior A'Cappella and the Senior and Intermediate Quartettes presented two programs in Lynchburg on February 25.

Morning service was at the Methodist Church. The Senior A'Cappella choir sang "Praise Ye the Father," by the Senior Quartette consisting of Carroll Costello, Laura Nell Crawley, Jane Hardy and Jean Moyer, and directed by Virginia Richards; "Hear My Prayer" by Intermediate Quartette consisting of Margaret Anne Foreman, Betsy Jennings Bethal, Caroline and Pearl Crocker and directed by Virginia Barksdale; "Tantum Ergo" by the Junior A'Cappella; "Jehovah, I Will Praise Thee" by the Junior and Senior A'Cappellas, which were broadcast in the evening performance.

Selections other than those above for the evening program given at the Court Street Methodist church were "God of All Nature" and "Thine Is the Kingdom" by the College Choir consisting of about sixty members and directed by Mr. Alfred H. Strick and "I Heard the Voice of Jesus" by the Senior Quartette.

The Senior A'Cappella includes Elyse Berry Yates, director; Virginia Richards, Irene Aldriman, Carroll Costello, Margaret Anne Foreman, Antoinette Dew, Virginia Barksdale, Mary M. Prosise, Carol Averitt, Laura Nell Crawley, Mildred Harry, Jean Moyer, Ruth Winstead, Jane Hardy, Susie Pearl Crocker and Alfreda tSrick.

The Junior A'Cappella includes Virginia Richards, director; Mildred Morris, Evelyn Pankey, Thelma Hunt, Mary Mauney, Anne Lee Gardner, Evelyn Krenning, Betsy Jennings, Ashley Bell Hennah, Katherine Burge, Baylis Kunz, Mabel Garland, Doris Smith, Anne Brooks, Terry Buyers, Louisa Sanford, Poly Hughes and Mary Haymes.

Solo selections rendered for both services were "Panis Angelicus" by Peggy Bellus; "The Blind Ploughman" and "I Walked Today" by Edwin Cralle.

Members of the A'Cappella choirs and quartettes were entertained at dinner in the homes of various members of the Memorial Methodist church. Farmville alumnae served supper at the Court Street Church for the entire college choir.

A highbrow is one who pretends to know whether the dancer is interpreting a moonbeam, or a cow annoyed by hornets.

The trouble with many a man who knows nothing is that he is the last to find it out.

If you want to remember things tie a string around your finger. If you want to forget things, tie a rope around your neck.

Government Class Observes Legislature In Richmond, Feb 27

Dr. James Elliott Walmsley's class in state government left Tuesday, February 27 at 8 o'clock for Richmond where they observed the State Legislature now in session there.

The group left Farmville in cars and arrived in Richmond in time for the morning session of the legislature. After lunch the class attended a committee meeting.

P. S.—Letter—"New Home Ec Lab's a Wow"

Dear Helen,

You thought you were pretty cute graduating in Home Ec last June after a lovely quarter in the practice house. I'll admit it's a grand place to live but might I add that "you ain't seen nothin' yet"? That is, if you haven't seen the new laboratories that have been set up in the Science Building—(and I know you haven't because they aren't finished!)—you wouldn't recognize the two rooms that Miss Jeter and Miss Tupper used last year. Both have been completely demobilized and changed into 12 gleaming compartments—each is a separate unit complete with an electric stove and refrigerator, a sink and adequate cabinet space for utensils and supplies. The lecture room is in the rear of the old sewing department—doesn't it sound swell? I could rave over it for ages but I must stop and count the calories in a peppermint patty.

Yours 'til the biscuits burn,
Jane

Barter Theatre Plays Will Present "Our Town" Here On April 12

U.-S. Alumnus Will Play Lead Role

Our Town", Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer prize play, will be presened in the S. T. C. auditorium on April 12, brought here under the auspices of Hampden-Sydney College. In the cast will be the players of Robert Porterfield's Barter Theater of Abingdon, Va.

Porterfield, a Hampden-Sydney alumnus, who founded the Barter Theater seven years ago, will play the leading role. For some years he acted and directed plays in New York. Last year Life magazine became interested in the Barter Theater and gave it welcome publicity.

"Our Town" is an experiment in a play without scenery. All atmosphere is conveyed by the lines of the actors and by costuming.

IT'S SPRING AT . . .
BALDWIN'S

S. T. C. SPECIAL
Cotton
Cardigans
plain whites and pastels
only $1.49

Fresh as a Morning Breeze are our lovely Batiste Blouses—a new shipment arrived today.

$1.00—$1.98—$2.98

BALDWIN'S

SPORT AND DRESS SHOES
For All Occasions

DRESS SHOES

Patent leather with Gabardine trim In pump style with or without toes

$2.95 to $6.50

Blue calf with gabardine trim. Also to be found in pump styles, to be worn with blue and navy. Many other styles including Nationally advertised shoes.

SPORT SHOES

Black and white, and Brown and White saddle Oxfords

$2.95 to $3.95

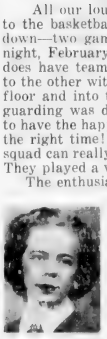
DAVIDSON'S, INC.

Life in th' Wee Hours--Now What Could that Mean--Save Mischief Brewin' at Farmville Teachers College

A ghostly solitary bong tolls from the library clock and echoes across the houses of the silently sleeping town and through the dimly lighted halls of the dormitories of S. T. C., their emptiness strangely weird now as contrasted with the boisterous gaiety with which they ring during the day.

What's this . . . quiet footsteps . . . a board creaking. There is some life abroad at this hour after all. What, who—can it be? Ah, a straggler coming in from a late rendezvous with a beau. She's pretty fagged too from the looks of those drooping eyelids and that mouth which opens for one huge yawn after another. Now she's thinking how good it will feel to slide into that good ole warm bed and be asleep in a jiff. Bet she's got that chemistry down pat now—all except sleeping over it. Ah, our scholar reaches her room. She tiptoes in, not bothering to turn on the light. All she has to do is turn back the covers and jump in, besides a light would wake the roommates. "Oh, boy, sleep is wonderful! What would this world be without it?" she muses as she kicks off one shoe and prepares to slide one foot between the sheets. Here is a feeling of utter bliss and abandon as she finally gets the other foot free from the last shoe and gives a lunge to get completely in that good bed. Something seems to be tangled down there somewhere so she gives a twist and another push only to meet with the strangest sensation in her toes—a stratchy, sticky, pebbly sensation. "Well, wha—?" A series of tiny giggles, at first inaudible because of the suppression of bed clothes and pillow over mouths, begin to be heard. A gleam of light begins to focus on the brain of our late studier. "So a put up job, eh? What is this anyway?" Snap go on the lights, only to reveal two beds filled with two mounds the size of people who would seem to be sound asleep if it weren't for the shakes and shivers that seem to be assuaging them. Maybe they've both caught pneumonia and are having chills, eh—"" Not so thinks Miss Chemistry student. Let them play innocent if they will, but she knows better. Will you look what's in the bed? Well, what's not in it? "And I was all prepared to sleep! Oh, beautiful sleep! Where's the broom?" Out on the floor go piles of bath salts, sugar, and bread crumbs to be taken care of at a later date. Over in the other beds the mounds are still shaking as our heroine, undaunted, prepares to try again for a half night's rest anyway. "So, they've got the sheets all fixed up some way too, eh? Well, I'll fix them. I'll crawl right in between the blankets and sleep just as peacefully the whole night through as I would between sheets. That's what I think of their ole PIE BED!—But just you wait, I'll get them!"

Sports Slants



By BOO BARHAM

Rah, rah, rah, rah, rah,
Rah, rah, rah, rah, rah,
Rah, rah, rah, rah, rah,

Blue 'n White! Blue 'n White! Blue 'n White!

All our loudest, longest, and most heartfelt cheers go to the basketball squad this week! They are mowing 'em down—two games won in one week. The game Thursday night, February 22, was a pretty one! The squad really does have teamwork. That ball was passed from one girl to the other with speed and precision all the way down the floor and into the basket more than once. Some very nice guarding was done, too, and the players certainly seemed to have the happy knack of turning up at the right place at the right time! There is no "doot aboot" it, the Farmville squad can really play. Lots of cheers for William and Mary. They played a very fine game!

The enthusiasm shown at the William and Mary-Farmville game was really all right! There was a large crowd with plenty of pep and they almost took the roof off. It sounded mighty good, too! Most of all we liked the way everybody entered into the spirit of the occasion!

On Saturday, February 24, Farmville was victorious over Radford. It looks as if we stand a good chance to win the Harrisonburg game, 'cause Farmville defeated Radford by a larger margin than Harrisonburg did. Of course, you never can tell about things like that. Anyhow, any way you look at it that Harrisonburg-Farmville game promises to be a thriller. It always is, and this year's will be no exception.

On Thursday night, February 29, the first of the intercollegiate swimming meets will be held here at the college pool. The girls who will swim in it are Nancy Dupuy, Sara Keesee, Helen McIlwaine, Nancy Pierpont, Harriette Walker, Dot Fischer, Buff Gunter, Peggy Hughes, Eliza Wise, and Essie Millner. Nancy Dupuy is new in swimming events here, but she was on the N. C. University Women's swimmnig team. She will swim the breast stroke and frontal crawl. Nancy is speedy andn longwinded. Nancy Pierpont, Eliza Wise, and Harriett Walker will swim the front crawl. They can really travel in the water—like greased lightning. Sara Keesee and Helen Mac will swim the back crawl. Peggy Hughes has an unusually good breast stroke—smooth and gliding. She, Buff Gunter, and Dot Fischer will swim the breast stroke. Essie will swim the front and back crawls. She has a powerful kick and stroke and can swim for both distance and speed. We really do have some fine swimmers, and Farmville should certainly place in the meet.

Spring is gettin' here slowly but surely! And come Spring—come also—tennis, golf, swimming, archery, and lots of other things. We're simply eager for tennis season to get here—It will be fun to get up some good hard tennis matches again. And it's such a good way to get a sunburn, too—and so much more enterprising that lying around on a roof trying to get it.

Come on, Spring. We 're waiting for ya!

First NCAA Nat'l. Golf Championship

The first N. C. A. A. Intercollegiate Golf Championship has come and gone, and it was a great success from the beginning to the end. It was in reality the first collegiate championship ever held under the direction of the N. C. A. A., and that fact gives it its supreme importance. The event was fine for golf and for the boys themselves, and its success has removed all doubt from the minds of those who had not been entirely in favor of it.

The Intercollegiate Championship at Des Moines last June drew together the most formidable array of star shooters ever mixed up on one course. Practically every important college in the country was represented in this great meeting which ended with an electric effect when Vince D'Antoni came out the winner.

If you wish to lower yourself in a person's favor, one good way is to tell his story over again, the way you heard it.

—Mark Twain

There is only one rule for being a good talker: learn to listen.

—Christopher Morley

Rose's
5-10-25c Store
ON THE CORNER
500 SHEET
SMOOTHIE
25c

ATHLETIC GOODS
A & N STORE

NEWBERRY'S
5c—10c—25c
Store
SOOTHIES
Facial Tissues
15c
NEWBERRY'S
5c-10c STORE

We're Ready for Founders Day—White
SKIRTS AND SWEATERS. White and White with Brown Saddle Oxfords
$1.97 and $2.97
THE HUB DEPT. STORE
APPRECIATES YOUR PATRONAGE

Varsity Chalks Up Two More Games

Team Overcomes William and Mary

Basketeers Gain Third Straight Win

S. T. C. defeated William and Mary in a game played here on Tuesday, February 22. This is the fourth year in succession that Farmville has been victorious over Williamsburg.

A foul was called on a Farmville guard immediately after the opening whistle and William and Mary scored the first point by making good the first shot. From the center throw Farmville quickly evened up the score by looping in two baskets in succession thereby taking the lead which they kept throughout the entire game. Another foul shot made gave William and Mary their second score in the game. A long shot thrown from the center line rolled up two more points for the Indian lassies, with another point quickly following on a free throw shot. S. T. C.'s free shot was no good. It was caught off the backboard and looped in for two more points. Again William and Mary fouled and this time the free throw was made bringing the quarter to a close with the score 9 to 5 in Farmville's favor.

Blue and White opened scoring in the second quarter by making a foul shot good. William and Mary basketeers opened the second quarter with a two point shot followed quickly by two points for S. T. C. Both teams made several attempts at scoring before William and Mary finally sank a long shot. Five points were made by Farmville on one free shot and two short baskets. The first half ended with Farmville leading 17 to 9.

Center-throw for Farmville opened the third quarter and the ball traveled straight into basket with three successive passes. Two points quickly followed for William and Mary. Both teams fouled often during third quarter but neither team made points on free shots. Farmville rolled up six points in succession when the passwork ran straight down the side line. A double foul with neither team scoring on shots brought the third quarter to a close and score stood 22 to 13 in favor of Blue and White.

S. T. C. held the Indian basketeers almost scoreless the last quarter, the only score made by them being a free throw. None of the foul shots given Farmville were successful and their last two points were field goals. The game ended 34 to 17 with Farmville one again victorious.

Lineup:

Farmville	W. & M.
F—Roberts	Armitage
F—Barnett	Douglas
F—Jarman	Allen
G—Courter	Mitchell
G—Johnson	Kyle
G—Price	Yachnin

Substitutes: Farmville, Ellett, Adams, Chaplin; William and Mary, Hale, C. Armitage.

Referee, Sinclair; scorer, Owen; umpire, Dabney; timekeeper, Borden.

Man is the only animal who can be skinned more than once.

The soul is dyed the color of its leisure thoughts.

Hop Says
"Let DeLuxe Cleaners keep your white dresses WHITE for Founder's Day".
Phone 77 Third Street or see Perrye Smith

SOUTHSIDE
DRUG STORE
EATON'S Stationery
100 Sheets $1.00
100 envelopes
With name and address. Something entirely new. See the Script Teaser stationery.

Swimmers to Vie In National Meet

The annual National Intercollegiate Telegraphic Swimming Meet will be held at the pool tomorrow evening, February 29, at 8 o'clock.

Girls participating in the meet are members of the varsity swimming squad. Events and entries are listed below.

40 yard back—Sara Keesee, Helen MacIlwaine.

40 yard breast—Peggy Hughes, Dot Fischer, Buff Gunter.

40 yard crawl—Nancy Pierpont, Eliza Wise, Essie Millner, Harriet Walker.

100 yard back—Sara Keesee, Helen MacIlwaine.

100 yard breast—Dot Fischer, Peggy Hughes.

100 yard crawl—Nancy Dupuy, Harriet Walker.

75 yard medley relay—Sara Keesee, Nancy Dupuy, Essie Millner, Helen MacIlwaine, Peggy Hughes, Harriet Walker.

100 yard free-style relay—Nancy Pierpont, Essie Millner, Harriet Walker, Nancy Pupuy, Eliza Wise, Buff Gunter.

Ping Pong Tourney Enters Third Round

Winners of the second round of play in the pin gpong torunament are Helen Wentz, Helen McIlvaine, Winnie Buchanan, Nell Hart and Corilda Chaplin.

The third and quarter-final round will be completed by Saturday, March 2

Notice

The Riding Club will meet in the "Rec" at 7:00 p. m. Thursday, February 29, instead of Friday, March 1.

Sports Calendar

Feb. 29—National Intercollegiate Swimming Meet in pool at 8:00

March 1—Interclass basketball games in gym at 4:00

March 4—Interclass basketball games in gym at 4:00

March 5—Interclass swimming meet in pool at 8:00

March 6—Interclass basketball games in gym at 4:00

March 7—National Intercollegiate swimming. Meet in pool at 8:00

March 8—Varsity basketball game. Farmville vs. Madison in gym at 7:30

COLLEGE
SHOPPE
Best food in town
Try us
We Deliver Call 200

Martin the Jeweler
Sterling Silver Salt Spoon Pins
$1.50

Weyanoke Beauty
Shoppe
SPECIAL!
$3.50 Duart Perms., now $2.50
$5.00 Oil Perms., now $3.50
Shampoo, finger wave, regular price 50c
Shampoo, finger wave and manicure 85c
PHONE 331

Frosh Players Overcome Rice

Rice High School suffered a 17-13 defeat at the hands of the Farmville Freshman basketball squad in the opening game of the sub-varsity season which was held in the college gym at 4 o'clock on Tuesday, February 27.

The line-up is listed below:

Farmville	Rice
F—Barnett	Walton
F Ellett	Walthall
F—Andrews	Bruce
G—Darby	Smith
G—Price	Thompson
G—Parham	Walthall

Substitutes: Farmville, Crute, Carr, Hillsman, Pierce, Burwell.

Referee, Fischer.

Notice

Interclass basketball games will start tomorrow in round-robin style—each class playing every other class. The first game on schedule is Sophomore vs. Junior which will be played at 4 o'clock in the gym.

The games have been scheduled as follows:

Friday, March 1
4:00—Frosh vs. Juniors
4:45—Sophs vs. Seniors
Monday, March 4
4:00—Frosh vs. Seniors
4:45—Sophs vs. Juniors
Wednesday, March 6
4:00 Frosh vs. Sophs
4:45—Juniors vs. Seniors

If you are in doubt whether to kiss a pretty girl, give her the benefit of the doubt.

—Carlyle

Talent is built in solitude; character in the stream of the world.

—Goethe

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

GRAY'S
DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Quality—Price—Service

HOTEL
WEYANOKE
Regular Meals
A La Carte Service
Salads & Sandwiches

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
248 MAIN STREET

East Radford STC Defeated 26-16

Sharp Shooting Stumps Visitors

Blue and White was once again victorious when the varsity basketball team met the East Radford S. T. C. players on the Radford court on Saturday, February 24. Eleven members of the varsity squad, accompanied by Miss Olive Iler, made the trip.

At the end of the first half the score was 14-13 in favor of Farmville and at the final whistle the Blue and White was still in the lead 26-16.

Lineup was as follows:

Pos. Radford	Farmville
F.—Philpott	Barnett
F.—Firebaugh	Jarman
F.—Montgomery	Roberts
G.—Rotenberry	Courter
G.—Ridenour	Johnson
G.—Eakin	Price

Substitutes: Radford: Linkous, Hunter. Farmville: Parham, Ellett.

Referee, Ross; Umpire, Dabney; Scorer, Gooden; Timer, Booth.

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

SHANNON'S
Hot Chocolate, Hot Soups, Hot Sandwiches. See your new Library Stationery.
PHONE 224 WE DELIVER

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop
"From old to new with any shoes"
Only First Class Material used
All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL
Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY MEATS
AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

VMI Midwinters. "Gone With the Wind" Attract

Although Pan-Hel dance claimed first place in prominence this week-end, many S. T. C. girls were present for V. M. I. Mid-Winters. Just see how many girls did go.

Gerry Ackiss, Elizabeth Bowman, Anne Billups, Anne Covington, Nettie Davis, Betty Fahr, Margaret Franklin, Elenora Faison, Louise Haydon, Emily Hoskins, Betty Laird, Carolyn Minnick, Mary Mahone, Theodosia Mackenzie, Dorothy Robbins, Elizabeth Williams, Pat Whitlock, Elizabeth Warner, Barbara White, Martha Whelchel, Madge McFall, Blanche Carper, Sally Dunlap, Alice Seebert, Ruby Trice, Shirley Turner, May Wertz, Anne Rogers, Helen Lewis, Betty Barnes, and Betty Perry.

Betty Lee Downing, Sue Dunlap, Sally Dunlap, and Frances Dunlap visited in Lexington over the week-end.

Next attraction to dances for week-enders was Richmond which is still drawing a large number to see "Gone With the Wind". Those going were Ruby Adams, Mary Prince Arnold, Mary Bryant, Dorothy Davis, Marie Eason, Geraldine Hatcher, Mary Harvie, Winnie Harrell, Alice Hannah, Barbara McCaskill, Nancy Naff, Opal Nelson, Edith Nunnally, Roberta Payne, Peggy Stevens, Dorothy Smith, Virginia Smith, Barbara Tripp, Evelyn Timberlake, Elizabeth Wilkinson, Virginia Whitfield, and Margaret Whitfield.

Norfolk, Lynchburg and Roanoke claimed a number of girls too. Those going to Lynchburg were Margaret Carr, Imogene Hutter, Betty McCornell, Virginia Worley and Aline Markland.

Those going to Roanoke were Margaret Bunting, Nell Hurt, Mary Anne Pettit, Elizabeth Summerfield, Florence Thierry, Marie Utt, and Patty Vier.

Mary Owens West, Mary Bartlett, Anna George, and Libby West went to Portsmouth while Lorraine Swingle and Evelyn Thorington traveled down Norfolk way. Mary E. Williams went home to Petersburg.

Down the same direction were Sally Benton and Edna Brown in Suffolk. Helen Briggs was in Charlottesville for the week-end.

News and Views

Women, an institution hitherto regarded as a necessary factor in the building of happy home life, will have no place in—nay!—are strictly prohibited from — the home of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity—for one week-end a year at Ohio State University. From the front of the fraternity house hangs a huge sign which proclaims in bold letters to the world that "Anti-Woman Week-End" is in progress. From Friday to Monday, the rules are simple and terse: "No dates, no shaves, no haircuts, no shirts, no ties or pressed trousers, and above all, no communication with (and here is listed a classification without a loophole) any girl, maid, or woman." All pictures of women are taken from the rooms and, following a solemn ceremony, deposited in a safe until Monday morning.

EACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.

Fri.-Sat., March 1-2
Marlene Dietrich
James Stuart
"Destry Rides Again"
Hal Kemp and Orchestra

Next Mon.-Tues., March 4-5
ROSALIND RUSSELL
CARY GRANT
"HIS GIRL FRIDAY"
Color Cartoon News

Next Wed.-Thurs., Mar. 6-7
Gloria Jean, Nan Grey
ROBERT CUMMINGS
"THE UNDERPUP"
Travelogue Novelty

Pan Hel Dance Named Social Hit of Season

Pan Hel dance in the gym with music by Jimmy Cannon and his orchestra from Danville on Saturday night, Feb. 24 went over with a bang, to use a modern slang expression. The following people were invited to be in the receiving line: Dr. Jarman, Mrs. Laing, Eliza Wise, president of the Pan Hellenic Council, and the faculty advisors of the sororities.

During the dance there was a sudden pause, at which time it was announced by Jimmy Cannon that "Happy Birthday" would be played in honor of Mrs. Davis. The entire crowd joined in to sing it. After "All the Things You Are" selected for the no-break dance there was a 30 minute intermission. Until this year each sorority has had its special no-break dance, but it was decided that only one would be played for all the sororities.

Onlookers must have been impressed not only by the appearance of the gym and the great number of beautiful corsages, but also by the variety in the tempo of the orchestra. The Danville orchestra drew attention by its accomplished drummer and the petite blues singer. "Wham" was her specialty, and is there any wonder that the dancers continued to call for more? Yes—the orchestra playing music sweet and slow and the kind that would put the jumping jive in the mood was all one would ask for.

Our hats are off, to use another slang expresion, to the girls in charge of the decorations, Patsy Fletcher, Lillian German, and the pledges of all sororities. The gym decorated with the letters and colors of each sorority was a beautiful display of the spirit of the occasion. There's no hesitancy when we say Pan Hels was a gala affair in every sense of he word.

JIMMY CANNON

Seniors Now Date In Cunningham Hall

Seniors are now allowed to date in the parlor of Junior Building and this plan proposed by Student Standards was tried out for the first time on Sunday night, February 25.

Seniors sign up in Miss Mary's office for dates as usual before dinner, and the slips are sent over to the chaperone for that special night, who meets the dates and sees that the girls are called. However, it has been suggested that girls arrive on time to avoid confusion.

Dates sign up as usual when they arrive in the Rotunda and then take the slip over to Cunningham.

Four Go to Newport News to Alumnae Tea

Pres. J. L. Jarman, Miss Grace Moran, alumnae president, Miss Jane Royall and Dr. George W. Jeffers left this morning, February 28, for Newport News, Va., where they were to attend this afternoon the Peninsula Alumnae meeting which includes alumnae chapters of Newport News, Hampton and Hilton Village.

The afternoon's meeting was an open tea affair to which the members of present Farmville students, in addition to the alumnae members were invited. This was held in the home of Mrs. Killinger, formerly Jo Peters.

Farmville's group plans to return home tonight.

Editorialists on the University of Minnesota's Daily have a new and not too complimentary cross themselves) explanation for the current bat fads. Listen to them pontificate: "With a half-dozen exceptions all the girls buy hats. And it's no use trying to figure out why. What appeals to the ladies is clearly the hideousness of the affair. All look at the things they marry."

The Loveliest Spring Shoes Ever Shown
Paris Fashion and Naturalizer 2.97 to 6.75
Smart Footwear for Smart Dressers
Sale of Silk Hose
New Spring color 59c
First time in Farmville Miss Barron Slips. Something new, see them.
DOROTHY MAY STORE
First to Show the Newest

Misses Moran, Peck At Alumnae Event

Fashion Show, Bridge on Program

Miss Grace Moran and Miss Mary E. Peck were guests at a meeting sponsored by the Farmville alumnae of Roanoke Saturday, February 24, from 8 till 11 o'clock. The affair took place in the Hotel Roanoke.

A fashion show initiated the program showing spring styles in sports, dress and evening clothes. Margaret Stallard, Sue and Katherine Moomaw and other Farmville alumnae were models.

Refreshments were served after the fashion show, followed by bridge at 65 tables. Thirty-five prizes were donated by stores in Roanoke and were given as high, low and draw prizes. Among those at the bridge party still known to present Farmville girls were Miriam Ficklen, Jean Taylor and Margaret Stallard.

Elizabeth Shipplet, president of the Roanoke Alumnae chapter, with Harriet Moomaw Luck, Margaret Loving, Dot Snedegar, and Frances Horton were in charge of the meeting.

Proceeds of the party will be used for a donation for Founders' Day and to entertain high school seniors at a reception in the spring.

Wesley Group Hosts For Supper Meeting

Wesley Foundation Council sponsored a supper meeting Tuesday night, February 27, following which a discussion of problems confronting youth today was led by Dr. James Workman of Arkansas. Students of all denominations were invited to the supper which was prepared by Mary Katherine Dodson and Alice Overbey.

Y. W. Holds Open Discussion and Social

Dr. James Workman talked on "Vocational Guidance" at the open Y. W. Association meeting Tuesday afternoon, February 27.

Discussion was open to all following the talk. Members of the social committee of the Y. W. served light refreshments.

Practice House Girls Entertain at Dinner

Students in the Home Economics House entertained tonight, February 28, at a buffet supper in honor of the other senior home economics majors. Guests included [illegible] Geraldine Hatcher, Olivia Stegall, [illegible] Watkins, [illegible] Powell, Josie Lee Cozart, [illegible] Bess Wilkinson.

Neighbor who borrow garden tools, comes back for mower.

When cats go to dances, invitations are sent out by paws.

Dr. Wynne and Dot Rollins in St. Louis

Postcards received here yesterday from Dorothy Rollins, S. T. C. delegate to Kappa Delta Pi convention at East St. Louis, Illinois, stated that the convention began Monday morning, February 26 and will continue until Wednesday afternoon, February 28. Dot met the delegate from Madison in Cincinnati from where they went on together. She will return to school Friday morning.

Dr. J. P. Wynne is attending the National Education Association convention in St. Louis this week also.

Five in Infirmary; Two Teachers Sick

Five girls, Eugenia Ramsey, Charlotte Greeley, Jean Upshur, Lorraine Epperson, and Elizabeth Barrett, are now confined to the Infimary.

Miss Mary M. Snead, college librarian, who has been kept to her room with a cold for the last few days, is improving.

Miss Elizabeth Grady, Religious Education instructor, is now well enough to continue her classes.

Chesterfield's Twin Pleasures are
Real Mildness and Better Taste

You can't mistake the extra pleasure you get from Chesterfields.

Because of their right combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos, Chesterfields give you a cooler, better-tasting and definitely milder smoke.

You can't buy a better cigarette

CONGRATULATIONS NEW EDITORS

The Rotunda

WELCOME BACK, ALUMNAE

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 6, 1940 | NO. 20

Publication Heads For Next Year Are Announced

New Staffs Are Selected for Three School Periodicals

Pat Gibson, Elizabeth West and Josa Carlton will be editor-in-chief, editor and business manager, respectively of The Rotunda, college weekly; Allene Overbey, editor, and Yates Carr, business manager, of The Colonnade, quarterly magazine; and May Wertz, editor, and Anne Ayres, business manager, of The Virginian, college yearbook.

Rotunda Heads

Pat Gibson, of New York City, has seen service as sports editor and assistant in other fields of newspaper work this year. She is instructor of swimming, a participant in varsity athletics, and was recently tapped into Alpha Kappa Gamma. Elizabeth West, of Portsmouth, Va., has, too, worked with various phases of The Rotunda work and has held the office of socials editor. She is an assistant in the library, a member of Pi Gamma Mu, and new treasurer of Kappa Delta Pi. Josa Carlton, of Roanoke, Virginia, has been assistant business manager of The Rotunda this year. She is a member of the College Choir.

Colonnade Heads

Allene Overbey of Chatham, Virginia, has been assistant literary editor of The Colonnade. She is prominent in Sophomore Commission and Y. W. C. A. work. Yates Carr, of Charlottesville, has been assistant business manager. She is a member of Pi Gamma Mu.

Virginian Heads

May Wertz of Roanoke has been an assistant on the annual staff. She is outstanding as pianist for class productions. May Days, and dance recitals. Anne Ayres from Roanoke has served as assistant photographer and manager this year.

Rotunda Tries New Plan

The Rotunda staff will have three heads instead of the usual two. The office of editor-in-chief will involve general direction and management of the editorial, business and circulation staffs from an executive capacity.

Publication Board Elects

New publication heads were elected by the publication board

Continued on Page 4

New Publications Heads

(Top, left to right): Elizabeth West, Pat Gibson, and Josa Carlton, who will head The Rotunda; (Below, left to right): May Wertz, Anne Ayres of The Virginian; and Allene Overbey and Yates Carr of The Colonnade.

Lyceum Features Ballet Dancers

Hans Wiener and Erika Thimey, modern theater dance artists, will be presented in a program of interpretive dances at the Founder's Day lyceum Saturday night, March 8, at 8 o'clock.

Erika Thimey received her diploma from Mary Wigman, celebrated artist dancer, and studied in Europe before coming to Chicago in 1932.

Hans Wiener is known in Europe, Asia, and America. Each year he appears in the Pops seasons of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Authorities say their dances show a wide creative range and costumes, beautiful in design and colour are an integral part of the program.

Reviewers Boston and New York have said "An amusing and provocative program of modern dance compositions .....the costumes brilliant and effective, the

Continued on Page 4

Western Convention Delights S.T.C. Delegates

Interview With Dorothy Rollins

By ANNE COCK

"I'm all set to go west again when the first opportunity presents itself" claims Dotty Rollins when interviewed after her return from Kappa Delta Pi Conovocation in East St. Louis. She is the recently elected president of the Beta Epsilon Chapter here.

Dotty left Friday February 23 and traveled by train to Cincinnati. "While I was in the station I found that the clocks were an hour behind my watch, but I didn't try setting my watch back.....I just subtracted."

On the train to St. Louis Dotty met her room mate, Mary J. Wright, representative from Madison College, at Harrisonburg. Together the arrived in St. Louis.

On their way to the Broadview Hotel, headquarters for the convention, Dotty got her first glimpse of the Mississippi River. "It was very muddy but not very disappointing. It was awfully wide!" Being a day early she had time to see the sights which she was very eager to see.

"While down town, we became acquainted with the dirt that forced us to take two baths daily--and also with the state sales tax. We had to buy ten mills for a penny and had to give two of them for each five cent purchase.

After they returned to their hotel they received a call from Dr. W. J. Gifford, Dean of Madison, who was attending the American Association of School Administrators in the Jefferson Hotel. He extended an invitation for Dotty and Mary J. to accompany him and Dr. Peters, President of Radford State Teachers College, and Dr. Blair Buck, head of Secondary Education in Virginia to a musical the following evening, put on by the high schools of St. Louis in the magnificent Municipal Auditorium.

"In the afternoon they took us to the John Dewey Society Meeting and we heard a panel discussion of the Administrators' Yearbook, 'Teachers for Democracy', made up of chapters written by distinguished educators.

On Monday morning came the official roll call of all the delegates. There were approximately 125 chapters represented by one delegate each, plus alternates, and delegates from three Alumnae Chapters.

After registration each delegate was given an envelope of agenda which included official badges, a copy of the constitution, tickets for the three luncheons, and the banquet, and a schedule of meetings. Thereby followed reports of the various national committees.

Then came the luncheon in the ballroom of the Broadview. At all the luncheons some sort of program was put on by the delegates. We didn't have a skit prepared, so Mary J and I forced to sing 'Carry Me Back to Old Virginny' through twice."

After the luncheon the business meeting continued with the unfinished reports of the morning and the appointing of committees. Dotty was named to the Social and Program Planning Committee chairmaned by Dr. Statemyer of Columbia University and national first vice president of Kappa Delta Pi.

Tuesday morning there were round table discussions. Dotty attended one on Program Planning conducted by Dr. Statemyer. Tuesday afternoon there was a report on the Constitution and By-Laws, followed by a discussion. That night a banquet climaxed the convention and brought to a close the social activities.

Dr. Thomas H. Briggs was the speaker of the evening, his topic, "Pragmatism and Pedagogy."

Out of town guests were introduced to the banqueteers. Pictures were taken, the gala affair dispursed, and Dotty and friends still not satisfied, set out for a

Continued on Page 4

Dr. Wynne Attends Nat'l. Education Meet

Dr. J. P. Wynne, head of the department of education and philosophy at Farmville, attended the annual meeting of the N. E. A. held this year in St. Louis, Missouri, February 21 through 25. At this time meetings and programs were planned for the attending educators, and such famous persons as Dr. Paul Monroe, Dr. Kilpatrick, Dr. McCracken, Dr. Stratmeyer and many others were present for the discussions and round table meetings.

Freshman Class Gives Big Satisfaction With "Club 43"

Living up to Master-of-ceremonies words, the freshman class really "took it away" Wednesday night with their "Club 43".

A bluish light cast an effect of illusion over the "Rec" completely redecorated and transformed with a background of silvered notes, scales, sharps, and flats on blue. Around the dance floor were tables with silver ash trays and candles.

The lights were dimmed as Jeanne Sears and Jane Waller tangoed in their gay Spanish costumes. Carroll Costello, Freshman blues singer crooned "Night and Day" accompanied by Bootsie Messick. Quite different from the previous tango, Jacqueline Hardy "tapped out" her rhythmic dance routine. After this, those melodious "Ladies of Note" trouped out to sing an original arrangement of "Indian Summer". A quite flustrated Parham was then requested to read the note that our bashful, barefoot "Ebo" brought out pleading for an audition for Hairless Joe, Handsome Harry, Suzy Glutz, Grampa Willy, and Baldy Crumb, which attractive quintet swung out on "Slimmer Dimmer."

After Sarah Massie Goode "tripped the light fantastic" in ballet, who should enter but "Maizie" and "Dolores". Betty Youngberg and Helen Ruger. Following convulsions of laughter at these two Bronx lassies, the crowd sat is subdued silence as Helen Wiley Hardy gave her rendition of "Deep Purple". As the notes of "Scatterbrain" broke forth, the "Top Hatters" danced their way to the floor. Kitty Price, S. T. C.'s Walter Winchell, dished out the dirt, and Carroll Costello ended the program as it was begun by singing—this time "Body and Soul", assisted by "The Ladies of Note."

"Club 43's" floor show concluded the program, but not the evening's entertainment. With an atmosphere just typical for an evening of dance, the many guests and customers used the time to advantage to brush up on the newest in ballroom dancing. Attractive waitresses in night club attire were at beck and call to trot out for refreshment.

Yes, the "Rec" and the delighted crowd were "taken away" by the Freshmen's production. In fact, they're clamoring for more like it.

Farmville Will Celebrate Fifty-sixth Founders Day

Basketball Game, Luncheon, Tea, Dinner, Lyceum, and Dance Are Social Events

The fifty-sixth celebration of Founders' Day will take place Friday and Saturday, March 9 and 10, when approximately 150 alumnae will be welcomed back to the campus. Classes of 1890, 1900, 1910, 1920 and 1930 will observe reunions and the class of 1915 its twenty-fifth anniversary.

First event on the week-end program will be the traditional varsity basketball game with Madison College on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Morning session on the occasion will begin at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning in the large auditorium. At this time a program will be presented by the students. The Intermediate Quartette will sing the old Scotch Folk Song, "Flow Gently Sweet Afton" while the Senior Quartette will offer "A Song of Home" by Dvorak. Peggy Bellus will be the soloist on the program. Gifts will be presented to Dr. J. L. Jarman, president, at this time by different organizations, the gifts to be used for various improvements on the campus. After the singing of the Alma Mater, a response will be given by Dr. Jarman.

Miss Grace B. Moran, President of the Alumnae Association, will welcome the alumnae after the student program. Greetings and reports from alumnae chapters will be given to be followed by a welcome from Dr. Jarman.

Longwood will be the scene for the Alumnae Luncheon and the business meeting which follows.

At 3:30 o'clock, the Freshman gymnasium classes will present a Folk Dance demonstration in the gymnasium. The Granddaughters Club will entertain at tea in honor of the alumnae at 4:30 o'clock in the Home Management House.

A formal dinner for the alumnae and students will be given at 6 o'clock in the main dining room of the college. Following that at 8 o'clock a lyceum number featuring Hans Wiener and Erika Thimey in a Ballet Dance Program will be presented.

There will be dancing from 10 to 12 o'clock in the gymnasium and recreation hall. Clyde Duvall's orchestra and one from Richmond have been engaged to play.

Mr M. B. Coyner heads the committee on arrangements. Assisting him are Marie Eason, Jean

Continued on Page 4

Buy Concert Tickets

Tickets for the Spring Concert to be presented by the Farmville music department with the Duke University and University of North Carolina Glee Clubs on Friday, March 29, are now on sale and may be obtained from members of the Choir and Choral club.

Admission price includes admission to the concert and the dance following it. Tickets for the concert will go on reserve at White's Drug Store on March 27.

Three Girls Win Forensic Honors

Allen, Keck and Parker Compete

Marie Allen, of Whitegate, and Frances Keck, of Danville, won two decisions and lost two while debating for Farmville at the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament held at Lenoir-Rhyne College in Hickory, North Carolina, February 29 to March 2.

Elizabeth Ann Parker of Portsmouth tied for second place in Women's Radio Announcing and Frances won second place in impromptus.

Marie and Frances defeated Appalachian's affirmative and negative teams and lost twice to Winthrop—once on the affirmative and once on the negative.

The tournament, which is an annual event, also offered contes's in oratory, problem solving, after dinner speaking, poetry reading, extemporaneous speaking, impromptu speaking and other phases of forensics.

"The Circle" Centers on Theme Of Outcome of Trivial Life

"My dear, I don't know that in life it matters so much what you do as what you are. If we made rather a hash of things perhaps it was because we're rather trivial people. You can do anything in this world if you're prepared to take the consequences; and consequences depend on character," said Lord Porteous, played by John Pancake, giving the keynote of Somerset Maugham's "The Circle" which the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs and the S. T. C. Dramatic Club presented on Friday, March 1, in S. T. C. auditorium. The play, under the direction of Miss Leola Wheeler, is a drawing room comedy or comedy of manners, its chief charm lying in its cleverly written dialogue.

The story revolves around Elizabeth Champion-Cheney, played by Jean Hatton, sincere and ideallistically romantic who longs for love and a life which her practical and politically ambitious husband Arnold, played by Keith Eubank, will never give her. Complications arise when she invites Arnold's mother, who has years ago deserted him to run off with Lord Porteous, and Lord Porteous, to visit Arnold's father, Lex Allison, sophisticated, poised, a man of the world, who has never forgiven his wife or her lover also arrives unexpectedly.

The sight of Lady Kitty, played by Jane McGinnis, is a blow to the ideal of a fraqile and understanding gentlewoman that Elizabeth has set up in her thoughts. Contrary to that, Lady Kitty is a silly, affected old woman, vainly struggling to hide her years 'neath a peroxided coiffure and cosmetics. Lord Porteous is gruff and rheumatic and still inwardly very much in love with the once-charming Lady Kitty.

Elizabeth finds herself reliving the events of thirty-years-before. Hungry for romance and affection she finds it with Teddy Luten, played by Bob Engle.

Torn between love and duty, the heroine finally tears herself away to the former and happiness.

The play leaves the audience wondering if Teddy and Elizabeth will find a lasting happiness or whether their life together, minus many of the luxuries to which they have been accustomed, will alter them to the trivial type characters that the elderly lovers portray.

"The Circle" portrays characteristic roles, clever speeches, and scenes of definite feeling of drama, pathos, and humor.

Anna Shenstone, a friend of Elizabeth's, was played by Peggy Bellus. A maid and the butler were played by Alice Leigh Barham and Alec Jones, respectively.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Published weekly by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia nine months a year

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant ..... Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmondson, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Agnes Pickral, and Janelle Shelor.

Jean Watts, Mary Louise Cunningham, Caroline Ford, Mariam Jester, Shirley McCalley, Nancy Naff, Sarah Cline, Gerry Ackiss, Bridget Gentile, Elizabeth Rapp, Evelyn Thorington, Dot Sprinkle, Amy Read.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Dorothy Childress, Mary Catherine Dodson, Texie Belle Felts, Jeannette Ferguson, Dearing Fauntleroy, Lillian German, Anne Moore, and Mildred Taylor.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd Jean Upshur, and Thelma Courtney.
Photographer ..... Virginia Worley

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 6, 1940

Welcome—
Another Founders Day

Founders Day will bring many former students back to this campus, and we are looking forward to their coming with pleasure. We are proud to welcome those who were here before us, because we know that they are yet treasuring our breath of life—"Farmville Spirit"—which will live on forever—a tradition founded by the old girls.

Our alumnae love Farmville just as we do and they have shown their loyalty by sending their daughters and their friends here to school. They have helped to build our Student Building and have set up loan funds for worthy students. But most of all, the alumnae have given our Alma Mater cooperation in every undertaking.

We appreciate this whole-hearted loyalty and cooperation and welcome everyone to Founders Day.

Sane Voting Is Essential

"The old order changeth, yielding place to new" next week the metamorphic action will begin with nominations for next year's major officers.

Voting is a serious business. We must at this time consider the traditions of the school and make our officers those girls who are best fitted for the jobs. Sane, honest thinking is essential and must be placed above personal or biased opinions.

We are proud, and rightly so for it is a great achievement that our elections here at Farmville have always been propaganda free. Some, however, may be guilty of laziness or neglect in their failure to vote. It is a duty. As a member of the student body, every girl has a right to nominate and vote. Let us use this privilege, wisely and well, with the future of Farmville in mind and heart.

Open Forum

Dear Editor:

Perhaps for a "letter to the editor" on this type of subject is not on the approved list, but it seems that your paper certainly has the reputation for giving credit where credit is due.

For some days—since last Wednesday—to be exact, "Club 43" has been a popular topic of conversation—and rightly so. The freshman class certainly proved their worth to the entire student body, and established themselves more than ever as a vital and important part of the school. They have indeed shown a beautiful example of cooperation, and what they can produce by working as a whole.

It does one good to see such whole-hearted spirit and enthusiasm, and it may be that some of us could profit by their example. Theirs is unquestionably the Farmville spirit, and we can certainly feel no qualms in later years in leaving to them the honor and the responsibility of "carrying on" those traditions of Farmville that we have learned to cherish.

Hats off to a fine class with a very promising future!

An Upperclassman

Dear Editor,

We have been fortunate enough to have a new library built for us but many of us have been so thoughtless as to misuse it. It seems it would be the least we could do to keep from eating in the library. Cakes and chocolate candy don't mix with books. Who wants to read a book all sticky with somebody else's candy? I know it's just another case of our thoughtlessness. A little cooperation on our part can keep our library and books looking nice.

From one who take great pride in our new library.

S. T. C. Thru The '30's

Let's take a quick look at the important happenings in S. T. C. through the '30's.

Now, back in 1934 we find the graduation class leaving "as a parting gift to the college some ornament of decoration to go at the base of the long mirrors."

That was the year the "Educators selected Farmville from the teachers colleges to experiment in FERA program for student aid."

The pre-library and pre-nursing courses were offered as well as majors in physical ed. in 1934-for the first time.

Miss Jennie Masters Tabb, beloved registrar, died, in the summer of that year.

In October, 1935, twenty-five girls were initiated as charter members of Beorc Eh Thorn, new honor society for superior work in English.

That same year saw Nancy Byrd Turner, poet of Virginia, charming the students from the stage in our auditorium with bits of poetry and little remniscences of her childhood. Orchesis was formed that year too.

It was 1936 when Miss Jane Royall of S. T. C. was elected national president of Alpha Kappa Gamma at its convention held at Queens-Chicora college in Charlotte, N. C.

In chapel, in December, 1936, Jane Powell, president, with her freshman class, presented their classman, Miss Virginia Bedford, in an artistic setting of paint box and cups of paint.

The joke column was in full flower then - here's one you'll appreciate.

Miss Shelton: "Mandy, did you sweep under this carpet?"

Mandy: "Yes'm, Missus Shelton, I sweeps ever'thing under that ere cvarpet!"

In 1937 the College Orchestra, under the direction of Miss Lisbeth Purdom, gave a concert in Charlotte Court House - Dr. Jarman sang and there were several costumed dances on this program.

On May 25th, 1937, technicolor-sound moving pictures were shown in the college auditorium to great delight of the student. This is the year that Vivacious Norvell Montague was elected president of the H2O Club and our own Nimmo was chosen secretary and treasurer.

On Our Bookshelves

By JEAN WATTS

"Verdun" by Jules Romains, is another in the series of novels called "Men of Good Will". It may be read as "a footnote to the history of 1939" or as the epic that it is—treating of France and her people in the last war. However, it is the picture looked at with the perspective that a lapse of 22 years can bring. What makes the novel so timely is that another war is going on today. Again military leaders are facing the problems of what to do under new conditions that have arisen. Some are driving ahead filled with ideas for their own good. Others are looking ahead groping for a dim vision of the direction of the conflict. No one can really understand until 20 years after, if then, however. These things Romain's covers in his action-filled story of the defense of Verdun.

"If Not Victory" is a swift meaning, historical novel by Frank O. Hough, author of "Renown." The story of Westchester County and New York City during the Revolution, it depicts the adventures of a Quaker youth who is at first a Loyalist, then a patrio when he gains a real meaning of the American cause.

A new novel that reminds us of an old one in its subject is that of Charles G. Finney—"Past the End of the Pavement." As is "Tom Sawyer", it is the entertaining tale of two small boys who live along the Mississippi whose exploration of the countryside had strange and unforetold results often.

Zsolt Harsingi has written a story of the life of one of the truly great heros of all time in his latest novel "Star Gazer". He has gone beyond mere documents and letters and into a story of the typical life of Italian Renaissance to produce the intimate story of courage and fear and lover that is the life of Galileo. "Star Gazer" is not, therefore, a pure biography, but a biographical novel, one that everyone who enjoys meeting a great personality, and a genius, in a well writetn book will want to read.

The next two years are within the memory of most of us and can be related to intersested Freshmen. We all know that important things happen every day and no one can quite keep up with them except Father Time. The future is ours though to do our best with. Here's to us!

If—But I'm an S. T. C.'er

Now if I was an aristocrat,
I'd go right up to Smith,
I'd put my nose right in the air
And, lordy, how I'd sniff—
But since I'm not an aristocrat
Chorus
And be just what I be—
Oh! I'm going right down to Farmville
And I'm going to S. T. C.

Now if I were an F. F. V.
I'd hurry up to Macon
I'd sit around and rack my brain
For classes I've not taken;
But since I'm not an F. F. V.
Chorus

Now if I were the co-ed type,
I'd slink right down to Duke,
I'd swish around and roll my eyes
And practice on pursuit—
But since I'm not the co-ed type
Chorus

Now if I were a newly rich,
I'd blaze a trail to the "Patch",
And just like all the other "Briers"
My money'd go down the hatch;
But since I'm not a newly rich
Chorus

Now, if I were a glamour girl,
I'd go right up to Hollins.
I'd sit around and brush my hair
And think I was a darlin'—
But since I'm not a glamour girl,
Chorus

Now if I were a drizzle puss,
To ——————— I'd go—
I'd sit around and mope and mope
And wish for just one beau;
But since I'm not a drizzle puss
Chorus

Now, since I am a cute girl,
And no glamour I require;
I'd just go out and be myself
The men I'll set on fire.
I needn't go to other schools—
I be just what I be.
So I'm going down to Farmville
And I'm going to S. T. C.

Echoes from an Empty Space

Notice: If anyone wants to know anything about the Purdum-Davies affair information may be had from—well, it's all public news now.

How did Crews Borden make out at the PiKA house paying homage to the newly won cup? We're interested in hearing more about it girl.

We understand that Barbara White trumped Buck's king twice this past week-end. Wonder how he liked it? We wouldn't.

Come Spring, a young woman's fancy turns to snaking . . . Jane Sanford has extended her gracious invitation to Founder's Day dance to a certain boy named Joe, and for whom others still have affections . . . and such results with Pan Hels just around the corner.

We wonder how long Ruby Trice's wardrobe will last? Going out so often makes it revolve quite fast; so says that young lady.

Congratulations to the Chemistry Glamour Girls, their officers, charter members, and adviser. We wish them a huge success. Members will be made formally public at a future date. Regrets are in order that we could not obtain their picture for this issue.

Seeing and being seen in the reception room to Senior Parlor, were Misses Lula Windham and Sara Keesee.

Personally, we can't wait to see what Rounder's day will bring forth with Pierpont taking Billy Russell and Mooch with J. B. Jackson.

You can't beat the Hutchinson gal for originality . . . you heard about Pancake receiving hair-restorer during the play.

A list of suitable theme songs: Marion Worsham, "I Wonder Who Spry's Kissing Now" . . . May Winn. "Love Has Really Got Me in a Spot" . . . Liggie, "Love is the Sweetest Thing" . . Pat and Esther, "I Love to Walk with Billy" . . Moss "In Love with the Honorable Mr. So and So" . . . Painter, "This is my Last Affair" . . . May Werts, "V. M. I. Spirit" . . . Boo Barham, "Tech Triumph" . . . Hattie Cantrell. "Love is Calling Me" . . . Sara Cline, "Day In, Day Out" . . . typical of Wentz, "Tuxedo Johnson" . . . Blanche Carper, "Oh Johnny" . . . Cottie, "When Bobby Comes Marching Home . . . Lena Butterworth, "The Little Man Who Wasn't There" . . . Elaine Ross, "Sophisticated Lady" . . . Anne Williams, "Careless" . . . Pat Gibson, "Skeleton in the Closet" . . . Allene Overbey, "All the Things You Are" . . . Frances Mallory, "In the Mood" . . . Jean Hatton, "Flowers for Madame" . . Mary Gray Thompson, "I Wanna Be Happy".

Watch out, Bill Stone, chemicals are often explosives.

Betty May Ayers' spreading "around the rec" Sunday night . . . Ask Betty Sexton about the jokes she tells . . . What's the matter, Dolly D? Are you afraid you'd be snaking or could it be that you just are interested in Sugar . . . It seems that Marty Roberts made some mistake about Porter Richmond Sunday . . . Polly Hughes has asked Craig Burks to Rounders' Day dance—is she trying to snake or just irking Dozzie? And that ain't all, because Boo was going to ask Mr. Burks, too. Guess she changed her mind . . Wentz is taking John Dennis to the dance Saturday night.

Jo. Hattie's mummy — really can't be beat when it comes to bull sessions and bridge.

Polly Keller sent Barney some candy made by her own hands—We, too, hope he has a sense of humor! . . . Wonder why Mary Lou has suddenly lost interest in Jimmy Dodson. Is it Zeke or something more!

After Jean broke down and asked Sonny down, V. P. I. had to go and have exams. Tish! Better luck next time.

We'd like to know why everyone calls Dotty "Shug" after "St. Louis". Incidentally we hear that they order champagne out there by the gallon! My, my. The wild and wooly west.

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

Aid to Finland—

Last week after much discussion, Congress passed a bill appropriating one hundred million dollars to the Export-Import Bank stating specifically that twenty million of the sum will be "lent" to Finland and the same amount to China.

So dubious were the members of Congress about the "rightness" of this "loan" that they refused to have the vote recorded in the customary manner. They "yea-ed" the bill with a standing vote, thus doing away with the danger of a check up by the good folks back home when the next election comes around.

The "loan" is to be "non-military" and is to be in addition to the ten million made available to Finland last December.

Since the chief aim of all fighting people ultimately is to see who can starve the other side first, we do not see how anybody can call food supplies "non-military". To our way of thinking, beans are just as important as bullets in any man's war.

Giddy Minds—

Any person who is brazen enough to call the United States neutral now is either grossly ignorant or an outright liar.

American has a very bad habit. The habit of defending the underdog. Italy is wiser than we. She waits to see which side stands the better chance of winning and then she offers to help that side. Well, why not?

We agree with Thomas Lomax Hunter who says "Lending money to Finland is like giving hay to a dead horse. Finland's cause is a lost one. How will the fine little country ever manage to pay her debts under Russia's rule? After the war ends, unless some sort of miracle happens, Finland will be a part of Russia. Russia has not been granted a "loan" and we can rest assured that she will see no reason for paying for the beans that fed the men that killed her men that made it harder for Russia to win.

It's nice to give to others if you have everything you need for yourself. But the United States doesn't! Twenty million could do a lot towards improving the housing conditions in America both in rural and urban sections, one of the most pathetic of pathetic situations in our nation. Let no man say we went into this with our eyes closed—But are we going to be Indian Givers?

Well, Well, Mr. Welles—

Sumner Welles and Mr. Hitler got together Saturday for a little "mystery chat". About all we are able to learn about the chat is that it lasted one hour and a half and that Mr. Welles was received in all good fashion.

Welles had talked earlier in the week with Mussolini. From Berlin he will go to Paris and then to London.

It is assumed that Welles had gone on a "peace mission" and that he is there to find out just what hope there is for peace and when. It has also been rumored that he is there to discuss our trade relations with those countries.

Whatever Mr. Welles brings back will probably have a lot to do with the stand Mr. Roosevelt will take on the T. T. come July.

Is any nation in the world strong enough to assume the responsibility that peace will bring—apparently we think we are. Or could our war attitudes be a little more "political" than we think they are? 1940 is the year, you know!

Classes Swim Into Deadlock

Color Teams Split First Places

Delayed several weeks by inability to get practices in, the interclass swimming meet was finally run off on Thursday, March 5—only to end in a 24-24 deadlock.

Two evenly matched teams took to the pool when the Soph-Senior and Frosh-Junior combinations got into action last night. The Red and White team came out on top in the diving, 50 yd. breast stroke and a thrilling 100 yd. free style relay while Green and White took first honors in the 50 yd. crawl, 50 yd. back and 75 yd. medley relay.

Events, contestants and results are listed below.

50 yd. back—McIlwaine 1, Dupuy 2, Turner 3.

100 yd. free style relay—Fischer, Gunter, Chaplin, Millner, 1; Pierpont, Parham, Turner, 2.

50 yd. breast—Dupuy 1, Mallory (disqualified).

75 yd. medley relay—McIlwaine, Ebel, Parham, 1; Beck, Fischer, Millner, 2.

50 yd. crawl—Parham 1, Millner 2, Pierpont 3, Edmonson, Chaplin, Gunter.

Springboard diving—Dupuy 1, Mallory 2, Pierpont 3, Hughes.

Husband one who stand by you in trouble you'd never have had if you hadn't married him.

Traditional Game

Farmville alumnae and students will witness the season's last and most anticipated basketball game at 8 o'clock on Friday night, March 8, when the varsity team will meet Madison College of Harrisonburg, Virginia, in the Farmville gym. This will be the first event of the Founder's Day celebration.

Harrisonburg and Farmville have been rivals for many years and the annual contest between the colleges is certain to provide many thrills. Last year the Madison team defeated Farmville 18-22 on their home court in a close, action filled game. Previous to this game Farmville had been the victor for several years.

Following the game a reception for the basketball teams, athletic council and physical education heads will be given in the Y. W. lounge. Farmville will be host for the Madison College girls from Thursday evening until Saturday morning.

Adams, Edmonson, Roberts, Barnette Head Class Teams

Ruby Adams, Mary Sue Edmonson, Martha Roberts and Anne Barnette have been chosen as captains of the senior, junior, sophomore and freshman class basketball teams, respectively. All of these girls are members of the this year's varsity basketball squad.

Martha and Mary Sue have captained their teams ever since entering college. The captains seem to be partial to the offensive position since all play forward. Ruby, however, can play guard also.

Frosh and Sophs Lead in Tourney

Basketball Games Enter 2nd Round

With the Freshmen and Sophomores setting the pace, the upperclassmen bowed their heads in defeat in the first round of the annual interclass basketball tourney.

Close guarding and quick passing as well as sharp shooting were main features of the Sophomore vs. Senior game in which the former were victorious 20-12. In the second game of the afternoon the Freshmen held the Juniors to a 14-10 score. After a slow first half the upperclassmen came back to give the Frosh a real fight.

The games which began on Monday, March 3, will continue until next Monday, March 10, when the final round will be played.

Lineups for the two games are listed below:

Pos.	Seniors	Sophomores
F.—Jarman		Sprinkle
F.—Keesee		Boothe
F.—Fischer		Roberts
G.—Blackwell		Johnson
G.—Clarke		Harvey
G.—Adams		Chaplin

Substitutes—Sophs: Beck

Referee, Gibson; Umpire, Gooden; Scorer, Iler; Timer, Iler.

Pos.	Juniors	Freshman
F.—Lee		Andrews
F.—Gibson		Ellet
F.—Edmonson		Carr
G.—Gooden		Hillsman
G.—Courter		Darby
G.—Webster		Price

Substitutes—Frosh: Parham

Referee, Adams; Umpire, Roberts; Scorer, Owen; Timer, Iler.

House Council Rules For Week of Exams

Marjorie Nimmo, president of the House Council has announced the following rules to be observed during exams:

There shall be no loud talking in the halls; slipping of notes under doors with busy signs; breaking of busy signs in any way; calling or running heavily down the halls; radios playing at any time during study hour.

Any violation of these rules places a student under the penalty of a call-down. One call-down means one week's campus. Campus terms will begin immediately after exams.

Anyone may give call downs, not just hall presidents. All girls are on their honor to report call downs.

Rotunda Business Staff Adds Four

Lucy Blackwell, business manager of The Rotunda, has announced four new additions to the business and circulation staff. Dorothy Childress, Mary Dearing Fauntleroy, Anne Moore and Mildred Taylor have become regular staff member after having apprenticed for an assigned period.

Commercial Club Elects New Officers

The Commercial Club, newly organized club for majors of business education, has elected its officers for next school year. Ethel Beasley will be president; Betsy Jennings, vice-president; Betty Hawkins, secretary, and Kathryn Hawthorne, treasurer.

These girls will take over their duties after initiation this spring. Mrs. J. P. Wynne, Miss Ottie Craddock, and Mr. Merle Landrum are advisors to the group.

When politician throws hat in ring, he then has nothing to talk through.

HOW TO WIN BOY-FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE STAG-LINES

By Dalea Dorothy Clix

Dear Miss Clix: Please help me decide! Two men from R..... University (near our school) have fallen in love with me. Both are Seniors, brilliant, all intellect. One, an entomologist, wants me, he says, to be "his life partner in his chosen life work"—studying the boll weevil. The other is a paleontologist, who dreams of spending his whole life in the Gobi Desert. But, Miss Clix, I love life, laughter, gaiety, dancing, sophisticated people! What shall I do?

QUANDARY

Dear Quandary: I may be wrong, but I see very little dancing and gaiety looming up for you in the Gobi Desert or the places where you catch boll weevils. Since two people—if entomologists and paleontologists are people—have fallen for you, you must have something, and I don't mean all intellect. So why not devise some "protective coloration" to make your charms visible to the mundane kind of bird you might easily ensnare? Why not try sophisticated hair-do's, a good perfume, and beautifully polished fingernails?

AND HERE'S WHAT YOU CAN DO ABOUT BEAUTIFUL NAILS

Beautiful fingernails, at last, are within the grasp of every woman, everywhere! Color them with the bewitching tones of DURA-GLOSS, the nail polish that's new, different! The color flows on with amazing smoothness, dries quickly to a brilliant, gem-hard lustre that lasts longer, resists chipping longer! Switch to DURA-GLOSS! In all fashion-right colors, DURA-GLOSS is only ten cents a bottle! At cosmetic counters everywhere.

AND NOW, DEAR, READ THE NEXT COLUMN CAREFULLY!

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

New S.T.C. Stationery

Blue Paper with white seal
Tan paper with brown seal

59c

Weyanoke Beauty Shoppe

SPECIAL!

$3.50 Duart Perms., now .. $2.50
$5.00 Oil Perms., now $3.50
Shampoo, finger wave, regular price 50c
Shampoo, finger wave and manicure 85c

PHONE 331

Hop Says

"Let DeLuxe Cleaners keep your white dresses WHITE for Founder's Day".

Phone 77 Third Street or see Perrye Smith

Rose's

5-10-25c Store
ON THE CORNER

"Welcome back to S. T. C., Grads!"

ATHLETIC GOODS
A & N STORE

COLLEGE SHOPPE

Best food in town

Try us

We Deliver Call 200

A Beautiful line of Spring
Costume Jewelry
Now on Display
We invite you to come in
Martin the Jeweler

G R A Y ' S
DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Quality—Price—Service

HOTEL WEYANOKE

Regular Meals

A La Carte Service

Salads & Sandwiches

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

Planters Bank & Trust Company

Farmville, Virginia

Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

NEWBERRY'S
5c—10c—25c
Store

Visit us

EASTER CARDS

for

Mother, Dad and Him
5c and 10c each

LYNN'S MUSIC STORE

Strings on all musical instruments

Special on ukelele strings

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

During Founder's Day make your headquarters in
SHANNON'S
Good Food Home Atmosphere

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop

"From old to new with any shoes"
Only First Class Material used
All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!

Electric Appliance Co.

Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY MEATS
AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

FOUNDER'S DAY—SAT., MARCH 9

WHITE SKIRT
WHITE SWEATERS 1.98 & 2.98

White Oxfords—and Novelty
White Pumps 2.95 & 3.95

THE HUB DEPT. STORE

APPRECIATES YOUR PATRONAGE

YOU SAY...

"How in chopsticks did Confucius know that Baldwin's is the place to shop?"

W H I T E

FOR FOUNDERS DAY

SKIRTS ..... $1.98 and $2.98

SWEATERS ..... $1.98 to $2.98

BLOUSES ..... $1.00 to $2.98

BALDWIN'S

EASTER CLEANING

Send us your evening dresses with confidence.

Our silk finisher has just completed a special course at the National Institute.

KILKARE

Launderers--Cleaners

Approaching Exams Keep Week-Enders at School

With Exams just a week off the majority of S. T. C. stayed safely and sanely in school; however, a few of our week-enders took the risk and journeyed to various places in Virginia, the biggest attraction being Richmond.

Those going were Ruby Adams, Louise Applewhite, Margaret Franklin, Ada Harris, Gene Hardy Kilmon, Emily Owen, Patsy Smith, Lucy Turnbull, and Lillian Wahab.

Petersburg rated second with Martha Mayton, Frances Pritchett, Nell Pritchett, Virginia Graves Rose, and Mary Ellen Williams.

Helen Rose Frazier, Aline Markland and Jane Waller were in Norfolk and Madge McFall, Hattie Moore, Bliss Folkes, and Ellen Royall went to Danville.

Others spending the week-end at their homes were Louise Allen, Hebron; Nancy Allen, Hebron; Irma Anderson, Keysville; Betty Barnes, Roanoke; Katherine Burge, Appomattox; Yates Carr, Charlottesville; Josephine Chelf, Culpeper; Rosa Courter, Amelia, Evelyn Greenall, Bassett; Nultie Johns, Amelia; Doris Tenard, Clarksville; Dot Mayes, Arvonia; Betty McConnell, Lynchburg.

Evelyn Pankey, Arvonia; Ruby Mae Parsons, Cullens; Estelle Paulette, South Hill; Mary Anne Pettit, Fork Union; Mary Marshall Proise, Wilson; Anne Rucker, Mattoax; Lois Shorter, Charlotte Court House; Marie Stowers, Cullen; Beverly Smith, Roanoke; and Virginia Worley, Lynchburg.

Western Convention

Continued from Page 1

night club, the Club Continental, where they learned to dance the "Boomps-a-Daisy" and the "Conga."

Next morning at the meeting, unfinished business was completed. The final luncheon and the election of officers brought the convention to a close at 3:30. As Dotty's train did not leave until late that night, she went as a sight seeing trip to the zoo, the Jefferson Memorial, the Lindberg Memorial, Forest Park, and the Arena where the Ice Follies were being held. Dotty started for home at 10:45 P. M., tired but happy, with the inevitable soot spot on her nose as a farewell token from St. Louis.

Ending the interview, she said again, "You simply can't realize how much I enjoyed it all and appreciated the opportunity of going to such a worthwhile convention. Even way out there, I felt so much at home because everyone was so cordial and because so many of them were anxious to send their regards home with me to Miss Camper and Dr. Jarman."

Publications

Continued from Page 1

composed of Frances Alvis, Johnny Lybrook and Isabel Williamson, editors of the three publications, and Mr. S. M. Holton, Mr. James Grainer and Mr. T. A. McCorkle, advisers of the three publication. Jean Watts, senior of Roanoke, presided as selected representative from the student body at large.

Ballet Dancers

Continued from Page 1

choreography clear, spare and concentrated"—and "a new cadence in contemporary dance.... and exciting program".

EACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.

Fri.-Sat., March 8-9
RONALD COLEMAN
MURIEL ANGELUS
WALTER HUSTON
"The Light that Failed"
Cartoon—Latest News

Next Mon.-Tues., Mar. 11-12
IRENE DUNNE
CHARLES BOYER
When Tomorrow Comes
Tarvelogue—News

Next Wed.-Thur. Mar. 13-14
CLARK GABLE
JOAN CRAWFORD
"STRANGE CARGO"
"Topnotch Tennis"

Mahone, Moomaw, Alvis Are Leaders

Mary Mahone, Lorana Moomaw and Frances Alvis have been chosen leaders of the Leftist or Radical group, Center, and the Rightist or Conservatives, respectively, for the new Political Set-up which is now being planned in this college.

Each of the leaders, with the help of Dr. J. E. Walmsley and Marie Eason, will choose a committee of five girls to help plan the platform for her particular party. Each party will also have a faculty adviser.

After the presentation of platforms students will sign up for their party preference. Fifteen delegates from each group will be chosen for the Little Congress.

Sorority Notes

Harriette Walker, Sudie Dunton, and Libby West entertained the members of Mu Omega at tea Sunday afternoon, March 3, in their chapter room, St. Patrick's Day was used as a theme for the occasion.

A. S. A. Banquet

The active members of Alpha Sigma Alpha will honor their pledges at a banquet in the Tea Room Friday, March 8, at 6 o'clock. Alumnae members are expected for the affair.

Pi Kap Party

Pi Kappa Sigma will entertain durnig intermession of the Founders' Day Dance, Saturday, March 9.

A. S. T. Entertained

Marguerite Costello, Martha De-C.awley, Johnny Lybrook, Bernice Copley, Helen Hoyer, Blair Goode, and Dors Chesnut were joint hostesses at an informal party for Alpha Sigma Tau.

Miss Mix Visits Here; Entertained at Dinner

Miss Grace E. Mix, formerly kindergarten supervisor, who now lives in New York City, arrived Monday, March 4, for a visit with friends in Farmville.

Last evening, March 5, she was guest of honor when the training school teachers entertained at dinner at Longwood. Other entertainments in her honor are being planned.

Founder's Day

Continued from Page 1

Moyer, Boonie Stevenson, and Esther Atkinson from the student body and Mrs. Jane Royall, Miss Virginia Bedford, Miss Olive T. Iler, Miss Grace Moran and Mr. Raymond French of the faculty.

At the Alumnae Association Business meetings, new officers for the coming year will be elected. The present nominating committee has made the following nominations: First Vice-president, Maria Bristow Starke and Harriette Woolridge Zehmer; Second Vice-president, Josephine Gleaves and Elizabeth Shipplett; Director, Nancy Johnson Bondurant and Virginia Tinsley. Miss Grace Moran's term as president does not expire until next year.

A nominating committee consisting of three members will be elected from the following nominees: Lillian Obenchain Cocks, Ruby Overton Brooks, Mildred Dickinson Davis, Louise Richardson, Elizabeth Moring Smith and Katherine Watkins. Miss Grace Moran was elected last year as president of the Alumnae Association to hold office for a period of two years. Mrs. M. B. Coyner is Executive Secretary.

Mother-in-law is puzzle ful of cross words.

FOUNDER'S DAY SPECIAL

WHITE SKIRTS 1.97 & 2.97

SWEATERS 1.97

EVENING DRESSES 9.97 up

DOROTHY MAY STORE
First to Show the Newest

SKIRTS
SHIRTS
BLOUSES

Lovely New Spring Skirts

In all the newest shades of pastel colors New Corduroy skirts, just the thing for knock-about purpose

$1.98 to $3.95

SHIRTS AND BLOUSES

To be had in both whites and colors. Fine tailored blouses and shirts to be worn with our new Man-Tailored Suits.

$1.00 and $1.98

ALSO A LARGE SELECTION OF WHITE SKIRTS AND BLOUSES

DAVIDSON'S

Farmville, Va.

VIVIAN BOSWELL, operator at the busy switchboard of Chicago's Stevens Hotel, largest in the world, takes time out to enjoy a Chesterfield

CHESTERFIELD is America's Busiest Cigarette because it's Cooler-Smoking, Better-Tasting and Definitely Milder.

Get a line on America's Busiest Cigarette

ASK FOR CHESTERFIELD
Today's Definitely Milder
COOLER-SMOKING
BETTER-TASTING CIGARETTE

Call for all the good things you want in a cigarette . . . Chesterfield has them.

COOLNESS . . . Chesterfields are Cooler
MILDNESS . . . Chesterfields are Definitely Milder
TASTE . . . Chesterfields Taste Better

In size, in shape, in the way they burn, everything about Chesterfield makes it the cigarette that satisfies. You can't buy a better cigarette.

Chesterfield

Copyright 1940 Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

CONGRATULATIONS OFFICERS

The Rotunda

A HAPPY EASTER!

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20, 1940 | NO. 21

Nelson, Moyer, Ellett, Courter are Heads

Journalistic Authority to Lecture to Rotunda Staff

Rotunda to Feature Banquet, Forum, And Reception

Dr. O. W. Reigel of the Department of Journalism at Washington and Lee University will be guest at the annual "Rotunda" banquet and later speaker of the evening at an open-forum type lecture and reception which "The Rotunda" will sponsor on Wednesday night, March 27.

The banquet for members of the entire staff will be held in the college Tea Room. At eight o'clock in the Student Lounge Dr. Reigel, brought here through arrangements of Mr. Barrye Wall, editor and publisher of the Farmville Herald and publisher of "The Rotunda", will address "The Rotunda" staff, "The Tiger" staff of Hampden-Sydney, and a few invited guests who have shown an interest in newspaper work. His talk will center around practical phases of school journalism. An open discussion will be followed by an informal reception.

Dr. Reigel is well known throughout the State as a teacher of journalism and as an enthusiastic and interesting speaker. He is a known auhority on journalism and "Rotunda" authorities announce his coming as a "real find and treat" for the staff.

Y. W. C. A. to Bring Two Speakers Here

Dr. Koo and Miss Overton Coming

Y. W. C. A. will bring two speakers of nationwide renown to the Farmville campus when Miss Grace Sloan Overton and Dr. T. Z. Koo will appear here for personal conferences and lectures. Miss Overton will arrive on Friday, April 5 and Dr. Koo on Saturday, April 6.

Miss Overton is a noted author, teacher and lecturer and was for 12 years a member of the faculty of the Missouri Wesleyan College where she taught public speaking and dramatics. She has also taught at the Chicago Training School and at the summer school of New York University, and at Columbia University. She now spends her time lecturing in colleges, at church conferences and with radio addresses.

While in Farmville Miss Overton will speak on "Personality Building" and "Men and Woman Relationships". She will give an address in chapel on Friday and again in the afternoon.

Dr. Koo first acclaimed the enthusiastic recognition of Farmville students at the Miami University, Ohio, Y. W. C. A. conference in December, 1937, which several Farmville representatives attended. Dr. Koo was one of the conference leaders. He is an authority on Chinese conditions and while in Farmville will speak on life in China and especially in regard to the work of Chinese students.

Martha Whelchel, present chairman of the World Fellowship Committee, is arranging for the speakers.

Founders Day Fete Acclaimed Success

Full Program Is Attended by Over Hundred Alumnae

By BERNICE COPLEY

The saying has been going around campus that Founders Day this year was the best one in the long history of Farmville State Teachers College. May we add that it is a rumor that bears sufficient evidence to support it.

The clash—and truly it was a spirited clash—between our girls and Madison College on Friday night, March 8, started the series of events with a bang. The entire game was significant for the sportsmanship shown by the players on both sides. Enthusiasm soared. The gym, filled with the largest crowd in years, fairly shook with excitement. Loss of the game to our opponents caused no less spontaniety and no fewer yells.

Presentation of gifts in the auditorium on the morning of March 9 was carried out in a somewhat different manner, and the effectiveness of such a program can be undisputed. Besides beautiful scenery which so well depicted the Rotunda entrance with its tall stately columns and Joan of Arc resting complacently and undisturbed in the center, here was soft music which carried out the true spirit of good will and generosity. The solemnity and the spirit pervading the entire program was one that caused awed silence and one that will stay for a long time in the minds of those who were present.

The afternoon of Founders Day was concerned with the alumnae luncheon at Longwood. The business session also took place at this time. Later in the afternoon

Continued on Page 3

Purdum Reelected Senior President

Other Officers Are Also Re-elected

Ruth Lea Purdum, Danville, Esther Atkinson, Hampden-Sydney, Betty Fahr, Richmond, Boonie Stevenson, Richmond, were relected president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, respectively, of the incoming Senior class at the class meeting held last night, March 19.

Martha Wheichel, of Hampton, and Helen Seward, of Petersburg, were also reelected to their posts on Student Standards Committee. Martha was this years secretary of Student Standards.

Marian Heard, of Danville, for two years government representative will also again act in this capacity. Patsy Fletcher of Warrenon will fill the government occupancy of Jean Moyer who as new president of Y. W. will automatically be on government.

Mr. Raymond French, teacher of chemistry, is classman for the class of '41.

Moyer, Whelchel, Turnbull, Overbey Are Y. W. Officers

Rosebro and Ebel Lead Commissions For Coming Year

Jean Moyer, President of Alpha Phi Sigma, was elected to succeed Dorothy Eades as President of the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday, March 12.

Martha Whelchel, a junior; Lucy Turnbull, a sophomore; and Allene Overbey, a sophomore, were selected by vote of the Student Body for vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the Y. W. C. A., respectively.

Jean serves as chairman of the Church Cooperative Committee of the Y. W. C. A. and represented the Junior class on Student Government. She is also vice-president of Kappa Delta Pi and has been treasurer of the Granddaughter's Club for two years.

Martha was on the Freshman Commission her freshman year, and chairman of the World Fellowship committee her junior year. She has served as secretary of Student Standards this year.

Lucy was a member of the Freshman and Sophomore Commissions, and counselor to the Freshman Commission this year.

Allene was also a member of both commissions. She was assistant literary editor of the Colonnade and will edit this publication next year.

Frances Rosebro, who was a member of both Commissions, and head of the Sophomore Commission this year, was elected counselor to the incoming Sophomore Commission.

Ellen Ebel, head of Freshman Commission this year, will act as Counselor to next year's Freshman Commission.

Retiring Y. W. C. A. officers are Dorothy Eades, president; Helen Reiff, vice-president; Ollie Graham Gilchrist, secretary; and Eliza Wise, treasurer.

Betsy Jennings Heads Sophomores

Boutchard Pilkinton On Government

Betsy Jennings, from Roanoke, Virginia, was elected president of the incoming Sophomore class Tuesday night, March 19. Betsy served as president of her class this past year. She is a member of the Junior A'Capella Choir, Senior Choir, intermediate quartet and is vice-president of the Commercial Club.

Eliza McDaniel, from Lynchburg, Virginia, was elected as vice-president. Eliza was a member of this year's Freshman Commission.

Lillian Agnew will again serve as secretary of the class. Lillian was recently elected Campus League Chairman.

Charlotte Phillips was reelected treasurer. During the past year, Charlotte was a member of the Junior annual staff.

Government representatives are Betty Boutchard and Ella Marsh Pilkinton. Betty served as government representative last year. Ella Marsh was assistant manager of hockey.

Rosalie Rogers and Helen Lewis were reelected as representatives to Student Standards.

(Above) Caralie Nelson, president of student body, and Jean Moyer, president of Y. W. C. A.; (below): "Liggie" Ellett, president of House Council, and Rosa Courter, president of Athletic Association.

Ellett Elected To House Council

Wentz Is Vice-Pres.; Engleby Is Secty.

Frances "Liggie" Ellett of Roanoke was elected president of the House Council on Tuesday, March 12. She will succeed Marjorie Nimmo. "Liggie" served this year as vice-president of the House Council. She is head of the Chapel Committee and is assistant editor of the Virginian for this year.

Helen Wentz of Danville succeeds Frances Ellett as vice-president. Helen served as chairman of "Sing" this year and she directed the Sophomore production.

Jane Engleby of Roanoke fills Esther Atkinson's position as secretary. Jane is a member of the Sophomore Commission, and is treasurer of the Sophomore Class.

It is the duty of the House Council to form and enforce dormitory rules.

Courter Is New A. A. President

Borden, Roberts, Johnson Officers

Rosa Courter, incoming senior, Crews Borden, incoming senior, Martha Roberts, sophomore, and Dorothy Johnson, sophomore, were elected president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, respectively, of the Athletic Association for the coming year in student body elections held last week.

Rosa Courter, of Amelia, Virginia, has been an active member in the A. A. of which she served as treasurer this year. She is a member of varsity basketball team, a member of the Home Economics Club, and was recently tapped into Alpha Kappa Gamma. She headed the recent Junior class production.

Continued on Page 4

Former Kindergarten Head Relates New York Experiences

By MARGARET WRIGHT

"Typewriting is lots of fun," Miss Grace E. Mix who is visiting in Farmville and was formerly supervisor of the Training School Kindergarten, began when interviewed Thursday, March 14.

"You've no idea," Miss Mix continued, "what a difference it makes in your writing to see it in cold print." Miss Mix, who is now residing in New York City, has just completed a course in writing at the New York University—There was no examination required for the course I chose," she added with a meaning twinkle in her eyes. Short stories, including stories for children, essays, and reviews were some of the types of writing she did for the course.

When asked how she liked living in New York, Miss Mix replied that she missed knowing everyone. "Why the only one in my apartment house I know is the elevator boy," she lamented. "But there's always something to see and do in New York.

"New York is noisy," she went on, but you get used to it, except for Saturday nights—and Sundays are so quiet you can hardly believe you're in New York."

Miss Mix continued by saying that once a week she worked at a thrift shop. Wealthy people donate articles to be sold. The profit is used for the New York Kindergarten Association. We sell jewelry, glassware, china, shoes, dresses, hats—in fact everything except false teeth—", commented Miss Mix. "It's fascinating to see the different types of people come in."

She went on to say that on one occasion something quite unusual for New York occurred. A band of gypsies came into the shop with colored shawls, no hats, long ear rings and jewelry. They finagered everything and bought one or two trinkets.

Continued on Page 6

Nelson, Barham, Eason and Naff Government Heads

Lillian Agnew Will Act As Chairman Of Campus League

Caralie Nelson from South Boston was elected president of the Student Body in the major elections held Tuesday, March 12. Caralie succeeds Marie Eason.

Alice Leigh Barham from Portsmouth succeeds Martha Meade Hardaway as vice-president; Caroline Eason from Richmond fills Caralie's position as secretary; and Nancy Naff from Roanoke succeeds Alice Leigh as treasurer; Lillian Agnew from Burkeville is the new Campus League Chairman succeeding Caroline.

Caralie has been on the council since her freshman year and this year she served as secretary. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, Kappa Delta Pi, Sigma Pi Rho, and the Debate Club. She was Sophomore Counselor of the Y. W. C. A. this year.

Alice Leigh ("Boo") was Chairman of the Campus League her sophomore year and has been treasurer of the Student Council this year. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Rotunda staff, and the Cotillion Club.

Caroline, a sophomore, completed her office as Campus League Chairman this year, and she was a class representative to Student Government her freshman year. She is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Cotillion Club, and Student Standards, and is a literary editor on The Virginian staff.

Nancy Naff, a sophomore, has been class representative to Student Government for two years. She is a member of the Rotunda staff and Cotillion Club.

Lillian is a freshman who has been outstanding in the activities of her class of which she is secretary.

Dodson to Again Head Class of '42

Wood and Kilmon Are on Government

Mary Katherine Dodson, of Norfolk, was reelected president of the incoming Junior class at a meeting of the class Tuesday night, March 19, in the little auditorium.

Martha Roberts, from Norton, was elected vice-president. Nancy Dupuy, of Greensboro, N. C., and Jane Engleby, of Roanoke, will continue in their offices of secretary and treasurer.

Ellen Royall, of Tazewell, and Frances Rosebro, of Roanoke, will represent the class on Student Standards.

Government representatives of the class will be Norma Wood, of Richmond, and Gene Hardy Kilmon of Eastern Shore.

Miss Jane Royall was again chosen classman.

Holiday Schedule

Easter holidays will begin at 11 o'clock tomorrow, March 21, and last until Tuesday, March 26. Classes will be resumed at 8:15 o'clock on Tuesday morning and absence excuses will not be accepted. Those making any changes in plans or their holiday destinations are requested to leave word in the home office.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Published weekly by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia nine months a year

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO · BOSTON · LOS ANGELES · SAN FRANCISCO

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Frances Alvis
Business Manager ..... Lucy Blackwell

Associate Editors

News Editor ..... Helen Jeffries
News Assistant ..... Margaret Wright
Feature Editor ..... Bernice Copley
Feature Assistant ..... Dorothy Rollins
Sports Editor ..... Patricia Gibson
Sports Assistant ..... Alice Leigh Barham
Social Editor ..... Elizabeth West
Columnist ..... Johnny Lybrook

Reporting Staff

Louise Allen, Mary Klare Beck, Evelyn Burford, Mildred Callis, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Susie Pearl Crocker, Sudie Dunton, Mary Sue Edmondson, Anna Johnson, Ernestine Meacham, Mary Walker Mitchell, Agnes Pickral, and Janelle Shelor.

Jean Watts, Mary Louise Cunningham, Caroline Ford, Mariam Jester, Shirley McCalley, Nancy Naff, Sarah Cline, Gerry Ackiss, Bridget Gentile, Elizabeth Rapp, Evelyn Thorington, Dot Sprinkle, Amy Read.

Business Staff

Assistant Business Manager ..... Josa Carlton
Circulation Manager ..... Mary Sue Simmons
Assistants—Marie Allen, Anne Benton, Dorothy Childress, Mary Catherine Dodson, Texie Belle Felts, Jeannette Ferguson, Dearing Fauntleroy, Lillian German, Anne Moore, and Mildred Taylor.

Typists

Chief Typist ..... Doris Chesnut
Typists: Frances Pritchett, Lorraine Swingle, Jean Watts, Norma Wood, Mildred Ligon, Virginia Rudd Jean Upshur, and Thelma Courtney.
Photographer ..... Virginia Worley

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20, 1940

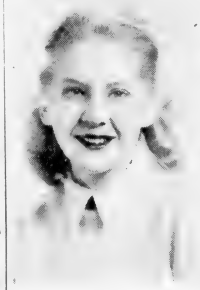
With Regrets—The Editors

Our last "Rotunda"! Truly do we say this with real regret at our last chance to serve Farmville in the official capacity of "Rotunda" work. Each week's edition has meant to us a new and interesting experiment. Each edition has been a challenge to better serve the students and faculty with a better paper.

We look with few regrets on our harrassed moments of fatigue and chagrin at the inevitable disappointments that occur in any work. They have proved to us points which will be all the more helpful to us.

We have endeavored to give you an enjoyable "Rotunda", a school paper of which you would be proud. We speak for the entire staff in expressing appreciation to the faculty, administration, and student body for their cooperation and for ourselves in saying that having served in these positions has made our college life richer and happier.

Frances Alvis, Editor
Lucy Blackwell, Business Manager



To Our New Officers

Congratulations, new officers! These words ring sincere and true from the hearts of the Farmville student body who have elected you to your position. By your work thus far you have proven your ability and interest in our college.

To the out-going officers goes the deep appreciation for their service to the school and for the standards they have built and upheld. Their work is a challenge to their successors and to the students of Farmville.

The student body takes pride in pledging, as always, their loyalty and fellowship for the coming year.

SENIOR PERSONALITY

MARIE EASON

A frankness and sincere honesty of expression and purpose might well be used to characterize our out-going student body president. Usually calm and at intervals delightfully carefree or seriously interested in her task at hand, Marie Eason has the amazing faculty for putting people almost immediately at ease. She has been described as "delightfully folksy and Southern".

As representative to Student Government for three years Marie has served her fourth year in the position of president. She has given her efforts and interests toward cooperating our student body. Her work in Y. W. C. A. has too, been marked. Her favorite outside activity is horseback riding.

Marie's talents lie largely with working with people, so she has chosen the teaching of primary children as her profession. However, we suspect that not so many years will see her working with people of most varied interests and ages—perhaps in a parish. The rumor is that she has "always desired to be a minister's wife."

Traits of character are always hard to put in words. Such characteristics are too inanimate and indescribable. We thus sum up and present to you Marie Eason in what seems to cover and include all—just plain genuine.

Borrowed Bits

Courtesy of COCK

There was a man who fancied
That by driving good and fast
He'd get his car across the track
Before the train came past;
He'd miss the engine by an inch
And make the train hands sore
There was a man who fancied this;
—There isn't any more.

Mother (who is teaching her child the alphabet): "Now, dear ie, what comes after "g"?
The Child: "Whiz!"

—Judge

A party of tourists were looking at Vesuvius in full eruption. "Ain't this just like Hell!" exclaimed an American.
"Ah, the Americans," said a Frenchman standing by. "Where have they not been?"

"Hello, old top. New car?"
"No! Old car. New top."

Prof.: "A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer."
Stude: "No wonder so many of us flunk in our exams!"

Waiter: "And wil you take the macaroni au gratin, sir?"
Officer: "No macaroni—by gad! It's too doocid difficult to mobilize."

Echoes from an Empty Space

"Spring has came
Winter has went
Which ain't not
No accident."

Thus comes the appearance of said unaccidental occurrence, meaning gobs and gobs of nice fresh dirt. Out of the limelight for several weeks, staging a brilliant comeback are Cossie and Bobbie Schultz as into the melting pot goes their budding romance. Could Cossie's old flame Eason have a part in this? . . . Springtime always means new romances and this Spring has been no exception to the rule—as proven by Virgil May and Jennie Noel, and Elizabeth Williams and Les Andrews; . . . Bro. Waters unable to make a personal appearance sent his "right hand man" to keep tab on Jeanne . . .

Flash! Glamor Girl Betty Fahr received a double setback last week-end when after "allowing" Buck to take another date to Pan Hels Friday night, he did a neat job of turning the tables and took another date (not Betty) on Saturday night . . . Les Dillard and Spryе have got us guessing again. Les turned up with Marion Saturday eve—'S'matter, Les, aren' things as Spryе as they used to was . . . Round the campus we go observing to find . . . Nan Duer linked up with Dr. Dudley . . . Going professional, deah? . . . Elizabeth Warner minus Red for one week-end . . . Betty Baldwin: quite the V. P. I. way . . . Sarah Currie back on the swing of things to the rhythm of Bob Riley's orchestra . . . Homer Hatton paying his compliments to the Madam . . . Billy Spong missing a certain article of jewelry—namely, a PiKA pin. Try Sweet Briar, son, or perhaps Pat Whitlock could help you locate it . . . Roberta Griggs highly elated over Bobby Radspinner and his prolonged visit at Farmville . . . Sara Keesee taking Alex and Pan Hels by storm on Friday night but making a non-stop flight to Annapolis and O. A. O. on Saturday . . .

"Did you know" that . . . Kay Phillips' ardent admirer and frequent visitor incidentally enjoys Sunday afternoon hiking . . . Ed Kilby and Helen Gray found William and Mary much more exciting than Pan Hels . . . Cab Winslow departs from S. T. C., and Jean Shuikcum for time indefinite . . . Gussie Parks believes in keeping things in the family and especially Henry Wiseman Dateless at Pan-Hels was Tynes. He likes to be alone . . .

Campus Highlights . . . Orchids this week go to Marion Mitchell whose charm and wit kept coo-coo and ten other Kappa Sigs spellbound Sunday afternoon . . . Dodie MacKenzie finds time to journey to the V. M. I. hops but why is it that V. M. I never finds time to journey to S. T. C.? He seems to find plenty of time for Randolph-Macon and we don't mean men's college. Three Lambda Chi Alphas got together. The result was two standups in one afternoon . . . Saturday night about 10:05 found the Lloyd child in tears. Sunday night, same time, same child, smiles. . . . We wonder? . . . Who is this young man Caroline Eason gets all a-dither over of a Saturday afternoon?

Dot Smith's last bridge game proved fatal. F'instance, the bruise on her right shin. Moral: Don't trump your partner's ace! . . . Flash! Still waiting for her interview by the Rotunda staff is patient Anne Ayres with full details about her great Western journey last summer . . . Seen up and around Farmville . . . Nancy Wolfe renewing acquaintances with Lyle Graham . . . Ruth Moyer saying goodbye to Speedy with tear-streaked face . . . Polly Keller linked with Barney of "Dear old U. Va." . . . Peggy happily munching buns with Billy at Longwood . . . Buckeye and Cleo Jarman . . . Ethel Jest, Randolph-Macon, and Blue Convertibles. Sara Carter sporting an imitation diamond or was it? . . . Anne Williams and Harry Dinwiddie.

To the newly elected officers we offer our heartiest congrats and to all—the happiest of Easter holidays.

Confucius Still Say

"Confucius say . . . please let humble philosopher rest in peace."

Yes, that's what the ancient Chinese sage would probably say now, had he the power of speech. Jokes, of the parlor, dormitory, and barracks variety, have recently been attributed to the wise old seer.

Confucius has been the inspiration for the latest club to be organized on the Louisiana State University campus. A group of coeds living in the freshman women's dormitory recently organized a "Confucius Say" Club. They hold meetings every night at which time they gather for a "Chinese bull-session". According to the girls, the only qualification for admission is a good clean, "Confucius say" pun or joke.

Confucius, according to Marye Hicks, of Louise Garig Hall, said, "change your mind often, good way to keep it clean."

Alice "Skip" Jordan is of the opinion that old Confucius was a past master of the art of "dancing" and attributes this punny expression to him . . . "Jitterbug who come in house with ice skates on, cuts a rug!"

Shirley Leche, another Confucius addict, says, "Man who sling mud is losing ground."

Another admirer of the long deceased Chinese philosopher, Necia Garmany, says, "If girl wants to get chap off lips, slap his face."

Ping Sheng Liu, better known as "Patsy" to her associates in the freshman women's dormitory, contributes the old bonafide Confucius adage, "What you do not like when done to yourself do not do to others." Confucius, said she, "gave the rule in a negative form to give force to a positive statement."

Platter Chatter

(On the Records)

Tommy Dorsey's vocalist, Frank Sinatra, has just finished making "The Sky Fell Down" with the Dorsey band. Tommy has had this selection arranged in a medium sweet-swing time and plays the opening chorus as a muted trombone solo. "The Sky Fell Down" is backed by an oldie written by Walt Donaldson and Abe Lyman. "After I Say I'm Sorry" was a tremendous hit a few years ago, and already shows signs of new life. Dorsey's rendition of this tune is strictly swing rein with The Pied Pipers performing the vocal.

Larry Clinton couples a hit tune from "Two For the Show" with an original on his record for the week. Terry Allen lends a golden note to "How High the Moon" which, it is safe to predict, will soon be one of the season's most popular tunes. "Bread and Butter" is a typical Larry Clinton instrumental selection taken at a medium swing. Dick Todd has recorded a class "A" love song—"With the Wind and the Rain in Your Hair". The melody is great and the lyrics are outstanding. "A Tiny Old Town" is taking its place with the leaders also.

Glenn Miller contrasts a medium sweet-swing ballad with a fast swing song on this week's disc. "Imagination" brings Ray Eberle to the "mike" while "Say Si Si" features Marion Hutton as vocalist. The arrangement of each number bears the usual Miller polish with the distinctive sax section accented in the first selection and a powerhouse ensemble in the second.

Tommy Dorsey's "Lonesome Road" is another two-sided swing classic. It is taken in a medium swing with solos from all the lead men together with some outstanding section work by the saxes and trombones. The last ensemble chorus or choruses is a thrilling example of modern dance band arranging.

Little Johnny: "Dad, There's a girl at our school whom we call Postscript."
Dad: "Postscript? What do you call her Postscript for?"
Little Johnny: "'Cause her name is Adeline Moore."

Grandmother — "Johnny, I wouldn't slide down those stairs!"
Little Boy—"Wouldn't! Gosh, you couldn't!"

Gleanings

by

JOHNNY LYBROOK

The Finn's Loss

The sacrifice at which the Finns laid down their arms last week was great. The demands of Russia as a price for peace were even greater than the demands she made last November 30. Finland could do nothing but accept them.

The Soviet sliced off two large land areas and secured a thirty-year lease on the naval base of Hanko. Included in one area is the entire Karelian Isthmus, the shores of Lake Ladoga and the territory northeast of the lake up to Suojarvi. Also in the territory is the city of Viipuri. In the second territory which is in the northeast the town of Kulojarvi was included. Through this section the Finns must build a railroad which will connect Russia with the northern tip of the Gulf of Bothnia.

The only concession made by the Soviet was the removal of the Red troops from the Petsamo region.

A Noble Fight

Finland was doomed at the beginning of the war, doomed from the standpoint of size. Finland had neither the raw materials nor the men with which to meet the army of the greatest nation in the world. No one believed the fighting would be more than three weeks—we expected Russia to walk right over and take the whole country but we missed our guess.

The Soviet army was exposed to the world as highly inefficient and lacking in military leadership which is no doubt a result of the many purges in recent years. Finland fought like a Trojan. She was efficient and accurate. The rest of the civilized world applauded her. But it takes more than applause to win a fight.

If the other Oslo countries would have let armed troops pass over their country to Finland and if that aid had been offered before negotiations for peace were already underway Finland could have held her own for several months and probably won her point, though such a thing is doubtful.

Mannerheim says his army is not defeated. Such a spirit is characteristic of the Finnish people. They have a seriousness of purpose and a kind of determination unlike any we have known. Already reconstruction has begun. Finland lost much in men and land. Over 450,000 persons evacuated from the ceded area are homeless.

Finland realized that she is too small to be a nation and seeks to join in an alliance with Norway and Sweden for protection against further invasion.

The Hot Spot

Now that the great bear has had his Finnish appetizer, he will probably decide that he'll just take the whole meal while he's about it. It has been the habit heretofore for Mr. Stalin's mighty force to sneak in back doors and steal away with the "goods" while the western powers thump loudly at the front. This being the case coupled with the desire of the Soviet to regain her lost territory her next step, will undoubtedly be Bessarabia.

Germany fears this too as well as England. Germany has already asked her "good friend" to please respect the neutrality of Rumania. At the same time Germany is demanding that Rumania send all her exports to her. Its a funny world. Whatever "we" do is all right but let somebody else start doing it and we turn the words.

Eason and Nelson Will Attend Meet At Rome, Ga.

Marie Eason Will Lead a Discussion

Marie Eason and Caralle Nelson will attend the twenty-fifth annual Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Government to be held this year at Shorter College, Rome, Georgia, March 25-27. It has been the custom for the incoming and outgoing student government presidents to be delegates.

The theme of the convention is "Development of Individual Political Ethics" and discussions, one of which Marie is leader, will center around the influence and method of good leadership, new frontiers of student government, importance of developing social ethics and stimulation of interest. College handbooks will be on display.

Dr. John S. Bradway, director of the Legal Aid Clinic at Duke University will speak on "Parliamentary Law" and Mr. Guy Hickok, foreign correspondent, author and news reporter will talk on "World Events and Students' Relations to Them."

Marie and Kitty Roberts attended the convention last year at Winston-Salem, N. C., at which time the theme was "Democracy."

Only convict likes to be stopped in middle of sentence.

Spring Cotillion Is Tentatively Set For Middle of May

The date for Spring Cotillion, as usual a tea dance and formal at night, has been postponed from April 13 to a later date when an orchestra can be secured. The orchestra and date will be definitely decided on by the music committee and officers of the club. It is tentatively set now, however, for the middle part of May.

Each old member will receive three tickets, a date ticket, one for an outside guest and one for herself. Members taken in last fall will be entitled to date tickets. Those taken in since fall Cotillion will get only a stag ticket.

Gamma Psi will decorate for the dance.

Elementary Principals In Conference Here

Elementary school principals met here March 14-16 to discuss problems in their phase of education.

Nearly seventy representatives from the larger elementary schools of the state were present. The conference was divided into three main committees which reported on administration, supervision, subject matter, and teacher preparation in the elementary schools, and plans for future conferences.

Many of these representatives were supervising principals whose observations brought out the topics for discussions and reports.

To get ahead in world one must be born with one.

Spring Concert Will Be Held March 29

Duke University Glee Club which will appear here on March 27 in S. T. C. Spring Concert

If you want to remember things, tie a string around your finger. If you want to forget things, tie a rope around your neck.

If you're in doubt whether to kiss a pretty girl, give her the benefit of the doubt.—Carlyle.

Education-- Chinese Way

Do you think you're having a hard time with College? If you do, try getting your education the Chinese way.

According to a writer in the Columbia University Spectator, you start off by cutting your food allowance down to 15c a week—including all meals. For shelter you can spend 5c a week, if you can't find anything cheaper, but you must plan your budget so you don't spend more than $10 in a year, for your entire support; food, clothing, shelter, and books. Dorms hold 30 to a room.

Classes start at 6:30 A. M. That is so that they'll'll be over by ten when "Japanese visitors" are likely to begin arriving. When that happens you run to a nearby cave, if your campus is lucky enough to have a cave, and classes, if unfinished, continue in there until the bombs stop falling.

Books and college equipment are very little bother. Most of such material was destroyed in the eastern universities. Since then the remainder of your college has traveled about three thousand miles on foot and set itself up in a few old farmhouses in the west. Here, the information comes out of the professor's knowledge, and a few notes and books that were light enough to carry. For recreation you can take turns with your thousand colleagues, playing with the one basketball.

High School Student Teachers Announced

Student teachers for the spring quarter at the Farmville High school are: Math, Margaret Ward, Agnes Buchanan, Betty Webb, Louise Applewhite; English, Bernice Copley, Mildred Owen, Marion Shelton, Lorraine Swingle; History and Civics, Elizabeth Scales, Bernice Copley, Lucy Blackwell, Ellen Bowen, Marion Shelton, Sudie Dunton; Science, Virginia L. Smith, Anne Billups, Frances Dudley, Agnes Sale; French, Elizabeth Garrette; Latin, Judith Marshall.

The men have been waiting for a statement like this for a long time, but they never believed it would be made. When a man was reported to have entered a University of Pennsylvania women's dormitory, that institution's dean of women allayed the fears of gals and cops with the following: "The man had more to fear than the girls—because 150 women are their own protection."

If all the bottles of Coca-Cola consumed by the American people in one year were stacked beside the Empire State building, lots of people would cut their feet.

Moomaw to Attend Nat'l Convention

Pi Kappa Delta Will Meet in Knoxville

Lorana Moomaw, president of the Virginia Alpha chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, will leave Sunday, March 24, to attend the national Pi Kappa Delta convention in Knoxville, Tenn., March 24-30.

Lorana will represent the South Atlantic province as a national delegate in the Student Assembly, and will represent Farmville as an extemporaneous speaker on the national extemporaneous topic — "Democracy."

Plans, still tentative, are also being made to send a debating team, who will uphold both the affirmative and negative side of the national Pi Kappa Delta question, Resolved: That the United States should follow a Policy of Strict Isolation (Economic and Military) Toward All Nations Outside the Western Hemisphere, Engaged in Armed International or Civil Conflict."

Farmville has been much represented in national forensic circles and tourneys. Two years ago Pattie Bounds and Lorana Moomaw attended this same conference in Topeka, Kansas and were made representatives of the Convention Senate. Several weeks ago Farmville delegates attended the South-Atlantic Forensic Tourney at Lenoir Rhyne College, Hickory, S. C., where they won mentionable honors.

Founder's Day

Continued from Page 1

the Granddaughter's Tea was given in the Home Economics house. Presentation of the gym classes was given for the further entertainment of the alumnae.

Hans Wiener and Erika Thimey added another to their already long list of pleased audiences. "Pleased" is a mild term to use in describing the response. The beautiful costumes and the skill with which the various moods of the interpretive dances were presented were something at which to marvel. Indeed, the ballet was a glorious success, and one that we shall welcome again to our campus.

Culminating the events of Founders Day were the two dances in the "rec" and gym. The large number of alumnae returning for the ocasion were offered another chance to meet again those "old friends" and enjoy the beauty of soft lights and sweet music.

We can say again that this truly was the rounderest Founders Day in the history of such celebrations. Welcoming the alumnae back to our campus and joining in with the excited round of events was a pleasure which we shall look back upon in future days, and look forward to repeating again with the same vim and vigor next year.

Duke, U. of N. C., S. T. C. Clubs Will Combine for Event

Reception, Dance Are Social Phases Of Annual Event

With the presentation of its annual Spring Concert to be given in the large auditorium at 8 o'clock on Friday, March 29, the S. T. C. Choir and Choral groups will introduce to the campus two out-of-state men's glee clubs of Duke University and the University of North Carolina. These groups together with the Choir, A'Cappella Choir, and Choral Club will render the "Holy City" by Alfred R. Gaul and also individual group members.

Co-Directed

To be given under the co-direction of Mr. J. Foster Barnes, Duke University, and Mr. Alfred H. Strick, S. T. C., the concert will feature as soloists, Miss Irene Leake, soprano; Miss Frances Houck, mezzo-soprano; Miss Elsie Lee Carter, contralto; Mr. John Tonas, tenor, University of N. C. Glee Club, and Dr. Luther a Richthe occasion will be Mrs. Frank Wendt, violin; Paul Cartwright, cello; Phillip Galati, viola; and George Abeloff, bass.

Part I

Part I of the two-part program will be opened by the A'Cappella Choir of the college, singing "April is in my Mistress' Face" and "The Old Woman and the Peddler", both compositions by Morley. Duke's Glee Club will follow with a group of three pieces including "Pilgrim's Song" by Tschaikowsky and Riegger, "God of the Open Air" by Noble Cain, and "Sweethearts" from "Sweethearts" by Victor Herbert and Marlowe. Two selections by Beethoven, "The Prisoner's Chorus" from "Fidelio" and "Song of Farewell", together with "Dedication", a joint composition by Schumann and Scherer, will comprise the offering of the University of North Carolina Glee Club. Concluding the first part, the A'Cappella Choirs of S. T. C. will sing Bach's "Jehovah, I Would Sing Thy Praise" and Randall Thompson's "Perri Hebraeorum", followed by the College Choir singing "God of all Nature" by Tschaikowsky.

Part II

The second part will be made up of selections from Alfred R. Saul's "Holy City", a musical contata which will feature the combined musical groups of all three colleges and the soloists.

Reception and Dance

Farmville, as host of the event, will entertain at a reception for the visitors to be given in the Student Lounge on Friday afternoon following the renearsal. Students of the Home Economics club will be in charge. Again following the concert a dance will be given in the gymnasium.

Tickets at an admission price of 50c including admission to the concert and dance are now being sold by members of the choir and choral clubs. Tickets will go on reserve previous to the concert.

Committee heads now in charge of arangements include Virginia Richards, tickets; Alfreda Strick, publicity; Frances Alvis, reception; Mr. Raspberry, decorations. Jane Hardy and Elsye Berrye Yates are presidents of the Choir and Choral Club, respectively.

Last year the University of Virginia choral group was here and at Christmas time the Washington and Lee Glee Club sang at Farmville.

FOOT ACCESSORIES

that "Sing of Spring"

MEXICAN HUARACHES
Hand Made in Both White and Natural
$2.49

SADDLE OXFORDS
Always a Favorite
$3.50

SPORT SOCKS
In all Pastel Colors to Match Your Skirt
35c — 3 pr. for $1.00

WHITE MOCCASINS
For Spring Style and Comfort
$2.49

BALDWIN'S

LYNN'S
MUSIC STORE

"Darn that Dream"
"It's a Blue World"
"On the Isle of May"
And all other popular pieces

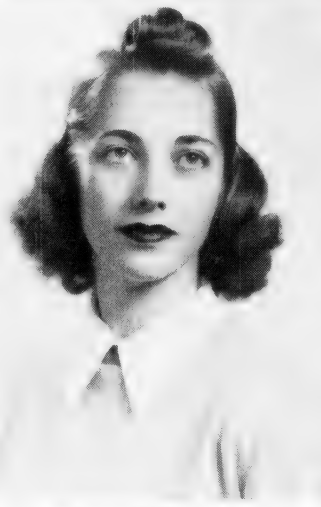
Lula Windham To Be Princess At Festival

Nineteen Virginia Colleges Will Send Delegates

Lula Rouse Windham, senior of Petersburg, Virginia, has been appointed to represent Farmville State Teachers College at the annual Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival to be held at Winchester Va., on April 26 and 27.

There will be 30-odd princesses in the queen's court , 19 of them being representatives of Virginia colleges.



Usually the queen is selected by a Washington official. Last year's queen was from South America.

Lula Windham, Farmville's representative, has been for two years a member of the May Court and is this year's May Queen.

Winchester, it is reported turns the entire week-end of the festival into one of merrymaking. Entertainments in the form of receptions, teas, and dances for the queen and her court fill the week-end calendar. People come from all over the United States and even foreign countries to witness the event. Important government officials are, too, usually present.

As yet no official statement has been made as to this year's queen or as to any expected outstanding guests, or speaker for the festival.

Last year Alpha Lee Garnett was Farmville's representative.

Lula Windham, of Petersburg

"Colonnade" Will Appear Next Week

Nancy Saunders Is Contest Winner For Short Story

Nancy Saunders is the winner of the second contest for the best short story submitted for publication in "The Colonnade". The last issue of the magazine by the present editor, Johnny Lybrook, and her staff will be out immediately after Easter.

Miss Grace Mix, a former member of the faculty, who is here from New York, now for a visit, has contributed for this issue, and short stories by Mary Mahone, Margaret Wright, Harriet Cantrell, Betsy Briggs, Betty Hawkins and Mary Carrington Power will appear. Mary Carrington writes about Korea, where she lived for many years.

Lula Windham, Aggie Mann, Jennie Meggs, Frances Hudgins, Kathryn Wolff and others submitted poetry.

Book reviews in this issue will include "Tree of Liberty" by Elizabeth Page, reviewed by Yates Carr; and "Life and Times of Edmond Pendleton" by Robert Hilldrup, reviewed by Mary Jane Jolliff.

Allene Overbey, incoming editor, will announce her staff for next year at a later date.

New Way to Train Gridiron Athletes

For some people it's carrots, for Popeye it's spinach, but for the Ohio State University's basketball team the secret of strength and success is just plain celery.

A few hours before a recent game, the supermen of the hardwood sat down to a light dinner Big Bill Sattler was the first man to reach for his knife and fork. He found the knife but the fork had gone with the wind. All the other players likewise experienced the same phenomena. All the mesimen roared as one, "How can we eat steak without a fork?"

"You're not eating steak tonight, boys," beamed Coach Olsen. "Steak is a thing of the past. Tonight you're having, toast honey, tea and celery. Celery with lots of salt."

Now a basketball player never argues with the coach if he wants to keep on being a basketball player. So the boys ate celery with lots of salt.

No one, however (not even a basketball player), is going to eat celery with lots of salt without a kick why. So they asked why and were informed that according to a recent scientific survey made at Harvard University salt and celery are good things for people who want to win basketball games.

After their crunchy repast, the quintet won the game, 58 to 52, which certainly speaks well for celery, to say nothing of the team.

There is something new under the sun! Co-educational physical education has been inaugurated at Drake University, and for the first time men and women will compete together at the fieldhouse in the women's gymnasium and on the golf course as well as in the classroom. Last semester two golf classes and three social dancing classes were offered for credit to both men and women. There is no question about the success of these classes", Ruby Ana Holton, head of the women's physical education department, said. The classes are larger this year than ever before. This semester it is planned to add badminton, bowling, horseback riding, archery, and casting (for fish fans) to the schedule of courses. A future program, which probably will be enacted next year, may include canoeing, swimming and boating. No official statistics are available on the number of educational institutions offering credit for coeducational physical education courses, but Noel H. Petree, head of the men's department, and Miss Holton say there are only "a few".

The trouble of many a man who knows nothing is that he is the last to find it out.

Man is the only animal who can be skinned more than once.

Relief After Grind
Or Calm After Storm—
No Matter, They're Over

"No matter what the outcome, at least I'm glad exams are over. Now I'm going to bed and sleep all afternoon—" came from the lips of one exhausted student. With mingled feelings varying from sadness that something had been flunked, that everything had been passed, or that another quarter's hard work had begun, Friday night was greeted with much celebration. Pressing rooms were filled with girls cooking for parties, or smoothing that voguish evening dress for the Hampden-Sydney dances. Hall phones rang, and girls were called from one end of Student to the other end of Library. 'Twas indeed a night for hilarity and festivity.

How different from the four previous nights that was. The picture was entirely changed. Instead of open doors, one was greeted as she walked down the hall by closed doors with a forbidding "Busy" sign tacked conspiciously in place. A dark circled, heavy eyed hall-president could be seen tipping down the hall with a finger to her lips. Dark and sinister were the looks given to any violaters. The windows of the building were seen blinking forth until the wee hours—finally all was quiet—but again early in the morning they winked as if to say "Maybe she wants you to think she's studious, but she doesn't realize that we know she hasn't studied since last exam time!"

Oh yes, exams are over and everyone has agreed to study all quarter and play the final week; but we know that "cramming" has been a major activity since colleges began, and probably we'll continue so long as there's a crumbling wall of a university left. Anyway, the best part is the relieved feeling after the grind.

Six Will Attend N. C. Convention

Current Events Will Be Topic Relations Club Meeting

Doris Chesnut, Helen Jeffries, Elizabeth West, Dorothy Rollins, Frances Alvis, and Dr. Francis B. Simkins will represent Farmville at the International Relations Club convention at Chapel Hill, N. C., March 21-23.

These delegates are members of the Virginia Gamma chapter of Pi Gamma Mu national honorary fraternity in social science, which holds membership in the International Relations Club.

Round table subjects are "The European Theatre of War", "Our Neighbors to the South (Latin America)", "Powers and the Orient," "Economic Facts and Fallacies in America's Foreign Policy", and "The Peace of Tomorrow."

Included on the social program are two dances, an informal tea, and a banquet. Dr. Warner Moss will speak at dinner in Memorial Hall on Friday, March 22, and Dr. Henry F. Grady will address the conference at the banquet on Saturday March 23.

A. A. President

Continued from Page 1

Crews Borden, of Charlottesville, has also been active in athletics, especially in golf, and was secretary of A. A. this year. She was captain of her sophomore hockey team.

Martha Roberts of Norton, Virginia, plays on the varsity basketball and other athletic teams. She is a member of the House Council, and is prominent in Y. W. C. A. work.

Dot Johnson, of Suffolk, Virginia, was captain of her class hockey team, plays on varsity basketball team and is assistant business manager of "The Virginian", college yearbook.

Miss Mix Is Speaker at Annual A. C. E. Banquet

Qualities of Work With Children Is Teachers Heritage

MISS GRACE E. MIX

"You have a most beautiful heritage—the legacy of understanding, sacrifice, tenderness and patience left you by those who have loved and worked for and with little children," stressed Miss Grace E. Mix when she addressed the members of the Association of Childhood Education gathered in the College Tea Room for their annual banquet Monday night, March 18.

"Down through the ages the love of little children has been a characteristic of greatness in men and women. Jesus, the Great Teacher, had a tenderness for children that none other surpassed. Gradually was an understanding for children developed. Plato respected child's play. It was left, however, for Rousseau and Ferbee to see that play had a real meaning to children in developing opportunity in meeting a real need for self-expression. Play thus came to be considered as a vital means of learning.

"There have been stages in the development of ideas toward children. A study of literature in times past will reveal periods when the child was considered as a little adult. Children were taught to think of their sins andpenitence and dying, the emphasis always being on the serious side of life.

"Ferbel who is considered the founder of the kindergarten contributed perhaps the most toward the now prevalent idea of young childhood. He emphasized play as a means of education in both the home and social relationships.

"The kindergarten, with the love of little children as its ideal, organized itself into the Association for Childhood Education. Thus are primary teachers affiliated with the strongest of organizations for the betterment of childhood."

Miss Mix concluded with the favorite quotation "The world moves forward on the feet of little children—There is no other way". She further stated, "Your part as teachers is to walk in companionship along the way and to guide their eager feet."

Short Cut Toward Straight A Average

Heed the following nine-point program to scholastic success—a program formulated for you by the ever-helpful editors of the Midland of Midland College:

1. Don't give your prof apples. Too obvious.
2. Find out his hobby and follow this up with well-planned questions to draw him out.
3. If the entire class walks out of the classroom when the prof is 10 minutes late, be the only one to wait, even if it's half an hour. This procedure is good for a B-plus any day.
4. Always greet an instructor pleasantly, never using his first name, but a cheery "Good morning, professor."
5. When sitting at the faculty table in the dining hall or walking about the Administration building, always walk with your head down as if in deep thought pondering some weighty problems in math or philosophy, for instance. This is highly recommended to get on the honor roll.
6. Offer to wash the professor's car, put up his storm windows or do any little job around the house, but don't accept any money for the work.
7. Apple polishing procedure in classrooms includes sitting in the front row, responding to professorial humor with loud, hearty guffaws and liberal use of big words. This is important—never use a two-syllable word where a five-syllable word will do.
8. Carry a lot of big reference books around. This is tremendously impressive and is worth an A minus in any class.
9. If you must close your eyes while in deep thought, wrinkle your forehead and otherwise look worried or the professor may get the wrong impression—and grade accordingly.

Editor's Note: You might try studying, too!

Seven of Faculty At Education Meet

Dr. J. P. Wynne, Dr. George Jeffers, Mr. S. M. Holton, Miss Mary Nichols, Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, Miss Ottie Craddock, and Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro attended the teacher education meeting of District D in Petersburg on Friday, March 8.

Mrs. Martin was on the program of the modern language section and Miss Craddock was elected treasurer of the classroom teachers' section.

Rose's
5-10-25c Store
ON THE CORNER

Get the
EASTER CANDIES and Novelties
you need here

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

NEWBERRY'S
5c—10c—25c
Store
SPRING
IS HERE
See Our
New Colors
In Ribbon

A Pleasant Spring Vacation
To You All
DAVIDSON'S, INC.

THE whole college is talking about them—the low fares, we mean! And no wonder, with the back-home movement almost ready to begin! You can travel the Greyhound way—in Super-Coach comfort—at only 1/3 the cost of driving, at far less than by other public transportation. See your Greyhound agent today—or tomorrow anyway — about schedules and savings for your trip home!

GREYHOUND BUS STATION
Continental Hotel Phone 78

Sample One-Way Fares

Danville, Va.	$1.65
Raleigh, N. C.	2.15
Winston-Salem	2.55
Covington	2.80
Roanoke	2.00
Bristol, Va.-T.	3.50
Newport News	2.65
Norfolk	2.95
Charlest'n W.V.	5.00
Washington	2.65

Sports Slants

By ANNE COCK

Spring is really here although the official beginning isn't until one minute after twelve tonight, and in the spring an S. T. C. girl's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of the out-of-doors. Alas! what will it be? Something constructive, I hope—like tennis may be. There's nothing like a good old game of tennis to put the color in your cheeks and to take the pounds off your weight. How 'bout it?

For the past three weeks we've been finishing out that winter calendar so as to have a clean slate for spring—Briefly looking back we see that—

Swimmin' held the limelight for something over a week. On Tuesday night, March 5, Red and White and Green and White splashed to a 24-24 deadlock in the class meet. Thursday night, February 29, and again, Thursday night, March 7, varsity swimmers raced against time in the National Intercollegiate Telegraphic Meet. Reports from the Southern Regional Swimming classic came in Monday, March 18, to the effect that Farmville S. T. C. placed third. Congratulations to the varsity team!

Basketball—What a game, what a game! And what school spirit! Speaking of course, of the night of March 8, when Madison College from Harrisonburg sent a marvel of a team here that downed our sharpshooting sextet 18-13. It was a clean, hard fought, exciting game, that sent the spectators into such a state of frenzy, that the referee was forced to call for silence in order that the whistle might be heard.

Interclass basketball games wound up Monday, March 11, with the freshmen team walking off with the championship, having three straight wins to their credit. The Juniors, the other Green and White team, had three losses. The Sophomores lost one game and the Seniors were defeated twice.

Step by step, up the tournament ladder, climed Helen McIlwaine to the Ping Pong Championship of 1940. Congratulations are in order. Running her a close second was Winnie Buchanan, freshman.

Spring Golf Asociation attained its quota of 75, so the Pro has agreed to stay on 'til the end of the school year. Those little white balls are peppering the links these pretty days at Longwood—center of golf activities.

And speaking of Longwood it's certainly the popular place for hikers now. Whether we go through the woods, 'round by the cemetery, or out by the water tank, we can't help ending up in that cool little tea room for a good ole Longwood bun.

Tomorrow we leave for Easter and when we get back we ought to be all set to enter volleyball, tennis, archery, golf, to whatever suits our fancy, in a big way—'Til then —HAPPY HOLIDAYS.

Southern Region Rates S. T. C. as Third

Madison Defeats F. S. T. C., 18-13

Big Crowd Witness Traditional Game

Led by Padget, who scored ten points, the Madison College basketball team retained its undefeated status by defeating the Farmville sextet, 18-13 on the latter's floor on Friday, March 8.

Both teams displayed an excellent brand of ball and provided thrills galore for the greatest crowd ever amassed in the Farmville gym.

The lineup is listed below:

Pos.	Madison	Farmville
F.—	Padget (Capt.)	Roberts
F.—	Fisher	Barnett
F.—	Godfrey, A.	Jarman (C.)
G.—	Carter	Courter
G.—	Haynes	Johnson
G.—	Sesze	Price

Substitutions: Madison, Godfrey, B. Farmville, Ellet, Parham, Gibson.

Referee: Dabney

Noah would have saved future soldiers a lot of trouble if he had swatted those booties when they marched up the gang plank of the Ark.

— —

"Hey, you boob. How do you expect us to see the game up here? Sit down in front."

"Can't do it, buddy. I ain't built that way."

— —

"Doesn't it humiliate you to have to go through life like this?" asked the sympathetic woman as she purchased a photograph.

"Yes, ma'am," replied the Bearded Lady, "if it wasn't for the wife and kids I'd throw up the job today."

Traditional Game Draws Huge Crowds to State Teachers College Gym

Talking about the Army-Navy game or the V. P. I.-V. M. I. classic! Farmville has got something that rivals both of 'em for excitement! The Madison-Farmville game that was played in the college gym on Friday night, March 8, was an occasion! The place was overflowing with girls, alumnae, and dates for the Founder's Day dance. Everybody turned out in rare fashion to watch the girls give 'em the good old razzle-dazzle—and not only was it a big crowd but a noisy one. Sometimes the spectators yelled so that it was impossible to hear the referee's whistle. As everyone who was there knows, the game was a good one, well-played and hard-fought. Both Madison and Farmville exhibited fine ball playing. Madison had the edge on Farmville and though Blue and White started in with a bang, the visitors soon set the pace and gained a substantial lead.

Cheers and plenty of them go to the cheerleaders, Izzy, Edna, Alene and Wentz. Those girls really have teamwork. They had the whole gym practically raising the roof—and sticking together doing it, too. As for the new cheers, they were the finest ever.

And so, another Founder's Day and another Madison-Farmville game. Better luck next time, Blue and White. Keep that fighting spirit till next year and here's to another traditional game.

Junior Victorious In Ping Pong Tourney

Helen MacIlwaine, a junior, won the annual round robin ping pong tournament which was brought to a close on Saturday, March 9. Opposing Helen in the last round of play was Winnie Webb Buchanan, a freshman. The score of the match was (21-16), (21-13).

Golf Gossip

By Carroll Brown
Professional, Longwood

Last week is going down in the Old Pro's calendar to be long remembered. After Ollie Gilchrist's number one chapel announcement about the proposed Spring Golf Association, we really went to town. In spite of what I had to say to the different classes, we whipped up seventy-five members for this new association in three days.

This certainly shows a fine spirit on the part of the students and the faculty, and in looking back through the entire year, I can only say that I am extremely well pleased and impressed with the splendid cooperation all of you have given me. From the record I can say that Farmville is one of the few schools in the country that have any facilities for golf instruction and play.

The new spring group maintains the high standards of its two predecessors. Twenty-two started taking instruction last fall and have signed for the remainder of the year. Twenty-one began with the Winter Golf Association. The other thirty-two members are new. Ten are members of the faculty.

All of you are probably tired of hearing me say that we run a ride to Longwood every hour. For the benefit of those who missed the meeting last week, this car will leave from the side of the laundry behind the business office.

So much for the spring deal. The winter efforts were ended Friday, and all-in-all, we had a good time and the girls who took advantage of it are really learning to hit the ball. Remember, if you are not a member of the Spring Association, I still wish to help you all I can. I would like to see you playing golf and hope that you continue to do so after you are out of school.

So, so long until next week. I am happy to look forward to three more very pleasant months in this year I am spending with you at S. T. C.

Swim Team Gains Honor in NIT Meet

Rating Won For Second Year

Farmville is making a place for itself in the swimming world according to news received here from the University of Texas, 1940 regional sponsor of the National Intercollegiate Telegraphic Meet. This year S. T. C. equalled its record of last by placing third in the Southern Region of the United States. Detailed results have not been received as yet but will be published as soon as possible. The records will now be sent by the regional sponsor to the national sponsor who will make known the final winners within the next month.

Best results made in the two meets held on this campus are as follows:

Time	Event	Winner
:25	—40 yd. crawl	Parham
:34	—40 yd. breast	Dupuy
:33.5—	40 yd. back	Keesee
1:26	—100 yd. crawl	Dupuy
1:40.5—	100 yd. breast	Dupuy
1:46.5—	100 yd. back	Keesee
:55.5—	75 yd. medley relay	Keesee, Dupuy, Parham
1:03	—100 yd. free style relay	Dupuy, Pierpont, Millner, Parham

COLLEGE SHOPPE
Best food in town
Try us
We Deliver Call 200

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
Large Assortment of EASTER CARDS
Phone 356

A Beautiful line of Spring
Costume Jewelry
Now on Display
We invite you to come in
Martin the Jeweler

Weyanoke Beauty Shoppe
SPECIAL!
$3.50 Duart Perms., now .. $2.50
$5.00 Oil Perms., now $3.50
Shampoo, finger wave, regular price 50c
Shampoo, finger wave and manicure 85c
PHONE 331

G. F. BUTCHER CO.
"The Convenient Store"
Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries
600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

PLAY TENNIS IN SKIRTS
Tennis Shoes and Anklets FROM THE HUB.
GOING HOME EASTER—Smart Coats, Suits, Shoes and millinery.
THE HUB DEPT. STORE
APPRECIATES YOUR PATRONAGE

EASTER CLEANING
Send us your evening dresses with confidence.
Our silk finisher has just completed a special course at the National Institute.
KILKARE
Launderers---Cleaners

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
PURE DRUGS MEDICINES
Perfumes—Toilet Articles
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Quality—Price—Service

HOTEL WEYANOKE
Regular Meals
A La Carte Service
Salads & Sandwiches

Patronize
Patterson Drug Co.
—AT—
Money Saving Prices
—FOR—
Drugs and Toiletries
Expert
Prescription Service
Clean Fountain
Featuring
Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream
238 MAIN STREET

Wishes you a very Happy Easter
SHANNON'S
Good Food Home Atmosphere

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop
"From old to new with any shoes"
Only First Class Material used
All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist
Flowers for All Occasions
PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors
Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling
Main St. Opposite P. O.
Phone 98
Under the mangement of
"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!
Electric Appliance Co.
Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.
Visit us for the
BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S
FANCY MEATS
AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.
MILL WORK
BUILDING MATERIALS

HOW TO WIN BOY-FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE STAG-LINES

By Dalea Dorothy Clix

Dear Miss Clix: Pity the girl—that's me!—who goes on a blind date—and then falls in love! My roommate took me to a fraternity dance over at X—— College (near our school) and I met the captain of the basketball team. Once he started to hold my hand and then he suddenly said—"any man who had you for a sister would be lucky." Oh, Miss Clix, what can I do to make him think of me . . . not as a sister? HEARTSICK

Dear Heartsick: Your plight is not hopeless. After all, supposing he wouldn't even want you for a sister! However, you gave me one very significant clue. Why did he make that remark after holding your hand? How do your hands look—like a day laborer's? Be honest, now—were your nails beautifully groomed, impeccably manicured and tinted? That is a good way to begin climbing out of the blind date class, isn't it?

AND HERE'S WHAT YOU CAN DO ABOUT BEAUTIFUL NAILS

Thousands of college women have found how they can have the most beautiful fingernails in the world! They are switching to DURA-GLOSS, the nail polish that's different. Goes on smoothly, levels out to a beautiful lustre and best of all, it lasts longer! Only ten cents, at all cosmetic counters—you can have six shades (for different costumes) for what you often paid for one bottle. Start using DURA-GLOSS, today!

AND NOW, DEAR, READ THE NEXT COLUMN CAREFULLY!

H.-S. Pan Hel Dance Attract Prom Trotters

Hampden - Sydney attracted many S. T. C. girls to their Pan Hel dances on last Friday and Saturday nights. Bob Riley and his orchestra from Winchester played. Those S. T. C. girls and their dates were:

Ruby M. Parson, Bill Comstock; Norma West, Kenneth Hart; Elizabeth Williams, Les Andrews; Marian Worsham, Les Dillard; Winnie Harrell, Paul Wineford; Marjorie McAllister, Preston Watt; Jane Powell, Homer Hatten; Augusta Parks, Henry Newman; Dorothy Eades, Walter Potter.

Allene Overbey, Jack Hunt; Louise Parcell, Douglas Venable; Chlotilde Jarman, Dashiel Rouse; Lillian Agnew, Tom Atkinson; Martha Baldwin, Miles Sharpley; Gay Ward Brown, Volney Campbell; Anne Boswell, Billy Graham; Nancy Bondurant, Dick Hill; Betty Barnet, Booty Shelton.

Virginia Campfield, Billy Kay; Sarah Carter, Taylor Bruce; Sara Cline, Bob Dabney; Alice M. Cobelly, Buddy Gilliam; Rosalie Coberly, Herbert Stokes; Marguerite Costello, Bob Eason; Rachael De Berry, Charles Elmore; Nan Duer, Arch Bynum; Nancy Dupuy, Brookes Smith.

Caroline Eason, Malcolm Campbell; Betty Fahr, Lewis Johnson; Deating Fauntleroy, Matt Lacy; Lillian German, Charles Spencer; Irma Graff, Bill Baker; Helen Gray, Ed Kilby; Blair Goode, Bill Tracy; Jean Hatton, Buck Thompson; Jacqueline Hardy, Bill Baskerville; Bobbie Hannah, Ed Davis; Madge Horne, Robert Taylor; Kay Horsley, Frank Booker.

Polly Hughes, Marshall Doswell; Grace Hutcheson, P. T. Atkinson; Dorothy Johnson, Maynard Johnson; Rebecca Jones, John Foushee; Dot Lawrence, Tom Ford; Sarah Lawson, Clemer Peck; Eloise Layman, John Dunlap; Helen Lewis, Alex Jones.

Johnny Lybrook, Frank Sullivan; Elizabeth McRae, Oscar McIntosh; Helen McIlwaine, Emmett Hoy; Marian Mitchell, Bill Covington; Lucrece Niemeyer, Ed Spencer; Jennie Noel, Virgil May; Elizabeth Anne Parker, Middie Moore; Agnes Patterson, Charlie Varn; Virginia Lee Pettis, Bill Lashley.

Ella Marsh Pilkinton, Charles Llewellyn; Agnes Pickral, J. D. Ridgway; Elizabeth Ralph, Wiley Umstead; Frances Pritchett, Sam Lippincott; Katherine E. Price, Randolph Chitwood; Betty Perry, Donald Bair; Nancy Pierpont, Jimmie Wolcott; Louise Huff, Ben Kelly; Jeanne Sears, Jimmie Traylor.

Kay Spencer, Ned Crawley; Helen Seward, Marshall Johnson; Jean Shulkcum, Caleb Winslow; Eleanor Scott, Henry Newbill; Betty Sexton, Taylor Thompson; Jerry Smith, Hunter Peake; Patsy Smith, F. M. Smith; Helen Travis, Edwin Vaden; Ruby Trice, Zander Williams.

Elizabeth Townsend, Craig Burks; Lillian Turner, Chick Tasker; Betty Mae Tyler, Joe Kilby; May Wertz, John Dennis; Barbara White, Francis Young; Bess Windham, Bobby Trice; Roberta Grigg, Robert Radspinner; Betty Mae Ayers, Welford Martin.

Katherine H. Price, George Newman; Dorothy Robbins, Doc Richards; Bill Stone, Bob Johnson; Essie Millner, Mo Bradshaw; Mary Riggan, Henry Green; Margaret Whitfield, Bill Anderson; Nancy Goode Bland, Brookes Smith; Dotty Chapman, W. H. Cobbs.

Rosa Courter, Richard Sydnor; Emma Louise Crowgey, Ralph Stokes; Sara Currie, Billy Hurt; Jack Hardy, Billy Baskerville; Edna Harris, Dick Clark; Mary Harvie, Ed Davis; Robin Henning, Bob Engle; Sara Keesee, Alex Jones; Sarah Lawson, Larry Clinton; Ruth Loving, Taylor Thompson.

Jane McGinnis, John Pancake; Aline Markland, Jack Snydor; Cottie Radspinner, Tyler Taylor; Pat Whitlock, Billy Spong; Marion Worsham, Jimmy Baldock.

Gamma Thetas Are At Home to Miss Mix

Junior members of Gamma Theta entertained in honor of Miss Grace Mix at a tea in the chapter room Sunday afternoon, March 17.

Miss Florence Stubbs, faculty advisor, Miss Mix, the members and pledges of Gamma Theta, Jimmy Dodson, Elmer Johnson, Lyman Brothers, Dan McIntosh, Harry Dinwiddie, Steve Wise, and Booty Shelton were guests.

The hostesses were Frances Dudley, Elenora Faison, Martha Whelchel, Emily Hoskins and Ruth Lea Purdum.

Supervisor Relates

Continued from Page 1

"The first graders this year were my children last year," explained the former supervisor. They were so surprised to see me, and I was so glad to see them. That was the first place I went after I got here, naturally—" she smiled giving an inkling of the close place children hold in her heart.

A social round of teas, dinners, and luncheons, was Miss Mix's answer to what she had been doing since she returned to Farmville.

"Words can't express my feeling about the new library. It's beautiful," she exclaimed. "I know it's a joy to study there and particularly in the Browsing Room."

In conclusion Miss Mix remarked that it was "wonderful beyond words" to be back in Farmville again.

A & N STORE

TENNIS RACKETS

$1.95 to $5.95

Pennsylvania Tennis balls $1.15 a can

Buckingham Tennis Balls 25c ea.

White low quarter tennis oxfords—85c each

After Exams W. & L., Annapolis, Home Draw Many

After a gay week-end at Farmville for Founder's Day it looks as if about one-third of S. T. C.'s student body took March 16 week-end off. Of course, many stayed at school just to attend the Pan-Hel dances at Hampden-Sydney. Richmond seemed to be the most popular of the cities visited, while Roanoke was a close runner-up.

Sigma Chi house party at Washington and Lee University in Lexington claimed Blanche Carper and Emma Louise Crowgey, while Mary Mahone, Theodosia MacKenzie, Jane McGinnis, and Josephine Ware also attended the dances there. Sara Keesee "hopped" to Annapolis again.

Faye Brandon, Alice Goode Cohoon, Anne Holland, and Rose Phalis visited home and relatives in the peanut town, Suffolk.

Traveling to Lynchburg were Frances Alvis, Frances Ellet, and Frances Kash.

Caroline Eason and Polly Keller visited Carolyn Harvey and her parents in Clarksville.

Doris Chesnut returned Monday after a stay at her home in Durham, N. C.

Among others visiting for the week-end were Charlotte Andrews, Shirley Turner and Lula Windham, in Petersburg.

Margaret Wright visited a friend at Sweet Briar College.

Dorothy Rollins is now at home in Arlington.

Yates Carr went home to Charlottesville; Thelma Courtney, to Winchester; Agnes Barlow, to Salem; Dorothy Brookfield, to Fredericksburg; Lillian Agnew, to Buckeville; Imogene Clayter, to Bedford; and Louise Allen and Nancye Allen, to Hebron.

Juniors Entertain Freshman Class

Junior Class played hostess to their sister class, the Freshman Class Monday night, March 18 in the "Rec".

Leap Year Is Theme For Sophomore Party

Country really came to town in the "Rec" on Thursday night February 29, when the officers of the Sophomore class entertained the members of the class with a "Leap Year Day" party. In accordance with the theme of the party, the people came dressed as country people. Some dressed as boys and some as girls. As is the leap year custom, the girls invited the boys to attend with them. While the crowd was gathering, Zeke's Zippers furnished music for them to do the old fashioned square dance; after this, with the floor as a seat, they were entertained with a program appropriate for the occasion.

Louisa Sanford was there beating it out on that "uke" of her's, after which Frances Rosebro gave a reading. Marty Roberts had just returned from the city where she had supposedly learned how to sing those songs she sang. Then that famous quartet composed of Buff Gunter, Nancy Dupuy, Marty Roberts and Mary Jane Ritchie did a bit of harmonizing.

Came the surprise of the evening, when Miss Jane Royall, classman and guest of honor, gave a reading entitled "Spitting Apple Peelings".

By this time everyone was getting pretty hungry—great big red apples and luscious pieces of ginger bread were served.

Robert Frost Is Unable to Come

Robert Frost, who was to speak for Beorc eh Thorn, honorary English fraternity, March 17, was unable to come because of ill health. He sent word that there was a possibility of his appearing some time in May.

A new constitution was adopted by Beorc eh Thorn at the meeting held Thursday, March 14.

Class songs were sung and informal entertainment given. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Alpha Kappa Gamma Gives Miss Mix Party

Miss Grace E. Mix who is now a guest in Farmville and is being much entertained by her friends in town, faculty members and student groups, was again guest of honor when Alpha Kappa Gamma, honorary leadership fraternity of which Miss Mix is an honorary member, entertained for her. The party was held Monday night, March 18, in the parlor of the new Senior building.

Miss Mix told the group of her work in New York since last fall and of the alumnae chapter which she has helped to found there.

Mu Omegas Play

Lillian German, Dorothy Johnson, and Elizabeth Ann Parker entertained the members of Mu Omega at a buffet supper in the chapter room Sunday afternoon, March 17.

Libby Roberts, alumna, the members of the chapter, and Bob Dabney were the guests.

New girls of Mu Omega entertained old girls at the "Trocadero (S. T. C. "Rec") Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock. The guests came dressed as their favorite movie stars.

Alpha Phi Sigma Party Is Held

Alpha Phi Sigma had an informal party in the Honors Room Tuesday night, March 19.

Marjorie Holt, assisted by Sue Marshall, Rachel Kibler, and Jean Moyer, was in charge of refreshments.

Miss Mary Cox Is Guest at Dinner

Student Government and the Y. W. C. A. cabinet entertained with a banquet at Longwood on March 12, in honor of Miss Mary White Cox, "head of the home" who celebrated her birthday.

Decorations were carried out with center pieces of ivy arranged around candles.

Other guests were Pres. J. L. Jarman and Miss Winnie V. Hiner, Y. W. C. A. adviser and college treasurer.

EACO THEATRE

DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.

Fri.-Sat., March 22-23

JACKIE COOPER
BETTY FIELD
"SEVENTEEN"

Stoneage Cartoon — News

Next Mon.-Tues., Mar. 25-26

DON AMECHE
ANDREA LEEDS
AL JOLSON
"SWANEE RIVER"

Crime Doesn't Pay Story

Next Wed-Thur., Mar. 27-28

SPENCER TRACY
ROBERT YOUNG
RUTH HUSSEY
"Northwest Passage"

Novelty "One for the Book"

Hop Says

"Let DeLuxe Cleaners have your Spring clothes ready for after Easter wear."

Phone 11 or see Perrye Smith Third Street

EASTER BONNET

You'll be all dressed up in that Dorothy May

Millinery priced $1 to $3.97

Corol King Smart Dresses $2.97 to $7.97

Suits—Coats—Moderately priced

DOROTHY MAY STORE

First to Show the Newest

The Only Combination of its kind

The Hill Sisters Queens of Basketball

Marjorie, Isabel, Ruth, Betty and Helene of W. Hempstead, L. I., coached by their father, have won 80 out of 84 games... a combination that you can't match anywhere.

DEFINITELY MILDER
COOLER-SMOKING
BETTER-TASTING

You can look the country over and you won't find another cigarette that rates as high as Chesterfield for the things that smokers really want.

Chesterfield's RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos is way out in front for mildness, for coolness, and for better taste.

Chesterfield

The RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos

Copyright 1940, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY APRIL 3, 1940 | NO. 22

Musical Program Presented by UNC, Duke U. and STC

Mr. J. F. Foster and Mr. A. H. Strick Act As Co-directors

Choral groups of the Farmville State Teachers College with the Glee Clubs of Duke University and University of North Carolina presented a musical program Friday evening, March 29.

The Junior A'Cappella Choir, of S. T. C. opened part one of the program with the number "April Is in My Mistress' Face". Virginia Richards directed the selection.

"The Old Woman and the Pedlar" was offered by the Senior A'Cappella Choir. Virginia Richards was the soloist for this Old English air.

"Pilgrim's Song" and "God of the Open Air" were sung by the Duke University Glee Club. Selections from Victor Herbert's "Sweethearts" was one of the highlights of the evening. Four members of the Glee Club danced to the Dutch song. Two wore Dutch hats and blonde pigtails for the girls, and two wore the Dutch hats of the boys.

No one will have to tie a string around his finger to remember the University of North Carolina's rendering of "The Prisoner's Chorus From Fidelio". "Song of Farewell" and "Dedication". "Jehovah I Could Sing Thy Praises" was the next number on the program, and was sung by the S. T. C. A'Cappella Choir.

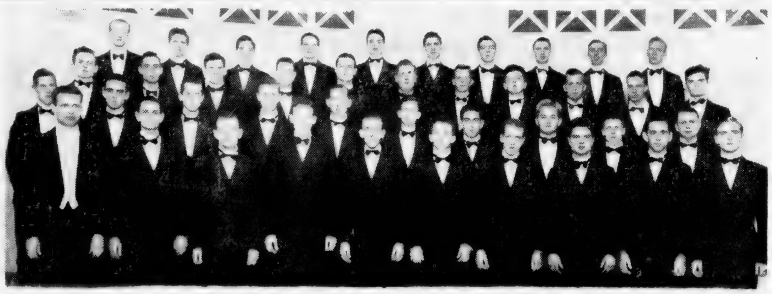
An atmosphere of reverence and awe was created by lighting effects and a large stained glass window, as the Senior A'Cappella, facing the audience and the Junior A'Cappella behind the window rendered "Pueri - Hebraeorum" in an antiphonal double chorus.

"God of All Nature" by Tschaikowsky, sung by the S. T. C. College Choir and the A'Cappella Choirs brought to a close part one of the program.

Part two was composed of selections from "The Holy City". The soloists were Mr. J. E. Toms, tenor from the University of North Carolina; Miss Frances Houck, mezzo-soprano, who is a member of the Home Economics department at S. T. C.; Dr. Luther A. Richmond, baritone, and Head of the Department of Music in the state; Miss Elsie Lee Carter, contralto, and Miss Irene Leake, soprano.

The chorus composed of the Farmville S. T. C. choral groups, University of North Carolina, and Duke University glee clubs sang "For Thee, O Dear, Dear, Coun-

Continued on Page 4



Pi Gamma Mu Girls Attend Convention At Chapel Hill, N. C.

Frances Alvis, Libby West, Helen Jeffries, and Dot Rollins, delegates from Pi Gamma Mu, attended the South-Eastern International Relations Club Conference held at Chapel Hill, March 21-23 where they were among two hundred and fifty students representing colleges from Virginia south to Florida and west to Mississippi.

Round table discussions afternoons and nights on such subjects as "The European Theater of War," "Our Neighbors to the South", "Powers and Politics of the Orient", and "The Peace of Tomorrow" carried out the general theme "The United States and a World of War."

University of North Carolina students were hosts to the delegates in a social program consisting of two dances, a tea, and a banquet.

Speakers of note were Mr. Henry P. Grady of Duke University, and Dr. Warner Moss of William and Mary.

The University of North Carolina Glee Club which took part in the musical program presented here on Friday, March 25.

DR. T. Z. KOO

YWCA Sponsors Two Speakers

Dr. Koo, Mrs. Overton Will Speak

Dr. T. Z. Koo, a Chinese world leader in church, education, and state, and Mrs. Grace Sloan Overton, teacher, lecturer and author on marriage, will speak in chapel April 5 and 6 respectively, under the sponsorship of the Y. W. C. A.

Dr. Koo served on the staff of the National Committee for the Y. M. C. A. of China with special responsibilities for colleges and universities. In 1925 Dr. Koo was a member of the second Opium Conference called in Switzerland by the League of Nations. In this assignment he was one of three, chosen from 24 organizations to represent China as a whole. Dr. Koo's present position is Secretary of the World's Student Christian Association. In this capacity he has been in contact with University, Civic, and Church leaders of Asia, Australia, New Zealand, Europe, Canada and the United States.

Dr. Koo will speak on the existing conditions in China and how they affect the Chinese college students. A Chinese booth will be held at S. T. C. for contributions to aid the Chinese students. Similar campaigns have been carried on at Duke University, University of North Carolina, and Randolph-Macon.

Mrs. Overton, who will talk in chapel Friday will also attend the association tea that afternoon and lead a discussion Friday night. The topics for her talks will be "Personality", and "Men and Women Relationships." Mrs. Overton is author of the book "Love, Marriage and Parenthood," and has recently completed a series of lectures in Richmond.

Latin Club Elects

Arlene Hunt, of Nathalie, was elected president of the Latin Club at a meeting of the club Tuesday afternoon, April 2.

Eleanor Boothe was chosen vice-president and chairman of the program committee.

Martha Anderson will serve as secretary and treasurer.

Aura of Old South, Meet Talks Inspire Delegates

"It was heavenly! I didn't dream anything could be so wonderful," said Marie Eason, speaking of the convention of the Intercollegiate Association of Student Government, where she and Caralie Nelson out-going and incoming Presidents of the Student Body, represented Farmville. The convention was held at Shorter College in Rome, Georgia on March 25-27.

"When we got to Danville, to change trains," explained Marie, who met Caralie at South Boston Sunday night, March 24, "I stepped off, decked in my Easter finery, into four inches of snow."

Peach Tree Street and the house where Aunt Pitty-Pat, of "Gone With the Wind" lived were two of the sights the representatives saw in their sightseeing tour of Atlanta. They arrived Monday morning and saw the sights of the town in a taxi.

They reached Rome at 10 A. M. Monday. "The college was beautiful," Marie exclaimed. "We loved the rooms. We had a suite consisting of two bedrooms and a bath connected by a living room. And the meals were like banquets."

The President of the convention welcomed the members at the first meeting held Monday afternoon. Later the President of the college spoke on "Leadership."

Tuesday morning the convention began in earnest with discussions. Caralie commented, "One of the best discussions was led by none other than Marie. She talked about "New Frontiers for Student Government."

Marie continued by telling about meeting the "Old Timer" from Farmville, who writes the column for the Farmville Herald, headed "Old Timer". After talking to Marie and Caralie he offered to take them sightseeing.

Martha Berry School, an institution endowed by Henry Ford was one of the places they visited. According to Marie and Caralie it was lovely beyond words, with its medieval appear-

Continued on Page 3

New Student Council Installed March 20

Caralie Nelson was installed as president of the Student Council for the coming year by Marie Eason, outgoing officer Wednesday night, March 20, in the large auditorium. After taking the oath of office, Caralie then installed other members of the council who are: Alice Leigh Barham, vice-president; Caroline Eason, secretary, and Nancy Naff, treasurer.

Marian Heard and Patsy Fletcher will serve as representatives for the Senior class. Gene Hardy Kilmon and Norma Wood are the Junior class members; and Betty Boutchard and Ella Marsh Pilkinton will represent the Sophomore class.

Jean Moyer, president of the Y. W. C. A. and Rosa Courter, president of the A. A. are ex-officio members of the Student Council.

Dr. O. W. Riegel Gives Address

Speaks on Current Journalism Trends

"Today the press is being responsible for the failure of our educational system," stated Dr. O. W. Riegel, head of Lee School of Journalism at Washington and Lee University, at an informal reception held Wednesday night, March 27, in Student Lounge for the staffs of "The Rotunda" S. T. C. weekly, "The Tiger" Hampden-Sydney College weekly, and guests.

Dr. Riegel emphasized the fact that this failure is not the editor's fault since he has a wonderful means to communicate, but that even the best journalist is ineffectual if he has no reader. One reason why the communication system has broken down is attributed to the fact that since "we turn to the newspaper as relief from our anxieties, it is the sport, comic, or woman's page that attracts us and not the editorial page," expressed Dr. Riegel.

"Revolutions are taking place in journalism today, but still greater ones will come when the impact of the political situation hits us," said Dr. Riegel. "One of the greatest evolutions which has occurred is attributed to the prominence the radio has taken. This has caused the importance of the scoop to decline because of frequent radio bulletins; also the death of newspaper competition," stated Dr. Riegel.

"The weekly editor is in a most fortunate position since these revolutionary changes do not affect him," continued Dr. Riegel. "I do not mean to be depressing but rather to show you interesting signs of new activities in journalism."

"Photography has the greatest potentialities since it is looking for new techniques in picture development. Other promising fields

Continued on Page 3

Athletic Association Installs News Officers

Installation of new officers of the Athletic Association took place Wednesday morning, April 3, when Rosa Courter was installed as president, replacing Dorothy Fischer. Crews Borden, Marty Roberts, and Dorothy Johnson will be vice-president, secretary and treasurer respectively of the Association.

Sports managers for the coming year will be: basketball, Marjorie Gooden; hockey, Harriette Walker; swimming, Peggy Hughes; volley ball, Sarah Wade Owen; archery, Nell Hurt and recreational sports, Frances Parham. Helen Seward is social chairman and Corilda Chapman, publicity chairman.

ALICE LEIGH BARHAM

Barham to Head Dramatic Club

Smith, German, Atkiss Are Officers

Alice Leigh Barham, of Portsmouth, was elected president of the Dramatic Club for the coming year at a meeting Wednesday night, March 27.

Patsy Smith was elected vice-president, Gerry Ackiss, secretary, and Lillian German, treasurer.

Chairmen of the committees are Lillian Wahab, play contest; Dell Warren, staging; Anna George, lighting; Mary Lou Shannon, make-up; Peggy Watkins, acting; Gene Hardy Kilmon, costuming; Evelyn Thorington, publicity; Harriette Haskins, properties; Norma Wood, music; Florence Lee, posters, and Frances Rosebro, parliamentarian.

Alice Leigh has just been elected vice-president of the student body and she served as treasurer this year and Campus League chairman last year. She is also a member of Kappa Delta Pi, and she served as assistant sports writer for the Rotunda this year.

Following the election of officers, the make-up committee headed by Myra Smith and Blair Goode and assisted by the members of the committee presented a program which illustrated the different types of make-up for men, women and minstrel characters.

Dr. Morgan to Speak

Dr. Joy Elmer Morgan, Editor of the National Education Association Journal, will talk to the Future Teachers Association in the Student Building Lounge on April 5. A reception will follow his address.

The F. T. A. has been working on their project of organizing F. T. A. Clubs in the high schools of Virginia. The following schools have organized clubs: Pinecastle, John Randolph Crewe, Buckeville, Buckingham, Central High and Fluvanna.

Rotunda Staff Is Reorganized; Assistants Named

Mr. Holton Explains New Set-up To Members of Group

Pat Gibson, Editor-in-Chief of The Rotunda for the term 1940-'41, announced the new editorial and business staffs for the coming year at a meeting conducted in Mr. Holton's classroom on Monday night, March 1.

Mr. S. M. Holton, faculty adviser, gave the organizational set up of The Rotunda. The main objective is to have an efficient staff, and also to make up a progressive scheme in order that a person can work up gradually to a higher position. In view of this, the staff has been cut considerably.

New Rotunda staff heads and assistants are: Editor-in-Chief, Pat Gibson; Managing Editor, Elizabeth West; News Editor, Margaret Wright; Feature Editor, Sara Cline; Sports Editor, Mickey Beck; Social Editor, Gerry Ackiss. The reporting staff includes Anna Johnson, Dot Sprinkle, Miriam Jester, Shirley McCalley, Bridget Gentile, Dorothy Rollins, Elizabeth Rapp, Jack Cock, Anne Cock, Anne Barnett, Boo Barham, Marie Allen and Nancy Naff.

The Business Manager is Josa Carlton; Circulation Manager, Texie Belle Felts; Advertising Managers, Mary Katherine Dodson and Lillian German; assistants are Elva Williams, Boo Taylor, Daphne Wilson, Ellen Hudgins, Mary Sue Simmons, Dearing Fauntleroy, Dorothy Childress, Lucy Blackwell and Anne Moore.

The Rotunda photographer is Virginia Worley. A columnist and chief typist will be selected at a later date. Thelma Courtney, Frances Pritchett, Virginia Rudd and Norma Wood make up the typist staff.

Moomaw, Parker Represent S. T. C. at Pi Kappa Delta Meet

Lorana Moomaw, a senior from Roanoke, and Elizabeth Ann Parker, sophomore from Portsmouth, attended the National Pi Kappa Delta Convention held in Knoxville, Tennessee, March 29. Lorana represented the South Atlantic Province as an official delegate to the Student Unicameral Assembly, and Elizabeth Ann represented Farmville's Virginia Alpha Chapter as an alternate to the assembly.

More than 700 students from 100 colleges and universities convened at the Andrew Johnson Hotel, headquarters for the convention, with Maryville College acting as hostess. The convention was divided into two phases, the unicameral assembly and the public speaking phase. The Assembly, composed of 72 delegates and alternates elected from the

Continued on Page 4

Miss Craddock At National Convention

Miss Ottie Craddock, handwriting instructor, attended the National Association of Penmanship Teachers and Supervisors, which was held at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Atlantic City, New Jersey, March 21, 22, and 23.

Miss Craddock has for the past four years held the office of secretary of the organization. Two of the speakers at the convention were from State Teachers Colleges.

The theme of the convention this year was "Contributions of Handwriting in a Foursquare Democracy". The sides of the square were the home, school church and business. For the year 1938-1939 the convention was held in Cincinnati, Ohio.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Published weekly by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia nine months a year

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

REPRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO · BOSTON · LOS ANGELES · SAN FRANCISCO

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Patricia Gibson ..... Editor-in-Chief
Elizabeth West ..... Managing Editor
Jean Carlton ..... Business Manager

Associate Editors

Margaret Wright ..... News Editor
Sara Cline ..... Feature Editor
Mary K. Beck ..... Sports Editor
Geraldine Ackiss ..... Social Editor

Reporters

Marie Allen, Alice Leigh Barham, Anne Barnett, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Bridget Gentile, Miriam Jester, Anna Johnson, Shirley McCalley, Nancy Naff, Elizabeth Rapp, Dorothy Rollins, Dorothy Sprinkle.

Assistant Business Managers

Texie Belle Felts ..... Circulation Manager
Mary Katherine Dodson ..... Advertising
Lillian German ..... Advertising

Business Assistants

Elva Andrews, Mildred Taylor, Daphne Wilson, Ellen Hudgins, Mary Sue Simmons, Dearing Fauntleroy, Dorothy Childress, Lucy Blackwell, Anne Moore, Frances Pope.

Typists

Thelma Courtney, Frances Pritchett, Virginia Rudd, Norma Wood.

Virginia Worley ..... Photographer

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3, 1940

Chinese Student Fund

Beginning Saturday the students of S. T. C. are going to be given the opportunity of contributing to a fund for maintaining Chinese schools for those students who have not yet been called to war. This is not just another charity, but an attempt on the part of people all over the world to aid those students struggling for an education in war-torn China—an education they will need it a new China is to arise from the ruin this war is creating.

Far back in the mountains of China a few educators have tried to keep up their schools. Cut off from the outside world, they are struggling desperately to prepare the Chinese youth for the carrying of the burden they must soon take up.

By contributing fifteen cents we can feed one Chinese student a whole month. The aim of the campaign here is to have every student contribute a dime. As students and future teachers we realize the necessity of maintaining schools and education. It is up to us to help give these unfortunate students the opportunity we ourselves are enjoying.

Music Festival

Our heartiest congratulations to the Music Department and the assisting groups and soloists for one of the finest performances of its kind ever presented here at S. T. C. The concert last Friday night showed faithful and untiring practice on the part of the students and soloists and excellent direction on the part of Mr. Alfred H. Strick, Mr. J. Foster Barnes, Mr. John Toms, and the student directors. We should also like to thank the accompanists whose playing added so much to the singing.

From beginning to end the concert was excellent, and the packed auditorium proved that music lovers not only from the college but from other places thoroughly appreciated it.

We are sure that we express the sentiments of the entire audience when we say thank you and congratulations to the soloists, directors and glee clubs of S. T. C., Duke, and the University of North Carolina.

SENIOR PERSONALITY

Frances Alvis, reiring editor of The Rotunda.

Affable, talkative and talented, Frances has been the best of editors. She is vitally alive, the possessor of a well-rounded personality and easy conversational powers. Her many and varied activities have kept her continuously on the run and her "skitter-ings" about the campus are familiar to all. Untiring zest, intensity of purpose plus a real joy of doing things go toward making her the worthy and capable person she is.

Utterly feminine, "Maude's" brown long-lashed eyes and her curls make her a vivacious person while her charming manner appeals to all. Children love her. This and her sense of responsibility and conscientiousness will assure her success in her chosen field of primary education.

Lamour Is Cause of Consternation to Bob & Bing

By way of the silver screen, Bing Crosby makes a return trip to Hawaii, land of the sky blue waters and the delovely hula gals for his latest picture "The Road to Singapore". The other fellow on the boat is Bob Hope, who started this tramp around the world. Bing, although heir to a great shipping merchant, Charles preferred the tramp to his debutante fiancee, Judith Barrett. No boat trip is complete without an escapade of some sort—so, an escapade.

They finally arrive, peacefully broke, on the islands, only to be drawn immediately into the rescue of glamour girl, Dorothy Lamour, from the clutches of the villain, Anthony Quinn. She promptly moves in with them much to the amusement of the audience, but to the consternation of Bob and Bing, who see their ideal bachelor existence threatened.

Bing and Bob hold their own as a singing and dancing team and are helped along by a good supporting cast, namely Terry Moonna, Johnny Arthur, Pierre Watkins and Gaylord Pendleton.

Collegiate World

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

This is not a trend-of-the-times note, but we believe you should keep informed on such matters just the same: Five students of Young Harris College have been expelled for leading a strike to have a no-hand-holding ruling rescinded by the faculty. Said college's president after the action: "This is one institution where the faculty will not brook Bolshevism."

Male vs. Female item: West Virginia University telephone operators report that the men are the most coureous over the phone, that women make the most intelligent phone conversationalists.

Times-have-changed note: Back in 1799 rules of Hampden-Sydney College, we find "the students of the college prohibited from attending, or by any means being seen at any fives battery or any other place where sporting or games are carried on." Wonder if Chicago's President Hutchins has the same idea?

Platter Chatter

By Betty Hawkins

This week, we've picked these songs, destined to be hits, for you to try. First we have Larry Clinton's "From Another World", and on the other side, "It Never Entered My Mind". Terry Allen, the romantic baritone of the Clinton menage, is the vocalist on both sides of the record.

Two pop tunes come from Tommy Dorsey that are really "right". On one side we have "Say It", a medium slow ballad sung by Frank Sinatra in the Dorsey version. The other side is a swing song ably handled by "The Pied Pipers" called "My! My!" They are in the groove.

A pair of smooth new melodies comprise Glenn Miller's latest disc: "Moments in the Moonlight" and "Sierra Sue". Sweet-swing style!

From the Smoothies this week we have "Easy Does It" and "Pretty Baby". Novelty tunes in the original vocal arrangements of The Smoothies . . . Tricky.

Staging a comeback and hitting a new high is "Limehouse Blues". This time by Larry Clinton. The other side contains "A Kiss for You". Grade A dance music.

Mitchell Ayres comes forth with an oldie "Little Girl", with Tommy Taylor assuming the vocals. The other side "Long Live Love". Destined to be popular.

Echoes from an Empty Space

After such an exciting weekend of Duke and N. C. we soon hope to get our bearings as well as a few promised letters! To start the ball rolling we find Martha De gone to Tech and Claude paying a visit interim . . . Ruth Moser will go well to watch her dance floor etiquette. After all, Sharpley is an engaged young man . . . Why did Dodie's face turn fifty shades red when she realized Robert's mother was looking? . . . Frances Pope and Les Andrews together again! . . . Why the wistful look in Helen Gray's eyes when some other girls danced with Ed? . . . Buck pretty excited over Bobby's arrival Saturday evening! . . . Jennie Noel received red roses as well as a date with Helen Travis's young man . . . Nan Duer the earliest arriver to the dance for tete-a-tete over "I love you truly" with Slug . . . What kind of message did Ranny Munt and Doc Lawson deliver to Barbara White Saturday? . . . Sugar Young hitting new high with Jane Bowen these days . . . Esther Atkinson wasn't exactly worried over the turn of events and the definite rush from a certain freshman, was she? . . . Ethel Oast turned tables and blue convertible to Kulon over Easter! . . . In the Sunday-after-Easter parade were Bobby Trice with Boo Barham with man-of-the week Alex Jones.

Springtime Romance: Dot Smith and "Technique" Ford . . . Dot Johnson getting in her spring practice of snaking a little early this year . . . For best info on good dancing see Bernice Copley or her Duke date Bud Glisson . . . For best info on how to get your man to eat a hearty breakfast ask Jean Moyer the whys and wherefores . . . Betsy Austin is beginning a new book entitled "How to Lose Your Man in Six Easy Lessons". Tech is due for a landslide . . . Why did Jean Shulkum get the K. A. house-party at N. C. all lined up and then renig? Paging Betty Sexton for stand-in!

What have become of Freshman Rules of three days a week down town, or is it because they can't possibly break a Saturday date?

The terrible crew of Saturday night origin had better watch their steps when playing tricks on people, or people will start playing tricks on them—and we don't mean card tricks, either! Cleo, tell us more about this Dukeye (from Tech) person . . . After Saturday night's performance Mary Mahone definitely receives her laurels as a dancer- . . . Wouldn't Walter have fainted out when and if he'd seen Dot dancing the Hula? . . . Dot Perkins comes to campus spotlight when she reveals us a deep secret in her life. Need we tell you his name? . . . Nimmo up to her old tricks again by being so good to the home-town (and otherwise) boy friend . . . Is Polly Keller calling quits so far as her present love affair is concerned or did that Special Delivery mean remission? . . . And so far as our little golfers, the Dunlap, what was Louise Huff so up in the air about? Could it have been Johnnie? It could! . . . Cow-Cov right much that way about Anne Boswell! How 'bout that hair-cut?

Who was the young man seen holding hands with Johnny Lybrook over the week-end? Why is Anne Stone so allergic to square meals? Maybe that's her secret of being glamorous and slender . . . Ask Imogene Hutter about her five-mile hike Sunday. She thought she could walk to Tech in an afternoon! V. M. I. attracts Ora Earnest on Sunday afternoons but Oh Susy is definitely on the Sunday night S. T. C. menu . . . Ask Margaret Carr who the attraction was in Roanoke that prolonged her Easter vacation an extra day? . . . Favorite pose and picture of the week: Hattie Cantrell smoking the pipe of peace . . . Favorite Tune: "Springtime in the Rockies" with vocals by the Madam! Pastime: Listening to Hoppy play the piano. Favorite Dance Team: Wentz! Favorite "By" word: Good-bye (until next week!)

GLEANINGS

By JACK COCK

Striking sturdy English hearts with new fear and wonder early last week, was the daring penetration of one of Great Britain's strongest naval blockades by a Nazi U-boat. The wide-ranging German sub broke through the supposedly iron-clad guard at Kirkwall, blockade base in the Orkney Islands, sinking the neutral Norwegian freighter "Cometa", and bringing undersea war sharply back home to Britain.

* * * *

This latest development of the war leaves but one conclusion to be drawn. How long will Great Britain be able to maintain her proud title as "Mistress of the Seas"? Daily the German "submarine patrol" becomes more audacious. Daily British control of the seas becomes less certain. Control the seas she might, but under seas Germany reigns supreme.

* * * *

Displaying again the courage and pluck that was so prominent in the three and a half months of struggle with Russia is "little Finland" as she bravely makes plans for the gigantic task of post-war reconstruction. A reconstruction cabinet has been formed, a new cabinet differing from the old in that it includes members of all major parties, and so selected because Finns generally agreed they were the best men to assume the heavy responsibility.

* * * *

Lucky indeed is Finland whose own government, unlike Poland, can undertake reconstruction, lucky that there is a Finland left to be built—but—is Russia satisfied? Now that she has tasted the spoils, will she be content to stand back? "The grass on the other side of the fence is always the greenest," and Russia, like Caesar, is ambitious.

* * * *

From Moscow come the semi-official dispatches that Surits, Soviet Ambassador to France, has been freed of his functions. According to these same dispatches the French Government has declared his presence in Paris as no longer desirable. Could it be that France plans to sever completely her international relationship with Russia? As yet French officials have neither confirmed nor denied the report that the government requested Moscow to recall Surits, but the general attitude of the French newspapers would lead us to think it true. Recently several of the leading newspapers in Paris have been urging the Government to close the Soviet embassy, as the European situation grows more tense.

* * * *

In our own country the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has begun a sweeping congressional investigation of the belligerent propaganda which is being circulated in this country on an ever increasing scale. Says Senator Clark of Missouri, leader of the campaign, "I think we can render a great service to the American people by finding out facts about the propaganda being distributed over here by both sides in this war, and laying these facts before them. All sorts of propaganda came into this country from both sides during the last war, and we didn't find out about it until years later." Everyday newspapers, magazines, and radio reports warn us against propaganda, but warnings are not sufficient. In a situation such as this vast numbers of us hail from Missouri and want to be shown. If America is to stay out of Europe's war today propaganda should and must be exposed.

Sports Slants

MARY SUE EDMONSON

Volley Ball . . .

With the beginning of Spring and a new quarter, in comes that exciting sport, volleyball. Practices are held on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from four till six o'clock, and remember that class competition is the spice for the Color Cup!

Tennis . . .

Already we have seen signs of girls rooting down in their trunks to pull out shorts 'n shirts—and flash, they are out on the tennis courts! If you want to loosen up every muscle in your body, or maybe I should say knot up every muscle, tennis will give you a fine work out from your head to your toes. This is also a fine way to get a golden sun-tan—you know the kind you read about.

Golf . . .

Perhaps you've been wondering why people have been running to the back entrance of the biology labs—well, they are aspiring golfers going to Longwood to learn the game.

The set up is just about ideal for this wishing to play, both students and faculty, has been organized and meetings are held ever so often. "O. G." Gilchrist and "Somebo-ady" Owen were elected as president and secretary respectively.

The set up is just about idal for this wishing to play. Every hour from 9:30 to 3:30 a car leaves from the laundry steps. This means that you can go for one class hour or two as your schedule permits. During the week we practice hitting with various clubs, and on Saturday and Sunday afternoons we play nine holes.

Plans are now being made to take those who wish to go to Lynchburg on Monday afternoons. This will provide an opportunity to play on the Lynchburg Country Club course.

All the girls who have signed up for golf are requested to come out so they can really learn how to hit the balls.

Pettigrew Is New H2O President

Bids Are Issued To Seven Girls

Mary Elizabeth Pettigrew, a junior from Roanoke, was elected president of the H2O club at a call meeting held on Tuesday, April 2. Mary Elizabeth succeeds Sara Keesee as head of this organization. Peggy Hughes, a sophomore from Richmond, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Bids for membership have been issued to Frances Mallory, Nancy Dupuy, Buff Gunter, Frances Parham, Ellen Ebel, Corilda Chaplin and Essie Millner. Essie, as a senior, will be an honorary member.

The H2O club sponsors the annual water carnival and members assist in all aquatic programs. Mrs. Louise Fitzpatrick is faculty adviser.

Dr. Riegel

Continued from Page 1

of journalism are the public opinion polls which have introduced a new dimension in democracy. Streamline Interpretative Daily and News Letter, Confidential Bulletin, and Radio Criticism. This new journalism is like a kiss—you get out of it what you put into it, closed Dr. Riegel.

Following the address of Dr. Riegel, a round table discussion was held. One question raised was the "difference between our newspapers and the foreign ones." To which question, Dr. Riegel replied that the "English newspaper is awful, as it is too sensational and obtains very little news, while the French editorialize facts."

After the discussion, refreshments were served by members of "The Rotunda" staff.

Back in 1899, when a nickel was worth almost a dime, a young University of Wisconsin co-ed, temporarily in financial difficulty was given two $60 scholarships.

Singles Tourney To Start April 8

Players Must Sign For Tennis Courts

The Spring Singles Tournament in tennis will begin Monday, April 8. Be sure to sign up on the bulletin board before this time if you expect to enter. Girls are asked to play off the matches when scheduled or the match will be defaulted.

There will be a slip on A. A. Bulletin Board to sign up for a court each day for any girls who want to play tennis. You will not be able to play for more than one hour due to the fact that we have so few courts.

Notice

Volley ball practices will be held every Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons from 4 until 6 o'clock. Each girl must have as many as eight practices to be eligible to play on the class teams. The games will be played off in Round-Robin style the week of April 15.

Ann Arbor, Mich. — 'ACP—"Like father, like son"—and the old adage holds for intelligence, too!

That's the conclusion of the University of Michigan's Prof. Walter B. Pillsbury, who has just concluded a study of the hereditary intelligence of Michigan.

He has discovered that there is almost as much correlation between the marks of father and son as there is between the marks a student receives in high school and college.

Because there is such conclusive evidence, "one might even use membership in a family with a good scholastic record as a basis of admission to the university," the Michigan psychologist concludes.

Professor Pillsbury also found a similarity between the intelligence of children in the same family—that is even closer than that of parent and offspring. He insists that his research shows that this correlation is mainly the result of inherited ability, and is not due to a similarity of home and school environment.

R. C. Life Saving Classes Organized

Senior, Instructor Courses Offered

Senior and Preliminary Instructor life-saving classes started last week under the direction of Pat Gibson, instructor, and will continue throughout the spring quarter.

To be qualified for the senior course one must be able to swim 18 lengths of the pool and must be at least 17 years of age.

Final examination will be based on standard life-saving requirements as set up by the American Red Cross. Those meeting the necessary requirements will receive a life-saving emblem. Taking this course are Margy Rice, Peggy Hughes, Winnie Webb Buchanan, Shirley Turner, Jane Pratt, Terry Buyers, Mary Jane Carr, May Wertz, and Ellen Ebel. The class meets every Friday afternoon at four o'clock.

Sara Keesee, Nancy Pierpont, Margy Nimmo, Peggy Hughes, Helen MacIlwaine, Nancy Dupuy and Myra Smith are members of the preliminary instructors class which is a lead up to the Instructors course which will be given here May 13-18 by Mr. Gammage, Red Cross field representative. Anyone wishing to take the course must be at least 19 years of age and must hold a Senior life saving certificate. Classes are scheduled on Monday and Thursday afternoons at four o'clock and Wednesday nights from nine to ten o'clock.

Interview Delegates

Continued from Page 1

ances, golden daffodils and gorgeous fountains. Every person there works two days out of the week to pay for his schooling and board. The school includes first grade through college work.

At the banquet each representative received a tiny silver spoon as a favor, because this was the silver anniversary of the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Government. Mrs. Guy Hicock, a foreign correspondent, spoke.

After dinner a discussion was held on "Stimulation of Interests". Caralie interrupted here to say that by this time they were so tired they went to sleep, and didn't even dream of the daffodils at Martha Berry.

The business meeting was held Wednesday morning after which reluctant farewells were said.

Both girls concluded that they had never had so much fun or enjoyed three days so much.

"I'm looking forward to next year," added Caralie, smiling.

COLLEGE SHOPPE

COLD FRESH FRUIT DRINKS FOR THESE WARM DAYS ARE WONDERFUL!

We Deliver Call 200

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Our own home-made Ice Cream

15c a pint—29c a quart t

Phone your order in 356

Martin the Jeweler

VISITING CARDS

75c a hundred

Also other expensive styles

Weyanoke Beauty Shoppe

SPECIAL!

$3.50 Duart Perms., now .. $2.50

$5.00 Oil Perms., now $3.50

Shampoo, finger wave, regular price 50c

Shampoo, finger wave and manicure 85c

PHONE 331

G. F. BUTCHER CO.

"The Convenient Store"

Dealer in fancy groceries and confectioneries

600 High Stret Farmville, Va.

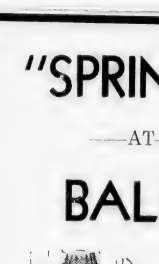
The Best Looking ANKLETS in Town!

Are at THE HUB AND ONLY 25c

All Silk full fashioned Hose

White and Brown Valcork Sole Oxfords .. $1.00

$1.98 and $2.98



THE HUB DEPT. STORE

APPRECIATES YOUR PATRONAGE

"SPRING

—AT—

BALDWIN'S"

A New Shipment

of

SPRING SKIRTS

in all colors and sizes!

—AT—

$1.98 & $2.98

HOW TO WIN BOY-FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE STAG-LINES

By Dalea Dorothy Clix

Dear Miss Clix: Pity the girl—that's me!—who goes on a blind date—and then falls in love! My roommate took me to a fraternity dance over at X—— College (near our school) and I met the captain of the basketball team. Once he started to hold my hand and then he suddenly said—"any man who had you for a sister would be lucky." Oh, Miss Clix, what can I do to make him think of me . . . not as a sister? HEARTSICK

Dear Heartsick: Your plight is not hopeless. After all, supposing he wouldn't even want you for a sister! However, you gave me one very significant clue. Why did he make that remark after holding your hand? How do your hands look—like a day laborer's? Be honest, now—were your nails beautifully groomed, impeccably manicured and tinted? That is a good way to begin climbing out of the blind date class, isn't it?

AND NOW, DEAR, READ THE NEXT COLUMN CAREFULLY!

AND HERE'S WHAT YOU CAN DO ABOUT BEAUTIFUL NAILS

Thousands of college women have found how they can have the most beautiful finger-nails in the world! They are switching to DURA-GLOSS, the nail polish that's different. Goes on smoothly, levels out to a beautiful lustre—and best of all, it lasts longer! Only ten cents; at all cosmetic counters—you can have six shades (for different costumes) for what you often paid for one bottle. Start using DURA-GLOSS, today!

LYNN'S MUSIC STORE

Has the new musical hits

"WHEN YOU WISH UPON A STAR"

"ITS A BLUE WORLD"

"STARLIT HOUR"

"INDIAN SUMMER"

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

PURE DRUGS MEDICINES

Perfumes—Toilet Articles

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Quality—Price—Service

HOTEL WEYANOKE

Regular Meals

A La Carte Service

Salads & Sandwiches

Patronize

Patterson Drug Co.

—AT—

Money Saving Prices

—FOR—

Drugs and Toiletries

Expert

Prescription Service

Clean Fountain

Featuring

Southern Dairies "Velvet" Ice Cream

238 MAIN STREET

Rose's

5-10-25c Store

ON THE CORNER

Cleansing Tissue

500 Sheet Box

15c

SHANNON'S

Good Food

Mixed Candies

Lovelace Electric Shoe Shop

"From old to new with any shoes"

Only First Class Material used

All Work Guaranteed

WILLIS, the Florist

Flowers for All Occasions

PHONES 181—273

KLEANWELL Cleaners & Tailors

Expert cleaning, repairing and remodeling

Main St. Opposite P. O.

Phone 98

Under the mangement of

"CHARLIE" JOHNSON

NOTICE—We now offer special low student rates on RADIO REPAIR WORK!

Electric Appliance Co.

Armory Bldg. Phone 40

C. E. CHAPPELL CO.

Visit us for the

BEST FOUNTAIN SERVICE

DRUMELLER'S

FANCY MEATS

AND GROCERIES

Farmville Mfg. Co.

MILL WORK

BUILDING MATERIALS

Visiting Choral Groups at Dance

Lots of strange faces, music by Clyde Duval, and decorations of blue, aqua and white furnished the setting for the dance Friday night, March 29, in the gymnasium, which was sponsored by the choir for the members of the Duke and University of North Carolina glee clubs.

It seemed unusual to see so many new faces at an S. T. C. dance, but after a short time, because of that good ole Farmville hospitality everyone was acquainted.

Pi Kap Convention

Continued from Page 1

various provinces, presented bills, carried on filibuster comparable to the General Assembly in Washington, and passed or vetoed the bills.

The first proceedings of the Assembly was the election of officers. Lorana was nominated for president on the Republican and Democratic tickets. Eugene Worrell of Wake Forest College, North Carolina, ran on the Independent's ticket and carried the election by a 39-30 vote.

The various bills presented at the Assembly will be sent to President Roosevelt for consideration and comment.

During the assembly, Lorana served as a member of the Resolutions Committee and as vice-chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee, and presented a bill. Elizabeth Ann served as a member of the Labor Committee.

Telegrams were received from President Roosevelt and Cordell Hull in recognition of the work of the convention.

The public speaking phase opened to the members, contests in debate, oratory, and extemporaneous speaking. Elizabeth Ann entered oratory. Her topic was "The Crisis of Democracy."

After dividing the convention in half all went on a pleasure trip, Wednesday morning, over the 100 mile loop from Gatlinburg through the Great Smoky Mountains National Park to Clingman's Dome, 6310 feet above sea level, and back to Gatlinburg for dinner served in true Southern style.

Highlight of the climaxing event, the banquet, was the guest speaker J. Fred Essarg, Washington Correspondent for the Baltimore Sun. Mr. Essarg has been a commencement speaker here at Farmville. The convention dance brought to a close the social diversions.

Pi Kappa Delta is composed of 15 colleges in 37 states, being the largest organization of its kind in the world. Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, George, Florida, Tennessee, and Kentucky compose the eight states in the South Atlantic Province. The latter two were united with the Province at this convention. The Citadel and Carson Newman were admitted to Pi Kappa Delta.

Easter Dances Beckon Many; Others Attend Conventions

Here today, gone tomorrow! But they couldn't help it if Easters at V. P. I. were the week-end following Easter vacation.

Among those from Farmville, at the set of dances were: Jeanne Sears, who led the figure at Cotillion Club, Betty Youngberg, Cotlie Radspinner, Coralie Gilliam, Pearl Thompson, Nancy Bondurant, Gerry Ackiss, Allene Overbey, Harriette Ball, Maxine Philpott, Peggy Williams, Lois Wilkins, Martha De. Crawley, Anne Boswell, Beverly Smith, Marguerite Russ, Estelle Paulette, and Dorothy Childress.

Richmond always manages to claim some visitors from S. T. C. East-bound travelers this weekend were Barbara Tripp, Grace Wallace, Miriam Jester, Alice G. Cahoon, Dorothy Smith, Helen Jeffries, Nancy Wolfe, Ella Hutchison, Josephine Ware, Nancy Saville, Bobby Taylor, Nina Lee Hall, and Ora Mayo.

Those who journeyed to Lynchburg included: Carolyn Minnick, Lula Windham, Hilda Wills, Frances Raiford, Virginia Worley, Betty McConnell, and Elizabeth Ralph.

Doris Leonard attended a Girl Scout Convention at Sweet Briar College.

Elizabeth Ann Parker and Lorana Moomaw represented Farmville at a Pi Kappa Delta convention at Knoxville, Tenn.

Sorority Notes

Pi Kaps held their spring banquet in honor of their pledges at Longwood Saturday evening, March 30. The guests included Dr. J. L. Jarman, Mr. S. L. Graham, Miss Carolyn Cogbill, the Pan Hellenic adviser; Miss Olive Iler, faculty adviser; and the patronesses Mrs. S. L. Graham, Mrs. H. T. Stokes and Mrs. Harry Lancaster. The decorations were carried out in chapter colors of gold and turquoise.

The alumnae members present were Jane Royall, Sammy Scott, and Doris Trimyer.

Mu Omega Tea

Miss Leola Wheeler entertained the members of Mu Omega at tea at her apartment Sunday afternoon, March 31, from 4 to 6. Dell Hutcheson and Nancy Moss assisted in serving.

Sigmas Entertained

Sigma Sigma Sigma held an informal supper in the Y. W. C. A. lounge, Sunday night, March 31, at 6 o'clock. Miss Pauline Camper, active members and pledges were present.

Rachel DeBerry was in charge of the supper with Virginia Polley, Mary Lou Shannon, Nancy Naff, and Crews Borden assisting.

A. S. A. Party

Eleanor Hutcheson, Anne Billups, Mary Mahone, and Bobby Latture entertained the members of Alpha Sigma Alpha at a tea in the chapter room at 5 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, March 31. Miss Grace Moran, adviser, and the active members and pledges were present.

W. P. A. is causing confusion in collegeland as well as in the halls of Congress. Recently a W. P. A. worker at the University of Oregon cut a telephone cable when he thought he was removing an old water pipe, thereby forced professors and secretaries to deliver written or verbal messages by messenger for some days.

Big-Little Sister Party To Be Tonight

Membership committee of the Y. W. C. A. will have an informal party in the "Rec" tonight at 9:30 p. m. for all Y. W. Big and Little Sisters.

Entertainment for the evening will include the playing of favorite selections by two of the hottest bands east of the Mississippi —Zeke's Zippers and Hattie's Syncopators. Appearing with the two bands will be their vocalists —Virginia Lee Pettis of Syncopators fame and Peggy Bellus, Zeke's own discovery.

Choral Groups

Continued from Page 1

try", "Thine Is the Kingdom", and "The Fining Pot Is for Silver". "List! The Cherubic Host" was sung by the A'Cappella Choirs with Virginia Richards and Dr. Richmond singing the solo parts.

The climax of the program was reached when the choral groups and soloists sang "Great and Marvelous Are Thy Works, O Lord".

Mr. J. Foster Barnes, of Duke University, and Mr. Alfred H. Strick, of S. T. C., were co-directors of the program. Mrs. Frank Wendt, of Westhampton College accompanied on the piano with Mrs. Woodson, violin; Philip Galati, viola; Paul Cartwright, cello; and George Abeloff, bass; furnishing the string accompaniment.

Old Council Guests Of New Members

As is the custom, the New Student Government Council entertained the Old Council Tuesday night at 9:15 in the Council room. Each senior received a favor. Cakes, nabs, popcorn, potato chips, and buns were served. Norma Wood and Nancy Naff were in charge of arrangements for the party.

EACO THEATRE
DAILY MATS AT 3:45 P. M.

Fri.-Sat., April 5-6
DOROTHY LAMOUR
BING CROSBY
BOB HOPE
'The Road to Singapore'
Novelty—News

Next Mon.-Tues., April 8-9
JOAN BENNETT
GEORGE RAFT
"THE HOUSE ACROSS THE BAY"
Novelty—News

Next Wed-Thurs., Apr. 10-11
PENNY SINGLETON
ARTHUR LAKE
Larry Simms "Daisy"
"Blondie on a Budget"
Dave Apollo & Band. Cart.

Hop Says
"DE LUXE CLEANERS
For Quality Service"
Phone 77 Third St.
Perrye Smith, S. T. C. Represent.

Planters Bank & Trust Company
Farmville, Virginia
Member: Federal Reserve System
Federal Deposit Ins. Corp.

NEWBERRY'S
5c—10c—25c
Store
SPRING
IS HERE
See Our
New Colors
In Ribbons

CLEOPATRA! SAID SANDALS—
You'll find any style you want here. Priced 1.97 to 2.99
Just received new Gabardine Skirts. Colors, yellow, pink, powder blue and beige $1.97
DOROTHY MAY STORE
First to Show the Newest

DUNN-DEER OXFORDS
THE BEST KNOCK-ABOUT OXFORD TO BE FOUND
Lightweight, Durable and Supreme Comfort
A REAL MONEY SAVING VALUE
Special
$2.95
DAVIDSON'S, INC.

EVERYBODY'S ASKING FOR 'EM
-the Busiest Cigarette in America

featuring PATSY GARRETT and PAUL DOUGLAS of FRED WARING'S CHESTERFIELD PLEASURE TIME Listen in Five Nights a Week 89 N. B. C. Stations

When smokers turn to Chesterfield they enjoy all the good qualities a cigarette can give. Chesterfields are DEFINITELY MILDER...Chesterfields are COOLER-SMOKING ... Chesterfields TASTE BETTER.

These three good things and everything about Chesterfields... their size, shape and the way they burn... make them the cigarettes that SATISFY.

Chesterfield
Today's Definitely Milder, Cooler-Smoking Better-Tasting Cigarette

Copyright 1940 LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

CONTRIBUTE TO CHINESE FUND

The Rotunda

READ AND HEED EDITORIALS

File No.—Z773

VOLUME XIX | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10, 1940 | NO. 23

Political Leaders Name Question; Representatives Are Selected

Faculty Advisers Will Be Chosen

"The present economic and political conditions indicate a need for drastic revision of suffrage qualifications" is the present party issue which Frances Alvis, conservative leader, Lorana Moomaw, center leader, and Mary Mahone, radical leader, with the help of Dr. J. E. Walmsley, faculty adviser, have selected to be discussed by the student body for the political party set-up now being instituted on the Farmville campus.

Party leaders have also announced their particular party representatives selected by them with the aid of a committee representing the student body. Conservative representatives will be Yates Carr, Anne Cock, Thelma Courtney, Beulah Ettenger, and Elizabeth Ann Parker; centers will be Marie Allen, Jean Watts, Mary Jane Jolliffe, Ollie Graham Gilchrist; and radicals, Dorothy Rollins, Pat Whitlock, Harriet Cantrell, Elizabeth Kent, Ellen Bowen.

Party leaders will select a faculty member to work with the group as adviser in the formation and carrying out of the platform.

Questions under plan for discussion involve any question of national importance on which the party groups might naturally divide. New at Farmville, the idea is intended to train students in the workings of political organization and parliamentary proceedings. Meetings will be open for attendance and participation and later on each student will be given an opportunity to affiliate herself wih the party of her choice.

Debaters Attend GEF Tournament At Winthrop College

Marie Allen, White Gate, Anne and Jack Cock, Hampton, and Thelma Courtney, Winchester, Farmville debaters, left Wednesday, April 10, for the Grand Eastern Forensic Tournament to be held at Winthrop College, Rock Hill, South Carolina, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, April 11, 12, and 13.

Frances Keck, Danville, and Elizabeth Ann Parker, Portsmouth, left Tuesday, April 9, for the Tournament, and stopped at Averette Junior College in Danville, for a debate Tuesday night. They will meet the other four debaters Wednesday night in Rock Hill.

All the girls will enter the contest for the title of Dixie debaters, Marie and Thelma as a negative team, and Anne and Jack, and Frances and Elizabeth Ann as affirmative teams.

The question for debate will be the National Pi Kappa Delta question, "Resolved: That the United States Should Follow a Policy of Strict Isolation (Economic and Military) Toward All Nations, Outside the Western Hemisphere, Engaged in Armed International or Civil Conflict."

Contests in oratory, problem solving, radio announcing, impromptu speaking, extemporaneous speaking, after-dinner speaking, and poetry reading will be open to debaters.

Several hundred debaters from senior colleges and universities all over the country are expected to convene in the lobby of Johnston Hall, Winthrop College, Thursday morning.

Y. W. Sponsors Chinese Fund Drive

World Fellowship Committee of the Y. W. C. A. under the direction of Martha Whelchel is sponsoring a drive for contributions to the Far Eastern Student Fund.

The drive began on Monday, April 8 and will continue through Thursday, April 11. Townspeople are cooperating with the students in this project.

A booth has been erected in the hall opposite the town girls room where contributions can be made. Elenora Faison was in charge of decorations for the booth.

A Chinese exhibit is on display in the library and a Chinese fashion show was given in chapel this morning to arouse interest in the drive.

Whelchel Heads Student Standards

Royall To Be New Secretary

Martha Whelchel, a junior, and Ellen Royall, a sophomore, were elected chairman and secretary of Student Standards Committee for next year, at a meeting Thursday, April 4, 1940.

Martha has served on the Student Standards Committee her freshman, sophomore and junior years, and has also been a member of the World Fellowship Committee of the Y. W. this year. She is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, and Freshman Commission and has taken part in plays given by the Dramatic Club.

Ellen has been on the Student Standards Committee both her freshmand and sophomore years.

Moyer and Eades Attend Y. W. Meet

Jean Moyer, recently elected president of the Y. W. C. A. for the coming year, and Dorothy Eades, out-going president, left Tuesday, Rpril 9, to attend the sixteenth biennial convention of the National Y. W. C. A., April 10-16 in Atlantic City.

Student Assembly will have four separate sessions and will be combined with the industrial, business and professional assemblies for other meetings.

One of the outstanding speakers of the convention will be Dr. Gregory Vlastos, professor of philosophy, religion, and Christian ethics at Queen's College, Kingston, Ontario, Canada.

Nan Seward and Sarah Button represented S. T. C. at the fifteenth biennial convention.

"Our Personality" Is Theme of Chapel Talk

"The goal of fullfillment is what we strive to gain through our personality," was the way Mrs. Gisce Sloan Overton, lecturer, teacher, and author, approached the subject of "Our Personality" in Chapel Friday, April 5. Mrs. Overton, who was sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., also addressed students at an association meeting at 4:30 and again at 7:30 Friday night.

"You are the realest thing you know," began Mrs. Overton. "It is our reaction to other people and other situations that determine our personality."

The lecturer continued by saying that you will feel a sense of fullvillment when you are satisfied with your relations to others. She added that superintendents are keen on our reactions to other people.

"Not only should you enrich other people," explained Mrs. Overton, "but yourself. Your own personality must become imple-

Continued on Page 3

Purdum Elected A. K. G. President

Elect Eades, Nelson, Gibson and Moyer

Ruth Lea Purdum of Danville was elected president of Alpha Kappa Gamma at the regular meeting on Monday night, April 1, to succeed Martha Meade Hardaway.

Dot Eades, of Roanoke, will serve as vice-president and Caralie Nelson, South Boston, was chosen secretary.

Pat Gibson, New York City, is the new treasurer. Jean Moyer, Portsmouth, will be assistant editor of the Torchbearer, national publication of the organization.

Ruth Lea is president of the incoming Senior class and she has served as president of her class since her freshman year. She is a member of Pi Gamma Mu, Cotillion Club, and Chapel Committee.

Alpha Kappa Gamma is a national honor fraternity recognizing leadership and founded here at S. T. C.

Colonnade Head Announces Staff

Contest To Be Started Soon

Allene Overbey, Editor of The Colonnade, announced the new staff for the coming year at a meeting conducted in the publication office, Wednesday night, April 3.

The new staff heads and assistants are: Editor, Allene Overbey; literary editors, Mary Jane Jolliffe, Harriet Cantrell; poetry editors, Bess Windham, Dorothy Wright, Frances Hudgins; art editors, Theodosia MacKenzie, Catherine Gadspinner, Peggy Hughes, Dorothy Rollins; book review editor, Sara Cline; Chips, Frances Pritchett, typist, Anna George; business manager and assistant, Yates Carr and Mary Owens West, respectively; and circulation managers, May Winn, and Anne Ellett.

The Colonnade will sponsor another short story contest which will be formally announced in the Spring issue. This contest will begin in May and continue through the summer months. Closing date of the contest will also be set at a later date.

Rules of the contest will be posted on the bulletin board.

Beorc Eh Thorn Elects Officers

Mary Jane Jolliffe, a junior from Stephenson, was elected president of Beorc Eh Thorn, honorary English society, for the coming year. She has served as literary editor of the "Colonnade" the past term.

Evelyn Quillen will hold the office of vice-president, while Louise Hall will be recording secretary and Virginia Howell, treasurer. Roberta Latture and Dorothy Rollins were reelected corresponding secretary and historian, respectively.

Membership bids will be issued to Frances Keck, Flora Winn, Sally Dunlap, Verna Mae Barr and Mrs. McDowell.

Y. W. Elects Harvey

Carolyn Harvey, a sophomore, was elected Treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. at an association meeting held Friday, April 5, in the little auditorium.

Carolyn is a member of the Sophomore Commission, Beorc Eh Thorn, honorary English fraternity, and serves on the chapel committee. She has been on the varsity basketball team for two years.

Honor Graduates

Martha McCorkle, valedictorian; Jane Rosenberger, Ruby Mae Parsons, salutatorian and Bliss Fowlkes.

"Who's Who"

"Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities", an annual publication, has been released and received by several girls here. "The main purpose of this publication is to bring the names of the outstanding students of America before the business world, and before others who annually recruit students.

"Of the 1,350,000 students in American Universities and Colleges today, we believe that the students whose biographies appear in this book constitute the best available material for key positions. They have earned this distinction by personifying qualities of leadership and scholarship." This statement appears in the book and sums up the purpose and qualification of the idea of a "Who's Who".

The names and short sketches of Frances Alvis, Marie Eason, Dorothy Fischer, Martha Meade Hardaway, Jane Hardy, Johnny Lybrook, Caralie Nelson, Marjorie Nimmo, Ruth Lea Purdum, Helen Reiff, Isabel Williamson, and Eliza Wise appear in this issue.

Copies of the publication are in the possession of Frances Alvis and Helen Reiff, and anyone wishing to see them may do so.

Bartlett Is Honor Society President

May Bartlett, a freshman, was elected president of Alpha Psi Sigma, national honorary fraternity for scholarship, on April 3, in the Honors Room.

May has served on the Freshman Commission and the Membership Committee of the Y. W. C. A. this year.

The other officers for the new term are Mary Willson, vice-president, Hallie Hillsman, recording secretary, Lillian Agnew, corresponding secretary, and Texie Belle Felts, reporter. The new officers were installed on April 5 by Jean Moyer, outgoing president.

V. S. S. A. To Meet

Virginia Social Science Association will meet in Farmville on April 24 and 25.

Teachers and other workers in social science in the state will be present.

The program has not been definitely arranged, but will be announced later.

Essay Contest Is Sponsored By Virginian Staff

1941 annual staff will sponsor an essay contest beginning Thursday, April 10, on the theme "My Impressions of a Year at Farmville." The contest will last two weeks closing on April 25. A prize of five dollars will be awarded for the best essay.

As to subject matter, the paper may include general impressions gleaned from a year's experiences at school or it could be an interpretation of one incident which occurred during the year. The most important week-end, a character sketch of your roommate, a description of your hall on Saturday night would each provide ample material for the essay.

The essays may vary in length acording to the writer but the minimum requirement is two pages in longhand.

Anyone interested in being on the literary staff of the Virginian must submit an essay. They may be submitted to any member of the English Department or to May Wertz.

For further information see May Wertz.

S. T. C. Dramatic Club Sponsors Play Contest

The annual play contest, sponsored by the Dramtic Club will be held at Farmville S. T. C. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of April 18-20.

For several years the S. T. C. Dramatic Club has held this play contest for the high school dramatic groups. Fourteen schools from over the state will be represented this year.

Each night four or five plays are given and a cup is awarded to the best play, with honorable mention going to the next best.

Amelia won its cup permanently last year, having won it for three successive years.

Out of town judges will be secured for the contest.

Plays will be judged accordingly to the interpretation of the central theme and mood, its literary value, character portrayal, costuming and make-up.

Lighting, make-up and property committees of S. T. C. Dramatic Club will assist the high schools.

McCorkle Will Give Valedictory Address; Parsons Is Salutatorian

Rosenberger And Fowlkes Second

Martha McCorkle and Jane Rosenberger of the degree class and Bliss Fowlkes and Ruby May Parsons of the diploma class were the honor graduates chosen by the faculty and announced by Dr. J. L. Jarman Thursday, April 4, at chapel.

Ruby May Parsons is from Cullen, Virginia. She is a member of the American Association of Childhood Education, and of the Future Teachers of America.

Bliss Fowlkes is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, and also belongs to the Baptist Student Union. Bliss is from Danville, Virginia.

Martha McCorkle, first honor graduate of the four year class is a town girl. Martha is a member of Cotillion Club, Dramatic Club and Orchesis. She belongs to Beorc eh Thorn, Kappa Delta Pi, and is assistant editor of the "Virginian", annual publication.

Jane Rosenberger, from Winchester, Virginia, served as secretary of Pi Gamma Mu this year and is a member of Kappa Delta Pi and Beorc eh Thorn. She holds the position of business manager of the Colonnade.

At commencement Martha will give the valedictorian address and Ruby May will deliver the salutatorian address.

Dr. Koo Addresses S. T. C. on Education In China Today

Dr. T. Z. Koo, a Chinese scholar, educator and statesman, spoke to the student body of S. T. C., Saturday, April 6, at the chapel period.

Dr. Koo's subject was "Educational Conditions in China", at the beginning of which he presented a Chinese flag to the Student Body as a token of appreciation for the fund to be raised here for Chinese education. "The red in the flag," Dr. Koo explained, "represents the soil of China, the blue the integrity of the race, and the white sun the hope of the Chinese people." The Chinese people are proud of this hope and as Dr. Koo expressed it, their "ability to look disaster in the face."

In his description of the refugee universities, he told us that students walk as far as 1,000 miles in order to have an education. Because of lack of funds to buy materials the students have constructed buildings of mud and rice straw.

The dormitories in the refugee universities consist of a long room with double decker wooden beds. "Some students live on a very high plane of life," related Dr. Koo, "with quadruple and triple decker beds."

The students also made the chairs and desks of mud. In rainy weather the students have to be careful to keep their chairs "from oozing away from them."

Dr. Koo continued by saying that the Chinese are a people who can laugh when facing disaster, and can do a lot with a little.

"Seventy-five cents in your money," he said, "is the amount allowed a Chinese student for food a month. A people that can make a little go a long way can always go on."

Continued on Page 6

THE ROTUNDA

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Published weekly by students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia nine months a year

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of
Collegiate Digest

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

Subscription ..... $1.50 per year

STAFF

Patricia Gibson ..... Editor-in-Chief
Elizabeth West ..... Managing Editor
Josa Carlton ..... Business Manager

Associate Editors

Margaret Wright ..... News Editor
Sara Cline ..... Feature Editor
Mary K. Beck ..... Sports Editor
Geraldine Ackiss ..... Social Editor

Reporters

Marie Allen, Alice Leigh Barham, Anne Barnette, Anne Cock, Jack Cock, Bridget Gentile, Miriam Jester, Anna Johnson, Shirley McCalley, Nancy Naff, Elizabeth Rapp, Dorothy Rollins, Dorothy Sprinkle.

Assistant Business Managers

Texie Belle Felts ..... Circulation Manager
Mary Katherine Dodson ..... Advertising
Lilian German ..... Advertising

Business Assistants

Elva Andrews, Mildred Taylor, Daphne Williamson, Eilen Hudgins, Mary Sue Simmons, Dearing Fauntleroy, Dorothy Childress, Lucy Blackwell, Anne Moore, Frances Pope.

Typists

Thelma Courtney, Frances Pritchett, Virginia Rudd, Norma Wood.
Virginia Worley ..... Photographer

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10, 1940

Don't . . .

Don't forget your first job is a continuation of your education.

Don't expect a high wage at first.

Don't follow the crowd—it's usually wrong.

Don't go into a job you don't like. It won't like you.

Don't forget you must never stop learning.

Don't oversell yourself to yourself. It's better to be a first class second class man than a second class first class man.

Don't think you're going forward when you're drifting sideways. A rolling stone not only gathers no moss but frequently cracks.

Don't mistake the treadmill for the stepladder. You must frequently take a temporary loss of rank to get set to go up.

Don't try for easy money. It's uneasy money, often dirty money, and usuually dangerous money.

Don't take a job morally and ethically out of tune with times.

Don't forget your job is more than a job—it's part of your obligation to the social order.

On Tennis Court Attire

With the advent of spring, students are deserting the dorms and taking up residence on the tennis courts. There are, naturally, many physical advantages to be gained through this game, but "social" detriments are also identifiable — especially in the realm of attire. Short shorts and halters aren't attractive and never will be. Why can't everyone be just as careful about their appearance while on the tennis court as they are when dressed in street clothes?

Are You Guilty?

The earth's green mantle is a beautiful thing but some of us are rending it. In winter when icy breezes chased one and all we took the shortest way possible to get where we were going—regardless of lawns. However, now that the new grass is appearing it ought not be necessary to set up "Keep Off the Grass" signs over the campus. None of us are desirous of depriving our college grounds of their beauty, so let's make a mental sign "Let the Grass Grow."

SENIOR PERSONALITY

DOROTHY FISCHER

Out-going A. A. President

Yes sir, she's a "damyankee" with no more prejudices than a sausage mill. Always gay and cheerful, with an infectious laugh that cannot be ignored, Dot is a happy companion. Devilry is written all over her animated face from her merry brown eyes to the tip of her 'not another word!) You can rest assured that "Dora" is Johnny-on-the-spot if there's anything crazy going on. She's just the type of person who looks in the gas tank with the aid of a lighted match to see if the whole thing really is a joke.

Her weaknesses run from weenie roasts to beach parties to dancing and back again to weenie roasts. To her, life is just one good time after another.

Dot's exhilarating personality has won her a niche in the hearts of many of her fellow classmates and students. In her four years she has proved herself a worthy and capable person overflowing with school spirit and love for her Alma Mater.

A Cleveland College psychologist, Dr. Oliver H. Ohmann, maintains that a correlation can be made between police records and weather records. He states that assault and battery cases are most numerous on days of low humidity, and that suicides are most common on clear days late in the spring. Inmates of mental institutions are most disorderly during extreme variations in temperature. Further experiments indicate that teachers have the most disciplinary problems in windy weather.

OPEN FORUM

Dear Editor:

From much observation I find that a certain group of girls persist in sitting out on campus from nine till eleven o'clock each night with boys.

Dating on campus at S. T. C. is supposed to cease at 7:30. If this is a rule, then why isn't it enforced? Maybe these girls say it is not dating, and possibly it isn't formal dating, but it is wrong any way you look at it.

It is a reflection on the school, the administration, and the student body to have thus on our campus. Passers are sure to see these girls smoking and acting in a way not as yet accepted as ladylike or conventional. Why should we suffer for it?

Is there nothing that Student Government or Student Standards can do to relieve the situation? It would surely help the appearance of our campus after legal hours.

I'm sure these girls would cooperate if they realized the seriousness of their misunderstanding of dating rules and their neglect in thinking of our campus as symbolic of our school.

A Sister Classman

Search for Happiness Underlies "The Blue Bird"

"The Blue Bird" based on Maurice Maeterlinck's famous story, starring Shirley Temple and Johnny Russell, comes to the Eaco Theatre April 15-16.

The story is allegorical and concerns the search of two children—Mytyl and Tyltyle — for peace and happiness which is symbolized by the bluebird.

The search leads, in vain, through the "Land of the Past" where the children meet Grandmother and Grandfather who lived long ago. The "Land of Luxury", too, proves disappointing. Even that fascinating "Land of the Future," where Mytyl and Tyittyl meet the unborn children preparing to come to earth, does not give satisfaction. The children have to return to their humble home to find happiness there amid the simplicity of its surroundings.

The photography and setting, as well as the acting, are perfect; and the change, through technicolors, from realism to fantasy is clever.

It is definitely a "must see" picture.

Echoes from an Empty Space

